

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

It's something new for the community and should be of benefit to many people. It's the "social calendar" which will be kept at the Chamber of Commerce office. No, we didn't know just what the thing was, or how it would benefit, until we inquired further.

Dates of all community activities, church, school, club, etc., will be kept on the calendar, and its purpose is to avoid conflict in such activities. It seems that the project will avoid a lot of conflicts in the future.

We've found times when we were supposed to be in three or four places on one night—church board of Methodist Men, lodge, a special meeting of some kind, and the like. By keeping tab on the "social calendar" it is believed a lot of conflicting activities can be avoided.

Already the dates for the Baptist revival, the Methodist Vacation Bible School, the Mogul Band School, and such things have been recorded on the calendar. Anyone wishing to place a date on it, or wanting to check on dates before they feel free to do so at the Chamber of Commerce office. A very worthy project, we think.

We get accustomed to signs on the bank's doors. In fact, bank people get some ribbing from signs they place up on observance of certain holidays, and people almost push in the door trying to get inside before discovering the sign.

One sign that had an almost permanent place on the north door of the bank, especially in cold and windy weather, was the one which said: "Use East Door." But even that sign was replaced during last week end with one we'd never seen in all of our nearly 18 years in Munday. And we'll likely never see it again in our lifetime, once it's taken down.

The sign merely says: "Moved to Temporary Quarters, Across Street North."

But it means a lot more than that. Most of the bank's business facilities have moved into the building which once housed the Stamford P. C. A., and the gigantic task of remodeling the bank building has begun. It means months of work and the fruition of years of planning. The time will pass more quickly for most of us than for the bank personnel, and before we hardly realize it we'll have a brand new bank, and one of the most modern in this area.

Many of us hardly noticed that little pop-cloud that came up around 5 P. M. Sunday, except to hope it would give us even a little moisture. It did, but only a few drops. Two people were rudely reminded that electricity was in the air.

Ernest Machen had come in and was watching TV, while Mrs. Machen was talking over the telephone. A bolt of lightning disrupted the TV program and knocked the telephone out of Mrs. Machen's hands. She also suffered slight shock in one arm and one limb, which bothered her to some extent during the night. A rather close call, we'd say.

Sen. Moffett Announces For Another Term

The Munday Times is authorized to place the name of Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe in our announcement column as a candidate for re-election to the State Senate for the 23rd Senatorial District, composed of Archer, Baylor, Cottle, Foard, Hardean, Haskell, King, Knox, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger, and Young Counties.

The first native to represent this district in the State Senate, Senator Moffett has been a leader in that body for several years, and is said to be the author of more amendments to the State Constitution than any other member. They include amendments to speed up court procedure and to build a state office building. The latter will be started soon and will save the State hundreds of thousands of dollars in office rent each year.

Often called "Cotton George," Senator Moffett has vigorously championed efforts to broaden markets for farm and livestock products—especially cotton. He maintains that finding broader markets for farm and ranch products is the best long range solution of the farm surplus problems.

Senator Moffett has shown strong interest in matters affecting his district, as well as those of statewide importance, including oil development, the schools, and war veterans. He is the author of the County Veterans Service Officer Law and other measures for veterans. He is regarded as being an independent thinker who votes his honest convictions upon legislative matter.

"I regard public office as a public trust, to be filled in the public interest," stated Senator Moffett.

No matter where one stands on farm legislation, there are certain facts that seem indisputable. One fact, in the words of the Portland Oregonian, is this: "High, mandatory price supports encourage growing of grain on soil which should never have been plowed. A lot of the soil . . . blew away. . . ."

Additionally, as this paper also points out, "Retention of 90 per cent supports after the war has kept marginal land in production, to the detriment of wheat growers in areas where this is the logical crop. . . ."

Then the Oregonian has something worthwhile to say about pending farm legislation: "One feature of the farm bill is a soil bank which would assist farmers to convert marginal land to uses which would conserve the soil. To tie a bank to a support program which encourages continued cultivation of such soil is extremely illogical. . . . A lot of people are getting pretty fed up with political juggling of the country's vital agricultural resources."

No one knows whether the soil bank can accomplish what is hoped for by its advocates. But it does represent an honest effort to try to do something constructive about a surplus problem which grows steadily worse. To adopt the soil bank along with rigid supports would amount to setting the right hand to fighting against the left. On top of that, the soil bank cannot possibly work unless the law makes sure that the soil in question really is retired from production. If, for instance, it were to be used for livestock grazing, the result would simply be still more overproduction of meat—and more grief for farmers, ranchers, and the taxpayers.

