HOW TO KEEP CHICKS FROM DYING IN THE SHELL

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, Extension Service, A. & M. College

ARTICLE NUMBER 2

The one great trouble in artificial incubation is chicks dying in the shell. Of all the poor hatches the largest number are due to dead chicks in the shell at hatching time.

The hatching time is the most critical. At this time it is necessary to have plenty of heat and moisture. The heat is necessary to get the chicks out quickly, and the moisture to keep them from drying to the shell. A temperature of 104 to 105 at hatching time is not injurious; but it must not be allowed to run above 105 degrees. The moisture at this time is very important. It is well to add extra moisture at hatching time by sprinkling. We sprinkle the eggs, when about four or five are pipped, by taking the eggs with water the same temperature of the eggs (103 degrees), trays out and sprinkling the eggs liberally.

At hatching time, the inside of incubator should show some moisture. In case of glass door incubators, drops of water should form on the inside of the door. If this is not the case, there is not sufficient moisture in the machine.

We recommend, if possible, flooding the incubator room once a day, during the entire period of incubation, much moisture in the incubator room; but it is easily possible to get too much inside the incubator, especially if it is added before the hatching time.

Sometimes if the hatch is delayed and appears dry we place one medium sized sponge, for every 75 eggs, soaking in scalding hot water under the egg tray, or if necessary on the tray. This sometimes helps bring them out quicker.

The quicker they hatch, the better the hatch. A long drawn out hatch as a rule is a poor hatch.

A very uneven temperature will cause chicks to die in the shell.

If the chicks appear very moist, flabby and with yolks only partly absorbed, it is because of too much moisture and may be prevented by increasing the ventilation, increasing the amount of cooling and decreasing the moisture provided, if any. This condition does not often exist, unless moisture has been added regularly during the hatching period.

If the chicks appear small and some are seen with pieces of shell dried on the down and the shell membranes very tough and leathery, it is because of too little moisture.

In Texas, so-called non-moisture machines give better results, if moisture is added, at hatching time. This is especially true in West, Northwest Texas and Oklahoma. In high altitudes it is also wise to add moisture at hatching time.

Weak breeding stock produces eggs with weak germs and chicks, many of which will die in the incubator.

We have also found that closely yarded breeding stock will produce eggs, many of which will be found with dead chicks in the shell.

Chilling the eggs before incubation sometimes is responsible for dead chicks in the shell at hatching time.

Hatching eggs shipped any great distance, and receiving rough handling in transit, often are responsible for dead chicks in the shell at hatching time.

As a general rule it is wise to add moisture to the incubator at hatching time. Experiments appear to indicate that moisture at hatching time will prevent many chicks from dying in the shell.

Another common cause of dead chicks in the shell at hatching time is a lack of fresh air in the incubator room. We have noticed that incubators operated in storm cellars frequently are responsible for many dead chicks in the shell at hatching time. A storm cellar is a very poor place in which to operate an incubator, because no provisions for ventilation are made.

Uneven temperature in the incubator is another cause of dead chicks in the shell at hatching time. This may be remedied by carefully turning the eggs twice a day, and shoveling the eggs around on the tray.

Hatching eggs produced by hens fed exclusively on oyster shells sometimes are so hard and thick that many chicks die in the shell at hatching time. This can well be noticed by the Farm Statistics for Foard Co.

The census of 1920 gives us some interesting information which we are here giving to our readers with respect to the farms of Foard County. This is taken from the Government statistics which have been sent out.

There are in the county 629 farms, as against 718 in 1910 and 210 in 1900. Of these 616 are owned by males and 13 by females. 621 farmers in the county are native whites while 8 are foreign born whites.

The number of farms under 3 acres, none; those from 3 to 9 acres, 3; from 10 to 19 acres, 7; from 20 to 49 acres, 23; from 50 to 99 acres, 97; from 100 to 174 acres, 180; from 175 to 259 acres, 97; from 260 to 499 acres, 121; from 500 to 999 acres, 68; from 1,000 up, 32.

The land area of the county is approximately 391,680 acres, of which 373,160 are in farms, while the improved land in farms number 95,275 acres, as against 73,218 in 1910. The per cent of the land area which is in farms is 95.3, while the per cent of farm land improved is only 25.5. The average is 151.5.

