METHODIST REVIVAL WILL CLOSE SUNDAY NIGHT

CLOSING SUBJECT

The revival will close with the service on Sunday night, at which time Dr. Culpepper will have for his subject "Good-Bye, Baird, Good-Bye."

The revival which has been in progress at the tabernacle for the past two weeks has resulted in a large number of conversions and reclamations. No man has come to Baird who labored more earnestly than has D. Culpepper, who has conducted these special services. The crowds have been large at each night service and the banks and many of the business houses have closed for the day services, which have also been largely attended.

The revival will close Sunday night and Rev. Burke Culpepper and his helpers, Rev. Jimmie Culpepper and John U. Robinson, will leave immediately for Marshall, Arkansas, where they will hold a revival. It is impossible to estimate the good the revival has done Baird and its citizens and suffice it to say the town and community will be better by having Dr. Culpepper here.

Asked with reference to the revival Dr. Dodson, pastor of the First Methodist church, said: "Dr. Burke Culpepper believes and makes you believe that Jesus Christ is still able to save men from the power and guilt of sin; he also believes that the church is God's great agency to carry on the work of Christ among men, and he holds up the New Testament ideal of Christ-like character and life as the goal toward which all men should continually strive. His motto, 'Put God First,' is calculated to make all thoughtful men pause and reconsecrate their lives to God. These meetings have already done good and will do much more."

Concluding Services
The closing services of the revival will be of the same high character that has marked the meeting from the very beginning. Sermons, singing, work among the young people have all contributed to the success of the meeting. Dr. Culpepper and his party have been an inspiration to the people of Baird, who will be glad to welcome them back at some future time.

Sunday morning Dr. Culpepper will have for his subject "The Greatest Thing in the World." The public is invited to hear this message. Jimmie Culpepper will hold the last service for the young people Sunday evening at 7:45 at the First Methodist church. The young people are urged to hear this gifted young man, whose life has been fully consecrated to the service of the Master.

"I am not uneasy about the young people. It is the older persons I am interested in. You hear it said 'What is the matter with the young people?' They are not half as bad as the older ones who need to be watched. The young man's face foretells prophesy, while the old man's face is history," declared Rev. Burke Culpepper at one of the night services at the Baird Tabernacle, where he preached a special sermon on "Purposeful Youth," dedicated to the young people of Baird.

Commenting on the meeting Mr. Bob Norrell, cashier of the First National Bank and also chairman of the board of stewards of the Methodist church, said: "In my opinion this meeting has been of immeasurable benefit, probably the greatest good being Dr. Burke Culpepper's straight-forward preaching the high ideals of Jesus Christ to the young people."

Dr. Culpepper declared that the young people today needed sympathy more than censure and criticism. Parents should set an example to the coming generation that will mold their character and create a high standard of Christian morale, for the boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow.

The story of Daniel was recited as a basis for the sermon to the youth of Baird, in which Daniel "purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat which they eat nor with the wine which they drank. One first-class purpose, said the evangelist, is sufficient to revolutionize a life. The singing, swinging teens" are ambitious. Some will remain here in Baird, but the majority of the boys and girls will move elsewhere. In the journey of life they will have many temptations and many things to deter them from carrying out their life's plans, but, said the evangelist, "the slain lions of youth will become the staff upon which to lean in old age."

Dr. Culpepper warned the young people against participating in the things of today that tend to undermine their character and unfit them for the duties that lie before them. Cigarette smoking by both boys and girls was deeply regretted by the evangelist. Idleness, extravagance and ignorance will lead to indifference. Life is a scrap, but victory will come to those who fight courageously.

"Spiritualized Magic"
Declaring the "hand to be quicker than the eye," and "the harder you looked the less you see," Rev. Jimmie Culpepper, son of the evangelist, held a large audience of boys and girls and adults to closest attention Saturday night as he displayed some magic. He proved his assertion and mystified his audience, mixing fun with more serious things he had to say. Young Culpepper has had charge of the young people's services during the revival and has made an enviable reputation as a devout young minister, whose only object in life is to do good and be a blessing to his age and generation. Large crowds have heard him each evening at the Methodist church. He speaks the language of the young people today and never fails to hold up Jesus Christ as the standard. His work will be of lasting benefit to the young people of Baird and he will leave an influence back of him that will linger in the minds and hearts of his hearers throughout life.

"Immortality"
A sermon that left its impress on the large audience was the one on "Immortality," in which Dr. Culpepper declared that there was no progress in the world save that of the human race. With all others progress is "slow, tortuous and its records were clocked the tick of ages."

Dr. Culpepper gave four reasons why he believed man to be immortal. Man has a conscience, is progressive in nature, infinite in capacity and immortal in desire. He enlarged on these four points to the edification of his hearers and left on them an impression that time alone can efface. God, he said, never gave man a desire but that he had the answer for, and the desire in mankind is to live forever, and that desire will be granted, for man "will live on, either with Moses and the Lamb, or with Dives and the damned."

A Great Sermon on Jesus Christ
One of the strongest and most convincing sermons Dr. Culpepper has delivered was the one on the "Divinity of Jesus Christ," in which he spoke of Christ as the "world's greatest controversialist, the world's greatest strategist and redeemer." Jesus Christ, declared the evangelist, never said a word that has ever become obsolete. He spoke the truth, lived the truth and was the truth. Earth's great generals had their soldiers prove their love for them by having them die to prove that love, but when Jesus came he said you live for me and I will die for you. He takes in every race and condition of life. He came in the world to "bring peace to the peaceless, joy to the joyless and hope to the hopeless." There is not a condition existing today but what Jesus Christ sympathizes with and will help the

Cranford Returned For Trial At Baird

Sheriff Ev. Hughes and his deputy, W. A. Peterson, returned Wednesday of last week from Alamogordo, N. M., bringing with them W. M. (Red) Cranford, who is charged in this county with selling intoxicating liquors. Their trip to New Mexico ended a five months chase which had carried the fugitive through quite a bit of Texas, part of Old Mexico and into New Mexico. He was arrested near Alamogordo by New Mexico officers upon instructions from Sheriff Hughes.

Cranford, who faced three charges of selling liquor was to have been tried here during the March term of court but failed to appear and $3000 bond was forfeited.

He was caught by San Angelo officers and turned over to Winters officers who were bringing him to Baird. When they reached Abilene he escaped, leading to the long chase.

Golf Club Organized

Course of Old Club To Be Re-conditioned And Used
By This Club

A first-class golf club seems to be assured—interest in organizing this club was manifested at a meeting held in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon. Quite a large crowd attended this meeting. The plans of organizing this club was discussed, points brought out in these discussions seemed to impress the ones present and after all details were carefully viewed from all angles, the club was organized.

