Union Usuals and Unusuals
 By Veda Yarbrough
 Hi, neighbor! This is Tuesday morning and a real nice day to pull cotton. We have several already in the field pulling now and it is quite early. Some came out just at sunrise.
 Things are really humming out this way. Grain sowing, cotton pulling, the airplane man is supposed to come back today and defoliate some more cotton if the wind doesn't get too high. Cotton is turning out real good for dry land farming. John McIntyre made little better than half a bale per acre on what we call the Abernathy place, and I tell you that's good for this year or any year, I think.
 Mrs. John Shrader and her sister Mary, Mrs. Dr. Anderson of Scranton, visited with me last Wednesday afternoon. So good to see them and visit, as I have known them all my life. In fact, I was born on their dad's place at Scranton.
 Ruth Mobley spent last Tuesday night with me. Really was glad to have her with me. Wish she would do that more often.
 Last Wednesday evening, Ped Yarbrough of Cross Plains, and one of his granddaughters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson and children of Houston, visited me. So good to see them.
 Bill and Retha Brown spent the week end with Mark, Ollie and Gayle Burnam. Bill still has two more weeks of school in Ft. Worth. Retha is still working in Midland.
 Hershell Wagley and family visited with Mark and Ollie Burnam the other night. Showed pictures of their trips they had made in the past few months. I went down to see the pictures too. They were real good, so much pretty scenery and some places I had seen while I visited in Salt Lake City. I was so glad they asked me to see them.
 Friday afternoon, did I get a pleasant surprise, when someone knocked on my door and it was Irvin Warren, his wife, Calie, Mrs. Sadie Heale, Mrs. Effie Dood. The Warrens live at Kermit, Sadie at Hobbs, N. M., and Effie at Tulla, I believe. We used to be neighbors and enjoyed lots of good times together.
 D. A. Yarbrough visited his brother, Ped, in Cross Plains one day last week. D. A. is feeling better. He is helping some here with the cotton, not pulling, but helping around the weighing place.
 Mildred Carter came Monday. She said she wanted to pull cotton; some, just to say she helped pull. She pulled 54 lbs. in about an hour and she is out there now. Think she and Roma plan on taking a bale to the gin late this afternoon.
 Oh, how I wish I was able to be out there helping. Dick and Annie Yarbrough are helping, too. Dick takes to the gin and he and Annie keep things going in the field. That's so sweet of them. Every one is so nice and good to me and I appreciate it so much from the bottom of my heart.
 Guess I better get busy, so be sweet and I hope to see you next week.

VOTE FOR TEXAS

RICHARD M. NIXON, candidate for President, is a Californian, but he thinks the Texas way. Richard Nixon stands for:

- A strong national economy and defense so that America will not have to apologize to Khrushchev for anything;
- A sensible farm program that will attack and solve the present problems.
- Texas retaining its tidelands, and a tax policy favorable to Texas.
- Local control of our schools.

If you will read and compare Nixon's platform to that of his opponent, you will agree that a vote for Nixon is a vote for the best interests of Texas.

Teachers Need Respect, Too

By JOHN COREY
Phi Delta Kappa Inc.

Most parents teach their children to respect their fathers and mothers and to revere their Maker. Some also instill a high regard for and appreciation of the work of teachers.

But in some schools, there is an "invisible wall" between teachers and parents which makes the teacher's job almost impossible. And excessive current criticism of education is building the wall higher.

Genuine respect for the teacher has several values, says Dr. William S. Gray, professor emeritus at the University of Chicago. Pupils adjust to school requirements more willingly. They cooperate better in learning activities. Most important, they learn more.

Further, where no barriers of antagonism exist, needed personal guidance can be provided by teachers more freely and expertly.

Student biases and antagonism often reflect parental attitudes. Parents who really want to help their children succeed in school can do so by persistently cultivating respect for the teacher's position, advises the Chicago professor. Likewise, of course, teachers should constantly endeavor to win the confidence of their pupils and establish that educator's dream, "good rapport."