MORE THAN ONE BARREL

Any sound program for cutting the cost of government, getting government out of commercial business, and reducing taxes, must have more than one barrel.

It must be aimed at state and local governments, as well as the national government.

The Leader, of Shawano, Wisconsin points out that many counties have plunged into enterprises which have nothing to do with governing, such as print shops. It adds: "Just as the federal programs of entering the business field work hardships on the taxpaying public, so do the state and county-sponsored enterprises. . . ."

Waste and needless spending at the grass roots level of government are just as bad as at the top.

SETTING THE RECORD STRAIGHT

In one of her syndicated financial columns, Sylvia Porter points out that "a massive amount of nonsense already has been printed about the effect of this election year on business and stock prices and . . . an even more massive amount is sure to be thrown at you in the months ahead." So Miss Porter sets out to set the record straight—and to prove that "there's absolutely no validity to the popular legend that presidential election periods signal a downturn in business."

Here's the story. Since 1900 there have been 14 presidential elections. In the year following each of the elections, business improved 10 times—and changed for the worse only four times. And two of those four years saw the onsets of the world wars.

Miss Porter also offers a forecast: "The record also suggests that business activity eight months after this election will be higher than it is at this writing, eight months before the election. And that goes regardless of the names of the candidates, their political tags or the outcome."

Politics is important. So are political candidates and their views. But it looks as if the strength and vigor of American enterprise, luckily for us all, are not materially affected by elections and the unreliable political winds.

GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS

Certain rights, such as the right of trial by jury, are spelled out specifically in the constitution of the United States.

But, as a DeMille Foundation Bulletin observes, there are vital rights which are not so specified. The Bulletin says: "The Constitution does not set forth the right of a man to eat. . . . nor to sleep. . . . nor to stand up nor lie down. These actions are part of daily living—of life itself, and therefore need no defining."

Then the Bulletin adds: "Our founding fathers took for granted certain human rights and therefore saw no need to write them into the Constitution."

"These are God-given rights and the right to life is one of them!"

"The right of life means the right to work—for like eating and sleeping and breathing, working is an indispensable part of living."

That right to work involves exactly what the term implies—the right to join a union or not join a union as each individual sees fit; the right to be free of coercion by either the union or the employer. This is the all-important right that the closed shop and the union shop deny to millions of supposedly free people.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

Continued for last week

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

There are many ways of faiths in the world, but are there many ways that are of God? The prophet Jeremiah said, "I will give them one heart and one way" (Jer. 32:29). The apostle Paul said there is "one Lord, one faith, one baptism" (Eph. 4:5). Many religious people express the thought that any faith or creed is good as long as the individual is sincere. Different creeds advocate different modes of worship to the same God, and most all claim the Holy Scriptures as their origin of source. If each creed is good in the sight of God, and the worshippers acceptable to God in their separate groups and rites, then why would it not be well for one to embrace them all? Why could I not be a member of every group and render unto God the good of every creed and be a better and more devoted Christian? We can quickly realize how inconsistent this would be, in as much as one creed teaches just the opposite to another on many things.

THE BENEFIT OF CHOOSING RIGHT

"Blessed are they that do his commandments that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city." (Rev. 22:14). Jesus told his disciples, "In my Father's house are many mansions. . . . I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto my self that where I am, there ye may be also. (Jn. 14:2-3). This promise reaches on down to us if we will be his disciples by doing the things contained in his word. Paul said "Study to show thy self approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" (2 Tim. 2:15).

conform to his word that they may be holy and that we may trust in the wisdom of God and not in the wisdom of men. "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are my ways your ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts" (Isa. 55:8-9). Jesus said of certain people of his day, "In vain they do worship, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men" (Matt. 15: 9).

Goree F. H. A. Sponsors Mother And Daughter Banquet Thursday, April 12

The Goree F.H.A. girls held their annual mother-daughter banquet on Thursday night, April 12, at the high school gymnasium. Fifty-three mothers and daughters attended, and David Moore, the chapter beau, was also present.

Linda Joyce Lambeth did a "top rare" job as mistress of ceremonies.

The May Day theme was carried out with a large red and white maypole standing on green grass sprinkled with red roses. The tables were decorated with miniature maypoles and baskets of roses. The programs were printed on petticoats of cardboard and dolls clothed in fabrics designed to represent those worn by each mother and daughter.

The invocation was given by David Moore. After the meal, the president, Mona Mobley, gave the welcome address with response being made by Mrs. Turner. The senior quartet, Linda Lambeth, Donna Jetton, Mona Mobley and Sherry Haskins, sang two numbers. This was followed by a comical skit on mother and daughter relationships down through the ages, entitled "From Here to Eternity." Glenda Morse's accordion solo was followed by group song games.

