SPRING STYLES

"HERMANWILE FRESHMAN CLOTHES"

"HERMANWILE FRESHMAN CLOTHES"

Clever designing creates both style and fit in Clothing---but the best designer of clothing on earth can't supply quality unless the cloth used in the garments is all-wool quality. Our Spring and Summer Suits boast of sufficient style and fit to satisfy the most exacting dresser and when we say "plus all wool" we mean that the fabrics will stand the acid test. Perhaps the most interesting thing we can say is, our prices for this "plus quality" are no greater than stores that offer you clothing of inferior grades.

MARRIED

Last Wednesday evening, shortly after dark a large auto was driven up in front of the home of Rev. A. D. Jameson and Mr. Ray and Miss Beessie Haley, who claimed Baird as their home requested the preacher to unite them in marriage. They produced the right kind of paper and the ceremony was said.—Moran News.

The many friends of these popular young people extend to them congratulations and good wishes on this happy occasion.

Special Notice

By request, Dr. P. W. Cain will relate a circumstance of a conversion similar to that of Saul. This event occurred only a few years ago and will be of interest to all. The incident shows that the power of the Holy Spirit is as great today as it was in the time of the Apostles. We hope all members of the class will be present. Visitors welcome.—Bible Class, Methodist Sunday School, April 2d.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

BURNT BRANCH CULLINGS.

We told you you would hear from "Jeff," but this time he was turned down, terribly worsted, greatly disfigured, but claims he is still in the "ring." The "Cyclone" has abated, and come around like a little man. And Dies is at home looking after his fences, and found the cows in the field. "The Eagle" has withdrawn and soared away to be numbered with the things that were; but not now, and still the world moves on. Culberson, Shephard and the rest of the Texas delegation so far as I know are strictly in line, but the forks of the creek are yet to hear from.

As Uncle Jimmie says "real estate changed hands" with a whoop Tuesday, without deeds as a matter of course. Let her blow, these are dreaded facts for March and like the extra fat fellow who who was being measured around the girth for a pair of pants with a 56 inch tape line, you can't get around it.

Some corn planting in progress around the Terminal, only "maybeso" come up.

Squire's Duncan and Odum of Cross Plains are hauling feed from their farms to the city.

Bryson shipped a car of stuff Wednesday.

Cris Parsons is dipping his hogs as a precaution we presume. They seem lively after the plunge, though perhaps a little chilled.

Oh the grain, the doubtful grain, we hope to never see the like of it again.

The booze racket is a thing of the past as we fellows are financially embarrassed. But just wait for a soaking good rain then there will be a hot time in the old town.

Uncle Jim Coffman is getting so fat and lazy, his weight is something over 300. But Uncles Epp and John are bone and sinew.

The representative of the Mercantile Co., of the City of the Woods was out today consulting about "past dues and unpaid."

Co. Com. Yeager of Putnam is among us interrogating the boys on their wealth. He spent the night with ye scribe. He seems a pleasant gentleman and a good and reasonable assessor.

Neglected to note the visit of Rev. Davis last week. He goeth and preaches far and near.

Many thanks to The Star force for a kind invitation to visit them weekly. I love the entire force; and sorter like the old "war hoss" Uncle Bill if we don't exactly agree on religious, political and war matters. Uncle Bill's a Methodist and a neutral, while I incline to that faith which is for war if necessary for the good health of the government. We need exercise, you know.

"Old Whiskers" as The Star man calls him, seems to have his back up. He and his following are about as capable of self government as the Comanche Indians who once paraded the "breezy west."

Wide awake Jim Bennett of Cross Plains, has put in a grist mill propelled by gasoline.

Rev. Smith and son of Cross Plains called to pay respects, thanks call again.

Uncle Bill's "Old Whiskers" has now got his back down, his Commander is now to act with the U. S. troops to capture Villa, who could do a blamed sight more without his assistance.

If you raise your corn and hay
You can make your farming pay
If you raise your eggs and ham
Then your wealth won't be a sham
If you raise your eggs and milk
Then your wife could dress in silk
From the Dallas News, reproduced

A Mexican paper reports: "Villa takes Texas and New Mexico and were pressing north, while President Wilson and family were making the run of their lives for Canada." May they make a safe landing is the wish of "Juan."

The Anti Saloon League being short on material, had to send clear to Nebraska to get a man to launch their campaign in Texas in the person of W. J. Bryan, ex-Secretary of State, ex-candidate three times for President and all the "Ex's" the world is heir to.

DEEP CREEK NOTES.

Mar. 26th.—Mr. Editor, as you have another poet from the Creek I will take down my sign and hope our friend, Earl Martin, will continue to send in his poems, and I will write the news in this way which I guess most people had rather read than my awkward way of writing. And Mr. Martin has got me skinned a city block, anyway.

Dry, dryer, driest, is this right, if it isn't I don't want to see the other word. We are as dry as we can be so it seems to me.

Grain will soon be a thing of the past in our locality. We can plant feed and won't have that to buy next year.

Provided it rains to make, guess we will have an over production of of cotton and cheap lint this fall. We can't raise peanuts on the prairie so it has to be feed or cotton.

We have plenty of water on the Creek yet and stock is holding up fine. Grass is going to be short in some localities that is overstocked, if it does not rain pretty soon.

Mrs. Mollie Massey of Ft. Worth, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Hart.

