Area library interest grows

A few days ago we read an article which said libraries across the land are in real trouble because of inflation.

The story said that inflation has completely eroded many library budgets and pointed to one library somewhere in the Midwest which had not purchased a single new book yet in 1974 because all of its allotted funds had to be channeled into staff salaries and other operating costs which were rising rapidly.

It was pointed out how greatly book costs have risen in the last two or three years and how magazine subscriptions, that many libraries also spend some money on, also have jumped 50 per cent or more.

The article emphasized that libraries, by and large, are down at the bottom of the list usually by government bodies considering how to spend their tax money.

Well, things are not all that bad around here.

It is well known in this area that you usually can check out a newly marketed book much sooner from the Post Public Library than from any of its bigger city counterparts. The monthly library reports, a summary of which always is published in The Dispatch, keeps the reading public abreast of library book purchases here throughout the year.

Right now, after seven months of 1974 operation, the Post library appears headed for a new circulation record. When other libraries usually have a leveling-off of patron interest after a few years, there is no indication of that here.

What's more, library interest here in Post is no longer the single exception to the rule.

We've noted in West Texas weekly papers the last two or three weeks — we've been reading the "exchanges" with Editor Charlie Didway on the hospital shelf — that several of our neighboring towns are now successfully conducting fund-raising drives for new libraries or library building additions.

In every case, the contributions seem to be coming in quite well and most of their towns are now closing in on their target goals.

Texas long was backward in library development, but no more. It probably is moving faster in the library field today than most states.

For the tax dollar spent, good library service is still one of the most inexpensive services local government can offer its citizens.

Post can be justly proud of its library, its library movement, its governmental support at the city and county level, and can also be pleased to see that libraries are now becoming front page news in a lot more West Texas papers than The Dispatch. — JC

A good rodeo job well done

Post and Garza County can be truly proud of its Post Stampede Rodeo. For 34 years now, it has been one of the area's top rodeos.

This year's was no exception.

You had to be impressed if you attended one or more of the three performances — we sat in and enjoyed two of them — with the tiptop shape of the excellent facilities.

There's nothing rundown out there at the rodeo grounds. The facilities are first class all the way.

One has to be impressed too with the pace of the show. It starts on time and ends in two hours. What other rodeo contesting remains in done after show and you can stay as long as you like for that.

All of this means that the Post Stampede Rodeo has good organization, a good board of directors, and good officers who accept their responsibilities and do their jobs.

We've noted in the years since we've been here how the roster of directors and officers change as the younger men move up in the organization and take over the decision-making, and then pass it on to others who follow.

The Post Stampede Rodeo is one of this community's two major summer events, the July Fourth celebration being the other. It generally draws strong community support and always offers a good show. It is a community "fixture."

What's more the Stampede Rodeo usually can be depended upon for at least one good "rodeo rain", which is hard on gate receipts but good for the big ranch area for which it is a community show case.

This year's presentation was no exception. A beneficial "rodeo rain" hit just about an hour and 45 minutes ahead of the final showtime Saturday night.

The Dispatch thus tips its editorial hat to the Post Stampede Rodeo Association, its directors and its officers. You perform a good community service — and in 1974, as in previous years, you performed it mightily well. — JC

America has solid, new leader

Certainly the American people — relieved that the tragedy of Watergate has finally been removed from the White House as a spreading cancer cut from around the nation's beating heart — will unite behind our new president, Gerald Ford.

He has made his name in Washington politics as "a team player", respected alike by friend and foe.

America needs to get back to work as a team and in President Ford appears to have a solid, steady leader at the helm.

He reminds one a great deal of Harry Truman, that "little democrat" from Missouri who was thrust into the American presidency toward the end of World War II with the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

President Truman rose to the challenge of the presidency to become one of the most effective decision-makers ever to occupy the White House.

At the start, President Ford promised America "no more White House tapes" and complete honesty.

