Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Spring is bustin' out all over!

Despite the fact that we had below-freezing weather about two weeks ago, it looks like we're in for some hot days ahead.

The cool front which came in Sunday night, bringing temperatures down to around 50 degrees, we take as our Easter spell and the weather will level off after this.

Despite the fact that we seemed to have just jumped from winter into summer, we're going to call it spring until summer arrives officially. You know we had the official debut of spring during some of the coldest weather of winter, so why can't we have summer in spring — just like we've already had?

Nature puts on her full dress in the spring, and she's in her dressing room right now adding some of the colorful array. A drive about town and on to Knox City to visit some of those in the care home, we noticed some of the wonders of nature being pictured about the countryside.

Texas' official flower, the bluebonnet, had started bursting into bloom, lilac bushes and some of the shrubs have begun flowering, a number of blossoms are showing among the many iris gardens about town.

Trees are putting on their greenery, pecan trees have budded and the mesquites are coming out, which probably means we've had our last freeze of winter. It's very rarely we see a mesquite killed back by a freeze.

Besides that, most of the 'tatters have come up to a good stand, and those agricultural reporters have started announcing the soil temperatures of the area over radio. Everybody is just about ready to spring into action for spring — and this includes clean-up and paint-up for some areas.

It seems the grass almost peeped through overnight following the rain Friday night.

We met Dr. John E. Storey, the young physician who has become associated with the Knox City Clinic, Knox County Hospital and the offices of Drs. Eiland and Howell in Munday, one day last week.

Dr. Storey was visiting briefly in a Munday drug store last Thursday, prior to going out to check on the bloodmobile activities at Rhineland. We introduced ourselves as "The Munday Times Man," and during the conversation, Dr. Storey remarked: "Well, I enjoyed reading about myself!"

We, along with many other people and including some very busy doctors, welcome Dr. Storey and his family to our area and are proud that he decided to cast his lot among us. It's easy, we imagine, for doctors to go to large cities and specialize in a special field rather than do general practice, but the time will never come when we in smaller towns do not need doctors.

You needn't expect to come to town next Monday and have your choice of places to shop. Indications now are that most of the merchants of Munday will be closed next Monday in observance of a brand new holiday for us—Easter Monday.

Those in charge of determining the holidays for Munday seemed to want a holiday somewhere between January 1 and July 4, so they decided to go along with the local schools and observe "Easter Monday." The schools will also be closed on Friday of this week.

We voiced our opposition—to the detriment of some—when we learned of this action. Not only are we opposed to Easter Monday, but to any other holiday that interferes with us bringing our readers the paper on time. In fact, our candid opinion is that holidays are costly to business, no matter what day they fall on. Generally, too, they cause us to make up for the time lost the next day.

But we'll continue to have holidays. Our opposition is kinda like being opposed to Christmas—it'll come, anyway!

On October 28, 1919, the Volstead Act became law over the president's veto.

NEWS . . .

Bulletins

Announcement is being made this week that Osborne Distributing Co., is now open for business, being located in the J. E. Reeves building. A formal opening will be held when a complete stock of merchandise is on hand.

Travis Hannah, formerly of Vernon, will serve as manager of the store. He has been with the firm some five years.

Distributors of farm, home and auto supplies, Osborne's is presently operating in Vernon, Altus, Okla., and Munday.

Most merchants of Munday will be closed next Monday in observance of "Easter Monday," a new holiday for the Munday area.

This date was set by a committee of the Munday Chamber of Commerce to offset the long non-holiday period from New Years Day to Independence Day and to give management and employees an added day of rest and relaxation.

Cotton planting, wheat saving moisture which has been heartily welcomed has fallen over Knox County during the past few days. Several showers had brought an inch of moisture or more to most communities.

Munday received the bulk of rainfall last Friday night, up until last Tuesday night's and Wednesday morning's activities. H. P. Hill, local U. S. Weather observer, reported better than two inches at this time.

When the ground dries enough, farming activities will be hitting high gear over all of the county.

Farmers Hear Of Methods To Control Insects

Between 60 and 75 interested persons attended the cotton insect control meeting held Tuesday night at the Munday school lunchroom. This was one of several meetings scheduled for this area.

A meal, catered by Underwoods of Wichita Falls, was served at 6:30 p.m., and sponsored by a number of Munday and Knox City firms.

Joe Doby, county agent, was in charge and introduced the four speakers on the program.

Norman Britts, extension farm management specialist of Vernon, gave an interesting talk on farm management in cotton production. He showed slides, giving various management practices such as the amount of fertilizer to use for profitable results, skip-row planting, etc.

Charlie Davis, entomologist of Dallas, showed a film on destructive and beneficial insects that affect cotton from its earliest stages throughout the growing season. He told of ways to poison the harmful insects without destroying the beneficial ones.

J. C. Hill of the Rolling Plains P. C. A. office in Stamford gave a brief report of the progress made by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., which was organized in Knox City several months ago in a united effort to fight the boll weevil. Mr. Hill stated the organization now includes 30 counties, from Oklahoma to San Angelo, and would soon be making great strides in carrying out the control program.

Principal speaker of the evening was C. B. Spencer of Dallas, agricultural director of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association. He dwelt on three important things that effect cotton production: the weather, farm management, and area-wide weevil control. He urged a study of annual rainfall to plant at a time when moisture could be utilized to the greatest extent, and said the weevil can be whipped by farmers planting at the same time, and the right time. He did not recommend planting cotton in this area before May 1.

Many people felt this meeting worth while and felt they had received information that could be put into practice.

Firemen To Sound Storm Warnings

The tornado season is again upon us, and members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department have announced that the fire siren will again sound storm warnings for people of the Munday area.

One continuous blast of the siren will mean that a dangerous cloud is approaching, with possibility of high wind, hail or storm of some kind. This does not mean that a tornado has been sighted, but will be just a warning to Munday citizens of a storm possibility and that they should keep an eye on the approaching cloud.

THE CREATORS

The Indianapolis Star, in an eloquent editorial, expresses its agreement with President Johnson's statement that his Great Society would not "flow spontaneously from swelling riches and surging power. It will not be the gift of the government or the creation of Presidents."

Americans who have a knowledge of the world, says the Star, " . . . know that Presidents and governments did not create the skyscrapers, jets, homes, farms, cars, industries, missiles, space vehicle, nuclear submarines, nuclear weapons, music, drama, sports, literature, schools, universities, medicine and scientific achievements that are measures of our power and abundance.