Grant Bowls, Jr. as chairman, assisted by Howard Farmer, Tom Price, T. A. White, Cliff Harville was appointed as a membership committee. This committee will also estimate the cost of repairing and putting into first class shape the old course, which was built some few years ago when a golf club was organized. This club will use the old course which is located in the Ross pasture about two miles north-west of Baird. Judge L. L. Blackburn as chairman, assisted by S. L. McElroy and J. R. Tyson, were appointed as a committee to draft rules and regulations to govern the club. These committees will report to the club at a meeting which will be held Monday night, August 18th at 7:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce. At this meeting the committees will report.

We are glad to see a golf club organized in Baird as all other towns in West Texas of any importance have them. Baird stands shoulder to shoulder with other live towns of West Texas—why should she lag in one of the nations leading sports—golf. On with the golf club, we want to see it go over in a big way, and will help to put it over this way.

A CORRECTION

The Star is due Mrs. Will McCoy, our popular and efficient county treasurer, an apology for making her card of thanks to the voters of the county read altogether different from the way she had written it. She intended to say she would "continue to give all my time to the duties of the office" but the types made her say she would "continue to give a part of her time to the duties of the office."

Mr. McCoy has devoted her "entire time" to the duties of the office and has made a faithful and efficient officer. We regret that error was made and are glad to make this correction.

A New Great Flyer Ducks and Wheat 546,095,925 in 2030 Gas Merchants, Attention

Captain Hawks, who stands out now as the greatest American flyer, left New York at six o'clock in the morning, eastern daylight time, landed in Los Angeles at 50 minutes past 4:00 p. m., Pacific standard time, keeping an appointment to play golf, at the edge of the Pacific, after leaving that morning the edge of the Atlantic.

His flying time, all in broad daylight, was less than fifteen hours, and he made five stops for gasoline. That will not be necessary in future days, with better machines and better fuel.

In the old days of oppression a discouraged Irishman, sitting beside a little pool of water with a few ducks swimming around in it, was asked by a British efficiency expert, "Have you any idea of the price you could get in London for those fine ducks?"

"I have," replied the owner of the ducks. "And have you any idea of the price I could get for that water in hell, if I had it there?"

News of the drought sends the price of wheat climbing upward. When the farmer hasn't "got it there," wheat is high in Chicago.

In "Continental United States" the population is 122,729,472. Uncle Sam says so. This does not include Porto Rico, the Philippines or Hawaii.

In ten years population has increased 16.1 per cent. If that increase continues, our population 100 years hence, in 2030, will be 546,095,925.

Labor union experts reading that will say, "There could never be jobs for so many." Workers said that 130 years ago, when our population was 5,000,000.

Farmers would greet the idea of 546,095,925 population with joy, exclaiming, "That would give us people enough to eat all our wheat and pay a good price for it."

However, big figures need not frighten us. The world's population, apart from famine, plague and war, will not outgrow the earth's fertility.

Important to everybody, especially those that sell gasoline, is news of an Irish railroad car run by a new electric battery, developing a speed of 46 miles an hour, and using only two-thirds of the battery power.

An Irishman invented the battery, and the Free State finances it.

Germany made a great fight while the war lasted, and has shown amazing powers of recuperation following the war, in spite of the Versailles treaty and the allies' gold demands.

You understand that when you read "illiteracy in Berlin is only 4 per cent, least of all European capitals."

Of 28,000,000 books on the shelves of European libraries, the city of Berlin has 9,300,000, and all are serious books for students and research workers.

The highest rate of illiteracy is at Teheran, capital of Persia, 82 per cent unable to read or write.

News from India causes Mother Britain to feel safe. Mohammedans continue fighting and killing Hindus—12 killed, 150 injured, in the latest clash, based on revenge.

For a wonder the worm had turned, and a Hindu, son of a race ordinarily mild, shot and killed eleven Mohammedans and wounded four. That's like a sheep biting a wolf.

Such incidents take the Hindu mind off its grievances against Great Britain.

Unpleasant news from China. Nanking dispatches tell of a British woman, wife of a British official, attacked while asleep by a Chinese soldier and expected to die of bayonet wounds.

Shanghai sends stories of torture and other outrages inflicted on women missionaries.

In Fukien province bandits kidnaped a woman missionary, cut off one of her fingers and sent it to the authorities, demanding $50,000, threatening to send other fingers if the money was not paid.

David Belasco obliges Mr. Curtis by picking the "fifty greatest actors of all time," and many of them are now living—George M. Cohan, fifty-two; Mary Anderson, seventy-one; Minnie Maddern Fiske, sixty-five; Maude Adams, fifty-eight; Julia Marlowe, sixty-four. The ages are supplied by Mr. Belasco but those that have seen Cohan and the ladies can testify that at least twenty years should be taken from each.

The fact is that we have charming actors and actresses, but not "great" actors and actresses.

Rachel, born in Switzerland, daughter of a Jewish peddler, possessed genius that could not be extracted from all the American actresses that have ever lived.

Jean Tasserand, to prove that he loved a girl, wrote her a farewell note, jumped to his death from an airplane, his broken body landing in the garden of his mother's home. Fools will make a hero of him. He would have been more like a hero had he taken care of his mother and lived to prove that he appreciated her, which is every man's duty.

Other Folks Believe In Us

So much has been printed since the end of the war about the position of the United States as a creditor nation, that most of us never stop to ask whether we still owe anybody anything.

It remained for Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, to point out the other day that besides being the greatest creditor nation of the world, we are also the greatest debtor nation.

In other words, the United States is the financial center of the world. "No country in history has ever owned so much to foreigners as we Americans owe today," said Dr. Klein. He did not mean, however, that this is a national debt. He was talking about debts owed abroad by American business.

We have always owed money abroad. The railway system of the United States was built in the beginning and largely financed since by selling the bonds and much of the preferred stock in Europe. We are not the only people who have always been ready to bet on the future of America.

When the late Arthur Stilwell wanted money with which to build the Kansas City Southern he could not get it in America, but found it in Holland. When the Pennsylvania Railroad needed a hundred million dollars with which to build a terminal on Manhattan Island and dig a tunnel under the Hudson River, it borrowed the money in France against its bonds. Those are only two out of thousands of examples of the way foreign capital has been invested in the United States in the past.

There was a lull during and after the war, but now Europeans are pouring money into our enterprises with even greater eagerness than before. Apparently foreign investors think this is a better place to invest than at home.

At the end of 1929, Dr. Klein points out, the total European investment in American industry had climbed to seven and one-half billion dollars. No such sum had ever been reached before the war. These investments are in all sorts of industries. Twenty out of the 23 artificial silk plants in the South are owned by European capital. Perfumery industries, photographic supplies, many great chemical plants, as well as railroads and other familiar forms of foreign investment are on the list of American securities which are liked abroad.

Articles for the July number of Texas Monthly were written by two University of Texas ex-students. Miss Ethel Mary Franklin of Austin prepared a sketch of Dr. Alexander Dienst of Temple, a collector of Texas and other historical material and museum pieces, while Harper Brown wrote a story entitled "School Room Personalities," in which he told a series of anecdotes about school children and their deeds, and misdeeds. Of additional interest to University students and ex-students is the fact that part of Dr. Dienst's collection of Texasiana has recently been purchased for the University library.

