

SINGERS PLACE HIGH AT AUSTIN

Division I and II ratings were won by these Post High School choir members in solo contests of Austin last week. Jackie Gordon (second from left) received a Division I rating while Division II ratings went to Joey Lee (left), Randy Hudman and Don Collier.

Singers receive high ratings

A Division I (superior) rating, two Division II (excellent) ratings and two Division III (good) ratings were received by Post High School choir students and a Division II rating by a band student at the state University Interscholastic League solo contests held last week in Austin.

The Division I rating went to Jackie Gordon, tenor, with Randy Hudman, Don Collier and Joey Lee receiving Division II ratings and Sharyn Bilberry and Beth Peel, Division III ratings. The band student receiving a Division II rating was David Hamilton on the snare drums.

The hundreds of choir and band students from over the state competing at Austin were Division I winners in regional competition. Accompanying the singers to Austin were George M. Willson, choir director, and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collier and the Rev. and Mrs. O. Curtis Lee.

Plans told here for waterfloods

The George R. Brown oil interests here are now getting underway with construction work for their second unit of their Garza field. Zone A waterflood, E. R. Baster Moreland told The Dispatch yesterday.

field began injecting water last February in the oil formation, but no oil production is expected to be floated out by the water for another 18 months, according to Moreland.

Air rifles taken from juveniles

City Police Sgt. Otis G. Shepherd confiscated air rifles from two juveniles Wednesday morning and mentioned them about property damage that has resulted here from air rifles.

Of real interest to local property owners is the fact that the Brown interests plan to utilize the city of Post area before beginning a waterflood unit on the townsite. Moreland explained that the entire town will be utilized which means instead of property owners dividing up oil royalties on each 20 acre spacing, all royalty owners in the city will share and share alike on oil production from the waterflood produced within the city.

Lake's new gate admission plan scrapped for more effective one

Better lake control in long run seen

White River Water District directors last Thursday night scrapped their new gate admission plan for the White River Lake and replaced it with one which should provide better lake control in the long run and be less expensive for water district taxpayers and lake users in general.

The 50 cent gate charge, which was voted in May but never put into force, is being replaced with a daily gate admission charge of $1 for persons, 12 years of age and over.

Directors decided to exempt from the new daily gate charge all lot lease holders, their guests, and users of the golf and recreational club. Also exempt from the daily gate charge until Jan. 1, 1970, will be current holders of 1969 annual fishing and boating permits who are not district taxpayers.

By combining the permits with the gate charge, recreational charges for lake users will not be increased, but everybody will pay and those who poured into the lake area on weekends mainly just to roam the lake roads in their cars will probably stay out because of the gate charge.

O'Brien asked directors to approve gate entrance points so that the farm to market road into the lake area would be closed.

Dr. Wilson to begin practice in hometown

Dr. William C. Wilson will return to his hometown of Post to begin the practice of medicine the first week in July, it was announced Monday by Dr. Harry A. Tubbs.

He was at the Medical Center here two weeks ago, during his vacation, assisting Dr. Tubbs under the temporary license for the practice of medicine granted him June 12, 1968, upon his graduation from the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston. The license becomes permanent upon the completion of his internship.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1969

The Dispatch welcomes Dr. Wilson

The Dispatch is happy to announce in a front page story in this issue of the paper that Dr. Charles R. Wilson has decided to return to his hometown of Post early in July to practice medicine.

Hopes have been high here for some time that Dr. Wilson would make this decision, and now that he has made it, The Dispatch joins with the entire community in welcoming home a young man who will help solve the town's doctor shortage problem and at the same time will help the Garza Memorial Hospital over the rough spots that exist for nearly all small town hospitals.

Dr. Wilson's decision to begin his practice of medicine in his hometown is somewhat unique in that he is probably Post's first native son to enter the medical profession and then hang out his shingle here.

The Dispatch feels that this new addition to the ranks of the medical profession has a bright future ahead of him, and along with everyone else, we feel honored that he has decided to pursue that future in his hometown.—CD

Lake admission plans are sensible

The rapid "about face" of White River Water District directors in their gate admission plans for that pretty blue water lake may be a bit confusing to the recreational-minded.

But once Dispatch readers take a look at the facts, the sensibility of the directors' actions becomes apparent.

First off, the gate admission (originally set at 50 cents) was voted simply to prevent the small lake from being completely overrun by people.

Too many people ruins the fun of all the fishermen, all the boaters, all the cabin site folks who have built homes away from homes, and just about everybody else.

So, to start with, the gate charge was voted not as a revenue producer but as a curb against the wave of humanity which threatened to literally engulf the lake each summer weekend.

Second, the crowds have to be reduced because of their threat to the pollution of the lake, which serves as the water supply for the four member towns.

Water District Manager Al O'Brien emphasized this point when he told directors that it is costing twice as much to test the lake water on Monday to purify it than it does on days in mid-week. This is due to the recreational refuse which gets into the lake from the weekend crowds.

