

Focus swings to private emergency ambulance service

The council and court agreed in the interest of haste that Mayor Giles C. McCrary and County Judge Giles W. Dalby should attempt to determine "the best proposition."

City Councilman Donald Windham, who also is Garza Memorial Hospital administrator, told the group in answer to a question as to hospital district participation in the emergency ambulance service.

The city and county have a Sept. 1 target date to begin the new emergency ambulance service operation here.

The commissioners and councilmen agreed that the service probably best could be operated through the purchase of one new ambulance and of one used ambulance. The used ambulance would serve as a "backup vehicle" and for "patient transfers."

Judge Dalby yesterday began looking into the possibility of the ambulance purchase. City and county agreed that they were looking at something like "a $1,000 a month subsidy" with specific terms to be negotiated.

Other communities, slightly larger, in this area are paying $1,200 and $1,400 a month for such services.

Both the city and county officials said that their "last offers" of several weeks ago on emergency ambulance service were only meant for "starting points" and both sides appeared willing to negotiate a satisfactory settlement once costs and other details are known.

The city had offered to pay 30 per cent of such a service and the county 40 per cent plus the purchase of a new ambulance. But at that time the possibility of hospital district participation clouded the issue.

Windham told the group he felt sure the hospital district would be glad to furnish "in kind" assistance in whatever way it could, such as various medical or hospital supplies as might be needed.

Judge Dalby told the joint meeting at the start of the discussion that while the county commissioners court wasn't ruling out a sheriff department operation of the ambulance service, the court would prefer to explore all other methods first, believing the sheriff's department's prime concern is law enforcement and it shouldn't be burdened with outside duties.

The judge also said at the beginning of the discussion that he has now found that the county has all the authority it needs to get into the emergency ambulance service, although at one point several weeks ago he

Four teachers hired; three others resign

Post school trustees Monday night approved the employment of four new teachers, one of them a coach, and accepted the resignations of three others.

This left the Post faculty with five vacancies with little more than two weeks to go to the opening of the fall term, but several of the vacancies may be filled this week.

The new teachers are Mrs. Alexa Medlock Collier, who will teach in junior high; Miss Frankie Dianne Lewallen, who will teach high school speech; Mrs. Nancy Joyce Vaughn, elementary instructor, and Jackie Brown, new assistant coach.

Resigning were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Giddens, who are moving to Littlefield, and Vocational Agriculture instructor Larry Seales, who is going to Whiteface.

Supt. Bill Shiver told trustees this leaves two math vacancies, one in special education, one in elementary education, and one in vocational agriculture.

Several applicants were scheduled here for interviews this week and Supt. Shiver on a trip to East Texas next week is expected to see several others.

Bryan J. Williams, insurance agent of record for the schools' insurance, appeared before the board to urge that a certified valuation of all school property be made immediately for insurance purposes.

The Post insurance agent explained it was up to the school to pay the bill for such

Food costs threaten school lunches here

Soaring food costs now threaten the Post school lunch program with extinction.

Post School Supt. Bill Shiver announced a change in the free lunch policy at the Post schools this week following an $8,000 deficit in the school lunch program here last year due to soaring food costs and a major reduction in free government commodities.

Parents who want to apply for free lunches for their children should do so next week, Aug. 13 through 17, during regular office hours with the building principal in charge of their children.

"No student will be fed a free lunch without having the application made and approved prior to the first lunch time," Shiver told The Dispatch.

The reason for this change in policy, Shiver said is the large deficit that is building up in the lunchroom (and as a result of inflationary costs and reimbursement from the state not being enough to offset the cost of providing the lunches.

Shiver estimated to The Dispatch that approximately half the students eating in the lunchroom last year were eating for "free" with the government paying 40 cents per meal for those from families who are economically deprived.

"There is a limit as to how much tax money can be used to subsidize the lunch program," Supt. Shiver told school trustees Monday night.

He said if heavy losses continued in the program the school board might have to consider abandoning the lunch program altogether and only providing milk at noon for those children bringing sandwiches to

Reading program at library nears end

Of the 92 youngsters enrolled in the summer "READosaurus" program at the Post Public Library, 27 had read 12 books or more through last week, according to Librarian Mrs. C. K. "Pee Wee" Pierce.

The READosaurus program is to end Friday, Aug. 17. A party will be held at the library at 5 p.m. Monday, Aug. 20, for those who have read at many as 12 books.

Knox photography show opens at Texas Tech

A photographic exhibit of portraits, compositions and scenes, prepared by Texas Tech University graduate Richard Knox, is being displayed in the Texas Tech Library through August. The exhibit opened Aug. 5.

Knox, who received his bachelor's degree in English in 1969, has been living in Connecticut, working at the High Meadows residential treatment center for emotionally disturbed children. Knox has been audio visual supervisor for the center which treats boys and girls between the ages of six and 16.

"I've learned to use photography and video tape in my work as treatment resources, educational material and as an evaluation technique," he explained. For his own pleasure he has extended his interest in photography to an avocation recording personal experiences.

"Photography is a good means of communication," Knox said. "Sometimes it goes beyond verbal communication. When there can't be communication in words, there can sometimes be communication through a photograph. Children can sometimes better understand through videotapes of themselves."

There are 36 pictures in the Knox show. His portraits include people of all ages, each of them photographed as character studies. The scenes are primarily of the East Coast and some are seascapes.

Knox, a graduate of Monterey High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest I. Knox, 3504 40th St.

PORTRAIT—This portrait entitled "Boxman at Pepe's Pizza" is one of the 36 photographs in an exhibit by Richard Knox which will be on display in the Texas Tech Library during the month of August. Knox is a graduate of Texas Tech, and he has made photography his avocation. His exhibit includes character portraits, compositions and scenes, most of them taken in the eastern coastal states.

Today's parade at 5:30 to open Stampede Rodeo

Three night shows set

With all events practically filled by noon Wednesday—a full 24 hours ahead of the time for closing the books at noon today—the stage was set for the 33rd annual Post Stampede Rodeo tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night.

