Odd Bits Salvaged

Over there to your right is a picture of the couple who raised us—and it's to them that we dedicate this week's efforts. To heck with Munday's needs for this one week!

We said they "raised" us, because that's what they did. We think people started rearing children along about the time they started tractor farming.

Fixing "baby's formula" was unknown to our Mom back when she was raising children instead of rearing them.

And when we got up old enough to be taken off a milk diet, we ate what everybody else did. A portion of scrambled eggs, some red beans carefully mashed up with a fork, some bread and thickened gravy were just as good for the baby as for the other young'uns.

As we advanced to school age, nothing was better than a big, thick piece of "corn pone" and a raw onion when we arrived home from school.

We've departed from our raisin' in that respect. Now those raw onions would form enough baseballs in our stomach to supply a major league team for an entire season!

As we visited our Pop and our Mom last week end on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, our thoughts wandered back to days in which we were being raised. All of the children and one of the in-laws were present, so people generally get back to the days when they were kids on occasions like that.

Mom and Pop raised all eight of us—six boys and two girls. There would have been nine had all grown to maturity. One boy—the twin brother of the editor—lived only ten days. And at that age our parents didn't think we'd ever live to edit a paper!

We were raised around the family altar. We didn't think of going to bed at night until the scripture was read and prayer was said.

After a day's work, when chores were done, supper was over and the kids began to yawn, Pop would reach for the old family Bible, select a passage of several verses and read.

Then we'd all kneel at our chairs—we didn't just kinda bow our necks like we were going to butt our heads into a brick wall—and Pop would begin an humble, sincere, unselfish and impassionate prayer to our Heavenly Father.

He'd pray for himself and family, his church, his pastor; the poor, sick and afflicted, the peoples of other nations—and before he'd finished we'd think that was no human being or creature in all the world that Pop didn't want God to bless!

We've often thought that Pop could get nearer to the Throne of Grace in his prayers than any living person, be he preacher, steward, deacon, presiding elder, bishop, priest or whatnot.

During drought he prayed for the rains to come—"if it be Thy will," and if the rains didn't come—like in 1917 and 1918—he wouldn't lose faith in prayer.

When the world was in the terrible throes of war, Pop would pray for the "cause of right" to win. Sometimes we'd think: What if we're not on the right side? But before he stopped praying we'd know that no matter what side we were on, it would be all right between Pop and his God.

Mom would pray, too. Sometimes at the family altar Pop would call on Mom to lead the prayer. Her prayers were shorter than Pop's, but they were just as earnest and sincere and they came from a heart just as humble.

We know, too, that as Mom prayed there was a God in Heaven, and that He was hearing the prayer that went up (Continued on Last Page)

4-H Club Girls Make Plans For Active Year

In Knox County in March, eleven 4-H meetings were held in Benjamin, Gilliland, Goree, Knox City, Munday, Sunset, Truscott and Vera schools. One hundred and seventy members were present, this included fifteen new members who plan to complete the spring and summer work. Vera club had the most, with the president, Connie Parham, enlisting ten new members. Mrs. Billy Hutchens, Goree, Sponsor, and Mrs. Jimmie Welch, of Gilliland, met with those two clubs also.

Due to the large enrollment in 4-H, Goree and Benjamin have divided into Junior and Senior Clubs. The Junior Goree Club has adopted the name of Goree 4-H Blue Bonnets.

The older girls demonstrations given by the Home Demonstration Agent, Eugenia Butler, was on selection of pattern and material for school dresses. Members are to have dresses under construction before the May Club meeting. Older girls not making dresses are making pajamas for projects.

The Junior Clubs saw a demonstration on Construction of an Apron by the agent. Each club received patterns and studied steps in construction from that pattern.

4-H members can make as many as three garments to enter in the four divisions of the Knox County 4-H Dress Revue, May 7. These divisions are: 1. Aprons, 2. Pajamas, 3. Junior School Dress, 4. Senior School dresses.

At the March meetings members brought completed work to show the clubs. These included: Mittens, lapel ornaments, pillow cases and hand work, dresses and other garments to make a very completed dress for Dress Revue.

Summer plans include the following dates:

May 7, Dress Revue; June 6-7, District Encampment at Lueders; June 12-19, State 4-H Round-up; June 28-29, County Encampment—To be held jointly with Baylor County at Seymour Park.

IN KNOX COUNTY HOSPITAL.
D. E. Holder, Sr. was taken to the Knox County hospital last Sunday night after suffering an internal hemorrhage a few minutes earlier. Latest reports are that he is getting along nicely but will probably remain in the hospital several days.

Manuel Medley of Santa Rosa, New Mexico visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren last Sunday.

It's Been A Long, Long Time!

The popular song, "It's Been A Long, Long Time" could have been appropriately sung last Saturday as the parents of the editor, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Edgar, above, of Wellington, Texas, observed their golden wedding anniversary.

All children of the couple were present for the occasion, which was an open house held in the home of a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Warrick, 1201 Dalhart Street, Wellington. Many friends, some of more than 30 years' standing, gathered between the hours of 3 to 7 to 9 p. m., bringing presents, congratulatory cards, flowers etc. They were served coffee and generous helpings of the huge 50th anniversary wedding cake.

This is the first time all of the family had been together in many years. Members of the immediate family present for the occasion are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Edgar, Turkey, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Edgar and children, Mary Ruth and Jimmy, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Edgar, Munday; Z. C. Edgar, Stephenville; W. E. Edgar, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Warrick and daughters, Evelyn and Lorene, Wellington; T. R. Edgar, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wade, Dallas.

Lovely pot plants and bouquets of flowers decorated the reception rooms, and the "bride and groom" wore corsages of yellow roses. Everyone seemed to "beam" with happiness, which changed to a very definite tinge of sadness when parting time came Sunday.

Evangelist

Dr. Frank L. Turner of Fort Worth, above, general evangelist of the Methodist church, is leading in the Spiritual Life Crusade which opened on Wednesday night of this week at the First Methodist church in Munday. The crusade will continue through Sunday, April 3, with services being held at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily.

Dr. Turner, former president of McMurry College, was a successful pastor before entering the field of evangelism.

Brazos Flood Control Survey Is Completed

FORT WORTH—Field work has been completed, over three months ahead of schedule, on the Soil Conservation Service flood control survey of the Brazos River watershed. Regional Director Louis P. Merrill of SCS announced today.

Survey findings are now in the regional headquarters here for checking and tabulation, and the drafting of the report on the survey is under way, Mr. Merrill said. The survey party is headed by A. H. Bean.

The survey was started last July 1. Its purpose is to show whether the benefits that can be expected from a Department of Agriculture watershed treatment program in aid of flood control would justify the program cost.

Similar surveys on other watersheds have shown that most of the damage done by floods is to crops and livestock. The air of an agricultural flood control program is to slow down runoff and waterflow, thereby reducing damage to agriculture and preventing erosion as well.

