It's an important school organization.

It does much to advertise the school; and, in so doing, gives the town some good advertising, too.

It adds pep and zest, color and rhythm to many school activities. Football games would be rather dull without it. It's called on to add flavor to other meetings of the school and town.

We miss it at the beginning of the football season. Somehow the game is not what it should be until it's there to add its part to the activities.

And so, we proclaim again—the Munday Mogul Band is an important organization, giving students who are not active in athletics, etc., an extra-curricular activity.

The boys and girls of the band, dressed in colorful uniforms, tooting away on their instruments, keeping step with the music, performing their drills between halves, playing introductory music for school events, Chamber of Commerce banquets, etc. Shucks! We just like it all.

And the Mogul Band has been doing a good job this season under the capable direction and leadership of Harold Jackson, director.

It's had support, too, from parents and other interested persons who compose the Band Booster Club.

The club works toward helping the band to make trips, secure instruments for the members, and to secure members.

Recently the band was divided into two organizations. One—going into effect next school year—will be the junior high school band and will perform for all junior high activities. The other will be the senior high school band which will lead its color and music to the high school activities.

The Mogul Band will be featured in its annual Spring concert Thursday night of this week at the school auditorium. Its members will play intricate numbers, various instrumental solos, etc., and the program should be well attended.

They're having 300 programs printed for the concert. It would certainly be nice if the crowd was so large the programs wouldn't go around. Support the band, and in so doing you are supporting your school and town.

Hopes were boosted, smiles were broadened, steps were quickened, and hearts were made lighter by the wonderful rains which came to practically all of Texas during the week.

We won't have to reckon time according to our "recent operation" any more. Now we can refer to back yonder "before the drouth was broken."

What we received wasn't a tank filling rain. It came with "such nicety" that practically all of the life-giving moisture soaked well into the thirsty soil, and there was very little runoff.

Coming home from Berger Sunday, we drove a little over 100 miles in the rain—one of the nicest drives in the rain we ever had.

But as we passed through Memphis, the rain stopped. We sorta experienced sinking spells as we continued on homeward, noticing small puddles on occasion beside the highway. But these seemed to become less frequent, and we feared that good old Knox County had not been favored.

We felt better when we reached Munday and found water puddled in low places. We felt fine Monday morning as we came to work in the rain. We felt splendid that afternoon when we asked H. P. Hill how much it rained, and he announced 2.40 inches.

Wasn't it wonderful?

THE RAIN! DIDN'T IT FALL NICELY?

Knox County's 4-H Boys Attend Tractor School

A County-wide 4-H Tractor Maintenance School was held Saturday at Munday with 4-H boys from parts of the county attending. The school was under the direction of W. J. Bryan, County Agent, who was assisted by each of the tractor dealers in Munday who furnished a tractor for the boys to study and also each dealer gave a talk on one of the different phases of tractor maintenance.

The 4-Hers were given eight lessons on tractor maintenance, covering Tractor Safety; Study of the Operators Manual; Air Cleaner Service; Spark Plug, Wiring, and Battery Service; Cooling System Service; Fuel Intake and Carburetion; Engine Lubrication; and General Lubrication.

Each of the boys were given a maintenance book which they are to fill out at home using their farm tractor. Bryan pointed out that there is a great deal of difference between tractor drivers and tractor operators, and that he believed each of the boys would be more efficient operators after filling out the books.

Following the Maintenance School, an operators contest was held where the boys showed their skill in driving a tractor. Winners in the contest were Thomas Decker, Rhineland; first; and Maynard Moore, Rhineland, second; Bobby Miller, Sunset, third; Glen Phillips, Munday, fourth; and Derrell Coffman, Vera, fifth.

Weather Report

For seven days ending 7 P. M. April 14, 1954, as compiled by H. P. Hill, U. S. Weather Observer.

Table with columns for dates and precipitation amounts. Includes rows for 1954-1953 and 1954-1953 precipitation totals.

"I'll say one thing—it fell as nice as any rain I ever saw."

That's what everyone says about the rain which came Sunday and Monday, bringing an end to the drouth situation locally, temporarily at least.

It started in with a shower during the early morning hours Sunday which brought around an inch locally. This shower did not extend over a large area, dying out a short distance to the west and southeast.

Low clouds hung over the area during the day, and began dumping the welcomed moisture Sunday night. The slow, steady downfall continued until about noon Monday. Harvey Hill, local U. S. weather observer, went out and read his rain gauge. Tuesday afternoon he reported that Munday had received 2.40 inches.

Moisture falling since that time brought the total to 2.59 inches.

And that, friends, is a pretty nice rain. Before it was over, some remarked that we'd received enough to make the moisture meet.

