

Crash Victim Is Buried Here Last Sunday

Clovis Stevens Dies In Hospital At Oklahoma City

Clovis Francis Stevens of Palestine, Texas, passed away in an Oklahoma City hospital at 3:20 a. m., Friday, November 9, the second victim of an auto accident near Luther, Okla.

Stevens lived a week after the accident which took the life of Virginia Fay Stevens, daughter of Sgt. Joe Stevens of Munday. Their car crashed into a truck parked on the highway after having been involved in another accident. Highway patrolmen blamed the theft of a highway flare as the cause of the crash.

Clovis Francis Stevens was born near Weinert on August 23, 1910, and was reared in this section. He lived in Austin several years, at Corsicana for five years, and just recently moved his family to Palestine. Stevens worked with the State Highway Patrol and the State Liquor Board for a number of years. At the time of his death he was employed by the Bee Line Motor Coaches.

Surviving him are his wife and son, Joe Wayne, of Palestine; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Stevens of Munday; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Joyce Poor of Indiana and Mrs. Jerry McGraw of Munday; two brothers, Judge Stevens, with the armed forces in the Pacific, and Joe W. Stevens, with the armed forces but now home on furlough. A number of the relatives also survive.

Clovis was a member of the Methodist Church of Corsicana, and of the Knights of Pythias Lodge. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Munday at 3:30 last Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. H. Albertson, Baptist pastor. Burial was in the Johnson cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home.

Music was furnished by Miss Charlene Nelson, who sang, "When They Ring Those Golden Bells," and a quartet composed of Aaron Edgar, Mrs. Oscar Spann, Mrs. P. V. Williams and J. C. Harpham sang "Abide With Me" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me." Mrs. Louise Ingram furnished piano accompaniment.

Pallbearers were Foy Easley of Anson, L. W. Joyce, Lloyd Chambliss and Clarence Weidman, all of Corsicana; Virgil Jones, Fort Worth, and Lee Haynes, Ed Y. Johnson, Worth Gafford and J. L. Stodghill, all of Munday.

Moguls Battle Panthers Here In Scoreless Tie

In a game where there was plenty of action but no scoring, the Munday Moguls battled the Seymour Panthers to a scoreless tie last Saturday night on the local field. The game had been postponed from Friday night because of wet weather.

The ball was in Panther territory during most of the play, although the Moguls lacked that touchdown punch. Both lines were holding tight, and fourth-down punts were frequently used as both sides failed on first down tries.

Seymour never threatened to score, and the Panthers were battling during all four periods to keep the Moguls in tow.

Spann, Montgomery and Boulding did good jobs in the backfield, while Joe Spann was in there snatching the Mogul passes. The Moguls played within the 20-yard line quite often, and twice they were within a yard of pay dirt. The Seymour line always held, and the locals fell short of their counter on these occasions.

This was an interesting game for the fans, although it ended in a scoreless tie.

Army Nurse To Be In County For Victory Loan

Gilliland Is Only Community To Get Quota

First Lieut. Margaret Bowen, U. S. Army nurse and veteran of the South Pacific, will appear in Knox county on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 20 and 21, on behalf of the Victory Loan Drive.

Lt. Bowen is one of more than 100 Army nurses that are touring the nation in behalf of the victory loan drive.

She served in the South Pacific from June 20, 1942 to July 1943 and was awarded a Navy commendation while on detached service with the USS SOLACE evacuating Marines and Naval personnel from Tulagi and Guadalcanal.

Lt. Bowen will relate her experiences, and stress the importance of the Victory Loan Drive in connection with the rehabilitation program for those men wounded in action.

A native of Boston Massachusetts, she was a nurse at Boston City Hospital prior to entering the service as an Army Nurse. Lt. Bowen is now at McCloskey General Hospital at Temple and will visit towns throughout West Texas during her Bond tour.

Knox County is running behind on her quota, W. E. Braly, county chairman, said Wednesday, and it will take everyone doing his full duty to place the county over its drive.

So far, Gilliland is the only community which has reached its quota in the Victory Loan.

Aubrey L. Roden Served On Carrier U. S. S. Kalinin

Aubrey L. Roden, Jr., seaman first class, U. S. N. R., of Munday, and other men of the escort aircraft carrier, U. S. S. Kalinin Bay, had helped take the vessel through some of the hottest action in the Pacific before she returned to the States in time to take part in the recent observance of Navy Day.