Milton Slaughter of Baird was on the Creek on business the latter part of the week.

Homer and John Boatwright, Tom Wylie and W. K. Boatwright were in our Capitol City in their Fords, Saturday.

Mr. Clinton and family visited at R. C. Wylie's the last of the week.

The young people enjoyed an entertainment at Oscar Lawson's Saturday night.

Oil derricks keep coming a little farther up the creek. We may have a rich oil field all over this country some day, who can tell?

Putnam gets lots of Deep Creek visitors on Tuesdays and Fridays. These are cream days, in other words cash days. We get 30c for our cream, beats churning at 15 and 25c doesn't it?

Every farmer has some turkeys and we will be ready to sell some one a good Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner and have some spending money ourselves.

O how anxious we are, O how it would make us proud

To see the rain falling from a heavy dark cloud.

—Star Poet.

EULA LOCALS.

Well Uncle Billie we dry as H— out here. We had a good shower the other night but these sand storms we are having plays thunder with a small rain. Farmers are sitting around waiting for a rain so they can plant corn, but don't think there is any use planting anything till we get a rain.

We were called to the Eula Cemetery Sunday to pay the last respect to Nettie Snelson, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Snelson. Nettie was 7 years old and was a sweet child and loved by all who knew her.

Mrs. Tipton has returned from Oklahoma, where she has been visiting her sister for sometime.

Uncle Bill, I see you are going to have a Dollar Day at Baird Saturday, April, 4, I think I will come down and meet with my old Baird friends again. I don't often go to Baird but I often think of the good people there.

We are doing some good road work out here. You know I sure advocate good roads and I am always willing to put my shoulder to the wheel to help build them.

W. T. Pool made a flying trip to Abilene in his new Ford.

The First to Combine Bridled Force and Scrupulous

Performance blent brilliantly with price puts the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers at $1050 in a position that cannot be challenged.

This is the model of which 600 merchants bought $22,000,000 worth in 40 minutes on the day of its unveiling in Detroit.

It wedged itself into the cluttered market in a manner that I have never seen approached.

The energy of this 3400 r. p. m. engine delivers 60 miles an hour—all the speed you dare use—without exacting a burnt-offering of wasteful fuel consumption.

Chalmers Service does not begin when a car pauses in front of the service station that bears the Chalmers Monogram. The principles of Chalmers Service dominated the designing and building of the 3400 r. p. m. from the moment the dream of it began glimmering in the brains of its engineers.

Despite the return of prosperity to the South, I don't ask you to buy a car that delivers might at staggering C. O. D. rates.

By making every gallon of gas kick in with 18 miles of the smoothest going, it makes might wed mileage.

And the by-product of this extraordinary union is a

FOR STATE SENATOR.

Judge C. R. Buchanan, who is now serving his fourth term as county judge of Scurry County, announces his candidacy for state senator from this district subject to the action of the democratic primaries in July.

Judge Buchanan has been identified with the interests of West Texas for the past twenty-three years and stands high in his section as a man of honor and integrity as well as a capable and trustworthy man in public affairs. He was twice elected county and district clerk of his county, and served as clerk in the senate of the 32nd legislature. His broad experience fits him pre-eminently for the office to which he aspires. He favors constructive legislation and a fair and equitable redistricting of the State into congressional and senatorial districts.

STARTING A DAIRY HERD.

The first thing of importance in starting a dairy herd is the selection of foundation stock. We mean by that: Get a few high grade milk cows and a good, pure bred dairy bull. The latter is of the most importance, as the bull is more than half the herd for all the calves will be his offspring, and, even if this bull should cost as much as two or three cows, be sure to get a good one and see to it that his mother was a good producer.

It might be possible for a number of neighbors to go in together and buy a bull that would do for all their herds; however in the event of a number of farmers buying what might be termed a "community bull" it would be best for one farmer to take care of this animal and be responsible for his care at all times.

Then, each farmer shall raise the heifer calves from the best cows and in a few years, if care is taken, he will have a very profitable herd of dairy producers. Of course, nearly every farmer has a few cows of some kind, and, while they may not all be good ones, some of them would do to start with, and through selection and culling he could in some way get a start.

To be profitable, a cow should produce over 500 gallons of milk and 200 pounds of butterfat per year. This is only an ordinary cow, and every farmer should strive to get better ones all the time and thus build up his herd.

Cows can be purchased in almost any section of the North, but for various reasons, it is better to get them near home as possible. These cows will stand the climate better, and be cheaper in the long run than cows from farther north.

If the farmer has no money with which to buy cows, it would no doubt, be possible for several of them to get together and induce the local bank to buy these cows and allow the farmer to pay for them on the installment plan. In all cases, where the bankers are broad-minded and far-sighted enough, they will readily see that this plan would work out for the future good of the community; for, in the long run, it really means the re-establishment of soil fertility, and the upbuilding of agriculture in general.

COWS OR COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER.

The practice of taking from the soil and making no return has gone to the extreme. That a different method must be followed is recognized not only by many thinking farmers, but by the merchants and bankers whose prosperity depend directly on the prosperity of the farmers.

Many sections of our State find the yield of crops much below what they were ten years ago, and it is time to commence to realize that if we keep our land up to where we can find profitable results from farming, we must build soil fertility. Dairying is the one branch of agriculture recognized as sufficient to bring back and sustain soil fertility, and give the farmer a product that will bring cash at all times of the year; and, as a consequence, creates a better all-around business condition.

