

COUNTY'S QUOTA SET FOR VICTORY LOAN

Knox City, Goree First To Top Quotas In War Chest Drive

Splendid cooperation upon the part of all citizens have enabled Knox City and Goree to be the first communities in the county to go over the top in their drives for the United War Chest.

After the second day of drive, both Knox City and Goree reported that they had exceeded their quotas, and they are to be commended on this excellent work.

Munday remains short of her quota by several hundred dollars. Workers are still busy, and if anyone had not contributed to this worthy cause, they are urged to do so at once. Munday's quota for the United War Chest and Boy Scout work is $1,642.00.

Other points in the county are getting along nicely in the work of raising their quotas. W. R. Moore, County Chairman, said Wednesday, and it is likely that the county's quota will be raised.

The over-all quota for Knox County is $6,500.00 for both War Chest and Boy Scouts.

Brock Club Boy Exhibits Steer At Dallas Show

Edwin Howeth, 4-H Club member of the Brock community, who lives on the Jamison Ranch, will exhibit his 900 pound Hereford steer at the Pan-American Exposition, which will be held in Dallas beginning November 9th through the 12th. Edwin will take his steer to Dallas and enter him in the show on November 7th.

This is Edwin's first year in 4-H Club work, and he is making an outstanding record as a 4-H calf feeder, by being able to fatten his calf this early in the season. Edwin placed his calf on feed in April of this year. He secured the calf from Mrs. O. L. Jamison. The calf weighed approximately 500 pounds at the time he was placed on feed, and has made a very remarkable gain since last April.

On November 12, 1945, the 4-H Club boys throughout Texas, who have calves on exhibit will sell them at Auction. Dallas businessmen are ready to bid up the prices on these choice heaves to a level which is believed will equal or exceed obtained at auction elsewhere, to make the first adventure of these youngsters in the cattle business highly profitable.

Red Patterson Is Home From Europe

Judge and Mrs. J. C. Patterson of Benjamin were two happy people last Monday night, when their son, S/Sgt. Elton Patterson, came in with his discharge from the Army Air Forces.

"Red," as he is commonly known among friends, spent three years and two days overseas, serving in the Mediterranean area. He was stationed in Egypt, North Africa, Sicily, Corsica and Italy with the 948th Air Engineering Squadron.

He entered the service October 11, 1941, and had not seen his parents since December 2, 1941.

Future Farmers Circulating Project Made Possible By Mail Order Firm

The Sears Roebuck Foundation has granted sixty-five dollars to the Munday Future Farmers for a circulating project.

The boys intend to buy a registered bred gilt with the money. One boy to be selected by the chapter will take her and raise at least two litters of pigs. When he has produced a gilt of the same size and age he will give it to another boy who will agree to give a

Methodists In Special Services During October

The local Methodist Church has designated the month of October as "Church Loyalty" month and offers its people special services in both the morning and evening hours.

Next Sunday the goal set for Sunday School attendance is 160. The subject for the morning message is "Why Build a New Methodist Church in Munday." The subject for the evening message is to be, "What the Historical Methodist Church Believes about Baptism." Each evening for the entire month of October the messages will deal with distinctive Methodist doctrines. The last Sunday morning of the month a program of objectives will be presented to the congregation by the various organizations of the church and the sermon will be in keeping with the nation-wide program of evangelism in the Methodist Crusade for Christ.

Visitors are welcome to all services. This campaign for Church Loyalty carries the local church up to its Annual Conference to be held in Abilene, Texas, November 7th to 11th.

All War Loan Drives Go Over Their Quotas

Purchase of bonds in the Victory Loan Drive, which starts on October 29, will have to go far beyond the quota of $11 billions to match the records established in the seven war loan drives to date, particularly those of the Sixth and Seventh.

Actual sales of all classes of securities in the Seventh War Loan total 88 percent more than the goal of $14 billions, the best showing of any drive in the war. In the Sixth Drive total sales were 54 percent above the $14 billion quota.

AMERICAN LEGION INVITES VETERANS TO MEETING TUESDAY

Jack Mayes, commander of Lowry Post No. 44, has issued a cordial invitation to all veterans of World War II to attend the American Legion meeting next Tuesday night.

All World War II veterans are eligible for membership in the American Legion. A birthday feed will be served at Tuesday night's meeting.

BANK TO OBSERVE HOLIDAY ON FRIDAY

The First National Bank will be closed on Friday, October 12, observing Columbus Day as a holiday. W. E. Braly, president announced Thursday.

All members of the Clearing House Association will be closed and no business can be transacted with member banks; therefore the local bank will also observe the holiday.

bred gilt to another boy, etc. indefinitely. It is an effort to help the boys with their projects and to keep some good registered hogs in the country. The Live Stock Committee will go to Seymour and O'Brien to see about buying the gilt one day this week.

The Sears Roebuck Foundation is offering similar service to the Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys in each county in West Texas.

Future Farmers Name Sweetheart For New Year

The Future Farmers bid their 1944 and 45' Sweetheart, Francis Hallmark goodbye at an assembly program this week and installed the new Sweetheart, Carolyn Hannah, recently elected. Each of the Fifty Future Farmers presented the retiring sweetheart with a rose as a token of his appreciation and bid her goodbye. The retiring president, Kelton Tidwell made the following remarks during the ceremony.

Teachers and fellow students:

A year ago the Future Farmers elected a Chapter Sweetheart. A number of girls were nominated who had the qualities most admired by boys. One of these a pretty, cute, modest girl was elected and we have been proud of her and have felt that we had the outstanding sweetheart of all the chapters we know. I would like for her to come to the stage at this time. Frances because you have the qualities most admired by boys each of the Future Farmers want to express his appreciation of our 1944 and 1945 sweetheart. Not being very eloquent we have chosen to use the rose, a silent token of love and admiration through the centuries. We reluctantly give up an old sweetheart for a new one, but we welcome the tall, graceful, intelligent, accomplished girl who can, and we believe will add the feminine touch we need in our organization during 1945-1946. Carolyn, will you come to the stage. It is quite an accomplishment to win the admiration of fifty boys but it is a far more difficult task to win a place in their hearts so that they will always remember you as the ideal sweetheart. Now that you are Chapter Sweetheart for the next year, it is our privilege to tell you, and in other ways to let you know to what extent you measure up to the Future Farmer ideals of what the modern girl should be. We are happy to bestow on you the greatest honor that can come to a girl in the Munday high school.

Crash Victim's Funeral Is Held At Seymour

Funeral services for Clyde Davis, Seymour resident who was fatally injured in an automobile collision between Munday and Goree last Thursday night, were held at three o'clock Saturday afternoon at Seymour. Services were held from the Methodist church, with Rev. Uel D. Crosby officiating.

Eight other persons were injured in the crash which involved three cars, according to reports. Debris from the wrecked autos and crash victims were scattered over the highway when help arrived.

Three ambulances were dispatched to the scene and carried the injured to hospital. Clyde Davis died soon after reaching the hospital. Ambulances were from the Mahan Funeral Home, Munday Laningham Funeral Home, Goree; and Mahan Funeral Home, Seymour.

Dr. R. L. Newsom of Munday went to the scene and administered first aid until all the victims were started to the hospital.

Others injured in the crash are reported to be improving.

HOME ON LEAVE

Charles Ray Smith, S 1/c, is home on 30-day leave after having served 18 months in the Pacific. During that time he was in port at 19 different islands. He is at home with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith of the Thorp community.

