"I think Texas ought to secede from the union!"

That's what we heard one person say recently, since the supreme court's ruling on segregation.

Which reminds us of a TV program we saw and heard Sunday, in which Senator Price Daniel of Texas handled the segregation situation amiably against Senator Douglas.

We think Daniel summed up the Texas situation when he remarked that, in his opinion, a vast majority of the colored people of Texas preferred to attend their own schools with their own teachers, especially where equal educational advantages were offered.

At one point in the forum the point of more federal aid to schools was brought up. It was thought schools would experience financial difficulty in abolishing segregation.

Daniel didn't think Texas would need more federal aid, and Douglas replied that Texas might not where other states would, because Texas recently "obtained" some rich tidelands oil.

Daniel came back with an emphatic no. "We just get back what has been ours for over 100 years," he said.

Anyway, it looks like the beginning of the end of segregation in our public schools. Just how long it will take to complete the transition, we don't know.

In our opinion, though, it's coming to Texas. But we believe, too, it will take more than one generation for the people to like it—and in our opinion "people of Texas" applies to both the colored and white races.

An interesting little booklet came to light this week in the L. W. Hobert home.

While cleaning up some accumulation of junk, Hobert ran across a cotton booklet which was published by the Citizen's State Bank of Munday.

It carried various tables, giving the total value of certain sized bales cotton at various stated market prices.

An interesting thing was that the tables gave cotton prices no higher than 16½ cents per pound, which would make the booklet of little value to cotton farmers of today.

It gave prevailing cotton prices for various years in the past, and since 1908 was the last year in which prices were quoted, we figured the booklet was published soon thereafter.

This country is as wet as it was dry several weeks ago.

Seems it can rain with very little effort, now. Lakes are full, at least the smaller ones, and more water is pouring into Kemp, Kickapoo and others daily.

Two big rains in the Truscott area on Saturday and Sunday nights brought better than 4 inches, and has done damage to the wheat.

It was reported Monday that the old Brazos was flowing fuller than it had in many years.

Wheat is ready for harvest, much of it, anyway, and combines are waiting to pull in. Some cutting was done Saturday but the rains over the week end halted operations.

Not many are fussing about the wet weather, yet; still they'd like to have a little sunshine, wheat harvest weather and cotton planting weather now.

Parsonage For Retired Preacher Completed Here

The First Methodist Church in Munday has recently completed a parsonage for a retired Methodist preacher. The parsonage is located on the block immediately south of the church location. The former church property at Bomarton was sold and the proceeds used in beginning the superannuate parsonage project.

Last Sunday morning a special service of dedication was conducted under the leadership of Rev. Marshall Rhew, Superintendent of the Stamford District. The parsonage project was officially transferred to the ownership of the Board of Trustees of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church. Dr. O. P. Clark of Abilene was present to preach, and accept the property for the conference.

A retired Methodist preacher and his wife will be assigned to the superannuate parsonage at the close of the annual conference being conducted in Amarillo during this week.

The committee which conducted the preliminary studies concerning the building of the superannuate parsonage was made up of Mrs. Oates Golden, E. W. Harrell, J. C. Borden. The committee which had control of the completion of the project was composed of Gene Harrell, J. H. Bardwell, W. R. Moore and J. Weldon Smith.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

S. E. Parks, Knox City; Chas. Todd, Truscott, and Bill Moorhouse, Benjamin have been selected to represent Knox County 4-H boys at the District 4-H Leadership Training Camp to be held at Buffalo Gap May 26, 27 and 28th.

The boys will receive leadership training in recreation, citizenship, crafts, swimming and safety. This camp is designed to train boys for leaders in the 4-H club work in their home county.

Endrin, a newcomer to the insecticide world, this year takes the cotton insecticide spotlight. Entomologists report that it comes as close to an all-purpose cotton insect control as anything yet tested.

A close relative to dieldrin, endrin is now widely used to control bollworms, boll weevils, thrips, cotton leafworms and cotton fleahoppers.

Endrin is recommended for boll weevils and leafworm control at rates of one-fourth to one-third of a pound to the acre. Bollworm treatments call for applications of one-third of a pound per acre.

This welcomed newcomer, however, does not control pink bollworms, aphids and spider mites. And like other insecticides, users should adhere closely to the directions of the manufacturer. It is toxic not only to cotton pests, but also to man and warm-blooded animals.

Two good bulletins available from the County Agents' office, B-210, "Growing Grain Sorghum" and C-182, "Guide for Controlling Insects".