Ethel Kavin, director of the Parent Educational Project at the University of Chicago, has worked many years for better home-school relations. She reports that real efforts to improve have paid off in some schools. On the other hand, the "invisible wall" that separates parents and teachers still exists.

In fact, says Miss Kavin, the current tendency to be excessively critical of American education in general is reflected in the attitude of many parents toward specific teachers, with the inevitable result that educators become resentful and defensive. The child is caught in the middle. He is the one who suffers most from feelings of hostility between his parents and teachers - who don't often see each other.

Dr. Gray emphasized that parents should be careful to avoid criticizing teachers in the presence of their children. If on occasion you believe that a teacher has erred, discuss the matter directly with her, not with the child. In fact, the child should never know, with but rare exceptions, that the teacher's actions or efficiency have been questioned.

To be happy and effective, teachers like everyone else need praise and recognition, the professor says. Too often their contacts with parents are limited to the occasions when mother complains about Junior's low grades or marks in citizenship. The father or mother who drops in after school to give the teacher a "pat on the back" for his excellent teaching or leadership does nearly as much for the teacher as would a raise in salary.

Under the teacher's professional exterior are feelings as sensitive to unfriendliness as are those of an incoming first grader. Respect and consideration are required if either is to do his best work.

Although many schools have rules which prohibit pupils from giving presents to teachers, parents may on occasion encourage their children to show gratitude in some appropriate concrete way. Why not invite the teacher to spend an evening in your home? This should always be done as an indication of friendship and respect, of course and not as a bid for favor.

About Your Health .

The major killers -- cancer, heart diseases and accidents -- do most of the statistic rattling in Texas just as elsewhere throughout the United States.

But there are lesser killers, no less potent once they strike -- and in many cases the disease is preventable.

For instance, during 1959 there were 52 deaths attributed to tetanus, often called lockjaw. Most could probably have been prevented.

Twenty-four deaths were among infants less than one year old, but 17 fatal cases of tetanus were among persons 15 years of age or older.

Tetanus can be guarded against with appropriate toxoid injections. In fact, a standard recommendation of the American Academy of Pediatricians is for children to be immunized against tetanus in combination with pertussis and diphtheria, commonly referred to as DTP shots.

Parents are familiar with DTP shots administered to their infants by pediatricians or a family doctor while the child is still less than a year old.

Such early protection is also recommended by State health authorities.

However, the protection afforded by tetanus toxoid loses strength over the years and should be maintained with a periodic booster or in the event of injury subject to tetanus infection if recommended by your family doctor.

Especially vulnerable are playing children and workers who may be injured on the job.

Males fall victim to the disease nearly twice as often as females.
In 1959, there were 34 tetanus deaths among males and only 18 among females.

The tetanus germ is a stable spore which can lie dormant for long periods of time -- blowing around in the dust waiting for an opportunity to spring to death -- dealing life under the proper conditions of warmth and moisture found in a deep cut or puncture wound, or even an abrasion.

Girl Scout Fund Drive in Progress

This week, the Clyde Girl Scout Association is having its annual campaign to raise funds that will help to bring its program of citizenship training, service and fun to more and more girls.

"By supporting this campaign," said Mr. Owen Cosgrove, who is in charge of the local drive, "we all affirm our belief in the future of this community and its young people."

"Girl Scouting is growing in our community and we want to keep it that way. We believe that the role of Girl Scouting plays in our community is one of vital importance. Contributions to Girl Scouting helps us offer that simple Girl Scout Promise and Laws to our own girls here and now. We believe that it is one of the most precious gifts we can give the youngsters growing up in our difficult challenging world."

One out of every seven girls in the United States is a Girl Scout. In Clyde this year, there will be seven or eight troops, with approximately 15 girls and four to six adults registered with each troop.

