Former Foard Girl Prominent As Short Story Writer

The recent rise to eminence of Miss Bryan, formerly Miss Ibbie Burson of Foard County, as an author of short stories, has added another name to the already lengthy list of Crowell High School graduates who have gained success in various fields.

Since March of this year, Miss Bryan has been a regular contributor to "The Woman," a monthly magazine published in New York City with a nation-wide circulation. Likewise in March "The Woman" carried a 6,000 weekly circulation carried an article written by Miss Bryan in the August issue of "The American Magazine."

The photograph submitted by Miss Bryan appears on the cover page of her article in connection with the magazine. Other publications to which she has contributed articles are "Your Own" and "Independent Woman."

Miss Bryan, living at present in a beautiful cottage on the shores of Lake Fort Worth, has a short distance from Fort Worth to her home, where she is happily engaged in her writing.

Her friends and acquaintances are proud to have her articles and stories appear in the "Your Own" and "Independent Woman" magazines. All who entertain entrance to Miss Bryan's home are graciously received and during their visits are treated with exemplary hospitality. For the hostess subscribes to her often quoted statement: "I am deeply indebted to anyone who visits me." In other words, Miss Bryan likes people who like her.

Revival closed. Rev. and Mrs. Paul J. Merrill returned to their home in Henrietta Monday following the closing of a successful two-weeks' revival at the First Christian Church.

SEYMOUR BOOSTERS HERE. A large delegation of Seymour boosters and their prize-winning team were in Crowell yesterday morning, giving an invitation to the people of this community to attend the Seymour

The aluminum campaign for Foard County began with zest Monday morning, according to Judge Leslie Thomas, chairman for the drive in this community. The committees in the various portions of the county have been working diligently advertising and directing the work and it is expected that the campaign will yield Foard County's quota by the end of the week.

The Boy Scouts will begin their house to house campaign Tuesday morning and cooperation for the splendid effort to be emitted by this organization is again earnestly solicited.

Judge Thomas and the committee have scattered posters over the town to assist in advertising further the need for aluminum.

It was first anticipated that a large bin should be placed on the street or on the court house lawn, but due to the fact that the Boy Scouts were to make a house to house campaign in the town, it was deemed unwise until the first campaign had been given ample opportunity to yield the desired quota. In addition the State office warned against the possibility of aluminum ware left in the street or on the court house lawn being stolen; since the campaign is to last until the 29th it was decided by the committees that a large bin should be placed on the corner of the court house lawn for the deposit of any and all aluminum ware that may not have been collected through the house to house campaign or deposited with the collecting stations in the various communities.

Co-operation to the fullest extent is again urged of every citizen in the county to insure a good quota for Foard County in order that if every county donates its share, there will result no necessity for the later conscription of aluminum by the Government.

CAL FARLEY

District Governor of Rotary Will Visit Local Club

Cal Farley of Amarillo, governor of 127th District of Rotary International, will make his official visit with the Crowell Rotary Club Wednesday evening, July 30.

The meeting will be held in the evening at the club hut at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sandifer, Payton Powers, president of the club, has announced, and Rotary Annals will be invited to attend.

The following interesting story of Mr. Farley's life and work was written by John McCarty, editor of the Amarillo Globe-News:

"Cal Farley of Amarillo, governor of the 127th Rotary district, won the first World War. That however is just one of his many accomplishments and while he doesn't have any certified record of winning World War One, he does have positive proof that he won the Welterweight Wrestling championship of the A. E. F. and Interallied games in Paris in 1919. He has wrestled twice for the world's championship since that time, being defeated both times by Jack Reynolds. Despite his extravagant claims on World War One, Farley does have a discharge (honorable) from the army which shows he took part in seven battles. He modestly admits he won each of those fights.

"The new district governor was born in Saxton, Iowa, two years before the Spanish-American war, or he would have claimed credit with Admiral Dewey and Teddy Roosevelt for winning that one. He lived on a farm until he entered the war. After the war he played professional (rotten) baseball, being a second baseman with St. Paul of the American Association in 1922. In 1923 he was farmed (fired) out to the Amarillo club of the Panhandle-Pecos Valley league where he hit his weight (145), played a fair second base and at the end of the season took over a defunct tire shop and married Miss Mabel Fincher, an Amarillo girl who has

Dr. J. J. Hanna to Open Health Clinic in Glen Rose Aug. 1

Dr. J. J. Hanna and family, residents of Quanah since 1908, are moving to Glen Rose, Texas, where Dr. Hanna will open a health clinic on August 1. Dr. Hanna has been one of the most influential leaders and builders of Quanah since he located there as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist thirty-three years ago. He has supported every worth while effort for the up-building of the community and was an ardent supporter of the First Baptist Church since he became a resident of that city.

Last Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. Hanna were honored at a reception given on the lawn of the church when the entire membership joined in an evening of festivities, reminiscing and farewell parting in honor of the Hannas.

