Students Enter District UIL Whirl

Students from Baird Elementary School captured four first places at district literary contests last Saturday, with results from one event still awaited. Being graded at Howard Payne College this week was the ready writing contest. Baird's entries in that event were Evelyn Smalley and Laura Schaffrina. Blue ribbons for Baird came in number sense, picture memory and both spelling contests. Butch Smith took first place in the number sense contest, while Ronnie Hughes was fourth. Members of the picture memory team, which tied with Albany for top honors, were Jan Walker, Gary Goble, Marsha Jordan, Steve Parks and Charlene Black. Finishing first among fifth and sixth grade spellers were Charlou Richardson and Marion Odom, while Elaine Henry and Mary Ann Bell were first in seventh and eighth grades.

Robby Talley was fourth in boys declamation, Barbara Jordan was second in girls declamation and Robert Vineyard was second in storytelling. Baird High School captured one first place in the literary meet's senior division. Carol Lynn McGowen took top honors in number sense.

Miss McGowen was also named alternate in the slide rule contest. Other Baird High literary points came in extemporaneous speaking, where Stephanie Lafon was named alternate to the regional meet; in typing where Aleta White is alternate; and in spelling, where the Baird team finished second to Albany. Ready writing results have not been received. District 10-A track and field competition will be held Saturday at Ranger. Baird High School is expected to be among contenders for district honors on the strength of overall depth.

BY NORMAN FISHER
WE FOUND IT MOST refreshing to see members of the Baird High girls basketball team dressed like the young ladies they are at the dinner last week. All too often the general image of a winning team is tied up in athletic uniforms. Fans tend to visualize the players as they are in competition, rather than as they appear in everyday life. In the few weeks we have lived in Baird, we had come to think of members of this state championship team merely as girl basketball players, not well-groomed and personable young women. It was very good to get back on the right track. Sort of restores your faith in the future, doesn't it?

BAIRD YOUNGSTERS did well in district Interscholastic League literary events last weekend in Cross Plains, especially those competing in the elementary school division.

This portion of UIL competition is often overlooked by schools, parents and the public, but we consider it a good mirror of a school's academic progress.

It should not be the goal of a school to compete in these events just to win. Rather, winning in literary events is a sign of a healthy school program which is doing its job as it should.

These youngsters are as deserving of public recognition as is the halfback or sprinter who performs for his school.

WE WATCHED a youngster the other evening as he carefully lettered a small sign with his still-unsteady printing style. Then we watched as he just as carefully attached the "flag" to his cat's tail. This aroused enough curiosity that we had to get close enough to read what he had printed. On one side, in his childish printing, the sign boldly said "Yea, Cats." And on the other side, equally as bold, it proclaimed "Boo, Mice."

MANY MAN HOURS have already been invested this year in the Callahan County Sheriffs Posse rodeo, scheduled this year for April 30-May 2.

Besides all the planning which must go into a community production of this sort, there have been literally hundreds of uncounted hours gone into renovation work around the arena. To pay for this labor would make the cost of the work prohibitive. But the time has been donated without a question. Watching this sort of community effort in action makes it much easier for a newcomer to understand why this rodeo has been a consistent success throughout its history.

ONE OF THESE fancy, high-powered and gas-gulping new cars pulled into a Baird service station the other day and the driver left the motor running as the attendant filled the tank. After a few minutes of this, the attendant told the driver he would have to turn off the motor. "You're getting ahead of me," he complained.

THE CALENDAR is dotted with birthdays coming up for next week. On April 12 it will be Marie Windham and Barbara McPherson, on April 13 Manuel Martinez, and April 14 Mrs. Irene Barker, Pat Myer and Truman Meyer. April 15 it is Charlou Richardson and Wade Johnson; April 16, Mrs. Schaffrina; and April 18, Billie Jo Cason.

THE BIG ONE — Admiring Baird High's trophy for winning state Class A girls basketball championship were these four principals in Thursday night banquet honoring the Bearettes. They are, left to right, Coach L. B. Howard, Sharon Jeter, Paula Corn and Olaf South of Sweetwater. Misses Jeter and Corn were all-state choices for their play in the championship meet.

RENTAL LISTINGS ARE NEEDED HERE

Baird Chamber of Commerce needs an up-to-date, complete listing of rentals available here. Vacancies are needed for employes of Allen Construction Co. of San Antonio, contractor for highway work east of Baird.

All types of listings, from rooms to houses, are needed although the demand is expected to be heaviest for furnished apartments.

Anyone having rentals should contact the chamber of commerce at UL 4-1700.

Hunting Mishap Wounds Finley

Norman Finley was in Hendrick Memorial Hospital Wednesday following a hunting accident near Baird. He was shot in the stomach by a .22 caliber rifle.