There is no price tag on good citizenship. No price can equal its value. Its part of the story of Girl Scouting that no request for help goes unanswered. These girls, from seven to seventeen, are learning to serve their family, community and country. Every contribution made to the Girl Scouts means informed citizenship for America tomorrow.

HERE! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONE DEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees; and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/2 inches lower.

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevies of all.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolets, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

Highlights of the State Capitol

AUSTIN — Neither Texas civilians nor the armed forces can afford the losses incurred through traffic accidents involving military personnel in the state.

On this note, the Texas Military-Civilian Traffic Safety Council was formed in Austin with a goal of reducing the accidents.

About 20 persons, civilian and military, attended the Council's first meeting, called at the behest of Gov. Price Daniel.

Servicemen have more auto accidents than any other population group in Texas, said Col.

Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety. Last year servicemen drivers were involved in 103 fatal accidents in which 130 persons were killed.

A great many of the servicemen in Texas are in the 18 to 25 year old age bracket, said Gen. Edward T. Williams, Fourth Army commander. People in this age bracket generally are the most inclined to have auto accidents.

Gen. Williams urged vigorous enforcement of traffic regulations so that the driver knows he will be caught and punished if he breaks the law.

Brad Smith, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, outlined the five-point program recommended by the governor to improve highway safety.

1. Driver education for all high school students.
2. A law to permit chemical tests to determine if a driver is intoxicated.
3. At least 200 additional highway patrolmen.
4. Revision of the drivers license law.
5. A system of traffic courts.

WATER PROGRAM STUDIED — Texas 7-man Water Development Board is considering whether to ask the next Legislature to expand and liberalize its program of lending financial aid to local water projects.

Decision is to be made at the Board's Oct. 28 meeting.

Board presently has authority to issue $100,000,000 in bonds and use the money to make loans to local governments for water conservation projects. Loans are limited to one-third the cost of the project and cannot be more than $5,000,000 for any one project.

Under study is whether to ask the Legislature to step up the program by authorizing the Board to lend as much as $15,000,000 per project and to issue another $100,000,000 in bonds to purchase water storage space in federal reservoirs.

When the Board was created, the law provided that another $100,000,000 in bonds could be authorized by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

DANIEL HONORED — Governor Daniel is the newly-elected chairman of the 16-state Southern Governors Conference.

He is the second Texan in a decade to head the group. Former Gov. Allan Shivers was chairman in 1951-52.

Conferences are devoted to the study of problems which the member states have in common. This year the protection of home industries against ruinous competition from imports has been a prime issue.

Governor Daniel said he felt much could be accomplished by the conferring governors "if we stand together."

HURRY-UP HOSPITALS — With a long, long waiting list of mentally retarded patients, the State Hospital Board is studying short cuts toward providing housing for them.

A contractor-member of the Board presented drawings of one possible approach - semi-permanent one-story, concrete block cottages. They would provide for 40 persons, cost $38,000 apiece and could be ready for occupancy in 20 months.

More than 1,000 children are now on the state homes' waiting list.

Board has authorized getting an estimate of the cost of putting an automatic sprinkling system in the Confederate Home in Austin, now used for mental patients. Home has been called a fire trap, but if it could be made safe, the cost of replacing it could be postponed.

Also voted by the Board was a policy of preventing tuberculosis patients, by force if necessary, from leaving state hospitals until they are well enough not to infect other people.

A recent attorney general's ruling held that the hospital system does have authority to make TB patients stay in the hospital until they are no longer contagious.

EDUCATION SUPPORT SOUGHT — Texans will be penny wise and pound foolish if they try to avoid the cost of establishing a top-notch system of higher education.

This was the theme of an Austin meeting of the members of governing boards of state colleges and universities. A series of regional meetings are planned during October and November to rally public support for better appropriations for state colleges.

Regrettably, the regents pegged Texas state-supported colleges as less than best. A survey was cited showing that 65 per cent of the top jobs in Texas industry are held by graduates of out of state colleges. Texas is training the hired hands; other states are training the bosses, said Reagan Houston III of San Antonio.

