Work Progressing Rapidly On New Vera School Plant

Opening School Will Likely Be Delayed Until October

Work on Vera's new $40,000 school building is progressing nicely, reports Merick McGaughey, of that community.

The project is under supervision of WPA superintendent McMahan who believes the building will be completed in time for late opening of school, perhaps in the early part of October.

The building is a 12-room structure, of native stone and brick, and when completed will be one of the most modern school plants in Knox county. Nine teachers have been employed in the past, but with the completion of the new plant some twelve teachers will compose the faculty. This is partially due to the consolidation of the Lone Star and Vera districts. Considerable material from both the old school building at Lone Star and Vera were salvaged and is being used in the construction of the new consolidated school.

Supt. Thompson who is head of the Vera school system, has been giving his time and energy during the summer months in the construction of the new school plant.

O'Daniel Radios Appeal for Texas Flood Sufferers

W. Lee O'Daniel, Texas Democratic gubernatorial nominee, in a radio address Monday night made an appeal for contributions toward relief of Texas flood sufferers and set an example by giving the unspent portion of his campaign fund, $801.38, to the Red Cross, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The governor-elect said the money shouldn't be credited to any particular Red Cross chapter, because it had been contributed by people from all parts of Texas.

Gafford Barber Shop Installs Air-Conditioning

LOCAL BAKERY IS NOW MODERN IN ALL RESPECTS

Twice Capacity With New and Modern Equipment

During the past ten days the Mity Nice Bakery has completed the installation of hundreds of dollars worth of new and modern equipment. Among the new improvements are a new revolving type oven, the only one of its kind in this section which more than doubles the capacity of the local bake shop and makes it possible to produce as good a loaf of bread as can be found anywhere and better than the average.

A new and much larger dough break has also been installed which makes possible a better mixed dough and consequently gives a smoother, more even texture loaf, a standard of quality demanded by all lovers of good bread.

Mr. Bookout has been in Munday only a short time and is highly pleased with the increase in sales of his bread and other products. The output of the local bakery has more than doubled and is increasing with each day's sales.

The Mity Nice Bakery, owned and operated by Cecil Bookout, now ranks among Munday's most modern institutions and deserves the support of the local trade.

Two young men, residents of the Weinert section, were charged with cattle theft in complaints filed Sunday by members of Haskell county sheriff's department. The accused were alleged to have taken a cow belonging to Ira Short, farmer residing between Weinert and Haskell, some time Saturday night. The animal was recovered in a pasture near Weinert and Short identified the cow as belonging to him.

Theft of the animal was reported to officers Sunday morning and Sheriff Giles Kemp, Deputy Riley Lewellen and County Attorney Walter Murchison investigated the affair, resulting in charges being filed against the young men.

Defendants were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bruce Clift of Haskell, Monday morning and bond for their appearance was set at $1000 in each case. Bonds were perfected by both young men and they were released from custody to await Grand Jury investigation.

15,629 ACRES ALLOTTED KNOX BY '38 PROGRAM

Knox Committee Asks State Office For Re-Consideration

Knox County was allotted 15,629 acres of wheat for payment under the 1938 farm program. This is a very drastic reduction in the wheat acreage for this county from the acreage that has been grown in past three or four years. The allotments are based on a ten-year average, and a ten-year average is very much smaller than a five-year average for this county. The county committee has a very difficult task of prorating only 15,629 acres to producers of wheat when this county has an average of 33,000 for the past three years. In making these adjustments the County Committee has tried to give a producer that has been producing wheat for 5 years or more a little better advantage than a person who has been growing wheat only 2 or 3 years.

The County Committee has asked the State Office for further consideration of the wheat acreage allotment, believing that the reduction for this county has been too drastic.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

Public Suicide

Perched for more than eleven hours on a narrow ledge seventeen stories above the ground, a young man last week set New York on edge and amazed the nation by making a fatal leap just before desperate attempts to rescue him could be made.

Watched by thousands of people, talked to by his nearest and dearest and even handed a telephone from which issued the voice of his mother, in another city, the man deliberated, trying to "make up" his mind and finally, stepped off the ledge and hurtled to certain death.

The drama was staged before the eyes of horrified onlookers and dinned into the ears of those who listened on the radio. It was covered by cameras of news photographers and the keen eyes of newspaper reporters. But none pierced the veil that hides the mechanics of a mind, perhaps deranged, or captured the strange struggle that shook the personality of the young man into a fatal act.

What could be done to save him from his design was done by police, firemen and other human beings. There was none able to reach inside his mental clock and turn off the switch that set off the alarm that marked the termination of life.

Four Ideas For Young People

We are urged by a reader to write something in the way of advice to young people and while we do not have any idea that young people are anxiously watching for our utterances, we will take a chance.

First of all, we would say to young men and women, about to begin life for themselves, that they should guard against making the mistake that sets the acquisition of money as the first objective of human activity.

Secondly, we would urge them to seek an understanding of the expression that happiness is to be found within themselves, rather than in other people or external forces.

In the third place, we would suggest that, in their youthful zeal and enthusiasm, they remember that the world is an old place, populated by an ancient race, and that human relationships and customs are not to be lightly challenged, or thrown into the ash-can.

For the fourth, and last piece of advice, at least for this issue, we would induce them to seriously set their own values upon all things, and once convinced of the valuation of anything, that they live their life on the basis of their honest appraisal.

This may seem like a small start to the young person, who seeks the answers, but it is, we think, enough for a start.

The average newspaper is a good newspaper, but many editors don't know how to sell it to the people of their community.

If you expect the greatest pleasure and satisfaction out of life you must be willing and anxious to work for other people's benefit.

BIBLE THOUGHT

And as we have borne the image of the earthly, we shall bear the image of the heavenly.—1 Cor., 15:49.

Not Very Free

It is a common error on the part of the people of the United States to assume that the nations of South America are democratic and that they respect the same "rights" that we stress in this country.

Such, however, is not the case. There are few instances of free voting south of the United States. Usually the government in power makes things hot for all opponents. Free speech is not thoroughly established and freedom of the press is exceptional.

As an example, the Bolivian Congress recently passed a law giving the President the right to control and suppress the national press of the extreme Right until a new law could be passed that would give "full liberty" to the newspapers which, "by their economic and social set-up" are the "true mouthpieces of public opinion."

Could the reader imagine such a law operating in the United States? Can you imagine it in effect in any country that lays claim to constitutional government, with any ideal of liberty or freedom of speech?

Americanism: The man who makes a million dollars is one thousand times more successful than the man who makes a thousand dollars.

