FOARD COUNTY FARM INFORMATION GIVEN IN PRELIMINARY REPORT OF UNITED STATES FARM CENSUS

The acreage of all land in farms in Foard County for 1930 was 447,349 acres, compared with 358,035 acres for 1925, an increase of 89,314 acres, according to figures included in the preliminary announcement of the U. S. Farm Census for 1930. The acreage for 1920 was 373,160 acres. The number of farms for 1930 was 720. For 1920 the number was 629 and for 1925 it was 874, which is 154 more than for 1930.

Due to a rather complicated classification of what constitutes a farm, according to census instructions, the number of farms in Foard County now than there were in 1925, especially since the census figures show that there are 89,528 more acres in farms now than there were five years ago. Different census takers were used at these periods and the difference in their methods possibly accounts for the wide variance of the figures. It is certainly unlikely that there were 89 more farms in 1925 than there were in 1920, as shown by the census, when the farm acreage for 1925 was even slightly less than that for 1920.

Foard County Taxable Valuations for This Year Below Last Year

Foard County's taxable valuations for this year are $5,363,343.00 compared with $5,545,565.00 for last year, a loss of $182,222.00, according to an announcement just made by Vernon Pyle, tax assessor.

He stated the principal cause of the decrease was due to personal property. Stocks of merchandise have been reduced, the value of cattle is less and a number of other reasons contributed to the drop in personal property. As an illustration Mr. Pyle stated that cattle last year were valued at $20 while this year they are valued at $17, which means a considerable difference on 11,275 head, the number rendered this year. There are 3,828 horses and mules, 4,689 sheep and goats and 169 hogs, 78 tractors, and 948 autos on the tax list this year.

"WEEKLY PAYROLL" WORKERS START RACE FOR VALUABLE PRIZES TO BE GIVEN BY THE NEWS ON AUGUST 22

Only Short Time Remains For Candidates to Get High Credits in Subscription Drive; Winner Must Work Hard

The bars are up, the track is clear, and every one of the ambitious participants in the Foard County News' big "Weekly Payroll" subscription drive has the "RIGHT OF WAY." The race for the Trip to Europe or the Ford Sedan is now on in earnest. No worker should be discouraged if they should not be among the leaders in this issue. The campaign is just in its infancy and there is not a single participant who could not, if the proper interest and effort were put into the matter, secure enough credits by next Tuesday night to be among the leaders in next Thursday's paper.

Time is Limited. Now is the time for those contemplating entering this race to get busy and make the dust fly. Only a short time remains to secure the maximum number of credits on each subscription. Just a short time in which to win or lose, for that is exactly what it means. After August 1, there is a material decrease in the schedule of credits and subscriptions secured in the last week of the campaign will bring only one-half as many credits.

The thing for those workers who wish to win and WIN BIG, is to rush every available subscription to the campaign department now, while the big credits are in effect. Not to do so means that they are throwing away golden opportunities that may bring the grand prize to their name.

How To Help Candidates. Many people throughout the campaign have asked how they might go about helping some one candidate in this race. As this is a strictly business proposition, there is but one way to help and that is in helping them get subscriptions to the News. Each subscription carries with it so many credits and it takes credits to win.

Anyone who subscribes to the News will receive in a year fifty-two issues of the paper that is chuck-full of news—news of the different places in Foard, Cottle, Knox, Wilbarger and Hardeman Counties; society, current happenings and court house news.

In other words, for $2.00 a year (a few cents a copy) you get all the

Crowell and Thalia To Play Ball Game To Aid Statue Fund

This will be the first game this year to be played between Crowell and Thalia. These two clubs and their management are to be commended for the offer of their service in helping to raise the remaining statue funds.

Austin, Texas, July 9—Selection of a former attorney general, a banker, and a legislator as an advisory committee to the Texas division of the "use more cotton" campaign projected by the National Association for the Increased Use of Cotton has been announced by officers of the group.

W. A. Keeling, former attorney general, Austin; T. H. Davis, president of the Austin National Bank; and Lawrence Westbrook, member of the Texas House of Representatives from Waco, were selected by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, and C. D. Ulrich, general manager of Sugarland Industries, president and vice-president respectively of the Texas group.

