

Way apparently clear for future use of lake areas for recreation

One court fight over land ends

The way now appears clear for future use of the prime area of the White River Lake and shore line for recreational purposes—and the long court fight over condemnation of 1,908.71 acres from the Walker estate as the White River dam site apparently is over.

All this came about Monday morning in Crosbyton.

COUNTY JUDGE Cecil Berry ruled in Mrs. Aletta Walker's appeal of the condemnation commission award that the White River district was within its authority in condemning land above the high water line and fixed the purchase price and damages at $135,000.

This action came after both sides had waived continuation of the jury hearing begun almost 3 weeks ago and recessed Feb. 28 to give the two parties time to attempt to negotiate their differences.

A the same time Mrs. Walker signed a contract with the White River Municipal Water District unrelated to the court decision which provided that should the White River lake be used for recreational purposes the Walker estate would receive 20 per cent of lease revenue for cabin sites on the land formerly belonging to the estate for a 25 year period.

MRS. WALKER ALSO retained under the contract 1,200 feet of lake front property for her family's personal use, such land to come under all control regulations as adopted by the White River district board.

The White River district under the condemnation settlement has no interest in the minerals. The minerals were taken in the original action, but were turned back to the Walker estate when the water district directors were satisfied they had ample authority to control any drilling for oil or gas in the White River basin area.

By the Monday actions, the White River district has now completed purchase of two of the three parcels of land upon which the big lake has been located. The smallest of the three land parcels was purchased from Arnold Sanderson. The only one now lacking final agreement is the acreage which has been condemned from the Morgan Jones estate of Abilene. The status of this condemnation is that it is now on appeal to the county court in Crosbyton from that court's condemnation commission's ruling.

JUST WHAT THE agreement with Mrs. Walker and other heirs of the Walker estate concerning recreation on the lake will mean is only a matter of conjecture now. White River directors have never made any recreational plans for the lake or even discussed the subject.

The March meeting of the White River directors will come next Thursday night at Spur and there is a possibility the directors at that time may adopt an ordinance prohibiting any and all recreation on the lake until such time as the directors deem it to be feasible and adopt necessary rules and regulations to control it. The lake was built as a water source for the four member cities of the district and directors do not want the lake contaminated through recreational uses.

AT THE LAKE'S present low level of water such contamination would be possible. That is why directors are expected to come up with the recreational ban at their next meeting.

Contrary to some reports circulated, no plans have been made to lease any cabin sites at the White River Lake.

When and if any such plans are made, lease prices determined, and cabin sites plotted, area sportsmen will be given the full details.

Any such action, if feasible, now appears some months away.

Meeting scheduled Tuesday on blackeye pea proposal

All farmers who want to contract acreage for blackeye pea production for 1964 are asked to meet in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 17.

Iredell Holmes of Lamesa, a vegetable contract buyer, will be here at the invitation of the Post Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee to discuss the harvest and contract sign-up.

A sign-up of 3,000 acres will be necessary and Lewis Herron, farm representative of the First National Bank, is confident that such an acreage can be contracted.

Approximately 100 farmers in the school cafeteria last Oct. 22 expressed real interest in planting blackeye peas. Full details were explained at that time by Holmes.

The farmers were asked at that time to consider blackeye peas contract growing and be prepared to sign up in the spring for the acreage they wanted to plant.

The Tuesday night session is that spring meeting promised back in October.

At the October session, Holmes said he would bring in between 150 and 200 Mexican braceros to harvest the peas by hand and would house them in Post during the picking season.

Holmes in October promised to contract for peas with all farmers who wanted to plant them within a 50 mile radius of Post. He also said he would station a contract man here this spring and offer each farmer a written contract in which he would guarantee a $1.75 per hundredweight price in the field as the bottom price and anything else of peas a season on either dryland or irrigated land. The second crop on dryland would depend upon "catching a rain" at planting time.

Holmes also told farmers in October that "you don't need to hoe peas if you plant them thick enough as the peas will choke out the weeds."

The buyer told farmers in October they could harvest two crops for three places on the city council and eight candidates are seeking three school board positions following last week's filing deadlines.

The order of the candidates' names on the school trustee election ballot has been determined, and the city council is to hold an open meeting at 7:30 p. m. today to draw for the ballot order of names in the city election.

Four candidates are in the race for Place 2 on the school board and two each for Places 1 and 3.

The order of names on the school trustee ballot will be as follows:

Place 1 — E. R. Moreland, Marshall Ticer.

Place 2 — Dr. John E. Carter, Ted L. Aten, Bill Woods, Hoyt Hill.

Place 3 — Bob Macy, Russell Wilks Jr.

Moreland, Dr. Carter and Wilks are candidates for re-election. The four council candidates are Arnold Parrish and Wesley Scott, incumbents, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs and Claud Collier Jr.

The other city councilman whose term is expiring, W. S. (Walter) Duckworth, did not file for re-election.

The school trustee election will be Saturday, April 4, with voting in the high school library. The city council election will be held at the City Hall on Tuesday, April 7.

50 patients entered hospital last month

Garza Memorial Hospital admitted 50 patients in February. Hospital Administrator J. R. Rickels told hospital trustees at their regular March meeting last Thursday night at the hospital.

The occupancy rate was 22 per cent with a total of 255 patient days and an average stay of 5.1 days per patient.

For 1964 a total of 90 patients have been admitted with a 1964 occupancy rate of 33 per cent, Rickels reported.

Trustees took no actions other than to approve the bills and discuss the financial statement with Rickels.

Coloradoan is Post's first '64 traffic fatality

Melvin Elmer Van Buskirk of La Junta, Colo., became Post's first 1964 traffic fatality when he was instantly killed at 12:35 a. m. last Friday in a two-car crash at the intersection of Loop 46 (Mill road) with U. S.-84 on the southeast edge of the city.

Three of the six other persons involved in the wreck were hospitalized in Garza Memorial Hospital for injuries, but none of them were believed too serious.

Van Buskirk, 52, was a passenger in a car driven by Charles Leroy Sneathen, 30, of Oakwood, Okla., who was injured. Both men were employed as equipment operators on the Santa Fe road gang which has been working on the railroad right-of-way here.

According to Police Chief Elton Corley, who investigated the fatal accident, with Highway Patrolman Henry Harden, the car driven by Sneathen dove off Loop 46 directly into the path of a car driven by Vorfirio Garcia, 21, of Tahoka, on US-84.

School board elects faculty here Monday

The board of trustees of the Post Independent School District voted to re-employ principals, teachers and auxiliary employees during a three hour and 15-minute session Monday night at their regular March meeting.

In accordance with a board policy, teachers who have been here two years or more were given a one-year extension of their present contract, and those in their first year were given a one-year contract. All classroom teachers were re-employed subject to assignment.

Other action taken by the school board Monday night included:

1) ADMINISTERING the oath of office to newly-elected trustee David N. Newby, who fills the unexpired term of Malcolm T. Bull;

2) Approval of Textbook Committee recommendations concerning textbook adoptions;

3) Approval of the 1964-65 school calendar;

4) Transfer of $4,000 from the operating fund to the athletic fund to help remove deficits in the athletic fund that have accumulated over a period of years;

5) Changing of the grading system in the junior high school and high school;

6) Approval of a non-English speaking program for the summer of 1964;

7) Approval of the purchase of equipment and supplies for the new junior high school intramural athletic program;

8) Approval of a summer program in academic courses;

9) Acceptance of the resignation of Curtis Boase, elementary teacher.

IN EXTENDING THE contracts of Principals T. C. Clark, high school; Glenn Whittenberg, junior high; and Herman F. Raphael, elementary, the board also voted that each of the principals receive the $108 state increment in addition to his present salary.

The one-year extensions of the contracts of Coaches Harold Teal and Glynn Gregg also included a $300 a year raise for Teal and a $150 a year raise for Gregg, effective Sept. 1, 1964.

'BLACK CAT DAY' NO JINX TO JULIE

Friday, 13th 'Coupon Day'

Area farmers are going to do for themselves Tuesday night when they want to add another crop—blackeye peas—to the area's agricultural economy.

Members of the plan here are optimistic that the minimum requirement of 1,000 acres under contract within a 50 mile radius of Post can be met.

The blackeye peas project was shelved last fall by the Post Chamber's Industrial Committee and farmers were advised to "wait until spring" before determining the number of acres they wanted to contract to peas.

The White River Municipal Water District is now at least half-way "out of the courthouse" in efforts to obtain title to the land for the big White River Lake. The decision at Crosbyton Monday appears to clear the way for use of much of the lakeshore for recreational purposes at some future time when each might be deemed feasible. Lake recreation is one thing the residents of the four towns here have been hoping for since the lake's construction. It also could be a source of badly needed additional revenue.

At one point needs to be emphasized. No plans have as yet been made for recreation. It will be up to the board to determine how much and what kind can be developed. It may be more limited than some folks have hoped for. The lake has been built for a water supply and the directors aren't going to permit anything which would cause contamination. At least the city's own personal opinion is that the lake is being built for water supply and the directors aren't going to permit anything which would cause contamination. ## Hospital adds second laboratory technician

Garza Memorial Hospital, which in January was without a technician, now has two on its staff, Hospital Administrator J. R. Rickels has announced.

Fred Deerfield, who has been a technician at Fort Stockton for approximately 14 years, came to Post in mid-February. He is registered in both x-ray and laboratory.

The second hospital technician was added Monday. She is Miss Judy Bramlet, who comes to Post from Brownfield.

$257,000 damage suit filed in district court

A $257,000 damage suit has been filed in Garza County district court by Mrs. F. Masters of this county. The suit alleges that she has been permanently disabled since being poisoned by a crop field spray plane Sept. 10, 1963.

Masters in the civil action filed in Garza County district court by Mrs. F. Masters of this county. The suit alleges that she has been permanently disabled since being poisoned by a crop field spray plane Sept. 10, 1963.

The petition alleges that the owner of the cotton field had told Partridge to fly only in an east-west direction over the field he was spraying to avoid flying over the silo where Masters was working.

Care of cemetery here upgraded

Letters went out to Terrace Cemetery Association members (those owning cemetery lots) over the weekend urging them to make their 1964 lot care payments promptly at City Hall.

The fee for a full 12-space lot is $20 for the year and the annual fee for the half-lot of six spaces is $12.50. Of the $20 full-lot fee $13.50 is for care and $7.50 for water. The $12.50 half-lot fee is divided into $7.50 for care and $5 for water.

Cemetery association members can look with considerable pride to all the progress which has been made in the improvements at Terrace Cemetery and in its excellent care over recent years. The cemetery now has two full-time sextons, who are doing, as the cemetery board points out, "a fine job."

No longer is it necessary, as it was six years ago, to have a cemetery clean-up day each spring. The care and improvement of the cemetery has been upgraded to a well-planned permanent basis. Various local organizations through recent years have worked with the cemetery board on cemetery beautification projects. Post can now point with considerable pride to its cemetery.

The Dispatch feels sure that members of the cemetery association and all of those living in this community have appreciated all the time and work which has been given in recent years to beautifying our fine cemetery.

Members of the cemetery board, who give of their time in service to their community, include Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick, R. B. Dodson, Noah W. Stone, L. G. Thuet Jr., and Mrs. Arnold Sanderson.

The two members of the city council who have worked with the cemetery board as liaison with the council are Walter Duckworth and J. B. Potts.

Members of the Terrace Cemetery Association can best show their appreciation for the outstanding work being done in this community's cemetery by prompt payment of their annual fees for care and water for the current year.—JC

Big tax cut is test for theory

The only way of testing an economic theory is to try it, we are told, so it is a case of wait and see as to whether or not the $11.5 billion tax cut that went into effect last week will pep up the national economy.