The battle records of many of the men of the Kalinin Bay read almost like the history of the war with Japan—including operations in the Solomon, the Marianas, the western Caroline, the Gilberts, the Palau, liberation of the Philippines and the Battle of Leyte Gulf.

PREVENT TOMORROW'S FIRES TODAY

The next few years will constitute an unparalleled opportunity to correct some of the reasons for America's annual four to five-hundred-million-dollar fire loss. Hundreds of thousands of new homes will be built and countless thousands of old homes will be renovated. The same will be true of industrial establishments. In the process, many fire hazards can be eliminated cheaply and permanently.

The President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in urging such action, says: "Spending time and money to eliminate all kinds of hazards not only results in improved appearance and greater comfort, but is also true economy. If the furnaces is put in first-rate condition, it will deliver more heat while burning less fuel, in addition to being safer. If the building has been painted, its rate of depreciation will be slower and it will be more fire resistive. Insulation in the walls will conserve fuel and likewise in case of fire, check the spread of flames through the formerly hollow wall spaces. A new roof preserves the entire building and lessens the hazard of fire from flying sparks."

Even if certain fire preventive measures do involve added cost, they are worth while. They may not only save an investment of thousands of dollars, but human life as well.

Anyone who spends money on construction or rehabilitation and ignores the elimination of every possible fire hazard, is indeed penny wise and pound foolish.

TOMORROW'S SERVICE STATION

Often the public does not demand improvement until improvement has been thrust upon it. Witness the service stations where we fill our cars with gas. Most people are reasonably satisfied with present facilities, yet enterprising oil companies are coming out with new ideas in the form of model stations, that are eye openers.

Reporters visiting one of these model stations, inspected new model lubricating equipment capable of effecting a saving time of one-third, and so clean that a mechanic attired in dinner clothes can do a complete lubrication job. They saw a new gasoline pump with built-in hose reel which does away with irritating "jockeying for position." They also saw a host of new merchandise to be carried by the service stations of tomorrow.

What inspired these new ideas when the public was reasonably satisfied with what it had? The answer can be boiled down to one word; competition—something that is worth preserving in these United States and something that does not exist in countries where governments do all the "planning" for the people.

DON'T CHEER YET

Before cheering tax reduction too loudly, it would be a good idea to see how far the Federal government moves toward trimming expenditures. So far, most of the plans that have come out of Washington propose greater public spending instead of less. The President himself is promoting an eight or ten-billion-dollar spending spree in the construction of hydroelectric power dams to compete with or replace generating facilities already in existence. If this kind of water is to characterize our postwar government, tax reduction should be dropped at once. The country cannot support a soaring public debt indefinitely.

As the Committee on Postwar Tax Policy, headed by Roswell Magill, former Under Secretary of the United States Treasury, points out: "All taxation is burdensome. On the other hand, the creeping inflation which would result from periodic or chronic deficit financing would be a far heavier burden in the end on all the people, but particularly on the low income groups. These groups, which in the aggregate receive the bulk of all income payments, are invariably the principle victims of inflation. We cannot emphasize too strongly or too often that prudence in government spending is the key to low taxes. And we believe this will be achieved only if the people are brought face to face currently with the tax burden requirement to meet these expenditures."

"Free competition tends to restore quickly equilibrium in the economy. Paralysis and stalemate are caused by prices and wages that are too high, and by government restraints or policies of monetary inflation or deflation and by monopolistic practices. It is the duty of the government to assure a fair open field for free competition by not putting obstacles in the way of the fullest operation of a free enterprise system."—Henry Hazlitt, member, editorial staff, The New York Times.

Little Towns Of Texas Do Large Retail Trade

Austin.—The "little" towns of Texas—those with less than 5,000 population—had 50 percent of the retail trade in the state during the ten-year period 1930-1940, the University of Texas Bureau Research reports in a new series of retail trade summaries titled Texas Retail Trade.

In a current series of studies contained in five volumes, titled Texas Retail Trade, the Bureau reports that 18.7 per cent of the retail stores were located in cities of 100,000 or more population; 31.2 per cent were in cities of from five to ten thousand inhabitants, and 50.1 per cent were in towns of less than 5,000.