The third point in the water district directors' decision is that the new gate admission and daily recreational permit alignment passes on to water district taxpayers free recreational privileges except for the charge to put a boat in the water. The charge not only exempts the taxpayers from the gate charge but from having to buy a fishing permit or a water skiing permit. Thus the district taxpayer gets more consideration this way and that is as it should be.

Fourth, by going to the $1 recreational charge daily, the directors have prevented the daily charge for fishermen from going from $1 for the permit to $1.50 for gate admission and permit under the original 50 cents gate admission plan. The fishermen, who have poured thousands of dollars into the recreational funds of the district for recreational development of the lake area and even payment against the construction loans, have been the backbone of the lake's recreational success from the beginning. The directors did not want to pass on to them an added cost burden. That was not the intention of the gate admission, which was levied in an effort to get more crowd control.

Fifth, the new gate plan, which combines a gate charge with daily recreational charges, solves the "policing" problem for the district in the checking of permits to be sure they have been purchased. There is no practical way to check everybody for required permits and obviously a whole lot of lake users didn't buy the permits they were supposed to. But by establishing a combined gate charge and daily permit, no checking will now be necessary. Everybody who passes through the gate will have paid their way in and will be entitled to all the recreation they want.

Lake directors and personnel are convinced that most of the lake's pollution and abuse has come from the "free riders" who haven't paid but who are beginning to make summer weekends at the lake well nigh unbearable for everybody else.

Lake directors knew at the start that developing a water supply for the four towns would be no problem at all compared to that of developing and controlling lake recreation.

Directors have slowly, step by step, developed their recreational program, making changes as the need for change became evident.

The new gate charge and daily recreational permit plan appears to be the biggest and most important step directors have undertaken to date in the field of recreational development and control.

The fact remains, as was stated at the beginning of this editorial, White River Lake is not large enough to handle everybody who might want to crowd its shores. District taxpayers have been given the inside track, but efforts also are being made to be sure that those who do come to boat and fish, who pay their way, and respect lake pollution rules, will not be literally overrun by hordes of others who obviously don't care.—JC

Summer vacations and burglars

A great increase in the number of home burglaries during the summer vacation period, which begins soon, has been noted over the past few years. A leading group of insurance companies advises that you cancel all deliveries while away on summer vacation, since newspapers or milk bottles that pile up on your porch or front steps are an engraved invitation to the home burglar.

"Inconvenience" is the key to preventing home burglaries. It simply must be inconvenient and even difficult for the burglar to enter and leave the home undetected.

If you take a summer trip, be sure to have a friend or neighbor keep an eye on your home. Or let the city police department do it for you, since this is one of the many services they are happy to render.

Burglars are bold when the home is left unattended states a loss prevention specialist with an insurance firm who cites the case of two men loading furniture and household goods onto a moving van and driving away in broad daylight while neighbors barely took notice.

GARZA MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
 Garza Memorial Hospital is good; though it's small, it's clean. It's better equipped than those usually seen. Owned by a county without much wealth. To care for its natives' general health. To help any traveler who is in need. If the problem is small, then with speed. His problem is solved and he's on his way. Or else he is cared for day after day. The trouble he has is larger than he's tended and sent by ambulance or car. Where the specialists are, to fill the need. For no one is left to suffer or die. If a doctor can help, then he's of service always to humanity. And there to assist in whatever a nurse trained to care for her patients. For she is the one whose job it falls

To carry out orders and answer all calls.
 Its reputation depends on the work she does.
 And on knowing just when she should use kid gloves.
 For most want to stay home whenever they're ill.
 It isn't equipment or unnecessary frill
 That makes patients happy and stills all their fear;
 It's discreet nurses who tend with true cheer.
 So, as hospitals go, and I've been in a lot,
 Garza countians should fight for the one they've got!

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION ST. LOUIS 1904

GOOD TASTE IN EVERY BITE

The hamburger still ranks as America's No. 1 sandwich. It was introduced 65 years ago at the International Exposition in St. Louis, Mo.

Hamburgers have been around for 65 years

Hamburger on a bun may be a 65-year-old food idea, but it's not about to retire from the American scene.

Hamburger alone has been around for centuries. However, it didn't catch up with the bun until 1904. That was the year that somebody decided to serve hamburgers on buns at the great St. Louis Exposition. Introduction of the hamburger on a bun shared the spotlight with another great American innovation, ice cream in an edible cone.

The hamburger's ancestry goes back as far as ancient Egypt when meat was minced for quicker cooking. Through the ages, men found that grinding meat was a good method of tenderizing it.

Exactly how ground beef came to be called hamburger is a bit obscure. However, it was probably named for the German seaport of Hamburg.

German immigrants brought their rare hamburger idea with them to America. Here people of English-Irish-Scottish ancestry leaned more to the well-done variety of hamburger. In England it was called "Salisbury Steak" after physician, Dr. James H. Salisbury.