Most Americans will have the pleasant experience of an increase in spendable income, which means that instead of the federal government's spending the additional money, they will be free to spend it themselves and in any way they choose.

The increase will not be large for any given taxpayer or any particular paycheck, and the full increase will not be effective until 1965. But when all the small increases are added up, they come to a fairly impressive total in a country of this size.

The tax cut is unique in that this is the first time that the government has cut taxes for the purpose of stimulating economic growth at a time when the level of business activity already is rising. One of the arguments that the administration used in favor of the tax cut as a stimulant to the economy, however, was that the current upsurge in economic activity, which already has continued for an unusual period, was in danger of slowing down, halting or even reversing itself if the cut were not made.

The administration's belief is that the economy will continue to grow through 1965, that the tax cut will become fully effective.

Well, we shall see what we shall see.—CD

Disfranchised citizen problem

The only disfranchised voters are not those who have failed to register or to pay their poll tax, as the case may be. In 1960, eight million Americans could not vote for President because they had changed their state of residence.

The above startling point is stressed in a Saturday Evening Post editorial. An American Heritage Foundation study is the authority for the figure on the number of disfranchised voters.

The reason for this is that our election laws have not kept up with modern mobility. Millions of citizens change their state of residence each year, often for compelling business reasons. Conditions are vastly different from the old days, when it was commonplace for families to stay in one community for generation after generation.

The Post remarks, "State legislatures can remedy this situation by shortening the residence requirements—they range up to two years in some states—and by permitting citizens who have recently moved to vote by absentee ballot in the states they have left. Fifteen states have taken steps to correct this injustice. The rest should follow suit."—CD

Safety rules for kite flyers

The spring-like weather of the last few days has brought out a number of young kite flyers and you no doubt have seen a number of the kites bobbing and weaving high over Post.

There's an old saying, "Put a boy on the ground-end of a kite string and you'll keep him out of trouble," but this is true only if the boy exercises caution in the pastime. Kites can be a danger as well as fun.

One of this country's major utility companies has issued a booklet whose purpose is to make this a safe kite season. It lays down a set of simple and wise rules. Here they are:

Don't cross streets or highways while flying kites. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail. Don't use tinsel string, wire or any twine with metal in it. Don't fly a kite near TV or radio aerials. Don't fly a kite near electric power lines. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite. Don't touch fallen electric wires. Don't fly a kite in the rain.

This is quite a list of "don'ts". But it doesn't stand in the way of the pleasure in kite flying. Fun and safety, after all, can run together.—CD

Candidates in every race

The fact that there are no unopposed candidates in any of this year's county, city council and school board races speaks well for the community and the county.

For obvious reasons, most candidates had rather be unopposed when they seek office, particularly salaried offices where campaign expenses can run high. But it is much better for the voter to have more than one choice in any office when he sits down to mark his ballot.

Voters are urged to spend some time between now and the elections in considering the qualifications of the various candidates, any one of whom more than likely would be glad to tell you, if asked, how he stands on any issue connected with the office he seeks.

More important, don't forget to cast your vote when these elections roll around.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Newspaper editors who take a stand on current problems seldom ever win any popularity contests. The editor receives a lot of brick-bats. He gets accustomed to them, and his hide gets a little thick, especially if he feels he is right. Being human, he really appreciates a bouquet when one comes along—and the local editor does get quite a few, particularly following last week's column in regard to criticism of our school administration and coaches. Thanks, folks, to all of you who called. There were at least twenty or thirty.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

You have heard the expression, "Wise as an owl." This is not true. An owl is one of the most stupid birds of the featured variety. He doesn't give a hoot for you.—The Moody Courier.

A wife's definition of retirement: Twice as much husband on half as much pay.—The Ballinger Ledger.

The man with good old plain horse sense knows you cannot go left by running right, which makes him something of a hazard at a super highway clover leaf.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

Whatever incomprehensible urge it may be that causes teen-age girls to flip over the Beatles, it's the same thing that caused their grandmothers, when teen-agers, to go ga-ga over Rudy Vallee.—Olin Miller in The Seguin Gazette.

If Alexander Graham Bell had had a teen-age daughter, he never would have had a chance to test the telephone.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

There are some really smelly men in Wellington since they gave up cigarettes and took up cigars. Personally I think a pipe makes a man look more like a man than any other smoke. A pipe even gives the illusion that the man is thinking. Perhaps the manliest man is one like Bernard McFadden, who never smoked at all. He didn't believe in taking medicine either—contended that diet, exercise, going barefooted in the winter time and sleeping on the floor was the way to stay healthy, and he did all five.—Deck Wells in The Wellington Leader.

A home town is a place where they wonder how you ever got as far as you did.—Marvin Tomme in The Rails Banner.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith is a natural in Texas, with our system of scratching out vigorously the names of people we vote against. Appeal to the courtesy of the Old West. Plaster the state with signs saying, "Don't Scratch Margaret—She's a Lady!"—Dick Reavis in The County Wide News (Littlefield).

It's easy to understand modern art . . . if an object hangs on a wall, it's a painting; if you can walk all around it, it must be sculpture.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

I drank water out of gourd dipper for 20 years before it was brought to my attention that sanitation and pleasure do not always share the same degree of respect.—Douglas Meador in The Matador Tribune.

If Communism is as wonderful as they claim, it looks like they would take down their iron curtain and put in some picture windows.—The Lynn County News.

THERE'S NEVER a dull moment in Dallas! And, amid all the excitement, we think the Dallas mayor's complaint that the rest of the world is "pointing a finger" at Dallas is ridiculous. Dallas is pointing a finger at itself.

Our cat, Shamus O'Blackie, reminds all those of Hibernian descent that next Tuesday, begorra, is St. Patrick's Day . . . the day for the wearin' o' the green, and eating Irish stew.

THE MAN UP the Street wants to know if a dry parrot is "polyunsaturated".

Among the books hard to come by now is one written by the Englishman Alastair Reid, "Ounce Dice Trice," which I remember as one of the most bumfuzzling books I ever looked into. Here are some excerpts:

WHAT IS A WORG? A "worg" is a plant which never grows. There is practically always one worg in a row of plants. You can tell by the "gnurr" on its leaves; WHAT IS GNURR? "Gnurr" is the substance which collects in the bottom of pockets or in the cuffs of trousers. Gurr is a small variety of "oosee".

WHAT IS A GLOT? A "glot" is a person who cannot bear to waste anything, who stuffs his attic full of treasures which nobody else wants, and who always eats the last chocolate in the box. WHAT IS A POOSEE? A "poosee" is a drop which stays on the end of the nose and glistens. It happens to ordinary people when they have colds or when they come out of the sea for a "chittering-bite".

WHAT IS A CHITTERING-BITE? A "chittering-bite" is a snack eaten after a cold swim to keep the teeth from chattering.

RADIO AND TV newscasters who are having trouble pronouncing "crisis in Cyprus," might improve their enunciation by repeating five times, fast and without error, any of this trio: Six thick thistle sticks. Choos shops stock chops. Preshrunk shirts.

Norman Gee, who teaches science at Post High School, has involuntarily become a member of an exclusive club. At Plainview a week ago Monday night he "joined" that club whose members have given me rides to ball games and other functions and then have had to sit in their car and wait until I found where the car was parked, or have gotten out and looked around until they found me.

Norman left the Plainview gym a minute or so before I did the Monday night the Post and Friona girls played there, and when I didn't "catch" him at the door, I knew right then that the club was going to add another member. I couldn't remember where we had parked. I never can, if the parking place is more than half a block away. I've given up trying to explain it . . . I'm just no good at finding my way back if there are a lot more cars around and if people and automobiles are milling about. My wife says I'm just not observant enough, and perhaps she's right.

I FINALLY FOUND the car after it was about the only one remaining in the vicinity of the Plainview gym, but Norman wasn't in it. He was out looking for me. He took it food-naturally, however, especially after I told him some of my other experiences in "losing" cars. At a baseball game in Lamesa one night several years ago, I went out a different gate than the one through which I came in, and finally found the car. I came over in when it was the ONLY one left anywhere near the ball park. Sitting there patiently in it were the four fellows I'd come with, but a dead silence is all that greeted me when I finally climbed into the car. The first words spoken were by the driver, who said the next time they let me out at a ball game they were going to tie one end of a string to me and the other end to the car. Oh, well, not everyone can be perfect.

SHORT AND SWEET: Despite heavy misgivings on the proven worth of astrology, there are 25,000 full and part time astrologers in the United States whose combined incomes reach $250 million annually. . . . Last year beer drinkers throughout the world downed a record 9.3 billion gallons; thirties were the Belgians, with an average intake of 27 gallons per person; Americans were ninth with 12.6 gallons per person. . . . Since pre-historic times, some 600,000 years ago, 77 billion people have been born.

PEANUTS NUTRITIOUS

Peanuts are a nutritious food, important for B Vitamins. They are exceptionally high in niacin, and their high fat content makes them a good source of food energy. Among vegetable foods, peanuts rate high in the quality of protein they furnish and may be used as an alternate for meat, eggs and cheese.

In Texas . . . after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Post soldier in German airlift

FORT HOOD, Tex.—Army Pfc. Aureliano H. Medina, 23, son of Mrs. Flora H. Raymundo, 406 South Ave. I, Post, Tex., and more than 1,400 other members of three 2d Armored Division units were airlifted from Fort Hood to Germany during the period Feb. 12-16 to take part in Exercise Long Thrust X.

The exercise is a continuation of a series of operations designed to airlift entire units to Europe to bolster NATO defenses and to demonstrate U. S. capability to reinforce combat units in West Germany.

Medina is regularly stationed at Fort Hood as a radar operator in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the division's 50th Infantry.

He entered the Army in December 1961 and has since served a tour of duty in Korea.

Burlington to build new hosiery center

BURLINGTON, N. C. — ultra-modern hosiery center constructed here by Burlington Hosiery Co. in a major consolidation and expansion operation, which includes distribution and research development.

The project was announced by Charles F. Myers, president of Burlington Hosiery Co., parent organization of Burlington Hosiery Co. The new facility will represent investment of nearly $5 million completed and in full operation.

Manufacturing headquarters of the hosiery division, now in Greensboro, N. C., also moved into the new 500,000-foot facility.

Construction is scheduled to begin immediately, with initial operations expected to get under way by September of this year.

Nelson-Young vows exchanged Saturday in Fort Worth

Barbara Lee Nelson and Olie Young Jr., both of Fort Worth, were married Saturday at the Arlington Methodist Church in Fort Worth at 4 o'clock in the evening. Rev. C. A. Sutton, minister, officiated at the ceremony. The double altar arrangement featured a center altar with white gladiolus, white chrysanthemums with green and white streamers and seven-branch tapered candles with white tassels. A white satin and tulle veil was worn by the bride and was flanked by white stock shoes with tassels.

The couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Nelson of Fort Worth and Mrs. Emery O. Young and the late Mr. Young.

The bride wore a gown of pearl and skin peau and French lace. The empire line bodice was designed with a neckline and elbow petal French wrist-length kid sleeves. The bodice was complemented by a large applique on the bodice and the back of the gown. The three-tiered handkerchief veil fell from a pearl and gold-toned matching lace. The bride carried a colonial nose-gardenias and pale yellow daffodils with a golden throat.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence were married at the home of Mrs. Bob Boswell and Mrs. Marilyn Rover Smith. Their dresses were of yellow and fashioned of yellow tulle featuring dome-shaped necklines and pale yellow and yellow brocade. The bridesmaids wore dresses of pale yellow and white with pale yellow and white daffodils and gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence of Fort Worth were the groomsmen and were H. Deane Pierce of Fort Worth, Daniel E. McMurray of Fort Worth, and Robert W. Patton of Fort Worth.

