Odds Bites Salvaged
at Random

On the eve of "Hospital Day," which will be observed at the Knox County Hospital next Sunday, we want to put in our two bits worth by saying, "We like our Knox County Hospital."

Our address for four days last week was c/o Knox County Hospital, Knox City, Texas.

So what we say is from first-hand observation and experience and with whatever authority a country editor has, if any.

We came up, by a home accident, with a badly sprained ankle last Tuesday night. Nobody seems to believe our story of the accident—but that has nothing to do with the hospital.

Our better three-fourths had taken vacation from her job, and left two days earlier on a week's visitation around Quannah, Memphis and Wellington. We were determined not to spoil her vacation by calling her home to take care of a clumsy, ailing husband.

Next day at noon, as Dr. Ell and studied the x-ray of said ankle and bandaged the thing up, he suggested that we spend some time at the hospital.

To which we readily agreed, feeling that we would be fed and taken care of there. Not being very adept at the use of crutches, we felt very incapacitated so far as doing things for ourselves were concerned.

So Charles McCauley took us over to the hospital before you could say Methodist Episcopal—that's Dr. Frizzell's favorite expression.

We really enjoyed our stay at the hospital. That may sound silly to lots of people; but, you see, we weren't really sick and the nurses weren't coming around stabbing us with a hypodermic needle every few minutes.

One thing we observed: No matter whose patient you are, every doctor who practices at the hospital comes by to see you when making his rounds. We liked that, too, because in those few seconds they leave you laughing if you weren't already.

They don't tell you what to do or what not to do—they leave that up to the "boss" doctor—just pass the time of day with you and leave you in better spirits.

Only thing, Dr. Frizzell got a little careless. Passed our room several times without even noticing it was occupied. We yelled at him and called his hand on his negligence, and he surely was on his toes after that.

Nurses, too, all of them drop by and pass the time of day with you, as well as do everything possible to keep you comfortable and cared for.

They, too, when they hit the time, stop in for a little chit-chat that leaves you feeling better, even though you felt pretty good to begin with.

"Anything you need, or—eo u?—tr dmka w w f iffk want?" That's the question the hospital superintendent, Miss Beulah Sanders, always asks when she calls on you. She came by the first morning we were there and said: "You and Mr. Nix were both asleep when I made my rounds, so I came back." That's the way it goes. Everybody kinda looks after your needs and wants.

M. G. Nix spent two nights there. When he left he said: "Well, I sure enjoyed staying with you people," and we felt the same way when we left two days later.

Press Phillips came in Saturday for a short stay. Sunday morning he said: "They sure feed good there—but there's not enough of it." So goes the routine at the hospital.

You should visit the hospital next Sunday—Hospital Day.

Robert H. Gaines Teacher At NTSC

Robert Henry Gaines of Munday is completing a semester's work as a student teacher in the School of Education at North Texas State College.

The student teaching program at North Texas State College is designed to give students practical knowledge in teaching, with supervision from an experienced teacher, before they take over a teaching job on their own.

During the course, usually taken in the senior year, the prospective teacher takes over the whole classroom program—prepares lessons, administers assignments, and carries out the testing program.

The student teacher is guided in and outside of the classroom by a supervising teacher who helps in the planning, carrying out and evaluation of the work. A college coordinator also works with the student teacher during the course.

Gaines, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gaines of Munday, is a senior elementary education major. He is teaching at Lewisville elementary school.

Hospital visitor at the Knox County Hospital on "Hospital Day", Sunday May 23, will see only a few scars of the disastrous tornado which ripped through Knox City last year, and will see results of an extensive improvement and repair program costing around $45,000. This improvement program cost almost as much as the original hospital, including lots, building and equipment.

The hospital was constructed in 1926 at a cost of $60,000, according to Miss Beulah Sanders, superintendent.