A street parade with 11 riding clubs and numerous other attractions is to be held at 5:30 p.m. today to officially open the rodeo.

Meanwhile "rodeo fever" was mounting high and not expected to ease off until the final event is run off Saturday night. The Post Lions Club put up their rodeo flags in front of business places last week to help set the stage for the Stampede.

In this afternoon's parade besides the 11 riding clubs, which will be competing for first, second and third place trophies, will be floats and decorated bicycles vying for a total of $175 in prize money in the float division and $25 in the decorated bicycle division.

Other parade attractions will include Miss Ford Country; Miss Lajuana Ward of Snyder, District IV queen of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs; the Lubbock Shriners "Kart Patrol" and "Klowns"; and Ted Aten and his Belgian work horses.

Not long after the end of the parade, the grand entry will begin at 7:45 at the rodeo arena, with Stampede officials to be introduced, along with this year's producer, Bucking S Rodeo, Inc., of Lawton, Okla., which began unloading its bucking and roping stock at the arena Wednesday morning.

Also at the grand entry, parade prizes will be awarded, including trophies to the most typically dressed young cowboy and cowgirl.

The rodeo itself is to get under way immediately following the conclusion of the grand entry. This year's regular rodeo events are bareback and saddle bronc riding, bull riding, girls' barrel racing tie-down calf roping and team roping.

There will be a wild mare race each night, and a special roping event open only to Garza County ropers Thursday and Saturday nights. The preliminaries in this special event will follow the first night's show with the top four ropers to

Lake employe is accident victim

Johnnie Mack Lowe, 35, a plant operator at White River Lake, was dead on arrival about 4 p.m. last Thursday at Crosbyton Clinic Hospital after he was injured in a traffic accident at the lake.

Lowe reportedly was attempting to repair a starter on a back-hoe tractor at the time of the accident. He was under the machine, attempting to "hot wire" the tractor, a plant worker said. The machine reportedly jumped into gear and the rear wheels passed over the victim's chest and legs.

Lowe was rushed to the Crosbyton hospital by private auto where he was dead on arrival.

A native of Crosbyton, Lowe was a member of Post, Lubbock and Crosbyton archery clubs and a member of state and national archery associations. This year, he had won fifth in state competition.

Lowe had worked with Boy Scouts, had served in the Air Force and was a member of First United Methodist Church of Crosbyton.

Survivors include his wife, Bonnie; a son, Mike of the home; his mother, Mrs. Virgil Lowe of Crosbyton; and six sisters, Mrs. J. Clyde Hillin of Ralls, Mrs. Billye Johnson, Mrs. Jimmie Hoffman and Mrs. Jane Parker, all of Crosbyton, Mrs. Sammie Edwards of Las Cruces, N. M., and Mrs. Bobbie Morrison of Artesia, Calif.

Reception set for new congressman

A reception honoring Garza County's new congressman, Omar Burleson, will be held in the community room of the First National Bank here from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 13.

J. B. Potts, a personal friend of the congressman who arranged for the reception, invites everyone who wants to meet Burleson to attend.

Refreshments will be served. Congressman Burleson will be accompanied here by Walter Grubbs of Abilene, his district office manager.

This will be the first opportunity for most Garza countians to meet Congressman Burleson since the county became a part of the 17th Congressional District of Texas in January.

Tax roll suit agreement set

District Judge George Hansard of Lamesa, after conferring with attorneys for plaintiffs and defendants here Tuesday afternoon, reached an agreement with them to appoint a master in chancery to supervise preparation of the Southland Independent School District tax rolls.

The attorneys, Pat N. Walker for the defendant, and Tom Griffith of Lubbock for plaintiff, were to get together today or tomorrow to work out other details of the master of chancery appointment and the case in general for submission to Judge Hansard.

The Tuesday action came after a group of nine Southland area farmers and businessmen filed a suit in Garza County district court in mid-July to block the Southland school board from carrying out what the plaintiffs described in their suit as "arbitrary, confiscatory and discriminatory school district tax assessments and property appraisals."

Supplementary aid available to grads

The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program, which has just recently gone into effect, will benefit 1973 high school graduates who need financial assistance to attend college, according to Lane Tannehill of the Post High School faculty.

Any 1973 graduate interested in supplementary financial aid to attend college is asked to contact Tannehill by telephone 2776 or 2178.

Speaker hits out at environmentalists

Bob Arheiger, district conservationist here, in a talk before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall hit at environmentalists who would ban the use of farm chemicals.

He cited a huge array of facts and figures to support his thesis that the use of chemicals in farming and food raising is not harmful and is much more productive than the "organic method" advocated by environmentalists.

Held for Kennedy

Services for Pete Kennedy, 64, produce manager at United Super Market, were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church here.

Mr. Kennedy had been a Post member for about 60 years. He died at 8:15 p.m. Friday at the hospital in Lubbock after suffering a heart attack in the day at his home.

Mr. Kennedy was born May 3, 1909, in Garza County, Texas, and was the son of Mrs. Edna Richardson Kennedy. He was married to Mrs. Helen Kennedy, nee Richardson, on Oct. 1, 1928. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Helen Kennedy, nee Richardson, on Oct. 1, 1972. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen Kennedy, nee Richardson, four sons, Wayne, Fred, Edna McLendon, and Edna Rankin, and one daughter, Mrs. Helen Kennedy, nee Richardson.

The funeral service was in Terrace Church of Christ, 1001 N. Main St., at 2 p.m. Monday. Burial was in the direction of the home.

Survivors were Morris Kennedy, Jr., Ira Young, and Bill Baker.

This week's big attraction

Getting under way tonight (Thursday) out at the rodeo arena, just northwest of town, is the third edition of the Post Stampede Rodeo, still referred to by local rodeo fans as "the fastest show in the West."

Rodeo activities are to begin at 5:30 p.m. today with the big street parade. Some two hours later, the grand entry will open the first night's show at the arena, with the rodeo performances to follow.

You are invited to see the street parade, then join your friends and neighbors in attending the first night's rodeo performance.

There is a new top-notch producer this year and a number of other changes that promise to make this Post Stampede Rodeo one of the biggest in the event's 33-year history.

