County Goes Over Quota In 5th War Loan

Congratulatory messages began coming in last Saturday to W. E. Braly, county chairman, and members of all war bond committees of the county upon the splendid work done in the Fifth War Loan. At that time, it was determined that Knox county had gone over the quota in both the Series E Bonds and the overall county quota. Figures compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas last Friday evening, showed Knox county's sales as follows: Series E—$200,100.00. County overall—$474,781.00.

Since these figures were compiled, additional bond purchases have been made and reported to state headquarters. With purchases of Series E, F, G and C Bonds counting during the remainder of this month, it is believed Knox county will go several thousand dollars above her quota. Telegrams congratulating Knox county people for their splendid efforts have been received from Nathan Adams of Dallas, state bond chairman; Clarence Hnedricks of Fort Worth, regional chairman, and other officials.

Revival To Be Closed Sunday

The revival meeting which is now in progress at the Methodist church will come to a close with the evening services next Sunday.

The meeting has attracted large crowds and a great deal of interest. An increase in attendance has been shown at almost every service.

The soul-stirring and plain gospel messages of Rev. H. H. Hollowell of Spur, who is doing the preaching, have held the interest of all his hearers. Rev. Hollowell presents the truths of the Bible in an interesting and forceful manner, and he tells a simple story of the plan of salvation.

More than usual interest has been shown in the song services, under the direction of Rev. Alby Cockrell of Weinert. These services have added interest and zeal to the meeting.

The public is extended a cordial and urgent invitation to attend the few remaining services.

Award of Silver Star Is Made To Goree Boy In D-Day Sorties

The Silver Star has been awarded to First Lt. Willard H. (Heard) Reeves of Wichita Falls, son of Victor Reeves of Goree and grandson of S. W. Reeves of Munday. At the time of the award, Reeves was a 2nd lieutenant and serving in Italy. The award was made for gallantry in action.

On the afternoon of August 6, 1943, near San Trateello, Sicily, Lt. Reeves left the cover of a rock pile to run across 400 yards of bare terrain interspersed with rock formation at irregular intervals, under heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire and under armed enemy small arms fire to reorganize a platoon and rejoin it to the company in order to set up a strong barrier to an impending enemy counter-attack.

Despite enemy bullets which hit within inches of him, and despite enemy artillery and mortar shells, which burst within 15 yards of him, Lt. Reeves, under constant fire for more than an hour, effected a reorganization of his unit so effectively that the enemy counter attack was broken up completely and the entire battalion left flank protected from vulnerable exposure.

Sgt. Cammie O. Beaty left last Monday night on return to her WAC training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., after spending a furlough here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beaty, and with other relatives.

July Primary Election Slated For Saturday

Light Vote Expected In This County

Although there are few county offices which are being contested, interest in the July primary election is increasing this week, and practically all voters of the county are expected to cast their ballots next Saturday to signify their choice for state, district and county offices.

The vote for Knox county is expected to fall below that of previous election years, however, due to the fact so many of our men have entered the service and others have moved away to become engaged in defense work.

Chief interest in the county races centers in that of county treasurer, in which there are three candidates.

Two commissioner's races also hold interest for the voters of these precincts. In precinct one, there are three candidates, while four are listed on the ballot for precinct two.

Withdrawal of Charlie Blount from the district attorney's race leaves only one name to be voted on for that office.

State offices are always contested, and this year is no exception. Governor Coke R. Stevenson, candidate for re-election finds himself opposed by eight candidates for this office, while the lieutenant governor, John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, is opposed by three other aspirants.

Several other state offices have several candidates, and these are expected to draw interest and a good vote in the county, as well as in all sections of the state.

All election supplies and ballots are being placed in the hands of election judges this week, and everything is in readiness for the vote. All voters of the county are urged to come out and vote in the election.

Polls at the various election precincts will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Goree Boy In D-Day Sorties

A Ninth Air Force Troop Carrier Base, European Theater of Operations—Now making regular flights over France, Staff Sgt. Everett G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Goree, Texas, received his combat initiation on D-Day as crew chief of a Ninth Air Force Troop Carrier Command C-47 Skytrain.

His plane was one of the more than 900 aircraft sent out by Brig. Gen. Paul L. Williams' Ninth Troop Carrier Command before dawn June 6, to drop the first airborne infantry and artillery on Cherbourg peninsula in advance of the Allied seaborne landings. Since then Ninth Troop Carrier Command planes have flown as many as 330 sorties a day, hauling troops, munitions and supplies, and evacuating wounded.

"The D-Day mission tops anything I've ever known," Smith says, "after that show the other runs seem mild."

"We flew right through the thickest part of everything the Germans were throwing at us and still got back without a scratch."

A graduate of Gustine, Texas high school, Sergeant Smith worked at a California defense plant before entering the service in September 1942.

EFFICIENT RETAILING STABILIZES PRODUCTION

In no other nation in the world has the average citizen been as well served with the necessities of life, and even luxuries, during this present terrible war, as in the United States. There is a reason for this—no nation in the world has had as many free and independent business men seeking to supply the needs of the people, as has the United States.

War restrictions on production and distribution were inevitable. Hastily drawn as they were, many of them have been confusing and some actually damaging to maximum production and distribution. Nevertheless, American business adjusted itself to the rules and regulations and kept the supply stream going to consumers.