The following quotations are taken from the issue of The Quanah Tribune-Chief of July 17: "Dr. Hanna, prominent eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, has been an outstanding citizen in Quanah since 1908, when he moved here from Amarillo. As a doctor, he has won praise, not only from this community, but from the territory all around as far as Paducah and Memphis in the West, to Wichita Falls in the east, from Oklahoma in the north, and from many communities south of Hardeman.

As an interested citizen, Dr. Hanna has been a property owner here and has been active in every chapter of the development of the city of Quanah. He was a member of the first Chamber of Commerce and has continued active membership ever since. He has been one of the guiding members of the Rotary Club and served that organization as president, 1928-29. At last Thursday's luncheon meeting he was presented with a pin for fourteen years' service.

Balance of $36.94 on USO Quota for Foard Still Due

A balance of $36.94 on Foard County's quota of $150 for the United Service Organizations is still not subscribed and must be raised in the next few days, it was announced Tuesday by A. Y. Beverly, county chairman.

Illustrating the worthiness and need of the money to be raised in this campaign, the USO Bulletin carried a story about the liberal donation of Charles B. Wrightman of Houston, one of the outstanding polo players of the country, who has decided to give up polo and is selling his string of prize ponies and giving the money to the USO.

The sale will take place at East Williston, L. I., next Saturday at 10 a. m. Mr. Wrightman paid $7,000 for one of the ponies.

It would be an easy matter to raise this small amount if those who can and have not donated to this cause would send in a 50-cent piece, or a dollar bill, which would never be missed. Foard County has always done its part in all emergencies and will not fail this time.

'Good Neighbors'—Junior Style

Bobby Gallagher (left) U. S. "Boy-Ambassador" to Brazil and Roberto Andrade (right), Brazil's "Boy-Ambassador" who recently visited the U. S., are shown being greeted by crowds upon their arrival in Rio De Janeiro. This is the junior part of the inter-American "Good-Neighbor" policy.

As previously advertised and as shown by the ad on page 3 of The News this week, July 31 is the last day to transfer students from their home district to the district wherein they will attend school. It is absolutely essential that all transfers be made at the designated time or else State Aid will not be received for said children and, in addition thereto, it is entirely possible that the receiving school district will be forced to charge tuition for such children if not transferred according to law.

According to County Superintendent Leslie Thomas, all schools in the county have been classified under the eight and twelve-grade plans. That is, an eight-grade school will be an elementary school, while a 12-grade school is a full-fledged elementary and high school.

All parents are urged to make transfer of their children at the very earliest convenience.

U. S. Highway 70 to Be Widened from Crowell to Thalia

The Highway Commission has made an appropriation of $7,626.95 covering the cost of widening the present eighteen foot concrete pavement on U. S. Highway 70 from Crowell to one mile east of Thalia. It was announced this week by P. S. Bailey of Childress, district engineer.

This improvement will consist of the construction of two feet of asphalt on each side of the present road on this section of the highway.

Baby Girl Born to Gould Editors

A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. S. (Buster) Smith, editors and owners of the Gould Democrat, Gould, Okla., on July 15. Mr. Smith is a former employee of The Foard County News. He started his newspaper career here in January, 1929, and was the first lad to be employed by The News under the present management. After working here for several years, he went to Tip-ton, Okla., as a linotype operator and after working in Amarillo and other places, he bought the Gould Democrat last year. Mr. Smith had the following to say in his paper on July 17 about the arrival of the junior society editor:

"It's a Girl! The editors of The Gould Democrat, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Smith, are happy to announce to the whole world, the arrival of a baby girl in Altus, Tuesday, July 15, at 1:45 a. m. She weighed 6 lbs. and 3 ounces, and has been named Kara Ann.

"Both mother and daughter are doing swell, but the pop—well, there is some doubt as to whether he will pull through without some outside aid or not. As this is the first child, the old man needs some one to tie on to him with a set of sky hooks and pull him back to earth—as there is now an extra mouth to feed, as Mr. Advertiser, please have mercy on him.

"The subscribers are very fortunate to get a paper at all this week, but here's apologies for it. (I wonder what excuse I'll use next week and every week until the wifey gets back on the job.)

"I am forced to deny the story that Tuesday I saw Cap Shrewder's big dog standing on the sidewalk, and feeling so cocky, walked up and kicked the dog 40 feet with my left foot.

"As mentioned above, there is another mouth to feed, so why don't you guys be satisfied with a cigaret instead of a cigar?"

After the Honeymoon is over

Stop throwing tomatoes at your car, mister. And lady, remember, scowling gives you wrinkles. So both of you, let up and listen to simple common sense. Then fill the tank with a truly great July motor fuel, Phillips 66 Poly Gas. That's the gasoline motorists never tire of recommending. It is not only high anti-knock, high test, high energy... but it is more accurately matched to monthly changes in your weather. Yes, sir!... yes, ma'm! it does things for your engine. You may find it makes your car run like new again. It delivers real pep and power... sweeter pick-up and easier hill-climbing. And mileage that's a real surprise. Forget your "mad", and make up with your car, by stopping for a trial tankful of new Phillips 66 Poly Gas... at any Orange and Black 66 Shield. It costs nothing extra.

