PTS BROTHERHOOD N OF SETTLEMENT

DAD BILL AMENDMENT PRO-ES FOR ADJUSTMENT OF DISPUTES.

Washington.—Avoiding a direct on anti-strike provisions in the bill the house, by a vote of 08, adopted bodily the volun-conciliation method for settling labor disputes induced by the brotherhoods and other or-railway employes.
proposal of the interstate committee, which in addition to ation methods, subjected par-to labor disputes to suits for dam-was rejected and the brotherhood adment offered by Representative erson (Rep.) of Minnesota adopted a substitute. There is no provision in the Anderson amendment for recovery of damages.

Six adjustment boards are created the provision agreed to, three of hich are appeal boards. Three classes of railway employes are defined, with a board to hear the disputes which may be taken to an appeal board for such class. Adjustment boards and appeal boards are made up of members appointed equally from employers and employes.

The parliamentary situation was such that after the house had adopted the Anderson amendment no vote could be taken directly upon the proposal to make strikes unlawful pending the consideration of a dispute.
Amendments proposed to the Anderson provision included one by Representative Webster (Rep.) of Washington making it unlawful to interfere with the operations of trains during labor disputes, while not denying the right to strike, and another by Representative Madden (Rep.) of Illinois, the effect of which was to force labor unions to admit all native born Americans, including negroes, to membership. They are ruled out of order.

Several amendments to declare strikes unlawful pending an award, but giving no method of recovery for losses due to strikes, were suggested during the debate, but were not formally presented for a vote. They differed from the Webster anti-strike provision only to the extent that they furnished no ground for recovery of damages for failure to abide by an award.

INDUSTRIAL JUSTICE SHOULD BE PROVIDED

Charles E. Hughes Urges Settlement Of Disputes Peaceably.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Machinery for industrial justice which would prevent the interruption of service essential to the community, was advocated by Charles E. Hughes in an address on "The Antidote for Bolshevism" at the world's Christian citizenship conference.

Referring to public servants, transportation and basic industries, he said:
"If the community provided just means for the settlement of complaints and for the redress of wrongs which might be suffered by those engaged in the essential activities we should have a right to prevent concerted attempt, that is, through any sort of combination, to hold up the community and enforce demands under threat of widespread suffering and want."

For industrial activity outside the essential services he urged collective bargaining with decisions binding in law.

"The time is at hand," he said,
"when we must furnish suitable machinery for industrial justice, at least so far as those vital enterprises are concerned upon which life depends."

RED CROSS GIVES FULL ACCOUNTING

War Council Tells How Millions Contributed by Public Were Used For Relief.

BIG TASK IS DESCRIBED

In Twenty Months $154,000,000 Was Spent Overseas and $119,000,000 in the United States.

Washington. (Special).—Through a complete report of the work of the American Red Cross in the war by Chairman Henry P. Davison, on behalf of the war council, the organization on the eve of its annual enrollment of members during the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, has rendered an accounting of the many millions given it by the American people to help our fighting men and our allies. The statement is, in part, as follows:

"The war council of the American Red Cross is now prepared to make a complete accounting to the American people of money contributed and expended, as well as the work done by the American Red Cross during the period in which the war council was in control of its affairs. The war council was appointed May 19, 1919, and went out of existence February 28, 1919.

"It was the practice of the war council to give complete publicity to its policies and finances, but it is only now that a picture of the war period as a whole can be presented. It is the feeling of the war council that a report in this summarized form should be made directly to the public which provided the money and gave the effort which made the American Red Cross a success.

"A statement of the American Red Cross effort and finances since the war council relinquished its control will be made to the public through the executive committee, and it is important, therefore, that the fact that this report covers the period only until March 1, should be carefully noted."

Following are certain round figures covering American Red Cross participation in the war, as revealed by the war council's report:

ONLY A COLD

Are you ill? is often answered—
"Oh! it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it out.

NOV. 27 PROCLAIMED THANKSGIVING DAY

GOVERNOR CALLS ON PEOPLE OF TEXAS TO OBSERVE IT AS HOLIDAY.

Austin, Texas.—Governor Hobby has issued a proclamation proclaiming Thursday, Nov. 27, as Thanksgiving Day, which is to be a holiday in the state of Texas. The proclamation follows:

"As we near the end of another year we are reminded of the many and varied blessings which have been bestowed upon us by a God of tender mercies and great compassion. It is appropriate and proper that we pause for a brief time and render unto God our homage and give expression to our deep gratitude and the great debt which we owe to Him from whom come all our happiness and all our blessings.