Rodeo, a Spanish word meaning roundup, is the only sport that had its beginning in a major industry, that of cattle raising.

In the Southwestern part of the United States it is pronounced "ro-day-o," but in the West, North and Central part it is pronounced "ro-de-o," and that is the way cowboys say it. No matter how the word is pronounced the sport remains the same, and it is typical of the West.

It is indeed a sport, with the cowboys paying for the privilege of contesting for the prize money. This payment is in the form of entry fees, and it really means that the cowboy bets the amount of the entry fee that he can win against the other contestants in the same event.

Rodeo had its beginning in pioneer days before fences were built, when the cattle of neighboring ranches roamed and mingled on the open range. Each year cattle roundups were held, and at the same time cowboys sorted the cattle and branded the calves according to the brands of the cows they were following, thus establishing ownership of the cattle.

When the work was done, the cowboys from neighboring ranches matched one of their cowpokes against a cowboy from another ranch in roping or bronc riding. These matches grew into contests, other events were added, and they became rodeos.

There are two factors in producing a rodeo—the management, or local committee that sponsors the rodeo, provides the advertised prize money, grounds and equipment, and procures the livestock and the cowboys, who come from far and near to enter the contest and put on the show.

Furnishing stock for the rodeos is a business in itself, and a very important one. Stock contractors who have thousands of dollars invested in these rearing, bucking, twisting animals rent them to the rodeo management for the term of the rodeo.

We could go on and on about the thrilling sport of rodeo, but we've filled you in on the essentials—which most rodeo fans already knew anyway. So, now, go out tonight, Friday night and Saturday night and see "rodeo in action."—CD

School rush draws nearer

With mid-August approaching, another school term will be starting almost before we know it.

Parents with youngsters beginning school for the first time, look forward to school with a little more excitement, and many mothers whose first-born are going off to school may be a bit bewildered by it all.

In addition to the million-and-one chores that must be performed in getting the youngster ready for school—new shoes, clothes, health examination—school districts require proof of age for beginning students. A certified copy of a birth certificate is usually requested.

This fall there will be 221,100 new first graders in the schools throughout Texas, with the total public school enrollment expected to reach 2,806,300. Continued growth of the school population is expected for the next two or three years, according to the Texas Education Agency. In addition, there will be 78,700 children enrolled in public school kindergartens.

So, parents who do not already have birth certificates for their children who will be entering school for the first time are advised not to put off getting them. Many parents will be able to obtain a copy of the child's birth certificate at the county clerk's office. Others may need to write the Records and Statistics Division of the Texas State Department of Health to get one, or the records department in some other state if the child was not born in Texas.

Whichever is the case, parents who do not have birth certificates for children who will be starting to school or kindergarten are urged to stop now and get a certified copy of the required proof of birth.—CD

THE WIFE AND I were pleasantly surprised on our wedding anniversary Saturday, Aug. 4, when our son and daughter-in-law invited us over to their house for an anniversary supper. The big surprise came after we got there, however, and found that our son, daughter-in-law and grandson from Muleshoe also were "in on it" and had come over without letting us know they were coming.

It turned out to be about the nicest anniversary we've ever had. The wife told me if I put anything in the paper about it, not to say which anniversary it was. "Those whose business it is already know, and those whose business it isn't don't need to know," she said. That makes sense, doesn't it?

ALSO, SOMETHING interesting about the Phillis Eckells-Dickie Hollice Hill wedding of July 29, which came in just a little bit late to make the wedding story in last Thursday's Dispatch. The couple were married in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church, in which Phillis' grandparents, the late Phil Trammell and the then Miss Katharine Callis, were the first couple married.

The 33rd (some say the 34th) annual Post Stampede Rodeo gets under way tonight out at the arena. As far as the present rodeo plant is concerned, it is only the 26th annual Post Stampede, since the arena was built in 1947. Up until that time, the Stampede had been held on school property.

WALTER DUCKWORTH, still a big booster of the rodeo, was president of Post Stampede, Inc., in 1947, and it was he who announced the plans for the new plant. The plans included the purchase of 25 acres at a cost of $2,020 and construction of an arena that would accommodate 3,000 persons at a cost of approximately $6,000.

Merchants and individuals were called upon to contribute the $6,000 needed for the construction of the rodeo plant. They came through handsomely and the arena was completed early in May of 1947, in time for a matched roping on May 18 between Sonny Edwards of Big Spring and Lanham Riley of Snyder.

THE FOUR-NIGHT rodeo was first set for the last four days of May, but was changed to June 11-14 because many farmers were still busy in the fields the last of May, and many of the prospective cowgirl sponsors would be busy taking their final college examinations.

The rodeo arena was constructed by Higginbotham-Bartlett Committee chairmen and other rodeo workers appointed by Duckworth included: Homer McCrary, concessions; Eddie Warren, publicity; Lions Club members, grounds; Ira "Dad" Greenfield and Harold Voss, tickets; O. D. Cardwell, cowgirl sponsors; Clint Herring, dance, and Robert Cox and Dean A. Robinson, timekeepers.

TO ADVERTISE the first rodeo in the new plant, booster caravans fanned out in all directions from Post. Also, Sherrill Boyd, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce; James L. Minor and Lewis Nance made appearances on radio station KSEL in Lubbock to tell area fans about the new arena and the rodeo.

Billie June Kennedy, then a student at Texas Tech, was named "Miss Post" for the rodeo, and area towns, including Brownfield, Levelland and Colorado City, also sent cowgirl sponsors. Earlier, Miss Kennedy had been selected as queen of the Texas Tech collegiate rodeo.

HOP HALSEY and his Drug Store Cowboys of Lubbock (remember them?) played for the rodeo dances. Hundreds of people lined the street for the opening day parade and big crowds were on hand for each rodeo performance. Even so, though, the rodeo went over $2,600 "in the red," according to Duckworth. He blamed it on the fact that Lubbock held its professional rodeo the same weekend, with Gene Autry as the feature attraction. A little later, however, the rodeo president announced that all bills had been paid except that owed for the acreage on which the arena was built.

