

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

We apologize to all Baptist of Munday, and to one Baptist preacher at Groom.

Rev. Robert H. Lloyd, who will be here to preach his first sermon as pastor of the Munday Baptist Church on Sunday, November 28, was in to see us last week.

At that time he had accepted the call to Munday, but was still pastor at Groom.

But from reading The Times last week, one couldn't tell just who the pastor is.

We called him Rev. Lloyd of Groom at first, but the town of Groom seemed to get wedged in between our two brain cells and we called the preacher Rev. Groom in several places in the news story.

He's not Rev. Groom, but is Rev. Lloyd who has been pastor at Groom, but who is coming to Munday.

Our guess is that he'll be to Munday, but he and his family will make a valuable addition to our community.

So, along with our apology for calling him Rev. Groom, we also extend the new Baptist pastor our best wishes as he begins his efforts among us. May his pastorate be a fruitful one.

We're surely being having some pretty days—if we need that kind of weather.

Wheat farmers are beginning to get worried, but something about the weather is worrying most any of us could do at most any time.

The time isn't far off when, during an ordinary year, wheat would be making winter pasturage. But it's far from that stage now.

Have reports that some farmers are dusting it in. That's planting with hope. And without hope, our worries would be multiplied.

The weather, wrong for the wheat farmer, remains right for the cotton farmers who are in the process of getting out the remainder of their cotton.

So it's not all wrong. Which brings to mind a quotation we saw in a recent magazine.

"Nothing is all wrong. Even a clock that has stopped running is right twice a day."

The Moguls could mess up things, but good, for the Haskell Indians.

It's homecoming down at Haskell Friday, when the Moguls go there for the 8-A conference game. The Indians are neck and neck with Albany for the district title—and how the Moguls could put the dimmer on those title hopes by upsetting the Indians.

The Moguls could go into a three-way tie that way—if they beat the Indians and the tribe, trounces the Albany Lions.

A far fetched idea, maybe, but possible, altogether possible. The Moguls have improved a lot, you know.

FUN NIGHT FOR FRIENDS NEW 'TEENAGE ACTIVITY

Not 4-F, but 3-F—fun, food, fellowship, is the emphasis on Munday's newest teenage activity sponsored by the Methodist women which is to begin Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Methodist Church.

The open house for youth is non-denominational, the sole purpose of which is to create a wholesome atmosphere in which young people may meet their friends for a care-free evening of fun. The third Monday of each month has been set aside for 3-F night. All teenagers are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowden spent several days this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Edwards and daughters in Waco.

Enumerators Find Farmers 'Too Busy' To Give Information For Ag. Census

Farmers who seem reticent toward giving information required on the agricultural census now under way in this area have been causing enumerators some concern, according to James Peacock of Vernon, crew leader for Baylor, Wilbarger and Knox counties. Mr. Peacock said enumerators find many farmers "too busy" to give the information.

"As a matter of fact," Mr. Peacock said, "it takes only about five minutes to complete the questionnaire, and we will appreciate help of all farmers so the census can be completed as early as possible."

"The census law requires that all farmers give necessary information to complete the questionnaires. Forms have been mailed out to farmers, and we ask as many as can to fill these out before the census enumerators call."

"The main information is on farm operations, and does not concern 'farm information,' he continued. "The information can not be used for taxation or any other purpose than the census. Farmers are not required to sign these forms."

"The information contained in this census will be used by county agents, farm bureaus, and other farm agencies to gain a general picture of farm operations in the United States. The help of all farmers in getting the census accurate and complete is urgently requested."

Moguls To Play District Game At Haskell Friday

One of the most important games in District 8-A will be reeled off Friday night when the Munday Moguls meet their traditional rivals, the Haskell Indians, on Indian field. It will unfold another chapter in the two-way fight between defending Albany and the Indians for the 1954 championship.

Game time is 7:30 p. m. Friday.

The Moguls, with only one district loss, could throw the title in a three way tie by defeating Haskell, then the Indians defeating Haskell, then the Indians defeating Albany next week.

Last week the Indians knocked off the Merkel Badgers out of the 8-A race, 14-0, while Albany walloped Roby's Lions, 63-14, and Munday took Roscoe, 21-6. The Moguls' win over Roby was by a score of 52-0, and they have yet to play Merkel.

The Moguls are taking on tough assignments this week under the guidance of Coach Stewart in the hope of upsetting the Indians' homecoming game. A complete sell-out is expected for this game, one of the tops of the week in this area.