"Total retail sales in Texas in 1939 amounted to $1,803,716,000," Mrs. Clara H. Lewis, editor of the study, said. "Of this, 31.2 per cent was for sales reported for cities of more than 100,000 population; 38.7 per cent was for sales in cities from 5,000 to 100,000; 30.1 per cent was for towns under 5,000."

Total receipts of retail stores in Texas indicate that 92.8 per cent were for merchandise sales; 5.4 per cent for meals and fountain or bar; and 1.8 per cent for repairs, storage, and service.

Mrs. E. M. Ammons of Texas City visited with Miss Leona Keel and other friends here the first of this week. She came at this time to attend the silver anniversary of the Munday Study Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Allen and little daughter, Karen, of Amarillo visited with Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. Nell Hardin, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dunn of Brownfield visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dickerson over the week end.

Announcing The Purchase of the Jones & Eiland Insurance Agency

This is to announce that I have purchased the interests of John Ed Jones and G. R. Eiland in the Jones & Eiland Insurance Agency, and will become active in the management of the firm on January 1, 1946.

It is my plan to continue to render the same efficient service that has characterized the firm of Jones & Eiland throughout these many years. Upon this basis I invite your continued patronage and good will.

We invite you here for insurance of all kinds, and I will be glad to serve you personally in any way I can.

In Appreciation

As we turn the reins of our business over to Mr. Harpham, the partnership of Jones & Eiland wishes to express its deep and most sincere appreciation to all of our friends whom we have served during the past 20-odd years.

Without your friendship and good will, we would have failed as a business institution, and we assure you that we appreciate whatever part you have had in our success.

One of us—and both of us, at times—will be on hand to serve you until such time as Mr. Harpham can become active in the business. We will be glad to help you as efficiently in the weeks to come as we have tried to do in the past.

We solicit for Mr. Harpham your continued patronage and friendship, and we assure you that all favors given us in the past are appreciated.

As we retire from this business, it is with many fond memories and with gratitude for the good business and friendships we have enjoyed. Memories of many pleasant years as a part of Munday's business relationships will always be cherished in our hearts.

Sincerely,

JONES & EILAND

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9—Most of the work of Congress this week has been done in Committees. Many important problems are now receiving serious attention and debate in various committee rooms on Capitol Hill. The House Military Affairs Committee has three particularly hot potatoes, namely, demobilization, universal military training, and the atomic bomb.

On Thursday of this week I attended a meeting of Senators and Congressmen who listened to several of the eminent atomic scientists attack the proposed Johnson-May bill pending before the Military Affairs Committee. Most of the scientists want to pool all knowledge concerning atomic energy and make it available to all nations.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

The Johnson-May bill proposes to set up a commission in this country to restrict the use of atomic energy and to preserve such secrets as may now be in our exclusive possession.

The American Association for the United Nations, Inc., an organization of distinguished Americans, contends that this secret should be controlled through the United Nations organization. They say that following our first statement we would keep the secret, the Russians immediately began developing uranium deposits in Czechoslovakia and hiring German scientists at fantastic salaries to work on the problem of atomic energy. They propose to set up through the United Nations organization an international atomic energy corporation. The corporation would acquire all of the known deposits of uranium and other elements going into the manufacture of atomic energy, would issue all nations from whom these supplies were confiscated an amount of stock in the corporation, and would supply them in turn certain amounts of atomic energy. However, all of these supplies and material would be restricted to peacetime commercial use and the making of atomic bombs would be outlawed.

An international police force of the United Nations would inspect and survey the fields constantly to see that all of these requirements were met and all conditions kept. The debate is just beginning. All should pray for some arrangement that will preserve world peace.

Secretary of Labor Schwelbach appeared before one of my committees this week. Expenditures in Executive Departments, to testify in support of the so-called full employment bill. On cross-examination I asked Secretary Schwelbach if he did not feel that Congress should pass some law or laws giving him more authority and power to settle labor disputes and to prevent strikes that were particularly against the public interest. The Secretary dodged the commitment on this point by saying he wanted first to see if the important Labor-Management Conference now going on in the City of Washington could not work out amicable settlements of these industry-labor controversies.

