Labor Day To Be Observed Monday

Monday, September 1, Labor Day, is one of the regular holidays for Munday merchants set up by the retail trades committee of the Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Most merchants have indicated that they will be closed on that day and ask you to do your shopping accordingly, and help in observing the holiday, and giving many a day of rest.

Some will plan a long weekend trip, while others will enjoy lolling around the house, busily doing nothing, and still others will visit relatives or friends, but whatever your plans have a good holiday.

Miss Florence Gaines is spending this week with relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

Twister Hits Rhineland, Gin Damaged, Trailers Destroyed

The Rhineland Co-Op Gin suffered the heaviest damage from the twister, small in stature but potent in destruction, that dipped down on the community of Rhineland last Friday afternoon.

Approximately thirty trailers were stored on the gin lot awaiting cotton harvest and at least 16 were completely destroyed while others were partially damaged. Only two or three withstood the savage wind and remained upright. One trailer was blown into the south portion of the gin office porch, ripping at least half of it off before landing on its side against a post. Another of the trailers was picked up by the twister and deposited on its four wheels across the road about fifty yards from the original site.

Lowry Wilson, gin manager, estimated the damages from 30,000 to $40,000 with the burr hopper suffering the worst damage. Large strips of tin were blown off the top, landing here and there on the gin-yard, while other strips of tin were only partially peeled from the gin and office.

A garage owned by Louis Redder was ripped from its foundation and tossed into the newly-constructed home of Mrs. Vince Orsak, damaging the roof considerably and breaking out several windows.

The carport at the John Ed Wilde home, on the west end, was torn from the house and landed in a jumbled mess in the middle of the road east about 25 yards from the point of origin.

Many Rhineland residents reported either damaged antennas or antennas blown to the ground by the twister. Others had broken windows and tree damage.

Four inches of rain was dumped on the town in a 20-minute period and water was running across the Rhineland-Goree Highway in five or six places. Hall and rain damage was reported on cotton crops and maize that had not been combined as little up to one-third loss. Some of the farmers reporting damage were Ike Grissom who farms the C. A. Williams place, Ray Hardin on the M. B. Caughran place, A. L. Roden, Wilford Bellinghausen on the Buck Tidwell farm and Albert Loran.

One Rhineland resident was heard to comment, "It was pretty rough while it lasted, but it could have been so much worse that we can be thankful that the Good Lord was taking care of our little community."

Haskell-Knox Annual Workshop Set September 5

September 5 has been the date set for the Haskell-Knox Baptist Associational annual workshop announced Rev. H. B. Graves Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church in Munday and moderator of the association. The meeting will be held in the First Baptist Church, Weinert at 9:30 a.m.

Rev. L. L. Trott of Stamford, area missionary for the Double Mountain Baptist Area will speak on the dangers and challenges of the days ahead, and lead in setting up of a calendar of activities for 1969-70 church year. The proposed budget will be discussed and examined by all the associational officers and pastors.

Rev. Graves will guide a discussion on finalizing the program for the annual associational meeting and how to increase church interest and participation. Following this will be a general discussion on "How can your association serve your church better?"

The meeting is open to all Haskell-Knox Associational officers and pastors.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Welch visited Friday and Saturday in Mineral Wells with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hodges.

CARPORT was literally wrenched from the side of the John Ed Wilde home by the twister that struck last Friday afternoon.

TWISTER blew this cotton trailer into the Rhineland Co-Op Gin office tearing part of the building down in its wake.

Area Men Appointed As WTRC Round-Up Chairmen

J. C. (Togo) Moorhouse of Benjamin and Lee Smith of Knox City will be among the 121 area chairmen of the 1969 Cattle-men's Round-up for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. The chairmen will serve as the main link between the Round-up and the individual stockmen.

For the 1,235 patients who receive free treatment at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, "Christmas" has always come in September in the form of the renowned "Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children."