Repairs and improvements since the tornado on Friday, March 13, 1953 include a new roof, new windows and screens, electrical rewiring, new electrical fixtures, plate glass for operating room, outside bricking, inside repair of damaged plaster wall, painting of interior, sandblasting of exterior, Venetian blinds, drapes for patients' rooms, 7½ ton Frigidaire air conditioner for emergency room, repair of 10-ton air conditioner for operating room and delivery rooms, 10 Frigidaire air conditioners for patients' rooms, 6 rooms of new furniture for patients' rooms, 38 mattresses, 11 cu. ft. Frigidaire of nursery, two major surgical lights for emergency room and delivery room, explosion-proof switches, 38 bassinets, stands and mattresses, air conditioner for kitchen, water cooler, and complete repair of heating system.

Added to the improvements is the lawn beautification now under way and is being sponsored by the Knox City Garden Club.

Structural repair to the nurses' residence, which will be open for inspection during Hospital Day, included a new roof, replacement of front porch, new windows and screen. Inside repair included sheetrocking, textoning, and painting, acoustical tile installed in ceiling, new light fixtures, drapes, Venetian blinds, refinishing floors, and installing inlaid linoleum.

Mrs. Phillip Colehour is in charge of depicting the history of the hospital with photographs and poster. She is being assisted by Mrs. E. F. Branton and elementary school students.

In looking through records, Mrs. Colehour found the original hospital was built in 1926. In 1941 the first expansion—the east wing and the nurses' residence—was built at a cost of $10,000. Then in 1948 the Dr. T. S. Edwards Memorial addition was constructed at a cost of $75,000.

Total evaluation of the hospital, including equipment, for insurance purposes is $275,000.

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Grain storage space will be short this year and large amounts of grain will need to be stored on the farm. If you plan to store grain on your farm here are some things that you should do:

1. Bins and structures within the granary should be given a thorough cleaning, removing all dirt and grain residues before grain is stored.

2. Checking for leaks must be practiced as chemicals used in insect control can only do effective work if the bins are clean and the rain is kept dry.

3. When the bins are thoroughly cleaned, a residual spray should be applied to all bin walls, braces, overhead structures and bin floors to kill the insects harboring in cracks or burrows in the wood. Most residual sprays are made up of one of the following chemicals: Lindane, Pyrethrin, Methoxychlor or DDT.

4. After wheat is in the bin, it should be fumigated in order to delay and control any build-up of insects.

5. The real "key" to good insect control, after bins have been sprayed with a residual spray, is the storage of dry wheat—12% moisture is considered dry enough.

6. All wheat in storage is probed once a month in winter and at two-week intervals in the summer to determine the condition of the grain, the tempera-

LARGE VOLUME—LOW PROFIT

Time magazine recently devoted a feature article to the problems involved in the distribution of goods—an enterprise which requires the work of some 20,000,000 people, or one-third of our entire labor force. Time's conclusion was: "On both ends of the distribution chain, manufacturers and merchants are coming to realize the same thing: the only way to cut down distribution expense is to organize it on the same large-volume, low profit principle as distribution."

As a matter of fact, distribution has made enormous strides in this direction and it is currently working on innovations which it hopes will result in longer strides still. The pioneers here were the chain systems. The basic chain idea, which never has been changed in its essentials, was that if enough goods could be moved, even though the profit on each item was very small, a satisfactory total profit would result and seller and consumer would both benefit. At the beginning, many thought that idea was not only very revolutionary but downright crazy. They said it would never work. Actually, it was as rousing a success as anyone could imagine, and it has been a far more important factor in building American living standards than many of us have given it credit for. No one knows how many billions of dollars the practical application of that one idea has saved the American people.

At the present time much attention is being given to mechanized, labor-saving methods of handling goods, both in warehouses and in the retail stores. The country's retailers, like its producers, are ever in search of better and cheaper ways to do their jobs.

PROFITS JUST AREN'T BIG ENOUGH!

Have you ever heard it argued that the way to meet the cost of government is to soak the corporations harder and let them pay the bill? If so, you should be interested in this fact. If all the profits, after taxes, earned by all the corporations in the country in 1952 had been confiscated in toto, the resulting revenue would have met government expenditures for only 72 days—a little more than two months!

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CHEWELAH, WASH., INDEPENDENT: "Communists have little to offer other peoples of the world, if they deny their own people right to mingle with others. Obviously, they are afraid of the comparison."