New '55 Fords To Be Displayed Here On Friday

On Friday, November 12, Reeves Motor Company, Ford dealers for this area, will introduce the completely new 1955 model Ford cars and trucks in their showrooms.

Mighty engines, mightier than in any Ford before, supply its exciting horsepower.

"We invite you to see for yourself," the dealers stated. "And we tell you in advance you'll be amazed, for this new Ford is totally new—outside, inside, and in thrillingly different performance."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—This is the time of the year that usually marks an increase in the incidence of whooping cough. Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, said today that strenuous efforts should be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"The only source from which whooping cough may be contracted is another case of whooping cough, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced to prevent its spread," Dr. Holle stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," he declared. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious." The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists night and day and tends to become increasingly severe. This disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Holle stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children, until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum." Dr. Holle asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so may seriously impair the child's health."

GIFTS FOR THANKSGIVING

From your heart, give a portion of beauty today. To your friends, they are fashioned, and minded that way.

Lend measures of comfort, when zero is the hour. Remembering always, God grants you the power.

We ask mercy, and system, with the will to try. As we mortally trek, toward the land, in the sky.

Then awareness of blessings, from Thy bountiful Hand. Understanding, we adore Thee, forever: Amen.

CATTLE RUNS HEAVY ALL ACROSS NATION

FORT WORTH—Movement of cattle and calves to market last Monday was heavy all across the country. Sizeable numbers of cows and calves were reported in the receipts from most major markets.

Some observers expressed the view that in many of the drought hit sections of the nation cow owners view the approach of winter with some fears as to the ability of some of their cows to make it through till spring without heavy supplemental feeding. The expense of this feeding in many cases looked too great for the gamble.

Large numbers of calves were reported at Corn Belt points again, indicating again that country trading and contracting had been restricted in recent weeks.

Cows and bulls suffered sharp declines at virtually all markets and at Fort Worth, prices were fully 50c lower and some spots off more. Slaughter calves were 50 cents or more lower, some spots $1 off on the commoner kinds. Exception was the small offering of fancy fat calves which sold steady.

Fed steers and yearlings ruled steady to 50 lower. Numerous loads of steers of the average choice kinds from $21 to $23.50, two loads at the latter figure from Carter County, Okla., from Daube Company, and old timers on the market recalled that the late Sam Daube of Bowie, over a period of many, many years topped the steer market at Fort Worth many, many times. His son, Leon Daube, now supervises the cattle operations of Daube Company with headquarters in Oklahoma and has topped the steer market here several times in recent months.

Fat cows sold mostly from $8 to $10, with a few smooth high-yielders able to get $11 sparingly. Canners and cutters drew $5 to $8. Bulls sold from $7 to $12, few over $11.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves bulked at $14 to $17.50 and common and medium butcher sorts sold from $9 to $13, with culls from $6 to $9. Some fancy heavyweights of yearling weights reached $18 and above.

Good and choice stocker steer calves and stocker steer yearlings cashed at $15 to $19.50 and the plainer sorts sold from $10 to $13. Replacement cows cleared at $7 to $12.

WOOLED LAMBS TOP MONDAY AT $20.00

Good and choice slaughter lambs in the wool sold from $17 to $20, and the shorn lambs with no. 1 or No. 2 belts sold at $18.50 downward. Common and medium slaughter lambs drew $11 to $16 and culls sold around $8 to $11.

Stocker and feeder lambs of good and choice kinds sold from $14 to $16.50, while commoner kinds sold around $12 to $13. Breeding ewes cashed at $6 to $12 according to age, quality, etc.

Old bucks cleared around $4.

Slaughter ewes drew $15.00 to $6. Aged wethers cashed at $6 to $11, and yearling muttons sold around $11 to $15, some cull yearlings around $8 to $10.

Reliable outlets for replacement sheep and lambs was a strong prop under the market and expectations that recent rains would bring some good grain pastures along in good shape portended well for continued demand for suitable kinds.

The movement of sheep and lambs to market all around the nation in recent weeks has been running well behind the same time last year, a factor that has helped the dressed meat trade on lamb in the East to present a stable appearance.

