

Farm Income at New Peak?? Depends on How You Look at It

By Ray Martin

Joseph P. Farmer, who operates a farm in Bailey county or Farmer county or hereabouts, and does a good job of it, is in the best shape financially ever in his lifetime. Or he's barely keeping his head above the proverbial water. It's how you look at it that counts. Two of the nation's farm organizations say Joseph is well off, and the bureau of Agricultural Economics down at College Station goes along with those organizations. In fact, that organization goes so far as to say that Joseph, collectively, has 19% more money in his pockets than he had last year. On the other hand, Farm Bureau takes a more pessimistic view of Joseph's financial condition. It says that maybe the old boy has made more money than ever before, but inflation has cut into Joseph's buying power to such an extent that he actually has LESS money than he had last year or the year before or the year before that. Farm Bureau also takes a very dim view of the cotton program, too, seeing financial difficulties for Joseph P. Farmer in the new cotton arrangements. The optimistic picture for agriculture in Texas was pointed out by John G. McHanev, Extension Economist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University. In a release called "Economic Facts and Opinions Relative to Texas Agriculture," he says: "In about three months, the year 1966 will be past history and we will be looking to 1967. How has agriculture fared in the United States during 1966?" And then McHanev goes on to answer his own question. In his release he makes this statement: "Farmers have continued to benefit from the high levels of economic activity in the entire economy. THIS YEAR LIKELY WILL BE ONE OF THE BEST ON RECORD FOR AGRICULTURE,

WITH REALIZED NET FARM INCOME RISING ABOUT $1.5 BILLION FROM THE 1965 LEVEL OF $14.2 BILLION." McHanev goes on to say that net farm income "in the first half of 1966 was running at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of over $16 billion, and this was up 19% from the same period in 1965." His summary of conditions continues: "With disposable personal income of the American people advancing with the general level of economic activity, the domestic market for farm products in exports was due to the very strong demand for feed grains, especially corn and sorghum grain. Demand for wheat, soybeans and soybean meal also was quite strong." Of production he wrote: "Total production prospects in July pointed to a slightly smaller crop in 1966. Production of most crops is expected to be below 1965 levels with the exception of corn, rice, some vegetables and fruits and tobacco. Cotton acreage was down a fourth from the 1965 level as a result of the 1966 acreage diversion program." He said total livestock output is "expanding slightly this year from that of 1965. However, pork production in the fourth quarter is expected to be much higher than in early 1966. And then McHanev's report concluded with this statement: "In closing out 1966, I think we can say that it has been a good year for agriculture in general and especially for the efficient agricultural producers, not only in the United States but in Texas." All of which is optimistic. See INCOME on Page 3 chief, has submitted samples of brochures for study by the committee. Southwestern has had much experience in this type of work, Elliott explained. Meantime, the sites and buildings committee, headed by Myron Pool, has made progress. Twenty-five sites and buildings have been located, Pool said, and recently a report was made by Ralph Douglas, Muleshoe independent engineer who has been making plans of each of the property listings. All the plots which front on the railroad have been worked

UF Sets Kickoff Drive

Muleshoe Area United Fund, 1966 edition, is getting ready to start its year campaign, Robert A'ford, president, announced Saturday. And at the same time, campaign chairman John Shelton released dates for luncheons and breakfasts for the various groups who will be doing the actual soliciting. Names of various groups were made public by Shelton. This year's budget has been set at $13,931, up slightly from last year, but additional agencies have been added, it was explained. Altogether, 13 organizations will receive help from the 1966 UF, Shelton said. First meeting will be Wednesday for members of the advance gift committee, headed by Jeff Peeler. The workers will gather at Paul's restaurant at 6:30 for breakfast. Other groups will kick off their campaigns shortly thereafter. Shelton said, the second meeting being a breakfast at 7 a.m. Monday, Oct. 14 at Corral Drive-In for rural workers. Employee division will meet at noon, Oct. 19, at Paul's and the commercial division will kick off its campaign at 6:30 breakfast at the Corral Drive-In Oct. 13. Also meeting on that date will be the City farmers' group. The professional division will meet at 7 a.m. Monday, Oct. 17. See UNITED FUND, Page 3