Miss Pamela and Donna Strickland of the bridegroom, and Misses Clary and Betty Jo Hill were bridesmaids.

Music was by a Mrs. Thaxton, organist, and Mike Waco, pianist.

The ceremony followed in Sutton church. The bride's tapers were decorated in her chosen colors and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

The party of the house party were Mrs. Patsy Brown, Carlos Green, Virginia and Misses Virginia and Billie Graham, all of Fort Worth.

The bride and groom will have a wedding trip to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast states. The bride chose a yellow mohair suit.

Misses Clary and Betty Jo Hill were bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks left Tuesday for the Texas Federation of the Clubs convention where she will be installed as the incoming president of District 2.

Please Send or Telephone News to HELEN CORNISH, Women's Editor, Phone 495-2816, Not Later Than Wednesday Morning

Ever stop to think about the custom of spring house cleaning? I'll have to admit I'd never given it much thought as it always sounded rather logical to me to turn the house upside down after drab old winter gave way to spring. (And it might just do that in this part of West Texas if we give it time.)

I learned from Meredith Newby (who has done very little spring house cleaning, I'm sure) when she gave the program at our church youth meeting Sunday night, that spring cleaning all came about because of Easter. Many, many long years ago, people used to take a week off before Easter from their regular jobs and just stay at home. I should clarify that by saying that the men stopped working at their regular jobs and stayed home. I have the feeling that women in those days of long ago were already home where they belonged.

Now, get this picture. Here is the woman of the house with that old spring fever urge working within her—she's ready for a six-months cruise, a new hairdo, new clothes—and what happens? The man of the house closes up his shop or working place in honor of Easter and is just going to sit around the house for a week. Just at the time of woman's utmost frustrations, there this man is, making extra work. He probably smokes a pipe and drops tobacco all over the place as he moves from chair to chair.

Hysterically, this woman has to think of something to get through this week and so a new custom is born. "Why not get some heavy cleaning done while there is some manpower sitting around being wasted?" she thinks. At least if she can't get away from it, she might as well accomplish something.

The reason why this custom died out is obvious. The men all got together and said: "This is one custom we can do without. Let us all get back to our jobs and leave this dirty work to the little woman."

So, everyone lived happily ever after—especially the women as they leave all the heavy moving and what-have-you for the man of the house anyway and have a week of dreaming about far-away places as they go about the duties of spring house cleaning, undisturbed.

If you were reading closely about this man being home, you'll notice I stuck a pipe in his mouth while he was enjoying his leisure. Since the big "thing" has been raging furiously about smoking, more that one man has turned to pipe smoking.

I've yet to meet many women that do not like the smell and look of a man with a pipe in his mouth and I've yet to meet a woman who didn't complain about how messy they are.

One finds little piles of tobacco just about everywhere. One also finds dozens of empty book matches all over the house because, as we all know, it takes a lot of fire to keep a pipe going. The ash trays get full to overflowing in no time.

Just consider that the mess adds a little zest to the house cleaning as the tobacco seems to turn up in rather unlikely places, and I'm sure that any pipe smoking man will be manly enough to shove all that heavy furniture around for you to clean under.

Benefit bridge party for scholarship set

The annual benefit bridge party for a scholarship to be presented to a Post High School graduate, sponsored by the Xi Delta Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, will be held this Saturday.

Playing will begin at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon in Levi's banquet room. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Mike Mitchell, Mrs. Darrell Eckols and Mrs. Wallace Simpson.

INVITATION EXTENDED

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones extend an open invitation to friends and relatives to attend the marriage of their daughter, Marianne, to Royce Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hart.

The couple will be married Saturday, March 14, at 5:30 p. m. at the Church of Christ.

A reception will follow in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

History of Garza, Post schools given at Past Matrons' meeting

An interesting two-part program on the history of Garza County and Post schools was the highlight of the meeting of the Past Matrons of Post and Southland when they met Monday night in the rural home of Mrs. Wilburn Morris with Mrs. J. B. Robinson as co-hostess.

Special guests were the Worthy Matrons of the Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. J. E. Tanner of Post and Mrs. Richard Lewis of Southland. They were presented gifts.

Miss Henrietta Nichols, president, appointed a nominating committee composed of Mmes. J. H. Haire, Will Wright and Morris to present the slate of officers in April.

Carrying out the program theme on "Schools" roll call was answered with an amusing incident that happened to each member in her early school days. The group sang school-day songs and played a game of questions and answers with Mrs. Kenneth Davies receiving a "big apple" for excellence in performance.

Mrs. C. I. Dickinson opened the program by telling of the early schools in Garza County, 1907-1929. Mrs. Dickinson, who rode horseback into Post from a ranch about three miles out where she lived with her family, said the first school in Post was in a tent located near where the Santa Fe depot now stands. There was no railroad at that time and this area comprised a "tent city" with large families using as many tents as needed. Mrs. Dickinson told of bringing her lunch to school in a Cotalene lard bucket and of a potbellied stove with a jacket used to protect the children from the fire when needed.

The tent was soon replaced at the same location by a frame building but was later moved to the building just north of The Flower Shop. C. W. Post rented the building to the school until it was sold to the Gary White family. The school was then moved to the house now owned by Mrs. Jessie Voss on Avenue K in back of Tom Power—Ford, Inc. The next move was to the house now owned by Mrs. H. G. Smith on 11th Street.

Bonds were voted in 1916 for a rock building to house all grades and was located on the block where Teen-Town is. Later, a brick building was erected for a high school east of the other building. In 1928, the present junior high school was erected as a high school. This was the year that Post won their only regional football championship. The rock building was razed and the foundation of the new building was made from the rocks of the old school.

Six students started to school in 1907 including Mrs. Dezie Babb Dickinson, Mrs. Dick Wood and Paul (Polly) Duren, who resides here. The school became an independent district in 1917 with Mrs. Tillman Jones as superintendent. Through her efforts 18 1/2 credits for affiliation were earned. The first graduates in 1913 were Marshall Mason, Ollie Weakley and Elizabeth Knight, followed in 1914 by Ira Lee Duckworth, Doyle Bridges and Vada Walden.

Telling of the school period from 1929 till the present, Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, recalled that she came to Post in the fall of 1929 as a second grade teacher. Mrs. Joe Callis was a kindergarten teacher in the same building. There were two sections of each grade with 14 teachers comprising the faculty. According to Mrs. Thaxton, the teacher's contracts included three questions: "Do You Dance?", "Do You Smoke?" and "Do You Play Bridge?". The story was told of one shy prospective teacher who replied: "No, but I can learn."

For entertainment most of the teachers and their dates attended the new English Theatre in Tahoka. As the roads were unpaved, the trip took more than an hour each way.

In 1930 schools in the county numbered 14, ranging from a one-teacher school with 78 pupils to 200 pupils at Close City, where Dean Robinson was principal. The Southland school was built in 1924 and is still in use.

W. A. Smith was one of the first superintendents in the new Post High School and is remembered for his winning basketball teams. The Graham school also had a winning girls' basketball team under the able coaching of Juanita Wright Eichleberger, who played on the nationally known Randolph Junior College team at Cisco. It is reported that Post received its best material for basketball from Graham until the schools consolidated in 1957. In 1930 Graham had the only indoor court in the county and all tournaments were, by arrangement, held in their gym.

Salaries of teachers ranged from $75 to $100 with terms ranging from six to nine months. During the depression, principals received $105 to $175.

According to Supt. Barry B. Thompson, the Post school enrollment is 1,367 with 67 teachers. There are six sections of the lower grades with 27 teachers through the 5th grade. The increase in the past 30 years is due to the town doubling in population and the consolidation of all but two schools in the county.

Mrs. Thaxton pointed out that Mr. Post donated the sites for the first school in Post and many of the rural sites with the stipulation that the land would revert to the Post estate if the school was disbanded. This has been followed with the exception of the Graham school which the community continues to use as a community center.

Mrs. Thaxton and Mrs. Dickinson have been asked to compile a complete history of the schools for the Garza County Historical Survey Committee. Mrs. A. C. Surman, committee member, plans to tape the history and place it with the archives in the courthouse.

The hostesses, using the St. Patrick's Day theme, served angel food cake and fruit jello to Mmes. Don Pennell, Noah Stone, Will Wright, G. H. Gilley, Jack Myers, Dickinson, Thaxton, Tanner, Lewis, Davis and Miss Nichols.

Duncan home scene of shower held Friday for bride-elect

A bridal shower was held Friday night honoring Miss Marianne Jones, bride-elect of Royce Hart, in the home of Mrs. R. A. Duncan.

Receiving the guests, calling between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock, were Mrs. Duncan, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Paul Jones, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Roy Hart.

Guests were registered by Miss Judy Clary and Mrs. Mason McClellan.

Featuring the bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white, the serving table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations enhanced with blue ribbons lettered with the wedding date, March 14, and a miniature bride and groom. Silver appointments and china were used to serve hot spiced punch, coffee, nuts and tea cookies.

GMH Auxiliary has two new members

Mrs. Arda Long and Mrs. Don Osborn are new members of the Woman's Auxiliary of Garza Memorial Hospital, having completed their training and accepted regular assignments.

Members are reminded of the meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock in the Reddy Room for the purpose of electing officers for the new club year.

Foreign exchange student program outlined to club

Mrs. Charles Hopkins and Mrs. Dean Sterling were voted into the Amity Study Club when it met in the home of Mrs. V. L. Peel Tuesday night. Mrs. George Miller was co-hostess.

Misses Marilyn Minor and Susie Jo Schmidt, representatives of the Post High School Student Council, talked to the club on the foreign exchange student they plan to bring to Post for the 1964-65 school term and asked for financial help.

Mrs. Bob Collier gave a program on the "Middle East" as a part of the club's study on "Countries of Concern". She spoke on the "Unrest in the Arab World" and "Egypt's Nasser."

Carrying out the St. Patrick's Day theme, the hostesses served frosted lime drinks and green three-leaf clover cookies from a table laid with a green cloth and featuring miniature Irish dancers. Present for the meeting were: Mmes. Ronald Babb, Bill Carlin, Wayne Carpenter, Collier, Marion Duncan, Thurman Francis, C. H. Hartel, Bob Macy, Lorene Scarbrough, Pat N. Walker, Preston Poole and Douglas Cunningham.

Allegra Music Club is to give program here

The Allegra Music Club of Lubbock will present a guest program for the Post Music Club Monday March 16, at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Glenn Norman, Mrs. Ed Sawyers and Mrs. Arthur Jackson will be hostesses for the exchange program.

Miss Davis and Mr. Gibson set March 28 wedding date

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davis, Route 3, Post, are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Lynda, to Kent Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gibson of Tahoka.

Wedding vows will be exchanged March 28 in the First Methodist Church at Tahoka.

Miss Davis is a graduate of Post High School and Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. She taught in the elementary school in Andrews for three years and this year is teaching in the Irving School District.

Mr. Gibson is a graduate of Tahoka High School and attended Texas Tech and North Texas State University at Denton. He is presently associated with the ASC office in Tahoka.

Close City Club names delegate

At a recent meeting of the Close City Home Demonstration Club a "thank you" letter was read from Janet Magee of Petersburg for the club's donation to the Texas Home Demonstration Association scholarship from this district.

During the business session, Mrs. Oneita Gunn was elected as a delegate for the district meeting to be held at Floydada. The club heard a council report from Mrs. Lola Peel and voted to accept the recommendations.

Roll call was answered with "A Short Cut I Like." Mrs. Peel gave a program on sewing knitted fabrics, explaining how to regulate stitches and pressure on the material, and to use sew silk thread to sew wool.