The new president's task is formidable. The confidence of the people has been badly shaken by the series of disclosures about the Watergate "cover-up." It must be restored, and quickly, both in our political system and in the government itself.

Otherwise into the vacuum might move who knows what — from within or without.

But even if there is no lurking, sinister foe — as we conceive such — the confidence of the people is all important in winning a must — come battle against inflation, now sweeping the globe, which will severely test us all before that victory is won.

If the inflation battle is lost what happened back in the '30s can visit us again, although this time with our economic system so much more complicated and interdependent the spinout if unchecked can be even more disastrous.

For too long has the nation literally "sat entranced" while the Watergate tragedy moved toward its still unreached conclusion, our government in Washington so involved with the single issue that few found time for anything else.

If Watergate had any "good" it was to prove to America and to the world that our system of government can survive political folly without national convulsions and upheaval. — JC

Our contemporaries say . . .

You let government control prices because they are too high, and then you'll let them control supplies because you have shortages, and then whether you want to let them or not, they'll control you. — Summit, Miss., Sun.

Beat the high cost of living. Go on a diet because of the food shortage and take a long walk because of the gasoline shortage. Your doctor will think this is a great idea, and you can also beat him out of the high cost of being sick. — Audubon, Iowa, News-Advocate.

(EDITOR'S NOYR—Charline Feris, Editor Charlie Didway's daughter, takes over Charlie's popular Thursday to Thursday column this week while our editor remains in West Texas Hospital after undergoing a second operation to pin his broken hip. Mrs. Feris was an editor too — both in high school and college.)

By CHARLINE FERIS

It's been a long time since I've lived in West Texas and I always enjoy coming back to visit.

—O—
This visit, of course, is not as happy as some because of Daddy's accident and hospitalization. But, driving back from Lubbock last night, I couldn't help but enjoy the spacious, pretty country, the clear air. And I wondered if most of the people who live here know how lucky they are.

—O—
Don't get me wrong. I love Dallas. It's home for me now and has many advantages. But a city is a city. And a little town has something special. I have many friends in Dallas who grew up in little towns, just as I did. And when we compare notes, we find that we miss the same things that these towns seem to have in common whether they be in east, west or south Texas.

—O—
And I guess the first thing always mentioned is the friendliness of the people. We've certainly found that to be true in Post. My children love it when we're here and every car we pass on the way to town has someone in it who waves to us. You certainly don't find that in Dallas — unless it happens to be a raised fist on the freeway!

—O—
My kids love the freedom they have here, too. They can get on bikes or walk all over town and not have Mother worrying about them. Unfortunately, this is not true in Dallas.

—O—
Many of you busy people might laugh at this, but the pace of life does seem to be slower here. I know the traffic is slower and people seem to have time to visit with you a while in the stores and on the street.

—O—
I have a neighbor who has lived all his life in Dallas but he travels over the state in his job, and he says that without a doubt the friendliest, warmest people are the ones in West Texas. And we have had proof of that since Dad has been in the hospital. All the cards and letters and phone calls of concern have been so great for him during this difficult time —

Bobby Gordon will be ordained as minister

Bobby Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gordon of Post, will be ordained Sunday, Aug. 18, in the Lee Street Baptist Church in Dimmitt, at 3 p. m. where he will serve as pastor.

The Rev. Jimmy McQuire, pastor of the Arnett-Benson Baptist Church of Lubbock, will conduct the ordination service.

Bobby is a 1956 graduate of Post High School and served as assistant postmaster here for several years. He attended Wayland Baptist College. He is married to the former Louise Askins and they have three children, Randy, 13, Vicki, 12 and Debbie 10.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the ordination service.

Thursday rites for small boy

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p. m. last Thursday in the Holy Cross Catholic Church here by Father James O'Connor for Alejandro Salinas Mesa Jr., two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alejandro Mesa Sr., of Polar Route, Dermott.

