County's cotton harvest moving good in 'spots'

Garza County's 1973 cotton harvest is sort of jerking along with some gins putting on night crews and other gins so 'un-busy" they aren't even answering their phones. The degree of activity from gin area to gin area is has ginned 1,256 bales to date completely dependent upon the of defoliation by individual farmers.

The Dispatch's second weekly gin check yesterday showed 2,119 bales ginned to date with another 209 bales tagged out on the yards.

Despite a cold front coming through Tuesday night, no freeze was reported.

The Graham and Hackberry Gins were the busiest, both having night crews on this

Church to be voting place

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday voted to designate the First Presbyterian Church as the Precinct 1 voting place for upcoming elections, including next Tuesday's on the nine state constitutional amendments.

The court also agreed to pay the office rent of N. C. Outlaw as storage for the law books recently purchased by the county from the attorney until such time as the county law

County Judge Giles Dalby reported on his attendance last week of the Hural Development onference in Austin

Graham had ginned 776 bales up to Wednesday noon with 57 on the yard. A night crew was put on by Manager Ted Aten

Monday The Hackberry Gin has had some production problems but and has another 235 bales on the yard. Half of this is counted as Garza cotton. Planters Gin reported only 21 bales ginned and said it might take up to two weeks before the harvest got rolling in its area with most of the cotton not quite ready as yet. Storie Gin reported 69 bales ginned, all for the only customer in the area who defoliated early. Most farmers in that area are waiting for a freeze, Lonnie Peel reports. The Close City Gin has 175 bales ginned and had another 25 bales on the yard. The Basinger Gin at Southland has ginned 'about 400 bales" with the harvest going "pretty slow" in

The Grassland Coop Gin, a third of whose output is counted as Garza cotton, had ginned 363 bales yesterday and had 21 more on the yard. Quite a bit of cotton had been defoliated in the area, but many farmers are waiting with some of the cotton still green.

Cattle on Feed Up Again. . . Pecan Crop Two-Thirds Under 1972. ... Cotton Crop in Texas Largest in 11 Years.

Both in Texas and throughout the nation, cattle on feed are increasing in numbers. In Texas as of Sept. 1, there are 2,314,000 head of cattle and calves on feed. This is 10 per cent above a year ago and one per cent more than a Nationwide, in the seven major cattle feeding states, cattle on feed are up one per cent from a month ago and six per cent more than a year ago.

Texas continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. The Sept. 1 total for Texas is almost 750,000 higher than second-ranking lows.

PECAN prospects for Texas appear poor. The Sept. 1 forecast from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service is 23,000,000 pounds. This would be only 31 per cent of the record grop of 75,000,000 pounds produced

The Texas crop will account for only nine per cent of the total U.S. estimated production this year compared to 41 per cent for the 1972 totals.

Pecan set is extremely poor in most areas of the state. A late freeze in April along with extensive insect damage in the larger pecan producing areas has created a dismal crop prospect for 1973. Only in the Trans-Pecos area and in counties in North Texas along the Red River has a good crop potential developed.

Nationwide, the 1973 pecan crop is forecast at 263,000,000 pounds. This is 43 per cent more than last year's short crop and six per cent above 1971. Prospects are above average in all states except Florida and Texas.

COTTON crop in Texas this season is expected to be the best since 1962. Production in the state is now estimated at 4,650,000 bales. This compares with 4,246,000 bales produced in 1972.

Yield based on Sept. 1 conditions is expected to average 406 pounds per acre compared with 408 pounds in Harvest for the state has reached about 10 per cent completion. Cotton on the High Plains and Low Plains is making excellent progress. Crop potential on the Plains is above average.

Rains have hampered harvesting in southern sections and cotton root rot is a problem in the Blacklands.

BASED on Sept. 1 conditions, a record grain sorghum crop is forecast for Texas at 421,600,000 bushels. This would be more than 100,000,000 bushels above the Peanut production is now estimated at a record high in 1 exas of 502,400,000 pounds compared with 480,455,000 pounds in 1972. Yield is expected to average 1,600 pounds per acre. Acres estimated for harvest total 314,000 which is 7,000 more acres than the 1972 crop.