The advisory committee, McDonald said, will work with officers of the Texas division in planning a statewide campaign to enroll workers in the campaign to stimulate consumption of cotton, both in its well-known and its lesser-known uses.

A meeting of the advisory committee with state officers will be called in the near future, McDonald said.

8 RULES

Big help to BOWELS
Get a joy to have the bowels move a clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous doctor:
1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.
4. Everyone's bowels need help at times. The thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your bowels weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. It's how it wakes up those lazy bowels, how good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

THE WORLD AND US

It seems to us that a great deal of the talk about the danger of having any relations with Europe is political hokey intended to put the other fellow's party in a hole. There isn't any way that the United States can keep from having relations with Europe and all the rest of the world. "No man liveth to himself alone" is as true between nations as it is between individuals. There was a time, when George Washington was alive, before steamships, telegraph, telephones and airplanes had been invented and when the United States was a weak, struggling little strip of settlements along the Atlantic Coast, when we had a right to be afraid of Europe. But it makes us mad to listen to some of the people today who profess to be afraid that if we, the richest and most powerful nation of the world, have any relations except those of trade with foreign countries, those countries will gobble us right up.

The surest way to keep out of a quarrel is to live on good terms with your neighbors. All the world is our neighbor today. When you have a good neighbor who is in temporary difficulties you try to help him—that is, if you yourself are a good neighbor. That is what the United States is proposing to do now in the case of our neighbors in Europe. We don't believe that that sort of thing constitutes the sort of "entangling alliance" of which Washington warned us.

THE COST OF ILLNESS

There is another thing that is as sure as death and taxes—sickness. The average American man is ill once a year; the average American woman nearly twice as often; the child of school age twice as often. These are figures taken from a study made of the Committee on the Costs of Medical Care, which is coming to the end of a five year study of the economic aspects of the prevention of disease and the care of the sick. These illnesses total about $130,000,000 every year. Their direct cost in money is computed by the committee at $3,105,000,000.

This is a huge cost, reckoned either in terms of time lost or of money expended. The cost would be huge even if we could foresee just when we will fall ill, just how serious the illness will be, or just how long it will last. None of those things, however, can be foreseen, and to all the other burdens that illness imposes upon us must be added uncertainty. Uncertainty exists not only as to appearance and character of illness, it is even more a factor with relation to cost. No problem enters into the daily lives of Americans that is more serious than this.

Medical facilities in the United States are adequate in the aggregate, perhaps. The committee has found that 1,500,000 people devote their full time to medical care. There is one physician to every 126 inhabitants. Over 7,000 hospitals have 900,000 beds, which would give every man, woman and child one and one-half days occupancy a year. But neither physicians nor hospitals are evenly distributed; there are places that have too many, and many more that have too few.

What can be done about seeing that everybody in the United States has sure and convenient access to the medical care to which he is entitled? What can be done about seeing that those who furnish this care are adequately rewarded for their labor? What can be done about seeing that the means of paying for this care are provided for all the people?

In the four years which it has already put in upon its task such progress has been made that answers to those questions will soon be submitted to the people of the United States. There is promise that the formula which will result will be workable. If it is, then one of the great contributions to civilization of our age will have been made.

Notice to Subscribers

Owing to the fact that a few of the present subscribers of the Foard County News have not renewed, or given their subscription to one of the workers in the "Weekly Payroll" drive, waiting to see if the price will be lowered, the management of the News wishes to announce that no bargain rate will be made this year.

It takes more than $2 a year to send the paper, if the present standard is to be kept up, and believing that the people of this territory desire a worthwhile county paper, and one that will be representative of this thriving section, the policy will continue to be one of progress. It is true that the price, at certain times has been dropped to $1.50 for a limited time, but the regular price remained. Whereas only a saving of 50c was made before, the arrangement that has been made with the Rialto Theatre, permits at least 70c savings, for with each subscription sold, a pass good for one couple is given free and may be used any time during the campaign.

It is hoped that patrons of the Foard County News will place a true value on the paper and not ask that it be sold for a loss, and that every family in this section will find it possible to subscribe to the Foard County News during the present subscription drive.

