

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

Do you have a tooter that needs to be tooted?

If so, there are people in town who would probably like to learn to toot the thing.

This is in connection with the C. D. A. move recently to encourage band work in the local schools. It seems we have students who would make good band material, and it seems there is a lack of instruments.

C. D. A. directors decided there were possibly some instruments stored away that are good instruments but are no longer being used. They'd like to get them into the hands of those who could use them.

So if you have an instrument you would sell, bring it to the C. D. A. office with a price tag on it.

If you have one you would like for someone to be tooting, but you want to retain ownership, call the C. D. A. office and list the instrument you would loan out for a while.

In that way you'd be helping some student, you and the C. D. A. would be helping the band, and the band would be helping the community.

Which brings to mind one of the nicest little pep talks we've heard in some time. It went something like this:

"We farmers would like to help the business men; the merchants would like to help the farmers."

"This is a community, and a community makes progress just as we all stick together and work together. We all sort of advance and progress inasmuch as we work together."

"The C. D. A. is a community organization. It's not just for the townspeople, but for the people in town and the farmers, too. We would like to think that every farmer ought to be a member of the C. D. A. and have a part in the community's efforts for betterment."

"We look on the community as one big family, and every person in the community ought to be a member of that family."

That pep talk, which we have not quoted verbatim, was made Monday night at a meeting of C. D. A. directors, members and farmers who are interested in the community.

They were interested, too, in securing the labor reception center for Munday.

And that's something that's going to be, progress, and good progress, has already been made. The land has been purchased. The old dilapidated house that occupied a portion of the land has been sold and moved away.

Work is now under way on leveling the grounds off, putting gravel on it and transforming it into a parking lot for laborer's trucks when they come to town.

Then there's to come shelters, the toilet facilities, the shower baths, etc., that go into making the labor reception center a place where people coming here looking for labor on the farms may stop and rest, clean up and refresh themselves.

Such camps are operated successfully in other places, and transient labor looks upon them as a sort of "welcoming mat" which the community has placed out for them.

Some say it would be a place for people from other places and counties to come and hire our labor. But we understand that's being done right from our city square. People who have charge of reception centers—in cases they're members of the Texas Employment Commission—tend to discourage this practice in the centers.

We saw two people at the meeting Monday night issue $100 (Continued on last page)

Munday Church To Take Part In Revival Move

The Munday Methodist Church is cooperating in the All-Texas Methodist Revival, the Reverend R. L. Butler said today.

This state-wide revival, which will be carried on simultaneously in each of the Methodist churches in Texas, is under the general chairmanship of Bishop William C. Martin of the Dallas-Fort Worth Area, Bishop A. Frank Smith of the Houston Area, and Bishop Robert N. Brooks of the New Orleans Area (Colored).

Committees from the local Methodist Church have been named to assist Rev. R. L. Butler in the various phases of the campaign:

Planning Committee, Mr. J. H. Bardwell.

Spiritual Preparation, Mrs. J. C. Borden.

Public Services, Mrs. P. V. Williams.

Finance, Mr. Moulton Wiggins.

Visitation Evangelism, Mr. C. E. Fox.

Spiritual Life, The Rev. J. R. Bateman.

Beginning next Sunday afternoon, a complete Religious Survey will be made of the Munday territory. Some 60 workers will be engaged in this service. They are to work under the supervision of Mr. Fox and the Pastor.

This campaign is to be divided into two phases—that of the Houston Area on October 5 to 14 and that of the Dallas-Fort Worth Area on October 27 to November 4.

The pastor of the local church is to work in the campaign of the Houston Area and will assist the church of Naples, Texas, beginning on October 5.

This campaign is to include both preaching and visitation. More than 1700 preachers will be engaged in this revival during the two campaigns. Thousands of laymen and laywomen will also take part in various ways. This is said to be the greatest undertaking of the Methodist Church in its history.

Sgt. Jack Hensley Receives Awards in Korean Service

Master Sergeant Jack B. Hensley, R. A. 33365658 Artillery, U. S. Army, a member of Battery C, 15th Field Artillery Battalion, Second Infantry Division, distinguished himself by heroic achievement on July 18, 1951, in the vicinity of Solka Goe, Korea.