'Frog' Stevens Liberated; Arrives At San Antonio

Historian

DR. EUGENE C. BARKER

Historian To Write Sketches For The Times

Dr. Eugene Campbell Barker, nationally-known historian, and distinguished professor of American History, for 37 years on the staff of the University of Texas, will write a series of historical sketches for The Munday Times, giving the background and highlights of Texas' annexation to the Union in 1845, beginning in an early issue.

Because of the significance of 1945 as the Centennial of Statehood, the articles will be of particular interest to school children, clubs, civic organizations, and historical associations, as well as to the general public.

Dr. Barker is widely known for his books on Texas, among which are "The Life of Stephen F. Austin," "A School History of Texas," "With the Makers of Texas History," and "Mirabeau Bonaparte Lamar."

As a lifelong member of the Texas Historical Association, Dr. Barker has furthered the study and recognition of history in Texas. He is also a member of the Southern Historical Association, the American Historical Association, and the Mississippi Valley Historical Association.

Capt. J. C. Rice Is Given Award

Mr. and Mrs. John Rice of Munday have been notified that their son, Capt. J. C. Rice, Jr., has been awarded the Bronze Service Arrowhead. The award was made on September 11, 1945. The citation read:

"In accordance with orders issued by this Headquarters (the 12th Infantry), dated 4 September, 1945, you have been awarded the Bronze Service Arrowhead for participating in the landing at Morotai, Netherlands East Indies on 15 September 1944."

Capt. Rice is now stationed at Yokohama, Japan.

Rainfall to date this year, 20.18 inches; rainfall to this date last year, 16.78 inches; rainfall since Nov. 1, 1944, 24.15 inches; rainfall this week, 1.15 inches.

A voice which Mrs. Cal Stevens had not heard in over four years came over the wires Wednesday when she talked to her son, M/Sgt. Joe Wallace (Frog) Stevens. He wired his parents Tuesday that he was at Brooks General Hospital in San Antonio, the first news that they had learned of his liberation from a Japanese prisoner of war camp.

Stevens, who served 42 months as an engineer mechanic, arrived at San Antonio AAF personnel distribution center the first of this week. He was captured at the fall of the Philippine Islands and spent over three and one-half years as a prisoner of the Japs.

He told his mother by phone that he was feeling fine and would be home "in a couple of days."

This was the second direct word his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Stevens, had heard from him since he was taken prisoner. They had received the "propaganda" messages at times, but only once while he was prisoner had they received a message that they knew was from their son.

Stevens was liberated from a prisoner of war camp in Manchou. He wears the Philippine Defense Ribbon, Presidential Citation, and the Purple Heart.

At the end of a 30-day leave he will report back to San Antonio, where he will be duty-free and have at his command all of the many recreational and educational facilities made available to returned servicemen by the Personnel Distribution Command.

Moguls Down Chillicothe To Tune Of 19-0

A scrapping, hard playing bunch of Eagles from Chillicothe took a 19-0 plastering from a harder-scrapping bunch of Munday Moguls last Friday night in what was termed by far the best football game played by the locals this year. The mighty Eagles never ceased scrapping, and the scoreboard margin was much more decisive than on the field.

Munday gained the lead in the latter part of the first period, when a pass from Johnnie Spann to Montgomery, directly over the line accounted for the score. Montgomery tucked the pigskin under his arms, eluded his tacklers and dashed 35 yards to pay dirt. Johnnie Spann converted from placement.

After a scoreless second quarter, Munday again got going. This time Clifton Swain and Johnnie Spann alternated to bring the ball to scoring position. A long run around left end by Spann placed the ball within the ten-yard stripe. Two plays later, Spann went over. An Off-side penalty was assessed against Chillicothe, but Munday elected to take the touchdown play. The Moguls failed at conversion.

Munday threatened several times in the fourth, sometimes being called back to take a penalty. After failing to cross the goal stripe by the pass route, Chillicothe gained possession on the 8-yard line. Soon the Eagles kicked, and Safety Billy (Continued on Page 8)

Gilliland Boy Is Aboard Ship Tossed By Storm

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ilseing of Gilliland that the ship, U. S. S. Ocelot, on which their son, Raymond Ilseing, is a crew member, was in grave danger and the lives of her officers and crew members were in doubt due to high winds and seas on September 16, 1945.

The Ocelot lost both anchors during the typhoon, and after striking several other vessels, was driven around on a reef in Buckner Bay, Okinawa.

Drive To Start On October 29

Victory Dollars Are Needed In Final Loan Drive

W. E. Braly, chairman of the Knox County War Finance Committee, was advised this week that Knox County has been assigned her quota for the Victory Loan Drive, the final drive for World War II.

The country's overall quota is $295,000.00, while Knox citizens are asked to subscribe $145,000.00 of this amount in Series E Bonds.

"We are approaching this final drive with the knowledge that it won't be easy," Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman, said in a letter to the local chairman, "but with the greatest determination we have had during the entire war financing program to see it succeed. Certainly we must not fail to back our country on Victory with our dollars. Costs of demobilization, rehabilitation, care of wounded and contract terminations are tremendous. We must finance this final phase of the war in the same sound way that we have the actual period of hostility. It is a great duty and privilege to invest in Victory!"

"This drive starts on October 29th and closes on December 8th, with tabulation on Series E, F, and G Savings Bonds and Series C Savings Notes running through December 31st."

This is a drive in which everyone should have a part. Paying for victory by loaning the government a portion of our money is a far smaller price than thousands of our boys paid. It cost them their life's blood! Knox County approaches the opening of this drive with the same confidence and assurance that has made all other drives successful. Our citizens will do their part!

W. L. Thorntons Observe Wedding Anniversary Oct. 9

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thornton, one of Goree's beloved couples, observed their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, October 9, at Glen Rose, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton have been spending several weeks at Glen Rose in the interest of their health. They will go from there to Deodemonia, where they were married, and visit with relatives and old friends.

Upon returning home, they will observe the occasion here, with their children and other relatives and friends. They are well known throughout this section, having spent many years on their farm north of Goree.

Brushy Church To Hold Meeting On Friday Night

Friday night, October 12, is the regular business meeting night for the Brushy Baptist Church, it was announced on Tuesday.

The message of the evening will be brought by Rev. W. T. Priddy, moderator of the Haskell-Knox Baptist Association. Rev. Priddy is an eloquent speaker, and all are invited to come and hear him.

Cotton Ginnings

The cotton ginning report from the Department of Commerce, bureau of the census, at Washington, shows that Knox County had ginned 588 bales from the 1945 cotton crop prior to September 16, 1945.

This shows just a little over half the amount that was ginned during the same period in 1944. The report revealed that 1,054 bales were ginned up to the same date last year.

Hoyle A. Sullins of Vera, special agent for the department, issued the report on October 6, 1945.

Mrs. Alvin Reid of Fort Worth spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reid, and with other relatives.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On."

FOR THE HEROIC DEAD

Now that most of the fighting men are streaming home, no American community wants to forget those who fell in battle and remain buried in alien lands or in the sea's silent depths. War memorials are being discussed in almost every city hall. These cannot be too impressive or too lasting as tokens of community appreciation for those who gave their lives for their country. Yet more towns and cities than ever are turning to memorials that will be useful as well as ornamental. We can be sure that the fallen heroes themselves would have it thus.

A recent survey by the American City brought replies from 121 communities which had decided at least tentatively on the type of war memorial to be built. Of these, the largest group, fifty-three, plan to erect community buildings and auditoriums. Twenty-three have plans for a park, play-ground or athletic stadium. Seven intend to build a library, six a swimming pool and four an airport. Four others expect to plant memorial trees on their drives. Several have plan for hospitals, museums, bridges or other structures. Only fourteen of the 121 have chosen honor rolls, plaques or stone monuments.