Soybean production for Texas is also estimated now to set a new record of 11,475,000 bushels. This would be more than twice the 1972 soybean production. Acreage this year is double that of the previous year. Average per acre yield is estimated at 27 bushels per acre.

Production of corn in the state this year is estimated at 60,800,000 bushels, an increase of 54 per cent over last

Wheat seeding for the state is now above 10 per cent, and is on schedule with last year. Farmers are preparing fields or have them prepared throughout the state.

RANGE and non-irrigated pasture conditions as of Sept. 1 averaged 76 per cent of normal and compared with 77 per cent last year and 86 per cent last month.

WHAT'S IN IT? By CHARLES DIDWAY

one who lived on, or near, the Trent River in England, or one who came from Trent, the name of places in the counties of Dorset and Somerset.

The Trent is the chief river in the midlands of England, the third in length in the country. Its name is of Celtic origin, meaning "trespasser," but etymologists are uncertain why the name was applied to the river. Trent is one of the oldest place names in England, the river having been designated by that name on a map constructed in the second century by the Roman, Ptolemy

The river Trent was also the origin of the surname Trentham, meaning "homestead on the (River) Trent.'

William Trent, born in Inverness, Scotland, about 1655, emigrated to America and became chief justice of the state of New Jersey, and the capital of the state, Trenton, was named in his honor.

William Trent's son, also named William, became a captain in the Pennsylvania state militia in 1746 and served against the French and Indians. In 1754 he arrived at the present site of Pittsburgh, Pa. with a detachment of about forty soldiers and began to build a fortification, which was the beginning of permanent settlement there by the whites and which it was intended to call Fort Trent.

The following year, however, Ensign Edward Ward, commanding the soldiers in the absence of Captain Trent, was forced to evacuate the unfinished fortification by a party of about 1,000 French and Indians under a Captain Contrecouer, who immediately occupied the works, which he enlarged and completed, and named Fort Duquesne. When the English recaptured the fort, the name was changed to "Pitts-Bourgh," subsequently modified to Pitts-

CONSTITIONAL AMENTMENT NO. 6

Which would grant district courts the general jurisdiction of a probate court!

Many probate proceedings are prefunctory in nature and are adequately handled by the county courts, which already are set up to serve such function.

It is not desirable to crowd the dockets of the district court with routine probate proceedings, or to cause the necessity to create additional district courts with the added expense to the taxpayer that accompanies the creation of additional courts.

Most probate matters are delicate in nature for those involved and they would be better served in having probate matters handled on a local level than through a district court.

SLATON - Burglars and thieves hit two Slaton business places and the junior high school safe recently to make off with an estimated $2,200 in cash, plus some checks made out to the junior high school.

About $1,600 in cash was taken from White's Auto Store, the money being stolen out of a bank bag on the manager's desk while he was busy waiting on customers.

At the junior high school. burglars cut a hole in the safe in the bookroom and took about $150, some of which was in checks. Also stolen was about $30 in change from a soft drink machine in the teachers'

The cry for help on the junior tennis tournament next summer was answered by Pat Thompson and it would be hard to think of a better choice. Pat. first place winner of both the singles and doubles women's events in last year's Garza tournament, is a biology teacher at Post High School and this year she has taken on the job of girls' tennis coach as well. She's a fine tennis player, best known for an absolutely smashing backhand, as those who ran up against her in the tournament would be more than happy to testify!

-0-Now that we have a good director for the junior division of the tournament we need to concentrate on getting someone to run the adult singles and doubles division. Any volunteers? How about a husband and wife combination? There won't be any expenses involved - all medals and trophies will be paid for be paid for - and the tournament can be held anyand the time during the spring or summer at the director's convenience.

We aren't trying to run the junior, adult and mixed doubles tournaments back to back again this year. In fact, we'd rather Last year, the adults couldn't get on the courts to practice before their tournament because of the junior tournament the week before.

