

Kracker KrumbS Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

They couldn't understand how or why it happened, but some folks were fussing about it.

The Rhineland road used to be designated as a state highway, and efforts were carried on for years to get it paved.

Finally the work of securing a right of way was completed and the paving project was started and was just recently completed.

Some knew it beforehand, but others discovered the discrepancy about the time the paving was finished.

The Rhineland road ceased to be a state highway and was designated as a farm-to-market road.

So folks expressed the belief that changing this from a state cut down on the number of miles of farm to market roads the county would receive.

Others didn't know, and we immediately placed ourself in the "don't know" category.

We don't know enough to know how the various phases of work of the Texas Highway Department is operated. If we knew more about it than anyone else, we'd probably be called on to go to Austin and run the thing.

And running a little newspaper and job shop, keeping you reminded that it's subscription paying time and the note is now bigger than smaller, and we need your renewal, etc., just about keeps our hands full and our one-track mind occupied.

But an encouraging thing came to our desk over the week end.

We left out kinda early Saturday afternoon, on account of we wanted to go to Wellington and see our Dad and Mother and other relatives, then to Memphis to see some friends from down Houston way, and to sashay around generally in that new auto which is responsible for the increase in the size of our note.

So just because we haven't been fussing about the note is no sign we don't have one. And if you look up there on the corner of the front page and see your subscription is out, or is about to expire, come in and help us on the note some more!

Anyway, when we got home Sunday night, we found that we had a visitor.

He was none other than H. T. Cunningham, our local highway engineer, who had dropped around after we'd decided we had worked enough for one week.

On our typewriter, he'd left a communication from the Texas Highway Department, and along with it was a "contractor's notice of Texas highway construction."

This order applies to us right here in Knox county, and it's pretty good proof that we're going to get some more farm to market roads.

The order is for sealed proposals for constructing 6.112 miles of grading, drainage structures, flexible base and single asphalt surface treatment out Gilliland way.

The designated points are from 3.003 miles west of Gilliland to Gilliland, and from U. S. highway 82 south 3.109 miles.

Bids will be received at the Highway Department in Austin until 9 a. m. October 18, at which time it is expected the contract will be awarded.

So there you are. It's more "fm" roads for Knox county, and we can use them. Our guess is that we'll be getting more of them in the future.

As long as we have live-wire, public spirited people in our towns, such as in Munday, Knox City and Goree; and a wide-awake Commissioners Court, like we have in Knox county, our guess is that we'll get our portion (Continued on Last Page)

Rule Wins Out Over Munday By Score Of 14-12

Failure of the Moguls to add those all-important extra points after touchdowns and the first quarter fighting of the Rule Bobcats spelled defeat for the Moguls last Friday night in the non-conference battle at Rule.

Rule tallied both touchdowns in the first period with a recovered Munday fumble paving the way for the first. The Cats recovered on the Munday 19, and cut down to the 8 yard line on two plays, then sent Halfback Bill Hamilton over. Dennis Riles, right end, booted the extra point.

Driving from their own 19, the Rule team pushed the locals back to the 5, from which point Hamilton again went over for the score. Briles added the extra point from placement, giving the host team all-0 lead.

Early in the second period, Bobby Lawrence, Mogul quarter, tossed a pass to Fullback Scottie Fonder, who raced 82 yards for Munday's first score. Ponder's toe missed the uprights on the try for extra point. In the third quarter a Rule player touched the kickoff, and it was recovered by the Moguls on the Rule 41. Crushing on to the five yard line, the Moguls put Royce McGraw through the line for the score. Ponder again missed the extra point.

As the game ended, Rule was down to the Munday 8 yard line threatening another counter.

