PROGRESS IS PERSONAL

In the town of DeSoto, Missouri, last February 27, another Planned Progress year was started. The program is sponsored by an electric utility company* and it is important as an example of the mutual goals and active leadership and support given to the areas which they serve by privately-owned taxpaying utilities in every part of the country.

In this case, the purpose of the program is to aid citizens in working together to improve their community. Suggestions for community action are made by high school students who survey the situation and make special reports on what they consider to be the most needed improvements. Results are achieved by raising funds and donating time and effort toward the completion of projects chosen by an adult counsel. At the end of the year communities competing in the program send in a report of their accomplishments to the electric company for judging. There are substantial rewards for the community whose citizens do most to improve their towns.

Progress is a personal matter to a private electric company. It wants to grow and do more business and it knows it can do this only if the area which it serves grows and prospers.

BATTING FOR UNCLE SAM

Human nature being what it is, we tend to envy people in the big-salary brackets. But here's a case where things aren't always what they seem.

For instance, slugger Ted Williams is the highest paid player in baseball history, at an estimated salary of $135,000 a year. But, according to E. H. Gregory, sport's editor of the Portland Oregonian, he'll have around $35,000 left after paying his federal and state income taxes. In other words, he does a lot more batting for the government than he does for himself!

Kite flying season is just around the corner, and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has issued a cartoon-style booklet containing "safety-first" advice. Here are some of the "nevers": never fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail; never use a line made of metal or containing metal; never fly a kite in the rain or near electric power lines; never run across streets or highways while flying kites; never let a kite go over radio or TV aerials.

WHERE THE MONEY IS

Old illusions die hard. A conspicuous example is the illusion that the rich pay most of the cost of government.

At one time there was much truth in this. But that was in a vastly different age.

Some facts presented to a House Committee by a spokesman for a group of Rhode Island industries tells the sad tale. The individual income tax produces about one-half of all federal revenue. The beginning rate is 20 percent, which applies to the lowest taxable income. From there it climbs, ladder-fashion, to a top of 91 percent.

An uninformed person might deduce from this that the 20 percent minimum tax is a comparatively unimportant revenue producer. He couldn't be more wrong — for 84 per cent of all income tax revenue is produced by that beginning rate. By way of comparison, in a late year the rates above 50 percent produced only about one per cent of total federal revenue.

The reason for this is simple enough. There just aren't enough rich people to pay the tax bills, or even to make a sizeable dent in them. Government must get its money from where the money is — and most of it is in the hands of people of small and moderate means. It is these people who have the greatest stake in efficient and economical government — and in measures which would get rid of non-essential spending and reduce the tax load.

VIRGINIA, MINN., MESABI DAILY NEWS:

"If we can in this fast-moving age have some economic development without the corrosive influence of inflation we ought to begin to find it out. Unless we start soon to try we may discover one day that inflation is taken for granted by management, labor and everybody else as an inescapable companion to our economic progress. Then is hastened the day when the house of cards will collapse."

INDIO, CALIF., THE DATE PALM:

" . . . income, necessary as it is, would not be a cure-all for the Postoffice Department's ill. The department has been in a gradually worsening mess for many years. Its operation has been kicked and starved and exploited by politics almost to the point of complete demoralization of its personnel. The decline in the quality of its service is known to everybody who uses the mails."

There's Nothing Like Checking Convenience

Just ask your friends and neighbors. They'll tell you that a checking account gives triple threat convenience, and makes handling money easier than ever before.

At tax time — or any time — you can check up on expenditures easily by referring to your cancelled checks. Then, too, personal checks travel to pay out-of-town bills so easily. With so much convenience at hand, more and more people are using First National checking accounts to handle their finances.

This bank offers you every service consistent with good banking.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

There is never any question as to the goodness of pork chops, but there is sometimes question as to the best way to cook them. Authorities on meat cookery agree that the best way is braising. Dry heat cookery — broiling or frying, tends to dry out small cuts of pork before they are thoroughly cooked and thorough cooking of all pork products is most important.