"Nor did they create our free institutions or our love of liberty."

What, then, has been the wellspring of our greatness and our achievements? The Star's answer is the one that almost anyone with a knowledge of the forces of history would give, and it takes only two words—individual initiative. It was this that discovered this country, explored it, developed and protected it from enemies within and without and looked always ahead to greater days and finer times.

Presidents and governments can help, but they cannot create. That is done by individuals—free individuals—in their infinite numbers.

TAX-RAISING SPREE

Tax reductions, accomplished and pending, are given a vast amount of publicity. That isn't true of tax increases.

As an example, increases in the social security tax will, for large numbers of taxpayers, wholly or largely offset any federal reductions. And that is not all. Here is what U. S. News & World Report has to say: "State legislatures are headed for a tax-raising spree like nothing ever seen before if they follow their Governors. All across the country, Governors are calling for increases in sales taxes, income taxes, cigarette taxes, many others." More money, it seems, is wanted for just about everything—highways, education, health programs, welfare plans, and so on.

The much-heralded federal tax reductions are designed to spur consumer spending, business investment and generally to pour new financial horsepower into the economy. But it is certainly obvious that tax programs which put dollars into one pocket, while taking as many or more dollars from another pocket, can hardly prove helpful.

The need is greater than ever for cost-cutting that will permit real and honest overall tax reduction. And that goes for government at all levels, from Washington down to the villages.

FLYING HIGH AGAIN

Kite flying has been one of the more harmless and inexpensive pleasures which people have long enjoyed. For hundreds of years, it has been a national pastime in Asiatic countries, sometimes connected with religious ceremonies or superstition. The Chinese, Japanese, Koreans and others developed complex kites resembling dragons, butterflies, fish, even musical kites—their construction and flying became and remains an art in itself.

The process is much simpler in this country. But the winds and weather of Spring are bringing the usual tens of thousands of high flying kites attached to an equal number of children.

We should all be reminded that there are hazards in this sport and every parent and child should be familiar with some of the important "DON'TS" of kite flying:

Don't use tinsel string, wire, or any twine with metal in it. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail. Don't fly a kite in the rain. Don't run across streets or highways while flying a kite. Don't fly a kite over TV or radio aerials or near electric power lines—if a kite becomes entangled in electric power lines, leave it there and don't touch the string or in any other manner attempt to get it down.

Whether you are flying a dragon or a butterfly or one of the familiar diamond shapes from the corner grocery store, these safety "Don'ts" still make sense. They spell the difference between safe fun and possible serious injury.

WAITING FOR HANDOUTS

What is the ultimate effect of a welfare state on the individual? A striking and unusual little editorial which recently appeared in the Richmond, Virginia, News Leader helps answer that question: "In Mount Rainier National Park, Wash., a ranger cautions visitors against feeding the animals. The ranger explains that deer grow accustomed to visitors' handouts and lose the ability to fend for themselves. Bears, he says, come to believe that free food is their due—and become grouchy and violent if they don't get it. Chipmunks and squirrels congregate where handouts are supplied, and thus upset the balance of nature.

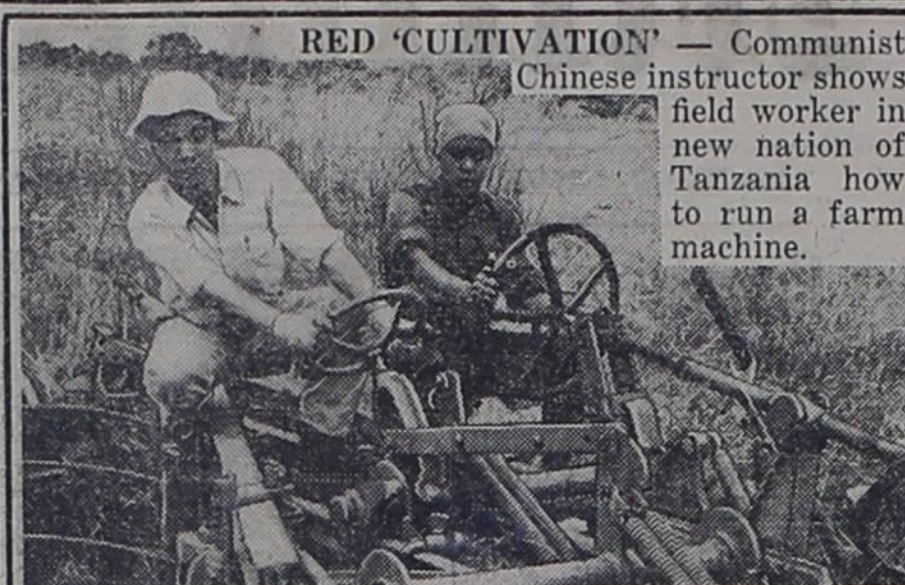

"There is a lesson here for people—and for their governments."

There certainly is—and it's about the most important lesson we can learn. The welfare state is the enemy of individual pride, individual responsibility, individual initiative and individual freedom. It makes for a faceless mass of human statistics, waiting slyly for handouts from their masters.