The nation's bench, as a whole, is adorned by many able and conscientious judges, but, just occasionally, a hay-eater gets on the judicial robes.

Well, for one thing, this war in China will put an end to the stories of Chinese soldiers fighting with firecrackers; even the Japanese won't believe it when they finish the present struggle.

We have met some fairly prominent men and women and nearly every one of them has an idea that he, or she, could make a fortune writing a column for the newspapers.

LISTEN TO THIS

By TOM FIZDALE

Here's a plea on behalf of listeners for radio engineers to quit measuring sound by mechanical standards and give a little more thought to the human ear.

Readers (who are likewise listeners) complain that there are but few things in radio more annoying than listening to programs with mixed talk and music that compel you to jump up and turn down the volume on your set every time someone stops talking and the music starts.

Well, you'll have to argue with the studio engineers about that and it may be a little discouraging—because arguing with a radio engineer is never very satisfying to a layman. Their stand is that the volume is "mixed" in the studio control room to show the same high-point on their indicator for both the sound and music (of course they use more technical terms), and that's that. You might try writing the networks about it. They still listen to the voice of fan mail.

Benny Goodman

Speaking of networks—Columbia and NBC are still battling hot and heavy—and that's a healthy thing for listeners because it means each is attempting to out-do the other in bringing us better programs. Just now CBS is attempting to cut into the great farm audience that NBC has built up during the past ten years with its National Farm and Home Hour. The CBS series is titled, "The Farmer Takes the Mike" . . . Benny Goodman will be awarded a special certificate of civic recognition from the City of Chicago as a native son who has reached the heights of success in his profession . . . The French government is cooperating with one of the networks to make a series of thirty half-hour transcribed programs in this country which will be played over French stations to give the French a "sound picture" of life in the U. S. A.

The printer did things with our title of the "Laugh Liner," that new Billy House smash hit that we mentioned last week, and made it "Life Liner." That isn't far wrong at that, because it certainly is a lifesaver for those who love comedy, and there is otherwise a particular lack of it on the air just now. NBC has a Philo Vance series for sponsorship . . . Rumored that tenor Frank Parker has offers from both Burns and Allen and Jack Benny for fall . . . Joe Penner is conferring with Ripley's former sponsor.

Betty Caine, "Attorney at Law" player, started out to be a private secretary but turned to radio—won both a career and a husband in the airlines . . . Phillips Lord negotiating with Jeanette MacDonald's former sponsor to bring the "Seth Parker" series back to the air . . . Those Raymond Scott novelty compositions on "Vocal Varieties" are winning plenty of applause . . . Fred Waring and Ted Husing got together last week at the eastern golf championships and put on a show with Ted playing the piano and Fred giving a sport commentary . . . Margarette Shanna, "Arnold Grimm's Daughter," tells friends she is an Izaak Walton widow this summer.

Gracie Allen is becoming a song pluggin' in her own right . . . She introduced four new tunes in the past few weeks . . . Paul Whiteman took on the "Modernaires" in grand style and came out with the low score . . . Now they're calling her Gillen the beautiful aress . . . Orson Welles' new broadcast has been scaring the control engineers . . . Betty Lou Gerson has introduced a new summer costume in white and Roman stripes—very cool . . . Wonder if those "National Barn Dance" Ranch Boys will do any more riding this summer after completing their horseback trek . . .

Instructions On How to Get Wheat Loans Given Out

College Station—The county and state AAA committees will be responsible, when wheat is stored on farms under the 1938 wheat loan program, for the determination of the grade, class, test weight, moisture content, and measurement of the wheat, and for the sealing of the bins and granaries, according to Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, which has its headquarters at Texas A. & M. College.

When the grain is stored in an approved commercial warehouse, a farmer who wishes to apply for a loan will apply to his county AAA committee. If he is eligible to receive a loan, the committee will so certify. He can then present the forms certifying his eligibility and his warehouse receipts showing the quality, grade and quantity of his wheat to his bank or local lending agency or to a loan agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and obtain the loan by depositing his receipts as collateral.

Farm storage of wheat has been approved for 55 Texas counties north of a line between Yoakum and Young counties, and west of a line from Young to Wichita county, but including Clay county, Slaughter said. (See footnote.)

The farmer who lives in one of these counties and wishes to obtain a loan on farm stored wheat will request his county AAA committee to inspect his storage facilities in order to make certain that the bins or granaries are in condition to store the wheat. If the farm is eligible for the loan, another inspection will be made after the grain has been stored at least 30 days, Slaughter said.

At that time a sample of the grain will be taken, the bin will be sealed, and the sample will be sent to a central testing office where the grade and quality will be established.

When this has been done, the county committee will certify to the eligibility of the farmer, whether he is the owner of the grain, whether the grain is of an eligible quality and certify the amount of wheat in storage.

With this certification the farm-

Mary had an aged press Full nigh a century But Mary has new ideas, Just take a tip from me.

With Vernon T. Sanford, secretary of the Oklahoma Press Association, as the principal speaker and Mrs. Walter Ferguson, nationally known for 14 years as a Scripps Howard columnist, as one of the outstanding personalities on the program, at next week's Press meet Mary Whatley Dunbar, president of the West Texas Press Association continues to show a fine high intelligence besides having a P.Q. that makes all Texas proud of the gal. Not so long ago she produced a special edition in celebration of the 62nd anniversary of the paper. It was 32 pages, hand set, on a hand press over 100 years old. Mary publishes the Palo Pinto Star which is a wonder on neatness, news and features. Though the machinery is ancient and it is a hand set paper, there's nothing behind the times in the editor or her views. We make motions of great admiration when we think of Mary Dunbar.

Sequoia Memorial

A woman joined the company of noted Americans—Washington, Lincoln, and Jefferson—for whom giant sequoias in Sequoia National Park have been named as memorials. The Susan B. Anthony tree was dedicated recently in an impressive ceremony as a testimony to the courageous pioneer who fought for more than half a century for the freedom of women.

The newly christened tree is a magnificent specimen of the Sequoia Gigantea, near the center of Giant Forest Village and only a short distance off the General's Highway. It stands 262 feet high and 20 feet in diameter.—Stolen.

Wagonyard, by Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, Wichita Falls, Texas, is the second book of pioneer Texans to come from this versatile pen in the last three years. "Tell Us About Texas," was a first book and written primarily for children and was later adopted by the Texas textbook commission as being an authentic history for the school child. Wagonyard, published by the Tardy Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, is also written in a language for children but it is handled in a way which both adult and children enjoy. It was dedicated to Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Mary Wisdom, who came to Texas from Illinois in 1880 and settled in Wise County. Mrs. Johnson has covered many miles by every mode of travel in contacting Texas pioneers for stories of the early day.