The moisture revived the dying wheat and changes what looked like a near failure to a situation that promises a pretty fair wheat crop in this section. It places farm lands in excellent condition for spring planting, revived withered personalities and brings hope for a 1954 crop. Practically all sections of the county reported from 2 to 2 1/2 inches.

The rains extended over nearly all of drouth-stricken Texas and into New Mexico. "Another good thing about the rain," some person said, "is that the area to the southwest of us, where we get our hot winds, also received moisture."

The dark picture of only a few days ago has taken on a silver lining. Things are on the up-and-up in Knox County! Rain makes the difference!

School Board Names Officers For New Year

Local Marine In Iwo Jima Operation

Marine Pfc. Alejandra G. Torres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Torres of Route 1, Munday, landed in Iwo Jima with the 3rd Marine Division during the recent "Operation Flag Hoist."

Nine years and a month after the first landing, the Marines came through the surf and dug out a beachhead in the familiar volcanic ash, amid ruins of World War II. They powered their way inland, directing their attacks against an "enemy" force acted out realistically by the 2nd Battalion, 4th Marines, who had spent a month digging in for the "battle."

Following successful completion of the mission—to seize, occupy and defend Iwo Jima—memorial services were held for the more than 4,000 Marines and sailors who gave their lives in 1945 to take the island for use as an American airbase.

GOREE POST OFFICE DOES MORE BUSINESS

Pete Beecher, postmaster at Goree, has reported an increase of business for that post office. ### DEATHLESS RECORD

The thousands of country weekly and smaller city daily newspapers in the United States stand in a unique position.

Absolutely nothing takes the place of the home-town paper. It leaves a printed record of community life and activity that can be found nowhere else.

For an example, take the Reese River Reville of Austin, Nevada, published in the geographical center of a state having a population of less than 2 persons to each of its 109,000 square miles of area.

The Reville has been published continuously since May 16, 1863, two years after the first telegraph line across Nevada replaced the Pony Express.

The files of the Reville, prescribed in the courthouse vault, are said to be the only complete files of any Nevada newspaper dating back to territorial days.

All of which points up the fact that the local newspapers in every corner of our country furnish a deathless record of the people and the area they serve.

Local history is recorded and preserved by the country press of the nation—hopes, aspirations, facts, drama, marriages, births, deaths, political events, legal records—the whole chain of human activity.

A town without a local newspaper is like a phonograph without a record.

WHO GETS INDUSTRY'S PROFITS?

A report, based on Department of Commerce data, reveals that during the seven-and-a-half years ending last June 30th American corporations earned a total profit of $261 billion. What happened to the money will come as a surprise to many.

First of all, close to half of it—$120 billion—went for taxes. Expansion of facilities to $33 billion, and replacement of worn-out facilities accounted for $49 billion. This left $59 billion, less than one-quarter of the profits, which went to shareholders—the people whose savings made the existence of industry possible. And much of that also wound up in the tax collectors' hands, via the personal income tax route.

All of us have a big personal stake in policies that help to maintain prosperous, progressive enterprise—and government has the biggest stake of all.

COMMUNISM BORROWS FROM CAPITALISM

The Kremlin is undeviating in its denunciation of capitalism. But, on occasion, the masters of Russia find it necessary or wise to borrow techniques and ideas from the capitalist nations, notably the United States.

An interesting instance is described in a story from the AP's Moscow bureau. It seems that the Soviet press, which always reflects government policy, has been criticising Soviet industry—which, of course, is a government monopoly on both the producing and distributing levels—for a poor job of advertising. The ads have been insufficiently informative and have lacked pulling power. So the order has gone out to correct matters as part of the current campaign to "give the Soviet common man a better living standard."

It remains to be seen what this will do for the Russian consumer—up to now most goods have been in chronic short supply, of inferior quality, and excessively high priced, and it will take a lot more than better advertising to cure the situation. And it's difficult to understand how the consumer will ever get a decent break under a system which outlaws competition, and in which he has to take what the bosses want him to give or go without.

In a competitive system such as ours, on the other hand, goods are aggressively advertised and promoted by both their makers and the stores which sell them—and they have to live up to the claims or the American consumer will switch with lightning rapidity to another brand. Under our system, in short, the merchandise has to be good and it has to be priced fairly, or it soon disappears from the market.

IT'S THIS SIMPLE

Endless millions of words have been spoken and written in debating the socialized electric power question. But the fundamental issue can be briefly and simply described.

The production and sale of electricity is a commercial enterprise, like the production and sale of foods, machinery, periodicals, and everything else we buy and use. So, if it is proper for the government to go into the power business, it is equally proper for government to provide any and all other goods and services.

Any honest advocate of socialized power, should be willing for government to engage in his business as well.

BE NOT DECEIVED

—By Ted W. McElroy.