The 45,000-square mile watershed of the Brazos annually produces more than 2,500,000 head of livestock, 750,000 bales of cotton and 6,000,000 bushels of wheat. About 2,000,000 acres of bottomlands along the Brazos and its tributaries are subject to overflow.

When the report on the Brazos watershed survey has been completed, it will be sent to Washington headquarters of SCS for checking and for review by other agencies. The report then goes to the Secretary of Agriculture. If the report receives the Secretary's approval, it is presented to Congress.

Reports on flood control surveys of two of the Brazos' main tributaries, The Little and Bosque Rivers, are in Washington now, Merrill said. The Little River survey was made in 1947, the Bosque survey in 1948.

Scholastic Census Closes April 1st

Enumeration of the 1949 scholastic census in Knox county will close on April 1, County Supt. Merick McGaughey said Wednesday.

Anyone knowing of children not included in the census should notify the county superintendent office, he said. No school district can get per capita aid from the state on children not included in the census.

The schools will appreciate your reporting any child's name between the ages of 6 and 18 who has not been listed in the census.

Mrs. Bertie Wilson returned home last Tuesday from Houston and Baytown, where she visited weeks.

Spiritual Life Crusade Opens At Local Church

The "Spiritual Life Crusade", the period of the spring revival meeting, opened at the First Methodist Church in Munday on Wednesday night of this week. The crusade will continue thru Sunday, April 3. Services are being held at 10 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. daily.

Dr. Frank L. Turner of Fort Worth, general evangelist in the Methodist church, is directing the work of personal evangelism and doing the preaching.

He is being assisted by Bob Watkins of Childress, a gospel singer of 25 years experience. Mr. Watkins does solo work, leads the congregational singing, conducts children's and young people's work. He will assist Rev. Barr and Dr. Turner in visitation evangelism.

Dr. Turner was for 15 years a pastor in the Central Texas Conference, where he held pastorates at Hamilton, Cisco, Balingier and Fort Worth. During this time he conducted many meetings with signal success.

In 1938, he was elected president of McMurry College in Abilene, which position he held almost four years. During his presidency, the school was entirely freed of indebtedness and more than $50,000 worth of improvements made to the plant and property.

In 1942, Dr. Turner resigned as McMurry's president to the field of evangelism, since that time has held more than 100 meetings in five states and nine conferences. These meetings, which have been in both large and small churches, have resulted in more than 1,600 conversions and additions, while other thousands have re-consecrated their lives to Christ at the altar of the church. Where Dr. Turner has labored there have been a great spiritual uplift.

Mr. Watkins will be remembered by a number of local people, having assisted in a revival meeting here several years ago.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend each and every service.

Farmers Urged To Make Preparations For Labor Needs

W. C. Albright, local office manager for the Texas Employment Commission, urged farmers today to take time off from chores to study and make preparations for their farm labor needs this year.

"No one is forced to use the rural free delivery service these days," Albright said. "The old method of making special weekly trips to the post office is still available. The same situation is true in keeping an adequate labor supply on the farm or ranch. The old hit and miss method which usually results in a lot of lost motion by taking time off to hunt and hire workers for farm and ranch can still be used."

"However," Albright added, "the better way is for farmers and ranchers to make their needs for workers known to the nearest Texas Employment Commission office far enough in advance of the actual need as possible and practical. When this anticipation of need is made known, whether it's for one farm hand or dairy hand or for fifty harvest hands, the Farm Placement Division of the TEC will endeavor to give prompt and efficient service—without cost to farmer or worker."

Albright said, "Early plans mean more workers, better workers, and workers on time."

The local office is located at 1613 Peace Street, Vernon, Texas.

Mrs. George Foster and Phyllis Ann, Mrs. Jim Proffitt, Jimmie and Jack and Clifford Straw spent the week end in Dallas visiting Mrs. Foster's parents, and Mrs. Proffitt's daughters and sister.

Mrs. M. L. Joyce and son, Joe, of Albany visited with Mrs. Joyce's mother, Mrs. J. B. Bowden, several days last week. Mr. Joyce spent the week end here, and his wife and son accompanied him home.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?
1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

TEXAS STEPS OUT

Growth of industry in the South since the prewar year of 1939 has increased the physical volume of manufactures in the region by 90 percent and the dollar value of this output by 277 percent, according to statistics which will be included in the forthcoming issue of the Blue Book of Southern Progress. This 90 percent increase in factory production in the South contrasts with other published figures showing that in growth for the nation as a whole has been slightly less than 50 percent.

But the Blue Book's figures emphasize that the wartime acceleration of manufacturing output in the South merely hastened a trend that has been evident for many years. Since 1929, the South has maintained an income growth 43 percent above that of the entire nation.

As impressive as is the growth of the South as a whole, the rise in principal sources of income in Texas has been even more outstanding. In that period, total income in Texas has risen 198 percent, against an advance of 150 percent for all South-Western states. The figures speak for themselves:

Since 1929, Texas income from agriculture has climbed from $538 million to $1,515 million; income from manufacturing from $299 million to $1,187 million; income from trades and services from $710 million to $2,406 million, and income from all sources from $2,722 million to $8,119 million.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

HIGH-PRICED "SECURITY"

It seems to be a political axiom that governmental efforts in the ever-expanding field of "social security" invariably cost far more than the estimates.

England, like many another country, has lately provided evidence of this. The labor government was recently forced to ask the House of Commons for a very large appropriation to make up deficits for the current fiscal year. It appeared that one major reason for this was the cost of the new universal free medical service plan. The deficit in that case alone, for a nine months' period, was nearly 53,000,000 pounds, which is well over $200,000,000 at the official rate of exchange.

The Minister of Health explained the inadequacy of original estimates by saying that the public had made much greater use of the service than was expected. This bears out the experience with socialized medicine in other nations. A large percentage of the people seem to work on the theory that they might as well get what is coming to them, whether there is any real need for it or not. So even the most honestly and carefully prepared estimates of cost prove sadly wrong—and, as a corollary, doctors find them selves so overburdened with patients and administrative duties that they are unable to give the proper kind of attention where it is actually needed.

In the United States, many experts are convinced that government estimates of the cost of our proposed compulsory health insurance bill are nowhere near high enough. What is happening elsewhere certainly bears out that opinion.

When the white man discovered this country the Indians were running it. There were no taxes, no debt, and the women did all the work!

There are only one-way streets leading to the collectivist society called "socialism"—the philosophy that rejects the dignities and the freedom of man, surrenders the individual to the will of the state.—P. L. Smith, president National Association of Electric Companies.

BOYCE HOUSE

For years, Brown had talked about the trip to Europe that he was going to take. He was a bachelor, had no close kin, had a fair amount of wealth and there was really no reason for not taking the trip. But he kept putting it off and time flittered by until he was 80.