More than three hundred farmers, who have mixed good farming practices and hard work to pay off their Farmers Home Administration tenant purchase loans more than thirty years before due will be awarded certificates of achievement at ceremonies in the State Fair Park Auditorium on October 12. County Supervisor Wilburn A. Satterwhite announced this week. Of the number, four farmers of Baylor-Knox-Throckmorton counties will receive awards, the supervisor said. Thornton, of the State Fair of Texas, will be an address by Judge Marvin Jones, who as a Congressman from Amarillo, fathered the law making funds available to deserving farmers for the purchase of family-type farms. Six thousand of these loans have been made in Texas and nearly one-third of them have been paid off and are owned debt-free by former tenant farmers.

Radio interviews of several farmers who have achieved unusual success in their farming operations and have arranged as a part of the program for the day there will be prizes given as a reward for outstanding success with their crops.

Moguls Play Anson's Tigers Friday Night

After suffering defeat at the hands of Rule by the slender margin of 14-12, Coach Green's Munday Moguls will go to Anson Friday night of this week for their annual tilt with the Tigers.

This will be a conference game and one which always holds top interest among fans of District 6-A. "We should start winning games now," one of the Mogul players stated Monday. The coach agrees, the fans agree, so the locals will be out to avenge their defeat of last week and get back in the winning column.

Anson, will be battling for a win, too, following their swamping at the hands of the Hamlin Pied Pipers.

The battle will be hotly contested, and both teams are expected to be in battle trim. Munday's fans are planning strong support for the Moguls when the game opens.

Erection Of New Jail For County Recommended In Grand Jury Report

Expressing the belief that the Knox County jail at Benjamin is not safe or adequate, the grand jury of 50th District Court in session this week recommended to the court that a new jail be built as soon as possible.

Plight of the county jail, which was erected in 1887, has been cited by a number of grand jurors in the past, but the present grand jury has recommended that a bond election to be held for the purpose of raising funds to construct the new jail.

Report of the grand jury is as follows: To the Honorable Lewis Williams, Judge of the 50th Judicial District:

Dear Judge: We, the Grand Jury, duly organized and empaneled as such for the October Term A. D. 1949, have diligently inquired into all law violations coming to our attention at this time, and here and now in open Court return 6 True Bills of Indictment.

And we further recommend that the Sheriff be given additional help during the fall season; and that the Sheriff keep down all gambling in and around Carnivals; and appreciate the efforts of the sheriff in the past, in connection with the Carnivals, and other gambling devices.

We have inspected the jail and do not think it is safe or adequate and recommend that a jail be built as soon as possible, and recommend a Bond Election to build a jail.

And we request the Court that this Grand Jury be recessed until such further business shall be necessary.

Signed: OATS GOLDEN, Foreman of Grand Jury

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?

4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

THE DIFFERENCE

A news article, dated lined from Paris, in the New York Herald Tribune, tells of the finding of two Norwegian trade union delegations which recently made a first-hand study of American and Soviet living standards.

To buy a kilogram (2.2 pounds) of rye bread, wheat flour or sugar, the survey found, the American man needs only nine to 12 minutes of production time. The Soviet worker in the state steel and food factories must work from half a day to two days to earn the money. To buy a kilo of beef, the American worker puts in about 70 minutes at his job—and the Russian five days!

This is typical of the difference between a free economy and a regimented economy. In Russia, for instance, workers must patronize state-owned retail stores. Everything is strictly rationed—save for some luxury goods which are beyond the means of the masses, and can be bought only by the elite—and the state fixes the prices. There is no competition as we know it.

In the United States, by contrast, the consumer can go to any store he wants—a chain, an independent, a specialty shop, etc. If he doesn't like the price, the quality, or the service, he walks down the street to where he will get a better bargain and better treatment. Every merchant is out to get his business.

Retailing is just one good example of why our living standards are so high. It is typical of our economic system. Only a free economy can produce the abundance for which America is famous.

NOTHING LIKE COMPETITION

There's nothing competition to hold retail prices at the lowest possible level. And one of the best proofs of that is found in the profit experience of typical retail stores of various kinds.

During the first 24 week of this year, as an example, a large food chain system, which operates in many states, earned a profit of only 1.34 cents on each dollar of sales. In other words, if this system had earned no profit at all, its customers would have saved but a trifle more than a penny each time they bought a dollar's worth of groceries!