Vice President Jo Moore awarded the outgoing president's pin to Mona Mobley, and David Moore was presented a "beau key" by Samye Bates. Mrs. Hadley presented the following girls with chapter degree pins and keys: Reba Tynes, Sharon Hunt, Belva Jetton, Jo Moore, Sharon Turner, Beth Howry, Jeanette Rounton, Brenda Hutchens, Nahwana Lambeth and Jean Orsak.

The candle-lighting service installed the following officers for 1956-57: Jo Moore, president; Sharon Hunt, vice president; Jean Orsak, secretary; Belva Jetton, Treasurer; Samye Bates, reporter; Dorothy Harrison, parliamentarian; Glenda Lowrance, Historian; Ann Morton, song leader, and Ruth Ann Beatty, pianist.

The benediction was given in the form of the F.H.A. prayer song. —Samye Bates, reporter.

YOU DON'T GET ON EVERY IRRIGATION PUMP INSTALLATION!

We're proud of the job that Peerless does before installing a new Peerless Pump in an irrigation well. First, we secure all the information about a new well—its depth, the amount of water available, the size of the casing installed, and send this information to Peerless engineers. From these facts, Peerless engineers will suggest a pump that FITS YOUR WELL.

There is no guesswork. You know that when it is a Peerless it is not only the best pump money can buy, but it is also engineered for your well. It is THE PUMP that will give you the lowest cost operation, the longest service, the easiest pulling, of any pump that could be installed.

And that's not all. We install the pump here at home and completely guarantee the installation. We are ready, day or night, to back up that guarantee.

PARTNERSHIPS

Have you ever toyed with the idea of going into a little business with your brother-in-law or a friend? With all the opportunities these days, maybe you've thought about tying up with someone in an enterprise of your own.

Any time you go into business with somebody else, there is a

MULLING WITH MULLER
By Edna M. Muller

If you're being budget-minded (and who isn't after taxes), and in the market for a new carpet—here's some interesting news that may well appeal to you. It's a new type of carpeting, 100 per cent nylon, made with a built-in foam cushion which discards the necessity for a separate underpadding!

The foam cushion will neither crush nor mat and will remain springy for the life of the carpet. Candalon Foam-Cushion, as the carpeting is called, is made on Jacquard looms which permit the use of fine intricate weaves that give the carpet an unusual elegance. And, the designs are so tightly woven, it eliminates crushing and makes it almost impossible to detect footmarks even after long and heavy traffic. What's more, the carpeting does not moth, mildew, silverfish and carpet beetles.

Needless to say, we all know the joys of nylon with its remarkable wearing strength and soil resistance qualities, but add to all this the feature of a built-in padding, and it would seem a wonderful combination of luxury and service! It's reported to outwear carpets twice as thick and costing twice as much, so if you're carpet-minded maybe you ought to see this new floor covering, available in a choice of colors and patterns, before you settle for something less!

If you've got that old spring feeling — like you want to go somewhere or do something — maybe a new hair-dryer will help. It worked like a charm for me. I got so tired of my old hair-dryer that I decided to take myself in hand and try something completely different and (I hope) becoming. Believe me, it's the best tonic in the world — even a better morale booster than a hot bath. Try it!

question of what kind of a relationship to work out; for example, whether to form a partnership or a corporation.

The partnership is one of the most popular because it can be formed without much trouble and in a hurry. It is an easy way to combine talent, effort and finances with someone you know and trust.

Generally speaking, whenever one or more persons get together and (1) share profits, (2) share losses, and (3) both participate in the control or management of a business, the law will regard them as partners, whether or not they have formally agreed to call themselves partners.

One of the most important legal consequences to keep in mind in forming a general partnership is that each partner is responsible for the debts incurred by the other on behalf of the business. What is more, under certain circumstances one might be held responsible in damages for acts of the other partner committed in the course of the joint business.

A partnership may be dissolved at any time by any one of the partners, but a withdrawal in violation of the terms of the partnership agreement may cause liability for damages. Death or bankruptcy of a partner are other causes for dissolution.

The important thing is to understand what you are getting into and what your responsibilities are if things don't go so well.

