

SWEET 'N' SOUR

By A. Dill

And a happy Thanksgiving to you too. For a time it seemed as though this time honored holiday would be lost in the Christmas bustle. Consequently the date was moved up a week from the traditional last Thursday of November, but with holly and mistletoe now over-lapping jack-o-lanterns it didn't help a great deal. The turkey is a wise old bird and since he obviously couldn't beat the reindeer, he joined them. Thanksgiving is still a special day — it's the official opening of the Christmas shopping season!

Regardless of its close association with holiday time, Thanksgiving still retains its identity as a day of gratitude when we take inventory of our many gifts and say "thank you" for them — and this is good.

One thing that we are especially grateful for this day and always is friendship — especially you folk who have asked about this column during its absence when surgery, crutches, canes, and all that stuff slowed us down. There was a lovely card from Sophie Blair way out in California who missed Sweet and Sour, and lots of letters 'n' calls — they were all greatly and humbly appreciated. Of course the return of this bad penny will be a blow to the force at the Baird Star — they were all set to receive the St. George Memorial Award for having ousted the dragon, now they'll probably never get one at all (it's hard to find dragons to oust nowadays and we're probably one of the last of the breed). They won't mind though because they couldn't really qualify as they didn't try very hard to rid you of "Sweet and Sour" — in fact the big reason we're back is because the editor threatened to write the column personally if we didn't check in — can you imagine that?

Now how in the world would our editor know that some of the prettiest chrysanthemums in town are blooming right now at the Bates home? They are simply beautiful and you need to be told about them.

Wonder if he knows what a lovely autumn yard the Red Meadows family own? The chrysanthemums there are simply fabulous!

Viola Atwood and Donnie have a very attractive yard too and she had special guests to enjoy it last week end too — daughter Ruby Mae Betcher and children. They brought along their puppy, "Toto" too. (Let our editor beat that as a scoop.)

Tom and Hattie West have some of the very finest chrysanthemums — big clumps of rich autumn color that are a joy to see.

The High School Beauty Contest was a gala occasion last week.

Carol Lynn McGowen took top honors and they say that the young lady's sparkling smile and warm personality simply captivated the entire crowd. Vickie Finley, Karen Bearden and Darlene Musselman came in for high honors, as well they should and the opinion of judges seemed to be that they ran out of ribbons before they had passed around half enough and every youngster in the parade should have had a special award all their own.

Speaking of special awards, Lee Iveys wild honeysuckle in the conservation exhibit at the Garden Club's flower show last week should have had special honor — and it did. When flower fanciers eye up a specimen and want cuttings for their gardens you can know you've made it and horticulturally speaking, "you're in."

Jake Collins "Moo-tel" — way-side accommodations for traveling stock is gaining nation wide attention. Dallas Times Herald carried a spread concerning it in their Sunday paper and the unique establishment is well deserving of its fame. Remember when you see that name, "Moo-tel" that you "saw it first in the Baird Star". Why can't the big daily newspapers give credit to

Bulldogs Down Eastland, 37-14

The Clyde Bulldogs closed out a good season Friday night at Bulldog Stadium when they downed a scrappy Eastland Maverick 11 by 37-14 in the final game for 1962 for both teams. The win gave the Bulldogs second place behind Albany in the final District 10-A standings. Clyde ended up with a 4-1 District and 8-2 season record. Eastland won one district game against four defeats and finished a 5-5 season mark.

Brannan scored three Bulldog touchdowns on burst of five, seven, and 57 yards, while Dyer received two fumbles which eventually led to touchdowns. Dyer also scored one TD.

Brannan started scoring for the night in the first period on his five-yard carry with 8:20 left in the period. Dyer picked off a Maverick fumble on the Eastland 35 earlier, and Brannan's 26 yard gallop added steam to the drive. Brannan tallied with 2:39 left in the third from the seven, to cap a 60 yard drive, and again with 10:40 left in the encounter on a 57 yard draw play.

Dyer moved to end to snare a 45 yard scoring pass from quarter Buddy Howe in the second period. Four Bulldog extra points were made by Howe, two by Ricky Dennis, and one by Johnny McCluskey. Dennis had scored in the first period on a 53 yard pass from Howe following a Dyer-recovered fumble on the Bulldog 35.

Bears End Season With Victory Over Ranger Bulldogs Friday

The Baird Bears closed out a successful football season in Ranger Friday night by winning a 24-6 victory over the battling Bulldogs of Ranger High School. The win gave them an 8-2 won-lost record for 1962.

A smaller than average crowd braved the cold weather to watch the two teams close out the season and to cheer eleven seniors on the 1962 Bear squad who closed out their high school football careers. Players wearing the red and white on the grid-iron for the last time for Baird High were Calvin Barnes, Tencil Scott, Tommy Higgins, Robert Martin, Tommy Vines, Johnny Higgins, Jud Gilliland, Ervin Bates, Ronald Robbins, Phillip Garcia and Freddy Foy.