The election of Mr. O'Dwyer to be mayor of New York, the largest city in the world, on Tuesday of this week, is causing a lot of discussion in political circles. It is well known that Mr. O'Dwyer had the aggressive and militant support of Tammany Hall plus the active support of Mr. Sidney Hillman's Political Action Committee of the CIO. Mr. Hillman is also the head of the American Labor Party in New York City. This support, while a little embarrassing to Mr. O'Dwyer, helped to swell his large majority. Incidentally, Mayor-Elect O'Dwyer of New York City was born in Ireland.

To get a license to practice law before the Supreme Court of the United States, one must be introduced to that court by a member of the Supreme Court bar. It was my pleasure this week to introduce Mr. Tom M. Miller of Graham, Texas, to the Supreme Court, for this purpose. Mr. Miller was accompanied to Washington by his young son, Dayne.

Among visitors to my office this week were Roy Farrell and Private Claude I Green of Vernon, and Mr. Al Parker, Mr. Otis Nelson and Mr. W. Erle White of Wichita Falls. I always enjoy seeing friends from home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jackson of Muleshoe were here over the week end for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Floyd and son. Mrs. Jackson remained to spend the week with her brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Carlson visited with Mrs. Carlson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McNeill, several days last week. They were enroute to Chicago, Ill.

Study Club's Silver Anniversary Tea On Tuesday Highlight of Social Events

The Munday Study Club held open house on Tuesday, November 13, from 8 to 10:30 p. m. celebrating its silver anniversary. This event was a highlight of the social calendar of the week.

The club building contains a large living room, library, kitchen and powder room, a part of which has recently been redecorated.

For this special occasion, the red rose was chosen as the club flower, and the decorations carried a theme of red and silver in all the rooms.

Mrs. J. C. Harpham was chairman of all committees and has been the member who planned with committees the remodeling of the building several years ago.

In the receiving line were: Mmes. J. C. Harpham, J. R. Burnison, Club president; Don R. Davidson, and three former presidents who returned for the event; Mmes. Ruby Kethley of Abilene, E. M. Ammons and W. H. Chapman of Texas City.

Mrs. Doris Rogers secured signatures for the guest book, and all members were good will hostesses.

The service table, covered with a lace cloth over silver satin, was centered with a crystal bowl over a reflector filled with red roses and silver fern. At each end of this table were three candles in silver holders, over reflectors, and the service consisted of cake squares frosted in white, with a red rosebud in the center, salted pecans and fruit punch.

Presiding alternately at the punch bowl were Mmes. R. E. Alexander, Fred Broach and M. H. Reeves, the only charter members who have been enrolled during the twenty-five years.

On the library table, a large bowl of red roses and ferns, surrounded by year books of all past years, made an attractive center of interest.

Bowls of greenery were placed on book cases and tables, and past presidents wore corsages of two red rose buds, while members wore only one rose bud.

Approximately 120 guests registered during the evening.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. M. Huskinson, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Ruby Kethley, Abilene; Mrs. E. M. Ammons and Mrs. W. H. Chapman, Texas City; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. ## Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin.—With the approach of cold weather, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued some timely advice concerning room temperature and its relation to health.

"It is very important that inside temperature be maintained at a round 68 to 70 degrees," Dr. Cox said. "Thousands of homes are continually overheated in the winter, and a degree of heat is often demanded that would not be tolerated in the summertime."

In a room that is overheated, the body pores are open, and the moment that the outside temperature is encountered, much harm may result. Colds, influenza, bronchial troubles and even pneumonia may take advantage of this bodily abuse, and take a serious toll in sickness and even death.

"An inside temperature of from 68 to 70 degrees is not only more healthful, but actually more comfortable," Dr. Cox said. "When, added to these factors, the resulting economy is considered, it might be well to check up and see what your thermometer reads. A room temperature within the range suggested plus the careful maintenance of proper humidity, will help to prevent needless sickness and protect the good health of your family."

"IS THAT IN THE RULE BOOK?"

Whether it's football or business, Americans expect fair play all down the line.

In football, the referee is there to see that the game is played according to the rules. But he's not supposed to run with the ball.

In business, the referee is the government, which establishes regulations and fair practices.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Government-owned electric power systems, for example, pay no taxes. When they need capital, they get your tax money at little or no interest from the U. S. Treasury. To cover operating losses—an accepted political condition—you, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

Business-managed power systems—unlike tax subsidized political methods—do not have these special privileges. They are not tax dodgers, they pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on public loans. Fortunately for you and your tax bill, over 80 per cent of all the electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you.