The value of all farm property in the county in round numbers is $11,000,000, as against $6,500,000 in 1910. The farm buildings in 1920 were valued at more than $800,000, as against $400,000 ten years ago. Implements and machinery are valued at more than $500,000, as against $153,000 ten years ago. The live stock on the farms is over $1,400,000, as against $813,000 in 1910. The average value of all property per farm is $18,000, the land and buildings being $15,000. Of the farms operated by the owners there are 331. The farmers owning the entire farms in the county are 238. There are 247 share tenants in the county, 29 croppers and 8 standing renters.

Local National Guard Companies Inspected

Maj. W. L. Culberson of Wichita Falls came in yesterday to inspect the local National Guard Companies. The inspections were held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening.

Maj. Culberson was honor guest and principal speaker at a banquet given at the Sanitary Cafe at 8:30 o'clock last night.

way white shelled and brown shelled eggs hatch. The brown shelled eggs, partly on account of the thicker shells, do not hatch as well, as a general rule, than the more thin white shelled eggs.

Sometimes the ventilators are forgotten and not opened or kept "plugged." This has a tendency to cause many dead chicks.

One of the best ways of adding where moisture is to be supplied regularly, is by placing a shallow sand tray beneath the egg tray, without obstructing the ventilator holes that may be in the bottom of the machine.

Old eggs seldom produce strong and healthy chicks, and frequently are responsible for dead chicks in the shell at hatching time.

Eggs produced by breeding stock that has been forced for heavy egg production, when placed in incubators develop into many dead germs and chicks at hatching time. Do not force breeding stock for abnormal egg production.

Pullet eggs sometimes are so small that the chick can not develop properly and hatch, hence many of them will be found with dead chicks at hatching time.

We do not believe that thunder storms have any influence on eggs under incubation.

Incorrect thermometers sometimes are responsible for operating the incubators at the improper temperature resulting in dead chicks in the shell at hatching time.

If the incubator should accidentally run up a temperature of 108 to 110 degrees for several hours do not throw the eggs away—remove the eggs from the incubator and sprinkle the eggs with water about 100 degrees. This will cool down the eggs quickly. Air or cool the eggs for about 30 minutes and do not place them back into the machine until the temperature is under perfect control.

Cooling and airing eggs too much during the hatching period sometimes weakens the germ so much that a large number of the chicks will die in the egg before they can be hatched.

Beginners frequently open the incubator door while the chicks are coming off. This allows the heat and moisture to escape, and as a result many chicks do not hatch. Keep the incubator door closed.

BETTER PRICES PREDICTED FOR COTTON

Farm Bureau Reports Range of Prices Last of Feb at from 15 1/4 to 9 Cents Per Pound

For the week ending February 24, the Cotton Association received 179 bales of cotton, according to reports sent out to the officers and directors of the county bureau.

The market has been better, says the report, and since the last report 10,589 bales have been sold, bringing the total sales up to 63,000 bales.

The range of prices at which cotton sold week before last was from 19c for good middling to 15 1/4 for strict good ordinary. Market indications are decidedly bullish, says the report, and the selling policy will be governed accordingly.

The report mentions the speaking tour of President Orr over West Texas and says that he is being greeted by large crowds and that his report to them is satisfactory. The consequence is that many new members are coming into the organization.

Higher Prices Predicted

One of the biggest and best known men in Texas, writing to President Orr last week said:

"A few days ago I received a letter from a farmer friend reporting some dissatisfaction in his neighborhood among members of the Cotton Association who seemed to be disappointed that their cotton had not all been sold and paid for. I wrote him promptly and called attention to the following important facts.

"First, that according to my information, the Association has sold about the same proportion of its cotton that the larger cotton merchants have sold. Hence your judgment appears to be in line with expert cotton judgment of the country. Of course a few men outside of the Association sold their cotton at the high point of the market. It is perhaps true however that some of those men, if they had not been compelled to sell by their creditors, would have held for higher prices. It is easier to see what is behind us than to see what is ahead of us, which is another way of saying hind-sight is better than foresight, or to put it a little clearer there are those to say how a thing could have been better done after it has been done. Moreover, it is by no means certain that we have seen the highest prices for cotton. If there should be in the early spring such weather as you had last year, and if the world's takings continue at the present rate, I see no reason to doubt that cotton will sell much higher than present prices before the season closes, but that is all speculation. Your policy is to market your cotton gradually, and that is the wise policy, as has been proved by an experience of one hundred years. It will win nine times where it will fail one time.

