Roping and art show set records all departments

$83,000 in art sales

A huge, friendly crowd with money in hand and an appetite for art, barbecue and roping literally overran the OS Ranch over a weather-perfect weekend to smash every record for the OS Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit and cheer Walter Arnold of Silverton, a former Post cowboy who has made it "big" in professional rodeoing, late Sunday afternoon when he won the OS steer roping crown with a record breaking performance.

Arnold did it in record time — 81.8 seconds — to win a record share — $4,682 — of a record OS roping jackpot — $16,955 — before a record crowd of nearly 4,500 fans.

Besides the cash winnings, he received possession of the Giles Wilson Connell trophy for a year, a silver belt buckle, and a saddle presented by Bill Price of Lubbock.

Meanwhile close by in the renovated OS ranch house, the art exhibit closed its doors on a record sale of $83,084 in art — a whopping 38 per cent increase over the initial 1972 effort.

A record 146 pieces of western art were exhibited in the ranch house over the weekend to thousands and 91 of them — or 62 per cent — were sold.

It will be several days before the amount West Texas Boys Ranch will benefit from the weekend "happening" will be known, because lots of bills are still to come in, but the total take on receipts of all kinds for the OS Benefits were approaching the $50,000 mark Tuesday — $46,800 to be exact with some pre-weekend catalog sales as yet uncounted.

Roy (Tuffy) Thompson of Happy, Tex., the 1973 world steer roping champion, had no luck at all in a 10-steer match roping Saturday afternoon, losing to Olin Young of Peralta, N.M., the 1971 world champion by a wide margin before over 2,000 fans, but he led the way to the pay window anyway that first day by winning both the first go round and average in the OS Benefit Calf Roping from a field of 35 invited ropers, including Young.

Arnold, who won the world steer roping title in 1969 and took all-around cowboy honors in the Pendleton, Ore., rodeo this year, roped his four steers Sunday in 20.6 seconds, 19.5, 21.5, and his final one in 20.2 to win by just two seconds total time over Sonny Davis of Kenna, N.M.

James Allen of Santa Anna was third with a total time of 86.5 seconds, and Randy Burchett of Pryor, Okla., fourth in average money with 90.9 seconds.

Jim Prather, who originated the OS benefits, was in third position only five seconds back of Arnold when he roped his fourth and final steer only to have it "get up on him" when he was off his horse to tie it. Prather had roped his first three steers in 18.1, good for second money in the first go round, 27.7, and 20.5.

In comparison to Arnold's 81.8 second time, Clark McEntire won the first OS steer roping in 1971 in 84.5 seconds to earn $3,590, and his son, Pake McEntire won in 1972 in 89.5 seconds for a $3,940 share of the jackpot.

Patti Prather, wife of Tim Prather of Snyder, won the girls' barrel race with 34.9 seconds for the two go rounds — one Saturday and one Sunday afternoon.

An unscheduled highlight of the Sunday afternoon windup at the big roping arena was the auctioning off of a registered border collie, given by Tom McGill of Sterling City, and purchased by the Happy Rodeo Association of Happy, Tex., for $200 with all the money donated to West Texas Boys Ranch.

Approximately $64,500 worth of art was sold at the Collectors Preview Party at the ranch house Friday evening with almost $20,000 more being sold Saturday and Sunday.

The rough breakdown of OS benefit receipts, according to Prather, included $9,600 from (See OS Benefits, Page 18)

Speaker thinks higher cotton prices to hold

Saying he thinks high cotton prices will hold for the next three or four years, Dr. Bob Metzger, Texas A&M cotton specialist, told Post Rotarians Tuesday at their city hall luncheon that "this is a whole new ball game for agriculture now."

Dr. Metzger said cotton can go up to 80 cents per pound and still be competitive because synthetics are now in short supply and very costly due to the national energy crisis.

The cotton specialist said that in the last decade there has been a 12 million bale increase in foreign sales and that domestic cotton consumption's trend is "back upward again."

Metzger based his prediction on continued high price for cotton over the next several years on the fact that it will take this long to solve the nation's energy crisis and get new refineries built and into production.

Whereas crop surpluses used to be the problem, Metzger said a shortage of fertilizer is the No. 1 concern now on the agricultural scene.

This is due, he explained, both to the energy crisis and heavy overseas fertilizer sales.

He said the devaluation of the United States dollar is enabling foreign nations to more easily purchase U. S. products, including fertilizer. Ammonia, a basic for all fertilizer, requires the use of natural gas in its manufacture and thus fertilizer production is directly keyed to the energy crisis.

Dr. Metzger said his field checks indicate a big 2,500,000 bale High Plains cotton crop this year of good quality.

"We usually take a beating," he told Rotarians, "because High Plains cotton comes onto the market late, but this year it will work in our favor. Cotton harvests in other areas have not been as good as predicted due to heavy rains."

In answer to a question, Dr. Metzger said cotton contracts are good for farmers. He pointed out there are a stable (See Cotton Talk, Page 18)

Lots of good business news this week, as well as some interesting bits from the hugely successful OS Ranch benefits over the weekend.

Melvin Williams and his Williams Equipment Company are the new Post area dealer for International Harvester tractors, farm equipment, parts and service. Over on page 5 you'll find a full page ad "proudly announcing" the fact.

