LARGE CROWD PRAISES COOKING SCHOOL

Crowell-Throckmorton Game Here Friday Holds District 10-B Spotlight

TIME CHANGED FOR SECOND SCHOOL TODAY

Women Acclaim First Showing of "Star in My Kitchen"

The largest crowd ever to attend a single session of any type of cooking school was present at the Rialto Theatre Wednesday afternoon to attend the opening day of the motion picture cooking school, "Star in My Kitchen," which was brought to Crowell by The Foard County News with the co-operation of Crowell merchants, and is being shown without admission to anyone.

Time Changed

The time for the second session of the cooking school to be held this afternoon (Thursday) has been changed from 2:30 to 2 o'clock in order that school girls who live in rural sections will have an opportunity to see the motion picture and be ready when the school buses leave in the afternoon. The school on the last day, Friday, will be held at the scheduled time, 2:30 p. m.

School Acclaimed

Every woman and girl who attended the opening session of the school Wednesday afternoon acclaimed the picture for its entertainment and the ingenuity in which a cooking school was so perfectly woven into a romantic love story involving a movie actor, a beautiful young girl and a family of good cooks.

The slightest detail for the improvement of this picture over the first motion picture, "The Bride Wakes Up," which was enjoyed so much by the ladies of Foard County last year, was not overlooked or slighted in the production of "Star in My Kitchen."

Armed with thousands of letters from weekly newspapers of the United States concerning the first motion picture and a vast amount of other data which was obtained at a great cost for the improvement of this type of cooking school, the producers set to work on the second motion picture. The result of that year's research work is "Star in My Kitchen," which is as entertaining as any of Hollywood's major productions and as educational as a lecture cooking school.

The question voiced more than once after the first showing Wednesday afternoon was "how could such a high class, enjoyable, two-hour motion picture be shown free?" The answer is: co-operation of national manufacturers in the production of the picture and the co-operation of Crowell merchants with The News in its presentation.

The plot of the enthralling love story, comedy and the cooking school are so closely interwoven that the women scarcely realized when one leaves off and the other starts. Yet the women see the actual mixing of ingredients and cooking of a large number of all type tasties and dishes. All in all, there is not a dull moment in the two-hour motion picture and every woman and high school girl in this section should make plans to see "Star in My Kitchen" at the Rialto Theatre this afternoon or on the last day, Friday.

Sept. Old Age Payment Made to 74 Persons

There was a slight decrease in the Old Age Pension payments in Foard County for the month of September, according to figures released from the county clerk's office here.

Seventy-four persons in this county received a sum of $964.00, as compared with 76 persons being paid $984 during the previous month. This shows a decrease of two persons and $20. On an average, each person was paid a little more than $13.00, but the checks called for from $8.00 to $18.00.

With the September payment, $8,512.00 have been paid to the aged in this county by the state in the past nine months, or from Jan. 1, 1938.

Dwight Campbell is the WPA superintendent and A. R. Sanders is the timekeeper on the project.

Cotton Production Total Reaches 3,850 Bales of Cotton

Over 1,200 bales of cotton have been ginned by the five gins in Foard County during the past week in spite of the day's lay-off on account of rain Monday. According to figures obtained Wednesday night, there had been approximately 3,850 bales ginned from the 1938 crop and there had been 2,650 bales ginned by Wednesday of last week.

All gins of the county reported that the cotton rush started again Wednesday after pulling was stopped Monday on account of rain. Some of the gins reported that a few bales came in during Tuesday and that those two days had served as "breathers" in the preparation for the rush.

8-INCH RAIN MONDAY BREAKS 3-MONTH DROUTH IN FOARD; TOTAL FOR YEAR, 24.31 INCHES

THIRD SUBSIDY PAYMENT MADE HERE LAST WEEK

Eight-tenths of an inch of rain was received in Crowell Monday morning at which time a general rain fell over Foard County and broke an extended dry spell of about three months. This was the first precipitation to be recorded at the Crowell State Bank since July 17.

Heavier rains, reported to be an inch and upward, fell in the western section of the county, while rainfall over the eastern part was about the same as in Crowell.

