

Best man answers to 'Mr. Checkers'

D. H. (Durward) Bartlett of North Ave. M is fast winning the title of "Mr. Checkers of Garza County," his best achievement coming a few weeks ago when he won the Class B championship trophy at the Houston Open checkers tournament.

Bartlett, who is also manager of the Caprock Golf course here, had won the championship trophy in a 16-wide checkers tournament at College Station.

The Post man says his father, late A. W. Bartlett, taught him the game, but he attributes much of his success to D. C. (Doc) Roberts Sr., a retired radio station as his prize.

At the Houston Open tournament, the Post man played 24 elimination games to qualify for play in the Class B division, where he played 12 games and won the top trophy by scoring 15 points out of a possible 20.

Tournament play is conducted under the three-move system, Bartlett explained. Each player draws a card, designating the first two moves for the player with the light checkers and the first move for the player with the dark checkers. Since the light checkers get the first move, two games are played with the players alternating on the first moves.

There are 142 possible opening moves and variations on the tournament cards from which the players draw, Bartlett said. "Checker players consider their sport as complicated as chess," he added.

Bartlett is a member of the American Federation of Checker Players. His next tournament will be at the Southwest Open in Greenville, Tex., where it is being moved this year from College Station because of remodeling of the tournament site at the latter place.

Bartlett said he is also seriously considering playing in the national checker tournament to be held soon in Tennessee.

His wife accompanied him to the Houston tournament and enjoyed the company of the wives of the other checker players, Bartlett said. "The last thing some of the other women told my wife when we left was, 'We'll see you in Tennessee'."

Mrs. Marjorie M. Post dies Wednesday morning

Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post, 86, only daughter of this community's founder, C. W. Post, died early Wednesday at Hillwood, her manor in north-west Washington, D. C., at the age of 86.

She had been in ill health for several weeks. Mrs. Post visited Post many times, most notably as Post's distinguished guest during the Golden Jubilee in 1937 and again a year later when she dedicated a statue of her father in front of the courthouse as her gift to this community. ## Special Nativity plate to publisher

The Post Chamber of Commerce, which several months ago commissioned Mrs. Lucille Richardson to design and finish a limited edition of Post Nativity Plates, presented a specially inscribed plate to Jim Cornish Friday morning at the quarterly membership breakfast in the community room. The Rev. George Miller, in making the presentation to Cornish, explained that the blue and white decal on the front of the Nativity plate is taken from an actual photograph of Post High School students performing the annual Christmas Nativity Scene, "a tradition initiated in 1961 by Mrs. Heleen Cornish and held every year since."

Lettered above the blue and white decal in gold on the front of the plates is the word, Christmas. Beneath the decal in gold is the year, 1973.

Mr. Miller explained there are 125 numbered plates, each signed with Mrs. Richardson's monogram, an 'L' and a reversed 'R'. He said a series of three different plates is planned.

"You may reserve your own numbered plate for each year by contacting the Post Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Miller said. (See Nativity, page 12)

$501,000 budget 'okayed' at City Council meeting

Sept. 21 is hearing date

The Post City Council Monday night approved a 1973-74 general fund budget of $249,320.92 and a water and sewer fund budget of $252,662.36, a total of $501,983.30, and set 1 p. m. Friday, Sept. 21, as the time and date of a public hearing on the new budget.

The council set the tax rate at $1.25, the same as last year.

The 1973-74 general fund budget compares with total general fund expenditures of $252,945.14 during the 1972-73 fiscal year, while the water and sewer fund budget compares with 1972-73 expenditures of $267,715.23.

Total expenditures and balances for the 1973-74 year were set at $755,216.60, which is an increase of $55,654.17 over actual expenditures in 1972-73. Auditor A. A. "Bud" Davis pointed out, however, that revenue sharing funds not yet spent by the city will more than offset the increase.

While the tax rate of $1.25 remains the same, Mayor Giles C. McCrary pointed out that many elderly citizens received a reduction of between 7 and 9 cents in their tax rate through claiming the $3,000 homestead exemption put in effect by the city for the first time.

Also at its regular September session Monday night, the council tabled an application by the Pioneer Natural Gas Company to change the cost-of-gas adjustment provision of the general service rate.

For the last three years, the general service rate has been adjusted annually in April to reflect increases in the average cost of gas for the prior year. Pioneer's request would allow (See Council, page 12)

Southland school's fate awaits Saturday voting

Southland school district voters will go back to the polls for their third special election within months Saturday to decide whether or not to abolish their independent school district.

In other special elections, the voters rejected the proposition to consolidate with the Slaton school district and then voted a $500,000 bond issue to build a new school.

Interest is high in the Saturday election and a large turnout of the 230 eligible voters is anticipated. A total of 24 absentee ballots were cast here through Monday, the day County Judge Giles W. Dalby ordered the absentee balloting

Housewife winner of buckle award

Jan Davidson, a housewife and a Brownie Scout leader, attended the awards banquet of the West Texas Barrel Racing Association in Stamford on Sept. 1 to pick up her best all-around buckle and ribbon roping and goat-tying trophies.

Mrs. Davidson, who has a four-weeks-old daughter, Shawna, and an eight-year-old daughter, Dee Dee, did not compete in the WTBRA Round-up which preceded the banquet, but says she will be ready to get back into the point race for the coming year in competition at Leveland in October.