He was treated at Callahan County Hospital before being transferred to Abilene. He is an Abilene resident but has a ranch near Baird.

Reports said Finley saw a bobcat run across old Highway 80 east of Baird, and stopped to shoot it. Sheriff Homer Price said he apparently caught the trigger of his rifle on the fence as he crawled through it.

Finley crawled back to his car where Hugh Dickson of Baird discovered the accident and took him to the ranch house.

Band Boosters Meet For Monday Night

A meeting of the Baird Band Boosters Club has been called for 7 p.m. Monday, April 13, in the school cafeteria.

Parents of band members and others interested in the school band program are invited to attend, according to Max Harper, band director.

It will be the next-to-last meeting of the year for the organization. Several important items are scheduled for discussion.

BANQUET PUTS CAP ON BASKETBALL YEAR FOR STATE CHAMP BEARETTES

The curtain officially fell on the 1963-64 basketball season for Baird last Thursday night when almost 200 fans and friends honored the 26 girls who contributed toward winning the state Class A cage crown.

Members of both the varsity, which compiled a 39-1 season record, and the B team were honored at the dinner.

School Supt. Olaf South of Sweetwater, former head of the Baird schools, was principal speaker for the evening. He urged the girls to "take a little honey" in their preparation for the future.

"Leave off the unimportant things in life and search for the finer things," he said.

Highlighting the evening was the introduction of the 26 girls and screening of a film of the Baird-Jourdanton game for the state championship, won by the Bearettes, 85-68.

Coming in for extra praise during introduction of the team were the three senior members of the team, who were also the starting forwards. They are Karen Bearden, Elaine Hass and Paula Corn.

The three, in turn, presented gifts to Coach L. B. Howard from the team and the seniors, and to Miss Amelia Smith, team chaperone throughout the season.

In speaking briefly about the three seniors, Howard cited Miss Bearden's passing ability, Miss Hass' desire and determination, and Miss Corn's scoring record of 4,142 points in four seasons.

He called Miss Corn one of the best natural athletes he has ever coached.

Banquet tables for the affair were decorated with the 27 basketball trophies won by Baird girls during the four years of high school for the three seniors.

Howard also received a gift from citizens of Baird. Presentation was by Claud Holley, manager of the Baird Chamber of Commerce.

Howard told the audience he feels the 1963-64 season included the best material he has ever coached.

And he cited six requirements for a championship team — all of which were filled by the Bearettes this season. They are ability, desire and determination, hard work, labor, togetherness, and support of the community.

Besides the three seniors, members of the girls teams honored were:

Juniors — Sue Howard, Sharon Jeter, Yvonne Shelnett, Sally Green and Mary Corn.

Sophomores — Betty Corn, Vicky Jones, Dana Corn and Barbara Henry.

Recognized as team managers were Roberta Lawrence and Karen Jones.

Burleson Makes Formal Statement In Race for Reelection to House

Omar Burleson, veteran Congressman from the 17th District, is conducting a virgorous, active campaign for the Democratic Primary nomination for reelection.

In seeking reelection, Burleson said he is basing his campaign on his record of nearly 18 years service in Congress.

"In that time, I have never been a rubber-stamp, but have fulfilled my responsibility to vote on each issue for the best interest of my Country, my State, and my district," Burleson said.

"I do not think the people of the 17th District want or deserve anything less." Burleson, at 58, is already one of the senior members of the U.

S. House of Representatives in point of service.

Plans for the annual cleanup campaign have been announced by a committee of the Baird Chamber of Commerce. The week of April 13 has been designated for the drive.

Baird residents have been urged to begin cleanup work this week. Extra rubbish and trimmings from trees and shrubs should be placed at the regular trash pickup spot for both homes and businesses.

The extra trash should be at the collection points by April 20, when city trucks will begin picking up the debris. Work will begin in northeast Baird, in Ross Acres and along the Albany highway. The trucks will work across town west during the week.

Members of the chamber committee heading the cleanup drive are James Eubanks, Clyde White and R. C. Wristen. Eubanks, chairman, said the group would like to have other clubs and organizations join in boosting the program.

UNION USUALS AND UNUSUALS

BY VEDA YARBROUGH

Hi neighbor. Did you get some rain Saturday night? Some out this way got some rain and quite a bit of hail down at Burette Ramseys and John McIntyres. There was still some hail on Burrettes house in the north west valley of the house and still a little on the ground on the same side of the house.