Legum crops may be grown and commercial fertilizer used in improving the land, but it has been demonstrated that those sections of country where the farmers follow dairying and the feeding of those crops they produce back to livestock, have the surest and best way to sustain and build up the soil.

(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 2

CONVERSION OF PAUL.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:1, 31 (See also Gal. 1:11, 17; 1 Tim. 1:12, 17).

GOLDEN TEXT—Faithful is the saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.—1 Tim. 1:15 R. V.

No other man, save our Lord, has made such an impress upon history as the "Jew of Tarsus." Read carefully and repeatedly Acts, chapters 9:22, 23 and 26.

I. Saul the Man. (1) Physically. We know but little of Saul (see Ramsey, Conybeare and others), but we know from his labors that he was a man of tremendous vitality. Distant Damascus knew of his work (v. 13) and he himself testifies as to his activities (22:3-26:11). (2) Religiously he belonged to the strictest of the strict, the Pharisees (26:5-9-11). His anger at Jesus and the disciples was a consuming passion; literally, he "breathed threatening and slaughter" (v. 1). In all his violence he was conscientious, but yet he was awfully and terribly wrong, and what is more, his actions were not alone against the disciples but against Jesus (v. 5). (3) Politically Saul was perfectly legal in keeping the law and in his executions in the name of the law. Doubtless a member of the Sanhedrim (26:10), his hatred knew no pity; it included all who believed in Jesus. (4) Mentally this man transcends all who have ever followed Jesus. A man of intense convictions, a slave to a misdirected conscience, a titan of gigantic force and power once in the right channel.

II. Saul Saved. (1) This man was first humbled (v. 4). God put forth his hand to save the elect at Damascus, though he let Saul go a long way in his mad career. When he did act, it was "suddenly" and by means of the glory of Christ's resurrection (v. 7, 1 Cor. 15:8). Though it was "about noon," yet this glory outshone the brightness of the Syrian sun (ch. 26:13). Many who speak bold blasphemous words would also be cast down did they but really see his glory. (2) Saul is not left thus stricken, but it is called from above (v. 5). The question of Jesus (v. 4) was a most startling one and that, with the answer to his honest inquiry, convicted him of what must have been a lurking suspicion in his mind, viz.: that he was wrong and Jesus was truly the Messiah.

III. Saul Sent. The first evidence of the change wrought in Saul was: (1) Obedience (v. 8). His companions heard but did not understand. There is no contradiction (v. 7, Acts 22:9), as this is the translation used elsewhere. Saul is given three days for meditation (v. 9), and he made good use of the time. (2) Praying (v. 11). The result was (3) a vision (v. 12) (not only one, as there are others recorded) which resulted in changed individuals and nations. But his vision was (4) a thorough commission (v. 15). (a) to the Romans—"kings," (b) Greeks—"Gentiles," and (c) Jews—"children of Israel." Along with his vision and commission there was given enabling power, the endowment of the Spirit. The agent God chose for the bestowing was Ananias, not an official, merely "a certain disciple." The gift of the Spirit for power and service is not necessarily by the "laying on of hands." It came to Mr. Moody as he walked the streets of New York without earthly companions. But the other conditions were fulfilled, a repentant, prayerful man and a ready and obedient servant who, though filled with fear and protest (v. 13, 14) yet takes God at his word and goes at once to his task. As we read verses 17 and 18 we discover that this special filling of the Spirit was very evidently given to Saul before he received Christian baptism—read the order of events carefully.

IV. Saul Serving (1) At Damascus. Saul is given refreshment (he always lays emphasis upon the body) and straightway began to testify to the amazement of the people. From Gal. 1:15, 17 it is plain that he did not remain all of the time in the city, nor did he at once return to his friends in Jerusalem. This period is similar to the "hidden years at Nazareth" which our Lord spent ere he began his ministry.

It was a time of rest, reflection, analysis, meditation and formulation of his "gospel" (Rom. 3:19-28).

(2) At Jerusalem. His testimony was distasteful at Damascus (v. 23-25) and so he sought Jerusalem, only there also to find distrust and rejection.

Then Barnabas did a great work for the Kingdom by showing his brotherly fellowship and trust and becoming sponsor for him to the early church.

It was not long ere he had to flee Jerusalem and finally return to his childhood home, Tarsus (v. 31).

Saul the Pharisee becomes a preacher of the Cross, the Master Empire-Builder.

Let this lesson be a trumpet call to the unconverted in your class and school. The same Jesus is calling today for other lives of service and testimony.

CONFEDERATES ANGERED

Confederates are angered over Cyclone Davis' speech printed in the Congressional Record in which he denounced Jefferson Davis, W. L. Yancy and Robert Toombs as worse than thieves and robbers. The following committee report was adopted by Camp Sterling Price No. 31 U. C. V. of Dallas, last Sunday evening.

The Camp has called a mass meeting to meet at the City Hall next Sunday of Confederates, sons and daughters of Confederates to take such action as they may see proper to resent this insult by a Southern Congressman J. H. (Cyclone) Davis to the leaders of the south and through them to every loyal son and daughter of the south.