She and her husband, Bobby, live on the Macy Ranch here. Bobby was winner of the Garza County ropers' event in the Post Stampede Rodeo here in August.

Mrs. Davidson has been a member of the WTBRA for three years. Her hometown is Ralls where she was a high school cheerleader. This is her second year to win best all-around honors in the barrel racing association. Last year, she received a saddle as her prize.

In addition to her duties as a housewife and Brownie leader and her rodeo competition, Mrs. Davidson also is an active member of the Gamma Mu chapter here.

Library Bookshelf

A set of Bowmar Early Childhood books, 30 volumes in all, have been donated to the Post Public Library by Dr. and Mrs. Charles G. Tubbs.

Free Garza women to attend THDA meeting in Waco

Garza County women, led by Jane Terry and Mrs. Charles Tubbs, will leave next week to attend the annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association (THDA) in Waco. The meeting is to be held Sept. 18-20 in Waco Convention Center.

Luck by Rosemary Chapman

her supervisor and I was connected with a person who gave me her name as Ms. Body. I described what had happened.

I also told her of a previous and precisely similar experience, after which I had contacted the supervisor who had taken some action which resulted in my local telephone repairman, in the General Telephone System coming to my house about 9:00 at night, to investigate some problem with my home phone. There was no problem with my home phone and I presume that there is still no trouble with my telephone.

I asked Ms. Body if she was satisfied with this sort of operator service. She said that she was not. I asked her what was responsible for this service. She said that the number of operators working at that particular time seemed to be smaller than apparently was needed. I asked her who could do something about that and she suggested that you might be able to. She told me that when the operator is unable to answer the telephone by the second ring, that a red light situation is initiated. She said that on this particular Saturday that they had been in the red about half of the time and in the black about half of the time. She was particularly courteous and cooperative and left me feeling somewhat less irate, and I appreciated her sincerity.

I would like for you to tell me:

- (1) Do you consider this to be satisfactory telephone service?
- (2) Can you suggest something that might be done to improve this service?

Sincerely yours,
Charles G. Tubbs, M.D.
CC: Mrs. Dana Feaster, Garza County Extension Agent; Jack Bishop, General Telephone Company; Mrs. Rosemary Chapman, columnist, Post Dispatch.

Personally, I find this a very impressive letter. It must have taken a great deal of restraint (or several rewrites!) on Charlie's part to remain so calm, factual and polite.

Dana Feaster once wrote a column on the proper way to write a letter of complaint and if I remember correctly, Charles didn't break a single rule. One would naturally think, then, that Post will be getting better telephone service soon.

Go get 'em, Spike!

HARPER SCORES 3 TD'S

Lockney falls to Post Antelopes in lidlifter

For the first few plays, the Lockney Longhorns looked like state champions here Friday night, but after that the Post Antelopes took charge and came out on the long end of a 29-20 score in the season grid opener for both teams.

Although played in misting rain and on a slick field, offense slightly overshadowed defense in the hard-fought game, with turnovers few and far between.
In fact, there was only one lost fumble, and that by Lockney, with linebacker Sammy Gutierrez recovering for Post to set up the Antelopes' go-ahead touchdown.

The Longhorns scored in three plays after fielding Jay Pollard's short kickoff on the Longhorn 35, but the 'Lopes came back to tie it up on their first possession and then went out in front after a 70-yard drive following Gutierrez' recovery of the Lockney fumble.

The Longhorns knotted the count at 14-14 with 4:26 of the first half remaining, and that was the score when the two teams went to their dressing rooms for the halftime intermission.

The third period was scoreless, but Post went out in front, 22-14, three and a half minutes into the second quarter. The 'Horns roared back with a touchdown with 5:26 remaining, but lost a chance to tie it up when halfback John Clark was cut down trying to circle Post's right end for the two points that would have made it a brand

The 'Lopes put the icing on the cake in the final 14 seconds when fullback Donnell Harper budded over from the one for his third touchdown of the night when Lockney lit up the scoreboard. After Robert Delgado had returned Pollard's kickoff 10 yards to the Horn 35, Clark broke through the right side of the Post line and streaked to the Antelope 35 before being pulled down by Ricky Shepherd. Dart Carthel sped through the same hole for 20 more yards to the Post 15, from where Delgado blasted up the middle for the touchdown, with Carthel kicking the extra point.

Lockney's kickoff was also short, being gathered in by Pollard on the 22 and returned to the 39. Halfback David Conoly got two yards and fullback Jerry Tyler seven before quarterback Bryan Davis kept around left end for 44 yards to the Lockney eight, only to see most of the gain wiped out by a clipping penalty that brought the ball back to the Lockney 32.

Tyler gained three yards and Conoly one, with two offside
penalties against the Longhorns taking the 'Lopes to the 18.
Tyler and Conoly then picked up a first down to the seven,
from where Davis kept to dart through the left side of the Lockney line for the touchdown, with Conner tacking on the extra point.

The 'Horns returned another short kickoff to the 36, then drove to the Post 30 after a clipping penalty had set them back to their 23. Gutierrez pounced on Clark's fumble at the 30 to halt the threat.

Conoly gained seven and Davis 13 for a first down on the midfield stripe, and a personal foul penalty against the Longhorns gave Post another first down on the 33. Conoly carried for five, and another personal foul penalty set Lockney back to its 13.

