Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

We answered our front doorbell and were greeted by the sheriff. Perhaps we should say a Sheriff. To us in Knox County our own Homer T. is the sheriff—any other would be a sheriff.

We had gotten home a while earlier, entered our air-conditioned den, kicked off our shoes and were letting the cool, fanned breeze go between our hot toes when the doorbell rang.

There he stood big as all getout and complete with his official badge, firing arms, big white hat and billy club. When we learned it was not an official visit, we invited him in.

He was Sheriff Jim Bridge of Dickens County who happens to be our nephew by marriage. We married his daddy's sister. He was enroute to Haskell on some official shuffling business and decided he'd visit us for a spell, since it had been several years since we'd said howdy.

Funny thing about Sheriff Bridge having this office. As we recall, the two candidates ran neck and neck all through the race. When the votes became official, they ended up in a deadlock, a complete tie, with exactly the same number of votes. The winner was decided by a flip of the coin.

"You'll come to see us," he said when leaving. "We've got plenty of room," indicating that some of those jail cells were empty most of the time. Since he had sent us word earlier that we'd have to behave completely when in his area or we'd wind up in his rooming house, we had decided to by-pass Dickens County when travelling in that direction!

The tragedy of last Sunday evening has brought sorrow to all the community. To have one so young and so talented taken from our midst so suddenly is tragic enough. Although reared in Weinert we of Munday had considered Danny Earle one of our own.

But the real tragedy lies in a broken family circle. The Toos Earles operated as a family unit. Everything they did, almost—their work, their play, recreation, outings, visits to the lake—was done as a family unit. What over they had, whatever they did, they shared together.

The crowd that filled the church to overflowing is a striking testimony of the love and esteem people of this area held for this young man and his family. He lived happily, perhaps dangerously at times, but his consideration of other people gained him many friends. We shall all miss him.

On every newscast, in every newspaper, we hear and read of traffic fatalities, but none have effected the community more than the death of Danny Earle.

Danny was a frequent visitor at services of the First Methodist Church in Munday. He often sang in the choir or played the piano for the services. His friendly greeting and cheerful smile will be greatly missed but will remain a pleasant memory to many of us.

"Mine was a lousy paper this week. I had no advertising. I had no news." This remark was made to us by a fellow publisher during our week end visit to San Angelo. The occasion was the annual convention of West Texas Press Association. We've often commented that we like this association best because those who attend the conventions are "my people." They are people of the profession whom we know best, whose problems are nearer akin to our own, and with whom "shop talk" is a pleasure.

And we knew that this old boy was talking about. However, this is one of the many challenges of the profession. One week we wonder how in the world we're going to fill up the paper; maybe the next week things are reversed—we wonder how we are going to get everything in the pages and not be forced to leave out some item that will offend our readers.

Hearing the other fellow's problems seems to give us more fortitude to come home and try to cope with ours. We wonder if people of other professions find it that way!

Civil Air Patrol To Be Organized

A squadron of Civil Air Patrol (CAP) will be organized for this area at 8 p.m. Friday in the American Legion hall in Knox City. It will be named the Knox Prairie Squadron and will consist of members from Knox City, Benjamin, Munday, O'Brien, Goree, Weinert, Rule and Rochester.

A staff will consist of senior members, who must be 18 years of age or older.

A cadet corp will be made up of members 14 to 18. They will be given special training by the senior members.

You need not be a flier to be active in the Civil Air Patrol. CAP is organized as an auxiliary to the Air Force and is to work with the Civil Defense organization, if there is one. If not, the CAP will serve in case of national emergency. Other functions are for military communications, air detection, air search, weather observance and other emergencies.

Command Office: All types of furniture and supplies.

Training: 16-mm movie projector and projector for slide and strip film.

Communications: Receivers-transmitters suitable for fixed and semi-fixed stations (2 per squad), like equipment for mobile stations, (14 per squad) and for airborne stations (4 per squad), switchboard and field telephones (10 per squad).