Though the names are thinly veiled, a student of Texas history knows the characters of the story from her vivid description.

Mrs. Johnson has Jon Berry, born in Arkansas in 1863, tell the story of his life, using early day adventure which she had first-hand from 20 North and West Texas pioneers. The hero is captured by Indians when his family is massacred, and after several years with the Indians is ransomed by a friend of his parents. Like so many other boys of the frontier Jon got out on his own early, and wandered all over the northern part of Texas, from Jefferson from which the glory of a boom town was beginning to depart, in the seventies, to the plains still dotted with forts to protect settlers from the Indians.

With Jon the reader visits wagonyards in all the little settlements with itinerant salesmen from the North, sees Fort Worth, the stopping point for prospectors of all kind, moves on through the country, to isolated ranches and army posts.

Through the medium of young Jon's adventures Mrs. Johnson introduces many of the stories she wrote down as her pioneer friends told them. There is a visit in the home of Colonel Charles Goodnight and his wife in the canyon country, a glimpse of General McKenzie's cavalry on its drive against the Indian marauders who were making Texas unsafe for settlers in the early seventies, quick "shots" of old Tascosa and Billy the Kid, of outlaws Frank and Jesse James, paying a hasty visit to relatives in Arche county, of the famous Indian trial in Jacksboro, the coming of the iron horse to several little towns.

The pioneer days of oil production in Texas are covered in the story, beginning with Spindletop, and ending with the Burkburnett townsite boom.

The delightful book deserves a place on anybody's shelf and can be bought from the publisher or wherever books are sold, for $2.00.

Workers of the Texas Cooperative Research Unit found a quail nest that was being filled at the rate of two eggs a day and was being incubated by a male quail.

McFarlane Speaks To Denton Crowd

DENTON—Congressman McFarlane spoke to a large crowd on the court house lawn tonight and after reviewing the work of the administration for the past two years and pointing out the important measures enacted for the benefit of farmers, laborers, business the relief and recovery program he answered the eighth page scandal sheet circulated by his opponent in the closing days before the first primary.

McFarlane challenged the opposition to prove any charge made by any reputable evidence admissible in a court of record and then he specifically answered the different charges by reading from affidavits and other documentary evidence refuting the charges made.

Answering the radio station charge he read from the uncontradicted sworn testimony given before the Federal Communications Commission which shows the new radio station belongs to a group of Wichita Falls business men.

Regarding the Horsepower bill he pointed out that this measure was introduced by him at the request of representatives of unions affiliated with the A. F. of L. That the bill was introduced three sessions back, that two sessions have gone since then that no action was ever even taken on the bill and none requested, that the bill is dead that its clear provisions show it was intended only to apply to automatic machinery installed which displaces labor which is used in manufacturing goods for shipment into interstate commerce; that it does not and was not intended to apply to any automobiles, trucks of tractors or other farm or home motors as clearly shown from the provisions of the bill.

Answering the charge regarding political patronage, McFarlane pointed out that his opponent was trying to stir up such discord to hold out hope to his own supporters that they would receive such post office appointments when he knew that the last Congress had placed all post office appointments under civil service without term subject only to honest efficient service. That this legislation permanently removed all postmaster-ships from politics and that he was glad to vote for such legislation.

Mr. McFarlane read from documents and affidavits stating that his opponent had not earned sufficient money since moving to Wichita Falls to pay his own expenses, much less pay for the last and this expensive campaign. He charged his opponent with being candidate of the utilities and referred to affidavits and the paid workers and large sums of money being expended and being paid to the same crowd over the district who have worked to defeat the municipal light plant elections in the district as sufficient proof of same.

Mr. McFarlane referred to his record in support of assistance for the aged and pointed out that he had voted for $40.00 per month amendment to the Social Security Act and would gladly cooperate with Governor Elect Lee O'Daniel, in eliminating all red tape and discriminations in the payments due the aged. That the Federal Statute did not require need be shown except by the applicant. That he had signed the petitions requesting hearings by the Ways and Means Committee and to bring the General Welfare Act before Congress for immediate consideration. That the aged should be paid their pensions without further delay and payment should not be made a further political football.

McFarlane closed his speech with an appeal to stand by the Administration's program, as there is no other constructive program being offered and called to their attention that no vote he had cast had been challenged as wrong. He also pointed out the rules of seniority in Congress and that his service had been recognized by being placed on the powerful appropriations committee, which means so much to Texas and particularly to the schools and colleges having applications now pending action.

Pioneers Will Be Feted at Wichita County Fall Fair

Featuring a Pioneer Celebration on the opening date of the Wichita County Fair the committee in charge is planning to honor the early settlers of Wichita and surrounding counties. Exhibitors in the Livestock Department are showing great interest and are planning a greatly enlarged show. The Poultry Department ment will be sponsored by the Wichita Valley Poultry Association and will be the largest show ever exhibited at the county fair.

Residents of the Resettlement Colony and Wichita Gardens are showing much interest, particularly in the Agricultural exhibits.

Entertainment featuring free outdoor programs with well known radio artists, talent from other cities in the county and a number of one-act plays which will be presented by the Women's Home Demonstration Clubs of the county will be used.

McFARLANE'S RECORD

In the general mercantile business for years prior to selling same and volunteering as a Buck Private in the World War.

He has worked on the farm, in the coal mines, in the stores and odd jobs, working his way through two universities. Since returning from the World War has practiced law with his father at Graham, Texas, since 1920.

He has always actively supported legislation for the war veterans, widows and orphans and led the fight for the soldier bonus.

He has kept faith with his own and the democratic platform 100 per cent. He has actively supported the President's Recovery Program.

Was appointed on special investigating committee to investigate aircraft purchases for the Navy and was directed by the President to investigate these corporations' income tax returns. From this investigation he secured information, offered legislation and helped fight through Congress amendments to the Tax law which eliminated the right of large corporations to file consolidated income tax returns. Abolishing this loophole in the corporation income tax law placed back in the treasury more than $300,000,000 for each of the past 3 years, which had previously been escaping taxation each year. (pp 6432-36; 6666; 7063-65; 74th Cong. Rec.)

Offered the first measure under this Administration to give federal jurisdiction over bankrobbing, hi-jacking and kidnaping crimes, and of this legislation Chairman Hatton Summers of the Judiciary Committee says, "Your honest and constant efforts have contributed to consummation of this item of legislation."