The boy died Aug. 5 in Ciudad Delicias, Chihuahua, Mexico, while on a vacation with his parents and grandparents visiting relatives in Naica, Chihuahua, Mexico, where he became ill.

He had lived near Dermott since his birth Dec. 11, 1971, at Slaton. His father is employed by the Johnson Cattle Company.

Survivors, besides the parents, include one sister, Teresa Mesa of the home; and the grandparents, Asiano and Ene-mencia Gonzales of Post and Meljades and Cleofas Carrillo of Mexico.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

and we appreciate it more than you will ever know.

—O—
So I hope you good people of Post stop every once in a while and count your blessings for this fine little town and its inhabitants. And if you're ever in Dallas, the Feris family is always glad to see a friendly face from West Texas.

15,000 bales seen for Garza

LUBBOCK — The Plains Cotton Growers in its Aug. 8 High Plains cotton estimates for the 1974 crop predicted only 15,000 bales for Garza County this year as compared to 52,500 bales in its all-time record production of 1973.

The county breakdown also showed a 15,000 acre estimate of 1974 cotton plantings as compared to 44,300 a year ago. "Virtually all dryland cotton on the Plains is severely drought-stricken and will require above average rainfall in August if it is to even produce enough cotton to justify harvesting," the cotton report said.

An overall estimate of 1,468,600 bale production was made for the area as compared to 2,888,700 bales in 1973.

The 1974 estimate reflects an expected per-acre yield of only 362.2 pounds.

Although the cotton market is still fairly quiet, the situation should change before too long, says an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Mill stocks are dwindling and production estimates are declining due to dry conditions in Texas and some of the other cotton growing areas. So far mills have stayed out of the market due to high interest rates and a desire to hold the price line as long as possible.

What we have is not so much a generation gap as it is a veneration gap.

Post High to offer new vocational office plan

Post High School has been approved for a course in Vocational Office Education for the 1974-75 school year. The V. O. E. program for high school students is designed to prepare them to enter gainful wage-earning employment in an office occupation upon completion of the program. The program is designed to provide the knowledge, skills, and attitudes needed for employment in an office occupation. In the cooperative program, which Post will have, students are placed in actual business offices in a training position as an employee. The student will attend regular high school classes for four periods of the school day and then be on the job for the remainder of the day, to make a weekly total of 15 hours of office work. To be eligible for the V. O. E. program, a student must have senior classification, be at least 16 years of age, and must have completed basic business education subjects. The skills developed in the classroom portion of the V. O. E. program will be directed toward the skills needed for office work in the Post area. Instruction will be individualized, so that each student will be developing the particular skills needed in her own job. Teacher-coordinator for the program is Carolyn Black.

Bob Bullock visits Post in his state race

Bob Bullock, Democratic nominee for State Comptroller, was in Post Monday afternoon to say "thank you" to the voters of Garza County who gave him a 78.7 per cent majority in the May primary. Bullock won the democratic nomination with the largest percentage vote of any contested statewide race. He carried all but one of Texas' 254 counties. Visiting every county in Texas during the primary, Bullock said he "prefers to talk to the people personally instead of hiding behind words and gimmicks ground out by clever public relations people." The size of his victory shows the people support improvements and reforms he recommends for the Comptroller's office, Bullock said. Bullock, 45, gained statewide acclaim as Secretary of State. He also has served as Assistant Attorney General and a member of the House of Representatives. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict and lives in Austin with his wife, Amelia and son, Bobby. During his campaign Bullock has called for an end to faulty collection methods which he says cost the state millions of dollars a year by 'fly-by-night' operators. Bullock also has promised to cut down the amount of red tape facing businesses in handling and paying state taxes. Other reforms urged by Bullock have included quicker processing of city sales taxes by the state. "I'm fully confident that the people are more than anxious to see that their hard-earned tax dollars are carefully collected and wisely spent," Bullock said.