While subject to an enemy artillery concentration, Sergeant Hensley noticed that several of the new men in his platoon were becoming excited in their first contact with the enemy. Sergeant Hensley, without regard for his own personal safety, moved among the men encouraging them. He was slightly wounded by a piece of shrapnel, but continued to expose himself moving among the men and building morale. His heroic action greatly reduced the number of casualties that may have been suffered. His action on this occasion reflects great credit upon himself and the military service.

On July 20, 1951, he received wounds in action against the enemy near Yanji, North Korea. The Purple Heart was awarded for this heroic achievement. He was also awarded the Bronze Star. He entered the service from Texas where his wife, Margaret Womble Hensley, resides.

Miss Larue Johnson visited with friends in Wichita Falls last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gillespie and Pamela spent the week end in Lubbock.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Pearl Walker of Wichita Falls; two daughters, Miss Leona Walker and Mrs. Lee; and two grandchildren, Melissa Ann and James Travis Lee, Jr., both of Munday.

A number of friends from this area attended the funeral services which were conducted from the Hampton-Vaughan-Merkle Funeral Home by Dr. Earl W. Crawford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls.

Instruments Needed For Munday's Band

Did you hear the band play at the ball game Friday night? Sounded pretty good for a starter, didn't it? They'll be doing better from time to time.

In order to encourage work among band members, more instruments are needed. Maybe you have an instrument in your home that is not in use. Maybe you'd like to sell it, or would loan it out to some enterprising band student.

If you have one to sell, bring it to the C. D. A. office and put your price on it. It might sell quickly.

If you have one you would let some band student use, get in touch with the C. D. A. and leave your name and the kind of instrument you have.

Men Inducted Into Service

Mrs. Zena Waldron, clerk of Local Board No. 82 at Benjamin reported that on August 16 the following registrants were sent for induction into the armed forces:

Paul Bedford Green, Knox City, Marine Corps; Herman Joseph Schumacher, Munday, Army; and Olen Glenn Ray, Vera, Army.

On September 12, the following were sent for induction: Sammy Clyde Moore, Seymour; and Robert Edgar Sursa, King County, who entered the army.

The call for two men for October has been filled. Mrs. Waldron said, and they will be sent for induction on October 10. The November call for two men has been received and orders for filling this quota will be mailed within the next few days.

CHARLES A. PRUITT TO RECEIVE ARMY DISCHARGE

CAMP CHAFFEE, Ark.—Sergeant Charles A. Pruitt of Munday, will be discharged here in November from active duty under the Army program to release all reservists involuntarily recalled following the Korean crisis.

Sergeant Pruitt is married to the former Rosetta Wilson of Goree, and is the son of Mrs. W. J. Harris. He was recalled November 3, 1950, and had served previously for 17 months in Japan.

TWO ENROLLED IN HOWARD PAYNE COLLEGE

BROWNWOOD—Miss Alto B. Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tencil J. Scott, and Mr. Everton V. Hosea, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Hosea, are Munday students enrolled for the fall semester at Howard Payne College.

Both are classified as juniors, and Mr. Hosea is majoring in business administration.

Mrs. Michael Sloan of Berger spent several days here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell. Mr. Sloan came after her Sunday, and the couple have moved to Midland to make their home.

The school land suit, brought about an injunction by the Munday school board to prevent the allocation of some 16,000 acres of the former Sunset School District lands to the Knox City district, is headed for higher courts.

Judge Ben Charlie Chapman of Haskell, who heard the suit in District Court at Benjamin, last Saturday ruled against the injunction filed by the Munday board, stating that "he found no evidence of fraudulent action" upon the part of the county school board in acting upon petitions for allocation of this land to Knox City school.

Attorneys for the Munday schools immediately filed notice of appeal. The suit will now go to the Court of Civil Appeals for the 11th Supreme Judicial District at Eastland.

