The new Buick is the new Style

Men and women on every street-- in every city and town-- are pronouncing the new BUICK with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day--

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized--when imitation was destroying individuality--these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode--

A mode of body-symmetry--of size and magnificence--of soft contours instead of straight lines--of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world! And as the weeks have passed--and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public--enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken! Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand.

"Yes, the first," Abner Drane said so weakly that they could hardly hear him. "The first was a house-keeper she had, named Caroline Barstoll. She was a sickly old thing and believed in ghosts--she thought she was a medium and had second sight but she was keen. She was keen the way fortune tellers are when they study a person and then tell them what their past has been and what their characters are. She told Ella right out to her face she was a woman. That night Mrs. Barstoll had a fit and died."

"Ella had poisoned her?"

"Yes, and that was the first. That was what started Ella getting the sick ones from the hospital--Dr. Hessionington made no trouble over the Barstoll woman's death, he said she had been in danger of death at all times."

"Abner Dart was silent a moment. "There were nine others," he said hurriedly. "Nine others. When Ella suspected that one of them believed she was a woman that one died."

"And who is Amy, Abner?"

"Before Abner Dart could answer Simon Judd's question, the address was broken by one of the lead women within the hall and Brennan leaped for the door and ran outside. For a brief period, the same continued, then it was silenced and Brennan came out again.

"That Maggie took was cutting loose," he said. "She has been drinking more but I took the stuff from her and she promised to be a good girl. Did you say who Amy was, Dart?"

"She's a Drane, Abner Dart replied. "Along during these last years Ella complained a good deal because she had never had a child. It bothered her mind. She talked to me about it. She worried because we were both old and there would be no one to leave the money to, and I told her to adopt a child. She used to go away when she was sick, she went to Hot Springs when she had appendicitis; she couldn't let the doctors here handle her illness, of course, so she went away. She went to California on one of the trips when she thought she was going to there and tried to find him--his name was Silas, but he had died and his wife had died and they had left this baby. So Ella adopted it. That is Amy. That is all we ever knew about Amy. She was a great comfort to Ella, these years, especially these last months."

"Well, black my cats, I'm glad to know there was some good in the woman, anyway," Simon Judd exclaimed. "Did she make that will she was talking about, leaving the money to Amy?"

"Yes, and she was going to give Amy a fine sum when she married. We liked Bob Carter. It was like ending something clean after a lot of violence to know we would leave these two when we went," Abner Dart said. "It did not pay, Sims. She made a mistake, Ella did. She wasn't happy and I wasn't happy. John Drane's money did her no good and it did me no good. I'd have enjoyed life more just being a second-rate undertaker out there in Riverbank, burying some old friend now and then, and going along nice and easy."

Amy was weeping now, crying softly, and Bob Carter, sitting on the arm of her chair, was trying to comfort her. "Don't cry, come to the door. He seemed to think Brennan was in charge of the house, for he opened the door."

"If you please, Mr. Brennan," he said, "George Firmendick has just gone out and left a note and Maggie is starting to cry in a slightly bad."

"Where is she?" Brennan asked.

"She's up in the room over the garage," Norbert said. "an' she won't let nobody come up. She's got hold of a knife and I reckon she's some plum crazy."

"I'll be out there in a minute," Brennan said. "Have the two officers go out with you, will you? Hurry now! I just want to ask Mr. Dart a couple of questions."

Norbert hurried away, coughing as he went, and Abner Dart made a gesture of despair with his hand and his face became sadder than ever.

"Last night," Brennan said, "when Carter here went through the library, Dart you said to Ella--to John Drane, if you please--something like 'Don't do it! I warn you not to!' or 'I'm against it; remember what I say!' Something of that sort. What did you mean by that? Were you warning your wife not to let Amy marry Carter?"

"No," Abner Dart said hollowly. "Oh, not that; never that! We both wanted that."

"Then it wasn't over that you and Ella Drane quarreled last night after by love and affection for the said George Firmendick, now deceased." "Write all that down before you

Another Milestone on the highway of Progress

Ever mindful of the needs of West Texas in its phenomenal growth, and thinking several years ahead of its rapid development, the West Texas Utilities Company has set another milestone on this Highway of Progress.

Where, six months ago was the bald prairie five miles north of Quanah, now stands the Lake Pauline Generating Station, capable of generating 20,000 horsepower of electricity. When this newest electrical giant of the West Texas Utilities Company was put into operation recently it began doing work in homes, industrial plants, oil fields and on farms and ranches of West Texas which is equivalent to the combined efforts of more than 700,000 men.