A group of department stores and variety stores for a comparable period of time showed similarly modest profits. Many of them actually had operating losses from merchandising activities.

In almost all cases, profits are lower, often by a very substantial margin, than they were a year or two ago. This is a true reflection of the competitive picture. Shortages have virtually ceased to exist. Total sales volume has gone down in many fields. Retail prices, as a general rule, have declined.

Consequently, merchants of every sort have doubled and redoubled their efforts to attract business. Expenses have been pared wherever possible, and the savings have been used to help reduce prices. And profits, are a great deal smaller than most buyers realize.

AT THE FAIR

During the last month or so, state and county fairs have been held throughout the length and breadth of the country. These fairs are a great American institution that has its roots in the pioneer days. Everybody, spectators and contestants alike, has a great time at the fair.

Livestock is always a leading attraction. The magnificent animals are surrounded by hordes of fascinated onlookers. And the meat animals of the present represent a great advance over those of the past. Through selective breeding and scientific feeding, animals producing quality meat have been very materially improved.

The farmers and ranchers of the United States, aided by the agricultural colleges and county agents, have worked hard and effectively to build the great livestock industry—which, incidentally, brings the farmer much more cash income than any other crop or product. They have been substantially helped in this by the 4,000 packers serving the nation. The packing industry has a very direct interest in the quality of livestock. The top grades naturally have the readiest market—and the market which is most profitable from agriculture's point of view. These grades also provide the highest proportion of dressed meat in relation to the live weight of the animal.

Every fair offers a thousand enticements—from the hot dog stand to the harness races and the cooking contests. The livestock exhibits are one of the oldest and best.

"Arthur J. Altmeier, U. S. Social Security Commissioner, was called before the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington and asked how much the President's program for expanded social security would cost. He said he 'guessed' it would cost up to around $12,000,000,000 a year . . . if all parts were put into effect—increased old age insurance coverage, increased old-age benefits, broadened unemployment compensation, new disability insurance and a new national health insurance system."—Fireman's Fund Record.

Savings Bonds Build Reserves For The Future

DALLAS—The value of financial reserves in farming and ranching operations will be emphasized in a special effort to sell U. S. Savings Bonds to farmers and ranchers of Texas this fall, Nathan Adams, state Savings Bonds chairman, announced today.

The program is now getting started with the cooperation of the major state and federal agricultural agencies, Adams said, and will extend into all of Texas' 254 counties. He said it would continue through October and possibly well into November.

Nearly all of the 385,000 farm and ranch families in the state will receive letters and printed literature about Savings Bonds. Adams said that the mailing list of county agricultural agents and county representatives of the Production and Marketing Administration (PMA), the Production Credit Corporation (PCC) and the National Farm Loan Association (NFLA) are being utilized to achieve virtually 10 percent distribution in rural areas.

Adams said that other activities in the program will include distribution of 25,000 to 30,000 posters for display in banks, cotton gins, hardware and implement stores, and other places where farmers meet and transact business; distribution of special literature to vocational agriculture students; and supplemental projects to be undertaken by various agricultural and livestock associations.

"A financial reserve is a powerful aid for proper management of a business," Adams said, "and farmers and ranchers need such a reserve for their business just as much as do the merchant of manufacturer."

"We want the farmer and rancher to become as well acquainted as the city man with the value of Savings Bonds as the means for acquiring financial security. Agriculture has always been a hazardous busi-

Knox Prairie Philosopher Decides International Problems Can Wait, He's Going To Enjoy The Weather

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is in a mellow mood this week, but not an ambitious one, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
I know there are lots of things needin discussing this week, for example Russia is rumored to have the atomic bomb, England is in financial trouble again, or I ought to say still as I can't recall a time durin my lifetime when England wasn't passin through some sort of financial crisis, make a man believe England ain't no better at handlin her money than I am, and the United States has voted a billion dollars to help arm European countries, hopin they'll stay on our side, another farmer's cow has fallen in a silo, it's gettin too cold to swim the English Channel, and so forth.