IH is the biggest tractor and farm equipment manufacturer in the world with plants in a dozen countries, besides the United States, and negotiations currently under way to open a sales office in the Soviet Union.

And on page 2 you'll find the announcement that Slaton Savings and Loan is opening their new Post branch office next Wednesday — as we hear it, whether or not their new building is finished.

Lubbock woman hurt in wreck

Miss Myra Setliff, a Lubbock Avalanche-Journal employee, suffered facial and hand lacerations Saturday afternoon when the car she was driving collided with a Mack truck on US-84 southeast of Post near the turnoff to the OS Ranch.

The Lubbock woman had missed the turnoff to the ranch and reportedly was turning around when the collision occurred. Wreckers were required to tow away both car and truck.

The truck driver was uninjured. Miss Setliff was given treatment in the emergency room of Garza Memorial Hospital and released.

Syd Wyatt new sales manager for Lucas

Syd Wyatt will take over his new duties Monday as sales manager for Harold Lucas Motors, Lucas announced today.

Wyatt told The Dispatch he also will continue to represent Investors Diversified Services in the Post area.

Book sales off to good start

The pre-publication sales campaign for "Wagon Wheels: A History of Garza County," is off to a good start, Mrs. Vada McCampbell, secretary of the History Book Committee, reported at Tuesday's regular monthly meeting of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

Mrs. McCampbell was appointed secretary and Mrs. Evelyn Neff treasurer of the History Book Committee at a recent meeting.

It was announced at Tuesday's meeting that Mrs. Gwen Boren, acting chairman of the GCHSC, has been selected by the state program planning committee to serve on a panel that will discuss meeting the requirements of the Distinguished Service Award by county committees.

A letter was read from County Judge Giles W. Dalby informing the committee that it has been included in the county budget for an amount of $300.

A letter was also read from Baylor University asking for local history material. The committee was told that Mrs. A. C. Surman has responded to the request by sending brochures.

Attending Tuesday's meeting were: Nita Burriss, Vada McCampbell, Ruby Kirkpatrick, George Samson, Walter Boren, Evelyn Neff, Helen Welch, Gwendolyn Boren, Winnie Tuffing and a guest, Lois Williams.

Kirkpatrick elected to Garza SCD board

Rancher Jack Kirkpatrick was elected as Zone 5 member of the board of the Garza Soil and Water Conservation District in an election held Monday at the Justiceburg community center.

Bob Arheiger of the Soil Conservation Service said the board will meet Oct. 16, at which time Kirkpatrick will officially take office as a board member. He succeeds John Ward, who served five years as Zone 5 director.

such as wells and ponds. Approximately 65 per cent of the land in Garza County has been under the Great Plains Conservation Program, which shows that it has been well received by local landowners and operators.

The Great Plains program has contributed much to the betterment of the environment and to a more stable rural economy over the years.

More information on the program is available from the local office of the Soil Conservation Service.

Rock group is booked here

The youth center committee has scheduled something different for after the Slaton homecoming game next Friday night.

It's a performance by the Hard Travelers, a Lubbock folk rock group, which will be presented in the junior high gym along with a buffet. This is not a dance, as incorrectly stated in the paper last week but an entertainment.

The committee will not open the youth center at present in temporary quarters above Marshall's Department store until some problems can be worked out, it was decided at a meeting Tuesday night.

$15,000 due here in Great Plains funds

Garza County is to receive $15,000 in Great Plains Conservation Program funding for the fiscal year 1974, according to local Soil Conservation Service representatives.

Farmers and ranchers in Garza County have used the Great Plains program to great advantage over the last 16 years.

The program has provided cost-sharing assistance for permanent type conservation practices such as revegetation, terracing, and water developments

Jack Alexander, committee chairman, announced that agencies desiring funding who have not received a letter with a time specified for their appearance before the committee, are asked to request a presentation time from Alexander prior to the Monday meeting.

The budget committee receives requests of participating agencies and recommends the size of the 1974 United Fund goal to United Fund directors for their approval prior to setting final details for the fall financial campaign.

Williams has been promised a railroad car load of new IH tractors about Nov. 1 for his new dealership here, he told The Dispatch yesterday.

He has been in the farm equipment and supply business here since 1908.

'Lopes board Pirate ship Friday for district open

Kickoff at Cooper at 7:30 p.m.

The Post Antelopes, one of only three undefeated teams in the seven-team District 5AA, are to open district play at 7:30 p.m. Friday against the Cooper Pirates on the latter's gridiron.

Cooper has won one and lost three of its four non-conference games, winning over Spur, 26-13, and losing to Springlake, 13-0; New Deal, 3-0, and Crosbyton, 8-6.

Coach Pete Hurst's Pirates are defending champions in District 5AA, but lost 14 lettermen from the 1972 team that finished with a 10-2 mark and went all the way to the regionals before losing to Alpine.

The Pirates are returning three offensive and five defensive starters from last season's team, which competed in Class AA for the first time.

Playing Cooper on their home grid means that the Antelopes will have to turn in a better performance Friday night than they did last Friday against Idalou if they expect to open their district campaign with a victory. Coach Bobby Davis has indicated.