Not long ago, I saw him and he said something about the trip to Europe; he was going to take it pretty soon, he said.

But he won't make the trip to Europe, ever; he is dead.

His heirs can take the trip that he was too busy to get around to making.

If you are planning to see the Grand Canyon or Yellowstone Park or Alaska or Mexico—go.

Or you may have the same fate that Brown had.

The first year that Col. Ray Leeman was head of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce—it was the first year of that organization's history, he sat down and wrote the annual report. All the progress—the new industries, the new oil fields, the new highways—just about everything constructive that had happened anywhere in South Texas during the 12 months went into the document. A copy was sent to a friend, who wrote back: "There was only one thing wrong with that report; you didn't claim credit for building the Great Wall of China." (Leeman enjoys telling the story.)

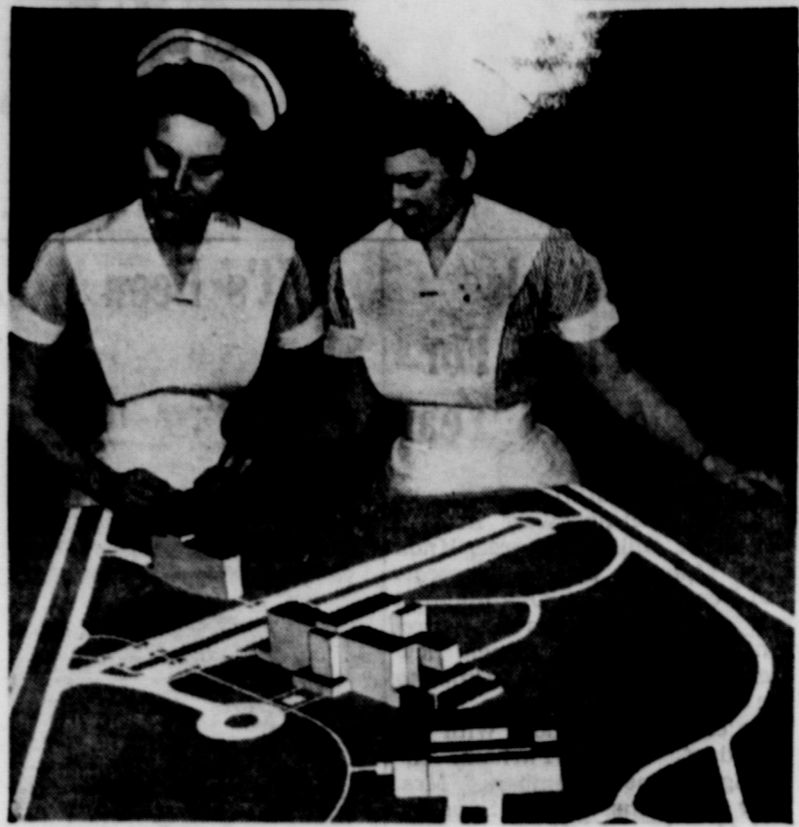

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—With the appearance of an unusual number of small pox cases during the past week, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer has issued a warning that this dangerous, disfiguring and often fatal disease can once again become a widespread health problem unless vaccination is used to protect the public against it.

Four cases of smallpox were reported from one county, and

Medical Plans

Architect's model for the proposed Southwestern Medical College branch of the University of Texas at Dallas is scanned by Margie Emerson and Evelyn Krause of the adjacent Parkland Hospital School of Nursing. The proposed Medical College Building is in the foreground. The $7,000,000 Dallas City-County Hospital, for which bonds have been voted, is in the center and Miss Krause is pointing to the million dollar nurses' home, an adjunct to the Dallas hospital improvement. Southwestern Medical Foundation is offering the State $1,300,000 in real estate and other property and endowment funds running into many millions as Dallas' bid for the location of the University of Texas Medical School Branch.

while that number may not seem great, it is nevertheless the same total as was reported for the whole State during the entire year of 1948.

"Smallpox vaccination, which affords complete immunity from this disease is a painless, inexpensive procedure, which should be used to protect every individual in the State" Dr. Cox said. "When we grow lax about our vaccination and allow susceptible persons to be exposed to smallpox, it follows that the disease will spread throughout the unvaccinated population, bringing serious illness and possible deaths."

Dr. Cox urged all parents to see that their children have been properly vaccinated, and if there is doubt about the immunity still being in effect, they should be given another vaccination. If they are immune, the vaccination will not "take", but if it does take, then the immunity was low and the vaccination was needed for their protection. "This same thing applies to adults" Dr. Cox said. "Check and be sure that your own immunity is established, as well as that of your children", he advised parents.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sweatt of Kress, Texas, spent the week end here, visiting with Mrs. Sweatt's mother, Mrs. U. S. Rogers, and with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Edgar visited with relatives in Wellington and Quanah over the week end.

Of 25 varieties tested recently . . . "54" was first in percentage of crop harvested in a four-month period.
- HIGH YIELD
In this same test, "54" was third among all varieties in yield per acre.
- BETTER STAPLE
"54" ran 15/16" to 1 inch throughout West Texas, assuring a better price.
- TESTED FOR DRY LAND
"54" has been proved successful for dry land farming as well as for irrigated Plains areas.

HERE'S TO SANDY McDONALD

A few months ago the majority of the citizens of this great country of ours appear to have given a strong vote of confidence to the eighteenth amendment; but there has come to our notice a letter addressed to contemporary publication, "The Office Cat," which so clearly sets forth the opposing view of one Willis B. Fuller, that we take the liberty of here reproducing it for your edification:

"To the Editor,
Dear Sir:
"You seem to take a good deal of delight in telling other people how to live, and perhaps that is your business; but it seems to me that you exceed your duty when you arrogate yourself the right to reform all of those who may happen to enjoy an occasional drink of "Scotch" on occasions.
"I have been presented a fine bottle of Scotch whiskey by a friend, and it is before me as I sit at my typewriter and indite this letter to you. It bears the label of Sandy MacDonal—a good, fair, well-bodied liquor which I am assured was brought before the war and has been in my friend's cellar ever since. What right has any form of law to make me a criminal if I partake of this gift as it was intended that I do by the giver?"

"I claim that any such law is an invasion of my personal liberty. I notice that you have referred often in your excellent column to the so-called Bill of Rights which secures to a man and woman certain inalienable rights to their personal liberty, which, as you say, are not inconsistent with the rights of others. How do you reconcile your statements?"

"I have just tasted this bottle of liquor, I will confide to you, and I cannot see where or how I am invading the rights of any other person on earth. I find it excellent. It warms my stomach; it inspires my thought, I cannot

A DANGEROUS TAX

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

THERE'S TALK in Washington of a $4 billion tax increase. If Congress permits this new siphoning of income and savings from the people into the federal treasury, the results can be dangerous for the whole nation. This is fact, regardless of whether or not the President and his administration would be cramped in spending a proposed $42 billion budget.