Trying to run a tournament with just two courts is not the easiest thing in the world to do In fact, just trying to get on a court to play even when there's not a tournament is getting difficult. The strain will certainly be relieved when the city builds their new courts. -0-

Nancy Macy has been working on getting the bids for the city courts. She reported this morning that she'd gotten the two bids necessary and would present them to the city council at their next meeting. Let's hope for some fast action by the council because tennis is such a booming business these days it takes months for the dirt and Lako people to get the job done even after they've contracted for it.

It would be grand, wouldn't it, if we could get the courts by next summer?

Our tennis team could use them right now. We don't have enough courts to participate in 'team tournaments' with other schools and that makes it difficult for them to get the experience most tennis teams need if they're to make a good

Pat entered the girl's team in a Lubbock tournament last weekend and plans to enter them in three more Lubbock tournaments during the year to get them ready for district play next spring. The district tournament in Denver City last year was the first tournament any of them had entered.

Our singles players are Lorry Chapman and Sandy Bullard. The doubles teams: Kim Hester and Sylvia Smith, Christy Davis and Becky Heaton. Cynthia Morris is an alternate

Although the girls didn't win any medals at the Lubbock tournament they played 100 per cent better than they did at the D. C. tournament. Every one of them can really pound that ol' ball and they got some seasoning.

Sandy, Christie, and Cynthia couldn't make the tournament (two out of town and one grounded!) so Becky, a doubles player, filled in at singles. She was disappointed in her performance but since she's not an experienced singles player, no one else was. Besides, if you know Becky, you know she had a great time anyway! -0-

Kim and Sylvia make a great doubles team. They're both extra sharp at the net. They ran into one of the top doubles teams in the tournaments on the first draw and it was a tough, well-fought match. They finally went down 7-6, 6-4 but I'll bet they could beat those two kids if they could just play them again tomorrow! They looked good

Lorry won her first match easily 6-9, 7-5, but the second time around she ran into a believe it or not, six-foot-tall. left-handed net rusher whom she'd never seen the likes of before. L. said she learned a lot and I think she did. They all

Timely Tips From CHDA

What do you consider when buying milk" Is it nutrition, cheeses contain more than family likes and dislikes, or purpose in the meal? These are a few things to consider With all of these considerations money can be a factor

Read the label when making your selection to be sure of what you are getting and to get the form desired whether it is fresh milk, canned milk, dry milk, or milk products such as cheese or ice cream.

What nutritional value can you expect?

Milk and milk products will give you calcium needed for strong bones and teeth to help blood to clot and to help your heart to function properly. It also furnishes protein needed for growth and ribotlavin to help cells release energy from food Fortified milk turnishes vitamin A important for normal vision and vitamin D. important for proper bone formation

What forms of milk does your family like" If they like to drink if as a beverage, if can be mixed with non-fat milk which changes the flavor very little and will be less expensive. This can help the weight watcher. To further cut cost canned mulk can be mixed with non-fat dry milk to lower cost. The weight watcher may prefer to drink chilled non-fat dry milk by

Ice cream may be bought for meals for variety. The weight watcher will get fewer calories from iced milk and still get the flavor satisfaction

Cheese can add further variety to meals. Check the weight of the cheese in comparing the cost of varieties. To cut calories select cottage and Ricotta cheeses. Neufchatel has fewer calories than cream

If it is protein son want, hard eream or neutchatel.

Does your family like certain types of dishes such as custards, macaroni and cheese. cheese dips or broccoli with cheese sauce" The type of dish will influence your purchase.

Custards are made with milk so non-fat and canned milk can cut down on the cost of this dish. You would use a natural and processed cheddar cheese in macaroni and cheese. The milder form of natural cheese ordinarily costs less money

Check the cost of different brands. You may want to use canned cheese soup as a sauce for the broccoli as a time saver.

When buying milk and milk products, you can stretch your mod dollar - even if you are considering the nutritional contribution to meals, likes and dislikes of your family, and its

Mustangs coming Friday for crucial 5AA battle

gone, the goblins and other things that go bump in the night have taken their departure, but all is not over yet - not with the No. 2 state-ranked Denver City Mustangs stampeding into Antelope Stadum Friday night.

