

Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

If the old adage, "You'll do all year what you do on the first day of the year," works out, we'll have a very varied year in 1959.

k-k

As we were nearing the final stages of getting out last week's paper, Chester Bowden came in and reminded us of that saying, "You'll be working all the year," he said, so we decided to vary things a little.

k-k

We took the papers to the post office, and soon after went home for lunch. It being "bow day" in a number of places, we sat down and did some arm-chair footballing.

k-k

A flick of the dial, and we had a ring-side seat at the Orange Bowl in Miami and saw a portion of the play in which Oklahoma took at 21-6 victory over Syracuse. Two games being on at the same time, we soon hopped over to the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, where LSU emerged 7-0 victors over Clemson.

k-k

After a few glimpses at these games, we returned to the office an hour later than usual and divided some time between making deliveries, selling copies of the day's issue, and taking in subscriptions — but soon we had company that had come all the way from Berger to see us.

k-k

During the remainder of the afternoon we visited with our company, and divided some time between the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, where TCU and the Air Force battled to nothing and none, and the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, where Iowa got a 38-12 victory over California.

k-k

So if we can work the new year, all year, into some work, some visiting, some traveling, some football, etc., we reckon it will turn out to be a pretty fair year.

k-k

Immediately after Jerry Kane and his Gulf boys vacated their old location, Appleknocker Harpham started action. Jimmie is going to occupy all the building, and it's being remodeled a whole lot. A lower ceiling is being installed, a petition put in, the walls redone and new flooring put down. It's going to be an up-town sort of thing, in our opinion.

k-k

A noticeable change in a Munday business took place the first of January, when Chas. Haynie, Sr., leased his barber shop to Gene Roland and his beauty shop to Jeanne, and went into semi-retirement. Charlie wheeled a barber chair around there for night on 40 years, and we imagine he's cut hair for some people and their great-grandchildren during that period.

k-k

We said "semi-retirement" because Gene Roland said his dad was going to help out if they got in a tight — and we imagine after a good rest, Charlie will get the fever to hang around the place a little. It would be hard to just forget it entirely, after all these years.

k-k

In case you didn't get chilled to the bones during the week end, it wasn't the fault of the weatherman. He blowed his chilly breath profusely and without regards to our personal feelings. Harvey Hill said the thermometer dipped to an official 3 degrees one morning and 7 the next.

k-k

Alaska may be the largest state, but not always the coldest, and Texas is not giving up without a struggle. Several points in Texas were colder than points in Alaska during this frigid period.

Gulf Office Moves Into New Location

Those "Gulf Boys," Jerry Burnice and Slick, have moved their Gulf office from its old location into the brick building just west of West Texas Utilities Co., where they are getting things in order and getting ready to serve their customers.

The new building affords them much more room, where they will be better able to departmentalize their work. They will also have storage for many items which were formerly stored at the warehouse, necessitating a trip to the warehouse when customers needed them.

Slick Moore will also be in a better position to service his butane customers.

The boys invite you to visit their new quarters at any time, and to phone them when they can be of service.

cess of completing its organization, and will be incorporated by the State of Texas as a permanent body.

United Fund will take care of donations to all causes, such as March of Dimes, Red Cross, Heart Drive, Cancer Drive, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, etc.

A United Fund is usually organized legally as a givers' organization. Its structure and corporate form are tooled for inclusion of national appeals in addition to the local agencies which make up the typical Community Chest, because the citizens of a given locality have formed their United Fund to reduce the number of health and welfare drives, this remains the dominant purpose.

The United Fund stands forth as the vehicle for united community action in consolidating many separate drives into a single, annual fund-raising campaign. It recognizes frankly that national agencies have different problems and needs than local agencies and takes the difference into account in the form of organization and method of operation which it provides for their participation.

When completed, the United Fund will be governed locally by a board of directors, composed of 12 members.

The annual drive for funds is expected to be held either this month or early in February.