Of course, like our Senator McClellan told homefolks recently, Mr. Truman's program means that taxes can only go one way—up, up, up. Senator Fulbright, our other distinguished senator, tried to ease the misgivings of the economy minded by pointing out that saving federal money and reducing taxes is a question of "what you are willing to give up." That is a problem, all right. Too many of us have the attitude of the well known politician, who said that he had never voted for a tax bill nor against an appropriations bill.

Justify IF WE MANAGE to Spending fool ourselves into thinking the other fellow is going to have to pay for the handouts, we then show no enthusiasm about economy. Citizens and congressmen alike, too often see economy as a fine thing when it's not close to home, but work like mad for all the government "aid" they can get—for themselves.

One thing is wrong with the question our Senator asked, about what we would give up. It puts the burden of proof on the citizen who would economize! That proof belongs elsewhere. Every bureaucrat who demands funds should explain and justify the expenditure of every dollar!

Wherein lies the danger to the nation in heavier taxes at this time? It is proposed that the burden of a $4 billion tax increase be placed upon corporations and businesses. This might look like an easy way to shift the tax load onto somebody else. Actually, a tax that is shouldered by business is still borne by the people—because people buy the products of corporations that are owned by people.

Don't Kill AT PRESENT the nation's business corporations pay a 38 per cent tax on income. Earnings distributed to owners may get taxed up to 92 per cent. (Other taxes, also, are levied upon corporations.) Tremendous sums, therefore, are handed to Uncle Sam by industry. But right now, the nation's economists are agreed that America's industry must have huge amounts of additional capital for growth and for expansion. There's danger, if instead these billions must be poured into Washington.

Any industrial plant that is not able to spend money continually for expansion or for newer, better equipment is a corporation moving toward failure. An amount roughly equal to the President's proposed budget of $42 billion is the least we ought to put this year into our industrial plant. If America is to have the industrial strength it should have, if jobs are to remain plentiful, and if wages are to be high—then we had better have a care about penalizing our industry. America can lose out, by exacting too much "take" from business.

Unless industry is allowed to expand, modernize, and meet today's needs, there'll be nothing at all to tax one of these days. When taxes take what would be invested, and when incentive to invest is killed—the country will go into reverse. Another $4 billion in taxes on corporations would be most unwise.

feel. Mr. Editor, that I have wronged the community or added to the lawlessness of the general society in so doing. It makes me tired to be classed as a criminal for any such occasion, and I notify you that before long there will be a revolt against the sort of stuff that you are writing.

"Just to show my independence of such truck as you are writing, I have taken another drink of the afore-said most jubilant Sandy MacDonal, and I will say to you that it is about as smooth a drink as a criminal ever put into his system. This second drink, which I shall soon follow by a third, makes me more certain that those who feed their systems require stimulant should band together, organize and start a campaign to floor this Volstead business if it can be done.

"Now, Mr. Editor, I am no bum and you can't make me a bum. I like a little drink now and then, and I have taken a third or may be its is a fourth and I am more than ever convinced that any man who doesn't is a bid idiot. You say that this evasion of the law is producing statue of affairs in our Great and Glorious Country. You are wrong. This country is as good as it ever was and was a great deal better country and I will leave it to you if it wasn't, bedded when we had free rum.

"I want to say to you that this Scotch is all right. A lot of it wouldn't do us any harm. When we make ended stimulatory we need it. My granafyer was brougr up on rum. They had it in the house all the time. They danj it freely and even the misintew drk it when he ac eto our housa. It's a pretty kind of a country when a grandson is better than his gundfisher. I can drink this sort of Scutg all day and not be no worse citizen han I was befare. I could drink this whole quaset audineger quiber an etelash.

"But why I wneat of yiu is to remund yiu onr agaialan abd thqt you arw dead wrong ib comsfeng evert long why drinks as a boukm. We ain't criualals. "I will sat inloxshg thqt i wisg yiu a 2meRst Chrihywas "an %haooy Noo Yrare."

Local Girl To Be Princess At TSCW Redbud Festival

DENTON—One hundred of Texas State College for Women's most charming students will preside March 25-26 over activities of the 11th annual Redbud Festival celebrating the beauty of 3,000 blossoming redbud trees and marking the official arrival of spring to the campus.

Miss Charlotte Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams, is one of the princesses from whom a Redbud Queen to reign over the two-day festival and coronation ball will be selected. Identity of the queen will be secret until the night of the coronation, March 26.

Miss Williams' election by dormitory classmates was based on a criteria of friendliness, graciousness, integrity, poise, pleasing appearance, sense of humor, reverence toward God, and participation in campus activities.

The program of music and dance honoring the queen, the princesses, and visiting royalty from other Texas colleges, will be presented two nights to accommodate visitors to the campus. The festival will climax Self Development Week to be held March 22-27.

Bids Asked For New Building For McMurry

ABILENE—Advertising for bids for the $500,000 Radford Memorial Student Life Center, at McMurry college will be handled without delay, S. M. Jay, president of the McMurry college board of trustees announced at the annual meeting here.

"Upping her gift to approximately $600,000, of which about one-sixth will be for furnishings, Mrs. J. M. Radford, Abilene philanthropist and donor, has urged the start of construction as soon as possible," he pointed out.

According to Dr. Harold G. Cooke, president of the college, the structure will cover approximately 15,000 square feet, and will "leaving nothing out to keep it from being adequate as a central building of the campus, center of social, artistic and religious life of the college."

The original gift was announced two years ago, but rising costs and difficulty of securing materials prevented the construction of the building at that time, Dr. Cooke said.

The board concurred with Dr. Cooke's suggestion that a suitable ground-breaking ceremony for the new building take place on May 24, the date of the annual commencement, which outstanding citizens and dignitaries from throughout the state would be especially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jungman and children of Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pierce and children of O'Donnell, A. J. Jungman and Wallace Jungman of Knox City visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce last week end.

Uncle Sam Says

In February we observe the birthdays of two very famous Americans, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Practical men, they understood the value of thrift, the necessity for a well-ordered method of saving. They had no ready-made plan such as is now offered by the U. S. Savings Bonds program. They had no automatic Payroll Savings Plan or Bond-a-Month Plan which today provides a golden opportunity to save money before you spend it. And it's very simple. You specify the sum to be allotted each payday, where you work. That is the Payroll Savings Plan. If self-employed, use the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. And in 10 years, you reap the reward—$4 for every $3 you invest.

