The city council boosted its valuation for the 1975 year from 30 to 37 per cent Monday night at its meeting but left the tax rate per $100 taxable value unchanged.

The setting of the tax rate and taxable valuation came after the council held its annual budget hearing and finally adopted a budget about the same size as last year's for the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

In other actions, the council: Put off the second and final vote on the proposed new dog ordinance until the consolidated sheriff's force has been brought up to full strength and is capable of handling its enforcement.

Joint 'law' resolutions passed by city, county

Both the Post City Council and the Garza County Commissioners Court unanimously adopted in separate meetings Monday virtually identical resolutions for the "contracting" with each other for joint law enforcement here.

The resolutions provided that the police department of the city of Post will cease to exist, that all city personnel and equipment is to be transferred to the Garza County Sheriff's Department, and that the sheriff of Garza County is "hereby authorized to assume the duties of maintaining law enforcement activities in the county and city according to the agreement between city and county."

The resolutions also provide that the expenses of the sheriff's office and of all law enforcement related operations shall be shared between city and county on a 50-50 basis, that the sheriff shall also be responsible for operations for the emergency ambulance service for both city and county as well as for joint law enforcement.

The resolutions establish that the county will pay all expenses of the ambulance service, with the city billed for half, with the city continuing with the accounting and billing of all ambulance calls and the filing of insurance claims.

Also provided by the resolutions is that the county shall file an application with the state criminal justice council for "financial assistance for said operation of joint law enforcement." County Treasurer Pauline Coleman was designated as financial officer for said application and Sheriff E. E. (Gene) Gandy was designated as project director and authorized.

The county received $73,000 in revenue sharing and now expects $84,014. Most of the June meeting was taken up with action, reported in another story, setting up a joint sheriff's force with the city and establishing new pay scales for deputies.

The court did disburse $3,000 to the city-county park board as the county's share in park expenses here, and $500 to the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

The court decided to let David Pierce project supervisor select young people for the five numerator and one clerk typist positions for the new county-wide summer census. The cost of the census is paid through the federal CETA program.

Applications are now being taken to fill the position of permanent youth director, effective Aug. 15. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Patsy McCowen or Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick.

A movie is planned for the youth center Friday night, Conner has announced. Entitled "The One and Only Original Family Band," the movie stars Walter Brennan and will begin at 8:30 p. m. for the Friday night performance.

Two "ladies' mornings" and one night opening also are included. The ladies' mornings are 9 to 11 a. m. Wednesdays and 9 a. m. to noon Fridays. The night pool opening is from 8 to 11 p. m. Thursdays.

Post gets deluge, farmers can plant

85 per cent already in

A Saturday evening deluge accompanied by high winds which buffeted Post and surrounding area, together with more showers Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, have at last provided most of Garza County cotton farmers with planting moisture.

The Saturday rains which bucketed from the skies just before 6 p. m. produced an official 1.95 inches here in just an hour and other rain gauges measured well over two.

Post also received 12 of an inch of additional moisture in a light rain which fell throughout Tuesday morning and an additional 40 for more showers early Wednesday morning.

This brought June moisture here to date to 2.47 inches and the 1975 total to date to 6.81 inches.

County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch Tuesday that most areas of the county now had planting moisture — and those who were "hauled out" Saturday night also had "re-planting moisture."

The hail area extended along highway US 380 to Tahoka between the Close City and Graham communities.

He said it was "too wet" Tuesday morning to get out into some fields there to see actually how much damage had been done to cotton plants by the hail.

Only "questionable" planting moisture has been received in some farm areas in the northeast part of the county.

The county agent estimated Garza's cotton crop is now 85 per cent planted.

He termed current crop prospects here "average" or "reasonable" — quite a comparison to 1974 when Garza County experienced one of its few near total crop failures due to drought.

Last year only 82 of moisture fell here for the entire month of June.

Conner said if the sun comes out now for a real hot spell farmers will have to get out into fields where cotton is not yet up, although planted, to "scratch" the soil to break the hard top crust sure to occur.

The Saturday night storm here was the biggest and most severe in a year or more. But only minor damage was reported by the high winds.

Potatoes grow 'above' ground for Ben Owen

Ben Owen, local cabinet shop owner, and "part time gardener," has what you might call a rarity in his garden.

Along with a variety of very healthy plants, he has potatoes growing and bearing on top of the ground. Ben just laid a potato on top of a prepared spot in his garden, covered it with straw and now he has potatoes on top of the ground, its just as simple as that.

He heard about raising potatoes this way from a relative, and was as much of an unbeliever as anybody else would be in hearing about "above ground" potatoes. But its there to be seen, plus the fact no digging, hunting through the dirt for the potato, and no washing. You just push the straw back, choose the size you want and pick it!