This never could have been done, nor would government rationing and price control have been successful, except for the efficient retailing system this nation enjoys. Retail stores played a tremendous part in results that have been secured. They have been a stabilizing influence in maintaining production and distribution on an even keel.

Such stores were built up on the basic idea of a minimum profit on each sale, in order to create a maximum turnover. That policy is probably doing more to stabilize prices than any man-made legislation can accomplish in the face of rising wages and material costs.

In the postwar period, the nation will depend even more on efficient mass merchandising practices to readjust to a peacetime economy and get the ten thousand and one articles of peacetime commerce into the hands of the consuming public, thereby giving the most rapid and elastic outlet for farm and factory production.

"SOAK THE RICH" MEANS YOU

The average citizen had little concern over taxes five years ago. "Soak the rich" was the stock method of raising increased public revenue. Even up until two or three years ago, it seemed as if the so-called rich could always be assessed through business or death taxes to raise public revenue. But we have had a shock—"soaking the rich" will no longer pay the tax bills. From now on, the tax collector must "soak" everybody.

Labor, for example, has found in deductions from its pay checks, what taxation means. In other words, industry and labor are at last in the same boat.

Gross earnings and gross wages mean nothing. Jobs must be created out of net earnings. Homes must be built out of net wages—the money remaining after tax deductions.

The only hope of workmen and industry to increase their net incomes after the war, is to see that government gets out of every non-essential, money-consuming activity and tax-exempt government business project that destroys taxpaying private enterprise.

Every postwar program to put government into business competition with its private citizens, takes money out of the pockets of industry and the worker. There is no Santa Claus except the man and the business that dig up for the tax collector.

LET THEM SPEAK

More than fifty-five thousand doctors are serving in the armed forces. A few years ago they were busy carrying on medical practices and bettering the health of the communities in which they lived. War removed them to far away corners of the world. But they still find time to consider vital questions affecting the medical profession. A medical officer recently addressed a plea to every physician and medical organization on the home front. He said: "Please help keep the practice of medicine out of government control."

Commenting on this mute appeal, Medical Economists says: "Every medical society in the country should have a committee to help preserve free medicine. Such committees should tell the doctor in service about the problems they're up against and how they're attempting to counter them. Let them assure him that if it is humanly possible to do so his civilian colleagues will keep political opportunism out of medicine."

"More than anything else, the men who are fighting for us want a chance after the war to pick up where they left off. The least we at home can do is to try to assure them that chance. Legislation of the Wagner variety (to socialize the medical profession) must not be permitted to pass at a time when so many of our profession are absent from the country on active duty. They're entitled to express themselves at least on a proposal that would, if adopted, revolutionize the practice of their profession...."

PILLS AND POLITICS

Apparently nobody can agree on the extent of the rise in the cost of living during the past couple of years. Representatives of labor groups have dug up figures that show a startling increase—as an excuse for higher wages. Government figures show a more modest increase. But regardless of the exact figure, everyone knows that the cost of living has gone up substantially. Only a few necessities have failed to join in the rapid upward trend. One of these is medical service.

The fact that cost of physicians' services has not risen proportionately with wages and other costs, should cause people to pause when asked to believe that doctors need regimenting under a Washington dictator to guarantee the nation adequate and efficient medical care. The ethics of the medical profession and custom make it unthinkable for the doctor to raise prices whenever his "operating margin" grows thin. The bureaucrat, on the other hand, is bound by neither ethics nor custom. The word "economy" is not in his dictionary. When costs go up in government, taxes go up.

The country can be mortally certain that a socialized medical system would be expensive—as well as inefficient. Moreover, inasmuch as such a system would spell a government medical monopoly, the people would be helpless to combat these evils. Costly, inefficient medical care would be the price of mixing pills and politics.

HANDOUTS OR FREEDOM

The framers of this country rank among the most abundant food producers in the world, and they are noted for their independence. They have developed cooperative marketing organizations that "talk" for them in matters of distribution, while they concentrate on production. These farmer-owned business organizations reflect the view of farmers.

Recently, Ernest C. Strobeck, secretary of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, said of subsidies: "An understanding of food subsidies requires at the outset a determination of the kind of government that we want. Do we want a government supported by its citizens—a government of, for and by the people? Or, do we want a government to which everyone looks for handouts and detailed regulations of their everyday lives?"

Farmers have been forced to accept subsidies, although they continue to oppose them in principle as a threat to the independence of everyone. They are frank in their belief that higher prices for farm products when necessary are preferable to living at the whim of government authorities. The country is fortunate to have that kind of farmers.

SLAVES DON'T WIN WARS

As of January 1, 1944, the oil companies of the United States reported an expenditure of nearly one billion dollars of their own money exclusively as a war effort in accelerating refining, marketing and transportation facilities of the war-gearred petroleum industry. This huge sum does not include the incalculable other millions of dollars spent by the companies for stepped up exploration, development and wildcatting to assure the prodigious petroleum production war made necessary.

A country of freedom like the United States has the edge over any nation whose people are dominated by rules with no faith in the intelligence of their fellow citizens. People who are dominated must be led. When war came the people of this country did not wait to be led by government authority. Industries such as oil went ahead on their own initiative with the result that the armed forces have plenty of oil and everything else they need.