Introduced and helped enact legislation for the farmer, oilman, independent merchants, bankers, livestock men, laborers, railroads and for education.

Offered legislation to prevent Members of Congress employing their own kin, and to reduce his own salary 25 per cent.

Offered legislation to stop issuance of tax exempt securities.

Favors repeal of the Federal gasoline tax and balancing the postal deficit by requiring second, third and fourth class mail to pay fair rates.

He actively fought and worked for all projects received in this district under this Administration amounting to more than $56,000,000.

GOSSETT'S RECORD

A professional politician returned to this district 11 years ago and has run for office four times within the past 11 years

Was District Attorney four years. His sworn four year record as District Attorney show that out of 792 indictments filed that only 86 persons were sent to the penitentiary. That 305 indictments he had returned were dismissed on his own motion; which clearly shows that he played favoritism and dismissed the cases he thought he could not win; and even on the cases he tried he could only get 45 per cent of the cases affirmed appealed. You will note that more than 54 per cent of the cases appealed were reversed because of a defective record. On this official record he asks you send him to Congress.

For the past 14 years he has studied and practiced law with the official records showing that well over half his cases appealed being reversed at great expense to the tax payers because of defective records.

That of the 219 cases tried before juries only 86 persons or 39 per cent of the contested jury cases tried have been sent to the penitentiary. Thus showing because of his incompetence that only 10 per cent of the grand-jury indictments returned were ever sent to the penitentiary. If Mr. Gossett cannot obtain a record that will stand the test of the court with the special training he has had for 12 years in the law how could he hope to maintain under these trying times and conditions a satisfactory record in the HIGHEST LEGISLATIVE BODY WITHIN THE GIFT OF THE PEOPLE WITHOUT ANY PREVIOUS LEGISLATIVE EXPERIENCE.

The County Attorney of Wichita County during a part of this time had a record of 231 convictions in felony cases without a single reversal by the Appellate Court. "By their deeds ye shall know them." By his deeds he has been tried and found wanting.

He does not challenge McFarlane's voting record, but attacks only McFarlane's personal character, through mud slinging tactics he knows to be false and unsupported by any reputable evidence.

FIND A COLLEGE TO FIT YOUR DAUGHTER, SAYS WRITER

HAVE you a daughter about to go to college? Then fit your daughter to the college, says Marian Castle, well-known writer, in an article in the August issue of Good Housekeeping.

"The right college," says Miss Castle, "is the one that fits a girl temperamentally and prepares her for her future, whether her future is a career or marriage."

But you have to analyze your daughter well—and then "shop around to find the college that will bring out her personality." Miss Castle—as a help to parents—roughly classifies girls as "career girls," "executives," "girls' girls," "boys' girls" and "nice average girls."

WHICH TYPE IS YOUR DAUGHTER?

Career Girl Executive Type

Girls' Girl Boys' Girl

Take, for instance, the "executive" type—the kind that was president of her class in high school and was on all the committees. You might judge, on first thought, that her place would be in a small college where she could continue to be the "big frog in a little puddle." Miss Castle believes no. In a small college she is likely to become "bossy." Instead, says Miss Castle, "she should be dumped into the swift current of a large student body and left to sink or swim." She's the kind that needs competition!

And the "boys' girl"—the big coeducational college is not for her, according to Miss Castle. She should go to a women's college where she will really study and be "forced to cultivate her own sex."

It's good reasoning. And if parents have a three-sided consultation with themselves, their daughter's teacher and with their daughter, as Miss Castle suggests, there won't be so many unhappy and misfitted college girls in the class of 1943!

Grade Crossing Elimination Saved Lives of Hundreds

AUSTIN.—The grade crossing elimination program sponsored by the Texas Highway Department in co-operation with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads has saved the lives of scores of Texas citizens and prevented a huge economic loss, states Charles E. Simons, editor, in the August issue of Texas Parade.

"Some illuminating figures have been developed on this phase of safe highway construction that should convince the 'doubting Thomases' that inclusion of even expensive safety features in highway construction are worthwhile, both from the humanitarian and economic viewpoint. The condition of the highways plays a most important part in traffic management. The fewer physical hazards the driver is called upon to meet, the fewer the mishaps that will occur. This is particularly true in the case of railroad grade crossings that have taken such a heavy toll of life and property.

"The number of catastrophes that have occurred at railroad grade crossings is too long to record. Offhand, we recall instances where bus loads of children going to or from school have met with disaster at railroad grades. Close to the capitol of Texas a few years ago occurred a railroad grade collision that cost the lives of several of the Baylor University basketball team, an accident that shocked Texas and the Nation. This crossing, which has been the scene of other fatalities, since has been eliminated and no longer stands as a constant menace to passing traffic.

"The increase in highway usage in the past 20 years has been phenomenal. Since 1920 Texas has witnessed an increase of 238 per cent in its motor vehicle registrations. While the number of vehicles increased 238 per cent motorists found a constantly expanding use for their vehicles, and the figures on highway usage jumped more than 400 per cent. Thus more vehicles traveling more miles were turned loose on an already inadequate highway system.

"During the last year there was a notable decrease in the number of motor vehicle fatalities in the United States and in Texas based on the number of vehicle miles traveled and the number of gallons of gasoline consumed. A substantial portion of the credit rightfully belongs to the improvements that have been effected in the physical facilities offered to the motorist, not the least of which has been the elimination of railroad grade crossings.

"During the registration year

Sadler Gets Congratulatory Messages

Jerry Sadler, who is in the run-off with C. V. Terrell for the office of Railroad Commissioner, is shown with Harley Sadler, veteran West Texas showman, going over some of the congratulatory messages received after the July primary.

Harley Sadler, who is Jerry's West Texas campaign manager, predicts a landslide vote for his kinsman on August 27th.

1920, there were 430,377 motor vehicles registered in Texas while during the registration year 1935, there were 1,426,943 vehicles. It must be remembered, also, that the 1935 vehicles traveled at a much higher rate of speed than did their predecessors of 1920, thereby increasing the hazard of the motor vehicle operator. Yet, while the number of vehicles more than trebled and their use was expanded 410 per cent, there were only three more persons killed in 1935 at grade crossings than were killed in 1920, the figures being 71 for 1935 and 68 for 1920.

