

Individual Situation Determines If Creep Feed Operation Will Become Profitable for Rancher

By PAT C. GARNER
County Agricultural Agent

If you are thinking about initiating a creep feeding program for beef cattle operation, carefully consider advantages as well as limitations and fit them to your individual operation, advises Pat C. Garner, county agricultural agent.

Calves which are to be creep fed should receive enough feed to fatten them by weaning time. Fat calves are being purchased today for direct slaughter. Feeder buyers do not prefer to purchase fat calves for feedlots; thus this limitation should be considered prior to creep feeding. Approximately 900 pounds of feed are required to produce a 100 pound increase in calf weight, Garner explains.

Creep feeding adds some weight and allows calves to grow more uniformly in size and condition. At weaning time less shrinkage results due to the improved over-all condition of the calves.

Furthermore, a creep feeding program does not exclusively benefit calves. Mother cows will lose less weight during nursing periods and thus stay in better condition. Creep feeding may have a place in emergency conditions or in periods of stress, such as the drought experienced in most areas of the state this year.

Top quality calves with possibilities for further breeding purposes will receive an added boost if creep fed. However, producers should consider a ration for growth and development instead of fattening since this will have adverse effects on the future breeding ability of these calves. Milk production, longevity and reproductive ability are affected.

Producers who grow a portion of their own feed will find that a creep feeding program serves as a useful market. Corn and grain sorghum, major components in a creep-feed ration, might be more profitably marketed.

Creep feeding, however, does not replace a breeding program in which females are selected for good milk production. Calves that are nursing good milking cows while grazing an abundant, nutritious green pastures may not respond to creep feeding.

Since calves are often difficult to get on feed, extra time and patience as well as a helping hand may be required to get them on their way. Also, additional expenses will be incurred due to extra equipment, labor and feed costs. Where cows have several gathering places, a creep feeder at each location may be too expensive.

Some livestock producers run hogs, sheep and goats in the same pasture with cattle. This practice could not be continued if a creep feeder was placed in the pasture.

Whatever type of creep feeding operation you may be considering, says Garner, make a careful study of your individual situation and facilities before starting the program.

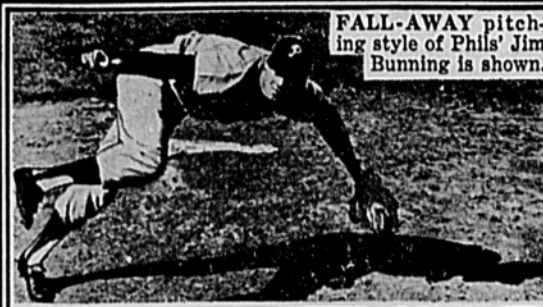

T&P Friendship Club Meets With Allphins

T&P Friendship Club met Thursday night, Oct. 8 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Allphin, with Mr. Jack Egan as host.

The evening was spent playing 74.

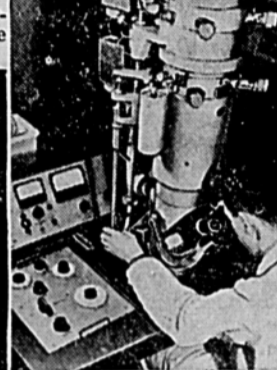

Following the game hour, the host served refreshments. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Allphin, others present were Mrs. Marie Welch of Ft. Worth, C. A. Johnson of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Davis, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McQuinn, Mrs. Minnie Stevens, Mrs. D. J. Anderson, Mrs. Maybelle Cline, Mrs. Maggie Ross and Mrs. Juanita Danielsen.

Last night we had a real refreshing shower. Just 3, but everything was dripping with water. The grain in this community is making good growth and it will not be long if these showers continue until there will be plenty of grazing.

Mrs. Rob Stephenson is in Hendrick Memorial Hospital at this writing with a little heart flare-up. After she was admitted to the hospital, she took pneumonia.

Last week we went to see Mrs. Tom Edwards, who has been very ill for the past five months. We found her looking much better. She was up and fully dressed. One Sunday afternoon they had a lot of company and they were still musing over the visits. Mrs. Johnny Edwards, a sister-in-law from San Angelo and her daughter, Velta Clair of New Mexico, Mrs. Virginia Wiggins of Abilene, Mrs. Fieta Johnson of Baird, Mrs. Lottie King of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Favor, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Edwards of this community, Mr. and Mrs. Melton of Plainview were all there at the same time. There were no strangers in the bunch and I am sure they must have really had a time. Most of them went to school together.