The coach said Shorty Hester received a strained knee in the Idalou game and may not be able to play Friday night at his starting center position. Roger Taylor, who went in for Hester after he was injured at Idalou, probably will start. Coach Davis said, "We've also been looking at one or two other boys at the position," the coach said.

Mark Terry, who has seen considerable action at nose guard, was ill the first of the week, but says he feels now as if he will be able to play against Cooper, the coach said. Halfback David Conoly, who is recovering from a siege of mono, saw action at Idalou and is almost back at full strength, according to the coach.

Cooper runs an offense similar to Post's, off a tandem and slot I, but also runs off a wing formation sometimes, scouts report. The Pirates are primarily a running team, but have been going to the air when they get behind.

Like Post, Cooper has a sophomore at quarterback in 155-pound Kelly Chuban. Other probably backfield starters are Mark Hurst, 170-pound senior; Larry Childers, 155-pound junior, and Dennis Pate, 145-pound senior. Also due to see action at tailback is Todd Hammond, 165-pound senior, who is a returning starter on offense.

The offensive line will have Steve Henderson, 150-pound senior, and Eddie Ward, 165-pound senior, at ends; Clayton Bates, 175-pound junior.

IN PENALTY-MARRED CONTEST

Post defeats Idalou, 14-0

As football games go, it wasn't much of a game at Idalou Friday night, even though the Post Antelopes won, 14 to 0, for their fourth consecutive victory and a perfect record to carry into this Friday night's District 5AA opener at Cooper.

Both Post touchdowns came in the second quarter at Idalou, one on a quarterback sneak by Bryan Davis and the other on a 24-yard blast up the middle by fullback Donnell Harper. Tony Conner placekicked the extra points after both touchdowns to keep his season mark perfect at 10 conversions.

The Antelopes, apparently on a "letdown binge" after the previous week's upset of Floydada, were sluggish throughout most of the contest. Outside of the two scoring plays and Conner's conversions, the Post fans didn't see much to cheer about except for Randy Josey's two pass interceptions.

During the second half, the officials had the ball in their possession most of the time, and did more ball-carrying than the players in marking off a total of 207 yards in penalties — 107 yards of it against the 'Lopes.

Actually, about as many fans watched the sideline antics of Idalou Coach Phil Tucker in the second half as watched the ball game. After becoming upset over an official's call that resulted in a penalty against his team, the Idalou gridmaster spent much of the rest of the game pacing up and down the sideline waving his arms and shouting at the officials.

Neither team was able to mount an offensive until late in the first quarter when Post fielded a 26-yard Idalou punt on the Antelope 47.

Harper made a first down on the Wildcat 43 in two tries, and Johnny Threet, 196-pound senior, at tackles; Eugene Salas, 140-pound junior, and Tony Houchin, 170-pound junior, at guards, and Ricky Bates, 165-pound junior, at center.

Probable starters on defense will be Clayton Bates, Threet, Ward, Jerry Vance, 180-pound junior, and Rick Montemayor, 200-pound sophomore, as the front five; Larry Boucher, 145-pound senior; David Bermea, 160-pound junior, and Houchin linebackers; Hammond and Kevin Pringle, 150-pound junior, cornerbacks, and Henderson, safety.

Conoly banged the line for four. Harper blasted through for 19 and a first down on the 20, with Conoly, Jerry Tyler and Davis carrying on down to the 10, with an eight-yard carry by Davis the big gainer. Tyler, Harper and Conoly advanced the ball to the two, from where Davis sneaked over for the touchdown.

The Wildcats made it to the Post 38 after returning Conner's kickoff 19 yards to their 39, but linebacker Tim Owen jarred the ball loose on a tackle of tailback Rex Isom, and Grayling Johnson recovered for Post on the 'Lope 38.

From there, Post drove to the Idalou eight, with a 12-yard pass from Davis to end Ricky Shepherd helping the drive along, but a five-yard delay penalty set the 'Lopes back, and a couple of plays later a

Rites for father of Post women

Services for John T. Sullenger Sr., 66, who died Wednesday in a Snyder nursing home, were held at 3 p. m. Friday in the Bell-Seale Chapel with the Rev. Wayland Dowden of United Methodist Church officiating, assisted by Charles Sullenger. Burial was in Snyder Cemetery.

A native of Arkansas, Sullenger, a retired farmer, had lived in Snyder since 1914. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Modena Farmer and Mrs. Irene Hart, both of Post, Mrs. Marie Flippen of Long Beach, Calif., Mrs. Margie Anderson of Amarillo and Mrs. Leona Ford of Polar; five sons, Ronald of Snyder, J. T. of Dermott, Charles of Fort Stockton, Paul of Kermit and James of Snyder.

Also six sisters, Mrs. Pete Hart and Mrs. Mary Greenfield, both of Snyder, Mrs. Eula Spence of Utah, Mrs. Willie Joseph of California, Mrs. A. N. Edmonson of Dermott and Mrs. Floy Merical of Dallas; a brother, Jim L. of Snyder; 28 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

penalty for having an illegal receiver down field backed Post up to the 28. A big loss by Davis trying to pass set the 'Lopes back another 11 yards, and Garland Dudley punted to the Idalou nine.