When the referee's whistle signals for the kickoff at 7:30. two of the state's remaining undefeated and untied Class AA teams will collide in a game that might or might not decide the District 5AA championship, but one that most certainly will have a big bearing on the final

One of the biggest, if not the biggest, crowds ever to attend a game in Antelope Stadium is expected to be on hand for the pening whistle

Both Denver City and Post have waded through seven opponents, but three of the Mustangs' victories came over Class AAA opponents, which no doubt has much to do with the Big Red's No. 2 rating in both the Associated Press and United Press International selections of the top ten Class AA

The Mustangs have defeated Seminole, 12 to 7; Brownfield, 9 to 8; Kermit, 15 to 0; Crane, 29 to 0; Slaton, 14 to 7; Cooper, 30 to 6, and Frenship, 40 to 6. No team has scored more than one touchdown against them.

In comparative scores, Coach Bobby Davis' Post team holds an edge over Denver City against Siaton, having defeated the Tigers 33 to 6 as compared with the Mustangs' one-touchdown win. On the other hand, Denver City defeated Cooper by 34 points as compared to Post's seven, and beat Frenship 34 points as compared to Post's 13.

Post and Denver City have faced each other in crucial games before, but never at a time when both were undefeated. One of the only, if not the only, wins the Antelopes hold over the Mustangs came in 1966 when they defeated them 14 to 0 and went on to win the district championship.

JVs and freshmen to play Frenship there

Post's junior varsity and freshman football teams will travel to Frenship High School at Wolfforth today (Thursday) for a pair of district games, The freshman game kickoff is fact that the Antelopes are riding the crest of the best record they've ever had this far along in the season, is mounting steadily for Friday night's game, not only on the practice field, but among fans.

We hope the enthusiasm that is building up for Friday night's game carries right on up to game time, and we invite all the fans to wie d the high school pep rally at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the high school gym," Coach Davis said

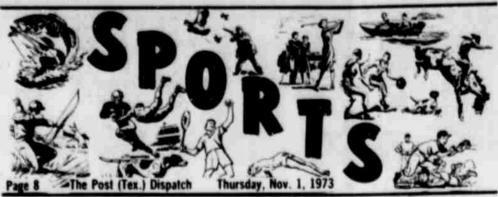

The only note of gloom discernible in the Antelope camp this week is that a few of the players have had strep throat, but all appeared to be better Tuesday and are expected to be ready Friday night. The coach also reported that hard-running halfback David Conoly had the "bug" the first of the week, with 104 degrees of fever, but had showed marked improvement by workout time Tuesday afternoon

Senior end Ricky Shepherd. who missed two games after injuring an ankle against Cooper, will be available Friday night, the coach said. On offense. Denver City will start a backfield of either Gary

In the offensive line will be: Ricky Lehnert, 170-pound sophomore, at center; Buster Rich, 170-pound senior, and Bryan Lambeth, 176-pound senior, at guards: Tommy Hicks, 170pound senior, and Milton Minchew, 172-pound senior, at tackles, and Rodney Young, 190-pound senior, and Dale Allen, 185-pound senior, at the end positions

Defensively, the Mutangs are expected to start Travis Lowe, 160-pound senior, at nose guard; Hicks and Rich at tackles, Young and Roddy Murray, 155-pound sophomore, at ends; Lambeth and Minchew at linebackers; Carson and Rodney Deaton, 140-pound senior, at cornerbacks, and Shores and Allen at halfbacks.

7th, 8th grade divides pair with Frenship

Post and Frenship junior high gridders broke even in games here Tuesday evening, the local 8th graders winning, 20 to 0, but the 7th graders losing, 24 to 0

Ed Reece returned the opening kickoff 80 yards for a ouchdown to get Coach Jackie Brownd's 8th grade team off to flying start in their game.