This year, however, "Santa Claus" is dead. "Santa Claus" - in this case the man who had singlehandedly done the most to help the Round-Up reach its annual goals - was the late Conda Wylie of Fort Chadbourne.

Mr. Wylie, 86, who suffered a fatal heart attack at his home on January 6, 1969, had gained the title, "Father of the Cattlemen's Round-Up," and rightfully so, for he had actually founded the first Round-Up in 1960 when he gave WTRC Executive Director Shelly V. Smith 20 calves to "see if you can use these to help the Center."

Those 20 calves were to be-

City Planning Board To Aid City Council

By AARON EDGAR
The City Planning Commission, which was established in Munday just recently, is an organization for the purpose of helping the City Council of Munday and to further the welfare of the city. This was explained at Tuesday's meeting of the Munday Lions Club by M. L. Wiggins, who has been selected as chairman of the commission.

It was set up through the Texas Legislature and the Federal Government, Wiggins explained, and some funds will be provided through these courses to help the city. Open meetings of the commission are to be held once each month, when problems pertaining to the city and its citizenship will be discussed.

The commission will act as "a sort of go-between" for the people and the city. Problems, ideas for future advancement, etc., will be discussed at the commission meetings and then presented to the City Council. "We are trying to help the city," Wiggins said, "and already some committees have been named, such as streets and recreation." The commission is composed of nine members.

Already, plans are underway to re-name the streets of Munday, erect suitable markers and numbers for the homes so residents can be readily located. Lion President Myers announced that Tuesday, October 21, has been set for the Lions' annual broom sale.

Visitors at Tuesday's meeting included Chris Harrell and Terry Dart of Portales, N. M.; T. W. Bullington of Austin, Richard Christopher of Knox City and Bill Baker of Munday.

Help Needed For Camille Fatalities

Hurricane Camille's death toll continues to increase as rescue workers probe into the big Gulf storm's devastation in the shattered areas of the Louisiana and Mississippi coasts.

Fires raging out of control because firefighting units could not reach them added to the misery in the wake of the hurricane's 190-mile an hour winds and swamping tides. Thousands in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama were left homeless.

Mrs. Ned Elland, Knox County Red Cross chairman, stated that more help is needed and that Knox County has been asked for $150 more for disaster victims. Knox County Red Cross mailed a check of $100 from the emergency fund, which is kept on hand for unexpected occasions, at the onset of the storm.

Mrs. Elland said this needs to be replenished as well as raising money for Camille victims.

Make your check payable to Red Cross for Camille Disaster or if your contribution is cash, leave at either the First National Bank in Munday or the Citizen's State Bank in Knox City. Your help for the unfortunate at this time is greatly needed so please give and give generously.

ers Livestock Auction in Abilene.

Since the foundation of the Round-Up, the late Mr. Wylie kicked off each year's drive with a substantial donation—as many as 100 of his prize heifers from his famous Charolais-An-gus herd.

"Needless to say, we will greatly miss Mr. Wylie's guidance and support this year, but we are hopeful, too, that the other good ranchers in the Southwest won't let us down," said Charlie Morris of Abilene, who is serving his eighth year as the Round-Up's general chairman.

Operation of the Round-Up is simple — ranchers and stockmen pick out a calf or pen of calves and designate them as his pledge to the 1969 Round-Up.

Contacting his area chairman, he makes arrangements for free transportation to the auction site.

When the cattle go on the auction block, the donor is mentioned, so that the Round-Up has become an event publicizing not only the generosity of stockmen, but the quality of their stock.

In addition to Mr. Wylie's prize winning donations, top livestock in the past have come from former President Lyndon B. Johnson, then a U. S. Senator, West Texas Chamber of Commerce President J. Fike Godfrey of Spur, and Hollywood Actor Rex Allen.

Top bulls from some of the state's leading ranches have also gone on the block to help raise funds for the WTRC's operation. Last year's Round-Up netted just over $71,000 for the Center, and officials are hoping for more of the same this year.