Prewar European cities, cluttered with statues and monuments that blocked traffic, testified to the folly of the old type of war memorial. Some of these have since been wiped out by bombs and probably will not be rebuilt. The memorial which serves the living while calling attention to the courage and sacrifice of the heroic dead has the strongest appeal today. The fallen are honored more by living memorials than by piles of stone.—Dallas Morning News

WHAT A DIFFERENCE!

The Russian government has decreed that one-half of the production of local industries is to remain in the localities in which it is produced. The balance is to be distributed by the Council of Peoples' Commissars of the respective soviet republics. Moreover, news releases report that a new five-year plan is in the offing, under which the Russian economy is going to be developed for the good of the state as a whole, without special emphasis on consumer goods.

What a far cry from this country! Here we have literally millions of retail distributors whose exclusive peacetime job it is to satisfy the exacting demands of 130,000,000 consumers who have not the slightest intention of playing second fiddle to any state. The American retail distribution industry reaches to the farthest corners of the globe to stock its shelves. Producers are free to sell their entire output where and when they please. Florida grapefruit, California oranges, Hood River apples, and manufactured articles from all states and nations may be found side by side in stores throughout our land. And you may be sure they are good products, for the wise retailers who wish to maintain a thriving business is ever conscious of his competitor across the street.

It is this way in our land because American producers and distributors do not live by the grace and authority of the state, but by the friendship and patronage of critical consumers. Let's hope it will always remain this way.

A FAKE SANTA CLAUS

Almost every day we read some statement from a member in Congress to the effect that taxes must be reduced to encourage production and employment. And then we read where local communities, towns, and cities in all parts of the United States are to be advanced funds by some Federal bureau to finance projects all the way from sewers, sewage disposal plants, water and school facilities, to billion-dollar power plants.

Some of these Federal funds are free grants, and some are to be repaid with or without interest at some questionable time in the future. Not only are these funds being provided from the Federal Treasury for purely local community activities, but political pressure is on for billions more to be spread by the government through every local community. And the men who talk tax reduction in one breathe, vote for such costly programs of Federal handouts and domination of local political activity in the next breath. Centralized government always sinks its roots deeper to local affairs via the debt obligation route.

Why kid the people about any noticeable tax reduction, while presents from a Federal Santa Claus grow more numerous and costly? If the people stopped to think, they would know he is a fake Santa Claus because for every dollar gift he hands out, he first collects more than a dollar in taxes to pay for it.

You will be lucky if your taxes are not increased as projects to compete with private enterprise grow bigger and bigger. Only a reversal of this process offers any hope for tax reduction.

NO LONGER A BY-PRODUCT

For the past decade, the people have been told that the development of hydroelectric power by the Federal government was a "by-product" of reclamation, navigation, flood control, and soil conservation plans of the Federal government. Time has proven over and over again that power development was never intended to be a "by-product," but the main function of such projects.

The Department of the Interior has asked countless millions in tax funds (which have been generally refused) for auxiliary steam electric plants to round out its hydroelectric systems. Will it now be allowed to take 13 power plants which are part of surplus ordnance manufacturing facilities, which ordinarily be sold without dismantling the plants? Its argument will be that will bolster its tax-exempt "by-product" hydroelectric system. Acquisition of these strategically located steam plants on a tax-exempt basis would greatly strengthen the Interior Department's electric monopoly, at the expense of highly-taxed private electric systems.

It is no longer necessary to keep up the "by-product" farce. The Federal government is seeking to socialize the electric power industry as rapidly as possible. Adding steam plants is the next logical step. And the Interior Department will undoubtedly take full advantage of its privileged position to extend its tax-exempt monopoly by the acquisition of surplus government war property.

UNIVERSAL STABILIZING INFLUENCE NEEDED

Civilization, like liberty, must be worked for. White crosses the world over mark the graves of those who fought to preserve what men have striven and died for through the centuries. We cannot honor too highly the sacrifices of our young men to bring peace to the world and good will among nations.

Of all the guides to a better civilization, the oldest is the bible. For ages it has stimulated, comforted and inspired those who have turned to it. It is common knowledge that men who have long neglected church and the teachings of the bible, found solace in it under the most trying conditions of war. Resort to the bible must become more general.

More and more as people came to read the bible as a habit, the tendency toward injustice, strife and violence will decline. The Laymen's National Committee, founder of National Bible Week which will be observed this year October 15-21, invites the support of all people in this movement which is non-sectarian in nature but all-inclusive in character and meaning.

With a sound peace yet to be built, we should all seek a universal stabilizing influence for guidance. The year should be outstanding for National Bible Week.

"AUTHORITY" THREAT

"The Missouri River, Columbia River, Central Valley or Colorado River 'authorities,' individually and collectively, would destroy the system of water titles and water rights which have been perfected after years of prolonged dispute. Any possibilities of future appropriation as well as present vested rights would rest not in the states, but in the Federal government."—Electrical West.

No more complete plan for national socialism was ever drawn than is embodied in the "authority" bills now before congress. The term "authority" is a synonym for "dictator."

Reactivation Of National Guard Not Contemplated In Near Future

To consider the reactivation of the National Guard at the present time is premature and perhaps even detrimental to the efficiency of the Texas State Guard. Unauthorized spokesmen tend to cloud the issue of the status of the state militia by opining that the Texas State Guard will be inactivated or the National Guard reactivated at any particular time or under any particular circumstances.

Exchanges of publicity material received in this office from the Adjutant General's Departments of other states indicate that they feel it will be a year or longer before reactivation of the National Guard becomes a consideration.

World War I ended in 1918 and it was four years before the National Guard was established under the National Defense Act of 1922.

War Department Circular No. 284, dated 19 September, 1945, Section IV recently promulgated, contains authorization for enlistment and reenlistments of veterans of World War II only, in the State Detachment of the National Guard. This circular has been misinterpreted to mean that the National Guard is now to be reconstituted, with a consequent lack of appreciation of the problems currently facing the Texas State Guard.

The State Detachment of the National Guard is purely a paper organization designed by the War Department to form a nucleus of members, when, and as if the National Guard is reconstituted. Assignment of these enlisted or re-enlisted members is denoted "upon the return of units to state control" according to the wording of the Circular.

Assignment and absorption of officers holding commission in the National Guard will be made "at such time as authorization is granted by the War Department for the reorganization and reconstitution of National Guard Units," also according to the wording of the Circular. There is no Congressional appropriation of funds to put these plans into effect.

The new National Defense Act first must be written. Up to the present time the War Department and Congress are doing little about it. The War Department is interested in discharges, reduction and promotion, occupation zones, combating the Army and Navy, and other purely military problems. Congress is hearing reports from committees on Universal Military Training and the necessity for a peace-time

Army. The atomic bomb has caused consideration of eliminating all sea and land forces.

The Post-War military establishment of the country must be set up stating the identity, form and function of the reserve components including the National Guard. It must determine the location and areas, the number of men, the Table of Organization, which means the assignment of personnel to duties by grades. It must set forth the training program and equipment of the Regular Army and the reserve components, the number of divisions assigned to a state and whether or not it will include parts of other states in such divisions. All equipment issued to State Guards will probably be recalled and new and appropriate equipment reissued.

All these things will take time. The multiplicity of problems before the War Department and the Congress seem to preclude the writing of a new National Defense Act for some time to come. The 36th Division which was the old Texas National Guard Division, now is little more than a numerical designation and includes men from probably every state in the union. The probability of the men in the 36th Division, who are eligible for National Guard duty, joining the new National Guard is uncertain. The probability of the present members of the Texas State Guard joining the new National Guard is likewise uncertain; it is further lessened by the more rigid physical and military requirements for such membership.