"Second, I am as certain as one can be of anything, that your Cotton Association, in securing advances upon cotton and establishing financial credit on cotton in the farmers' hands, was as much responsible as the apparent shortage in crop, for the sharp advances in the prices last fall. You showed that farmers could finance their cotton and market it in an orderly way, and by that showing you demonstrated to the cotton buying world that the farmers would not dump their crop, as they have usually done. The fact that thirty or forty thousand farmers in Texas could organize and merchandise their commodity, was a powerful influence in stabilizing cotton values. The fact that you are still marketing cotton in an orderly way and are not dumping it, that you are not panic stricken by the decline, is a powerful influence in sustaining prices."

Literary at Gamble Tonight

The News has been requested to say that the literary society of the Gamble community will meet at the Gamble school house tonight. Last Friday night was the time for this meeting but on account of the climatic conditions that forced the mercury low it was thought advisable to postpone the meeting for a week. Hence this Friday night.

Quite an interest is reported in the literary at Gambleville, the attendance is said to be very fine. It should be worth a great deal to the people in that community.

Jeff Bruce is able to be out after being confined to his bed with a broken rib for several days.

MONEY PLENTIFUL IN FOARD COUNTY

Street Medicine Peddler Cleans Up Several Hundred Bucks in Very Few Hours

Is there any better index into the financial condition of the country than the freedom with which people spend their money for soothing syrups? We have never seen it. If you want to know really whether or not the people are broke let the average spouter of stale jokes come to town and mount a dry goods box and offer for sale the healing balm fresh from the fountain of life. If the good people respond readily with the long green and the shining coin then one may rest assured that starvation is not at our doors. We may say that we just can't afford so and so. Dry goods are too high and we'll do without clothes and the good wife and the dear kids will have to go clad in last year's styles, if they are clad at all. Some of us will cut out the home paper because it's just a little too high, but it is no trouble for the long-winded medicine faker to swap a 15 cent bottle of colored water for that dollar the average fellow has in the bottom of his pocket any time he wants to.

One good man said to us this week. "Can you explain why people will buy medicine from these fakery after they have been bit time after time?" No, we can't tell why. Neither can those fellows that were bit tell you. The only thing they know for sure about it is that they let some money go and got little or nothing in return for it. Of that they are certain. Some are not even wiser than before they bought, because the next time the peddler comes along they will be ready to bite again.

Nothing harsh is meant. We have all bit, haven't we? Who has not? If there is one in the house or out of it who has not at some time in his or her life bit and got bit, please stand up. Nobody stands, then we stick to our assertion that nobody has escaped. But, if we live and learn (and let us hold that "if" a second) then we are making progress and if we learn some day maybe we can whisper to that dollar down in our pocket "just keep the company you have. It's good enough."

Schools Receive State Aid

The schools of the county which applied for state aid have received half of the amount they applied for. The reason for this is the fact that the inspector has not yet made his visits to the schools of the county and could not until some time in this month, and since the schools were in great need of financial aid half of the amount has been allowed, in the hope that the schools would comply with the requirements so that they might be entitled to all they asked for. In case they do not comply, according to information given by Miss Blanton, the half already paid will be held out of their next year's aid. Following are the amounts received:

Crowell	$250
Gamble	890
Margaret	$250
Ayersville	$200
Jamison	$198
Rayland	$300
Foard City	$185

W. M. MURRELL, Pastor.

"A NEW COMMANDMENT I GIVE UNTO THEE"

John 13:34-35 furnished the text for the sermon preached by the pastor of the Methodist church last Sunday morning. "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."

The discourse led up to the two conclusions that religion is a supernatural fact, and religion is a supernatural force.

The world does not understand it. Its mysterious workings in the affairs of men, its outgoing influence and its reflex influence places the Christian religion beyond the comprehension of the man who has not been touched by its quickening power. This is because the carnal can not understand the spiritual. And only is it made possible for any human being to begin to understand it when he has become a changed individual and actually saved by its power. Then he can realize the fact that religion is something supernatural.

The remarkable change this brings to the life of an individual is that which gives it its supernatural force. Man is given possession of something that is supernatural, he is changed about and power and influence are directed into a new channel and he becomes the means through which this supernatural fact operates as a supernatural force.

