Community Action local financing may develop

Federal funding to end March 1

President Nixon's impounding of funds through executive order will end federal financing of Garza County's successful Community Action program March 1 but the county commissioners court and Mayor Giles C. McCrary this week indicated interest in the possibility of local financing for the project.

First reports from the South Plains Community Action Association in Levelland indicate that federal funds are still available for many of the community action projects but that the association has not been "refunded" for the administrative costs of community action programs in 14 South Plains counties working through the association.

Jim Cornish president of the Garza County Community Action Committee has called a special board of directors meeting for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night, Feb. 20 at the Lorenzo Alexander Neighborhood Center to consider what steps, if any, the directors can take to continue programs now under way or in the planning stage.

John Moody of Levelland, the South Plains Community Action Association contact with the local board, will be present to report on all developments.

Mrs. Sue Shytles, director of the neighborhood center and a federally paid employe of Community Action, was notified last Friday of the presidential impoundment of funds which pointed to the end of such operations on the South Plains March 1.

County ups tax rate; nixes 2 salary hikes

In two major actions of interest, the Garza County Commissioners Court Monday boosted the county tax rate for 1973 from 80 cents per $100 valuation to 95 cents and rejected by a split 3-2 vote the recommendations of the county grievance committee for five per cent salary hikes for the sheriff and four hours of weekly secretarial help for County Attorney Preston Poole.

The tax boost, back to the legal limit, was made so that the return from the increase could retire the county's share of the new law enforcement complex cost in the next three years.

In another action Monday, the court voted unanimously to award the First National Bank of Post the contract for two years to serve as the depository for county funds. County Judge Dalby, a bank director, did not participate in consideration of the contract or cast a vote. In other actions, the court voted not to participate in chemical control programs for the eradication of predatory animals.

Voted to pay the lodging of all county employes while on official county business outside Garza (See Tax Hikes, page 8)

Tidwell Fund continues to grow; dance slated

The Tuffy Tidwell Fund, to raise medical and hospital expense money for the four-year-old boy recently stricken with a rare kidney disease, totaled $395 in donations yesterday with a benefit dance coming up Saturday night sure to add a substantial additional amount.

The $395 includes the original

$100 with which the Post Jaycees opened the fund at the bank here last Thursday, and a $25 club donation voted by Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday.

Not yet included in the total is a $100 contribution to the fund by Gamma Mu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

The benefit dance is scheduled at the Hitching Post with the Texas Swingsters donating their musical efforts for the cause. Every penny of the $4 per couple admission price will go into the Tidwell fund. Joe and Sue Scott, who operate The Hitching Post, told The Dispatch.

To date $350 have been withdrawn from the fund to be applied to Tuffy's hospital and medical ex-

Chamber pushing ticket sale for annual banquet

An all-out ticket sale for the upcoming Post Chamber of Commerce annual banquet next Thursday night is being launched today by directors of the civic organization. Tickets also are available at both the Chamber office and at the First National Bank.

W. B. Harris Jr. of Lubbock, director of development of the Texas Tech University Medical School Foundation, will be the featured speaker and tell what the new medical school will mean to the future of this West Texas area.

Syd Wyatt, minister of the Post Church of Christ, is master of ceremonies for the 7:30 p.m. affair in the Post Community Center. (See CofC Banquet, page 8)

Cub Scouts' Blue and Gold banquet Friday

The Cub Scout Pack's annual Blue and Gold banquet is to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 16, in the school lunchroom.

Cub Scouts are asked to turn their genius gifts in to their den mother by the day of the banquet. Mothers of the Cub Scouts are being asked to bring dessert for the meal.

Nazarene church has new pastor

The Rev. Philip Daniels and wife, Alma, have moved from Wellington, Tex., to Post where he is new pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, replacing the Rev. Tommie Davis, who resigned several weeks ago to become pastor of the Trinity Church of the Nazarene in Borger.

The Rev. Mr. Daniels was pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington for three and a half years. A graduate of the North West Nazarene College in Nampa (See New Pastor, page 8)

FIRST PLACE WINNER AND RUNNERS-UP

Jana McKamie (center), sponsored by the twirlers, won first place in the Future Homemakers of America's 1973 Valentine Sweetheart Contest Saturday night. Crystal Nichols (left), sponsored by the band, and Willie Harper, sponsored by the pep squad, were runners-up.

Jana McKamie, 15, takes first place in annual contest

Bringing down the house with her twirling routine to the tune of "Thoroughly Modern Millie," blonde 15-year-old Jana McKamie, a sophomore, won the Valentine Sweetheart title in the Future Homemakers of America's annual contest Saturday night in the primary school auditorium.

Jana was sponsored by the high school twirlers, of which group she is a member. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy McKamie.

Runners-up to the winner were Crystal Nichols, sponsored by the high school band, and Willie Harper, sponsored by the pep squad. Crystal's talent presentation was the reading of a poem, "Believe in Yourself" by Edgar A. Guest, and Willie sang, "The First Time I Saw Your Face."

The out-of-town judges selected seven finalists from among the 21 contestants. The finalists besides the three winners and their sponsors were: Phyllis Eckols, paper staff; Nancy Reno, Post Antelopes; Patricia Bilberry, FFA Greenhands, and Sylvia Smith, annual staff.

Phyllis played two piano solos as her talent presentation; Nancy sang, "Once I Had a Secret Love," Patricia sang, "Happiness Is," and Sylvia presented a monologue.

The other contestants and their sponsors were: Jennifer Miller, freshman class; Melanie King, sophomore class; Daria Baker, junior class; Jan Bilbo, senior class; Pam Feagin, Post Does; Stella Torres, cheerleaders; Gaynell King, Letterman's Club; Dana Pool, Science & Math Club; Sue Cowdrey, Fellowship of Christian Athletes; Becki Dalby, FFA chapter; Sherill Guichard, student council; Debbie Ledbetter, Drama Club, and Lee Ann Williams, choir.

"Put a Little Love in Your Heart" was the theme song of the contest. It was sung by Mrs. Sharyn Birchfield, accompanied by George M. Willson. Other songs in keeping with the theme were also sung by Mrs. Birchfield, Mrs. Margie Pennell and the "Top Twenty."

Casey Jones, disc jockey for a Lubbock radio station, was master of ceremonies. Janet Childs, president of the FFA chapter, gave the welcome address.

Randy Kennedy, FHA beau, presented bouquets to Miss McKamie and the two runners-up.

Background music for the contest was by Miss Alice Harris and Jan Burkett.

CofC secretary here resigning

The resignation of Mrs. Wynone Kennedy as Post Chamber of Commerce secretary, effective March 5, was announced at the final monthly board meeting of the Chamber's board of directors in the Drover House Restaurant Wednesday noon.

Mrs. Kennedy, who has served as Chamber secretary for the last two years, is taking a position in the city office here March 5 on shorter hours which will enable her to spend the afternoons with her five-year-old son.

Chamber directors voted a sincere commendation to Mrs. Kennedy for the efficient and enthusiastic way she has operated the Chamber office these last two years.