County government and administration in Texas will be studied during 1930-31 by W. C. Murphy, newly appointed research associate in social science at the University of Texas. Mr. Murphy's appointment has just been approved by the University Board of Regents. He will work with Dr. E. T. Miller, professor of economics, Dr. Frank M. Stewart, professor of government, and Dr. W. E. Gettys' professor of sociology, in this research program, which is being carried on under the terms of a grant to the University from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller fund for research in the social sciences. Mr. Murphy was formerly professor of political science at the University of West Virginia.

Presentation of a gift of $1,000 for the promotion of library science as part of the 1930 summer school at the University of Texas has been announced by the University Board of Regents. This gift comes from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, through its president, F. P. Keppel. This donation is from a fund created and set aside by the Carnegie Corporation for the support of existing library schools and departments during 1930-31.

Early Use of Monograms
The Greeks are supposed to have been the first to use monograms. They are found on old Greek coins and rings. The Romans, however, made the more personal application to family names.

God and Life
I think God is equally concerned with man and all the animals to whom he has given life, but that, perhaps, he has a special leaning toward dogs.—Human

TREE-SITTING IS NEWEST CRAZE

Recalls Freak Events That Have Stirred Youthful Imaginations.

New York.—Boys and girls but recently graduated from the pinafore class are perched in trees or atop poles in public parks and backyards in all sections of the country. They are not viewing the scenery nor are they spying out the land. They and the youthful non-stop bicycle riders have been bitten by the craze for endurance records.

Freak contests such as these seem to run in cycles. Every few years an unusual stunt by some professional seeking publicity fires the imagination of thousands of people and thus a large number jump into the game striving to emulate if not surpass the achievement. A decade ago Charleston and Black Bottom dancing was the rage. This was followed by the dance marathon which became epidemic from Tangiers and Timbuctoo to Paris and Nome until state, county and municipality interfered with drastic police regulations.

In grandfather's day it was considered quite a trick to eat a quail a day for thirty days, and even now and then some daring soul, stoked by a reckless stomach, essays the feat and glories in the title of champion. With quails as scarce as they are now, this seems today not only a harmless but perhaps a delectable pastime.

Records for Staying Aloft.
When the Hunter Brothers broke the aviation endurance record, Western youth became ambitious to "stay aloft" as long as possible. Lacking airplanes the example of Alvin ("Shipwreck") Kelly, pole-sitter, occurred to them. There was nothing to do but sit still. Hundreds of boys and even girls immediately got into the game and many of them are at it today.

In some sections the pole and tree sitters have been driven from the parks and recreation grounds; but, aided and abetted by proud parents, they may do as they like on private premises. These youthful aspirants are dividing the attention with the bike riders. The latter craze has broken out persistently in New Jersey cities and towns. Newark, Hackensack, New Brunswick, and Jersey City have teams grinding away in non-stop contests that threaten to put to shame what only a few years ago was referred to as the "cruel" six-day professional bicycle races. These boys are everlastingly sticking to rickety second-hand wheels for from six to ten and eleven hours a day each until relieved by a partner. Some of them sleep a few hours out of every 24 in garages or sheds.

The tree-sitters may not know it, but they are up against a record that eclipses that of Shipwreck Kelly. Mr. Kelly regards 28 days as a wonderful performance, but St. Simon Stylites lived for more than thirty years atop a pillar—something of a mark to shoot at!

Many Freak Champions.
There is apparently no limit to the number of kinds of freak champions. Michael S. Pettilo of Nutley, N. J., won a radio-listening contest this year on March 6. He listened continuously to a radio for 155 hours without sleep, subsisting on eggs and black coffee and sustained by the knowledge that the prize money would enable him to marry the girl of his choice.

Charles Drovo of Leroy, N. Y., held the world's raw egg-eating championship with 40 raw eggs consumed in five minutes, until Max Hinel of Boston ate 75 raw eggs in ten minutes.

Bud Reynolds of Columbus, Ohio, played the piano continuously for 105 hours. He fainted once during the performance, but was revived and resumed playing in eight minutes. His bandaged fingertips were raw and his wrists and forearms swollen.

Antoine Lenuzze, a Frenchman, played the violin continuously for 30 hours. He is said to have played more than 600 pieces, ending with the Italian Royal March and the Marsellaise.

After establishing a beer-drinking record by downing 17 glasses of the brew, amounting to 10 1/2 quarts, Donald Stephens of Colorado, collapsed. A few hours later he was able to sit up and challenge anybody to better his performance. Canario Nazareno of Chicago claimed the catch-as-catch-can spaghetti-eating record after making away with seven feet of spaghetti per minute for 150 consecutive minutes, or 1,250 feet in three hours. In Detroit, Mich., a marathon dance had lasted 106 days when the local authorities stopped it with five couples still on the floor. The dancers rested 20 minutes in every hour.

Other Strenuous Tests.
Harry Kantor of Bloomfield, N. J., burned out a bearing after eating 90 red peppers and had to quit, but he won a $50 prize and the "championship."

Alvaredo Fernando established a marathon dance record in Berlin in 1927 by remaining in motion 145 hours, except for ten minutes' rest every hour.

Former Representative Ernest Ackerman of Plainfield, N. J., has toted an umbrella for 45 years as the result of a wager made with a friend in Liverpool.

Gus Comstock of Fergus Falls, Minn., gulped his way to the coffee-drinking championship by drinking 85 cups in 11 hours and 15 minutes.

Eugene Leckey, fifteen, of Brooklyn, set a new kite-flying record of 48 hours on September 8, 1929.

Mrs. H. B. Schmidt of Champagne, Ill., claims the American record of 400 hours in a rocking chair.

The "rocked" continuously, except for occasional "cat-naps."
Joseph De Vigilio of Boston walked on stilts from Boston to Providence, 45 miles, in 12 hours and 2 minutes. The stilts were five feet long and weighed 15 pounds.
Bill Williams of Hondo, Texas, pushed a peanut up Pike's peak with his nose. It took him 30 days and he won a bet of $500.
Some of these records are authentic; in others reliable data is missing.

48-Hour Trip to Moon Foreseen for Humans

Paris.—That human beings may be able some day to take a trip to the moon in 48 hours is predicted by M. Esnault-Pelterie, well-known French scientist and engineer, who for years has been carefully studying the possibilities of interplanetary communications by firing a rocket to the moon or other planets.

M. Esnault-Pelterie believes that as soon as scientists will have mastered intra-atomic power, the problem of "astronautics" will be easily solved.

According to the engineer, this fantastic dream could be realized by firing a rocket at an initial speed of seven miles per second. He recalls the huge projectiles thrown by the German "Big Bertha" into Paris during the World war and remarks that it had an initial speed of .875 miles per second and rose to a height of about 19 miles. To attain an infinite altitude it is not necessary for the projectile to have an infinite initial speed, he says, since the earth's attraction diminishes with the increasing distance, and the rocket at a certain moment would be influenced by the attraction of the moon.