In this connection some of the standards by which man regulates his actions were pointed out. It requires little effort to render good for good but it is not so easy to do good deeds for evil ones. It is not hard for most any one to reciprocate manifestations of love and kindness, but Jesus went further than that. He left his home in Heaven and came to earth to do good deeds for those who hated him, and when his life's mission had been practically filled he gave his disciples an example of humility and service by washing their feet and then rising from that scene to say to them that the new commandment went further than mere reciprocation of like for like, but that it included all the world, and all conditions of men. Love for mankind is the vital and living force of the Christian religion, and without it religion is merely a form and a mockery. Jesus gave this commandment, said the speaker, for a person to keep, and the thought that this is impossible is a mistaken idea. It has been proven that men can observe this, and examples of such men as James, John, Peter and others were pointed out. These were men who left their businesses and went and followed Jesus and did as he had done. The compelling power was that of love, such as had been given them by Jesus himself. Coming down to modern times, examples of men who had given their lives on the foreign fields were pointed out. These had obeyed the command to love others as Jesus loved.

SEVERE BURNS CAUSE DEATH OF CHILD AT THALIA

Fell in Pan of Hot Ashes When No One Else Was in the Room

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haney, who live east of Thalia, was saddened last Friday morning when their little 5-months old Billye Jo died from burns which he received the morning before.

It was early in the morning when the accident happened. Mr. Haney had built a fire in the heating stove and had taken up the hot embers and ashes in the ash pan which was under the stove. Mrs. Haney had gone into the kitchen to cook breakfast and the child had been placed in a rocker not far from the stove. Sylvan Haney, a brother of Clarence, had stayed all night with Mr. and Mrs. Haney the night before and had been sitting in the room where the baby was, but when the fire in the stove had died down he had run out to get some wood, and it was at this time when no one else was in the room that little Billye Jo flung out of the chair and fell into the pan of hot embers.

The mother at first heard something but thought it was the wood settling down in the stove, but involuntarily she went to the room to make sure that the baby was all right and found it in the pan of embers. The little fellow was so badly burned that he died Friday morning. It was a very sad occurrence and the sympathy of all friends of the family is extended to the bereaved family.

Have You Ever Read of "NOBRUSH?"

NOBRUSH is the name of a high grade, clear finishing VARNISH. NOBRUSH gets its name because it is not necessary to use a brush of any kind to apply it. When you use NOBRUSH on your AUTOMOBILE, your LINOLEUM or any kind of FURNITURE, you do not have to buy a brush at all.

Just take a piece of bleached cheesecloth or any other soft cloth free from lint, saturate it in NOBRUSH, and after having cleaned the object properly, apply one or two coats of NOBRUSH according to directions, and you will be well pleased with the results.

NOBRUSH DRIES HARD READY FOR USE IN 24 hours. Dries free to road dust in three or four hours.

NOBRUSH IS INTENDED TO BE USED on things that have become faded or dull but where the original coloring is still on. For surfaces that have been gouged or scratched below the original finish we recommend PITCAIN'S AGED "SOLE-PROOF" colored varnishes. We carry a large assortment of best colors.

Dr. J. T. Horton, candidate for Representative of the 114th District of Texas, announces his platform, as follows:

The Need of Our Country, Americanism vs. Bolshevism, Open Shop for Employees, and Restoration of Business.

Nowhere else in the United States should this be so keenly appreciated as in Texas. Our chief product is cotton, and the prosperity in Texas depends directly or indirectly on cotton. In normal times before the world war we exported about as much cotton as we made last year. Unlike some other Cotton States, Texas has very few cotton mills. Under the present condition of things, our American mills are only running part time; because of strikes and threatened strikes, to tie up coal production and the railroads. The same element is felt all over the world. War stricken Europe's business is badly demoralized by strikes and threatened strikes. When they come to their senses and go to work, which will restore their credit with us and the world, Texas ports will be calling for Texas farmers' wheat, cotton and meat.

My policy will be to outlaw everything that is a menace to the best interest of the people as a whole.

I am in favor of repealing the law requiring women to pay poll tax. I am strong for any legislation to support the Texas schools; let it be a mill tax or a tax on luxuries. We spend more money in Texas for tobacco than we do for the education of our children. Education and Americanism is the antidote for Bolshevism.