THE MISNOMER

Isa. 5:20: "Woe unto thee that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter." In this deception the names are changed on items of conduct to confound and overthrow the distinctions between good and evil. Think of the tragedy that would result if the labels on the elements in the pharmacist's laboratory were changed, medicines would be incorrectly compounded and many would die by the medicine intended to restore their health. If in your medicine cabinet an enemy took aspirins out of the box and substituted bichloride of mercury tablets, the deception would work to your suicide. So today in the moral and spiritual realm many sins are paraded before us in attractive names. Cheating and dishonesty are called shrew business. Drinking and drunkenness parade across the printed page as a social grace and an essential step to social acceptance and a good time. Immodesty is called glamor; lust is disguised under the name of love. Moral virtue is belittled with the stigma, old-fashioned. Be not deceived by misnomer, for many are led to moral ruin by deceptive labels on items of conduct.

Do Evil That Good May Come

Rom. 3:8: "And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), let us do evil that good may come, whose damnation is just." Paul taught that the idea that good can come out of doing evil was a slander, therefore the saying, "The end justifies the means" is a lying deception. Robin Hood and Jesse James, legendary heroes, set forth the deception that evil of robbery is all right, if some of the proceeds are given to do good for the poor. Every innovation from the New Testament pattern comes in the garb and guise of a "good work", and the specious claim of good work is intended to silence questions or criticisms of the methods, schemes or organization. The deception is, the Lord's revealed will is inadequate, so there is need to depart from the Lord's way to accomplish a "good work"—and the good work justifies the departure. This is the way the progressives justify their missionary society. Be not deceived, evil, unrighteous means never accomplish lasting good, but always finally come to an unrighteous end.

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

The old-time actor, Otis Skinner, tells in his book about a Boston theatre manager named John Stetson—that name somehow sounds familiar.) Anyway, Stetson made a trip to Europe and when he landed, he said, "I'm glad to be on terra cotta again."

Stetson was going to present a tableaux of the Last Supper. He complained that the stage didn't look full enough. His assistant said, "But there were only 12 apostles." Stetson replied, "I know what I want—gimme 24."

Reminds me of the colonel in the Civil War who heard that 17 men in a rival regiment had been baptised. He shouted, "Order 34 men out for baptism; we are not going to let the 18th Regiment beat us."

The combination of Moody and Sankey was perhaps the greatest in evangelistic history.

Moody was conducting a revival and, as a writer expressed it, Sankey happened to drift in. There was no one to lead the singing, so Sankey led it. Moody said, "You're the man I have been looking for for the last eight years." I don't believe, however, that Sankey "just happened to drift in"; he was there because of a Great Plan and a Great Planner.

A favorite saying with Dwight L. Moody was, "Don't wait for something to turn up. Go and turn up something."

I don't care what statistics may show; I'll always consider Christy Mathewson the greatest pitcher that ever was. When his speed began to fade, he perfected a new pitch, the "fade-away." Mainly, though, he pitched with his head, studying batters' weaknesses, taking his time, putting the ball where he wanted it. It was said that he never, in all his career, disputed a call by an umpire. He pitched the deciding game in a world's series and if any one of three things hadn't happened, he would have won: the catcher dropped a third strike; batter hit a foul fly that the first baseman could have caught but didn't try for and the batter then made a hit that led to a run and, lastly, the center-fielder dropped a fly. But Mathewson never uttered a word of criticism. He was a great sportsman; none greater. He lost his life as the result of the First World War. He served in the gas warfare division and contracted tuberculosis, which proved fatal.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duke and daughter, Joan, of Wichita Falls visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lemley were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lemley in Wichita Falls.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

By Senator "Cotton" George

By Senator George Moffett

The special session of the Texas Legislature which closed last Tuesday dealt principally with an increase in the minimum pay for Texas public school teachers and with the passage of a law to curb Communists.

A definite year to year increase in student enrollment in our public schools made it necessary to raise the minimum salary scale for teachers so that enough more teachers would be attracted into the profession to fill the needs of the schools. The proper training of our children should never be neglected. Such training is one of the basic purposes of good government. Furthermore, it is well established that Communism flourishes best in countries which do not have a good public school system.