FIRST STEP TAKEN

Abolishment of county school office approved

The Garza County Commissioners court voted unanimously by resolution Monday approving the abolishment of the office of Garza County school superintendent as one of the essential requirements before a special bill is introduced in the current session of the legislature by Rep. E. L. Short of Tahoka to do away with the office.

The county school board also must approve the step by resolution of both the Post and Southland independent school districts before the legislation can be introduced, according to Rep. Short.

A draft of the proposed special bill and detailed information may be seen at the office of the county judge, the county school superintendent, and those of the superintendents of the Post and Southland school districts.

Dean Robinson, the county school superintendent who has held that position for the last 39 years without ever drawing an election opponent, told The Dispatch yesterday: "It's all right with me."

The state pays the salary of the county superintendent and all the county furnishes a telephone and office space.

Robinson plans to retire if the office is abolished after 58 years as a school man, all of them spent in Garza County since 1926.

He was superintendent of the Close City Independent School District for eight years before taking office as county school superintendent on Jan. 1, 1935.

Robinson is entitled to retirement pay from the state after his long years of school service.

PLANS FOR EVENT WELL UNDER WAY

The 1973 Garza County Fair will be held March 8, 9 and 10 at the 4-H Building. The home demonstration clubs and council have been busy getting things ready and making plans for an exciting fair, according to Mrs. Dana Feaster, county Extension Agent.

Each year the fair is sponsored by the home demonstration clubs, but it is open to the entire population of the county. The executive fair committee members, Della Davis, chairman; Rene Fluit, Faye Payton and Viva Davis, are urging everyone to enter something in one or all of the divisions. Awards will be given to each deserving entry in the nine divisions—clothing, canning, flowers, handiwork, crafts, antiques, art and agricultural products.

Rosettes are given to the organization or club whose members win the greatest number of points; to the individual of a club winning the greatest number of points; and to the non-club member winning the most points.

All youth organizations are encouraged to set up an educational booth. A rosette will be awarded

Noah Stone sells auto businesses after 34 years

Noah W. Stone, who has operated the Post Auto Supply at 114 South Ave. I here for the last 34 years, last Thursday sold his auto parts business to Jimmy Sharp and his body shop to Dave Cheshire.

Both will continue their respective business operations at the same location and Sharp will conduct his auto parts business under the same name, Post Auto Supply.

Stone, who opened Post Auto Parts in 1939, didn't want to comment on future plans but indicated he is looking forward to an "active retirement."

Announcement ads by both Stone and Sharp on the business change appear on page 8 of today's Dispatch.

Stone will spend the first 30 days after the sale helping Sharp, an experienced auto mechanic, get acclimated to the auto parts business.

Stone told The Dispatch he wanted to thank his many customers for their patronage through the years. Sharp said he wanted to invite every one of them, plus everybody else, to trade with him and receive the same fine service Stone has offered.

Sharp finished high school here and is married to the former Betty Jo Hill. They have two sons, Jeff, 5, and Brad, 6. He has worked as an auto mechanic for Ford agencies here and in both Slaton and Levelland and with Lucas Chevrolet-Olds.

Cheshire has operated the body shop for Stone for over the last 20 years and will now be an independent business man in continuation of the shop's operation.

Criminal Justice group will meet

The district courtroom at the Garza County courthouse will be the scene at 2 o'clock this afternoon of a meeting of the Criminal Justice Planning Committee of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG).

The problems and needs in law enforcement, courts, and corrections for the South Plains region will be the main topic of discussion at this regular monthly meeting of the committee. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Mrs. Ruby Williams is the local representative on the planning committee and not Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, as was erroneously stated in last Thursday's Dispatch. Mrs. Newby is a member of the Criminal Justice Council.

New 'revolution' in Texas lawmaking

A new "revolution" in Texas lawmaking has begun in the current session of the state legislature in Austin. But it is only started. It is far too early to attempt to foresee the final gains which will come from it.

The "revolution" began at the polls last November. Reacting to the stock fraud scandals and other "shady deals" uncovered in their wake, the voters turned a whole lot of the state's ranking politicians and legislators out to pasture and sent almost — but not quite — a whole new political team to Austin this winter to see what could be done in cleaning up the mess.

A lot of it has been started in the lower house.

In the first month of the session no less than six reform bills have passed the house by big majorities, and other are now on the calendar for consideration.

Already through the house, besides the constitutional revision commission, are bills to curb the power of conference committee in compromise talks on taxing and spending bills, a bill to revise present law in opening all meetings of governmental bodies to the public, in giving newsmen privilege against disclosure of confidential information, and in regulation of lobbying activities.

Ready for action soon in the house is an "open records" bill and not too far behind it is a new code of ethics commission measure.

All this followed a reorganization of the house in which committee assignments were fairly and proportionately made and the power of the speaker curbed, which was something of a complete turn-around and should be credited to new House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., who also advocates only one term for the house speaker.

All this "democracy in action" so slowed down house procedures that veteran state-house newsmen began wandering in print whether the legislative process could accomplish anything without a bit of whip cracking.

But all this doesn't mean that the "revolution" has been successful.

The senate is yet to act on any of these bills and the state senate is somewhat less tuned to current public demands than the house.

It is going to be more difficult to get all these reforms through the senate. But it appears obvious that many of the reforms are going to make it in the end, at least to some extent.

It is pretty essential, with a new state constitution about to be debated and decided upon, that the new reform bills first make it all the way to the governor's desk for his signature.

The lobbyists are all howling about the house's new lobbying control bill which Speaker Daniel calls "the best lobby regulation bill ever passed by a legislative body in the entire nation."

The lobbyists are calling it "the lobbyists' retirement bill" and the "Dutch lunch bill" because they will no longer be able to supply legislators with free food and drink in return for desired favors. Lobbyists would even have to report all loans or gifts of over $50 to legislators.

Let's face it. Texas has had the reputation of having a legislature "run" by the lobbyists.

If this bill can get through the senate and signed into law, there is hope ahead.

Keep your eyes on Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Voter. You started something down there when you voted in November. Let's try to take it all the way by supporting this series of reform bills.

The hard fights are ahead in the senate. You can't vote right now, but you can write. Don't lose interest. Keep after them.—JC

Constitutional revision a big test

The eruption of Texas voters in the November election to the stock fraud scandals sent a lot of new and vigorous legislators to Austin last month.

Now in progress [see other editorial] is one of the greatest "revolutions" in lawmaking in this state's history.

Voters will do well to keep their eyes peeled on the state capital for the next year, however, as they also approved the first overhaul of the Texas constitution in its history last November.

The stakes are very high in this one. Lobbying groups will be adroitly trying to maneuver favorable passages into the new document while the state is embroiled in what we predict to be a real hassle over the revision.

Briefly, this is where constitutional revision now stands if you haven't kept up with it.

The legislature has authorized the appointment of a 37-member constitutional revision commission to make its recommendations to the state legislature which will convene next year as a constitutional convention and make the big decision.

The legislation has voted some $900,000 for use by the commission to conduct its studies in coming up with its recommendations, which must be completed by Nov. 1, 1973.

This money will go to per diem pay to the commission members and to adequately staff the study commission so it can come up with the information needed upon which to make its recommendations.