Individual independence is the best secret of the American production miracle. The Axis leaders cannot understand this as our tanks and planes by the tens of thousands blast them out of their ill-gotten empires.

ESKRIDGE VISITS SON AT WARM SPRINGS HOSPITAL

Charles S. Eskridge, left, chairman of a Foundation concert series which aims at raising one million dollars in behalf of the care of Texas' crippled children, has a personal interest in the welfare and treatment of the patients at the Gonzales Warm Springs Hospital. One of them is his own son. The youngster is shown here with his parents. Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent, looks on. In the background, Governor Coke Stevenson talks with another patient.

$2,000 FOR A SUGGESTION

Bridgeport, Conn.—Orvar Nilis Ericson, a tool-maker for 22 years at General Electric has been awarded $2,000 for his suggestion which speeded the final production of the new remote fire control system of the B-29 Superfortress. This system, revealed by the War Department on July 8, is such that gunners direct gun turrets from "comfortable, strategically located sight-positions."

The award to Ericson is believed to be the largest single amount ever given by any plant in this country under the nation-wide suggestion award system. The award represented the largest amount ever given by G. E. in any of its factories. At Ericson's own request, $1,500 worth of war bonds were given to him.

The suggestion system has been in effect at G. E. since 1906. Since its inception the company had granted $1,500,000 in suggestion awards. In 1943, 23,841 suggestions were adopted for total awards of $276,760, which is an over-all company figure.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Simple Range Shelter
THIS is the year to make every piece of equipment that we now have on the farm keep going, every acre and cow and hen produce its best, every day and every lick count.

The shelter is simply constructed and requires a minimum of labor and critical materials. It is made of asbestos cement board applied on a V-shaped frame, with wire stretched across the open ends. A small door covered with wire is used on the front. Since asbestos board is rodent-proof and weather-proof, the shelter will last a long time.

boys' supply of nickels had run out and there was no more riding on the merry-go-round or the ferris wheel, there was the free show in front of the Museum of World Curiosities—the Oriental dancer who was a princess; and the mind-reader, who was also a princess; and the snake-charmer, who oddly enough was a princess, too. These only appeared on the platform however—the only one who performed, free, was the fire-eater, though the wild man, captured in the jungles of Africa, would shake his chain and growl.

One of the most thrilling events was the balloon ascension, the aerialist—in bright costume—sitting on a trapeze under the balloon, which rapidly rose hundreds of feet in the air. Then he pulled the rip cord and the balloon began to deflate. The daredevil plunged dizzily toward earth until his parachute unfolded, then he floated down.

On one such occasion, a group of negroes was busy picking cotton when a parachute jumper fluttered to a landing in their midst. They fled in terror—all except Uncle Sam Remus, who was a preacher and he courageously remained—also he had rheumatism and couldn't run. The old darkey gazed at the acrobat in his bright tights and then said, "Good mawnin', Lord Jesus, and how is yore Pappy git-ting' along?"

The hopes of the overwhelming majority of the people of Texas that loan sharks can be driven out of the state were given impetus when a jury recently returned a verdict, the effect of which was to uphold the new anti-usury injunction law and to find a flock of these saboteurs of the war effort guilty thereunder.

G. W. Dingus returned home last Thursday from Guyton, Okla., where he visited his son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Longbotham, for several weeks.

Mrs. H. H. Hollowell and little daughter of Spur came in last Sunday to be with their husband and father, Rev. Hollowell, who is preaching in the revival meeting here.

Miss Patsy Ruth Kirk, who has been attending McMurry College, Abilene, is here to spend the remainder of the summer with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Luther Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Sheedy and family of Coahoma visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dingus several days last week.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

JAP BULLETS WHIZ CLOSE TO BURNETT ZEISSEL

The following is a letter from Burnett Zeissel, who is serving in the South Pacific, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Zeissel, which has been submitted for publication: Dear Mother and Dad:

Well folks, here I am back from the front lines for a few days rest, and, believe me, I am glad to be alive. If it hadn't been for the Good Lord taking care of me I don't suppose I would be here to write this letter, for the bullets came so close that I could smell them, and I ain't kidding. I was carrying a radio on my back, and it was hit twice by Jap ampers. One of my best boy friends that was with me got shot through the leg. If I get out of this alive I'll give all the credit to the Lord, for He is the only one that can help you.

Well, Mother, it has been so long since I received any tobacco that I have just about decided to stop chewing!

I was glad to hear that everything is O. K. with you and Daddy, and I sure wish you had some of this sunshine for the crops.

Since there isn't much to write about, I suppose I had better close, so keep your fingers crossed just for luck (I'll need it).

With love,
Burnett,

O. C. Funderburk of Eastland, Texas, Associate Justice of our Court of Civil Appeals, in association, first, with Justices W. P. Leslie and Clyde Grissom, has by his years of service helped to establish the reputation of the Court as one of the strongest of the eleven Courts of Civil Appeals in Texas. Those best acquainted with the history of the Court, and with Judge Funderburk's record regard him as an able, impartial and courageous jurist entitled to a vote of confidence and re-election. Why make any unnecessary change in the personnel by whose co-operative work the high standing of the Court has been achieved?