there. They toured through Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota and South Dakota. They visited Mrs. Ellis in Duncan, Okla. Mrs. Pennell had just gotten out of the hospital before their trip. The Rev. P. D. Fullinjm, pastor of the Southland Baptist Church, is in Oklahoma City having eye surgery. The Southland Reunion was held last Saturday and new officers were elected. They are Sammie Ellis, president; Darrel Jones, vice president; Ruby Barkley and Ann Chaffin sharing secretary duties. It was voted that the reunion would be held on the second Saturday in August, 1976, and every two years thereafter in the Slaton clubhouse. Don't forget the skating party at Slaton skating rink, located right next to the baseball park, on Thursday, Aug. 15. Libby and Dennis McGehee are sponsoring this one. Also the 42 party for every kind of player and there are all kinds — at the Hackberry party room Friday night, Aug. 16 at 8 p.m. Hosts and hostesses are the Walton Wheelers and the Henry Hunters. Sidewalk art festival Aug. 23

LITTLEFIELD — The 7th annual Sidewalk Art Festival will be held here Friday, Aug. 23. All artists who have completed work within the last 12 months, not supervised by an instructor are invited to exhibit their work for professional judging, cash prizes, and gift certificates. Registration for the show begins at 1 p. m. with each entry limited to five works. Winners will be announced at the close of the show at 8 p. m. Beef cow farms are increasing in number in Texas as a result of a new type of landowner who is buying land for other reasons and then deciding to raise cattle. According to a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, beef cow farms increased by more than 17,000 from 1964 to 1969, with the largest percentage increase among those farms with 20 to 99 cows. This means that purebred breeders have an expanded market for bulls and heifers.

World Beyond Ourselves
By Edgar L. Fox
You have turned on my light! The Lord my God has made my darkness turn to light. Psalm 18:28 (LB)
Many children and adults love the characters in the cartoon "Peanuts," even when they do not quite understand the philosophy involved. Snoopy, the delightful little dog, tries hard to do the right thing even while meeting untold opposition.
In one story, Snoopy spots a large bug on the ground. He peers down and says, "That little bug lives in a world all his own. He doesn't know anything about atmospheric testing, strikes, farm problems, medical care, education, or income tax. All he has to worry about is eating and not getting stepped on." In the last picture, Snoopy is shown lying flat on his back on top of his dog house. He meditates, "That's the secret . . . reduce your worries to a minimum!"
It is hard to get outside ourselves. We get so busy trying to make ends meet that it is hard for us to realize that there is a world beyond ourselves. Christians need to have faith in God—faith enough to put first things first in life, to wipe out basic fears that keep us in a state of turmoil; faith to love our fellowman, knowing that he, too, is precious in God's sight.
Prayer: O God, we earnestly turn to thee because we know it is only in thee that our lives can be kept in peace and spiritual growth.
Amen

Short welding course offered

AMARILLO — Welding and Fabrication is one of two new courses to be offered this fall at Texas State Technical Institute, Mid-Continent Campus, Amarillo, announces General Manager Lovell A. Pillow. He says: "After a review of Panhandle needs, we found that a relatively short welding program was needed. This program will specialize in fabrication techniques needed for production in medium and small shops in the area. Based on our survey, job opportunities are practically unlimited." More than 30 applications for admission to the fall quarter welding program have already been received in State Tech's admissions office, and as many as 40 to 45 are expected. Instructors are confident they can place every student who finishes the course. Some even find good jobs before they complete the four quarters.

Junior Gray home from busy visit

Junior Gray, Graham, Tex., horse trainer who is a former Post resident, returned to the United States in late July from a 21-day visit to Australia where he judged the largest quarter horse show ever held on that continent.

Gray judged 500 horses in three days for performances and halter.

He judged performance classes while riding "Shu-Fly-Shu" which Jack Burgess of Graham sent to Australia three years ago, a horse which Gray had trained.

Attendance at the horse show was 3,000 to 6,000 people daily. Arrangements for Gray's trip were made by Ken Kelly, editor of the Sydney Daily Telegraph. The horse show was held in Sydney.