WHY CAR INSURANCE COSTS SO MUCH

Do you ever wonder why your car insurance costs so much—and is likely to cost more in the future? If so, an article by Richard Dunlop in the National Safety Council's magazine, Traffic Safety, will give you the answer.

First of all, Mr. Dunlop points out, it isn't because the car insurance companies are reveling in big profits. They have actually been paying out $116.70 for every $100 taken in through premiums, and since World War II they have gone $600 million into the red.

That is partly accounted for by inflated prices, and by car designs which make repairs extremely expensive—but only partly. Chiselers of assorted kinds are involved in the profitable business of turning car accidents into jackpots. Their fields of activity range from garages which pad the bills to ambulance-chasing lawyers.

But this doesn't end the story. As Mr. Dunlop puts it: "Juries give away insurance money with an almost incredible disregard for the facts of a case." He cites a Texas woman who claimed that merely witnessing an accident caused her to suffer a miscarriage. Two obstetricians said this was poppycock—but the jury awarded her $90,000. New York State Supreme Court Justice McDonald has said: "Eighty percent of jury awards are excessive and ten percent so grossly excessive they may be set aside by the court."

One solution to this problem is to reduce accidents. It can be done. Mr. Dunlop gives Butte, Montana, as an example. Its passenger car insurance rate actually dropped from $117 in 1936 to $35 at present, while the rates in most other places were soaring. Butte did it by breaking up the rackets, and by putting into effect a tough traffic safety program that worked. What Butte has done, any community can do—if the citizens demand it and back up the authorities.

TRACY CITY, TENN., GRUNDY COUNTY HERALD: "We cannot think of two more important and co-related factors in the American way of life than a growing city and its newspaper." It was paid for by a merchant who wished to show his appreciation for the part the newspaper had in building up his business."

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

THE DOCTOR-PATIENT RELATIONSHIP

A system of medicine—whether imposed by government or any other organization—which prevents the individual from freely choosing the doctor he wants is undesirable.

An article in Today's Health touches on the therapeutic value of a sound patient-doctor relationship. An Ohio doctor says: "I can't stress enough the beneficial effects of complete trust in your family doctor . . . The homage long paid the family doctor—so often pictured driving his horse and buggy down a muddy back lane to succor an ailing fellow human—has persevered because of the tremendous satisfaction of that wonderfully close, personal relationship between doctor and patient. We can't go back to horse-and-buggy days or horse-and-buggy doctors—but that personal relationship is just as important today as it was then . . ."

He urges that people do two things: ". . . first, recognize the importance of having a family doctor who is intimate with all your problems; and, second, look around to find a doctor in whom you feel you can confide these problems completely—and then stick with him."

This sort of relationship is impossible under socialized medicine—where, as in England, practice is conducted through a panel system in which certain numbers of people are assigned to certain physicians. It is also impossible where non-governmental organizations employ physicians to treat their members. It is only possible under free medicine.

HOLBROOK, ARIZONA, TRIBUNE-NEWS: "If ever this state—or others—start leaning on federal aid for school purposes, it will do little good to attempt to teach the free enterprise system of life to pupils receiving their education under a socialistic program."

GREAT FALLS, MONTANA, LEADER: "A physician speaking before a recent industrial conference said the dangers from radiation have received so much publicity that an appreciable number of individuals have been frightened to the point of refusing very desirable X-ray examinations. The chief X-ray technician in a large hospital also is quoted as saying that some patients ask questions, even worry about over-exposure from X-ray. 'We're glad to have them ask the questions,' she said, 'but they should let the doctors do the worrying.'"

By John C. White, Commissioner

Legislation for the Texas Dept. of Agriculture in 1959

Improvement and updating of existing state farm laws is first on the agenda of requests to be made of the Texas Legislature early in January of the new year.

Chief among these suggested improvements are proposed amendments to the Texas Egg Law to provide for increased license fees for egg handlers and the addition of a license fee for retailers who are presently licensed without charge. These fees are needed to make enforcement of the law more nearly self-supporting.