Reece's touchdown was all the scoring in the first half, but Randy Baker put Post further ahead in the third period with a 35-yard touchdown gallop, and Kohen Josey went five yards for another Post score in the final quarter. Brad Shepherd ran over the extra points following Josey's touchdown

The Post victory evened the two-game series with Frenship. the Tigers having won the first game, 22 to 14

Coach Don Black's 7th grade team had trouble mounting any kind of an offense in their 24-0 loss to Frenship, with the visitors scoring in every quar-scholastic League's district realignment did not affect District 5AA, it did bring about a big change in the Post Antelopes' 1974 football schedule, with Coahoma and Colorado City scheduled to replace Ralls and Idalou.

Post will play Coanoma at Coahoma on Sept 13 and Colorado City at Post on Sept 27. Other non-conference games will be the season opener with Lockney on the latter's field Sept. 6, and Floydada at Post on Sept. 20.

Coahoma has been a Class AA power in districts to the south ever since it went up to AA classification several years ago, and this season is in contention with Reagan County (Big Lake) for the District 7AA championship.

Only one absentee vote has been cast at the county clerk's office here in the election, with the absentee voting period to cort Friday, Nov. 2.

Creating almost as much interest in Garza County as any of the nine proposed amendments is the fact that next Tuesday's election will be the last ones held at the Verbena and Pleasant Valley voting boxes. The county commissioner's court voted Aug. 27 to

Attractive Nuisances

When children come to visit, chances are you feel a sense of responsibility for their safety. But suppose a child comes onto your premises without permission or, perhaps, when you are not even home. Could you be held legally liable in case he gets

Indeed you can, under the 'attractive -nuisance doctrine" now in force in most states. This dectrine says you may be re-sponsible for having something hazardous on your property that a child is not likely to see and

As the name implies, the bazard must be one which youngsters would ordinarily find at

One case involved a tree house in a family's back yard, where neighboring children often came to play. The tree house was wobbly, and one day a youthful climber lost his footing and suf-fered a bad fall.

Even though the parents were not home at the time of the accident, a court subsequently held them liable. The court said they should have realized, with a hazard so alluring to children, that they were inviting trouble.

Furthermore, the thing must be not only attractive but also a nuisance—that is, faulty in some

In another case, a boy was injured when he fell off an old couch in a neighbor's garage. But there was nothing wrong with the couch. It was therefore not an attractive nuisance, a court ruled later, and the householder did not have to pay damages.

Of course, the age of the victim is an important element in the situation. Courts have frequently turned down claims of children over 12, saying they were old enough to have recog-nized and avoided the particular hazard that brought them to

Nor does the law expect a nome owner to spend major sums of money to clear away minor dangers. It is not his duty, as one judge put it, to make his

Arousing the most interest among the nine proposed amendments is No. 1, which would provide for annual regular sessions of the Legislature and provide an annual salary of $15,000 and a per diem of $18 for members of the Legislature, effective January

The other propositions are as follows:

Proposition 2 - An amendment to include within scope of homestead protection real property of a single adult person which meets other requirements of homestead property, and to provide a family homestead may not be abandoned except with consent of both spouses.

Proposition 3 - An amendment to extend the $3,000 ad valorem tax exemption to the homesteads of unmarried adult persons.

Proposition 4 - An amendment providing for notice to and approval or disapproval by cities and counties of creation of conservation and reclamation districts and by requiring compliance with certain general district laws.

Proposition 5 - An amendment authorizing counties and cities bordering Gulf of Mexico to issue bonds for construction of seawalls and breakwaters upon a vote of a majority of resident taxpayers voting in an election.

Proposition 6 - An amendment granting district courts the general jurisdiction of a probate court in addition to the jurisdiction otherwise conferred on it by law in probate proceedings, and, to authorize the legislature to adjust the jurisdiction of the courts in probate matters, to adopt rules for such courts relating to probate matters, and to provide or appeals in probate matters. Proposition 7 - An amendment to provide for an additional $100 million in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the Veterans Land Fund.

Proposition 8 - An amendment to authorize and require cities, towns, and villages to levy ad valorem taxes sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on their general obligations hereinafter issued, subject to restrictions by law.

Proposition 9 - An amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt certain water supply corporations and cooperativees from the property tax on certain facilities

Beat the Big Red!!