Junior's host had many good comments on his judging and invited Gray to return next April to judge the Expo 75 show in Adelaide, South Australia. This will be the largest horse exhibition ever to be held in Australia.

Gray will judge its quarter horse division.

In addition to his strenuous duties of judging a show, Gray held three schools, which totaled nine days, and had from eight to 100 persons attending each school. He plans to conduct five additional schools when he returns to Australia next spring.

Gray traveled over 2,000 miles in Australia between Sydney and Melbourne. He was very pleased with the country, reporting it was very prolific. He said some grass land would run two cows per acre.

Gray said cloudy weather during his stay prevented him from taking several plane trips and seeing much more of the country.

Gray says a lot of Australians will be coming to Graham during the next 12 months seeking help in purchasing quarter horses to take back to Australia.

Shipping charges are $6,000 per animal and they must stay in England six months for quarantine before going to Australia.

Mrs. Gray will accompany her husband on his 24,000 mile trip to Australia next April. They will be gone six to seven weeks.

"I flew half way round the world without taking off my boots and I was bothered by the change in time," Gray said on arriving home in Graham.

Post hasn't had football squad like this in years

44 out, 16 lettermen, even more new transfers

The Post Antelopes haven't had a football squad like this in years and years.

Forty-four candidates out there hustling for jobs the first week, 16 lettermen, no real position weaknesses, and even a handful of transfers who look mighty capable of helping.

Football hasn't looked like this in Post for a good long while. No wonder Coach Bobby Davis' Lopes are picked by rival district coaches as the team to beat.

"We could use a little more size maybe," Coach Davis told The Dispatch Tuesday afternoon. "We'll play some teams that will be bigger than we are, but experience and desire can overcome the weight advantage. At least I'd rather have a little smaller size bunch of boys who know how to play and have the hustle like this bunch does."

Coach Davis had to admit that he and his coaches are pleased with the way the squad reported. They're working hard with a good attitude," Davis said.

The 'Lope mentor said he thought Post material is adequate for all positions. "Of course we'd like more depth at some spots, but we have more depth now than we've ever had before. Of course everybody always would like some more."

The Dispatch reported on two senior transfers two weeks ago — Jimmy Stanaford from Littlefield and Jim Graves from Torrance, Calif. — who look sure to help things along this year.

But now the Post squad has two sophomore transfers as well who look like they are going to help next year if not this year, as they won't be eligible for varsity ball under Texas eligibility rules until 1975.

They are Art Pettet, a linesman from California, and Perry Rogers, who played fullback and linebacker as a freshman at Big Spring last fall. Both will play on the B team this year.

The Antelopes, who are now working twice daily at 9 a. m. and 6:30 p. m., will put on the pads for the first time Friday and have a 9 a. m. intersquad scrimmage scheduled for Saturday morning.

Freshman footballers — more than 30 may report — will check out equipment after the scrimmage and should be at the fieldhouse at 10:30 or 11 a. m., Coach Davis said.

Next week, while teachers will be attending workshops, the freshmen will practice daily at 4 p. m. with the full coaching staff working with them, followed by the Antelope varsity squad at 6:30 p. m.

"Everybody is welcome to come out and watch the practices," Coach Davis said Tuesday.

When the freshmen suit out, the Antelope football forces will total a hustling 75 — the biggest football effort here in years and years — and though not quite up to "Denver City standards" Coach Davis told The Dispatch, "Our football program has reached the point now where we can compete in the district, not just this year but for several foreseeable years in the future."

The 16 lettermen who head the big varsity squad include Joe Moore, Tim Owen, Sammy Gutierrez, Grayling Johnson, Randy Babbs, Mark Terry, Randy Josey, Tony Conner, Roger Taylor, Chris Wyatt, Garland Dudley, George Hester Jr., Dale Odom, Mike Shepherd, Edward Price and Bryan Davis.