A six-member committee headed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe will be empowered to pick the study commission, but a majority vote of both houses of the legislature could reject their selections.

The other five members are Lt. Gov. Bill

Hobby, Atty. Gen. John Hill, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John Onion Jr.

Legislators already have made it clear they want the commission "to be fairly and equitably representative of sexes, ethnic, social and economic groups and geographic regions."

If Texas comes out of this next year with a fair, 20th century constitution we should feel well blessed.

Therefore, it is important that the voting public keep abreast of each and every development. Constitutional revision will be the supreme test of Texas political processes.

Vast change is sure to come in many governmental fields. Many obviously are needed. But only if the voting electorate stays aware of the high stakes, all the arguments, and considers each and every change—and the grassroots sentiment flows back to the legislature in 1974 after the study commission has come up with its recommendations—can we feel secure that the best possible effort for appropriate change has been made.

The Dispatch is a small weekly newspaper. But we will do our best to see that our reading public is thoroughly informed and we shall be active in trying to see that the vast news media of the state does the same.

Never again will "the mail to Austin" be so important as over this question of constitutional revision, because the result is sure to shape Texas for decades to come.

It has taken decades to mount this effort for constitutional revision. It is now at hand. The months ahead will indeed be interesting.

Since we all have a very big stake in the results, let us do our part by keeping not only informed but in "reacting" to the recommendations as they are made.—JC

Piggly Wiggly buys 4-H and FFA beef

Piggly Wiggly purchased over 12 tons of 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America champion and show beef at the 1973 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, it was announced by E. W. Keeling, president of Shop Rite Foods, owners and operators of 169 Piggly Wiggly Supermarkets in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The total weight of the beef purchased by Piggly Wiggly was 25,620 pounds. The purchases, which were made Jan. 30 at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, totaled $15,052.75, for 25 cattle shown by members of 4-H clubs and FFA groups from communities in East, West and North Central Texas. Monies received by the young club members for their animals will go largely for higher education for these students.

Keeling said, "Piggly Wiggly takes pride each year in participating in and supporting the activities of 4-H and FFA groups throughout Texas and FFA groups. We indeed consider it a privilege."

SOMEONE ASKED me the other day why I always sit here at my desk in The Dispatch office with my hat on. That's a good question. My answer to the nosey one was that "it's just a habit, I guess"—which really isn't the answer at all.

What I should have told him was that it's my own business why I wear my hat when I work, but I didn't think of that until after he was gone, which is another of my troubles—thinking too late of what I should have said.

I'VE BEEN WORKING on newspapers for a long time and I've always worn my hat when I'm at my typewriter or working at the copy desk. I always take off my hat when I go into the back shop to help out on the typesetting machine or make-up or folder or something else. I don't take it off in respect to the printers back there, but just because it wouldn't look right sitting around or wandering around in the back shop with your hat on.

I could have told that nosey fellow that the reason I wear my hat while I work is because if the place should catch fire and I needed to get out in a hurry, I wouldn't have to look around for my hat. But that wouldn't have been the right answer either.

I SUPPOSE IT all boils down to the fact that I inherited my hat-wearing habit from an older relative who owned a small cross-roads store in the hills of western Arkansas. He was one of the Hemphills, and he had his hat on all the time he was in his store, whether he was just sitting around shooting the breeze, or whether he was up waiting on a customer, which wasn't often.

Some folks who never saw this relative of mine except when they came into his store to buy something (usually on credit) have been heard to say that he didn't even take off his hat when he went to bed. Now I know that was an untruth, because I've had occasion to spend the night in this relative's house, and with my own eyes I saw him take off his hat before he got into bed.

THIS PARTICULAR Hemphill was much too practical a man to sleep with his hat on. He knew sleeping in hats was hard on them and that hats cost money. I couldn't swear that he took his shoes off before going to bed the few nights I spent in his house, but then sleeping in your shoes is just hard on your feet—not on your shoes.

This relative of mine was a pretty shrewd fellow most of the time, despite the fact that he was a fourth grade dropout and had even been heard to brag about it. I well recall the time that two Fort Smith counterfeiters with a talented but stupid engraver found themselves with a large quantity of almost-perfect bills on their hands. The trouble was they were all $18 bills.

THE CROOKS decided to go far back into the hill country to dispose of the bills because "nobody up there sees much money." They headed straight for my relative's store, flashed one of the $18 bills on him and talked him into changing it. "How do you want it?" he asked. "Would two sevens and a four be all right?"

But then this relative of mine could also be thick-headed on occasions. Such as the time an artist wandered far up into the hills and offered him two dollars to let him paint him. Hemphill hesitated for awhile. "It's easy money," prompted the artist. "Sure yer right," was the reply. "I was jus' thinkin' as how I'd get the paint off afterwards."

SOMEHOW OR other, I've always been just a little bit proud of my relationship to the Hemphills of western Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma.

The man up the street says there are few people fast enough to keep up with their good intentions.

SCIENCE HAS brought us some really exciting new inventions. I list here but a few of the more important ones:

A knife that can cut four loaves of bread at the same time; it's called a four-loaf cleaver.

A dog food that tastes like a postman's leg.

Plastic song sheets for people who sing in the shower.

Round mailboxes for circular letters.

A special hair cream. It doesn't grow hair—it shrinks your head to fit the hair you've got.

A woman who wears shoes that fit her probably couldn't find anything in her size.

The March of Dimes was organized in 1938.

Decline seen in oil production

AUSTIN—While Texas oil production was at an all-time high last year, it didn't keep pace with energy demands, and a decline is forecast for 1973.

A University of Texas "Business Review" article cites early need for a deep-water port to handle energy imports for nuclear power plants. Dependence on foreign imports, writes UT's Dr. Francis B. May in the article, should be temporary.

May also suggests tackling problems of shale oil production, increasing on-and-off shore drilling and solving environmental disadvantages of coal.

State historical survey committee officers installed

AUSTIN — Newly inaugurated officers of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee—the state agency for historical preservation—are Clifton Caldwell, president; Phillip Bowen, vice president; and Mrs. Frank M. Covert III, secretary. They were elected at the October 1972 annual meeting of the Survey Committee and officially took office for two-year terms on Jan. 26, 1973.

Caldwell, a rancher and investor in Albany, Tex., is also a director of the Fort Griffin Fandangle and a member of the Hardin-Simmons University Board of Development and the Philosophical Society of Texas.

An El Paso attorney for the past three years, Bowen is associated with the law firm of Travis C. Johnson and is a member of the American Bar Association. He holds an LL.B. Degree from the University of Houston.

Mrs. Covert, the former Martha Woods, is a member of the board of the Settlement Club of Austin. She is also former vice president of the board of Goodwill Industries of Austin and former chairman of the Advisory Planning Committee of the Junior League.

LIBRARY LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER

Ira Levin is a devilish man. If you don't believe me, look at his picture on the book jacket of his latest novel "The Stepford Wives". Heavy black eyebrows overhang a pointed face which has a sharp nose thrusting out of the shadows. You know, by looking at him, that this is a face that plots evil.