I believe the penitentiaries can be run on a business basis, thereby becoming an asset instead of a liability, for which I will do my best.

I am for good roads and against raising our ad valorem tax.

I am in favor of changing the time of registration of autos to July 1st of each year, because of the crowded condition of the Tax Collector's office about January 1st. Not over 25 per cent of the tax collected on auto registration should go to the Highway Department.

I am for any law that will lift the burden of the farmer. For a strict enforcement of all laws, but opposed to doing it with a mask on. I am for

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quick-silver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sicken you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-eat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

strict economically managed business for the State and the Nation. I am against exorbitant appropriations, which have, in the end, to be met by taxation. Taxation is our coming burden. We are today paying more than ten billion dollars annually to support our Government, municipal, county, state and federal. That is a burden which it is simply impossible for this country to bear, and leave us much for re-investment in new enterprise or extension of old enterprises. Onerous taxation in every country has first discouraged and finally paralyzed all business. Take heed, Russia and the European countries are a lesson for us. I am an optimist, open shop and Americanism will save our country for us and our children.

Americanism, means, every man who works is entitled to fair wages, be it physical or mental labor; no set of men should demand such wages for themselves as will not leave fair wages for those who work on the farm, whether they be land owner or renter. The way to do a thing is to keep obstructions out of the way that prevent doing the thing. Congress should repeal the iniquitous Guarantee law and the Adamson bill, and abolish the Labor Board, make reasonable rates and the railroads will take care of themselves.

I believe in State Rights, State regulation of public utilities, but not State ownership or Federal ownership.

I am a Democrat and believe in Democratic principles. Have always been a Democrat. The tariff, our old Democratic idea tariff for revenue only, needs revision. I endorse the Southern tariff movement, to put a tariff on the farmers' products. I am in favor of a tariff on raw material equal to the tariff in the manufactured stuff; then the producer will have the same protection as the manufacturer.

I have other views that I will discuss at the proper time.

SWEETWATER FIRE CAUSES BIG LOSS

Sweetwater, March 6.—Fire originating in a shed in which linters were stored at the local oil mill today destroyed 3,000 bales of cotton, at an estimated damage of $60,000.

The blaze was discovered in the linters shed at 4 o'clock, and had gained a large headway before the fire department could reach the scene. The flames spread rapidly and leaped upward to a great height, while clouds of smoke arose from the conflagration. The firemen worked rapidly, but the streams of water that they poured upon the burning cotton seemed to have little effect. The flames were fanned by a brisk breeze, which hindered the firemen in their attempts to bring the fire under control.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening the fire was still raging, and the fire department was still making frantic efforts to bring it under control, but had met with little success.

Great crowds surrounded the scene of the fire, and many of the spectators joined in the efforts of the firemen to check the spread of the blaze.

The amount of insurance protection has not been determined.

COLUMBIAN RECEPTION

On Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 22, the Columbian Club was hostess for a beautifully appointed Washington Birthday party. The beautiful home of Mrs. R. B. Edwards was decorated in keeping with the time. On the west wall of the long drawing room hung excellent pictures of George and Martha Washington, and one of Mount Vernon.

The receiving line, composed of officers of the Columbian Club, was very pleasing. Each lady was dressed in Colonial style and was introduced as a member of The Hatchet family. Mrs. George and Washington Hatchet heading the line.

A short program was offered as entertainment for the more than one hundred women who responded to the invitations.

"Presidents of the United States" was a clever contest. A number of charades were enacted, that gave evidence of careful preparation. "I Can't Stay Here by Myself," a reading in costume, was given by Mrs. O'Connell. Some stirring patriotic pieces were rendered by Mrs. R. B. Edwards on the accordion. Little Miss Elizabeth O'Connell gave a pleasing reading and Madams Walford Thompson and Allen Sanders gave a unique burlesque of the Balcony Scene from Romeo and Juliette.

The evening was one of merriment from the laughter provoked by the quaint dresses and odd names of the receiving line on to the stately figures of Uncle Sam that served as favors on the well filled refreshment plate.

We were glad to note so many older ladies present to enjoy the afternoon. Aside from the feeling of patriot that was ever prominent one could but say with the apostle of old "It is good to be here," and enjoy the pleasant entertainment of friend with friend.—Reporter.