County, Council Groups to Meet, Agendas Light

County commissioners and city councilmen will meet tomorrow for regular sessions but agenda for both apparently will be light. Bailey county commissioners will meet in the courthouse with the only mandatory activity slated by law for October -- the ordering of supplies for the November general election. County Judge Glen Williams said the county already has notices printed for the general meeting, and these will be distributed. The court also will hear the request from a couple for financial assistance, and John F. Kennedy, county manager of the Farmers Home Administration. See COUNCIL on Page 3

It's National Fire Prevention Week Good Fire Record Here Whittles Insurance Fees

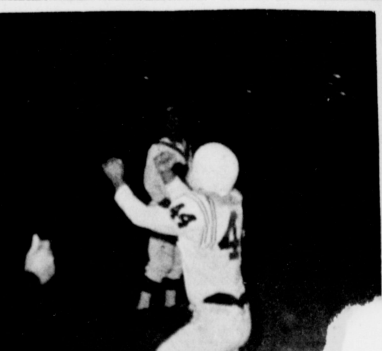

Because Muleshoe's fire department is alert, well-trained and capable, folks who buy fire insurance in Muleshoe pay 5 percent less than the standard rate. This fact was pointed out this week as Muleshoe made ready to mark National Fire Prevention week. Or, putting it another way, because fire payoffs are low (because of the good fire department here) insurance rates are low also. Here are a few of the figures: In 1965, Muleshoe had 136 calls with losses running to $18,234 while insurance premiums total $64,428. Rates, incidentally, are based on five-year records of losses, and a heavy loss from a 1962 blaze still is affecting rates here. That "expensive" year will be dropped off the rate schedule at the end of this year, Chief Earl Ladd points out, and an even better insurance rate may be in store by next year. For the first years, Ladd says, losses have totaled $157,137 and premium payments total $304,576. This included the $97,782 elevator loss for July 10, 1962. Counting off that one big loss, the total of $104,792 seems small. That year, total premium payments ran to $62,716; those losses were greater than premiums paid. This year the department has had 98 calls up to this time, three more than at the same time last year, Ladd reports. Losses, however, have been "very light," the chief says and with 1962 wiped off the record, next year's rates may be even lower. Muleshoe's fire department is made up of dedicated firemen who work completely without pay. Each fire call, for example, requires 36 man hours of work. Or, putting it another way, 12 men for each fire put in three hours each. And that's all for free! The chief himself has been a fireman since 1930, starting with the volunteer department at Sudan. Then in 1935 he moved here, gave up fire-fighting for a time, but was back on the force again by 1938, and he's been there ever since. He was named chief in 1955. The men enjoy what they do or they wouldn't give all the time and energy to the fire program," the chief said proudly. For instance, they put in 200 man hours per month training. Each man does a minimum of four hours per month. That shows you how much the men are dedicated to their fire-fighting work. The department seeks every means for squeezing in extra training. "Like recently,"

Industry Action Is Due

Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation, the organization which has for its only purpose the luring of industry to this area, will move a step nearer that aim this week when one of Texas' most influential industry specialists comes to town. He is James R. Bradley, head of the Industrial Research division of the Texas A&M University. MAIF president Harmon Elliott said Bradley will be here "probably one day this week," and will meet with the full board of directors for Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation for a luncheon. He will review reports of 10 local committees who have worked up weeks of intensive research to prepare reports in as many different industrial fields, says Elliott. After he has looked at the committee reports and met with the board, further planning will be possible. Meanwhile, Elliott said, "we have the community profile sheets completed, and we will mail a copy to all members of MAIF. This is the first stage of the over-all report, a summary of our possibilities and assets, in other words." The brochure group has gone to work on material being compiled in Amarillo. PASSING ATTEMPT - When Muleshoe was unable to cross the Mustang line for tallie took to the air in a futile attempt to score. Here is one of those attempts, Ransom Jor for a pass from Stovall. (Joan)

Mules Improve in Second Half, But First Half Romp was Too, Too Much!