Research Finds Variety Of Uses For Sawdust

Austin.—Just exactly what would you do if someone asked you what sawdust is used for?

Such a question is typical of the hundreds which the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research receives yearly. Every question is answered in full, with detailed references to other sources of information, or else the questions are referred to proper authorities, says Mrs. Clara H. Lewis, editorial assistant in the Bureau.

Answering the sawdust question brought forth the following facts.

Two firms in Texas use sawdust: one in Dallas, and the other in San Antonio.

Sawdust can be used in manufacturing the following: acetic acid, artificial wood (pressed), cellulose acetate, butyric acid, formic acid, lactic acid, wood flour, and wood alcohol.

Large quantities are used in floor sweep, and untreated sawdust is used by technical biological laboratories in the care of animals.

In addition, sawdust is used in moldable products, fuel briquettes, and manufacturing chicken feed, Mrs. Lewis said.

Navy Wives Are Warned Of Hotel Shortage In Area

New Orleans.—A warning that an acute shortage of hotel accommodations and housing facilities exists at all Navy Separation Centers was issued to relatives of servicemen who are contemplating joining their Navy husbands, sweethearts, and sons and daughters at their discharge points.

Already overcrowded conditions in the localities of the Separation Centers has made it necessary for Navy housing officials to issue an appeal to the relatives of servicemen and women to avoid confusion by delaying their planned reunions with their loved ones until the veterans are discharged and return to their homes.

The influx of the World War II veterans to the Separation Centers, already swarming with Navy personnel stationed at these facilities, has created a critical shortage of rooms.

Housing authorities explained that the appeal to the relatives and friends of the service people is made in hope of avoiding further hardships. Hundreds of families and friends of the veterans are arriving daily at the Separation Centers only to find it impossible to find housing accommodations.

Compliance with this request, it was pointed out, also will help relieve the rail and bus transportation problem and thus make it possible for more servicemen to be transferred to the Separation Centers for discharge.

GIVE THE CHILD A GOOD PLACE TO STUDY

With children back in school, it is especially important for mothers to see that the home provides an adequate place for study. There are at least three requirements of a good study place for school children, in the opinion of Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. These are good lighting, a comfortable place to sit, and a certain amount of privacy.

Two main requirements in regard to light are enough light and light of soft quality. Bulbs of at least one hundred watts should be used. These are less expensive than smaller bulbs. To get a light of soft quality a lamp fitted with a diffusing bowl should be used if at all possible. The light should be placed as close to the works as is comfortable for the student.

Wherever the child studies he will accomplish more if his study materials are within easy reach. A desk with drawers and a bookshelf nearby is ideal, but if the child studies at the dining table, for example, he should have a box to hold pencils, papers and other supplies.

Major Consideration in home building plans

HEAT

The time to decide about your house heating is during planning stage because the new gas heating equipment requires flues for venting.*

When heating is planned as part of house and equipment installed when it is built or remodeled, it can be included as part of monthly payments. In this way the finest automatic gas heat costs so little more each month that even the builder of a modest cottage can afford it. So plan heat as part of house.

*Only when heating equipment is vented to a flue are wall sweating and stuffy air eliminated. Lone Star Gas Company recommends only equipment that is vented.

Senior Class News

We are about to get accustomed to our new class rings. Now we have another subject that draws our attention. We are ordering our basketball and volley ball jackets and sweaters. They are exceedingly nice and everyone who is to receive one has a smile from ear to ear. Our order is subject to material shortage but we are hoping for the best.

Members of the Junior and Senior class met in the gym Monday night attending a party in honor of James Dickens, who left Tuesday for the Navy. Several exciting games of volley ball were played. The boys played the girls and beat them five out of eight games. Naturally the boys had to let the girls win three to keep them from getting mad. All joking aside, the girls do have a good volley ball team and we had to stay on our toes to beat them.

Our class won the Queen's race with a total of $365.00 and that ain't hay! We are really proud of ourselves for we put forth a big effort. We also want to thank the different farmers for donating cotton to our class to help us finish out our bale of cotton which we sold at top price and put the money on the Queen's Race.