Bro. Gordon Mize, of the Texas Alcohol and Narcotics Division will be guest speaker at the 11 o'clock preaching hour at the Baptist Church Sunday morning. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. E. E. Harrison will host an all day meeting of the Eula Sunshine Circle on Wednesday of this week. She has a quilt that will be quilted. There will be a covered dish luncheon at the noon hour.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Edwards visited in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hughes of Midland. They also visited Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Clifton in Hamlin.

Ladies, a vote for gas is a vote for cooler cooking!

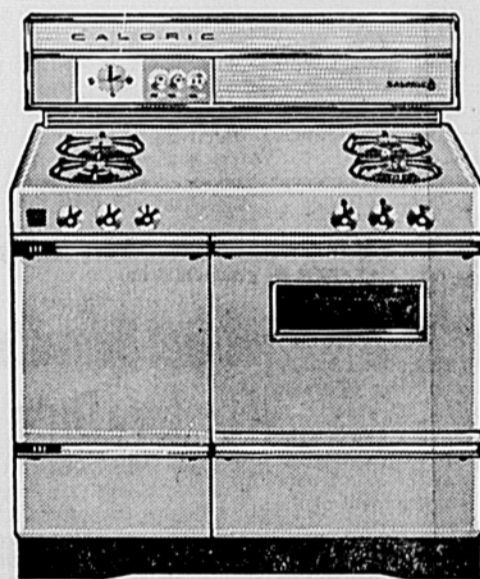

(down with hangover heat!)

Turn a gas burner off . . . and it's OFF! There's none of the hangover heat you find with electric ranges—wasted heat that causes boilovers and burned foods. Gas broiling is cooler, too, because you broil with the door closed. And it's smoke-proof broiling—(the flame consumes the smoke!) With gas your kitchen stays cooler and cleaner!

Now's the time to elect a modern gas range to head up your kitchen: it's sale time!

TECUMSEH TOPICS

BY LILLIAN CRAWFORD

A light shower of rain fell Monday morning, and such a heavy dew it looked almost like frost.

Well, I'm almost afraid to attempt to name the visitors in the L. V. Harris home since he came home from the hospital, but here are a few I happen to know about: Mr. and Mrs. Todd Windham and children, Charlie Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Taylor and his brother Ira, Mrs. Annie Mae Crawford, Mrs. Kate Crawford and Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crawford and her brother. I'm sure there have been others that I haven't heard about.

The Armor family has always been good to visit and Lawson has come by and stopped several times, asking if there was anything he could do, and there was, so he hauled some baled hay up for cow feed.

Van is doing as well as anyone could and appreciates all of his friends and neighbors.

I was in the Kendrick Cemetery at Denton Valley about a month ago and I was surprised when I saw what a growth of late grassburrs there was. I had set out some plants and went back two weeks later and the cemetery looked so nice after it had been mowed and each grave was clean.

Betty Allen Walker had recently donated $5.00, so with that amount and some left over in the treasury, certainly made the cemetery look nice and clean again.

Thanks to all who are thoughtful in making contributions for this cause.

'Home Life' Is Topic for Club

Home life was the subject of the program presented to members of Junior Wednesday Club Oct. 5 in the home of Mrs. John Allen, with Mrs. Wilburn Carrico as co-hostess.

Mrs. Dick Vestal introduced the program with the poem "Home," by Edgar A. Guest.

"Are You Living and Working Together?" was discussed by Mrs. Charles Greenway. She pointed out that family responsibility was the only way human beings could learn to be human.

Mrs. J. C. Earp concluded the program with the topic "Are Family Values Being Developed?" Mrs. Earp stated that family values are transferred to children and that the successful parent is the architect of tomorrow.

Mrs. Emil Ringhoffer Jr. president, presided over the business meeting. Members decided to contribute to the District Scholarship Fund and to help with the Baird United Fund Drive.

Yearbook chairman Mrs. Dick Vestal announced that assistant Attorney General Robert Davis will be the speaker for the Club's Guest Night, Nov. 9. The program scheduled for Nov. 2 will be Oct. 19.

Following the meeting, members were served a refreshment plate. Attending other than Mmes. Allen, Carrico, Vestal, Greenway, Earp and Ringhoffer were Mmes. Frank Crow, Ed Cotton, James Eubanks, Joe Harris, Jimmy Higgins, Vernon Townsend, Charles Walker, Mike Young and Bruce Williams.