Vehicles: One bus, personnel carrier per squad, 2 five passenger sedans, one Jeep per 3 mobile ground control communications sets, and a trailer for each.

Air Field: Lighting for field if it has no lights at present.

Maintenance and training: Portable air compressor, electric heavy duty hand drill, block and hoist, electric soldering iron, hydraulic jack, battery testing kit, cable splicing kit, fabric repair kit, hydraulic tube bending kit, tensionmeter kit, tire repair kit, mechanic tool kit for aircraft and vehicle, acetylene welding kit, battery charger, etc.

Photographic: Camera and equipment, case suitable for press work.

Emergency and first aid: Blankets, first aid kits, four litters, drop survival kits, 2 10-ft. parachute cargo drips and a field kitchen.

The equipment is furnished by the air force as available and as the squadron grows. We should have over 50 members to man the various organizational posts in the beginning. The CAP will be of assistance in home defense and as an assistant to the Air Force.

Special interest will be placed upon the training of cadets, and their opportunities for advancement and future Air Force participation is unlimited.

Should you be interested in assisting in the defense of our own home area and becoming a member of the Civil Air Patrol, but are unable to attend the Friday meeting, please call Bill Sams, 658-5201, Knox City.

Baird Team Wins District Playoff; Enters State Finals At Pasadena

In one of the most interesting games of the tourney, Baird came through with a 6 to 5 victory over Haskell last Saturday night to emerge winner of the District 5 event. Baird will be representing the district in the state finals at Pasadena this week end.

The game was deadlocked in the seventh, last inning of regulation play, and Baird's winning run came in the bottom of the ninth. Baird got six runs on five hits, while Haskell gathered five runs on eight hits. Tally Windham was winning pitcher, while Joseph Thielen was the loser.

Baird and Haskell both chalked up top-sided scores on opening night of the tourney Thursday. Baird pounded Mator, 14 to 1, and Haskell overpowered Seymour 13 to 5.

In the opener Johnny Woodward, winning pitcher for Baird, struck out 13 and walked only one. Louis Flores, Haskell's starting pitcher, was relieved by James Davis in the fourth, and Davis was credited with the victory.

Friday night saw Haskell roar past Ranger, 12 to 7, to advance to the finals in the Teen Age tourney. Davis, who replaced Flores in the first inning, was again winning pitcher. Ranger had drawn a bye on opening night.

In Friday night's consolation game, Mator defeated Seymour, 22 to 1.

Ranger defeated Mator Saturday night, 8 to 7, for consolation winner, but it was not done until the bottom of the seventh inning. Ranger gained eight runs on 11 hits and made two errors, while Mator had seven runs on 11 hits and made three errors. Joe Cooper was the winning pitcher, and Robert Cotee was credited with the loss.

State officials highly praised local officials for a very successful tourney and the excellent condition of the playing field. It is hoped that Munday will again host the district playoff next year.

EARL FOSHEE HAVE A NEW GRANDSON

"Hey, Bill Bowley, don't you dare forget to put in the Munday Times about that new grandson," said Earl Foshee last Tuesday. "That should be news deluxe," he continued, "especially after 6 granddaughters"—and we guess it really is. Here is the dope on the one and only grandson: He made his arrival at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, August 5, 1961 in Midland Hospital and weighed 8 pounds and 11 ounces, was 20 inches long and has been named Ronald Earl Foshee the Third. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Foshee of Midland and his four big sisters are Linda, Susan, Deborah and Teresa, who are going around saying "It's nice to have a brother under the house." Grandparents are of course Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foshee of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Lawing of Arlington.

Weinert Youth Is Fatally Injured

Danny Allen Earle, 20-year-old Weinert youth and talented pianist, was killed instantly at around 9 o'clock Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile while riding on a small wagon pulled behind a farm tractor.