Tyler gained a yard, and Conoly got 10 more and a first down on the two after taking a pitchout from Davis on the option. Harper rammed the line twice, going over on his second attempt, and Conner's kick was true to give Post a 14-7 lead.

With Clark, Delgado and Carthel alternating at carrying the ball, the Longhorns drove 55 yards to the Post 10, and then got five more yards on an offside penalty against the Antelopes. Carthel and Delgado

each gained a yard before Clark went three for the touchdown. Carthel booted the extra point to tie the game.

Neither team made a serious threat in the third quarter, but Post went out ahead in the fourth on a drive that had started in the third period when they took the ball on the 20
after Carthel's punt into the end zone.

After driving to the Lockney
34 early in the fourth period, Tyler went 19 yards with a pitchout for a first down on the 'Horn 15. Davis kept for two, then faked into the line and tossed a short pass to Harper, who got down to the five, going over for his second touchdown on the next play. From fake kick formation, holder Ricky Shepherd picked up the ball and raced around Lockney's left end for two points that gave the 'Lopes a 22-14 lead.

The Longhorns lost little time in narrowing the gap. After John Mathis returned Pollard's kickoff 19 yards to the Lockney 33, the 'Horns mixed in a strong ground game and their first pass of the night to get to the Post 16, from where quarterback Zach Cummings hit Clark in the end zone for the touchdown. Needing two points to tie the score, Cummings sent Clark wide to the left, but two Post defenders stopped him short of the goal line, with 5:28 remaining.

Post used up all but 14 seconds of the time remaining to drive for their clinching touchdown after a clipping penalty on the kickoff had set them back to the 20.

Conoly gained five yards,
then Davis connected with Shepherd on a 55-yard pass play that took the ball to the Longhorn 25. With Davis, Harper and Conoly going for short gains, the 'Lopes got down to the two, from where Harper rammed over for his third TD, with just 14 seconds showing on the clock. Conner booted the extra point.

Cummings went back for a desperation pass after Lockney fielded the kickoff on the 38, but the 'Horn quarterback slipped as he tried to put the ball in the air and lost six yards.

Conoly gained 78 yards for Post on 14 carries, with Davis getting 53 on 10; Tyler, 37 on 10; Harper, 36 on 12; Shepherd, 14 on two, and Joe Moore, four on one.

The Post defense was led by Pollard and Grayling Johnson, each with seven unassisted tackles. Tim Owen had four and Chris Wyatt and Jerry Tyler, three each.

HIGH SCORING CONTESTS

7th, 8th grade teams lose openers Tuesday

Offense was the name of the game at Idalou Tuesday night with the Post 7th and 8th grade football teams losing their first contests of the season. A total of 144 points was scored in the two games.

Coach Don Black's 7th grade team lost by a score of 42 to 24, and Coach Jackie Brown's 8th grade team, 54 to 24.

Both Post teams looked good on offense, but were ragged on defense, according to the coaches.

In the 7th grade game, the score was tied, 8-8, at the end of the first quarter, with Cliff Kirkpatrick having scored on a 60-yard sweep for Post and added the extra points, also on a run.

Idalou came back strong in the second period to build up a 24-8 first half lead, and was ahead 30-16 at the end of the third quarter, with Bryan Compton having scored for Post on a 50-yard run and Kirkpatrick again tacking on the extra points.

Post's final touchdown in the 7th grade game came on a 60-yard run by Compton, with Kirkpatrick once again adding the extra points.

In the 8th grade game, Ed Reece scored Post's first touchdown on a 12-yard scamper and also ran over the extras. Idalou led 12-8 at the end of the period. A 30-yard pass play from Brad Shepherd to Evans Heaton gave Post a second quarter TD, with Reece scoring the extra points. It was Idalou 22, Post 16 at halftime.

Randy Baker ran over Post's final touchdown in the third quarter and Reece made the extra points on a run.

All players on both Post squad saw action — 40 for the 7th grade and 43 for the 8th grade, the coaches said.

The Jackrabbits, coming off their 34-6 loss to Lorenzo, are expected to be "up" for Friday night's game in their efforts to improve on last season's dismal record.

They run their offense from both a Texas wishbone and a Houston veer, and their defense lines up in an Oklahoma five,
with true cornerbacks.

Joe Flores, 161-pound senior, will be at quarterback; Humberto Arriola, 150-pound senior, and Loyd Silva, 150-pound junior, at halfbacks, and Paul Guzman, 173-pound junior, at blocking back.

The split end will be Sky
Smith, 145-pound junior, with Oscar Garcia, 224-pound senior, at the tight end position. Andy Sanchez, 165-pound senior, will start at quick tackle, and Eugene Anguiano, 208-pound junior at strong tackle. Manning the quick guard position will be Scott Wright, 143-pound senior, with Tracy Evatt, 201-pound junior, in the strong guard slot. Ricky Arthur, 151-pound senior, will start at center.

Barring another bad weather night, such as the one last Friday night, Post fans will get to see the Antelope marching band in action for the first time at the Ralls game. Neither the Post nor Lockney band took the field at halftime last Friday because of the misting rain and slippery turf.

Joe Taylor 'arrives in Southwest's art

ALBUQUERQUE — Joe E. Taylor, former resident of Post, opened his first gallery showing in August at the Brandywine Galleries of Albuquerque. Showing pencil and pen and ink drawings, the artist dealt in a subject matter consisting primarily of portraits and western art.