Braising is the term applied to describe the method in which meat is browned evenly and then cooked slowly in a small amount of liquid in a tightly covered pan or skillet. Pork chops are tender and juicy when they are braised. For the browning, use just the fat from the chops. Once the browning is done, add a few tablespoons water, cover the skillet and let them cook until thoroughly done. A medium flame is best for the browning and a low flame for the final cooking.

Vary braised pork chops with seasonings. Sprinkle browned chops with marjoram, sage, chili powder or thyme before adding liquid. Spread browned chops with barbecue sauce before adding liquid. Top each browned chop with a slice of onion or sliced apples before adding liquid. For added flavor, if sliced apples are used, sprinkle them with brown sugar and ground cloves.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Pork Chop Dinner: Combine 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon pepper and ½ teaspoon salt. Dredge 6 pork chops, ¾ inch thick, in flour mixture. Brown chops in small amount of hot fat in deep skillet or Dutch oven over medium gas flame. Add 6 medium potatoes, peeled, 6 medium onions, peeled and 6 medium indicate, the Kansas City bureau alerts all weather bureaus in the affected area which in turn notify all local media of mass information such as radio stations and TV stations.

These stations then announce a SEVERE WEATHER ALERT, carefully describing the areas in which strong weather will occur.

This does NOT mean a tornado is going to occur, but it does mean that conditions are such that a tornado could develop.

From this point the weather bureau, the Ground Observer Corps and the Department of Public Safety work hand in hand. Whenever radar picks up a likely trouble spot, a patrol car is dispatched to the location to check. If it is a tornado, the direction, approximate speed and exact location are determined by both the patrolman and by the use of three radar stations getting a "fix" on the trouble point.

Radio and TV stations are then immediately notified and a TORNADO WARNING is issued describing the direction and speed. This is the time to take action.

No TORNADO WARNING is issued until an actual tornado has been sighted and verified. A period of SEVERE WEATHER ALERT is a time to prepare for action — but a TORNADO WARNING means act and act fast. Keep tuned to your radio or TV set and you will be immediately informed — do NOT swamp the station or weather bureau with telephone calls.

When a warning is received seek inside shelter, if in town, preferably in a steel reinforced building, but stay away from windows. If at home, the southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers great safety. If in a frame brick or stone house you should seek other shelter. Electricity and fuel lines should be turned off.

Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building. If you have one, use a storm cellar.

Teachers, Rooms In State Exceed National Average

Texas elementary and secondary schools top the national average on the basis of two important measurements — the ratio of pupils to teachers and pupils to classrooms.

A study made by the Dixie Cup Division of American Can Company, which sells millions of paper cups annually to schools, shows that the State has a teacher for every 25.8 students and an instruction room for every 27.8. The national averages are 26.2 pupils per teacher and 28.5 per class room.

In late 1957 the State had an estimated 1,885,000 pupils, 73,000

VERA BOY TO WED

Mrs. Jesse J. Moore of Vera is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her son, A-2C Robert Gauthreaux of Biggs A.F.B. in El Paso, to Miss Nan Earyle Shipman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shipman of Happy. The couple plan a June wedding with the date to be announced at a later date. Robert is a graduate of Vera High School.

The nation's highest ratings were in South Dakota, which has a teacher and a classroom for every 18 students.

C. F. Sullivan, Dixie Cup Division school sales manager, said the study was based on data from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"The school age population, from 5 to 17 years, inclusive, is growing at a rate twice as fast as the total population," he said. "This presents school officials with a tremendous problem of building up teaching staffs and physical facilities.

It also emphasizes the necessity for operating school plants at peak efficiency, a requirement that is being filled better and better each year by school boards and administrators. More schools, for instance, now are using paper service for meals. Thus, they avoid heavy expenditures for dishwashing and other equipment which frequently can be used for teaching, and eliminate china and glass breakage costs.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Yandell and daughter of Graham visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yandell and Mrs. Bess Guinn, last Sunday.

Do you remember the magazine, "Comfort — Key to the Home"?

And the Chicago Blade, with red headlines and accounts of such things as a hen hatching snake eggs — with a pen-and-ink drawing of the scene?