With such a projectile a Paris-New York journey would be made in less than half an hour, and Paris, the moon and back in 96 hours.

Rich Deposits of Iron Found in Middle Volga

Samara, U. S. S. R.—Iron ore deposits estimated at 1,000,000,000 tons have been located in the Orsk-Khaila mountains, middle Volga region, near here.

The announcement by a scientific research commission which has studied the field for nearly a year indicates that it may prove one of the most important iron sources in the world. The ore contains an average of 50 per cent iron and lies near the surface, in some places even on the surface itself.

About fifty kilometers from the iron deposits have been found rich coal supplies and considerable store of manganese, nickel and other minerals. Research is continuing and already plans are being made for exploiting the region industrially.

Britain Tests Planes That Carry Cannon

London.—Night-bombing airplanes carrying small rapid-fire cannon instead of machine guns are now being developed in Great Britain to add to the horrors of the next war. Tests are now being carried out with a multiple-engined night bomber and are understood to have been fairly successful.

The new guns fire explosive shells, and it is believed that not only will the shells prove a better defense for bombers against attacking aircraft than machine-gun defense, but that adapted to smaller fighters they will also prove more destructive in trench raiding and in attacking columns of troops on the march than machine-gun fire.

Boston Had Its Parking Woes Way Back in 1850

Boston.—Apparently they had their parking problems long before the automobile became popular.

An age yellowed copy of the Cambridge Chronicle, recently brought to light, contained the following item under date of May 16, 1850:

"The people of Boston have recently passed an ordinance to the effect that if any out-of-town carriage is left standing for over 15 minutes on the street the owner must go to the police captain's office and pay a fine."

Friday Night Reserved for Village Burglars

Edmonton, England.—Friday night is burglar's night in Edmonton, and after five consecutive Friday night raids local citizens formed watch parties and the police warned everybody to take their weekly wages upstairs.

Plants Many Trees

Geneva, N. Y.—Every spring for 57 consecutive years, Cheney P. Whitney of Shortville has returned to his old homestead in Orleans and planted a tree. Now ninety-three years old, Whitney is planning to set out his fifty-eighth tree. Every one he has planted since 1872 has thrived.

Snake in Mail Box

Sandusky, Ohio.—Earl Mischler, R. F. D. postman, is anxious to find the culprit who placed a snake in one of the mail boxes on his route. Mischler declares chills ran up and down his back when he placed his hand in the box and felt the slick, cool scales of the reptile.

Fisherman Lands 44-Pound Salmon

Paisley, Scotland.—Edward Cochran of Paisley landed the largest salmon ever caught in Loch Lomond, weighing 44 pounds, in the Gartcharn waters of the Loch.

Thousands of Years Old

A native chariot made of earth, a relic of ancient art, found in a Yugoslav village, is believed to have been made a thousand years before Christ. It has three wheels and the frame is fashioned in the form of duck-like birds with a crude effigy of a human figure in the car.

BLEEDING GUMS HEALED

The sight of sore gums is sickening. Reliable dentists often report the successful use of Leto's Prothra Remedy on their very worst cases. If you will get a bottle and use as directed druggists will return money if it fails.

Uses for Pecan Wood

The forest service says that pecan wood is used very little for furniture. It is not in the same class with oak and mahogany, but it is about the same as gumwood. It is used for miscellaneous purposes where great strength is needed.

JUDGE BOWYER SPEAKS A WORD FOR FERGUSON

Whether or not Sterling is nominated, it seems to me that he will run from now on without any skin,
for Ferguson has undoubtedly taken the hide off of him and Ferguson was fully justified, because Sterling, abandoning all other issues
has made so-called "Fergusonism"
the issue of the run-off primary.
He richly deserves the castigation
he has received.

The truth is that the impeachment of Governor Ferguson was an outrage and a matter of bitter artisan politics. He was never guilty of such high crimes and misdemeanors as are contemplated
in our laws.

Mrs. Ferguson, while governor, accomplished some notable and salutary things. Among others, she put a stop to Klux Klan whis-pings in Texas, and took the bed sheets off the Klansmen, though, personally, I was in favor of allowing them to cover themselves up, because, like many of the women's legs, they appeared so much better covered up. She put the bill of rights into practical effect in the search and seizure law. Again she set the pace all over the United States of putting hope in the breasts of poor, helpless convicts—
many of them innocent, by the free exercise of the pardoning power.

If the condition of the prisoners in our penitentiary are such, as described by Governor Moody, himself, as a "cesspool of iniquity," contaminating the people of the entire State, then it was his duty to pardon all but the most desperate criminals, as Governor Bleasie of South Carolina did, under like circumstances.

The idea that a man ought to be successful in his own private affairs in order to make a governor, is utterly fallacious. The fact is a millionaire ought not to be governor of Texas for two reasons, first,
his private interests will conflict
with the interests of the public, and, second, having devoted most of his time to making money, he knows nothing of constitutional law or the underlying principles of government, or governmental affairs generally. Such men as Daniel Webster didn't know much more of their private affairs than children. Many an ignorant has made money.

OTIS BOWYER

COLLEAGUES SUPPORT DAVIS FOR TREASURER

Nearly every member with whom he has served in the Legislature for the past 18 years is supporting John E. Davis Treasurer, and in addition to these his candidacy is endorsed by men like Hon. Hatton W. Summers his own Congressman, and practically all the Texas members of Congress, Mayor Ewing Thomason of El Paso, nominee for Congress,
the present Speaker of the House,
Hon. W. S. Barron of Bryan; most of the ex. Speakers, and almost every outstanding man in public life in Texas. Their support for him is not based on personal friendship alone but because they
by the long and excellent service
he has rendered in the Legislature demonstrates the fact that he is qualified and worthy.

Mr. Davis has served as Chairman of the Committee on Contempant Expense the past ten years of his 18 years service in the Texas Legislature. He carried Dallas, his home county in the recent primary 25,715 to 1,922 for his present opponent Charley Lockhart.

SECOND IN COMMAND

Abilene Reporter

HON. EDGAR WITT

While the Sterling-Ferguson race will dominate the run-off primary,
don't let Texas forget for a minute
the importance of nominating the right man for lieutenant governor.
In the history of the states it has happened many times that the lieutenant governor became the governor—and filled the place more acceptably, and with more credit, than had his predecessor. For ex-than had his predecessor.

In the coming primary we have two candidates for lieutenant governor. One is Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, an elderly ex-traveling salesman with no legislative background but only the record of having briefly attempted to win a seat in the United States senate as the enthusiastic champion of the Ku Klux Klan. The other is one of the soundest men in Texas,
Edgar Witt of Waco.

Considering the circumstances,
with its possible eventualities, Witt's nomination for second in command is significantly important West Texas voters should line up with him in a body, for here is his legislative record:

He actively supported the legislation creating Texas Technological college.

He was a leader of the movement in behalf of the over-burdened cowman and helped put over the act to re-value their lands.
Senator Small's river-bed bills had his enthusiastic support, and he was one of the senators to vote for their re-passage over the governor's veto.