He plotted it beautifully in his second novel "Rosemary's Baby". That chilling tale concerned a young woman giving birth to a most unusual child. The premise was ridiculous (I hope!) but it was so well done it was quite believable.

Now he's done it again. What, you're not quite sure, but watching him do it will scare you to death.

"The Stepford Wives" concerns the trials and terrors of Joanna Enright. She and her husband have moved to the suburb of Stepford with their two small children. It's a quiet little town with friendly people. The only disturbing note is the provincialism of the wives. They don't seem to know that there is a Women's Liberation movement going.

Joanna is a smart girl, talented (she is a semi-professional photographer) and interested in getting the wives together for some intellectual stimulation. Her efforts go for nothing.

She does find a friend or two who think like she. They care little for housework, marvel at the docility of the Stepford Wives, and even wonder if there is something chemical in the water that tranquilizes the women of the town into nonstop housekeepers.

After a few months, Joanna realizes that whatever keeps the Stepford wives in subjugation, may very well be catching. One by one the few women who were exceptions to the rule undergo a transformation. They too become homebodies, interested only in making their husbands happy. Joanna begins to suspect foul play, and somehow or other the Stepford Husbands, meeting almost nightly at the Men's Association, must have something to do with it.

Mr. Levin is good at building suspense. Enough clues are scattered to make us suspect the worst, but when he gets to the nitty-gritty of his story, he pulls the curtain down and lets you guess what happened.

This will probably irritate some readers, and cause others to speculate several possible theories as to what really was going on. Through it all you will probably have a lot of fun shuddering with Joanna and maybe even ask yourself the deeper question "Is there a future for marriage, or is it a battlefield with only a brief truce now and then?"

Whatever you think of "The Stepford Wives", the author will continue to smile at you with a devilish smirk. He's enjoying himself — no doubt about it. But I offer a warning to the ladies—I don't think you'd like being married to him!

If you have something to sell, a Dispatch classified ad is your best bargain.

GAS Central AIR Conditioning

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out—so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

Call one of our air conditioning specialists this week — before the summer market becomes really active. He'll make a free, no obligation, survey of your home and give you a quotation on the cool investment.

New home found for special school

Bryan J. Williams has offered the use of his business building at 601 South Broadway rent free for use by the Post School for Special Children, if the school loses its present location in an apartment rented by the Garza County Community Action Agency.

Federal funds have been cut off for community action administrative costs, including rental and upkeep, as of March 1.

The board of directors of the school, under Chairman Margaret Price, met Monday night to consider the offer.

If local funding of community action does not keep the current site available, directors agreed to move to Williams' business building, originally built for the Shell Pipeline Co.

The school has a state-paid instructor and currently a class of six boys and girls.

Mrs. Price pointed out that new sources of funds would have to be secured to pay utility costs if the move is made. It was suggested that application be made for such funds at least on a temporary basis from the special emergency fund of the Garza County United Fund organization.

Graham group sings songs for area shut-ins

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
A group of women from Graham and one from Close City went to the Twin Cedar home Monday afternoon and sang several songs. Later, they went to Mrs. Bertha Hill's home and sang two songs for her and visited awhile.

The Payroll Savings Plan makes the end of the rainbow more than just a dream.

There really is an end of the rainbow. It's not the gold-filled-pot variety, and it's not something-for-nothing.

But join the Payroll Savings Plan and see what we mean. Automatically, an amount you specify is withheld from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

You'll be surprised how much you can save. It's like the end of the rainbow because when the Bonds mature you have all that you've saved, plus interest.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. It's a practical way to put hard cash at the end of the rainbow.

Now it's time to pay 2 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 4 years. It's a practical way to put hard cash at the end of the rainbow.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds mature in less than six years.

Garza County Agent

A SENSITIVE BUSINESS
"American agriculture is a sensitive business. The prices of food often reflect the risks producers have had to take to get it to your table," according to Dean H. O. Kunkel, College of Agriculture at Texas A&M University.

"In 1973 we can control a few more of these risks than say 10 years ago, but economic ruin is still the reward of many," Kunkel said. "Whether crop or livestock, the producer for a period of many months must continue to invest heavily without knowing whether he'll even get his money back, let alone make a profit. Disease, insects or bad weather can wipe him out."

"A good example is this year's unusually severe winter. Prices of beef and some other agricultural products will likely increase due to the prolonged bad weather."

Kunkel says that this severe weather caused a sharp rise in the cost of feed and resulted in poor livestock gains. This will likely cause higher retail beef prices in the spring and summer.

However, a good crop year in 1973 is forecast due to excellent moisture conditions. This may lead to a bumper harvest next summer and an easing of pressure on feed supplies.

A series of events caused the severe feed shortage, says Kunkel. Unusually cold weather with rain or snow covered Texas and several other states. And it started nearly a month earlier than usual. This caused ranchers to feed heavily to protect herds from loss. Cold, cloudy weather also reduced the growth of winter pastures, so important to cattle in many parts of the state. Then the extended bitter weather caused an estimated 150,000 cattle deaths in our state. Many of these were cows and calves. This will affect supply of stockers and feeders.

The early winter also played havoc with harvest of the 1972 crop. It is estimated that about one-third of the cotton on the High Plains is still in the field. And cottonseed meal is heavily used as stock feed. The icy grip of winter also worsened the feed situation in other ways. Many oil mills and processing plants could not operate at maximum due to the fuel shortage brought on by an early winter.

Together with this sharp change due to the weather, the U. S. livestock industry was using feed in record volume through the fall and early winter, Kunkel said. It is estimated that a 5 per cent increase in feed usage occurred because of increased cattle numbers. Cattle on feed were up substantially, 9 per cent for the nation and 18% for the southwestern states. This caused greater feed disappearance than normal and depleted feed grain and protein supplement reserves. Texas used over one-half million tons more grain in fattening cattle than in the previous year.

Severe weather restricted the growth of winter wheat, and many calves have been lost on the Plains in recent storms. Calves that were normally grazed on wheat until mid-March were shipped to the feedlots before Christmas, further intensifying the critical feed shortage. Transportation of feed grains and protein supplements from elevators and oil mills became a problem, further aggravated by the weather conditions.

Even the recent grain deal with Russia had its effect. This increased the price of wheat so that it was no longer profitable to use in fattening rations. Further, it had a buoyant effect on the entire grain market as speculators entered the picture. Stocks of wheat and other feed grains were reduced by nearly 31 million metric tons during 1972 because of exports. "The entire feed situation points up an interesting aspect of modern agriculture, not often appreciated by the public," Kunkel said. "American agriculture is greatly affected by a series of what appear to be small changes, and especially by severe alterations in the weather. When a combination of factors bears down on modern agriculture, the normal flow of feed and livestock products is radically altered. Fortunately, our agricultural industry has tremendous ability to recoup its losses, given a decent break in the weather and some stability in prices and feed supplies."

"The American public has become accustomed to relatively low cost food. The percentage of disposable dollars we spend for food is the lowest of any country in the world. Bear in mind, too, that the average shopping cart only has 72 cents worth of food for each dollar at checkout. The remainder is hardware, paper goods, soap, insect spray and other non-food items. Today, less than one dollar out of every six earned by the average worker is all that is required to buy the safest, most wholesome, nutritious food products man has ever known, thanks to our vast multi-billion dollar food industry," the dean concluded.