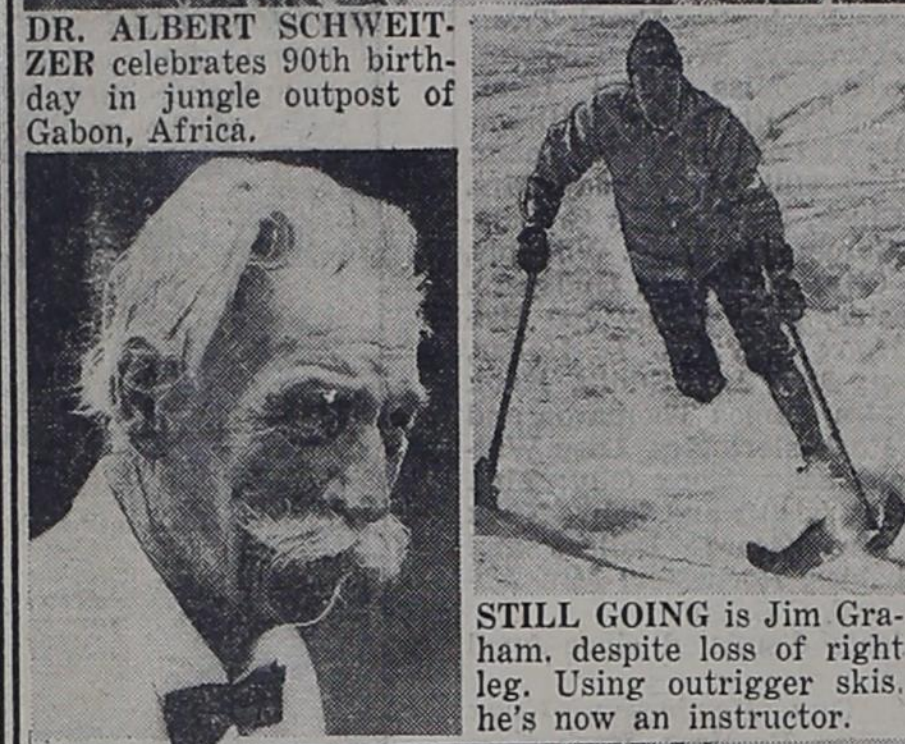

MARYSVILLE, CALIF., APPEAL-DEMOCRAT: "When the richest nation in the world must seriously consider penalizing any citizen who leaves the country as a tourist the sum of $100, then things are in pretty bad shape . . . The $100 head tax is designed to discourage Americans from going overseas and to reduce their spending there if they do . . . The Russians do the same thing, of course. They always have. But . . . there remains—just in case anybody thinks it's still worth mentioning—that little deal called freedom, which the U. S. government is supposed to respect. To restrict the free movement of citizens is not to promote freedom."

Columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak write that, "The cause of (Uruguay's) galloping inflation) is two-headed. One head is a weird system of government, so divided among parties that governing becomes impossible. The other head is a welfare state run wild."

Knox County received a big boost with the rainfall of last week. From all reports, most of the county received in the vicinity of an inch. The dryland wheat really took on a different look. This should be enough to get it out of the boot, which is a most difficult time.

The potatoes are up to a stand after a long time since planting in February. Grain sorghum planting was the order of the day last week for most farmers. Some cotton was planted with this activity expected to pick up considerably this week.

Knox County ranchers are invited to attend a special program in Wichita Falls, Thursday, April 22, beginning at 6 p.m. Dr. Jan C. Bonsma, worldwide authority on reproductive problems of cattle, from the University of Pretoria, South Africa, will present his program on cattle selection. Dr. Bonsma has developed a system of cattle selection on the basis of certain changes in their external appearance.

The program will run from 6-7 p.m., stop for a dutch supper and then continue after supper. It will be held at the 4-H club barn on Hampstead Lane.

Some people swear by pesticides, others swear at them. Usually the difference in the two is what they know about pesticides and how they apply them. Whether or not pesticides harm men, animals, plants, fish and wildlife depends largely upon one person—the user.

By following a few simple rules of safety when using agricultural chemicals, especially pesticides, trouble can be avoided. We would like to offer these suggestions. Follow all label directions and safety precautions. The manufacturer is required by law to properly label his material. The label clearly states what the pesticide is to be used for and how. Also precautions for the applicator's safety when applying the material are listed.

All agricultural chemicals and especially pesticides should be stored under lock and key and in their original containers. If for any reason, the original container is not used, then properly label the substitute. Don't guess what is in an unlabeled bag or bottle. It could be a costly one.

Dispose of containers in a safe manner. Burn paper containers but make sure the smoke doesn't drift on you or your house or a neighbor's property. If the containers are glass or metal, bury them.

Guard against drifting dusts or sprays. Make sure they do not drift into an area where they will be harmful.

And remember, when you encounter trouble with pesticides, about the only person you can blame is yourself.

Monday nights, CBS-TV

"What is the younger generation coming to?" That's a frequently-asked question. Like the answer which goes: "It's turning into the older generation that shortly will ask, 'What is the younger generation coming to?'"

An example of the speed with which youthful thinking and language change can be found in "Bop Fables," a booklet I wrote in 1955 to amuse my sons Stevie, Brian, and David. Still being sold at bookstores, it contains children's classics retold in the musician's lingo of what was then called "bop."

Space science terminology, being a new language, finds its way into this latter-day lingo to such an extent that a West Coast avant garde spot calls itself "The Orbit," and at least one stripper bills herself as the "Anatomic Blonde."

A note of encouragement can be seen in the metamorphosis of "jive" talk. For a while, "Swing" and "bop" were over-worked words before they were followed by "cool" and "crazy." And now there's a trend toward "soul." When it's "in," it has "soul." The word probably is related to the attempt to get back to the racial roots found in folk tunes and gospel music.

If ever there is a successful dictionary of these juvenile idioms, it will have to be loose-leaf to be usable. Such is the wildfire spread of teen-age slang expressions that change weekly. The very essence of being "in" makes it essential that, once these new slang words get into general circulation, they aren't "hip" any longer, and neither is the word "hip."

It was only about 20 years ago that one could be a real swing fan, an "alligator," and be cooking on the "front burner" by referring to a "jitterbug" as "cutting a rug" and being "hep to the jive." The way the kids feel about those decadent dillies is about as we reacted to "twenty-three skidoo."

4-H Girls Learn What To Wear And How To Wear It

"She walks in beauty" could well be the theme of the 4-H Dress Revue program now underway throughout the state. Scores of girls are planning to model in the county, and hopefully, in the state revue this year.

The young models make their own clothes, choose accessories, and are coached in grooming and modeling. Local 4-H Club leaders and county extension agents supervise the work.

Another valuable assist is given by Miss Eleanor Echo, 4-H stylist with Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., sponsor of the program. Miss Echo visits many clubs and helps plan and stage the dress revues.

One of the most rewarding undertakings for club members, leaders say, is learning to appreciate each other's outfit and what to consider in judging the garment and the model as well. "Taking part in a dress revue gives a girl a chance to take a walk around herself," one leader claims.

Even beginners can participate. Their first sewing effort is usually an apron or a simple skirt. Older girls who have devoted several years to the project appear in complete ensembles, smart sports attire or party clothes.

Culmination of the program is the annual dress revue held during the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago. Here 50 of the nation's attractive young ladies model their prize-winning clothes. The prize in this case is the trip to the week-long congress.

A set of dressmaking scissors is presented by Simplicity to the state winners at the congress. County medals are also awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Yarbrough and children of Lubbock were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough.