Now that the honeymoon period of your new car ownership is over, why let yourself get sour on a possession that should be, and can be, one of your most useful and pleasurable? Tell your troubles to your car dealer. He's an honest, able business man, anxious to hold your good opinion. He may find the engine needs some minor adjust-

Important Announcement

FACTS Regarding THE W. R. WOMACK BURIAL ASS'N.

To everyone concerned who live in this immediate trade territory, and all those who wish to be served by the W. R. Womack Burial Ass'n. within the 100 mile radius of Crowell, Texas—in Texas (not Oklahoma.)

Last week's issue of The Foard County News, as well as the same wording on a circular distributed around where we could, announced the fact that W. R. Womack was in the process of organizing a Local Burial Benefit Association for this trade territory, (34) counties, and we notified the public that we had agents in the field asking and taking applications for membership. We have had fine co-operation with everyone contacted, and wish to thank each and everyone that is helping us get this association organized.

We would like to tell you a little about the reason that we had to turn our Burial Association over to the Vernon Mutual Life & Accident Association in 1935, because we feel that there are some that do not understand, and would really like to have this protection if they knew exactly why we had to do this, and why we have organized again at this time.

At that time, 1935, the big Insurance Companies, and the large Funeral Directors that did not have an Insurance Co. of their own, got together and went to Austin and got a law passed that took all Burial Insurance away from Funeral Directors, however, after we had turned our members over to a reliable association, the other Funeral Directors fought this law and got it knocked out and therefore passed a law whereby Funeral Directors could operate an Association of their own, provided they were under the supervision of the State Insurance Department. Now, no persons but undertakers can have a Burial Benefit Association.

We have found that many of our friends have expressed a desire that we organize again, so we have applied for and have been granted a permit and when we obtain 500 members will be given a permanent charter. We need the help of our friends right now.

I, W. R. Womack, your friend and undertaker, pledge you my solemn word, that your interests will be protected always, if you become a member of the W. R. Womack Burial Association. We need capable and energetic application writers, and would like for anyone interested in making some money and also helping us get our 500 members as soon as possible, get in touch with us at once.

TYPE of INSURANCE: Merchandise and Service, means funeral supplies, funeral services, burial services, casket, clothing, equipment, hearse or car as needed, embalming, if required or needed. All service that we use in all our funerals, but we do not take members and promise to pay them CASH. Our rates are so low, and we are trying to take all ages, provided they are reasonably well.

Thanking you again, for your co-operation, Signed,

W. R. Womack PRESIDENT

"BRING 'EM BACK DEAD!" The Referee Commanded

THE SCENE was in torrid Death Valley, where Hollywood makes true desert pictures, and the heat makes records. Condemned to death were 6 new coupes, alike throughout, except that in each crankcase—under lock—was a different big-name motor oil... one 5-quart fill... never any added in any car's lifetime... 57-mile speed kept up under Death Valley's all-consuming sun until each engine went to smash. A strictly impartial, strictly certified test of motor oil life, decided only by 6 cars' death.

Which 5-Quart fill lasted all of 13,398 miles?... Certified One oil outlasted the other test oils by 5,683 miles or more... Certified. And the whole lot of them—5 big-name oils—averaged not even half of the 13,398 miles delivered by the new long-lasting oil. You can have it in your engine right now—at popular price—by asking for CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL. Its mileage and economy come straight from Conoco Nth oil's new synthetic or man-made extra substance—Thialkene inhibitor. (Conoco Patent 2,218,132.) To understand, merely think a moment of Vaccination—the right protective substance put on guard to keep a trouble from starting. Now the trouble aiming to start on motor oils lurks in the normal firing of every engine. Filth is formed that can spoil one drop—then two drops "catch it"—then four—then sixteen—faster, faster, FASTER, till the whole fill weakens and the oil level sinks too fast... but not when the start of this oil-fouling trouble is inhibited—held back—by life-giving Thialkene inhibitor in new Conoco Nth motor oil, on sale today for your car.

You'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil nor repeat other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at recommended intervals. But how you'll expect to stretch the distance before you ever add a quart, judging by this big fact: 5 heavily advertised oils in the Certified Death Valley Test were outmiled 74% to 161% by Conoco Nth oil.

AND CONOCO Nth OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE! Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another great Conoco synthetic... man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent. Magnet-like action bonds OIL-PLATING to engine parts. It can't all quickly drain down—not while you're using Conoco Nth oil. So OIL-PLATING is on guard in advance against wear!... and helps mileage, as it did in Death Valley. An OIL-PLATED engine is one more economy you get from a change to popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil.

Economy like that counts up into dollars! Change to Nth oil today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

It is a wise and foresighted thing, even while we are in the midst of preparation for this war to do some thinking and make some preparations for what we will do after it is over.