The Texan's share in this war is truly a big one. Of every 18 men in the Army, Navy and Marine corps, one is a native of the Lone Star State. Recent reports show approximately 650,000 Texans in the services.

Every dispatch from the fighting fronts reminds us that the descendants of the heroes of the Alamo are first-string scrappers. The recruiting officer who told the boys up north that they should "join the army and help Texas win the war" was not far from the truth!

Here's the latest on some of the Texas fighting men:

Capt. John A. Paul of Kerrville is wearing a bronze star won in the hard fighting at Bougainville. . . Lt. Bill Hogan of Clarksville, now recovering from wounds, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in wiping out an anti-tank gun crew. . . and the same medal has gone to Lt. Delbert C. Gates of Joinville, with a citation which attests his "extraordinary heroism" in fighting off a Jap attack while armed only with an automatic rifle.

Lewis Schatz of Dobbin, who is back home for hospitalization after being twice wounded in Italy, met his brother, Pfc. August Schatz, at Salerno. August is still in Italy chasing the retreating Nazis.

"Luck boots" have carried Lt. E. W. Bridwell of Winters through 23 bombing missions over Europe. The high-heeled Texas footgear, first worn by Capt. L. A. Brumley of Del Rio, were passed on to Lt. Bridwell. When he completes his flying stint, they will go to Lt. Bob Devaney of Waco, who thinks they will bring him luck too.

"Commando" Kelly, the Yankee Irishman who became a Texan and won the Congressional Medal of Honor by fighting heroically with Texas' 36th division, stopped off in Austin recently to thank the "home folks" for their contributions to the war effort.

"We know Texans are behind us," he told Wayland D. Towner, manager of the United War Chest of Texas, "because we got National War Fund services even up close to the front lines. USO camp shows, War Prisoners Aid and other agencies are doing a great job, thanks to the $5,000,000 given by Texas last year. Keep up the good work, and we'll keep hitting the enemy hard!"

The Nazis in Normandy made a mistake when they made a Texan mad one day last week. When a German bazooka knocked out his tank, Lt. Dick Martin of Fort Worth got sore, jumped on top of the machine, cut loose with a sub-machine gun, and personally killed

Fruit Juices Can Be Canned Safely, Says Lucile King

Fruit juices may be canned safely without the use of sugar, however, adding it helps hold the color and flavor of the juice.

This assurance comes from Lucile King, county home demonstration agent, who says she has received numerous inquiries on the subject from Texas home makers. The juice may be canned in glass fruit jars or in bottles with crown caps. If it is put up in bottles, a capper must be used. The agent especially warns against sealing bottles with corks dipped in wax or paraffin, because this type of seal will not withstand processing.

Bottles and jars should be smooth, free from nicks and cracks. After washing, they should be heated in water until it boils. Crown caps for the bottles should be wiped clean with a damp cloth but should not be washed. Just before the caps are used they should be dipped in boiling water. Miss King advises handling only small batches of ripe, firm fruit at a time. She says the secret of keeping the fine natural flavor and color of the fruit lies in heating just enough to sterilize but not so much that the color and flavor change.

Berries, red cherries and plums are prepared for juice by removing the pits, crushing, and heating to simmering. Then they are strained through a cloth bag. Add sugar as desired, about a half to a cup of sugar for each gallon of juice, depending on the sweetness of the fruit. After the sugar is added, heat the juice again to simmering

Steering Wheel Of Auto Is Made Into Floor Lamp

Given a few odds and ends, county Extension agents sometimes demonstrate miracles. But the demonstration is their Pandora's box of methods to teach farm people greater efficiency and how to multiply their home comforts. Here is an outstanding example of the ingenuity of one county home demonstration agent in fabricating a useful household article from an automobile part, old newspapers and a bit of plank with the aid of two handy 4-H Club girls.

Edith and Fay Ryder, Knox County 4-H Club girls, desired to make a floor lamp out of the steering wheel of an automobile. So they sought the help of the county home demonstration agent, Kathleen Lucile King, who listed the things necessary to do the job.

First, they shredded enough newspapers to fill a gallon bucket, and when Miss King reached their home she added a one inch cube of soap cut into tiny bits and a handful of salt. The mixture was covered with water and allowed to stand over night.

Next morning, Edith took a wash board and rubbed the soaked paper into pulp. Flour was added to thicken it and form a paste and the bucket placed on the stove. While Edith prepared the paper-machie, Fay cut the circular part of the steering wheel with a hacksaw and then sawed a four by four inch piece from a plank. Using a carpenter's square she found the exact center of the block where she bored a hole about half way through with a brace and bit. It was then placed on top of the steering wheel rod.

With the parts assembled, the agent proceeded with the wiring. The cord was run through the block and the plug put on and tested. Next the socket was screwed to the four by four block, and rags cut in one inch strips were used to wrap the steering wheel. Lastly, the paper-machie was spread on the stand, smoothed down and set to dry. When properly dried it will be painted or enamelled

Wheat farmers of the North

Wheat farmers of the North Panhandle can expect an average cash return from their wheat crop this year of $5,000 per farm, a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research statistician estimates. He predicted that district would receive $60,000,000 in farm cash income from wheat alone.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

JAMES FRANK NANCE IS DISGUSTED BY STRIKES

The following is a letter from Cpl. James Frank Nance, Jr., to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Nance of Munday:

Dearest Mom, Pop and all:

I've stolen a little time so I could write you. I bet you feel relieved now after all of you are up and out of bed.

