JOTS FROM EAGLE COVE.

The debates have closed at Eagle Cove. The champion on one side has converted the champion on the other side to his way of thinking, therefore there is no room for a debate. In the language of inspiration "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

A brother of Mr. Frank Prew, from Wisconsin, is now paying him a visit. They are now gone on a fishing expedition to the Bayou.

W. Miller has the foundation laid for his new store and residence. The store and shop now stand on the land belonging to the Harris Estate. Sam and Cliff Merrick have gone on a prospecting trip to Floyd Co. If Sam can secure school land enough he will move to that county.

Mr. Webb is running Sam Merrick's sorghum mill and turning out a nice lot of molasses.

Mr. Doucy and family have been on a visit to Millberry Canyon, in Taylor County.

The Merrick girl, we learn, is about to be sold to the Adams Oil Co. We also learn that the Co. has bought all the gins in Callahan Co. This looks like a monopoly of the gin business.

Port is still running his meeting at Hope Wells Church. Ed. R. J. McNeil is doing most of the preaching. Rev. Ben Miller, who has recently returned from Baylor University, Waco, has preached several times in the meeting.

Phillip Young has threshed out the country and left. Wheat turned out sorry.

Heavy lightning in west last night, we look for rain soon. The Almanac says the rain will be heavy thirteenth.

ARKER ROTUNDA.

ALL SIGNS OF RAIN LIND. Some of Mr. Millerford's relatives of Bell County, came up to visit them one Sunday day.

Sam McLendon, of Admiral, was on Friday and was making good use of his buggy.

The church was filled to overflowing Sunday night to hear one of the grandest preachers that we have heard for years.

D. Irion & Son will erect a gin at Admiral, machinery is on the ground.

Since one of Irion's bellies has gone off on a visit, "Tan" was "sold" but he did not seem very gay, and the troubles had settled in his eyes.

With the exception of the sore eyes, "Tan" will not resign as he will hereafter be found residing at the place of the Admiral.

During my correspondence I hope I have not said anything to cause me to lose any friends, for I have tried not to say anything that would not be pleasing to anyone's sight, if so, it was done unthoughtfully and not intentionally.

May the pencil be picked up by a more interesting correspondent than I have made any the angels of heaven hover around the people of Oakland and while in their deepest hours of sorrow, and make sweet peace be thine forever.
Success To The Stars say "TAN."

Our former circular must have pleased you, and we are glad it did. Making room for our mammoth stock of fall goods to arrive this month. Never before has the West seen such prosperous times, Baird is enjoying her part of the blessing, and so is Boydston's Dry Goods Business, all we hope is that it has struck you too.

Turn me loose when you are through, and let your neighbor look at me too.

RESOLUTIONS.
Whereas It has pleased Almighty God to make sad the hearts of the family of Brother and Sister G. W. Weeks in the death of Annie Belle Weeks, their daughter; therefore be it resolved that we, as a church, desire to express our sympathy for the bereaved family, and at the same time we, the David of old, are comforted in the thought "that the child cannot come back to us, but we can go to her." She was born Nov. 11, 1885, and died August 1, 1899. She was taken sick July 4, 1899. Annie was a bright, obedient, affectionate child, loved by all who knew her, and the same will also be missed, but it is sweet to feel that she is now "safe in the arms of Jesus" and that "some sweet day, by and by, we shall all be gathered home, where we shall meet no part more, forever.

A couple of gentlemen living east of town had a scrap one day last week. They came in and conspired "Squire" Jackson but we failed to learn to what extent the damage to the county had done the state.
HARRY JACKSON.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

LONG J. JACK, Aug. 5, says "This is my first attempt to write and give you the news of our part of the county."
Cap. Gilliland sold a bunch of one year old steers to H. M. Hadley. He is satisfied so he can not tell the price.

Some of the Smartts have gone to Mitchell county to see after their stock interest. Mr. "Jack" Clifford is also out west looking after his interests.

Little Annie Belle Weeks, age ten years, eight months and twenty days, departed this life Aug. 1, 1899. Fever had burned her brow twenty-five days. At first little danger was apprehended, but as a last doctor was called and found inflammation existing on her vitals. Bad and worse grew the fever until her body was wrecked with pain when the grin monster claimed his victim. Her death caused a gloom to come over all who knew her. Her friends have lost an energetic, enthusiastic schoolmate, her parents, brothers and sisters an idol of their life. The remains were interred at Admiral cemetery the day on which she died.

NOTICE. PAY UP.

A great number of subscribers are due THE STAR from one to six dollars and I cannot afford to carry these accounts much longer. I need the money to meet my bills, while many who owe me on accounts seem perfectly indifferent about paying up. Nine-tenths of these delinquents can pay just as well one time as another, and I need it worse now than at any time of the year as collections are usually dull at this season. If you owe me anything this is for you. Come in and pay up, but if you cannot pay now just say when you will pay. I have my bills to meet, and unpaid accounts don't help me to pay them, no matter how good they are.