Non-letter seniors out for the squad, besides Stanaford and Graves, include Jackie Blacklock, Bob Craig, Dennis McDonald, Jay Kennedy, Andy Williams, and Kenneth Curtis from Austin.

Also included are seven non-letter juniors, Benny Greene, Duke Bell, Ray Martinez, Oscar Sanchez, Johnny McCowen, Nathan King, and Les Allen.

Slaton fans welcome coach

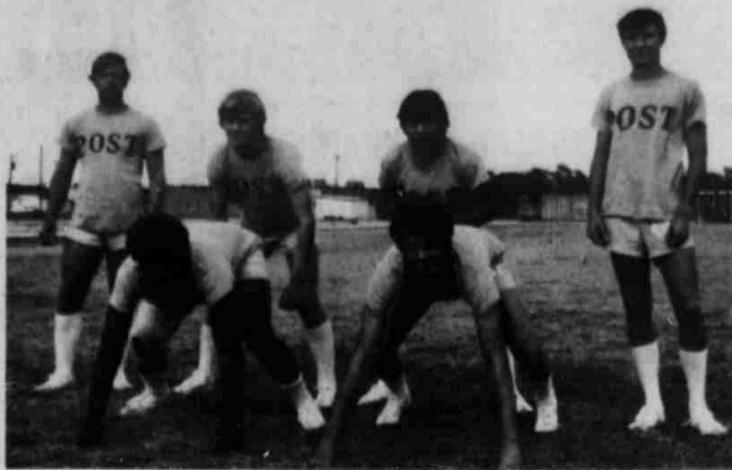

SLATON — A crowd of 150 Slaton football fans jammed the Slaton Community Center Tuesday night of last week to welcome new head football coach, Eddie Cook.

Both Cook and his new first assistant, Tommy Boyd, painted an optimistic picture of Slaton High's football future and hinted of strong discipline and pride as necessary ingredients to future success.

Cook said his offense would be basically an I formation with an inside slot, with some triple option plays akin to the Houston veer offense. On defense "we'll stunt on every play," he said.

The meeting was sponsored by the Tiger Club, Slaton's adult booster organization.

In the Bahamas, it has been believed that water from a crab's claw will cure an ear-ache.

HUNTER SAFETY — Everyone's responsibility. NRA safety instructors Bobby Goff, Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. warden right, and Joe Davis, Lubbock are displaying and discussing different types of sporting firearms.

Hunter safety class will start Aug. 19

LUBBOCK — Hunting season will soon be here and an

NRA approved Hunter Safety Class has been tentatively scheduled to start Aug. 19 at 6:30 p.m. in Lubbock.

The classes will be held at Carrol Thompson Junior High School, located at 13th Street and Ave. T for three nights. Each class will last three hours.

Colorado and Montana, along with 15 other states, require a hunter safety card for anyone born after Jan. 1, 1949, to buy a hunting license.

Subjects covered in the course are firearm and bow handling and safety, hunting ethics and conservation, laws and regulations, game identification, survival and first aid.

An end-of-course examination is given and only those participants qualifying will be given a hunter safety card and their name registered in Austin.

Now is the time to prepare you or your young hunter for the fall hunting seasons. Students can register at the junior high, or call 744-6847 for more information.

Isn't it odd that youngsters know all the answers except those that are necessary for them to make good grades?

New hunting licenses out

AUSTIN — Somewhere in the recesses of your wallet is a crumpled, soiled piece of paper which should bring back memories of crisp fall days. It's last year's hunting license.

To replace the license which expires the last day of August, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials have already mailed one-half of some 2½ million total hunting and fishing licenses for the coming year.

The new licenses will be available Aug. 16 at all TP&WD Enforcement offices and bonded license sales deputies such as major sporting goods stores.

Fees are the same as last year: $8.75 for a combination resident hunting and fishing license, $5.25 for resident hunting, $4.25 for resident and non-resident fishing and $37.50 for a non-resident hunting license.