Miss Jonni Hill of Irving visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hill, over the week end.

Spray new Caparol when planting your cotton to control weeds.

Spray new Caparol* in a band or broadcast when planting your cotton for effective, early-season control of most annual broadleaf weeds... like carelessnessweed (pigweed), annual morning glory, cocklebur, lambsquarter and many other problem weeds.

You'll also get control of many grass-type weeds, such as crabgrass and goosegrass.

Early-season weed control with Caparol means you'll be able to eliminate that first, slow cultivation. So you won't be plowing out or covering up young cotton. All it takes is moisture to move Caparol into the soil.

You can also apply new Caparol after your cotton is up six inches or higher, or at layby. Just direct the spray to the base of the plants and apply to weeds no larger than two inches in height.

Whatever program you decide on, you'll have no soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops when you use Caparol.

Ask your local supplier or custom spray applicator for new Caparol.

In the 20th century, Christianity can progress only by turning to the 1st century.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT came like a hammer blow. It was brief, forthright, and authoritative.

It was spoken near a single ancient city called Caesarea Philippi, but would ultimately influence every city in the world. It was spoken before a small group of men, but would affect every human being until the end of time. It was spoken in the year 29 or 30 A.D., but was meant for the ages.

It was spoken by Christ, the Son of God. What was this announcement? "I will build my church."<sup>1</sup> As far as is known, it was the first time Christ stated His plan to establish the church. As a matter of fact, it was the first time He used the word "church" to describe the formation of a permanent society of His followers.

Yet, the church was planned by God from the beginning of time.<sup>2</sup> During all the centuries before Christ, the church remained veiled, but step by step, age by age, God prepared man for the era when the church would become a reality. God called Abraham and promised that through his descendants all people would be blessed.<sup>3</sup> The Hebrew prophets foresaw the coming church, an institution surpassing all others. Often described by the prophets as a kingdom,<sup>4</sup> it would bear the design of its Divine Originator. It would never become outdated. It would be universal, unrestricted by geographical, political, racial, or social barriers.

THE CHURCH ESTABLISHED

Less than one year after Christ promised to build His church, He was betrayed, condemned, crucified, and entombed.<sup>5</sup>

But three days later, by the most meaningful miracle, Christ was resurrected from the dead.<sup>6</sup> His resurrection overcame death, but more than that — it heralded the beginning of that glorious age planned by God.

Seven weeks following Christ's resurrection, the church became manifest. It was established in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, when the city was filled with devout persons from every part of the world.<sup>7</sup>

To this world-wide audience, Christ's followers proclaimed the Gospel — the good news that a glorious, new age had dawned — the Christian age. For the first time, Jesus was proclaimed as the resurrected Lord and Christ.<sup>8</sup> For the first time, salvation was preached in His name. For the first time, men were commanded:

"Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."<sup>9</sup>

On that day, three thousand persons believed that Jesus was Lord and Christ and gladly obeyed the command to be baptized. On that day, the church came into being.<sup>10</sup> The kingdom long-promised by God had come.<sup>11</sup>

WHAT THE CHURCH IS

The church is people — Christ's people. It is the total of all people who obey Christ, who unreservedly commit themselves to Him, who find peace and joy in His service.

Christ and the church are inseparable. Christ gave Himself for the church, purchasing it with His blood.<sup>12</sup>

What is the church like? It is like a human body. The head supplies the body with its life. The head directs the body. The head saves the body from harm. The head unifies and coordinates the different organs of the body. But at the same time, the head depends upon the body to carry out its functions.

In like manner, Christ is head of the church, which is His body.<sup>13</sup> Christ gives life to the church. Christ guides and controls the church. Christ is the Savior of the church.<sup>14</sup> In Christ, the church — composed of people who differ in race, background, culture, status, and talent — is one.<sup>15</sup> Yet, Christ, the head, depends upon the church, the body, to accomplish His purposes.

The church is the hands, feet, and mouth by which Christ works and speaks within the world.

It is therefore impossible to understand the church without affirming that the church, as the body, and Christ, as its head, are inseparable. This understanding of the church as the body of Christ points out the necessity of being a member of that body.

Any individual who is not a member of the church is not in the body of Christ. This is the doctrine of the New Testament.

BECOMING A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH

In the first century, a man became part of the body when, believing deeply in Christ as the Son of God,<sup>16</sup> he turned from his sin,<sup>17</sup> confessed his faith in Jesus as Lord,<sup>18</sup> and submitted to baptism, that act in which he was immersed in water in the name of Christ.<sup>19</sup>

Baptism was an act of obedience to the command of Christ.<sup>20</sup> The burial<sup>21</sup> in water was a decisive act. It marked a radical change in the man: he was immersed in water — he disappeared; then out of water came a new man. His life had been transformed as he shared the power of Christ's death and resurrection. He was now incorporated into the body of Christ.<sup>22</sup> He was now complete and free in Christ — without the restrictions of sectarian creeds and denominational alliances that were to come later. He was indeed free in Christ!

WORSHIP, ORGANIZATION AND SERVICE IN THE CHURCH

In the first century, members of the church met in Christ's name on the first day of the week to worship;<sup>23</sup> to share the holy memorial meal, the Lord's Supper;<sup>24</sup> to unite in hymns of praise;<sup>25</sup> to unite in prayer;<sup>26</sup> to give of their means to support the work of the church;<sup>27</sup> and to receive God's Word in teaching.<sup>28</sup>

The description of the church as Christ's body puts organization in its proper perspective. The unity of the church was that of a living organism, rather than a ritualistic organization. Christians of the first century worked and worshiped together in local churches, independent of each other, with no central human organization governing them. Each local church, guided by a group of elders,<sup>29</sup> was a complete entity in itself. Local churches were linked only by their common tie to Christ, the head of the church.

This picture of the church as the body of Christ explains the quality of life lived by members of the church. Being inseparably related to Christ, they lived under the rule of Christ, following Him in loving and humble service.<sup>30</sup> The church as the body of Christ manifested Christ in the world. The church found great joy in this — joy in her fellowship — joy in her relationship to Christ.

Thus, in the first century, the church was the body of Christ united simply and vitally in the one and only common denominator that matters: Christ. The glory of that church was her relationship with Christ.

THE CHURCH IN THE 20TH CENTURY

Nineteen centuries have passed. Many things have changed, including man's ideas about the church.