The rain stopped cotton gathering in the county for a day and gave the ground moisture enough for planting wheat in most of the communities and will bring up wheat already sown.

According to figures released from the Crowell State Bank, the total rainfall to be recorded in Crowell this year, including the rain Monday, is 24.31 inches.

Man Loses Arm In Cotton Saws At Thalia Gin

Jack Miller of Thalia lost his left arm last Friday morning as the result of an accident at the Farmers' Gin there.

Reports describing the accident are that the machinery was being stopped in order to clean the gin stands and it was still moving when Miller, who apparently thought the machinery was moving slow enough, placed his arm in a stand and was caught by the revolving saws. His arm was severely slashed and he was rushed to a Vernon hospital where the left arm was amputated about two inches above the elbow.

This is the first gin accident to be reported this season.

TEXAS STATE FAIR OPENED OCTOBER 8

Many Newspaper Folks Attend Press Day

Newspaper people from every section of the state were in Dallas Saturday morning for Press Day and to witness the opening ceremonies of the State Fair of Texas and to participate in the festivities of the Golden Jubilee Celebration in commemoration of the organization of this institution fifty years ago.

The State Fair of Texas has grown from a small beginning to the biggest state fair in the world. A beautiful monument to the founders of the fair was unveiled Saturday morning with Senator Tom Connally making the principal address for these ceremonies. A crypt was placed in this monument containing a history of the fair and front pages of 300 Texas newspapers with a story of the community in which they are published. The key to the crypt was presented to Deskin Wells, president of the Texas Press Association, and will be handed down from president to president for fifty years when it will be opened.

The newspaper representatives were guests of the Fair Association and aside from visiting the many attractions on the grounds were presented with tickets to see the football game between Oklahoma University and Texas University in the afternoon.

The attendance at the fair Saturday was 50,000, a record attendance for the opening day.

SPOTLIGHT ON GAME AS TWO TEAMS CLASH

Word of Elevens Run Parallel; Both Squads Are Ready

District 10-B football spotlight will be focused on the Crowell School gridiron Friday night when two of the district's best teams, Coach Grady's Crowell Wildcats and Coach Morris' Throckmorton Greyhounds, clash in a game which probably will have much to do in deciding the champions.

Undefeated Teams

Both of the district's finest records will be placed at stake tonight when the teams line up on the local field and one of the records must fall. Fans here believe that the Wildcats can back the invaders but look at the parallel records and it is conceded that Crowell boys will be up against a most crucial test so far this season.

Wildcats and Greyhounds have been defeated nor tied season and neither have had equal lines crossed by opponents. These two elevens lead the district in scoring with Crowell atop with 99 points and Throckmorton running a very close second with 93 points.

Breaking Scoreless Records

When the Greyhounds take their place for the opening kick off tonight, it will be the first time this season that the two teams have faced each other since they were defeated, tied or won. Crowell was the victor in the cross lines of the Indians, Neoma Indians, Red Dragons and the Iowa Hawks. This probably could be considered as some kind of a recreation itself because the first time the goal line of a team that has not been scored on always the hardest touch-down to make.

Good Game in Promise

With these facts in mind, grid fans are looking forward to the first-fought game so far this season here Friday night. Not only do the two squads be out to their standing in the district but each team will be fighting for another aim: "to maintain their perfect record."

Greyhounds have tumbled in their opponents in convincing fashion and last Friday turned back the powerful Iowa Park Hawks with a 7-0 score. This tilt set Throckmorton lads up for a big obstacle in the Wildcats' line. The Crowell team defeated the Hawks by a 19-0 score on the last day of the season.

In their games this season, the Throckmorton gridgers have played consistently excellent defensive football. The Hounds have a fast, hard-charging backfield behind what has proven to be one of the most powerful lines in the district. The Wildcats made the most of the past days in the way of practice, workouts were not held Monday because of a muddy field, and attention has been paid in the defense to stop the end play of Throckmorton's star fullback, Lloyd, who is aiming at all points.

Against this invading team, Coach Graves will pit his 161-pound line behind which will be making his fleet-footed backs, Leonard Joy, Que Meason and LeRoy Orr. There is little fear the Crowell line will not be able to stop the Greyhounds and to know that the tougher the Crowell backs this week under Marvin L. Myers, who is acting as their coach, and will be in pretty good shape for their first game here Thursday afternoon.