Give a fellow what he wants when he wants it and he'll be wanting a little more.

High ideals are always good to talk about, but dollars have greater drawing power.

Further gains in sales and earnings expected by Burlington Industries

WILMINGTON, DEL. — Burlington Industries expects further gains in sales and earnings during 1973.

Charles F. Myers Jr., chairman of the diversified textile firm, said at the annual meeting of shareholders today that "the nation's economic gains in the final quarter of 1972 were substantial and the favorable trends which currently appear underway are already being reflected in increasing demand for most textile products."

Sales in Burlington's first 1973 fiscal quarter were up 9.3 per cent to $479 million, an all-time quarterly record. Primary earnings per share increased 36.4 per cent to 60 cents, compared to 44 cents in the same quarter a year ago, and were up 20 per cent over the immediate past (September) quarter. Myers said that an end to the war in Southeast Asia will "add a favorable dimension to the mood of the country and to the outlook for the future."

He said that demand in the apparel fabrics areas of business has not only improved but appears to be more broadly based, with a better balance between types of products, including woven and knit fabrics, than has been the case in the past several years.

Myers added that the substantial changes of the past two years in the Company's production facilities, equipment and product lines are now providing Burlington with a "significantly more competitive and diversified product mix." Burlington, he said, has "a strong position in the new action (stretch) woven fabrics and a substantial, diversified and very competitive position in knits." Products for apparel markets accounted for $1.1 billion (62.7 per cent) of Burlington's total sales last year, Myers said, "and the overall outlook for the current year is more favorable."

He said industrial products accounted for $96 million in total sales and that the company's industrial business is being expanded.

Home furnishings markets continue strong, Myers reported. Burlington's sales in this area reached $592 million last year, about one-third of total sales and up 31 per cent over the volume two years ago. He noted that Burlington has a leading position in carpets and a growing business in furniture and other home products, including sheets and pillowcases, blankets, towels and bedspreads. "Most textile markets are starting the year on a higher level, with indications of better demand ahead. Our own facilities and product lines have been expanded and improved, and these factors add to our expectation that 1973 will result in sales and earnings gains." Burlington's capital expenditures are estimated at $115-$125 million for 1973, compared to $115 million in 1972, Myers stated.

18-year-olds can serve on juries

AUSTIN -- Under legislation approved by the House without debate, 18-year-olds can serve on all juries.

Representatives further passed a bill to extend until 1975-76 the deadline for school districts to go on the quarter basis.

Another bill advanced by the House to the Senate would make the school district fiscal year conform with the July 1-June 30 federal fiscal year timetable.

The Museum of Modern Art in New York was founded in 1929.

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly—never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed—altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payment in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come—perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

Post student on Tech honor list

Post is one of 530 students in Texas Tech University's College of Engineering who qualified for the dean's honor list for the 1972 fall semester, according to Dean John R. Bradford.

To qualify for the honor list, a student must be enrolled in 12 hours of courses and have at least a 3.0 grade point average. Texas Tech uses a 4.0 grading system. The College of Engineering is one of six colleges and two schools at Texas Tech University, which will be observing its 50th anniversary 1973-75. The fall enrollment was 21,490.

Ronald, a 1972 graduate of Post High School, is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. David Tyler.

Californian heads pro rodeo group

DENVER, Colo. — Bob Ragsdale of Chowchilla, Calif., was elected 1973 president of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, an association spokesman said today.

Ragsdale, 36, joined the association in 1960 and has consistently been among the top 15 winners in calf roping and steer wrestling each year since. In 1972 he finished runnerup for the world champion all around cowboy title, with winnings of $36,435.

Member cowboys elected Ragsdale over Shawn Davis, three-times world champion saddle bronc rider from Whitehall, Mont., and the incumbent, Dale Smith, former world champion team roper from Chandler, Ariz.

Cowboys elected to the board for the first time as event directors include Joe Alexander, reigning world champion bareback rider from Cora, Wyo., and Jerome Robinson, National Finals Rodeo qualifier in bull riding from Brandon, Neb., Cecil Jones, Hayward, Calif., was elected rodeo committee representative.

Re-elected directors are Bud Farris, Las Cruces, N. M., calf roping; and Bill Hamilton, Kingman, Ariz., team roping.

(Continued From Front Page) The recommendation of the regional association, appeared before the Garza County Commissioners Court at its February meeting Monday morning to explain the position of the program and to appeal for local aid.

She was requested to obtain an itemized breakdown of the federal cost of the Garza County Community Action operation.

Cornish went before the court Monday afternoon with the breakdown of the federal operating cost of the program which totaled $6863 for last year.

This included Mrs. Shytle's salary, rental of two apartments from the Post Public Housing Authority for office space, payment of utilities for the two apartments and the Alexander Neighborhood Center insurance postage and office supplies.

The court was told that federal funds still are reportedly available for the operation of the family planning program (birth control) for which $4,400 was spent in the county last year, and for the present infant nutrition program budgeted for $3,000 a year.

Cornish reported funds are still said to be available for the proposed Senior Citizens Hot Meal program just in the planning stage for the county, for training of a local drug team, and for adult education courses without tuition (this program being operated through state funding).

Cornish said he would report back to city and county after next Tuesday night's meeting with a "cut to the bone" budget for continued operation through local financing and with what information was available on continued federal funding of the programs now under way here or in the planning stage.

Members of the commissioners court expressed keen interest in attempting to work out such financing. Mayor McCrary who was attending the court's session for a discussion of city-county projects, termed the community action program here "an excellent one."

City Councilman E. R. (Buster) Moreland also was attending the court meeting with the Mayor and told The Dispatch he would like to see it continued as a worthwhile program via local financing if at all possible.

The local funding proposition has not been presented to the city council for possible joint city-county funding because the council has not been in session since the end of federal financing was announced.

Moody told Cornish by telephone Monday that 71 employees in the 14 county South Plains Community Action Association area are involved but not all of them are paid through the administrative funding of community action.

The Community Action programs, he reported according to the best information available in the association office, are being shut down as they come up for annual refunding.

Unfortunately, the blow struck the South Plains Association the very first month as they were due refunding by federal authorities this month for the new association year beginning March 1 and have been told they won't get it and to close down Feb. 28.

Moody said the association office staff and community action paid directors in the 14 counties will be "wiped out" by the presidential executive order.

He said Congress last spring had voted funds to continue the community action program for an additional three years, but this one was one of the many programs be-

The same has been true here in Post. Mrs. Sue Shytle, the federally paid director, has done a "super job" according to everyone connected with the program here. It has been Mrs. Shytle who has "made the difference here"—which we well know because we have served on the Action board of directors for the last three years.

While the presidential executive order has cut off the refunding of the administrative costs of the Community Action program in the association headquarters and in 14 counties under it, federal funds still are available for most of the programs which have been beneficially initiated under Community action.

That is why the effort is being made to now fund the administrative costs locally. A practical determination has to first be made, however, that there will be a way for Garza County to obtain these funds if the association headquarters for the region in Levelland is put out of action.