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Barton and Mr. and Mrs. Cleborn Fields, all of Pecos, visited in the home of their mother, Mrs. Dessie Fields, over the week end. Other guests in the home were Mrs. W. A. Elder and son, Bill, of Brownfield.

Around 500 visitors came to view the Knox County Hospital last Sunday between the hours of 2 to 5 p. m. when open house was held in observance of "Hospital Day."

Open house was held to acquaint the public with new equipment which has been installed and to show repair and remodeling work which was done after the tornado in 1953. Visitors were shown through both the hospital and the nurses' home and saw results of the $45,000 improvement and repair program.

Receiving guests at the hospital were the doctors and their wives, members of the hospital board and their wives, county commissioners and their wives and County Judge and Mrs. L. A. Parker.

And the hospital baby—the first born on hospital day—arrived in time to receive visitors. She is LaVerne Fetsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fetsch of Munday.

Little Miss Fetsch arrived at 12:23 a. m., and there was a great array of gifts which had been donated by merchants and individuals from all over Knox County. LaVerne weighed eight pounds and 10½ ounces.

Of greatest value among the gifts, of course, were free hospital and doctor's fees for the child and her mother, but a hundred or more other gifts were on display.

Forty-five children just five years of age romped and played on the hospital lawn at the "49ers Party." These were the children or a portion of them, who were born at the hospital in 1949, and in charge of the party were Mrs. D. C. Eiland and Mrs. Charles McCauley.

Men and women from all parts of the county co-operated in making "Hospital Day" a successful one. Community chairmen for the affair were as follows:

Rhineland, Mrs. Tip Albus; Gilliland, Mrs. John Crowover; Goree, Mrs. Etta Chamberlain; Truscott, Mrs. V. W. Brown; Munday, Mrs. D. C. Eiland; Vera, The Matrons Club; Benjamin, Mrs. Leroy Melton. Mrs. Rip Collins of Vera served as general chairman. All worked in close co-operation with Miss Beulah Sanders, hospital superintendent, in planning the various events.

State's Welfare Office To Close

James C. Wood, field worker, announced Monday that the local office of the State Welfare Department will be closed after this week. Insufficient client for operation of a full time office was given as the reason for closing the Munday office.

It is understood the local office is being combined with others in this area, and Knox County will be served from the Haskell office.

Mr. Wood is being transferred to Texarkana, where he will continue with the State Welfare Department.

Memorial Program Scheduled At Goree

MACHINES AND SMALL FARMS

Among the many changes that have taken place in the world of farming in the last generation or so, there has been a substantial increase in the size of the average farm.

One of the most important reasons for this is the great progress made in the use of farm equipment. Machinery, which gets more efficient and more durable all the time, has made it possible for each farmer to develop and till far more acreage than used to be the case, with much less physical effort.

But that doesn't mean that the age of the small, family farm is coming to an end—or that this kind of farm is unable to qualify for the benefits of mechanization. While the small farmer can't buy all the mechanized equipment that we see on the large farms, by cooperating with his neighbor, he can achieve a high degree of mechanization. One farmer buys one kind of machine, another buys another, and so on. Then they pool these invaluable and indefatigable mechanical laborers and get the work done—swiftly, and at minimum cost in money and human energy.

This is the age of the machine in farming just as it is in industry. And that is true of all modern farms, not just the larger ones.

HEALTHY SIGN

The April issue of Nation's Business carried a brief article on present-day economic thinking in the field of distribution—retail, service and wholesale businesses. Key executives expect 1954 trade to equal 1953. The magazine said, "This optimism seemed to be based upon preparedness on the part of these distributors to meet competition. This is a healthy sign—for it means better planning and more efficient operations."

The article also pointed out that this will be a big year so far as expansion and modernization of physical facilities are concerned. In one merchandising field alone, 1954 expenditures for these purposes are estimated at $880,000,000.

This means that the retailers and the people in allied fields have strong faith in our future—and aren't influenced by the recession talk that has been heard. And from the point of view of the consumer, it means that he will get better service, still more attractive shopping surroundings—and the best possible selection of goods at the lowest possible prices.

Competition always produces such beneficial results—and competition in retailing has rarely been at a higher pitch than now.

SOCIALISM IS EXPENSIVE

Randy Haskell Hamilton, spokesman for the American Municipal Association, which is composed of 12,000 cities in 43 states, told a House Sub-Committee on Government Operations, of the serious conditions confronting local communities as a result of the alarming growth of national socialism.