I feel that Hitler, and the thing he stands for, must be crushed and destroyed. There is no place in the world for a man who believes that it is his destiny to subjugate the world merely to make himself great, and rise to might and power by trampling underfoot the rights of all those weaker than himself.

I think that what takes place after the war—after the defeat of Hitler—is just as important as it is that Hitler shall be defeated, for upon the justice and wisdom of this peace will rest the security of the world for many years to come.

For this reason it is important in my mind that the United States remain in the position as an arsenal for democracy—a supplier of materials rather than of men. This is important, I think, for the reason that the nation which will have a great deal to say at the peace council in that day must be strong physically and financially, with spiritual values unimpaired and free from the bitterness that is bound to result if our soldiers should be sent to a foreign soil and should lose their lives.

Because the settlement of this war, and the program for the peace that is to follow, is going to require the calm thought and sober judgment of the best and fairest minds, and because there should remain one nation strong enough to command, and free enough from bitterness and prejudice to be wholly just and fair, it is important that we begin to prepare for that task.

I am one who believes that if it finally becomes necessary to send our armies across the sea to crush Hitler that it should be done, but it should not be done as long as England or any of her colonies or the invaded countries have the strength and the substance to resist.

From present evidences Stalin and Hitler are going to emerge from the present great titanic struggle greatly weakened. True, most students think that Hitler will conquer Russia but in the doing of it he will have materially exhausted himself.

This, in my opinion, will be an aid when the United States steps in to write the terms of peace. Our problem is great now, but it will be greater then. It will be more intricate and more difficult. The responsibility for the future is a terrible responsibility, but it is going to be ours. It will be an hour or destiny. Out of the chaos and the ruin a new world is going to have to be built.

The more leisure time a man has the more it costs him to live. This is one of the reasons why the shorter the work week the more pay is needed.

Like the character in one of Shakespear's plays, whatever Hitler does he must do quickly.

Interstate Commerce Interterritorial Freight Rate Study Held in St. Louis, Mo., July 10-11; West Texas Represented

Abilene, July 17. — Thursday the 10th of July was the most important date Texas has ever had in court on transportation costs from a national standpoint.

A News Letter by J. Thos. Davis, president of the WTCC, and J. M. Wilson, heading the chamber's freight rate equality federation, has been mailed to affiliates of both organizations making report on an Interstate Commerce Commission interterritorial freight rate study in St. Louis, Mo., opening the day—July 10th—and continuing through the 11th.

The hearing was for the purpose of receiving for the record a series of interterritorial studies made by experts of the ICC staff. It was a direct followup, and the first, to a hearing held in the spring of 1939 before the U. S. senate committee on interstate commerce on the national freight rate structure.

WTCC Contentions Upheld Said the News Letter by Davis and Wilson: "The pleasing thing about the experts' studies submitted in St. Louis was how they bore out the contentions previously made on discriminatory freight rates by our organization. A 208-page, 99-table, 14-map exhibit on 'Distribution of Natural Resources' was submitted by Dr. W. H. S. Stevens, assistant director of the ICC Bureau of Statistics. This exhibit showed not only the present resources by freight rate territories, but also analyzed reserved and potential resources, and should be an effective document for utilization by Texas.

Edwards' report on freight costs was computed on basis of freight carload operating expenses on net load of 25 tons moving 300 miles. It included items of rent, taxes, operating deficits on less-than-carload and passenger operations, and 5 1/2 per cent return on total value.

Concluded the President's News Letter: "In the above way the ICC has ably launched its study into the Pull together, brethren. We are all here for the same purpose. Then live and let live. The best way to build up a thriving town is for each and every man to pull together and not strive to rend and tear down. All the residents of a town are partners, not opponents. In all likelihood the more business done by your rival the more you will do. Every merchant who treats his customers honestly and fairly will get his share, and the more business that can be secured by united effort, the better it will be for all. When a town ceases to grow it commences to die, and the more people try to kill each other off in their business and good name the more rapidly will utter ruin come to all.

In Lithuania, a province of Russia, it is customary that the bride's ears should be boxed before the marriage ceremony. No matter how tender hearted the mother may be, she always makes it a point of administering a hearty smack to her daughter in the presence of witnesses, and a note is made of the fact. The mother's intention is a kind one, though the custom itself is bad. The reason for it is to protect the bride should her marriage prove an unhappy one.

In that case she will sue for a divorce, and her plea will be that she was forced into marriage against her will, and on that score the verdict of the judge will be in her favor.

A young woman who paid a much advertised dermatologist $300 to make her a pair of dimples, has recently sued him for $50,000 damages for the result. The coveted dimples were effective differences in rate structures in the territories of the United States. Other hearings will, of course, be called giving the carriers opportunity to introduce counter testimony, also permitting the shippers and states' representatives to support and supplement testimony already offered. Our organizations are in complete accord with conclusions set forth in these ICC studies. The task immediately before us is that of continuing our agitation for equality and of seeing to it that Texas is adequately represented at future hearings. On transportation costs from a national standpoint this is perhaps the most important date Texas has ever had in court, and we know we can count on your continued support."