Muleshoe Mules tried and tried hard, but a couple of passes that were good for touchdowns, and a strong defense by the enemy, proved too much for the Mules Friday night. The score: Denver City 17, Muleshoe 0. A big bunch of tally-making the first half did the trick. And so far as scoring was concerned, everybody could have gone home after the half-time parade of bands. Nothing happened in the second half, in other words. But it was during the second half that the Mules did their best playing even though most of the game was played on their half of the field. The Mules attempts at field goals failed Friday night, and a stonewall of resistance blocked the usual line-bucking method for gaining yardage. The starting line for the Denver City Mustangs started with a field goal by John Powell. It came about after the Mustangs had taken over on their own half after the Mules had been held off. Hatfield went around left end to gallop off a nice bunch of yardage and Powell got a few more to push the ball down into goal-kicking territory. Powell finishing off was fairly early in the ball game. Then in the second quarter, the Mustangs with Biff Hatfield, taking a long, long pass from the 43-yard line and stepping across the goal line for the evening's first touch down. The pass, incidentally was from Hatfield to Hatfield, brothers. PAT was good. The second TD came about a few minutes later. The Mules had been held out of scoring territory following the first TD. Robert Kiser coming in for quarterback chore after one of the Hatfield lads had been eliminated on a personal foul. Charles Wright gained 15 and with just 1:21 left in the half, quarterback Robert Kiser spotted a Wayne Young and passed to him for the second touch-down. The play covered 34 yards. Powell's kick ended the scoring. Linebacker Dwayne Young sparked the Mustang defense that held Muleshoe to 101 yards rushing and only 12 via the air-ways. Denver City rushed for 137 yards and wound up with 175 yards passing. Fullback Mickey Wilson kept Muleshoe in the game but the visitor's couldn't come up with a scoring punch. Despite the one-sided scoring, the game was a much better one than indicated by the tally. See MULES on Page 3

1926 Fire Roared Across State Line. so Muleshoe Got a Fire Truck!

By Clea Creamer Williams

In mid-1926, a relatively small group of local businessmen met with a serious problem on their minds. After a series of fires, including one prairie fire which swept out-of-control from eastern New Mexico and across the upper South Plains southwest of Muleshoe, it was felt that the need was urgent to organize a fire department.

Prizes in the contest will be $30 for the first place, $20 for the second place, $10 for the third and $2 will go to the fifth largest bird killed.

Each hunter will be limited to a kill of two birds daily with a possession limit of four. Guns will be shotguns, 10 gauge or smaller bore (12 gauge commonly used). Winners will be determined by weight of any little Brown Crane killed during the 1965 season. The hunter who has legally entered the contest and submitted the largest crane (by weight) to the official weighing station set up by the Jaycees and said bird is weighed by the proper and authorized weighing station agent shall be declared the winner. The second place bird shall be by the man submitting the second largest bird (by weight, etc.). Birds are subject to autopsy and x-ray before final approval. The Jaycees will have the right to hold birds of top weight for a reasonable length of time to establish weight.

Entries should be submitted to any member of the Muleshoe Jaycees or mailed to Dr. Jerry Gleason, Rt. 2, Muleshoe, Texas. Fees will be $1 per entrant and will be valid for the entire season. Entries must be in no later than midnight, October 28.

Next to the family car, the average American's favorite mechanism is a camera.

In Bailey County recalled that Curtis Brooks was named the first fire chief and a truck was purchased, Bailey county's first fire truck was a 1926 Chevrolet which was purchased with funds donated by citizens of the county. The first fire truck was not red as we know the fire trucks to be today, but was a bright green in color.