This station increased the available generating capacity of the company to approximately 70,000 horsepower, thereby not only insuring this territory unlimited power supply, but providing enough reserve to serve at least half a hundred more communities.

The West Texas Utilities Company is constantly working and planning to meet the future demands of West Texas.

A PROFIT-SHARING METHOD OF ADVERTISING

THIS sale has been developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you two full size packages of high quality merchandise for the price of one, plus one cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, because we know the goods will please you.

SHOP TALK

Levellville Enterprise: It costs the Enterprise money every time it prints a line of type about anything. That is why, in fairness to ourselves, we can not print everything that the public offers. That is why we have to charge for obituaries, personal cards and such things.

It takes the general public a long time to understand that the publisher has to pay for every line of type put into his paper, and that what he pays the printer is only a part of it. Maybe the public does not understand, however, and simply doesn't care a ding how much it costs the publisher to publish. The main idea of some is to get something into the paper, and the immediate aim of some others is to keep something out. The editor is bedeviled by doubts as to what should be printed and what should not be. It takes experience to make him competent to pass upon the relative merits of the various particles of copy available. Formal obituaries, personal cards of thanks, and similar items serving an individual or a family group, come properly under the classification of pay matter. The publisher can not support a costly establishment to afford free facilities for even his closest friends, in case he has any friends. The first newspapers in this country were side lines to job printing offices. They were conducted loosely, experimentally, indifferently. But as time wore on, as time will, it was discovered that even a single-sheet newspaper costs money to print and circulate. Eventually it came to be so, and is so at this moment, that the expense of producing a daily or weekly newspaper is much larger than a job printing office can afford, so the paper has to be run on its own power or not run at all. Few daily papers now conduct job printing offices. They are distinctive business, each capable of bankrupting the other. Just as the job office must charge for printing even the smallest circular, so must the newspaper office charge for publishing even the smallest advertisement. It takes a long time to get back in profits the cost of a single typesetting machine. They fetch $5,000 now. One of them represents a small fortune, ten of them a big fortune, forty of them an awful lot of money.—State Press in Dallas News.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

Corns

No—not any of the distillates, so plentiful nowadays. I mean the other thing—those pests, often ag-—that find lodgment on the tops of, and between the toes.

In these highly-specialized days, most everybody has a chiropodist. The fellow who don't know just what a chiropodist is—and hasn't one—be the one I'm talking to; the one who is willing to do most anything for a bit of relief.

Of course you know, those corns are all your own fault; they couldn't help appearing; you invited them yourself. Corns never intrude themselves into polite society—they are always invited guests, that stay longer than they are wanted once their character becomes known.

If your feet need soaking, soak them. But it doesn't help corns—much. As soon as you put that leathen shoe on again, the corns begin to speak up. Pull that shoe off again; if you throw it away so much the better. Take a small "swisp" of long-fiber absorbent cotton and wrap it snugly around the toe—as you'll spread it will stay, when you draw on your stockings; then, saturate the cotton above the corn with any sort of good, refined, lubricating oil. Olive oil is excellent; Sperm oil, is very good; if you haven't either, show your wife's can of sewing-machine oil! I've used it myself—and cured my corns too. Dress the toe in this manner, morning and night, and wear low heels. Your stockings will get off on them, of course; but what of it?

If you are extra careful, shave the callous thin before applying the dressing. If you'd rather have corns, keep the feet hot and narrow toes.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "kisses" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most of ten sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied home telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home, where many live someone is sure to need it quickly. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Munday Study Club Members Enjoy Halloween Party at Craig Home

Members of the Munday Study Club were delightfully entertained last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Craig with Mesdames Craig, Fred Broach, John Edd Jones and E. M. Ammons as hostesses.

Especially attractive were the Halloween decorations artistically arranged about the rooms together with cut flowers. "Eighty-four" proved unusually interesting to the guests if one may judge from the signs of merriment.

A delightful refreshment course of Devil's-food cake, individual ice cream pumpkins and candy with black cats dressed in frills as favors was served to the following club members and guests:

Boomerang Class Met at Brock Home

The Boomerang Class of the Baptist Sunday school spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Osella Brock last Tuesday. As Halloween was so near at hand the "spooks" were there. Those who do not believe that the stories were "spooky", just ask Maggie Keel. After many games were enjoyed refreshments of delicious sandwiches, cake and tea were served to about thirty members and guests. —Reporter.