To some, "church" means little more than a cold and awesome building.<sup>31</sup> For others, "church" is synonymous with "denomination" or "religious sect."<sup>32</sup>

It is popular today to depreciate the importance of the church. Many cry out: "Long live Christianity! — but down with churchianity!"

Members of Churches of Christ, however, believe that the church is important — provided it is the church that existed 1,900 years ago, the church established by Christ and revealed in the New Testament, the church that can and should exist today.

Churches of Christ of today<sup>33</sup> proclaim the same message proclaimed in the first century — that of the death and resurrection of Christ.<sup>34</sup> It follows that man's response to that message be the same. Man today must believe in Christ and confess that faith. He must turn from sin and be baptized into Christ.<sup>35</sup> Thus, when man submits to Christ today, as man did in the first century, he becomes a member of the same church.

Like the New Testament church, the church today is governed by Christ, its head. Each local church is directed by elders, men of ability and experience whose qualifications are set forth in the Scriptures.<sup>36</sup> Deacons, evangelists, and teachers are appointed — again according to the New Testament pattern. Worship is expressed in the same acts of faith that characterized the worship of the church in the first century — partaking each first day of the week of the Lord's Supper, praying, singing hymns, giving of one's ability to support the church, and teaching the Word of God.

Churches of Christ are seeking to restore the New Testament church — in purpose, doctrine, worship, organization, life, and joy — because Christ's life, Christ's Word, and Christ's plan for His church are dynamically relevant to modern man.

TO PROGRESS, WE MUST RETURN TO THE BIBLE

This is the space age. This is an age of progress, an age of explosion in knowledge. Man looks ahead, not backward. He is moving forward in science, upward in rockets, outward into space. Why should he be concerned with a church that is 1,900 years old?

The same question might be asked about Christ. His life, teachings, death, and resurrection were all happenings of the same century in which the church began. In all ages, including our own, man has looked back to Christ, believing this was the most progressive thing he could do. He returns to Christ because Christ is always contemporary, up-to-date in every generation.

Christ has not changed.<sup>37</sup> What He did for man's salvation was done completely, never to be repeated, once and for all!

But what about man? Has he changed? Fundamentally, man is the same. He has the same basic needs. He has the same drives. He has the same capacity for good or evil, happiness or unhappiness.

Man's condition has not changed. Like man in the first century, he still wrestles with guilt, fear, pain, and death. With all his scientific progress, man has discovered no cure for sin. The sins of Jerusalem, Corinth, and Rome are the sins of New York, London, and Tokyo. As in the first century, man needs something definite upon which to base his life. He still hungers for direction, meaning, purpose, unity, and thrust in his life.

Christ is able to meet these needs perfectly. Man's needs, and Christ's ability to answer man's needs, make Christ both relevant and absolutely imperative in the 20th century.

If, therefore, we look back to Christ, we must in that same view see the church. Since Christ is still the answer to man's needs, so, then, is His church.

To accept this takes faith and courage.

This is true because popular concepts and impressions of "church" are far removed from the church of the first century. It will take massive faith and courage to move against the tide. But, of course, it took faith and courage for Christ in his day to teach as He did and work as He did — despite the opposition of public sentiment, even from religious leaders.

It took faith and courage on the part of the followers of Christ — Peter, Paul, and others — to proclaim salvation in Christ and His church.

And it took faith and courage on the part of those who heard this proclamation to reject their past life, and even religious associations, in order to submit to Christ.

But the glory of Christ and the church is reason enough. Faith and courage grow out of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ as Lord.

FAITH AND COURAGE ARE NEEDED TODAY

It is time to submit fully to Christ. It is time to take seriously the concept of the church. It is time to act. The church must not remain a beautiful idea; it must be a reality.

Knowledge of Christ and faith in Him come from the inspired writings of the New Testament.<sup>38</sup> Knowledge of the church comes from the New Testament. It is time to progress by looking back to Christ and His church. It will take faith and courage to protest the misconceptions and ill-founded expressions of the "church" today. But whatever effort it takes, it will be worth it. To know Christ and His church remains — even in the 20th century — the greatest blessing known to man.

How wonderful it would be if everyone who believes in Christ would be willing to submit wholly to His will and to be united with Him and with all other believers in the church! What a revolution would take place wherever men call on God in Christ! Think of the peace which would flow into millions of hearts and homes! Consider the joy of millions in new-found freedom in Christ! Imagine the impact upon the millions of unbelievers!

No wonder Jesus prayed that His followers might be one!<sup>39</sup> No wonder the apostles of Christ stressed the need of unity!<sup>40</sup> No wonder the Lord laid out the fundamentals of unity!<sup>41</sup>

The only hope of believers in Christ for true unity in any age is found in the Word of God:

There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; One Lord, one faith, one baptism, One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.<sup>42</sup>

The above message is the text of the major pamphlet distributed to visitors at the Churches of Christ Exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

This spiritual conception would be made possible through the planting of the Gospel in human hearts (I Corinthians 4:15; I Peter 1:23; James 1:18), the Gospel or Word being described as the sword of the Spirit (Ephesians 6:17). ## Championship Golf Course Constructed Near Six Flags Approaches Completion

Great Southwest Corporation, the firm that designed, built and now operates SIX FLAGS Over Texas, is adding another top attraction to the Dallas/Fort Worth area.

It's the Great Southwest Golf Club, a championship 18-hole, 7,000 yard, par 71 layout located just east of SIX FLAGS and scheduled for completion in mid-July this year.

Angus G. Wynne, Jr., president of Great Southwest Corporation, engaged the services of prominent golf architect, Ralph Plummer, and all-time golf great, Byron Nelson, last May to design and build an outstanding course that would be of championship calibre for professional tournament play and yet flexible enough to afford enjoyment for middle and high handicap players.

Today, eleven months after construction began and with the course 90% complete, Plummer and Nelson are nearing their goal.

The Great Southwest Golf Course, costing $600,000, is situated on 170 gently rolling acres with abundant natural trees framing the fairways and greens. An additional 4,000 trees along with 3,400 shrubs and flowers are being planted to enhance the course's over-all beauty.

A fully automated sprinkling system consisting of 500 sprinkler heads has been installed flush with the ground and connected by 100 miles of wiring to an equipment building housing a series of instrument panels and switches.

A system of time clocks controls every sprinkler so all the head greenskeeper has to do is twist the dials in his office and the sprinkler heads pop up an inch and the watering commences immediately on the fairways and greens that he selects. The time clocks can even be activated by a telephone call but the thought of some outsider dialing a wrong number rules that out for the present.