Earle, a sophomore at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, had gone with a friend, Richard Michels, to check an irrigation project. Michels was driving the tractor, and the victim was riding behind on a child's wagon. They were preparing to turn off at the Michels farm home when struck by an automobile being driven by Gifford T. Wilde of Rhineland.

The vehicles were travelling south on the Munday-Rhineland road when the accident occurred. Two other passengers, Austin Tomlinson, Sr., and Austin Tomlinson, Jr. were in the car. None of the three were hurt.

The youth was thrown into the ditch by the impact, which mangled his body.

Young Michels was taken to the Knox County Hospital for treatment of a deep cut and numerous bruises.

Sheriff Homer T. Melton, Arthur Mason, state highway patrolman of Seymour, and other local officers investigated the accident.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday from the First Methodist Church in Munday with Rev. Gene W. Louder and Rev. Billy Frank Fitzgerald officiating. Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Holden's Funeral Home of Haskell. Pallbearers were Fitzhugh Williams, Bill Opella, Bob Land, Bob Pike, Gary Bowen, Jerry Serratt, Larry Hellman and James Hawkins.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. (Toots) Earle of Munday; a brother, David Charles, of Weinert; his grandmother, Mrs. Tom Martin of Munday, and a number of other relatives.

He was born April 23, 1941, in Knox County, and was a graduate of Weinert High School. He worked as switchboard operator, at Midwestern University last year and was a member of Chi Eta, social fraternity. He was to be alternate cheer leader this year.

He was studying political science and was a student government representative from his Midwestern dormitory last year.

READ AND PONDER

"Let anybody who approves of the practice of medicine by the government read and ponder . . ." Thus writes Dr. Milo H. Fritz in Northwest Medicine. And his indictment is based upon hard personal experience.

Briefly, the story is this. At Eastertime, in 1960, Dr. Fritz left his private practice in Anchorage, Alaska, and flew to the remote lower Yukon, where he spent three days examining the eyes, ears, noses and throats of Eskimo children at St. Mary's Mission School. He recommended 40 patients for surgery to a branch of the U. S. Public Health Service which is responsible for the health of Alaska's native population.

The Service responded by saying that the children would be airlifted to a hospital for the needed surgery. But, when an angry Dr. Fritz returned to St. Mary's a full year later, only two of the 40 had been operated upon.

That is not all. During that return trip a year later, the doctor performed 71 tonsil and adenoid operations. He writes: "Of the 71 patients operated upon, 14 had been seen in 1949, 1953 and 1959 and had been recommended for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. The faithful and indefatigable public health nurses who made these recommendations and forwarded them . . . saw their efforts come to naught."

So, to repeat an eloquent phrase: "Let anybody who approves of the practice of medicine by the government read and ponder . . ."

THE MOTORIST REBELS

If anyone thinks that the ancient and eternal law of diminishing returns doesn't apply in certain important instances to taxation, he should consider the ever-rising tax on gasoline.

Some months ago the Pennsylvania gas tax was boosted to 7 cents. And in the first month the new tax was in effect consumption dropped 33 per cent below the gallonage figure of the previous month and 25 per cent below the figure for the equivalent month last year.

An official of one of our leading oil companies now estimates that a loss nationwide of $30 million a year in gas taxes is almost a certainty. In his words, "Motorists are beginning to rebel against constantly increasing gasoline taxes and they are looking more and more toward compact cars for more miles-per-gallon." Other motorists, no doubt, are cutting down on their driving.

The average gas tax, state and federal, is now 30 cents a gallon. This amounts to half the cost of a gallon of gas without the tax. That 50 per cent sales tax is far greater than those imposed on extreme luxuries.

If states want to keep their gasoline tax revenues up, they'd better quit hiking the rate. The same thing goes for the federal government.

THE SHIPPING STRIKE

The shipping strike—which has not been settled, and which was temporarily stopped by a Taft-Hartley injunction, with its 80-day "cooling off" period—focused national attention on the importance of the U. S. Merchant Marine.