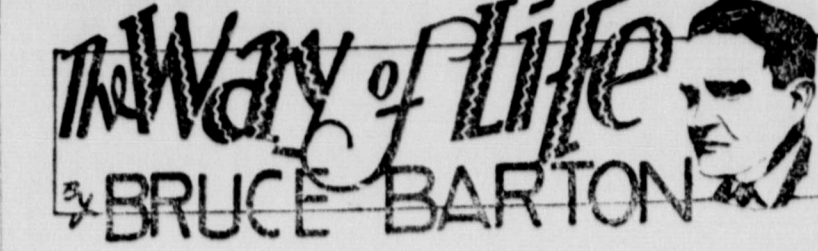

Hundreds of dollars will be spent by the publisher during the next few weeks in the way of commissions to local workers, and this money will remain here, and be spent.

Crowell Christian Church Gains Wide Publicity for Work

The activities of the gospel team of the Crowell Christian Church have gained nation-wide publicity. For the past two weeks the "Christian Standard," published in Cincinnati, Ohio, has carried two long articles concerning the work, written by Rev. C. V. Allen, pastor of the church. In addition to the articles five photographs of various local groups have appeared with the stories.

The first article in the magazine is headed: "This Is New Testament Evangelism—Here is a Texas church with attendance of less than a hundred that develops six members into preachers and builds churches throughout the county." In the first article, which is too lengthy to reproduce here, organization, work and accomplishments of the gospel team are reviewed along with other interesting information.

The article in the issue of June 27 is a continuance of the first one and is headed "That Crowell Gospel Team." In it additional information

COPS

As we drove along beside the Hudson River we noticed a crowd at one of the piers. A discouraged gentleman had attempted to drown himself.

Dripping and dejected, he sat on an empty barrel, while the cop who had pulled him out of the water talked to him like a big brother. Presently the patrol wagon arrived to take them away, the cop still uttering words of friendly encouragement.

At a busy corner stood a woman with a baby in her arms and a youngster tugging at her skirt, anxiously viewing the torrent of traffic, afraid to plunge in.

The cop in the middle of the street sighted her, and raised his arm with a knightly gesture. The city stopped while the timid little mother crossed over.

It was late at night. On the steps of a residence, the windows of which were shuttered, a man was slouched in an obvious state of intoxication.

A cop touched him on the shoulder. They held a brief conversation. Presently the cop halted a taxi, loaded the inebriated citizen in it, gave instructions to the taxi driver and the taxi drove away.

These incidents, occurring within my own sight and close together, reminded me that I have long intended to write a little something about Cops.

I have been a respectful admirer of them for years. They are so good looking physically, so even tempered, so courteous and so sensible.

Doubtless there is an occasional grafter among them; no large group of men in any profession is free from a black sheep.

I admire most of all their self-possession and the sound common-sense way in which they go about their work. Adlai E. Stevenson, once vice-president of the United States, used to quote a friend's remark that "the Constitution of Illinois is an almost perfect document, but it should have one additional paragraph. It should provide for an appeal from the Supreme Court to any two justices of the peace."

The idea was that when all the high-priced lawyers and judges had finished their legal wrangling, then a couple of country chaps should render a final decision on the basis of simple common sense.

I recall that remark whenever I see a cop calmly taking testimony and dispensing justice in a traffic case. I feel then like adding a paragraph to my will, to read:

"In case of any dispute among my heirs, the whole matter shall be submitted to the nearest traffic policeman, and his decision shall be final."

at Anson, a 220 volt secondary extension will furnish power for pumping water wells contributing to the city's water supply.

Distribution systems will be extended and strengthened in Dalhart, Etter, Eden, Menard and Dumas. Each of these extensions will improve service to existing customers and make available facilities for serving increased demands.

A rural line will be built out of Shamrock, and an oil field extension furnishing power to pump four Simms Oil Co. wells, will be made from Iraan.

Water extensions to be made at Dalhart include the laying of new service lines and the building of six inch mains to serve new customers and an additional fire hydrant installed by the company.

Construction work, as outlined in the company's bulletin, is going forward at the present time. Regular West Texas Utilities Company construction and maintenance crews are being used on the projects.