HINTS TO THE HOME

Against the wall directly above the sideboard all your treasures of silver and glass must show themselves. If it is an uninteresting background, the beauty of each piece is dimmed. So too much thought cannot be given to the decoration of the over-sideboard space.

A fine mirror or color print reproduction of some Old Master painting is always appropriate for this use; a wall hanging of brocade in deep, rich colors makes a delightful background for old silver or porcelain.

But whatever you use, this space deserves very special consideration, for the sideboard is naturally the dominant decorative spot in the room.

M. G. Catter of Wichita Falls was in the city on Thursday of last week shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Catter was formerly a citizen of Munday and while here called at this office and paid for this paper for another year, stating that he had been a reader of The Times for fifteen years and he gave us strictly to understand that he did not want us to stop his paper at expiration, but to notify him and he would make remittance promptly, and it is needless for us to say that we appreciate loyal friends like this.

Law Cody and Aileen Pringle sat around and watched Hugh Trevor and Ernie Owens doing their stuff for the fight scenes of "Beau Broadway," which will be shown at the Roxy Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Director St. Clair insisted on "retakes," and so the battlers had to enact a knockout several times. After the eighth knockout Cody got up and started out.

"I'm going home," he said. "I think this fight is framed!"

OUR NEW NAME
 Our good readers will observe a brand-new title decorating the top of this section this week. The TOM-TOM is the official publication of the Munday High School from now on and here is how it happened:

Our original interpretation of the word Mogul was as a giant steam engine, thence the significance and use of the title "Roundhouse." Last year, however, we investigated the matter and found that this same name was applied to an ancient Mogul tribe that lived and wrought in central and eastern Asia about the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Since this investigation we commonly accept the later name as being more appropriate for our athletic teams. This being true the title Roundhouse is entirely out of place and has no significance as a name for our section of the paper. The problem of renaming the paper was put up to the various classes by Mr. Rhodes. Each high school class submitted a name and the faculty then chose the winner from this group. This winner, the TOM-TOM, was submitted by the Juniors. As you know, the Tom-Tom was a drum-like instrument made use of by ancient tribes to call their warriors together or to scatter news. Then certainly it can be very appropriately accepted as this, our method of scattering modern Mogul news items.

STOP COMPLAINING
 For goodness sake stop griping! Who wants to hear an habitual griper airing his complaints all the time?

It is a known and undisputed fact that everybody cannot be satisfied all the time but do try to make the best of your fate for you probably are the one who has made it what it is. So do not take your spite out on the rest of us if your path is not all sunshine.

This does not include the boy or girl who has real troubles and needs sympathy, for we are all willing to help bear burdens of our fellowmen. Remember that this does not include those in our midst that wear a perpetual frown and talk in a whine most of the time. Oh, yes, there is one or two in each class in our high school.

Please do not forget that you were supposed to have read your catalogue before you came out here and, if you do not like the rules, the regulations, courses, and other things here, then remember—Caesar had his Brutus—Charles the First his Cromwell and you may profit by their example.

Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel "toured" to Abilene Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday morning with a few drops of mud spattered on the car. Arline Kendall and Hazel Dean Eiland made the "tour" with them.

Oh! Boy, this rain surely looks good, and it makes one feel even better than it looks. Today, Monday, it is raining and quite a number of the student body is wearing rain-coats or slickers.

SENIORS
 Well, folks, we sure do like this rain. Although it is disagreeable outside, it sure makes one feel good to hover (not Hoover) near a fire and read, study, talk, and do anything for a rainy day.

Congratulations Juniors! At last you have come into the "limelight" of this school. We have been expecting you long before this, to put forth something, but you just wouldn't retaliate. We were noticed when we were "Fish"—because we were so green! While Sophomores, we played and studied a little and then came our Junior year. Then folks sat up and took notice for in our Junior year we had fun and we made a name for ourselves. The Junior year is here for you so pour it on 'em! Juniors and we'll try to stay in "class" with you.

JUNIOR FLASHES
 Say! We like this "keen" weather. It is a little disagreeable on the outside, but inside it is ideal to sit around the fire in the study hall and eat peanuts. If you happen to be the lucky one. However, as likeable as this weather is it detracts our mind from study, and you will probably notice the contrast between we Juniors and the dignified Seniors—but we still love to play, consequently this weather makes us have the "Epi-zoody" and if our section of the paper is a little limited please excuse.