"The year, though still within the shadow of the earth's greatest tragedy, has been measurably prosperous for the people of Texas. We have been spared the pain of pestilence. We have, with few exceptions, escaped calamity and disaster. The field has responded, if not bountifully, at least sufficiently, to the labor of the husbandman, and mankind has been rewarded for his toil.

"There has been relief from martial conflict throughout our land. We have enjoyed the ties of friendship and our daily occupations, if not free of strife and contentions, evidence the composing influence of justice and right-dealing among men, from which eventually social and economic peace must flow. There is much to rejoice us in the contemplation of our blessings, and no cloud from which brave men should shrink or cower, obscures the dawning of the world's new day.

"Wherefore, I recommend that Thursday, Nov. 27, be observed as a day of thanksgiving and reverent meditation and homage to the God of the universe. On this day let us suspend all secular work and employment and let us assemble in our accustomed places of worship and with songs of praise and prayers give thanks to our Heavenly Father for all He has done for us.

"Let us be reminded that in the midst of our prosperity there are always unfortunate about us upon whom affliction and sorrow have laid the blighting touch and who are dependent upon our charity for the little comfort they may glean from life. Out of our multitude of blessings let us give freely to those who are in need.

"Therefore, I, W. P. Hobby, governor of Texas, do proclaim that Thursday, Nov. 27, 1919, shall be a holiday in the state of Texas, and recommend that all officials and employees of the state as well as all the people, suspend their labors on that day, except where such labor is necessary for the health of the public, the protection of life or preservation of property."

ESCH BILL IS "BETRAYAL" SAYS THE BROTHERHOOD

Continued Control of Railroads Pending Decision by Voters Requested.

Washington.—In a statement just issued and signed by the railway brotherhood chieftains, the railroad bill introduced in the house by the house committee on interstate commerce, known as the Esch bill, was declared by them to be a "conscienceless betrayal of the public interest."

The statement execrates the bill and calls for continued control of the railroads by the government for two years pending a determination of the railroad question by the public.

"The bill," says the statement, "is willing to accept the sober judgment of the American voters as expressed at a general election."

DEMOCRATIC LEADER IN SENATE IS DEAD

Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia Dies After Being Ill Since July.

Charlottesville, Va.—Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, the democratic leader in the senate, died here Thursday after an illness of several months. He was 72 years old.

Senator Martin had been confined to his bed since last July, when he was forced to give up active work in the senate after a continuous service of 24 years. While his condition had been critical for more than two weeks, the end came rather unexpectedly.

Senator Martin suffered from a leaking heart valve and was moved to a hospital here some weeks ago, when he grew worse.

The Plumb plan has just about as much chance of adoption by the American people as Debs has to be elected president.

Every county in Texas is to have a fair price committee to work in connection with the federal government, that is determined to stop profiteering.

The public now expects the operators and miners to effect a coalition—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

MICKEY

The premier presentation of Mack Sennett's prodigious play "Mickey" will be shown at the Princess Theatre 2 days, Nov., 21st and 22nd. In "Mickey" the patrons of the Princess will see things that motion pictures stand for in their best presentations.

"Mickey" might be called the last word in motion pictures. Many months were used in the making and assembling to its seven reel length, but every reel is absolutely necessary to the story and no scene has been left out that would prove a hindrance to the proper presentation of the story. Yet no scene has been added that would give a hint of padding. Mable Norman is cast as the elfin waif, Mickey, she is as lively as a hairspring, as subtle as a rubber band, and as charming and as pretty a girl as she is rightfully expected to be. She proves the artistically concentrated essence of a Chaplin-Fairbanks combination of affliity and humor. There is nothing under the sun that she doesn't attempt and carry through, no stunt so dangerous, and no bit of comedy so ridiculous. "Shynning" up trees, romping over jagged rocks, rolling down a rugged hillside, running and leaping like a mountain goat from crag to crag, and ending in dives that would make any Keller-mann turn her head in envy. At this juncture Mickey leaves for the city where she becomes a modern Cinderella with a "kick." She takes the worst of it and the best of it. Films may come and films may go—but "Mickey" it will live forever. Continuous showing Friday and Saturday, Nov., 21st, and 22nd. 51-1t-adv.

"THANKSGIVING DAY" 1919

History tells us that the Pilgrim Fathers in the new world—grateful for a golden harvest—gathered together for a feast of rejoicing and they called it "Thanksgiving Days"

And year by year this all-American custom of giving thanks has grown into the hearts and minds of our people. No other holiday in any season is so typically American as our own Thanksgiving Day. Of all the world's festive occasions this day alone is consecrated purely to our nation—to the firesides of America.