The resolutions establish that the county will pay all expenses of the ambulance service, with the city billed for half, with the city continuing with the accounting and billing of all ambulance calls and the filing of insurance claims.

Bill Holly's ram 'adopts' blind calf

By BETH SHORT
 You know, your own home town is a very interesting place if you just look hard enough, for the good things and the interesting things. We heard in

A round about way about a very unusual "twosome" that is owned by Bill Holly, just on the edge of Post. He raises an assortment of farm animals on a small acreage that he has by his home and among them is a calf, about nine months old and a Rambouillet Ram (sheep).

The calf was blinded by a pink-eye when he was very young, and not being able to take care of himself, he was given to Bill, by a local cattleman, just to keep from having to shoot him. The calf could not see to graze or to find water and had been weaned by his mother. Bill took him home, with intentions of hand feeding him until he was large enough to butcher.

For some strange reason, the Ram took full responsibility of caring for the calf. He herds him in and out of the pasture. (See Bill Holly's, Page 12)

Two guilty pleas entered here

Two guilty pleas were received in Garza County district court here Tuesday morning by Judge George Hansard and probated sentences handed out.

Eleno Ruiz Lopez Jr., pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, second offense, and was probated of a two-year county jail sentence and fined $250.

Iva Robinson pleaded guilty to forgery and was probated on a three-year prison sentence.

A civil jury case began Tuesday afternoon.

Youth team launches new county census this week

Several area young people have been hired through the summer to update the Garza County census via a door to door canvass beginning this week. This program of employment is made possible through the Texas Department of Community Affairs, a Manpower Program which provides work opportunities for the youth of the area.

The census is needed to aid in the redistricting of the county to equalize the precincts, according to Judge Giles Dalby. The purpose will be to have each precinct as near the same size in population as possible and to have as many of the minority groups in one precinct as possible to give them more equal voting rights.

David Pierce, has been hired as supervisor for the group and will work closely with them. The job opportunities were made possible through the county judge's office.

SLINGS

Frank X. Tolbert, that well known traveling newspaper man for the Dallas News, recently was through Post City and was appalled at condition of C. W. Post's house on the courthouse lawn.

At least he wrote a column of our statue in Tuesday's News entitled "Dirty Deal of Grape Nuts Man."

Now a bronze statue, if minutely polished, can be set as a newly-minted coin, Tolbert wrote. "No one polished or cleaned the statue piece of sculpture at head of Post's Main street many years, apparently. C. Post's metallic likeness is a wash black with age and flaking, and suffers much from bird droppings."

Tolbert went on to say he crossed the problem with master Jimmy Mitchell of Scout Troop 316 while he here, with Tolbert suggesting the Scouts take on polishing and cleaning the "genius man" as a troop project.

According to Tolbert, Jimmy seemed to remember that the Post family doesn't at the townspeople to mess with Post's statue."

Which is just about right.

The late Marjorie Merriweather Post sent somebody in from East to clean the statue a number of years ago — and it's the only cleaning it has received as we remember. But then it wasn't shined up with a new penny, as Tolbert suggests, but came out all green. We have always referred to the statue as "the little green statue."

Byway, after we read Tolbert's column Wednesday called County Judge Giles Dalby for information on cleaning instruction. The "volunteer" to get right on it. He phoned Fred Korth, former secretary of the navy, in Washington, D. C. Korth is an attorney who is involved in the selling of the Post estate and comes out here rather frequently. ## Statebeat

By KURT E. JOHNSON
AUSTIN — When Bill Clayton in the House and Bill Hobby in the Senate slammed the gavels down on the last breath of the 64th legislative session, there were mixed feelings and much frustration about the work of the lawmakers since January. Among the highlights of the session were:

First public reactions favorable

Initial public reaction to the consolidation of the city police force into the county sheriff's department has been quite favorable, according to what city councilmen have been hearing from citizens during the past week.

In fact, they agreed they were surprised that what they have been hearing has been so near unanimous on what for years was considered a controversial issue.

It now appears the issue probably was more controversial at the decision level than at the citizen level. Citizens generally simply want a law enforcement solution that works.

Of course there are a whole lot of things to be worked out between city and county on a joint law enforcement effort. A few already have appeared and no doubt others will take their place in line. But as yet none of them appear to be too difficult, requiring only the same type of cooperation between county commissioners court and the city council as that exhibited last week in forging the pact.

The joint law enforcement committee of the two bodies appears capable of smoothing out all the rough edges of the merger.