In the early days of the fire department, the station-house was open daily for men to meet and swap small talk about their crops, etc and for a few games of dominoes. Practice sessions were not as strictly adhered to, as they are in today's modern fire-fighting. The fire warning system was a fire bell, which was rung when a fire was reported, often not as quickly reported as now because of the slower means

Fire...

The department here is proud of its offspring, the Maple department which is also a part of the organization here. There are 21 members here, and like Muleshoe, all are volunteers, drawing no salaries. The department here has one fire truck bought by the people in the community and others who wanted to contribute. That unit is only slightly more than a year old.

Not only does the department function as an alert fire unit but the members are pressed into service for many other duties -- parades, funerals, fire works operators, etc. It also is called on by neighboring towns. Like last year's service to Hale Center when that town was struck by a tornado. Muleshoe fire department had eight men and two small trucks at the scene, providing lights for the headquarters, and pumping facilities for the hospital. The department here was the first neighbor to answer the call for help.

More recently, the local department aided in fighting a compress fire with the entire department taking part. Equipment used from Muleshoe saved the compress more than $675,000.

A letter from Duane E. Baker, manager of the Cotton Ware-

Taylor, in turning his memory back quite a few years, recalled one particularly disastrous fire during that time which destroyed many thousands of acres of prairie pasture-land. He smiled at the recollection of the very first woman he ever saw fighting a fire. Taylor mused, "It was near midnight and we were fighting a bad prairie fire southwest of Muleshoe. It had come out of New Mexico and burned all the way across to the Schuster farm south of town. I looked up and saw (the late) Mrs. W. A. Mathis with a wet tow-sack fighting right along with the men. I don't guess it was really anything unusual for women to fight the bad fires back then."

In the early '30's, the largest fire was when a hotel burned. Most of the town turned out for the fire, as most of the old-timers who were with the fire department remember. It lasted for quite some time and burned fiercely out of control. Much of the male population of Muleshoe has served as volunteer firemen at different times during the forty years of organized fire-fighting in Bailey county. They include such as the late Tye Young, Houston Hart, W. E. (Windy) Young, Buck Creamer, the late Bill Whalen, Delmer McCarty, the late W. T. Bovell and the late W. E. Boothe, among many others too numerous to mention.

During the bad rains in 1941, the fire department was called out often to take boats down on west third street and evacuate families whose homes would rapidly fill with run-off water from the parts of town situated on higher ground. Numerous times over the years, day or night, would find the members of the Bailey county fire department rowing from house to house, evacuating families clutching clothing, personal belongings, and at times, even their pets. In the mid-'50's a new drainage-sewer system was installed, and the lake area on West third was further built up to eliminate that part of the fireman's duties.

During the war years of 1941-45, the fire department was all but inactive, with so many local men being away in the service at the time. When the fire whistle would blow, just who was available would answer the call. Shortly after the war was over, the department was re-organized to continue the progress started in 1926. One Sunday evening in early July, 1951, added yet another chore to the firemen's never-ending jobs. A tornado swept out of a heavy black cloud, touching down first near the Main Street of Muleshoe. Heavy damage was sustained in the downtown business section, as well as to an almost completely demolished airport. North first street also was heavily damaged. Once again, firemen donned their helmets and wore out most immediately to assist not only in the clean-up operations and search for possible injured persons (there were none, fortunately) but to assist local law enforcement officers patrol the downtown business sections until the huge, smashed display windows could be boarded up. Chief Earl Ladd clearly recalls the 1951 tornado because he said "I lost my airplane which was tied down at the airport. It just blew away, along with the rest of the planes and hangars."

OLDEST FIREMAN - In point of years, Shorty Holmes has set some sort of record as a fire-fighter -- 32 years. He's shown peaking out of one of the trucks here, Muleshoe's most expensive fire occurred On July 10, 1962 when an elevator was destroyed with a loss of $97,682. The picture here was made the next day.