FARM LIVING STANDARDS AND THE MACHINE

According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the living standards of farm-operator families in this country showed an average improvement of 53 per cent in the 10 years between 1940 and 1950. The Bureau then made this very significant observation: ". . . the rise in level of living among farm people was generally most rapid in those parts of the United States in which mechanization was most rapid."

Here is a well-deserved tribute to the almost inestimable value of modern farm equipment. Actually, in present-day farming, the machine isn't just something desirable—it's something that the farmer who wants to make the most of his resources simply can't afford to do without.

Mechanization has been going ahead at a much swifter rate than most of us realize. In 1940 there were a trifle more than 1,500,000 tractors on our farms, and a decade later the figure was 3,600,000. There has been a further substantial growth since then. And the use of other equipment has undoubtedly shown gains of comparable dimensions.

Farm equipment is the answer to two big farm problems—how to get maximum production at minimum cost, and how to conserve and improve the land for future generations.

SAVINGS BY TOOLS

Time was when a man could, and did, buy his own tools. But, what locomotive engineer these days could buy his own locomotive, what punch press operator his own press?

The average job in industry today requires a $12,000 investment to buy the tools and machines and supplies and all the other things a workman needs.

Not many people can afford to invest that kind of money alone. But together they can, and do. Today there are almost 9,000,000 Americans who have saved their money and bought shares of stock in companies—shares of the machines, tools and supplies needed for today's high production and living standards.—Daily Leader-Times, Kittanning, Pa.

BELLINGHAM, WASH., HERALD: "Because much of the tax burden is indirect, few persons realize how much money they pay in taxes. That process is known as 'getting the most feathers from the goose with the least squawks.'"

BE NOT DECEIVED

—By Ted W. McElroy.

SUPPOSE . . . WOULD YOU?

Suppose Paul should gather all the religionists in your community together and condemn their divisions, and urge them all to speak the same thing, be of the same mind and of the same judgment, and to quit being called by un-inspired and human names . . . Would you be willing to lay aside your denominational name, organization and practices, and just be a New Testament Christian, with no name but Christ, no book but the Bible and no church but the one you read about in the Bible? Would you? Paul has done that very thing. (1 Cor. 1:10-13).

Suppose Peter, James and John, Paul and others, should come with all their old time authority and condemn the sects and parties about us and tell us that those who practice such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. Would you leave such sects or would you call the apostles narrow and say that they were un-Christian for "running down other denominations?" . . . Would you? They did that very thing (Gal. 5:9-21), (Pet. 3:8-9).

Suppose the Holy Spirit were to come to you and present you with a book and tell you that his directions were in it . . . Would you go to a mourner's bench and pray for a direct operation of the Holy Spirit, or would you rather read and obey the book he gave you and told you to read? He did give you such a book—the Bible, the word of God, his work in saving your soul. (Eph. 6:17.)

Suppose you found a church that speaks where the Bible speaks, and is silent where the Bible is silent; that is ready to cite chapter and verse for every point of doctrine, practice, or position; that shuns all divisive names and creeds, etc., in fact that simply occupies New Testament grounds . . . Would you investigate it? We invite your investigation.

BOX 211 — Phone 6151

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

Now in retirement, Judge George L. Davenport became judge of the 91st District Court in Eastland County in 1920 when the court was created and served for more than 30 years. He presided over civil suits involving millions of dollars and over many dramatic trials.

Tall and erect, Judge Davenport is, in appearance and demeanor, every inch a judge. He is reserved, quiet, deliberate but friendly, courteous and deferential.

He was born in Coryell County near the McLennan County line. Just over the line lived a lad who was a little older. They attended the same country school. The other boy was careless in the way he dressed and was always full of fun. If his schoolmate ever made a speech, Davenport does not recall it.

This lad was destined to become governor of Texas, a brilliant orator, meticulous in raiment (the black felt hat, long coat and high collar of the statesman), a model of dignity. His name? Pat M. Neff.