It was Witt, who, in the regular session of 1929, introduced the resolution asking congress to place an import duty of $1 per barrel on crude oil; and he was one of the authors of the pipe line bill sponsored by independent oil operators of Texas before the last special session.

West Texas cotton farmers have not forgotten pink bollworm regulation. Witt supported the bill setting up appropriations to pay them for losses incurred in enforcement of the quarantine.

Witt's home folks are sold on him. He has been in the senate of Texas for 12 years. He was away, in army service, when his friends
put his name up for his first term;
and against a candidate who campaigned the district, he won by a seven-to-one vote. He has been re-elected twice without opposition, and in the primary of July 26 McLennan county endorsed his candidacy for lieutenant governor by a vote of 10,305 to 3,128 for all his opponents combined, the candidate nearest him receiving only 957 votes.

Senator Witt has been a member of all the important committees of the upper house, chairman of most of them at various times.
He has the support of nearly every colleague in the upper house, is entitled to the place he seeks, and is completely deserving of West Texas will never be ashamed by the type of candidacy represented in Edgar Witt.

ENDORSE BOBBITT FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

The office of Attorney General
is one of the most important branches of our state government. I believe that the interests of the state are to be conserved by the election of Hon. R. L. Bobbitt, a candidate for this place in the August primary.

During my service as a member of the Texas legislature Mr. Bobbitt was also a member and I learned to know him quite well.
Since that time have had occasion to keep in touch with him and his

Wandering Back
by A. J. Dunlap.

It was miles from our place to a neighbor;
There were days when we saw none at all—
For the horses were lired in the evening
And no telephone hung on the wall.
And the days flowed along like a river,
With a peace in their quiet and charm
That alone could be found in the country,
In the days of the pioneer farm.

When I tire of this up-to-date frenzy
With its clashing and clamorous glare;
When I'm weary of pushing and rushing,
And of life with its windows aglare;
Then I quietly wander in fancy
Back again to the farm where I knew
The deep peace of the sunrise and sunset,
And the cornfields that glittered with dew.

public career. He is a competent lawyer and a man of the finest type of Christian character. He will be true to the trust of the people and will discharge the duties of this important office in a highly competent manner. It is not intended by my endorsement to dictate to any voter whom he shall cast his ballot; that is a sacred obligation resting with the voter,
but knowing Mr. Bobbitt's fine qualities of character; knowing he has forged himself to the front
through poverty and his own efforts, and believing in him, and knowing further that many voters do not have the opportunity to come into personal contact with candidates for this office, I am offering this information for your earnest consideration.
Respectfully submitted,
B. L. RUSSELL

We give our cordial approval to the above endorsement of Mr. Bobbitt by Judge Russell and sincerely urge the support of Mr. Bobbitt by the voters of this county.

TO MY FRIENDS IN WEST TEXAS

On Saturday, Aug. 23rd you will select your Commissioner of Agriculture between myself and my runoff opponent who lives in another part of Texas. I am your neighbor in Throckmorton County where I have served my West Texas Constituency for many years in the Legislature. I am qualified from a standpoint of age and experience and if elected I promise to render the farmers and stockmen of Texas a real service in this important post and thereby serve the whole people because general prosperity will follow and depends on the prosperity of our farmers and stockmen.

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF CALLAHAN COUNTY

Due to the shortness of time between the primaries it is impossible for me to see all the voters in the county. It has been my intention to meet every citizen of the county personally.

In my opinion the duties of the sheriffs office are very important and should be performed with much consideration. I believe the officers of the law should be clean moral men always ready to hold up the standard and enforce the laws of our county.

If you should see fit to elect me on the 23rd I shall strive to select men of this type to help me enforce our laws in a way that no law violator and especially criminal should go unpunished. It has been rumored that I have already promised deputyships to some if elected, this is positively untrue. I have made no promises to anyone other than to perform the duties of the office.
Again thanking the voters for their loyal support on July 26th, and asking a continuation of the same, I am,

Respectfully yours,
R. L. (Robt) Edwards.

AN EXPRESSION OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to every one that helped us with the work on the Tabernacle at the camp ground on Deep Creek. We sincerely appreciate these favors, and also every expression of cooperation and aid rendered in any way. We feel this first class Tabernacle could not have been completed without your help.

But it is complete, thoroughly
seated, benches are comfortable,
the grounds are cleaned, the groves
are cool and shady. Now, the camp meeting will not be the success we desire without your presence.
Come help us fulfill the purpose
for which we have built it.

To glorify Jehovah and seek a deep vision of his spirit, the aim of every christian, and the only
life that will cause men and women to make the world better by their having lived in it.
Camp meeting will begin Aug.
20. Dr. D. L. Cooper of Los Angeles Bible Institute will daily teach. Rev. W. E. Hawkins of the Radio Revival, KRLD, will have charge of the evangelistic services.

You are cordially invited to come and camp.

REV. DAMRON CLOSES REVIV'L
AT EULA

I want to express by this means to the Eula people deepest appreciation and gratitude for the many kindnesses shown us during our recent revival meeting there.

We some times feel that human hearts have forgot us, that even God has left us standing on the brink of a great precipice without help or lore, but when we go into a community like Eula and meet the smiling faces of people and they greet us with warm loving hand clasps and give us the most beautiful words of appreciation.
We know our God still reigns on this earth, and that —esus Christ
our Lord's shining light is yet above in the hearts and lives of many people.

How we do appreciate the splendid co-operation given everyprayer offered, every word said or song sung was for success in the meeting.

We fail to have words to express our love and gratitude to you for the free will offering given us and all other kindnesses shown us while there.

We are glad to report 16 conversions, reclamations, and additions to the church. Some by baptism and some otherwise.

God will rightly bless people who in this world of sorrow and struggle will give to those whom they meet, the roses while they live. For we know nothing of the flowers that are placed on our casket that holds our dead form.

May God bless and keep you in our prayer.

One Town or Many

Electricity is required at different times for different purposes.

This simple fact explains why a widespread electric system, serving many communities over a wide area, can operate more efficiently than small plants each serving a single community. Serving a larger number of people, with a greater variety of demands, the widespread system keeps its facilities working over more hours of the day.

There is another important advantage of the widespread transmission system over the small plant serving a single community. The transmission system can meet increased demands at once. No delay is necessary for increased facilities, as so frequently is the case with the small plant.

Community growth is thus encouraged and hastened.

The West Texas Utilities Company places at the disposal of 116 prosperous cities, towns and communities in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity", 100,000 horsepower of electrical energy—generated by three Major Generating Stations and 22 Auxiliary Plants, and distributed over a network of more than 2,500 miles of transmission lines.

The Way of Life

By BRUCE BARTON

NO ANSWER
The traffic light flashed red, and a big car stopped short. The car behind it brushed the front car's fender. Nothing of any importance. Just a bump.

Instantly, the driver of the first car was on the pavement. No one could bump him with impunity. He'd show the world.