"It'll take a lot of good 'Santa Clauses' for us to reach our goal," Morris quipped, "but we'll do it. The children served by the rehabilitation center have grown used to the services that are provided primarily because of this Round-Up. We're going to see to it that they have their 'Christmas' again this September."

In operation for more than 16 years now, the WTRC has seen the demand for its services grow in overwhelming proportions — and the services had also increased.

Its purpose is to serve all handicapped in various rehailitation services, and patients come from far and near, many settling in Abilene or the surrounding area simply to bear the outstanding facilities.

Providing treatment to all handicapped without regard to race, creed, age, or financial circumstance, the Center offers the following services to all patients referred by a licensed physician or some other accredited referral agency: physical, occupational, speech, educational and language therapy; audiology, psychometry and pre-vocational evaluation.

The WTRC also offers six special diagnostic and evaluation clinics in physical medicine, general neurology, pediatric neurology, learning disorders, otology and orthopedic disorders.

Tremendous Response To Prayer Room Fund Noted

Knox City — Mrs. Lea Reeves, bookkeeper and business manager at the Knox County Hospital, told this reporter that the response in donations to the Hospital Prayer Room has been tremendous.

The hospital staff and area residents have agreed with ministers in Knox County and surrounding counties that the need for a prayer room at the hospital has been one of long standing.

The ministers met recently with the hospital administrator and discussed possibilities and plans for such a room. They found that a small room could be made available for that purpose but funds for furnishing and re-decorating it would need to be secured from other sources.

It was agreed among those present to offer area residents the opportunity to make donations to a special fund set up for this purpose. The story was carried in three area papers last week and those already making contributions included Mrs. Burns Ray, Munday; Mrs. Joe Reeder Jr., Knox City; Mrs. O. B. ## ASC Elections Will Be Held In September Consideration is now being given to naming candidates for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation community committees. That's the report from the County ASC Committee chairman, Arnold J. Navratil, who said the community committee elections will be held the third week in September.

Chairman Navratil expressed hope that every eligible farm voter will participate in the election activities. He said, "This year it seems especially important that farm owners, operators, tenants, and sharecroppers not only vote in the community committee elections, but also nominate and work for candidates of their choice."

ASC county and community committees handle the local administration of farm programs such as crop acreage stabilization and commodity price supports. The local committees are the connecting link between the individual farmer and Washington so far as farm programs are concerned.

Mr. Navratil said, "As national needs and concerns change, farm programs also change. We need community and county committee members who will give all the time and effort needed to provide fair, effective, and knowledgeable administration of programs which are often very complex. We need the best possible representation of farm interests in our area."

The ASC Chairman said that details on nominating and electing ASC committees will be widely publicized in the near future, and that complete information may be obtained from the Knox County Office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Benjamin Fire Dept. Recipient Of Check

The Benjamin Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Charles Griffith, P. O. Box 236, Benjamin, Texas.

The money will be used for purchase of equipment.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Benjamin Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

Report From The Governor

The two houses of the Texas Legislature have considered a great many different taxing approaches during the Regular Session and the Special Session, and have not passed any yet.

There are few who would argue that, if this state is to continue to provide essential services to its citizens of the sort they desire and deserve, new revenue raising methods must be sought.

On my part, I have made three personal appearances before the 61st Legislature, including two in the Regular Session, to make recommendations and suggestions about new forms of taxation and increases of present forms. Each of these appearances was an unpleasant duty for me to perform, but each was, nonetheless, a duty.

It was a duty because the State Constitution requires that the Governor make recommendations for financing state government, and because I recognize that we cannot, as a state, afford to cut back on the services we offer our people.

Thusfar, none of my recommendations or any other taxation proposals have been adopted. The House of Representatives and the Senate have each passed a different tax bill. The bills have differences that are not, in my opinion, too great to be bridged by reasonable compromise. Any tax bill is unpleasant for legislators as well as for taxpayers. And any tax bill requires compromise.