I was pleasantly surprised last Wednesday to have Ardis and Ola Yarbrough of Slena Vista, Arizona visit with me. We visited with D. A. Yarbrough and Dick and Annie Yarbrough, also with Roma and John McIntyre. We really did enjoy them, hope they can come back some time and stay longer, they came to Cross Plains to get Ola's mother, Mrs. McElroy. She will spend several weeks with them. Ardis and Ola have a new grandson, he lives in Calif., but Grandpa and Grandma have been out to see him, they say he really is a dandy little fellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Elland of Stanton visited a few days the first of last week with Dick and Annie Yarbrough, they all fished quite a bit while here don't think had much luck, they caught several small ones anyway they had fun.

Mark and Ollie Burnam had company over the weekend, Mary Jack Everett and girls, from Hobbs, N. M., Gayle and James Isenhower of Abilene.

We are sorry Mrs. Clint McIntyre and her company found no one at home Sunday afternoon. Roma and John McIntyre had gone to church at Moran and on up to Hubbard Dam for lunch and I was visiting with Burette and Johnny May Ramsey and Linda.

I visited awhile Saturday with the Mobley girls, they are busy as the rest of us are, trying to kill and get rid of these old pesky weeds. Have you bought your blackeye peas? It will soon be time to plant them.

I haven't found anymore rattlesnakes, guess they think it is a little early yet. We had some real summer days last week, one day was in the nineties, some way up in the eighties, the nights are pretty chilly.

Mrs. R. G. Edwards of Eula, I hope you are feeling a lot better. I know how to sympathize with you as I had the same kind of trouble a few years back, it is terrible. I sure hope you are feeling a lot better.

John McIntyre has planted maize, think Burette Ramsey has planted some maize, also some have planted sudan.

Good morning this cold Tuesday. I looked at the weather thermometer a while ago and it was 45 degrees. Guess I better get this in the mail so be good and I will see you next week I hope.

QUICKIE LESSONS IN GRAMMAR BY LLOYD D. HUFF

Restrictive and nonrestrictive words, phrases, and clauses are a heap of fun to work with and really pretty definite and dependable in the final analysis. Let's try the following two definitions for size: a restrictive element restricts the meaning of the sentence to ONE particular person, or place, or thing out of an indefinite group. It narrows the meaning down to a specifically intended item in a group. The restrictive element is necessary for conveying complete meaning in the sentence, and to show further that it is an integral part of the sentence, we do not set it off with commas. A nonrestrictive element is used in cases where there is no possibility of misunderstanding and where only one person or place or thing is being discussed. The nonrestrictive element is NOT necessary to the complete meaning of the sentence and is merely thrown in as a piece of additional information. It IS separable from the sentence and so we have to set it off with commas to indicate its detached quality.

Now for some examples of restrictive elements: if I say "My cousin Tom went to the rodeo," by not including commas I indicate that TOM is a restrictive appositive and the meaning of the sentence indicates that of the several cousins that I have, Tom is the one that I narrow down or restrict the meaning to. With commas around Tom this would be a nonrestrictive appositive and I would be showing that I have only one cousin and that his name happens to be

Tom. If I say "You must read the book on the table," "on the table" is a restrictive phrase which narrows down the meaning to one of several books and points out or restricts the one in meaning. An implication also is that there are other books in the room. If I say "Tom Smith, on the committee and ready to work, was elected chairman," I am dealing with a nonrestrictive phrase since, to the minds of those to whom such a statement would logically be made, the identity of Tom Smith is not in question. We are not saying which Tom Smith; we are merely throwing in some additional information — that he has been elected to the committee and its chairmanship. If I say "The men who achieve such a high goal are much to be honored," I need to narrow down from men in general to those specifically who achieve such a high goal; therefore, I need the dependent clause to pick out a certain group of men — the achievers as to be distinguished from the non-achievers. In the sentence "Texas, which was once a part of Mexico, is the largest state in the Union." (I don't believe what they say about Alaska!) I am not saying WHICH Texas; I am merely throwing in some additional information and the dependent clause will be non-restrictive and will carry the commas. (To Be Continued.)

For homework: If you found a substantive in your back yard, would you cry, laugh, or bring it into the house? Answer from last time: Wrong. The house was SET there by the carpenters. Now it SITS there.

TECUMSEH TOPICS

BY LILLIAN CRAWFORD

Well it's good to be at home again after a two weeks absence due to a week in Hendricks Hospital for surgery, then a week with Mr. and Mrs. Hulon Crawford and family in Abilene.

My Dr. told me Monday that I was doing well, and if progress continues it would only be a few weeks until I would be well again.

When we get around a Hospital we learn of many who have sickness one kind or the other. Mrs. Earl Millhorn of Eula and Mrs. Lena Kendrick of Tuscola both had surgery the week I was hospitalized. Would liked to have visited each of these, but just too many steps between us for convenience.