Texans will pay, said John Newton of Beaumont, whether they ante up for good education or not. In an age of electronics, automation and exotic fuels, good educational and research facilities are a prime attraction for new industries, said Newton.

"Cost of losing major opportunities for growth will be at least as great as the cost of providing what we really need," he said.

PRISON PROBLEMS CITED — Seventy-five per cent of the inmates of the Texas prison system are in "tanks" or dormitories which crowd impressionable young offenders in with hardened criminals, said the chairman of the Department of Corrections.

More housing to correct this situation is urgently needed, H. H. Coffield told an Austin audience. On the bright side, Coffield said the Texas prison system had pulled up from one of the worst to one of the best in the nation, in the past 10 years - a period when prison population skyrocketed. Yet per-prisoner cost is far below the national average.

As an "ounce of prevention" Coffield urged citizen support of such local agencies as churches, Scouts and Salvation Army.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

What is the road to success on the farm or ranch? We believe that hard work and good management are important, but these must be preceded by some sound planning. Sometimes a half day spent in studying and planning is worth more than many days of back-breaking labor. The reason is that labor avails very little unless applied in the right direction and manner.

When considering the land and other resources, the following questions should be answered:

1. best suited for over a long period of time?
2. What should I expect from this plot in the way of production?
3. What treatment or management is needed to bring about this desired, sustained production?

Your local Soil Conservation

Technicians, by training and experience, have some good answers to these questions. Their help in planning (and applying) needed conservation practices, is available to you, for the asking, through your Soil Conservation District.

During the coming Winter months, while many activities are at a standstill, why don't you take a real inventory of your resources and do some real planning for the future? You'll be glad you did.

Progress in conservation requires desire, determination and patience. The results are worth more than the cost.

It's the Law in TEXAS

TRADEMARKS

Our government has tried to encourage enterprise by rewarding good work. It does this by protecting a good name through our trademark laws.

From the time the clock starts your radio until night when you switch off the electric light, you surround yourself with things which you buy by their advertised brand names.

A trademark may be a word, emblem, or other device.

Brick makers of old Egypt, the lamp makers of Athens, and English helmet makers used them.

In a market, a trademark sets off one maker or seller's goods from those of others.

You may be the first to "think up" the idea of using a given trademark to identify certain goods. But that alone does not give you property right in the trademark or make you its owner. The maker or seller who first adopts and actually uses a trademark on a line of goods, becomes its owner.

The law protects ownership of trademarks. In doing so, courts will order a late-comer to stop using another's trademark. It will award damages if the owner has suffered.

Why does the law do this? First, to keep the buyer from being deceived and to make sure that we, the public, get what we want. Second, to prevent piracy of the trademark and the goodwill which its owner has built up in the market through making, selling and advertising such goods.

A trademark may be a firm's most valuable asset. It stands for the firm's goodwill and good name. So choose a trademark with care. It must not be too much like other trademarks.

When you have chosen a word or symbol, you must then use it properly with the goods for it to become valid. Once in use, guard it. For a trademark may lose its legal safeguard if you or the public do not use it properly.

To be valid, a trademark need not be registered in any state or federal agency. But registration makes protection easier to enforce and may afford other advantages.

By Daphne Floyd

Herman O'Shields was on the sick list last week, due to an attack of severe neuritis in his right arm, causing spasms of the muscles. He was hospitalized a few days and underwent a series of X-rays and tests to try to find the cause of the trouble. He was dismissed and hoped to be able to return to work in a few days.

Mrs. Etta Poindexter was at the bedside of her daughter Mrs. Ed Lee Floyd of Abilene, Monday of this week when she underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Floyd had her father, W. S. Barrett of Lawn visiting them over the week end and the first of the week.

The newest addition to the Windham Kennels is a pomeranian puppy. Did I say kennels? Well, I beg your pardon for anything as cute and loveable as the tiny pomeranian, named Marquita, will never get past the front door toward any old kennel.