I could even go into a long discussion of how anybody ought to have known it was impossible to keep Russia from findin out how to make an atomic bomb, we couldn't even more keep the secret from her than we could the secret of the gasoline engine or the step-ladder, in this day and time knowledge between nations ain't any safer than it is between women, you can't develop scientific discoveries in one country and hide em from another, ain't no small group of men gonna be able to guarantee us peace or protect us from our enemies with a gadget, it's gonna take hard thinkin to do that, and I ain't sure that'll work although you'll find me stayin here at my post of duty thinkin while other folks rampage through life tryin to get rich, which I wish I was.

But what I started out to say was that while there are lots of things needin discussing this week as far as I'm concerned there ain't none more interestin than the fact that winter is on its way out here on Miller Creek. Leaves is beginnin to fall, a little norther already has blown in, my wife has been wavin at the woodbox, the smell of sausage fryin in the mornin is almost enough to make a man get up and break land, but not quite, there's a sniff of autumn in the air, squirrels are gettin careless, the mornins are gettin crisp, a time for plannin for the winter, for renewin your energy and making schemes for achievin is at hand, and while I been through this before and don't let it sweep off my feet, it's a great time of the year, and as far as I'm concerned England

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Now is the time to have your baby protected from whooping cough, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The Texas State Department of Health recommends that vaccination against this disease be administered at three months of age with a booster dose of vaccine when the baby is two years old. There is many a child whose life could have been saved if he had been immunized in infancy, said Dr. Cox.

"Whooping cough," says Dr. Cox, "first masquerades as an ordinary cold, with running nose and eyes, followed by a slight cough. These symptoms develop about 1 to 14 days after exposure. Then in about another week the cough develops into a series of continued attacks, in an effort to expel the troublesome mucus. An attempt to breathe during the choking spell produces the characteristic whooping sound. In mild cases it may be absent. The whooping stage lasts 4 to 6 weeks and may then take another two or three weeks to decline gradually."

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

with her troubles, Russia with the atomic bomb, Washington with its headaches, will have to wait. I'm goin out and breathe some fresh air. You ought to get out of your office and try it yourself.

"Here are some facts about whooping cough:
1. The disease starts like a common cold, 1 to 14 days after exposure. In about another week the cough develops and the whooping usually begins.

2. It is one of the communicable diseases children often catch at school. After a child has reached the age of five, fatalities occur less frequently. Children may carry this disease home to babies.

3. Most important of all is to see that infants are vaccinated against whooping cough, for most deaths occur among children less than one year of age.
4. Call you family physician at once if you suspect your child has whooping cough and follow his directions in detail."

FARM NEWS PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

FARMERS ARE URGED TO REPORT DETERIORATING CROPS

To protect themselves from loss in settlement value, farmers are advised to report immediately to the County Agricultural Conservation Committee when any commodity under price-supporting loan is in danger of going out of condition.

"Since the farmer is responsible for maintaining the grade and quality of the commodity under loan, his eventual return depends upon the condition at the time of delivery to the Commodity Credit Corporation," says Emmett Partridge, Committee Chairman.

Where it is found that a commodity in danger of going out of condition cannot be satisfactorily conditioned, the county committee is authorized to call for immediate shipping instructions from CCC.

"To protect the farmer, samples will be taken at the time shipping instructions are requested, if shipping instructions cannot be furnished in time to prevent serious damage to the commodity," Partridge says. "Final settlement with the producer will then be made for the quantity delivered, based on the grade established from these samples."

If a producer fails to notify the county committee before a commodity has deteriorated to such an extent that it will fall below any grade for which loan or settlement values have been established, Mr. Partridge said that the settlement value will be the support rate for the grade and quality of the commodity placed under loan, less the difference between (1) the market price for this grade and quality and (2) the market price of the commodity delivered, as determined by CCC.

The same procedure for determining settlement values of off-grade commodities may be applied to purchase agreements when authority to accept deliveries is given by CCC.