The three petitions seeking allocation of this land to the Knox City district were approved by the Knox County School Board on July 10. Sunset patrons had earlier voted to consolidate with the Munday schools. In the election June 16, the vote in the Sunset district was 84 to 77 in favor of consolidation, while Munday voted 300 to 9 in favor of the proposal.

Judge Chapman took the petition for injunction against the Knox City board under advisement on August 27, ruling in favor of the Knox City group Saturday. Chapman, who is judge of the 39th District Court at Haskell, sat on the bench in place of Judge Lewis M. Williams, who recused himself.

Rule Bobcats Next On Docket For The Moguls

The Moguls will "go a visiting" next Friday night for their fourth grid battle of the 1951 season.

They will take the short trek to Rule, where they will be entertained by the Rule Bobcats on Bobcat field.

Coaches Green and Stewart have the local boys at work again this week, giving them tough workout assignments and whipping them into shape to continue a better showing on the gridiron. The local boys have shown continued improvement in their brand of football, although they yet have to break into the win column.

Maybe this will take place at Rule, but not if the Bobcats have any authority over the decision.

The team will be accompanied to Rule by their pep squad and quite a large number of local fans.

HOME FROM KOREA

A TIME TO BE HEARD

(From the Farm Journal)

Every thoughtful American favors a defense program that will keep the U. S. free. The big defense job alone means high taxes. However, let's leave that to one side. Let's just look at the non-defense picture.

The Federal non-military expenditures of our government in 1930 were $2.7 billions. Last year they were $27.8 billions. Ten times as much! Was government ten times as useful to the people? And every dollar of taxes comes, one way or another, from the earnings of the people.

The Administration has encouraged the illusion that heavier taxation will reduce the inflation. That's the natural idea for the power-hungry politicians around Mr. Truman to adopt. They get to spend the tax money. They spend all they can get and more. If taxes do not take it, people can spend it themselves, or save it.

Can you explain why it causes inflation for you to spend a dollar you earn, but does not cause inflation if the government spends it?

Suppose you buy a pound of hamburger. Sure, that's demand against the meat supply. Could be inflationary.

Suppose you get a government job, and from your taxpaid salary buy a pound of hamburger. Is that less inflationary?

If taxes were high enough so that the government took in as much as it now spends, more inflation would result. Why? Because every one would try to raise his wages or prices to get enough extra money to pay his taxes, and to keep his take-home pay the same or better. More taxes are not the right answer to inflation.

The right answer is fairer taxes and less spending, among other things.

No Administration voice is raised for less spending. We heard Secretary of the Treasury Snyder the other day insist that the people must be encouraged to be thrifty and buy bonds. He said not a word about encouraging the government to be thrifty.

The Hoover Report two years ago showed how $3.4 billions could be saved, just by improved housekeeping. What happened. About $2 billions worth out of 300 definite suggestions were adopted by the last Congress. This Congress has adopted just one, and the other $3.5 billions still goes down the waste spout. Senator Byrd and other authorities say that $8 billions to $10 billions can be cut out.

Plainly, the government does not have to cost $27 billions for non-military services. But it will go on costing that much or more as long as spending gets more votes than saving. Those who never protest are always counted in favor of spending.

How well does the administration know that it is doing? Last February President Truman said that the government would need $16 billions in new taxes to pay its way this year. In April Secretary Snyder though $10 billions would do.

Now the House has passed a politically designed bill for $7.2 billions more—a bill that will encourage inflation, reduce the incentive to work, and that is thoroughly unscientific. It is now before the Senate.

The appropriations are still to come. Will the people get out their pens and pencils and tell Congress to stop throwing their money away? Elections are only 14 months away! Now is a good time to be heard.—Farm Journal.

TRUE "PROFIT CONTROL"

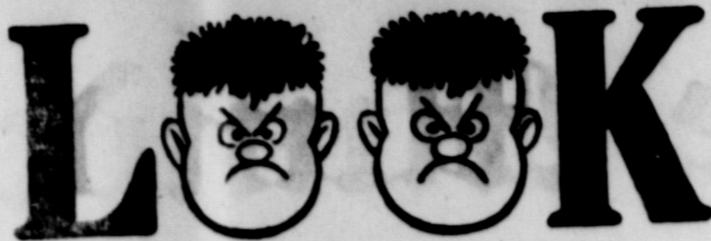

There has been a lot of talk about how much profit retailers should be allowed to make and just what formulae should be applied to OPS to take care of increases in wholesale prices, overhead expense, and other costs. OPS has, on several occasions, made changes in orders which proved to be workable, and which would have squeed profits so thin that retailers would have had to sharply cut their purchasing of stocks.