So, all in all, it appears that the first Post Stampede in the new rodeo plant got off to a good start. Since then, the arena has been enlarged and many other improvements made. Several years ago, the rodeo was shortened from four nights to three. It still ranks as "one of the best in the West," and when many out-of-town folks think of Post, one of the first things they think of is the Post Stampede.

Successful youth program

This summer's youth recreation program got "off the ground" in splendid fashion this year after none-too-successful programs in 1971 and 1972.

Members of the City Council were given copies of a report on the program by Mayor Giles C. McCrary at Monday night's council meeting. The report had been submitted by Coach Joe Giddens, program director, who has returned to his hometown of Littlefield to coach after two years in Post.

The program was jointly sponsored by the City of Post and Garza County. It reached a total of 345 children who registered for the various activities. Giddens, who, incidentally, deserves much of the credit for the success of the program, predicts a bright future for it, if it is continued on guidelines he suggested in his report.

The cost of the six-weeks program was $3,375, which was approximately $9.11 per child for the entire period. Considering the success of the program, that is a low figure.

Along with the summer baseball program and the opening of the new youth center on July 12, the six-weeks recreation program just about took care of all youngsters' needs as far as recreation is concerned. If there were any who didn't have anything to do this summer, it was their own fault or that of their parents.—CD

PCG director to be elected here Aug. 16

Garza County cotton producers and agribusinessmen will elect a businessman director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at an 8 p.m. meeting on Thursday, Aug. 16 in the Community Room of the First National Bank, Post.

Announcement of the election comes from Lewis Herron of Post, current Garza County businessman director to the 25-county commodity organization, and Wayne Carpenter, also of Post, producer director. Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a businessman, usually a cotton grower as well, and the other a cotton producer. They serve two-year terms, with businessmen elected on odd years and producers on even years. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

Herron and Carpenter said all interested parties are urged to attend, and that both farmers and businessmen are eligible to vote in the election.

In addition to the election, Carpenter said a member or members of the PCG staff will be on hand "to bring us up to date on cotton activities and to answer any questions concerning the recently passed farm bill for 1974 through 1977."

Will Garza County set a new cotton production record this year, as was forecast this week by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.?

Officers probing reported holdup

Sammy Maddox, 19, attendant at Long's Exxon Service Station, 201 North Broadway, reported to city police and the sheriff's department early Wednesday night of last week that he had been held up by a well-dressed man armed with a small revolver, who took "about $100" in bills from the cash register.

Maddox told City Patrolman Steve Otto, the first officer to arrive, and Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman that the hijacker ordered him to stand against the wall and keep his hands flat against his legs. The attendant said the man had walked across the driveway to enter the station and then walked away after telling him to keep standing against the wall.

Maddox told The Dispatch that the hijacker was bare-headed and well dressed and that he at first thought it was someone on his way home from church.

Where from Here

By Philip Daniels

There are two stories that are nearly alike but they have different endings. A tourist, lost because he thought he knew a short cut, inquired from a local resident how to get to Atlanta, Ga. The local resident said, "Well, you go down the road two miles then turn left, no I guess you go down three miles then turn right. No, I don't think that is the way. Really, Mister, I don't think you can make it to Atlanta from here." The other story tells of a tourist, who was lost, and upon inquiring if he could get to Atlanta, Ga., from there, was told, "Mister, you can go any place in the world from here."

School is about to begin, our town isn't large and the schools are not as large as some, but if we want to, we can go any where in the world from here. In fact, Alan Bean, from the small town of Wheeler, Texas, is in the Sky-Lab orbiting the earth 271 miles up. It is not the size of the town or the school that limits us. We can say, "I just can't make it from here." We can say, "I can go anywhere in the world from here."

In fact, as I think about it, you can go to heaven from Post, or you can go— It is all up to you!

Gridders get footgear; workouts to start Monday

More than 40 boys are expected out for squad

Football shoes and socks will be issued Post Antelope grid candidates today, with no-pad workouts to begin Monday, Aug. 13, Coach Bobby Davis said.

Davis, who is also athletic director, said he and his staff expect more than 40 seniors, juniors and sophomores to report for football practice.

From Monday until the following Friday, conditioning drills will be held, with pads to be issued on Friday, Aug. 17, the coach said. He said there will be a workout with pads Friday morning and a brief workout Saturday morning.

The first scrimmage will be Friday, Aug. 24, with Petersburg at Antelope Stadium, with the 'Lopes to scrimmage Spur on Oct. 5.

The Antelopes will open at home Friday night, Sept. 7, against the Lockney Longhorns of District 4AA and will also play non-conference games against Halls, Floydada and Idalou before opening District 5AA play at Lubbock Cooper on Oct. 5.

Coach Davis said if as many boys report as are expected and the squad can be kept up to fairly full strength, a complete junior varsity schedule will be played this season. Only five JV games were played in 1972 because of injuries reducing the size of the squad.

Following is the Antelopes' 1973 schedule:

- Sept. 7: Lockney at Post, 8 p.m.
- Sept. 14: Ralls at Post, 8 p.m.
- Sept. 21: Floydada at Floydada, 8 p.m.
- Sept. 28: Idalou at Idalou, 8 p.m.
- Oct. 5: Cooper at Cooper (district), 7:30 p.m.
- Oct. 12: Slaton at Post (district; homecoming), 7:30 p.m.
- Oct. 19: Frenship at Frenship (district), 7:30 p.m.
- Oct. 26: Open date.
- Nov. 2: Denver City at Post (district), 7:30 p.m.
- Nov. 9: Roosevelt at Roosevelt (district), 7:30 p.m.
- Nov. 16: Tahoka at Post (district), 7:30 p.m.

Saddle bronc riding classic rodeo contest

Saddle bronc riding is the classic rodeo event. Although it may not have the glamour as a spectator event that some contests do, it mirrors the heart and essence of the cattle industry. The contest evolves from the days when ranch cowboys broke their own horses.