Following is the report of the committee, which was adopted:

Commander and Comrades: We your committee appointed to investigate the matter of a recent speech by the Hon. James H. Davis, Congressman at Large from Texas, beg leave to submit the following report: "We find that on Feb. 2, 1916 Mr. Davis desired to make a speech on the question of 'the Mexican situation and national defense,' but under the rules was not allowed to speak, but was granted the usual courtesy of extension of remarks in the record. This extension of remarks appeared in the Congressional Record of Feb. 5, 1916. He stated in the opening sentence that he had carefully considered and written out the 'extension' remarks.

"The first portion of his 'extension remarks,' carefully considered and written was a tirade of abuse of the moneyed interests of whom, to use the language he adopted, 'gathered their wealth by all forms of iniquity,' and he said it was 'the leading envoys of this class who met at a certain banquet a few weeks ago . . . representing untold millions of loot extorted from helpless people.' Another title he gave these moneyed people was 'the American plunderbund,' and he further said: 'What Brutus was to Caesar, what Judas was to Jesus, they are to this Republic: When William L. Yancey, Robert Toombs, Jeff Davis and others met to extend slavery by the annexation of Mexico and Cuba as slave country south of Mason and Dixon's line and later to secede from the Union to save their special privilege to appropriate the labor of slaves as legal, they never had a more damnable design on American liberty than that bunch that met at that millionaire carouse, And the slave traffic, with all its infamy, never represented more than one-tenth the wealth said to have been represented in that goldbound, diamond-tipped cabal of conspirators. When the slave masters met they, with complacent, aristocratic minds, covered their sordid, knavish designs under the sweet and sacred terms of State's rights. God bless General Miles, that brave old veteran

"These are the facts in the case as copied verbatim from the Congressional Record of Feb. 5, 1916.

"Your committee respectfully suggests and proposes that a committee of three members of this camp, a committee of three sons of Confederate Veterans and a committee of three Daughters of the Confederacy be appointed to memorialize the state organization of their respective organizations to take this matter up and begin an active campaign to acquaint every Confederate veteran, every son and grandson of a Confederate ex-soldier of the facts (above enumerated), that they may know the exact sentiments of James H. Davis, Congressman at Large, and the opinion and estimate in which he holds the revered leaders of our Confederate cause, of their fathers and their blessed mothers, the adored fathers and mothers of our Southland.

HOME COMING AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday, March 26, 1916, was the second anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. L. O. Cox. It was made a Home-Coming Occasion, and despite the very disagreeable weather, large congregations were in attendance.

There was an all day program, and subjects of vital interest to the welfare and progress of the church were ably and interestingly discussed.

The musical part of the program was exceptionally good and well rendered.

There was roll call at the 11 o'clock hour, and at 3 p. m., an hour was devoted to a memorial service in memory of the members deceased during the past year.

The Church has received into its fellowship during the two years a total of 102 members, 38 of whom have been received by baptism.

The Church has contributed for various causes as follows: Home expenses $3,576.00; To Missions $557.70; Buckner's Orphan Home $484.55; Sunday School $212.00; Education and miscellaneous $291, making a total of $5,121.25.

Insurance has been paid for on both the pastor's home and church property for three years. The church building has just received two coats of paint on the outside, and the inside has been freshly repapered and revarnished throughout including the furniture. The church is out of debt and happy.

Along with the material progress of the Church, there has been a marvelous spiritual growth and advancement among the membership.

In all departments of the Church there has been splendid growth and development. All the work is well organized and in the hands of capable leaders.

The pastor and his people love and trust each other, and are starting into the third year's work confidently hoping to do far greater things for the glory of God and the salvation of the lost of our little city.

CITATION.

To The Sheriff Or Any Constable of Callahan County-Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon John C. Bell, whose residence is unknown, to appear at the next regular term of the Justice Court for Precinct No. One in said county of Callahan, to be held at my office in the City of Baird in the County of Callahan at the court house thereof on the 24th day of April, A. ## INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 23

EASTER LESSON.

LESSON TEXT—I Cor. 15:1-28.
GOLDEN TEXT—Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep.—I Cor. 15:20.

If teachers can impress indelibly upon the minds of their scholars the fact that Jesus rose from the dead and is as truly alive today as when walking the hills of Galilee this repetition of the Easter story will not be in vain. For the pupils to take notes of the points of the argument and to recite upon those notes at the end of the class hour would greatly help to fix the facts in their minds. This account considered today is perhaps the oldest written record we have of this great fact, written about 56 A. D., hence the significance of verse six.

I. The Triumphant Fact (vs. 1-4). If Christian workers would be more familiar with this passage they would more intelligently understand what the term "Gospel" means. The fact of the resurrection loomed larger in Paul's mind than the virgin birth; the former was and is the greater miracle. This, one of the supreme chapters of the Bible, tells us what the Gospel is, and what its results are to be. (1) What it is. Not a new cure for tuberculosis, nor a new social environment, but the good news of one who was God incarnate (Paul does not use his earthly name Jesus), Christ the Anointed One, who died for our sins just as the Scriptures had foretold, and was buried. On the third day, "according to the Scriptures," He rose again and is now and ever shall be alive. Any Gospel that ignores the incarnation, passion and resurrection of Jesus is false to the Scriptures and a lie. (2) The result of preaching or testifying to this great program is twofold: first, salvation, "saved, restored to right relations with God;" and second, perseverance, "wherein ye stand." The "God story," good news, evangel or gospel—they are all the same—is "the power of God unto salvation," and the strong doctrine of the resurrection will cause men to walk straight, to stand upright. "Christ died for my sins according to the Scriptures" (Isa. 53:5-10).