With part of our profit, we are buying a memograph machine. This will enable us to print our own weekly Sunset Glow.

Junior News

After a week of getting out of classes, we had to settle down this morning and start studying. This will be a great change for us.

We have essays for English today. If they are good ones the whole junior class will be surprised. The teacher will even be surprised. There aren't any new love affairs in the junior class. If there is any out of school no one knows about them. Could that be possible? HAH!

Sophomore News

The Sophs are finally settling down to work now that the carnival is over.

In English we are really having to work. We took a quiz today and all of us just made fair grades.

In Algebra we are having trouble that Mr. McLeRoy calls "factoring". We call it—Trouble.

We are studying the Roman Empire in World History. The rumor is that we will have a nice little test in that today, too.

The Home Ec. II girls will soon complete their dresses as it will soon be time to turn them in. We are also trying to learn all about a machine. We found that this is not

AAA FARM NEWS

1946 Agricultural Conservation Program Announced

The 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program in Texas will give more responsibility to farmers, working through their AAA County and community committees in recommending conservation practices to be carried out on farms, according to N. L. Dodd, Director of the Field Service Branch of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Under this plan the counties will be given an allocation of funds within which to operate their conservation programs. The local committees will sit down with individual farmers and help plan a conservation program based on the actual needs of the farms. Final approval of the plan will rest with the county committee. Past AAA programs have allocated assistance principally according to a statewide formula applicable to each farm in order to get practices carried out on a broad scale.

Mr. Dodd pointed out that the "grass roots" approach should help speed the efficient reconversion of the nation's farmland from the strain of wartime production to longer-range soil-building and water conservation.

"The end of the war with its urgent demands for all-out production sounds a note of caution for farmers to take inventory of the most important capital asset—their land," Mr. Dodd declared. "Unless we conserve the productivity of our farms, we will jeopardize the bedrock foundation for lasting post-war prosperity."

The 1946 program has been planned to provide about the same assistance that farmers received under the 1945 program. However, more soil practices are expected to be carried out under the new program since the farmer will bear more of the conservation cost than under the 1945 program.

The 1946 program is divided into these types of practices for which assistance will be available: (1) Application of lime, fertilizers, and other materials; (2) planting of cover crops; (3) harvesting of legume and grass; (4) erosion control and water conservation; (5) range and pasture improvements; (6) forestry practices; (7) other practices such as noxious weed control and clearing land for pasture.

Special emphasis will be on the application of lime and fertilizers to grasses and legumes. Much of the soils in the humid areas of the state have been leached of their calcium and phosphorus. Farmers have increased the use of these materials since they were first offered in 1936. Using these and other program practices, farmers are improving their soils, getting better crop yields and slowing erosion.

Farmers receive ACP assistance in the form of conservation materials, service purchase orders or payments. Conservation materials are purchased largely through trade channels in cluding local dealers.

There is need for planting legumes, green manure, and winter cover crops of many thousands of acres of pasture and meadow which were plowed up during the war. This land must be brought into a system of cropping which will protect it against dangers of water and wind erosion.

With the demand for livestock and other farm products expected to remain at high levels for the next few years, there is a definite need for pasture and range improvement, including construction of ponds and reservoirs.

The 1946 program will vary by states and by counties according to the climate, topography, type of farming, and the conservation needs. The approved practices for each county will be developed by local AAA farmer-committeemen, representatives of State Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, and other agricultural agencies. Each county will select only the most needed practices for which assistance will be offered so as to be able to keep the program within the funds allocated to the county.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stengel and family of Pep, Texas, former residents of Rhineland, visited relatives and friends here during the past week. They are moving to Racine, Wisconsin, where Mr. Stengel will be employed by the J. I. Case Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Naret of Camp Fannin, Texas, visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

4-H Contest Winners Named

COLLEGE STATION. — Honors are being passed around to Texas 4-H Club girls this week as observance of National 4-H Club Achievement Week, Nov. 8-11, comes to a close.

Marilee Dufek, 18, of Dallas County, is winner of the State-wide Girls Records' contest, and will compete for a cash scholarship in the national records contest, says Miss Maurine Hearn, of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. She will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next month and will be accompanied by Miss Lida Cooper of the Extension Service committee on girls' 4-H work. Miss Dufek was chosen from 1,239 participants in the contest. Her records reflect nine years of 4-H achievement.