SETTLEMENT VALUES FOR COTTONSEED LOANS ANNOUNCED

Settlement values for cottonseed loans not redeemed by producers prior to maturity will be based on grades delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation, the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee said this week. Emmett Partridge, Committee Chairman, points out that the loan rate of $39.50 per ton is based on the average grade for the past 5 years, which was 97.7.

Since is the "basic grade" and grades may range from 40 to 125 the settlement value of basic grade 100 will be $50.65 per ton. The settlement value of cottonseed grading above or below basic grade 100 will be $56.65 per ton plus or minus a percentage of such price equal to the percentage by which the grade is above or below 100.

"As an example, should a producer's cottonseed grade 60 at the time of delivery to CCC, the settlement value would be 60 percent of $50.65 or $30.39 per ton," Partridge explains.

Price supporting loans on cottonseed from the 1949 crop will be available through December 31, 1949 and will mature April 30, 1950, or earlier on demand. Loans will be made on cottonseed with a moisture content of 11 percent or less placed in approved storage on or near the farm. Growers interested in the loan should contact the county ACA office in Benjamin.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Warren and son, Jerry, and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Warren and children, Dickie, Ann and Johnnie, of Plainview spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bill Pierce and Cindy of Midland visited friends and relatives and attended to business matters in Munday last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Tidwell and Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Brown of Stillwater, Okla., visited relatives and friends here last week end.

Some people believe that Woodrow Wilson was re-elected President in 1916 on the slogan, "He kept us out of war." The race with Hughes was close and maybe that was the deciding factor.

It is interesting to note that a former Texan coined the declaration. Martin Littleton, Congressman from New York, used the slogan in a speech before the national Democratic convention. Littleton lived in Weatherford before moving to New York.

Fomer Governor Pat M. Neff dedicated a book to his mother in these words:

"To her who passed for me through the martyrdom of motherhood; to her who, during weary days and sleepless nights, bent above my infant couch; to her who guided with a steady hand my erring feet from childhood to manhood; to her, first to see my virtues and last to see my faults; to her, across whose brow the cutting cares of time have plowed deep furrows in which naught but beauty can be traced; to her, on whose honored head the wintry winds of eighty-five years have flung the snowflakes that never melt; to her, around whose feeble feet the withered leaves of life's autumn are fast falling but in whose heart still bloom the flowers of spring; to her who, during all these years has lived the simple faith of a simple life, far removed from the world's ignoble strife, the noblest and best woman in all the world because she is my mother, the thoughts contained within this book are hereby lovingly dedicated."

Fort Worth's famous slogan, "Where the West Begins originated in this way:

Sam Houston went to Bird's Fort, three miles east of Birdville (in Tarrant county), in 1843, six years before the founding of Fort Worth. He waited more than a month for the Indian chiefs to come in for a parley and at last departed, leaving

Gen. E. H. Tarran and George W. Terrell to meet with them when they appeared—which, finally, they did, except the Comanche leaders.

A treaty was made under which the Indians were to remain to the west and a line was traced passing through the future site of Fort Worth to indicate "Where the West Begins."

Geo. Moffett Cites New Laws Now In Effect

A large number of new laws will go into effect on Oct. 5th, which is 90 days after the Legislature adjourned. Some one frequently asks why some bills become law as soon as the governor signs them, while others are not effective until 90 days after the legislature adjourns. The state constitution controls this matter. Our forefathers thought when they wrote the constitution in 1876, that a three months period of time should elapse after the passage of a bill, before it becomes a law, so as to give the people time to familiarize themselves with it. However, it was also recognized that there would be some instances in which a new law ought to become effective at once, so the framers of the constitution also provided that in an emergency, that if a bill received two-thirds of the votes in each branch of the legislature, then it would become law when the governor signed it, but if it passed by only a simple majority in either branch, it was not thought to be of sufficient emergency nature to become effective until 90 days after adjournment. Of the more than six hundred bills finally passed by both branches of the last session of the legislature, the governor only vetoed three or four. Many

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Scarlet fever is one of the most disabling and dangerous diseases usually associated with childhood, although actually it is confined to no age limit, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. While only six cases were reported in the state during the week ending Sept. 24, it brought the year's total to 911 cases.