Coach Vernon Townsend let his graduating members play for most of the game, and they closed out their eligibility by handling the Ranger team almost as they wanted to.

Ranger scored first on the first play of the second quarter.

The score came on 38 yard pass from Freshman Quarterback Johnny McGee to Senior Fullback Johnny Wells. The Bears had threatened to score twice in the first quarter but were held by a scrappy Ranger line.

Tommy Higgins put the Bears into the scoring column about the middle of the second quarter when he went over the Ranger goal from three yards out. The drive netted 30 yards, and was set up on a neat pass interception by center Robert Martin. Higgins put the Bears out in front 8-6 in a plunge over on the points after attempt.

Baird's second touchdown came about midway of the third period when Quarterback Cotton Barnes scampered over from the seven. The Bears had gained possession at the Ranger seven when Newnham's kick from deep in the Ranger end zone slid off the side of his foot and was marked out at the seven. Tommy Higgins made the two points after in a burst over the line.

Barnes scored Baird's final touchdown and the last touchdown of the game in the final quarter on a keeper around end for two yards. Higgins again plunged over for the two extra points. The drive netted 69 yards.

The Bears completely dominated play in the game. Offensively they made 23 first downs, 318 yards on the ground and completed two of five pass attempts for 30 yards. Defensively they held Ranger to six first downs, 44 net yards on the ground and let the Bulldogs complete four of 17 pass attempts for 102 yards. Ranger made one first down in the second half and wound up with a minus 16 yards on running plays.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR . . .

This is actually an open letter to the Liquor Interests.
Get your heads out of the sand! Is your memory so short that you have forgotten conditions when you had liquor before? I am a West Texan by adoption: until I moved to this general area fourteen years ago, I had lived in communities where liquor was always obtainable, prohibition or not, and I know what it does, legal or not. I am proud of Callahan County and I don't like what you wets are trying to do to it.

In the final analysis it is a moral issue. Does a person have the right to sell for consumption what science says is a poison to the human body? — or does anyone really have the right after all to drink the stuff himself? No man lives his own life; his every act in our complex modern society directly hinders or helps the welfare of us all, so dependent are we upon each other. No — a man does not have the right to shirk his responsibilities to his neighbors by muddying his mind with a drink when alertness is so important.

I have heard — even from so-called Christians — the old chestnut, "Let's legalize it and then we can control it," until I am sick and tired. How foggy can you think? By the same token we should be able to control murder, dope peddling, and burglary by licensing them.

Don't be fooled into thinking that tangible extra money in the cash registers is all clear; you pay for that kind of money many times over and you never fail to end up in the red.

When a community is hurt by short crops or a drouth, that's bad enough; but to bring a weakener deliberately into our midst and give it approval against all that is right, good, and decent is real top-level, grade-A ignorance.

We have more than our share of the finest people in the world right here in Callahan County. Let's work to strengthen it and make it all better than ever — not sell it down the river.
Lloyd D. Huff

I want to thank each one who has made donations and to solicit help from everyone who has loved ones buried there, in order that we can get it mowed more often.
Thank you — Mrs. J. D. Cauthen.

IS IT RIGHT?

To introduce the sale of alcoholic beverages into our city: Every citizen of this community should honestly and unselfishly ask: Is It Right? The question should not be: Is it profitable? Is it advantageous? Is it pleasant? Is it popular? Is it accepted? Is it what I like and want? But the question ought to be: IS IT RIGHT?

To introduce into our community that which is responsible for the infraction of more laws than any other thing? The wise man said: "Lest they drink and forget the law." — Prov. 31:5.

To legalize that which will permit a man to use an automobile as an instrument of murder with impunity? — that is to get drunk, drive his car head-on into your family car, killing your wife and children, and then be exempt from punishment because he was not responsible?

For the minority of the population to thrust upon the majority that which corrupts more morals, divides and destroys more homes, incites more crimes sells more virtue, excites more passions and fills more graves than anything else?

For one-third of the American people to burden the two-thirds with a thirty billion dollar ($30,000,000,000) drink bill each year?

To intentionally expose our teen-age boys and girls to the evils and dangers which always accompany the legalized sale of alcoholic drink?

To spend two and one half times as much on intoxicating beverages as on education?

To spend ten billion dollars on liquor when there are four hundred and fifty million starving children in the world?

To introduce into our city the legalized sale of an intoxicating drink when intoxicants are responsible for 66% of the accidents on our streets and highways?

If there were any advantages accruing from the introduction of alcoholic drink into our community, Is It Right to "do evil that good may come?"

Before signing the petition asking for legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages, ask yourself, "Is It Right?"