Say, how does it feel to be called grandma and grandpa? I hope I get to live long enough so I'm able to be called one. Louise kept right on writing me, but I didn't get the letters until yesterday.

Today is our birthday, and another way. All of us boys that have been out here 24 and 27 months sure are chipping our guns lately, but we sure have a right. 140 million people, 8 million in arms and have to stay out here from start to finish of this war.

The people back there (most of them working) are striking all of the time. Darn if it doesn't look like they want us to stay out here, by their actions. For myself, I'm tired of the American people messing around. They sure haven't showed me any consideration. I noticed in magazines where they cry about rationing, and the guys that are just getting out here are crying about them too. I would like for them to eat K-rations for 30 days straight, one quart of water a day, and smell dead bodies — well they would ache. I know you are not like that, and I'm glad that most of the people around there aren't. I don't know why I write like this to you, but I have to get the load off my mind somehow.
 Love,
 Son.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
 M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — "Infantile paralysis can be expected to occur more frequently during the next three months," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months.

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscopes. The first symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness; but in more severe cases, the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of nerves controlling one, or more, groups of muscles. Some remarkable recoveries have been noted.

"Flies, or other insects, which under suspicion, have not been demonstrated to play a part in the spread of this disease. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets attending coughing and sneezing. Children and grown people that are healthy may be carriers of the germ. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is apt to suffer an attack.

Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that

REID'S HARDWARE COMPANY

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 50TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT FRIENDS:

I have accepted a position as enforcement attorney for the Federal Government and have tendered by resignation as district attorney to the governor. I am taking this means of notifying you of my decision and asking you to please not consider me as a candidate for the office of district attorney in the coming primary.

This position was offered me last week and after much consideration I decided, in fairness to my friends and myself, to accept. The position is an advancement in my profession, the remuneration is greater, opens a new field of experience to me in the Federal Courts, and is the only capacity in which I can serve and do more for my country in the war effort.

The decision was not an easy one to make and before doing so I talked with as many of you, in all the counties, as I possibly could in such short time. I sincerely hope that you realize how much I appreciate your interest, your assurances of re-election, and the fact that you were happy that I had this opportunity of advancement.

I am deeply indebted to you, the people of this district, and am unable to find the words to express my heartfelt appreciation. While serving as your district attorney, with your help as jurors, grand jurors, witnesses and friends, I have had 124 convictions, 4 hung juries and 8 acquittals. The experience I have thus had, experience acquired by your kindness, has better qualified me and has been greatly instrumental in my getting this new position.

For your kindness, loyalty and friendship I can only say thank you and may God bless you.

Sincerely yours,
CHARLIE BLOUNT.

THESE apple sauce cookies are tops with the rookies. Loved by Yard Birds and Generals. Civilians too.

Put one in the lunch box; Send a score to the table; Mail a gross to the soldier; And prove this is true.

Apple Sauce Cookies

2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon cloves; 1 teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons soda; 1/2 cup butter or other shortening; 1 teaspoon lemon rind; 1 cup sugar; 2 eggs, unbeatened; 1 1/2 cups apple sauce; 1/2 cup chopped nut meats.

Sift flour once, measure, add spices, salt, and soda, and sift three times. Cream butter and lemon rind, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with apple sauce, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add nuts. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet 2 inches apart. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

Ed Gossett Answers His Opponent In Speech Tuesday At Knox City

Speaking to a large crowd in Knox City on Tuesday night Congressman Ed Gossett replied to last week's charges of his opposition in part as follows:

"During his 14 years' service in the Texas legislature, the distinguished state senator has naturally made many mistakes, but I shall not attack his record. After all, men are to be judged by their batting average. It will never be my practice to spring surprises upon the people during the closing days of any campaign. The senator is not attacking me for any vote or act during the last four years. Instead, he is about to flood this district with a malicious and misleading circular attacking me for two votes cast during my first few months in the congress. His efforts in this regard are inconsistent with his reputation for integrity. The senator does not attack me on recent or domestic issues, as he might well do, for I have made some mistakes. Instead, he drags out an old red herring called the fortification of Guam when he knows congress never voted against the fortification of Guam, but rather to strike a $5,000,000 item for harbor dredging, when he knows congress made no mistake in this matter and when he knows the action of congress in this particular probably saved many American lives.

War-Anxious People
"Nevertheless, he wants a war-anxious, war-weary people to believe that in some way their congressman has not done everything humanly possible in the war effort. These votes were aired out through two past elections and are fully understood. The people, I am sure, will deplore and resent any last-minute effort to prey upon war-anxious. Anxious hearts won't wait in terrible anxiety. Any effort to play upon the heartstrings of the people in a time like this for political gain is reprehensible.

"As your congressman, I have helped to pass hundreds of vital measures in support of the war effort. The chief concern of every honest heart at this time is to get the war successfully over as quickly as possible, with a minimum loss of American lives, and then to do everything humanly possible to see that it doesn't happen again. At this time, your congressman is a recognized leader in efforts to remove the greatest stump in the path of effective American participation in world peace efforts, i.e., to change the constitutional requirements of a two-thirds vote of the senate to ratify treaties. All agree this provision defeated American adherence to the League of Nations and has hamstrung our effective participation in world affairs.