Dr. Salisbury had recommended to his patients that they eat such "steak" three times a day with hot water before and after each meal. It was his contention that such a diet would relieve an assortment of conditions from asthma and bronchitis to hardening of the arteries and gout.

Nevertheless, it was simply because the hamburger proved to be so easy, economical, and popular with everybody in the family that it became a regular item in the weekly eating schedule.

Today the plump, juicy hamburgers are still sizzling on grills from coast to coast. Most often they're in the good company of fresh hamburger buns, thick slices of onions, tomatoes, mustard, and pickles or relish.

For more sophisticated appetites, the adventurous cook departs from the traditional hamburger and serves variations as simple as these: Try them in celebration of the hamburger's 65th year.

Top the cooked ground beef patty with:

- Crisp bacon curls.
- A slice of grilled pineapple topped with toasted coconut.
- Broiled mushroom caps. Or sliced mushrooms and sliced water chestnuts.
- Sauteed walnuts, almonds, or pecans.
- A few French friend onion rings.
- Avocado slices with a few drops of garlic dressing.
- Drained, chopped sauerkraut mixed with caraway seeds.
- Sour cream mixed with chopped chives and dill, or with grated onion and black caviar.
- And serve on a hamburger bun!

It's the Law ...

WHOSE VOICE ON THE TELEPHONE?

Rare is the person who has never gotten a playful telephone call asking him to "Guess who this is." But all too often, identifying the caller on the other end of the line is no joking matter.

For example: Who was it that telephoned the parents of a kidnaped child about the ransom money? Who made those obscene calls to a terrified widow? Which bank employee, questioned by telephone, okayed a check that was no good?

Generally speaking, the law puts considerable faith in a listener's ability to recognize the voice he hears on the telephone. The modern instrument works well enough to reveal vocal characteristics.

Thus, a blackmail victim was allowed to testify that he recognized, from prior acquaintance, the voice that had threatened him on the telephone. As one judge commented:

"The recognition of persons by their voices is a common occurrence, and is often the only means of identification."

Suppose you don't recognize the voice at the time of the call. May you still identify it later on? Consider this situation:

The father of a kidnapped child received several ransom calls from someone whose voice was not familiar. Later, when a suspect was arrested, the father talked with him face to face — and decided the man had the same voice he had heard on the telephone. Here, too, the court held the identification was sufficiently reliable to be accepted into evidence.

What if you don't remember what the voice sounded like but do remember what it said? A case like that arose when a lumber dealer tried to collect for merchandise which a customer said he had never ordered.

"I can't remember what the caller sounded like," said the dealer in a court hearing, "but I do recall that he used this customer's name. I had no reason at all to suspect that he wasn't telling the truth."

But the court ruled that this kind of identification of a caller was not adequate as legal evidence. The judge felt that, with no voice recognition or other corroborating circumstances, it was all too possible that the call was indeed a hoax.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all the Post Volunteer Firemen for preventing the fire which gutted "The Estate" Sunday night, June 1, from spreading to my rooming house. The firemen perform a wonderful community service for all of us.
Mrs. George Sartain

We are so grateful to all of you who were so good to us during our time of sorrow and while our sister, Mrs. Annie Williams, was in the hospital in Lubbock. For the prayers, flowers, cards, visits, food and other expressions of sympathy we say "thank you and may God bless you." We especially appreciated those who sat with her at the hospital and also the ones who offered to. Thank you to the ones who gave blood.

Trustees accept reference room

Post Public Library trustees accepted the completed reference room from Contractor Ben Owen at a special meeting last week.

Librarian George Miller presented the May library report, which included 732 books checked out for the month bringing the total for the first five months of 1969 to 2,991 books.

A total of 23 new books were acquired during the month bringing to 228 the number of new acquisitions for 1969.

Trustees considered purchasing of the complete Time-Life series of books for the new library reference room, but delayed their decision until the total cost can be ascertained.

Attending the session were Trustees Ruth Young, Patty Kirkpatrick, Rosemary Chapman, Dean Sterling, and Jim Cornish and Librarian Miller.

Think. Of the future, of yourself, of U.S. Savings Bonds.

They can make quite a team.

And you're the captain. You call the shots: a new house, that dream vacation, your son's schooling, or just a sweeter retirement.

Bonds will work for you, too. Work hard.

The current interest rate on Bonds is 4 1/4%. They mature in just seven years. And a Bond bought today will automatically continue to earn interest for ten years after maturity. Think how you could use that money in seventeen years. It's easy to put together your own Bond team. Sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

With team work like that, you've got to be the winner. And your country is the winner, too.

That's something else to think about.

