$400 stolen from Southland school safe Tuesday night

$18,000 in checks left

Two burglars broke into the Southland school about 10 p. m. Tuesday and stole approximately $400 in cash from Southland School Tax Collector Max Chaffin's file cabinet safe, but left behind over $18,000 worth of checks from Southland school district taxpayers.

The money taken included receipts from several Southland games and funds of both the high school junior and senior classes.

Southland Supt. Ted Dickerson took $67.75 in Tuesday night's basketball receipts home with him or the loss probably would have been larger.

Bryan Boatman, who is an adult education teacher at Southland, said he thought he heard something at the back of the building before going home at 10 minutes of 10 Tuesday night. He had been teaching an adult education class in a classroom across from Chaffin's office. He said he thought the noise came from students at the basketball game and didn't go look.

H. C. Dunn, who lives about a half block from the school, said Wednesday morning that his dogs were barking so loud at something over toward the school before the 10 p. m. TV news was over Tuesday night (that he came outside for a look but didn't see anything).

Investigating officers of the Garza sheriff's department and a Texas Ranger from Lubbock found that there were two pairs of tracks in the mud around the two back doors of the school.

The burglars were unsuccessful in prying their way through one back door, but gained entrance through the other and then pried the lock from the file cabinet type safe.

They also searched through Chaffin's desk, apparently in search of additional funds.

Boys paying cost of broken windows
School Supt. Bill Shiver said this week that the breaking out of some windows in one high school wing the weekend of the Cooper game had been committed by two Post boys.

The school official said the pair had admitted the destruction and are now paying back the cost of the damage.

$10,000 goal set for United Fund drive opening Nov. 4

Directors of the Garza County United Fund at a meeting late Tuesday afternoon in the community room adopted a 1975 goal of $10,000 for participating agencies and set Monday, Nov. 4 for the opening of the annual fund-raising effort.

Nine agencies will participate in the United Fund this coming year.

Of the nine to receive funding only the Girl Scouts were granted a boost and it will be a substantial one from $1,900 in 1974 to $3,225 for next year.

Jack Alexander, chairman of the budget committee which conducted hearings on the various budget requests, explained to directors the Post Girl Scouts have purchased a small office building in Lubbock to be moved here for conversion into a new Girl Scout unit.

He said the increased request will provide money to convert the building for Girl Scout use.

The American Red Cross participation was reduced from $600 this year to $450 for next year. Next year's amount will go to the national organization with Red Cross expenses here coming from local Red Cross reserves from past years.

Police are investigating two residential burglaries and a store theft here with losses for the three cases estimated at somewhere over $1,300.

The store theft occurred between 5 and 5:30 p. m. last Thursday afternoon when a Mexican-American man and three Mexican-American women looted a jewelry case at Dodson's of five diamond rings and three diamond necklaces valued at $875.

Police Chief Jim Trulove said apparently several in the party of four got the attention of Mr. and Mrs. Dodson while another member stole the jewelry.

He said the police have a lead in the case and the quartet was believed to be driving an out-of-state car which stopped at a local service station and also drove away from a Slaton station without paying for gasoline.

One of the residential burglaries was that of the home of Mrs. Fannie Lou Richards at 402 West 13th. It was discovered Oct. 10 after Mrs. Richards returned home after a two or three day absence.

Losses in this burglary included an assortment of women's clothes and shoes, and of men's and women's Avon cologne, valued at about $75; an orange piggy bank containing $26 in cash, and a new Omega (See Burglaries, Page 12)

Teachers meet, school holiday

There will be no school here Friday, with Post teachers joining more than 5,500 other South Plains teachers at the annual convention of District XVII, Texas State Teachers Association in Lubbock.

The theme of this year's convention is "Changing to Meet the Future."

Mrs. Lucy Faye Smith, District XVII president and a teacher at Muleshoe, will preside at the banquet and House of Delegates meeting to be held at Coronado High School starting at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

The first general session of the convention will be in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum at 9:30 a. m. Friday.

Walker claims signing of new city ordinance is illegal

Walker, terming his act as that "of a private citizen," said the council Monday "ignoring the several ways and means of the appointment of Morton, Lubbock attorney, as his successor as city attorney an illegal act on the council's part."