Davenport's career as a lawyer and judge covers more than half a century. In 1900, he was prosecuting attorney of Eastland County. One man of that area whom he recalls was a badman, dreaded for his skill with a six-gun. But Judge Davenport remembers an individual who was not daunted by the fellow's reputation.

A Stephens County rancher had sold a considerable number of cattle to the badman and the check proved worthless. The loss would mean ruin to the ranchman. He had the fellow arrested and, at a preliminary hearing in Eastland, the complainant had answered all questions asked by either side and then he said looking directly at the accused, "I want to close by saying that if I don't get my money, you will not have to try this fellow." He got the money.

Later, the "tough" and several companions were involved in the killing of an officer in Oklahoma and were hanged by a mob.

Judge Davenport was never in any danger during the many hard-fought cases over which he presided—or, at least if I was, I didn't know it," he said. Then, after a moment he continued, "There might have been one time."

The incident occurred during the trial of Henry Helms, leader of the Santa Claus gang that robbed the bank at Cisco in December, 1927. Helms stood at the side door which opened into the alley beside the bank, an automatic in each hand firing alternately at officers to right and left who were firing riot guns and pistols. Two officers were fatally wounded by Helms's bullets.

After a pursuit of a week, the bandits were captured and Helms was placed on trial in the Eastland city hall, as the old courthouse was being torn down.

A large number of weapons had been taken from the robbers and this arsenal, introduced in evidence, lay on a table before the bench. There was a short recess during which the jury left the courtroom and so did almost all the spectators. Judge Davenport was in his chair and the prisoner sat in his accustomed place. The judge saw that the gaze of the defendant was fixed on that row of pistols—weapons which he had proved he could use with deadly effect. Davenport glanced around. Not an officer was in the courtroom.

A spectator who grasped the

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

The events of the last few weeks in Indochina, Geneva, and elsewhere around the world have pointed up more than anything else our need to let our friends in the world know that we seek no territory, no colonies, and no preferential treatment for ourselves. If we are to accomplish this result that we all so greatly desire, we must, above everything else, have our government devoted to a bipartisan or actually a nonpartisan foreign policy. This country can never successfully have a foreign policy that is a Democratic policy or a Republican policy. In dealing with foreign countries, we can only deal on an American policy. It must be made clear to everyone else in the world that all of us, Democrats and Republicans, first as Americans think alike, as far as foreign affairs are concerned. Problems that confront us in the world cannot be settled or solved without their being approached by a unified American people. We have, I believe, made some progress toward reaching the unity in foreign affairs that we must have. All indications are now that even more progress will be made in this direction within the next few weeks since the leaders of both parties have indicated their desire to get together in this vital problem. I hope that this unity can be established within a very short time so that our world policy can begin to make progress instead of being slowed down by partianshlp.

This week the House considered a bill which would have provided that an American citizen who commits a crime in a foreign country or in a country which is occupied or controlled by the United States could be later returned from this country and tried according to the law of the country where the crime was committed. If this act had applied only to those people who had gone abroad on their own accord, there would probably have been no serious objection to it; however, since we have so many of our people around the world in the Armed Services and other branches of government service not because they want to be there but because they were drafted and sent there, it seemed to me that this proposal was basically unfair, and I was glad to see it defeated in the House. Many of the countries where our occupying forces are are certainly not friendly to Americans.

and under this proposal, a G. I. who was drafted in the service and sent overseas could, even after he had returned home and been discharged from the service, have been returned to a foreign country where he was supposed to have committed some minor crime and tried under the laws of that country without the benefit of counsel or trial by jury or any other of the safeguards that our Constitution gives to American citizens. If this had been law, it would have been possible for our foreign enemies through specially enacted laws to have taken out their dislike for us on some of our occupying forces by trying them for frivolous crimes that carry high penalties.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Leslie King and Mr. W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls.

A SURPLUS DISPOSAL PLAN

There is a simple solution to the surplus of grain which is causing our storage facilities to bulge at the seams.

That solution is—sell it! Sell it to the highest bidder even if the price will be below the support paid by the federal government.

Such action would recover at least a part of the taxpayer's dollars paid out on this program and, in addition, it would produce some positive results which would more than make up the difference in money lost.

