

The Mystery of a Hanson Cab

By FERGUS W. HUME.

Begin in No. XLVII of THE STAR.

A few copies of the first chapters on hand.

CHAPTER VII.

Brian took a dislike to the new comer the first time he saw him, for Mr. Fitzgerald was a student of Lavater, and prided himself on his reading of character.

Whyte was not in the carriage except to look after the horse. He sat in the seat, and when the carriage stopped, he got out and walked to the door.

"What is the matter with you, dear?" she asked, placing her hand on his arm. "You are not looking well."

"I am all right," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I have been up late last night."

"You must rest," she said, "and I will take care of you. I will call a doctor if you do not get better."

"No, no," he said, "I am not ill. I am only a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"You are not looking well," she said, "and I am very much alarmed."

"I am all right," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

"I am not ill," he said, "but I feel a little tired. I will go to bed now."

"I will stay with you," she said, "and I will not let you go to bed until you are better."

THE ELECTION IS OVER. The Old Reliable Grocery House. S. L. OGLE. Is still on hand with a larger stock of -GROCERIES-

Than ever. If you want Groceries, Farm, Ranch or Trail Supplies, bring me your orders. I Guarantee prices against any house in the west.

Pure goods and AT LOWEST PRICES. THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure."

CAUTION TO MOTHERS. Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paregoric. It creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind of the child.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. It is guaranteed by R. Phillips.

PEOPLE EVERYWHERE Confirm our statements when we say that Acker's English Remedy is in every way superior to any and all other preparations for the throat and lungs.

J. H. HOFFMAN, BAIRD, TEXAS, House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER. A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Our Safe Family Doctor. A Safe and Reliable Remedy in all Cases.