II. Witnesses to the Fact (vs. 5-12). Paul (v. 3) received the resurrection truth from many witnesses, whom he proceeds to enumerate, for it was not a matter of his own invention. The incredulity of the disciples at the first is frankly recorded (Luke 24:12). Jesus did not appear first to John, Pilate or the Sanhedrin, but to a woman, and the change of the apostles from a spirit of despair to that of confident, joyous certainty was most astonishing. There are eleven recorded appearances of Jesus after his resurrection, and not one of them was made to his enemies. Paul does not mention all of the appearances. He is probably naming only those persons, witnesses of his appearances, with whom he had conversed, or at least a few from each group. (1) Peter, referred to indirectly in Luke 24:34; (2) the apostles, to be exact, the first ten, Judas being dead and Thomas absent; (3) the apostles with Thomas present; (4) five hundred, the only record of this great company, though perhaps implied in the "brethren" of Matt. 28:10. "Half a thousand witnesses are enough to establish any case." Of these the greater number were alive twenty-five years after the event; (5) James, probably our Lord's brother, the honored head of the Jerusalem church; (6) "Then all the apostles," a larger circle than the twelve (see Luke 28:48, Acts 1:6-8). This may have been the appearance in the morn at the Sea of Galilee; (7) "me also."

III. The Fact Applied. (vs. 13-20). The Corinthians, to whom Paul was writing, did not deny Christ's immortality, but seemed to deny that the same power which had raised him could be applied to us who are only human. Paul answers this by presenting four arguments:

(1) The resurrection of Christ proves the possibility of the resurrection from the dead, if only of Jesus. The Sadducees taught the contrary. The Stoics taught that the dead were re-absorbed in God. To say Christ is not risen is to claim death as annihilation, to destroy faith in Jesus (v. 14) and to impugn the testimony of those who had seen him (v. 15). A dead Christ means dead Christians (v. 17) and our heaviest sorrow will be to face the grave (v. 18).

(2) The Christian is "in Christ," and his resurrection carries ours with it. Paul's emphasis upon this term "in Christ" (vs. 18, 19, 22, 23 and elsewhere) is important to note.

(3) Christ, the second Adam, brings life; our common human nature dies like as the first Adam, but our second Adam rose and "in him" we live.

(4) If Christ conquered death only for himself it was no real victory, nor could he give back to the Father a redeemed world.

Death is the last "enemy," for until sin is banished it will be present (Rom. 6:23).

TO PACK POULTRY

Specialists Urge Unusual Care Preparing Fowls.

Methods Recommended Which Essential to Perfect Product Any Time, Especially When Weather Is Unfavorable.

Poultry packers are urged by specialists of the United States department of agriculture to give equal attention to preparing and packing their birds for shipment, particularly if the mild weather, which has been widely prevalent this autumn, continues. The poultry specialists say that the weather conditions in many sections have been very similar to those which prevailed in the autumn of 1913 and which, as poultry shippers will remember, proved disastrous to all packers who did not dress, chill and pack properly.

The specialists, therefore, recommend the particular observance of the following methods of handling dressed poultry, which are essential to a perfect product at any time and are of vital importance whenever weather conditions are unfavorable:

Methods of Handling Dressed Poultry

1. Keep the holding batteries for your incoming stock clean, well aired, and free from vermin, and see that the chickens have plenty of fresh water and plenty to eat.

2. Don't kill a chicken when the crop is full of feed. Give the chicken only water for 24 hours before it is killed. Food in the crop or in the intestines of a dressed chicken causes loss of flavor and hastens decay, which more than offsets any gain from extra weight.

3. Good bleeding is absolutely essential to a good appearance on the market and retards decay. Circular 61, bureau of chemistry, department of agriculture, explains the best methods of bleeding and loosening the feather muscles for dry picking.

4. Hang the chicken by both feet while picking. Hanging by one leg spoils the shape of the bird. Picking on the lap gets the skin dirty and hastens decay.

5. Dry pick if possible. Scalding is particularly undesirable because it hastens decay.

6. Chill every dressed bird until the body temperature is below 35 degrees F. Never pack or ship an imperfectly chilled bird. More decay is due to imperfect chilling than to any other single factor in dressing. Dry chill, if possible. Chickens cooled in water lose flavor, decay sooner, will not cold-store as satisfactorily as dry-chilled, and are in every way more undesirable on the market. Refrigerator cars will carry well-chilled goods in good condition, but they cannot chill warm goods to a sufficiently low temperature.

7. Pack in boxes or small kegs whenever possible. A large barrel makes an undesirable package, because where poultry is packed in large masses the weight of the upper layers crushes the birds at the bottom.

8. Line all packages with parchment paper and cover the top of the poultry before the lid is put on.

9. Wrap every head in suitable paper so that blood from one bird will not mar the appearance of another.

10. Use only good refrigerator cars and see that they are in good order.

Ice and salt the car 24 hours before loading. The car, at the end of 24 hours should show a temperature below 40 degrees F. at a point four feet above the floor and between the doors.

General Suggestions.