The Wildcats couldn't get going, and Shepherd ran their punt back 14 yards to the Idalou 40. Tyler gained 11 to the 36, but the Wildcats stiffened, and it took an 11-yard pass from Tyler to Davis on fourth down to give Post a first down on the 24. Harper's touchdown run came with one second left on the clock, which gave Conner's onside kick just time to get to the Idalou 41 before the half ended.

Dorland leads Post to victory

An 85-yard kickoff return by freshman Jimmy Dorland and a safety gave the Post Antelope junior varsity-freshman team a 10-0 victory over the Lockney JV-freshman last Thursday at Lockney.

After a scoreless first quarter, Lockney lit up the scoreboard on a three-yard run and also ran over the extra points. Post tied it up when Dorland ran back the ensuing kickoff and then ran over the extras.

The Post team got its margin of victory in the third quarter when the Lockney punter was gang-tackled in his end zone.

Coach Bobby Davis takes his Post Antelopes onto the home field of the defending District 5AA champs, the Cooper Pirates, Friday night to open district play for both schools.

The Pirates, who won district in their first year of double A competition in 1972, have won only one of four starts this year — all against class A schools, defeating Spur, and losing to Springlake, New Deal and Crosbyton, all by close scores.

It is easy to say that the 'Lopes should win this one, but the Pirates are rebuilding and gaining ground each Friday night. Look for a toughie, as the 'Lopes go for victory No. 5 and a winning start in district play. Remember, the kickoff time moves up to 7:30 with the start of district play.

Graham church hosts fall fellowship event

The women of the Graham Church of Christ were hostesses Monday evening for a fall fellowship and salad supper at the Graham community center.

Approximately 65 women attended the event with ladies from Spur, Tahoka, Lubbock, Post and the Graham community as special guests.

Guest speakers included Mrs. Bruce Evans and Mrs. Terry Hines of Lubbock, Mrs. Evans presented an inspirational talk to the group on not worrying about one's own problems but seeing the needs of others and doing for them.

Mrs. Hines, third vice-president of the Lubbock Christian College Associates, told of the projects planned by the Associates for improvements and the growth of the college and explained the programs and work of the Associates. She introduced Mrs. Howard Preston of Shallowater, president of the LCC Associates, and Mrs. Vernon Behner of Lubbock, chairman of the Gift Fair.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Silas Short of Post. Mrs. James Stone served as mistress of ceremonies and gave the welcome, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Bryan Maxey. Two inspirational poems were read by Mrs. Lewis Mason. The guest speakers were introduced by Mrs. Noel White with Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey presenting the gifts to the speakers. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Viva Davis.

Winner of the door prize, a LCC Cookbook, was Mrs. Mike Orr of Tahoka.

The fall harvest was the theme for the evening with each guest being presented a leaf name tag with each town having a different fall color. The tables were covered in avocado green and gold cloths and centered with an arrangement of corn tassels, maize heads and cotton bolls.

The head table was centered with a large log arrangement from which a horn of plenty effect was achieved with fall garden vegetables flowing from the log stump.

Women discuss Flea Market set Saturday

Final plans for a Flea Market to be held from 8:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 6, on the bank parking lot were made at noon Tuesday at a meeting of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce at the Reddy Room.

The group also voted to have a candy sale, as suggested by the choir parents, at the Choir and Music Club-sponsored "Komedie Kapers, 1973." A committee of Ann Tubbs, chairman, Barbara Wright and Vada Clary was appointed to organize the project. They will work out the details of having sacks of candy with prizes at the event.

The group voted to have each member donate one book of Green Stamps to purchase the prizes for the candy sacks. It was decided that the rest of the "I'm Excited About Post" buttons also would be used in the surprise sacks.

Marie Neff will head a committee, which also includes Maxine Marks and Kay Lamb, to research and plan a brochure for Post.

The group accepted the resignation of Nancy Jolly as club reporter and elected Sharon Bruton to fill the position.

Present at the meeting were: Inez Harrel, president; Barbara Wright, Kay Lamb, Edith Ramsey, Vada Clary, Marie Neff, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Ann Tubbs, Margie Pennell, Patsy McCowen, Vada McCampbell, Mrs. Elton Nance, Evelyn Neff, Maxine Marks and Betty Posey.

RECEPTION

Members of the First Christian Church extend a cordial invitation to the community to attend a reception honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Bernard S. Ramsey, upon Rev. Ramsey's retirement from the active ministry, on Sunday, October 14, 1973, from 10 to 4 p. m. at the First Christian Church, Post, Texas.

Thoughts During the Organ Prelude

By Bernard S. Ramsey

Well, Lord . . . I suppose this is it! At least for quite a while; the last sermon I'll be preaching to a truly great Church Family. And you know I mean that Lord, and also to the kind of Church Family all preachers hope to be called to serve someday, but which very few are fortunate enough to be so called. And that's the point, Lord . . . yes . . . we (my family and I) came here to Post to serve them; to "minister unto" — but just as our very good friend and brother preacher Bob Ford said in effect last week on this same church page . . . they just turned all that around . . . and "ministered unto us"! It is so true: they have given us far more than we could ever have given them; they've enriched our lives — they've given us, for well over a dozen years, our happiest pastorate. Lord, you know how much we've come to love and appreciate all of them, and we just hope that we may, as we continue our ministry in another and different direction. For your sake and the sake of your church . . . that we may be able, in some small measure to show them in tangible ways the depths of our gratitude and love for each and every one of them. So right now, Lord, my heart is filled with an inexpressible gratefulness and love for you for this wonderful Church Family.