Entirely aside from these rather technical matters, the fact is that the best form of "profit control" ever devised by man does not lie in rules and orders and laws. It lies, instead, in free, open competition—along with the public's idea of what this item or that is worth. As an example, many commodities are now selling at prices just below the legal OPS-established level. The reason for that is that people just wouldn't buy at the higher price—and when that happens, competitive business seeks a price that the customers will pay.

Many people seem to think that retailers customarily keep, as profit, twenty cents and perhaps more out of each dollar that goes through the cash register. This is a highly fallacious assumption. Depending on the kind of goods sold and the rate of turnover, typical stores actually earn a profit of one to five cents out of that dollar. All the rest of the money goes to buy stock, to pay wages, taxes and rents, and to meet other unavoidable expenses.

Whether prices go up or down in the future, competition will be the big restraining factor on profits. Consumers are abnormally price-conscious today, and retailers, of sheer necessity, are doing everything they can think of to hold prices down.

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF., CITIZEN: "As recently as June 11, Dave Beck, executive vice-president of the AFL's international Brotherhood of Teamsters, warned in a nation-wide broadcast on 'Government Medicine—Danger Ahead!': 'Labor unions are in the forefront of voluntary health insurance development. There are now more than 72 million people insured under one or another of the prepaid medical plans. It is compulsion and interference with our individual freedom and initiative which lead to state control—dictatorship, Fascism, Communism. We want none of these things in America.'"

If singers are going to sing in English, why don't they?

If they mouthe the words so you can't recognize what they are saying, then they pronounce incorrectly. "Heaven" is "hea'n", not "heav-en" and "evil" is "evul" not "e-vil," to give two samples.

Some speakers, usually school superintendents or preachers, though only a small minority, thank goodness, also have an affected style of overly-precise pronunciation which diverts attention from what they are saying to the manner itself.

"Be natural; be yourself is a good rule for singers and speakers—in fact, it's a good rule for anybody anywhere.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23—What's behind the better prices for sheep and hogs?

That seems to be the $64 dollar question after the last week's improvement in prices on those kinds, especially old sheep, prices which climbed $1 to $2 per hundred.

Answer seems to lie in the direction that the scarcity of beef has turned the housewives in the direction of lamb, mutton, canned meats and sausages, as well as toward a larger amount of pork.

Cooler weather has helped in the increased consumption of pork, as well as the fact that it is a "best buy" at the meat counters because it is more plentiful than most other kinds of red meat.

There are various reasons for the shortage of beef. Packers are unable to buy more than 20 to 30 percent of the cattle and calves coming to Fort Worth and it seems to run about like that at most markets.

The extreme demand for stocker and feeder calves continues unabated and almost anything that looks suitable to go back to the country or into the feedlot is being bought by stocker and feeder buyers at prices far above the packers' ceiling prices, despite the slack given out by the OPS in last week's higher beef ceilings.

Another thing—rains this month in the Southwest have undoubtedly set the stage for increased stocker demand closer at home.

We get a weekly crop and market report from many of our Texas county agents. We could not help being a bit amused by this week's report from County Agent John L. Murphy of Falls County.

For many weeks, Murphy's report has been dry, dry, dry and included the details of reduced crops and livestock feeding, etc.

This week his report is signed in a flowing, bold hand and a couple of lines above the signature his report says, "With 11 to 14 inches of rain in the county, ranges should be in good condition for wintering cattle."