The best way to start a partnership is to enter into a written partnership agreement prepared by your attorney, setting out in clear detail the rights and responsibilities of each partner.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interest any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

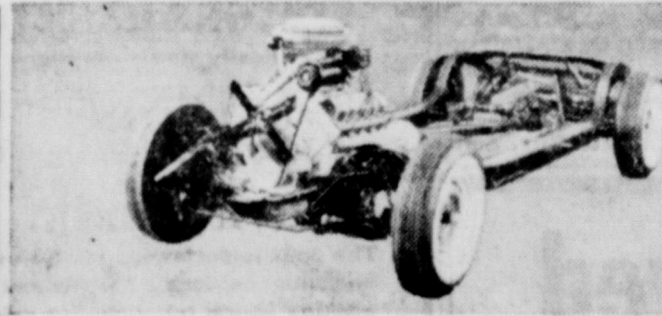

This isn't just "big" talk. Dodge actually is bigger all around—up to 7.7 inches longer than cars in its own field, 14.5 inches longer than cars in the "low price" field. Dodge is bigger inside, too. More legroom front and rear! More hiproom front and rear! Dodge gives you plenty of room to relax in comfort.

Dodge push-button PowerFlite makes every other way of driving old-fashioned. It's mechanically perfect—the easiest, safest, surest way of driving ever developed. Just touch a button and go!

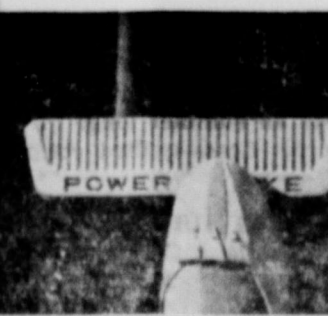

Dodge is powered for today's driving! Aircraft-type 260 hp. V-8 engine develops tremendous break-away power!

Solid—that's the way Dodge builds 'em! From the frame right on up, Dodge is engineered to take the roughest punishment. EXAMPLE: Box-section side rails provide greater strength and ruggedness than common I-beam or U-channel type used in most other car frames. Crossmembers are extra heavy. Here's solid dependability.

Who says parking isn't fun? Dodge power steering does 80% of the work, takes fewer turns of the wheel than other cars.

You can stop on a dime—with Dodge power brakes. Front wheel brakes have two cylinders, two anchors for positive, predictable stops.

It's America's performance champion! No other car has ever given such proof of superior performance. In a 14-day run at Bonneville, Dodge outclassed American stock cars and European sports cars both—shattered 306 AAA records in all, including 27 world records.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Last year for the first time since the Texas State Department of Health began keeping records of the cause of death, tuberculosis did not appear in the list giving the ten leading causes of death. Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health reports that tuberculosis dropped from tenth place to eleventh and diabetes, a newcomer in the first ten, was in ninth place.

Fifty years ago tuberculosis was first as a cause of death in Texas. It was sometimes called "Captain of the Men of Death" and "The Great White Plague." A concerted program for the elimination of this disease has been carried out over the years by official and non-official agencies with the help of the medical profession. Since 1940, the drop in deaths from this disease has been most rapid.

Dr. Holle warns the public not to become complacent about the situation, as 816 Texans died of this disease last year. The State Health Department carries on an extensive mass X-ray survey program to detect the disease in its early curable stage. These mass surveys not only discover tuberculosis but certain heart conditions, cancer and other abnormalities in the chest area. Advancement in methods of treatment, surveys and antibiotics all have contributed to lowering the death rate and returning the victims of tuberculosis to useful occupations.

Diabetes claimed 896 lives. This is a disease for which there is no known cure. When it is discovered early and kept under close medical supervision, diabetes need not interfere with its victims regular way of life. The disease can be kept under control by diet, insulin injections or a combination of these as decided by the doctor.

The ten leading causes of death account for 80 per cent of the deaths in Texas. In the order of their importance they are: heart disease, malignant neoplasms, apoplexy, accidents, certain diseases of early infancy, pneumonia, congenital malformations, general arteriosclerosis, diabetes and gastro enteritis.

Billions In Bond Savings Going To Make Improvement In American Living

Dallas—With the fifteenth anniversary of the volunteer U. S. Savings Bonds program coming up on May first, a good deal of attention is being given to the fact that individual American own more than $40 billion in Series E and H bonds, an all-time peak roughly one-third higher than E bond holdings at the end of World War II.

Nathan Adams and Ed Gossett, Co-Chairmen of the Texas Savings Bonds Committee, consider this "reason enough for congratulating Americans on their thrift" but they also consider the reverse of the picture a shining one.

"I am also impressed by the fact that, since E bonds were put on sale in May, 1941, Americans have cashed billions of dollars of their bond holdings to buy things they needed," Mr. Adams comments.

"I think of these cashed bonds in terms of benefits already realized by our people," Mr. Gossett explains. "In wartime and since, most bond buyers saved them to spend later on important things. Among these were new homes, in the suburbs or in the country, automobiles to make more spacious living possible, modernization of old housing, cleaning up of urban slum areas by private owners, and a multitude of improvements to raise our standards of living, comfort and convenience."