Walker, with the Civil Statutes of the State of Texas in hand, read from Article 1003 on the qualifications of an appointee.

"The appointment to fill a vacancy in the office of city attorney in a municipality operating under the general law and having the aldermanic form of government is governed by the residential requirements of this article."

The residential requirement listed was six months residency in the city.

Morton, who had promised the council to attend all council sessions, was not present although his office had been notified of the meeting. The Lubbock attorney is also city attorney for Slaton.

Walker also declared the council ignored the law: "In granting utility firms rate increases recently 'without requiring one iota of justification for them.'"

In not having a depository contract for the protection of city funds.

In having a councilman also serving in another office in which a conflict of interests could develop.

Walker, who served as city attorney for five years, resigned not long ago after the council unanimously rejected giving him a sizable salary increase he had requested for time devoted to the position.

The council voted against the pay raise the night that all the utility firms who had been seeking rate increases were present at the council session to ask for them and Walker did not put in an appearance.

It was quite an embarrassment to members of the council who had expected Walker to question the utility representatives and because, as a council member told The Dispatch, Walker was the one who had worked out the utility rate ordinances with the utility representatives and was most familiar with them.

Little interest in election

The Nov. 5 general election is less than two weeks away, but interest in the upcoming election remains at a low ebb here, as at most other places in Texas where there are few contested races on the ballot.

Absentee voting for the election began Wednesday of last week, but up to noon Wednesday, no one had been in the county clerk's office to vote absentee in person, and only three mail ballots had been mailed out, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, deputy county clerk.

For the first time, it was not necessary to hold a runoff primary election in Garza County this year.

announcement from the county commissioners' court that voting in Precinct 1, the county's largest voting precinct, will be at the First Presbyterian Church, instead of at the Youth Center building, where the May primary election was held.

Garza County's official ballot for the general election lists 11 contested races, most of them pitting a Democrat against a Republican, but there are also two Raza Unida party candidates, six Socialist Workers party candidates, and one American party candidate.

At its work session Monday night, councilmen noticed that the 90-day grace period on the Algierita had expired Oct. 8 and agreed that Mrs. Gwen Boren of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee be notified that organization's report on its efforts to "save" the old hotel at its next meeting.

The council also agreed that the emergency ambulance committee should be reactivated to look into the problem of poor collections for ambulance services billed since Jan. 1.

A report from the police department which operates the ambulance indicated that $4,920 have been billed this year for such ambulance services but only $1,340 of this amount collected.

It was pointed out that it wasn't until Oct. 14 that the first Medicare payment was received of $20 for the transfer of a Medicare patient to Lubbock.

City Manager Pete Maddox said a lot of the persons billed for ambulance service have been waiting to see how much Medicare would pay before making any payment themselves.

The council also discussed at some length the rewriting of the city's health ordinance which Dr. Wilson said was so bulky and unworkable that nobody was enforcing it.

Eight indicted by grand jury

Eight men were indicted last Wednesday by a Garza County district grand jury for offenses ranging from murder to rape, burglary and theft.

W. M. Reed was indicted for murder in the fatal shooting of Leroy Cook here Aug. 9.

Algerita hotel's fate to be decided next month

The fate of the historic Algerita Hotel building may be decided at the November meeting of the city council.

At its work session Monday night, councilmen noticed that the 90-day grace period on the Algierita had expired Oct. 8 and agreed that Mrs. Gwen Boren of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee be notified that organization's report on its efforts to "save" the old hotel at its next meeting.

Two men in jail here for rape

Two men are in the county jail here charged with rape in lieu of $3,000 bond each, Police Chief Jim Trulove reports.

Raymond Jefferson, 23, a black, was indicted by a Garza County grand jury last week on the rape charge. He is charged with raping a black 23-year-old local woman in a vacant lot on Oak Street at 1 a. m. on the morning of Oct. 12.

The woman was walking home at the time.

Billy Frank Horner is the other man jailed on a rape charge.

He is alleged to have broken into the home of a Post white woman early Sunday morning and raped her. He was arrested later Sunday.

Don't forget to turn clock back for CST Sunday

Post, Garza County and the rest of the nation will get back to Standard Time at 2 a. m. Sunday, Oct. 27, after having been on Daylight Saving Time for about a year, due to the energy crunch which forced lawmakers to look for ways of conserving fuel.