I am confident that the Legislature can and will approve a fair and adequate two-year bill this week. I would accept any of the taxes that have been passed by either House during the Special Session, and I would accept any of the taxes that I have recommended if they were passed by the Legislature.

Holiday Safety Message From Highway Department

There is still plenty of hot, summery weather ahead. But for all practical purposes, the long Labor Day weekend marks the end of summer for millions of Texans.

Many of them will take to the highways, off to the final summer outing before school starts. For their safety and convenience, some 69 thousand miles of superb Texas highways lay before them - modern travelways to every part of the State.

To maintain easy access to almost everywhere, the Texas Highway Department must continually improve and upgrade highway facilities. In fact, on any given day of the year, there are some 1,000 miles of highway facilities under construction.

Construction areas, however, pose special problems to travelers, even though the Highway Department makes every effort to move traffic quickly and safely through and around construction areas.

The Highway Department urges you to call to the attention of your readers and listeners construction zones in your area. Repeat them as often as possible and include a reminder to be alert for warning signs.

Tax Man Sam Sez

If the credit men's association had an annual award for the profit that collected the greatest percentage of accounts there wouldn't even be a contest. Internal Revenue would have to be declared the winner by a wide margin every year.

It sounds like the tax folks are fumbling around when you read the stories about the millions declared "uncollectible." When you take a look at Internal Revenue's record of 2/10 of 1% declared "uncollectible" out of $168 billions collected, it looks a little different. However, getting on the "uncollectible" list is only a temporary blessing.

If Internal Revenue has your tax account marked "uncollectible" about the only way that you can keep it that way is to die - or never earn any more money - because as soon as you become able to pay, Internal Revenue is usually able to collect.

Darren, Dennis and Damon Albus of Abilene spent week before last with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Verhalen in Knox City and Mrs. Loretta Albus in Rhineland while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Albus flew to Albuquerque, N. M. for a vacation. Mrs. Albus spent last week here and took her children home Friday.

There are always those who say they will not vote for any tax bill. And there are always those who will not vote for a specific tax bill because it contains or does not contain a certain item. But there are usually enough others with a broader outlook to reach a realistic settlement.

The Governor, the House, and the Senate have, I believe, already agreed in principle on enough items to finance adequate appropriations over the next two years.

Some members of the Legislature have, however, seemed more eager to insure that the Governor is blamed for whatever taxes are passed than they have been to discharge their own responsibilities. The question is not who is to blame if taxes pass, but who is to blame if they fail, and we are forced to cut back on state services. The answer will be evident.

I hope a decision will be reached on taxation and appropriations in time for other important legislation, such as the creation of needed new courts and adequate provision for the preservation of antiquities, to be considered. However, time is quickly slipping away. The Special Session, by law, must close by midnight, August 26.

The conference committee, appointed by the leaders of the House and Senate to resolve the differences in the two tax bills, held its first meeting Tuesday and adjourned without beginning its discussions.

Shortly after the close of the Special Session, I shall hold a series of regional meetings over the State for the express purpose of personally reporting to the people on what this Special Session accomplished and what those things had to be accomplished for Texas.

Cotton Pickin's

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

In any discussion of the problems facing farmers today, some one soon brings up the pressing need for farmers and farm organizations to get together.

Texas' cotton farmers, at least, appear to be well on the road, according to a report from Weldon Rodgers of Paducah, who represented Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a recent meeting of all six chartered cotton producer groups in the State.

The six-member Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations, meeting in Dallas August 13, adopted resolutions creating a Texas Insect Control Steering Committee, opposing a blanket repeal of the seven percent investment tax credit, and reaffirming its position favoring a modified extension of the current cotton program for years beyond 1970.

Rodgers, RPCG director from Cottle County, noted that the insect control committee will investigate the feasibility of a coordinated, state-wide control program for the cotton boll weevil and possibly for other cotton pests.

Both the Rolling Plains and South Texas areas of the state have already instituted some form of coordinated weevil control based on the success of the diapause control program practiced on the eastern edge of the High Plains since 1964.