I stopped to watch the performance, and the action of the other driver gave me a smile. Mild and innocent, he sat. He did not turn his head. He never said a word.

When the traffic light flashed green he stepped on the gas and moved away. His angry accuser had to climb back into his driver's seat, and before he could get going angry horns were blowing all around him.

He had had the satisfaction of his outburst, but the silent man won.
Years ago I received a very bitter letter. The writer was wrong in his facts and unjustified in his tone.

I carried the letter around in my pocket. Several times I started to dictate a hot reply. Then I would think of something meaner and decide to wait and try again.

On the third morning I had an inspiration. "The most paralyzing answer I can send to this man is no answer at all," I said to myself. "What is he doing all this time? Looking eagerly in every mail to find my letter. Planning out in his mind the things he will say in reply. Mentally lashing me to the mast.

him. I'm going to leave him there, all bottled up, stewing in his own juice." "And I am going to disappoint him."

Peace came over me. I never thought of the man again.
It's not an original idea. John D. Rockefeller, in his younger days was working away at his desk one afternoon when a man rushed into the office and began to denounce him in violent terms.

Mr. Rockefeller leaned back and listened as if to a story of fascinating interest. He did not utter a word.

Presently the man exhausted himself, and walked out, looking rather foolish. Mr. Rockefeller quietly picked up his pen and went on with his work.

There is a very wise old verse which reads: "The meek shall inherit the earth."
Is it true? Look around you. The meek do not make a spectacular showing. They lose many opportunities to announce their rights and defend their honor, and show what tough fellows they are.

But they certainly do inherit.

Several lantern slide sets relating to music and musicians have been prepared for fall release by the Visual Instruction Bureau at the University of Texas, according to Mrs. Charles Joe Moore, chief of the Bureau. One of these depicts the life and works of Beethoven; a second treats of the Verdi opera, "Il Trovatore," and its presentation by the Chicago Opera Company, and a third portrays the life of Edward MacDowell and the MacDowell colony which his wife established at Peterborough after his death as a retreat for artists and musicians.

Motion picture films for fall release by the University of Texas Bureau of Visual Instruction include "The Woman Worker, Past and Present," a film prepared by the United States Department of Labor; "The Story of Reclamation" prepared by the United States Department of the Interior; and "The Miracle of Mulch Paper," prepared by a commercial firm manufacturing mulch paper. Each of these films is marked by splendid photography and unusual attention to accurate details, according to Mrs. Charles Joe Moore, chief of the Visual Instruction Bureau.

Summer registration at the University of Texas reached a total of 3,592 at the end of the registration period for the second term of the summer session. This is an increase of approximately 150 students over the number, 3,449, enrolled last summer. New students who registered for work during the second term numbered 455.

Candidates for degrees at the August commencement of the University have already filed their applications with the registrar. Major examinations will be held Monday, August 11, and final examinations will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, August 25, 26 and 27. Commencement exercises will be held Friday, August 29.

Chevrolet Motor Co. Makes New Record

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 8.—Another automotive record toppled here on Thursday when the Chevrolet Motor Company turned out its two millionth six cylinder car less than twenty full months after the introduction of this type.

Just as Chevrolet led the world in four cylinder car production during the last two years that the company built that type, so now it assumes leadership in the six cylinder field by having built nearly five times as many sixes in twenty months as any other manufacturer in the history of the industry.

The two millionth six—a coach—rolled off the line here with Chevrolet and General Motors executives in attendance to witness the final assembly of the car, for which no further ceremonies were planned.

The brief time required by Chevrolet to build two million sixes provides an index of the rapid strides made by this organization to the front rank of volume car builders. The company was organized late in 1911, and there were required nearly seventeen years to turn out five million of the old four cylinder cars, while two million sixes have been placed on the streets and highways of the world since January 1, 1929 or in a total time of only nineteen months and one week.

Commenting on the manufacture of the two millionth six, W. S. Knudson, president and general manager, stated that the fact of establishing a new record was significant mainly in that it indicated a definite public preference for the performance and luxury which a six affords in the low priced field.

"We abandoned our proposition at the world's largest builder of four cylinder cars," Mr. Knudson explained, "because the volume we had built up, coupled with the tremendous purchasing power of General Motors, enabled us to put two extra cylinders in our cars and yet retain the price range and operating economy of the old four cylinder car."

"Today the coach, one of the most popular models in the line, is priced twenty dollars lower than the four cylinder coach was ever sold. The experiences of two millions of owners are that gas and other operating and upkeep expenses are as low as any standard four cylinder car. The quick public acceptance of this fact, and the gratifying response to the new type, made possible our new production record."

Total output of the Chevrolet Motor Company to date is approximately 7,200,000 cars.

Miss Loy Savage, graduate student at the University of Texas this summer, is taking her eleven years spent as director of a girl's school in China as a basis for her thesis for the master of arts degree, which she expects to receive in August. Miss Savage, now a teacher in the history department in the Cleburne public schools, spent eleven years in a Baptist missionary school in Kaifeng, in the province of Honan, China. Her thesis subject is "Angelo-Chinese Relations Since 1914."

"Cotton Markets and Cotton Marketing" is the subject which Dr. A. L. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas, will discuss for those in attendance at the cotton school in Oklahoma City August 6, 7 and 8. This school is being sponsored by the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College and the Oklahoma cooperative cotton marketing association. Dr. Cox will discuss cotton marketing particularly in connection with supply and demand and with the cotton futures market.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By Edson R. Waite,
Shawnee, Okla.

William E. Gonzales, Editor and publisher of The Columbia (S. C.) State, says:

"Did you ever stop to think that the newspaper that maintains high ethical standards is serving the honest advertiser as much as it is serving its readers and the general public?"

"Yet there are advertisers in all towns, excepting perhaps a few of the great cities, who are constantly endeavoring to force their newspapers to lower their standards and prostitute their news columns. Each one of these attempts to get published as 'news' stories that are without any element of news are palpable business 'puffs'. If such stories are printed for one, the consistent, fair dealing paper must print them for all. The public are not fools. The paper becomes cheapened in their sight. They think it is selling its news space and therefore come to regard lightly everything in the paper—including claims by the advertisers. And while the newspaper may not be selling its news space, it is selling its principles—if it has any—for advertising patronage."

"These stupid advertisers encourage this prostitution of the press by 'playing off' one competitor paper against another, giving their patronage to those that have the lowest newspaper morals. And in the end what have they gained? A press in whose truth and honor the public has no confidence."

"Advertisements printed in such newspapers carry no more weight than if struck off on a hand press and scattered in the streets. On the other hand, advertisements appearing in a newspaper which has character and high standards enjoys in the minds of the readers a reflection of that respect in which they hold the newspaper."

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Huge Crop Losses Due to Drought Boost Prices, Rouse Government.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

PROTRACTED drought and excessively hot weather brought to the farmers of the United States a mixture of good and evil and aroused the administration to the consideration of relief measures beyond those contemplated by the act creating the federal farm board.