Joe, who moved to Albuquerque last August, began showing his works in the Brandywine Galleries in the fall of 1972. Since opening at Brandywine, he has had invitations to exhibit in the Kachina Gallery of Santa Fe, N.M.; the Knox and Campbell Gallery of Tucson, Ariz.; and the Gallery of Fine Arts, Ltd. of Denver.

The lawyer-artist became an associate with the law firm of Branch, Dickson, Dubois, and Wilson in Albuquerque in August, 1972 and in June, 1973 took a leave of absence from the law firm to become the president of Branch Enterprises, Inc., an investment corporation. Since his opening at the Brandywine Galleries, he has spent a greater amount of time than ever before in his art pursuits, including recent exhibits at Volcano Cliffs in Albuquerque and an entry into the highly competitive Fine Arts Show of the New Mexico State Fair in September.

A major gallery opening and entry into the Fine Arts Show of the New Mexico State Fair, in addition to exhibitions in galleries in Santa Fe, Tucson, and Denver, are all indications that this former Post resident "has arrived" in the art community of the Southwest.

Consumer Credit — A 3-PARTY SYSTEM

It involves (1) the consumer, the person who buys merchandise or service on credit; (2) the credit grantor, the business which sells goods or services to the consumer; and (3) the credit bureau, an organization which maintains a comprehensive record of the consumers paying habits and makes sure this record is readily available when and where the consumer needs it.

The credit bureau is such an important part of this triangle because credit grantors cannot afford to sell goods or services on credit or to extend loans unless they have some assurance that the consumers will keep their part of the bargain by paying as agreed.

Obviously, not all consumers and credit grantors can be personally acquainted with one another. It's also obvious the cost would be enormous if each credit grantor had to gather all the necessary credit information on each prospective consumer.

Such a practice would not only make the cost of granting credit prohibitive, but also cause the consumer a great deal of delay and inconvenience.

Retail Merchants Credit Bureau of Post

"THE STOIC"—This 1972 pencil sketch, 17 by 22 inches, of an Indian Chief is indicative of how Joe Taylor has adapted his portraiture talents to his new Indian surroundings in New Mexico.

PLEASE VOTE FOR ABOLISHING SOUTHLAND SCHOOL

The best possible education for our children should be sole consideration of voters.

The American College Testing Program reflects that Southland is in the category of Texas schools whose graduates receive a composite learning score of 13.9. This is 19.4 per cent below the Texas state average, and 26.6 per cent below the average of schools with 400 or more students in the senior class.

Should we require our children to bear the burden and the price of inadequate or inferior educational opportunities? They are not fully prepared academically for college, nor are they trained in any vocation.

Many of them will live in distant and cosmopolitan areas where they must compete with better prepared graduates.

The loss of institutions and businesses that normally are an integral community occurred a generation ago through changes in transportation and economic factors. We, responsible adults, have no right to demand that children maintain a community that we do not maintain ourselves.

The welfare of the student is paramount. Vote to give our children opportunities in sciences, higher mathematics, foreign languages, music, athletics, agriculture, home economics, vocational training, and other courses they need to become prepared for modern life.

The 1975 Legislature will consider legislation that equalizes taxes and enforces consolidation of small school districts. The Legislature is dominated by urban voters. Belden Poll shows 56 per cent of the Texas voters are in favor of abolishing smaller schools, 26 per cent have no opinion, and only 18 per cent would leave existing districts. The Texas Education Association has already endorsed consolidation (Texas Report of Governor's Committee on Education).

Lamesa, Ralls girls top winners in 2-day rodeo

Sharla Howard of Lamesa and Tana Boydston of Ralls won the best all-around trophy buckles in the junior and pee wee divisions, respectively, of the Little Britches Rodeo held here Saturday night and Sunday afternoon under the sponsorship of the Garza County 4-H organization.

Adult 4-H leaders who directed the rodeo described it as "a successful event," with several hundred dollars raised to help finance the construction of a state 4-H center at Lake Brownwood.

Sharla Howard compiled a total of 22 points in winning the best all-around trophy buckle in the junior division, beating out second place Paul Eckert of Southland by three points. J. J. Basinger of Southland and Kathy Griffing of Tahoka tied for fourth with 15 points each.

The Ralls contestant, Tana Boydston, scored 12 points for high point honors in the pee wee division. Paige Echols of Big Spring was a close second with 11 points, and Marcy Messick of Big Spring came in third with 10 points.

Doc Edwards of Girard was stock producer for the rodeo, which was threatened by rain Saturday night. The arena ground was soggy the first night, resulting in generally slow times, but had dried out considerably by the time of Sunday afternoon's performance.

Student group is due Friday

A group of architectural students from Texas Tech are coming to Post Friday afternoon to begin a project which will see them design an architectural plan for the future of Post.

Approximately 25 students will participate in the class project here and a like number in a smaller project at Spur.

A 3 p.m. meeting is scheduled in the community room for the students with local leaders, including Chamber, Postex, city, county, historical society, and press officials.

Students then, according to A. Dudley Thompson, professor of architecture at Texas Tech, will interview local citizens individually in an effort to get "the feel of things here", historical background of the community, and various individual local viewpoints on future development and building.