Meantime, the Texas State Guard is facing one of its greatest tests in the preservation of law and order throughout the post-war period. It is trained and equipped for this security work and the morale and enthusiasm of its members should be encouraged and increased.

There is time, and plenty of it, to concern ourselves with the problem of the peace-time military force. The State cannot act officially until the national security plan is established. The emergency is not over.

PERSISTENCE OF VISION IS TELEVISION KEY

Key to television operation, according to Westinghouse engineers, is persistence of vision—the common optical characteristic which enables the eye to retain what has been seen for a fraction of a second after the image has been removed.

Texans Urged To Guard Against Fire Hazards

COLLEGE STATION.—Fire attacks a farm somewhere in the United States every 15 minutes of the day, according to the estimate of a national association devoted to the protection of life and property against fire hazards. Losses from fire on farms along with those in towns and cities gives this nation the doubtful distinction of having the highest per capita fire loss of any country in the world.

President Harry S. Truman has indicated his concern over the situation by proclaiming the period October 7 to 13 as Fire Prevention Week. He appeals to all farmers to act quickly to wipe out farm fire hazards which last year caused the death of 3,500 persons and destroyed $90,000,000 in property.

Appalling as this record is, says M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer for the A. and M. College Extension Service, it could become worse unless present fire hazards are removed and people form the habit of safeguarding their property. Two sources of possible danger in the postwar years are increased mechanization on farms and wider use of electric power.

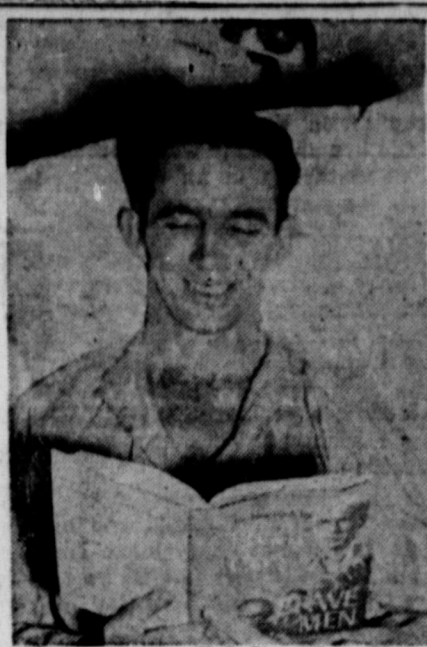

Bentley believes that the larger part of present day fires is due to carelessness and, accordingly, could be prevented. Among these are neglect to make repairs, carelessness of matches, and failure to remove useless, inflammable materials from attics, and trash from farm buildings. These are small matters, he adds, but carelessness of matches starts many fires which otherwise never would occur.

Chimneys and fireplaces are used very largely for heating Texas homes. The wise householder, Bentley says, will examine and clean his chimney before fall fires are lighted, and have other heating units examined. Chinks in Chimneys should be found and properly filled up. Along with these protective measures, all frayed electric cords should be replaced, and faulty wiring corrected.

Bentley points out that in planning new construction or remodeling present buildings farmers can build in a considerable amount of permanent fire prevention, beginning with fire resistant roofing material.

Bill Digus and Merle Digus visited with relatives in Big Spring, Texas, the latter part of last week.

Attacks Employment Bill

Harley L. Lutz

Identifying the current Murray-Wagner Full Employment Bill with the Beveridge Plan in England, Harley L. Lutz, one of the nation's severest critics of "compensatory spending," claims that the attempt to assure full employment by the spending program included in the Murray Bill will lead to regimentation like that in Russia.

Dr. Lutz also maintains that more employment will be provided and more goods will be produced under prudent budget policies than under the inflation inherent in the Murray Bill.

War Fund Will Aid Relief For European Area

AUSTIN.—With return to normal living in Europe based upon the experience of the critical fall and winter ahead, Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the National War Fund, advised Judge Ben H. Powell, president of the United War Chest of Texas, of the desperate need of continued American help through the final victory of the National War Fund.

Mr. Aldrich has just returned from a trip to Europe where he visited England, France, Holland, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

"In my opinion," Mr. Aldrich reported, "Mass starvation and death by freezing are not likely to occur in Europe this winter, but there will be great suffering unless the people receive more than the necessities of life in addition to essential food and clothing, unless these necessities are provided by the agencies of the National War Fund.

"Some people ask why private relief is necessary, and if governments are not meeting the needs of their people. The answer is the fact that governments and government agencies are striving desperately to restore the basic economy—to provide transportation, coal and mass food supplies, to reopen ports and to set up means of distribution. It must be borne in mind that many of the liberated countries of Europe existed under military government for weeks after their liberation. Also, the assets and resources of government are not always readily freed after war.

"The result of war is abnormality. Nothing is normal in a country that has been in the path of a great war. The economy is not normal. The health of the people are far from normal. The psychology of the people is not normal.

"In all the suffering areas of Europe one notices the lack of the ordinary essentials of life, such as shoes, clothing, soap, kitchen utensils, small tools, needles, nails,—all the things which one requires for a bare normal existence.

"Privately-supported relief agencies of the National War Fund are managing to get substantial quantities of these materials in, and are meeting needs that are not met by any other agencies. The work of these agencies is enormously important, and in my opinion, the extent of their work in the next few months may fix the pattern of living in Europe next Spring. The people of Europe who have been aided by voluntary American philanthropy are well aware of the help they have received. They are most grateful to the American people.

"I am convinced that the work being done by National War Fund agencies in no way duplicates that of UNRRA. These agencies are providing relief materials and services not within the UNRRA program.

"The member agencies of the National War Fund have contributed not only to alleviation of human suffering but to good will among nations. It is most important that we continue this work to help those who are desperately trying to rebuild their lands and their lives."

AUGUST HATCHINGS AT HIGH LEVELS

COLLEGE STATION.—The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimated that 1,400,000 chicks were produced by Texas hatcheries in August. Quoting these figures, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Austin, called it a "relative high level" of operation when compared with 700,000 in the same month one year ago. However, the total was below the production of 1,712,000 chicks in August, 1943, but in excess of the monthly average of 1,280,000 for the period 1939-1943. The BAE said that a large percentage of the plants in the state were idle, with active plants unable to meet the demand. In many cases output limited by lack of hatching eggs.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS
Roadside Milk Stand
THE character of a farm is determined largely by the appearance of its entrance. Neat fencing, a well-braced gate and a neat driveway represent industry, orderliness and pride in the community. Even such seemingly little things as a well-built roadside stand for milk cans helps to make the farm attractive.
Throughout the nation thousands of dairy farmers are depending on trucks to pick up milk. Many roadside platforms are crude, old and broken down or in poor repair and provide no protection for the milk.

A neatly constructed platform which will provide shelter for the milk and on which the farm name can be printed has practical advertising value to the farmer and certainly an esthetic value to the countryside.
Such a platform can be made easily with a few pieces of lumber for framework and floor and a few pieces of large weather-proof asbestos cement board for the two ends, back and cover. The structure can be made any length. A good height for the legs is 30 inches. Suggested measurements for the shelter are a height of three feet from the floor to the tip of the front eave, and a depth of two and one-half feet, plus a six-inch overhang for the floor.

Voice Helped Husband

As the one-man Surplus Property Board in charge of the disposal of billions of dollars' worth of government property, and as a successful business man in his own right, William Stuart Symington 3rd is a tremendous business figure, but there was a time not so long ago when his fortunes were at such a low ebb that his wife had to sing in New York night clubs to make both ends meet.