Among the types of business and industry in which the federal government has become involved, Mr. Hamilton listed, repair, generation of electric energy, transportation, storage, banking, insurance, mining, . . .

These activities are tax-exempt, at the expense of local and all other units of government. According to Mr. Hamilton, in many communities . . . the citizens have found that they must carry a disproportionately heavier load of local taxes in order to pay for the municipal services."

Yes, socialism is expensive—both in money, and in lost freedom and opportunity.

HERE'S REAL PROGRESS!

In 1941, 16,000,000 people had protection against hospital and medical expenses under the various voluntary health insurance plans. Now nearly 100,000,000 have it.

On top of that, more than 1,000,000 persons are already insured under a new form of coverage which is written on a deductible basis, much like automobile collision insurance, and which protects against costly major illnesses of extended duration.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MEDFORD, MASS., MERCURY: ". . . all of us need to be more wary and on the lookout for improper solicitations because the demands and needs of established services and charitable agencies and research groups are greater than ever and warrant more intelligent support than ever. Who, therefore, can afford to throw away cash on sob stories which will not bear the light of fair and impartial investigations?"

GREENVILLE, TEXAS, BANNER: "This nation," Richard L. Bowditch, a Boston ship executive declared, "was conceived and rose to world leadership on the ideas of non-conformists and free-wheelers, of men and women of integrity and wide vision, of individuals with bold fire-reaching minds, who insisted on crossing the frontiers of the unknown." Mr. Bowditch is merely restating the principles upon which this nation was founded and has grown great. . . ."

RELIGIOUS DIVISION

Religious philosophers through the ages have darkened council with learned words saying that if every man should go to the word of God for himself, independently, confusion and division would result. This is not so. Religious division comes from departing from this very course and following the systems that have been devised by religious philosophers. Religious division is kept alive because the vast majority of professed believers in Christ blindly follow their religious leaders and all the religious knowledge that they have is second hand. With an open heart and a desirous mind one should come directly to the word of God for light, and obtain a view of God and Jesus, and the truth that is first hand—one that is unshaded by human interpretation.

Every theory, every system, every sect has some truth; but the word of God has all the truth; and every person who will study the word of God has access to all the truth. One does not need to join a sect in order to get what truth it may happen to have. He need not accept the chaff of its human theories in order to receive the truth it teaches. In the Bible was all the truth before human sects were created. One can accept all the truth that is in the word of God without danger of accepting something that is not the truth. One cannot accept the truth that is in any religious sect or system without the almost certainty of accepting the errors that organization teaches.

That is the reason we plead with you to be a New Testament Christian; standing four-square upon the word of God as an infallible rule of faith and practice, doing what God commands you to do and leaving off the things you cannot do by faith. This position alone allows one to lift himself above the maze of religion shackled by human creeds and theories. No man may then bring you into bondage of any human theory. No man may then bring you into bondage of any human theory, or fasten upon you the defense of any human name.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Beard

With all the sensational headlines that we read daily, we often lose sight of the fact of what is happening to the population of the United States. Sometime ago I mentioned the rapid rate with which our population is increasing. This rate of increase is something that we should be continually conscious of for if we don't make plans with regard to our increased population, we are apt to be in some real trouble in another twenty-five or thirty years. Since 1946, the birth rate in the country has been 3,000,000 annually. Only twice before in our history, in the years 1921 and 1943, has this figure been exceeded. Since World War II, the number of families in our country has increased 800,000 a year. This is twice the rate of the thirties. It is estimated that we will have an increase in population of 20,000,000 by 1960, and if we continue to have the same kind of diet that we all enjoy today, such a population will require annually an additional 2,000,000,000 pounds of meat, 500 million dozen eggs, and 100 billion pounds of milk solids and 300 million pounds of feed grain. A year ago our population was 159,000,000, and it has been increased since then by one individual every thirteen seconds. An increasing population is healthy for any country and is length with a scalloped neckline and long, pointed sleeves. Her veil was held by a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a single white orchid on a white prayer book, and wore pearl earrings and a pearl necklace, a wedding present from the bridegroom.

Attendants were Mrs. Alice Scholz, cousin of the bride, and R. R. Woodley, of Montgomery, Ala., friend of the groom.

A reception was held at the Cristani home following the wedding ceremony, and the young couple left for a honeymoon trip to California.