They then will pool their ideas in an effort to come up with a master plan for Post's future, architecturally speaking. Thompson told Mayor Giles McCrary and School Supt. Bill Shiver during a visit here this week to set up Friday's meeting.

County cotton acreage for '73 totals 45,308

For 1973, Garza County farmers reported a total of 45,308 acres planted to cotton, reports Jim McGehee of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

"This is a total of the cotton acreage certified by each farm operator, and represents either cotton acreage measured by this office, or measured and reported by the farmer, for each farm in the county," McGehee said.

Bruton

He explained that Burlington's polyester requirements were cut 18 per cent by suppliers so that the other three plants in the division had to cut back from six-day to five-day weeks to permit Postex to begin conversion to the polyester-cotton blend with enough polyester to do it.

Bruton termed the market simply "rotten" for 100 per cent cotton products. He said Postex probably was one of the last plants in the entire industry to be converted.

The plant manager reported that the sewing room has been operated to some extent on a four-day week because of the shortage of polyester. He said the outlook for the months ahead may hold for some improvement in that picture.

The employment picture at Postex was reported mixed by Bruton. He said that the plant is "having a tough time filling openings it has for men" but is cutting down slightly on its feminine work force by not hiring 10 per cent or so needed replacements.

He reported Postex has one of the lowest labor turnover rates in the entire company and commented, "We tell them it is because we have the best place to live" here in Post.

The manager said "quite a few changes" are being made and others are planned in employe housing.

"Generally", Bruton declared, "the moods of our people are good. We are not having any big problems."

The plant manager told Chamber members, who earlier had breakfasted on doughnuts and coffee and heard Chamber President J. B. Potts report on Chamber membership gains, that "We're making quite a bit of progress on the pollution problem, but we still are not at the level of performance with our waste water the state wants."

He said the problem of odor in the three Burlington-built lagoons southeast of Post "has been taken care of to a great extent." He explained that it is the starch in the waste water that is causing the problem.

Gibson

Larry Holt is manager of the new Post store.

This is the tenth Gibson Discount Center for Moore Brothers Company.

New store employes and company personnel have been busy here the last two weeks stocking the new store.

"Every item we carry in our stores has a discount price," White told The Dispatch.

Company officials say they are "happy to be in Post and look forward to a long and close relationship with this community."

The new discount center will be open 12 hours daily, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The store is a "full line discount store" and will offer departments in housewares, hardware, automotive, sporting goods, toys, jewelry, electronics, drugs, men's and boys' wear, ladies' and girls' wear, lingerie, and boots and shoes.

Gibson's two-page grand opening ad appears on pages 2 and 3 of today's Dispatch.

This is an increase of 4,000 acres over the acreage harvested last year. Virtually all of these added acres were planted on the plains. Overall, the amount of cotton planted in the breaks is the same as last year, due in part to the fact that some farmers were prevented from planting because it was too dry or either the cotton was planted and then dried out.

Approximately 30,000 acres of cotton are planted on the plains, with the remaining 15,000 acres planted off the caprock.

For the 1972 crop year, farmers submitted production records totaling 19,812,068 from a harvested acreage of 41,014 acres, for an average county yield of 483 pounds per acre.

Ex-students make plans

The former Post Implement Company building at 215 West Main will be the scene of homecoming activities here Friday, Oct. 12, it was decided Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Post Ex-Students Association in the Reddy Room.

Registration of ex-students and teachers is to begin at 5 p. m., with a sandwich buffet to follow at a charge of $1 per person. The homecoming activities will continue until the time of the Post-Slaton football game kickoff at 7:30.

Following the game, a dance will be held at the building, with music by the Maines Brothers Band. Admission to the dance will be $5 per couple.

Nativity

On the back of each of the numbered plates is a brief story of Post's unique Christmas Eve tradition of the Teenagers Live Nativity Scene.

The plates will sell here for $15 each and may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office and at The Prescription Shop. They also are available for sale through any Post merchants who wish to handle them.

Potts said the first five numbered plates will be sold for a premium price and those wanting one of these are asked to contact him or the Chamber office. He said the bank will pay $100 for the No. 1 plate, but anyone wishing to pay more could have the No. 1 plate for a higher price.

The inscription on the back of the special plate presented to Cornish read:

"For Jim Cornish. Because you have lent us your home at Christmas. — Because you have made Christ's coming more real to the youth of Post — and most of all — Because Helen dared to dream this special dream and give it all her love. We, the grateful friends of Post, present you this gift and our thanks."

A substantial part of the average worker's paycheck comes from sales to farmers. Each year, U. S. farmers purchase more than $40 billion worth of equipment and supplies to be used in their production of food and fiber. They create nearly 20 per cent of the market for all basic industries in the nation.

The dance will be held at the building, with music by the Maines Brothers Band. Admission to the dance will be $5 per couple.

For all the marbles

Southland school district voters, who are spending about as much time at the polls this year as they did with the harvesting of the 1972 cotton crop, will be back at the voting booth again Saturday.

This time it is for all the marbles. They will decide whether or not to close the Southland schools forever.

This kind of a decision usually is forced upon a small rural community by dire economic necessity. Well, it is difficult to see that things are all that bad with our little neighbor to the north.

The arguments pro and con are the same as they have been for the last 20 years as consolidations have seen the small rural districts squeezed out. We don't need to recite them here. We would not be able to apply them accurately anyway in Southland's case.