That determination has yet to be made. So, as of now, the entire program hangs in the balance.

To refresh your memories, community action is a program to help the poor to help themselves and it has given Garza's poor hope for a better future.

Based on the 1970 census of 1969 incomes Garza County has a population of 5,266 and more than 20 per cent are classified according to the federal yardstick as living in poverty.

The poverty total is 1,188, of which 567 are white, 463 Spanish speaking and 158 Negro. With the census count including 301 Negroes and 888 Spanish speaking persons this means that over 50 per cent of the Spanish speaking and Negro segments of the population live in poverty and approximately 25 per cent of the whites.

While some readers may not accept the federal yardstick for poverty it is obvious that Garza's poor represent a considerable segment of the population and a program aimed toward them if it is successful certainly is useful and deserves continuation for the small cost involved. If the program provides both hope and progress, it should be continued, although obviously in itself it does not alleviate the poverty itself.

If the program cannot be continued, then every effort must be made to salvage every portion of the program which can be salvaged—such as operation of the "well baby clinic", operation of the Alexander Neighborhood Center for the poor of that ethnic neighborhood, continuation of the family planning and infant nutrition, and a start made on others.

How and what can be done has under Neighborhood Center for the yet to be determined, but in this time of local crisis for a "good local program" the community's interest and goodwill, as reflected through both city and county governments and interested citizenry, is imperative.

is married to the former Fay Huffman, daughter of Mrs. Antha Huffman and the late George Huffman of Post.

He enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Corps, as it then called, in March of 1937 and trained for four years at San Antonio as an aircraft mechanic. At the outbreak of World War II he was transferred to Houston then to Fort Worth where he continued his aircraft mechanical duties.

After the war, he was in Germany for two years before being placed in 1948 with the 22nd Bomb Group, which was then based in Kansas. Throughout the Korean War, the bombing group was based on Okinawa and flew several combat missions over Korea.

He was transferred back to the States in 1953 where he was stationed at RAFB until 1956 when he was again transferred to the Pacific, this time to Japan. He returned to RAFB in 1958, retiring from active service the following year.

He has lived in Shallowater since 1958 and has farming interests in Terry County, near Seagraves.

The Masons have five children. They are Derl and his children, Tammie and Chuck, who live in Fairfield, Calif.; Marcelle, her husband, Dr. James Nedrow, and daughter, Brooke, who live in Beatrice, Neb.; Barbara and her husband, Stephen Miliken, and son, Woodrow, of El Paso; and Teresa and Cathy.

Charles Curtis of Kansas was the first Indian to serve as Vice President of the United States. Corporation was established in 1938.

CofC banquet—

The invocation will be delivered by the Rev. Tim Schwertner. Dinner music will be played by Miss Dana Pool with musical entertainment given by "The Quartet" — members never got around to giving the unit another name— composed of Margie Pennell, Marita Jackson, the Rev. George L. Miller and Bob Stice.

A feature of the banquet will be the presentation of awards to the "man of the year," "woman of the year," and "club of the year."

The six new Chamber directors for the 1973 year will be introduced by incoming president, J. B. Potts. They include Dr. Will La M. C. Wilson, Jack Alexander, Joe McCowan, Silas Short, Jim Wells and Bob Macy.

Holdover directors are Earl Chapman, Walter Didway, Bo Jackson, and Ronald Simpson.

Outgoing directors to be recognized include Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick, James Mitchell, Giles Dalby, Grant Lott, and Jim Cornish, retiring president.

Directors hope to conclude the ticket sale by next Tuesday and ask that all those planning to attend to get the $3.50 tickets in the next few days.

The ham dinner will be catered by the Jackson Cafeteria and Caterers.

First Christians outline services

The sermon subject at the First Christian Church at the 11 a. m. worship this Sunday will be "Better Make Up Your Mind — Right Now!" The Lord's Supper will also be observed with George Pierce conducting the worship. There is a supervised nursery at the morning service.

The regular evening home fellowship will be held at 7 p. m. at the home of Jack Alexander, 514 West 10th St. Those attending are asked to read the first 16 chapters of Acts and bring their Bibles. Light refreshments will be served.

Sunday school begins at 9:50 a. m., with Bill Crane presenting brief devotionals.

Instead of the usual prayer meeting at 7 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 21, the official board will meet (third Wednesday every month), according to Bernard S. Ramsey, First Christian minister.

Interested applicants can leave their names and phone numbers at the Chamber office for future interviews.

J. B. Potts incoming president for 1973, met with the directors to discuss various projects.

Tickets were distributed to all directors for sale for the annual Chamber banquet next Thursday night.

Attending the luncheon directors meeting were Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick, Earl Chapman, Ronald Simpson, James Mitchell, Jim Cornish, Grant Lott, Giles Dalby, Bo Jackson, directors, Mrs. Kennedy and Potts.

New pastor—

Just prior to leaving Wellington for Post, the Rev. Mr. Daniels received an "Outstanding Service to the Community" award from the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce. He was active there in Red Cross work and as head of a satellite school, served as the vice president of the Kiwanis Club, and took part in other civic affairs.

The Daniels have two married children. A daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Oyer, lives at Beaver, Okla, and a son, Philip, is in the Navy serving aboard the USS Constellation.

Tax hikes—

Freshman and 8th grade boys win conference titles

7th graders finish second to Frenship

Freshman and 7th and 8th grade basketball teams won titles from Cooper here Friday night, with the freshman boys sewing up the championships in their respective divisions and the 7th grade team finishing in second place, behind Frenship.

Tannehill's freshman team won by a score of 61 to 41, while the 7th graders won by a score of 36-19 at the end of the first quarter, 36-19 at the end of the first quarter, 36-19 at the end of the first quarter.

Post scored 16 points for Mike Hair and Mike Hair, while the 7th graders won by a score of 36-19 at the end of the first quarter, 36-19 at the end of the first quarter, 36-19 at the end of the first quarter.

Mustangs to play in Hamlin

Denver City Mustangs, who won the Slaton 5AA championship last Friday night, will play either Anson or Hamlin in a bi-district clash to which team advances regional tournament.

Hamlin and Anson are tied for the 5AA championship, with Anson being the playoff representative to play in a game between the two Friday night.

City will play the winner of the Anson vs. Hamlin game Friday night at a neutral site, either Snyder or Lamesa, with John Alexander said to be in a conversation with Denver City coach.

Hart on winner in $50,000 race

Rehabilitation is stepped up by Easter Seal group

DALLAS—Because of the steady growth in numbers of crippled children and adults in Texas, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas has stepped up its rehabilitation services.

According to Mrs. Martha Compton who is the Easter Seal representative for Garza County, 15,772 handicapped Texans received Easter Seal treatments during 1972.

"Despite medical scientific advances," Mrs. Compton explained, "the ranks of the crippled are growing. This is because of population growth, increased number of accidents and medical treatment which saves victims of crippling diseases who might not have lived in past years."

Quoting the annual report of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, she said that 18 affiliated treatment centers are in operation in Texas. They include treatment and rehabilitation centers, workshops, workshops, recreation and educational programs, and many others.