Another proposed change is the Texas Weights and Measures Law, administered by the State Department of Agriculture. It calls for fees to be paid for accuracy tests and regulation of large commercial scales. Commissioner John C. White said the added revenue is "absolutely essential" to provide funds for replacement of expensive equipment without having to call for new tax money.

White said his department also plans to ask the legislature to strengthen enforcement of the Warehouse Law by adding a provision to make minor violations punishable as misdemeanors. The law presently provides only for prosecution of felony offenses, leaving a potential loophole for minor offenders.

A new industry-sponsored nursery law will be submitted providing new classifications and regulations for plants moving into the state. A marketing assistance program for Texas peanut growers calls primarily for a peanut research and promotion commission to be set up to work with TDA marketing officials in expansion of Texas peanut marketing. The field of agricultural research, which is responsible for most of the rapid progress we have made in agriculture, needs 1,000 research workers each year. Agricultural education, which has the responsibility of educating farm youth and adults, and others connected with agriculture, needs 3,000 new professional workers each year. Agricultural business and industry, which employs approximately 30 percent of the workers in the United States, needs 6,000 workers annually. Each year we need 1,000 conservation, 500 for agricultural communications and 1,500 for agricultural services.

E. V. Walton, head of the Department of Agricultural Education, states that, "When and if global war comes, the difference between Russia and the United States will not be in technology but in agriculture. Agriculture is the one productive area in which we are superior to Russia. We have had a 40 year lead. It is expedient for us to keep this substantial superiority."

High school vocational agriculture students obtain a background that prepares them for college work in these various fields of agricultural sciences.

Next week Mr. Cliff will discuss "Vocational Agriculture Prepares for Related Farming Occupations."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pfy and daughters, Anna Sue and Cathy, of Borger visited Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Edgar over the week end.

FIRST CATTLE MARKET OF NEW YEAR WAS GOOD ONE!
 FORT WORTH — If a good start means a good finish, then the cattle market will be a thing of joy for Southwestern stockmen in 1959. The first session of the New Year Monday was active, and slaughter cows and slaughter calves were strong to 50 cents higher. Fed cattle, bulls and stocker and feeder classes were fully steady, some stockers strong.

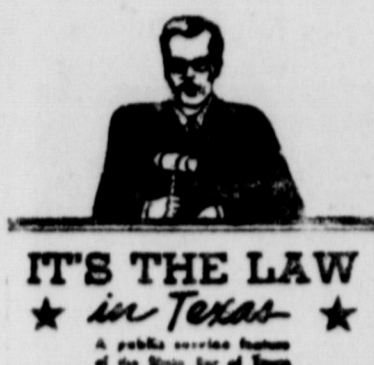

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings ranged from $26 to $29.50, the higher figure reserved for baby beef cattle such as the eleven head from R. H. Coltzer of Erath County, that scaled 582 pounds at $29.50

Chevy adds Bel Air hardtop to '59 line

Prompted by popular demand for the hardtop styling, Chevrolet announces the addition of a Bel Air Sport Sedan to its 1959 line of passenger cars. This new 4-door hardtop sedan with its increased visibility area brings to three the number of models available in the middle-priced series of the new Chevrolets. The new model and other '59 Chevrolets will headline an "Open House" at dealerships nationally, Jan. 23-24.

LEGAL CHECKUP IS SAFETY MEASURE
 Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home-buying, installment paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer. Often under prodding, one may get a lawyer to write a will. But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble? Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or re-figure your taxes.
2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.
3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration", something of value in return.
4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble). But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot tomorrow. Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

HOGS ADVANCE ABOUT 50c AS NORTHERN FARMERS BALK

Receipts of hogs around the major marketing circle were less than 65,000 Monday, according to USDA estimates. This was a drop under a week earlier of 65,000 head and enough to bring prices back by half a dollar a hundred.

The state for this peculiar development was set when well over 90,000 hogs were reported at 12 markets Friday, January 2, and Cornbelt buyers slashed hog prices to below the $18 mark and in some cases top hogs sold at $17.25 to $17.75.