JOSHUA

A Father With A Different Vocabulary

By Charles Peters

Joshua had the audacity to think that he could speak for his entire family. Of course we are past that pattern today. This is the age of enlightenment. We know that everybody speaks for himself (herself) nowadays. Joshua was different. Why? He lived so long ago! He hadn't had as much experience as we have had! He just didn't see life as accurately as we do! Maybe it's because he didn't have the advantages of our enlightening experiences such as, "Dating Game," "The Newly Weds" etc.

There came a day, a big day, when opportunity was given for self-expression and Joshua opened up. He said, "Just remember you were in a pretty big mess till you got to where you are now, and it was God that brought you here. And if you fool yourselves away from Him, you'll be right back in your own mess, only bigger." "And what's more," he said, "there's some fixing up you need to do now. God is holy, jealous, demanding, and you're not making it with that kind of requirements. It'll cost if you go with God!"

Then Joshua said something different. After laying it on the line for the people, he assumed the role of speaking for his whole family. He said, "Do what you will, but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Joshua's vocabulary was different. It included the word "duty." Joshua believed that right living would accept the duties of "example" and "influence." Another word in Joshua's vocabulary was "determination" . . . we will serve the Lord. Joshua's spiritual leadership was supported by strong determination. Thirdly, Joshua's vocabulary was different because it included the word, "devotion." "We will serve the Lord." There were many other things to serve. But Joshua knew that the area of prime importance was "devotion" to God.

Devotion, discipline, dedication — all of these were firmly entrenched in Joshua's vocabulary. Dads! How about us?

Teacher at Southland injured in car accident

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
It is a drowsy day here at Southland. Kinda hazy, warm, birds singing, ho hum! Don't know about you, but I think it would be wonderful to take a long nap!
Mrs. Riley Hulse, first grade teacher at Southland, was involved in a car wreck a week ago last Saturday and is in University Hospital in Lubbock. She will probably have to remain there for several weeks. May God comfort her during her confinement.
The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Sharp moved into the Southland Methodist parsonage one day last week. He will be pastor of the Southland Methodist Church for the next year. Welcome to our little community! visited with Mrs. Christlee
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and

Cathy and friend, Marsha Shelton, took the Long's son, Larry, to Possum Kingdom Lake Wednesday of last week. Larry will be a camp counselor at Camp Grady Spruce this summer. The Longs spent the night and returned the next day.

Mike Mason and Darrell Wilke are staying in San Angelo at the present, working for the Santa Fe Railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle Calvell of Olustee, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon of Lubbock were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis. Mrs. Calvell is Mrs. Ellis' niece.

Kenneth Giles and Bill Anderson of Duncan, Okla., spent last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis. Kenneth is the grandson of Mrs. Ellis.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker last week were: George Moritz of Stamford, Sister Lydia Becker of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Alvin Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Becker and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Beno Wilke of Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker and children of Brownfield.

On Monday, Sister Lydia, the Milton Beckers, and Mrs. Beno and Alvin Becker were dinner guests of the August Beckers in Slaton. The Milton Beckers later went to Floydada to visit the Jimmy Beckers. All these folks had come to attend the wedding of Belinda Becker and Ronald Schmidt which was held at Grace Lutheran Church in Slaton Saturday night.

MR. AND MRS. Max Chaffin and children recently spent a few days at White River Lake where they camped out in their tent and did a lot of water skiing. Last week they spent from Monday until Wednesday at Lake Stamford where they did a little fishing and a lot of water skiing and some resting because it rained. Sounds wonderful!

Delmar Wilke is home after spending a week at Mercy Hospital. He is doing real fine — just has to take it easy for awhile. Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke, who spent last week with Delmar and Barbara, returned to their home in Kingsland this week.

Mrs. Mary McKee's grandson who has been staying with her, has returned to his home in California. Larry Basinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Basinger of San Antonio, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Basinger was married June 6. May God bless this couple and their life together.

JAYCEE OFFICERS VISIT IN POST

Several Jaycee presidents and state directors stopped at Joe Bailey's here May 30 for a backyard hamburger cookout en route to a president's conference at San Angelo. Here is some of the group awaiting their turns from the chef. From left: Len Holland, Gruver, president; Tommy Young, Post, state director; Bob Shelton, Panhandle, president; Joe Bailey, host; Ken Calloway, Post, president; Don Settles, Wellington, state director; Harold Stanley, Borger, state director; Dale Wacosey, Levelland, state director.

'Red River Dust' fascinating book about frontier Red River country

A book that tells the story of the man who traded a thousand acres of the richest Red River blackland for a thousand boxes of malaria fever pills has now gone into its second printing.

"Red River Dust," written by Eugene Bowers of Clarksville and Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas, is a fascinating book about the frontier Red River country. Word Books of Waco, Tex., is publisher.

Bowers, district clerk of Red River County for more than 20 years, began collecting interesting tales about the settling of the area many years ago. He asked Miss Oppenheimer, well known as a literary critic and radio commentator, to work with him in preparing a book about the half-forgotten names and places around Clarksville.