This year's fishing license will be valid for one year from the date of purchase.

Jay Pollard plays well in Greenbelt Bowl game

Although the West team lost, 24 to 33, in Saturday night's Greenbelt Bowl all-star game in Wichita Falls, Jay Pollard of Post played an outstanding game in the losing effort.

The 1974 grad who will be heading for Sul Ross University this fall on an athletic scholarship, played all the way on offense as a guard and played a greater portion of the last half on defense as a middle linebacker after the West had fallen behind by 20 points.

Pollard's West team rallied from the 20-point deficit to go ahead 24-20, before the game's decisive play "broke their backs."

The West had punted to the East's six-inch-line in the third period after taking the lead. The East drove it out to the four from where Doug Smith of Big Spring broke away for a 96-yard touchdown run and give the East control again.

Approximately 3,500 fans turned out for the game. No injuries were suffered by the players.

Miss Marsha Arheger, queen representative participated in the various activities including the day afternoon queen's parade which the candidates towed through downtown Falls in boats in an parade theme.

Sul Ross coaches attended game and were "very complimentary" of Jay's play. Also attending the game Post were Mr. and Mrs. Pollard and Mr. and Mrs. Arheger.

FIRST RODEO

Mrs. Vera Mae Warren, children, Jackie and Lane of Lawton, Okla., were in over the weekend visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones. Also visiting was neighbor of Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Carol Kaapana, was born in Hawaii, she see her first rodeo and while visiting here.

District coaches pick Post over Mustangs

Three out of four — those are pretty good odds.

In four polls taken to date on the upcoming District 5AA football race, Coach Bobby Davis' Post Antelopes have been picked to win three times and Denver City once.

The latest two polls were conducted at the recent high school coaching school at Houston.

District 5AA coaches picked Post first and Denver City second.

But sports writers at Houston picked Denver City, the only Mustang "win" of the "poll season."

Coach Davis told The Dispatch that each district coach is asked to rank how he thinks all the other teams in the district will finish, leaving his own team out.

The Post grid mentor said he didn't see how the coaches poll came out at Houston. (The Dispatch picked it up on a front page story in the Denver City Press last week.)

A month ago two magazines, Top O Texas Football and Texas Football both picked Post to win the district crown over Denver City.

Granddaughter also in new Who's Who

Teri Lee Smith, a 1974 senior at Hawley, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ritchie and Mrs. Odis Petty of Post, is another student who will be featured in the 8th annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1973-74, it was announced last week.

She is the daughter of Milo Smith Jr., of Hawley.

Ed's Roofing Co.

Last week surrendered its business phone to the Post Stampede Rodeo a week after a printing error on rodeo posters gave the roofing company's phone number for cowboys to call to enter the rodeo.

Fine folks like Ed's Roofing Co. make Post the great community it is.

If you have roofing problems call 2502 and you'll get a roof repairman on a ride on a Brahma bull this week.

Others included Freddie Huff who scored a 56 point ride on a bareback bronc, David Sparlin who got 52 points for a bareback bronc ride, and Mark Terry who was awarded 57 points by the judges for staying aboard a bull the required eight seconds.

Bullriders who were tossed off included Freddie Huff, Karl Hall, Joe Moore, David Woods, Robert Harrington, and Tol Thomas. Bareback bronc riders who had "no time" included Moore, Kim Owen and Steve Cooper.

Only local calf roping competing was Tex Garnett who had a 14.4 but was given a 10 second barrier penalty.

Other Garza team ropers competing included James Dye, V. O. Rasbury, Riley Miller of Justiceburg, Ted Williams, Willie Patterson, Stephen Myers of Southland and Dwayne Gannon.

Six Garza girls helped to swell the barrel racing field to an all-time record high of 50.

They and their times around the arena course were Kelly Mitchell, 18.8; Sam Stewart, 20.3; Jan Hall, 20.1 plus 5; Cindy Bird, 19.3; Kim Trammell, 19.7; and Sharla Macy, 19.6.