"Through these programs, persons with a wide variety of handicaps receive the help they need to live normal lives," Mrs. Compton said.

The largest group served includes those with major deformities of bones and joints, severe speech defects, cerebral palsy, arthritis, muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis and stroke. The Easter Seal Campaign, which provides funds for continuation of these services, begins March 1, and continues through April 22, Easter Sunday.

Post girls win one of 3 Cooper games

The Post 7th and 8th grade and freshman basketball teams ended their season by losing two out of three games at Cooper Monday night, only the 7th grade team bring home a victory.

The 7th graders, led by Debbie Wyatt's 12 points, won, 25 to 9, with Cindy Kirkpatrick scoring seven and Peggy Jackson, six.

The 8th grade girls lost by a score of 37-21. Karen Williams scored 10 points for Post, with Debra Weaver hitting nine and Amy Cowdrey, two.

The freshman girls lost a chance to finish second in the district standings when they lost to the Cooper team, 47 to 35. As it turned out, they finished 3rd behind first place Slaton and second place Cooper.

Post led 10-8 at the end of the first quarter, but trailed by a point, 18-17 at the halftime intermission. They were back out in the lead by five, 33-28, at the end of the third period, but were able to score only two points in the final quarter to Cooper's 19 for their 12-point defeat.

Joni Hays led the Post scoring with 17 points. Stella Torres getting 10; Kim Mitchell, six, and Patricia Bilberry, two.

The starting guards were Terri Green, Glenna Bevers and Jennifer Miller, with Christy Davis, Lesa Haley, Pam Carpenter and Linda Wynne also seeing action.

Slaton girls beat Haskell, 57 to 43

The Slaton Tigerettes, District 5AA champions, raced past District 6AA champs Haskell, 57 to 43 at Snyder Tuesday night to earn a spot in the Region I girls' basketball tournament to be played Saturday in Lubbock.

Other teams in the regional tournament will be Spearman, defending state champion in Class AA, Friona and Coahoma.

The Slaton team, coached by Gay Benson, marched through district play undefeated and was the only district team to beat Coach Jay Wilson's Post Does, who were runners-up with an 8-2 district record.

Post boys and Slaton girls tourney champs

The Post boys and Slaton girls won the 8th grade tournament held here last Friday and Saturday—shortened from eight to six teams and from three to two days because of snow and icy roads on Thursday, which was to have been the first day of the tournament.

Coach Don Black's Post boys won the championship trophy with a 27-22 decision over Slaton, and the Slaton girls took home the winners' trophy with a 27 to 11 victory over Roosevelt.

Tahoka won third place in the boys' division by edging Cooper, 34 to 32, in overtime, and the Tahoka girls took third place by beating Post, 26 to 16.

In the boys' division, Post opened with a 34-21 win over Cooper to gain the finals against Slaton, which had opened with a 45-10 win over Rails, then advanced to the finals by nosing out Roosevelt, 27-24.

In Saturday night's championship game, the Post boys led 8-4 at the end of the first quarter, 14-13 at halftime, and 20-17 at the end of the third quarter.

Jimmy Dorland's 12 points led the Post scoring, with Randell Wyatt getting five points, Kyle Duren and Mike Waldrip, four each, and Danny Sawyers, two.

Duren, who has suffered a broken left foot in the first quarter of the game.

In the opening game against Cooper, Waldrip was high scorer with 11 points. Dorland scored eight; Duren and Sawyers, six each, and Wyatt, three. Other boys seeing action were Danny Saldivar, Buddy Britton and Roger Mullenix.

In the girls' division, Coach Sherry Woods' Post team lost to Cooper, 28-19, in their first game, then to Tahoka, 26 to 16.

Against Tahoka, Karen Williams scored six points; Amy Cowdrey, five; Donna Ammons, three, and Vickie Gannon, 2. In the opening loss to Cooper, Williams scored six points; Cowdrey and Gannon, four each; Tiana Shiver, three, and Debra Weaver, two. Seeing action at the guard positions for Post were Christie Conner, Meiani Holly and Brenda Price. Kim Lott also played at guard in the game with Tahoka.

Antelopes finish with Slaton win

The Post Antelopes ended their 1972-73 basketball season with a 54-43 win over the Slaton Tigers Monday night on the Tigers' court. The game, originally scheduled for Tuesday night, was moved up a night because of the Slaton vs. Haskell girls' bi-district game played Tuesday night.

Monday night's win at Slaton enabled Coach John Alexander's cagers to finish in second place in District 5AA, just a game behind the champion Denver City Mustangs, with whom the 'Lopes were tied for the first half title.

The win at Slaton gave the Post team a 21-7 over-all record and a 10-2 district mark for their best season since the 1966-67 campaign when they won the district championship, losing to Dimmitt in the bi-district playoff game.

At Slaton Monday night, the 'Lopes jumped off to a 16-6 first quarter lead and were out in front 33-12 at the halftime intermission. Slaton gained five points in the third period, but still trailed 42-28 going into the final eight minutes of play.

Reggie Moore was Post's top scorer with 22 points on 11 buckets from the field and also led in rebounds with a sensational 32.

The Post junior varsity team lost to the Slaton JV's 29-27, in the final 30 seconds of play. Kent Kirkpatrick's 10 points led the Post JV's, with Mark Bevers hitting eight; Noah Abraham, three, and Chris Wyatt, Ruben Ayala and Randy Josey, two each.

The Post varsity scoring summary follows:
Hays 4 0 8; Pace 1 0 2; Lee 7 0 14; Shepherd 2 2 6; Moore 11 0 22; Hudman 1 0 2; Kennedy 0 0 0; Compton 0 0 0; Mindieta 0 0 0; Conner 0 0 0. TOTALS 26 2 54.

Seniors in the Spotlight

By ANN ATEN

DANNY LEE
 The busiest seniors in the school is Danny Lee. He has been a part of many activities during high school, including Student Council, football, track, stock shows and dances. The one thing he likes about school is "everybody's here."
 He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee. He has two sisters, Mrs. Karen Miller. He is a cashier at Piggly Wiggly. Mr. Lee is a pumper at the Crude Oil Company. He plans to attend college next fall.
 He decided on what he is to do as of now.
ANITA CRIADO
 Anita is another active member of the school. She is in the Baptist Church, and in her spare time she enjoys swimming, basketball and hiking. She has participated in the Basketball Club one year, she was a member of the Basketball Club three years, pep squad, an officer, and senior cheerleader.
 Anita hopes to become a nurse after graduation. After graduation she will get married and attend a college.
 She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Criado. She has five brothers and six sisters.

PAM GRAY
 Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gray. Mrs. Gray is a housewife and Mr. Gray is a rancher. Pam has an older sister, Debbie, and a younger brother, Rodney. Pam enjoys sewing, collecting records, biking, reading and rock concerts. The thing she enjoys most about school is her friends are here, and she likes all her teachers.
 In the future Pam wants to travel, experience college life, and she wants to find something she really likes to do, and put everything she has into it.