"Now take a look at the genus homo who operates these millions of motor vehicles over the roads of the United States and determine as closely as possible his attitude toward the grade crossing problem. A detailed study of the actions of 30,000 drivers at grade crossings protected by signals and warning devices disclosed that 50 per cent of the drivers complied with the signals, 40 per cent complied after a fashion, eight per cent took a chance and two per cent did not comply in any particular. Thus, in the construction of grade separation facilities, the highway engineer has become 'keeper' for

DID YOU KNOW—

That since January 25th when Texas began to distribute benefit checks to her eligible unemployed, she averaged about $630,000 a month for the first six months going back into trade channels via the unemployed worker? To date total benefit checks amount to four and a half million, and Texas has twenty-seven and a half million in her reserve fund.

That five thousand children, according to a Social Security Board estimate, have social security accounts? From infants to youngsters five years old, these children are mostly advertising models, though some of them are in the movies.

That funds collected from Texas employers in unemployment compensation contributions cannot be used for any other purpose than the payment of benefits to the unemployed?

That despite the widespread approximately 50 per cent of the motoring public at railroad grade crossings.

"The deduction follows that until the inherent nature of the average driver is radically modified, a goodly percentage of the motoring public must be provided with facilities at railroad grade crossings that eliminate the possibility of a collision with a fast moving train.

"Unfortunately the federal government has seen fit to reduce its contribution to the states for grade crossing elimination. Thus the safety program outlined by the states will be substantially handicapped until appropriations for grade crossing elimination are restored to a normal level. This is one of the few ways in which the federal government can make a real worthwhile contribution to highway safety. And it is incumbent on the federal government to do so because our highways no longer are merely local conveniences. They have become interstate arteries for the movement of huge quantities of the Nation's manufactured goods and raw materials and for the transportation of millions of its citizens.

publicity given to the importance of social security account numbers, some people have not obtained them? There are men and women who have not gone to the trouble of securing numbers which would identify them for benefit payments and aid in job seeking.

• While a newspaper is a marvel of mechanical efficiency, there are limits on what can be done by a given force of printers, stereotypers and pressmen in a short, crowded period of stress.

• There is plenty of time to give every advertiser good service when early copy is sent in.

• The Times believes that its advertisers desire to be fair to the printers, stereotypers and pressmen who serve them as well as to be fair to themselves.

• Visitors to the mechanical department are invited so that the process of handling advertising may be thoroly understood and the mechanical problems fully realized.

• Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated by the entire personnel of The Times.

DENTON—It takes longer to make a dress of stone than of cloth, but the statue to Pioneer Women to be erected at Texas State College for Women is now modestly clothed. Artist Leo Friedlander, who started a furor with his original model of four nude figures depicting a pioneer family, won the approval of the Board of Control with the model pictured above, which is now under construction. Critics of the original claimed that the figures "looked like apes," and that a nude statue was not "appropriate to a woman's college campus."

FIND A COLLEGE TO FIT YOUR DAUGHTER, SAYS WRITER

HAVE you a daughter about to go to college? Then fit your daughter to the college, says Marian Castle, well-known writer, in an article in the August issue of Good Housekeeping.

"The right college," says Miss Castle, "is the one that fits a girl temperamentally and prepares her for her future, whether her future is a career or marriage."

But you have to analyze your daughter well—and then "shop around to find the college that will bring out her personality." Miss Castle—as a help to parents—roughly classifies girls as "career girls," "executives," "girls' girls," "boys' girls" and "nice average girls."

WHICH TYPE IS YOUR DAUGHTER?

Career Girl Executive Type

Girls' Girl Boys' Girl

Take, for instance, the "executive" type—the kind that was president of her class in high school and was on all the committees. You might judge, on first thought, that her place would be in a small college where she could continue to be the "big frog in a little puddle." Miss Castle believes no. In a small college she is likely to become "bossy". Instead, says Miss Castle, "she should be dumped into the swift current of a large student body and left to sink or swim." She's the kind that needs competition!

And the "boys' girl"—the big coeducational college is not for her, according to Miss Castle. She should go to a women's college where she will really study and be "forced to cultivate her own sex."

It's good reasoning. And if parents have a three-sided consultation with themselves, their daughter's teacher and with their daughter, as Miss Castle suggests, there won't be so many unhappy and misfitted college girls in the class of 1942!

Texas Political Dates and Data Listed for 1938

Important political dates in Texas are coming thick and fast.

State Democratic executive committee meets at Austin August 6 to canvass results of first primary in state and district races. The committee lists names to go on official ballot for the second primary election. On this date the committee also certifies the first primary for the second primary ballot.

Second Democratic primary election is slated August 27.

The state Democratic executive committee meets again September 6 to adopt a platform of principles, to declare nominations for state office, to elect a state chairman and new state Democratic executive committees of 31 men and 31 women.

(Note: Because of an error in a bill enacted by the 45 legislature, the convention date was fixed for one week in advance of the time when the state democratic executive committee can meet to canvass election returns. Unless this date is changed, the convention, presumably, will be unable to announce official nominations for state offices. Properly, the state convention should meet on September 13.)

September 12—State Democratic executive committee holds session in the city selected for the meeting of the state Democratic convention, canvasses returns of the second primary election, prescribes the order of business for the convention and prepares list of convention delegates.

November 8—General election day.

September 12—State Democratic executive committee holds session in the city selected for the meeting of the state Democratic convention, canvasses returns of the second primary election, prescribes the order of business for the convention and prepares list of convention delegates.

ACREAGE PLAN CALLED DOWN

MCDONALD TERMS THE ACT "UNWISE AND FOOLISH"

HOUSTON.—J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, today termed as "unwise" and "foolish" the acreage control program of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and advocated the domestic allotment plan in an address here.

"The fight is on between me and Secretary Wallace," said McDonald. "He doesn't have the interest of the farmers at heart. All that Mr. Wallace wants to do is build up a political machine."

The Texas commissioner said he opposed the acreage control program back in 1933 when it was first being proposed.

"I told Mr. Wallace then that these ideas of his would increase foreign production of cotton and result in harm to our southern cotton growers."

Regulations For Overs and Unders Who Wish to Vote

In the following regulations are given qualifications for 'overs' and 'unders' who plan to vote in the August 27 primary, or any other regular Texas election.

Every person who reaches the age of 21 years after January 1 and before the day of a following election is entitled to cast a vote without having to pay poll tax or obtain a certificate of exemption provided that person possesses all the other qualifications of a voter under the constitution and laws of Texas.

Should the right of an 'under' to vote be challenged on the grounds of non-age, the voter may make an affidavit that he or she has attained the age of 21 years on the day of election. After this affidavit is filed with the election judge the voter will be entitled to vote.