The co-authors went through court records, newspaper files, old diaries and personal letters to find stories of human drama and humor for "Red River Dust." They came up with material about long, raging court battles, love triangles, vigilante hangings, the Civil War and the coming of the Iron Horse.

Miss Oppenheimer and Bowers wrote about the man wanting the malaria pills, as well as chewing tobacco with the slogan, "Chew Star Navy, Spit Ham Gravy;" the library on which Andrew Carnegie lost money; Dalby Springs with its healing waters; debates between Baptists and Campbellites; and the numerous river journeys on the Red River.

In an introduction to "Red River Dust," Dr. Frank X. Tolbert, columnist for the Dallas Morning News, says "A good book . . . one that should have been written."

Despite the usual run of conflicts, the Post Lions Club built the booths the night before the fiesta and tore them down Tuesday night.

Organizations assisting the Friends in the booth operations were the Mu Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Post Jayceeettes, Post Jaycees, Presbyterian women, First Christian and First Methodist women, Graham HD Club, Post Rotary club, the Gamma Mu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, and the women of the Assembly of God Spanish Church.

The Friends organization operated seven of the booths or other activities. M. J. Malouf made the site available without charge.

Jenny Miller of Justiceburg won the transistor radio prize in the bean guessing contest conducted by the Mu Alphas.

Organizations making cash donations to the book fair in lieu of booth participation included Post Music Club, Green Thumb Garden Club, Mystic Sewing Club, Amity Study Club, Woman's Culture Club, Priscilla Club, Post Chamber of Commerce and the Pix Book Store of Lubbock.

Illegal turning on of fire hydrant reported

City police report the illegal turning on of a fire hydrant at 14th and Avenue S late Monday night.

The fire hydrant ran for about two and a half hours, resulting in a deep wash - out of the surrounding area.

Police said it was the first incident of its kind since several weeks ago when a large number of fire hydrants were turned on all over town. The wash - out at one hydrant later resulted in city water pipe trouble which lowered water pressure for several hours in parts of the city.

Mrs. Williams, who had been a resident of Lubbock since 1941, was a sister of Mrs. Bernie Jones and Sam and Bill Sanders, all of Post. She is also survived by two sons and two daughters; two other sisters, Mrs. Ruby Browning of Dermott and Mrs. Venette Day of Slaton; another brother, Ellis Sanders of Abilene; 19 grandchildren and three great - grandchildren.

Garza cotton off to good start

Garza County's 1969 cotton crop, generally speaking, is off to an excellent start.

County Agent Syd Conner said 80 per cent of the plantings got in last month and there has been the smallest amount of replanting so far in many years.

He reported yesterday a little replanting in the north part of the Pleasant Valley area and some replanting in the Grassburr community, both due to hard May rains right after planting.

Cotton men report the cotton is off to as good a start this year as it got in 1968.

Conner termed the moisture situation good so far.

Vacation Bible School postponed to Monday

The Vacation Bible School planned for this week at the Friendship Baptist Church was postponed and will be held next week, Monday through Friday.

Pre-registration day will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the church and classes will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. daily. Everyone is invited to attend.

Lake policy—

(Continued from Page 1) lake and across the top of the dam will remain open to the general public without charge, as will the public marina, restaurant, store, and gas pump area on the west side of the lake. One gate will be established for lake users leading off the marina area along the west shore with a second gate on the east side just off the farm to market road at the end of the dam.

O'Brien originally proposed most of the details for the new plan as a long range objective, possibly for next year, but directors insisted that the change might as well be made immediately as the first gate admission charge had not been put into effect.

The motion on the new charge plan as adopted by the directors reads:

Effective June 14, 1969, entrance fee of $1 per person per day, 12 years of age or over, will be charged. This charge will include all recreational activity on lake and water district property except overnight camping and boat fee. All district taxpayers not delinquent will be issued an entrance permit, effective June 14, 1969. Users of golf and recreation club will be exempt from entrance charge. Lot lease holders and their guests also will be exempt from entrance charges. All non-taxpaying holders of annual fishing and boating permits to be exempt from entrance fee until Jan. 1, 1970.

In one other action, besides authorizing payment of water district bills, directors authorized O'Brien to sign a contract with Pat N. Walker, court attorney, for collection of delinquent water district taxes in the city of Post. Walker would receive 15 per cent of the amount of back taxes he collects.

Attending the June directors' meeting from Post were District Directors Harold Lucas, Arnold Parrish and J. B. Potts; and Publisher Jim Cornish.

Brothers meet first time in 33 years at Oklahoma reunion

Howard Ferguson and his brother, Chester Ferguson, of Woodland Hills, Calif., were united two weeks ago for the first time in 33 years in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ferguson in Laverne, Okla.

Howard Ferguson and daughter, Mrs. Billy Greene and Tina, and Ira Clary of Wilson met Chester in Oklahoma and then brought him home with them for a visit.