The benefits from such a plan are these:

- (1) It would bring the cost of such feeds down to the level of the farmers pocketbook and move the feed into consumption where it ought to be.
- (2) Provide storage space for upcoming crops, thus relieving a serious storage situation at the beginning of wheat harvest.
- (3) Save the taxpayer money on new warehouse construction.
- (4) Make money for grain and cotton farmers by providing them with storage for their crops.
- (5) Save taxpayers, perhaps, billions of dollars, because they would realize a return from products now off the market and which are now a expensive dead weight.
- (6) Solve serious drought relief problems for cattlemen.
- (7) Will not interfere with normal trade in feed products.

Selling our surpluses for drought relief measures may sound too simple for those who like to do things the hard way. Yet costs of feed for hungry cattle is too high in relation to the sale market.

Such a situation means we must either raise the price of cattle or lower the price of feed. Either would bring relief, but raising the price of cattle would be complicated and obviously require direct subsidies.

The proposition of lowering feed costs has not been studied except as federal relief programs involving reams of red tape, allotments and expensive administration. On the other hand, the plan of placing surplus feeds on the open market would be simple, direct, and entail no government interference or controls on farmers or businessmen.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Rogers and Mrs. Frank Hill of Benjamin were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Offutt.

FOR SALE—Two government graineries. Bargain. J. C. Harpham. 43-3tc

only Plymouth dares compare!

now... part-by-part proof that Plymouth is America's "best-buy" low-price car!

No other low-price car would dare make a comparison like this: Plymouth engineers actually dismantled the three best-known low-price cars and compared them, part by part! Their findings, a few of which we've listed below, prove conclusively that Plymouth is far-and-away your "best buy" in the lowest-price field.

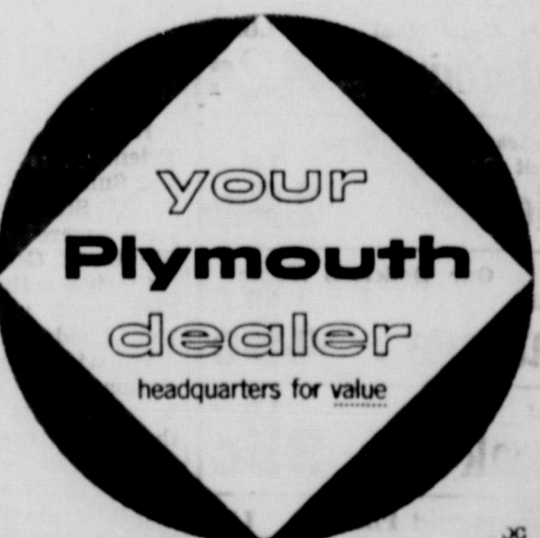

Here's just some of the overwhelming proof that Plymouth is "best buy"!

- Comfort Level Seating
Both front and rear Plymouth seats are highest. Plymouth research found this more natural seating position gives greater posture protection and comfort.
- Front Wheel Brakes
Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth, straight-line stops without "grabbing." The "other two" have only one brake cylinder in each front wheel.
- Spark Plugs
Because they last up to five times longer before re-setting is necessary, Plymouth uses resistor-type spark plugs. This type plug also produces smoother idling, better gas economy at low speeds.
- Oil Bath Air Cleaner
An oil bath air cleaner can reduce engine wear as much as 90%. This unit is standard equipment on all Plymouth models; it is available only at extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

Go for a drive in America's "best-buy" low-price car!

EAT MORE LAMB IN TEXAS THIS WEEK!

FORT WORTH—The week of May 17th was proclaimed "Eat More Lamb in Texas Week" by Governor Allan Shivers, and the sheep industry is using every means to publicize the fact.

Ironically while Texas produces most of the lamb of the nation, Texans eat proportionately less than anyone else per capita.

The week has received nationwide attention through the Don McNeill Breakfast Club program, a portion sponsored by Swift & Company. The early morning television show of Walter Cronkite (CBS) featured the lamb week—and a Texas lamb sent him by some Fort Worth livestock market folks.