J. W. (Shorty) Holmes, present assistant fire marshal has served with the Bailey county fire department since early 1934. Holmes is the oldest active member of the department. As equipment has modernized and progressed, so has the fire department progressed. From a one truck department, at its beginning in 1926, to today's 4 trucks, 1 equipment pickup and many mobile radios and various other equipment. Late in the summer of 1950, quite late at night, a fire was discovered in a bakery on west Ave. B. By the time the fire was discovered, it had destroyed the bakery, severely damaged a grocery store and smoke damage was sustained by an automobile parts company. Only quick action by fast-moving firemen brought the fire under control with no more damage. On Christmas day in 1962, at noon the telephone rang in the local police department. There was a fire at a gin some 15 miles from Muleshoe. A call was made to Chief Ladd and in a matter of minutes, the chief and several of his men were on their way to the fire, having jumped up from their Christmas dinners to make the call. No grumbling, they were expected to go, so they went. During the fall, calls to cotton gins and compresses are both common and expected. With the highly inflammable cotton and cotton burrs being processed, fires are not unusual at all due to sparks, electrical shorts, any number of things which can start a "cotton burr" fire hurriedly. Chief Ladd and his fire-fighters have at times been called to consecutive fires without pause in between. The modern day fire-fighter has little in common with his pioneer counterpart who only answered the fire bell or whistle when it rang for a fire. Today's fireman must train and train rigidly to keep up with the latest advances in fire-fighting. Included in this are the use of gas masks, resuscitation equipment (when available).

feasible type of rescue under adverse conditions. Fire-fighting in normal day-light and fire-fighting at night; fair weather and foul, use and care of all the equipment.

Today's fireman must also study first aid, the causes of fires, what type fires burn the hottest, what type fires cause the most smoke, what type of fires are the most dangerous to handle, a never-ending list of what to do, when and where.

Every other Wednesday night when the fire whistle blows, Chief Ladd is calling all his men to another training session. A few months ago, the newest piece of equipment was added to the Bailey county fire department's long list of equipment. It is called simply the "Water Fan". But as simple as the device appears to be, it certainly does a tremendous job, as the big compress fire about three or four months ago proved. At that time, the "Fan" was used between buildings to set up a wall of water between the buildings, preventing the fire from crossing from one building to another. It was estimated that the use of the "Water Fan" saved the compress some $675,000. Another use of the "Fan" is when it is set up to "steam." Steam is beneficial in smothering flames before they can do damage. Incidentally, the "Fan" was a local invention by one of the firemen. At the present time, the "Fan" is being offered for sale to other departments to aid in their fire-fighting. It is understood that some of the "Fans" have been sold or are in the process of being sold at this time. The proceeds are to be used by the Bailey county fire department for new equipment.

In addition to the Bailey county fire department being a "volunteer" fire department, they further save taxpayers money by buying, for instance, just the tractor or cab of a truck and a bed, then taking the unfinished truck and proceeding very carefully to build their own fire trucks. They build to specifications, adding tanks, noses, pumps, etc, taking many hours of their own time in building or repairing equipment themselves.

Of course, fire-fighting is only a part of the Bailey county fire department's varied duties today. They are readily available to assist local law enforcement officers in directing traffic for funerals, traffic accidents, etc.; they sponsor a boy scout troop, serve as severe or adverse weather observers, handle the July 4 fireworks display, work at football games and other school activities as needed, just to mention a few of their many duties.

Today's fireman finds another difference, too, when he makes application to join the Bailey county fire department. Chief Ladd says, "he just volunteers one time, after that he is expected." He goes on to say, "when a man makes application to join our department, he must have the consent of his wife, his employer, and be passed by the executive board.