The Legislature adopted the compromise plan proposed by the Governor's 25-member Statewide committee. This plan was a give and take proposition for all concerned. Among other things, it provides that the local districts shall furnish 20% of the cost of maintaining the public free school system and the State shall furnish 80%, with the further proviso, however, that each district shall have deducted from its 20% a sum equal to $100 for each teacher in its school system. This really means about 17% local support. If the local districts are to retain local control over the operation of their schools, which is, of course, very desirable, it follows that the local districts must contribute a reasonable amount to the maintenance of the schools. The 80% State support and 20% local support, less $100 per teaching unit, certainly seems a reasonable compromise. At least, many sound thinkers felt it was. It was an integral part of the plan submitted by the 25-member State-wide committees and, all things considered, this compromise was as near fair for all concerned as it was possible to pass. It is the best long range plan ever passed for the local districts. The original Gilmer-Alkin bill passed five years ago called for 25% support of the public schools by the State. This new 20-80 plan definitely does not mean an increase in local taxes unless a district desires to pay its teachers more than the minimum State-wide salary scale or to hire more teachers in the future than it now has.

I would be glad to receive comment on this entire subject between now and the next regular session in order that further changes may be made, if needed, at that session.

Gin Operators Schools Slated For April 19-20

Cotton gin owners and their employees are passing up a good bet if they fail to attend one of the cotton gin operators schools scheduled for April 19-20. According to E. H. Bush, extension cotton gin specialist, practical information on the operation, maintenance and repair of gin machinery will be given.

Three of the schools will be held in Dallas at the Continental Gin Company; Murray Gin Company and Lummus Cotton Gin Company. The Hardwicke-Etter Gin Company of Sherman will be the location for the fourth—all on April 19-20. The John E. Mitchell Company, also of Dallas, will participate in certain of the schools.

Bush says factory trained engineers will serve as instructors and personnel will be present to answer questions regarding gin machinery now in use. The schools will be as practical as the sponsors, the Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, and the cooperating gin machinery manufacturers can make them, adds the specialist.

No registration fee will be required but application for attendance should be filed with the Ginners' Association office in Dallas not later than April 14.

Better ginning, points out Bush, results when operators fully understand the finer points of construction, adjustments, maintenance and repair of their equipment. Better ginning also means improved grades of cotton, more income for the producer and better satisfied customers. This training program is designed, says the specialist, to put the spotlight on better ginning.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Kard

Just recently the Congress passed the bill that would authorize the creation of an Air Force Academy similar to the Military Academy at West Point, New York, and the Navy Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. The Secretary for Air, Harold E. Talbott, has appointed a five man commission which will recommend the site for the Academy. Members of the commission are Virgil M. Hancher, President of the University of Iowa; Merrill C. Meigs, Vice President of the Hearst Corporation, Chicago, Illinois; General Charles A. Lindbergh; General Carl A. Spaatz; and Lt. General Hubert R. Harmon. The Air Force has said that the major requirements for the site for the new Academy will be at least 15,000 acres of land which has natural beauty and can be developed as a national monument just as West Point and Annapolis have been; that it must be near a community that has a variety of educational institutions and religious, cultural, and recreational facilities readily accessible to the site; that it must be located in an area that has a mild climate; that a water supply of at least 3,000,000 gallons of water per day be available; that good transportation facilities be at hand, as well as public utilities such as electric power, natural gas or other fuel. The establishment of an Air Force Academy has been seriously considered for several years. Several Texas sites have been among those that have been seriously investigated. Among these Texas sites is one a short distance southeast of Denton.

The Air Force plans to activate the Academy on a temporary basis at an existing Air Force base just as soon as practicable. The first class of three hundred cadets will be enrolled in July, 1955. The number of vacancies that will be allocated to each state is proportionate to that state's representation in Congress. Texas will be allocated twelve vacancies for the first class. Each member of Congress from Texas will be allowed to make nominations not to exceed ten persons. These nominees then will take competitive examinations for the vacancies, and the appointments will finally be made from the qualified candidates in order of their merit.

This week the House passed and sent to the Senate a $364,000,000 appropriation bill to finance the operations of the Interior Department for the next year. The amount approved in the House was more than 12% below the $442,000,000 requested in the President's budget. Amendments to the bill added $350,000 for the Southwestern Power Authority and boosted funds for Fish and Wildlife research $500,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Edgar attended the annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association in Amarillo last Friday and Saturday and spent the remainder of the week end with relatives in Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Spann of Abilene spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Spann.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"It is the adult's job to prevent childhood accidents," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

As children do not always conform to the practices that would assure greatest safety, adults must be made to understand the accident problem of children and be as concerned about it as they are about childhood diseases.

A notable decrease in infant mortality has been brought about by physicians and public health work during the past quarter century. Despite the efforts of the medical profession to protect the country's future citizens, childhood mortality continues high because of accidents—accidents that for the most part are preventable.

The accident death rate among children is being reduced only about one-third as fast as the rate for death by disease. Preventable accidents are the leading causes of death in the age group one to fourteen. Only by the understanding and cooperation of adults can the toll of child accident deaths be reduced.

Besides causing deaths, accidents are responsible for thousands of school children being injured sufficiently to require the attention of a physician or cause absence from school. Injuries occurring in school buildings account for 26 per cent of such cases, on school grounds 29 per cent, going to and from school 5 per cent, at home 17 per cent and other places 23 per cent.