Of the two units, the county probably will have more budget problems as a result of the agreement to split expenses 50-50 for the joint effort.

The city has some $58,000 budgeted for law enforcement in its new budget which goes into effect July 1. That was what it was figured the police force would cost in the upcoming year. On a 50-50 split it may not be that much, but the council decided Monday night not to tinker with that budget because of so many unforeseen expenses.

What appeals so strongly to The Dispatch in the joint law enforcement effort is the current high degree of cooperation between court and council. Their relations have never been better. They are understanding each other, and trusting each other.

They are now working out of the psychological barriers which humans seem to be surrounded with in the local political situation. They are accepting the broad view of the taxpayer who is paying into both city and county tax pots and expects the best possible use of such tax funds.

Maybe the reader generally isn't aware of the fact but close governmental cooperation on the home front generally isn't too easy anywhere. There are too many political forces tugging and pushing in different directions.

We are encouraged with this law enforcement cooperation and look forward to expansion of such local cooperation into other fields which will benefit both city and county and the public in general.

Getting back to the actual problems of law enforcement here, the new sheriff's force can't be fairly measured by what it can accomplish in the next few weeks. Until it can be properly organized and coordinated, real judgement can't be made by anybody.

Sheriff Gene Gandy has virtually total responsibility to see that good, solid law enforcement here is provided, and that his joint force reacts to the needs of the whole community, city and rural area together.

He must have the full cooperation of both court and council. It will take some "getting used to" on everybody's part but the Dispatch is optimistic, that the sheriff and his officers will be given full opportunity to perform.

The public, which stands to benefit most from the "get together", has a responsibility too not to "picknick" the new operation before it has a fair chance to establish itself.

peace and rightness, but at least a nation with the international courage to become involved.

The free world is now growing smaller — and perhaps so are the Americans who cherish our flag. But we don't really think so.

The obnoxious are always heard in this land, but we should not, as many as often emphasized, mistake their noisiness to be the voice of America.

Show your colors

Show your colors Saturday. It will be Flag Day, the day to let your flag "hang out."

Perhaps it's "rah, rah stuff" and old-fashioned to speak with any patriotic fervor about the American flag and what it means to us.

In the turmoil of the 60's and on into the 70's there were plenty of Americans — young and old — who apparently took pride in degrading themselves, and their flag.

They burned the flag or spat upon it. They held it up to ridicule as the emblem of a capitalistic "establishment" they obviously detested.

Since then has come the loss of the Vietnam War — or rather its abandonment — and the CIA investigations. Need we mention Watergate?

But the American flag is not spoiled. It is what we want our flag to be. As far as we will fly it proudly. To us it still represents the "nation of freedom" — maybe not a haven of

Law enforcement scholarships

We are convinced we know where the federal government could do more good with some of its funds in its current multi-billion dollar war against crime.

That is simply to offer a "scholarship program" for young men who want to enter law enforcement as a career.

Under the current plan law enforcement officers must complete some 240 hours of classroom studies on all the various aspects of law enforcement and then complete a year in service to obtain certification.

If they don't get that class work out of the way in the first year of law enforcement work, they must literally withdraw from the field and try something else.

At the present time, Sheriff Gandy has some six or eight deputy applications on his desk from willing young men seeking to break into the law enforcement field.

As we understand it, they can't just go and take the 240 hours of studies on their own. First, they must have a job. This means the community which employs them must make them to their law enforcement education. That generally costs at least $2,000.

Then what happens? Post's experience has been that they quit their jobs here to accept positions elsewhere paying higher salaries. This town and a lot of others have served as training schools. And it has been a losing proposition.

The consolidation has brought realization that higher salaries paid to qualified officers is the only answer. This the community can do.

But what about the young men who need "sponsorship" to enter law enforcement. What about those who are seeking those "first jobs." Where is the training coming from?

Why doesn't Sam and the state criminal justice division see the need — and the sense of offering to finance the schooling of these young men? Why not offer them study scholarships and then communities would be spared the expense of serving as "training schools."

Education in law enforcement makes more sense than anything else the government has come up with in the fight against crime. Let's improve it and develop some talent pools of officers.

Sheriff Gandy thinks it's a good idea. He is talking it up. But where does one start to get something like this going.

We figured a Dispatch editorial would at least get it on paper — and somebody might clip it out and pass it on, if they considered it of merit.

Texas oil, gas reserves low
 DALLAS — Texas crude oil and natural gas reserves are at the lowest point since the end of World War II, Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reports in its new reference leaflet, 75 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas. Distributed free to the public each year, 75 Facts is the latest in the series that highlights principal facts and figures on Texas' major industry. But, if fact-seekers aren't happy with the current status of reserves, there are some pleasant facts, too. For instance, 75 Facts points out, oil or gas is produced in 211 of the state's 254 counties and Texas royalty owners received $1.4 billion last year as their share of the production.