Back in the middle thirties when he was connected with a New Jersey manufacturing company, Symington's fortunes struck bottom, according to the September issue of Town & Country magazine. It was then that his wife, the beautiful Evelyn Wadsworth Symington, shown above, got a job singing at the Waldorf-Astoria and other cafe society night spots in Manhattan to help support herself and her two sons while her husband was starting the long financial climb back. Mrs. Symington is the daughter of Representative and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth of New York.

Victory Collection of Canned Foods To Aid Millions In Devastated Lands

Through a nation-wide Victory Collection of Canned Food, the American people will have an opportunity to donate commercially canned food for the hungry millions in war devastated lands, it was announced today by Dan A. West, Director of the Division of Contributed Supplies for UNRRA (the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration).

Mr. West stated that the collection will be undertaken in thousands of communities by schools, Sunday schools, churches, and local chapter of national organizations, including women's, fraternal and farm organizations, Parent-Teacher associations, youth groups and civic and service groups. Leaders of these organizations, and food dealers, he said, will be called upon to establish local collection centers. He declared:

"For some months now it has been increasingly evident that the American people realize the desperate food situation overseas, understand its danger to world peace, and want to do whatever they can to help. There have been clear indications of this feeling in public opinion surveys, newspaper and radio forums, letters published in newspapers, in appeals by leaders of national organizations, and in letters to UNRRA.

"While proposals for this nation-wide Victory Collection of Canned Food were being considered, thousands of Americans jumped the gun. They began to make unsolicited contributions of commercially canned food for shipment by UNRRA."

Mr. West explained that these unsolicited gifts came in at community canning centers all over the nation. A related UNRRA project, the Community Canning Program for War Relief, has been in operation at these centers for the past few months.

"When we undertook the canning program," Mr. West added, "we expected to obtain canned food for overseas relief only through the actual work at supervised centers. The users of established canning centers were urged to step up their production ten per cent above local needs and to contribute the surplus for overseas relief. A great many people who had no gardens produce to can, and no experience in canning simply ignored the restrictions. They came to the centers with canned food that they had bought at stores, and these donations quickly mounted after rationing controls were removed from canned food."

No definite national goal has been set for the Victory Collection of Canned Food, Mr. West explained, and no opening and closing campaign dates will be moved. "Collection will begin at once," he said, "and may be continued in each community as long as interest is maintained locally. The food problem in many war-torn areas is critical and calls for immediate and continuing action. Our aim is to collect as large a quantity of can-

Marvin Stovall Honored At Dinner On Last Sunday

Pvt. Marvin Stovall is home on a 10-day furlough, visiting with his wife and his parents. He entered the army on May 16, and this is the first time he has been home since being inducted.

Last Sunday, a dinner was given in honor of Pvt. Stovall. All gathered at the home of Mr. J. M. White to celebrate the event.

Those present were Pvt. Stovall and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stovall and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore and baby daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis and sons, Jack White and Mrs. J. M. White.

When Pvt. Stovall's furlough is up, he will report to Fort Ord, Calif.

ned food as possible in each and every community throughout the country.

"All types and varieties of canned food are needed, including vegetables, fruits, juices, fish, meats, soups and baby foods. The contributed food must be packed in tin, as glass containers present transportation and packing difficulties for overseas shipment and distribution. All contributed canned food will be shipped for free distribution to the needy by UNRRA. This food wherever and whenever made available will supplement that being furnished for a minimum basic diet."

A bulletin giving all pertinent information on the program including packing and shipping instructions is available upon request. National headquarters of the Victory Collection of Canned Food is at 100 Maiden Lane, New York City.

More Schools Of State Add Football To Activities

Austin.—More than 100 schools who did not take part in the University of Texas Interscholastic League football last year are in the competition this year. Rodney J. Kidd, athletic director for the League has reported.

Exactly 740 schools are taking part in all football conferences, and last year 638 schools took part.

Conference B teams increased from 171 schools participating in 1944 to 218 this year, Mr. Kidd said. Six-man teams increased from 93 last year to 150 this year.

Advance Notice

OPA has recently raised ceiling price restrictions on all granite and marble quarries and wholesale finishers.

These quarries and finishers have sent us advanced quotations, already in effect, on all work.

Therefore, in appreciation of the splendid patronage given us by the people of Knox county and surrounding territory, for the past forty-four years, we feel it only fair to announce that at opening of business Monday, October 22, our prices on all markers, monuments, and coping will be 10% higher than our present prevailing prices. We sincerely regret the necessity of such action, but it is due to conditions over which we have no control.

We extend a genuine invitation to all who are contemplating the purchase of any memorial work to visit our sales display located two miles east of Vernon on the Wichita Highway. Our Sales Manager, Mr. Lolo N. Anderson, will be on duty there from 9:30 to 5:30 daily. For the convenience of those who wish to come on Sunday, we will be open through Sunday, October 21, from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Our stock of finished memorials is the largest in Texas or Oklahoma. Don't fail to take advantage of this substantial saving by making your selection and purchase at once, before the stock is picked over.

Contact our local representatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Hathaway, telephone 69, Munday, Texas, or phone us Vernon 104 collect.

Financial Assets Of Farmers Top Debts By 2 to 1, Reverse of 1939

American farmers as a whole have employed their boom wartime incomes to increase their financial assets more than threefold since the start of the war and to reduce their own debt by about a billion dollars, thus giving them greater resources than ever before to meet the problems of reconversion. This is disclosed in a study of data put out by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This study does not include farmers' ownership of life insurance, which has increased substantially during the war.

At the beginning of this year, the figures show, the farm population as a whole had accumulated nearly $17 billions in financial resources, consisting of demand and time deposits, currency, U. S. Savings Bonds, receipts on crops stored in warehouses, and investments in cooperatives. At the same time they had reduced their liabilities, consisting of real estate mortgages and non-real-estate debt, to just under $9 billions. As a result, this gave farmers as a whole nearly $2 in financial assets for every dollar they owed.

Contrast With Start of War
 In contrast, at the beginning of 1940, financial resources of farmers as a whole aggregated some $5 1/2 billions while total debts were approximately $10 billions. Thus, when the war started, farmers had little more than $1 in financial assets for every $2 they owed, the reverse of today.

As a matter of fact, the ratio now is probably better than the above figures (the latest available) show since farmers have undoubtedly added to their resources this year.

The contrast is even more striking when compared with the World War I period. Farmers employed boom incomes then as well, but it is estimated that the farm population as a whole had accumulated only $4.4 billions in currency and deposits at the beginning of 1920, the peak of the post-Armistice boom. At the same time, their debts rose sharply. From the beginning of 1914 to the beginning of 1920 farm mortgage debt rose from $4.7 to $8.4 billions, a gain of $3.7 billions. On real-estate debt rose rapidly also. For example, it is estimated that farmers' borrowings from commercial banks reached $3.9 billions by the end of 1920, nearly 2 1/2 times the total of such borrowings of $1.6 billions early in 1914.

Manifestations of Thrift
 A breakdown of the financial resources figures shows how thrifty farmers have handled their increased wartime incomes. By the beginning of this year they had accumulated $3.9 billions in U. S. Savings Bonds, in contrast with such holdings of $247 millions on January 1, 1940. Time deposits at the start of 1945 were $2 1/2 billions compared with $1.4 billions in 1940 while comparable figures for demand deposits are $5.4 billions and $1.5 billions, respectively. Currency holdings at the beginning of this year were estimated at $3.7 billions as against $1.1 billions in 1940.