Cornbelt farmers registered their reaction to this break by holding off Monday and this resulted in some dramatic recoveries at some Cornbelt terminals of 50 cents to $1 or more in spots.

At Fort Worth, the severe break was averted since market agencies and the stockyards operators had agreed a two-day holiday, January 1 and January 2, was advisable.

Choice hogs stopped at Fort Worth at $18.50 and $18.75, and lightweights and over weights, as well as mediums, sold from $17 to $18.25. This was a 50-cent advance. Sows sold from $16 to $17.50, also 50 cents higher.

LAMBS OPEN WEAKER, TOP $18.00-18.50, FEEDERS UP

Trade on slaughter lambs was slow and weak at Fort Worth Monday from a packer standpoint. Slaughter interests were fortified with some sizeable numbers of direct and previously contracted lambs and held the line firmly at recent lows and prices were 25 to 50 cents under the somewhat stronger market last week when trade was a forced affair due to weather conditions.

Most of the offering was lambs. Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $17 to $18.50, the top figure for some shorn fat lambs with No. 1 pelts sold to shippers. Both woolled and shorn lambs drew up to $18. There was a definitely more active tone to the feeder trade and medium to good feeders sold from $16.00 to $17.50, some of the lambs at $17.00 to $17.50 indicating a definitely better outlook.

A few odd yearlings sold from $15 to $17 and occasional aged muttons drew $12. Slaughter ewes sold around $8.

MEAT IMPORTS BIG FACTOR IN LIVESTOCK PRICES

Just how important the United States market is for meat exporting nations can be easily seen by these figures from the current Foreign Agriculture Report by USDA.

In a two-week period, Argentina shipped to the United States 5,128 metric tons, of which 3,351 was salted and cured beef (useful for manufacturing beef and competitive to our domestic boning type animals, such as canners, cutters, bulls, etc.) Argentina also just ordered beefless Tuesdays and Fridays, to curtail meat eating to provide additional export meat.

Sailings of New Zealand meat for January are listed at 5,850 tons (or, 11,700,000 pounds) and just recently Australia shipped us 195 long tons of frozen beef.