This game will not only prove to be entertaining but will give to Wildcat fans an excellent opportunity to view the prospects for future years. It is machined for a series of games to be played between the teams and it is hoped that much good footage material will be brought to light in the games. These games are being staged in order to give the future Wildcats experience before they go to duty on the main squad.

Players for the various positions have not yet been decided but the following boys have been working out and the string will probably

It's Not Saved Until It's Safe

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Ass'n. Work piles up during cotton picking time and the inclination is to let other things go until the staple is safely ginned. It is impossible to plant all feed crops so that they mature and may be harvested at their best either before or after cotton picking time, and the best that can be done is to hire extra labor or else let some crops deteriorate in the field.

There is a great deal of difference in the feeding value of all hay and forage crops, depending on whether they are cut and cured at their best, or allowed to become over-ripe and woody. Weather damage in the shock is also much greater than in the stack or in the barn, and it is like throwing away part of the crop after it is made to let it stand too long, either before or after harvesting. In the case of grain sorghums birds often destroy more than enough to pay the cost of getting it into stack or barn.

There is still time to sow winter cover crops for grazing, to help protect the soil from washing by winter rains, and to harvest next spring or turn under for soil improvement. There is a wide choice of crops for the purpose, including wheat, oats, rye, vetch, bur clover, Italian ryegrass, rescue and winter peas, and there is not a farm in the Southwest that cannot benefit by using one or the other. All livestock and poultry need green feed in winter, no matter how much dry feed they have.

VETERANS IN CONGRESS Veterans of the World War do not appear to be as active in politics as were those of the Civil War. At least so far as getting elected to Congress is concerned, according to a tabulation made by Fred W. Perkins, a Scripps-Howard staff writer.

This conclusion is reached by comparing the 158 veterans in Congress at present, 20 years after the Armistice, with the 108 in 1885, 20 years after Lee's surrender at Appomattox. This difference in numbers is the more significant because the total membership of Congress is now 531, while in 1885 it was only 399. In other words, with 32 more members of Congress now, there are 10 less veterans.

Austin. — A ten-minute court session in the Travis County District Court last week wrote legal history in Texas.

The famous anti-trust suit brought five years ago by Gov. James V. Allred, then Attorney General, against 15 major oil companies was settled by a compromise, agreed to by Attorney General Bill McCraw and special counsel for the State on one side, and lawyers for the oil companies, on the other.

U. S. Supreme Court, and have long since ceased to be committed, observers here generally believed the maximum penalties sought could not have been won by the State, and that the settlement reached was a fair one for both sides.

Texas oil men were cheered somewhat by word from Washington that Customs Commissioner James H. Moyle has ordered a thorough investigation of charges made by the North Texas Oil and Gas Association that Mexican oil from confiscated American and British wells was being dumped on the Texas market at far less than its actual value.

Water is a limiting factor in future industrial development, as well as agricultural prosperity in Texas, a group of several hundred interested Texans were told at a conference of the Texas Water Resources association held in Austin.

He gave a broad hint of the probable source of the additional tax funds he will seek to pay old-age pensions, when he told the water folks "the old folks can't live much longer just on water," and added that he had told oil men at a previous conference that he was glad to hear their industry was prosperous, because he would need some new tax money to pay pensions, and he "would have to get it from somebody who was making some money."

Meanwhile, the Texas Planning Board sounded a warning against unemployed persons in other states, who have been hearing of O'Daniel's plans for industrial development, rushing to Texas to find jobs that don't exist.

Prison Brutality

The perennial problem of drawing the line between necessary discipline of unruly prisoners, and middle age brutality, which crops up periodically, may result in a shake-up in personnel at the Ferguson prison farm, according to members of the Prison Board.

During the winter months the refrigerator may be used as a "proof box" for raising bread by placing a pan of hot water in the lower part, under the racks and the bread on the racks. The steam allows the bread to spring more and prevents a crust from forming while rising. As the water cools, more hot water must be added.

Football Patrons Should Keep in Good Physical Condition

Austin.—Gridiron fans should take a tip from football players this fall and protect themselves at games by keeping in good physical condition, the Texas State Department of Health advises.