To the Voters of Texas

Crowell, Texas, Mar. 8, 1922.
After much deliberation and the solicitation of friends I have decided to make the race for Commissioner of the General Land Office.

I was born in Dallas County, Texas, on January 7, 1872, and lived in that county and in Denton, Wise and Jack counties during my early childhood. My father moved to Hardeman County in 1887, having in November, 1886, filed on a section of State School land on which he made settlement. He was always engaged in the livestock business, principally cattle, and I have had all the experiences incidental to living on the frontier and looking after livestock. My father was an ex-Confederate soldier, having enlisted in the early part of 1862, at Trinity Mills, Dallas County. Captain Hamp Witt was his first captain, and my uncle, J. M. Kennedy, of Carrollton who is now deceased, was his first lieutenant, while my father, G. W. Thompson, was second lieutenant of the company with which he served all through the war until the surrender, returning home in the early Spring of 1865.

My only son was called to the service in the early part of 1918, a very short time after he became twenty-one, and was stationed at Camp Mabry, at Austin, and was in the service until after the close of the World War.

I have been engaged for the past twenty-four years actively in surveying lands in Western Texas, and am a licensed State Land Surveyor, and feel myself competent to discharge the duties of Commissioner of the General Land Office in every detail.

I ask the voters when they come to cast their votes in the Democratic Primary in July to give me due consideration and should I be elected I will to the best of my ability endeavor to so fill this important office that no one will ever have cause to regret having voted for me.

I have a college education, having attended school after reaching young manhood.

Respectfully submitted,
J. C. THOMPSON.

A tempting ice course was served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. L. D. Harris, of Des Moines, N. M.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Foard County—GREETING:
You Are Hereby Commanded to summon E. R. Swift by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 4th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Foard County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Crowell, Texas, on the 8th Monday after the first Monday in February, A. D. 1922, the same being the 3rd day of April, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 28th day of February, A. D. 1922, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 1130, wherein Alice Marie Swift is plaintiff, and E. R. Swift is defendant, and the cause of action being alleged as follows: That on or about the 4th day of March, 1920, plaintiff was duly married to defendant at Lubbock, in Lubbock County, Texas, and thereafter until about the 15th day of June, 1921, plaintiff and defendant lived and cohabited together as husband and wife. That during the time plaintiff and defendant lived together as aforesaid plaintiff treated defendant with respect and kindness and done all in her power to make him a good wife and companion, but defendant disregarding his marriage vows soon after their marriage began a course of cruel and abusive conduct towards plaintiff and often cursed, abused and struck her. That soon after their marriage defendant took plaintiff on a trip to New Mexico and just a few days after their arrival at Dexter, New Mexico, defendant was charged with the theft of winchester rifle and other property and was arrested and put in jail but was afterwards released and returned to plaintiff and gave her a severe beating with a leather belt. That prior to said beating defendant had beat, cursed and abused plaintiff and was thereby guilty of cruel treatment and outrages toward plaintiff of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable, and plaintiff left defendant and came home to her father's in Foard County, Texas, and since which time plaintiff and defendant have been entirely separated.

Premises considered plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to answer this petition, and that she have judgment that the marriage relation between her and defendant be dissolved and that she have her decree of absolute divorce from the defendant and for such other and further relief as she may show herself entitled to and plaintiff will ever pray, etc.
Herein Fail Not, but have you before said Court, on said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Yesthleta, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hathaway, who had been seriously ill at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hathaway, of this city, died Tuesday, February 28th. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church on Wed. Mar. 1st, by the pastor, Rev. McNair, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Thalia cemetery. The entire community extends sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Last Thursday morning while Mrs. Clarence Haney was preparing breakfast and Mr. Haney was feeding their little baby, Billy Jo, fell from a rocking chair into a pan of hot ashes and coals of fire, burning its face and head so badly that death followed Friday morning. Funeral services were at the Baptist church, burial in the Thalia cemetery. O, who can know the anguish of this poor father and mother's hearts? The one who gave it took it away to place among his other jewels. It looks so hard to give up one so sweet who never knew sin. But we have this consolation that he is at rest. Billy Jo will never suffer any more pain, and it will only make heaven brighter by his passing. To you, dear parents, we pray that God in his infinite love will sustain you and help you to bear your burdens.

are often at the end of their wits to know where they can have the repair work on their cars properly done—how to avoid the absolute butchery that is so often inflicted upon cars by incompetent persons who hang out a sign and call themselves "motor mechanics."