The doctor described scarlet fever as an acute infectious disease, the onset of which is sudden. The first symptoms including sore throat, vomiting, fever, and headache, may appear in three to five days after exposure. These are followed by the distinctive red rash which gives this disease its name, Dr. Cox stated.

Complications may cause prolonged disability or death. Children suffering from scarlet fever may develop sinusitis and middle-ear infections which can lead to mastoiditis. As the germs spread through the child's system, the joints, kidneys, and heart may become involved, causing life-long invalidism or crippling. "A child with any kind of a sore throat should be seen by the family physician promptly," Dr. Cox asserted. "If scarlet fever is present, the treatment recommended will do much to alleviate discomfort and reduce the possibility of serious complications."

Dr. Cox stated that children under ten years of age are most susceptible, and that those persons who fail to contract scarlet fever until grown stand an excellent chance of never having the disease.

Among the semi-important bills passed at the last session was the one which makes it illegal to throw pop bottles, rocks, or other dangerous missiles, at a football game. This applies to players and officials, as well as spectators, and was brought about by a "pop bottle throwing episode at a game in Dallas about a year ago. Upon investigation at that time, it was found that there was no law against it.

Another bill, which was particularly important to Houston and several other Texas cities, was the one establishing heavy penalties, including a jail sentence, for selling horse meat unless it was plainly marked and described as such. This bill received more than the necessary two-thirds vote in each branch, and thus became the law the minute the governor signed it. Other bills of interest will be discussed in a succeeding article.

Southwest Peanut Markets Steady As Harvest Increases

Farmers received most government support prices for their peanuts this week as digging moved into full swing in some southwest areas, reports to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration. Light harvesting started in northern Texas and southern Oklahoma as weather continued favorable while about half of the crop in eastern Texas has been marketed. Nearly all of it in southern Texas is in the hands of shellers. Moisture content of the new crop is favorable and quality appears to run better than last year. Shellers were active in central and eastern Texas with shelled peanut prices about steady under slow demand. No. 1 Spanish sold at 16½ cents per pound, with a few quoted at 16 3-8 cents for late October delivery. These prices were about the same as a year ago.

General tone of the market on futures for October and forward delivery was slightly weaker in all sections of the country.

Prices of oil and meal continued to slip as crushings of new crop peanuts increased. Peanut meal of 41 per cent protein content was quoted mostly at $56 per ton in the Southwest, or unchanged to $6 lower than the previous week. Some peanut oil sold at 13½ to 44 cents per pound a half cent lower than a week ago.

USDA reports that more farmer's stock peanuts were milled during the past season than any year on record. Total reached 2,020,000,000 pounds. Movement of shelled peanuts into export and crushing channels was the largest on record.

MUSIC BY MATCHLIGHT

This is what Soldier Field in Chicago looked like when more than 95,000 spectators and participants at the Chicagoland Music Festival lighted matches with all other illumination extinguished. More than 1,500,000 Diamond king size matches were distributed to the crowd. The matches stayed lighted in the 18-mile-an-hour wind.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON

Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson, of Dallas, is chairman of a steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

Joe was a small town tough. He had the reputation of being mean when he got drunk, which was often, he was meaner than ever.

He was both drunk and mean one day at high noon. He staggered down Main Street in his home town, shouting and shooting a pistol in the air. He was arrested and charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol.

Joe was brought to trial, but then the charge was dismissed and he was released.

The reason for this action was that the word "and" should have been used instead of the word "or" in the sentence about "did then and there, on or about his person, carry a pistol." Joe couldn't be convicted of the charge because the court ruled this should have read, "did then and there, on AND about his person, carry a pistol."

Move Started For Beautifying Goliad Park

AUSTIN—Daughters of the Republic of Texas launched a statewide campaign this week to improve and beautify Goliad State Park and gained an immediate endorsement from the State Parks Board.