Next meeting will be Oct. 19 in the home of Mrs. Bill Cason.

OPLIN OBSERVATIONS

Thursday of last week was quilting day for the ladies of the community. Mrs. Albert Betcher Jr. was supposed to have quilt in the frames, but typical of Mrs. Betcher she gave her time to a young bride, Mrs. Junior Poindexter of Lawn, who Mrs. Betcher felt, needed a quilt worse than she did. Besides, Mrs. Poindexter was born with a handicap, or that is most people would consider it a handicap to be born without a left hand, but with the talents Mrs. Poindexter has, it is hardly noticeable. Ava has a lovely voice and is always willing to use it. She is a gifted pianist, can type and even at the quilting was not idle for she was busy crocheting on a lovely bedspread. Since there was quite a bit of illness in the community, the quilters were few but the ladies enjoyed a nice covered dish luncheon.

Lee Straley has been suffering the past few weeks with the shingles. Mr. Straley is 79 years of age and isn't well a lot of the time, so, of course, these shingles are anything but pleasant for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Floyd had her oldest brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barrett of Houston as guests last Sunday. Her father, W. S. Barrett and another brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Barrett of Lawn were also present. We, as a family, were so pleased that Mrs. Cotton Barrett was able to be with us after being hospitalized for a week. She is still rather nervous, but seems to be responding to the medicine and maybe with plenty of rest she will soon be well on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Ruth Rogers of Abilene stopped by Sunday afternoon to visit a while with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Floyd.

Mrs. Alice Hopkins entered Callahan County Hospital last Thursday after suffering a severe nose bleed throughout Wednesday night. Mrs. Hopkins is bedfast and has also been real sick with a bad cold, therefore she was rather rundown and needed some rest.

Hi neighbor! We had a little shower Monday, but not very much. Also have a light norther which I like very much. Think we would welcome a good rain.

We are sorry to say Mr. Leonard Alvey is back in the hospital in Abilene. We hope he soon gets well, no fun being sick.

We are glad to say Mrs. Laura Jobe, who fell two weeks ago and fractured her hip, is gradually improving. I think she is doing remarkably well for one her age.

Roma McIntyre came home Monday from Eastland hospital. She spent four days there with one of those real bad headaches.

James and Gayle Isenhower of Mineral Wells spent the week end visiting the John D. Isenhowers and Mark Burnams.

I spent Friday night and Saturday in Cisco with Fay and Emmitt Wood.

I was pleasantly surprised Monday to have Mrs. Albert Johnson visit with me. She spent the night with me, also visited John and Roma and we visited a while this morning Tuesday, with D. A. Yarbrough. She says they have bought a home in Farwell. They have lived in Farwell over four years.

Mrs. Leonard Alvey and Johnny Mae Ramsey went up to see Mr. Alvey Tuesday afternoon. He is doing OK.

Bro. and Mrs. Stanley Blevins and son visited and had dinner with the Burette Ramseys Saturday night.

Mrs. S. M. Eubank visited me a while Monday morning.

Several from Putnam attended the Baptist Association in Cross Plains Monday and Tuesday nights.

Guess I better get this in the mail, so be good and I hope to see you next week.

Coleman County Suing Callahan

A suit designed to settle questioned county boundary lines has been filed against Callahan and Taylor counties by Coleman County. The suit was filed in 52nd District Court at Comanche.

The disputed land runs some 25 miles along the Callahan-Coleman line and about 4 1/2 miles along the Taylor-Coleman line.

Area of the land in question ranges in width from about 400 feet to about 850 feet between Callahan and Coleman, and about 400 feet in width along the Taylor-Coleman border.

The suit filed by Coleman County asks District Judge Truman Roberts to establish the line claimed by that county as the true boundary between it and the other two counties.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally has given new emphasis to the long drive to abolish the state property tax and leave the revenue source to local governments.

In two speeches during the past week -- to county judges and commissioners and to the Texas Municipal League -- the governor called for a "phasing out" of the ad valorem levy by the state. That will require a constitutional amendment and, what Connally termed, a "period of readjustment."

Although the tax provides only 2.7 per cent of the state's revenue, the Legislature, usually hard pressed to balance the budget, has been slow to act on abolishing the $40,000,000 a year revenue source.

