C. L. Cooke To Head W. T. C. of C. Special Task Force Committee

C. L. Cooke, president of Community Public Service Company, Fort Worth, was named to head a West Texas Chamber of Commerce Special Task Force to study the problems of West Texas small towns, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the organization announced.

A "blue-ribbon" panel of 25 West Texans, to be named shortly, will conduct an in-depth study and evaluation of the problems, resources and potentialities of towns under 12,000 population. Seventy-one towns in the category have lost population during the past 10 years.

"Too many people," Shepperd said, "are willing to write off small towns but we cannot do this if we want West Texas to grow and prosper."

The study to be made will include exhaustive research, surveys, conferences in Austin and Washington and town hall type meetings and hearings in small towns of West Texas. The hearings will develop ways and means of utilizing existing assets and methods of accentuating the cultural, educational, recreational and industrial opportunities of the smaller towns.

The Special Task Force is a group for planned action and not an academic study, according to Shepperd. The group will seek to determine what the small town has and what it is possible for them to have; what assistance is needed, if any, from the State and Federal governments; what the metropolitan areas may do to assist the small towns within their sphere of influence; growth patterns of small towns and the seasons for losses or gains; the development of criteria as to what an aggressive small town, with proper leadership, can expect in the way of industrial development, tourism, cultural development and retention of young people in their community. The study will also evaluate available Federal programs and services as well as those possible aids from the State agencies that will be helpful in attaining the goals set by the individual city.

In the formation of this important Task Force, President Shepperd said, "Small towns are our last citadels of graciousness and true hospitality. . . they have been and will continue, with help, to be an important element in the Texas economy, characteristic of the democratic way of life in which a man is free to make choices and achieve security through his own efforts."

The results of this study, which will be completed by March 31st, will be summarized in a "White Paper" published by WTCC. This publication will be distributed in small towns for guidance of their action programs and to enable them to utilize their assets.

Shepperd expressed hope that this study will also serve as a model for the whole country and could be a basis for possible state and federal legislation.

"West Texas is fortunate to secure the services of an outstanding leader like C. L. Cooke to head up this important study," Shepperd said. "His background as an industrialist and civic leader will enable him to do an outstanding job."

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce just completed its 13th Annual Industrial Development Conference which was devoted to the industrial growth potentials of small towns and will sponsor a similar meeting in January designed to point up the possibilities of small towns attracting more tourists.

BEARS LOSE HOMECOMING TO DE LEON HERE SATURDAY

The Baird Bears losing streak continued and their homecoming spirit was dampened Saturday night when they were defeated by De Leon, 6-0.

The victory was the first in five starts for De Leon, with this being their first game in District 10-A play.

De Leon took advantage of a pass interception in the first quarter to score the lone touchdown, in what proved to be a brutal defensive battle.

The Bears chalked up 6 first downs, had 64 yards rushing, 40 yards passing, 4 of 16 passes completed, 6 for 26 punt average, 4 penalties for 40 yards, and lost one fumble.

Mr. J. Woodie Holden performed the ceremony. (Mr. Holden also married the bride's parents.) His church is the Lakeside Church of Christ in Benbrook, Texas. The organ and carrillon were played by Mr. Emmet Smith, instructor of music at Texas Christian University and organizer at the University Christian Church.

Given in marriage by her father, Mary Jane wore a formal gown of pure silk magnolia white peau de sole and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The molded bodice of English net, lavishly hand allqued with beaded flower motifs of the Alencon lace, had a bateau neckline finished with natural scallops of the lace and long fitted sleeves of the appluqued motifs on the English net scallop over the hands. An inset fitted yoke defined the waistline. The voluminous peau de sole skirt, flat paneled in front, had fullness extending from either side, and the full circular court train flowed from a silk cabbage rose.

The bride's veil was train length and shaped to the train and of many tiers of magnolia white silk illusion caught to a coil of the matching Alencon lace used on the bridal gown.

She carried a cascade of white bridal roses with an orchid in the center.

The panniers flowed from a self fabric bow at the waistline. Headpiece were moss green chiffon Dior bows draped with moss green illusion. The attendants carried cascades of bronze mums.

After a reception at Weatherly Hall, the couple left for a trip to Nassau, Bahamas; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and Atlanta, Georgia.

You don't believe a 6 can act anything like an 8?

With our new Overhead Cam Six you'd better believe it.

Our OHC 6 delivers 165 hp on regular gas. And 215 horses from the premium gas 4-barrel version. Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do, but they're overhead cams, too. In fact, they inspired us. Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and Le Mans. So are a host of new safety features like passenger-guard door locks, General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four-way hazard warning flasher. We've said enough. If a test drive won't sell you, nothing will.