Another state winner is Patsy Priest of McCulloch County, who was ranked top place in the Maggie W. Barry Scholarship Contest. She will compete in the national contest for a trip to the Chicago Congress and for a cash scholarship, but the national results will not be known for several weeks. Miss Hearn said. Earlier this year Miss Priest received a college scholarship from the state-wide organization home demonstration club women.

Girl winners in the state 4-H Victory garden contest include Gladys Lopez of Jim Wells County; Helen Kolaja, Brazoria County; Lillian Roeder, Lavaca County; and Frankie Jo Gipson, Hale County. Boy winners in the garden contest announced by the Extension Service are Henry Neil Schacht, Floyd County; Dick Penn, Frio County; Jim Whaley, Hall County; and George McBee, Eastland County. Each of these eight winners will receive a $25 war bond and is competing for national awards—a trip to the Congress and a $100 war bond.

A number of county winners also have been selected. In the farm safety contests five Sabine 4-H girls will receive silver medals for their work. They are Hazel Ann Chick, Willie White, Joyce Horne, Doris Jean Foley, and Maggie Lou Kilcrease, Dorothy Ethridge, 12, of Rice of Grayson County.

Home Economics Club Has Its First Meeting Wednesday

The first meeting of the Munday chapter of the Home Economics Club was called to order on Wednesday, November 6, by Doris Wayne Phillips, president. Forty were present, including the sponsor, Mrs. Baker, and four officers.

Officers were elected some weeks ago and are, other than the president: Gwynna Lee Smith, vice president; Carolyn Bowden, secretary and treasurer, and Margaret Partridge, reporter.

The program was a candlelight service, which proved to be both pretty and effective. Eight girls, representing the goals of the club, came into the room, bearing candles. They were:

Geraldine Boggs, mother of home-making; Florine Mitchell, friendliness; Bobbie Price, service; Frances Nance, courtesy; Elizabeth Smith, cooperation; Peggy Clough, health; Ruby Dell Franklin, knowledge, and Betty Hendrix, achievement.

Several things were discussed toward making the club a better one. Carolyn Hannah was elected club musician, with Hattie Ann Phillips as assistant. Charlotte Williams was elected song leader. Blue and white were chosen as the club colors, with the blue and white cornflower as the club flower.

Following the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Texas And Her Annexation

By Dr. E. C. Barker, Professor of American History, The University of Texas

The Abolitionists Oppose In Sept., 1837, following Van Buren's curt rejection of the Texan proposal, John Quincy Adams offered in the House of Representatives a resolution embodying the substance of the President's scruples about the Constitution. He declared: "The power of annexing the people of any independent foreign state to this union is a power not delegated by the Constitution of the United States to their Congress or to any department of their government, but reserved to the people." In other words, it would require an amendment of the Constitution to annex Texas. He repeated the resolution toward the end of the next session on June 16, spoke for one hour daily with a few exceptions until Congress adjourned on July 9, 1838. The speech covered a wide range. Had he been challenged, he would have maintained that all that he said was germane to the resolution, but in fact he traveled far a-field. His view of the Texas question was that it was a sordid plot to expand the slave territory of the United States so as to give the South greater power in the Senate. It is not likely that he wanted the House to vote on his resolution. More probably he offered it to gain an occasion for the speech. Later he claimed that the speech laid the annexation question for three years. But other conditions suspended the question.

President Lamar Opposes Annexation

Perhaps by inadvertence, the Texas government did not withdraw its offer of annexation after the United States declined. President Houston ended this undignified situation, however, in 1838, instructing the Texan minister in Washington to inform the government that the offer was no longer pending. The Texan Senate approved this action in 1839.

Houston was succeeded by Mirabeau B. Lamar. He had won an enviable reputation as leader of the cavalry in the battle of San Jacinto and had served as Vice-president while Houston was president. He was a poet and an orator. He had a great vision of Texas as an independent nation and devoted much of his inaugural address to the expression of his view. Of annexation to the United States, he said, "I have never been able myself to perceive the policy of the desired connexion, or discover in it any advantage, . . . which could possibly result to Texas. But on the contrary a long train of consequences of the most appalling character and magnitude have never failed to present themselves whenever I have entertained the subject. The step, once taken, would produce a lasting regret, and ultimately prove as disastrous to our liberty and hopes as the triumphant sword of the enemy." Annexation would deprive Texas of her public lands, of the right to make appropriations therefrom for internal improvements and education, to levy her own taxes, to control commerce. . . "pouring her abundant treasures into the lap of another people than her own."