BY BARRY L. TRASK
The astonishing aspect of the Revolution is not that it was successful. The marvel is that it was attempted.

The sponorous phrases of the Declaration of Independence recorded an ideal to be adopted. Men like Franklin and Washington, Adams and Madison, Jay and Jefferson and Hamilton were on center stage, weaving the fabric that became the American nation.

But it took many threads, lesser-known men, and decades to effect unity. Imagine thirteen isolated settlements, thinly stretched from the rock-bound coast of Maine to southern Georgia, and expanding westward to lonely cabins on the frontier.

Their aims were disparate, transportation was rugged and random, communication slow and limited. Populations included Germans, Dutch, Swedes, Scots, Irish, English, Swiss, French - surely diverse backgrounds.

One early thread of unity was a mass movement begun in 1733. It was called The Great Awakening, motivated by two men - Jonathan Edwards and George Whitefield.

Edwards, described as "the greatest of the royal line of Puritan mystics," was a brilliant man. His revival meetings, characterized by hellfire-and-brimstone preaching, brought wholesale repentances and "conversion."

Whitefield, an English cleric, was a friend of John and Charles Wesley. He helped them in founding Methodism.

He was a consummate actor and orator, and exerted an immense impact in the south and in frontier regions. But he did not neglect New England. During a three day visit in Boston, 19,000 people flocked to hear him. At that time the population of Boston was 16,000.

Paula Valdez, Alcoholism counselor of the South Plains Alcoholism Counseling Services Project at 804 Pine St., Post, will be a participant in the 18th annual Institute of Alcohol Studies to be held June 8-11 at Jester Center Halls on the University of Texas campus at Austin.

The 18th Annual Institute is sponsored by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism (TCA) in cooperation with the University of Texas at Austin, Division of Extension. This year's meeting will focus on the theme - "The Helping Process: Integrating Who You Are With What You Do." - Workshops planned for a maximum of 300 participants will focus on the helping process in clinical skill development, prevention techniques for special groups, and current trends in the alcoholism field.

According to Jacquie Small, clinical training specialist for TCA, the helping process was chosen as the theme for this year's program since "understanding the nature of the helping process is particularly important to anyone coming in contact with the alcoholic individual." Currently there are an estimated half million alcohol abusers and alcoholic individuals in Texas, each affecting their family members, friends, and fellow workers.

The featured speaker for the Institute, Dr. Sid Wolf, director of the Division of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism for Baltimore County Department of Health, will emphasize the theme in his keynote address on June 8 and in the workshops he will be co-leading with Small on counselor effectiveness training. Wolf is a nationally known trainer of persons in the helping field.

Participants attending the Institute are direct service workers in the alcoholism field as well as parents, educators, criminal justice and industrial personnel, health professionals, and others with community care-giving responsibilities.

Stephanie Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Davis, is among those listed on the Dean's List at Texas Tech University. She is majoring in marketing. Stephanie is a senior and she had a grade point of 4.0 for the last semester.

Among Whitefield's followers were clergy. Historian Winslow wrote, "Popular response increased beyond ministerial dreams. Scores of parishes became centers of religious frenzy. Sermons were preached every night in the week, and there were private gatherings at all hours of the day; conversion was the theme of the hour."

Emotional intensity, generated by the Awakening, flaring and fading over ten years, weakened sectionalism. It began the process of creating a common bond among all the colonies.

The Great Awakening was effective as one of the first truly national events, forging a union of interests that eventually became the United States of America.

LETTERS To the Editor

OTHER COMMENT ON SUIT
Dear Editor:

Mr. W. H. Smith's statement to The Dispatch concerning the suit against the City of Post, testing the validity of the liquor Ordinance, was grossly incorrect. Several days after Mr. Smith received the citation, he called our office wanting to fight the ticket. At that time he was advised that there was a possibility that the Ordinance was unconstitutional and that I would check into the matter. He was further advised by Pat N. Walker not to pay the fine but to file an Appearance Bond in the Justice Court, which Mr. Smith did. After researching the matter I called Mr. Smith, several days prior to the filing of the suit, and advised him that, in my opinion, the Ordinance was unconstitutional. Mr. Smith was also advised that a suit against the City, asking the Court to declare the Ordinance void, was also, in my opinion, the proper procedure under the circumstances. I informed Mr. Smith that he called and he had agreed not to take any action on the ticket until the validity of the City Ordinance had been determined. Mr. Smith was advised, and knew in advance, that the suit would be filed against the City and did not express any reluctance, or hesitation, at that time. Further, it is not my custom, and never has been, to take a major course of action without first consulting with the client.