"Children deserve the right to grow up and it is up to every adult to give them that chance," said Dr. Cox.

MOTH-PROOF WOOLENS WHILE YOU WASH

Bad news for moths—and good news for housewives storing winter woollens is the new liquid moth-proofing solution which goes directly into the wash water.

A few spoonfuls in the wash or rinse water leaves a minute quantity of DDT in the wool to ward off insects, says Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home management specialist for Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

More than 80 firms manufacture the product under various trade names, but EQ-53 appears in prominent print on most containers. Treatment with EQ-53 protects wool in storage for a year or more. It is also convenient for blankets in use the year around. When woollens are washed or dry cleaned, they will need re-treatment.

This product was developed by entomologists to meet the housewife's need for an easy, economical, effective way to treat washable woollens against clothes moths and carpet beetles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCauley visited relatives in Mertens and other points during the week end.

How smart can machines be?

Back in the twenties there was a stage play about mechanical men, who repaid their creators by trying to wreck civilization. "Robots" have made people uneasy ever since.

How smart can a machine be? At General Electric we're beginning to find out. For some years now we've been working with machines that come startlingly close to thinking like men.

Can they outsmart men? Just the opposite: they make men even smarter by taking over routine mental chores and freeing men for the creative thinking only human minds can encompass.

A jet engine used to be designed by trial and error. You had to build it first, or a costly model, to find out how it would work. Now, an electronic computer helps solve long and complex jet development problems in advance. In 15 minutes it goes through 8 million mathematical calculations and comes up with an answer that would take a mathematician 7 years.

In management, "hunch" is giving way to fact. Electronic data-processing machines zip through head-spinning statistics on market changes, product design and income trends to come up with the answers General Electric managers need to make sound decisions, not hopeful guesses.

Their ability to digest tons of data in a hurry may one day help the farmer by making weather predictions more accurate. They may shed new light on the reasons for boom and bust.

Machines that can read, write, do arithmetic, measure, feel, remember, now take the load off men's minds, just as machines have eased the burden on our backs.

But these fantastic machines still depend on people to design and build and guide and use them. What they replace is drudgery—not people.

Don't worry; smart though they are, machines will never be as smart as people. Not while people are smart enough to think them up, smart enough to let them do a man's drudging work.

Progress is our most important product

Beta Chi Chapter Meets April 1st At Weinert Church

Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met in the Methodist Church in Weinert on April 10 for the regular monthly meeting. Weinert members were hostesses with Mrs. Irma Liles in charge of the program. She presented Miss Joan Winchester who sang "The Old Rugged Cross" in keeping with the Easter theme. Mrs. Johnnie Pumphrey of Old Glory reviewed Dr. Frank Slaughter's "The Gallian" to a very appreciative audience.

The initiation service gave membership to five new members: Mrs. Annice Ingram Mason and Mrs. Norma Robbins of Aspermont, Mrs. Virgil Meadows of Haskell, Mrs. C. T. Jones of Weinert, and Mrs. Ploy Goolsby of Munday. Mrs. Maurice Blacklock of Munday presided in the absence of Mrs. Otis Cash, president.

Appropriately displayed in the foyer of the church were contributions to the white elephant sale which is a feature of the national and state conventions. These articles are being sent to the state convention which convenes in Austin on April 22.

Hostesses served fruit punch, dainty cookies, and sandwiches from a lace covered table which was decorated in the Easter motif. Thirty-five members were present including a guest, Mrs. Rosella Wilkinson of Newcastle, daughter of one of the initiates, Mrs. Jones.

The next meeting will be on May 8 in Haskell at which time new officers will be installed.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

An Unusual Entrance

IN SUITE settings, a valance can dress up an otherwise drab doorway between rooms. Typical locations are a recreation room, a nursery or an enclosed porch.

A pattern for this improvement may be laid out on wrapping paper and then transferred with carbon paper to pieces of Masonite 3/4" Tempered Presdwood. This material because of its smoothness, durability and paintability is widely used for valances and similar installations in homes and commerce. Width of the pieces should be approximately twice that of the door framing, depending on individual taste and the size of the doorway. Mitered joints between the two side panels and the top should be planned. The curved lines forming the outline may be cut with a coping saw.

After making certain that the parts fit, by laying them out on the floor, the craftsman should lightly bevel the exposed edges with a file, beveler or sandblock. They should be fastened directly to the door frame with finishing nails. If there is a molding around the outer edge of the frame, shims of Presdwood should be attached first to bring about a level nailing plane.