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hartwell)

The Little Things of Life: Do you ever stop to think how much of happiness in life depends on the simple and the little things? It isn't the big things and the great and unusual events in our lives that bring to us the real happiness. It is the little things that happen from day to day that we go about our work and manage our church and social groups, is the kind words, the thoughts, and considerate acts, the expressions of concern, and interest, and sympathy that betoken human understanding and human fellowship. When Christ taught us to minister to the people of this day, he dealt with the little things because he knew in his profound and infinite wisdom that the whole structure of human happiness, because Christ wanted people to be happy he taught the simple and the little things of kindness, and charity, and forgiveness, and love.

Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. Wm. H. Lee Spratt, Director of Central Bible School, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

A Glorious Invitation Text: "Come; for all things are now ready."—Luke 14:17.

Someone has said, "There is no true smile, no radiant joy, no sinless laughter, no satisfaction of the soul in the whole range of unrighteous and unspiritual enjoyment." This is indeed sweeping, yet true! The fact is, the world cannot satisfy the deepest longings of the soul.

Christianity offers an abundance of soul-satisfying provisions to those who accept God's glorious invitation. Come—all are invited, all are welcome. Christianity is a feast of good things, and you are invited to enjoy them.

All things—all, not some, but all. Forgiveness of sins, cleansing from all unrighteousness, strength for weakness, joy for sorrow, life for death—all that you need Christ will provide.

Are now—just now, at this moment. "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God." Delay is as unreasonable as it is wicked. Salvation is now available. "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation."

Ready—yes, everything is prepared for your soul's comfort and enjoyment. Long before we even thought of God, He thought of us. The provisions of salvation

Methodist Church The meeting begins with deep interest and good attendance. The messages are fine and of the type that most people like to hear, if they are really interested in their spiritual life. The choir is getting into the song service with his fine leadership we should have good congregational singing throughout the meeting.

It is a delight to meet in the cool of the evening in the open air for services. We have seating capacity to take care of as many as desire to come, and the evenings may be spent pleasantly to the profit of all who will attend.

There are services for the boys and girls of Junior age in the choir room at 7:30 p. m. and the Young People's meeting is held at 7:15 in the social hall. The preaching hours are 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. Announcements are made each day as to location of the prayer meetings.

The practical questions for you and me is, "How can we follow in the steps of Christ, who came, not to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved?" "How can we identify ourselves with this world, without compromising with it?" "How can we be in it and not of it?" "How can we be followers of Christ in the world today?" Many people are concerned about these vital questions put to us by Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker.

Some parents bring their children up in the fear and admonition of God. There are others who "let them down." H. A. LONGINO.

Christian Science Services "Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 27.

The Golden Text is: "O praise the Lord, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is great toward us; and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever" (Psalms 117:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah; and the Lord of the child came into him again, and he revived. And the woman said to Elijah, Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth" (1 Kings 17:22, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The eternal Truth destroys what mortals seem to have learned from error, and man's real existence as a child of God comes to light. Truth demonstrated is eternal life" (page 288).

were planned "before the foundation of the world." The readiness of everything on God's part is the best argument why you should partake of His grace.

God does not say, "If you are ready, come." All the readiness required on your part is a willingness to receive the blessings which God has provided. Are you willing? All that Satan gives is "hustles." Don't grovel at the thoughts of the world where there is lack, but come and enjoy the feast of liberal and satisfying provisions in Christ Jesus.

If you do not accept the Lord Jesus Christ as your Saviour, you will suffer the loss of all these wonderful provisions in life, and ultimately lose your soul in eternity. "What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

"Come; for all things are now ready." Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved.

Texans Give Oil To Great Britain

JOHN F. CAMP, San Antonio oil operator, heads the "Oil for Britain" movement by Texas producers to lift the shutdown to permit an extra day's allowable from their wells to be given to the President of the United States with the request that it be released to the people of Great Britain. The plan sponsored by Camp, when perfected and given final approval by the Texas Railroad Commission, should make available to Great Britain a million barrels or more of Texas crude. The Texas gift is to be made direct to the President who, in turn, will pass it on under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act.

The San Antonio man has already donated 5,000 barrels of regular production from his wells. In acknowledging the gift, President Roosevelt said: "This gift demonstrates that democracy in action is not a bare and meaningless phrase; it symbolizes the spirit of patriotism and unselfishness which exists throughout the country today."

The goal for the USO drive is $10,765,000. The half way mark was reached the third week in June with contributions totaling $5,411,083. Donations ranged from 50 cents to $100,000.

Consumers Should Know— What Is the Consumer Movement?