PERFORMANCE

More than five thousand years ago, the great rulers of Egypt erected as monuments to their vanity, the obelisks and pyramids and Sphinx that may still be seen standing nobly and eloquently in the sands of the desert.

These baffling phenomena have withstood the ages and the elements because of the engineering genius, the patient workmanship, the boundless wealth that created them.

Today, man believes in another kind of permanence. Today, an institution endures because of its ideals, because of its desire and capacity to serve.

The Bank of Crowell is such an institution. Its present building may give way to another, and still another, but the institution will endure, a credit to its community and founders.

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which quickly neutralizes acids. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali neutralizes instantly many issues as much harmful acid, and then the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. Epworth League at 7:30 p. m. Women's Missionary Society, Monday at 4 p. m.

Young Women's Missionary Circle, Monday at 6 p. m.

We are asking the entire membership to be present next Sunday, for Sunday School and the preaching service at 11 a. m., as I shall be away in a meeting at Detroit in Red River County, the two following Sundays. The revival meeting at the Baptist Church will be in progress at the same time and will afford our people a chance to attend it. I am asking that each and every member give his hearty cooperation in the meeting and make it, indeed, a revival.

We shall have our regular service at the 11 o'clock hour, and greatly desire that we shall have a full house at that time.

Chas. Ferguson will fill my appointment at the Black school house at 3 p. m.

On account of the revival at the Baptist Church we will call in the prayermeeting during its progress.

At the Sunday School hour each Sunday please take the regular offering so that our finances will be kept up.

Don't forget. At the Methodist on time Sunday morning.

B. J. OSBORN, Pastor.

Baptist Church News

Attendance last Sunday was better and God gave us a great day. L. D. B. Smith and wife gave a special program of music in the Young People's department Sunday morning. Those absent missed a treat. Harold L. Rucker, who leads the choir in the First Methodist Church at Stamford, was with us and led our singing at both morning and evening services. He also brought a special message in song which was greatly appreciated. He is a promising young man. Although he is not twenty, he has dedicated his life to the Master. How we rejoice when we meet a young man like him.

The pastor spoke at the morning hour on "Living a Great Life" and in the evening on "Hindrances to Answered Prayer." There was one addition during the evening hour.

Remember our meeting starts next Sunday. The evening services will be held on the church lawn. It will be cool and pleasant. We hope to have the heartiest cooperation of the town in this revival effort. "Come with us and we will do thee good" is the words of the Psalmist. H. Virgil Reynolds, a brother-in-law to Evangelist B. B. Crimm, will help us, having full charge of the music and will speak at the morning hours during the meeting. He is one of God's most noble Christian characters. We are fortunate to secure him. Reynolds is considered as one of the greatest pianists in Texas. He will be a great blessing to our town. Come and help him.

Next Sunday: Sunday School at exactly 9:45; preaching at 11:00 and 8:15; training service (B. Y. P. U.) at 7:15.

Our prayer services were the best last week. The beginners' department of the S. S. gave us a wonderful thrill. The largest crowd was present we have had for many years. If you missed it, we feel sorry for you. The Intermediate Department will have charge this week. We are asking that each department of the Sunday School organize prayermeetings for the revival. No great revival is possible without prayer. Superintendents be sure to get going on this not later than next Sunday.

A good place to spend Sunday. Come and Welcome. WOODIE W. SMITH, Pastor.

Church of Christ

While for the past few weeks there has been no report of the Church of Christ appearing in the News, services go on just the same. Attendance has been a bit light since the harvest started. Let us not forget the Lord and his work after he has blessed us with a harvest.

There will be preaching at this church next Sunday morning. The subject will be, "When Are We Sealed?" You are invited.

E. J. SMITH, Minister.

Christian Science Churches

"GOD" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 5.

The golden text was from Psalms 118:27. "God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light." The service included the following passage from the Bible: "Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me."—Isaiah 46:9.

These citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were also read: "If what opposes God is real, there must be two powers, and God is not supreme and infinite. Can Deity be almighty, if another mighty and self-creative cause exists and sways mankind?" (p. 357). "Either there is no omnipotence, or omnipotence is the only power." (p. 249).