Seems as if some of the upper classes are getting jealous of our publicity for re-naming the school paper, "Tom-Tom," or at least they are trying to rub it in as being No. 1 or as to the first time we have ever rained any notice or praise. Now I'm sure they have never considered the fact that they are not too "high powered," cause they couldn't mean to be sarcastic.

Two of our beloved classmates got real industrious during the holidays and built a barn. You never know what to expect from the Junior boys, 'cause they are the "real stuff." Chan and Earl will probably want to show off some more of their wonderful talent soon.

We were informed Monday morning that the Juniors were ahead in the Sunday School Attendance Campaign in high school.

For various and sundry reasons the Juniors are signing off until next time.

 We are awake while others sleep.

Gone but not forgotten. These past holidays were enjoyed by most every student in high school. It is a good thing for us that the teachers have institute on school days. The students of M. H. S. had to pay 50¢ to see the ball game and then after this price we lost the game, and some of our most honored students had an accident, but escaped with their lives to everyone's relief. Perhaps some people can not understand why we enjoyed the holidays with so much hard luck, but "do not cry over spilt milk."

We, the sophomore class of nineteen hundred twenty eight and twenty nine, hereby challenge the Freshmen class of said year to a debate in the near future on such subjects as may be suggested.

Signed: President Gilbert Myers.

Elkin Warren is back from a long period of absence. Perhaps he will be glad to know that we missed him and we hope that he will not be away again.

Paul seems to think that he did not get enough holidays, so he is taking Monday off, too.

Our long-wished-for-rain is here at last and the girls have the chance to wear their new slickers.

Our report cards gave the Sophomore class the blues, when handed out Wednesday. They feel that all the hard work was for nothing.

Hazel Deane went to Abilene to hear the debates, but Mr. Kunkel got the dates mixed and the debates will not be held until Monday night.

Just one more football game until the most interesting game of the season is to be played. Knox City and Munday will have one royal battle. The Sophomores are with the Moguls stronger than they have ever been. Play hard, boys!

Mary Alice is back in school. Perhaps she is here to stay this year.

Miss Paxton was away from school for two days last week on account of illness. We are glad to see her with us again.

Louise Aycock, Marie Collins and Bessie Womble pulled buses for the first time in their lives last week. Ask them how they like it.

FRESHMEN

Did you know that?

Twenty Fish attended Sunday School.

Boy! We're gonna try and break the rule.

Munday High (and others) had had luck during the holidays; First, Munday was defeated in the ball game Thursday;

The students of the Munday school had to pay 50¢ to see the football game at Haskell, then we were defeated. "Of all the luck!"

Mr. Bass offered back to each student who paid 50¢, twenty-five cents. (25¢). I think they are going to put it in the library fund. (Hope they do.) But—

"You just wait and see."

Also—Miss Paxton was absent all last week. The Latin classes did not meet. We had a substitute teacher for English. ("Of all the luck!")

And, Oh! Boy! We're gonna have a Halloween Party on Halloween night.

Oh! Won't there be fun? And spooks and witches too? We haven't arranged much.

About it yet, but everyone will hear of it, you bet!

JOKES

Ethel—"Mamie, do you know why you have so much electricity in your hair?"
 Mamie—"No, why?"

Ethel—"Because it is connected with a dry cell."

Frances—"I can trace my ancestors back farther than the conqueror." Margaret—"I suppose you will be telling me next that your forefathers were in the Ark with Noah."

Frances—"Certainly not, my people had a boat of their own."

Jack—"When does a hen lay the most?"

Garland—"When she's dead, of course."

'N WE LAUGHED

Chan—"You can't talk like that to me, big boy, I'm a he-man."

Earl—"Yeah, I know what kind of a he-man you are—one of these hee-hee men."

Voice over the phone—"Is this the lady who washes?"
 Vela—"Indeed, I should say not!"
 Same voice—"Why, you dirty thing!"

Rex—"What did your girl give you for your birthday?"
 J. C.—"A carving set."
 Rex—"A carving set?"
 J. C.—"Yes, a safety razor."

Roy purchased a little radio set. A few days later, his friends asked him how he liked the set.

"Well, it's alright to listen to but those bulbs are not so good to read by," was the solemn reply.

She—"Why don't you play football?"
 He—"I would but I'm left handed."

"CHAN'S CHATTER"

Some of the Moguls came out of the game at Haskell last Thursday pretty badly battered but none were seriously injured. The Indians seemed to have a desire to get a little rough during the latter stages of the game and being ever accommodating the Moguls were willing to mix it with them.