"HEART-SAVER" KITCHEN TO BE FEATURE OF STATE FAIR GAS EXHIBIT

New Heart-Saver Kitchen cuts in half both the time and the energy you spend in your kitchen. Visitors to the State Fair, in Dallas, can see the Heart Kitchen and three other new kitchen designs from the pages of national magazines at Lone Star Gas Company's Natural Gas Exhibit Building. All facilities in the kitchen are within 20 inches, or arm's reach, of the rolling kitchen stool. There is no stooping, no stretching. The kitchen was designed by the Woman's Home Companion, in cooperation with the American Heart Association and American Gas Association, and is featured in their October issue. Lone Star has reproduced it to the last detail for State Fair visitors.

Yep, we'd say so, too, John!

Wheat grazing prospects are top-notch in the Plains and Panhandle and some other sections of the winter grain belt. The impact has been felt at Fort Worth this week as buyers of cows and other cattle for such grazing really turned on the steam.

Load after load of old cows that are canner and cutter flesh are selling from $20 to $24, about $1 to $2 per hundred above their packer values under the OPS ceilings.

Here's a little success story that we picked up this week that points a moral to farmers. The moral is—diversify and include some hogs in your farm program. There is money to be made doing it instead of depending on farming of grain or cotton alone.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Goodwin of Limestone County visited my office the other day and told me about the eight pigs Mrs. Goodwin raised.

These pigs were five months and five days old. They weighed well over 20 pounds and brought $21 per hundred to Fort Worth.

Mr. Goodwin paid $160 for corn and $34.50 for supplement. The pigs cashed at $354.90, leaving a profit of $18.40 for take-home pay on her pig feeding deal.

Two loads of as fancy fed cattle as we have seen in many months landed here this week. W. T. (Bill) Bonner, widely known cattleman of Gainesville, had some 990-pound long-yearlings here that topped at $38 per hundred.

Another top feeder topped the Fort Worth market as he usually does the day he brings in his steers. C. G. Martin of Cedar Hill, had 14 steers in that averaged 964 pounds and brought $37.50.

Packers have been almost "jumping the fences" to buy old wees and weathers. Prices jumped every day during the week and closed $1 to $2 higher for the week. Canner ewes sold around $11 last week, brought $13 this week. Aged wethers reached a $19 top, the first time they have been that high in many, many moons.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bates and children, Jacqueline, Frank Ross and Raxanna, of Goree and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rice, Jr., of Dallas spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rice.

Miss Margie Lou Campsey, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Campsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Chaney and Nelson Melton of O'Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Jones of Lamesa visited Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Melton over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spann of Dallas visited Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann and Mr. and Mrs. John Spann over the week end.

Be careful. Observe state and local traffic laws.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Skip Makes a Slip

Miss Gilbert, the teacher, was telling me how Skip Lawson almost went to sleep in her physics class.

She noticed him nodding and—since they were discussing electricity—said in a loud voice: "Now maybe MR. LAWSON will explain what electricity is." Skip started up, looked around wildly, and blurted out, "Gee! I used to know, but I forgot."

"What a loss to science!" sighs Miss Gilbert. "No one to this day knows what electricity really is, and here we have a genius who could explain it—but forgot!"

From where I sit, I hope this taught Skip that you're better off if you admit you don't know all answers. Some grownups haven't learned that yet—like the ones who are always telling other people what's best and what's right and what's wrong. I like a temperate glass of beer, myself, but if you prefer buttermilk I won't argue. I've seen too many "know-it-alls" turn out to be wrong!

Farmers who use anhydrous ammonia are urged to be on the alert for hazards that might cause accidents. If this new source of nitrogen is handled properly and the right kind of equipment is used, it's no more dangerous to store and apply than the hazards that go with many other farm operations.

MESQUITE ERADICATION STEPS UP BEEF PRODUCTION

Beef production from an additional 12500 head of cattle is expected from the mesquite eradication being carried on under the Agricultural Conservation Program in five counties in Texas, according to J. C. McGee, chairman of the Knox County PMA Committee.

The mesquite is being sprayed by airplane with 2,4,5-T. Approximately 100,000 acres of land that one grew grass "stirrup high to a tall horse" is being treated to kill the mesquite that has crowded out the grass. The spraying is being done for about $3.25 per acre with the ACP sharing about half the list.