The greens, planted in Penn-cross bent to assure the finest putting surfaces, range from 7,000 to 10,000 square feet. Fairways have been planted in Arizona Bermuda grass. Some 65 sand traps will guard the fairways and greens.

For champion or scratch golfers, the tees can be extended to 7,000 yards. Average and high handicap players will find tee arrangements set from 6,600 to 6,300 yards and pin placements set in accordance with their skills.

The golf course, together with a $400,000 club house, was planned as an amenity to the growing Great Southwest Industrial community. The resort atmosphere generated by Six Flags and its sister facility, the 308-room INN of the Six Flags, which overlooks the golf course, will attract an estimated 1,900,000 visitors from all over the United States in 1965.

Calling All Tigers

1965 will be "the year of the tiger" in fashion circles. From the masculine world of gasoline and tires, the tiger influence stealthily moved into the world of cosmetics, then suddenly sprung into fashion accessories. The new look in glasses, says The Fashion Eyewear Group of America, boldly reflects the safari mood. These wraparound frames are flattering as well as functional. Tawny colored and wildly striped with black, they're the nicest thing that's happened to eyes since love at first sight.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Hotel Hazards

Finishing her shower, a hotel guest started to turn off the water. But she lost her footing, skidded, and hit the tile floor with a thud. Battered and bruised, she later sued the hotel for damages.

"That tile was slippery," she complained in court. "Why didn't they furnish a rubber mat for safety? As a guest of the hotel, I was entitled to every possible protection."

But the court denied her claim, finding no fault on the part of the management. The judge said the danger of slipping in such circumstances ought to be obvious to everyone who ever has taken a shower.

Much of our hotel law dates back to the Middle Ages, when thieves and ruffians (and Robin Hood) roamed the roads of England. A high degree of responsibility was imposed on the owners of inns, which were a sort of safety zone for the anxious traveller.

However, the emphasis was on his belongings rather than his personal safety. Thus, this strict rule never applied to hazards from the accommodations themselves—the furnishings and appliances used by the guest.

In that respect the hotel's responsibility has always been, and still is, merely to use "reasonable care"—much like the responsibility of a store toward its customers.

What care is "reasonable"? Of course, circumstances differ in each case. However, a few examples will give you a rough guide:

A hotel was held liable to a guest who stepped on a needle, where evidence showed that the room had not been properly cleaned for her arrival.

And a hotel was held liable to a guest who got a shock from turning on the light, where the management had allowed the wiring to fall into dangerous disrepair.

But a hotel was held not liable to a guest bitten by an insect, where there was nothing to indicate that the hotel could have prevented the mishap.

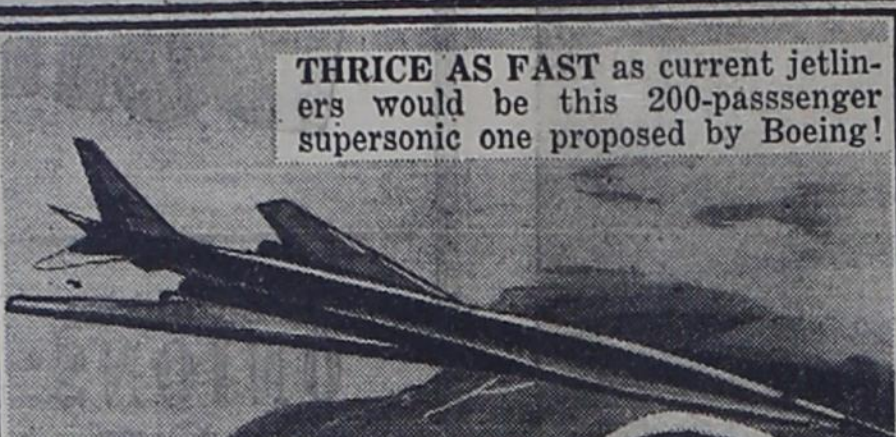

And a hotel was held not liable

Paul Harney Shows Pitching Technique

Proper stance for a short pitch to the green is demonstrated by Paul Harney, one of the top money winners on the professional golf circuit.

Harney recommends placing the right elbow near the hip, hands in front of the clubhead and the feet close together in an open stance. He suggests a five to eight iron, depending on lie and distance to the green. Paul demonstrates how to overcome this and many other difficult situations on the course in a 15 minute color movie, "Trouble Shooting with Paul Harney," available free of charge from the Miller Brewing Co. of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

One spray of Propazine® 80W herbicide controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season.

This can reduce or even eliminate the need for cultivating because Propazine takes care of problem weeds for you. Propazine is particularly effective on carelessweed (pigweed) and annual morning glory.

Sprayed before weeds and sorghum are up and activated by moisture, Propazine gives your crop an entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients. The result? Higher yields and more profit for you.

Farmers Home Administration Makes Total of 247 Loans To Texas Families

Mr. L. J. Cappleman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, announced that 247 loans to individual families have been made in Texas under the provisions of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, which is one of the powerful weapons of the United States Department of Agriculture being used in President Johnson's all-out War On Poverty Program.

These loans were made to individual farmers and rural residents in most sections of Texas. A farm family is a family who is operating a farm they own or lease, and is producing at least a portion of their subsistence from crops or livestock. A rural resident is classified as one living in a town of not more than 2,500 population.

Economic Opportunity Loans to farmers may be made to improve their farming operations; to buy more land, livestock, machinery and equipment; construct needed farm buildings; and to pay annual operating expenses for feed, seed, and fertilizer. These loans may be obtained by farm and rural families to finance rural-based, but non-agricultural enterprises. Funds may be used to purchase land, construct buildings, buy and install equipment and pay normal operating expenses of a variety of non-agricultural enterprises such as a farm machinery repair shop; TV and radio repair shop; ladders, spraying equipment and tools to be used by painters and carpenters; blacksmith shop; septic tank and sewage disposal system servicing; custom grass setting and land preparation; saw and lawn mower sharpening shop; post and wood cutting equipment; portable sheep and goat shearing equipment; etc.

Economic Opportunity Loans are for the purpose of helping low-income rural families raise their income level. Rural families who need a small amount of capital to improve their incomes may borrow up to $2,500 for 15 years at 4 1/8 per cent interest. These loans are secured by a promissory note by the borrower and a loan agreement scheduled in accordance with his ability to repay.