After the business meeting a very interesting demonstration was given by Mrs. C. N. Howard on simplified ironing of a shirt while seated. She stressed the kind of board, the way to sprinkle and fold and the way to iron and fold.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. M. L. Raynes on April 28 at which time the demonstration will be facings, collars and neck lines. This work is for any lady who is interested in better homes and who is always seeking a higher phase of living. A welcome awaits you. "Better Homes make better Nations."

Refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. C. N. Howard, M. L. Raynes, Fred Lain, John Peysen, Mrs. M. L. Walters, who is a new member, Miss Anna Lee Drieschner, county agent, and the hostess, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode.

PASTURE DAMAGE

Ranchmen in West Texas are working under two serious handicaps this year: (1) The drought is approaching the extremely critical state, and (2) the public is not fully aware of the long-range effect of the dry spell on Texas pastures.

The gradual disintegration of grassland during prolonged drought does not have the dramatic impact of a sudden crop failure. Yet, the eventual result of this disaster to our grass could be, and probably is, more serious to our state's economy than the immediate effect on our crops.

Crops can make a comeback in one year of normal rainfall. But it will take many years to regain adequate natural cover on our pastureland.

Late last fall, the drought damage in Texas was estimated at roughly $500 million. Probably $150 million of this figure resulted from lower range evaluation due to poor cover.

Continuation of the drought this year could easily equal or top this loss and prevent a full range recovery until late in this decade.

If we receive the rains we normally expect during April and May, the picture in West Texas will be considerably brighter. But we should not let temporary relief lull us into a false sense of security.

Records show that, down through the years, drought occur with alarming regularity. It is up to us to prepare in advance for these natural disasters.

Despite the tremendous monetary losses suffered in the past three years, this present drought could be a blessing in disguise if we take advantage of the lesson it teaches. It pinpoints the crying needs for comprehensive soil and water legislation in Texas.

The time has arrived when each region of the state should have area committees made up of men who have a complete understanding of the problem at hand. These local men could serve in an advisory capacity, promoting an effective soil and water program, both through the Legislature at Austin and in their own territories.

The soil and water problem affects all the people of the state. And the people, themselves, must aid in working out a solution.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Tidwell and son, Joe David, of Crosbyton were week end visitors here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Campsey, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Tidwell.

PLANTING SEED PROGRAM IS GOOD BUSINESS

By Roy F. Saunders

In a community like this where every business is largely dependent on a crop like cotton it is gratifying to see business men working with growers in an effort to improve that crop. The business of this community has in the past and will in the foreseeable future rise or fall with the fortunes of cotton. Where the cotton grower prospers business will prosper and when returns from cotton are low business will suffer. Business men in their own interest should promote any improvement in cotton production in every way possible.

In this area the Farm Bureau and the Extension Service is promoting a cotton improvement program that rates the wholehearted support of every citizen. The announced purpose of the program is to increase production, improve quality and lower cost of production. If all or any part of these improvements are accomplished it will add wealth to the community and give every business and professional man new opportunities.

The growers approach to the problem is a sound constructive one. They will try to find the variety that from a production and market value standpoint will give the grower the highest net return.

The Farm Bureau organizations in Baylor and Knox counties and the Extension Service in Haskell County have set up a tri-county committee of growers. It will be the duty of this committee to select the variety and supervise a planting seed program designed to give growers of the three counties planting seed of the selected variety of the highest quality possible. In this way growers will be assured of absolutely dependable seed of top quality. It is estimated that a saving of from twenty to twenty-five per cent on the cost of similar seed shipped in can be made.

In order to be more certain of making the best possible selection the tri-county committee will make fifty variety tests with popular varieties in the three counties. These tests will be planted on every type of soil and under every possible set of conditions with growers selected by the committee. In addition to information on production extensive fiber and spinning tests will be made to determine the actual spinning value of the ten varieties being tested. With this information in addition to information already available from the State experiment stations and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, we should be able to find and grow the best variety available to us. If you can offer the committee any constructive suggestions they will be welcomed. If you have no suggestions be a booster.

RAINS BRING HOPE TO MANY STOCKMEN

FORT WORTH — Many dry sections of the state got rains over the week end and the more optimistic feeling was evident among livestock producers at Fort Worth Monday. Many ranchmen reported rains enough to bring grazing along, and in some spots heavy downpours put out critically needed stock water into tanks and ponds.

Livestock farmers with grain that was barely hanging on reported the rains were "life savers." In the North Texas area many farmers told us that "just one more like Sunday and we'll about have an oat crop made."

On the market the cattle trade reacted rather slowly to the good news but there was definite improvement in the prices for stockers where they had some quality. Fed cattle were again scarce, and apparently the supply is dwindling pretty fast in this part of the country.

This made packers good buyers on the creepfed types of heavy calves and light yearlings.

weeks as the supply of mature fed steers has begun to play out in the Southwest.