A qualified voter, who reaches the age of 60 years or before January 1 preceding the election, is entitled to vote without paying poll tax.

Thanks to Voters

I appreciate the many courtesies shown me by the citizens of Precinct 1 in my campaign for Commissioner and wish to sincerely thank all those who voted for me, and have only the kindest regards for those who did not support me.

The Ford building at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition will be at the north end of the Court of the Seven Seas on Treasure Island.

LET THE CRITTERS DO THE WORK

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

At this season crops are maturing and harvesting is ahead. A great deal of labor may be saved by turning livestock in the fields and allowing them to feed themselves. Under proper handling there is little waste of grain, and animals get the benefit of green forage that would not be saved otherwise, and which adds to the value of the grain by helping to balance the ration. If fields are not already fenced, a temporary fence of 32-inch woven wire will confine sheep and hogs, and with a few staunch posts at wide intervals small stakes driven into the ground will support it. It can readily be rolled up and moved several times, and when it becomes too badly bent to stand up in a temporary fence, it is still good for permanent use where solid corner posts permit tight stretching.

Hogs are well known to be the best gleaners of grain, with sheep next. If crops are harvested by cattle it is always advisable to follow with hogs. The cheapest pork, both in labor cost and the amount of grain required to make 100 pounds of meat, is produced by a combination of green pasture, hogging down feed crops, and the ten-swiner specialist of Oklahoma voices the experience of the hog men when he says that it is doubtful if a farmer can afford to raise hogs unless they can run on pasture a good part of the year.

Besides the labor saving element it is good for the health of both hogs and sheep to get off the permanent pastures and on the cultivated fields, where internal parasites are less prevalent. It is best to confine the animals to a space that can be cleaned up in ten days to three weeks, rather than permit them to roam at large for a month or more. In the final stages of grazing, grains will be slowed up by their walking over large fields in search of food, and there will be more wastage in the long run. It goes without saying that shade and water must be easily and continuously accessible to the animals while hogging down or sheepling off crops. Experiments have shown that a bushel of grain goes a great deal further in meat production if the animal can drink when thirsty instead of waiting for periodic waterings several hours apart.

Mineral mixtures and protein supplements are usually not indispensable if hogs have access to good pastures and legumes, or to skim milk, but experienced hog men say protein supplements always pay. Corn and cowpeas, corn and soy beans, corn and peanuts, make good fattening rations when hogged down together. With corn alone it is advisable to supply a mineral mixture and a protein supplement in self-feeders. Either wood ashes or air-slaked lime and salt in equal parts is good, and bone meal may be profitably added under some conditions. Charcoal is commonly used and hogs like it.

The protein supplement may be based on cottonseed meal, linseed meal, peanut meal, or tankage. The experiment stations of the Southwest have worked out formulas for protein supplements for their respective states, according to the availability and adaptation of the materials. Cottonseed meal is available everywhere in the southwest, and may be safely and profitably fed to hogs by following directions furnished by extension hog specialists and county agents who keep up with experimental results.

Enough feed goes to waste on most southwest farms to produce all the pork and beef or mutton the family could use. Pasturing the fields is the only way much of this waste can be turned to profit, and the most economical way of harvesting and selling crops that are adapted to harvesting by animals.

Let the critters do the work.

Texas To Observe Social Security Week Aug. 14-20

AUSTIN—Social Security Week in Texas, to be observed beginning August 14, was proclaimed this week by Governor James V. Allred.

The governor asked Texans to participate in local observances and "acquaint themselves with efforts of state and federal governments to bring about a greater measure of security for the individual."

August 14 marks the third anniversary of the signing of the Social Security Act, the proclamation read, "the most significant national legislation ever enacted for the general welfare of the American people."

"It is well for the people of Texas to reflect upon the events of the past three years which have brought about a greater measure of security for Texans than ever before.

"Old age assistance has brought aid to needy old people, unemployment compensation has proved a boon to jobless workers, and humanity has been served through the extension of child welfare, maternal and child health, crippled children, vocational rehabilitation and public health services."

We should consider the fact that Texas is one of a small number of states which have not provided assistance to their dependent children and needy blind.

"Because of the social welfare of our people is a fundamental requirement to the material progress and economic development of our state, social security should interest every Texan to the extent that he familiarize himself with its every phase."

Examining the record of social security, Texans could find on the credit side:

A total of 750,000 workers covered by the State Unemployment

Compensation law and approximately $4,879,536 paid as benefits to temporarily unemployed workers since January 1.

More than $19,000,000 granted by the Federal government for the old-age assistance program since payments first began to be made in July, 1936. Currently, more than 111,000 needy persons past the age of 65 are receiving monthly assistance checks, which averaged $13.74 during May, a monthly total of $1,500,000.

More than 1,620,000 social security account cards assigned to Texas workers who by this means establish wage accounts and begin to build up credits in the federal old-age insurance program. Already, $151,485.54 has been paid in lump-sum benefits to 5,168 Texas workers who have reached age 65 or to estates of workers who have died before reaching that age.

Maternal and child welfare programs, in which the federal and state governments cooperated to aid the individual by making available services instead of cash, have received from the federal government during the past three years, grants in the following amounts: child welfare, $135,807.29; maternal and child health, $247,193.42; crippled children, $321,792.52. For the public health program in Texas, total grants of $780,664.20 had been received. Also 2,547 physically disabled persons were being trained and placed in gainful employment under the program of vocational rehabilitation. Much of this assistance went to or benefited residents of rural areas of the state.

On the debit side, Texas has failed to provide funds for assisting the state's needy blind and probably more than 50,000 dependent children, although an amendment to the constitution for this purpose was adopted by the people in August, 1937, by a generous majority. Only eight other states do not have programs of aid to dependent children and the needy blind.

Ranking army officers are expelled by Mexican party.

Weekly Health Letter!

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—The mean dog that suddenly becomes friendly may transmit hydrophobia or rabies, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer in refuting the time-worn belief that rabies must be spread by a frothing "mad dog."

"In the first stage of rabies," Dr. Cox states, "the disposition of the animal changes entirely. A happy playful dog becomes dejected, creeps away and hides. An ordinarily vicious dog may become friendly. If he licks his master's hand, he may spread rabies through cuts and abrasions on the skin. The dog may be mean at times, and at other times apparently normal."

According to Dr. Cox the phrase "mad dog" is associated with the second stage of rabies. This is the irritable period in which the dog becomes restless, sometimes running away and returning hours later, worn out from fighting other dogs. Rabies may be suspected, especially if the dog was not formerly in the habit of leaving home. Because of irritation the dog may snap at everything it approaches and will run amuck in crowds, often biting people. The dog's bark changes to a throaty howl in this, the most dangerous stage.