"Our feeling is thus: if a man feels that he owes the community in which he lives something, then we want him, if he doesn't we don't want him. It's just as simple as that. If we call a man in the middle of the night, regardless of the weather, we expect him to be there, and he always is, or has a reasonable and justifiable excuse as to why he cannot be.

"Membership fee is $5, and dues are 25 cents a month. Firemen furnish much of their own equipment, and since it is a volunteer department, thus a Bailey county fire-fighter is unpaid. Despite this, the members of the department eagerly join and serve faithfully. Many of the members have been with the department for years."

Chief Ladd proudly introduces the members of the Bailey county fire department as to the members and officers today. They are Ira Robinson, J. W. Holmes, assistant fire marshal; Wayland Harris, Tottie Middlebrooks, secretary-treasurer; Chas. Alsop, station master; Guy Kendall, lieutenant; Earl Ladd, Jr., captain; Richard Puckett, lieutenant; Bob Copeland; Frank Ellis, dispatcher; Fred Clements, assistant chief; Jim Bellier, lieutenant; Edd Edmiston, drill master; C. No road matters are slated to come before the commissioners, but payment of bills will be a major item since the board met early last month before all bills for the previous month had been received, Judge Williams said.

The city council will meet Monday afternoon, but City Manager Albert Field said the complete agenda for that session had not been drawn up. However, one matter due for consideration is the pending electrical code. A new ordinance on this phase of the building code is due to be passed soon.

The Muleshoe school board will not meet until Monday, Oct. 17, and agenda for that session had not been drawn Saturday, Superintendent Neal Dillman said.

Funeral Home Adding Chapel, Other Features

Singleton Funeral Home here is doing a complete re-modeling job and making a number of additions, according to Frank Ellis, one of the owners. It is expected to be completed in about 60 days from the beginning of the construction.

The contract has been let Monday afternoon, and M. E. Lee and sons of Muleshoe.

The chapel, which will have laminated beams and will seat 250 persons - including a family room and music room. It will be furnished with pews.

Another addition will be two more dressing rooms, and the reception room will be enlarged to twice its present size.

There will be a private arrangement office, and a new business office. The entire structure will be bricked.

generally speaking, Farm Bureau and some other organizations say that despite the 1% increase in farm income this year, inflation will wipe out any gains. And the Bureau also has strongly opposed this year's cotton program.

In Thursday's issue Howell wrote: Some top Farm Bureau spokesmen are vigorously opposing the proposed uniform collection system to finance greatly expanded cotton research and promotion programs.

Their stand for independence is commendable. But it is misplaced in the case of this cotton research and promotion plan, a program that could help cotton to move ahead and avoid the chaos of existing from one emergency to the next.

There is a danger that misrepresentations in some cases may be accepted as truth and that opinions in certain instances might be formed on that basis.

"The charge was aired here this week, for example, that the cotton program is similar to unsuccessful effort to repeal Section 14-B - authorizing state 'right-to-work' laws - of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"Compulsory unionism" and the use of union dues to influence government policy can in no way be compared to the cotton program.

The enabling act authorizing this cotton program specifically and unequivocally outlaws the use of any funds collected under this plan for any sort of legislative or political purposes whatsoever.

"These funds could be used only in the field of research and promotion for cotton."

house inspection Service, Memphis, Tenn., wrote the following letter to the chief:

We have received a report on the fire at the Central Compress and Warehouse Company at Sudan and understand that you and your men did an excellent job in controlling and extinguishing the blaze.

The city of Muleshoe owns two 500-gallon pumps, two high pressure booster rigs, with 400 gallons' capacity; a utility truck for hauling additional equipment, 3500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose, 1600 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose, 900 feet of 1 inch high pressure hose, one heavy-foam machine and one light foam machine, two Scott air packs, two SMA (gas) masks and two oxygen masks. In addition the city owns nozzles, pumps, a portable power plant and other odds and ends, bringing the total value of fire fighting equipment here to some $65,000, Ladd estimates. This year the light foam machine, some hose and nozzles have been added.