So basic is the position of agriculture in the American economy that the current well-being of the farmer is of far-reaching significance. If the average farmer will continue to conserve his "nest egg" and to spend wisely in the period immediately ahead, when inflationary pressures will still be high and shortages of many consumers goods will still be prevalent, then he will not only help to cushion his own reconversion shocks and safeguard his own future, but will at the same time make a contribution to the stability and progress of the American economy as a whole.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., October 6.—The Navy yesterday staged its biggest parade and air show in honor of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz. A thousand naval planes in the air over Washington at one time is a sight long to be remembered. As one watched the gigantic air display he thanked God no bombs had fallen on American soil.

It was exclusively a Navy show. The long parade was made up entirely of midshipmen from the Academy, marines, coast guardsmen, and other navy personnel. Jeeps carrying veterans of Guadalcanal, Saipan, Midway, the Philippines, Iwo Jima, and other battles, were in line behind the Admiral's car. Only a calloused person could view this scene without a tingling spine and palpitating heart. A feeling of great pride was mingled with sadness at the thought of those men who will never return.

One was reminded, too, that if all the losses sustained by our Navy throughout the history of this country were added together and if all the damage inflicted by our Navy in that time were added together, the losses and the damage inflicted in all our history would be only a fractional part of that which occurred during this war. The Navy took it, and dished it out this time as never before. Today our naval striking power is greater than the naval strength of the rest of the world combined. May it ever be so.

On "Nimitz Day" the President gave our highest decoration, the Congressional Medal of Honor, to 14 Marine and Navy heroes. Included in the list was Sergeant W. B. Harrell of Mercedes, Texas. Sgt. Harrell was an honor guest at a luncheon of the Texas delegation this week. On Iwo Jima he defended an outpost against bitter Jap assault. With a hundred shrapnel wounds and an arm blown off he killed the last of two Japs crawling into his foxhole and lost his other arm pushing a hand grenade away from wounded comrades.

The House this week passed the Reorganization Bill of 1945. This bill authorizes and directs the President to reorganize and reduce the number of bureaus and agencies in the executive branch of the government. The need for drastic reduction in the peacetime agencies and activities of the federal government is obvious.

In 1900 the federal government employed over 250,000 persons and annually spent less than one billion dollars. In 1922 these figures had grown to approximately 515,000 employees and expenditures of almost four billion dollars, and in 1939 we employed one million people and spent over 10 billion dollars. In each of the following cases we have at least the number of agencies shown dealing with the same function: 29 agencies lending government funds, 34 having to do with land acquisition, 16 with wildlife preservation, 12 with home and community planning, 28 with welfare matters, more than 15 gathering statistics, and more than 75 concerned with transportation problems, while more than 8 departments and agencies handle labor problems, or, we might say, mishandle them. Proper elimination, consolidation, and reorganization would certainly promote efficiency and economy.

I helped write this bill in committee, and made two speeches on the House floor in support of it. On the subject of transportation, it might be noted we have in this country 54,000 villages and towns that have all modern conveniences, but are not served by railroads. This makes highway construction all the more important.

Congress this week completed action on a bill authorizing the immediate start on our highway program. Under the federal aid highway act the federal government will contribute 500 million dollars annually during a period of three years for state highway construction.

The Army and Navy seem slow in keeping their promises on demobilization. The Navy states it will muster out 3,400,000 men now enrolled by next July, an average of 250,000 each month, and will thereafter depend entirely on volunteers. The Army expects to release 6 million men by next July, an average of 600,000 a month. However, distressing letters continue to pour into my office from boys all over the world who feel they have been forgotten.

NEW WOOL PRODUCT CAN BE LAUNDERED

COLLEGE STATION.—Woolens which can be laundered at home, without shrinkage, will be available for consumers within the next few months. A newly patented process for controlling wool shrinkage will make it possible for the homemaker to toss a treated woolen skirt into a tub and wash the garment repeatedly, says Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

This new wool product will not shrink, mat, fuzz, or lose its normal absorbency.

Paying Parliament

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

HOW would you like to be elected to the board of governors of the finest country club you ever saw? Unless you are an exceptional person, you can't afford such a job. It would use a lot of time and there's no salary connected with it. Helping to boss a lovely palace in the middle of a big playground is fun (I imagine) but it's an expensive pastime.

A rich country club is proverbially well managed. It does not need to economize and cut corners, but that's only part of the story. It is governed by men of singular ability with spare time, who like their club and take personal interest in it. They have no better minds than men who hustle for business and use their wives for stenographers, but excellence thrives on deliberation.

Deserve BY THE WAY, Mrs. A. Raise Harry S. Truman used to serve her husband as secretary when he was senator from Missouri. The President told it himself to the press while he was discussing the proposal to allow additional expense pay to representatives. It would be hard to find stronger testimony that members of the Congress of the United States need better compensation for the work they do.

In every practical sense, members of Congress have been elected to the board of governors of the world's grandest country — not a country club. They represent important segments of people who have chosen them to help boss (not a playground) the most influential power under the shining sun, and until early last June, they got $10,000 a year — pay for a junior executive.

Position ONE OF America's of Trust ugliest habits is criticizing Congress for shortcomings that result directly from being poorly paid. No one man can study all the profound issues congressmen must vote on, and no $10,000 man can afford to pay experts to digest them. Often congressmen use precious hours doing chores for people back home because they can't afford enough competent assistants.

Many solons labor intemperately. Rep. Doughton, who is past 81, rises regularly at 5:00 a.m., and starts his 12-hour day at 6:30; this after 34 years in the House and 14 years chairman of the Ways & Means Committee. What $100,000 official of industry claims to be worth more to his firm than Doughton is to his state and nation? American legislators are top-flight, except in pay.

Must we send rich men to Congress because poor men lack funds to finance the job? Do we want incompetents on Capitol Hill who never could earn so much anywhere else? The answer is "no" of course; America can afford the best. Then congratulate your congressman on this increase and don't let him wait 20 years for the next one.

Winter Legumes Used For Better Cotton Yields

College Station.—Do you want 100 pounds more lint per acre next year?

Most cotton farmers do, says the Cotton Production Committee of Texas, and experience has proved that yields can be increased by this amount by planting hairy vetch or Austrian winter peas on land that has been in small grains or corn, and turning these legumes under in the spring.

To secure good growth and provide maximum protection from soil erosion, Austrian winter pea and hairy vetch should be inoculated and planted by November 1.

"Drilling is the recommended method of planting on rolling land, while planting in rows on tops of beds usually gives better results on more level fields," the Committee says.

When drilled, hairy vetch should be planted at the rate of 20 pounds per acre, and Austrian winter peas at 35 pounds per acre. When planted in rows, with regular row crop equipment, only half the amount of seed used in drilling will be required for good stands.

Plowing under green stalks in cotton fields before frost also is recommended by the Committee as one of the best ways of improving the conditions and fertility of the soil, reducing boll weevil damage next season, and increasing the yield of cotton. Green stalks open up the soil, increase its water-holding capacity, make plant food more available, and the decomposed stalks furnish food for next year's crop. Turning under stalks before insects have migrated from the field is the best known method of reducing boll weevil infestation.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bilbrey of Lubbock were here several days over the week end, visiting with Mr. Bilbrey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bilbrey of Goree, and with relatives and friends at Munday.

Prison Rodeo Held On Sundays Of This Month

Huntsville.—Albert Moore, Director of the famous Texas Prison Rodeo, announces that he has made arrangements with the Houston Cowboy and Cowgirl Square Dance on Horseback team to bring that colorful aggregation to Prison Stadium as a special feature at each performance of the 14th annual prison rodeo. The team is made up of four couples on horseback.