Sandwiches, cookies, coffee and punch were served to Cleo Sappington, Ruth Pate, Inez Ritchie, Hooter Terry, Oneita Gunn, Thelma Thomas, Alva Heiskill and Mozelle Bartlett by the hostess, Lola Peel.

Each member is asked to bring a home made surprise for a drawing to be held at the March 17 meeting at the school house.

Best-Seller 'I'll Take Texas' is reviewed at club meeting

"Keeping Up With Texas From Stagecoach to the Moon" was the theme for the program when the Woman's Culture Club met March 4 at the Community Room.

Mrs. Lee Davis, Texas Heritage chairman, was program director. She gave a brief review of Mary Lasswell's best-seller, "I'll Take Texas". Mary Lasswell, whose previous works include "Suds in Your Eye" and "One on the House", was born in Brownsville and is the great-granddaughter of Thomas Lubbock, founder of the Texas Rangers and for whom the city of Lubbock was named.

Mrs. Davis explained that Miss Lasswell had spent most of her life in Rhode Island when her publishers sent her to Texas on a publicity tour. Realizing she knew little about her native state, Miss Lasswell made a detailed travel study of Texas with "I'll Take Texas" being written as the outcome.

Choosing a chapter entitled "The Big Thicket", Mrs. Davis gave a detailed review of the counties of Liberty, Polk, Tyler and Harding included in the chapter. "This area contains more plants and animals per square mile than anywhere else in the world", said Mrs. Davis in reporting the many varieties of plants, trees and animals listed by the author in "The Big Thicket".

"The Plains From the Skies", another chapter from the book, was presented by Mrs. Virgil Bilbo. This chapter deals with our own area, including San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Lubbock and Amarillo. Of special interest was Mrs. Bilbo's report of Gail, interesting to Miss Lasswell and included in the book because of what it does "not" have. Mrs. Bilbo also informed members that the author had toured the Slaughter Ranch as a guest of John Lott, and made note of the changes in ranching methods such as airplane round-ups, now taking place at the ranch.

Mrs. Tillman Jones gave a report on organization of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee of which John Ben Shepperd is state chairman; Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, regional chairman, and Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee. Mrs. Dudley is also a state federated clubwoman and has secured permission at the state level for participation of federated clubs in the committee. Mrs. Roy McQuarters of Littlefield, Texas Heritage Chairman for Federated Woman's Clubs, and Mrs. Jones, State Chairman of Historical Tours, joined in asking club members to assist when requested in this work. Mrs. Jones said several members of the club attended the dedication of the Llano Estacado marker, Feb. 20.

During the business meeting, endorsement was made for Mrs. J. L. Ginnings as a candidate for the office of treasurer of TTWS. Members were requested to call Mrs. Homer J. Irons with suggestions for the 1964-65 course of study.

Mrs. Irons and Mrs. Bryan E. Morgan were hostesses. Mrs. M. J. Malouf and Mrs. Bilbo assisted in serving coffee and cake to Julius Tanner, Louie Burkes, C. R. Thaxton, D. C. Williams, C. I. Dickinson, Mason Justice, James Minor, E. A. Warren, Jones, Ira Lee Duckworth, J. F. Storie and Davis.

The March 18 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Burkes with Mrs. Tanner as co-hostess.

4-H Food Show is set for March 21

Twenty-five girls are expected to take part in a Garza County 4-H Favorite Foods Show at the 4-H Building here Saturday, March 21. Juanette Williams, county home demonstration agent, has announced.

Recognition will be given to the girls taking part in the show at 1:30 p. m., and the foods will be on display from 1:30 until 3:30 p. m. The public is invited, Miss Williams said.

Winners will be named in each food group division of the show, according to the agent.

Arletta Robinson birthday honoree

Miss Arletta Robinson was surprised with a "Sweet 16" birthday party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Chips and dips, soft drinks and birthday cake iced in white and decorated in pink roses and green candles were served to the following guests:

New organization plans bake sale

A bake sale was planned by members of the Garza County Young Homemakers when it met March 3 in the Home Ec. department at Post High School.

Orders will be taken by each member for bake goods and will be delivered during the Easter weekend. Plans for the style show, previously planned for March, have been delayed until later in the spring.

Mrs. Jane Terry and Mrs. Elfreda Carpenter were appointed to accompany the Post Future Home-maker's of America girls to their area meeting March 21.

The program "Medical Hypnosis" was given by Dr. John E. Carter and was demonstrated by his daughter, Kathy. A question and answer period followed the program.

Mrs. Oneita Gunn and Mrs. Lois Morris were hostesses and used the St. Patrick's Day theme in the decor. They served cookies, spiced tea and coffee.

VACATION IN PHOENIX

GLASS DOOR INJURIES

People who live in glass houses should be aware of the danger of glass door injuries. It is necessary to slide open the door before walking briskly through it to the patio.

Each year 40 thousand people try to walk through glass doors and picture windows. There are many accidents, but at least this year is not so severely injured as in accident records. Each year 10 thousand wind up in hospital and some even die. There are severe cuts and loss of blood.

The problem of glass door accidents is an extremely widespread one. In fact, it is estimated that 80 percent of all glass door injuries occur in the home—about 70 percent when the victim is inside the outside.

much more so than slipping, horseplay or crowding.

This doesn't mean that you should promptly brick up your sliding patio doors and picture windows. It does mean that some precautions are in order to avoid injury to yourself, your family or a guest.

Many newer homes have safety glass panels, and these won't shatter. Safety glass can raise a bump, but it won't shatter and cut.

Check your glass doors, and if you don't have safety glass, the first step is to call a family conference, with everyone present. The head of the household can brief the family on the dangers of severe injury from shattered glass.

Another safeguard is to attach decals or bright tape to the glass at eye level—eye levels for both small children and adults. For added safety, you might install a safety bar or two.

Glass door injuries are almost entirely preventable, except in the rare instances of a stumbling fall. If you do live in an at least a partially glass house, take the simple safety precautions to protect your family from severe, and perhaps fatal, injury.

Sen. David Ratliff named to Governor's Committee on Aging

Gov. John Connally has announced the appointment of Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford to the Steering Committee of the 3-member Governor's Committee on Aging.

Senator Ratliff represents the 24th Senatorial District composed of 13 West Texas counties. Ratliff has served in the Texas Senate since 1954, having been promoted to his office after serving in the House of Representatives since 1950. At the present time he is a candidate for re-election to the Senate.

While in the Senate Senator Ratliff has served on the most important standing committees and was chairman of the powerful Insurance Committee in the 58th Legislature. He has also served on the Oil and Gas and Water and Conservation committees.

In accepting the appointment to the Governor's Committee on Aging, Senator Ratliff will be in a position to make a significant contribution to Texas' rapidly growing community of senior citizens.

TIPS ON POTATOES

Cook potatoes in their skins to preserve most of the vitamins. Paring before cooking results in loss of food value, particularly Vitamin C. When you boil potatoes, use as little water and as short a cooking time as possible, say Extension foods and nutrition specialists.

Texas is the largest wool-producing state in the nation.

WHEAT POSTPONEMENT

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the new standards for wheat which were to become effective on May 1, will not become effective until June 1. The month postponement is to permit more orderly liquidation of the May "futures" contract, the last "futures" contract on the 1963 crop of wheat; and, in connection with the support program, to provide more time for insurance of necessary procedures and adjustment of operations to the revised standards.

A Moment With God

HE CAN RESTORE OUR FAITH

The Lord turned and looked upon Peter . . . And Peter went out and wept bitterly. Luke 22:61, 62.

Bitterly, but not despairingly. For in that look of Jesus the fallen disciple recognized a gracious recall. True, there was some censure in it, a sad reproof of his defection. But there was mercy too, which pleaded, "Peter, thrice you have denied Me, but I cannot deny you. Though you have fallen, I would restore you." And he was restored.

It is surprising how many backsliders one finds who know nothing of the possibility of being restored. When invited to a midweek Lenten service a lady replied, "There's really no use in my going. I don't think they'd have me; it's been so many years since I've gone." Said the church member, "Would you like to be restored?" "There are times," was the wistful reply, "when I have a real desire to be back." "Well, don't you know," urged the member, "that you can be restored, and the Bible itself says, 'He restoreth my soul?'" That did it. No more coaxing was needed. She was restored by grace to grace.

Thank God, among the great things Christ can do is also this—His gracious restoration of the fallen to faith and grace. Let none, even the worst backslider or denier, hesitate. If we see in Peter's fall a portrait of our own defections, may we weep bitterly yet not despairingly! On to Jesus for forgiveness and with the prayer:

Lord, when Thou see'st me waver, With a look recall.
Nor from fear or favor Suffer me to fall. Amen.

AUSTIN—A sparkling new extension of the theme "Texas: America's Fun-Tier," is now rolling off multicolor presses by tens of thousands as the 1964 Official Highway Travel Map of Texas becomes available to native motorists and Lone Star State enthusiasts from Seattle to Siam.

The Texas Highway Department estimates that three-quarters of a million copies, and perhaps more, will be distributed during the coming months to almost every corner of individual and institution.

An elementary class in Brooklyn may write for a map in conjunction with a study project; an Indian maharaja may request one prior to a visit; Communist espionage agents may even steal a few, though the maps are free for the asking to anyone, anywhere.

Every line, symbol and figure on Texas' 1964 Official Highway Travel Map has been newly calculated, plotted and engraved, and every effort has been directed toward making the map more legible and easier for the average motorist to use. Type faces are bolder, colors have been selected for maximum brilliance, and the national standard system of highway symbols has been followed in almost all instances.

Another innovation to make the new map more legible is the deletion of almost 7,000 miles of Farm to Market roads. Because of the increasing complexity of the Texas highway system, a map attempting to portray every mile of rural road would be impossibly crowded at the scale on which the Texas map must be printed.

Farm to Market roads which do not serve as links between regular highways are not included on the new map, nor are those which do not join two or more communities. Communities with populations of less than 250 are not shown. Farm and Ranch to Market roads which do serve as connecting links are shown on the map.

The 1964 Texas Travel Map will show a brand new route bearing the distinctive Ranch Road No. "1." Located in Gillespie County, the newly designated Ranch Road No. 1 is a four-mile loop bordering the Pedernales River and connecting the ranch home of President Lyndon B. Johnson with U. S. 290.

Progress on the Interstate Highway system in Texas is seen at a glance, and other four-lane super highways are clearly depicted. Such divided highways now number more than 3,100 miles in the state, with 650 additional multi-lane miles presently under construction. The map shows 860 Safety Rest Areas and 1,780 cities and towns.

Texas' 12 major cities with populations above 100,000 are each illustrated by map insets which chart the main thoroughfares and through routes. On the map's back, 30 full color photographs display tantalizing Texas scenes, and there is a message of greeting from Texas Governor John Connally.

Free copies of the 1964 Official Highway Travel Map of Texas may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, Austin, Texas 78703. Each county tax office supplies free postcards with which maps be ordered. Copies also are

THE POWER TO STAY

An anchor seems like dead weight, doesn't it?
But what mariner would sail without it? For an anchor is not dead weight. It commands the tremendous force of gravity in a wild, raging sea. It can grip solid land to fight driving wind or swirling current!
A few men have thought they could go farther faster without religious faith . . . until the squalls found them drifting helplessly on bitter shoals!
God gave us forces of motion and progress. We see . . . aspire . . . achieve. But the power to go is treacherous without the power to stay.
So God gave us the Truth our churches offer every human heart.
That Truth is man's spiritual grip on the enduring . . . the eternal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Post trackmen to compete Saturday at Stephenville

Hopes score 46 points in first try at Idalou

The Post Antelope track team, which scored 46 points at Idalou in their first competition, will take part in the annual Triathlon Relays at Stephenville State College in Stephenville, Saturday.