"The nervous strain brought on by the Southwest's razzle-dazzle style of play, exposure to extreme climatic conditions for long hours in an open stadium and sudden changes in weather are particularly dangerous to football spectators who have been leading sedentary lives indoors," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, warned.

"The healthy person, like the athlete who adheres to strict training rules, won't be kept away from games because of illness. The spectator who keeps fit maintains his 'eligibility' throughout the season. But one who is careless with his health is apt to miss a few games or be out for the season with a cold, influenza or more serious illness. This is particularly true of the late fall games when the weather varies greatly from week to week.

Again using the players as an example, Doctor Cox urges fans to dress carefully for the games. It is a foolish gamble with ill health to wear heavy garments to opening games when the thermometer is hitting 99, no matter what fashion decrees. And late season games necessitate warm clothes and wraps, of course.

Doctor Cox also asks football fans to co-operate with the Department of Public Safety in driving carefully to and from football games. Congested week-end traffic and the probability that some drivers are over enthusiastic and careless, add to traffic hazards, and serious accidents.

Shelterbelts Planted 1938 by Forest Service Double Previous Years

Wichita Falls, Oct. 7.—(Special)—Tree shelterbelt plantings in the Plains states, in which the Forest Service co-operates with farmers, in 1938 almost doubled the total for the three previous years, a report just released by Forest Service headquarters here shows.

A total of 6,871½ miles of tree shelterbelts has been planted, of which 4,264½ miles were planted in 1938, the report shows. A total of 11,636 farms have been served, 7,046 of them this year. Eighty-four million trees were used to establish these shelterbelts.

The largest mileage for the year was in Oklahoma, 1,039 miles on 1,870 farms; Nebraska was second with 1,007 miles on 1725 farms.

Oklahoma also leads in total plantings, with 1,542 miles on 2,760 farms. Nebraska is second with 1,516 miles on 2,587 farms. Other states totals are: Texas, 1,150 miles on 2,088 farms; Kansas, 823½ miles on 1,594 farms, and North Dakota, 615 miles on 1,119 farms.

Shelterbelt planting in the Plains states is wholly co-operative, Foresters point out. Planting is done only after an application is received, an examination made of the planting site, and the soil prepared for planting. The Forest Service furnishes the trees and uses relief labor to do the planting and build the fence surrounding the shelterbelt. The farmer furnishes the land, prepares it for planting, furnishes the fence material when needed, and cultivates the shelterbelt during the few years that is necessary.

EDITOR'S WARNING!

Take heed!
 I know, last week, I must be in a good humor, but I am not from now on—

as well tell you what I am doing with, as editor I am the chief, and prints out if you get what I want.

I want that school student to be a member of the thing you hear, see, or feel, that could make any news for the Wildcat, be good, true, and authentic. The warning word is "Mam!" to me.

PEP YELLS WILL EMERGE FROM HIGH SCHOOL

"Yea Gold, Yea Black, Yea Wildcats—Fight! Fight! Fight!" will probably be the sounds coming from the High School Friday as a result of getting pepped up from the game Friday night. The cheer leaders are going to put out all the effort they possess to get them "tuned up."

We expect them turned out in grand order Friday night. Take notice of the Black and Gold uniformed girls. They back the team and school with every ounce of energy they possess. With the Pep girls will be the adorable Gloria Ruth Billington, mascot.

FOOTBALL

(By Andrews)
 Dick Todd, Texas Aggie star and former Crowell High star, scored seven points in a game between Texas A. & M. and Tulsa University, although he played only about seven minutes. This game was played at the Rose Festival at Tyler, two weeks ago. Todd made his touchdown after a short run around his own right end. He promptly booted the extra point. Texas A. & M. won this game by a score of 20-0.

hard and made many sacrifices to make him healthy and happy. The supreme purpose of his lives is to be a useful man.

Now stop a minute and think. If you should kill a child, how would you feel facing his parents? What excuse could you possibly offer Him whose Kingdom is made up of little children?

Children, my hasty school mate, were here long before you or your automobile were thought of. All I can tell, studies on earth are not worth the life of one little boy.