It looks like another year in which creepfeeding of calves will be highly profitable, especially on those calves with a "plain" background of quality.

Sales of most classes of cattle and calves were fully steady to strong and some sales 25 to 50 cents or more higher were noted through the list. Some stockers were up more.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $23, and common to medium sorts sold from $13 to $18. Fat cows drew $10.50 to $13, a few topky kinds $13.50. Cannons and cutters sold at $7 to 10.50. Bulls sold from $10 to $15, odd head $15.25.

Fat calves of the good and choice kinds sold from $17 to $21 and there were numerous loads and small lots of creepfed calves in the 500-650 pound bracket, at $18 to $21. Common and medium kinds $14 to $17, with culls $10 to $13.

Good and choice stocker steer calves and steer yearlings drew $17 to $20, and stocker cows sold from $10 to $13.50. The range between stocker heifers and steers seemed more narrow, with some heifers up to $17.25 and $17.50.

ditional declines were chalked up. Milk fed lambs were around $1 to $1.50 lower, and this ran the declines to $2 to $3 on the class since the previous week's opening session. Shorn lambs were $1.50 to $2 off in the same interval. Older sheep were around $1 lower, some yearlings off considerably more.

Good and choice fat milkfed lambs drew $20 to $23.50 and common and medium kinds sold from $14 to $19, and culls sold from $10 to $13. Shorn fat lambs of good and choice quality sold from $19.50 to $21.50, while common and medium kinds sold for $13 to $18, and culls drew $10 to $12.

Stocker and feeder lambs cashed at $15 to $19, while slaughter ewes cashed at $5 to $7.50.

HOGS HIT HIGHEST PRICES OF YEAR!

Hogs hit a new top at Fort Worth Monday when they finally attained $28. Good and choice butcher hogs at $27.75 to $28 were at best level since September, 1948. A couple of weeks ago they reached $27.75, and there has been much conjecture as to whether they would get to $28 here and if so when. Sows were steady at $22 to $24.50.

LOAN MAKING FOR DUST STORM ASSISTANCE HAS BEEN SPEEDED UP

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has announced that more loan making authority has been given to Farmers Home Administration officials to speed up emergency loans in dust storm area. This added authority is effective in the five states of Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Loans up to $25,000 may now be approved in the five states. Formerly all applications for loans for more than $12,000 had to be sent to Washington for approval.

The Department is taking every step necessary, Secretary Benson said, to make sure that farmers and ranchers in the dust storm area receive all the assistance the Department can supply. The emergency credit will be used to pay the costs of listing and chiseling land subject to wind erosion. Funds for family subsistence, planting of new crops, temporary and permanent re-seeding of pastures, and other necessary farm and ranch expenses can be included in the loans.

To make sure that all applications for assistance are handled rapidly at the local level, additional personnel have been assigned in areas where wind erosion is a problem. John B. Henry has been assigned to assist County Supervisor Wilburn A. Satterwhite, in this work in Knox County. In addition, the local county committee is meeting as often as necessary to pass on all applications promptly. Applications are made at the county Farmers Home Administration.

The loans are made repayable on a schedule based on the applicant's ability to repay and bear 3 per cent interest.

In addition to the emergency loans, Secretary Benson has announced that drought relief funds are being made available on a reimbursable basis by the Department to states in the dust storm area for practices to help control wind erosion. The states are also helping to provide needed funds.

The funds will be used by local governmental units in the states to list or chisel land subject to blowing, in cases where owners are financially unable to, or otherwise fail to take such action.

Group Answers Public Questions

Q—Does this compete with private enterprise?

A—Low-rent public housing does NOT compete with standard private housing. It does compete with substandard or slum housing in that it furnishes better housing at approximately the same rent which the low income families pay for substandard housing.

Q—What must a family do to qualify for one of these Low-Rent Units?

A—The first and most important requirement is that it must be a family of low income. The income limits for admission and continued occupancy are established by the Local Housing Authority in each community and are based on a number of local factors including the prevailing wage rate in that community.

Q—Who are the Housing Authority Commissioners of the City of Munday?

A—L. B. Patterson, Sr., chairman; M. L. Wiggins, vice chairman; B. L. Blacklock, Chan Hughes and Worth Gafford, commissioners.

Q—Why are there separate income limits for admission and continued occupancy?

A—The limit for admission must by law be established so that the rental to be charged will be at least twenty per cent below that level at which a substantial supply of decent housing is available on the private market. The purpose of the limit for continued occupancy is to permit a family which enters the project a reasonable period of time in which to better themselves as a result of decent housing before

Knox Prairie Philosopher Calls On Texas Legislature To Outlaw New Bombs Before Somebody Gets Hurt

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has been thinking too much about the hydrogen bomb. It affects a lot of people that way.