Mrs. Jones is a graduate of the Reno schools and the University of Nevada, where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta. Mr. Jones is a graduate of Sunset High School, and is presently stationed at Stead A. F. Base near Reno.

certainly looked upon favorably by business interests since it increases customers and causes better markets. It expands and stimulates the whole economy. While our population is increasing by leaps and bounds, much of our good farm lands are wearing out and being depleted. Those who have studied the question of agricultural production tell us that if we continue to dissipate our lands at the rate we have been doing for the last generation, we will have a real pinch in our food supply between 1975 and 1980. These same specialists, however, believe that if we continue to develop a sensible program of conservation of both our soil and water and keep our yields of crops at about the same per acre level that they are now, that our production can and will keep up with our rising population. These facts point up the necessity for keeping the agriculture of this country on a sound economic basis and encouraging a practical and efficient conservation program.

Other interesting figures concerning population are that the United States with about 6% of the world's population has 45% of the world's income, while Asia with 53% of the world's population has only 10% of the world's income.

The latter part of this week the Emperor of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie, will be in Washington and will speak at a joint session of Congress. He is one of the very colorful people in the world and will be remembered for the fight he put up against Fascism during World War II.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of these result fatally.

Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unweakened snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out.

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about five seconds at a time.

If the proper antivenom is available, apply it according to direction, but most important of all is to remove as much of the poison as possible so as to prevent its absorption.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment.

If one is bitten by a poisonous snake DO NOT run or get overheated and DO NOT take alcoholic stimulants because circulation increased by alcohol or exercise serves to distribute the poison more rapidly through the body.

DON'T injure the tissues by injecting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote.

DON'T depend upon home remedies or so-called snake bite cure, for they are of no value.

COWMEN PUTTING CULLS IN THE BANK EARLY

FORT WORTH—A definite trend to early Summer cattle marketing has developed in recent weeks, and on Monday the evidence of this situation was very clear. Cowmen are culling their herds earlier than usual in all of Texas' major cow country.

The day's cattle and calves numbered about 8,000, the biggest day's offering since last November. The run included the smallest supply of grainfed beef this year, and the percentage of aged cows and bulls in the run was the largest since last Fall.

The cows came from all major cow-and-calf operating areas. Typical were the $14.50 down from Charles H. Featherston of Wichita Falls, these cows off his Jefferson County, Okla., ranch near Addington and Loco, north of the Red River. Dozens of loads and smaller lots of aged cows came from the valleys of the Brazos, the Navasota, the Trinity and the Sabine rivers as well as the country drained by the Colorado. The principal cow sections of North and Northwest Texas also were represented, but in somewhat smaller numbers than the others on Monday.

Cowmen have several reasons for the early marketing of cull cows and bulls. First, they feel that prices early may be better than those later in the year. Second, they feel that it will help their grass to get these old cows and dry cows and bulls off early. Their grass will build better sod and produce more seed and if Summer rains help it along, the ravages of the drought will be wiped out sooner if they are lightly stocked. Third, many of them have larger than usual numbers of young cows and heifers coming along and need the grass for them. On Monday, drylot grainfed steers and yearlings of good and choice kind were fully steady, some weighty yearlings stronger. Grassy heifers and yearlings, especially plainer kinds, 50c to $1 lower. Cows were mostly 50c off, some fat cows off more. Bulls were steady to 50c lower. Choice stockers scarce and mostly steady. Plainer stockers around $1 lower, same common kinds off more.

LAMBS LOWER AGAIN MEAT TRADE BLAMED

Fat Spring lambs lost 50c at Fort Worth Monday and shorn lambs were around $1 lower. Older sheep sold about in line with last week's dose. Breeding ewes were finding good outlets when they were suitable ages and had quality.

Reports late last week from the Eastern Seaboard told of sizeable supplies of lamb that was rather poor condition and had to be sold under distress conditions there. There was also some talk that quantities of lamb there would have to be taken to freezers because outlets were clogged.

This situation might last from a few days to a week or more. Usually such a temporary situation clears up in a week or less, and by the prices should be more stable.

EMERGENCY FUNDS AVAILABLE

The emergency wind erosion control program for Texas has been given the green light by the federal government.

Texas, still plagued by the effect of a record drought, was apportioned an initial $2,322,000 as its share of the total fifteen million allotted for five states. Other states receiving this type of relief are Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

This first allocation was established in order to permit immediate action in controlling wind erosion in 75 counties of the state. Most of these are in West Texas and the Panhandle areas. Further allocations have been promised as they are needed.