MOTHER SHIPMAN'S PROPHECY

Editor's Note: On several occasions recently, we have been requested to run the oft-reprinted prophecy of Mother Shipman. Complying with this request, we are running it this week:

A carriage without horse shall go,
Disaster fill the world with woe;
In London Primrose Hill shall be

Its center hold a bishop's see,
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly,

Quick as the twinkling of an eye,
And Water shall great wonders do—

How strange, and yet it shall come true,
Then upside down the world shall be,

And gold found at the foot of tree;
Thro's towering hills proud man shall ride,

Nor horse nor ass move by his side,
Beneath the waters men shall walk;

Shall ride, shall sleep, and even talk;
And in the air men shall be seen,

In white, in black, as well as green,
A great man then shall come and go,

For prophecy declares it so,
In water iron then shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.

Gold shall be found in stream or stone,
In land that is as yet unknown,
Water and fire shall wonders do,
And England shall admit a Jew.

The Jew that once was held in scorn,
Shall of a Christian then be born,
A house of glass shall come to pass

In England—but alas! alas!
A war will follow with the work
Where dwells the pagan and the Turk.

The States will lock in fierce strife,
And seek to take each other's life;

When North shall thus divide the South
The eagle builds in lion's mouth,
Then tax and blood and cruel war

Shall come to every humble door,
Three times shall sunny, lovely France
Be led to play a bloody dance;

Before the people shall be free
Three tyrant rulers shall she see!

Three rulers, in succession be,
Each sprung from different dynasty,
Then when the fiercest fight is done,

England and France shall be as one,
The British olive next shall twine
In marriage with the German vine.

Men walk beneath and over the streams—
Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams,
All England's sons shall plow the land,

Shall oft be seen with book in hand,
The poor shall now most wisdom know,
And water wind where corn did grow;

Great houses stand in far-flung vale,
And covered o'er with snow and hail,
And now a word in uncouth rhyme,

Of what shall be in future time;
For in those wondrous, far-off days
The women shall adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear,

And cut off their lovely locks of hair,
They'll ride astride with brazen brow,
As witches on a broomstick now,
Then love shall die and marriage cease,

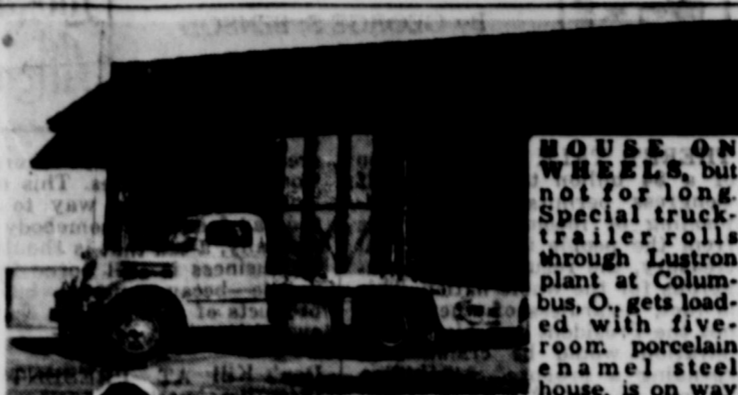

And nations wane as babes decrease,
The wives shall fondle cats and dogs,
And men live much the same as hogs.

In nineteen hundred twenty-six
Build houses light of straw and sticks,
For then shall mighty wars be planned,
And fire and sword shall sweep the land,

But those who live the century through,
In fear and trembling this will do,
Flee to the mountains and the dens,
To bog and forests and wild fens—

For storms shall rage and oceans roar
When Gabriel stands on the sea and shore;
And as he blows his wondrous horn,
Old Worlds shall die and new be born.

Save The Soil Bill Boom For Conservation

AUSTIN—During the next 12 months, 798,746,000 tons of topsoil will wash and blow off Texas.

It would cost a billion, 250 million dollars to ship this amount of soil from Temple to Galveston in 16,000 hundred-car Santa Fe freight trains.

Lykes Brothers Steamship Lines would charge 95 million dollars to move the soil from Galveston to Havana in 8,967 ships.

These figures were given today by Representative J. A. Luedemann of Brenham, sponsor of legislation in the House that appropriates 10 million dollars as a capital fund for soil conservation work in Texas.

The money will be allocated by a five-man state soil conservation board to 175 soil conservation districts, there to be administered by district supervisors.

Supporting the appropriation measure is the Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Managers.

R. M. Boswell of Kenedy, representing the association in Austin, says that every penny of the 10 million dollars will go in to actual work on the land, inasmuch as the state has already provided for payment of administrative costs.

Boswell emphasized that the money will be used as a revolving fund, to be kept intact as farmers pay for work done on their property.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Approves Of President Truman Sleeping Late, And Also Of J. A.'s Sleeping Late

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek seems to think President Truman is on his side in the matter he discusses, but he's mistaken, which isn't the first time.

Dear editor:
 I want you to know I support President Truman from the start, not just the day after he was elected like a lot of startled big papers I know and some small ones, and I still admire him, but I was sittin out here the other afternoon in the warm sunshine listenin to the drone of tractors and admirin the on-rush of a new farmin season, without no immediate plans for startin any operations of my own, as winter may not be over yet, at least I ain't over winter anyway, when a copy of Reporter-News some fisherman had wrapped worms in blew over. I picked it up and read where President Truman while he was vacationin in Florida slept late one mornin and the reporters said he "stayed in bed late like a city feller."

J. A.

I don't object to the President stayin in bed as late as he wants to in the mornings, glad to see he's gettin some sense on that topic, handed a marked copy of it to my wife, but I do object to the insinuation that sleepin late is strictly a city practice, that it's somehow out of place in the country.

There ain't nothin in my philosophy which prevents a country man from sleepin late if he wants to, and as far as I'm concerned there has been too much propoganda about farmers gettin up early.

Some people like to promote the idea that if farmers ain't up and stumblin to the barn in the dark six days a week, their whole economic system will fall to pieces and the bank might even call in their loan if it heard about it. And that it ought to be against the law for a farmer to turn his tractor off or unhitch a mule any earlier than an hour after sundown. That if he don't fall asleep toward the end of supper he ain't put in a honest day's work.

I'll admit there is some farmers who seem to follow this philosophy, but it ain't the one that prevails out here. If a farmer is gonna work all year and take a chance on his crop bein lost at the last minute to a hail storm or boll weevils or too much rain or a drought or the bottom fallin out of the price, he might as well sleep late in the mornin when he feels like it. Ain't nothin worse than goin busted sleepy.

I personally ain't prejudiced against late-sleepin, and I am happy to know a lot of people, preachers, teachers, business men, even editors, in equally open-minded on the subject.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

At his feeding times, yes. He sounds off on the dot when a meal's due. But the rest of your day, you're wise to depend on electric clocks.

With a baby in the house, it's surprising how much you depend on electric service—to prepare and refrigerate his food, heat water for his bath and laundry, wash his clothes, and so on.