Dear editor:

I was out here on my Johnson grass farm yesterday afternoon tryin' to steady my nerves after readin' all the hydrogen bomb talk and hearin' about the newest kink, the cobalt bomb which you fire up from a raft out in the ocean and row for the other shore while clouds of radio-active stuff drift toward the opposite shore, wiping out all life before them, you know, some people but I have never gotten that into a lot of work, jumpin' on their tractor or grabbin' a hoe, bupt I have never gotten that nervous.

The way I calm my nerves is to stretch out on the ground under a shade tree and watch a buzzard sail around the sky in a big circle without ever flapin' his wings, and if more people had used my method, we would not have to worry over the hydrogen bomb. Wouldn't have one.

But now that we've got it I see no reason in duckin' the job of facin' up to it. I notice where President Eisenhower said we have no plans for buildin' abigger bomb, the one we have now is big enough to accomodate any city and as I see it, it's up to the cities to get bigger if they want us to keep forgin' ahead in bomb sizes.

But what I started out to say was I've been readin' about the plight of the cities find themselves in when they start thinkin' about evacuating their citizens in case of a hydrogen attack. I don't see how they are gonna do it successfully. I guess if you had time you could get all the people out of Dallas or Houston say, but it sure would be hard on bobwire fences and growin' crops around there, especially if some enemy hit on the idea of stagin' dummy raids, just crankin' up their planes two or three times a week and headin' for a city just to see the people scatter. I tell you, after five or six of these there wouldn't be a stalk of cotton or grass growin' within miles of Dallas or SHEER NYLONS, so flattering to the legs, need not be a strain on a lady's budget. Stockings will stay lovely, longer, if you heed the following rules...

1. Wear the right size. Shortness in foot or length puts undue strain on fibers.
2. Handle with care. Avoid snags from rough hands by using your Trushay hand lotion regularly. Other danger spots — rough heels and legs — yield to Trushay, too. When dressing, do not pull stockings, but ease them on, gently.
3. Wash new stockings before wearing, and never wear the same pair twice without rinsing. Wash by hand, and use a mild soap or detergent. Do not wring, and keep hose away from artificial heat while drying.

Houston, all trampled into the ground by the fleeing citizens.

In ancient times, you know, when an enemy attacked, everybody fled to the city and shut the gate behind em, but modern civilization has reversed this trend.

What it proves is that cities probably were a mistake in the first place.

I still say, though, the Texas Legislature ought to take this thing by the horns and outlaw the hydrogen bomb before mankind rubs himself out. It's going to be hard on Legislatures if it happens and there's nobody left to tax.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs... in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors... all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texans is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government... In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $50,000.

THEY SERVE

In deep appreciation, with these words we halo the brow, Of all the folks, who dress in white, and give a solemn vow, Going up to, and beyond the call, on this, you may rely, From the least of these, to the greatest, and never to pass one by.

Moving close to God, with feet often weary, A tightness of throat, and eyes quite bleary, But tender, and gentle, as treatment demands, Near a sick-bed, to ease, the quiet one stands.

Facing the storm, or cold, in bleak and darkest night, Faithful, and trusted shepherds, in selfless sacrifice, Ushering babies into the here, cuddling briefly the wee and fair, Awaiting with others, the rustling wings, that take them away from here.

Interest, and wonderment, never shall wane, To hands, and minds, so skillfully trained, No doubt where they rest, in the great 'Immortelle', Their work is superb, and they serve Him well.

—Mrs. Sam Stone.

New York Firm Underwrites WTU's Preferred Stock

ABILENE—West Texas Utilities Company has accepted the bid from Harriman, Ripley & Company and associates of New York for the underwriting of its 60,000 share ($6 million) issue of new preferred stock, $100 par. Price Campbell, WTU president, said Friday night.

Campbell said the Harriman, Ripley group, lowest of five bidders, named an offering price of $105 a share for stock with a $4.40 dividend, less an underwriting compensation of $2.25 a share.

A total of 47,370 shares of the new senior equity issue will be offered on an exchange basis to holders of the utility's $6 no par preferred stock. The other 12,630 shares will be put on the public market by the underwriters, also at $105 a share.

WTU will call for retirement on May 24 of any shares of the present unexchanged at the close of the offering period on April 19. The redemption price for this stock is $110 a share and the holders making the exchange will receive a cash adjustment.

The underwriters' agreement was signed by Campell in Chicago Thursday.

Campbell reported that of the 47,370 shares offered on an exchange basis to holders of the utility's $6 par preferred stock that 62 per cent of the stock was in Texas and that 65 per cent of the holders were also in Texas.

"We are going to try to keep this stock in Texas," he said.