On the basis of experimental work at the Great Plains Experiment Station at Woodward, Oklahoma and the test plots in Texas, U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists estimate that ranchers in these five counties will be able to graze an additional 2500 head of cattle on the 100,000 acres treated as soon as the native grass has been given a chance to reseed and grow.

Estimates indicate that there are about 60,000,000 acres of good rangeland where mesquite and similar shrubs have crowded out the grass and taken over the range. The Texas results indicate that if all this range land were sprayed successfully it would provide feed for an additional 1,500,000 head of cattle.

The experiments have indicated that for maximum effectiveness the 2,4,5-T must be applied following a good rain. Sprayed at the right time the kill has been practically complete on the experimental plots.

McGee points out that the mesquite eradication work is a good example of how the Agricultural Conservation Program is serving to bring to individual farmers and ranchers the results of experimental work in improved methods of conservation. Through the use of assistance provided under the ACP the beneficial results of tested conservation methods are being introduced and widely adopted within a short time.

Texas cotton producers harvested an average of 205 pounds of lint per acre last year despite unfavorable weather and heavy insect infestations. This compares with the 1939-48 average of 170 pounds per acre.

FARM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

IS THERE ENOUGH LAND?

The 22 million increase in United States population since 1940—while cropland has remained practically the same for the past 30 years—raises the question as to whether or not our land can be made to produce enough to keep up with this rate of increase, says J. C. McGee, chairman of the Knox County PMA committee.

Up until the beginning of World War I, westward expansion took care of the increase of population, the chairman points out. As population increased farmers pushed farther west and took up new land; first over the Alleghenies, then to the Mississippi and on over the Rock Mountains to the Pacific. But at the beginning of World War I the frontiers were gone and only small tracts of land were available in a few places for homesteading.

However, during World War I, farmers plowed up 40 millions of acres of grasslands and put most of it into wheat. This helped to provide bread of workers and fighters during that war but led to serious erosion problems in later years of low rainfall.

Following the war farmers began to buy tractors and sell off their horses and mules. In 1950 this change over had made available for the production of food and fiber for human consumption another 65 million acres of land no longer needed to produce feed for hros khss seand fvy food for horses and mules.

The present emergency has brought sharply into focus the problem of providing enough food to meet current needs while taking the necessary steps to keep our land in condition to meet the needs of a further increase in population. At the present rate there will be 200 million people in this country in another 25 years.

According to McGee, the only hope for enough food and fiber for 200 million is to protect and improve the 400 million acres of cropland we now have. And for that reason Congress has provided the Agricultural Conservation Program, under which farmers are directly aided in carrying out needed soil and water conservation practices.

CHICAGO—"Inflationary forces are still at work," today declared Edward E. Brown, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Chicago. "It is highly important that they be restrained so that today's dollar—represented by savings accounts, life insurance policies fixed income from pensions old age assistance and from bonds—maintain its purchasing power over the years. One of the most efficient means to restrain inflation is for people of all classes and incomes to buy Government bonds."

Troy Harrell of Wyoming returned home Tuesday of this week after visiting with his mother, Mrs. Charley Harrell, and other relatives.

Mrs. Dee Clough and Mrs. Marshall Benner visited Miss Laura Bess Moylette, who is in the Bathania Hospital in Wichita Falls, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes Allen and H. H. Bledsoe of Canyon attended the Texas Tech and W. T. S. football game at Lubbock last Saturday.

Chaplains To Be Called To Duty

AUSTIN—Fourth Army area will be required to provide 38 new volunteer reserve chaplains out of the national quota of 300 needed by the army next spring. They are to replace those who will become eligible for relief from active duty, according to information received by Colonel C. M. Culp, Chief of the Texas Military District.

Denominationally, the tentative quota has been broken down as follows: Catholic, 4; Methodist, 5; Baptist (South) 13; Baptist (Colored) 5; Lutheran, 2; and other Protestant denominations, 9.

It was pointed out that the appointments in the Volunteer Reserve are to be made with the understanding that a call to active military service may reasonably be expected within one year from the date of appointment. An advance notice of 60 days will be given to each chaplain prior to the date he is ordered to active service, unless he specifically waives the period of notice. Applicants eligible for waivers must not have reached 38 years of age.