We don't know that little boy may some day be. But we know what you are, and it's unimportant. We could get along without you, but we can't spare a single little boy on the street.

I DON'T LIKE IT

It seems there is a lot of talk about the old school spirit at CHS but very little is being done about it by some.

Of course, no, I don't know anything about it—I'm only an upperclassman here so I haven't any right to know, but I've read a few things about it; so, as far as I can tell, students make a school, partly, anyway.

And what they taught me, way back in the dark ages—the age of real reptiles—when man and beast were alike (it was the fall of 1935) was that a freshman was a very small and insignificant something, but the fall of '38 finds the fish almost the student body.

"Please sir, Mr. Freshman, may I clean your locker?"
 You must, mere upperclassman.

(Phoey—time out while I have the mumps).
 (This is sarcasm).

We like freshmen who do not study, who are smart-aleck, who talk back, who never mind their own business—somebody catch me before I go any farther, for I am a mere upperclassman.

Freshman, I take it all back—everything I've said. I'm sorry I said it—because, wonder of wonders, a Freshman just said "Mam!" to me.

four games this season. However, three of these were non-conference tilts. The only conference game which the Wildcats have played was with Iowa Park. The Wildcats won this battle by a score of 10-0.

Throckmorton has also played and won a conference tilt. They defeated the stronger-than-ever Archer City Wildcats 27-0 two weeks ago. Throckmorton has also won some practice games.

This second conference battle for the Wildcats should prove a tough one, but they should win it. My score prediction: Crowell 20, Throckmorton 0.

LOOKING FOR KNOWLEDGE

According to the most accurate estimates available, the largest number of freshmen and other students in the history of Crowell High School are enrolled this year.

Presumably these students came here in search for learning. It resolves upon them as to the degree of success attained in that search.

Now how to get the most out of high school perhaps sounds like a formidable problem to pose, but like most things which appear difficult at first glance, it may be made surprisingly simple by a little application.

If the student has a clear as possible conception of the goal he would reach, he already starts out with an advantage over the classmate who just doesn't know what he wants.

Indeed, too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the importance of this factor in getting a superior education.

As meaningful and pertinent as the goal desired is the type of effort involved in striving for that goal. Two choices are possible: the student may choose consistency, or may content himself with fitful effort.

Persistence, while duller, ultimately produces better results than occasional flashes of brilliance, with scholastic siestas occurring between the rare moments of inspiration.

Of course, all this doesn't mean that high school is a sort of academic torture-house where one must live until graduation offers release. Social life, athletics, etc.—and all these are here in quite satisfactory quantities—offer one opportunities for relaxation.

This formula is a simple one, and the closer it is followed the more assured may be the student of success.

Adams—Riley and Ruby—These CHS twins say they have no trouble at all in selecting their clothes, as they both like the same styles, but they have to mark their garments to tell them apart. However, they haven't yet discovered a plan by which their "boy friends" can identify them. "Keep 'em guessing," is their motto.

Adams—W. H., dark hair, brown eyes, pleasing personality and is a talented musician.

Adams—Virginia, blonde baby girl, another musical genius. She is one of the most mischievous freshman girls.

Adams—Pauline, very shy, sophomore, blonde, very quiet, bosses the twins.

Alston—Dorothy, spends quite a bit of her time at Gambleville, is fairly plump, and a very jovial baby of the family.

Andrews—Tom, very industrious, never misses a football game. Has hopes of playing some day—if he ever grows up.

Autry—Estell, very small, has dark hair and we hear she likes to ride the school bus with certain people.

Banister—Bryan, hails from Thalia, has black curly hair, and is very popular with the girls. Shame on you for trifling on Thalia girls, Bryan. Prefers Beech-nut to chewing gum.

Barker—Blaine, very interested in basketball. So handsome that we hardly see how the girls study for looking at him. But he says the girls with their gab irritate him. So sorry.

 The world looks different to different people because they look through different eyes, and out of a different accumulation of experience. ## Cemetery Funds Exhausted; Sexton Laid Off Last Month

Owing to the fact that the funds for the up-keep of the Crowell Cemetery, which are secured by individual donations, no work at the cemetery is being done. Services of the sexton was discontinued last month. Since the good rain there is no doubt much work is needed, and it is hoped that a large number of donations will be received at an early date.