Never handle chickens roughly, either before or after killing. Rough handling causes bruises, broken bones, scarred skins, and soft places in the flesh. Undue haste on the part of the killers and pickers results in lowered keeping quality and poor appearance of the product.

Piecework, which leads to quantity rather than quality, makes for lower prices on the market. Those who pay by the piece should remember that of 50 per cent on for to exceed 600 bales, located at interior points, including farms, compared to the amount heretofore charged. In addition to this reduction the fire insurance agents agree to give a further reduction of 15 per cent on all cotton stored in warehouses operating under the Warehouse and Marketing Law. This concession is in line with good, sound business principles, for the merchant who insures his stock of goods against loss by fire, is required under the law to keep books, including an invoice of his stock and produce same in case of fire to base his claim on. Under the Warehouse and Marketing Law, the manager of a warehouse is required, under his bond, to protect the product against exposure, and the receipt must give the weight and grade of each bale of cotton stored, basing the same on the samples taken by bonded and disinterested ginners. Books must be kept in a safe place, showing the full transactions of the association. The cotton under the same law is required to be carefully ginned and wrapped and the moral risk is materially lessened, especially as it is made the duty of the Warehouse and Marketing Department to see that all the requirements fixed by law are complied with by the Warehouse Association. The insurance companies appreciate these facts and, hence, have made the reduction to 50 per cent of its original amount on all warehouses of a maximum capacity of 600 bales, with the additional reduction of 15 per cent on all warehouses under the supervision of the State Warehouse Department.

To give an example of what the efforts of the Warehouse and Marketing Department will save for the interior warehouses, which ultimately comes out of the producers' pockets, suppose there are a million bales of cotton—one-fourth of the Texas crop in warehouses—the saving in insurance alone will be $1,006,250.00, for 12 months. If cotton is held for only six months, of course, one-half of the above amount would be the amount saved. Can any unbusiness mind say there is no virtue in co-operation? The above uncontrovertible figures should be an object lesson and an argument that there is power in co-operation, and success to those who adopt the co-operative method of housing and marketing their farm products.

Co-operative Warehousing and Marketing Associations conducted under the laws of Texas will eliminate the following:

- Loss in weight.
- Loss in grade or classification.
- Loss in measures.
- Loss in weather damage.
- Loss in fire.
- Loss in sampling.
- Loss in insurance premiums.
- Loss in time.
- Loss in loans.
- Loss of middleman.

MAKING THE IDEAL REAL.

Our readers will recall that there has been a great fight made against the provisions of the Warehouse and Marketing Law in so far as they relate to the old methods of ginning and sampling cotton. However, the warehouse law has stood every test in the courts. The Banner presents in the picture above the contrast between the old method of wrapping and handling cotton and the method which the law seeks to put in force. It must be remembered that henceforth cotton must be wrapped completely to comply with the law. No exposed sides, no ragged ends. The Banner believes that when we have learned by one or more seasons' experience the value of the provisions of the law, we will wonder that anybody ever had the "nerve" to oppose a change of these provisions.—The Troup Banner.

United States for years, but they never showed it openly until the Spanish war. All patriotic Americans, not blinded by their preference for the entente allies, hope that we will have no war with Germany and there will be none unless officials of Germany deliberately provoke trouble with our government—perhaps to extricate themselves from the predicament they find themselves in in trying to dominate all Europe, if not the world.

PROSPECTIVE BREAK WITH GERMANY

President Wilson notified Congress in joint session Wednesday that he had sent an ultimatum to Germany as a culmination of the submarine controversy with that government that has dragged along for a year. Germany is notified that unless she at once changes her ruthless submarine warfare against passenger and freight vessels so as to protect the lives of non-combatants and passengers of neutral nations on the sea, that he will sever diplomatic relations with Germany. The ultimatum may or may not result in war between the United States and Germany; but it is now all with Germany.

Pancho Villa, the Mexican bandit, is in an awful plight. He is dead, with one leg shot off, and is running through the cacti at a speed of fifty miles a day, with Uncle Sam's cavalry in hot pursuit. This information was obtained from the daily papers, which always tell the truth. It's nothing short or cruel to make a one-legged dead man travel at such a gait.—Honey Grove Signal.

Cyclone Davis started out all right with his speech in Congress, but he stayed too long and went too far. The bewhiskered Congressman started with Brutus and Caesar, which was a fine starting point. After flaying Mr. Brutus to a queen's taste, he should have landed on Judas Iscariot with both feet and pawed up all the ground where Judas' bowels were scattered. Having worked himself into a weaving way, it would have been no trouble at all for Cyclone to have dropped a bomb of rhetoric on Benedict Arnold that would have made the earth tremble. But Cyclone reserved his 42 centimetre shots for Jeff Davis, Bob Toombs and Williams L. Yancey. And the gun kicked Cyclone into kingdom come, scattering his whiskers from Cape Cod to Hilo, even as the winter winds scatter the leaves of autums.—Honey Grove Signal.

CALL FOR FARMER'S INSTITUTE MEETINGS

Austin, Texas, April 15th, 1916

To the officers and other members of the County and School District Farmer's Institutes of Callahan County:

J. W. Neill, Director of Institutes and H. L. Bentley, Assistant, will hold County and Local Institutes at the following places and dates:

Baird, April 26, 3 p. m.