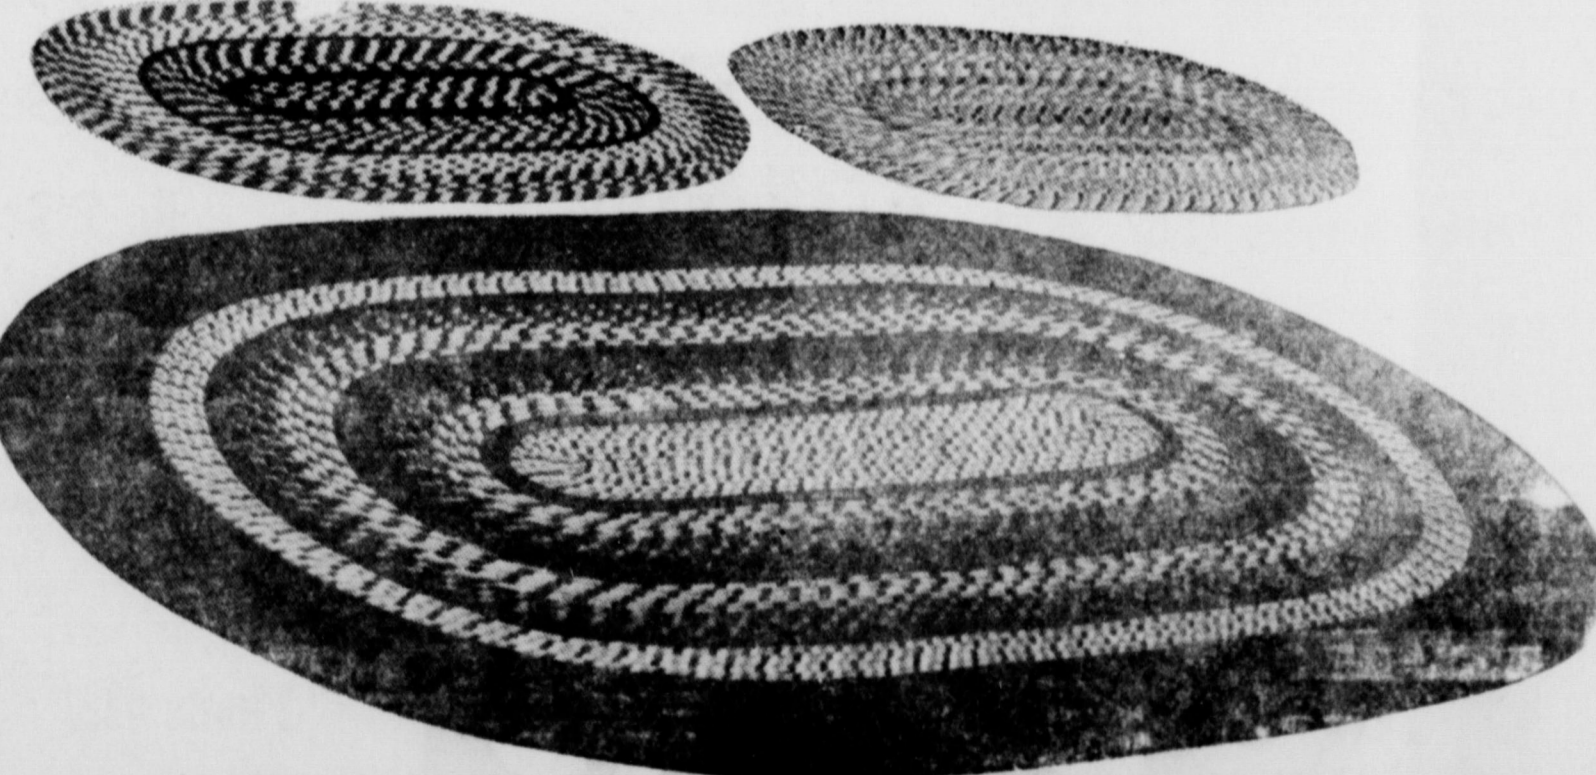

It all adds up! And, Guatemala has banned cattle for two years from neighboring countries. This is to protect herds from disease which might close U. S. outlets. Ireland now insures U. S. shipments against such a ban.

Mrs. Ralph Weeks visited Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hargrove and Ginger and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hargrove in Lubbock for the past ten days. Mrs. Hargrove and Mrs. Weeks also visited friends in Aiken, Plainview and Lockney over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Warren of Kermit were guests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Warren and Mrs. U. S. Rogers during the holidays.

Star Agriculture

Relieved by
The Texas Department of Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

It won't be news to people in the flood-soaked Rio Grande Valley but fall rains over much of Texas bring reasonable assurance of good surface water supplies for 1959.

The Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande has backed up more than its share of irrigation water for the next growing season. But unfortunately, the state as a whole has not even approached its potential in construction of surface storage facilities along its major streams and rivers. However, prospects are good for the natural underground water resources upon which so many of us depend.

Snow survey experts along the Continental Divide report 1958 as a good year as a result of heavy snow water runoff, high streamflow and good carryover storage. Gradual seepage of snow water from the mountains of New Mexico and Colorado account for a big portion of our underground water supply in the Panhandle area of Texas. Although nothing is more unpredictable than the weather, indications are for additional heavy snows this winter which will eventually add to Texas' natural subsurface supplies.

It is no secret that our underground water reservoirs took a real beating during the seven year drouth. Many natural springs in Central Texas dried up for the first time in the history of white settlements and our water tables in West Texas dropped alarmingly.

The year 1958 saw these springs once again flowing and some improvement was noted in the water tables along many irrigation belts of the state. Early fall weather conditions indicate a wet winter is in store for many sections of Texas. However, years of good water supply point up the importance of adequate water storage facilities, both for better distribution through the irrigation season, and for balancing the available supply between dry years and those of abundant snow and rainfall.