Up until that time most of the nation had operated on six-months-on and six-months-off Daylight Saving Time and four months of Standard Time as a compromise between those who want year-around DST and those who dislike getting up before dawn because of DST.

This year Central Standard Time will last from Oct. 27 to Feb. 25, 1975.

Also 'white-collar' crime

Hardly a day passes that we don't get a report from our newspaper or other news media of the rising rate of crime. Strangely enough, these reports are of crimes of violence. Rarely do we get a hint in the press or anywhere else of the cost of "white-collar" crime, which there are strong reasons to believe dwarfs that of crimes of violence.

Financial losses to the many victims of white-collar crime are estimated at over $41 billion annually. But the greatest cost is in the erosion of public confidence in institutions and persons from whom a meticulous regard for the law is expected.

What is white-collar crime? C. M. Kelley, director of the FBI, says white-collar crime exists in many forms of fraud, government corruption, and conflict and interest, as well as in an unlimited range of dishonest consumer and economic schemes.

Who is the white-collar criminal? The FBI director answers that question by saying he can be anyone, but usually he is a person untainted by any association with common criminals or common crime.

The white-collar criminal's techniques are subtle and his appearance is often deceiving. Rarely are there any coarse threats, physical abuse, or lethal weapons involved in his crimes. Indeed, the victims are frequently his patrons, his associates, or his constituency. Because the effects of his crimes are far-reaching, taxpayers-consumers are among his victims. They are generally unaware of being fleeced. There are good grounds for their innocence. The white-collar criminal characteristically has all the trappings of success and respectability. Not uncommonly, he is a prominent member of the community!

Because of the insidious nature of much white-collar crime, the public is not sufficiently sensitive to either its presence or its danger. To combat all manner of crime effectively requires an informed and alert public. People should insist on the same strict enforcement of the law for business and government officials who break the law that they demand for those without status.

People ought to be as outraged when bilked by corporate fraud or government corruption as they are when assaulted and robbed by a stranger on the street. Moreover, to reinforce this heightened concern, the public must have confidence that its complaints will be heard, the facts responsibly investigated, and those found guilty — whatever their station in life — appropriately punished.

It is essential that law enforcement agencies at all levels examine their priorities to make certain they are pursuing vigorously their responsibilities to detect and investigate white-collar crime. At a time when the fairness of the criminal justice system is most seriously questioned, the law enforcement profession must insure that, in the investigative process, there is truly equal justice under the law. — CD

SINCE NOTHING much ever comes through Post except freight trains and big trucks, we ought to keep our eyes peeled for that balloon the Atomic Energy Commission is going to turn loose at Las Cruces, N. M., Saturday, Oct. 26. It might be our last chance to see anything worthwhile until Halley's Comet comes over again, and no telling when that will be.

The balloon, which has been named Project da Vinci, will carry a four-member crew in a gondola below a 70-foot diameter balloon. The proposed route will take the thing to Artesia and Lovington, then over Lamesa before landing near Aspermont. So, there's a chance of the balloon going too far south of us for us to see it — which would be just our luck.

I'VE NEVER HAD any experience with balloons, but from what I have heard and read about them, they're just liable to go anywhere after they once get up there, so the mapped route might not be the one Project da Vinci takes.

Anyway, that's a funny name they gave it — Project da Vinci. Things are getting so bad they don't even make it easy for us to pronounce the names of things anymore. Remember that Comet Kohoutek? I heard one woman say she wished to gosh they'd named it something else. "It makes me blush to hear what my young'uns call it," she said.

THE MAN UP the street says the nice thing about money is that it never clashes with anything you are wearing.

My wife does her weekend food shopping on Saturday afternoons, and I'm usually in front of the TV set watching a ball game when she gets home from the store. The car door slams, then the screen door, then the sack of groceries are slammed down hard on the kitchen table. Then, for the next few minutes the ball game is interrupted by some rather harsh words from my wife on the cost of groceries and inflation in general.

SHE IS OF the opinion that something could be done about it if we'd ALL get together and make ourselves heard. I always agree with her, but usually wiggle out of any further discussion by saying that she is right but who ever heard of getting EVERYBODY together on anything.