Howard and Chester are the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ferguson of the Graham community. Chester said Post had really changed since he was here 33 years ago.

Visiting with the two brothers in the Ferguson home during the last two weeks were the Clary family of Wilson, Mrs. Archie Nelson and Jan of Smyer, Mrs. Joe Jordan of Hobbs, N. M., Bill Ferguson of Los Angeles, Calif., and the J. B. Ferguson family of Lampasas.

Rites for relative of Post resident

Funeral services for William Snell, brother-in-law of Harold Voss of Post, were held at 9 a. m. Wednesday at a funeral home chapel in Albuquerque, N. M., with burial at 11 a. m. in the military cemetery at Santa Fe.

Mr. Snell died at Albuquerque Sunday morning following a lengthy illness. He was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife, the former Geneva Voss, and two sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Voss had been in Albuquerque for two weeks at the time of Mr. Snell's death.

FATHER'S DAY MESSAGE

Father's Day at the First Christian Church will be observed Sunday at 11 a. m. when the minister, Bernard S. Ramsey, delivers a special message, "A Son's Prayer to His Father." At 7 p. m. the sermon topic will be "Whispering Hope". The public is cordially invited to attend.

DPS 'copter—

(Continued from Page 1) saved many lives and will continue to be needed. We are most fortunate to have them. Many communities are not so fortunate.

"The DPS helicopter will in no way compete with these private ambulances. It will be sent only on the authorization of Major Bell after he receives competent medical advice that the service is actually needed and that overland transportation is not best for the patient.

"In the event that anyone thinks that the helicopter is needed for medical evacuation of a patient, he should contact a physician, who will call Major Bell and give him the details and the facts establishing medical necessity. Any law officer can assist in securing the necessary medical aid and help with communications.

"THE CO-PILOT of the helicopter has had the same type training in medical emergency first aid and evacuation of injured that is given to the medical corpsmen on helicopter service in war zones. The mortality in the Armed Forces from battlefield injury has dropped sharply since the military began helicopter transportation of injured servicemen to hospitals where they can get appropriate treatment promptly.

"The DPS helicopter's availability is a valuable addition to the emergency medical needs of this region."

Indians lead second place Braves by nearly 5 games

Defeating the Cubs, 15 to 3, last Tuesday night and the Braves, 12 to 7, Tuesday night, the Indians continued to make a runaway of the Babe Ruth League race with their nearest competitors, the Braves, four and one-half games behind.

Reginald Moore allowed the Braves only four hits while he and his teammates were raking losing pitcher Glenn Branson for 13 safeties. Ricky King, Kyle Josey, Robert Mindeta and Augustine Cerda were the only Braves getting hits off Moore, who fanned 11 batters in four and a half innings.

JERRY SALDIVAR had a perfect night at the plate for the winners with two singles and a double in three trips. John Redman, Kim Owen and Moore got two hits apiece.

The White Sox edged the Cubs,

11-10, Monday with two runs in the bottom of the sixth on walks to Danny Rose and Jerry Smith and a single by catcher Kenny McKamie. Ronnie Ammons, who went all the way on the mound for the winners, retired the Cubs three up and three down in the top of the seventh.

The Cubs outhit the White Sox, 9 to 8, with Danny Lee and David Woods getting two hits apiece. McKamie got two other singles besides his game-winning blow for a perfect night at the plate.

Freddy Huff started on the mound for the losers, but was relieved by Lee in the first inning when the White Sox got six runs on two hits and six walks.

THE BRAVES outlasted the White Sox, 12 to 10, Friday, with Robert Mindeta the winning pitcher and Mark Clayton the loser.

Two runs in the bottom of the sixth won the game for the Braves. The runs came on walks to Kyle Josey and Mindeta, a sacrifice by Kevin Duren and a single by Thomas Zachary.

The White Sox got 11 hits with McKamie going three-for-three, including two doubles. Clayton and Joe Perez got two hits each for the Sox. Josey and Zachary led the Brave hitters with two apiece.

Jerry Saldivar was touched for only six hits—three each by Kelly Duren and Tol Thomas—in the Indians' 15-3 win over the Cubs last Thursday. Danny Lee went all the way for the losers, giving up 10 hits, Kim Owen, with three-for-four, and Saldivar and James McAfee, with two hits apiece, did most of the winners' stick work.

Damage from the seedling stage up to early pre-plant may result in stand loss and plant death, he adds. Plants from emergence up to about six inches in height, showing visible damage with colonies of greenbugs on the under leaf surfaces, should be treated. Treatment of plants six inches high to pre-plant is also recommended before any entire plant leaves are killed by greenbugs.

Pre-plant and older plants can tolerate larger numbers of the insect, but heavy population can also cause extensive damage, points out the entomologist. Control is recommended if bug infestations kill more than two lower, normal-sized plant leaves.