DENVER CITY MUSTANGS

Friday, Night, Nov. 2 -- Antelope Stadium 7:30 P.M. KICKOFF

Post has never hosted a football game quite like this one between two unbeaten district rivals. Both were not undefeated in 1966 when the 'Lopes scored a 14-0 win and went on to the district crown. Neither was Denver City rated No. 2 in the state's Class AA ratings that year. Rather, the Antelopes were an early pick and were in and out state rankings most of the year. Coach Bobby Davis' club has really surprised this year, a hustling crew of sophomores blending with some senior standouts and the juniors to play tough all the way, come up with the "big plays" when absolutely needed, and to improve from game to game. Poised, confident and with no injuries the 'Lopes know this one is going to be the "big one" of the season to date with a surprise shot at the district crown laid on the line.

'miss' another meeting

With the shape things have been getting into in the last several months. The Dispatch considers it more important than ever that the people know what is going on at every level of government - and that includes their city government

The Dispaich publisher and editor have spent hour after hour ever since the newspaper's present management took over in 1957 in an effort to get first-hand information on city. school and county matters. We don't like second-hand information, no matter how reliable, because we feel we owe it to our readers to report everything that can be and that needs to be reported when there is a meeting of the city council, the school board and the county commissioners court

In recent months, the city council has held a number of special meetings of which this newspaper was not notified in advance and, for that reason, not represented at the meetings.

We don't like it

We feel that if a called meeting of the city council is not an executive meeting, we should be notified of it in advance and given an opportunity to attend and report what goes on, including not only the decisions reached by the council, but the background of the issues on which those decisions are reached.

Such a meeting was held last Friday on the important issue of establishing an emergency ambulance service for the community. The Dispatch editor was called by the mayor after the meeting was over and told of the decision reached by the council.

The editor was also told that he could call the city secretary to get the precise wording of the motion approved by the city, and that he could call the individuals offering the emergency ambulance service to get the terms of their proposal and other pertinent information

If The Dispatch had been represented at this meeting, as it should have been and would have been if it had been notified, its representative would have been able to get the information he needed, to pass on to the public, without having to "backtrack" and call the city secretary and the ambulance men.

If this had been the first time such a thing had happened, we might easily overlook it. But it is not the first time

To our knowledge, this newspaper has never done anything to betray the public trust it owes its readers in such matters, nor anything to betray the city council's trust

We believe that such practices of not notifying the newspaper of called meetings serves no earthly good as far as the city council is concerned. It certainly does not gain them the confidence of this newspaper, and we do not believe it gains them the confidence of our readers

It does, however, make us feel that the city council has no confidence in us as far as our ability to report the news is concerned. It also leaves the council wide open to the suspicion that just maybe there is some of the news about the public's business that it may not want the public to know about. - JC and CD

Texas for a new rural

A cheerful outlook as far as rural Texas is concerned was projected at the Governor's Conference on Rural Development in Austin last week, with our own county Extension Service agent, Syd Conner, among those in attendance.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, keynoting the event attended by 2,000 state farm leaders, said present conditions furnish an unusual opportunity for Texas farmers, ranchmen and allied industry to develop worldwide markets

The Governor painted a picture of a "new rural Texas" with prosperous people and flourishing towns.

Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, added to the optimism by noting that growth trends in the last four years indicate Texas farm output may put it first among states by 1980 with an income exceeding $8 billion. That would double the present income, which is third among states.

Such rural prosperity would benefit more than rural Texas, as pointed out by Dallas County Judge W. L. Sterrett. "Metropolitan areas need rural people more than ever, and you need us," he said. "Texas is not only going to be called on to feed our own people but the entire world.