Form and spurring are important if the rider expects to earn enough points to be among the winners. The bronc must be spurred over the break of the shoulder (where the collar fits) when the front feet hit the ground on the first jump out of the chute. The rider must not lose the stirrup or touch the horse, saddle or rein with his free hand or he will be disqualified.

Riders spur in a raking motion—fore and aft—from neck to cantleboard in what is called a "full stroke." Delicate timing, balance and rhythm are necessary. Outstanding form is displayed by the cowboy whose feet are at the point of the horse's shoulders as the animal's front hooves are about to touch the ground. The rider's toes are pointed outward and he has a "deep seat" in the saddle.

NAMED FOR EQUATOR
Ecuador is named for the equator and is about the size of the state of Colorado. Its climates include most types found anywhere on earth, ranging from tropical heat to polar cold.

PARADE ATTRACTION—Miss Ford Country, Sandy Lankford of Graham, will be here today to ride in the Post Stampede Rodeo parade and will attend tonight's grand entry. She has been traveling the state wearing her specially Ford blue western outfit representing Smith Ford of Slaton and other Ford dealers at rodeos and other events.

Miss Ford Country appears here today

When Miss Ford Country—22-year-old Sandy Lankford of Graham, Texas—sings out "Come along and ride with me," somebody out there in consumer land must listen because Texas Ford sales have been up for each of the three years she's been starring in Ford radio and television commercials.

In case you're wondering what she has that convinces so many Texans that Ford is "the" buy, take a look at her picture. She's blond and extremely pretty, but most Ford dealers attribute her popularity to the fact that she's really just a very personable, friendly, down-home Texas gal.

Thursday, Aug. 9, Sandy will be at Smith Ford in Slaton, in conjunction with the celebration of the Post Stampede. It's just one of the many appearances she's made or will make for Ford this year.

Since her selection three years ago as Miss Ford Country—from among 500 coeds with no previous television acting experience—she has traveled 75,000 miles per year, working 40 hours per week for Ford.

During all this, she completed her education, receiving a degree in physical education from the University of Texas at Arlington. She now lacks eight weeks of student teaching to qualify for her teacher's certificate; and if the "Miss Ford Country" promotion is not renewed for a fourth year, hopes to substitute teach "in order to keep my hand in and not waste four years of college."

But what she really wants is to continue her career in entertainment, and she now takes acting and diction lessons to further this goal.

Spurring gains extra points in bareback riding

Success in bareback bronc riding depends on more than being able to stay on the horse for the required length of time. Although this in itself is a difficult problem, the rider must also spur the animal correctly to gain the extra points which are needed to win.

To qualify for a score, the cowboy must spur the bronc over the break of the shoulders the first jump out of the chute. Required riding time varies from eight to ten seconds.

A zero score will be recorded if one hand is not kept free in the air at all times. Failure to do this results in what the cowboys call a "goose egg."

The only thing the bronc rider has to hold on to is a smooth leather surcingle which is much like a suitcase handle.

Judges look for the difficult horse and the cowboy who is in command. The split second a rider allows his seat to be thrown back from his riding hand usually foreshadows a launching. The further back he moves and the straighter his arm is pulled, the more helpless he is. Balance and timing are prime requirements for a successful bareback rider.

Jackie Brownd hired as coaching staff member

Jackie Brownd, 32, who coached five years at Monahans, one of the state's Class AAA powerhouse football teams the last several years, has been added to the Post High School coaching staff as a defensive coach, it was announced today by Head Coach Bobby Davis.

Brownd has been at Monahans six years, but did not coach during the 1972-73 school year. He had been attending East Texas State University during the summers working toward his master's degree in science.

He was a varsity assistant coach at Monahans when they went to the state quarterfinals in 1969 and again in 1970. In 1970, Monahans tied Brownwood, 10-10, but Brownwood won the game on penetrations and went on to win the state championship in Class AAA.

The new coach is a graduate of Sudan High School where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He graduated from West Texas State University in 1964 with majors in physical education and science. Following his graduation from WTSU, he coached at Hale Center for three years before going to Monahans.

Brownd's wife's name is Judy and her hometown is Plainview. They have two daughters, Julie, 4, and Jodie, 1.

Both Coach Davis and Supt. Bill Shiver said they feel they are fortunate in securing a coach of the caliber of Brownd. He replaces Joe Giddens, who resigned a few weeks ago to accept a coaching position at Littlefield.

A Salute to . . . Sheriff Holleman and Our Lawmen

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman stands at the open door of the men's cell in the new county jail, above, in a symbolic invitation to the local lawbreaker.

The bank wishes to salute Sheriff Holleman and members of his sheriff's force and the Post Police Department for their cooperative efforts which are leading Post and Garza County into a new and brighter era in law enforcement.

Our new jail and law enforcement building is a fitting reminder of what this new spirit of cooperation has built. Post and Garza County today are working together as they never have before—and our lawmen best exemplify this newly-found "togetherness."

Cowgirls add femininity to rodeo competition

Women have been rodeo contestants for nearly 25 years. Unlike their women's lib counterparts who stress their total equality with men, the females in rodeo won their way into the sport emphasizing glamour and feminine showmanship.

The struggle to be included in the then all-male rodeo competition began in 1948 with the men's Rodeo Cowboy Association helping them all the way. Appropriately enough, it was a group of Texas females that first sought entry into the rodeo world.

Experiments with various contests were refined into the present Cloverleaf Barrel Race which is virtually a standard rodeo contest. According to rodeo audience surveys, it is one of the most popular of the rodeo events.

The girls have their own Girls' Rodeo Association with a full-time office and secretary-treasurer, their own insurance plan, newsletter and publicity program. They publish a rule book, approve their own rodeos—all with prior approval by the Rodeo Cowboys Association—tabulate money won and name an annual world champion. The RCA includes the barrel race in the National Finals Rodeo each year in Oklahoma City.

GRA rodeo competition is held at over 300 rodeos each year for purses totaling near $236,000.

Pre-registration is set for Junior High pupils

Students who did not attend school in Post the past year but who will be starting junior high school here Aug. 27, should go by the office of Principal Billy Hahn beginning Monday, Aug. 13, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and pre-register. The office will be open each weekday during these hours through Aug. 24.