Ira Crawford and Lynda visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hulon Crawford Sunday, later going to Cross Plains and finding Roger Crawford sick with the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thaxton of Littlefield, visited his sister, Mrs. John McGowen last week, and other relatives here and in Abilene and Clyde.

to the chairmanship of the potent House Administration Committee, and to the third ranking position on the powerful House Foreign Affairs Committee. In addition, Burleson serves on two important Joint Committees formed from senior members of the House and Senate, as chairman of one and vice chairman of the other.

"In all my years in Congress," Burleson said, "I have followed two guiding principles: First to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest degree possible in my actions as their Representative. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect my District, my State, and the Nation.

Burleson termed his approach to government as one of "common sense," gained through his years of public service.

A former special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Burleson is former county attorney and county judge of Jones County, and served three years during World War II with the Navy in the Pacific.

As a leader in Congress, Burleson has consistently urged the return to a sounder fiscal policy, and the cutting of unnecessary and extravagant federal spending.

"I have tried to see that your tax money is spent as wisely, and as frugally, as you would have spent it had you been in my place," Burleson said. "The record will definitely show that on many occasions I have found myself in the minority — especially on needless spending of the taxpayers' money. I am proud that I have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best."

"At every session of Congress, I have voted for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department, and far below that actually appropriated by the Congress, except in the field of National Defense," Burleson said.

"When it comes to the defense of this Country, I have always voted for those things calculated to make and to keep our nation stronger than any other in the world," he said.

Burleson has been an implacable foe of the constant encroachment of the federal government into the area of State and local affairs.

"As the federal government has grown to its colossal proportions, the threat of centralized power in Washington has increased," Burleson pointed out. "To this, I am opposed, as my actions have proved."

"Big government and high taxes are the result of many activities of the Federal Government which should be reserved to the States. Big government with its far-flung operations has created needless waste and extravagance."

Burleson stated he was proud of the "trust and the confidence placed in me by the people who send me to Congress — and to violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable."

He urged residents of the 17th District not familiar with his background of service to investigate the record he has made — "And if you believe I have been faithful to duty and worthy of your continued support, then your active participation in my campaign will be greatly appreciated."

Well-known throughout Texas, Burleson is a native of the 17th District. He was born and raised on a farm between Anson and Stamford in Jones County. He attended rural school, and graduated from Anson High School. Following graduation, Burleson attended Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, and graduated from Cumberland Law School. Later, he studied postgraduate law at the University of Texas. Burleson married Ruth DeWeese, daughter of Rev. R. D. DeWeese, who pastored Baptist Churches in West and South Texas.

Former Resident Develops Tiny Thermometer

A Baird native has developed a thermometer so small it is barely visible to the human eye. It could be used to record temperatures inside just one of the billions of cells composing the human body.

The tiny thermometer is the work of R. P. Reed, who is doing research at the University of Texas.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reed, now of San Antonio. His mother is the former Cladys Reddell, who taught in the Baird schools while the family lived in Callahan County.

Called a sensor rather than a thermometer, Reed's development consists of a thermocouple on a strand of quartz fibre which is one-twentieth the diameter of human hair.

A thermocouple consists of rings of separate metals which record temperatures due to differences in electrical resistance of the metals involved.

Researchers believe the tiny sensor may have great future medical applications.

Reed, who began his career as a mechanical engineer, became interested in his current project during discussions between members of a car pool while he was employed by the Sandria Corp. in New Mexico.

His research project is supported by the Gershlicker Fund for Medical Research in Washington, D.C. and the Medical Science Research Fund at Stanford.

Their medical needs are already being met!

Most of the aged in Texas who need help in meeting their medical care costs are now receiving it through the Old Age Assistance program. Independent surveys by a leading research organization, Belden Associates, have documented this fact.

Belden Associates recently made a detailed survey of all aged Texans who were NOT covered by Old Age Assistance and concluded that "There apparently remains approximately three per cent of all aged Texans who need and want outside help." A constitutional amendment passed by the 1963 session of the Texas Legislature, if approved by the voters of Texas this November, will make possible a medical care program for the needy aged who are not recipients of Old Age Assistance and who are unable to pay for required medical services. With this new program (called Medical Aid to the Aged) in effect, all aged Texans who want and need help in meeting their medical care costs will have it.

Additional medical care programs, sponsored and controlled by the federal government, are not needed and would result in the wasting of millions of your tax dollars. Write your congressman today and tell him you favor the Texas aged care program (Kerr-Mills) of providing care to those who want and need help. Encourage him to oppose the King-Anderson Bill (H.R. 3920) which would provide a compulsory federal program for the aged, financed through high social security taxes.