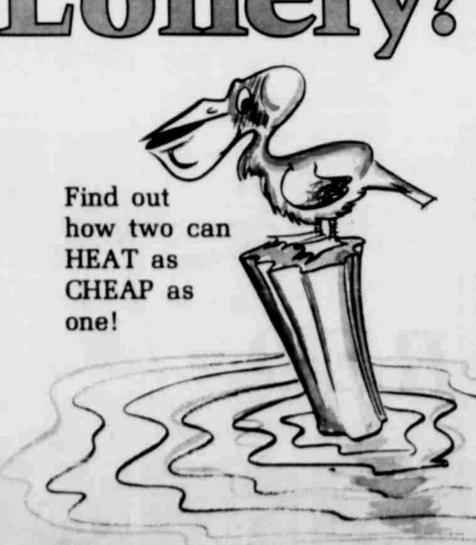

All of Texas indeed needs farm prosperity With oil reserves declining and industrial growth being questioned and challenged, the increased production of farm products becomes more critical than ever

Wih greater market demands worldwide for these products, it is time for farm producers to turn away from the old policies of acreage controls and government price supports, and to enter the new era of free and prosperous

Our contemporaries say . . .

Politicians, editorial writers and others unblushingly refer to our country as "this great nation." No doubt it is a great nation, and we have every reason to be proud of it. But couldn't we be just quietly proud, as we are of our own personal achievements, without bragging about it so much? And work just a little harder to make the description true, even if we don't shout it so loud and so often? - Red Bluff (Calif.) News.

-0-Years ago our Economics professor told his class that "Expenses always rise to meet income." Were he to speak today, he might modify the statement to say that expenses always rise to exceed income, whether it be in the household, the schools or other governmental branches. - Jefferson (Ohio) Gazette.

While we're waiting on the Big Red machine, I'm wonder ing what Post has to do to make the top ten among Class AA teams in the AP and UPI ratings. Denver City has been ranked No. 2 for several weeks now, so I suppose the Antelopes are going to have to knock them off their perch for us to get the attention of the pollsters -0-

ACTUALLY, THOUGH, Post should have been in the top ten before this Roosevelt was ranked No. 10 one week, but their stock dropped when they lost to Littlefield by a score of 27 to 0. That, in itself, should have put the 'Lopes way up there, since they had beaten Floydada, 14 to 7, and Floydada had edged Littlefield, 7 to 6-all before Littlefield toppled Roos-

Then, too, the Antelopes beat Slaton, 33 to 6, which was 20 points more than Denver City scored over the same team the week before in beating them 14

THE POLLSTERS probably don't think the Post Antelopes are "for real," but I think they will after Friday night. -0-

SOME TIME AGO, a reader sent me a copy of a page from Scratch Ankle, U.S.A." by Myron J. Quimby. Since the reader sent just one copied page of the book. I'm not sure. but it evidently is a book of unusual town names, similar to Tanner Laine's "What's in a Name " Anyhow, the page the reader sent me had this about Justiceburg, which I hadn't seen anywhere else:

Justiceburg, in southeastern Garza County on the south branch of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River. became a trading point on the J. D. Justice Ranch about 1907. It was a station on the railroad about 1910, and a post office in 1914. A little poetry gives a clue to its name

'Living Bible' scheduled in new edition

The Living Bible, America's current bestseller, is now to be released in a Catholic edition. The announcement was made public this week by Father Albert J. Nevins, Editor-in-chief and Director of Publishing of Our Sunday Visitor. The imprimatur was given to the Catholic edition by The Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley, D.D., Ordinary of the Diocese of Fort Wayne -South Bend

The Living Bible was proclaimed as America's No. 1 nonfiction bestseller in 1972. and is selling substantially faster this year than last, according to Tyndale House and Doubleday, the Living Bible's major publishers. Eight million copies are now in print after two years. More than a million of these were used by Billy Graham in connection with his national television programs.

Our Sunday Visitor is currently co-publisher with Tyndale House on the Catholic edition of The Way, a paperback youth edition of The Living Bible.

Experts believe the phenomenal sales of The Living Bible are due to its unique accuracy and readability. Father Keith Clark, O. F. M. Cap. in his preface to the new Catholic edition states, "Most readers of the Bible who choose this translation will be looking for spirit and life from the Word of God. We rejoice in our chance to encourage and help those who approach the Scriptures for this reason. We caution those who wish to engage in style."