Clyde, April 27, 1:30 p. m.

Everybody is invited to attend these meetings, and it is especially desired that all officers of the county and local institutes attend.

The new program will be explained, and plans made for a more vigorous campaign be submitted.

Various topics of vital interest will be discussed and a large collection of insect pests will be on exhibition. The department of agriculture is continually broadening the scope of its work, and with the co-operation of the people can render a more effective service. We must co-operate to control the markets and insect pests. To co-operate means to organize. Come to these meetings and bring the wives and children.

Fred W. Davis, Com. of Agriculture

Referring to the above invitation we wish to join him in urging the officers of our County Farmers Institutes and the School District Institutes of the county, and the farm people generally to attend the meeting Wednesday April 26th in the Court House in Baird at 3 p. m. and at Clyde on Thursday, April 27th at 1:30 p. m. Let us all get together and perfect our Farmer's Institute organizations in this county.

G. H. Brame, President
S. E. Settle, Secretary,
Callahan County Farmers Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Syd McGee and Mrs. W. C. Asbury, of Admiral, are Baird visitors today.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Al Young, of Eulg, on Tuesday, April 18, 1916, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Pratt, of Big Springs, are visiting relatives here this week.

E. C. Fulton left on No. 3 Wednesday for New Mexico where he goes to look after some ranch interest there.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mercer, of Atwell, visited Mrs. Mercer's brother, W. J. Ray of Baird, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Feeler have returned from South Texas, where they were called about two weeks ago by the death of Mrs. Feeler's father, Mr. Dennis.

B. L. Boydston shipped a car load of hogs to market last week. They brought 9.35 gross, total amt. for the car $1,584.32. There is good money in hogs and the more our people raise, the better for all.

In this issue is the announcement of Dr. R. G. Powell as a candidate for reelection as Representative for the 108th, District, Callahan and Eastland Counties. Dr. Powell is serving his second term and has been strongly solicited by friends, both in this and Eastland county, to become a candidate again, and he will go before the people in the July primary. Time and space prevents a more extended notice of Dr. Powell's candidacy this week, but suffice to say that he has been faithful and efficient; served with credit to himself and the district.

BURNT BRANCH CULLINGS

My observation is when a man goes back to his old "stamping ground" after an absence of twenty years few people remember anything about him and fewer still care a darn.—Snapshots, Not long ago I visited my old "stamping ground" of over 30 years ago, and what was left greeted me kindly, the old timers especially, and with a "God bless you."

"But few were left to greet old "Juan"

And few were left to know Who stamped with me upon the green

Some thirty years ago."

But God bless the living and peace to the memories of the departed friends of long ago.

We are getting our stuff in shape since the rain which was badly scattered owing to the past dry and scarcity on the water question. But we are in the swim now.

"It's dry as H— out here, "Uncle Bill."—My little sister from Eula. Tut, tut, Sister, didn't I tell you to go to Sunday School and let your Uncles "Jimmie and Juan" do the cussing?

"Our Star Poet" has subsided in a poetical way and is superceded by Earl Martin of the Creek. Success Earl, and may the shadow of our Staff never grow less.

That good big sister of mine is coming this month. She is a great admirer of The Star and says she wants to get acquainted with the whole blessed force, and visit Dr. Collier, that grand old pioneer preacher who baptised her in infancy

The picture of four Texas farm women in the Dallas News shows three very plainly and of the fourth is only visible the lower edge of her skirt and her nose.

"Fritz" passed in a gallop, never stopped.

Business of various dementions since the rain, but won't the grass grow now and the old cow, mule and hoss.

Harrows are in big demand since the grand rain, that's right, drag that blamed cloddy land.

George Baum of the Brightwell ranch commenced on the tanking business, but the rain relieved him. And Spencer who daily watched the boys is now relieved of his job with nothing to do but tend the chickens and milk the cows.

Don't know how long my friend, Capt. J. O. Hall will stay, must investigate.

They say that Arthur Young with Will thrown in for good measure, Nick Brightwell, the Hall contingent, and all the rest of the boys have smiles on their faces as long as the blind leg of a Texas mule and all the effects of the rain. And the farming element are simply in the swim if it is a little cool, which somewhat retards business.

Hold your ear to the earth and hear the grand sound! "Cross Plains has water now."

My heartfelt thanks are due and extended to old friend Arrowood and Hon. Milton Houston for their kindness to me during the drought.

The continued cold weather has retarded the growth of grass, and the cold rains have materially drawn stock, none reported lost however. We need sunshine and a little good feed would not be amiss. Like "Uncle Jimmie's" ox story none die from heat, but some might freeze to death.

"Kalamity,, Bonner brings a terrible inditement against the Prohibition party of Texas and if he mistakes not, they should be retired for all time to come, unworthy of consideration. Just read the last Harpoon and see for yourselves and be governed accordingly.

Charley Conner, the famous Watkins man, called yesterday with his "goots and tings."

It is cold today with a vengeance, maybeso moderate by night.

Considerable frost which will greatly damage if not kill the fruit crop.

Hon. Milton Houston had some needed work done on the Baird road, via Cottonwood and purposes to assist us people on the road question to the extent of his ability.

"Juan" on the sick list the past week, maybeso die sometime; then what! echo answers. They say salt and whiskey is extra good as a tonic. You take the salt, Uncle Bill and I'll take the booze.