We wonder though if it is the best sportsmanship to start the rough stuff after you have a team already beaten.

Aside from the loss of the game the Moguls suffered another near tragedy last Thursday. The car in which Mr. Palmer, John R. Gilbert, and Albert Aycock were returning from the game, was overturned and destroyed by fire between Weimert and Munday. Fortunately none of them were seriously hurt and all of them were able to crawl from the wreckage before the fire was under way.

Gilbert received a nasty gash on one arm and parts of two football uniforms were destroyed but we are all happy to remember that it could have been a lot worse. Mr. Palmer reports that the accident was absolutely unavoidable and would have happened to any one else under similar circumstances.

The Moguls will journey to Rule for a return game with the Bearcats Friday. Although we expect to win the game we contemplate more trouble than we had on Scruggs field two weeks ago. With another match game and two weeks of practice behind them Rule will be much harder to stop.

The big battle that we are all turning our attention to now is the game with Knox City Nov. 12. Big preparations are under way to make the occasion a gala sport day for Munday. The Pep Squad will shine in all its glory, the Chamber of Commerce band will be there to furnish music, and those valiant Moguls will play football as it has never been played here before. Remember it is a holiday attraction and you must plan NOW to see the game.

MOGULS LOSE HARD FIGHT TO HASKELL, 26-0

The Moguls lost a hard fought battle to the heavier Haskell Indians last Thursday on the Indians' home field. However, the Moguls need no apologies made for them. They fought through every minute of the play and during the first quarter outplayed the Indians all over the field. They made one first down after another and played with the ball deep in Haskell territory. At one time they had the ball on the eight yard line with first down and goal to go. At this point, however, the Indian line braced and held us for downs. Had the ball been run out to the proper position the Moguls could have easily kicked a field goal but our field general was playing for bigger stakes and a touchdown would have looked much sweeter.

Aycock was knocked out on the first play of the second half and the loss of his services both as a punter and offensive man told heavily on the Mogul machine.

Although the Indians elected to play almost a purely defensive game during the last half, they were held for downs time and again when they were within shadow of the Mogul goal line.

And last, but not least—they didn't beat us forty points as Mr. Bass had prophesied.

Thursday and Friday of last week were holidays owing to the teachers going to institute and all are glad to be back after four days, feeling like it was four years.

Wednesday a class meeting was held and the motto, which was, "Use good English, speak good English, write good English," was chosen. Social committee appointed included Weldon Warren, Mildred Burnett, Geraldine Burnison. Program committee, Francis Thompson, Dorothy Brown, Lucille Hunter.

Pity the poor reporter. If it's not one thing it's another. Right now I hear a buzzing behind me which so distracts me I cannot write and looking around find Mildred Burnett and E. W. McGoethlin gabbling intently and with much racket.

Wednesday we received our report cards and oh me and oh my, the schoolhouse sounded like a haunted inferno with the groans and moans of those with low grades. In time we hope to reach high school.

A movement is on to call Mr. Palmer "Uncle Wiggly" because of his ears. The authors of this move are being kept secret because Mr. Palmer has a new paddle.

Modernistic Modes for Sports
However wild one's fancy for the modernistic touch, it may be indulged in sports wear. Diagonal splashes of color extending from right to left across the blouse; triangles of striped material set at opposing angles; zigzag weaves and half-and-half effects—all these oddities are among the newest motifs in the sports group.

Off-the-Face Hats Are New
Late arrivals in French felt show a charming absence of brim across the front, achieved by folding the brim back against the crown and allowing it to form its own broad, drooping line at the sides. Often the crown is split and lapped over the turned-back brim as a tailored fastening which takes the place of a buckle or pin.

Lower Heels for Shoes
Come down from the high peaked heels to those of comfortable walking height if you would have modish footwear for the present season. For dressy occasions tall French and Spanish heels are still acceptable, but newest models show a noticeable lowering of heels for afternoon and street wear.

Sunday School Lesson

World's Temperance Sunday
Romans 13:1-10, 13, 14
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

This quarterly Temperance Lesson comes on World's Temperance Sunday, just before the national election. Scientific temperance teaching is a part of the curriculum in the public schools in every state in the Union. By all these means the growing youth of every generation are taught that alcohol is a poison and should not be used for beverage purposes. Such education is a world matter, for right is absolute and not relative. The nations of the earth are looking to the U. S. A. to note the outcome of the greatest experiment in opposing the organized liquor traffic that has ever been tried in the world.