STEVE MASON
 Steve Mason hardly has a spare minute with the activities he is engaged in. Some of his hobbies are playing the guitar, working at the radio station, and watching girls. He has taken part in several organizations while in school, some of them being: a member of the Spanish Club his sophomore year, and a member of the Drama Club for four years. Some suggestions to make PHS a better school is try your best to get along with your teachers, and don't burn the grass.

Steve is the son of Gene and Thelma Mason. He has one sister, Debra Sims, and a younger brother, Randy Mason. His future plans are to go into journalism and news announcing.

Nursing Home News

SARA WHITLEY
 I want to thank everybody for their response to my "cry for help." You have all been wonderful. Come read, talk and enjoy. Everyone here has had a great time.
 On Monday of last week, Larry Mitchell, minister of the East Church of Christ, gave a talk. He enjoyed it and hope he will be back again. Patsy Sander, Edith Clary, and Mary Goodwin with the minister.
 Some of the members of the Graham Home Demonstration Club came and sang. They also brought cake and refreshments. Those who were: Sue Maxey, Iris McClellan, Viva Davis, Wallace, Rene Fluitt, Jo Ann Louise Robinson, Jewel and Lola Peel.
 Miller seems some better. They are doing fine. We had several visitors who registered.
 We are glad he is better to come see Mrs. Harper.

Karen Robinson and Cindy Terry visited Mrs. Ellis. Mrs. Edna Carpenter of Tahoka visited Mrs. Gurley. Lola Mae Ledbetter and Mrs. Newberry visited Mr. Newberry. James and Irene Mitchell and Jimmy and Cindy visited Mrs. Mitchell. Also visiting Mrs. Mitchell were Mrs. Marion Wheatley and Mrs. Nell McCrary. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dudgeon, Estelle Samson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cockrum and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Askins visited Mrs. Marable.

Board says air pollution down

AUSTIN — According to the Texas Air Control Board, air pollution has abated a bit.
 Samplings over a two-year period indicated a slight improvement, a board report maintained.
 The board further claimed its program of permitting polluters additional time to clean up the messes they make has been successful in obtaining voluntary compliance with standards.

Science Fair is to be March 12

By RAFAEL RIOS
 The Science and Math Club has planned a Science Fair which is to be held on Monday, March 12. The rules and entry blanks have been distributed in all the Post schools to the science and math teachers. There will be four divisions with three categories in each school. The deadline for entry blanks on all events is March 2.
 So hurry and enter an event in the Science Fair. Your interest will be appreciated.

Post student is winner in slide rule contest

By GLENDA NEWDIGER
 Saturday, Feb. 10, seven boys from Post High School competed in a Science and Math Contest at Plains.
 Those competing were Rusty Conner, Rodney Compton, Ralph Howell, Johnny Minor, Mark Lemon, David Posey and Bill Hudman. Rusty Conner won first and David Posey won third in slide-rule competition.

4-H Food Show plans changed

The 1973 County 4-H Food Show plans have been changed due to changes made at the district level. The Garza County Food Show will be held March 17 at the high school home economics department. The department will be opened at 1:30 p. m. for 4-Hers to set up their displays. The judging will begin at 2 p. m. and the public viewing will be at 3 p. m.
 The District 4-H Food Show was changed to March 24 in Lubbock on the Tech campus.

Eagle Roundup

Basketball Supper

Mr. and Mrs. L.P. Tuttle and family gave the high school boys and girls basketball teams a chicken supper Saturday, Feb. 3, at the school lunchroom. Those attending were Connie Abshire, Maria Shelton, Sue Bevers, Kelly Chaffin, Mary Buxkemper, Arla Nelson, Amanda Wheeler, Jenny Wheeler, Joe Bevers, Mark Bevers, Larry Koslan, Randy Thomas, Kendon Wheeler, Joe Edd Eckert, Jerry Winterrowd, and Frankie Tuttle. Other guests were Supt. and Mrs. Ray Simmons and Coach and Mrs. Donny Windham.

Basketball Games

The Jr. high girls beat Smyer last Monday at Southland 38-37. Joy Jean Basinger was high point with 30 points.
 The Jr. high boys were defeated 64-32. Billy Alexander was high point with 13 points.
 The high school boys were defeated last Tuesday by Smyer at Southland 71-38. Jerry Winterrowd was high point with 21 points.

Last Thursday, also at Southland, the Meadow boys defeated the Southland boys 95-46. Larry Koslan was high point with 16 points.
 The Jr. high teams played at New Home Monday night and at Sundown Tuesday evening. The high school boys' last game is Friday night, Feb. 16 at Wilson. The junior high teams play for the last time Monday, Feb. 19 at Wilson, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

New Building

The new building is now in use by the high school girls and boys as dressing rooms and a store room.

Track Team

The high school girls are now going out for track. The boys will be coming out soon after basketball is over. To State Big Team!!!

Booster Meeting

At the Booster Club meeting Monday, Feb. 5 in the school auditorium, plans for a spring athletic banquet were begun. Athletic jackets may be given at that time.

Sick List

Mrs. Laura Jo Wheeler was sick for two days last week, and Mrs. Pat Taylor took her place.

Field Trip

The Science and Biology classes went on a field trip to Lubbock Power and Light Tuesday, Feb. 6. The freshmen and sophomores attending were: Mary Buxkemper, Kelly Chaffin, Eva Rodriguez, Elda Garza, Esperanza Garza, Amanda Wheeler, Jenny Wheeler, Sisto Rivera, Ricky Cardona, Junior Vasquez, Mark Bevers, Larry Koslan, Randy Thomas, Frankie Tuttle, Mark Maeker, Pete Valdez, Kendon Wheeler and Luis Bernal. They went on a tour of the plant in two separate groups.
 Afterwards, they stopped at the Dairy Queen at Slaton and had a Coke bought by Mrs. Ray Simmons, Physical Science teacher. Locke Tuttle drove the bus.

God's Valentine

By George L. Miller

In Miss Moody's second grade class the valentine box had been opened and all the valentines passed out. Some were beautiful, others comic. The girls squealed with delight over their numerous valentines, the boys boasted and made jokes.

All but one. He sat alone, his desk empty. There was nothing in the valentine box for him.

Miss Moody always put an extra card in the box, one with no name on it, just for such an emergency. Seeing his empty desk, she brought out the spare card and put his name on it and then made a show of giving it to him.

The boy tried to smile, but he knew what she had done. His valentine didn't really count. It was hard for him not to show his tears.

There's a lot of folks who feel like that little boy, left out of life, overlooked while others enjoy friendship and love freely given. Somehow they've been on the sidelines watching the fun, and never had any of their own.

After a while they expect it. "Who's going to give a valentine to somebody as dull as me?" they think. After one too many disappointments, one too many disillusionments, one too many heartbreaks, they give up. "Don't open the valentine box for me" they seem to say. "Love is for the others, not for me."

People like that are the very people God loves. The unlovable ones, the bitter ones, the lonely ones, the forgotten ones, God has loved them all. He's done more than love them, he's given them his Son to show his love. That's what the Gospel is all about.

The sad thing is, too many of us have given up on ourselves. We don't believe in valentines any more.

What will it take for you to believe God when he says "I Love You?"