The president, Mrs. N. J. Roberts, has submitted a report of the condition of the Cemetery Association and with it an appeal for financial support of this organization. It follows: "Our funds became so depleted a month ago it was necessary to discharge the sexton at the cemetery. He had worked continuously since the middle of March. When our records show that since the 23rd of July only five contributions have been made toward the support of this work, one is not surprised that it must be discontinued.

"The only means that we have for paying our sexton is with the donations that interested friends care to provide. There are other expenses that have to be met. Just recently the cistern at the sexton's home had to be repaired. This year we had to purchase a new lawn mower. Each month there's a water bill. Occasional shovels and shovels must be purchased.

"Please don't leave us off your budget. Just a small amount from many will help wonderfully. Lee Black at the bank is our treasurer. He will be glad to accept your money or check. If it is more convenient, leave it with Henry Ferguson at the drug store. There are cemetery cook books at Ferguson Bros. They are never out of date and sell for 35 cents.—Mrs. N. J. Roberts."

RIVERSIDE H. D. CLUB

"To make good preserves the fruit should be prepared so that the finished product is plump, tender, juicy pieces of fruit in thick syrup." The county home demonstration agent gave the Riverside Home Demonstration Club members this information in the home of Mrs. Sam Kuehn October 11.

The agent, Miss Myrna Holman, explained that it is best to pre-cook the hard varieties of fruit before putting them in syrup. Place the cut up pieces of fruit in a thin syrup, 1 cup sugar to two cups water, and cook. If, while cooking, the syrup becomes too thick, add water. After the preserves have cooked long enough to be a good color and the right thickness let them stand for several hours or overnight. The object of this is to let the fruit soak up as much of the syrup as possible. Then heat the preserves, fill the fruit in jars, bring the syrup to the boiling point, pour over the fruit and seal the jars. The following new officers were elected: Bonnie Schroeder, president; Mrs. Shirley McLarty, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Sam Kuehn, council delegate.

One visitor, Mrs. Leon Taylor, was present. Christmas gifts will be the subject of the demonstration at the meeting of the club in the home of Mrs. Otto Schroeder Tuesday afternoon, October 25.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

The making of jellies, preserves, marmalades and butters were demonstrated to the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club by Miss Myrna Holman, home demonstration agent, in the home of Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Oct. 6. What is marmalade? was the first question asked. Marmalade is a tender jelly with pieces of fruit or peel evenly distributed through it. Jelly was also defined as a clear product that will hold its shape, made from fruit juices, sugar and fruit pectin.

Fruit butter is fruit cooked to the soft stage, put through a sieve. Sugar added and spices if preferred and cooked to a thick consistency. In making preserves, if all the sugar is added to preserves when first started, it will draw the juice from the fruit so rapidly it will cause the preserves to be tough, shrivel and lose their shape.

Refreshments were served to nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Race Higgs. Mrs. G. C. Morgan was welcomed as a new member into the club.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Amos Garrett Oct. 20. Subject of the program will be, "Looking Forward to Christmas."

LIBRARY NOTES

Kathleen Norris, one of the outstanding and most widely read fiction writers of the present time, has written a new novel, "You Can't Have Everything." This book is fast becoming one of the best sellers of the season. Like most of her books, it is a study of everyday life and human emotions. The characters concerned in this story are a man, his wife, and their little girl, all of whom are seeking their fortune in Hollywood. How their lives became entangled with outside influences and how they solved their problems makes a remarkably interesting story.

There are over twenty novels by Kathleen Norris in the library now. All of them are widely read. Two recent ones, with the exception of "You Can't Have Everything," are "Crossroads," and "Heartbroken Melody."

Methodist Church News Notes

We are announcing a Hymn Service for next Sunday evening. Those who are lovers of church hymns will be pleased at this announcement. The entire evening will consist of the old hymns of the church, consisting of quartets, duets, solos and choir and congregational singing.

The service will start at 7 p. m. and last one hour. There will be no preaching. Strictly a hymn service. We invite the public to this service.

E. L. YEATS, Pastor.