A quarter of a century ago temperance was a decidedly unpopular subject. Today it is about the biggest item of interest in the country.

This letter to the Romans was written from Corinth, a most licentious city where liquor was used most freely to help the shoddy in localities. Corinth was the play ground for the Romans and there they sought to subvert the worst in the imperial city. With all that in mind Paul calls attention to the high place that wine should have in the estimation of the people. Their life was always to be consecrated for all power, in the last analysis, was derived from God. Yet, though consecrated, were not to be thought of as extremists but as their just obligation in helping to provide for their own benefit as well as for the common good. If only they could purpose to keep the law they would have no ill will toward either the law or those who were enforcing it. They could think back to what Jesus had said: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

The law of God was held very definitely before them. Anything that tended to hurt their neighbor must be avoided. This is finely stated for every age in the injunction: "Owe no man anything, save to love one another." The very opposite of this is the result when any one makes use of alcohol as a beverage. Alcohol is inherently a poison and its reaction is uniform. Personal liberty ceases as an argument when our neighbor is hurt by what we give or sell him. Society is injured when one, claiming independence of action, causes damage or even danger to those who have a right to live in safety.

That part of the Ten Commandments which deals with neighborly relationship is brought in review. Then all is summarized in "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Having lived at least two years in Corinth on his previous missionary journey and now again for three months, Paul is necessarily familiar with causes of evil. From his sad experiences he tells them about conduct that is so hurtful as he says: "Let us walk becomingly, as in the day; not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and jealousy." The Corinthians had been making provision for the flesh not only to its destruction but also the loss of spiritual life itself. Morals are improved, business advances, money saved, life protected just in proportion as alcoholic beverages are given up. The statistician continuously proves this. The development of the automobile industry is a good field of research for anyone who doubts these facts.

DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS

The Piano

If you were limited to one book you might want the dictionary, some people would want the Bible. If you were limited to one piece of furniture in the house your choice should be the piano.

The piano is easily the most important instrument in the world. It is the greatest common denominator of all musical instruments.

Most music that is written for an orchestra or a band, a saxophone or the human voice is reduced to a few notes and usually is first composed on the piano.

There is no doubt about music being the most cultural of studies. It combines rhythm and harmony, two things that are essential in all departments of human activity. Rhythm is necessary even in the motion picture and you must have a sense of harmony if you are going to be an orator, a painter or a sculptor.

The piano is the best door to the knowledge of music. Almost everybody enters into the field of music by that door.

The piano is the heart of the home. About it naturally groups all the family. A silent house is essentially a desolate one.

The piano is the life of every social gathering. If anyone can play the piano, even manage so-so with accompaniment, a group gathers around him and the house is enlivened by the voices of the young, or parents are chosen for dancing.

Almost every child can learn music if he is taught young enough. Modern methods of instruction are so simple that even the dullest can understand.

It is a deprivation for any child not to know the piano.

It is the best form of self-expression. As Thomas Moore's Anacreontic runs:

"Music! Oh how faint, how weak,
Language fades before thy spell!
Oh, why should passion ever speak,
When thou canst breathe her soul
so well?"

Our moments of greatest delight, perhaps, are our moments of self-expression. Nothing is better suited to fully set forth our phases of emotion than the piano.

No substitute will do. It is not enough to play the harp or the violin without a basic acquaintance with the piano.

Of course there is pleasure in attending concerts, or listening to band music, or singing, but no pleasure is so full and so profitable, withal, as the joy we get in making our own music. Again I say that if you are to buy only one piece of furniture for your home, let it be a piano.

A GUARANTEE OF MORE TIRE MILEAGE AT LESS COST PER MILE

We positively know that these tires have more quality and mileage built into them at the factory. That's a matter of better materials, workmanship and design. Our service, performed by experienced tire men, enables you to get all these built-in miles out. Just put two and two together—top quality plus real service—and you are bound to get full mileage as a result.

When we say SERVICE we mean more than just carefully applying the tire. Our service lasts through the life of the tire—any time you drive in our men are on the job to inspect tires, rims and wheels and make sure that everything which affects tire mileage is in good working order. Brakes must be equalized; wheels must be in alignment; rims must be "true," and without bent flanges; tires must contain the correct amount of air. A tire that is cut must be immediately repaired, so that the cut will not spread and cause loss of thousands of miles of service. Slow leaks in valves are adjusted. Missing valve caps, rim nuts, lugs and bolts are replaced. Our service work guarantees more mileage at less cost.