"The Treasury does not ask bondholders what they are planning to do with money from cashing bonds, and the banks who cash them do not report on this point," he continued. "But each of us can think of many instances in his own circle of friends and associates where bond savings were the basis of important investments and purchases that bettered a family's living conditions. Multiply these local instances across the nation and they run into millions of homes and many billions of dollars invested for the benefit of the individual, the family and the community."

"This also, of course, helps the entire economy of our country. Savings invested in this way create and maintain industry, business, employment, consumer income and further saving and spending. They help to flatten out both the peaks and the valleys of the business cycle, and keep the spending stream flowing neither too fast nor too slow. That makes for stability throughout the economy and creates a solid foundation on which to expand production to keep up with the growth of population.

"Scientists are now using radioactive isotopes to trace the course of certain substances in the human body. I wish it were possible to mark in some way the course of every dollar realized from redeeming Savings Bonds as it circulates through the economy. The result, I know, would amaze and gratify us all."

"When we spend savings wisely for important ends we are helping to strengthen our economy and improve our living standards. When we save today for spending at the proper time later, we are maintaining the reserves to keep the spending stream flowing steadily. In an economy such as ours, saving and spending are both essential. When personal income is high, as it is now, is the time to step up our saving. The goal of our Savings Bonds program for 1956 is $5,650,000,000 in E and H bonds sales, only five per cent higher than actual sales in 1955. I know of no better way to protect our prosperity than to spend and save wisely. The fruits of expanding production in an expanding population are within the reach of all if we keep things in the proper balance."

WORTHY DRIVE SEEKS TO RESTORE HOME OF TEXAS INDEPENDENCE

Texas has more tradition behind it than any other state in the Union, not even excluding Massachusetts with its Plymouth Jamestown Settlement. Nearly a century before the Landing of Pilgrims, Cabeza de Vaca had traveled across Texas, the first white man to penetrate this virgin land. In his later account of this journey, he made Texas the first portion of what is now the United States known to Europe. De Soto died before he saw Texas but his captain, Felix Moscoso, led his cavalcade across the northern end of Texas even while Coronado was penetrating the West Texas Plains in search of the Seven Cities of Cibola. And all this went on long before the Mayflower. Conquistadores and missionaries traveled our hills and vales while the Indians still possessed New England.

Texas is the only state that was an independent nation before it joined the Union. The creation of this nation took place at Washington-on-the-Brazos with the declaration of March 2, 1836, asserting its independence from Mexico. The holocaust of the Alamo and the splendid victory of San Jacinto were historic events to give substance to this declaration. But while we preserve the memory of the Alamo and San Jacinto with suitable monuments, we have left the shrine at Washington-on-the-Brazos without similar memorial.

The Texas Independence Day Organization is now appealing for contributions for a Texas Hall of Fame and a Washington-on-the-Brazos Museum. These would be erected close to the restored home of Anson Jones, last president of the Republic of Texas, and the replica of the gun shop of Noah Byars in which the declaration was signed.

This is a laudable drive. It deserves the support of all Texans. —Houston Chronicle.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Beard

Recently, John Rogers, the son of Congressman Walter Rogers, of Pama, Texas, wrote and delivered a prize-winning speech in the National High School Oratorical Contest sponsored by the American Legion. In reading John's speech, I was greatly impressed with the statements that he makes concerning fundamental Americanism. John Rogers wrote and spoke words that all Americans should read—He spoke in part as follows:

"Communism, sin, and depravity are easy to spot. You can point to suffering, to death, to slavery and there is your Communism, your sin, your depravity. "But indifference is deceptive. It cannot be seen, it cannot be realized, we can only see what it has done. We look at the skeleton of Poland and say, 'Too bad!' But it was indifference that murdered her. We read in the paper that a small country has been engulfed by revolution and death. Again, we say, 'Too Bad,' but it is indifference that bleeds her. . . . "But for an American citizen to sit back and allow the reins of Government to slip from his grasp and become in grave danger of being taken over by the cruel claw of oppression—that is treason, lacking only motivation and intent.

"How can a 'good' American be called a traitor when he respects the Flag and upholds the Government? How does he respect that Flag? Does he actively seek to protect and defend her that 'long may she wave on high' or does he merely tip his hat in passing? How does he uphold the Government? Does he know there are some 280 front organizations devoted to destroying that Government: Does he know their name, their approach, what to do about them? Or does he say, 'Someone in Washington will take care of it.' Someone in Washington can't do everything—can't show step by step all the pitfalls to each of the 160 million Americans.