After suit was filed, Mr. Smith called me and was upset and concerned about the publicity given the suit. He expressed to me the fear that the suit would adversely affect his financial relationship with the First National Bank of Post, Texas, and the opportunity to become a member of the Masonic Lodge and that he wanted to withdraw from the suit. These were the reasons Mr. Smith gave to me for wanting to abandon the law suit. Regardless of the reasons or excuses given for withdrawing, I will not be used as a scapegoat so that Mr. Smith can extricate himself from a situation he now finds socially undesirable, unpleasant and unprofitable. Further, a Mr. Smith stated correctly, the suit is a Class-Action and will not be dismissed. The suit will be pursued, and prosecuted, regardless of the publicity or any stigmatism attached thereto.

Thank you for allowing me to express my views on this matter.

Sue Ray

MORE ABOUT POLICE

Dear Jim:

I have just received and read the May 29th issue of The Post Dispatch and being a retired peace officer after 33 years of service, I am amazed at the salary offered by the City of Post to police officers and not surprised at them seeking employment elsewhere.

I know the danger that a police officer faces every time he goes on shift as well as every time he enters a supermarket or bank while off duty.

I have experienced the condition on more than one occasion.

Yes, I will agree that the officer has a responsibility to the city. He also has a responsibility to furnish housing, food, clothing, etc. to his family.

We all probably agree that one law enforcement agency in Post could serve the city and county better. I would like to see this done. Then pay them living wages so that those well trained good men and women will remain there.

Oh yes, by the way, our patrolmen start at $987 per month. I am enclosing a pay schedule as of 1974-75, and we hope to increase this by 15 percent on July 1, 1975.

You may wonder why we are so interested in Post. We just may return and pay a little more taxes there than we are now.

Yours respectively,

Mix a little cotton with your orange juice and it nearly equals milk. At least in protein percentage. This is just one of the many possibilities now being considered for the new gypsol-free cottonseed flour produced by what is called the Liquid Cyclone Process. LCP for cotton flour will soon be utilized on a commercial scale by the plains. Cooperative Oil Mill at Lubbock. The new food-grade cottonseed flour will have as much as 65 percent protein compared to about 13 percent for wheat flour. Unusually high protein content of the flour was the primary reason for the concentrated research. Scientists say that as much as six percent of the total world supply of protein is in cottonseed, but until LCP was discovered the protein could not be utilized directly by humans because of the toxic gypsol pigment in the cottonseed. LCP's success in making possible the production of the food-grade flour is being hailed as a major achievement by world nutritionists.

Sox win 7th straight—by one run, under protest

Cubs object to starting pitcher returning to hill

The White Sox won their seventh straight game to continue their unbeaten march through the Babe Ruth League season Tuesday night, squeezing out an 8 to 7 decision over the Cubs in a game finished under protest by the Cubs.

Cub Manager Allan Hampton protested the game when Evans Heaton, who started the game and went the first five innings, was brought to the mound for the White Sox in the seventh to quell a Cub rally after two relievers had struggled to hold the Cubs.

Heaton was not removed from the game after being replaced on the mound as Manager Boog Holly had only nine players available for game duty.

Hampton has 48 hours, according to league rules, to file a written protest, but one official pointed out that the Babe Ruth rule book apparently doesn't forbid such action unless the player is actually taken out of the game, which Heaton wasn't.

The White Sox managed only three hits, but seven walks, two hit batsmen and two Cub errors aided in their run production. The Cubs got five hits, two by Owen Gilbert.

The Braves notched their only win of the week Tuesday night with a 12 to 2 romp over Southland in a game cut to five innings by the 10-run rule.

The Braves didn't exactly knock the cover off the ball getting only three hits, but 11 walks and a hit batsman aided the offense considerably.

Brad Davis was the pitching winner for the Braves, hurling a fancy one-hitter with Sable Rodriguez getting the only safe blow for Southland in the third when an outfield error and a walk with the hit produced Southland's only two runs. Another walk in the fifth was the only other Southland runner to get aboard for the five inning contest.

The first "washouts" of the young season came Saturday night when the wind and downpour put that twin bill on the shelf till the schedule's end.

Southland was the big news last Thursday night, winning its first game of the season after six straight losses. There was no doubt about this one with the Southland club handing the Indians a 15 to 2 shellacking.

Southland banged out 16 hits, including a four for four effort by Bryan Monk and three hits in four at bats for Eddie Davilla.