Whether it is this week or next, let us recommend Texas lamb to you. When properly prepared, it is a real treat. By the way, Polly Cox, wife of WFAA radio farm director Murray Cox, gave some good recipes Tuesday morning on the air. I expect a letter to her, care of Radio Station WFAA, Dallas, Texas, would get you a copy of her favorite lamb recipes.

BIGGEST SHEEP RUN OF YEAR ARRIVED!

Whether by accident or design, the largest sheep and lamb run of the year—near 20,000—arrived at Fort Worth Monday.

Spring lambs were $1 lower, shorn lambs were 50c to $1 lower, feeders weaker, in sympathy with the fat lamb trade. Older sheep steady. Spring lambs topped at $24 to $26, and clipped fat lambs drew $20 down. Two-year-olds $12 to $15; aged wethers $9 to $12. Slaughter ewes $5 to $6. Breeder ewes $8 to $15. Feeder lambs $18 down, shorn feeders $15 down.

STOCKMEN WORKING CATTLE EARLIER

The largest percentage of cows was in the cattle run at Fort Worth Monday we have seen this season. Bears out our observations of the past few weeks that culling of herds is being done earlier this year with dry cows and culls, including many marginal dairy producers being cashed out. Probably they are bringing lots more dollars now than they would a few weeks later.

Best fat cows drew $13 to $15, two loads of Triangle cows from the Tom Burnett Estate at $15. Best fed cattle were from I. S. Scott, Castro County, three steers weighed 880 at $24.75. Scott is a top feeder, has often topped the market in the past.

Sizeable numbers of shortfed and warmed up heifers and steer yearlings being marketed these days. Prices ranged from $16 to $21, depending on flesh and quality. Many fed 60 to 75 days, many fed on pastures and fields.

Best fed calves again $20 to $22.50, creepfed heavies at $21 to $22 numerous. Looks like this year the creepfed calves are paying handsome dividends.

Desirable stocker calves and yearlings $18 to $21.50, stock cows $8 to $15.50.

HOGS HIT $28 TOP ONCE MORE

Beta Chi Chapter Names Officers For New Year

Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its final meeting of the year recently in the Elementary School in Haskell. Hostesses were members from Haskell.

Featured speaker was Mrs. Virgil Meadors of Haskell, who gave an illustrated lecture on her trip to Europe which she made last summer. She showed colored pictures which she made on the tour.

Officers for the new year were installed by the outgoing president, Mrs. Otis Cash of Knox City. These are Mrs. Marie Ward of Aspermont, president; Mrs. Ina Cowan of Goree, first vice president; Mrs. Irene Ballard of Haskell, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Cape of Knox City, recording secretary; Mrs. Irma Liles of Weinert, treasurer; Mrs. Otis Cash, parliamentarian.

The new president, Mrs. Ward, made a talk outlining her plans for next year. She also announced chairmen for the various committees. The hostesses served light refreshments. Corsages of red roses, the flower of the organization, were given to each of the officers.

Gordon Sweatt of Kress spent last week with his sisters, Misses Bertha and Flora Sweatt. They visited over the week end with their brother-in-law and sister, and Mrs. E. D. Herndon in McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Chashon in Salina.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Crockett returned last Thursday from a week's visit with their daughter, Mrs. Jack Benton and family and other relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

County Agent Hulsey of Jack County told us recently that some of the folks up that way are speculating that this Summer may be another "1950".

Remember 1950 was the Summer when it was cool and rained about every ten days all Summer long!

In 1950, we never did have to suffer through one of those 30 to 40-day spells with tempera-

Knox Prairie Philosopher Holds That Installment Buying Far Exceeds All Other Discoveries, Even America

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses history this week, a field as little known to him as some on his own un-worked farm.

Dear editor:

I was readin in a magazine the other day which got in my mail box by mistake and which I have put back in for proper mailin with the exception of two or three pages I tore out on account of some information they had I may need later on, where a bunch of historians have been sizing up all the major events in history as far back as it goes tryin to decide which have been the greatest.

Out of twenty-five great historical events, these experts picked the discovery of America as the greatest, with some of the others being the discovery of moveable type, the discovery of the steam engine, the discovery of the electric light bulb, the perfection of the atom bomb, the discovery of the magnifying glass, etc.