Editors and commentators the country over have pointed to the grave dangers implicit in a shutdown of our ocean shipping, even if for only a brief period. This concern goes beyond the merits or demerits of the specific issues at stake in the strike. Our import and export trade is at the heart of American economic well-being. Farmers, industries of a hundred and one kinds, and armies of workers depend in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, on that trade.

Beyond this, the Merchant Marine, as top military authorities have pointed out time and again, is absolutely essential to the national defense. And the only merchant ships on which we can wholly depend are those within our own control. In a world emergency we could lose overnight the services of foreign merchant fleets.

It is no wonder that more and more people—including officials with strong pro-labor sentiments—are coming to believe that some effective mechanism for preventing and arbitrating strikes which gravely weaken the whole country must be found.

WADESBORO, N. C., MESSENGER & INTELLIGENCER: "Misguided do-gooders frequently quote the Sixth Commandment, 'Thou shalt not kill,' to prove that capital punishment is wrong. This Commandment in the 20th chapter, verse 13, of Exodus has also been interpreted to mean: 'Thou shalt do no murder.' Then the 21st chapter, verse 12, says, 'He that smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death.'"

Tax Foundation reports testimony given before a Congressional subcommittee showing that the Army estimates the average cost of transporting a privately-owned vehicle overseas at about $300. A witness said that in fiscal 1961 the Army expected to move 44,635 privately-owned vehicles of military personnel to or from foreign countries. The cost could thus be as much as $15.2 million.

Former Knox County Agent Named To Receive Distinguished Service Award

College Station — W. C. Pallmeyer, Motley county agricultural agent since August 1953, is one of six Texans named to receive the National County Agricultural Agents Association's Distinguished Service Award for 1961. He was nominated by the Texas Association and acceptance by the national group was announced by Phillip S. Nix, Houston county agent and chairman of the Texas Awards Committee.

The awards are presented annually to county agents of the nation who over a period of years have made outstanding contributions to agriculture and rural living. The presentation of the awards is always a highlight of the National Association's annual meeting which will be held this year in New York City's famed Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, September 10-14.

The award winner was first employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in the summer of 1948 as an assistant county agent in training in Hall county. In March 1949 he was transferred to Wichita county as assistant county agent and two years later to Knox County as county agent where he served until his move to Motley county.

His award citation reads: "For providing leadership to programs which have resulted in improved levels of living for rural families and an outstanding 4-H Club organization."

The educational programs which he has directed with assistance from community leaders have been aimed at improving crop and range yields to increase the county's agricultural income. Organizations or strong committees have been developed as needs arose. Through the county is without the services of a county home demonstration agent, Pallmeyer has worked with rural homemakers to carry on a program in home economics and a 4-H program for girls.

The brush control program over the past eight years has increased the carrying capacity of the ranges where the improvement practices have been carried out and raised the income for the participating families.

The cotton program has included the introduction of new and better adapted varieties; insect control practices, the use of fertilizer, irrigation and developing gin communities for Smith-Doxey classing service. Soil improvement through the use of cotton burs has become a popular practice in the county and is the outgrowth of a demonstration started in 1955.

Variety tests were utilized to introduce the grain sorghum hybrids a few years ago. More than 80 per cent of the county's grain sorghum acreage is now planted to hybrids.

Motley county 4-H Club members have won many district and state honors under Pallmeyer's direction. More recently the state's top girl public speaker and grass judging team were coached by him. Other state winners have included a tractor operator, the county's entries in the Share-the-Fun program and a National 4-H Conference delegate.

Pallmeyer is a native of Bosque county; a graduate of Kopperl High School and Texas A&M College with a bachelor's degree in agricultural engineering. He served in the U. S. Army, Signal Corps, from December 1942 until March 1946, and is a Captain in the Ready Reserve.

In addition to his responsibilities as county agent, he takes an active part in community, church and civic affairs. He is an associate member of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, a member of the Lions Club's Agricultural Committee, is alternate district chairman of the Texas County Agents Association, and a past Commander of the local VFW.