And as if that were not enough for you to give us — you've let us serve — in a very small way, the, what I like to think of, the very special and unique people of the City of Post and Garza County. Is it any wonder, Lord, that we should want to live the rest of our lives — here and among them? For we do not count our friends here in this locale in ones and twos . . . or dozens . . . or even scores . . . but literally in the hundreds! Always we do thank you in our prayers for them too! One of the most endearing qualities of these people is that when we first came here (it seems such a short while ago now) no one "gushed" over us and heap all manner of trivial flattery and accolades upon us. No, Lord. They just let us be "us" — they just left us free to prove ourselves . . . And if we have not Lord, pray give us time to do so.

I had thought that today would most surely be the toughest and perhaps overly-sentimental day of our lives — but right now — as so faithful organist plays softly and meditatively — there is — among so many other things — a warm my heart, a deep sense of peace and tranquility . . . and it is beautiful!

And, now, Lord, we notice that it is about time for one of our Elders, Jack Alexander, word another one of his wonderful prayers (and how tremendous have all our Elders been — they have conducted our worship) . . . but I just want to add one other thought! I heard some telecast recently and which I think is a great word: "If you feel that what you have better than what you are missing — IT'S CONTENTMENT!" Not satisfied, Lord, never that, but a sort of contentment that is in a true sense divine; that sort of contentment of which the Apostle Paul spoke: . . . "Not that, I have ever in need, for I have learned to get along happily whether I have much or little. I know how to live on almost nothing or on everything. I have learned the secret of contentment in every situation, whether I am full stomach or hunger; plenty or want; for I can do everything God asks me to do with the help of Christ who gives me the strength and power . . ." (Phil. 4:11-13 L.B.). You've filled my cup, Lord — thank you so much.

Riot of color at University

AUSTIN — There's a riot going on in University of Texas dormitories — but it's a riot of color.
 UT officials have approved a policy that allows dorm residents to paint their own rooms any color they desire. Regal Violet, Festival Green, Empire Yellow, Cornflower and Fascination (that's purple) are some of the colors chosen so far.
 UT furnishes the paint, students provide the muscle. The idea is to make the student's life more pleasant and to allow for individual esthetic tastes.

Postings —

 rushing to do business in the Post area these days.

If you could measure good will in dollars, Post would be the richest small community in the nation this week, after all the compliments the town and area folks reaped for their friendliness and hospitality over the weekend.

A lot of the artists and folks from the larger cities said over and over again that they didn't know "people still lived like this." They just couldn't get over the mass volunteer effort contributed to making the OS benefits such a tremendous success, and all the friendliness they found on every side in our town.

Most unusual illustration of this we know is that several groups flew in for the Collectors Prevue Party Friday night and wanted to lease cars here to drive after landing at the Post airport.

Harold Lucas, the local auto dealer, took out cars for three parties and planned to supply several more to others who had to cancel. He refused to take any payment for the use of his cars. He just told those "flying in" that "I didn't get a chance to help with the OS benefits so this will be my contribution." We didn't hear the story from Harold but from one of the flyers involved, who was an hour late for his scheduled landing but found Harold patiently waiting for him with the car he had promised.

Somebody put a guest book out at the art exhibit in the ranch house and over a hundred of the hundreds of lookers stopped to sign it. Ruth Ann Newby found the guest book Monday and prowled through it to report that of this small segment of the viewers of the exhibit came from eight states besides Texas — including Illinois, Arizona, Oklahoma, Kansas, Montana, Colorado, California and New Mexico and besides folks signing up from all the larger cities of Texas, such as Dallas, Houston, Austin, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Amarillo and Lubbock, they also came from such little known places as Buton, Christoval, Adkins, Oakville, Paint Rock, Imperial, Lorena, South Lake and dozens more.

Our only suggestion before the big weekend was to work out some means to get some information from OS fans who came so far for the event, but we never came up with a way to do it. Maybe next year, the committee can find a way to get their comments and suggestions.

Ed Neff really had a "snappy weekend" at the OS as he aimed his camera and fired some 600 pictures all told of every phase of the "happening" and the action, including three which appear on The Dispatch's front page today. Editor Charlie got some good ones too with The Dispatch's Polaroid, but we can't refuse the opportunity to use full size pix for the paper whenever it presents itself.

Ed told the OS committee the picture expense wouldn't be much over $60 or so, pointing out that paper and film don't cost all that much. That's what we really call putting your heart in your work, Ed.

 marketing tool and that the government is now "pulling out" of farming.

"The big things which effect the farmer today don't happen on the farm," he declared.
 Both Dr. Metzger and Roy Childers, area cotton mechanization specialist, spoke Tuesday morning at a program in the district courtroom on cotton defoliation, harvesting and field storage co-sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the Post Chamber of Commerce.

County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch there was a considerable interest shown at the meeting by area farmers in the proper use of new field storage methods as explained by Childers.

DISCOURAGING REVERSAL
 In 1972 there was a discouraging reversal of the downward trend in traffic fatalities of 1970 and 1971. Last year, more than 55,700 persons died in traffic mishaps, according to the Travelers Insurance Companies.