1941. Advertising Federation of America is the fifth in a series of lectures prepared by the Bureau of Research and Education Advertising Federation of America in response to the interest of consumers in affecting advertising and are sometimes confused by the past few years about the consumer movement. You can find articles in some of the magazines which you may have heard being discussed in various meetings.

ally all of us are consumers and are therefore natural buyers. In any movement for consumers, it is clear that any movement on behalf of consumers is a class movement. It is a movement working for the narrow interests of a particular group.

ry individual transaction, it is true that there is a buyer on one hand, and a seller on the other. For example, when you purchase a loaf of bread from the baker, you are the consumer of the bread and the baker is the producer. But at the same time, Mr. Baker has to sell his bread to a consumer. And you or other members of your family go out to earn a living as that you are a consumer, either directly or indirectly.

movement on behalf of consumers should benefit all of us in our buying from one another. All of our living through the various industries, including factory workers, school teachers, policemen, and every one. In that sense we all are consumers and are supported by each other. And since none of us consumer programs of one kind or another. What they do mostly is to study consumer literature and listen to lectures about consumer problems. A number of the national women's organizations prepare informative material for the education of their members. The stated aim is to promote better buymanship.

Among the larger women's groups participating in this work are such nationally known organizations as the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the American Home Economics Association, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

When the National Recovery Administration was operating in Washington, it appointed a Consumers' Advisory Board and local consumer councils were set up in many large places throughout the United States. Some of these did effective work for a time but most of them are no longer in existence.

The Department of Agriculture also set up a Consumers' Council, which is still in operation and issues a considerable amount of literature about everyday problems of buying merchandise.

In addition, many of the 48 State governments sponsor consumer education of various kinds.

More recently, a number of business groups have given recognition to the constructive purposes of the consumer movement and actively co-operate by furnishing information and by helping to solve consumer buying problems. This kind of co-operation is essential, because some of the problems require changes in merchandise and in distribution methods.

With all that has been said and written about the consumer movement, a large part of the general public has a very confused idea as to what it is all about. This is because so many different kinds of individuals are interested in the movement, many with conflicting motives. But it is not hard to interpret the main objectives of those millions who make up the rank and file of the broad consumer movement.

They are simply a lot of people interested in getting three things:

- (1) Information that will help them spend their money more effectively.
- (2) Greater consideration by sellers for the interests of buyers, and
- (3) Better protection against international fraud.

These are very constructive aims and all intelligent business men are ready to co-operate in achieving them. After all, business executives know that every enterprise must please the public to be a successful business. There was a time when that was not always thought necessary, but nowadays, when selling has become the most important problem in business management, the foremost objective of every business is to secure public approval and good will. Most business is highly competitive and generally the company which can please the greatest number of potential buyers will sell the most goods.

If consumers want more information about products then it would seem that any company could please more people and sell more goods by meeting this demand. The only problem here is to find the best method for giving this information and to determine exactly what kind of information is wanted. One difficulty is that consumers are not all alike, even in the matter of wanting information.

There have been many discussions about this between representatives of consumer groups and business men. Some of the best ideas to come from such discussions have to do with labels. It would seem that a label is a practical place to put useful information about a product. Some companies have already started to put more complete descriptions and specifications on their labels, and others are now studying the question.

In certain lines of goods it has been found possible to establish more definite grades for the quality of products. This is sometimes very difficult, however, because of the many elements that go into the actual desirability of a given article. On some products, the variation in personal tastes makes it quite impossible to establish uniform grades. However, a good deal of work is being done in this field, and we may expect further progress.

Another suggestion frequently brought forward is that advertising should contain more specific information about products. In some cases this can readily be arranged, but here again we run into the difficulty that there are so many different kinds of people, and advertising must be written so it will appeal to the greatest number. Many of us would be bored by specifications and are more interested in what a product will do for us. But it is a good subject for discussion, and advertisers are glad to have specific suggestions from representative consumers on this point.

One result that has already come from the demand for more information about products is the preparation of many informative booklets explaining the characteristics and uses of various products. A number of organizations and individual companies have issued very helpful material along this line, and more of it is to be expected.

On the side of protection against intentional fraud, much progress has been made. Laws for this purpose have been brought up to date, and organizations set up by business men themselves watch for violators.

One of the most important laws for protection of consumers is the new Food and Drugs Act, strengthening the old law which has been in operation since 1906 and extending it to cover cosmetics as well as foods and medicines.

Another recently enacted law for consumer protection is the Wheeler-Lea Act, which gives the Federal Trade Commission wide powers to prevent and punish harmful practices in advertising and selling methods.

In addition, many States now have laws protecting buyers of merchandise against fraud. For example, about 34 States prohibit by law any false or misleading advertising. These measures were adopted on the initiative of Advertising Clubs in the various States.

Among organizations guarding the interests of consumer buyers, the most active and effective are the Better Business Bureaus located in many cities. Most of these were originally set up by Advertising Clubs and all are supported entirely by business organizations.

The Federal and State governments also maintain various kinds of bureaus to protect the public against harmful products and fraudulent practices.

Considered all together, a great deal is now being done on behalf of the individual buyer of retail merchandise. What the consumer movement is concerned with is to increase the effectiveness of all these activities, in order to help the individual purchaser buy more intelligently and with greater assurance of satisfaction.