But that's only part of the story. The Bailey County Fire Department itself owns two-base station radios, plus one at Maple, three remote units, 19 mobile radios and many other items, including bunker clothing. "In fact," the chief said, "the members of the department are so dedicated to their work that they are willing to buy many items themselves in order to serve." He added: "Of course, we have received many donations from people who are grateful for the department's service."

Mrs. Bill Gravitt Is Faculty Newcomer

Mrs. Bill (Becky) Gravitt is a new-comer to the MHS school system this year. She teaches Sophomore English.

Mrs. Gravitt is teaching from a new text book in grammar, the Macmillan English series. This text concentrates on the linguistic method teaching. It introduces to the students the other approaches to learning grammar, besides the traditional grammar that they have used in the past. The text stresses arranging ideas clearly before they are written on paper and encourages originality in writing.

The purpose of literature in sophomore English is to learn to read for reasons other than pleasure. Mrs. Gravitt emphasizes an understanding of "what the author is saying or telling the reader" and "how the author is putting his words on paper."

In sophomore English, they are reading short stories written by such famous authors as Twain and Hemingway. Poems written by Ogden, Nash, Poe and Frost are both entertaining and beneficial to the reader. The sophomores will also read Shakespeare's dramatic play, "Julius Caesar" Tennyson's poem, "The Idylls of the King," and George Eliot's novel, "Silas Marner."

Mrs. Gravitt attended Oklahoma University two years and received a B.A. in education from Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla. She also has a minor in speech.

Gravitt teaches football at MHS and teaches civics and world history. The Gravitts have no children. They moved to Muleshoe from Weatherford, but they are originally from Denver City.

Meeting Called To Form DeMolay Chapter Here

Harold White has announced that Muleshoe will have the opportunity to start a DeMolay chapter. The first meeting for the boys and their parents will be held at Mary DeShazo school cafeteria Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Boys 14 through 20 are eligible for membership. DeMolay is not restricted to sons or relatives of Masons. A boy must believe in God and be of good character and reputation in order to become a DeMolay.

White said that the DeMolay program can offer a boy many activities. DeMolay not only offers a boy fun and an outlet for his interests, but it also provides something deeper that affects his inner self - something that is hard to describe. But it is something that once grasped will remain with a boy for the rest of his life, and by possessing it, he will become a better man, citizen, and leader in the future.

White further said that it is a worldwide brotherhood of which nearly three million young men have become members.

Ainsworth, Texas Area Director, Southwestern Cooperative Educational Laboratory of Lubbock, informed the group concerning "Grants for Research in Counseling" at the luncheon session.

Two approaches to elementary guidance were presented, the developmental approach, which seeks to integrate the guidance program and the curriculum so that it best meets the needs of the normal student, and the problem-centered approach, which sees the greatest benefit in solving the problems of individual students.

Dr. Caskey's keynote address stressed the concept of elementary guidance as a continually evolving program, geared to the needs of elementary students - not just a watered-down version of the secondary guidance program.

Two Farm Bureau Programs Back Bailey County Fire Department

Observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 9-15 in Bailey County is being urged by both rural and city fire prevention leaders.

Muleshoe Fire Chief Earl Ladd and Owen Jones, Fire Marshal and James Warren, president of the Bailey County Farm Bureau, urge citizens of Bailey County to pay special heed to the observance this year by taking steps to prevent costly fires.

"We want to urge everyone to develop good fire safety habits which include such things as care with matches and smoking, good housekeeping to get rid of rubbish, proper use of electrical fuses, appliances, and extension cords, and a constant general awareness of the ways fires start and how to avoid them," the local fire chief said. He added that fires killed about 12,000 people and the cost exceeded $1.76 billion in the United States last year.