Both government and private crop reports led to estimates that the new corn crop had been damaged to the extent of at least 500,000,000 bushels, and the rains that fell throughout much of the corn belt during the week were said to have come too late to have much influence on the yield since pollination had failed.

Private reports by one of the leading experts of the Middle West indicated that a large part of the crop was beyond any material recovery. In Ohio the corn was deteriorating rapidly, and in southern Indiana it was badly damaged. In Illinois the situation was at its worst in the southern part of the state. The crop in northern and western Kentucky was said to be entirely ruined, and the condition in Missouri and Iowa was not much better. Throughout the whole drought region, also, pasture and all fodder crops were burned up to an alarming extent.

On the other hand, these bad crop prospects led to a sensational rise in the prices of grain on the exchanges, and within a few days there was an estimated increase of about $650,000,000 in the theoretical value of farmers' products. The market in Chicago went wild and corn led in the swift advance followed by wheat and the other grains. For the first time in five years the public came in on a big scale, and there were heavy buying orders from foreign countries. It was believed there would be a heavy substitution of wheat, oats, rye and barley for corn as live stock feed, and consequently the demand for those grains was large. Also the estimates of the Canadian wheat crop were slashed as a result of damage by drought, heat and black rust. The yield of rye in Europe, exclusive of Russia, will be far below normal, and the Prussian oats crop is greatly reduced.

PRESIDENT HOOVER conferred with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde on plans for a government program to aid the farmers threatened with ruin by the drought, and he asked both Mr. Hyde and Chairman Legge of the farm board to make recommendations within a few days. It was stated at the White House that the President had received prompt and favorable response to his appeal to railroad executives for co-operation in reducing rail rates for the emergency movement of live stock and feed in the stricken areas.

The farm loan board said it was willing to do all possible to extend credit through the intermediate credit banks and joint stock land banks. From congressional quarters came many requests for help, and to those was added the offer of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, to undertake a refund by congress to the farm board if the latter would divert all its available funds to drought relief.

"The measures of assistance that the farm board and the other agencies of the federal government can and should undertake are being determined," said Mr. Hoover. "It is too early to determine the precise character of relief; much depends upon the further spread of the drought; but no stone will be left unturned by the federal government in giving assistance to local authorities."

IN OTHER ways the drought had serious results. There were numerous destructive forest fires in both the West and the East; the milk shortage in many regions was serious; and the water in the Mississippi river was so low that barges and towboats were stuck on sandbars and mud flats all along the Father of Waters. At the same time the levels of Lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron were higher; which led commentators on the lake diversion controversy to think that the policy of the government has resulted in giving the citizens who use the Great Lakes more water than they need, at the same time depriving the manufacturers and farmers of the Mississippi valley of sufficient water to float their cargoes to the sea.

WHEAT prices and drought did not have much effect on the Republican primaries in Kansas as many persons had expected. Gov. Clyde M. Reed, who sought to champion the cause of the farmers and severely criticized the policies of the federal farm board, was defeated for renomination by Frank Hauke, farmer, World war veteran, and former state commander of the American Legion. Senator Henry J. Allen, who was appointed by Governor Reed and is a staunch supporter of the Hoover administration, was nominated for the senate term ending in 1933, and Senator Capper was unopposed for renomination for the long term.

On the Democratic ticket Harry H. Woodring will oppose Hauke for the governorship, and Jonathan M. Davis, former governor, will try to defeat Senator Capper.

SOUTHERNERS who voted for Hoover in 1928, through Horace Mann, formally announced their rebellion against the administration of southern federal patronage and political affairs generally by Postmaster Walter H. Brown. Mr. Mann's statement, which was issued on the eve of a meeting of the Republican national executive committee in Washington, outlined plans adopted by a group of prominent southern Hoovers to incorporate an "all-southern" Republican organization and throw off the yoke of northern "patronage carpet-baggers" as well as of "designing political hijackers."

The Republican executive committee accepted the resignation of Claudius M. Huston as national chairman and elected Senator Fess as his successor. Robert H. Lucas was made executive director, and he quits his post as internal revenue commissioner to give his full time to the work.

UNEMPLOYMENT in Great Britain has reached the highest point since July, 1921, the number registered as out of work being 2,011,467. Last week hundreds of railway employees were laid off because of the falling off of traffic. Official reports show that unemployment in Germany is decreasing slightly, in France is negligible, and has decreased in Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Italy and Austria.

In the United States the situation was brightened somewhat by resumption of work in the automobile factories of the Detroit area and other places and by several of the biggest railway shops. The Chicago region saw good prospects for a revival of the building industry.

JOHN HENRY MEARS and his pilot, H. J. Brown, who intended to make a record-breaking airplane flight around the world, have had to postpone it, as their plane was wrecked as it was leaving the runway at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

The German aviators, Hirth and Weller, who were on their way from Berlin to Chicago by way of Iceland and Greenland, reached Reykjavik, Iceland, safely, but abandoned their project for want of a suitable landing place in Greenland and because their supply of gas did not arrive.

Capt. Frank Hawks set a new record for flight from New York to Los Angeles, making the distance in a swift little monoplane in 14 hours, 50 minutes and 43 seconds, with five stops for refueling. His average speed was 179 miles an hour.

latter retires in November. General MacArthur, who is head of the army department in the Philippines, is now on temporary duty in China. He is fifty years old, the youngest army officer of his rank in active service, and was advanced over the heads of several older officers, the President said, because he is the senior major general whose age would permit him to serve the full four-year term as chief of staff. He graduated from West Point in 1903 and his career, especially in the World war, was brilliant.

At the same time the President appointed Brig. Gen. Ben H. Fuller to be commandant of the marine corps to fill the vacancy left by the death of General Neville.

REAL foreign intervention in China may soon result from the bloody doings of the Chinese Communists in Hunan province. It is not already in effect. The British are leading the way, sending a considerable number of soldiers up the Yangtze to Hankow which was threatened by the Reds. The troops were to be placed on a cruiser ready to be landed if necessary to protect British property. The American gunboat Tutuila left for up-river to reinforce the Palos and the flagship Pittsburgh of the Asiatic fleet, with a destroyer division, was on the way from Tsingtao to Shanghai. Japan also was in action, sending a number of destroyers with landing parties of marines to Hankow, Kiating and other river ports threatened by Communist invasion.

The Nationalist government had admitted its inability to guarantee protection for foreign residents of Hankow, though it was sending additional troops to that region and had re-occupied Changsha. The Communists were still entrenched in the hills about the city and were continuing their sanguinary course having already slain 2,000 Chinese residents of the place and captured 4,000. Outrages against British nationals included the sending of a severed finger of Miss Edith Nettleton, missionary, with a demand for $50,000 ransom for herself and Miss Edith Harrison, held captive a month, to the British legation. In skirmishes between the Communists and gunboats one American and three British sailors were wounded.