Pioneer probes are on exhibit

LUBBOCK — We are the pioneers of space — the first generation of man with the technology and the courage to set sail upon the vastest of oceans.

Currently involved in man's longest reach into space, two space vehicles, Pioneer 10 and 11, are enroute to Jupiter, the largest planet in our solar system, and beyond. The Pioneer probes, their missions and meaning are the subject of the program scheduled to run Oct. 6 through the end of November in the Moody Planetarium at The Museum of Texas Tech University.

"The Jupiter Pioneers," an audio-visual presentation, will be shown Saturdays and Sundays at 3 p. m. in the Moody Planetarium in October and November. Admission to the program is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. There is no admission charge for members of the West Texas Museum Association.

Benjamin, in Knox County, is seeking a Texas Boys Ranch unit for that area.

Seniors in Spotlight

By LEE ANN HODGES
Our first senior in the spotlight is CINDY SUE BIRD. She was born on February 1, 1956 and is 17 years old. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bird and she has two sisters and one brother. This year she is a cheerleader and is participating in National Honor Society, and in Cooperative Homemaking, working for Dr. B. E. Young. She has participated in basketball, band, Student Council, National Honor Society, FFA and has been a cheerleader.

Cindy's favorite food is T-Bone steak and her favorite color is yellow. Her favorite famous person is President Nixon. Her hobbies are going to stock shows in which she shows club calves under 4-H, and rodeos and training horses. She also likes all kinds of sports.

After graduation Cindy plans to go either to Tech or Tarleton but wants to be on the rodeo team.

MARK BEVERS is our next senior in the spotlight. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Bevers. He was born Sept. 2, 1955, is 18 years old and has three sisters. This year he is in basketball, track, science and math club and FCA. During high school he has participated in basketball, track, football, FCA, vice-president of the Student Council Vocational Agriculture, and National Honor Society. Mark's favorite food is Mexican and his favorite color is yellow. His favorite person is Becki Dalby and he enjoys water skiing and riding in dune buggies.

After graduation Mark plans to go to college.

Sherril is a senior and has made the All-Region band for the last three years, and has been in the state solo contest in flute for the last two years. When she was a sophomore she placed second, and when she was a junior she placed third. To make the All-State Band or even try out for it, the person has to be an excellent bandsman and musician. Sherril meets these outstanding standards and more. Again, good luck, Sherril!

Pep squad shows its support of Antelopes

By NANCY MADDOX
To show our support to our great football team, the pep squad takes a bus to all the out-of-town games. Yells are done on the bus going and coming from the games. This week Mrs. Thompson would really appreciate it if the girls would help clean up the bus. Help the pep squad support the Antelopes by going to the Post-Cooper game. Go, Lopes—beat Cooper!

Two freshmen chosen as 'Citizens of Week'

By MELINDA NELSON
Those that were chosen as "Citizens of the Week" for this past week were AMY COWDREY and RODNEY OWEN. Congratulations to both of these fine students.

Amy is classified as a freshman. She is a member of the pep squad for the football games, a member of the PHS Top Twenty in choir, and plays basketball. The most Amy likes about school is being around the people that are her friends and meeting and making new ones. Also, she likes participating in sports and pep squad. Amy thinks the best quality in a person is honesty, because if a person is honest, he will probably have more friends. Amy thinks the most worthwhile contribution she can make to PHS is that she can help build up school spirit and taking her time to build it up and never giving up when our team is losing. Also, to study to better her knowledge of all the subjects that she is taking.

Inside PHS

By TONYA RUDD
Today marks the birth of a new column. It will be kind of an inside view of what goes on inside PHS. I will talk about classes, what the students think about them, and how the teachers feel about them. I hope you will find it interesting and entertaining.

The first class that I am going to discuss is Bookkeeping. Everyone takes a look at the bookkeeping course and runs for the hills. A misconception has been passed around about this course — possibly there is one requirement in this class that not all students want to meet, if this is true, some student might label it as a "hard" class. The one requirement that all students must meet is that you must work everyday. I do not use the word "work" lightly. Mrs. Fleming makes sure that you do not want for something to do. Do not get me wrong, I enjoy this class. It cannot get boring because you do something different every day. You really feel proud when you finish a chapter because you've done it all by yourself. I think most of the students will agree with me that it is fun, even though you work. I know that Mrs. Fleming does her best to make it interesting. She told a class last year, "There's nothing that I like better than to sit down with a student and work out a puzzling bookkeeping problem."

I hope I haven't scared off some of the underclassmen that were considering taking this class. It is the most enjoyable class that I have taken in high school, and I fully recommend everyone to take it before they graduate.

'Teacher of the Week' chosen

By PAT NELSON
Mrs. Pat Thompson was selected as "Teacher of the Week." She has been teaching for two years, both being with the Post school system. She enjoys teaching the young people and having the opportunity to become involved in their activities.

Mrs. Thompson graduated from Texas Tech with a BS degree. She teaches biology and coaches the girls tennis team. She spends her spare time camping, fishing, and playing tennis.

She considered getting the "Teacher of the Week" as the highest honor paid to her by the students and she hopes she is worthy of it.

Dispatch Editorials

We're for Amendments 2 and 3

The protection of a person's home is a much-cherished Texas tradition. Homestead laws date back to the days when the state was a republic.