And Grit? (I guess every man who was a boy 50 years ago sold Grit on the street or from door to door. I did.) Grit is still being published; recently celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary and has almost a million circulation.

One beautiful morning this past Fall, at 8:10, a disheveled man on a Fort Worth street corner asked, "Mister, could you let me have three cents?" "What a way to start a day!"

Can you remember when radio was sweeping the nation? (Back about 1924.) Graham McNamee was listened to by millions as he gave exciting, and excited, accounts of football games, world's series games, championship fights, triumphal receptions on Broadway and other colorful happenings.

A convict (in the Ohio prison, I believe) became famous because of radio for his piano playing, especially for "Three O'clock in the Morning." So many listeners appealed that the governor granted him his freedom and he went on a national tour. (I heard him when he played at the Conneelee Theater in Eastland.)

In those days, listeners tried for distance and next morning would boast about their success. One morning in Cisco, a man said, "I got Detroit." Another said, "I got New York." A third remarked, "My wife raised the window and I got chilly (Chile)." That ended the session.

I grew up in Memphis, Tenn., and I have always thought myself fairly well informed about that city. But I did not know, until the death of the five-and-ten-cent store king, Kress, that his first store was in Memphis.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Beard

Last Thursday the President issued an Executive Order which is intended to tighten controls on the imports of foreign oil. The Order is based on the voluntary cooperation of the importers, and is, therefore, a continuation in a restricted way of the voluntary program. To this point several of the largest importing companies have not cooperated; therefore, there is no reason to believe that they will do so in the future. In the Executive Order the "Buy American Act" is applied to petroleum. The Defense Department alone spent $1,250,000,000 for oil and oil products in 1957. Of this sum, approximately $335,000,000 was for foreign oil. The difficulty in enforcing the "Buy American Act" is that it does not apply to purchases made outside of the United States, and from an administrative standpoint it is extremely difficult to identify foreign oil when it becomes mixed with domestic oil. It would seem, therefore, that it will be almost impossible to enforce the "Buy American Act" and that this new action by the President will not actually materially reduce imports.

One of the real problems that has been confronted by our Armed Forces has been developing a program that would encourage highly trained people to stay in the Armed Services. Of the class that graduated from the Naval Academy in 1950, over 30% have already resigned, and almost 15% of the West Point graduates of the same year have left the Army. The 1952 and 1954 classes are leaving in even greater numbers. This is a real blow to the efficiency of our military establishment as well as being extremely costly because we spend a substantial sum in educating and training each of these graduates. Last week the House passed a bill which would revise the pay scale of the military so that a man would be paid in line with his skills. It is hoped that this bill will increase the efficiency and stability of our military services, allow us to get more for what we spend, reduce costly training programs, and retain better men on a career status in our services.

PRICES HOLD NEAR SEASON'S BEST

FORT WORTH — Despite increased offerings of cattle and sheep at Fort Worth and around the major marketing circle this week and last, prices are only slightly below the year's best. Some slaughter cattle and calves have been shaded by 50 cents to $1 per hundred in the past ten days, but others are firm. Stockers are fully steady.

The over-all strong position of farm prices is credited to strength in livestock and poultry values. March 15th it was reported farm income was up 4%, and parity on livestock as reported by USDA in Fort Worth Monday revealed the following:

Beef cattle farm price was $21.70 on March 15th, against effective parity of $23.10, or 94% of parity. Calves from value was estimated at $24, against parity of $25.40, or 94% also.

Farm value of hogs was estimated at $20.30, against effective parity $21.90, or 93% of parity. Lambs were estimated at $21.50 on farm, with effective parity of $25.90, or 83% of parity. Wool at 40.7 cents against effective parity of 70.2 cents, was at 58% of parity March 15.

FED CATTLE TOP $30;
COW TOP $21.00

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings ranged from $24 to $30 at Fort Worth Monday, the higher figure on a few individual yearlings. Plainer butcher stuff sold from $16 to $24. Fat cows drew $17.50 to $21, and canners and cutters cashed at $11 to $17.50. Bulls sold from $12 to $22, odd head to $22.50.