Flashily dressed in four different colored shirts and four all-red shirts the team will enter the arena from the South entrance in pairs, each rider mounted on a beautiful horse. They will proceed to the center of the arena, and to fitting music, they will go through the old-fashioned square dance for the entertainment of the rodeo visitors.

Another feature to highlight this year's show, according to Director Moore, is a team of jumping horses owned and trained by former Ranger Captain Tom Hickman of Gainsville. Mr. Hickman will bring his famous team of horses to Prison Stadium and will be the rider as they make their jump in the arena.

Mrs. Joe Duvall of Lubbock is here for a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. O. Bowden, and with other relatives.

Ezell Reynolds, who recently returned from overseas and has received his discharge, is here for a visit with his wife and with other relatives.

Mrs. W. R. Triplett, who has been making her home in Seymour, has moved to Munday, where she is making her home with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Easley.

Pvt. and Mrs. Gene W. Harrell and daughter, Natalie, left on Thursday for a few days' visit with Mrs. Harrell's mother and other relatives in Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crosby and little son of Olney were business visitors here last Friday.

AAA FARM NEWS

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson probably has as good an opportunity as anybody in the country of keeping his finger on the pulse of the situation on the farm front. Recently, he made a couple of public statements about agriculture in the United States—the way it looks for the present and the future.

For the present, Secretary Anderson, says we need every bit of food farmers are producing. Maybe, there will be temporary surpluses. But if there are, the government will stand behind its price support promises. The way it is doing now on potatoes for instance.

As for exports, even though there's no lend-lease, Mr. Anderson says, "Other means will be found for financing exports of food so badly needed." We'll have to find those means to get food into the war-torn countries, in order to build a firm foundation for peace.

In the future, at least as far ahead as next year—food requirements will still be pretty big. Perhaps we'll have to shift the production here and there to keep up the changing needs for certain commodities. But farm production goals for 1946 will reflect those changes.

In the future, beyond 1946, the Secretary says the extent of full employment in this country will dictate the farm production pattern. If we don't have full employment, then farm production will overshoot the mark of demands. So, Mr. Anderson endorses the Full Employment Bill for 1945, now before a Senate Committee.

D. E. Ellis of the Truscott Community was in this office Monday requesting information on the mesquite. He stated that he had a contractor available to do the work and that since the AAA was assisting in this work, he could do a larger amount than he originally planned.

Details of the 1946 conservation program are coming in, and it is expected that we will have the complete program by the first of next month.

In 1946 each community will be allotted an amount of money that will help them in carrying out conservation practices. The amount of money each community receives will depend on the amount of conservation practices needed and the amount of money they have earned in the past. The Watchdog over this money, or the fellow that allots it out, will be the person that is elected community committeeman in 1946. All practices will have the prior approval of this committeeman before payment can be made.

Mr. J. E. Frost was a visitor in the office Tuesday. He made application for the last quarter of the Dairy Production Payment.

Producers are requested to submit their receipts as early as possible so their payments will not be held up.

Farmers that sow their small grain on the contour this fall and wish to draw the AAA payment, must report the extent of the practice prior to January 15, 1946.

Criss Moody, of the Truscott community was in the office Tuesday and filed an application for an earthen dam.

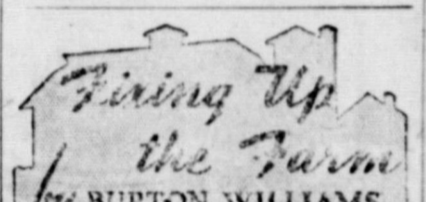

The Knox County AAA Committee in their last meeting decided to place the county office on a forty hour work week. Due to this fact, the AAA office will be closed all day on Saturdays.

Clyde A. Billion of the Truscott Community has reported that the Austrian Winter peas he secured are up and out-growing his wheat.

It is also reported that the peas Ben Qualls of Benjamin seeded are up and doing fine.

In checking throughout the records the other day, we found that better than two hundred thousand feet of terraces had been constructed this year in Knox County.

C. R. Elliot was a business visitor in Stamford last Friday.

Farm Fire Safeguards

OBSERVANCE of National Fire Prevention Week will mean more than usual to the American farmer this year. He will have a little more time and perhaps a little more help in making the repairs and installations necessary to prevent fires. The long war years have left a large backlog of work and this has raised the farm fire peril to a new peak.

Since fire prevention is particularly important on the farm because of the limited amount of fire-fighting equipment, here are some steps to take to further safeguard the property: clean and repair chimneys, stoves, furnaces and connections and ventilators; make a safety check of electric wires, connections and appliances; repair and install lightning rods; see that gasoline and kerosene are stored away from buildings; re-emphasize the need for care in use of lamps, lanterns, matches and in smoking habits; and provide water supply, equipment and a fire extinguisher to fight fires.

To prevent spontaneous combustion, be sure that hay is properly cured and roofs do not leak. Whether or not it is necessary to replace roofs, national safety organizations and most state experimental colleges recommend fire-safe roofing materials, such as asbestos cement shingles, be used on all farm buildings.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

No doubt some of the older readers heard Bob Taylor of Tennessee deliver his famous lecture, "The Fiddle and the Bow." He told of listening to a great master play on his wondrous violin and of how the music conjured up a dream:

I saw a cottage among the elms and oaks and a little curly head at the door. He toddled under the trees, prattling to the birds and playing with the ripening apples that fell upon the ground. He toddled among the roses, and plucked their leaves, strewing their glory upon the green grass at his feet. He chased the butterflies from flower to flower and shouted with glee as they eluded his grasp and sailed away upon the summer air. Here I thought his childish fancy had built a paradise and peopled it with dainty seraphim and made himself its Adam.

He saw the sunlight of Eden glint on every leaf and beam in every petal. The flitting honey bee, the whirling June bug, the fluttering breeze, the silvery pulse-beat of the dashing brook sounded in his ears notes of its swelling music. The irise-winged humming bird, darting like a sunbeam to kiss the pouting lips of the upturned flowers, was to him the impersonation of its beauty. And I said, "Truly, childhood is the nearest approach in this world to the paradise of long ago."

Then I saw his slip on his tip-toes into the pantry; and there was the clink of glassware, as though a mouse were playing among the jam pots and preserves. There two little dimpled hands made trip after trip to a rose-colored mouth, bearing burdens of mingling sweets that dripped from cheek and chin and shirt and shoes, subduing the snowy white with the amber of the peach and the purple of the raspberry as he ate of the forbidden fruit.

Then I saw his glide into the library and soon there was a crash and a thud in there which brought a frightened mother into the room, only to find the young rascal catching his breath, while streams of cold ink trickled down his drenched bosom; and as he wiped his inky face, which grew blacker with every wipe, the remainder of the ink was poured from the bottle down on the carpet, making a map of darkest Africa. Then the avenging slipper in lightning strokes—and I said, "There is paradise lost!"

Mrs. Agnes Rosser left last Tuesday for Kingsville, Texas, after a stay of several months with her mother-in-law, Mrs. I. P. Rosser, and with other relatives.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Texas. — "Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable disease from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of the knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is true that tuberculosis no longer is first on the list of killing diseases, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having been reduced to fifth place in Texas, it is still responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied."

"Treatment of the early recognized case is essential. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives."