"On the domestic front your congressman is a recognized leader in fighting for political and economic equality for the people of Texas and the South. I have fought and will continue to fight against yankee politicians who seek to break down all forms of racial segregation. I have voted to apply anti-racketeering laws to labor unions, to suspend the 40 hour week and outlaw strikes in time of war. I was the author of an amendment to deny federal salaries to communists, and have voted to kick communists from the Federal payroll. I have worked and voted to have increased labor costs figured into farm parity. Because of these votes and my fight for the unorganized folks of the country, I have been blacklisted by the CIO and other radical organizations. My opponent has the blessing of these organizations and has remained absolutely silent about their activities. I want the people of the 13th district to know these facts.

Only Issue
"During these critical days personal ambitions are wholly immaterial and unimportant. The only issue in this campaign is who can best serve at this time in this particular job. The state senator did not resign to run for congress. He still has two years to do on his four-year term as state senator. With 14 years' experience in the state legislature at Austin, he certainly knows the ropes there. He can serve the people better in Austin than any new man who might replace him. On the other hand, I have just got my teeth cut on my job as your servant in Washington and can serve better there than any new man who might replace me. To move the senator from Austin to Washington would necessitate a special election and the expenditure of thousands of dollars to fill his place in the state legislature. In other words, it would cost this district a lot of money to place inexperienced men in both Austin and Washington at a time when experience counts as never before, and at a time when most employees are frozen on their jobs. This is not good business and this is not in the public interest, and the people of the 13th Congressional District are not going to make any such mistake."

Stamford P. C. A. Endeavors To Be Member-Owned

Long strides toward complete ownership of production credit associations are being made and only 11.2 per cent of the 1943 income of the associations in Texas came from the government investment, according to reports of officers and directors of the Stamford Production Credit Association who attended the district conference in Abilene on July 14 and 15.

President J. B. Pumphrey said that the Stamford association now has $178,310.00 in member-owned capital and $75,292.00 in earned surplus, or 81 per cent of the total capital structure. "Ten years ago when we started out to have a locally owned cooperative to finance farmers and stockmen from a dependable source in all kinds of times, we started from scratch. Today we have 1264 member-owners and $1,291,275.00 in loans outstanding. Our goal is to become totally member-owned as rapidly as possible."

At the district conference it was reported that although production costs have greatly increased over the past few years, farm and ranch operators are repaying their loans more rapidly and getting into stronger financing and operating position. It was recommended that war crops be produced as efficiently as possible, places be put into good sound operating condition to carry on in normal times, that total debts be reduced to manageable size, and then kept that way, and that substantial reserves be built up in war bonds. Speculative expansion of land ownership is being avoided by producers who recall former times when demand for farm and ranch products dropped and prices would not carry some of the present day land values. It was also considered advisable by the directors, who are all practical farm and ranch operators, that long-term leases at high prices be avoided.

As one director put it at the meeting: "It's a real temptation to jump in and try it when you see some fellow take a long shot and make a lot of money right under your nose, but I believe the men who stay with straight production will be running their own businesses when the speculators who are getting so rich on paper now will be working for somebody else."

Those attending the conference from the Stamford Production Credit Association were: J. B. Pumphrey, president, Old Glory; J. F. McCulloch, vice president, Stamford; C. G. Burson, Haskell; Clark Forbis, Afton; Lasater Hensley, Guthrie; J. L. Hill, Jr., secretary-treasurer, Stamford.

J. C. Campbell and daughter, Delores, spent the first of this week in Dallas, attending market and purchasing merchandise for the Campbell Variety Store.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

National Farm Safety Week

As a part of the National Farm Safety Week Program, July 23-29, the Department of Agriculture offers some simple safety rules for women and girls doing farm work for the first time. In handling machinery—read and follow instructions; stop machine for all adjustments and repairs; unhitch horses from machine before making adjustments; wear coversalls with no loose parts to catch in machine. Speak quietly to animals when going close to them. Wear gloves for rough work. When sun is hot, wear a broad-brimmed hat, dark glasses when needed and if skin is tender use skin lotion. To be sure you can do heavy work safely, get a medical check-up. Move a ladder often instead of stretching. In lifting, use knees and keep back straight. Cleanse slight cuts and scratches and cover with sterile material. Wear whole, clean stockings and well fitted shoes with low, level heels. Eat three well-planned meals each day. When perspiring freely use one-eighth to one-fourth teaspoonful of salt to each glass of drinking water. When hours are long and the work is hard, eat a mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack.

Kerosene Has Gone To War

Kerosene use on the home front must be reduced wherever possible this year, the Petroleum Administration for War warns, because of the tremendous and increasing consumption of kerosene in vital war fuels. Diesel engines use a fuel a portion of which has been diverted from the manufacture of kerosene. Diesel fuel oil, made of approximately one-third kerosene fractions, powers bulldozers, Diesel trucks, caterpillar tractors, construction machinery, dock and yard locomotives, every American submarine and nearly 100,000 invasion barges. PAW calls on users to use sparingly of kerosene—also known as coal oil, range oil, lamp oil, burning oil and stove oil.