"America is not a Nation of dullards who have to be waited on hand and foot, and spooned full of information; who must live in constant jeopardy of being poisoned by the sugar-coated pollution of Communism. If Communism were to bang at our door at this minute, and flash bayonets and guns in our faces, Americans would rise as a man to smite down this foul invader of our free shores. But because it sneaks in, because it infiltrates, we say someone else will take care of it. Without a doubt what happened to Poland, to Yugoslavia, to Albania, to Latvia, to the Balkans, and to many, many others can happen here. In fact, it has very nearly happened already. Just 15 years ago when World War II broke out and America began to gird and prepare herself for battle, detailed checks were made of all Government employees, workers, and anyone else in any way connected with the war effort. It was then that it became evident just how many beams in our ship were worms and termites of subversion, and by far the majority of these vermin were not Nazis or Fascists, but radical free thinkers, that is to say, Commies.

"Commies, Reds, Pinkos, fellow-travelers, leftists, progressives—many were rooted out and unmasked—many, but not all. Some burrowed deeper or took on new colors. These are the Hisses, Remingtons, and Coplons of our present day.

"However, those that were uncovered were found out, not because we finally wised up, but because of wartime security, and the discovery of these Americans in name only did not do away with them entirely. They have only changed their immediate objective. Though still penetrating the stronghold of freedom, their main purpose now is to lull us into a false sense of security and well-being.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Rhea Howard, Mr. Ralph Milburn, Mrs. J. H. Hall, Mrs. N. H. Martin, Mrs. E. T. Duff, and Mrs. Hoyt Young, all of Wichita Falls.

News Of Munday F. F. A. Chapter

The Munday F.F.A. Chapter is busy trying to get things ready for the Knox County Junior 4-H & F.F.A. Project Show. The Munday Chapter is feeding out seventeen commercial calves cooperatively. Some of these will be shown April 28. Other members of the chapter will exhibit gilts, sows, and litters, and fryers, laying hens, boars, and others. All in all we hope to have a good show. Come out and see what the boys are doing. You might be surprised to know just how much the boys in the county are doing, particularly, the Munday Chapter. We have entered teams in the leadership contests which include Junior Farm Skill, Senior Farm Skill, and Junior Quiz. Then we have prepared teams and entered the Oil Belt District Livestock, Dairy, and Land judging contests. In these Munday had the high man in the district in livestock judging, Pete Rister, We also had one of our boys, Boyd Meers, to tie for second place in the district in dairy judging. The dairy team brought back a banner.

We took five teams to the Area IV judging contest in Stephenville. This was a wonderful experience for several of the boys who had never known what it was to sleep with so many boys and then try to beat them in a judging contest. There were some 1700 boys here. Munday did not happen to get placed among the winners to go to the State meet at A&M college.

We have trained two more teams, a meat, and a Dairy Product team, but due to a conflict in dates the 28 we cannot take part in the judging contests, but must take part in our local show. You will be interested to know that according to the summary form report of the various Vocational Agriculture Teachers of the Oil Belt District and sent to Fred Carem to give at the District Banquet at Graham in January that the total amount, gross, all boys in the district reporting was $36,000. Of this amount The Munday F. F. A. Boys had $56,000.

NEW LOOK AT AN OLD ENEMY

Texas farmers are warned to keep an eye out this spring for an old enemy—the grasshopper.

Early season surveys show the grasshopper threat is more serious this year than in 1955. The Texas Panhandle can expect the biggest threat, but Central Texas is likely to have infestations also.

This threat is a warning to start early in planning a hopper control program. Early control means less work at less cost while a "wait-and-see" attitude can result in heavy losses with more acres to treat later in the year. One dollar spent for early control can save as much as $38 in crops and grazing later on.

Early season methods work best just after the grasshoppers finish hatching. This can be anytime from April 1 to late June, depending on the weather. Cold, wet seasons delay hatching while warm and moderately dry weather favor it.

Idle land, field margins, fence rows, ditch banks and roadsides are good places to start. These are favorable habitats for the hopper to lay eggs. And they lay 200 to 400 eggs a season if the female is a migratory hopper.

To show what you can be up against, if all eggs hatch and young hoppers are permitted to develop into adults, they can average 24 to 32 hoppers to the square yard. Then you are in the middle of a serious outbreak.

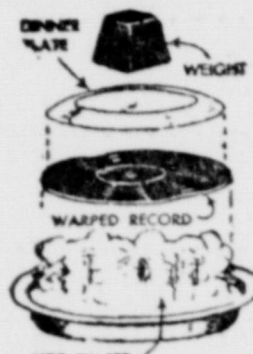

A control program which provides federal assistance is available only in range land areas. In cultivated land, you're on your own. And controlling grasshoppers that originate on your land is only part of the job. Your place can be overrun by hoppers from nearby areas.