This garage offers you the opportunity to have your repairs made in the proper manner by mechanics who DO KNOW THEIR BUSINESS and who have long since passed the experimental stage in motor mechanics.

You pay only for the actual time honestly consumed in the work.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

Adjusted compensation won a decided victory in the nationwide referendum conducted by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce—4,116 chambers voting favorable, 2,657 voting against the measure. "From the U. S. Chamber's point of view," said John Thomas Taylor, vice-chairman of the American Legion's legislative committee, "the referendum was a flat failure, for that body represents the most highly organized opposition to the bonus. By trying to separate the cash feature from the more productive provisions of the bill, and by other means, it has done everything in its power to influence its constituent members against the bill. In spite of this fact, the vote shows almost 2 to 1 favorable. "The Legion despises unfair discrimination—cash and the other features cannot be separated as the U. S. Chamber separated them in its referendum."

The American Legion has won the first suit in its history, brought to defend its name. Judgment by default and damages were awarded the Legion against Francis H. Shoemaker, alleged radical worker, for statements made in a speech last December. Shoemaker was quoted as saying that the Legion is "subsidized by big interests" and "opposed to organized labor."

On March 4, American Legion membership was 108,000 more than on March 4, 1921. New members have joined at the rate of 6,500 a day since Jan. 1. These figures have been given out from Legion headquarters to refute the statement that the organization is losing members because of its stand on adjusted compensation.

The ex-service man on the beach at Waikiki needs a bonus as much as his buddy in this country, according to the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce which has passed a resolution endorsing the American Legion's five-fold adjusted compensation bill.

Repudiating the stand against adjusted compensation taken by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Chicago commerce board went on record in support of the bill, following a visit to Chicago of Hanford MacNider, commander of the American Legion.

"How a man worships God is his own business," wrote Hanford MacNider, Legion commander, answering a magazine article entitled "Rome Heads the American Legion." Mr. MacNider said religion is of no consideration in Legion membership.

Charging that the bonus is attacked "not by those who fought" but "by those who profited," the American Legion at Marion, O., home of President Harding, has appealed to Congress to look at the facts "in the light of pure reason."

Cash payments ran fourth in a referendum on adjusted compensation taken by the Elgin, Neb., post of the American Legion in five townships. At Bozeman, Mont., there were no

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficacy of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E. S.

votes for the cash option.

Arrested for a minor offense, Gordon Seybold, Oneida, N. Y., ex-service man, says State troopers swung him up by the wrists and pummeled him to get a confession. The American Legion has engaged counsel to probe the charge.

Disabled emergency officers of the World War would be retired on an equal basis with regular army officers by the terms of the Bursum bill, sponsored by the American Legion. The bill has already passed the Senate.

Armed with fence pickets, doughy ex-soldiers staged a bloodless bullfight in the Jersey City stockyards to raise funds for the American Legion. The nimble matadors had to jump the fence on several occasions.

"It will be blown up!" The Police at Centralia, Wash., received this threat against the erection of the American Legion memorial building, to be dedicated to men shot down by alleged I. W. W. members, in 1919.

Before sunset of the first day, 500,000 daisies were sold in the American Legion's "Daisy Day" drive throughout Massachusetts for funds to help unemployed ex-soldiers. Four daisies brought $125.

The longest wireless jump ever made at sea was recorded when the steamer American Legion, entering Buenos Aires, picked up a message from a ship off Honolulu, 7,000 miles distant.

Making expenses by selling chewing gum, an ex-cavalryman is walking from Chicago to Los Angeles to get a job promised him there. "It's 1500 miles, but jobs are scarce," he says.

To attend an American Legion initiation, an Oregon rancher trekked 35 miles—18 of them on snowshoes. Wounds received in France did not check his determination to "arrive."

A member of the American Legion or its auxiliary will sit on every school board in Iowa, if plans of the Legion's Americanism department in that state carry.

Oil Cheaper Than Machinery

Poor oil makes extra work for your engine.

Cheap oils are the most expensive. They simply can not lubricate properly—the RESULT is friction—friction puts an extra burden on your engine—wears it out prematurely—watssts both fuel and oil.

Get away from these troubles by using the high grade scientific lubricants, a tractor and automobile oil of superior quality. It pays.