The winners piled up a 12 to 0 advantage in the first three frames to win in five under the 10-run rule.

Not only did Southland have a super night at the plate but pitcher Steve Cisneras had a super night on the mound, giving up but one hit in the final inning. He walked four.

The White Sox pulled further in front in the nightcap of that twin bill with a 6 to 1 triumph over the runner-up Braves.

White Sox hurler Raymie Holly threw a two-hitter and both of those hits were juggled infield grounders. He struck out 10.

Holly and second sacker Evans Heaton each collected two hits, half of the White Sox total as they rang up their seventh straight.

60 trophies up for junior tennis meet

The city-county recreation program will run off the greatly expanded Garza County Junior Tennis Tournament, beginning Monday.

Entry deadline is Sunday for 18 year olds and under with no entry fee required.

Entries should be made either to Joe Giddens, director of the recreational program, or Judy Norman, his assistant. Giddens may be reached either at the gym, 3164 or at home 3350.

The third annual junior tournament will be expanded from two to five age divisions, for youngsters 10 and under, 12 and under, 14 and under, 16 and under, and 18 and under.

Boys and girls divisions in both singles and doubles are planned for each age bracket.

That means that 60 trophies will be given away to the winners. New balls also will be furnished for each match, according to Giddens.

Financial sponsors for the tourney are Earl and Rosemary Chapman, who operated the meet the last two years, and Joe McCowen.

Giddens emphasized in releasing tourney details to The Dispatch this week that the tournament is open to any Garza youngsters 18 years or younger. Entrants do not have to be enrolled in the summer recreation program, he pointed out.

"We would like to have brackets of at least eight in each division of singles in all age brackets and we don't know what to expect in double

Giddens said.

With 60 trophies up for grabs though, there should be a schedule for each match, but the finals will be held one day. "Maybe we can run off in a week," he said, "but will depend considerably on the size of the entry list."

Deeres and Tigers clash for lead

The unbeaten Tigers will be challenged for the Post Little League leadership tonight by the Deeres, whose only loss in nine starts has been to the Tigers when the two clubs first met.

The Deeres mound staff appears ready for the show-down too, recording the league's only two shutouts during the past week's play against the Red Sox and Yankees, the two bottom clubs of the loop.

The Tiger-Deere clash is the second game of tonight's twin bill. A Deere victory would put the two teams in a tie for the top spot.

Rodney Greathouse, Deere pitcher, in the 8 to 0 shutout of the Yankees Tuesday night was just one batsman away from a perfect no-hitter for the six innings.

His mound opponent, Henry Delarosa, singled in the fourth and was the only runner to get aboard for the losers. Greathouse didn't walk a man and was backed by errorless ball.

Cleanup hitter Ronnie Price got a two-run homerun for the Deeres in the third.

In the Monday night game, the Tigers showed their offensive power by spraying 23 hits all over the field to humble the Dodgers 21 to 4.

The biggest blow of the game though came when Barry Morris, the Dodgers' leadoff hitter, stepped to the plate in the first inning and belted a homerun.

Each of the top three teams added a victory to their string last Thursday and Friday nights before rain washed out a pair Saturday night.

The 15-run rule shorted each of those four games with the Tigers blasting the Dodgers 18 to 3 and the Deeres then coming up in the Thursday night nightcap with the season's first shutout, a 16 to 0 whitewash of the Red Sox.

The score was more like a football game Friday night as the Dodgers picked up their second win with a 27 to 8 route of the Red Sox. The Cardinals then routed the Yankees 22 to 3.

Adolfo Varela hurled the Deeres' shutout by permitting only one single and one walk in six innings, facing only 20 batters and striking out eight.

All four games were simply one-sided affairs, emphasizing again the league's lack of balance between the top and bottom divisions.

Team 4 wins first half of Golf League

Team Four is the winner of first half play in the Postex Golf League here, clinching the title Friday with Arlon Ford winning his crucial match from James Sweeten to snuff out the hopes of second place Team One, which wound up three points behind.

Ford scored a net 41 strokes for the nine-hole match to win 1 1/2 points from Sweeten. Had the score been reversed Team One would have tied Four in the final standings forcing a playoff.

Other Team Four players are Hurston, Criado and L. Warren. Team Seven finished third, five points behind; Team Two, fourth, 6 1/2 behind; Team Three, fifth, 9 1/2 behind; Team Six, sixth, 13 1/2 behind; and Team Five in the cellar, 15 behind.

Second half play of the PGL season will begin about the middle of July.