Cooperative community action is the best way to solve the problem. (Literature and further information is available from Agriculture Commissioner John White, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.)

To Straighten Records

SINCE warped phonograph records are useless in that condition, Popular Mechanics offers a suggestion for straightening them. Simply immerse the record in hot water, 140 to 160 degrees, in a cake pan or similar shallow flat-bottom container.

Over the record invert a dinner plate of a diameter permitting its edge to contact only the edge of the record. In other words, don't let the plate touch the grooves of the record.

Place a one-pound weight on the plate, leaving the record under pressure until the water has cooled to room temperature.

When a controversy broke around a high national official, the Washington news dispatch said he was "not available for comment." But these fellow are always around when there is a chance for some favorable publicity.

Next time, when such a public figure tries to grab a headline, it would serve him right if the papers would just say they were "not available for publishing."

ATTENTION HOME OWNERS

Neighbors, today there are more modern homes that have septic tanks than ever before in the history of our nation. There has been no consideration given to the public for the treatment and care of septic tanks and grease traps.

We are all concerned with where the deadly weapon of polio germs might be existing. Now according to Medical Science and the study of bacteriology as long as we have proper bacteria reactions in our everyday life and plants and in the treatment of sewage, you will have healthy and sanitary conditions.

Septic Cultures produced by the Carroll Laboratories of Houston, Texas are now on the market to the public and the cities for the treatment of sewage disposal. This is a product with which the laboratories have been serving cities throughout different localities of the United States. Laboratory technicians are working constantly for something that might be existing that our product would not handle. We have today been able to say that we have taken care of most all problems which have existed in the treatment of septic tanks, city sewage lines and disposal plants.

Septic Cultures is a highly concentrated bacterial food containing millions of micro-organisms per pound.

Septic Cultures contains bacteria and molds and the necessary organics, minerals and enzyme systems to give the best results in your waste disposal system. Regular addition to your treatment process will assure a high level of efficiency.

By adding Septic Cultures you supply not only the live micro-organisms, but also the proper foods in the correct amounts to keep the organisms working at full strength. Today with the high percentage of greases, bleaches, detergents, acids, strong alkalies present it is necessary to overcome these problems with an extra additive of bacteria to assure smooth sewage treatment operation. The Micro-organisms in Septic Cultures attack and liquefy the organic solids and eliminate the odors. Excellent results have been obtained in areas where terrain is level and collection lines have been installed with flat grades.

THIS IS IMPORTANT!

WHEN SOME ONE CALLS ON YOUR HOME WITH A TRUCK AN TELLS YOU THAT YOUR TANK IS ALMOST FULL, THAT IS CORRECT. IT HAS TO BE FULL TO BE FILTERING PROPERLY, AND THE MOST HARMFUL THING YOU COULD DO WOULD BE TO HAVE IT PUMPED. THAT IS TAKING AWAY THE MOST VALUABLE PART OF YOUR TANK. HE DOESN'T CLEAN YOUR LINES OR ELIMINATE THE ODORS. HE JUST CHARGES YOU ENORMOUS PRICES FOR ABSOLUTELY NO VALUATION TO YOU AT ALL.

The most harmful things you can put in your lines to open them up would be: High caustic chemicals, which can be found on the market ranging in price from 10c to 35c a can, under different trade names, which all you people are familiar with. To keep your lines open you should have proper bacteria reactions, and that will eliminate all order.

FORT WORTH—The largest offering of sheep and lambs of the month arrived at Fort Worth Monday. Trade was fairly active and prices ranged from fully steady to unevenly higher. Spring lambs sold at firm prices, with some lightweights suitable for the creek Easter trade unevenly higher.

Old crop shorn lambs were strong to 50 cents higher. Slaughter sheep were fully steady, and tocker and feeder sheep and lambs were strong. Spring lambs topped at $21, and old crop shorn lambs with No. 1 pelts sold up to $19. Stocker ewes lambs sold at $19 down, those at the higher figure blackfaced ewes lambs. Knox Prairie Philosopher Likes The Soil Bank Idea, But Wonders If Congress Is Thinking Far Ahead

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Miller Creek discusses soil banking this week, a subject he knows about as much about as he does financial banking.

J. A.

Dear editor: I was out here wandering around over my farm yesterday speculating on where I'd put my soil bank if Congress passes one, as I understand it, if it gets passed, it'll be too late this year actually to take any land out of cultivation, but the government will go ahead and pay us on the basis of fifty per cent down and the balance next year, so a thinking man ought to be figuring out now where he wants his idle land to be located.