The Antelopes scored by the Antelope track team in the 880-yd. relay Saturday was the first time they've scored in an event since the 1960 meet.

Post's only first runner at Idalou was also the first runner for the locals with a time of 2:11.03.

Glynn Gregg said today that the Antelopes will be weakened somewhat by the meet at Stephenville because some of the high school boys who were in the regional contest this year are not competing.

Gregg today announced the following tentative entry list for the Triathlon Relays:

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

For many years the carp was considered absolutely worthless. It was regarded as a pest that contaminated our waters and did no good whatever.

When an angler caught one of these bronze-colored scrappers on a tackle. That incident shed light on the carp's personal life. The carp's personal life is a story of struggle and survival. Maybe, just maybe, the carp wasn't as bad as most of us led us to believe.

When it comes to public relations, the carp is about the sorriest fish that swims. It has carried the stigma of being a pest for so long that it doesn't know how to do its best. But many people don't know the carp anymore. They're just having a ball catching it.

SEVERAL YEARS AGO it was rare to see anyone fishing for carp; today fishermen are fairly common on all our Texas lakes.

There is good reason for this upsurge in popularity. A piscatorial boom in the Highland Lakes of central Texas a few years back has led, for instance, to the harvesting of 70 per cent rough fish in the last year.

Best method we've found is to chuck the fish and cook in a pressure cooker until the meat falls away from the bones. After removing the bones, mold the meat into patties and fry, just as you would fry salmon croquets.

When they're a rich golden brown, serve with French fries or hushpuppies. I guarantee everyone will come back for seconds.

Sunday by presenting "Calvary's Fourth 'Cross' Word: Forsaken", and at the 7 p. m. service, "Calvary's Fifth 'Cross' Word: Thirst". A supervised nursery is available for small children and the public is always welcome.

Former Antelope tops Buff team in scoring

CANYON — Scottie Pierce, 6-7 senior center from Post, won the scoring and rebounding this year for the West Texas State Buffaloes, who closed their 1963-64 basketball season on a happy note with a run-away 100-58 win over New Mexico State.

Pierce scored 306 points for a 13.9 average and picked off 208 rebounds for an average of 9.5 per contest.

Pierce's shoes will be hard to fill next winter when the Buffs return to the hardwoods. He won the Most Valuable Player award as a junior and came on fast the last half of the season to lead the Buffs in their final victory run.

Pierce scored 831 points during his three-year career at WT and picked off 569 rebounds. And to finish his accomplishments of the season, the Post senior won the shooting percentage race by hitting 123 of 210 attempts from the floor, good for 586 per cent — a high ranking among the nation's leaders.

Last weekend, Pierce was named as co-captain for the year along with junior Kirby Pugh of Abilene.

Mustangs favorites in loop swimming meet

LUBBOCK — Southern Methodist is favored to win its ninth successive championship in the Southwest Conference swimming meet that winds up here Saturday night.

Behind the South African-bolstered Mustangs are slated to finish University of Texas, Texas Tech and Texas A.M. This is the second year for Texas Tech to be host to the meet. Later in the spring Lubbock will be the site of SWC track, golf and tennis competition.

Tech trackmen enter West Texas Relays

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's surprising trackmen next compete in the West Texas Relays at Odessa Saturday.

Coach Don Sparks' Red Raiders last week won a five-way meet at Denton over Southern Methodist, North Texas, Arlington State, and Texas Christian. A week earlier they brought home three gold medals from the Southwestern Recreation Meet—won by Ronny Biffle of Anton in the 120 and 330-yard hurdles, and by Richard Vogan of El Paso in the 220.

'The Answer' new Southern Baptist television series

"The Answer", dramatic television series produced by Southern Baptists' Radio-TV Commission, is designed to provide the viewer with both entertainment and spiritual insight, according to a local pastor, Station KCBT, Channel 11, Lubbock, telecasts the program each Sunday at 1 p. m.

The Rev. Joel C. Pistone, pastor of Iglesia Bautista Bethel, says his church plans to use "The Answer" as an incentive to visitation and also to help communicate basic Christian beliefs within the family as a way of life. This use of television is called Televangelism.

Films in "The Answer" series for 1964 fit into four different problem areas: family, social, teen-age and personal. On Easter Sunday, March 29, a special film called "The Lord's Supper" will be shown.

The program for this Sunday, March 15, is "Salvage Job," in which a budding delinquent panics and leaves the scene of a near fatal accident, which was brought about by his consuming interest in hot rods and speed.

Friona game gate share is $462.57

Post's share of the gate at the Post-Friona bi-district game in Plainview on March 9 was $462.57, "an excellent financial return," according to Supt. Barry B. Thompson.

Each of the two participating schools, Post and Friona, shared 50 per cent of the gate receipts above expenses.

A crowd of 1,435 attended the game, which was played in the Plainview High School gymnasium.

The Post school board Monday night voted to write a letter of appreciation to the Plainview school for "the excellent manner in which the bi-district game was handled."

'Lope golf team to Andrews meet

By JIM BARTLETT
Coach Charles Hopkins' Post High School golf team will compete in the Andrews High School Golf Tournament on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The tournament will be medal play with 27 holes to be played Friday and 27 on Saturday.

Intramurals for 1964-65 New sports program in Junior High voted

The board of trustees of the Post Independent School District voted Monday night to purchase equipment and supplies for the new intramural junior high school athletic program to be instituted here at the beginning of the 1964-65 school year.

The board's action came after Supt. Barry B. Thompson said he had negotiated to lower the cost of the new program from the original estimate of $4,850 to $2,906.

The superintendent explained that much of the saving will be brought about by purchasing the materials for fall contract completion, thereby gaining the advantage of close-

Salary boosts voted

Contracts of two coaches extended

The contracts of Harold Teal, athletic director and head football coach, and Glynn Gregg, assistant football and head track coach, were extended one year and their salaries increased by action of the school board at Monday night's meeting.

Teal received a $300 a year salary increase and Gregg a $150 a year increase. The contract extensions and salary boosts become effective Sept. 1, 1964.

The board's action on the two coaches, who have been here since the 1959-60 school year, was taken upon the recommendation of Supt. Barry B. Thompson.

In Teal's first year here as head grid coach, the Post team had a 6-4 record for its best season since 1956 and last year compiled an 8-2 record for its best season since the early 1950s.

Friona to play Mineral Wells

The Friona Squaws, conquerors of the Post Does in a bi-district playoff game, will play Mineral Wells at 8:50 p. m. Friday in a first round game of the state championship girls basketball tournament at Austin.

Other teams competing for the Class AA championship are Cotulla and Clear Creek (League City), who play at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

The Friona sextet advanced to the state tournament by winning the Region 1 tourney last weekend at Lubbock. The Squaws won third place in the state tournament last year.

'Sound of Speed' booked by Tower

"The Sound of Speed," Universal's new short in color, will show at the Tower Theatre here March 25, 26 and 27, in addition to the regular feature, "Mail Order Bride," according to Manager Johnny Hopkins.

"The Sound of Speed" depicts the grueling testing of a specially designed racing car, the Scarab, on the Riverside, Calif., course. The short won a Golden Eagle Award as one of the top short-subject films at the Cannes Film Festival in 1962.

The short-subject's showing here is being sponsored by Collier Chevrolet-Olds, the theatre manager said.

School calendar adopted

Easter holidays longer but Christmas shorter

The Christmas holidays will be shorter and the Easter holidays longer for the 1964-65 school term, according to next year's school calendar adopted at Monday night's board meeting.

School will be dismissed for the Christmas holidays on Wednesday, Dec. 23, at the regular time, and classes will be resumed Monday, Jan. 4, 1965.

The Easter holidays will begin with the dismissal of school at the regular time on Friday, April 16, and classes will be resumed Monday, April 26.

Board President E. R. Moreland explained that the longer Easter holiday has been arranged to give teachers a longer "breathing spell" during the busy school year-end period.

The 1964-65 school calendar calls for 179 total days of instruction and fifty days of in-service training.

The faculty in-service workshop for 179 total days of instruction and fifty days of in-service training. The faculty in-service workshop will be the last day of classes, with commencement exercises scheduled for May 29.

Following a program presented Monday night by F. A. (Chief) Runkles of Post to the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee at Snyder, that group is determined to "catch up with Garza County" on the historical survey work being done here, Runkles said.

The program presented by Runkles consisted of a talk and color slides on the work that has been accomplished by the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

Monday night's meeting at Snyder was for the purpose of organizing the Scurry County chapter and approximately 40 persons of Scurry and Borden counties attended.

Runkles said a question and answer period he conducted at the close of his program resulted in a great deal of help to the Scurry and Borden county committees in their efforts to preserve their local historical heritage.

Chief and Mrs. Runkles drove to Snyder Monday afternoon and visited with various members of the Scurry County committee and discussed their problems.

Runkles is secretary of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon were given an interesting report of a beef and swine study tour of Northern Europe made last fall by Jim Barron Jr., manager of the Spur Headquarters Ranch.

Slides taken by Barron in Scotland, England, France, Holland, Sweden, Denmark and Norway were shown with Barron explaining the various beef and swine developments studied in the various countries.

VISIT IN DENTON

Mrs. Montee Adams left last Saturday for Denton where she will visit for a month in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Lanford. She also plans to visit her brother, Jim Crow, who lives at Rusk.

Damage suit—

According to the petition, the cotton field owner also told Partridge to use a spraying solution less poisonous than the solution containing Parathion if there was any chance of such spray entering the area where the plaintiff was working.

The petition alleges that Partridge failed to follow these instructions, flew over the cotton field in a north-south direction which had the spray plane flying directly over the silo where Masters was working.

The petition also alleges there was a leak and defect in the spraying mechanism of the plane which permitted the poisonous spray to escape, and also that Partridge used a solution containing Parathion, which the petition said is extremely dangerous to human beings, contrary to instructions given him.

According to the petition, Masters remained in critical condition for many weeks following the poisoning, the poisoning caused permanent damage to his heart, lungs, kidney and liver, and resulted in hepatitis, nephritis, congestive heart failure and inflammation of the stomach wall. The petition says his physical condition is becoming progressively worse and Masters has had to cease all physical activity and restrict himself to lightest activity in his home.

The petition asks not less than $150,000 for physical and mental pain suffered by Masters and for which he will suffer the rest of his natural life; $100,000 for loss of earnings and destruction of future earning capacity as Masters is allegedly totally and permanently disabled; $2,000 for medical expenses to date, and $5,000 for future medical expenses.

School board—

Director, and Bruce Evans, band director, were given $250 a year salary increases along with their one-year contract extensions.

The high school faculty members given one-year extensions to their present contracts were: Leon Barnes, Cora Flemin, Charles Henkins, Florene King, N. R. Kinn, John May, James Pollard, Leonard Tittle, Will Bigott, Howard Carlyle, Willa Didway, Marion Duncan, The Trimble and Lillie McRee.

One-year contracts were given high school teachers Chester Collinsworth, Pat Brookshire, Norman Gee, Glyndol Snodgrass, Mary Lee Stockton and Nelda Gay Halford.

JUNIOR HIGH teachers receiving one-year extensions to their contracts were:

Darrell Stone, Lee Davis Jr., Beth Walker, Mary Lee Wristen, Jack Alexander, Charles Black, Rubv Lobban, Rosa Gambelin and Billy Hahn.

Receiving one-year contracts were junior high teachers Carolyn Black, Bruce Burnett Jr., Betty Allsup, Gavle Frederick, Elvin Jones and Dale Schmidt.