Rabies, according to many authorities, has a 100 per cent mortality in man unless Pasteur treatment is instituted. Pasteur treatment, however, is nearly 100 per cent effective in saving lives when properly administered. Rabies must be considered with every dog bite and the history of the dog should be studied to determine the possibility of rabies infection. The dog which bites a person must be caught and confined for ten days observation. If the dog develops hydrophobia it should be killed and the dog's head sent by express, packed in ice, for a laboratory examination. See your family doctor immediately after any dog bite.

The State Health Department maintains the Pasteur Institute in Austin where the heads of dogs suspected of having rabies are examined. Your family doctor will immediately avail himself of this service if he has reason to suspect the dog was rabid. Treatment for hydrophobia is supplied by the Pasteur Institute.

Fall Gardens May Be Improved Says A. & M. Expert

COLLEGE STATION.—Tomatoes, peppers, and eggplant that have survived the summer may be stimulated to new growth in the fall by supplying 1 to 3 tablespoons of nitrate of soda 6 to 12 inches from the plant, J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, said in discussing fall gardens.

"Before starting to plow for the fall garden, all weeds should be cut and removed. If they are turned under, molding and heating takes place, which dries out the top soil," Rosborough pointed out. "The soil should be plowed 3 to 4 inches deep, and a coating 1 to 3 inches deep of well rotted dry manure may be added before breaking or harrowing."

A 6-12-5 or 5-15-5 commercial fertilizer, in regions of ample rainfall and light soil, will stimulate quick plant growth when applied at the rate of 3 to 4 pounds per 100 feet of row.

"Due to the poor seed germinating conditions in the fall, it is advisable to plant thicker than in the spring. Seed with hard coat, such as spinach, should be soaked overnight before planting. It is a good plan to press the soil around the seed at the time of planting," he pointed out.

In the northern part of the State, only quick maturing vegetables such as mustard, radish, and bush beans should be planted, Rosborough said. In the southern part of the State the fall garden should afford as great a volume and variety of vegetables as the spring garden.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

HARRY T. BURLEIGH, A.S.C.A.P.

The Student That Inspired Dvorak

By Daniel I. McNamara

"SWING low, sweet chariot!"

The stirring strains of this Negro spiritual are mirrored in the second theme of the first movement of Dvorak's "New World Symphony." Dvorak died in 1904, but the young Negro student who first revealed to the famous Bohemian composer the beauties of this refrain and of scores of other spirituals has lived to become one of the most notable figures in American music—Harry T. Burleigh, A.S.C.A.P., famous baritone soloist and composer.

Burleigh had won a scholarship in the National Conservatory of Music in New York while Dvorak was its head in the early '90s. Born in Erie, Pennsylvania, December 6, 1866, he learned music first from his talented mother, a college graduate whose cultivated mind flowered in the genius of her son. Dvorak often listened hours at a time while the young student played the spirituals he had learned from his mother. Their lasting impression on Dvorak is seen in the music of his "New World Symphony," first performed at Carnegie Hall in 1893.

While still a student, Burleigh won appointment as baritone soloist in St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church. Now, as the only Negro member of a choir of 120 voices, he is completing his forty-fifth year of continuous service. Worshipers in the famous institution long since have come to regard Burleigh's singing as an integral part of their devotions. As a concert singer he has appeared before distinguished audiences in Europe and America; and twice sang before King Edward VII.

A tireless student, Burleigh is a master of German, French, and Italian. He has an honorary degree of Master of Arts from Atlanta University, and of Doctor of Music from Howard University. When Victor Herbert organized the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in 1914 as an agency of musical copyright protection, he invited Burleigh to become a charter member.

Burleigh's first successful composition, "Jean," has been a concert favorite for many years. His arrangement of "Deep River" was one of his earlier efforts. John McCormack sang his "Little Mother of Mine" the world over. His list of original compositions runs into the hundreds.

Burleigh leads a busy life, but finds ample time to befriend many struggling young artists. He gave up the concert stage ten years ago for more attention to his church work and editorial duties with a music publishing house. He shows no evidence of advancing years, his rich voice ringing out in solo parts with the full vigor of his early concert triumphs. Burleigh deprecates his part in the "New World Symphony," but musicians who know the facts trace in Dvorak's impressive symphonic creation the unmistakable influence of the young student who himself was destined to achieve fame as a composer long after Dvorak had passed on.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE'S PLAYROOM

MISS SHIRLEY TEMPLE, a small girl with yellow curls and clear, blue eyes, has just completed a vacation trip to the East Coast with her family.

She was welcomed by the President of the Republic, governors of states, mayors of cities, and had hot dogs and went swimming with Sissy and Buzze Dall at the Krum Elbow estate of the Roosevelts.

The amazing interest taken in the life of this talented youngster is the subject of an illustrated sketch in the August issue of House Beautiful.

Shirley lives in a rambling stone house on a wooded hill in Santa Monica, overlooking the Pacific. Both the outside and the inside of the rambling home are completely charming.

Shirley has a bedroom and a nursery of her own. Her favorite colors are red and white and they are carried out in the decorative scheme. Both rooms are full of sun and toys and color and are gay and bright in keeping with the charming child who lives in them.

OBSERVE THESE TEN RULES FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

AUSTIN—State police traffic experts have devised a questionnaire from which drivers may determine their individual qualifications for operating vehicles in a safe manner.

Ten questions relating to basic causes for most accidents on streets and highways are listed by traffic research officers so that drivers may correct their errors. Each question counts 10 points if answered in the affirmative, with 10 points discount for negative answers. If your grade is between 80-90 classes you are a "fairly good" driver, but if your grade is below 80 you are a menace to traffic safety and should correct your faults, state police warned.

- The questions are:
1. Do you use proper arm signals when turning or stopping?
  2. Do you always drive within legal speed limits?
  3. Do you always refrain from passing other vehicles on hills or curves?
  4. Do you bring your vehicle to a complete halt at traffic STOP signals?
  5. Do you observe right-of-way rules at intersections?
  6. Do you always park your vehicle so that it does not obstruct traffic?
  7. Do you dim your lights at night for oncoming vehicles?
  8. Do you always drive on the right side, not too near the center stripe?
  9. Do you regularly inspect lights and other mechanical parts of your vehicle?
  10. Do you drive in the same manner under supervision of a traffic officer as you do when he is out of your view?