Good and choice fat calves sold from $25 to $28, odd head $29. Plainer sorts cashed at $ to $23. Stocker calves of good kinds sold from $25 to $30, stocker yearlings drew $28 down.

LAMBS WEAK TO 50 CENTS LOWER, SHEEP STEADY

Fat lambs were weak to 50 cents lower at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice Spring lambs sold from $23 to $24, at medium to good kinds drew $ to $23. Old crop shorn lambs cashed at $20 to $21.50, fat shorn pelts at $21 to $21.50, at more recently clipped kinds $20 to $20.50.

A few old ewes sold from $9.50 to $11, and a few goats cashed at $7 to $8.

HOGS WEAKEN AS CORN BELT RUNS PICK UP

Choice hogs topped at $22 to $22.50 at Fort Worth Monday, a steady to 50 cents lower market. Increased offerings of 15,000 hogs at 12 major markets triggered the weakness. Sows were steady to $20.00 down.

EGG MARKET NEWS — A NEW SERVICE FOR TEXANS

Some time in April, thousands of Texans connected with the state's mammoth egg industry will benefit from a new and important Texas Department of Agriculture service — regular reporting of prices and conditions on Texas eggs.

Since the recent inauguration of the Texas Egg Law made possible more uniform egg marketing conditions over the state, the need for such a service has been voiced from every direction. The main problem facing the Market News Section of the TDA is setting up an egg market report to make certain all areas of the state benefit equally when reporting began. And that was a lot of territory to cover.

It was determined that no less than six areas should have individual price reports, at least at the beginning, in order that regional differences in prices and conditions would not be overlooked.

Therefore, present plans are to report a Texas six-area market including the Lubbock-South Plains Area, Dallas-Fort Worth Area, Tyler-East Texas Area, Houston Area, Corpus Christi-Rio Grande Valley Area, and Austin-San Antonio Area. The report is tentatively scheduled for bi-weekly release, on Monday and Thursday of each week. Prices will be given at first on five grades — AA Extra Large, AA Large, A Large, A Medium, and B Large — with possibly other classifications to be added later.

Sources for price information in each of the six areas will be bona fide egg buyers who directly purchase the producer's eggs. They will be contacted directly by personnel from each of the TDA's regional offices.

The Texas Egg Market will be made available to all interested persons through the press and radio as well as through the Texas Poultry & Egg Market News Bulletin, mailed free of charge on request.

Requests for information should be addressed to John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

WHAT HAPPENS — IF?
In this unpredictable life of ours, it is the law's business to take a long look into the future and say what would "happen if."

For in your contracts, leases, wills, insurance policies, escrows, and the like, you had better say what would "happen if" some of your best laid plans go awry. Such events the law calls "contingencies."

Who gets the "earnest money" you put down, if you cannot go through with buying that house? What if you want to pay up that loan and save interest? What happens if a partnership goes sour, or a partner gets sick or dies? What happens if the people you name in your will should die before you do, or, if you all perish in a common catastrophe like a car smashup?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions — but not always to your liking. If you don't make a will, the law says who shall get your property. If you leave certain things out of a contract, the law assumes that you meant to put some certain things in. But how much better it would be in the first place to put them in the way you want them, by asking "what if?"

Take your will now: Your first desire, of course, is to take care of your wife and children — those nearest you. But it won't hurt anything to put "contingent beneficiaries" in your will in case something happens to thwart your first intentions.

Review your will every year or so to see if it meets the new things that have come up, or arrange with your lawyer to write in "contingent beneficiaries" — those who will receive your property if your first beneficiaries should die before you do.

You may long ago have had your son provided for in your will, but what about those lovely grandchildren he and his wife have presented to you since you wrote the will? What would happen to them if things go wrong and your son should die before you?

Or take your widowed sister and her children now. Suppose you and your immediate family should be wiped out: Would you want your property to go equally to her and to your well-beeled bachelor brother? Or would you prefer to leave your brother some token of your affection, and then really take care of your sister?