In 1839, Texas passed a law which prohibited the forced sale of a family's homestead for the payment of debts. This principle was reasserted in the five state constitutions which have been adopted since then.

A major shortcoming of our homestead provisions, however, is that this protection was not afforded to real property of single adults.

This Nov. 6 Texans will have the chance to right this inequity. Amendment 2 on the ballot would extend the same homestead protection to single adults, which is presently available only to families.

Increasingly, there are single adults in our society who have invested their earnings in a home. In our opinion, it is patently unfair that they could lose their home under circumstances in which a family would retain ownership.

Amendment 2 also provides that abandonment of a family homestead will require the consent of both husband and wife. The present Constitution does not provide for this, and it has been held that the consent of both parties is not required to give up a homestead exemption.

In this situation, a husband can abandon the homestead without his wife's consent, leaving her in danger of losing the home.

Amendment 3 on this November's ballot also deals with the homestead provisions.

Families always have enjoyed an exemption from ad valorem taxes on the first $3,000 value of their homestead.

Last year, Texas voters approved an amendment to the Constitution which extended a further property tax break to persons 65 or older.

This amendment was interpreted to mean that a family relationship must exist. Consequently, many tax collectors refused to grant this exemption to home-owning widows and other qualified single persons.

Amendment 3 would clear up this confusion, providing that the extended exemption could be granted regardless of family status of the elderly person.

In addition, Amendment 3 would extend the $3,000 homestead exemption to all single adults. As mentioned before, we believe single citizens are entitled to the same protections and rights as married home owners.

The logic of equalizing these laws and ending discrimination against the single citizens of our state will be apparent to everyone. Adoption of Amendment 2 and 3 will do much to correct these inequities.

It's a major event now

Jim Prather and the dozens, and dozens, and dozens of Post and Garza folks who assisted him in developing the OS Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit obviously have an annual "major event" on their hands following all the record-smashing last weekend out at the ranch.

After the first big combined steer roping and art exhibit last year, tired but happy workers could only wonder how they could top that effort.

They got their answer loud and clear Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

The folks who came last year to find out what it was all about came back this year and brought their friends. Hundreds more who had "heard about it" or "read about it" in the interval came too to see it and enjoy it themselves.

Everything connected with the steer roping and art exhibit simply was bigger and better this time around. On the foundation of 1972's first combined year and the 1971 originating year of the steer roping, an even bigger and better "happening" was built.

It's pretty obvious to everybody now where the OS Ranch benefits are going now — onward and upward. All those thousands of hours of painstaking work and planning behind the scenes have paid off handsomely.

So it is only fitting to editorially salute all the fine local folks who have had working parts in the OS benefits. Their contributions have been tremendous. This community has as fine a group of dedicated citizens to such causes — as this benefit for homeless boys — as any town anywhere.

Each of them were rewarded for their efforts last weekend with the huge crowds and the great interest shown in the dual benefits.

While West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo receives the direct benefits of all the cash raised by the OS "happening," this community certainly benefits in many other ways.

Post has gained wider recognition in the last two or three years through these ranch benefits than in anything else it has ever done.

We have gained greatly with new friendships with artists and ropers who have been guests in our homes, and most of all in working together for a common cause without personal gain. — JC

Private press serves public

Every once in a while — once a year, in fact — it becomes our turn to celebrate instead of reporting somebody else's celebration. The occasion is Newspaper Week, Oct. 7-13. The theme is "Newspapers: your foundation for free choice."

We think we play an important role in the life of the community. We give you the facts, thoroughly researched, so that you may depend on what you read. Since we're human, we sometimes make mistakes, but as far as accurately reporting the news is concerned, they are unintentional.

We also provide a vehicle for our merchants to compete at the marketplace for your favor through constructive informative advertising.

While our principal concern is to report to you the happenings at the local and county level, we feel it is an obligation to interpret those state and national issues which affect us here locally.

We do not expect all of our readers to agree with us in our reporting of the news, and we fully expect to be told about the differences. While it is almost impossible to be impartial in this day and age, we are determined to be fair and to win your respect. This is our objective.

Ever since the Chicago fire

There aren't enough weeks in the year for every observance to have a week of its own. That is why Newspaper Week and Fire Prevention Week both come during the period of Oct. 7-13. If we were to look hard enough, we might find a half-dozen or so other observances waiting in the wings to be recognized this week, too.

But we always feel we owe it to the community to stress the importance of Fire Prevention Week. Ever since the famous Chicago fire, more than a century ago on Oct. 8, 1871, the danger of fires has been stressed by fire departments and others at this time of year. In recent years, the National Fire Protection Association has sponsored Fire Prevention Week the anniversary week of the Chicago fire.

Last year 12,000 Americans lost their lives in fires and the cost was over 2.9 billion dollars. About a third of the deaths from fires were those of children, often unable to help themselves.

This is, then, the time of year to check gas lines and pipes, furnaces, chimneys, electric wiring, appliances, etc. Better be safe than sorry.

PITY THE poor editor! He not only is driven to near insanity in an effort to keep mistakes out of the newspaper, but he is also so stupid in some areas that many times he makes the mistakes himself.