We are coming to the close of a year filled with many blessings. Have we not just cause for gratefulness? When the Beneficent Author of All Good has seen fit to shower upon our nation such blessings as this year has brought, the season takes a new meaning—sweeter, fuller than ever before—filling us with a glow of gratitude such as no other Thanksgivings have ever done.

We are thankful for twelve months of peace and contentment: for a harvest unsurpassed in our country; for the triumphant return of our gallant army; for the brain and brawn and snew of American manhood dedicated to the work of Reconstruction.

And this bank is thankful, too, for the confidence, friendship and co-operation of the men and women of this community. May the good things that the year has brought to each and every one fill us with a new determination to work and to strive with a freshness of spirit and hearts filled with the desire to serve for the good of our people, our town, our community.

SENATE HAS ADOPTED MORE RESERVATIONS

EMBODY QUALIFICATION WHICH PRESIDENT SAID WOULD MEAN REJECTION

Washington.—Squarely joining the issue with President Wilson, the senate has adopted a reservation qualifying the obligation of the United States under Art. 10 of the league of nations covenant.

A solid republican line-up, reinforced by four democratic votes, put the reservation across exactly as it came from the foreign relations committee, and in virtually the same language which the president declared on his western tour would cut the heart out of the covenant and mean the rejection of the treaty. The vote by which the reservation was 46 to 32.

The fight for reservations having thus been carried to a climax, the republican closure proposal is designated to bring final action on the question of ratification within a week. A less sweeping measure, proposing limitation on the reservation debate only, had been put in by the democrats, but rejected when the republican voted to sustain a point of order against it.

The Art. 10 reservation as adopted by the senate follows:

"The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country or to interfere with controversies between nations—whether members of the league or not—under the provisions of Art. 10, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the treaty for any purpose, unless in any particular case, the congress, which, under the constitution, has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States, shall by act or joint resolution, so provide."

In only two particulars does this language differ from the proposed reservation which the President declared at Cheyenne, Wyo, he would be obliged to regard as a rejection. As read by Mr. Wilson, the phrase "Under the provisions of Art. 10," occurred at a different place, and the final word "provide" was changed to "declare."

I. W. W.'S FIRE ON ARMISTICE DAY PARADE

Four Killed and Four Wounded. Mob Later Hangs One of Six Arrested Men

Centralia, Wash.—Four former American soldiers, all overseas service men, were killed, and half a dozen other service men were wounded here when persons believed to be Industrial Workers of the World fired on an Armistice Day parade of former soldiers, sailors and marines as they marched through the streets of the town.

At least eight supposed Industrial Workers of the World are in the local jail, guarded from a mob of several hundred former comrades of the men shot down.

Later it was learned that a man hanged by the mob here was Britt Smith, secretary of the I. W. W. local here.

Nearly all the men who marched were members of the American Legion. The parade was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

The firing started when the parade passed the corner where the I. W. W. hall is located. Immediately shots came pouring from the roofs of nearby buildings.

AGREE ON 300,000 FOR REGULAR ARMY

COMMITTEE FAVORS VOLUNTARY ENLISTMENTS WITH SINGLE PROMOTION LIST

GAS UNITS MAY BE RETAINED

Provision for Chemical and Tank Sections Expected to Be Made, Chairman Kahn Says

Washington.—The house committee on military affairs has definitely determined to fix the size of the regular army at 250,000 combat troops, with a total enlisted personnel of officers and men reaching about 300,000.

The provision will not be reported to the house until the December session of congress, for the reason that the committee has reached no conclusion on the question of universal military training and several other important policies involved in the army reorganization bill.

In his statement to the house Mr. Kahn, chairman of the military affairs committee said:

"The committee has reached a practically unanimous conclusion as to the size of the regular army at this time. We feel that the legislation ought to contemplate a regular force of 250,000 combat troops. With the necessary auxiliary and staff forces it will probably bring the total number of officers and men to about 300,000. Enlisted men in the regular army we feel should be recruited by voluntary enlistments."

The committee also has agreed, Mr. Kahn said, to have promotions made from a single list. This is the policy recommended by General Pershing to the joint committees of the senate and house.

"It is believed by the members of the committee that in the legislation that we will ultimately report to the house such branches of the army as a tank section and a chemical warfare section will have to be provided."