Elementary teachers given one-year contract extensions were: Lucile McBride, Vvnomma Clark, Ida Jones, Lavenia Hogan, Jessie Lancaster, Billie Carlyle, La Verne Barnes, Elsie Whittenberg, Jean Gandv, Lea Mock, Mary Rashell, Sue Cornell, Nona Lusk, Irene Mitchell, Lucille Nixon, Ella Mae Hudman, A. T. Nixon, Rowena Pierce and Ada Buchanan.

One-year contracts went to elementary teachers Lora Blanton, Blenda Pruitt, Ruth Holland, Verma O'Neal, Anita Myers and Corrine Hunt.

The trustees elected Mrs. Bettye Scott as helping teacher, a capacity in which she has served since the elementary and primary schools were combined into the elementary school a few months ago. Mrs. Scott was given a two-year contract effective with the 1964-65 school year.

THE NEW JUNIOR high and high school grading system recommended by Supt. Barry B. Thompson and approved by the board, changes from the present A, B, C and F system of grading to an A, B, C, D and F system.

Under the new system, a grade of D would be passing but enough D's would show a student incapable of attending college. This grading system would help borderline students in graduating from high school. Supt. Thompson explained to the board, but a transcript of D's would preclude college attendance on the borderline case.

The new grading system is as follows: A, 90 to 100; B, 80 to 89; C, 70 to 79; D, 62 to 70; F, 0 to 61.

Also, under the new system, grade averages will be replaced by the accumulation of grade points; an A would be worth 4 grade points; B, 3 grade points; C, 2 grade points; D, 1 grade point, and F, no grade points.

THE NON-ENGLISH speaking program to be set up this summer will be for eight weeks, from June 8 through July 31. The state will finance the program, in which a newly-developed course of study will be used. Thompson said he is trying to find a teacher of Latin-American extraction to teach the summer course and also to teach a first grade section next year.

The summer program in academic courses approved by the board would offer English, civics and/or American history and algebra. A tuition charge of $30 per unit of work would be charged, with the program running for seven weeks, beginning June 8.

The entire program would be self-supporting, with the teachers receiving $25 per student to pay the overhead. A minimum of 12 students per course will be required.

8 teams are expected for land judging here

At least eight teams are expected to compete here Friday, March 20, in a Mesa District Future Farmers of America land judging contest being co-sponsored by the local Young Farmer chapter and the Soil Conservation Service.

Four different judging sites in the vicinity of Post will be selected by SCS personnel. Headquarters for the contest will be the Vocational Agriculture building at the high school.

FLEDGES SOCIAL CLUB

Miss Stanna Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Butler and a student at Hardin-Simmons University, recently plodded the Delta social club at the university.

Orabi, a Hani Indian village in Arizona inhabited uninterruptedly since 1540, is the oldest town in the United States.

School study to end tonight

The 14-member lay advisory committee of the Post schools will hold the concluding session of its five months study of local school needs at 7 p. m. tonight in the high school library.

Jim Cornish, committee chairman, said the final two sub-committee reports on curriculum and financing will be submitted to the entire committee at tonight's session.

At the committee's last meeting two weeks ago, the other three sub-committees were discussed and adopted.

When the committee's final report is completed after tonight's session it will be presented to school trustees at a special called session.

The recommendations of the committee will be released to the public following the committee's presentation of the recommendations to the trustees.

The committee has been meeting on a twice monthly basis since last November.

Academic Year of Study for Stone

Darrell Stone, 8th grade mathematics teacher in Post Junior High School, has been selected by the National Science Foundation to participate in an Academic Year of Study at San Jose University in California.

He will pursue a program leading to the Master of Natural Science degree in the area of mathematics.

Stone, a native of Post, holds a B. S. degree in petroleum engineering from Texas Tech and has taught in the Post schools five years. He will request a year's leave of absence from his present teaching duties here.

The grant from the NSF will pay Stone $120 per week, plus travel, during the duration of his study. He will report to San Jose either in June or September of this year.

Officers, directors elected for Rodeo

Jack Kirkpatrick was elected president of Post Stampede, Inc., at the annual stockholders' meeting Monday night in the Community Room. Kirkpatrick succeeds J. E. Birdwell as president.

Other officers and directors elected were: Bob Macy, vice president; Fred Myers, manager; Jack Lott, arena director; Ira Greenfield, re-elected secretary; Donald Windham, assistant secretary; R. E. Josey, Bob West, S. E. Camp, Floy Richardson, Frank Blanton and Jimmy Moore, directors, and Pearl Nance, honorary director.

A meeting of the directors has been called for 7:30 p. m. Monday, March 23, at the Community Room. A date for this year's rodeo has not been set.

Brownie troops enjoy cookout

Brownie Troops 328 and 61 took advantage of the school holiday last Friday and enjoyed a cookout at the City-County Park.

The girls gathered wood and cooked potatoes and roasted weiners over the fire. Soft drinks were served.

Mrs. Linda Perkins and Mrs. John Huffman are leaders of the two troops.

Those attending were Kay Guthrie, Eva Raymundo, Melba Wynne, Eva Vargas, Joni Huffman, Sherrel Guichard, Nancy Branson, Patricia Gannon, Ester K. Guajardo, Connie Cockrell, Jessie Lee George, Jean Huffman, Anita Vargas, Dee Perkins, Vicki Gannon, Gavle Guthrie and Jani and Judi Huffman.

Rotarians will host wives at Tuesday dinner

Post Rotarians will entertain their Rotary Anns with a 7 p. m. dinner meeting in City Hall next Tuesday night with the Post Music Club providing the program.

The dinner meeting will replace the weekly luncheon of the club Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Tillman Jones is in charge of the program.

World War I veterans to meet next Thursday

All Garza County World War I veterans—only 22 still reside in the county—are invited to a meeting at 2:30 p. m. next Thursday, March 19, in the American Legion Hall.

Purpose of the session is to discuss organization of a barracks here of Veterans of World War I, a national organization.

Jay Foster urged every World War I veteran to be present.

WORKING IN DALLAS

Lexa Acker, a graduate of University of Texas with a degree in architecture, has accepted a position with William Hiddell Jr., Architect, in Dallas. Lexa spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Acker, prior to starting to work in Dallas Monday.

Public Schools Week

More than 1,200 attend open house at schools

Approximately 1,200 patrons of the Post Independent School District attended open house held last Thursday night at the schools here in observance of the 110th year of free public school education in Texas.

The largest crowds were in the elementary and junior high schools. Staff members were on duty at all the schools to answer questions and to explain the various programs. A number of students acted as guides and provided the entertainment for the evening.

Barry B. Thompson, superintendent of schools, said today that plans are to make next year's Public Schools Week observance even bigger than this year's. "Next year," he said, "we plan to have a three-hour open house instead of a two-hour."

He also said that since very few people visited classes during the week, this part of the program will be stressed more at next year's observance.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland, school board president, and Supt. Thompson said today that on behalf of the board and the schools they would like to express their appreciation of the interest shown by patrons in this year's open house.

Coupon day—

(Continued from Page 1) coupon worth $1 off on any original prescription brought in Friday or during the remainder of March along with the coupon. Dunlap's has its coupon plus 13 cents worth $1 toward the purchase of any men's dress slacks, sports coat, suit, or hat.

Eleven of the 12 coupons are good only tomorrow—Friday the 13th.

For Post area shoppers who clip their coupons and go shopping, this Friday 13th is going to be their "lucky day."

Housing project now only 'one step away'

The Post Public Housing Authority will meet at 5 p. m. today in the city council room to consider minor changes to architectural plans for the 28-unit public housing project.

Federal authorities are seeking approval of the changes as what they report to be the final step in calling for construction bids to be opened in late April.

Requirements for membership are changed by club

RMA discusses credit reports

Membership requirements were changed when the Post Country Club members met Tuesday evening at the Caprock Golf Course clubhouse. It is not now necessary to belong to the Caprock Golf Course to be eligible for membership. Anyone interested may make application for membership and be voted in by the executive board.

Plans were completed for the Ladies' Championship Tournament to be held April 4. The men will honor the women with a supper following the 18-hole tournament.

Those attending the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Acker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Durbin, Jimmy Hundley, Tom Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hopkins, D. H. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Collier, Charles Hopkins, Ms. and Mrs. Jackie Hays, Paul Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore and Glenn Potts.

Maid of Cotton entries invited

Application forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce office here for eligible young women who would like to enter the annual Maid of Cotton contest.

Garza County candidates for Maid of Cotton would compete in the South Plains contest at Lubbock April 10-11, and the winner there would go to the National Maid of Cotton Contest.

Qualifications state that candidates must never have been married, not be less than 19 years of age or over 25 and be at least 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall without shoes.

Deadline for filing an application with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is 5 p. m. March 25.

Reddy's cooking trailer will be here Wednesday

Reddy's cooking trailer will be here Wednesday

Reddy's commercial electric cooking equipment trailer will be here Wednesday afternoon, March 18, for a demonstration, announced Ted R. Hibbs, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Co. office.

Modern cooking equipment, automation cooking and counter-line equipment, all installed and all operating, will be demonstrated.

The trailer will be at the rear of the SWPS Company office and the public is invited to visit it from 2 to 4 p. m., Mr. Hibbs said.

More people need to attend games, build up spirit

By Linda Byrd
The school spirit in Post is greater than it has been in years. During football season the school spirit was by far greater than the year before, but during basketball season it dropped considerably.

There are people here in Post who I am sure would gladly sponsor a basketball game because we have their moral support. They are the kind of people we need more of.

Basketball is a sport just like football and we need to support the team along with everyone else here in Post.

I venture to say that at least one-third of the people in this town have not been to a ball game in three years.

This town could use more school spirit and moral support.

We could also use more people to go to football and basketball games.

If the students know that the town is behind them, no matter if they win or lose, they will do their best to keep the school spirit as high as possible.

This 'n' That in Grade 6-B

By Beverly Allen
It's a miracle that 6B girls and boys passed with only three C's and not any F's in Science.

There's a certain group of boy in Mr. Frederick's room who have to be real quiet if they don't want a lick or two. Who are these boys?

6B girls and boys for the Science Fair have to either group-up to make a project or make one by himself. If he doesn't, he gets a low grade for the next six weeks.

In history we're giving reports on famous men of early times—like Champlain, Cartier, Magellan and many others.

In spelling on the trial test last week we got licks for not dotting an "i" and for not crossing a

Council has co-presidents

Teddy Scott and Dee Ann Walker were elected co-presidents of the Student Council for 1964-65. Rickey Welch was elected as vice president. They will attend the annual convention at Houston March 19-21.

Nominees for president of the Student Council were Dee Ann, Teddy and Lewis Herron. To qualify for this office the three nominees had to maintain at least a "B" average and be a member of the Senior class of 1964-65.

Post band goes to Festival at Lamesa March 7

Saturday, March 7, the Post High School band went to Lamesa to compete in their annual Band Festival.

The other bands participating in Class AA were Hamlin, Tulia and Snyder second band. The Class AA winners were Hamlin, concert, and Tulia, sight-reading.

In Class A, Memphis was the winner in sight-reading and concert, with both trophies in Class AAA going to Brownfield.

The Texas Tech band, under the direction of Dean Killian, gave a concert after all the high school bands had played. It was a real treat to hear such a fine band as Tech has.

The Post band received some very fine criticism, which we know will help us prepare for the Regional Contest in April. The band was given some very fine compliments by the judges, and we are now working very hard to fulfill these compliments at contest.

"I".

Who was it who got a lick from Randy Hudman when he exchanged licks with him? Who was this person? Was it Randy Cobb or Karl Hall?

dent were Rickey Welch, Tony Hutto and Carol Camp. The person elected to this office must also maintain a "B" average and be classified as a Junior or Senior of 1965.