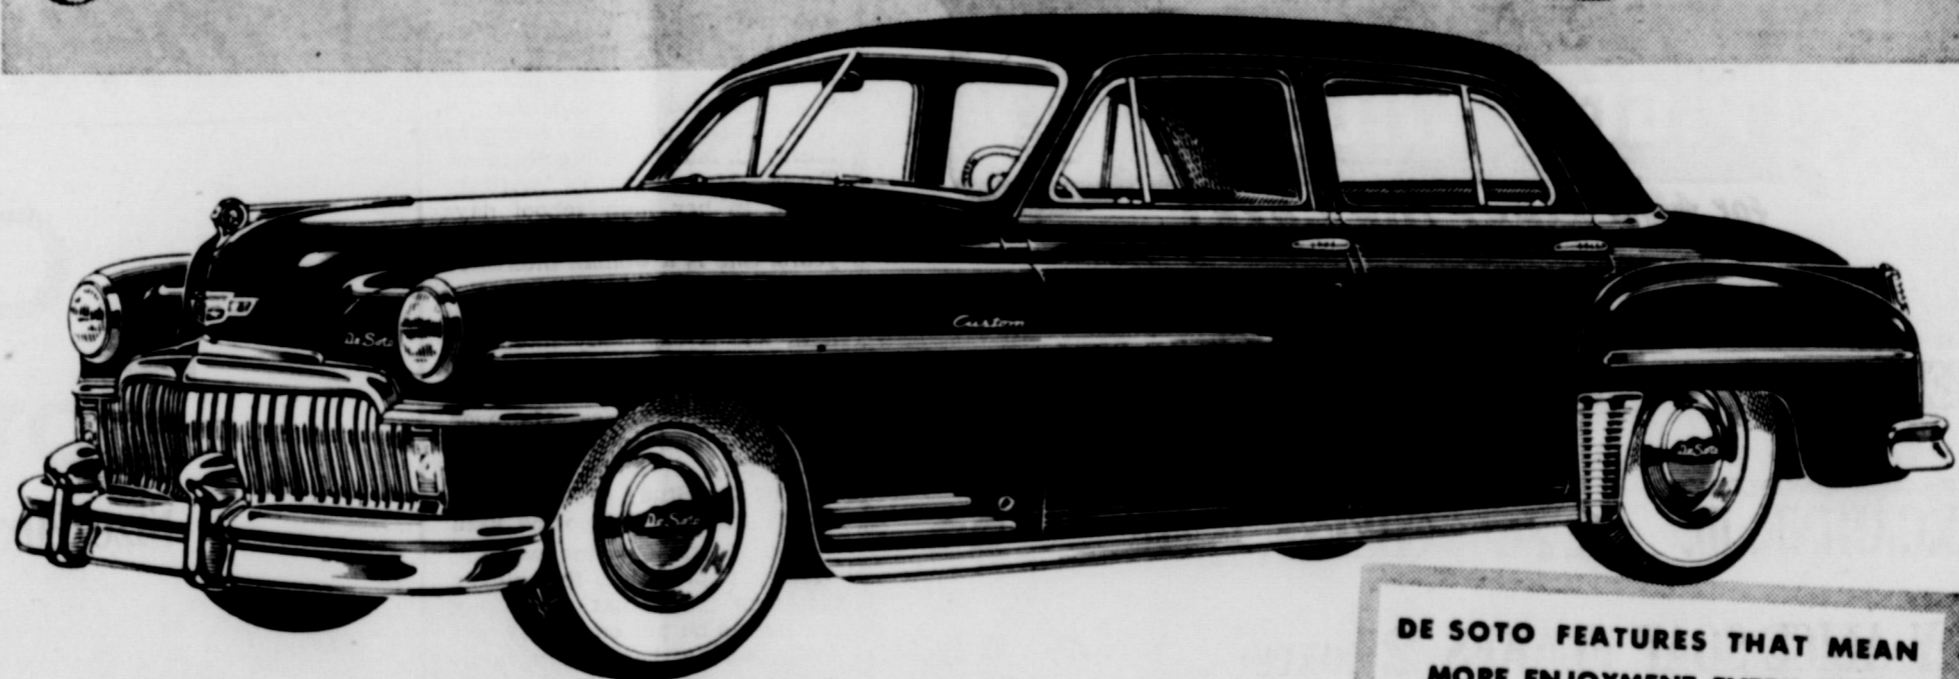

Of course, you depend on electricity to help take the work out of your housework, too. Always ready, it lends a willing hand with heavy chores, provides comfort, ease and even entertainment. Brilliant new DESOTO gets tremendous welcome from public!

Come in and see "The Car Designed With YOU in Mind"

It's BRAND-NEW... so new that there aren't many on the streets yet. But already it's a tremendous success. And it's easy enough to see why.

Everybody wants a smart, good-looking modern car. But most of us don't want to pay a penalty for being modern. We want more room... more comfort... more visibility... not less.

That's where De Soto scores. It's got those long, low lines. But you don't have to wriggle into it. It has big wide doors. Plenty of headroom, too. The roof won't scrape your hat, no matter where you sit. It's roomier than ever.

It's no use having bigger windows and windshields unless you can see out of them. In the new De Soto you can... because you're sitting on chair-high seats. Even a short person can see over the steering wheel. Even a six-footer won't hit his knees on it.

You don't have to enlarge your garage to hold the new De Soto. You can still change a tire yourself. And a dent in the fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job. Come in and see this wonderful car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it with any other at any price. Then decide.

Tune in "HIT THE JACKPOT" every Tuesday night, all CBS stations

Howard Payne Acappella Choir Coming Here Tuesday

On Tuesday, March 29, Graduate School Auditorium, the Howard Payne College Acappella Choir is being presented in formal concert in the grade school Auditorium at 11:00 A. M. o'clock. This concert is being sponsored by the High School Chorus.

Howard Payne College Acappella Choir is now regarded as one of the fine Choirs in Texas. It is composed of forty singers who rehearse two hours daily on five days each week. Tone production with this group is automatic and secure. Their entire program is perfectly memorized by each singer so that, in performance, each individual becomes a unit in a big instrument which is devoted to making the music dynamic and to portraying the emotions felt by the composer when the music was being written.

Every Choir is as good as, or no better than the Director. Howard Payne College is exceedingly fortunate in the caliber of Director selected for the Acappella Choir. He is Woodrow Wall, a native of North Carolina, and the son of that state's leading Preacher, Dr. Zeno Wall. Woodrow Wall holds the B. A. Degree from Wake Forest College of North Carolina. He spent two years in the School of Music of the SOUTHWESTERN SEMINARY, Fort Worth, having withdrawn from the latter institution to serve over-seas in the U. S. Navy during the war.

On his return from the service he entered the WESTMINSTER CHOIR COLLEGE of Princeton, N. J. from which he graduated in 1947. He was brought up as a boy in choir singing and directing. His experiences, his training, his personality, and his energies have made him one of the outstanding young choral men in America. His singers love him and therefore work long and tediously in acquiring the tonal intricacies which belong to the Wall concept of Choir singing.