"It will aid us and help you get off to a good start in that your schedule will be complete and you will be ready to start classes at the very beginning and miss nothing," the principal said.

"If you were in a Post school at the end of last year, and we have your record, you are already pre-registered and you will not need to come up until Aug. 27," Mr. Hahn said.

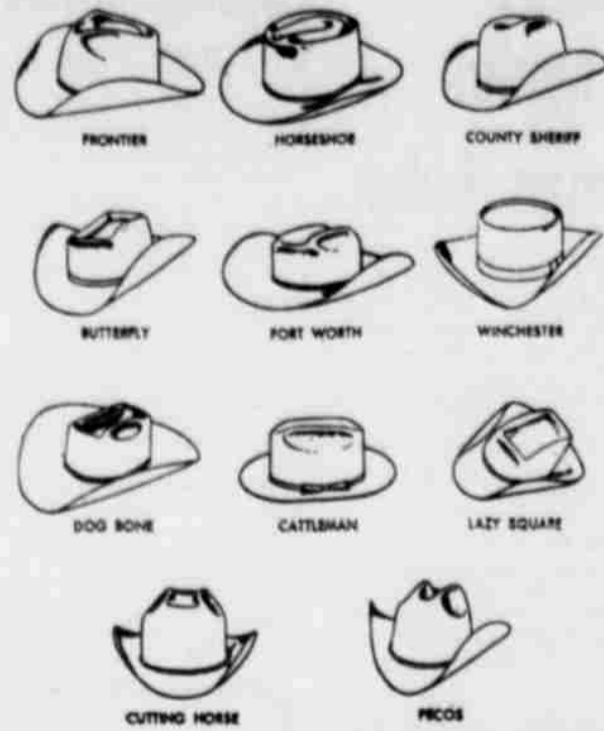

Junior high school will open at 8:30 a.m. Aug. 27 with an assembly in the junior high gym. Students will sit in the north bleachers during this assembly.

At this time, the students in the sixth grade will be assigned to a section and go with their homeroom teacher to their homeroom, where they will be given information about their daily schedule, location of the rooms for each class, assigned lockers, issued books for that class, and be able to ask questions about any part of the school that they do not understand.

After the sixth grade has gone to their homerooms, the seventh and eighth grades will be divided. The seventh grade will move to the east end of the bleachers and the eighth grade will move to the west end. There, they will be given their schedule cards. These cards will have the schedule of the students' daily classes, their locker number, and space for them to put other information. They will need to keep this card until they have all the information well in mind, so that they will not get misplaced during the day, the principal said.

Following the assembly, students whose names were not called or who did not receive a schedule card will report to the office to be registered and given a schedule.

Summa cum laude is conferred on freshmen who accumulate 35 total grade points, and on sophomores and above with 60 grade points. Cum laude goes to freshmen with 54 grade points, and to sophomores and above with 55 to 59 grade points.

Extension grant for teletypes awarded SPAG

AUSTIN—A $26,476 grant awarded the South Plains Association of Governments today by Gov. Dolph Briscoe will be used to continue and expand operation of the South Plains regional law enforcement teletype network, which already includes Garza County. The money will come from the Criminal Justice Council, which administers the state's block grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act.

The teletype network permits rapid access to computerized information centers at the state and national levels. Eighteen agencies now are on line. Approval of the new award will enable addition of two new agencies, Floydada and Olton police departments. Participating agencies will contribute a $22,615 cash match to the project. The South Plains application was among 52 for action and planning funds considered by the CJC Executive Committee July 13. Requests totaled more than four million dollars.

Shakespeare Festival under way at Odessa

ODESSA, TEX.—"Shirtsleeve Shakespeare"—that sounds the note of informality at the fifth annual Odessa Summer Shakespeare Globe Theatre.

If a Shakespeare Festival in Odessa—the oilfield service and supply capital of the world—is hard to believe, then consider the incongruity of the most exact replica of Shakespeare's London Globe Theatre, poised majestically amid the mesquite and cacti in this Permian Basin city.

But there it stands—"a jewel," called by one critic—visited by thousands of persons each year who came to tour the theatre or to see the festival, the only Shakespeare Festival in the Southwest.

The intimacy of this octagonal-shaped theatre with its thrust stage, three-tiered seating, British red upholstered seats and carpet, and air conditioning, combined with the young, enthusiastic professional talent from California, New York and Canada, make this a truly unique Texas attraction.

With the aisles and ramps used for exits and entrances to the stage, actor and audience almost touch, and with such innovations as having all the men check their coats, as they used to check their guns in Western sagas, a relaxed and friendly mood is struck from the beginning.

The festival this season features "The Tempest" and "The Comedy of Errors" by Shakespeare and "Cyrano de Bergerac" by Rostand, playing alternately Tuesday through Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon.

Elizabethan music and dances are performed on the "Green" before the show opens and during intermission. English shrubs, flowers and trees, surround the theatre which is encompassed in a high wall.

Reservations may be made by writing to the Odessa Shakespeare Globe Theatre, 2308 Shakespeare Road, Odessa, Tx. 79761. Single admissions are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"Dirty Dishes" will be the title of Minister Bernard S. Ramsey's sermon at the 11 a.m. worship at the First Christian Church this Sunday, with the Lord's Supper also to be observed. There is a supervised nursery at the morning worship.

Homes less than ten years old account for 30.4 per cent of all remodeling, one U. S. survey found.

THAT DOTTED LINE

AUSTIN—The phrase, "Sign your name on the dotted line," can sound quite inviting after you've waited for credit approval on a loan or time purchase.

That may be the flattering sign that you're a "good credit risk." But it is not wise to rush into any contract.

If you read any installment contract carefully, you should find a statement in bold type, cautioning: "Notice to Buyer—Do not sign this agreement before you read it, or if it contains blank spaces." The statement also puts you on notice that you are entitled to a copy of the agreement.