Take nurse's education, for instance. Not knowing for sure and not taking time to find out, the editor thought a capping ceremony was the same as a graduation. So, last week when Nita Burress brought in a printed program of a capping ceremony for "Class 51," of which Nita's niece, Mrs. Sherry Haire, is a member, the editor wrote that the class had graduated — and that's the way the story came out in the paper.

ACTUALLY, as Sherry let Norma Baumann, our women's editor know the next day, she HAD NOT graduated, and the story in the paper was wrong. It was no fault of Norma's, but she is the one that took the "bawling out" for it. But, then, that's the way things go in a newspaper office.

The editor apologizes to Sherry for graduating her several months ahead of the June 1974 date on which she is scheduled to graduate, and also apologizes to Nita Burress for "goofing up" the story she brought in.

ACTUALLY, THERE are enough ways for an editor to make mistakes accidentally that he has no need of making any on purpose. Just think what a task it is to keep mistakes from creeping into the paper when, even in a short phrase like this, "to be or not to be," by transposition alone, it is possible to make 2,758,009 errors. Now, aren't you surprised that we do as well as we do?

The man up the street says success is when you have your name in everything but the telephone book.

JIMMY A. TURNER

Church here holds revival

The Rev. Jimmy A. Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, will conduct a revival meeting at the Calvary Baptist Church here, beginning Sunday, Oct. 7, and continuing through the following Sunday, Oct. 14.

Bobby Gordon of Lubbock, formerly of Post, will conduct the song services for the revival. His wife, Louise, and their children, Randy, Vickie and Debbie, all sing together.

The Rev. Mr. Turner, who has been pastor of the First Baptist Church at Tahoka for eight years, is a native of Ranger, Tex., and was reared in Rising Star. He has also pastored churches at Loraine, Carbon, Anson and Maryneal, Tex.

Services will be held at 7:30 p. m. weekdays during the week-long revival, according to the Rev. Leon Smith, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church. The public is cordially invited to all services.

Teachers urge support of Amendment No. 1

AUSTIN—The Texas State Teachers Association is urging its 157,000 members to vote for passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 1 on Nov. 6.

Amendment No. 1, if approved by a majority of Texas voters, would authorize annual sessions of the Legislature and a pay raise for its members from the present $4,800 per year to a constitutional limit of $15,000 per year.

means just what it says — The Dispatch wants your news.

WHAT OUR filler-writer had in mind when he wrote the two-liner was the little news, 'cause we're going to get the big news. What he had in mind were those little items about your out-of-town visitors, or your own out-of-town visits.

Believe it or not, but surveys have shown that those little personal items about people coming and going are read more than anything else in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper. That's why we need, and want, more of them.

IT TAKES MORE time than we have here at The Dispatch office to go down the list of names in the phone book and call people to get their news items, but we always have time to stop whatever we're doing to answer the telephone and take your personal items, if you will call them in.

Wouldn't it make good reading all through the paper if we could make separate items on all the out-of-town folks who attended the weekend OS Ranch steer roping and art exhibit!

SBA loans in fiscal year hit $2.2 billion

LUBBOCK—The U. S. Small Business Administration provided record assistance to small businesses in fiscal year 1973, increasing its total loan effort 100 per cent over 1972, SBA Administrator Thomas S. Kleppe announced.

The agency approved 33,948 loans totaling $2.2 billion to small businesses and 215,001 disaster loans in the amount of $1.5 billion, Kleppe said. Loans to 9,074 minority businesses totaled $334 million and 7,662 economic opportunity loans were made in the amount of $148.5 million.

"Of vital consideration in our regular loan program," Kleppe pointed out, "is that private lending institutions, primarily banks, provided almost $2.0 billion of the business loan financing. We are particularly proud of the tremendous growth in private sector participation." Kleppe stated. "Currently 67 per cent of the nation's banks have SBA loans in their portfolios, while as recently as two and a half years ago, only 8 per cent were participating."

Kleppe also cited the one million jobs that SBA programs either generated or sustained last year, with the accompanying effects on the economy and the vitality of the communities in which they are located.

Philip J. O'Jibway, district director of the Lubbock District office of the SBA, announced that the office contributed to the business loan activity during this same period where in they authorized 803 loans for a total dollar volume of $52,819,000. Ninety-eight per cent of these loans were funded by the West Texas banks and savings and loan associations. Currently 91 per cent of the financial institutions in the Lubbock SBA District, which is made up of 81 West Texas counties, are participating in SBA loans.

Measle-free week is first in 37 years

AUSTIN—No measles cases were reported in Texas for the week ending June 16, and the State Health Department said Saturday its records show that was the first no-measles week since 1936.

The department attributed this to "the licensing of measles vaccine in March 1963, coupled with the subsequent dedication of physicians, public health departments, legislators, school officials and community leaders in promoting its use."

For the week ending Sept. 1, the department said it received reports of three diphtheria cases, three infectious encephalitis cases, 1,053 cases of gonorrhea, 99 cases of infectious and serum hepatitis, seven measles cases, four Rubella German measles cases, 81 syphilis cases, 51 cases of tuberculosis, one typhoid fever case and several other diseases.

So far this year, there have been 13 cases of leprosy reported in Texas.

natural energy HOME

CLEAN ENERGY FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource — natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 23 per cent of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.