"There will never be a convenient time," acknowledged Connally. "All we need is the extra courage to do what should be done."

This step, he said, "is the most tangible way I know to put meaning in our plea for more local self-government."

Connally also told municipal officials that city problems should be solved at the local level. He warned against continued search for solutions at the state capitol level.

The Municipal League, as expected, recommended still another source of revenue for local government.

City officials told their TML board of directors that legislation authorizing city to levy a municipal sales tax, subject to local voter approval, should be considered.

Directors in a mid-December meeting here will consider this proposal and almost certainly adopt it as one of the league's top legislative projects for 1965.

TEACHER PAY RAISES BACKED — State Board of Education has thrown its weight behind teacher pay raises.

Proposal was one of 11 legislative objectives agreed on at a meeting here. The State Teachers Association is pushing for a $45 a month raise for classroom teachers. Board of Education did not specify any dollar amount.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court got off to a brisk start in its 1964-65 term, handing down 100 decisions on the opening day, last week.

In the most spectacular of the rulings, court refused a State Bar request to block attorney Melvin Belli -- he who lambasted Texas and its courts after his client, Jack Ruby, received the death sentence for shooting Lee Harvey Oswald. Should Belli try to enter another Texas case, the new opinion stated, his qualifications will be subject to review by the court in which the case is pending.

Court also: -- Declined to hear a suit attacking the Texas Water Commission's approval of a $12,500,000 dam and reservoir on Little Wichita River, a Wichita Falls city project. Landowners protested the site.

-- Balked at reviewing its July 15 decision invalidating a trustee's sale of West Texas land on which Billie Sol Estes defaulted in payments. This ruling left standing an earlier decision in favor of four landowners from whom Estes leased the property after allegedly conveying it to them.

-- Held that Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler must accept an oil and gas lease a Taylor County landowner insisted he executed with Trace Mining Co.

-- Refused to hear arguments in former State Sen. Doyle Willis' suit to regain his Ft. Worth city council seat.

-- Dismissed for want of jurisdiction an appeal from a lower court order that a Starr County precinct election contest must be heard by the trial court.

Court of Criminal Appeals, in its first decisions of the term, reversed three convictions in line with a U. S. Supreme Court landmark case holding affidavits accompanying search warrants must contain enough facts to show basis of suspicion.

PRESIDENT'S AUSTIN OFFICE EYED — Offices being readied for the President in the new federal building at Austin became a campaign issue last week.

F. Clifton White, national director of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, charged that the ninth floor layout added $2,500,000 to cost of the building.

General Services Administration reported original contract price was $7,300,000 and cost has risen to "just under $8,000,000" due to "change orders" and a labor strike. GSA, however, refused to permit reporters to inspect the premises to check White's story of a Taj Mahal-type luxury, a 10-foot fireplace and teak panels.

Some newsmen managed to get by guards and inspect the place anyway. One found it nice but not particularly lavish. Under his tape measure, the fireplace shrank from 10 feet to 52 inches.

Johnson's staff frequently works at a hotel in Austin while he is visiting at his LBJ ranch nearby. The government provides office space for former Presidents Eisenhower, Truman and Hoover.

CARR REPORTS ON ASSASSINATION — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's report on the assassination of President Kennedy criticized over-zealous news coverage of subsequent events in Dallas and concluded that law enforcement agencies should improve their methods of exchanging information.

Governor Connally, who received the report last week, concurs in Carr's recommendations, which include the following:

-- That lawyers and news media get together with officials and agree on working relationships designed to prevent future disorder and confusion in pretrial activities, deficiencies in security for prisoners (and to improve judicial ethics in criminal trials." (News media, including representatives of the Texas Press Association, already

Better Heads USE BETTER Letter-Heads

Better letter-heads possess personality, colorful eye-appeal, lasting quality and distinction.

YOUR LETTER-HEAD CAN TELL A STORY

A better letter-head tells a prospective customer or business associate a true story. It proclaims the writer and the firm to be leaders in their field. It suggests that you are up-to-date... that you are vitally interested in the reader's good-will... that you want to create a good impression. A better letter-head fairly shouts of good management.

Let us show you how easy it is to change your printed business stationery to meet modern requirements. BETTER LETTER-HEADS DON'T COST... THEY PAY.

Tickets will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children 6 to 12. The program will be held in the high school auditorium. Advance tickets are expected to go on sale next week.