More Work Clothing

More civilian work clothing for men and boys is indicated by a War Production Board order requiring manufacturers of work clothing to produce during each quarter beginning July 1 at least 90 per cent of the number of garments manufactured during the third quarter of 1942. Items to be produced are bib overalls, dungarees, work shirts, one-piece work suits, pants, overall jackets and blanket-lined coats. In line with recent national legislation, manufacturers prices for the basic constructions of denim (used widely in manufacture of overalls) have been raised one cent a yard, the Office of Price Administration announced.

More Calls For Nurses

A call for qualified nurses to work in Veterans Administration Hospitals to help provide adequate care for disabled veterans has been issued by the Veterans Administration.

Hospitals are classified in three groups—General Medical and Surgical, Tuberculosis and Neuro-Psychiatric. Nurses work an eight-hour day, six days per week, with rotating shifts and additional compensation for overtime. Living accommodations may be obtained at the hospitals. Interested graduate nurses from recognized schools who are registered should write to Medical Director, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C. A campaign to recruit 8,500 nurses for the Army and Navy—at the rate of 1,000 a month for the Army and 500 a month for the Navy—has been announced by the War Manpower Commission. Nurses in the Army now have the full authority of their officer rank.

OPA Price Actions

Prices for the 1944 crops of a number of fresh food items have been set by OPA. Potato prices will be the same as for the 1943 crop except that for July there will be increases in the F. O. B. shipping point prices of 20 cents a hundredweight in Nebraska and 30 cents a hundredweight in Kansas, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia—states in which adverse weather caused decreased yield. Retail prices of 1944 sweet potatoes—with a national average of about 10 cents a pound over the 12 months—will be lower than the 1943 crop, OPA says. Retail prices for the 1944 red sour cherries for table use or home canning will be about 18 cents a pound with stems and sold in containers and about 16 cents a pound without stems and sold in containers. The F. O. B. shipping point prices for these cherries in containers will be 11 cents a pound with stems, and 9-3-4 cents a pound without stems. Sold in bulk without containers the price is two cents a pound less than the container prices. Highest prices for fresh peaches for table use should range from 14-1-2 to 16 cents a pound, OPA says, as these peaches are now under price control for the first time.

Make Chain For Farm Uses

To provide necessary chain for farm uses, the WPB has issued instructions to chain manufacturers on filling orders for supplies and dealers serving the farm trade. Chain that the WPB expects to keep available includes harness chain, wagon chain, cow ties, tie outs, halter chain, log chain under one-half inch and repair and lap links.

Calls For Shipyard Workers

Fifty thousand additional shipyard workers are needed to meet the ship construction needs for European and Far Eastern operations, Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, Chairman of the United States Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administrator, announced. "Every man or woman who is able to work in a shipyard, and not at present employed in essential war work, should report at once to the nearest United States Employment Service office for enrollment in this most essential work," he said.

Round-Up

USDA says—in all states, farmers who need lumber for essential maintenance and repairs on farms may get preference ratings AA-2 or AA-3, as high as those assigned to any other civilian use. Civilian butter supplies for the last half of this year will be shorter than for the first half, inasmuch as production during the next six months is expected to be lower than during Hey, Chum! Wanna buy some nice fresh kilowatts?

IT'S not likely that a shifty, fast-talking gent will ever side up to you with such an offer. Bootleggers and Black Markets exist only where there are shortages—and a chance to make big profits by breaking ceiling prices. There are no Black Markets in electricity, nor are there any shortages. And far from pushing against price ceilings, the price of electricity has stayed right down on the floor. In fact, over the last 15 years, the average price to the average family has been cut just about in half. Of course, you probably have more electric appliances and use more electricity today than you did then—but you're getting twice as much for your money! Your thanks for such a big bargain belong largely to your friends and neighbors who work with this company. They're doing a better job every year.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I don't blame the fellows overseas for gettin' all het up over it, Judge. For the likes of me I can't see what's all the hurry about holdin' these local prohibition elections while they're away."

"I agree with you, Steve. Time after time...in their letters, in articles, in polls taken to get the views of our fighting men... they have indicated in unmistakable terms that they don't want any action taken on prohibition, either local or national, until they get back."

"Too bad there isn't a law or somethin' to be sure their wishes are carried out, Judge."

"There is in one state I know of, Steve. Just recently it passed a law prohibiting the calling of any prohibition election until a year after the peace is declared."

"That really makes sense to me, Judge."

Protein Feed Shortage To Be More Acute

The present indications are the protein supply for the next twelve months will be no greater than it was for the past twelve months, according to R. O. Dunkle, county agent. This being true, the farmers and stockmen need to take steps to lessen the demand for protein feeds. This can be done by increasing the protein content of the roughages (grass, silage and hay). The younger a plant is, the higher it will analyze in protein. This means keeping the grass young, tender, green and growing, if possible. This can be done, except in case of extreme drought, by disease grazing or mowing.

The protein content of the hay can be increased by cutting the hay crop at a more immature stage than is now customarily done. The majority of the farmers of Texas let the hay crop mature before cutting. Sorghum cane hay cut when ripe analyzes about five per cent protein, whereas if it is cut in the bloom stage, it will analyze about eight per cent protein. If cut before heading, it will analyze about ten per cent protein. However, it is not advisable to cut sorghum cane hay earlier than the bloom stage on account of palatability the livestock would not eat it very well.