Coming up this weekend is the annual Scottie Satson Golf Tournament for all Postex golfers on the Caprock course.

board for the Holy Land Sunday morning dawned with expectation for Kent, and Mark Kirkpatrick, traveling with their mother, Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick, to visit the Holy Land from the Lubbock Sunday morning to fly to Greece. They boarded for Alexandria that these four will travel to different parts of interest in the Holy Land. They will go by ship to different cities and then spend the day on land. They have done their sightseeing and they reboard the ship to go to a new port. On Monday will be tours of Jerusalem, Israel, the Holy Land, Rhodes and other islands. They will be in Greece on June 22. I hope to be able to talk to them upon their return and get some eye-opening accounts of the beauty of their trip.

Nine competitive events have been carded for the show, scheduled in Fair Park Livestock Pavilion Sept. 26-27, according to Steve L. Lewis, general manager.

Events and entry fees include:

Bareback riding, $15; bull riding, $15; tie-down calf roping, $15; ribbon roping (must be boy and girl team, over 14), $15; ribbon roping (must be boy and girl team, 14 and under), $15; barrel racing (over 14), $10; barrel racing (14 and under), $10; pole bending (over 14), $10; and pole bending (14 and under), $10.

Cash prizes will be awarded in all events and 75 per cent of entry fees will be paid back. Mrs. Ann Rasmussen will be show secretary.

Lewis said the event was being co-sponsored by the fair association and Lubbock County 4-H Clubs.

Mail order requests for ticket reservations for the four stage shows set for fair week now are being accepted by the fair at P. O. Box 208, Lubbock 79406. The lineup includes: Sept. 20-21, Charley Pride; Sept. 22-23, Mel Tillis and Gunilla Hutton; Lester Flatt, Mac Wiseman, Grandpa Jones and the Stony Mountain Cloggers in a "Bluegrass Special" on Sept. 24-25; and the Ronnie Milsap show on Sept. 26-27.

Postings —

ly. Korth told the judge he didn't know what the family would want done, and it would take several days to find out, and he would call Dalby back.

"I guess the county could handle it if that's what they want," Judge Dalby said, "but I'm not sure they want that statue looking like a bright new penny."

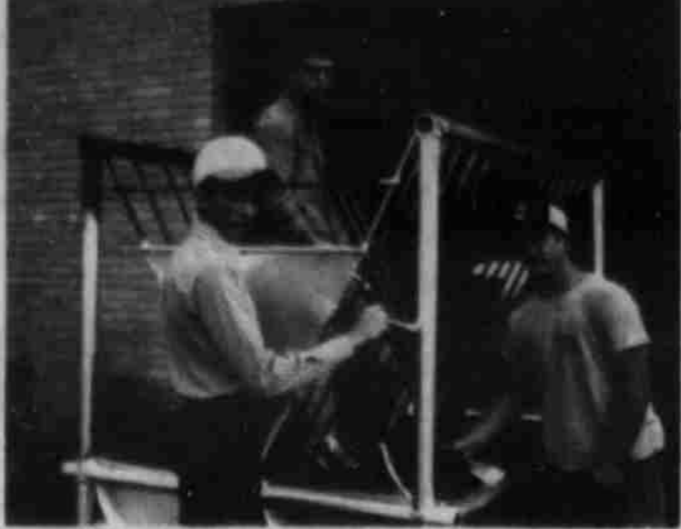

So that's the way the matter stands, Tolbert, who tried to call us at the office last Friday when we were up in Denver for a weekend visit with our daughter, Susan, now has his cleanup request in the hopper, so to speak. We'll keep you informed on proceedings.

Tolbert, after voicing his statue complaint, devoted the remainder of his Tuesday column to some stories about Post at the time he built Post City here. Among other things, Tolbert wrote:

"One of my elderly cousins worked on the Post cattle ranch. My cousin said: 'That old SOB paid good wages but he tried to wean us cowboys from coffee to that terrible drink he invented called Postum.'"

"My cousin also objected to assignments which he considered unnatural duties for a proud cowboy: 'At one time that old SOB had us making big kites. Then we would attach dynamite to the kites, send them up in the air and explode the dynamite. It's a wonder he didn't lose some cowboys at those chores.' (Which was a personal reference to Mr. Post's spectacular experiments in rain-making.)"

We presume Tolbert's cowboy cousin uses "SOB" as just a salty expression of speech.

Borden rodeo opens June 26

GAIL — The Borden County Junior Rodeo will be held at the Borden County Arena on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 26, 27 and 28. Each performance will start at 8 p. m. Rodeo secretary is Mrs. Rube Smith, Route 1, O'Donnell, Texas, 79351; phone — 806-439-5615. Books will close at 4 p. m., June 24, 1975. Set ups will be made as far as possible. Bull and steer riding books will close with the first 40 paid entries in each age group. Trophy buckles will be awarded with three places in each event and one All-Around buckle in each age group.