Decision to sponsor the program was made at the club's meeting Monday night. A total of 36 members attended.

Kleppers Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Klepper of Clyde observed their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house at their home, three miles north of Clyde. They have lived on Rt. 1 Clyde since their marriage Oct. 10, 1914, in Abilene.

He is a farmer and rancher. The couple has one daughter, Aleta of Fort Worth, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Klepper are natives of Clyde.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Chandler of Plano have been visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Britton.

are meeting with a State Bar Group on trial news coverage.)

That federal, state and local law enforcement agencies study how to keep each other better informed and recommend tighter security measures for high officials and distinguished guests in the state.

Carr's 5,000 word summary report, supported by 17 volumes of data, appeared particularly critical of the FBI's failure to inform local police that Lee Harvey Oswald was in Dallas.

Attorney General said he believed his decision to shelve plans for a Texas court of inquiry into the November 22 assassination and the wounding of Connally was wise, in view of the thorough job done by the Warren Commission. However, he said, he is ready to call such an inquiry if further investigation appears needed.

MENTAL HEALTH AGENCY URGED — A 26 member group, planning improvements in Texas mental health services, recommends a central State Department of Mental Health.

Under the proposal submitted, all mental hospitals and clinics and present State Health Department services in the field would be transferred to the new agency. The full 112 member Mental Health Planning Committee scheduled an October 16 meeting here to complete its work and make recommendations to the next legislature.

DOUBLE CONTRACTING TARGET — Legislation to correct "double contracting" abuses is being drafted on recommendation of the Texas House General Investigating Committee, and is backed by at least 10 trade associations.

Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock, committee vice chairman, will sponsor the legislation. Double contracting basically involves misrepresentation of down payments on residential real estate.

HARD-DRINKING YOUTHS — Texas Liquor Control Board reports that the increase of reports on consumption of alcoholic beverages by minors is "startling."

In 1959, spokesman said, only 1,314 criminal cases were filed against boys and girls under age 21 for buying, consuming or possessing alcoholic beverages in a public place. In 1963, the TLCB filed 4,848 such cases.

Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. said, "We've been concerned about the increase in juvenile drinking at public places, such as beaches and dances, and we are constantly reminding our agents to be on the look out for such violations."

WATER — Source of water supplies for Texans in the year 2000 will be the subject of a massive hurry-up research job by the Texas Water Commission and other cooperating state agencies and consulting engineers.

Report will be complete by November, 1966, if the Legislature provides $1,135,000 needed for the work.

Governor Connally, moving water to top priority along with higher education, gave the Commission $46,000 from his emergency fund to get the work stepped up. The Commission already has switched 12 of its engineers and geologists from regular duties to planning work.

Connally will urge the Legislature in January to provide the necessary money for water planning.

SHORT SNORTS — High bids on School Land Board oil and gas lease sales totalled $3,500,000 on 88,327 acres of state land with the highest bid ($736,841) on submerged tract in Copano Bay, Aransas County . . . Claude Kenneth Johnson, Brookeland, is new assistant director of State Animal Health Commission . . . House Speaker Byron Tunnell was named to the executive committee of National Legislative Conference, first Texan to serve on the 15 member body which meets annually to discuss legislative problems . . . State Selective Service announced a November draft quota of 307 as compared with 235 for October; some 2,900 single men just turned 18 and not in school will take mental and physical exams but will not be called immediately

New Titles Placed on Shelves Of Callahan County's Library

Reports from the Callahan County Library show a slight decrease in number of books circulated during September, probably because of the end of vacation days. However, as students begin their required reading in public school and college, circulation is expected to increase rapidly.

Among our new books received recently, three are for the Memorial Shelf. In memory of Mrs. H. N. Ebert, the last book written by the late J. Frank Dobie, who saw the proofs only the day before his death, has been given. This is "Cow People," an account of many well-known Texas cattlemen. In memory of Bruce Brown, two titles on the national best seller list have been presented. These are "Armageddon," by Leon Uris, and "In Vivo," by Mildred Savage.

For the Texas Shelf, a title just received is "For All Time To Come," by Walter Long. This is a partial history of the University of Texas and of some of its well known leaders.

Two other new titles are "A Song of Sixpence," the latest book by A. J. Cronin, and "The Thread That Runs True," by Jesse Stuart. There are several booklets on the Civil War and a "Catalog of The United States Air Force Academy," with much additional information.