Demands upon our Texas water supplies are increasing every year. More and more water is required by agriculture, industry, rapidly expanding city populations and for recreational and other uses.

Know Egg Values Title Of Bulletin

Egg values concern millions of people, especially homemakers who buy food for the family and try to serve well-balanced, nutritious meals.

Egg values are also of interest to producers and persons in commercial food service and merchandising channels.

Those who buy eggs should know economic value, how to determine value of the different grades and thoroughly understand grade terminology. Homemakers should know egg value from the viewpoint of nutrition, calories, protein-fat ratio and the versatility of eggs in cooking.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has released a bulletin entitled "Know Egg Values." It discusses such topics as egg qualities and size classes, carton identification, consumer responsibility and cooking tips.

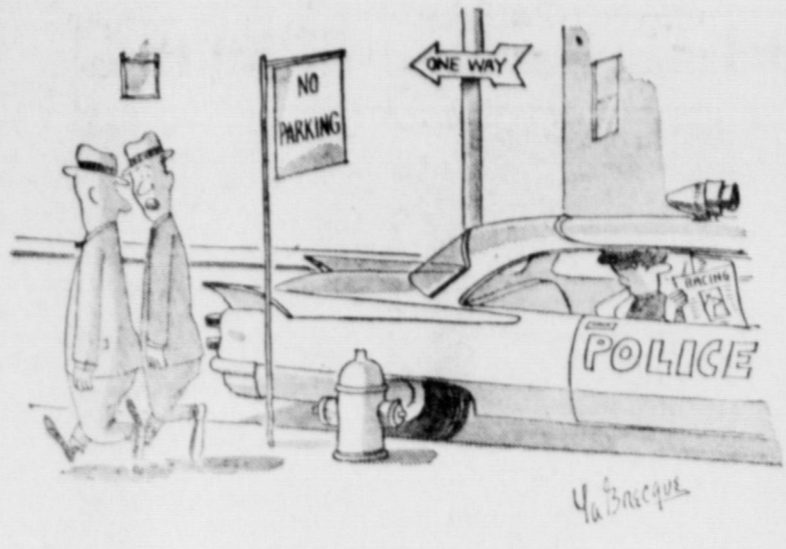

The bulletin is available from county agricultural agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-909.

Roy Rogers Saddles Two-Wheeled Mount

If "Trigger" is ever put out to pasture Roy Rogers will not be without a mount — even if it is a two-wheeled, iron horse. Roy demonstrated his skill with a motorcycle recently at a race at the Wisconsin State Fair track. Cycling is "old hat" to Roy, who rode motorcycles before he ever threw a saddle on a horse. In fact, he rode out to Hollywood from the Midwest on a cycle in the early '20s, when times were bad and transportation costs were high. Roy developed a liking for the sport and regularly rode an overhead valve, 74 cubic-inch Harley-Davidson until the early '40s.

Since the time he stopped riding, Roy has had suppressed desire to get back on an iron "Trigger" and go for a spin. Considering the 16 years out of a motorcycle saddle, he did a fine job of riding before thousands of spectators in the stands.

1958 DEER SEASON COMES TO CLOSE

AUSTIN — Final shot has been fired in the 1958 deer season, with one of the best years in the history of legal hunting, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

The season on white-tailed deer closed at sundown Wednesday, Dec. 31.

Hunters can still take quail until Jan. 16, and ducks and geese until Jan. 14, according to the director.

The director also asked that persons killing banded birds deliver the bands to their game wardens for checking purposes.

The movement of beef cattle into feedlots has been slowed for the second consecutive year due to excellent range conditions and a hesitancy on the part of feeders to pay the asking price for feeder calves, reports A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

A good intention clothes itself with power. — Emerson

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

Nature uses many devices to protect us from diseases — especially infants. When children are born, there is usually a built in protection from many of the childhood diseases such as measles and mumps.

However, there is one disease, generally associated with children, which takes its toll from earliest infancy. This disease is pertussis (whooping cough).