When the school closes that usually signals the end for any community. There isn't anything big and strong and important to hold the people together any longer.

The Dispatch has tried to be a good neighbor and stay out of somebody else's fuss.

But we admit that our heart has as much interest in this one as our mind.

The Southland voters, from what we hear, are rather equally divided on the school issue. So a narrow decision Saturday either way may not really end it.

We hate to see a school district become so divided about its future. But then, Southland hasn't voted yet. The current pre-election campaign may change a lot of minds before Saturday, and that vote for the future may be truly decisive. — JC

Welcome to Post, Gibson's!

The Dispatch today gives a friendly wave of its editorial hat to the new Gibson Discount Center.

We welcome this large new store to our community, not only as a major new advertiser, a store which will employ some more local folks, but as a major step forward in the development of Post's retail business community into a better trade center which in the long run should attract more total retail business here.

Let us explain the trade center concept.

When a major new store opens in any community, it immediately provides competition for the shoppers' dollars with stores already doing business there. In other words, there is a new division of the business volume among the stores, depending upon the acceptance of the newcomer. That means that some stores are going to lose some business to the new store.

But there is also another important aspect to consider — and it is this we wish to emphasize with Gibson's arrival on the local scene.

When the customer is offered more choices, a wider variety of merchandise, that community — or trade center — naturally attracts more shoppers.

As any town's trade center concept improves so should its total retail business volume.

In our case this means that folks living close to Post will have more desire to drive into Post and shop, and, many Post residents who spend a lot of retail dollars in Lubbock will have more of a desire to stay home and spend their money here.

In the end, Gibson's by strengthening Post as an area trade center should increase Post's total retail sales. Thus, competition here at home will be economically healthy.

Dispatch readers should realize too that in its decision to come to Post, Moore Brothers Company of Abilene which operates this Gibson Center is giving Post a real vote of confidence in a day when too many of the smaller cities are drying up on the economic vine.

Again we say, welcome to Post. — JC

Vacancy that won't be filled

Just as you walk in the main entrance of the Garza County courthouse, there is a vacant office across the hall directly in front of you. For more than twenty years, it was the office of Dean A. Robinson, who retired Sept. 1 after 38 years as county school superintendent.

Mr. Robinson's office was in two or three other locations, both upstairs and downstairs, at the courthouse before moving into the one he occupied at the time of his retirement.

As far as a county superintendent is concerned, the office will remain vacant, since the office was abolished by an act of the last Texas Legislature.

Dean Robinson was the "dean" of county officials as far as length of office was concerned, and he never had an opponent in the numerous races he made for re-election.

At a luncheon given in his honor by other county officials and employees on the day of his retirement, Mr. Robinson, displaying a plaque he had received in appreciation of his many years of service, said, "This is about the nicest thing that has ever happened to me."

The Dispatch joins Dean Robinson's hundreds of other Garza County friends and acquaintances in saying he was about the "nicest thing that ever happened to the schools of this county." — CD

Don't fear the unknown

The Dispatch notes with interest that students of one Illinois elementary school have become part of a first-of-its-kind educational experiment in which the world itself is their textbook. The youngsters love it!

In this new program, only 15 per cent of total classroom instruction is based on standardized textbooks. The rest comes from the newspaper and that goes for special education classes also.

For instance, arithmetic lessons come in news articles about things such as labor contracts; science is studied through reports on space exploration, discoveries and natural disasters; and the newspaper's editorial page provides information for essays.

"We're blowing a lot of educational theory all to hell," admits the principal of the Illinois school, "but the kids are already doing better than before on standardized tests in the school district."

This desire to try the unknown in the search for progress marks the spirit of America. This spirit makes us a world leader, and it will keep us one as long as it burns in our hearts.

Our contemporaries say . . .

Salvation for this country's economic system and its way of life does not lie in increased federal government expenditure, more programs, and more controls. Instead, it lies in individual initiative and desire to produce. Every effort must be made to stimulate a desire for quality and excellence. Rewards should be for those who perform, rather than for those who shirk. Money should be invested in the free enterprise system, rather than in the sink of government inefficiency and carelessness where it is all too easily washed down the drain. If the voters demanded an end to wasteful government spending, loud and clear, there might still be a chance of bringing about a reversal of the tide of welfarism which threatens to engulf this country. Will they speak out in time? — Acton, Mass., Littleton Independent.

What would you guess, if someone asked you to name the single category of goods or services that Americans spend the most on? Food? That would be a popular guess, right now. Or perhaps housing? Well, get ready for a shock. In 1971, we spent a total of $332.8 billion to purchase food, clothing, housing and automobiles. The same year, we spent $338.5 billion on local, state and federal government. — Blair, Nebr., Pilot-Tribune.

One of the few rays of hope in an otherwise mixed up world and society is the fact that more young people are buying Bibles than ever before. The trend may be an indication that the generation which is soon to take over controls of the country has found a solution. — Matador Tribune.

IF YOU'RE not too long in reading this week's Dispatch, you still have time to get your entry in to the Post Chamber of Commerce's slogan contest.

The Chamber directors are to hold their regular monthly meeting Friday (which will be tomorrow if you're reading this Thursday) and at that time they'll select a winning slogan.

WHAT THE directors want is a short, snappy slogan to be placed on bumper stickers and signs outside the town — one that can be read and remembered when whizzing down a busy highway.