July 28th W. E. GILLILAND.

The Dreyfus trial is going on at London, France.

The Star learns with regret of the sudden death of Hon. W. L. Lockett at Abilene a few days ago.

The crop of candidates in this congressional district promises to be large next year. Wonder if they will all announce in the county papers?

The Voice-Review copied an article last week from THE BAIRD STAR, referring to the recent consolidation of the two papers, in which THE STAR was, in part:

"I always liked the Voice because it has run by a man who had a lead of his own."

"This sounds like the joke when it is remembered that the editor of the Voice during previous campaigns permitted G. published the "crip editorials" prepared by a financial baron at 52 William St., New York, and sent to county editors free of charge, which the editor either published and palmed off on the public as his own original matter. But it is real mean in the Democrat to longer "joke" the old lady about this matter when she has no avenue of escape.—Coleman Democrat."

BASE BALL.

The Merchants and Professional men played their second game Wednesday. The Merchants won by a score of 27 to 10. This makes the game even and the next game will be played next Thursday. See notice of "Mother's Board" game.

Both sides played good ball considering that some of them are in practice. There was some foul play publishing the long story we got up for the boys. We will do better next time.

Ear. J. T. L. Annis was in town, Wednesday.

W. P. Brightwell from the Bayou, is in town today.

Er. Smith of the West Texas Baptist, Abilene, is attending the Baptist Association.

E. L. Boydston will have tomorrow next day for St. Louis to buy his fall stock of goods.

Tom Archer and others from Cottonwood, passed through town yesterday, and for the Cleo. For they next week will spend some fishing.

Another little child of Mrs. Owens, daughter of John Hart, died last Sunday. Troubles never comes singly it is said, and it is proved true in this case.

The Callahan County Baptist Association will meet in Baird, at the Baptist Church, on night, Friday, and continue in session until Monday next. A large attendance is expected.

The Best Remedy For Flux.
Mr. John Mathias, a well known stock dealer of Pulaski, Ky., says: "After suffering for over a week with flux, and my physician having failed to relieve me, I was advised to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and have the pleasure of stating that the half one bottle cured me." For sale by H. Phillips, Baird and Y. A. Orr, Farmers.

Aug. About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea, accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. BOGGS, Sumptons, Gilmer Co., W. Va. For sale by H. # THE DREYFUS TRIAL

Rehearing of the Celebrated Case Now in Progress.

POPULATION ARE INDIFFERENT.

Prisoner Set Facing the Judge With His Hands Resting on His Chest, as an Improbable Figure.

Renne, Aug. 8.—The proceedings of the court-martial before which Capt. Dreyfus is on trial opened at ten minutes past 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Capt. Dreyfus entered the courtroom with a firm step, though his features were pallid. He is partly bald and what hair he has is gray and close-cropped.

He wore the formal question of the judges as to his name, age, etc., in a clear, determined voice. He sat facing the judges with his hands resting on his knees, an impassive figure. The trial opened so far as Rennes is concerned, in an atmosphere of perfect tranquility. The population is apparently indifferent. Only a small crowd, at the most fifty persons, had gathered outside the entrance to the Lycee by 6 o'clock. A majority of these were journalists. The prefect of police and chief of the secret police, Vignot, arrived just before 6 and began the superintending of police measures.

At this time only half a dozen of the gendarmes were visible, who were stationed at the portal of the Lycee, and inside the garden in front of the Lycee, which is separate from the Lycee of the Avenue de la Gare by a high iron railing, which no one was allowed to pass until Dreyfus had been transferred from the military prison to the room within the Lycee building where he was to await the moment when he should be summoned to enter the courtroom.

Strong detachments of gendarmes, on foot and mounted, began to arrive at 6 o'clock and took up their positions in the side streets around the Lycee. At 8:15 the prefect of police gave the order to close the Avenue de la Gare for 300 yards in front of the Lycee and also all the by-roads leading to the Lycee. The gendarmes were immediately drawn up along the Avenue de la Gare in front of the Lycee and were armed with rifles. The Lycee is a large building, and the entrance of infantry was drawn across the Avenue in two double lines, leaving between them a passage for Capt. Dreyfus across the Avenue de la Gare to the military prison to the entrance to the Lycee.

A large crowd, which by that time had increased to a few hundred, were kept by the gendarmes at a distance of 100 yards either side of this passage. Capt. Dreyfus emerged from the military prison under escort of a lieutenant and four gendarmes. He crossed the railway quickly and disappeared within the Lycee, the leading of soldiers hiding him from the spectators.

The principal newspapers in the trial were between 6 and 9 o'clock. The general papers, with hardly a word from the spectators.