This year there have been 3,720 cases of pertussis reported to the State Department of Health as of November 15. But many cases of the disease go unreported. So there is no accurate count of the number of times that pertussis strikes during any given year.

We do know that it is a serious disease under the age of four. It may be fatal in over 10 percent of the cases in this age group. In very young infants, however, complications such as pneumonia may occur, and the fatality rate varies between 15 and 30 percent.

Ninety-two percent of all pertussis cases occurred in children under age two. Sixty-five percent strikes youngsters under one year of age.

Whooping cough was first described in 1578 by Baillou. The typical symptoms, even as they are today, were outlined. The disease occurred in epidemic form in England during the 17th century.

The disease has a world-wide distribution. Pertussis is a constant threat in larger cities, but occasionally epidemic proportions are attained.

In Scandinavia and Denmark, there is an epidemic every four or five years. However, during the interepidemic years only a few cases are reported.

Whooping cough in generally more prevalent in colder climates than in warm or subtropical climates.

The incubation period of the disease is usually seven days. Some people contract it up to 10 days, and rarely up to 21 days.

Whooping cough derives its name from the fact that the patient during the early catarrhal and paroxysmal stages coughs spasmodically with a "whoop". The "whoop" is produced by a deep inspiratory breath sucked rapidly over the vocal cords, repeating itself after a few normal breaths.

Pediatricians routinely advise vaccine protection within the first few months of age. Parents who have themselves been victims of the disease in childhood or witnessed whooping cough in other children are usually anxious to try to protect their own children. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.)

Knox Prairie Philosopher Feels That There's A Solution To Nearly Every Problem Except, Maybe, People

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek takes another look at the new year this week. Can't tell what he sees.

Dear editor:
During the first week in January of this new year I have been reading predictions from the experts and have come to the conclusion they all make one serious mistake that undercuts the value of their prophecies.

It's easy for example to predict that man will conquer space, that he'll perfect a guided missile so powerful it'll circle the earth and hit him in the back of the head if he doesn't duck, that he'll perfect an automobile that doesn't need oiling and a frying pan that doesn't require grease, and such similar mechanical things. In fact, there's probably not a single thing mechanical that man can't finally figure out, except maybe the need for plowing or maybe perpetual motion, although the latter may be around, at least the earth keeps moving in orbit without any visible engine, but where the experts make a mistake is in trying to predict a solution for people. There's not any.

You take Sec. Dulles. The more he flies, and the faster he gets there the more problems he runs into without any solutions. The world isn't any worse today than it was 50 years ago, it's just better reported. You can see what alert journalism has led us into.

There were just as many problems 100 years ago as there are now, and if we'd known about them we'd have thrown up our hands in the face of them just as fast as we do now.

And the reason there's not any solution to people is that they're too much like you and me. We keep changing. A man's problem can be solved today, and it may last a week, or a month, or a year, but that doesn't mean it's solved forever. As long as there are people in the world, there are going to be problems without any answers at hand, as anybody who ever was a member of a family knows. Most people expect nations to get along better than families.

I know also that there are people who say it's problems that make life interesting, and that's right, except that there are some problems that make life a whole lot more interesting than others but lots of times there aren't enough of these kinds to go around. Just because a man's got problems, it doesn't mean he's drunk with happiness. Consequently, I predict that in 1959, regardless of how many problems man solves, the supply of unsolved ones will still be about the same. But I don't blame him for seeking new problems. I've got some old ones myself. I haven't been able to figure out, and had just as soon change the subject.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bowers of Amarillo were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Freuwirth.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our gratitude and sincere thanks to everyone who helped in any way in our hour of sorrow. For all the nice food and beautiful floral offering, may the dear Lord bless each one of you.

With Allis-Chalmers D-Series Tractors, Power Director teams with TRACTION BOOSTER system to create 42% more pull for your heavy work. The 4,100-lb. D-14 equals a 6,400-lb. tractor in pull; the 5,300-lb. D-17 equals a 7,500-lb. tractor in pull.