When he turned from this "dark and dreary picture" to the brilliant future that awaited the independent republic; when he contemplated the "vast extent of territory, stretching from the Sabine to the Pacific and away to the southwest as far as the obstinacy of the enemy may render it necessary for the sword to make the boundary". . . he could not regard the annexation of Texas to the American Union "in any other light than as the grave of all her hopes of happiness and greatness." And much more of the same sort.

The people of Texas did not share Lamar's views, however, and it was at Washington on the Potomac rather than at Austin on the Colorado that the fate of annexation was to be settled.

Christmas Party Is Planned For Home Demonstration Clubs

When the Knox County Home Demonstration Council met in the assembly room of the courthouse in Benjamin, it was decided that if "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy", then the same rule would work the same with the women and make "Sal a dull gal". So a Christmas party was planned for all Home Demonstration Club women of the County and their husbands. The party will be held in the assembly room of the courthouse on December 6.

In the business meeting, Mrs. Wesley Trainham, council chairman, presided, and six clubs answered roll call.

Two club women and two 4-H club girls were chosen to visit each 4-H Club in the county to hear their reports and select the outstanding girl to be Gold Star girl of the Community.

Each Home Demonstration Club will send a Christmas box to Shepard Field for the men in service who are stationed there.

The council secretary gave an outline of the yearbooks for 1946, and her outline was accepted by the council without any changes being made.

Mrs. Pack had charge of the program and gave a report of a Dallas club girl's report. Mrs. Leona Darwin told of the memorial roadside park which is being sponsored by the Truscott Home Demonstration Club.

At an earlier meeting, the council women chose the crepe myrtle as the county memorial flower, and soon these will be planted in each community.

After the council adjourned, a visit was made to the library, where books were checked out to each club librarian. In Munday community Mrs. Frank Bowley is librarian, and anyone wishing to read a book, or books, should see her or give her the title of the book you wish. She will be glad to get it for you if it is on the shelves in the library.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Floyd and son of Muleshoe spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Floyd and son.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

("What Makes a Texan Tick?"—Concluded.)

Texas is the home of cowboy who drove hundreds of thousands of Longhorns up the trail despite Indians, prairie fires, rustlers, swollen rivers and stampedes; then when the herds had been delivered at Abilene, the cowboys took in the sights, perhaps shouting, "I'm wild and woolly an' full o' fleas; ain't never been carried below the knees." Texas became a land insidiously high-heeled boots, jingling spurs, chaps, big hats, bright bandanas and blazing six-guns.

The history of Texas is one of French and Spanish explorers, of heroic priests who built missions in the wilderness, of Indian fighters, gold seekers, Texas Rangers, cattle kings, pioneers physicians, school teachers, circuit-riders, pirates, outlaws, wildcaters with their gushers and boom towns, flamboyant politicians, King cotton, cabins in the clearings, heroic women whose prayers and unceasing toil helped to build a State.

It is a story of unique people and institutions and deeds: Joe Bailey of whom it was said that a 20-mile ride on horseback was adequately compensated for just to hear him say "My fellow countrymen"; Clyde and Bonnie, lovers and slayers; Albert Sidney Johnston, hero of Shiloh, who joined the army of the Texas Republic as a private; O. Henry, genius of the short story; the million-acre King Ranch; Amos Carter, greatest host of all time, and Jesse Jones, the greatest money-lender in history; the miracle of bringing the sea 50 miles inland to make Houston one of the foremost ports of the world; the University of Texas with millions of dollars derived from oil found under land that was considered virtually worthless; Robert E. Lee, before the Civil War, sitting on his horse, motionless on the frontier, "listening to the tread of the millions that are to come"; the old settler who, when asked for the title to his land, simply pointed to the rifle beside the door; and Brit Bailey, who in his will said:

"Bury me standing up and facing west. I've never looked up at any man yet and when I'm dead I don't want anybody saying, 'Here lies old Brit Bailey.' So they buried him in a box, standing up, his gun at his side and a jug at his feet.