Rodgers said "If such a program covering the entire state were found to be practical it would be more effective than the measures now being used. And it is the purpose of this committee to investigate that possibility."

Named to the committee were Bob Heard, Executive Vice President of the South Texas Cotton and Grain Association, chairman; Ed Dean, Director of Field Services for Plains Cotton Growers; Charles Bragg, Executive Vice President of Rolling Plains Cotton Growers; Dan Pustejovsky, President of Blacklands Cotton and Grain; and J. B. Kirkin, Executive Vice President of the Trans-Pecos Cotton Association.

on the investment tax credit repeal measure, adopted by the House and soon to be up for

Senate consideration, Rodgers said "It was the feeling of TAPCO members that repeal of this tax break for agriculture and small businesses is something we can ill afford in view of declining prices and rising costs."

The six member organizations pledged to work both individually and collectively for retention of the investment tax credit for agriculture.

Rodgers also reported there was full agreement that with production costs in the cotton industry well above market prices, some form of government help is required if producers are to continue to supply consumers with needed quantities and quantities of cotton.

"And it was the consensus of those present that the present program, with some changes, is the best system yet proposed for bolstering cotton producer income and assuring adequate production," Rodgers said.

Bond Sales Reach 37% Quota In '69

July 1969 sales of United States Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Knox County totaled $11,075, according to a report from the chairman of the Knox County Savings Bonds Committee, January thru July sales totaled $59,547 and this is 37 percent of the 1969 goal of $160,000.

"Bond holders should be aware of two facts and give consideration before redeeming for non-emergency or planned purposes."

"One - accrued interest on bonds must be declared on Federal Income Tax returns in the year Bonds are cashed and, two. The Department of the Treasury has proposed to Congress a new higher rate of 5 percent on both E and H Bonds retroactive to June 1, 1969. The 5 percent rate would also apply to all outstanding bonds."

"People should remember, too, that Savings Bonds are sold to be redeemed so there's a steady rate of redemptions at all times for emergencies, planned expenditures, and education and retirement purposes. In addition the unique tax advantages of U. S. Savings Bonds make them especially attractive when fully understood by the bond saver.

"The $52 billion outstanding is a major brake on inflationary forces and represents 23 percent of the publicly-held portion of the Federal debt."

Texas sales during the first seven months of 1969 totaled $104,261,845 - a decrease of 2.4 percent from 1968 when sales were $106,830,122. Sales during the month totaled $15,058,788 compared to $15,862,130 during the same period of 1968.

Nationwide, investments of United States Savings Bonds were 3 percent below a year ago for the first seven months; however, July investments set a 13-year record for the month, totaling $419 million.

The Home Demonstration Council yearbook committee met in the home of Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, August 20, to complete plans for the 1970 yearbook. Present at the meeting were Mrs. A. L. Roden, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode and the agent, Mrs. J. R. Brown also on the committee was unable to attend.

The programs for 1970 have been planned and arranged in chronological order. The yearbooks will go to the printer in early October and will be handed out to members at the council Christmas party in December.

All Home Demonstration Council members are reminded to attend Council, Friday, September 5, 2:00 p.m. at the courthouse Assembly Room. Since there was no regular meeting in August, there will be quite a few items on the agenda. It is important that all attend so that plans can be made for fall activities.

All junior 4-H record books must be turned in to the county office by September 15. Any record books received after that date will not be eligible to be judged in District competition. Any 4-H'ers who have carried a 4-H project this year can enter their record in the competition. If you need any record forms, you can pick them up at the county office in the courthouse.

Did you know that September is "Better Breakfast Month"? Well it is - and what better time to be reminded of the importance of eating a good, well balanced breakfast? The children are starting back to school and it's a well-known fact that they will need that little extra push in the morning to get them going and keep them going until noon. A good breakfast will do the job every time. You owe it to them, to your husband and to yourself to see that everyone receives at least one-fourth of his daily calories and protein needs at breakfast.