HOGS TOP AT $20.00 AND $20.25 MONDAY

Sharply higher prices were paid for butcher hogs at Fort Worth Monday on heels of the report of curtailed hog runs at Corn Belt points. The trade interpreted this to mean that there would be fewer surplus hogs in that area offered to Southwestern packers, and this resulted in advances of 50 cents to 75 cents per hundred Monday.

PLANNING, MANAGEMENT AND RAIN ANSWER TO REAL WINTER PASTURES

Rain alone will not provide the grass needed for winter grazing. A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says planning and management of the range may be just as important as the supply of moisture in determining how much grass will be available for livestock feed during the winter period.

Walker points out that many areas of the state received heavy rains only a short time ago but because the soil was bare much of it was lost to run-off. Planning and management would have helped the situation.

Now that winter is at hand, the specialist says livestock producers should save all of the feed they possibly can as bundles, hay or silage. If feed must be purchased, buy it now, he says. Plant annual grazing crops and here he points out that producers should save all of the feed they possibly can as bundles, hay or silage. If feed must be purchased, buy it now, he says. Plant annual grazing crops and here he points out that pro-topped at $20 to $20.25, and the off-weights, cold bloods, mediums, etc., sold from $17 to $19.75. Sows were fully steady at $14 to $18, a few choice lightweights at $18.50.

ducers who dusted in small grains and legumes are far ahead of those who waited for rain.

He says that pastures which have been deferred should not be grazed until after frost because livestock will graze off the seed heads before they have a chance to fall to the ground. He suggests that a protein supplement of one to two pounds for cattle and an eighth to a quarter pound for ewes be fed each day where the livestock is running on dry grass.

Finally, the specialist points out, droughts are not new to Texas and urges livestock producers to plan their operations and manage them to take care of the drought years.

Cost-conscious livestock producers can cut labor requirements by self feeding cattle on a salt and protein supplement mixture. County agents can supply information on the subject.

The application of the right kind of fertilizer will materially increase the value of small grain pastures. lege Station, Texas.

COMBATING A LOSS
Chemical weed control has become common farm practice in the last decade. And no wonder! Only soil erosion costs farmers more than loss from weeds.

Scientists have developed numerous herbicides which now supplement improved cultural practices. These chemicals can be used at low pressure and low gallonage as pre-planting, pre-emergence, post-emergence and soil sterilization treatments.

But do not look for a single super-herbicide that will kill all weeds and harm no crops. That is unlikely, because all crop plants and weeds are closely related. Today's trend is toward specialization. A specific chemical for a specific purpose.

There are hundreds of compounds and they all affect plants in different ways. The result depends on how well the chemical is absorbed and translocated in the plant; the plant's genetic background and germination, and how long the chemical persists in plant and soil.

A compound may kill one plant but not affect another. The same compound may be harmless to the leaves but deadly when used as a pre-emergence treatment. So it is important to have a screening technique that measures a chemical's overall activity. Such techniques are being developed by plant scientists in the course of weed research.

This broad systematic herbicide evaluation program links manufacturers with state experimental stations, searching for new compounds with local uses. Some 400 new chemicals have been evaluated during the past few years. Several that seem promising are under more intensive study.

For the individual farmer, however, effective weed control still depends upon his own ability to choose a herbicide to combat particular weeds among particular crop plants. Information and advice are available from the Plant and Quarantine Division, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, 14, Texas.

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

The Cotton Improvement meeting and barbecue held last Thursday night was one of the best farmer's meetings I have ever worked with. About 200 farmers turned out for this meeting, which is a good indication of the interest that is being taken in cotton and cotton improvement.

The meeting was under the direction of Mr. L. B. Patterson, chairman of the Three County Cotton Improvement Association. The association includes all the farmers, ginners and others interested in cotton improvement in the three county area.

Results of the variety tests made this year were given by Mr. Roy Saunders, who stated that "A man's judgment is never better than his information." He gave a review of the tests made in the past by the Agricultural Experiment Stations and here in Knox, Baylor and Haskell counties. Following this he discussed the test made this year. There were 19 variety tests completed in the three counties, with each test having 10 different varieties of cotton that are most common in this area. Average yields over the 19 tests showed the following in pounds of lint cotton per acre: Deltapine-309 lbs., Western Profit-267 lbs., Locket-234 lbs., Empire-231 lbs., Paymaster-229 lbs., Northern Star-228 lbs., Hi-Bred-219 lbs., Lankart No. 57-207 lbs., Quaila-204 lbs., and Lankart No. 611-198 lbs.