THE PREACHING OF THE APOSTLES Acts 4:1-14

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Faith in any religion is indicated by the way its followers seek to propagate it. Passing the truths of Christianity on to others is one of the basic principles which Jesus Christ proclaimed. Naturally the apostles' teaching aroused the opposition of those who were especially related to the Jewish Sanhedrin. One particular reason for opposing those of the new sect was that they asserted that the body of Jesus had been raised from death. This was a position that the Sadducees denied. It was with real eagerness that the Sadducees saw to it that Peter and John were put under guard for trial the next day. Those apostles had wrought a miracle under the power of the Holy Spirit in healing a cripple who had asked alms from them as they were going into the Temple area. Of course a crowd was attracted and Peter used the opportunity of preaching to the people.

The Sanhedrin was summoned and the healed man was present with at least his silent testimony. The question was asked "By what power, or in what name have ye done this?" Again Peter had a lead for further witnessing concerning Jesus of Nazareth and the active work of the Holy Spirit. The climax of the message was in the statement about Jesus Christ: "And in none other is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved."

The Sanhedrin could not deny the fact of the healed man who was in their midst. Their sentence was that this kind of preaching must stop. Peter's bold answer to that injunction is given in the Golden Text: "We must obey God rather than men," Acts 5:29.

SERMONETTE

By Arthur B. Rhinow

Here are three stories of Dad: "My dad certainly was a great pal," a gentleman confided to me as we looked on at the whirl of a social function. I certainly would have been slow to criticize if he had entered into the festivities, but I was glad to see him refrain in honor of his father, who had died just six months ago.

How good it feels to hear a son of mature years speak tenderly of his father as a great pal. What a heritage we leave our children if our memory constrains them to live up to the best that is in them. A little girl graced the altar table of her church with a bouquet in memory of her "dad" and her grandmother whispered to us that the child had saved up for the bouquet from her own weekly allowance. Many will look upon an incident like that as too insignificant to be recorded even in a sermonette. But such little sacrifices are the stones of which is built the temple of a beautiful life.

So we meditated when the door of the study was opened and somebody who claims the right of intruding at all times told us a story of a different kind. A young lady in a western state had a very fine offer of marriage, but she rejected the suitor because her father's life had made her lose faith in men. That prejudice is not altogether justifiable and perhaps it is a bit morbid, but it is there, and it was created by one whom she loved and could not honor. Sad! Oh, for good fathers! They do not have to be pals in the same way making themselves childish with their children, but they must be true to their holy trust.

"My father was a good man," testimony that which there is a greater in all the world.

Not Appendicitis—Gas Pains Fool!

Get Adlerika today; by tomorrow you feel wonderful effect of this doctor's remedy."—Ferguson Bros.

Car Owners Bought More Firestone Tires During April, May and June than in any like period in History

THERE are reasons for this—Firestone is now building the Greatest Tire Values in history, with the result that Firestone factories are operating 24 hours a day, 6 days a week, to meet public preference.

This is the year everybody is scrutinizing his purchases. This is particularly true in tire buying because of the many confusing and misleading statements made about tires.

To give car owners the facts, Firestone published comparisons showing quality, construction and prices. Then the public came in—made their own comparisons with cross-sections cut from Firestone tires—and from special brand mail order tires and others.

When they saw the facts, they bought more Firestone tires during April, May and June than in any like period in Firestone history.

Drive in today and let us show you these Firestone Extra Values and have your car equipped for Safe, Trouble-Free Summer Motoring. We can save you money and serve you better.

A HOLIDAY EXPERIENCE

(By Mrs. Gillespie, Truscott)

At dawn Saturday morning, July 4, little thirteen year old Keenon Brown of Paducah was to realize his long time wish.

Keenon had longed to ride his cowboy, which he called Tom-Thumb, from Paducah to Truscott and visit his relatives. He visited them every summer; but always without his pony companion, so this was to be his ideal visit.

His father, John Brown of Paducah, made ready for Keenon's journey and while Keenon gathered his necessary clothing, tied it in a little bundle at the back of his saddle, his father drew on a piece of plank directions giving the exact route. This was tied on the saddle and early Saturday morning Keenon gave his farewell salute and started on his journey. He was happy and in his mind were thoughts of the cowboy stories he had heard and read. He felt that perhaps he looked something like that real cowboy and though he did not know a cowboy song, his heart was singing for he was realizing his dream.