Although the rodeo coaxed up a heavy shower 90 minutes before showtime Saturday night, the final performance drew the biggest crowd of the three nights.

After-show roping Thursday night was confined to cutting the 32-man field in the Garza roping event down to four for the Saturday night showdown. After-show calf and team roping and barrel racing kept everybody busy until 15 minutes after midnight Friday night.

Other money-winners in the rodeo field, besides the first place winners, were:

Calf roping: Bill Benson of San Angelo, second; Les Cockrum of Abilene, third; Sherrell Overturf of Slaton, fourth; Hoss Rankin of Big Spring, fifth; and Bill Davis, sixth.

Team roping: A. R. Northcutt and Dan Fisher of Crane, second; Wayne Cornelius of Crosbyton and Garnett, third; others already listed.

Saddle bronc: L. D. Clark of Lubbock and Mike Mitchell of Newcastle, tie for second, 61 point rides each; and Warren Williams of Childress and Ronnie Ray of Lubbock, tied for fourth, with 60 point rides.

Bull riding: Terry Davis of Midland, second, 71 points; Rellig McCullough of Big Spring, third, 70; Monte Davis of Midland, fourth, 69; and Roy Kelly of Stanton and Charles Atchison of Stanton, tied for fifth, 66 each.

Bareback bronc: Bobby Bidy of Quanah, second, 69; Monte McCloy of Shamrock, third, 68; Cotton Polk of Clovis, fourth, 66; and Jack Stocky of Lawton and Bob Doddie of Avoca, tied for fifth, 64 each.

Barrel racing: Lynn Schmidt of Lamesa and Sharon Stacks of Midland, tied for third, 18.0 seconds; and Jackie Barton of Lubbock, fifth, 18.1; and Marla Thomas of Lamesa, sixth, 18.2. Qualifying for the Saturday night finals with Myers and Robbie King in the Garza closed roping event after show Thursday were Tommy Greenwood with a 36.1 on two head, and Ricky King with a 37.4.

Pork producers forming co-ops

LUBBOCK — Texas swine producers are facing declining local markets because several Texas hog slaughter facilities have been closed. Even though some of the remaining packers are expanding hog slaughter capacities, and taking steps to eliminate the vestiges of poor management that caused the demise of some slaughter houses, the lack of convenient competitive outlets for slaughter hogs has served to lower the price received by many producers.

According to a Texas Agriculture Extension Service economist at Lubbock, an attempt to improve these conditions through group action in pooling market hogs and negotiating collectively with packers has been launched by Texas swine producers.

Marvin Sartin says that an association in the Texas Panhandle is in the process of organization, and a producer-owned cooperative is being chartered on the South Plains.

These two organizations each plan to obtain a collection facility and receive hogs from their participants two days a week, he reports.

The animals when delivered will be sorted by weights and graded on USDA standards. They will be sold by telephone to packers on a bid basis. The sorting and grading will allow packers to bid on the quality and quantity of animals meeting their specific needs.

SALES LEVELLING OFF

Although demands for farm equipment have been strong this year, sales have generally leveled off due to a shortage of available equipment, notes an economist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service. For instance, unit tractor sales in the first quarter of 1974 fell slightly under the first quarter 1973 rate while sales of other lines of farm machinery declined more sharply.

Five-Way Washing Action — Tough, ten-vaned polypropylene agitator combined with six scrub vanes built into sides of the tub give you complete five-way action. Clothes are double-scrubbed by agitator and tub vanes, squeezed, flexed, sudsed and rubbed to get them thoroughly cleaned. Vanes are designed to wash large or small loads properly.

Three Step Rinsing Action — Three rinses, two spray and one power, break down suds to flush away detergent, dirt and soil.

Bleach Dispenser — Dilutes bleach solution into water automatically at the proper time during washing cycle. It has a large orifice for easy pouring.
