THE REAL HEROINES OF WAR

In America we have brave Americans. Our soldies -our sailors -our marines -all are brave, and valiant, and all are gallantly defending America.

But braver still-braver than the bravest soldier braver even than the heroic MacArthur himself, is the mother of this soldier. It's true she isn't mail matter, under the Act of Congress. March 2, on the front lines. Her weapon is not a gun, or a tank, or a bomb. Ah no her weapon is the most in potent of all -a heart filled with motherly love.

And that heart is doing double duty these wartorn days. It is the mother who has sacrificed the son she loves more dearly than life itself to keep America free. It is she whose empty arms go steadily on about her household duties without a pause, hiding her tears of fear and worry and terror.

It is she who remembers what a short time ago that her son was a soft, cuddly baby in her arms-s frecked little tyke with jam on his face and a bandage on his bare toe-a young happy-go-lucky of 15 or so who amazed her with slang she couldn't translate, and ridiculous dance steps she feared would cripple him for life. And, finally, it is she who remembers what a short, short time ago it was he told her he was going to the army that his greatest ambition was to join MacArthur and the other boys over there.

And then it was she who bravely kissed her son goodbye while her arms ached to hold him forever safely against her breast. It was she who told him she was proud he was brave and gallant and courageous, while at the same instant her heart cried out at the injustice and brutality of this modern war that was taking her tall son. And even though her enough to go willingly and quickly to fight for her freedom and security, she lives in terror that his life will be snuffed out by a Jap or a German-yet she is brave enough to push such thoughts from her mind and keep working constantly and fiercely, and Ten per cent of a yearly income is a small loan to or woman is the most unselfed. can only pray to God that her son will be kept safely the maintenance of our glorious traditions and to our Mary Baker Eddy. until he comes back to her.

I remember the re-legalization of beer. It came before Repeal, when Congress amended the old Volstead Act to allow legal sale of "3.2" beer.

Well, I found out plenty. I found out that legal beer has paid more than 3 billion dollars in taxes since 1933. It has made more than a million new jobs.

Beer is sold today in every state in the Union. Every state benefits from beer's jobs and taxes. And I guess there's no denying that beer did do its share in bringing back better times.

I'm glad it did, too, because beer is such a pleasant, appetizing beverage. And it stands for moderation and moderate people . . . it's not likely to get you in trouble.