Insofar as possible, the new chaplains will be sent to the Chaplain School, Fort Slocum, N. Y., before reporting for first duty assignment.

Chaplain (Maj. Gen.) Roy H. Parker, Chief of Chaplains, stated it was not the desire of his office to require the involuntary services of the Reserve chaplains any longer than necessary. Chaplain Parker said further: "Obviously, the extremely critical nature of the world situation will necessitate keeping the Armed Forces at a high degree of strength for some time. As long as large numbers of men are under arms, the need for providing moral and spiritual leadership for them will continue to exist."

G. R. Eiland, son of Mrs. G. R. Eiland, Sr., of Lamesa was badly burned last Saturday night and is now in the Lamesa hospital. Latest reports are that he is recovering nicely.

The sofa is one of a group featured by S. Karpen Division, International Furniture Co. Similar open-arm chair also is available. Both sofa and chair rest on casters.

Here's integral plowing at its best... with an integral 2-bottom plow made especially for the John Deere ABG-2000 and MC-1000 Integral Tool Carriers.

It's a rugged plow with all the advantages of an integral plow plus the sensational safety trip standard, exclusive with this John Deere Plow. When an obstruction is hit in the field while plowing, the quick-acting spring release, built into the standard, allows the individual bottom to swing back, up, and over the obstacle. Chances of damaging the plow bottom, frame, or carrier are decreased measurably as are costly delays when plowing time is short.

Add quality workmanship, which is always yours in a John Deere Plow, and you'll agree—this is the plow for you. See us for complete details.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Tells The Cotton Farmers Just What Their Trouble Is; They Used Wrong Seed

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has reached a new limit in wild ideas this week, although his proposal does have a certain appeal.

Dear editor:
I ain't exactly what you'd call a cotton farmer. I ain't been so strong on plantin cotton ever since the year I decided to get rich on the stuff, planted all the land I could find to it, worked hard all spring and summer, and wound up with two notes at the bany instead of one, but I have been reflectin on the cotton situation throughout Texas this year and I think I know what the trouble is.

As you know, cotton was selling for 45 cents a pound just ahead of plantin time, and the government was callin for all the stuff the South could grow, but to pacify the townspeople it put a ceiling of 45 cents on the price, against which the cotton farmers dutifully railed and ranted in a sort of token way, as privately they would be delighted to get 45 cents for all the cotton they could grow. So at the government's behest, coupled with the private and legitimate wish to make honest money, the farmers turned loose and planted a lot of cotton. Was almost tempted to do it myself, but overcame the temptation by hard thinkin and intense fishin.

Well, as you know, despite the drouth, a big cotton crop turned up and the price started droppin. Dropped from 45 cents a pound to 35, then on down to 33, with down-graded cotton of course goin lower than that. There ain't nothin that'll lower the grade of cotton faster in the country than a light shower in town.

Now a lot of farmers are blamin the government, they're makin a little money on cotton but you can't plant for 45 cent cotton and wind up with 33 cent cotton to no advantage. That is, it ain't no get-rich-quick scheme. Not with every thing else goin up instead of down—tractors, fertilizer, seed, labor, taxes, etc.

But I think I know what the trouble is. The farmers planted the wrong variety. They planted anti-inflationary cotton in an inflationary year.

What the cotton farmer needs is a new variety of cotton, what they need is the First Year Inflationary type. With everything else goin up, you can't expect to get anywhere with cotton that goes down more than twenty-five percent right in the middle of the biggest inflation this country ever saw. Cotton that don't adapt itself to the times any better than that is mighty risky business.