Subsidy Blanks Received By County Agent

The county agent's office has received a supply of application blanks, which farmers will be required to sign before the subsidy payment on the 1937 cotton crop will be made. Those farmers that signed a work sheet in the spring of 1937 are being called into the office to sign their application first due to the fact that their work sheet was completed last fall while those that signed a work sheet this year on last year's crop will get their subsidy payments later. A good many farmers signed their work sheets but did not comply with the farm program and they will get their subsidy payment earlier because the acreage adjustments were completed on their work sheet. Fifty applications have been forwarded to the state office for payments to date. Others will follow in lots of 50 or more as quickly as they are signed up.

Davenports Move To Houston

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Davenport will leave Sunday for a two weeks vacation to be spent with relatives and friends in and around Houston. After that time they will take up residence in Houston where Mr. Davenport has been transferred by the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, to assistant manager of the Houston branch.

The Davenports have many friends in and around Munday who regret to see them leave, but all join in wishing them prosperity and success in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Prater and sons, Leo, Bobby and Alfred of Fredrick, Okla., were recent visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lowrance.

Why Wheat Loans Are Offered Is Explained in Detail

COLLEGE STATION—"The purpose of the 1938 wheat crop is to help farmers hold part of their surplus from this year's crop until other provisions of the AAA program can become effective for wheat and bring our surplus to manageable proportions," George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, which has been in session at Texas A. & M. College, said in quoting H. R. Tolley, administrator of the AAA.

"The principal means of doing this will be through acreage allotments for 1938," Slaughter pointed out.

The 1939 wheat acreage allotments, announced early in order to give winter wheat farmers the information well before planting time, given Texas 3,684,863 acres. The state allotment will be allotted to counties and then to individual farmers within counties.

The national allotment of 55 million acres, made under the terms of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, compares with an acreage seeded for 1938 of nearly 80 million acres and a 1928-32 average of more than 67 million acres.

The Texas allotment for 1939 compares with a 1938 planted acreage of 5,315,000 a-1929-37 average of 4,955,426 acres, and a 1928-32 average of 3,929,000 acres. The 1939 allotment is based in a figure of 79.36 per cent, uniform for all states, of the 1928-37 average, with allowances made for trends.

Wheat growers who comply with their 1939 allotments will be qualified for advantages which other phases of the program offer, he pointed out, such as 1939 conservation payments, 1939 wheat loans if a loan program is in effect next year, and a renewal of crop insurance policies in 1939.

If marketing quotas are in effect in 1939, such quotas will be a uniform percentage of the acreage allotments multiplied by the normal yield for the farm. Such quotas will be in effect if supplies exceed normal domestic consumption and exports of wheat by 35 per cent, and if approved by two-thirds of the wheat growers in a referendum.

Allotments were made to 39 states, with Texas getting the fourth largest allotment. Kansas received an acreage allotment of 11,067,349, North Dakota 8,300,488 acres, and Oklahoma 3,783,954 acres.

Where Is Your Social Security Account Number?

WICHITA FALLS—If you were called upon to present your social security card in an emergency, would you be able to find it?

Just such an emergency is faced every day by workers applying for new positions in business and industry, according to J. Gordon James, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Board. All too often, he says, the worker is not able to find his card and is put to great inconvenience and loss of time in obtaining a duplicate. In still other cases, because of company policy, the worker with no card may be denied further consideration, preference being given the worker who has a card.

The social security account number card identifies a worker for old-age insurance and unemployment compensation purposes and helps to establish his right to a benefit under their provisions. For this reason, it is highly important that the card be maintained in a safe place. Whenever, by accident, it is lost or destroyed, the individual should apply at once for a duplicate. Prompt action is always advisable since the duplicate cannot be issued as readily as the original.

Whenever a social security card is lost, Mr. James advises, the owner will usually find it much easier to obtain a duplicate if he knows the original number. Workers are always advised upon the receipt of the original card to write the number down in several places so that they can always produce it when necessary. To further aid the workers, the cards that are issued at the present time have a stub attached, on which the number has been typed. This stub should be detached and put in a safe place as an additional precaution, since with the stub the worker is able to secure a duplicate immediately by presenting it whenever the original is lost.

To obtain a duplicate, the worker makes application on Form SS-5, filling it out exactly as he did in applying for his original number, making sure that the data presented are the same as before, and adding a statement that a duplicate is requested. The application may be mailed to or presented in person at the field office of the Social Security Board located at 206 Post Building, Wichita Falls, where the duplicate card will be issued.

FORT WORTH—A thirteen volume study of the state government of Texas today was in the hands of Texas' future governor, W. Lee O'Daniel, after being presented by Judge Harry N. Graves of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The survey of the government of Texas was prepared by a joint house and senate committee then headed by Judge Graves as chairman. It gives a detailed picture of the operation of all 131 departments of the state government, and required eighteen months to complete. Judge Graves served without salary in preparing the report, which cost a total of $75,000, of which approximately $50,000 was furnished by the state and $25,000 by a foundation.

"Thank you very much," gubernatorial nominee O'Daniel told Judge Graves in accepting the report. "I will be glad to read it."

The presentation was made here as Judge Graves opened his tour of West Texas and the Panhandle in his campaign for the unexpired term of the Court of Criminal Appeals, of which he is now a member. It was made at the suggestion of Governor James V. Allred after O'Daniel had expressed a desire to inform himself thoroughly on the government of his chosen state before taking over the gubernatorial reins January 1st.

That Judge Graves is also familiar with the work of the Court of Criminal Appeals is evidenced by a report just released by the clerk of that court. During the 195 working days Judge Graves has been on the court he has written 193 opinions, or almost one a day. Each of the 193 was approved by the two other judges, showing the legal soundness of his work. Judge Graves, the high candidate in the first primary by a substantial lead, is being supported by his defeated opponent, Judge Charles A. Pippen or Dallas.

Plan Fun for 160,000 Children

The thousands of school children attending the glamorous Castle of Foods at the Golden Jubilee celebration of the State Fair of Texas in Dallas during the month of October will have a grand good time as well as unusual educational facilities. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, believes that the exhibits, programs, and special entertainment given for children and grown-ups in the Castle of Foods will be of such striking educational value that they will be sufficient cause for sending 160,000 Texas school children to the Fair. In the picture Mr. Woods (right) is conferring in his office at Austin with Granville W. Moore (center), chairman of the Food Industries Committee, who will present the Castle, and Rex V. Lentz (left), managing director, both of Dallas, on the subject of clowns, performing animals, souvenirs, and the like for children who visit the Castle.