On the average, however, you will use your tractor for heavy work only 17% of the time. For the 83% of the time you are not doing heavy work, a D-Series Tractor will save you as much as 16% in fuel costs. Sons Of Hermann To Install Officers

San Antonio — Installation of officers for six West Texas Hermann Sons lodges will take place at 2 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 18, at the Hermann Sons Hall at Haskell.

Sanford Schmid, Shelby, Tex., will serve as installing officer. Schmid is second grand vice-president of the 48,000-member Texas fraternal order which has its home offices in San Antonio. Schmid also is a member of the Texas legislature.

Assisting Schmid with the ceremony will be Louis Engelke, San Antonio, grand lodge public relations director, and Gilbert Clemens, San Antonio, grand lodge comptroller.

Officers of the following Hermann Sons lodges will be installed for the coming year: Rheinland No. 295; Brazos No. 228, Old Glory; Paint Creek No. 241, Haskell Roland No. 256, Hermleigh; Roscoe No. 257; and Pep No. 311, Pep Tex. Paint Creek Lodge will serve as host group for the ceremony.

Up to 30 percent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter care, points out W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer. Too, he adds, time will be saved in getting the machinery back on the job.

"Shorter" Dwarfs, most costly of beef cattle dwarfism, are discussed in a new Extension leaflet available from county agents or the Agricultural Information Office. Ask for L-412.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollo, M. D., State Health Officer

Looking for a resolution to keep during 1959? Here's one that could save you or your family a lot of strife.

"I resolve to have myself and my entire family vaccinated against paralytic polio as soon as possible and to tell all my friends and relatives to do the same." We understand about vaccinating ourselves and our families, but what about having everybody else vaccinated?

The fact of the matter is as much of the population as possible should also receive the series of three anti-polio shots.

Although it isn't a guarantee, the Salk vaccine puts the odds overwhelmingly in your favor that you won't get paralytic polio.

The need is especially important for small children — those under five years of age. Attack rates were highest in one-year-olds, with more than 50 percent of all paralytic cases occurring in children under five.

Thousands of little toddlers received tricycles last week for Christmas, but how many may never learn to ride before they are stricken with polio.

There is nothing so useless as a tricycle to a polio-stricken toddler.

Polio-myelitis records in Texas indicated a slight rise in the number of cases in 1958 over 1957 — half of these pre-school children.

The vaccine continues to show a high rate of effectiveness. Only 12.7 percent of the total of paralytic cases in 1958 had received three shots of the vaccine throughout the United States. This is an effectiveness rate of about 87 percent.

But the Salk vaccine's ultimate success rests with the entire community receiving the prescribed series of three shots.

And don't think your chances are better because you happen to live in a particular neighborhood or social order. Polio acknowledges no such restrictions.

Parents of young children who have not been vaccinated, particularly those under five, should start children on the course of three vaccinations immediately.

While you're in the doctor's office, have him vaccinate you too. Then on your way home tell your friends and neighbors.

That's a new year's resolution really worth keeping. (A weekly feature of Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health)

Rabbit Hunts Are Back In Style In Panhandle Of Texas

AUSTIN — Rabbit hunts are back in style in the Panhandle, according to an article appearing in the December issue of Texas Game and Fish.

Public hunts have been held on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area near Canadian for two years. This was the idea biologists had in trying to cope with high rabbit populations on the area.

Being a modern refinement of the "drives" of 25 years ago, the hunts are controlled and strictly supervised by Commission personnel. During the first hunt in 1957, 68 hunters bagged 846 cottontails in three days of hunting.

Although cottontails were not so abundant in 1958 the hunt went ahead, but the 38 hunters that showed up got only 71 rabbits due to high weed cover.

The upcoming hunt in January and February should be very good, the article states, since the rabbit population is high again. Gene Howe Area personnel recommend that participants bring beagles to flush rabbits from the high weed growth.

It is believed that 90 permits will be available for the 1959 hunt.

Mrs. Paul Pendleton entered a Wichita Falls hospital last Tuesday for treatment for pneumonia.