With the active co-operation of business organizations, the consumer movement should prove a constructive influence, helping to shape future progress in producing and distributing goods.

simply say that we have nerves—nerves that enable us to "sense" the world, as we say.

There are actually animals that have no nerves and hence no senses. The amoeba is an example—a single cell. When it wants to eat, the amoeba simply wraps itself around its food. No sense is involved. The action is purely physical. Higher animals are composed of billions and billions of cells. Some cells form muscle, some nerves, some hearts, some kidneys, some lungs. Why this complexity? Because one cell can't eat, feel, hear, smell and see, grow hair, run, play the piano, and speak. To make a higher animal, nature divided up the work to be done among many different kinds of cells, each with its own function.

But this involves central control. And what does the controlling? The brain, of course. All the nerves we have lead to the brain.

Scientists do not like the word "senses." They prefer the word "receptors"—receiving organs. It is a good word. It conjures up a picture of nerves picking up messages from the outer world and sending them to the brain.

By far the most remarkable of all these receptors is the human eye. Lower animals feel more sensitively than we do. Dogs have a better sense of smell, or, if you must be scientific, better olfactory receptors. But we triumph over all nature in our response to light.

We can't follow a trail like a bloodhound, but we can see farther. We can't feel our way as accurately as insects do, but we can avoid obstacles that block them because we can see. We can't taste as discriminately as bees, but we can pick one flower from another unerringly with our eyes.

We are a clear case of nerves—eye nerves.

Recent Bride Honoree at Shower Wednesday Afternoon, July 16

With Mrs. Cecil Wayne Driver, who was Miss Pauline Adams prior to her recent marriage, as honor guest, Mesdames John Thompson, Tom Bursey, Charlie Hunter, Jim Davis and Miss Beatrice Mullins were hostesses at a lovely miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Thompson on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Miss Riley Adams, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Sam D. Russell, while Mrs. Driver, her mother, Mrs. Davis Adams, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Elvis Driver, of Quanah, composed the receiving line.

Mrs. Donald Drake Jr. gave a reading as the first number on the program. John Sanders sang, "Here Comes the Bride." A short wedding sketch was given by Misses Reed Sanders, Sammie Gene Mills, Iva Ruth Gafford and Mrs. Sam D. Russell, with Hardy Sanders as the preacher. The bride was invited by Miss Gafford to the gift room, where a lovely array of gifts from friends awaited her.

From the gift room the guests were invited into the dining room where punch was poured by Miss Mullins from a beautifully appointed table covered with a lace cloth. Dainty flowers were used in the decorative scheme. The punch was served with cookies. Miss Ruby Adams, sister of the bride, and Miss Doris Driver, sister of the groom, served in the dining room.

One thing that has made America a great country is this:

Any man with the courage to start a new business—or sell a better product at a better price—is free to do so.

It lets each man tell his story—and the public picks the winner.

Adequate Rest Is Important to Texans at This Time

Austin.—"The implication of the word 'rest' in 'restore' is of great importance to Texans in our present defense program," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State health officer. Hot summer weather added to extraordinary production schedules and strenuous labor places a debilitating load on our population.

At this time adequate rest is of greater importance to all of us than in previous years. Rest is the opportunity the body takes to rebuild and repair the tissues impaired in their efficiency by fatigue. In other words, the sum total of our individual physical fitness is measured by the resiliency of our faculties to return to normal after a depleting day's work.

The means by which we rekindle the ravages of fatigue through rest are several. Complete rest is most easily obtainable by sleep—at least eight or more hours nightly, according to individual needs. Physical relaxation (rest) is of value to us also. The change from every day labor and worry through participation in sports, games, hobbies, and the like is a recognized principle of good mental hygiene. All of us should get in some sort of physical exercise daily—a brisk walk, if we lack the opportunity for more active sports.

Medical and public health authorities also recognize the need for mental relaxation, apart from physical sports or games which keep the mind keyed to a high pitch. Even when a person's physical apparatus is completely relaxed (resting) the mind may still be plagued with problems and be un-relaxed.

So mental relaxation, valuable as it is, is more elusive than physical relaxation. The simplest form of mental relaxation is "wakeful rest" where by the individual gets his mind completely away from himself and lets his mind "idle" by following something not of his personal creation or thought. It is thus possible to rest mentally and physically if the mind is entertained rather than exercised. Numerous diversions are available to us which offer inexpensive opportunities for "wakeful rest."

If we give thought to budgeting time each day so that our work and mental relaxation and adequate sleep, we will keep our health at par and increase our daily efficiency now when it is needed most for all-out defense effort.

Phillips Petroleum Co.'s Earning Show Increase Over 1940

Phillips Petroleum Company's earnings were $8,236,679.84 or $1.85 per share for the first six months of 1941. Earnings for the same period of 1940 were $6,278,198.13 or $1.43 per share. This increase of 42 cents per share in earnings was due primarily to expansion of the Company's sales volume and to more reasonable prices for petroleum and its products.