The funds are earmarked for use to supplement work already being carried out under the Agricultural Conservation Program. The cost of emergency control measures will be shared with individual farmers and ranchers. Through a combination of emergency and ACP funds, the farmer should be spared from very much "out of pocket" costs to himself. State and local committees have been authorized to increase the share to farmers in unusual emergency for hardship conditions.

The funds will apply in designated counties for such emergency tillage operations as deep plowing to bring clods up to the surface, contour listing and contour and cross-slope chiseling, and pit cultivation. Cost-sharing will also be available for emergency seedings of sweet sorghums, millet, and other locally adapted crops which provide a protective cover as soon as there is sufficient moisture.

The leveling of sand dunes or hummocks to prepare the land for seeding is also included as another emergency practice.

Eligible counties in alphabetical order are: Andrews, Armstrong, Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Coke, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crane, Crosby, Culberson.

Also Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Donley, Ector, Fisher, Lloyd, Foard, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Haskell, Hemphill, Hockley, Howard, Hutchinson, Irion, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lamb, Lipscomb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn.

Traffic Accidents In April Claims Lives Of Nine People In This District

Capt. K. B. Hallmark, Jr., announced this week that 73 accidents were investigated in his district by the Texas Highway Patrol during April.

Six of these were fatal accidents in which nine people were killed. There were the same number of injury accidents as in March, but the number of people injured was almost doubled. Seventeen injury accidents in March injured 26 people, while 41 were injured in April.

Fatal accidents in the Wichita Falls district in April, 1954, have killed 30 people, while only 12 were killed in the same period last year. This year, the fatal accidents are averaging one and one-half deaths per accident.

The district showed a property damage loss of $55,845 during April, as compared with $58,895 in the same month last year. Although the property damage loss was less in 1954, April, 1953, had only two fatal accidents killing two people, compared with 9 people killed last month.

Baylor County was the high county in property damage, with a loss of $14,745, followed by Wichita with $11,170, and Wilbarger with $11,120.

Clay County was the leading county in fatal accidents, with four people being killed in two accidents. Wilbarger was a close second with three people meeting death in two fatal accidents. Accidents over the state have shown a 7 per cent increase so far this year.

During April, the 17 patrolmen in Hallmark's district contacted 1556 traffic law violators, of which 736 were stopped for exceeding the speed limit. Of that number 256 were arrested, the others being warned. Nineteen persons were arrested for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, while speeding was the number one offense, for which violators were arrested. The number two violation was improper passing, for which 35 people were arrested and 59 people were warned.

Capt. Hallmark warned that the vacation season is approaching, and soon school will be out and many people will be traveling the highways from coast to coast, making motoring more dangerous. He urges that you be doubly careful in populated areas, due to small children playing near and running into the streets and highways.

Hallmark reminds that the youngest person killed in a traffic accident in April was the tragic death of a three-year-old girl. He further says that national figures have proven that one person out of a family of six will be either killed or injured in a motor vehicle accident during the next ten years.

In Knox County there was one injury accident with one person injured in April, 1953. Property damage amounted to $2,570 in five accidents. During April, 1954, there was one injury accident in which five people were injured and four property damage accidents with a loss of $2,170.

HERE ARE "KEYS" TO RANGE RECOVERY

Supplemental pastures and continued feeding are major "keys" to the recovery of low producing, drought ravaged grasslands.

Livestock raisers in areas of recent rains can put their moisture to work two ways, says A. H. Walker, extension range specialist. Under favorable moisture conditions, supplemental pastures of rapid growing grasses like Sudan will furnish abundant grazing. And, while livestock are on the supplemental grazing, permanent ranges are idle, allowing them to recover at the fastest possible rate.

Range plants must have top growth before they can put down roots, Walker says. When it rains plants may grow quickly, but unless livestock are held off and grasses given a chance to re-establish their root systems, they may be worse off than before.

Just which pasture should be rested first? The one in best condition, Walker replies, since these make more progress toward recovery in less time. Poorest grasslands, which will take two to five years to recover, should be rested later.

Many producers may be tempted to jump back and "grab a quick buck", but the specialist advises these raisers to "breed back rather than buy back into the livestock business."

County agents have a handy bulletin on the subject, C-320, Range Management Versus Drouth, which contains helpful information on range care and after drouth.

GIN TRASH IN STEER FATTENING RATIONS

Ground gin trash versus cotton seed hulls in steer fattening rations recently was the subject of investigation by the El Paso Agricultural Experiment Station. The tests show the financial advantages of feeding the two cotton by-products to be dependent upon the relative price of available roughages and the seed content of the gin wastes.