Now here's the thing—it looks like the proposed bill is liable to be discriminatory. You take a man like me, who foresaw the surplus coming years ago and let a lot of his land lay out, it seems to me I ought to get the full payment this year. If the purpose of the bill is to pay a man for refusing to contribute to the surplus, it seems to me the farmers who are already in the swing of the thing could be paid this year.

I can show you pieces of land out here on my farm which have not contributed to the surplus in years, and I believe I'm entitled to some back pay for my farsightedness.

Furthermore, as I understand the bill, the idea is to take some land out of cultivation, then plant some soil-building crops on it, lock the cows out, and let the fertility accumulate, with the government footing the bill. Keep your crops in an underground soil bank instead of in a price-depressing warehouse, is the idea.

Now this is a fine program, but I hope the government is thinking ahead and is prepared to stay in the soil banking business for a long time. This can't be no fly-by-night scheme. You let farmers build up a part of their land to where it'll produce twice as much as it is now, and then in a few years close the bank and let them start planting on it again, and the surplus we've got now will look like the end of seven years of want in Egypt by comparison to the one we'll have then.

As I see it, either the country has got to learn to eat and wear more, or when Congress writes that soil bank bill it had better put in a requirement that the land still in use be farmed in the worst manner possible, rows running down hill and the land exposed to washing, so when we switch over to the built-up land, we won't be right back in the surplus business. It looks like what we need is for half the farmers to be soil bankers and the other half soil bank robbers, if this thing is ever to come out even.

As it is, it looks like Congress is fixing to pay us for being better farmers, surplus-producing farmers with a vengeance, five years from now, when what we really need is worse farmers, non-surplus-producing farmers. Personally, I'm glad I'm not a Congressman.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Gas utility company gains in 1955 were approximately 1,056,000 customers or an increase of 3.8 percent over 1954.

Revenues from utility sales of gas almost reached the 3½ billion dollar mark in 1955.

The Munday Times

An idea may be good or bad, right or wrong. Most people have the wrong idea about religion. "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." Proverbs 14:12. Get the right idea about God's Word this Sunday.

TREAT THOSE PECAN TREES

The time is almost here to treat those pecan trees again for that dreaded insect, the nut case bearer. This adult moth lays her eggs near the base of the young pecan. Then a few days later when the egg hatches into the young larvae it has plenty of food available right at its mouth, the young pecan, so if nothing happens to disturb it, it eats to its hearts content and grows fat, while you grow lean watching your pecans turn black and fall off. But fortunately this can be prevented, if a close watch is kept on your trees, and action is taken at the right time.

The time to treat the trees is just as they are beginning to shed their blooms. The material to use is wettable D. D. T. at the rate of one pound to 25 gallons of water, or 1/2 pound per 12 gallons of water, stirred thoroughly. Then spray directly on the small pecans. It makes little difference whether the D.D.T. is sprayed on the leaves or not as the little nut case bearer does not wander from the small nuts. So give the insect plenty of poison for its diet and your trees will give you a good crop of pecans. You may use Arsenate of lead instead of D.D.T. in the same way and at the same rate if you wish.

If you are having trouble with rosette on your pecan trees (curling up of leaves and growing in thick clusters), spray the leaves with zinc sulphate, 2 pounds per 50 gallons of water, and punch holes in the ground around the tree about 1 foot apart and place a teaspoon full of zinc sulphate in each hole.

If reseeding of abandoned cropland or barren rangeland is to be successful, the operation must be carried out in the same thorough manner as the seeding of any other crop. Use the best soil, adapted seed, methods and equipment available. The ultimate success depends upon adequate moisture and good management.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

Sen. Moffett—

during my service in the Legislature. I pay my own campaign expenses.

"I favor, and have voted for, bills requiring members of the Legislature to register the names of companies or persons from whom they receive fees. The people are entitled to such information.

"The last Legislature did the best job of tightening Texas insurance laws that has been done in fifty years. Fourteen hundred insurance companies were attempting to do business in Texas—almost as many as in the other forty-seven states. I voted for all the bills which closed the loopholes in our insurance laws, and if further strengthening is needed, I will support bills to do so.

"Our state hospital system needs more buildings to relieve badly overcrowded conditions. The system also needs to secure more nurses and doctors, and to increase the very low salaries of present employees.

"I expect to discuss other issues during the campaign.

"I have always voted a straight Democratic ticket, and will appreciate your vote and support in the Democratic primary. Thank you."