When you go to the Terminal now days you pull the mud, but are relieved of the flying sand.

The Dressy country is said to be muchly wet.

Mrs. Wilson of Dressy has returned from the west where she visited relatives.

Jack Aiken is buying cattle for Davis, Garner Co.

COTTONWOOD LOCALS

Tuesday, April 18.

We have had rain and the farmers are just as busy as bees, some planting and some harrowing. You see some of the farmers had their corn up, and are now harrowing it while others had not planted and were waiting for rain, but we presume the corn crop is now planted. Next in order now is maize, feterita, cotton and peanuts. We think we are going to have a convention soon and crown the Peanut, King of all.

This morning it is real cloudy and the prospects are good for another "lay off" for the farmers, and the the forty two and checker players will have a time. We have some players here, we don't know whether they play the game well or not but they are "stayers."

Well yesterday was Trades Day at Cross Plains and we old fellows that are too old for any good at home or any where else, attended, and we met that old Veteran of news paper correspondents, and also a battle scared Veteran of the Sixties. He looked well physically, (don't understand we think he looked pretty,) and is good for several years in journalism yet and for a short scratch, and with something blue to shoot at he could show with telling effect what he learned in the sixties.

Last Saturday was old Veterans day, and it was resolved at that time to invite the daughters to meet with us at our next meeting which will be May 13th, and we would like to have them organize too. On the 20th, of May it is our intention to decorate the graves of Veterans buried at Cross Plains and one week later will decorate those at Cottonwood. Uncle Billie, you with the entire force and who are so minded are invited to attend.

Our school at Cottonwood will close next week at the close of the week, with three nights entertainments. The Cottonwood band is supposed to furnish music for the occasion.

Our cream station under the management of Pro. H. A. Varner is growing in amount of business and we are pleased to say is proving to be a convenience to the people and is encouraging a very profitable branch of industry.

A very small infant of Will Chatham was buried at Cottonwood Monday, April 10th. The little fellow escaped the toils and troubles of this world and has gone to enjoy the pleasure of an cternity. Our condolence and sympathy to the parents.

Judge Robinson, of Cottonwood, is finding sufficient idle moments in his official duties to paint the new bank building and under the skillful touch of his brush, the building is presenting a very pleasing effect.

Miss Beulah Respass, whose school at Burkett, in Coleman County has closed and she is again at her home in Cottonwood.

Grady Respass, school will close at Deer Plains Friday, April 21st.

Cottonwood is developing another barber in the person of Mr. Hardie Murdock. When it comes to barbers and schools teachers, Cottonwood is first

For want of something to say we just "gotta keno."

"Uncle Jimmie."

A SERIOUS SUBJECT.

The sparkers are looked upon by parents generally, as a nuisance and generally they are right.

Nine-tenths of the sparking is done by boys who have not their growth, and they look so green that it is laughable for the old folks to look at them.

They haven't generally a second shirt, and they are no more qualified to get married than a steer is to preach. And yet marrying is about the first thing they think of.

A green boy without a dollar present or prospective, sparking a girl regularly and talking about marrying, is a spectacle fit for gods and men.

He should be reasoned with, and if he will not quit it until he is able to support a wife, and to know whom he loves, and the difference between love and passion, he should be quarantine or put in a convent erected on purpose for such cases.

Nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages are the result of green human calves being allowed to run at large in the society pasture without any yokes on them.

They marry and have children before they do mustache; they are the father of twins before they are the proprietors of two pair of pants, and the little girls they marry are old women before they are twenty. Occasionally one of these gosling marriages turn out all right but it is a clear case of luck.

If there was a law against young galoots sparking and marrying before they have all their teeth cut, we suppose the cusses would evade it in some way, but there ought to be a sentiment against it.

It is time enough for these bantams to think of finding a pullet when they have raised enough money by their own work to buy a bundle of laths to build a hen house. But they see a girl who looks conning and they think there is not going to be girls enough to go around and they begin to put in their work real spy before they are aware of the sanctity of the marriage relation they are hitched for life and before they own a bedstead or a cook stove, they have to get up in the night and go for a doctor, so frightened they run themselves out of breath and abuse the doctor because he does not run too: and when the doctor gets there he finds there is not enough linen in the house to wrap up a doll baby.

It is about this time that a young man realizes that he is a colossal fool, and as he flies around to heat water and bring in the bath tub, and go after his mother or her mother, he turns pale around the gills, his hair turns red in a single night, he calls high heaven to witness that if he lives till morning, which he has doubts about, he will turn over a new leaf and never get married again until he is older, and in the

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

morning the green looking "father" is around before a drug store is open, with no collar on, his hair sticking all over his blood-shot eyes and his frame nervous, waiting for the clerk to open the door so he can get some saffron to make tea.

Less than a year ago he thought he was the greatest man there was anywhere, but as he sits there in the house that morning, with his wedding coat all rusty and shiney and his pants frayed at the bottom and his coat patched at the elbow and the nurse puts in his arms a little roll of flannel with a baby hid in it, he holds it as he would a banana, and as he looks at his girl wife on the bed, and knows there is not enough provisions in the house to feed a canary, a lump comes into his throat, and he says to himself that if he had to do it over he would leave the little girl at home to grow up with her mother, and he would wait until he had six dollars to buy flannel and ten dollars to pay a