Feedlot gains by animals fed gin trash and ground alfalfa hay averaged 2.11 pounds daily. Steers on cottonseed hulls and alfalfa hay made 2.19 pounds of gain per day. Warm carcass weights averaged 667 and 676 pounds for the two groups, respectively. Hull-fed steers also showed a slight advantage in carcass grades.

One and seven-tenths pounds less roughage was consumed by the gin trash-fed animals. Feed costs per 100 pounds of gain ran at $28.01 and $30.40 for the gin waste and hull-fed steers, in order.

Since the material may harbor pink bollworms all wastes from cotton gins, under current regulations, must be burned or ground to destroy all insect life. Depending upon season, area, maturity of cotton, harvest method and other factors the physical and chemical composition of the trash varies widely, the test shows. It also indicates that gin trash with the highest percentage of seed is the most valuable for feeding.

Immature lint in the wastes caused some difficulty in grinding and feeding. Complete results of these studies are given in Progress Report 1659, which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out In Favor Of Returning To Sword Fighting To Replace Bombs

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek sounds half-way serious this week, but you never can tell.

Dear editor:

I read the other day where some sarcastic columnist was ridiculing Navy officers for resuming the wearing of swords when they put on their formal dress uniforms for official occasions. According to him, in this atomic age wearing of an old-fashioned sword is as out of place as putting buggy whips on automobiles.

I do not look at it that way. In fact, where the world made its big mistake was in abandoning sword-fighting in the first place to settle its arguments.

When the world beat its swords into plowshares, it made its first major error along the road to survival. All advancement isn't progress, and probably the most progressive step mankind could take right now would be to beat its atom bombs into broad swords and resume old-fashioned warfare.

Think what it would mean to the United States budget if the defense department issued a call for 20 million swords instead of 15 thousand bombers. You ever estimate the difference in cost between overhauling a bomber and re-sharpening a sword? Also, virtually every piece of motorized equipment we got on hand now is wearing out, that's the very nature of machinery, and in ten years practically everything we spend this year for defense will have to be spent again, as newer models of airplanes come out, more slaughterous bombs are perfected, etc., but a first-class sword made from good tempered steel 150 years ago is just as useful now as it was then.

Now I'll admit you can't kill as many people with swords as you can with bombs, but big numbers never did mean anything in themselves as far as I'm concerned, and if a man is killed thoroughly with a sword he's just as killed as if he was hit by a hydrogen bomb. Looks to me like scaling down the number of casualties you could report in the newspapers would be offset by a corresponding scaling down in the U. S. debt.

It's an odd thing, but people are always talking about the high cost of things, yet never talk much about the high cost of killing. Back in the sword-fighting days it probably didn't cost more than fifteen or twenty

GRAYSON COUNTY GRAIN FARMERS FIND ANSWER

There's a wide spread between 33 and 57 bushels of oats per acre and Grayson county farmers find that nitrogen fertilizers can make such a difference in their harvests.

Thirty pounds of nitrogen per acre not only increased oat yield 72 percent, but stepped up wheat production by 68 percent.

Interested farmers and businessmen in the area initiated the idea and tests were made from 1949-1952 to determine the effect of fertilizers on small grains on the Houston soil of North-Central Texas. Plantings were made in Grayson and Collin counties.

Average wheat yield at 27 locations during the four year period without fertilization was 14.3 bushels. Thirty pounds of nitrogen applied as a top dressing have a yield of 24 bushels to the acre.

At 14 locations oats made 33.1 bushels without fertilizer and 53.7 bushels an acre when nitrogen was applied.

"High-Priced" Mistake

Maybe you noticed the big "ad" Red Smith's Furniture Store ran in The Clarion last week.

One item caused some embarrassment around here. It read: "4-piece Bedroom Suite, regular price $119.50, bargain price $149.50." Guess I didn't "proof-read" too well, and when our pressman asked for the go-ahead, I yelled, "Let 'er go."

All kinds of jokes about the mistake. One fellow asked if Smith's was holding the price line so tight it just snapped. Turned out fine in the end—Red sold that suite for the real sale price, of course.

From where I sit, it's lucky my carelessness didn't cost Red any business. I'm the one who's always "experting" on being careful—careful of our responsibilities, careful of our neighbors rights. Even careful to respect the other fellow's preference for a glass of beer. Let's all make a bargain to be more careful in the future.