People who skip or skimp on breakfast feel let down in mid or late morning. Work output is lower. Weight control efforts are more difficult when breakfast is skipped. When you don't eat breakfast, notice how the ole' stomach growls pretty loud before noon and the hunger pains start? Then when you finally do get to eat, you over-load and take in more calories than you really need. Therefor, if you are skipping breakfast to lose weight, you are probably defeating your own purpose.

But, you say you just can't stand the sight of eggs in the morning? Well, there's no law that says you HAVE to eat breakfast food for breakfast! For a change of pace, fix a hamburger, or whatever does appeal to you. The important thing is that it be nutritious and enough of it to pull you through those long hours until noon.

So give it a try - in September, eat a better breakfast. Who knows? It may develop into a year-round habit.

Home Falls Floor Texans

Austin - Many of Texas' senior citizens are looking at the world upside down, the Texas Safety Association said today, explaining that older Texans aren't really orbiting the earth, but they are tripping themselves up in falls.

A review of the first reports received in a one-year study of accidents among the aging being conducted by the Texas Safety Association for the Governor's Committee on Aging shows falls which occurred in and around home to be the leading cause of injury. More women were victims of falls than men.

Most older folks tripped over furniture, limbs or sticks in the yard, or slipped on throw rugs and highly polished floors.

To avoid falls around home the Safety Association suggests senior citizens observe the following precautions:

- * Store frequently used items between hip and eye level so you don't have to reach or stoop to get them.
- * Remove slipping hazards, such as throw rugs and low furniture from traffic areas.
- * Wear well-fitting shoes and clothing that does not dangle or trail.
- * Wipe up spills and pick up objects dropped on the floor immediately.
- * Light stairways and use sturdy handrails on both sides.
- * Put grab bars in the bathroom near the tub, shower and water closet.

By Herman Collier

SWINE PRODUCERS TOLD MANAGEMENT IS THE KEY TO SUCCESS

Dr. Donald B. Hudman, Extension Service Swine Specialist from Texas A&M University, told Knox County producers that good management is a must for a successful pork producing enterprise. Hudman was the speaker August 21 at a meeting held in the Munday Chamber of Commerce, where producers from Munday, Knox City, Benjamin, Gilliland, Rhineland and Goree attended.

Dr. Hudman devoted most of the program to the management of the brood sow and pigs to weaning size. This phase of swine production requires many managerial skills of the operator. Selection and feeding of breeding stock is very important to produce 9 to 10 meat type pigs to weaning. For commercial production the 2 way or 3 way cross have been proven to be more efficient to feed. Popular breeds for crossing in Texas are Yorkshire, Hampshire, and Duroc.

From breeding until farrowing time sows should be limited on feed, with enough to keep them healthy, but not fat. Farrowing equipment should be designed to help save pigs that are farrowed. Farrowing houses should be cleaned and disinfected with the house vacant for a minimum of two weeks between farrowing groups.

Scours is a major problem in producing pigs in large numbers. Many times treatment of the sow just before and after farrowing with broad spectrum antibiotics does a good job in controlling this problem. Atrophic Rhinitis is another disease problem which affects the health of young pigs and causes many to be poor converters of feed.

PECAN WEEVILS

Pecan producers should be on the alert for the destructive pecan weevil. The adults begin emerging from the soil in August and early September and begin feeding on the developing nuts. Feeding punctures cause the nuts to drop. The females puncture the pecan hull and deposit their eggs. The grubs feed on the kernel and destroy it. Local county agents can supply detailed information on the insecticides to use for control and precautions about their use.

FOOD IMPORTS

One-eighth of the things we eat come from other countries. W. E. Black, Extension economist in marketing and policy, says latest figures from the USDA points out this fact. It is true, he adds, some of the imports are in competition with American producers but most are foods which we wouldn't otherwise have and many are among our favorites. For example, coffee, tea and cocoa are among our favorite beverages. Spices and tropical fruits, such as bananas, are other imported items used in great quantities.