Now I'm not an expert and I'm not sure what happened in the world yesterday, not to mention a hundred years ago, and can't speak with any authority, but while I will agree that the discovery of America was a mighty important event, especially for the people of Europe who otherwise would have had a hard time tryin to borrow money, the Indians Columbus found over here themselves was not much hand at makin loans, still I can sit down out here and list some other things which were even more important.

For example, I put the invention of installment buying ahead of the discovery of America or the light bulb either. I guess the discovery of America had to come first, but you eliminate installment buying and this country wouldn't do enough business to finance England more than a couple of weeks.

The atom bomb is a fine instrument, but it's way behind the rocking chair as far as I'm concerned. There may be a few finely attuned minds which can get real pleasure out of splittin an atom but they ain't nothin compared with the number who have mastered the pleasures of the rocking chair.

The discovery of the magnifying glass which brought on the microscope was a fine thing, but about the main thing it's done is enable man to find out more things that are wrong with him.

Also, the invention of moveable type was a fine thing, it beats writin with a hatchet on a cave wall, but it wasn't no un-mixed blessing; for every word of truth that's printed these days there must be 5,000 of the other kind, and a man that reads everything winds up more misinformed than he was when he started out, at the rate of 5,000 to 1.

What constitutes a great historical event depends on your viewpoint. I doubt if 10 years from now anybody on a quiz show can tell you who Private Shine is, and if they don't control them atom bombs, they may not be able to tell you where Congress is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Helen Phillips and Marion Phillips of Abilene and Mrs. Joseph Borden of Wichita Falls visited their father, Press Phillips, in the Knox County Hospital last Sunday.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF MUNDAY SCHOOL DISTRICT:

Due to circumstances beyond the control of the Board, it seems that a slight increase in the evaluation of property in the Munday School District is necessary. An emergency made it necessary to enlarge our Negro school building, erect a bus shed, and make other emergency repairs that cost the District more than $25,000. All this was done without a bond issue or without an increase in taxes. The Board hoped to be able to absorb this expense over a short season with surplus funds. But since this expense was incurred several things have happened that have upset this plan.

In addition to the above problem of expense, the State has increased the amount of its Foundation Fund and at the same time increased the Per-Cent charged to Local Districts. Where the per-cent was formerly 17% it is now increased to 20%.

In face of all the above, it is very probable that this could have been absorbed if the Munday School District could have kept all the territory it held at one time intact. It is very probable that we will lose a part together with a large amount of evaluation if present efforts are successful. The Board has come to a definite decision that an increase of not more than 5% is much better than running the schools on a deficit.

ARMY WORMS REPORTED IN ROCKWALL COUNTY

COLLEGE STATION — Army worms have invaded vetch plantings in Rockwall County in sufficient numbers to attract attention. Entomologists say this suggests a problem which may become of considerable agricultural importance again this year. Ten to 25 worms per square foot were found in a recent check and farmers in that area are advised to watch for them especially on legume crops.

Dust controls recommended by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service include either 10 per cent DDT or 20 per cent toxaphene applied at rates of 15 to 20 pounds to the acre.

An effective spray control calls for one to two pounds actual DDT or two to three pounds actual toxaphene per acre. Livestock should not be allowed to graze areas treated with the above insecticides for periods of two to three weeks. Insecticides also should not be applied later than two weeks prior to harvest.

TO MOTHER'S BEDSIDE

ture and the insect situation. 7. Rodents in Texas are second only to stored grain insects as a source of contamination in wheat. At the present time, more attention is actually being paid by Food and Drug Administration inspectors to rodent contamination than to grain insects and seizures of wheat have been made due solely to rodent filth in the wheat condemned.

If you would like any further information along this line please call on me.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Patterson, Sr., visited relatives in Rotan last Sunday.

Recent tests conducted at the Temple Experiment Station show that nitrogen, supplied in ammonium hydroxide, substantially speeded cotton burr decomposition. To commence and sustain proper decomposition levels, composts must have a high moisture content.