Such crops as Johnson grass and sudan grass can be cut before heading and the resultant hay will be palatable. Johnson grass and sudan grass cut before heading will analyze from 12 to 14 per cent protein, an average of 13 per cent. When cut in the bloom stage, it analyzes about nine per cent, cut when seed have formed about six per cent. Thus you can see it pays to cut all grasses before heading.

The higher the protein is in the hay, the less cottonseed meal will be needed in the grain mixture. If you cut Johnson grass or sudan grass after seed have formed, you will need 21 per cent protein in the grain mixture. If you cut it before heading, you will only need 14 per cent protein in the grain mixture for dairy cows.

She Interrogates Bomber Crews

DESPITE a fascinating career in New York City, Pauline Morning, 601-12th Ave., West Vancouver, was determined to get into the fight from the outset. When war broke out, she was working for a movie company in New York, harmonizing sound into film. She first attempted to join the American Red Cross but was rejected because she wasn't a U. S. citizen. Early in '40 Pauline applied to Ottawa for a travel permit, took passage to Britain and enlisted in the Women's Auxiliary Air Force. Because of an extensive musical education at Lucerne, Milan, and her experience with sound movies, the W.A.A.F. trained her as a wireless operator. In wireless operation a sense of rhythm is essential and Pauline's was highly developed. Recently commissioned, Pauline has since been engaged in one of the most important jobs entrusted to women—interrogating bomber crews upon their return from raids.

with the barbarism of the Japs and the Nazis, and it makes one wonder if maybe it wouldn't be a good thing to revive the whipping-post and include in the punishment meted out by the law to such cowards and curs—besides a prison sentence—25 lashes on their backs.

Around Texas:

Like "Boom," the oil movie, is Brownwood, scene of one of the big Army camps of the nation. There are souvenir shops with trinkets that suggest the range and others with a touch of Old Mexico; instantaneous photograph booths and six picture shows in three blocks.

Pastoral beauty characterizes the landscape between Hico and Dublin—flocks of sheep, with lambs bounding about; happy farm-houses with white chickens in the yard and a few proud turkey gobblers strutting, and "the cattle on a thousand hills."

Passing through Collinsville recently, this observer remembered the day, over 12 years ago, when "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, then governor of Oklahoma and mentioned as a candidate for the Presidential nomination, came back to his birthplace—(actually, he was born in a rural community out from Collinsville). There were flags and bunting that day everywhere; a band played and, despite a cold drizzle, there was a big crowd to hear Murray speak, an overcoat turned up around his ears. Where is Murray now—and where is that cold weather?

Plenty Of Water, Shade Necessary For Young Pullets

Water, which always is a necessary part of any poultry ration, is especially important to good management of pullets on summer range. Shade also contributes much to their health and comfort.

During the hot summer months, says R. O. Dunkle, county agent, pullets should drink large quantities of water. They will drink more if the containers are kept in the shade and supplied often with cool, fresh water. But they will not drink enough if they are forced to go far from the feeders to get it.

Feed and water containers always should be shaded and additional shade should be provided for the places where the birds idle. Pullets are inactive in the middle of the day and they need a cool, comfortable space to spend this time. If natural shade is available, the range equipment should be placed so the birds can go to it easily. If no natural shade is at hand, brush arbors may be built for temporary use.

Moveable range shelters not only provide shade for the birds during the day but serve as roosting quarters at night. The simplest type of range shelter consist of a water-tight roof over wire sides or wall. This structure enables the owner to confine the pullets when necessary and at the same time protects them from night prowling animals. This type of shelter is light in weight and may be moved easily from one part of the range to another.

As an initial step in good management, Dunkle color that all under size, off color, soft type or unthrifty chickens should be removed. Any showing signs of disease or general unthriftiness during the growing period should be culled immediately. If this is done fewer culs will be found at laying time.

Mrs. Ruth Griffith of Abilene visited with relatives and friends here the first of this week.

To All Rural Route Patrons

It has been brought to my attention that some patrons on rural routes out of Munday never buy any postage at all, but place coins, mostly pennies, in the box, expecting the carrier to do all their stamping. This is not only imposing on your carrier, but violates postal laws. He is only required to place a stamp on your letter when you do not have the opportunity to buy stamps.

Carriers are operating with worn out equipment which is impossible to replace, and your close cooperation is needed to keep the service the best possible.

Your box should be on a steady post, forty inches from the ground, and the approach must be as good as the adjacent road. The carrier is not required to drive into a water hole to serve your box, nor is he allowed to leave the vehicle to do so. He is forbidden to serve a box without a lid. Mail should be stamped and placed in the front part of the box, and it is the patron's duty to see that the box signal is kept down except when outgoing mail is placed in the box. The carrier has not the time for unnecessary stops.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation, and assuring you that all of us will do the best we can to give you courteous service in these strenuous war times, I am

Respectfully,
LEE HAYMES,
Postmaster.

To the Voters of the 50th Judicial District

As shown elsewhere in this paper, my opponent, Mr. Blount, has withdrawn as a candidate for District Attorney, but the ballots have already been printed and his name will appear thereon as such candidate. And since it is still necessary that I receive a majority of the votes in Saturday's election for the nomination, I want to urge you to cast your vote for me by marking Mr. Blount's name off the ballot.