A&M SCIENTIST REPORTS ON NEW POTATO RESEARCH

Exposing Irish potatoes to heavy concentrations of carbon dioxide gas had led to increased yields in research conducted at Texas A&M University.

Dr. D. R. Paterson of A&M's Soil and Crop Sciences Department said carbon dioxide gassing of potatoes is still in the laboratory stage, but the practice may someday have practical application as a treatment of stored potatoes. Some produce, such as strawberries, is already being handled and shipped under controlled atmosphere conditions.

The horticulturist found in his studies that exposing non-dormant Red LaSoda tuber halves to an atmosphere of greater than 50 percent carbon dioxide increased sprout growth and yield compared to untreated pieces of the same potato. Gassed halves also had a higher rate of respiration.

He emphasized that the better sprout growth and yield is

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Wife Versus Parents

If a bridegroom is lucky, his bride and his parents will work out their new relationship in sweet peace and harmony. But what if they don't—and he is "in the middle"? Where do his duties lie? By and large, the law says his wife comes first. Take this case: A man was haled into court by his wife for non-support. In his defense, he explained:

"I give every nickel I make to my elderly parents. I just feel they need the money more than we do."

But the court decided this was no excuse, and ordered him to start taking care of his wife. The judge said she had first claim on his earnings.

A similar principle applies to the family domicile. A man accused his wife of desertion, after she walked out on him. But in court, she pointed out that she had good reason for leaving: her husband allowed his mother not only to live with them but also to run the household with an iron hand.

Ruling in the wife's favor, the court said:

"When a man marries and founds a new family, he assumes new duties. When these conflict with his former ties, they must be held paramount. The very existence of the family depends on this principle. Whatever his filial obligations may be, a man may not bring his mother to reside in his new home. That place belongs to the wife."

Nevertheless, the law does not insist on total estrangement of a husband from his parents.

In another case, a man brought his ailing, elderly mother into his home—partly for the sake of sentiment, partly for the sake of economy. However, it was his wife, not his mother, who had full charge of managing the household.

Was this husband falling down on his marital obligations? This time, a court said no. The judge said that, although a wife does rank as Number One, she still must make fair and reasonable adjustments to reality—to make the marriage work.

God created us with infinite potential to be self-motivated, forward-looking, positive-minded individuals. In looking beyond the mist of doubts, fears, and anxieties, we will find new and miraculous ways to use that inner power that comes from Spirit. Do not hesitate to minimize problems. As we minimize the appearance of negation, real opportunities for growth, progress, and success become revealed.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

The function of government is not to mollycoddle the consumer. All that properly can be asked of the state is that it protect us from dangerous products, from outright fraud, and from deliberate deception. At that point, the pull and haul of a free society ought to be allowed free play.

School's Open Drive Carefully

Thousands of children are headed back to school full of nervous excitement - but with little thought for safety. And so again, joining with law enforcement officials throughout the state, the American Automobile Association urges extra care during the first few weeks of school. Colorful announcements with the slogan "School's Open - Drive Carefully" are posted throughout Texas communities to remind parents and motorists of their responsibilities as school begins.

Traffic accidents kill more children between one and fourteen years of age than any other cause. Because kindergarten and first grade youngsters, many on their own in traffic for the first time, suffer most of the school route injuries, AAA suggests that parents walk with their children on the opening day of school, making sure that their children are familiar with traffic aids and regulations and use guarded crosswalks whenever possible.

Driving children to school only adds to the confusion around school areas, creating more hazardous conditions. Even though children should learn traffic rules, the major traffic responsibility consistently falls on the driver. AAA pleads with all drivers to help protect the lives of school children this year by driving with particular care everywhere children might be playing or crossing - and especially near school areas.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1934

MUNDAY WILL PLAY WICHITA ALL-STARS HERE NEXT SUNDAY
Skipper Lee Haney has matched a game for Sunday afternoon with the Wichita Falls All-Stars, and states that the Munday team will include a number of stars in the Wichita Valley League. Lefty Hambricht and Dot Pittman will likely do the hurdling for the local outfit and a complete line-up will be had that will offer the visitors stiff competition. Lennie Kuehler, who recently returned home from Palestine, where he has been playing this summer, will be at short, Coody catcher and a strong line-up in all positions will confront the strong Wichita aggregation. The game will be called at 3:30.