You may be impatient with the law's long memory. Such things never happen, you think, but the court records are full of plans which failed. And so the law has ways in which you can provide for "what happens — if." One way is the device of contingent beneficiaries in your will and insurance policies.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

"Today is Here Mr. Smith", a United States Air Force Training Film will accompany the talk. Cadet Shropshire will show some of his personal films which he took during his summer training at Laredo Air Force Base in Laredo, Texas. Richard's films cover a flight which he took in a T-33, a USAF trainer plane.

After the speech and films, Richard will hold a question and answer period in which the high school students may ask questions concerning their future in connection with military training.

In his talk, he will tell of the advantages of going through the AFROTC at the University of Texas and the many training programs that are available to graduates of the University and the AFROTC program.

Mrs. Frizell says that if the time should ever come when women are not Christians and houses are not homes then we shall have lost the chief cornerstone on which civilization rests.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

There is always a question of who wears the pants in most families nowadays because times and styles have changed. The tax folks have the same trouble with people who want to be head of the household during income tax filing period.

The "head of a household" status cannot, under any circumstances, apply to a married couple for income tax purposes. Only unmarried persons can claim this status.

You may wear the britches in your family, but you can't claim to be head of the household on your income tax return unless you meet with all the requirements set out in the law.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Willing To Have His Taxes Cut Strictly In Interest Of Ending The Recession

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is off on the subject of economics this week, with what success you'll have to decide for yourself. Dear editor:

For the past few weeks I've been reading everything I could get my hands on about the cause and cure of recessions, and so far all I've been able to figure out is that a recession is like a virus—medical science isn't sure what causes it or what cures it, but it has no trouble discovering when you've got one.

However, there's been an argument going on over one of the proposed cures of the recession that interests me.

According to one expert, the way to cure the recession is to cut income taxes 20 per cent, starting next week. This way, he says, everybody who gets paid by the week and has his income tax withheld from each pay check, which is the installment method of paying taxes, would have a little more money to spend, and any close student of human nature knows he'll spend it, which will increase the demand for goods, stir the factories up, and get things rolling again.

Another expert though argues that if you cut income taxes 20 per cent now, just intending to keep 'em out for the duration of the recession, you'll hit a stump when you try to restore 'em later on when things are booming again. He says it'd be dangerous to tamper with the tax rate.

Frankly, I can't follow this line of reasoning, and think it demonstrates a gross lack of confidence in the government. I have never seen a government, from the local level to the state to Washington, that couldn't manage to raise taxes when it really put its mind to the job. People have been running for office on a platform of more economy and getting elected since elections were invented, and the cost of government has been going up steadily from the same date. Understand, I'm not saying government ought to cost less, or more, I'm just saying that anybody who thinks any government can't figure out how to restore a tax, is just not familiar with modern governmental leaders, regardless of which party he runs under.

If cutting taxes for a few months will end whatever recession we've got, I say go ahead and try it and don't be worrying about Congress' ability to restore it later on. I've got confidence in Congress. I figure it'll restore my tax the minute it figures I can pay it, and frequently it jumps the gun and does it before I'm ready.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bond Sales In February Show Slight Increase

February Savings Bonds sales show a ten percent increase in Texas.

This announcement was made by W. E. Braly, Chairman of the Knox County Savings Bonds Committee.

"February sales in Knox County were $23,517 and sales for the first two months of 1958 totaled $53,705 which is 22.6% of our 1958 goal of $237,000," Chairman Braly said.

Sales in Texas during February were $16,051,086 and sales for the first two months of 1958 totaled $32,660,448, which is 18.6% of the State's 1958 goal of $175,000,000.

"The slogan for the 1958 Savings Bonds program is 'Share-in-America'. Every American who buys a Savings Bond is providing for his own future, adding to the strength of his country, both militarily and economically, and is putting real meaning in the slogan 'Share-in-America', Mr. Braly concluded.

Additional Signup For 1958 Acreage Reserve Program

The Chairman of the local County ASC Committee, H. H. Partridge, reports that farmers who wanted to take part in the 1958 Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank, but could not file signed agreements because of fund limitations, will apparently be able to sign up at the county office in the near future.