These general guides assume that not enough beneficial insects are present to effectively control greenbugs," explains Almand. "Plants under stress cannot support as many greenbugs without suffering yield reductions."

A number of insecticides are recommended for effective control, should greenbugs reach damaging levels. These are carbophenothion (Trithion), demeton (Systox), diazinon, malathion and parathion (ethyl). Demeton should be applied only once during a season while malathion is recommended for ground application only. Methyl parathion should not be substituted for parathion.

Almand urges growers to carefully read the manufacturer's recommendations on the label of the particular product they buy. Each product is different and has a different waiting period from application to harvest or grazing.

The entomologist reminds growers to check their fields regularly for signs of greenbugs. "The insects usually feed on the underside of sorghum leaves and this results in reddish spots on the topside of the leaves. As numbers increase, this reddened area enlarges and finally the leaf begins to die, turning brown from the outer edges toward the center.

Farmers should also be on the lookout for beneficial insects which are important in keeping down greenbug populations. These include lady beetles, damsel bugs, green lacewing larvae, syrphid fly larvae and several tiny wasp species.

"Check your own situation closely," emphasizes Almand. "Don't initiate a spraying program unless conditions warrant it."

Little League race tightens

Yanks, Cards to play crucial game tonight

The Little League Cardinals, who have been breathing down the loop-leading Yankees' necks the last few weeks, have a chance tonight (Thursday) to go into a tie with the leaders when the two teams clash at Little League Park in the first game of a double bill. The first-place Tigers and the fourth-place Red Sox tangle in the second game.

The Cards gained on the Yankees by blanking them, 8-0, in their last meeting on June 2.

Meanwhile, all games are getting closer as the end of the season nears. Four of the last six games were decided by one run.

Monday night, the Wildcats squeezed by the Tigers, 9 to 8, after the Cardinals had downed the Dodgers, 7 to 4.

TRAILING 9 to 4 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, the Tigers scored four runs before the Wildcats' Randy Josey fanned Danny Saldivar and forced Keith Little to ground out to end the game with the 'Cats one run in arrears.

The Wildcats scored four runs in the first inning with Josey's home run the big blow. Josey singled twice and walked in three other appearances at the plate.

Terry Botts, the Wildcat starter, was the winning pitcher, going three innings before being relieved by Josey. Grayling Johnson was the losing pitcher, with Mike Hair going the last three innings for the Tigers.

The Cardinals and Dodgers went two extra innings before the Cards scored three runs in the top of the eighth to break a 4-4 deadlock. In the bottom of the eighth, the Dodgers' Randy Babb walked and Kevin Kenny singled, but Tony Conner, who had relieved starter Mark Terry, fanned the next three batters to preserve the victory.

Terry yielded only two hits before being relieved by Conner, who gave up only the single to Kenny. The Cards got six hits off two Dodger pitchers, with Jay Strawn, who had relieved Jackie Jennings, absorbing the loss.

The Cardinals scored seven runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to squeak past the Tigers, 12 to 11, in Saturday's other game. Home runs by Grayling Johnson and Danny Saldivar featured the Tiger attack, which produced 10 hits to only half that many for the winners. Two hits, four bases on balls and two Tiger errors gave the Cards their seven runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Mike Hair, who had relieved Johnson, was the losing pitcher, while Mark Terry, who had come on for starter Jerry Johnson, received credit for the victory.

TWO HOME runs by Garland Dudley in the third and fifth innings were the big blows in the Yankees' 11 to 10 win over the Wildcats last Thursday night. Randy Josey also homered twice for the Wildcats, his circuit smashes coming in the first and second innings. Josey also singled twice for a perfect night at the plate.

The Yankees' starting pitcher, Ray Martinez, got three hits in four at-bats, including two doubles. Josey's four hits were the only safeties off Martinez and Garland Dudley, who relieved him for the final three innings. Terry Botts went all the way on the mound for the losers.

Rodney King pitched a one-hitter and he and his teammates collected 13 hits in the Red Sox 16 to 1 win over the Dodgers in Thursday's other game. The Sox 13 hits included a third inning home run by first baseman Tim Owen.

The only hit off King was a fifth inning single by catcher Joe Moore. Jackie Jennings went the distance as the losing pitcher.

35 Girl Scouts, Brownies attend Day Camp here

Community service projects, badge work and crafts highlighted the Girl Scout Day Camp held in Post last week under the direction of Mrs. Wade Peppers.

Thirty-five Girl Scouts and Brownies attended the camp from 8 a. m. until noon daily last week from Monday through Friday at the City - County Park.

In the Brownie craft work the girls made seed pictures of Mexican Hat and Indian Paintbrush, local wild flowers. Kim Hester and Carol Davis assisted the adult leaders with the Brownies. They are Kadet Scouts.