Several books for teenagers, and two for very young readers have been purchased. Also 25 books have been donated, making a total of 7,841 volumes in the library.

For the reading table, two weekly publications, the National Observer and Newsweek are available. Magazines now being received regularly are Texas Parade, Christianity Today, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s Scene, Humble Oil Co.'s Humble Way, Aramo Oil Co.'s Aramo World, Petroleum Today, Flower and Garden, Lone Star Gardener, Texas Clubwoman and Baseball Digest.

The library is open Monday through Friday from 9 to 5. All residents of Callahan County are urged to visit it, and also the pioneer museum, representing pioneer settlers of the county.

Garden Club Has Show Workshop

Members and guests of Baird Garden Club met at the Presbyterian Fellowship Hall Tuesday for a placement flower show workshop.

Mrs. Sam B. Kennedy of Abilene, a nationally accredited flower show judge, was guest speaker for the meeting, hosted by Mrs. Frank Cunningham and Mrs. Lee Ivey.

Guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Lee Ivey, and Mrs. Clyde White, yearbook chairman, introduced the guest speaker. Mrs. Kennedy gave suggestions for the placement show and demonstrated use of various containers and aids for flower arrangement. She also explained the preparation of flowers, pot plants, fruits and vegetables for exhibit in the horticultural show.

Following the workshop, a salad luncheon was served. Mrs. W. A. Fetterly gave the invocation. Tables were centered with arrangements of greenery and red roses, the club flower.

In addition to those already mentioned, others present were Mrs. B. F. Andrews of Abilene, Mrs. Peyton Smith and Mrs. Ross Newton of Cross Plains, and Mmes. Brice Jones, L. B. Lewis, S. H. Sallee, Grover Berry, N. M. George, Richard Lewis, James Asbury, R. D. Williams and Miss Jennie Harris, guests.

Members present were Mmes. Ace Hickman, J. R. Latimer, W. V. Walls, B. H. Freeland, Dee Young, George Crutchfield, I. E. Warren, F. E. Mitchell, E. H. Leache and John McGowen.

Next regular meeting will be Nov. 3, when final plans will be made for the Placement Flower Show, which will be held at the home of Mrs. I. E. Warren. Date will be announced later.

Several members of the club will attend the District VIII Convention of Texas Garden Clubs to be held at Albany on November 7.

Three Wildcat Wells Are Slated; Two Are Re-Entry Project Sites

Three Callahan County wildcats have been slated.

James P. Dunigan, Abilene, has scheduled drilling of a deep wildcat five miles southwest of Baird.

No. 1 J. E. Evans is spotted 1,787 feet from the most northerly north line and from the east line of Section 2, BBB&C Survey and a 160-acre lease.

Proposed depth is 4,900 feet with rotary.

Dixon Drilling Co. has filed application to re-enter two wildcats in Callahan County.

Located five miles east of Abilene, the tests are slated to 3,990 feet with rotary, to test the Gardner.

No. 1-C Oscar Rose is one-half mile southwest of Dixon No. 1-A Rose, a recent Morris Lime discovery.

It is spotted 1,100 feet from north and 2,100 feet from east lines of Section 56, BAL Survey and a 101-acre lease.

It was originally drilled as Arnold and Olga Barrett, et al. No. 1 Rose, plugged and abandoned in February, 1959, at a total depth of 3,309 feet.

The operator's No. 1 Ray A. Young is one mile southeast of No. 1-A Rose.

Drillsite is spotted 1,664 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of Section 6, Block 8, SPRR Survey and an 80-acre lease.

It was originally drilled by Paramount Oil Co. as No. 1 Young and plugged in June 1956 at a total depth of 2,010 feet.

Dixon Drilling Co. Abilene, has completed a Morris Lime discovery to be prorated in the regular field of Callahan County.

No. 1-A Oscar Rose, a re-entry project, is spotted 330 feet from north and west lines of Section 7, Block 8, SPRR Survey. It is located five miles east of Abilene.

Daily potential was 35 barrels of 41 gravity oil, pumping through 12 perforations at 3,413-20 feet.

Operator set 4½-inch casing at 3,602 feet, total depth.

Neely & Green, Cisco, have filed application to drill a test in the regular field.

No. 3 Joe E. Jones, located six miles southwest of Putnam, is spotted 700 feet from south and 975 feet from west lines of Section 79, D&DAL Survey and a 160-acre lease.

Operator will drill to 750 feet with rotary.