Families and single individuals with income which are too low to cover basic needs, and who, with the assistance of the Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, are successful in developing a plan of operation which will provide a reasonable prospect of increasing their earnings through a small amount of credit from a farming operation or other non-agricultural enterprise, and who are unable to obtain adequate credit on reasonable terms elsewhere, are eligible to receive the loans.

Mr. Cappleman also advises that Economic Opportunity Loans may be made to finance processing, marketing, purchasing and service type cooperatives which directly benefit low-income families living in rural areas. These loans may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 30 years at an interest rate of 4 1/8 per cent. The cooperative must pledge as security for the loan a property lien and pledge of revenue.

Some examples of cooperatives which might receive a loan are those packing, selling and shipping products grown on members' farms; marketing items constructed in home workshops of members, such as handicraft items; processing farm products; providing custom farm work for members; and wholesale buying of essential farm items such as machinery, seed, and fertilizer. These loans may be made to established or newly formed cooperative associations made up of a membership 2/3 of whom are low-income rural families, and serving predominantly families in this group.

Mr. Cappleman stated that additional information concerning this program may be obtained from county Farmers Home Administration personnel. County and Home Demonstration Agents, Vocational Agriculture teachers, Soil Conservation Service and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service representatives, and other United States Department of Agriculture agencies as well as State agencies. Applications may be filed in any local Farmers Home Administration County Office in the State. There are 133 County Offices servicing every county in Texas. Applications are usually filed in the county in which the farm family or rural resident resides.

Turkey Trot Is Catching

Eastern wild turkey released on two wildlife management areas in southeast Texas have prospered with only a few exceptions, says Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists.

Most of the birds released on the Lower Neches and Alabama Creek areas stayed within an average eight mile range, but a few were spotted as much as twenty-five miles away.

Another exception was a hen with sixteen poults trailing along behind, an unusually large brood and if all the offspring belong to her, the biological punster observed, she's a very overbearing hen.

Unusual "Savings Bonds scholarship," begun through gifts at birth, is helping to finance Sandra Olney's college education.

"Savings Bond Baby" Goes to College

Sandra Ruth Olney, Beloit College (Wis.) undergraduate from San Marino, Calif., was one of the most publicized babies in the nation in 1946, when she became the unofficial "Savings Bond Baby" of the U. S. Treasury Department.

Miss Olney's father, Larry, was a leader of the bond program during World War II and for many years thereafter until his retirement in 1957. When Sandra was born, publicity men at the Bond Division sent out a birth announcement to friends and bond associates throughout the country, with a picture showing a baby bursting through a Savings Bond.

From all corners of the U. S. came congratulations, good wishes, and gifts—dozens of them in the form of Dad's favorite product, a United States Savings Bond. Thus began the "scholarship," one which has grown through the years with the regular addition of more bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. And today Sandra is enjoying the benefits—and enthusiastically endorsing the idea of bonds-for-education to everyone she meets.

Sandra, now 18, is an attractive, hazel-eyed blonde who reveals a maturity of outlook that belies her youth. When asked how she happens to find herself at college at Beloit, far from home in San Marino, she says, "I chose a college far enough away from home to force myself to become self-reliant. I know that's what I'll have to be later, and I want to prepare for life socially as well as academically."

An international relations major, Sandra is a member of Delta Psi Delta sorority and is active in the United Church of Christ. She has delayed joining other organizations, and with good reason.

"I want to get my feet on the ground first," she says, "because I really feel that a lot of people everywhere have some kind of stake in my future."

Red Cross Plans For Training In Water Safety

With more and more American families enjoying water recreation each year, the Red Cross Water Safety program—now in its 51st year—anticipates an ever-increasing need for trained instructors in swimming and boating.

To help meet this need, instructor and leadership training in water safety, first aid, and small craft will again be offered this summer in American National Red Cross Aquatic and Small Craft Schools in 24 locations throughout the nation, including seven midwestern states.

These schools, open to camp counselors, lifeguards, swimming instructors, and other skilled swimmers over 18, are held in outdoor resort settings during June and August. In 10 days of intensified instruction, each school provides an opportunity to learn the newest methods and techniques of teaching first aid, swimming, and lifesaving, and offers leadership training in organizing and conducting community, camp, and pool water safety programs.

In the Midwestern Area, aquatic schools will be held in the following locations: Lone Star MV Camp, Athens, Texas, June 1-11; Lake Murray State Park, Ardmore, Okla., June 2-12; Southern Illinois University, Little Grassy Lake Campus, Carbondale, Ill., June 9-19; Lutheran Lakeside Camp, Spirit Lake, Iowa, June 13-23; Camp Ohlyesa, Holly, Mich., June 16-26; and Camp Wah-Kon-Dah, Rocky Mount, Mo., Aug. 24-Sept. 3. In addition, two schools majoring in canoeing, boating, and sailing will be held at Sanstone Day-Cho-Lah Camps, Green Lake, Wis., June 13-23 and at Camp Wah-Kon-Dah, Rocky Mount, Mo., Aug. 24-Sept. 3.

There will be a special section in the aquatic schools only for training Red Cross first aid instructors. There are no swimming requirements in these courses. Two of the aquatic schools will offer an elective course in handicapped swimming, with others offering electives in competitive swimming and canoeing for instructor training.

Outstanding volunteer aquatic and safety experts make up the faculty, resulting in no charge for instruction. Students pay only for room, meals, and individual supplies.

Complete enrollment information on the aquatic and small craft schools can be secured through local Red Cross chapters or from American Red Cross, Midwestern Area, 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Missouri 63108.

Outdoor Project Combines Skill and Science

Planning and planting a garden is a perennial task of 4-H Club members. Last year nearly 212,000 gardens flourished under the green thumb of 4-H boys and girls.

With spring well along and summer just ahead, the 1965 national 4-H Garden program is off to a good start. Some gardens will beautify, and some will nourish. But whatever the garden—large or small—the main goal is to produce a fine harvest of boys and girls with new skills and scientific know-how.

There is a great deal of work between planting the seeds and harvesting the crops. Controlling weeds and insects, keeping records, creating exhibits and giving demonstrations are a few of the jobs that must be done. The most successful projects will be judged for awards.

Recognition will be provided for the 20th year by Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, Farm Equipment Division, sponsor of the national 4-H Garden program.