Cannibalism in poultry can take much money out of the poultryman's pocket as a major disease outbreak. It can happen at any time and among birds of any age, says Joe Wakefield, of Texas A&M College's Poultry Science Department. Best preventive measures, he says, are adequate housing, a good feeding and watering program and careful management supplemented with debeaking.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Takes A Look At New Russian Campaign Promises And Discovers Some Flaws

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek examines the latest Russian promises this week, without much enthusiasm.

Dear editor: From what little I know about it, I've always understood a Russian dictator didn't have to run for office, he just stayed in as long as his aim was accurate, but judging by the campaign promises Mr. Khrushchev put out a few days ago, he must be having a little trouble on the home front.

According to the promises I read in a copy of a newspaper which fell out of a bread truck which got off the highway for some reason and came near my place, the Russians, by 1980, if not sooner or later, will have free housing, free food, free gas, free transportation.

I have examined these promises carefully, and as an expert in listening to campaign promises a lot oftener than benefiting from them, I can detect several flaws.

For example, is this free food going to be cooked or raw, and what will it consist of? How long will you have to stand in line to get it? Who's going to raise it? I've got free food already, if I want to work hard enough to raise it, but that's not my notion of free.

Also, is this gas they're talking about cooking and heating gas, or car gas? If it's car gas, that's just like a politician. What's free gas worth if you haven't got a car to use it in? And if the gas is free, who're they going to get to stick around a filling station to pump it out for you and check your oil and water? Seems to me everybody'd be cruising.

And also, how many hours a day will you have to work, whether you feel like it or not, to pay for this free housing they're going to furnish?

After they get all this free food, free housing, free gas and free transportation, who's going to decide how much you have to work, where you have to work, when you have to work, to produce it?

If you live in the South Sea Islands, I understand, you can get free food if you can live on coconuts and bananas, but I doubt if the Russian climate is suited for those kinds of crops, consequently somebody is going to have to grow it, and even if somebody furnished me a free tractor and free gas and fixed all the flats, there'd be times when I just didn't care about going up one row and down another, even if Mr. Khrushchev himself was standing at the turn-row with a basket of free food for me.

As I understand it, Russia is promising to abolish everything except work. That system will never suit me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

It's the Law in TEXAS

IMPEACHING A WITNESS

A story they tell on Lincoln is how he once proved his client's innocence by impeaching "an eye witness."

Lincoln's client had stolen a chicken, the witness vowed, at a certain time on a certain night.

Asked how he could see so well at night, the witness declared "by the light of the moon—just as clear as clear."

Lincoln "impeached" the testimony with ease by pulling an old almanac out of his pocket. It showed that no moon was up at that time, nor was it full on that date.

Trials are hard on everybody—witnesses and parties alike. They often take place when other ways to settle a dispute have failed, and there are hard feelings. But granting good faith, people do make mistakes in what they recall. After they have told their story a few times, many are dead certain—like Lincoln's witness—that they did see and hear what they say they did.

And so, for the sake of justice, courts allow each side to test a witness' reliability. Sometimes a witness is so obviously prejudiced or so obviously twisting the facts that the cross-examiner easily discredits his story.

But often sincere witnesses tell different stories, and the jury has a right to know how much weight to give each. It is the jury's sworn duty, in fact, to weigh the credibility of witnesses. And a good way is to see how a witness' story hangs together under fire or checks with other known facts.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. A. E. Richmond and children of Midland visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Haynie, and other relatives several days last week.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. W. C. Bevers and Jasper over the week end were Mrs. Russell Doran of Odessa, Mrs. Allen Koenig and sons, David and Robert, of Oklahoma City, Okla. and Mrs. Artie Stacy also of Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Samsel of Knox City are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn, to Gary Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bruce.

The couple will be married at 6 p.m. August 20, in the Trinity Lutheran Church in Haskell.