If A. and M. College wants to render a real service to farmers it'll start workin right now on this new Inflationary Cotton, a variety you can depend on to kepp pace with the times and go up in price right along with tractors, repair bills, school teachers' salaries, automobiles, groceries, haircuts, plumbin, taxes, etc.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—As the weather turns cooler our thoughts turn to pork roast dinners, or perhaps waffles and sausage suppers. Pork is a palatable food, rich in protein, fat and vitamins. Properly prepared, it is a wise choice of food. Properly cooked pork is gray throughout. Undercooked pork is pink in color and should not be eaten because it is a common source of the disease trichinosis, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"You are perfectly safe from this disease as long as you eat of hogs that did not have trichinosis when they were butchered. But, the danger is real as long as you buy pork and pork products without finding out where they came from. It is equally real as long as you are not careful about what your own hogs eat. Most hog trichinosis comes from hogs eating uncooked garbage.

This disease is caused by a tiny, parasitic, round worm called trichina. It has a particular fondness for the animal's muscular tissue, and while still in the larval stage, becomes imbedded there. It is usually in this

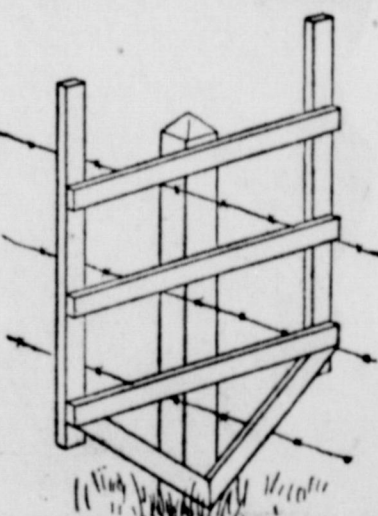

Stile Still in Style

STILES may be old-fashioned, but as long as there are barbed wire fences there will be stiles. Spotted at strategic locations, stiles will save clothing, tempers and walking to a gate. Besides, the fence will last longer.

The stile shown in the illustration is simple to build and easy to climb.

Uprights, made of 1 by 3-inch lumber, should extend 18 inches above the top wire so they may be used as supports when climbing over. Each of the cross-pieces is 35 inches long cut from lumber of the same dimensions and nailed to the fence post directly above each strand of wire. The braces underneath are nailed to the post and the uprights.

To protect the wood, paint the stile. It will last much longer and be safer.

stage when the animal is killed. People eating the meat without taking proper precautions swallow these larvae. From the mouth they go to the stomach. Then the larvae bore into the walls of the intestines. Here they grow rapidly and migrate into the blood stream, causing fever, intense pains in the muscles, swelling and a high white bloodcell count.

Moguls Downed By Rochester; But Show Fight

Fighting valiantly all the way, but fighting a losing battle, the Munday Mogus took their third defeat of the season here last Friday night at the hands of the clicking, fast-romping Rochester Steers.

Sonny Lang, George Spann, Omer Yarbrough, Ken Stubblefield, Herbert Ford and others of the Mogus squad never gave up the fight, as the odds continued to stack up against them on the scoreboard. The locals lost the game, but they won a victory—a moral victory in being able to put up battle until the final whistle.

A chilly north wind kept some fans at home, and those who attended the game hovered in blankets, jackets and overcoats in an effort to keep warm. Many departed before the game was over.

Led by Eugene Parker, a shift-back who ran wild for touchdown after touchdown, the visiting Steers handed the locals a decisive 46-6 defeat. Parker reeled off scoring runs of 90, 31, 70 and 30 yards for four of the counters for the Steers. Clark scored another on a 50-yard gallop, and he also ran over four extra points for the Steers, who never attempted an extra point kick.

The Moguls showed their fighting spirit late in the final period when Sonny Lang passed 20 yards to Virgil Weaver for their only counter. Also in this quarter they held the stubborn Steers in a gallant goal-line stand that prevented what seemed an almost certain touchdown.

"Here's the tire I want!"

GOOD YEAR SUPER-SURE-GRIP TRACTOR TIRE

First choice for 2 reasons!

1. Deeper soil penetration — greater pull. Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip — don't "plow out" soil at the sides.
2. Balanced straight lug tread design — longer wear. Goodyear open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug works equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly.

Goodyear Super-Sure-Grips don't cost a penny more. Get them for your tractor.

We Have The Tires!

If you are interested in tractor tires, we have them in stock for both front and rear wheels. Our prices are right—made to fit your purse. Come down our way, and let's trade!