During the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago next fall, company officials will personally present eight $500 educational scholarships to the highest ranking 4-H gardeners in the nation. The Congress trip will go to the boy or girl having the best project in the entire state. Medals will be given to a blue award group in each county. All winners will be selected by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H.

The young gardeners agree that getting close to nature is most gratifying, and tending a garden provides healthful outdoor exercise as well. A flare for landscaping or a scientific curiosity also can be satisfied.

Gardening fits in with other projects such as food preservation and home improvement. For many, a garden has become a business venture. Roadside stands dot the countryside.

Any boy or girl between 9 and 19 years of age can become a 4-H member. Those interested in starting a garden can obtain information from a local 4-H leader or from the county extension office.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Thinks President Johnson Referred To Him When He Mentioned A Disorderly Planet

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses orderliness this week, a topic rather far afield for him.

J. A.

Dear editor:
In his speech on television the other night, President Johnson said sort of in passing that this will be a disorderly planet for some time to come, though it doesn't have to be that way forever.

What I want to know is, who told him about this Johnson grass farm?
To an outsider, this place may seem disorderly, and if it was located in some other country I'll admit it probably would be recommended for foreign aid to bring it up to 20th century standards, but one trouble with me and some foreign countries is that we're satisfied, in a backward sort of way, with the outmoded system we're using.

For example, say I need my pipe wrench. I don't have to go hunting all over the place for it. All I have to do is remember where the last pipe busted, and that's where the wrench is.

Or why walk yourself to death putting your hoe in the tool house when you know the place you're going to need it again in the garden? If I pass by the garden and notice a weed, chances are it'll stay there if I have to walk back to the tool house to get a hoe. When the weeds get so tall you can't find your hoe in them, you don't need it anyway. It's too late. Let it stay there and try for a garden again next year. This doesn't feed a hungry world but it doesn't depress the price of vegetables either.

I don't know anything about this phase, but I've been told that sometimes the business man with the cleanest desk has the emptiest mind, but that's out of my territory and I have no way of knowing. I've never seen your desk.

But speaking of disorderliness on this planet, people may come first in this line, but I'll put the weather second. Some weather experts think if follows a pattern, but up to now they haven't been very successful in telling us longer than 10 hours ahead of time what the pattern is.

As a result, they're a lot better at telling what the weather was yesterday than what it'll be tomorrow. The next time you listen to a weather forecast on television, see if the forecaster doesn't spend nine-tenths of his time telling you what happened yesterday, and then hastily just before he ducks out of sight tell you what to expect tomorrow.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whittemore and Kenneth were in Dallas several days last week to visit their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Stone, and to greet the new grandson, David Craig.

Activities of The Colored People

By Fannie Mae Johnson

Sunday School was well attended at all churches Sunday morning.

West Beulah Sunday School open at the usual hour with all teachers at their post of duty. Subject of the lesson was the Crucifixion found in Mathews 27:33-50. The meaning of the cross. Memory selection God Commendeth His Love toward us. In that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us, Romans 5:8.

At 3 p.m. the missionary society had a wonderful lesson taught by the teachers of the missions. Our hearts was made glad.

After the mission service all the boys and girls came to the church getting ready for the Easter program next Sunday.

We are asking you to come one, come all, that we may learn more about our blessed Saviour that died for this troublesome world.

On last Tuesday night the brotherhood met at West Beulah Church. After the wonderful program the teacher from Anson taught a wonderful lesson. He is a young man, Brother Jackson. He love to teach God's word. Then Brother George Jackson of Seymour brought the message. He is a man that is pouring out his soul for God.

This week we receive a letter from Mrs. Indiana Beal. She is doing fine tho she is still in the hospital. All the members are yet praying for her.

Please attend the church of your choice Sunday morning.

Texas' Champion Homemakers Named

Texas' champion 1965 "Conservation Homemaker of the Year" is Mrs. Kenneth Kuykendall of Cherokee, wife of a San Saba County rancher.

The state champion and five regional winners were announced Friday (April 9) by the Fort Worth Press, sponsor of the awards program. Cooperating with the newspaper in sponsoring the conservation activity are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, local Soil Conservation districts and other Texas groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall operate more than 4,000 acres of land, which they rent or own. They have added many conservation measures since they began ranching in 1950 with 640 acres of rocky, cedar-covered land.

"We apply conservation to everything—our home and management practices, our land, and human resources," Mrs. Kuykendall, mother of three pre-teenage children, says.

Mrs. Kuykendall and other state conservation winners will receive awards at a 7 p.m. dinner May 1 in Hotel Texas in Fort Worth.

Regional winners, and dates for their award presentations, are:

Region 1, Mrs. J. H. Kershav of Route 3, Perryton, who will be honored at a ceremony in Dallas, May 8.

Region 2, Mrs. Raynold E. Urban of Route 3, Rowena, who will be recognized in a ceremony at Fort Stockton, May 21.

Region 3, Mrs. Billy Wayne Lassig, Route 2, Lyford, to be honored May 22 in Port Lavaca.

Region 4, Mrs. Ray Thomas, homemaker from De Berry, to be honored at a program in Kilgore, May 6.

Region 5, Mrs. Bill Mitchell, Star Route, Strawn, to be honored in Granger, May 15.

SOCIAL SECURITY MAN TO BE HERE TUESDAY

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be in Munday at the City Hall on Tuesday, April 20, 1965 from 10 A.M. until noon. You are invited to meet with the representative to file your claim or to obtain information or assistance concerning social security.

Many people do not realize the value of the insurance protection they have under social security. Nine out of ten young children can receive monthly benefits if the family breadwinner dies. In most cases their mothers can get benefits, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Runt Ledbetter of Laverne, Calif., visited his mother, Mrs. L. E. Ledbetter, and sister, Mrs. Edna Terry a few days this week. They were en route to Houston to visit their son, Benny Ledbetter, and family. They plan to return to Munday for a longer visit before returning to California.

Tape Saves Boots

There's a quick, inexpensive way for parents to save torn boots from discard. Mend tears or holes with Arno sealing tape. The cloth tape is waterproof and fast-holding. Just smooth on a strip and the boot is wearable again. Colored boots present no problem as the tape comes in many colors.

This sealing tape is handy, too, for patching plastic raincoats, shower curtains, garment bags and gym shoes. Sealing tape is also used to mend and decorate school notebooks and text books.