To be nominated for either of these offices a petition had to be circulated with the signatures of five teachers and at least ten students. Nita Wilson circulated Dee Ann's petition; Danny Pierce for Teddy; Carolyn Matsler for Lewis; Dee Ann for Rickey; Susie Jo Schmidt for Tony; and Cerretha Jones and Linda Pennell circulated the petition for Carol.

Last Friday the nominees for president and vice president gave their campaign speeches over the intercom. Susie Jo also gave a campaign speech for Rickey and Linda Pennell campaigned for Carol Camp.

After hearing all the campaign speeches, each student in the freshman, sophomore and junior classes voted by secret ballot. This election resulted with Rickey as our vice president and a run off between Dee Ann and Teddy.

Monday, each student voted for either Dee Ann or Teddy for president. The result of the voting was a tie. So for the first time in PHS's history the Student Council has co-presidents.

Post Highlights

Best of luck to the choir which will be going to contest Saturday, March 14. There will be girls' choir and a boys' choir and a mixed choir. Everyone is expecting great results. Mr. Willson has done a wonderful job.

Last Saturday Margie Harrison and Argan Robinson took their college entrance examinations at Lubbock High. It was very uneventful except when they tried going up one-way streets the wrong direction.

Work has begun on Interscholastic League contest material. There will be a play, speeches, debates, spelling and ready writing. Work hard everyone and remember you are representing PHS.

Sunday, Argan Robinson and Linda McMahon spent the day at the go-cart races in Big Spring with Herbie Hays and Ross Baker. The day was made more exciting by a typical Texas sand-storm.

Has a truce really been called between the Wilson and Shumard parties? We wish you fair weather, friends.

Diane Maxey and Ronnie Graves, Billy Shumard and Nita Wilson and Diane Kiker and Jimmy Sharp went to Lubbock Friday night to see Cleopatra but instead went to see Friona play basketball in the regional finals.

Did Lynn Edwards actually pass chemistry or was it just rumor? There seems to be some doubt about the C-.

Jackey Fluit has acquired a brand new title, "Champion Kite Flier." His only problem seems to be electric and telephone wires.

Couples seen around PHS are: Susan Ramsey and Freddie Simmons, Betsy Shytles and Ken Wheatley, Linda Bias and Buddy Moreland, Argan Robinson and Herbie Hays, Linda McMahon and Ross Baker, Jackey Fluit and Vivian McWhirt, Billy Shumard and Nita Wilson, Dee Ann Walker and Larry Osman; Bobby Compton and Jerry Stone, Diane Kiker and Jimmy Sharp, Arieta Robinson and Mike Berry, Margie Harrison and Don Pennell, Wynza Windham and Robert Mock, Diane Maxey and Ronnie Graves, Pam Owen and Joe Hall, Lana Haynie and Darrell Young, Billy Blacklock and Belinda Lee; Linda Gist and Edwin Lewis, Cindy Wilson and Wendell Johnson, Mary Ann Stone and Benny Owen, Carolyn Matsler and Don Barnes, Carol Hodges and Gary Brewer, Shirley Sappington and Harvey Pennell, Terri Power and Larry Guy, Linda McMahon and Ken Rankin.

Diane Maxey celebrated her birthday, March 5 with a party at her house. Sandwiches, cookies, Cokes and cake were served. Those attending were Nita Wilson, Linda McMahon, Carol Smith, Argan Robinson, Linda Pennell, Susie Jo Schmidt, Betty Jo Hill, Shirley Sappington, Nancy Bingham, Yvonne Corley, and Diane's mother and sisters, Mrs. Lewis Mason and Mrs. Noel White. Everyone enjoyed it very much.

Hey, Carol Ann Smith, how did you and Susie Jo Schmidt feel Friday night after all those "My-Ty's". You say everything hit you funny and without any serious side whatsoever.

We would like to welcome our two new students, Ann and Nancy Hendrix from Deming, N. M. Ann is classified as a junior and Nancy is a freshman.

The Old Timer

"A dandelion is another thing which, if given an inch, will take a yard."

Seventh Grade — Sharyn Bilberry, Debbie Brewer, Larry Brown, Judy Dooley, David Gage, John Holland, Petra Hill, Mike Levens, Ben Miller, Christine Morris, Benita Noble, Patti Power;

Hardy Carlyle, Larry Kirby, Karen Lee, Kenneth Mitchell, Gary Nichols, Marsha Tipton, Jackie Hair, David Midkiff, Ethel Mae Busby.

Sixth Grade — Jackie Brooks, Margie Carter, Sandra Dixon, Dennis Dodson, Randy Hudman, Nancy Norman, David Pierce, G. R. A. Shytles, Neff Walker, Jan Wilks, Nita Young;

Jimmie McKamie, Kathleen Blacklock, Paula Cravy, Barbe Gilmore, Ken Herron, Beth Peel, Susan Valdez, Janet Cheshire, Nancy Hart, Daisy M. Smith, Ronnie Hair, Mary Jane Johnston.

Various activities are featuring gym classes

During the coming weeks the gym classes will be competing against each other in various activities. The tournaments include volleyball, badminton, soccer and shuffle board.

The students in each gym class will compete against one another. The final winner of each class will then compete for the championship.

Tryouts for the volleyball team are being held after school. The team will be chosen during the coming weeks. Anyone is eligible; so, if you are interested, come to the gym during tryouts. The first volleyball game will be played with Slaton. The winners will then play Denver City.

AUSTIN — U. S. Supreme Court says the present line-up of congressional districts is unconstitutional. But the day for redistricting still is far away, according to Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Texas' 22 Congressional districts have the greatest variance in size of any state, ranging from 214,000 to 980,000 population. This, the high court said, is not fair and it must be corrected.

Because the 1964 elections already are under way the Supreme Court allowed Texas 30 days in which to ask a three-judge Federal court in Houston to delay the effectiveness of the order.

Governor Connally is sure the court will recognize the fact that absentee voting will begin on April 12 and that filing deadlines already have passed.

He insists that the major legislative surgery required cannot be done in a 30-day special session of the Legislature and should be left to the regular 140-day session which starts Jan. 12. He felt the Court would agree that it now is too late to redistrict for 1964 elections.

TRAINS GOING — Passenger trains continue to disappear from the Texas scene. Latest moves are by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Co. and the Fort Worth & Denver Railway.

They want to do away with the Fort Worth to Houston run of the Twin Star Rocket.

Texas Railroad Commission will hear this proposal on May 12 in the Dallas City Hall.

SALT WATER — Texas Water Pollution Control Board agreed, after three public hearings, to outlaw the use of unlined surface pits for disposal of oilfield salt water in eight South Plains Counties.

Oil and gas operators were given until Sept. 1, to make other arrangements for disposal of the brine. Water-users in the area, which contains the greatest irrigation section in Texas, had complained that the oilfield salt water was seeping into the fresh water strata known as the Ogallala formation.

Covered by the non-pit order are Hockley, Lynn, Swisher and Terry counties.

COURT SPEAKS — Texas Supreme Court, in a decision with far-reaching consequences, has ruled that holders of paid political office are ineligible to run for the Legislature during their present terms.

Specifically, the Court ordered the Taylor County Democratic Committee to remove the of 104th Dist. Atty. Tom Todd the ballot as a legislative date.

State Democratic Committee secretary Frank Erwin Jr. said the opinion will be used by all county chairmen for their dance. Erwin earlier had said of the ineligibility of paid office to run for the Legislature.

Supreme Court also ordered new trial in a case hinging on question of whether newspaper editors are independent merchants employees of the publishing pany.

Suit was brought by Gerald Love against Newspapers, and C. E. Cargile, contract for the newspapers, following auto collision. Lower courts for Love. However, the new session held the independent contractor issue had been improperly mitted to the jury. Earlier sessions have supported the position that a newspaperboy or carrier is an independent agent and not an employee of the publication.

SUPER-AGENCY Backed — Governor Connally's Committee of Education Beyond the High School will recommend that the Legislature set up an 18-member state coordinating agency with jurisdiction over both junior and college and universities. Chairman H. B. Zachry.

Committee has been under from state capitol newsroom holding closed-door sessions, chry defended the policy but ed that reporters will be all in on at least part of future ings.

TEACHING STANDARDS PROVED — Texas Board of cation approved new standard training of school teachers administrators and a special service training linguistics to help teachers teach students express themselves better.

Minimum foundation school program costs were negated at 000,000; the 1964-65 local fund signment (local school district share) at $111,000,000.

A pilot program of concent study for migrant students now operating in Edinburg, McAllen, laco, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, San Benito will be expanded districts next fall.

Board members approved quest to dissolve the Liberty County Junior College District, dor since its creation in 1958.

'64 Chevy II Super Sport with V8 power

...and just the place to enjoy it

Find out for yourself what this Chevy II can really do. If there are hills nearby, let it give them a good going-over. Then see it give slow-moving trucks the run-around. With its new extra-cost V8 you need but give the accelerator an inch, and this Super Sport will take a mile.

And this great highway performer looks the part it plays so well. A glance at its all-vinyl interior and door-to-door carpeting will tell you that. There's your choice of either the floor-mounted Powerglide or Four-Speed Synchro-Mesh transmission. Both are optional at extra cost, along with a Positraction rear axle, AM-FM radio, and many other accessories. And for all its new power, Chevy II rides so softly it seems to glide along the highway. That's because it has high-mounted independent coil springs in the front and Mono-Plate single-leaf springs in the rear.

With everything Chevy II Super Sport has going for it, it's no surprise your Chevrolet dealer is anxious to show you its price tag. Because that's the only thing about it that isn't super.

SHELTER SUPPLIES FOR PUERTO RICO

First supplies for fallout shelter areas in Puerto Rico are loaded aboard a van at Brooklyn, N. Y., Army Terminal for shipment to San Juan. The civil defense food, water, medical and sanitation supplies, and radiation detection kits, when over 200 vanloads are placed in shelter areas, will be enough for about 260,000 persons for 14 days in fallout shelters.

News from your . . . County H. D. Agent

By Juanette Williams

WISE BUYMANSHIP
Money, time, and energy usually are the factors behind our problems. If one uses these resources wisely, then life will be more pleasant.

Tested techniques for good buyman-ship—including knowledge of what, when and where to buy—can save money, energy and time for busy techniques.

Research has disclosed that the buying techniques apply to the purchase of food, clothing or household equipment. Juanette Williams, county home demonstration agent reminds.

The tested techniques, according to research done by several groups are:

COMPARE VALUES. What appears to be the same may differ in quality. As prices vary, quality usually varies. In buying food, homemakers should compare the quality and quantity of various brands and price ranges of all forms—fresh, canned, and frozen—of a particular food. In comparing the quality of clothing, one may find a less expensive garment to have smaller seams, longer stitches, lower quality fabric etc. In household appliances, some heat faster, are of sturdier materials, and better workmanship.

SELECT BASIC STYLES. There is more mileage in styles which do not change abruptly. Styles can date clothes especially. Basic styles such as the classic shirtwaist are good every year whereas the "latest fashion" for this year will not be so fashionable in the future.

BUY ON THE BASIS OF USE AND NEEDS. If buying a tomato, determine if you need it for soup or salad, and buy accordingly. Check your wardrobe—what do you need, a versatile dress for shopping, club and church or a house dress.

BUY BA GRADE. Top grade in some products may compare with second in others. Buy the grade needed for the use.

SHOP FOR BRANDS. Sometimes less than nationally advertised brands are more costly. Again, compare the quality and quantity of various brands in relation to the cost.