Orange sherbet was served from a milk glass punch bowl. The table cloth was white lace.

Approximately 150 people called at the McBride home in the afternoon and were welcomed by the couple's children: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McBride of Ft. OPLIN OBSERVATIONS

DAPHENE FLOYD
The Ray Floyds were so busy last week I just didn't have any news. All I could have said was hey, hey hey - correction - it would have been hay, hay, hay. You see we were so busy getting hay baled and hauled in. On Monday we practically had everyone in the community involved in helping. It wasn't all work and no play. If you don't believe it, ask some of the dinner guests like Claude Joy, Bill Coats, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Poindexter, Durwood Swor, Larry Johnson or Tom Windham Jr. To prove that labor is scarce in these parts, I asked Tom Windham Jr. to come and have lunch with us and then after dinner I talked him into driving the pickup in my place for the hay haulers while I washed dinner dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud McKinley of Odessa spent Tuesday night of last week with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pierce. The visitors went on to Coleman to visit his brother, Sumner McKinley, who is still convalescing from a serious injury suffered when his horse fell on him several months ago. Sorry to hear that Sumner still has a rough road ahead of him in the way of recovering from the injury.

Mr. Tom Windham Jr. visited last week in Carlsbad, N. M. with her daughter, Paula. Her sister, Mrs. Jeannae Tiffany of California met her there and accompanied her home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pierce visited last Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Floyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Floyd and Glen Swor were among the many friends who attended the open house last Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Walter McBride on their 50th wedding anniversary. The McBride's children, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McBride of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Saunders of Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Jack May were hosts for the occasion. The McBrides, Walter and Lydia, are former residents of Oplin, but now live in the Rogers Community.

Maybe it was a little early but there was frost last Sunday morning. Ray and I were at the hospital in Baird the last part of the night, sitting up with grandpa Booth, and everything was white with frost at Baird early Sunday morning. Others reported a light frost at Oplin, but it doesn't seem to have been a killing frost.

FFA Members Exhibit Animals In State Fair

The calves will be shown Wednesday or Thursday and the sale of the animals will be Friday morning. Fat lambs will show Wednesday and sale Saturday morning.

Mrs. Lynn Williams Honored At Federation Day Tea Monday

Mrs. Lynn Williams of Moran, President of Mesquite District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was honored Monday evening at a Federation Day Tea in the Presbyterian Church of Baird. The four Federated Study Clubs of Baird were hosts to other study clubs of Shackelford and Callahan Counties.

Mrs. H. D. Driskill and Mrs. J. L. Ault were at the door, and guests were registered by Mrs. Frank Cunningham and Mrs. Ray Black. Receiving guests with the honoree were Mmes. W. P. Brightwell, J. C. Earp Jr., Irvin Corn and Lee Ivey. Mrs. James Asbury played assembly music and accompanied Mrs. Jimmy Godfrey, who sang the Federation Song. Invocation was given by Mrs. Corn.

Mrs. Ivey welcomed guests with response by Mrs. John Doyle Isenhower, President of Women's Study Club of Putnam. Two selections from the "Sound of Music" were sung by Mrs. Ed Cotton, with Mrs. C. M. Peek as accompanist.

Mrs. Brightwell introduced the guest speaker Mrs. Williams, who chose as her subject, the outstanding projects of the Texas Federation. She named these as: Education, with particular emphasis on libraries; Community Improvement Projects, in which every club is urged to participate; the L.V.N. Program, of particular importance because of the shortage of nurses; the Scholarship Program, designed to give financial aid to deserving college students; Traffic Legislation now being promoted to secure better and stronger regulations for driver licenses; and the new Charitable and Education Fund Project, which if successful, would provide living quarters at the TFWC Clubhouse in Austin and tuition for one girl from each of the 14 districts of TFWC while attending the University of Texas. The speaker also urged each club to enter the Shell Oil Co. Education Program.

During the tea hour, guests were served from a table centered with an arrangement of marigolds in a crystal container carrying the decorative theme of yellow and white. Serving were Mmes. Beatrice Deal, L. B. Lewis, James Snyder and James Eubanks.

Mrs. Godfrey played tea hour music, and goodbyes were spoken by Mrs. A. E. Dyer Sr. and Mrs. B. L. Russell to the approximately 60 guests from Cisco, Moran, Putnam and Baird.

Mrs. Bill Betcher of Oil Center, N. M., spent the weekend here with her mother, Mrs. Viola Atwood.