When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an examination of all of the other members of the immediate family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up by physicians of the known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

FIFTY YEARS AGO...
At the turn of the century most Americans were kindling their streetlights and kerosene lamps by torch or match. The polishing of lamp chimneys and trimming of wicks were grimy household chores.
In the homes of a few rich people electricity was being installed. Since it was very expensive, very new and extremely hard to obtain, electricity was ultra smart and most fashionable—fashions, you know, are things that are scarce and in keeping with the prevailing customs. Judged by these standards, use of electric service is old fashioned—it hasn't skyrocketed like other necessities, it's readily available to the smallest home at pre-war levels and there has been an ample supply.
Operating costs, as in other businesses, have advanced progressively in the electrical industry—taxes have been on a tremendous upsurge—only by the most careful direction and private initiative, advancement in methods could the electrical industry continue to supply its services at decreasing costs.
Sound and practical business management under governmental regulation as distinguished from government ownership tax-subsidized political operation are your guarantee that as new electrical comforts are available, adequate power at a reasonable total cost will prevail.

Munday At Top of 11-A Slate With Conference Games All In Offing

With all of her conference games yet to be played, Munday remains at the top of the team standing in District 11-A this week, being the only team that has won all games thus far this season.

The Moguls, unbeaten and untied in three non-conference games, are drawing top attention in the district this Friday night, when they meet the Anson Tigers on Anson's field. Anson has been booked by many experts to win the title this year.

Last week the Tigers whipped Haskell, 26 to 0 in a district game, while the Moguls took care of Chillicothe 19 to 0.

Three other conference games are slated for Friday, sending all eight teams into conference play for the first time this season.

The Seymour Panthers, defending champions and victors over Crowell last week by 21 to 7 score, will go to Albany.

The Haskell Indians go to Stamford, and Hamlin will journey to Throckmorton.

Stamford downed Albany 21 to 0, in a conference game last week. An earlier game for the Moguls and Throckmorton was postponed because of a muddy field.

Both Hamlin and Throckmorton played nonconference games last week, the Pied Pipers rolling up a 32 to 8 score on Spur, and Throckmorton battled Moran to a scoreless tie.

Treating Wheat Before Planting Is Recommended

Treating of wheat seed for the control of smut is more important now since the rains than during the time when soil temperatures were high and the ground dry, according to R. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

Smut is a spore disease which is borne on the seed or remains in the soil from previous crops. During the time of low temperature and high soil moisture the smut spore germinates in a less period of time than does the wheat seed; therefore, it is very important that the wheat seed be treated with a disinfectant such as copper carbonate dust or cerasan. To use a full strength of copper carbonate dust manufactured especially for seed treatment, should be applied to well cleaned seed at the rate of from 2 to 4 oz. per bushel and one half ounce per bushel of the cerasan. Mix the seed and the dust in a tight container until every kernel is thoroughly covered with the dust. Treated seed may be stored indefinitely without injury to germination.

Some Knox County farmers experienced quiet a loss this year in their grain sorghum crops by not treating the seed before planting it. This same loss might be experienced with wheat, if seed is not treated, and especially so since the recent rains and low soil temperatures.

In damp wet weather there is sometime a tendency for the treated seed to cake in the grain drill when standing overnight. In such cases it is advisable to rock the drill wheels back and forth before starting, in order to avoid breaking or bending the working parts.

Moguls Down-

Bouldin was waiting for the ball. He squeezed by several tacklers, finally gained an opening and stepped off 65 yards for the final score. Again conversion failed.

Every man on the Mogul team was playing heads-up ball. There was a hard charging, fast holding seven and often downed the fast Eagle backfield for losses. Munday's passes were an ever-present threat, and Chillicothe furnished several thrills by the pass route.

A large crowd enjoyed the game and were pleased with Munday's showing of a prospective winning team.

Free Borer Is Damaging Trees Of Knox County

Many farmers of Knox County, who have small peach orchards, are experiencing considerable trouble with the peach tree borer and are seeking information for its control, according to R. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

No preparation of the soil is necessary, except to break the crust 15 to 18 inches around the tree, and to remove any grass and weeds. Para Dichlorobenzene (P.H.-E.) Crystals should be placed in a circle around the tree about 2 inches from the base. For mature trees of average size 1 oz. by weight should be used. For unusually large trees 1 oz. and 1/2 is some times needed. For trees 4 or 5 years old 3/4 oz. and for trees 1 to 3 years 1/2 oz. should be used. Immediately after the crystals have been applied they should be covered with several shovels full of dirt and the dirt packed with the back of the shovel to make a cone shaped mound. The materials should be applied between October 20th

Bobbie Reese Is Given Discharge

T/Sgt. Bobbie E. Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reese of Knox City, has been honorably discharged from the Army Air Forces and has returned to Munday to resume civilian life.

He entered the Army in Feb. 1943 and was on duty with Army Air Forces as an aerial engineer on a B-17 in the European Theater. He was awarded the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters, three battle stars and the ETO ribbon, the Distinguished Unit Citation. He was with the 303rd Bombardment Group, overseas for six months.

After returning to the states he was stationed at Lubbock Army Air Field, Lubbock, Texas, where he took part in the intensive routine in which combat veteran pilots were trained in the latest methods of "all weather" instrument flying.

Maytag To Make More Appliances

Newton, Ia.—Addition of an automatic type washer, an automatic clothes dryer, both gas and electric, a gas range and an electric frozen food locker to the Maytag Company line of household appliances was revealed recently by Fred Maytag, company president.

The announcement followed a series of conferences of Maytag branch managers and distributors at the home office here at which the new products were previewed. They will be added to the line of conventional type washers and ironers produced by the 50-year-old company, which manufactured and sold more than four million washers before converting to war production in 1942.

The Maytag Company recently purchased a minority interest in the Globe-American Corporation of Kokomo, Indiana, which will produce Dutch oven gas ranges exclusively for Maytag, Fred Maytag and Maytag Vice Presidents George Umbriet and Roy A. Brandt have been elected to the Globe-American directory board.

HEFNER NEWS

(Mrs. E. J. Jones, Correspondent)

This correspondent has returned from a three-weeks visit to her former home in Newton County, Miss. She visited a sister, two brothers and nieces and nephews at Newton, Decatur, Lake and Jackson, Miss. On her way she visited a son, Philip Jones, at Grand Prairie and a nephew, Dr. H. A. Spivey at Dallas, going from there to Mississippi by auto.

All friends and relatives of Harding Cartwright were glad to see him back at Goree. He is now being treated in a hospital for three months, as he was a prisoner in Japan so long.

Walter and Bill Hudson, formerly of Hefner, are at home now. Walter spent some time overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dibriel Jones' daughter, Chrystine, has been transferred to China and is some nearer home than she was.

Billie Hendrix and Cooper Haskin are both near Japan, they reported to their families.

I. S. Cooksey of Lake, Miss., and grandson, Harold Kelly, are guests of J. H. Cooksey this week. Kelly recently returned from overseas.

FAT SAVING STILL NECESSARY

COLLEGE STATION.—Homemakers are getting more meat now than during the war months, but it still is necessary to continue to save every drop of used fat for salvage.

Maurine Hearn of the A. and M. College Extension Service urges farm women and home demonstration club groups not to let down in this patriotic program. Right now fats and oils are in shorter supply than they have been at any time since the war began, she explained following a conference with C. B. Hodges, Austin, state marketing officer for the Production and Marketing Administration, and other state and national salvage program leaders.

The shortage of fats and oils is expected to continue into the spring of 1946, since some time will elapse before importations from the South Pacific can be resumed. Butchers will continue to pay points and cash for salvaged fat. Leaders in the collection have praised Extension workers for their cooperation in the program, Miss Hearn says. She reminds that as cold weather arrives and home butchering begins, farm families will have large amounts of non-edible fat which can be contributed.