He had ridden miles before it dawned upon him to look at his directions, so at the first glance he saw he would soon come to a wire gap. This he did and passed through into a pasture which seemed to have no bounds. He went through another gap—and another—each time struggling to open and close them. Time passed and the heat of the day was on and Keenon came face-to-face with the fact that he was "lost," too, that master of all boys, "hunger" was beginning to assert himself. Keenon, brave as the bravest of cowboys, urged his faithful little Tom-Thumb on and for hours he rode; many times feeling that he was going in a circle back to Paducah. This, he was determined not to do, so on he rode, down ravines, around obstructing hills, across strange land. His hunger and thirst was becoming almost unbearable; but Keenon and Tom-Thumb kept going.

Finally, just before Old Sol sank in the west, Tom-Thumb, worn from his long day, walked more briskly and Keenon raised his eyes to look upon a familiar looking ranch house. His heart leaped with joy and unconsciously he spurred Tom-Thumb, who mustered a trot, to the front gate and Mrs. T. B. Masterson, mistress of the J. Y. Ranch, was soon out to welcome a hungry and almost

TEXON TALES

It has rained so much down here we use mud chains on our polo ponies. We didn't win first place at the Menard polo tournament and some of the boys say it was because we didn't play well enough. It sure does hurt to have to admit the truth.

People are talking about signs of better times I've seen. The one the boy had in front of the barber shop which says, "Shoes shined inside," and another one like this, "Shirts laundered in the back." Another one where it says, "The doctor will see you inside." He was probably a surgeon. Another sign that got me in trouble was the plastic surgeon's sign, "We maim to please" so I went in and had my face lifted but it fell as soon as I got his bill for the job. I find a cheaper way to get your face lifted is to fool around the north end of a Texas mule. I wonder if women have the home face or their street face lifted. Guess it is the street for I don't believe they ever wear the home face out. And while I am on the subject I feel I ought to tell the one on the Madam, as bad as I hate to do it. Well, it was a pretty bad operation and we had to give her other twice. Yeah—Once for the operation and again to stop her from telling about the operation.

A fellow was telling me his wife divorced him over a little misunderstanding but he can't kid us. A woman marries a man because she doesn't understand him and divorces him as soon as she really does. But we think divorcees will keep increasing until some day this will be a free country. However, there is one divorce menace in this country today and that is that divorcees may become so commonplace that they will cease to be indulged in by the better class.

Very often we hear of some real crook who people claim is very shrewd. Now, a crook may be cunning and pretty slick but he is never shrewd or he wouldn't be a crook. Cite one instance of a life of crime that was successful and we will take it back.

Well, in conclusion I might say it would be fine if we could only practice what we preach while the only consolation I can offer is that it might be even worse than it is if we preached what we practice. It's a mighty fine thing that people can't have everything they want.

J. W. Beverly Explains Texas Pension Matter

J. W. Beverly, who for a long period has shown much interest in Confederate veterans and the problems confronting them, has furnished The News with the following explanation in regard to Texas pensions:

Most of those who have been getting Confederate pensions in Texas are disappointed this month by not receiving the usual check. A few lines by way of explanation will show why this condition exists.

The money for this fund is collected by a seven cent tax on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in the state. Originally it was paid only to soldiers of the Confederate army who were residents of the state at a certain date after the war was over. Since that time allowances have been made to men who became citizens of the state at later dates. Also by acts of the legislature, more liberal payments have been paid to widows of the soldiers.

Some of these widows were born after the war closed. By reason of taking in so many, most of whom are women, the money for the current year is gone.

State treasurer, Charlie Lockhart, says that the deficit on June 30 is $855,000 and only about one third of the June pensions have been paid. It is estimated that to pay all pension demands will require a fund of about $3,500,000.

The seven cent tax, if all paid each year, would be about $2,575,000. By this it appears that the deficit is caused mainly by paying pensions to so many of the younger women. Mr. Lockhart says the new law waives the necessity of an affidavit accompanying the pension warrants in the future.