Soil Conservation Cited As Of Concern To Every Citizen Of Texas

AUSTIN—The urgent need for soil conservation work is a concern not only of the farmer, but also of city and town dwellers.

Significance of the soil to urban people was explained in Austin this week by R. M. Boswell, of Kenedy, representing the Association of Texas Soil District Supervisors.

The association is supporting legislation to appropriate $10,000,000 as a permanent capital fund to round out Texas' soil conservation program.

"Money that is exchanged in purchasing, processing, transporting, and merchandising agricultural products finds its way into the pockets of every Texas citizen," Boswell declared. He continued:

"Economists have estimated that every dollar's worth of raw products from the farm and turns into seven dollars' worth of value in goods and services before it reaches the consumer.

"The original dollar is what the farmer or ranchman gets. People in cities and towns harvest the other six dollars."

Urban dwellers are now realizing that their economic welfare is interlocked with that of agriculture, Boswell said.

He noted that many bankers, labor organizations, and other individual groups are working for the advancement of soil conservation.

Urging passage of the $10,000,000 soil conservation bill, Boswell declared:

"If the legislature will provide this amount to the districts now, the soil saved and the resulting increases in agricultural products will be worth $100,000,000 in the next ten years."

In a statement to a legislative committee, Boswell said:

"The appropriation of $10,000,000 that you are asked to recommend to the legislature is to be used by the districts as capital.

"We assure you that if this amount of money is provided we will not be back before the next legislature asking for another appropriation.

"It is our plan and intention to use this fund for the purchase of material and equipment for use by the districts, to be sold and leased to cooperators at a price sufficient to replace such material and equipment by the time it is depleted."

The amount requested represents the minimum requirement to carry forward a complete and efficient soil conservation program, Boswell said.

He pointed out that $10,000,000, when allocated to the districts, would boil down to an average of only about $10,000 for each county precinct.

Uncle Sam Says

Buying U. S. Savings Bonds is the best way I know to stop worrying about money. And if you persist in worrying, after starting to pile up money the sure, automatic way, the only worry you'll have is how best to spend it when you start cashing in after ten years. At that time you will receive an extra crisp ten dollar bill for every thirty dollars you invest today. Now is your great opportunity.

Your government offers two great plans, both of them automatic and both profitable. These are the Payroll Savings Plan—where you work, or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. If you can sign up for a $37.50 bond each month they'll grow to $4,998 in 10 years.

Size Is Important In The Selection Of Home Freezer

Is a home freezer on your list of home equipment to be bought during 1949?

If so, size is one of the important items to consider in order to get the best returns for the money invested, according to specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A&M College, says that an average of five or six cubic feet for each person in the family is a rough guide as to the correct size.

"However, the right size depends a great deal on the way the freezer will be used," she points out. "A city or suburban family may need only one to two cubic feet per person, since they usually store only commercially frozen food and ice cream. A farm family, on the other hand, freezes much of its yearly supply of home-produced food and may need as much as 10 to 12 cubic feet per person." A cubic foot holds about 30 to 35 pounds of food.

It is better to over estimate on size, the specialists suggest, than to underestimate, for after a home freezer has been in use, families often find more uses for the unit than they might have planned at first. Larger units cost less per cubic foot than the smaller sizes.

"Electric consumption by a home freezer varies with its size, use and location in the house," the specialists conclude. "A 10-cubic foot freezer, under average conditions, uses about 90 kilowatt hours a month. This figure, multiplied by the electric rate, will give you a rough idea of the monthly cost."

FARM NEWS

from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

It's Cover Crop Inspection Time.

Now is a good time to look over cover crops and decide which ones or which combinations are the best, says Emmett P. Haman, Secretary of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee. Each of these crops, he points out, has some advantages.

Most legume cover crops that are turned under as green manure have increased the yield of cash crops which follow them more than the non-legumes, the chairman explains. In a five-year trial at the Tidewater Experiment Station in Virginia, the yields of corn following vetch was about 52 bushels to the acre . . . following Austrian winter clover 51 bushels . . . crimson clover 49 bushels . . . ryegrass 33 bushels . . . and on land that had no cover crop 38 bushels. These were all in a two year rotation of corn and cotton.

The Secretary points out, the value of a cover crop as green manure is only a part of the value of the crop. An important consideration is the ability of the cover crop to hold the soil from washing or blowing. In this, adapted grasses are the best of all crops. Cover crops also improve the tilth or working condition of the soil, he explains. In this adapted grasses also have no superior.

Many farmers like to have a cover crop which they can pasture. In that way they can get some immediate cash returns as well as the soil-holding and soil-building benefits. As pasture, a heavy seeding of a mixture of grasses and legumes is desirable. The grasses make a tight sod that is not easily cut up by the trampling of animals. Its young and tender growth is an excellent high-protein feed. "It is true," says the Chairman, "that most of these desirable features of grass cannot be measured in terms that are set down in figures, as the yields of corn were at the Virginia Experiment Station. But farmers appreciate the virtues of grass as well as those of legumes for winter cover. That is indicated by the fact that many farmers are now planting a mixture of legumes and grasses as cover crops and green

There's Plenty Of Water To Conserve

Water conservation will be a real job in the West this year. Reports to the U. S. Department of Agriculture say that the snow cover on the major watersheds is 200 percent of normal in the Columbia Basin; 150 percent of normal in the headwaters of the Missouri River; 175 percent of normal in the Great Basin and the Upper Colorado and normal on the Rio Grande, Arkansas, Salt, Gila, and in Southern California. Farmers and ranchers who have put in water-conserving structures on their lands will get full use of them this year. Some of these water-conserving measures are spreader dams, contour furrows and stock water dams as well as a stand of grass that has been obtained by natural or artificial reseeded. All of these will lead more of the snow water into the ground. Some of the water of course will be drawn back up by plants. A large part of it will join the great body of ground water supplies. Those supplies have been badly depleted in most parts of the West the last few years.

Most of the water from the melting snow, however, will run off the land and accumulate in streams. Many of those streams have been dammed up and large reservoirs formed above the dams. On February 1, according to the snow survey, there was enough water in the accumulated snow to more than fill those reservoirs.

Texas Sportsmen Set To Hold First Statewide Meet

AUSTIN—Texas hunters and fishermen hit the trail for Brownwood April 7 for the first Texas Sportsmen's Competition and selection of state champions in plug and fly casting, skeet and trap shooting, pistol and rifle marksmanship, and hunting dogs.

The competition, the first ever to be held on a state-wide basis in the United States, will last four days, April 7-10 and will be the "biggest camp meeting in Texas history," according to Conrad Fath of Austin, general chairman for the event which is sponsored by the Texas Wildlife Federation. Participants and observers will camp on the site of the competition.