Earlier this year, Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, turned in a slogan suggestion that the Chamber directors liked so well they presented him one of the Post Golden Jubilee Celebration plates.

BERNARD'S slogan was, "It's Great to be Hitched to the Only 'Post' in Texas." That is a good one, all right, but the Chamber directors decided it has too many words (what else could they expect from a preacher).

It is too late now to mail in your slogan suggestion, if you've thought of one, but pick up your telephone and call Chamber Secretary Kay Lamb at 3461 before the directors get together for their noon luncheon.

THE MAN UP the street says the human brain is a wondrous organ that starts working the moment you're born and never stops until you stand up to speak in public.

I have a few readers who think I make up most everything that appears in this column — my relatives, the Hemphills, for instance, and some of the odd-ball names I'm always coming up with.

FOR INSTANCE, in last Thursday's column, I wrote something about a town named Waterproof, in Louisiana. Well, before my doubting readers start thinking I made up that name, let me tell you that Nancy Jolly called from the police dispatcher's office Thursday and said she and Jerry drove through Waterproof, La., not long ago enroute to a visit at Houma, in the same state.

Nancy said she remembered the town because it had rained on them for some time, but the rain stopped just as they reached Waterproof. That not only indicates how Waterproof got its name, but is also proof that I don't make up all these screwball names.

THE FIRST news release I can recall our society department ever receiving from a high state official came in last week's mail from the office of Gov. Dolph Briscoe. The news release announced to the press the engagement of the Governor's and Mrs. Briscoe's daughter, Jane, to Edward Vaughan of Hillsboro.

That engagement announcement from the Governor's office was a switcheroo on another announcement I once heard about. In this case, a small town mother sending out invitations to her daughter's wedding discovered that for some reason she had about 30 more invitations than there were names on her mailing list.

SO, TO MAKE it come out even, this mother hit upon the happy idea of sending the wedding invitations to a number of top state officials and even a few national ones — none of whom had ever heard of the woman or her daughter.

The result was that the new bride received a number of wedding gifts she'd not have gotten except for her mother's presence of mind, some of the gifts quite expensive.

MANY OF THE high officials no doubt sent gifts after receiving the invitation and thinking, "Now that is someone's daughter I've forgotten, but should remember; so I'll just send a gift to make sure."

I suggest that any other mother of a bride-to-be thinking of using the same gimmick, wait until an election year, then hit all the candidates with an invitation.

Times set for Fair entries in Women's Dept.

LUBBOCK—New entry times have been established for all divisions in the 36th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair's popular Women's Department, according to Steve L. Lewis, general manager.

And for the first time in the fair's long history, "Flower Festival" entries will be received and judged prior to the fair opening. In previous years, the show entries were judged on opening day.

Lewis said that many of the changes were necessitated by the expansion of the fair's run from six to eight days, including two Saturdays and a Sunday card.

"Flower Festival" entries will be received from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Sept. 21 and judging will start promptly at 1:30 p. m. Consequently, Lewis said that no late entries could be accepted. The fair is slated Sept. 22-29.

Entries in the following divisions will be accepted from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Thursday, Sept. 20: textile, crafts and hobbies, crocheting, knitting, tatting and weaving; youth department, fine arts, relics and antiques, and culinary, except baked goods.

Baked goods, including cake, bread, cookies and candy, will be received from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. on Friday, Sept. 21.

Scholarships tests will be given here Oct. 27

Junior sophomores, juniors and seniors will take part in the final step of the selection process for the National Merit Scholarship Examination. Early this fall a group of these students will be named National Merit semi-finalists and will continue to compete with students from other states for academic recognition and for scholarships worth more than $7 million dollars.

The nationally standardized test measures the two basic abilities used in college—verbal and mathematical aptitudes. It is designed to assist students of all ability levels—low, average and superior—to plan their further education.

Each student, as well as the high school counselors, will receive not only the test scores but an interpretative booklet giving information about what those scores mean in terms of planning courses for the remainder of the high school years and of selecting a college and a college program.

In addition, juniors who wish to do so can ask that their names be placed in the College Board's Student Search Service files. Colleges interested in attracting students with certain characteristics use this service to identify such students and communicate with them directly through information about the institutions, and special programs.

"Well Preacher, How Is the Church Coming?"

By Bob Ford

The following article was borrowed from Rev. Gordon Roe, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Sinton, Texas. The question that pastors are usually asked is, "Well, preacher, is the church coming?" Rev. Roe devised these answers. They are food for thought.

I am curious as to why you asked.

Getting worse all the time.

Why, just wonderful. Never better.

We don't need to worry at all.

We can always improve. Would you like to help?

Our problem is that we have too many inactive.

6. The matter is in God's hands. I am merely his humble servant.
7. At the present rate of declining attendance and offerings, I figure we can stay open at least through November.
8. People are just too busy to have time for the church any more.
9. Well, the youth (children, WSCS, choir, Church School - fill in your own blank) are doing OK.
10. God will sustain his church, "till the end of time," but he invites us to be his fellow workers.

HELP KEEP THE SOUTHLAND SCHOOLS

VOTE AGAINST ABOLISHMENT

Many improvements have been made in the Southland Schools over the past year. We would like to list a few of these:

1. Vocational Education available to all students who qualify and this help is paid for by the State under the Regional Vocation Act. That is, the local taxpayers are not out any of their tax dollars for Vocational Training.
2. Comprehensive Special Education for students under the Plan A Act for Special Education and our Cooperative Organization called Selco.
3. Qualified teachers for trigonometry and chemistry.
4. Migrant Teacher for Migrant Students.