In order to meet state and federal requirements on credit agreements, the contract must tell you the difference between cash price and credit price, less down payment and/or trade-in; list any additional charges, such as credit insurance premiums, and spell out the total number of payments to be made by you, as well as the amount of each monthly or weekly payment due.

If you already have insurance which would cover your note amount or the secured property if anything happened to you, or if you have an insurance agent with whom you would prefer to deal, let the creditor know. He cannot require you to buy the policy he may offer.

Be certain the agreement contains the name, as well as the address, of the lender or creditor; the correct date on which you made the note, and the date for final payment. And, if the creditor is taking a lien or other security on your property, make sure that that detail is included in the contract.

If you are negotiating a home improvement, ask to see the "certificate of satisfaction" which the seller must furnish you. But heed the warning that you should not sign the certificate of satisfaction until the work has been completed, and until you know that you are satisfied with it.

That may seem like a lot of detail. But it is not complicated. Just remember to read carefully every section leading to a space for your signature.

And be certain you understand it to your own satisfaction.

Most merchants or lending institution officials will be more than happy to answer any questions. In fact, some are exceedingly scrupulous about not allowing you to sign until they believe there is no room for misunderstanding.

Take advantage of the occasion to review the obligation you're accepting. Now that it is all there in black and white, do you honestly believe that the amount and the frequency of payments will not work too much of a hardship on the family budget?

Sometimes, my Consumer Protection Division investigators have looked into complaints of overcharge, only to discover that the interest and payment plans were legal, but hasty consumers had not noticed what a strain the obligation would be until they started paying it out.

If you do have any complaints or questions concerning credit contract rights, do not hesitate to contact a local consumer protection enforcement agency, or the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, El Paso or Lubbock.

Panhandle is turkey country

SAN ANGELO—Talk about wildlife in the Texas Panhandle and the conversation usually turns to pheasant, prairie chickens and mule deer.

Seldom is heard a word about the Rio Grande turkey.

And yet, since 1950, some 12,590 gobblers and hens have been harvested in the counties comprising the Texas Panhandle.

Peak years of turkey harvest in the area were 1965, 1966 and 1967.

Thanksgiving tables were filled with some 3,000 turkeys killed by hunters in the Panhandle.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists and game wardens predict that the 1973-74 season will be a good one.

Area show adds new divisions

FORT WORTH—The 1974 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show will feature breeding classes for Brangus and Brown Swiss cattle and performance classes for Morgan Horses, in addition to major rule changes in cutting horse competition.

In announcing the changes, W. R. Watt Jr., stock show general manager, said plans are entering final stages for the Jan. 25 through Feb. 3 exposition on Amon Carter Square in Fort Worth. The horse show begins Jan. 22.

Watt said premium books for the 78th edition of the Stock Show will be available by early October. Exhibitors will be requested to study the books for rule changes and arrival times.

"For some time we have had inquiries and requests concerning the establishment of classes for Brangus, Brown Swiss and Morgans," Watt said. "We are glad to be able to offer premiums for these fine breeds."

"The stock show, through the years, has grown because of breeder interest, and there is assurance of a nice representation of top animals for these new classes," the general manager said.

Premiums in the Brangus division will pay $4,000, with $3,300 offered in Brown Swiss classes. Brangus show dates are Jan. 31 and Brown Swiss will show on Feb. 1.

Make it a point to see that a shady past is past—strive to build a new future.

MEET MISS FORD COUNTRY AT OUR SHOWROOM TODAY

County taking part in state 4-H center

2.5 million potential members, and approximately 100,000 of these young people are in Garza County. The County Extension Service is planning to build a State 4-H Center. To meet the goal of reaching new youth, present programming will have to expand greatly. Many new approaches in involving people will have to be used. More leaders will be needed. The present 14,000 4-H adult leaders will need to expand to 40,000," Mrs. Feaster says. Further, a well-trained, confident adult leadership is vital to youth programs. To enable the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to offer adequate leader training and establish new programs, a permanent facility is needed—a State 4-H Center. Such a 4-H center is on the drawing board for Texas. Presently, about 20 states operate year-round 4-H centers and others have numerous summer camps. Leadership for the projected 4-H center is being provided by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, but members need the help of all area citizens. "Put it all together with a 4-H center" is the campaign theme. The educational facility will be constructed on a 78-acre site at Lake Brownwood. It will offer many new opportunities and dimensions for programs and activities.

"Project workshops, county and district activities, leadership labs, 4-H leader workshops, clinics and camps, ecology projects, citizenship and international activities will be among activities to be staged at the center," Dr. Donald L. Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader, explains. Proof that the proposed 4-H center is important to youth is evident from the fact that 4-H'ers throughout the state conducted chocolate sales to earn $134,000, and business and industry groups have pledged another $200,000 toward the project. Within each Extension district, 4-H Youth Foundation trustees and other leaders have formed committees to set district goals and make plans for reaching these goals. A total of $1.5 million is needed to construct the center. This means that our county has established a goal within the

District 2 framework to share in this important project. The 4-H District 2 area set its goal at $75,000, which will build one housing unit. Each unit will be composed of two bedroom units and one living seminar room. Each bedroom unit will have its own bathroom facilities. A living unit will house 16 youths and two counselors. The local goal has been set for $3,750, and fund raising plans have been made. The first of a series of money raising projects will be the donkey baseball game on Tuesday, July 31. All interested citizens are invited to participate in this vital project to help prepare today's youth for tomorrow. Join our local 4-H'ers in working toward this goal.

The problem of any problem is to find the facts.

City interested in helping on tennis facilities

The Post City Council indicated Monday night that it is interested in helping keep tennis interest on the upswing here and that it would be willing to assist in the construction of at least two additional courts and the lighting of the two present courts along with the new ones.

Mrs. Bob Macy, who met with the council to ask its assistance in the construction of at least two more tennis courts, pointed to the interest shown and the large number of players taking part in the first annual Garza County Tennis Tournament held in July.

Mrs. Macy, who met with the council when her husband was unable to be present, as scheduled on the council agenda, said the thinking of local tennis enthusiasts is that two additional courts built "back-to-back" to the present two courts across the street from the high school building would be a big help, but that more than two additional courts actually are needed. She said the thinking is that perhaps the additional courts could be constructed at the City-County Park or in some other suitable location.