Events include the following: (1) 16-19 age group — barrel race, calf roping, pole bending, bull riding, and ribbon roping; (2) 13-15 age group — barrel race, calf roping, pole bending, steer riding and ribbon roping; (3) 12 and under age group — barrel racing, pole bending, flag race, breakaway roping; (4) 8 and under age group — barrel race. Entry fees for 16-19 age group are $10 per event entered. All other age groups are $8 per event entered. Also a $1 office charge will be made for each contestant. The Borden County Junior Rodeo is sponsored by the Borden County Junior Livestock Association.

Most dangerous rooms in the house — when it comes to fire — are the living room, den and family room.

City Council —

Giles McCrary objected again to the insurance bidding because "we can't upgrade our policies" as the insurance agencies have to be given specifics to bid upon.

The council discussed at some length the need to get back to resealing the city's streets and to get dirt and sand off them. The mayor said it probably was too late to contract for any resealing work this summer, but said the streets are going to be damaged considerably unless something is done.

The council voted to increase its bank reserve fund, upon which it draws interest, from $100,000 to $125,000 for the next 90 days.

Voted an increase from $2 to $2.10 an hour for the justice of the peace's secretary for a total of 80 hours a month.

Expressed interest in helping develop the proposed Lorenzo Alexander park or playground and asked organizations who are seeking such aid to present their requests through the city-county park board.

Changed the council's starting time for meetings from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m., and decided not to hold a June "work session". The council has met five times in the last six weeks.

Enforcement —

to sign the application.

The commissioners court passed its resolution at its June meeting Monday morning. The city council adopted its similar resolution Monday night at its June meeting on first reading after unanimously approving this time on second reading, the motion to consolidate the police department with the sheriff's department, as originally voted at the joint city-county emergency meeting the previous week.

The council in adopting its budget for the new fiscal year beginning July 1 decided not to tamper with its $59,000 projected police department budget until the actual cost of the city's share of the joint operation could be determined.

Sheriff Gandy announced Tuesday that he has employed Bobby D. Herron of Lubbock, a qualified officer with five year experience, on a temporary basis until the two remaining vacancies on the six-man sheriff's force are permanently filled with qualified officers.

The week-old consolidated sheriff's department was reported running smoothly.

"We've had no problems," Sheriff Gandy told The Dispatch. "With all the volunteers helping the ambulance service isn't presenting any difficulty to us either."

"Crime wise" the first week has been a "quiet one" here.

Bids sought in school repairs

Bids are being sought for a wide range of summer repair work in the Post school system with bids to be open here July 1.

Work would include alterations of "teen town" which would include new toilet facilities, tearing out of the kitchen partition, and the interior repainting of the building now used as the city-county youth center.

Other school maintenance projects call for installation of carpet in parts of the high school building; alterations, repairs, and painting of the interior of the junior high building; installation of air conditioning in the high school library and learning center; and alterations and repairs to the roof and ceilings of the primary building.

Archery meet here Sunday

The Post Archery Club has scheduled a tournament for Sunday June 15, beginning at 2 p. m. This will be a regular club shoot.

The club held a work day last Sunday with approximately 30 people attending.

The Johnny Lowe Memorial Invitational is scheduled for Sunday, June 22, beginning at 9 a. m. with a 14-target animal round. A 14-target hunter round will begin at 1 p. m. followed by a 14-target field round. Trophies will be awarded at the conclusion of the 42 target course.

To be eligible for an award, a shooter must complete the three round course. Entry fee is $5 and refreshments will be available at the range.

Everyone is urged to come and bring their families.

guards him when he is there and when time comes to go to water, he takes him back to the barn. He is very protective of his charge and obviously he has done a good job, because the calf is a picture of health except for the fact that he is totally blind.

So this is just one more time that nature stepped in and took charge when humans were not smart enough to do the job.

New use for four-way test

Ed Bruton, who completes his year as Rotary club president June 30, told Rotarians in a "wrap-up talk" at its Tuesday luncheon that the club has had a "good Rotary year."

He cited the increase in club membership for a net gain of 12, the implementing of a program to honor the Post

Volunteer Fire Department and advance preparations for the club's 50th anniversary this October as three club objectives accomplished during the year.

Bruton then launched into a wryly humorous talk about the "free enterprise system." "It's sick but not dead yet," Bruton declared. He said he would like to apply the famed "four-way test" — the bureaucrats who are increasing control over

Danny Shaw, Wadsworth gave a classification preceding Bruton's talk.