CHECK INGREDIENTS. Products with same ingredients, materials, or fabrics may differ in price. Stick to middle prices. The item may have the same quality as top price, with less trimming.

Be a wise buyer and save time, money, and energy.

CARE FOR FLOORS
Beautiful floors need proper care. All floors cannot be treated alike, says Juanette Williams.

For floors of wood, cork or linoleum, a solvent paste or liquid wax containing naphtha, carbon tetrachloride and mineral spirits—alone or in combination—will be suitable. Check the label for contents for they should be listed.

To remove old wax, a commercial wax remover is recommended. Directions should be followed exactly.

After removing the wax, go over the floor with a mop wrung out of a mild detergent solution. Rinse carefully, dry thoroughly, apply a thin coat of wax, dry thoroughly about 30 minutes, then polish. If enough help is available, three thin wax applications—each dried and polished separately—will give a beautiful and long-lasting finish. An electric waxer-polisher is a

C. W. Post remembered Sheriff Kelly with poem on 'riding range with dad'

(Editor's Note: The recent death of O. B. Kelly, longtime cowboy and Garza County's first sheriff, brought back many memories of olden days to pioneer residents here. Among them were Mrs. S. W. McCrary, who has submitted the following poem, which was sent to Sheriff Kelly while he was in office by C. W. Post, the town's founder. Mr. Post once spent several weeks at the Llano Ranch when Mr. Kelly was manager there and his sympathies were touched by the comradeship between Mr. Kelly and his son.)

RIDING THE RANGE WITH DAD

I'd like to go back, go way, way back
To the days when I was a lad,
Rode over the range on a broncho's back
Along with my old dad.
I'd like to hark to the bellowing herd
When never a guiding spark
Came over the lea, and out of the night
There came the coyote's bark.
I'd like to hear the crackling Colts,
When the boys rode into town
And, just for the sake of devilment,
Turned matters upside down!
I'd like to go back, but I guess I can't,
For things have changed around,
And I am doomed to grime and strife
And traffic's raspy sound.
I'd like to go back, go way, way back
And throw the rope again,
And "hog-tie" one more "long-horn"
On the breezy, open plain!
I'd like to singe the flank of a steer
With the brand of "101!"

And see the critter start and spring
And then go on the run!
I'd like to hark to the outfit,
Sing the song, "Wild Bill's Lament."
When we gathered round the bunkhouse door
With everyone content,
I'd like to hike to those palmy days,
But I don't suppose that I could find a trail to take me there,
No matter how I'd try.

I'd like to go back, go way, way back,
But the things I'd like to see,
And the things that duty bid me see
Somehow don't quite agree.
The range is gone and the barbed wire fence
Has cut the prairies now,
And down on the "101!"
They've got an automobile, I trow!
The round-up's gone and the branding iron
Is hanging on the wall,
And never a hungry puncher waits
For the "Cookie's" welcome call.
And so I say, I'd like to go back
To the days when I, a tad,
Rode over the range on a broncho's back
Along with my old dad.

The Iron Curtain isn't soundproof.

If you owned a radio set behind the Iron Curtain, what sort of programs would you hear?
From Communist sources, endless propaganda. Newscasts that twist—or suppress—the truth about home conditions and the world outside. Commentaries and criticisms that are really just "commercials" for a single product—Communism.
Fortunately, however, the Iron Curtain isn't soundproof.
Try as they will, the Communists can't keep out the voice of Radio Free Europe. Nor can they prevent us hearing what they themselves tell—and don't tell—to their captive peoples.
Radio Free Europe speaks daily, in their own languages, to millions of listeners in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania. But—first—it monitors all the radio stations in these five satellite countries, and studies all their magazines and newspapers. It analyzes what they give out as news, and notes the lies, distortions and omissions.

These are then exposed—with tremendous impact—in RFE's own newscasts.
Radio Free Europe lets its audience know what is really happening in their enslaved countries—and right in their home towns. It answers Communist accusations. Spotlights rifts and failures. Reminds these 80 million captive people that they still have friends. And suggests some ways in which they themselves can help to regain their lost personal freedom.
In effect, RFE has become both their local newspaper and a national, opposition press that nobody can stop them reading—with their ears.
Radio Free Europe is a private American enterprise, supported by voluntary subscriptions. Help to get the truth through the Iron Curtain—by mailing your contribution to:

Opinions differ on best kind of public notice

CHARLES L. ALLEN, School of Journalism, Oklahoma State University, says the abundance of a free press is one of the virtues of America. There are those who say we have too much of it, that goods and services come too easily today, and that the great choice spoils us. They would trade today's American for the life of the country or for the life of the world. They would trade our history for the life of the world. They would trade the best house, the best car, the best food, the best schools, the best doctor, and the best lawyer in his country for the life of the world.

purpose. An infinitely small part of the interested parties would see it—perhaps less than 1 per cent.

The "Offices of Intelligence," mentioned in the first article in this series, served an essential purpose in the 15th and 16th centuries. But, like the village square in early American life, the Office of Intelligence were too cumbersome, too much bother and too slow in getting information to the people. They were superseded by printing and publications.

Newspapers were born because the life of the English people in the 17th century had become too complex for the existing outmoded means of communication. The Town Crier, the Village Square, the Office of Intelligence, the printed handbill and the occasional newsheet all had become inadequate as purveyors of public information.

Life in England in the mid-17th century was very rudimentary indeed, compared to life in America in this orbiting economy of today. Yet it was moving so fast, compared with earlier centuries, and the population was getting so big, that a new method of public notice simply had to be invented.

THE ANSWER TO THE acute problem of communications in that era was the newspaper. No one expected it then, but it took only a few short years—actually from 1665 to 1688—for the newspaper to grow from the little two-page Oxford Gazette to the "Post" newspapers which flooded England and spread to Europe and America by 1700.

Seek the reasons why the newspaper has long been the free world's method of keeping people informed and they come upon you in a flood:

1. The people cannot be well and currently informed unless there is a publication which is issued with absolute regularity. In 1586 there was a thing that passed for a newspaper called Mercurio Gallo Belgicus. Just how it could be called a newspaper is hard to see because it was published every two years. The regularity of the modern daily and weekly newspaper, however, presents continuous opportunities for the publishing of important legal notices. Nothing else is so dependable. (And remember, too, please, that the newspaperman must somehow scrape together the money to put out this paper every week or every day for 52 weeks of the year. All this to insure the availability of a public information medium when you need it.)
2. The people cannot be adequately served unless the medium in which public notices are published has permanence. Matters of legal business, matters that affect the property, liberty and life of the people, cannot be written on the wind. There are numerous occasions when the parties to a legal action, lawyers and judges must be able to refer to a permanent record to prove that public notice was actually given on the dates provided in the law.
3. Proof of Publication. Public notice in a newspaper provides almost automatic proof of publication. Additional copies are supplied to lawyers and interested parties at little or no cost, and if greater quantities are required they can be obtained at little expense. Most newspapers maintain files of their back issues, or microfilms for ready reference or proof of publication.
4. THE PEOPLE cannot be informed unless the public notice is run in a medium that has good reader traffic. Many publications are subsidized by groups or associations and circulate only to a select technical or religious or fraternal membership. Obviously ciency in informing the people.

10. This is the Atomic Age. Rockets pierce the heavens. Satellites are created to orbit the earth. Men drive cars at 80 miles per hour on four-lane highways. It is an age of speed. The population is entirely mobile. They read as they run, as they fly, and few of them come within miles of the "public square." Public notice must be placed in the medium that accompanies them on their mobile missions, and can be preserved until they get home or to their office for thorough reading and future reference.

11. "PEOPLE ARE more interested in people than in anything else." This is an old saying seldom challenged. And it is also true that everyone is more interested in himself, his business, his family and his own affairs than in other people's.

This is why people read newspapers. The newspaper is the only communications medium which, day after day, tells about you, your wife, your children, your schools, your church, your club, your business, professional or industrial activities, and everything else that affects you.

The newspaper, come to think of it, is the only one of the major media that is always vitally concerned about you, your family, your friends and your business associates. It is certain to be read as long as its editor doesn't forget the newspaper's life depends upon a deep and continuing interest in the lives, activities and business affairs of its subscribers.

There can be no better place to put a public notice than in the medium that people turn to in order to read about themselves, their friends and their business.

12. The newspaper is the image of the town where it is published. It records the city council's plan for adding to the electric facilities, the progress in building a new school, the campaign to remodel and enlarge the municipal hospital, the purchase of a new fire truck—it records the daily business transactions and each and every milestone in the history of your town.

This is another reason why people read the newspaper. And it is another reason why public notices will be read when they are published in the paper.

WE COULD GO ON. There are many more reasons why the newspaper is the best medium for public notices, and why people turn to the newspaper so many times every day and every week. The newspaper has become a great American institution because it records, with fidelity, every aspect of American life.

Lastly, let us reiterate the necessity for publishing public notices in a regular part of the newspaper, where they may be conveniently found, frequently referred to, and detached from the paper as required. It has often been said that people come to the classified ads because they are looking for something specific. This must be true, for the total income from classified ads in newspapers is often two or three times as much money as all revenue from national advertising.

How important is it, therefore, that public notices be printed together, or in convenient groups, easy to locate and easy to use every day. The "BEST" Public Notice medium is the newspaper.

New book, 'If I Can Do It Horseback,' discusses the language of the range

AUSTIN — If the honest-to-goodness West Texas cowboy has a sparse crop of grass on his land, he might comment, "There is not enough grass to wad a smooth bore single-barrel shotgun."

In a seasonable year, however, the cowboy's description would be that "the grass is belly deep to a camel."

In a new book, "If I Can Do It Horseback: A Cow-Country Sketchbook," to be published March 15 by The University of Texas Press, John Hendrix discusses the language of the range.

"As the men of the sea have a jargon almost unintelligible to the landlubber, so has the cowboy of West Texas a language of words and phrases to describe his physical condition or the condition of the cattle, horses, grass and men of the outfit that he works for," Hendrix says.

The author notes that "when two men of the range meet along the fence line, the conversation flows smoothly and freely."

After the meeting each man goes his way with a complete knowledge of the other's affairs and the condition of the outfit — a knowledge that has been arrived at without waste of words," Hendrix writes.

Range language is only one of the many aspects of West Texas ranch life and the cattle industry which Hendrix discusses in his new book. He examines economic influences and technological changes as well as the personal aspects of range life.

He tells about the operation of the cow camp; the activities of the men, their duties and entertainments, their clothes, food and horses. He describes the rise of some of the "cattle kings," including the Waggoners and the Burnetts, and the development of such towns as Quanah and Colorado City. He discusses the geography of West Texas cattle country and the development, problems and achievements of typical ranches.

The book is a compilation of articles which originally appeared in the Cattleman magazine.

Hendrix, who died in Sweetwater in 1952, was a West Texas writer, rancher and promoter. Born in Gainesville, he grew up in Quanah and attended the old Goodnight and Clarendon Colleges at Clarendon.

VALUE OF EDUCATION
 There is no place in the United States today for an uneducated person. Dr. Charles E. Kellogg, Deputy Administrator of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, said in a recent address at Texas A&M University. Speaking on "The Changing Role of the University," Dr. Kellogg—one of the outstanding soil scientists of the world—said the modern university reflects and meets the people's needs. He stressed that many of this year's graduates will spend most of their adult lives working with machines not yet invented. "We need excellence at all levels and many college drop-outs might be prevented if students had good counseling at the junior college level," he said.

SUNDAY VISITOR
 Mr. and Mrs. Mike Boren of Lubbock visited friends in Justiceburg Sunday afternoon.

During the period of the Republic land promoters had that it was cheaper to buy a cow in Texas than a child it was.

Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.