EXECUTIVES of the Anti-Saloon league from all parts of the United States gathered in conference at Little Point Sable, Mich., and began to lay plans for the Presidential campaign of 1932. They agreed that the Democratic party would be stronger than that it was in 1928, and that the chances of having a dry Democratic nominee for President was rather slim. The reports from those present predicted few reversals for the prohibition cause in the congressional elections next fall, and National Superintendent McBride was generally cheerful in his statement of the political situation.

BEFORE a crowd of 1,000 persons, two negroes were lynched by a mob in Marion, Ind. They had been arrested for murdering a white man and attacking his girl companion, and were said to have confessed. The sheriff, police and fire department tried in vain to scatter the lynchers with tear bombs and fire hose streams.

PRESIDENT HOOVER announced the appointment of Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur to be chief of staff of the army to succeed Maj. Gen. C. P. Summerall when the figures give the total population of continental United States as 122,729,472. The outlying possessions bring the grand total to 137,501,561, this including an estimate for the Philippine Islands where an enumeration has not been made for several years. The proportions of population east and west of the Mississippi have shifted less than one-half of 1 per cent in ten years, being respectively 63.6 per cent and 36.4 per cent.

Proved To Be Just What We Had Been Needing

E. Ottinger, Sweetwater Farmer, Praised Argotane For Relieving His Wife's Troubles.

E. Ottinger, well known farmer, living on Star Route, Sweetwater, Texas, is now an ardent champion of the merits of Argotane since the medicine has proved of such great benefit to both himself and wife. Mr. Ottinger called at Bowen's drug store recently and in relating his experience, said:

"For the past ten months I have been going down hill as far as my health was concerned and nothing I tried in the way of medicines or treatment seemed to do me the least bit of good. I think the main trouble was with my kidneys because I would have terrible pains in the small of my back that were almost unbearable at times.

"Following these attacks I found myself with a very poor appetite and all run-down in many ways. As I before stated I tried numerous medicines in my efforts to get back in shape, but very month I just seemed to be getting worse. Sometimes I would eat and then again I would not want anything. I became nervous, and that tired feeling all the time got to where my work was a drag to me.

"Seeing Argotane so highly praised by those who had used it, I concluded to try it myself and the very first bottle made a marked change in my feelings. Then I got another and kept getting better all the time. I now feel 100 per cent better in every way and my back or kidneys don't bother me at all now. Those terrible pains which bothered me so in the pit of my stomach have disappeared and I just feel fine in every way. My sleep is sound and restful and I get up in the mornings full of energy and take more interest in everything, especially my work. My wife also suffered with troubles similar to mine and is receiving just as good results from the medicine as I did. Argotane has certainly proven to be just what we needed and we do not hesitate in recommending it to our friends.

Genuine Argotane may be bought at Holmes Drug Co., Baird.

SAME PRESCRIPTION HE WROTE IN 1892

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs of a laxative were not as great as today. People lived normal lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air. But even that early there were drastic physces and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe bowel stimulant.

This prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling laxative. It has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds, fevers. At your druggist, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

A Daily Bath Helps To Keep Your Body In Good Condition

THE daily bath is very important in your daily skin care, for bathing keeps your pores from becoming clogged. It is true that clothing protects most of your body from dust and exposure, but dead skin, perspiration, and excess oil must be removed every day if your skin is to be kept clean and healthy. Bathing isn't just a matter of scrubbing your body and letting it go to that, however. There are different kinds of baths, you know: a cold bath that is stimulating, a warm bath that is soothing and restful.

The restful bath is a real help to busy women. I know a dear young mother whose husband has just begun to build up his own business. She has been forced to economize in every possible way. That means she is busy, and often feels as though she never had a moment to herself. Her one chance for relaxation comes when she takes her "luxury" bath. For this, she simply adds bath salts or tablets to warm water. She has discovered how wonderful such a bath can be, and does not think of bath salts as frivolous, but as real comfort givers. Delicate scents, like music, have a real therapeutic value. They soothe the nerves, and make the whole world seem pleasanter.

Many bath salts look like sea salt crystals. These dissolve slowly, and sometimes scratch the skin before they melt. But we now have also the granular form, and this dissolves instantly. You will find that soap lathers freely even in hard water if you will add a tablespoonful of your favorite granular bath salts to the water.

Your bath soap, of course, should be as pure and mild as any facial soap. Strongly perfumed soap always seems in bad taste, so I'd suggest using one with a faint French bouquet fragrance. Some women with very dry skins are afraid that frequent bathing will take too much oil out of their skins during cool weather. If you use a pure, mild soap, you never will have this fear. I'd suggest also occasionally rubbing your body with muscle oil after bathing. This will tone and stimulate your skin, prevent its becoming too dry, and will help to take the kinks out of your muscles if you have been exercising strenuously.

Before dressing, bathe your hands, underarms, and throat with toilet water, to scent your skin delicately. Then pat dusting powder all over your body. For excessive perspiration, use a deodorant every other night for a few weeks, and then only twice a week. A good deodorant is perfectly harmless, and will not injure a healthy skin. After shaving under your arms, or removing hair by any other method, wait twenty-four hours before applying a deodorant.

individual over that difficulty if he is only given right-of-way in the hearts and lives of men.

The Holy Spirit
Dr. Culpepper declared that this is the Holy Spirit's age and day. For some two years or periods God the Father administered overment. Then for the same length of time or periods it was the reign of the Son. Now for the past two thousand years the Holy Spirit has had charge. This, thinks the evangelist, is God's last "gesture to mankind." Just when the end will come and Holy Spirit's reign will cease no one knows, but religious thinkers all agree that the world is scheduled for some great change.

God will forgive every sin but the sin against the Holy Ghost. One can reject Him, lie to Him or postpone Him, but the Holy Ghost is a factor in the universe today and the one mankind will have to deal with. He has come to woo, to convict, to convert. At the final judgment the Holy Spirit will be a witness and Jesus Christ will sit on the judgment throne.

Gripping illustrations were used by the speaker to prove that mankind cannot "trifle with the Holy Spirit."

"Who is Who in Hell"
That hell is not a figment of some crazed brain was clearly demonstrated by the speaker in her sermon on "Who is Who in Hell." In clear-cut logic Dr. Culpepper spoke of those who have gone on before and the lives they have lived. He showed by Bible references that hell is a city of suffering, and the only business there were the "factories of remorse which are fired by the fuel of memory." Those in hell today are "anguish wrung and memory stung." They were there because they rejected the overtures of mercy that were offered them while on earth.

Repentance
"Getting off the devil's train and getting on to God's train." was forcefully illustrated in the sermon on "Repentance." There is need for state and county repentance and for national repentance, as well as individual repentance. A theological definition of repentance was given by Dr. Culpepper as "a recognition of God as authority and deep-seated purpose to obey Him in the relationships of life."

Street Services
The revival has been brought to the streets and each afternoon at 5 o'clock Dr. Culpepper has preached on some popular subject to the throngs on the streets. These services have proven very popular and the people gather in large numbers. Singing of good old gospel songs, led by John U. Robinson, are enjoyed by all.