THE SUNSET GLOW
Freshman Reporter - Fuller Shannon

This is exam week, and we have our first high school tests. Needless to say, we are burning plenty of midnight oil. However, it seems that not even oil can straighten out these algebra tangles, because

"The more we study, the more we know. The more we know, the more we forget."

CASUAL COMMITMENT

Truthfully speaking what most people want is an easy religion - one that is not too much in the way of other things, one which does not make monumental demands of our money, time and affections. It is tragic that many seek religion for decoration purposes and not as the very framework of our lives. It is also disheartening that many ask only one thing of their families, friends, their religion: "Do not try to change us!" However, Christianity calls for a change of mind and life (Rom. 12:1,2), of will (Acts 3:19), and of state, (Gal. 3:27).

Some seek to excuse themselves from the more difficult life of sacrifice by considering themselves "good people." Even Jesus refused this epithet. (Mt. 19:17). The true Christian is a confessed sinner (I Jn. 1:8), but one who continually seeks cleansing by Christ's blood through commitment to the way of light. (I Jn. 1:7). The religion of some may not allow for the missing of church services, but it may be permissive with regard to lack of love and sympathy for mankind, self-centeredness, uncontrolled temper and race prejudice. Does your religion allow more or less than New Testament Christianity?

Tax Man Sam Sez:

If you have found yourself wishing that somebody had hanged Alexander Graham Bell with a potato vine when he was a mere boy, consider the Internal Revenue folks. During the recent income tax filing season they had about 300,000 taxpayer calls. More than 125,000 additional taxpayers dropped by for a visit with the good tax folks. Since the Dallas District receives about 1,600,000 tax returns, it would appear that about one taxpayer in four decided to have a few words with Internal Revenue before he voluntarily complied.

Some 49% of the tax returns come from the Dallas-Fort Worth combined metropolitan areas, but 3.4 of all the telephone calls were received at the Dallas and Fort Worth offices. 54% of the visitors also showed up at the big city of-Wichita Falls won the popularity contest among the other seventeen offices, Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene, Odessa, Midland, and Plainview had more telephone calls than walk-in visitors, but the margin was narrow. The farm and small town areas appear to have had more visitors from outside the headquarters city, and these people naturally were walk-in visitors, since apparently they came to town for this purpose.

Tyler, San Angelo, Sherman, Taxarkana, Lufkin, Big Spring and Vernon were in this group. Longview, Brownwood and Pampa bucked the tide for their types of communities and had more telephone calls than walk-in visitors. The next time you feel that you are doing nothing but answering your telephone just remember - it's easy to find proof that Internal Revenue finds time for lots of other things besides talking on the phone.

RIGHTS AND FREEDOM— "It is time to counter the trend of over-applying concepts such as freedom and rights to the point that they are no longer recognizable; time to re-establish the balance between the role of government and the responsibility of the individual. We must affirm the ethics of individual strength and substitute them for collective dependence," said Rep. Olin E. Teague.

(D.-Tex.). "And we must never forget that freedom is not a gift, automatically bestowed, but something not easily attained and difficult to keep."

HOW TO PUT DROPS IN YOUR EYES. Of course the easiest way is to have someone else put the drops in your eyes for you. It is not difficult to do it yourself. First tilt your head as far back as possible, or lie flat on your back. Then, look up at the ceiling. Close one eye and center the dropper over the other and squeeze the drops into the eye. Finally, close your eye and gently massage for a few strokes. Do not touch the dropper to your eye. This may contaminate the remaining drops. YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts. A. L.