Results of Crop Tests Revealed

Schedule of Events

These four pictures reveal results of some of the experiments carried out this year by the Extension Service, J. K. Adams, county agent, showed the test plots to a group of farmers who made a tour Friday morning.

Jack Bruns' cotton crop, a mile north of Muleshoe, Photo shows Gregg 23-V, a tall-growing Verticillium wilt resistant cotton whose seed will be low in grassy soil and more suitable for human and livestock feed. Gregg - 45 growing in left portion of picture shows higher degree of maturity but much less resistant to wilt.

Picture No. 2 is on the same farm showing Paymaster 202 in background which is suffering from Verticillium wilt, while a new cotton called Paymaster 2930 is very hardy and shows no symptoms of leaf diseases. This is a known area of Verticillium-diseased soil. Maturity of 202 is greater than the new variety, but harvest income will be the proper measuring stick for the new Paymaster.

Picture No. 3 was made on the A. P. and Mary Childress farm, showing hybrid grain sorghum demonstration which will evaluate eight varieties of grain sorghum of high lime soils just north of Muleshoe, RS-671, Pioneer 846 and Super 4-0C are already harvested in late September with both Pioneer 846 and RS-671 out yielding Super 400-C by over 1100 pounds per acre, even though the low-yielder was prompted as superior for high lime soil. To be harvested soon are PAG 455, Excel B-52, Lindsey 788-A, Weathermaster 75GS and Bonanza.

Picture No. 4 also was made on the Childers' farm and is a cotton variety demonstration. The county agent is holding the sign for the new Paymaster 2930 resistant to Verticillium wilt. Other cottons in this demonstration are Rilco 90, Paymaster 62-M-18, Lubbock Experiment Station CA-788-94-15; and CA - 563; Gregg 45; Larkart 57, Stripper 31, Paymaster 101-A and Gregg 35.

Sam Bradley Gets 1st Bale

Sam Bradley, who lives 7 miles north and 3 miles east of Muleshoe in the Lazbuddie area had the first two bales of cotton ginned at the SIB gin this year. The bales weighed 1239 pounds. 302 seed was planted May 6, the two bales coming off a 5-acre plot. Bradley said the cotton was harvested by hand, was watered twice, every other row. He has 65 acres of cotton...and it is about 24% open. The first bale was ginned free. One bale weighed 456 and the other one 583 pounds. The seed weighed 1730 pounds.

The first bale brought $155.13 but the second bale was not sold. While Bradley was having his cotton ginned, his wife, Elizabeth, gave birth to a 7 lb., 7 oz. daughter, Jacqueline Elizabeth, at Green Memorial Hospital.

IT COSTS MORE TO ENFORCE THE LAW
AUCKLAND (AP) - Sometimes it costs much more to enforce the law than to break it, the Alameda County Council, in New Zealand has discovered.

The council prosecuted a farmer of Fresno, Calif.; 12 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

mer because his fence encroached on to a public road. To take the case to court the council had to pay 160 New Zealand pounds ($448) in surveyor's fees and 41 pounds ($131) to its lawyer. These charges totalled more than eight times the amount the farmer was fined—25 pounds ($70).

LIFE'S OBSTACLES

We can easily see physical obstacles such as logs, boulders, and many other things that may be too difficult for our children to handle, but things that are not physical are not always so obvious. A young child needs help from his parents in spiritual matters too. The church can be an influence on children's lives, but when you, a parent, are taking part in church worship, you can be an even greater influence. Give your children, the leaders of the future, a hand now when they need it most. Take them to church regularly . . . and you too, will have a fuller and better life.

Your United Way gift last fall

is working many wonders right now

It's helping children learn the lessons of growing up through healthy, wholesome recreation. Helping teen-agers with problems that loom so big in their young lives. Helping the sick, the lonely, the distressed and the handicapped of all ages. Doesn't it make you feel good to know that your United Way gift will continue working such wonders all year round?

White's CASHWAY GROCERY

One gift works many wonders
The United Way

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