The Board of Directors at a meeting in New York on July 21, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share payable August 30, 1941, to stockholders of record August 1, 1941.

The program was in charge of Rev. Hugh Longino and talks were made by Rev. Clement and Rev. Herring. Roy Gilliland also made a short talk.

Arrangements for the meeting of July 30 when the district governor, Cal Farley, of Amarillo will make his visit to the local club, were announced by President Payton Powers. The committee named to make arrangements for a chicken and mutton barbecue included Irving, Fisch, John Nagy and George Self. Leslie Thomas and T. B. Klepper compose the invitation committee. worked in the business ever since. She runs it while he gallivants around the country. They have one child, a talented daughter named for Gene Tunney. He is past president of the Amarillo Rotary Club and has taken side-splitting, mountain music programs to more than 200 clubs over the nation during the past few years. While he was president of the Amarillo Rotary Club the attendance jumped so high that the club considered selling tickets to his weekly performances. He usually had his members rolling in the aisles before the meeting was over. If they didn't roll he knew enough wrestling tricks to make them.

"The 55 clubs of the 127th district, accustomed to some dignified, serious-minded orator" type of district governor, are going to get the surprise of a lifetime this year. Farley is just as likely to turn a handspring into the banquet room and burst into a line of comedy chatter as he is to walk in on both feet the way a man is supposed to enter a club room. Another thing is that the ladies will get a real treat this year. Farley is a handsome devil despite the manner in which his ears have been pinned back by wrestlers in various parts of the world. He also recognizes the importance of women in the success of any organization so he has asked that instead of meeting with the sourpuss men members of the club he be given the opportunity to hold club assembly meetings with their wives.

"That was one of the planks in his platform at the Lubbock convention. Said Farley to the assembled Rotary Annals: 'District governors have been going along all these years working with the men and ignoring the women and you see what a 'shape' they've gotten Rotary into. I'm going to ignore the men and work with the women and see what the results will be. Farley's greatest love, and the only thing he has ever been serious about except the collection of his budget-pay-plan business, is boy's work. Years ago Farley saw the need of doing something for the underprivileged boys, and with a group of similar minded fellows he aided in organizing Amarillo's famous Maverick Club in 1933. He has been president of the Mavericks since its inception. That club has achieved a national reputation for its work and has been invaluable to Amarillo. It has 400 members. Out of the work with it grew the idea for Boy's Ranch which is located at old Tascosa, 35 miles northwest of Amarillo. This is for boys without homes or in trouble. Boy's Ranch and the Maverick Club are both sponsored by the Amarillo Rotary Club.

"There are 32 boys at Boy's Ranch and it is fast growing into one of the nation's largest. The boys do their own farming, milk their own cows, go to their own school and live there working and playing until they graduate. Their first graduate this spring was a top hand and is now holding down a good but hard job as a plumber's helper and is supporting his mother and two smaller brothers. Farley is, of course, a sports expert and is known to thousands for his sports broadcasts of football games and other contests. His own daily radio program put on in his Number One store in Amarillo is now in its tenth year. Friends of Farley wanted to elect him Mayor last year but he turned it down saying that one job at a time was enough. That job he had in mind was the district governor's office of Rotary.

"If he gets serious at any time when he visits the Rotary Clubs in the district it will be when he starts talking about the Mavericks Club or Boy's Ranch, and you will like him serious then because he has a heart big enough to be a daddy to 432 boys, and he is keeping a place for the many more these two clubs are constantly being called on to serve."

"Church leaders of all denominations have felt and appreciated the influence for churches contributed by Dr. Hanna and his family. He and his family have belonged to the First Baptist Church since first coming to Quanah. Dr. Hanna has been an active member of the board of deacons of the Baptist Church since 1908 and chairman of the board since 1921. He was a member of the building committee which led to the construction of the edifice. He has been a consistent contributor of the church and has taught Bible classes and led in every activity of church life.

"There has not been a worthy community project for the advancement of Quanah and Hardeman County that has not been supported by Dr. Hanna. The citizens of our town regret to see him go and send him to his new business and community with heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for another period of unselfish service to the needs of humanity.

THE PASSING OF THE Boomtown

Oil boomtowns exist today only in the movies. The old-time "gusher" wells are gone forever.

In the early days, as long as oil flowed, the boomtowns flourished. But soon the wells failed and the booms collapsed, carrying with them the income and security of those who had depended on them.

Today, through a sound program of conserving oil and gas, hundreds of Texas communities are enjoying a permanent type of petroleum development. Furthermore, because of conservation, we have the largest oil reserves in the world, one of our greatest assets for National Defense.

Oil now builds stable communities. It provides assured tax revenues and greater ultimate tax returns than were ever possible in boomtown days. And every citizen benefits from the income oil creates.

Conservation not only protects Texas oil resources. It also assures for many years the prosperity which oil brings to every community where it is found.