The farmers who grew the tests, county agents, agricultural teachers, bankers and others discussed the program, pointing out the value of the program and ways it could be improved.

Variety testing of cotton is almost as old as the cotton industry and everyone will agree that there is a great deal of difference between varieties. With the good information we have here in the three counties, I feel sure that the farmers can pick one of the best varieties now available. If, through the cotton improvement association, one of the top varieties were selected and all of the farmers grow it, we would not only greatly increase the number of bales grown each year, but we would have a standard product of high quality, which would always be in demand at the cotton mills at a premium price.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Works Out System Whereby All Football Players Can Leave Stadium Happily

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an unworkable idea on football this week, but most of his ideas on most topics are unworkable, the same as he is.

Dear editor:

After reading my letter to the Times last week discussin football, one of my neighbors asked me how come I was writin about football, since it was entirely out of my field, but I explained to him I was only followin custom, the fellow who knows least about farmin is frequently the fellow who has the most to say about how farmin ought to be done, and I was usin the same principle.

As I said last week, the trouble with football is that too many fans are coming away from the big college games every Saturday afternoon unhappy over the results, on account of the nature of the game, one side has to lose, and I said I had worked out a plan to eliminate this.

The thing to do is play the game without any spectators on hand on Saturday morning, take complete motion pictures, and they cut the film up in sections, with one-half showing all the fine plays your side made, the other section showing all the good plays the other side made, let the spectators file into the stadium as usual Saturday afternoon, play the school songs, stand up for the kick-off, then settle back down to watchin the movies of the game. With a two-sided screen in the middle of the field, one side showing favorable pictures of your team, the other showing those for the opponents, everybody could have a fine time and come away feelin victorious.

The only thing about this is the score. Word would leak out on which side won, but if the radio stations and newspapers would hold up for a few hours, most fans would have forgotten how important it was to win and would be at home thinkin about something else. Or if this system don't work, why not eliminate the stadiums altogether, and each Saturday send out on television seven different games filmed in previous years, each one showing one of the seven teams in the Southwest Conference winning. I figure they've got enough films on hand to show a game a week during the fall for the next ten years, after which they could revive the game, film up some more games, and be set for another ten years. If you don't think any of this will work, you ought to see some of the advice I get on how to run this farm out here. It won't work either.

Yours faithfully,

TWO NEW BULLETINS ON POULTRY READY BY EXTENSION DEPT.

COLLEGE STATION—A chicken farm offers steady income if managed as a business rather than a hobby or sideline. This summarizes, "Planning for the Business of Poultry Farming", a new bulletin by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The publication is designed for persons considering going into commercial egg or broiler production and explains in detail many facts of raising poultry for market.

It itemizes equipment, land and buildings needed for a 1,000 hen laying flock and lists equipment necessary for the establishment of a 3,000 bird broiler house.

It points out advantages and disadvantages of cage and floor methods of egg production and touches upon hatching, egg production and broiler raising. This bulletin, teamed with another recent publication, "Poultry Houses for Texas", contains information helpful to all poultrymen.

Adequate housing is one of the basic essentials of any poultry operation, it says. Type of buildings, location, foundations and materials to use in construction are covered. The importance of proper ventilation and artificial lighting also are explained.

Copies of B-243 and B-240 are available from offices of county agricultural agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College, Station, Texas.

Moguls Garner Conference Tilt From Plowboys

Taking a first quarter 7-0 lead over their hosts, the Munday Moguls took another decisive District 8-A victory last Friday night by defeating the Roscoe Plowboys 21 to 6 at Roscoe. This was the eighth defeat for the Plowboys this year.

Munday's record is a better one, the Moguls having won six and lost two during the season and hold a 3-1 record in district play.

Wyman Tidwell scampered the last 14 yards in the opening quarter for the first score of the game. "Skip" Cure added the extra point. Cure's extra point kick was good after all three touchdowns.

Rodney Hastings scored for Roscoe on a quarterback sneak that got Roscoe back in the game late in the second quarter, as the half ended, 7-6.

Not content with this close score, Glenn Amerson and Cure each added counters in third quarter to give the Moguls the 21-6 lead. Cure ran 35 yards for his touchdown, and Amerson rammed over from the one after his 20-yard punt had set up the score.

A good crowd of Mogul fans attended the game to see the improved Moguls in action.

Dick Ponder of Texas Tech in Lubbock, was a week end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ponder.