The three junior troops were taken on a bicycle ride with safety in bike riding being stressed. One troop, working on a community service project, cleaned up around the old sanitarium building. Under the direction of Bailey Mayo, they weeded, mowed, raked and worked over the flower beds.

Another troop toured The Post Dispatch, visited with Mrs. A. C. Surman and Mrs. Walter Boren concerning historical markers in the county and toured the old C. W. Post home as guests of Mrs. Victor Hudman. One troop held an overnight at the 4-H building.

Mrs. Janie Davis was assistant camp director. The unit directors, Mrs. Jeri Lott, Mrs. Ronald Babb, Mrs. Nell Bailey and Mrs. Bill Birkes were assisted by the following:

Mmes. Louise Robinson, Nell Morris, Lou Carter, Adelle Gannon, Maury Shiver, Jo Thomas, Irma Slater, Jodene Clary, Marshall Tipton, Anita Blanton, Lora Blanton and Delores Smith.

Mrs. Marita Jackson came at 7:45 a. m. each morning to lead in singing.

"Wood and garbage" man was Joe Bailey.

PARTNERSHIP TOURNEY A partnership low-ball tournament will be held Sunday, June 15, at the Caprock Golf Course, with play starting around 1 p. m., according to Durward H. Bartlett, manager. The entry fee is $2 plus the customary green fees.

Miss Stone to attend University of Hawaii

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS We received one-half inch of rain Saturday night and six-tenths Sunday night. The rains didn't cover all the community. We do hope there will be rain for everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stone took Mary Ann to Abilene last Friday and she went on to Dallas where she flew to California and on to Honolulu where she will attend the University of Hawaii to complete her degree. She will also teach in Headstart for six weeks while there. She will graduate from Abilene Christian College in August.

The Stones spent the night with her sister, Mrs. Lois Huddleston, returning home Saturday.

The L. H. Peels, Lonnie Gene Peels, Delmer Cowdreys and Elmer Cowdreys, Bud Sparlin, Mrs. Pearl Wallace and Mrs. Glenn Davis attended the Carroll Woody-Jana Gossett wedding in Lubbock Friday evening.

Charles Baker underwent major surgery in Methodist Hospital last week. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

The Elvys Davis family visited in Levelland Sunday.

Mrs. Bryan Maxey is due home this Thursday from Jeffersonville, Ind., where she has been with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Oakley and Lori, and the new baby daughter.

Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie G. Peel were the Gary Taylor family, Johnnie Gossett and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Woody.

Mrs. Viva Davis visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Lofton.

Mrs. Edna Peede visited late Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Rene Fluitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett and their grandson, Keith, fished part of last week in Oak Creek Lake near Blackwell, returning home on Saturday. The Donald Gossetts and Deane were Sunday luncheon guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Doggett visited Sunday with the Laurence Youngs.

HORN FLY SEASON AT HAND

With warm summer weather at hand, horn flies are once again annoying cattle throughout the plains area. Livestockmen can keep these pests in check with an effective control program.

"Horn flies irritate cattle by piercing the skin and sucking blood," says Dr. Bill Clymer, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Fighting the pest drains an animal's energy and interferes with feeding and resting. The flies usually attack the backs of animals when the air is cool, but often rest on the base of the ears."

An animal may lose as much as half a pound a day during fly season, adds the entomologist. Milk production may be reduced as much as 20 per cent.

"A number of materials give good control of the horn fly," points out Clymer. "Approved insecticides include Ciodrin, coumaphos (Coudrin), diazinon (Delnay), carbaryl (Sevin), methoxychlor, ronnel (Korlan) and toxaphene. The key to effective horn fly control is for cattle owners in a community to band together in a spraying program. Then less spraying will be necessary during the season."

Insecticides can be applied in various ways and the method of application depends on the materials used. Effective methods of application include spraying, dusting, dipping, dust bags, backrubbers and treated mineral or salt blocks. Clymer cautions livestock owners to read the manufacturer's recommendations before using a particular product.

"Flies reproduce rapidly so areas must be checked regularly to determine the need for additional insecticide application," says the entomologist. "The flies complete their life cycle from egg to adult in about two weeks. They resemble house flies but are only about half as large."

The females lay their eggs on fresh manure and these eggs often hatch in less than a day. The maggots mature in about five days, then pupate and develop into flies in about seven days. In two days, the flies begin to lay eggs.

Gene Hendrix is 1969 graduate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Gene Allen Hendrix, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hendrix of Post, Tex., was one of 131 May 30 graduates of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary here.

Hendrix, a 1967 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, received the Master of Religious Education degree.

Dr. John B. Falconer, pastor of the Providence Baptist Church in Monrovia, Liberia, addressed the graduation audience of more than 1,200. Falconer, taking his text from the prophet Isaiah, charged the graduates to "speak the tender word" to the contemporary, secular world.

"In spite of all the great changes made in this country, something is missing," he said. "We have forgotten to speak the tender word of hope, understanding, and love."