Events are open to participants of all ages. In the plug and fly casting events, special divisions are set up for men, women and children with merchandise prizes, medals and trophies in each division. Fishermen's accuracy and fishermen's distance events on Saturday, April 9, will prove especially attractive to the ordinary, everyday fishermen, because anybody who has ever placed in any casting contest is barred from entering. Sunday's open casting events, however, are open to all who want to enter.

Merchandise prizes, medals and trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in all events with extra prizes for third and fourth place winners in some events.

The only qualification for participation in the competition is membership in a club affiliated with the Texas Wildlife Federation, an organization of 250 hunting, fishing and other sports clubs. Clubs not at present affiliated with the Federation may do so by contacting Conrad Fath at 506 Lamar Blvd., Austin.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19—The House this week passed a rent control bill. The primary feature of the House Bill was the Williams local option amendment. This amendment would give any town, county, or state the right to decontrol itself should it desire to do so. The Senate will pass a different rent control bill. Then a conference between the House and Senate will probably write still a different bill. No one knows just what sort of a bill will finally be enacted. I voted against any extension of rent control. While controls may be needed in certain areas, to continue rent control of rental property. Again, many of us feel that the housing situation would be helped, not hurt, by the removal of rent control. Furthermore, about 85 percent of rental property is owned, not by big firms or rich people, but by widows, old people, and folks who depend on meager incomes for livelihood. I have many pitiful letters from people of this class. One lady writes: "I worked in a factory most of my life to pay for my home. I am seventy-six years old and unable to work now. The only income I have now is $21.00 a month from Social Security and $5.00 a week from a two-room furnished apartment with all bills paid. The OPA will not allow me to increase my rent." A man writes: "My wife and I are both sixty-four years old. We are heavily in debt on our property. If rent control is continued we will probably lose what we have invested. Because of my age I cannot get employment and my wife is sick most of the time." From another lady I get this letter: "We have just spent $674.00 to repair our seven-room cottage duplex, installing a new range for $189.00, a total of $863.00. We are allowed only an increase of $3.50 a month in rent. This is all we have to live on. Mr. — is eighty-three years old and I will be eighty in May. I have recently fallen and broken my hip. Our son will have to pay these bills after we are gone." I have dozens of such letters.

PENDING BILLS

Among bills soon to come before the House are a bill extending the coverage of the Wage and Hour Act and raising the minimum wage to 75 cents; a rural telephone bill to provide rural telephones on a basis similar to REA; and the oleomargarine bill about which much has been written.

I would vote for some increase in the minimum wage although the pending bill is subject to several serious objections. I expect to support the rural telephone bill with provisions to eliminate duplicating competition. Rural telephone service is worse now than it was thirty years ago. An oleomargarine bill should be passed; the tax on oleomargarine is discriminatory and unreasonable. It is wrong to tax any food simply because it competes with some other food. The dairy industry, segments of which

CANDY "PARACHUTES" FOR AIRLIFT

Responding to an appeal of Lieut. Col. Emil Beaudry of the Atlantic Division, Military Air Transport Service, for candy bars to distribute to the hungry little children along the route of the Berlin Air-Lift, were workers in the Columbus, O., plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Company.

Under the leadership of Theresa George, shown above with handkerchiefs to be used in parachuting the candy from the planes, fellow employees have already sent three cartons of candy bars along with 32 men's handkerchiefs to Col. Beaudry to help carry on this mission of feeding the hungry children and building good will in the generation that must rebuild and restore the German nation.

have generally opposed the oleomargarine bill, gets along pretty well in the Washington area. The Gossett family while here has averaged paying the Chevy Chase Dairy around $35.00 per month.

THE PARTY PLATFORM

In this morning's mail I received a letter from Congressman Anthony Cavalcante of Pennsylvania in which he writes: "Although I am a first term member of the House I wish to call your attention to a matter that I believe should be of urgent concern to all Democrats. First, as Americans we owe a duty to the people to enact into law the Democratic Platform adopted at Philadelphia and which was endorsed by the people at the polls on November 2, 1948." No southern Democrat will take Mr. Cavalcante's appeal seriously. We feel that we have a right to make up our own minds as to what is best for the party and for the country. Texans had very little to do with the writing of the Democratic Platform at Philadelphia last fall. We gave Mr. Truman his biggest majority in the national election, but we certainly did not endorse everything in the Democratic Platform. Like most southern Democrats, I support administration measures when I possibly can in good conscience. However, he serves his party best who serves his country most.

As a good Democrat, I do not feel myself bound to vote for something simply because some Democrat leader demand it. Mr. Cavalcante is overreaching himself just a little.

Mr. and Mrs. Oates Golden were week end visitors in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Grove spent last week end in Brownwood visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Ratliff were visitors in Fort Worth last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Longbotham and daughters, Judy and Mary Elizabeth, of Guymon, Oklahoma, spent the week end here with Mrs. Longbotham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dignus, and with other relatives.

New Name Is Less Jaw-Breaker Type
Farmers now will have an easier time when they buy the state-recommended cotton poison formerly known by the jaw-breaking title of chlorinated camphene containing 67 to 69 percent chlorine.

In response to the need for a simple and generally acceptable name for this effective insect pest killer, Hercules Powder Co. which makes it, has relinquished the trade-mark name Toxaphene. As a result, the word "Toxaphene" has been accepted as a coined common name for the insecticidal chemical known as chlorinated camphene, having a chlorine content of 67 to 69 percent.

Late February and early March is the best time of the year to cut and store pecan budwood for pecan budding anytime during the growing season.

To avoid the spring slump in Vitamin C, serve the family more citrus fruits or canned citrus products, more canned tomato juice, cabbage, vegetables and fruits.

Kracker Krumbs—
from our little family altar.

But our parents thought it took more than food and prayer to raise a family. They applied the switch, but never the razor strop. Pop's razor strop was salvaged from his barbering days, and it was too good to whip a young'un with.

Pop's whippings were most always preceded by a lecture. Mom could take the tiniest little stick and put more fire and pepper into it than any woman we ever knew.

When Pop promised you a lickin' you got it. It might come some two or three days later, but if you ever fulfilled the terms of his promise, you got it.

He promised us a licking one time if we played with neighbor children after school instead of coming home. We did, and he did!

We were upstairs, playing "My Darling Nellie Gray" like all get-out on the French harp. He called us downstairs to meet our justice. We tried to talk him out of it; but, no, he'd made a promise and he'd keep his promise. He just plumb ruined us as a musician. We never did go in for blowing the harp after that.

Pop's lickings were more pre-meditated; Mom's were more impulsive, but when the "impulse" struck her, you caught it good and proper.

But they've been the best Pop and Mom in the whole wide world, and we're proud to have been "raised" by them.

And we close with a thought that Pop left with us as we left home for college. "Run with the right crowds, and do the right things".

There's a whole sermon in them words!