Both the Senate and the House of Representatives have approved a supplemental appropriation of 250 million dollars to provide for additional acreage reserve participation. This will bring the total to 750 million dollars for the 1958 program. Because agreement on some detailed provisions must still be reached in House-Senate conference, Congressional action on the supplemental appropriation is not yet complete. As soon as final action is taken, the County Committees will get the Go Ahead for completing the signup. Preliminary steps have been taken by the State ASC Committee to prepare the way for immediate action when the supplemental funds are authorized.

In addition to farmers, who have already filed signed agreements which were in general covered by the initial appropriation for the Acreage Reserve, other eligible farmers will be in position to take part in the enlarged program. These will include those whose names are on the waiting list registers at the County Office and possibly others where there is evidence that they made an attempt to participate during the signup period.

It is expected that in general funds will be available to take care of all farmers who indicated

Storm Cellar Is Good Insurance

If you were to see the destructive, black funnel of a tornado rushing directly toward your home, where would you and your family go for protection and safety?

No, this question is not far-fetched. In fact, many Texans have experienced this and other similar disasters from time to time. Many of them had never realized the value of a safe place just as we never miss the water until the well goes dry.

But, why not construct a storm cellar before a tornado strikes to remind you that you need one? It can be constructed easily without any special skills and only a few special tools.

Since tornadoes generally move from southwest to northeast, the storm cellar should be located southwest of the house. Its entrance should face northeast. It should be located far enough from the house that a falling wall, large trees or other debris will not block the entrance. Too, select a well-drained site which can be landscaped to harmonize with the home surroundings.

Storm cellars should be constructed strong enough to withstand the impact of falling debris. It should also be watertight, economical and relatively easy to keep.

The size of the cellar depends on expected use. For an extended period of comfortable occupancy, allow about 10 square feet of floor area per person. Short occupancy requires only about two square feet per person. Adequate ventilation should be provided.

Instructions on constructing a satisfactory storm cellar plus other information, such as other uses for the cellar, food storage, for example, is contained in a Texas Agricultural Extension Service leaflet, L-388, "The Disaster Cellar". It may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

that they would take part in the program if it was enlarged.

Public notice will be given promptly when the County ASC Office is ready to sign additional acreage reserve agreements. The Chairman, H. H. Partridge, says that in the meantime the County Office will be prepared to furnish general information but that farmers should not attempt to sign up agreements until official announcements are made.

Band Booster Club To Meet On Monday

A very important meeting of the Munday Band Booster Club will be held Monday night, April 7, at 7:30 o'clock at the band hall.

With the Musicade coming up April 18, final plans must be made and there is need for parents of the band students to take an interest to help put it on as it has in the past two years.

There is also a discussion on uniforms that the club has been planning on the past months and if you have not been attending and care what the uniforms look like that your child will be wearing for the years to come, it is urgent that you attend. A colored picture of the proposed uniform will be displayed and if you have any dislikes of it now is the time to express your views.

If you have never attended and never plan to attend again, this one is the time you should show you do care that your child is in the band.

Board Forecasts Light Cotton Crop

The Crop Reporting Board has forecast a 1957 cotton crop of 11,897,000 bales—11 per cent less than last year's crop of 13,310,000 bales and compares with the 1946-55 average of 13,669,000. An average loan rate of 28.81 cents a pound, basis Middling 7/8 inch, was also announced.

Handicapped by unfavorable early season weather, crops made an exceptionally good response to favorable late June and July weather. However, lateness of crop in northern areas of Central Belt, Oklahoma and Northwest Texas, which was only partially overcome, remains the limiting factor.

The expected yield per acre for the U. S. of 416 pounds per acre is only one pound less than the 1955 record high and compares with the 1946-55 average of 300 pounds. Record-high yields are expected in Georgia, Texas, Arizona and California with better than average yields in other states.

The average loan rate of 28.81 cents for middling upland cotton is an increase of 0.66 cents above the advance "minimum" rate announced last winter. This final rate reflects 78 per cent parity price of 36.93 cents a pound for upland cotton as of August 1, 1957.