"This is a most worthwhile project," Gordon K. Shearer, executive secretary of the board, said. "The state board is in a position to maintain this historic site once Texans have restored it to full beauty."

The Daughters are asking all civic groups, as well as all Texans, to join them in the drive to raise $200,000 for the restoration project.

"We have remembered the Alamo and have restored it," said Mrs. Henry R. Wofford Sr., San Antonio, state president of the association. Now we must Goliad and the brave men who died there.

"We invite Texans young and old, both in clubs and privately, to donate funds so that we might make Goliad State Park a shrine which Texans and our out-of-state visitors will want to visit in memory of those heroes."

The campaign is timed to coincide with Goliad's bicentennial celebration October 23-26. The 232-acre park marks the spot where 330 men under Col. James W. Fannin were shot down by the Mexicans in the spring of 1836 after they had surrendered under terms. The cries, "Remember Goliad! Remember the Alamo!" rang out on the San Jacinto battlefield a few months later when Gen. Santa Anna's forces were routed and Texas Independence—proclaimed initially at a citizen's meeting at Goliad—was won.

Now on the site are Mission Espiritu Santo, the ruins of Mission Rosario and a state museum. Nearby is La Bahia Mission, in use continuously since 1790. Weeds have over-run the park. Yet to be completed are the laying of walkways, drives, and patios and the planting of shrubs and flowers to make Goliad a mecca for patriots and visitors.

The campaign is under the di-

He's Very "Careful"

'Suicide' Simon To Blow Self Up With Dynamite 22 Times At Fair

A man who says he enjoys living will "blow himself up" with dynamite 22 times during the 1949 State Fair of Texas Oct. 8-23.

He is Capt. Lee (Suicide) Simon of El Jobean, Fla., world-famous daredevil who developed his dynamite stunt because he got tired of getting his neck broken in the fire-diving act he did up until about two years ago.

Simon's current act is simplicity itself. He climbs into a wooden coffin-sized structure with three sticks of dynamite and a lighted cigar. The box is surrounded by flying pieces of wood.

The force of the dynamite blast disintegrates the box, but Simon gets up and slowly walks away— if he's lucky.

"A Slight Thud"

"If everything goes off all right," Simon says, "I just feel a slight thud. If everything doesn't go just right, I don't feel anything; I just wake up in the ambulance on the way to the hospital."

Simon explains that sometimes he miscalculates and uses too much dynamite. Even so, it's not the dynamite that knocks him cold, but usually pieces of the box hitting him in the head.

The noise of the explosion does not bother Simon. He has been virtually deaf for years. However, he wears a crash helmet, fortified with cups to protect what is left of his hearing.

Simon admits he is not the originator of his act, which he will perform at the Fair with the Jole Chitwood daredevil drivers show in front of the grandstand. The first man to blow himself up was a Capt. Frakes, a Hollywood stunt man who specialized in flying an airplane into a burning building.

"He's not around any more," says Simon.

Simon has an act he performed for 17 years. He drenched his clothing with flaming gasoline and leaped from a 100-foot tower into a five-foot pool of water with more flaming gasoline on top.

Every Bone Broken

He claims to have broken every bone in his body doing this stunt and as a wing-walker in the old-time barnstorming aerial circuses. Three times in one year, he broke his neck.

That's when dynamiting himself began to look easy to him, he says. Simon says the secret of his act is to keep his head within six inches of the dynamite.

"There is a vacuum formed by the blast like the eye of a hurricane," he explains. "Three feet away and I'd be blown to bits."

He uses no protection except an inch-thick steel plate between his head and the dynamite.

The 44-year-old stunt man hopes to retire to his 28-room hunting lodge on the Florida coast if he lives long enough. This he plans to do.

"With dynamite I am very careful," he says. "People don't realize how careful, because I love living and want to keep on living."

Simon says a sponsor up East wanted to bill him as "Simple Simon."

"Imagine that," Simon sports, indignantly. "People might think I was crazy."