She said even two additional courts would enable Post High School to host the district tennis tournament, and make possible larger summer tournaments for both juniors and seniors.

It was estimated that two new courts would cost approximately $10,000, but that this figure could be reduced by donations of materials and city and county labor in addition to volunteer labor on the part of tennis fans.

Lighting the courts, Mrs. Macy said, would enable play after dark when playing conditions usually are better because of less wind, and also would give more people an opportunity to use the courts.

The council said it would check with the school to see what the city's position would be in building the courts, or assisting in building them, on school property.

Also at Monday night's meeting, which was its regular August session, the council heard Syd B. Wyatt and Mrs. Patsy McCowen of the new youth center committee report that the center's operation has been "very successful" since its opening July 12.

Wyatt reported that the youth center has approximately 150 members who pay $3 each for an annual membership. The center's membership is open to youths from eighth grade through 12th grade, with a few teen-agers who are out of high school also members.

He reported that there were 85 boys and 52 girls on the membership rolls early last week, but that the membership has since increased to about 150. The 11th grade is represented with the most members — 30—Wyatt told the council.

At the two committees' recommendation, the council voted to raise the salary of David Feaster, youth center director, from $250 to $300 a month. Wyatt explained that Feaster is doing janitorial work in addition to directing the youth center and is putting in "nearly 40 hours" a week at the job.

Mrs. McCowen reported that the center's finances had been given a boost by the transfer of approximately $1,100 to the center from the Teen Town fund. She said transfer of the funds was authorized by Dan Rankin, who was in charge of Teen Town activities.

The council approved business building permit applications of the Slaton Savings & Loan Association for a branch office building here; Weldon Horton for a garage costing approximately $25,000, and Joe McCowen for a Robo car wash and also a site for location of an overnight trailer park of from eight to ten trailer spaces.

The council authorized Mayor Giles C. McCrary, City Manager Pete Maddox and City Secretary Wanda Wilkerson to work together in the allocation of $56,920 in revenue sharing funds, with a report to be submitted before Sept. 14. The revenue sharing funds to be allocated are to be received for the period July 1, 1973, to June 30, 1974.

The council set its regular September meeting date for the second Monday, Sept. 10, because of the first Monday, Sept. 3, being Labor Day.

The council also voted to advertise for bids for a depository for city funds and set the Sept. 10 meeting as the date of opening of the bids.

The bid of Taylor Tractor & Equipment Co. was accepted by the council on purchase of a riding lawn mower to be used by the Green Thumb crew and also for mowing at Terrace Cemetery. The successful bid, one of five submitted, was $475 for a seven-horsepower mower.

Band director moves to Post

Jim Swofford, his wife and their three daughters have moved from Floydada to Post where he has accepted the position of band director, replacing Herb Germer, who resigned to accept a similar position at a high school in Port Arthur.

Swofford, a graduate of Sul Ross State University and Texas Tech, has been band director at Floydada High School for the last five years. He was also a band director in his hometown of Uvalde and in Winters and Lubbock before going to Floydada.

Swofford's wife's name is Linda and their three daughters are Jimmie Lynne, 8 years old, Melody, 6, and Christy Ruth, 3. The new band director has called a high school band rehearsal meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 13, at the band hall. Following the rehearsal meeting, Swofford will work with the band in sections the rest of the week, he said.

Stampede--

The rodeo's specialty act each night will be L. V. Sanders and his performing horse and dog. Weldon Reed and the Solid Country will play for a rodeo dance following each night's show.

Tommy Young, Stampede secretary, said at noon Wednesday that the bull riding, bareback bronc riding and barrel racing events were each "full up" with 45 contestants; there were 62 calf ropers entered, which is two more than the 60-roper limit originally set. Fifty-two team ropers were entered with 60 the limit, and 16 saddle bronc riders were entered.

At least 25 Garza County ropers will be competing in the special roping event open to county ropers only.

Trustees--

(Continued From Page One) an appraisal. After a prolonged discussion, trustees agreed to ask Joe Hall of the Lubbock firm of Whitaker and Hall to make such a certified valuation and then determine the scope of its future insurance coverage.

The board approved Supt. Shiver's recommendation for a half-day kindergarten for all students who enroll except for the educationally handicapped who will attend kindergarten a full day.

Shiver said kindergarten students who come to school by school bus will attend classes in the morning only and parents will be asked to pick up their children at noon.

Syd Wyatt, representing Investors Diversified Services, appeared before the board to request permission for the school to make payroll deductions for teachers using one of the IDS savings plans.

A long board discussion was held on this subject at the end of the meeting with a board decision postponed until the full board could be present.

The school district's annual budget hearing was set for 1 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 23.

Postings--

There isn't much "beef hoarding" going on here. One meat market manager said most of his customers were nice about it and followed his suggestions to buy what they need. Another said if much over-buying got started, a limit probably would have to be placed on purchases per customer.

None of the meat counters are now mixing hamburger and soy bean meal together to reduce the price as some super markets have done in Lubbock and other places.

None of the local meat men know exactly what to expect between now and mid-September when the retail beef ceiling is lifted. But nobody really expects to see a lot of beef around until then—and when the ceiling is lifted nobody wants to predict how high that beef price will climb.

And speaking of high prices, have you noticed what is happening to egg prices lately?

Reception--

While Congressman Burleson is Garza County's "new congressman" he has served the Texas 17th Congressional District for 26 years since first taking his seat in the House of Representatives in January, 1947.

Listed as a Democrat and a progressive-conservative in political philosophy, Congressman Burleson is a member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee and has one of the best attendance records in the House.

Prior to becoming a congressman, Burleson served as county attorney and county judge of Jones County over a period of 10 years, became a special agent of the FBI in 1940, resigning to enter the Navy for World War II service of three and one-half years with duty in the North Atlantic and South Pacific, being discharged as a lieutenant commander.

He and his wife, Ruth, maintain their official residence at Anson where he attended public schools.