The Migrant Teacher and the Special Education Teacher are paid for by funds other than Local Tax Funds, and the school pays only for their share of the salaries of all other personnel; except, our teacher aide is paid for by federal funds listed as Title I.

Article 19.366 of the Texas Education Code states that the property of an abolished Independent School District will be divided among the school districts with contiguous property (that which has a common boundary).

Article 19.368 of the Texas Education Code states that the governing body of the County will divide the territory of the abolished school district among the contiguous school districts.

In the case of Southland School, that will be the County Commissioners of the counties involved; since there are no longer County Superintendents of any of the counties.

Though the suit has been brought against the school to raise the evaluation in the district, the tax rate will be lowered because only the amount of the budget can be collected.

In the recent visit with the Texas Education Agency in Austin, the members of the school board were assured that the Southland Schools will be here until the present laws are changed by the State Legislature.

It is the feeling of the friends of Southland Schools that we can have a very good and outstanding school at Southland. Last year, there was an average of 154 students enrolled in Southland School. This year, we already have 133 students enrolled. All of our students have not yet enrolled because of work and vacations. We feel that we will have as many or more students this year than there were last year.

'Citizens of Week' named at Post High

By MELINDA NELSON
Our first "Citizen of the Week" for the 1973-74 school year are Janet Childs and Richard Dudley. Congratulations to both of these fine students!

Janet Childs is classified as a senior. She is a member of the National Honor Society, holds the office of treasurer, is senior class secretary-treasurer and is the co-editor of the paper staff.

Janet thinks the most worthwhile contribution she can make to PHS is by setting an example for the underclassman, by being herself, but, being her "best" self. The thing Janet likes most about school is that there are only eight and one-half months to go!

The person Janet admires most is her grandmother. She chose her grandmother because of the love and concern she has for her family and the importance she puts on each individual member. Janet thinks the best quality in a person is the people who will be the same tomorrow as they were today. Her future plans are to attend the Methodist Hospital School of Operating Room Technicians.

Richard Dudley is classified as a senior. He has been a member of the FCA for three years, FFA for two years, a band member for three years, a football letterman for one year and hopefully another, a basketball player for three years, and a member of the South Plains All-Star team in baseball this past summer.

Richie thinks the most worthwhile contribution that he can make to PHS is to be dependable and do his best in everything he does. Also, he hopes that he can remember that his attitude represents PHS and that he can always try hard to live up to his responsibilities there.

The person Richie admires most is Don Shula, head coach of the Miami Dolphins. He admires Shula, because he won all his regular season games and then won the Super Bowl! Richie likes sports, typing, and seeing friends every day the most at school.

Richie thinks the best quality a person can have is his personality, because it tells what type of person he is. Also, being dependable whenever you can. Richie's future plans are to attend college and he is hoping that he makes the right decisions for his future career.

New teacher in Ag Department

By CINDY BIRD and RICHARD DUDLEY
A new face has been added to the halls of PHS. Mr. Gene Thomas is teaching the freshman boys in Ag this year, assisting E. A. Howard.

Mr. Thomas is a graduate of Tarleton State University, majoring in Agricultural Education. This is his second year to teach school, his first year being at Orlando, Fla.

Mr. Thomas says he is really looking forward to a good year for the Ag boys. He plans to have the boys participating in some stock shows this year as well as having a tough judging team. His judging team in Orlando, Fla. stood eighth in the state last year.

The students of Post High School welcome Mr. Thomas to Post.

High School Highlights

School got under way as of Monday the 27th, and the teachers acted like we needed to work.

The Paper Staff also got their start on Monday by electing their co-editors. This year's co-editors are Janet Childs and Tonya Ridd. The reporters are Lee Ann Hodges, Karla Josey, Wayne Bell, Pat Nelson, Richard Dudley, Donnell Harper, Grayling Johnson, Danny Guajardo, Becki Dalby, Cindy Bird, Kevin Kenny, Kathy Morris, Melinda Nelson and Nancy Maddox. The sponsors are Mrs. Fleming and Mr. King.

PHS has quite a few new students. They are: Ken Richburg, Billy Alexander, Ken Forbus, Nancy Davis, Carita Wood, Lisa Wood, Nathan King, Albert Castro, Marsha Arheiger and Chris Wood. We welcome these new students and hope they have a nice year.

We would like to welcome these students back to school: Nan Hair, Alice Martinez, Teresa Murphy and Sherry Brockman.

We would like to welcome all of the new teachers to our school, and we wish them all GOOD LUCK!

We would like to apologize for not having an article in last week's paper. Due to some mix-up in between the school and the newspaper, there was not a school page last week. We will try to do better in the future.

We would like to wish the football boys and coaches a lot of luck in the coming season.

Congratulations to the citizens of the week. This week they are Janet Childs and Richard Dudley.

Congratulations go out to the "Teachers of the Week", too. The teachers of the week are Mrs. Cora Fleming and John Alexander. From now on there will only be one teacher of the week, but because of the confusion last week, we will start out with two.

The band has really been practicing hard for the coming year. We wish them good luck as