I don't think any more of inflation than my wife or anyone else does, but what's to be done about it? We've brought it on ourselves and how we'll ever wiggle out of it, only heaven knows.

SINCE WE'RE on the subject, The Dallas Morning News had a two-page section Sunday, called "Mood of Texas," in which folks in different sections of the state were quoted on various things that are bugging all of us. Here are a few of the comments on inflation:

"I tell you, it's a hard situation," said a car inspector from Galveston. "I been through the last depression, but this one looks like it might be worse. We gotta give Ford a chance. He took over in a crucial stage. People have to bear with him, because we're eight to ten years behind, and we can't straighten it out in a few months."

A Fort Worth mechanic had this to say: "There's no doubt about it. Inflation is the No. 1 problem facing our nation today. The supermarkets have marked up their prices everytime we go shopping. It's hurt us. I haven't thrown steaks on the coals in a long, long time. But my parents have been hurt far more than my family. My folks have been trying to get by on their pension and retirement checks and they've had a rough row to hoe."

"What's on my mind?" It's inflation," blustered an Amarillo man. "Groceries, the cost of living versus wages, the whole thing. Wages just are not keeping pace with prices."

And an Amarillo housewife said: "We've got to stop inflation and get prices down. I'm aggravated right now — I go to the grocery store and leave my money. And I come home with nothing. Nothing."

At Pleasant Grove, near Dallas, a service station operator sounded off with: "The way Ford's going right now, he's going to have a hell of a lot of people unemployed in the next two years, and inflation is already leading us into a depression. Things are worse than people think they are. We're on the verge of disaster."

In China, yppress and pins were planted on graves to strengthen the souls of the departed.

Youth to lead church service

Edgar L. Fox, minister of the First Christian Church, has announced that the youth will be in charge of the 11 a. m. worship services Sunday under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Maddox.

The sermon title for the 7 p. m. worship will be "What to Do When You Don't Know What to Do."

Church School will be at 9:45 a. m., and Christian Youth Fellowship at 6 p. m. Sunday. Tuesday Bible Study is at 10 a. m., and Wednesday prayer meeting at 7:15 p. m. in the church parlor. The public is invited to attend.

The Christian book display and sale continues in Narthex through Nov. 3.

Vote turnout may surprise

Trained observers around the state are predicting a low turnout for the Nov. 5 general election, for which absentee voting is under way.

A few of these observers estimate turnout in the election will be less than two million. That would be the lowest vote in Texas in many a year.

In our opinion, with 5.5 million Texans eligible to vote and most deeply worried about their government, it would be surprising to see fewer than two million vote.

Maybe citizens don't know how best to show their concern. It would be a huge mistake to let indifference keep anyone from voting Nov. 5. That is the only way citizens can get a responsive government. Unfortunately, a great many persons feel it makes little difference who gets elected.

Our private feeling is that Texans will vote in substantial numbers this year, and that some results may surprise professional politicians. — CD

Immigration laws, which allow for entry into the country, also provide loopholes for special situations. One special situation allows preference for aliens who have demonstrated ability in the sciences.

Does this mean? Take the case of the woman golfer, born in England, who applied for a non-preferential visa.

Ability "exceptional"? The Immigration Service, as a professional organization, she had won many tournaments.

Is it an "art"? Yes, ruled the Service, because it provided a model for millions of spectators.

The visa was granted, based on reasoning, a preference was granted to a brilliant golfer and a specialist in the art of the golf ball.

Standards of excellence in the provision are high in the case of a Korean golfer who was part of a diet. She was given to some favorability by critics, but none was held her out as an interloper.

Immigration Service decided while she was doubtless a vocalist, she was not "talented" enough to qualify for a preferential visa.

DALLAS — A month after his second inauguration Theodore Roosevelt came to Texas to see Jack Abernathy catch wolves with his hands. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the leading American ace of World War I, was a teen-age car salesman in Dallas. Elisabet Ney's career as a sculptor was launched by Arthur Schopenhauer's agreement to sit for her.

These are among the stories included in "People and Places in the Texas Past," by June R. Welch, just published by GLA Press, Dallas.

Roosevelt, an outdoorsman and advocate of the strenuous life, was curious about Abernathy's wolf-catching technique. Cattle barons W. T. Waggoner and Burk Burnett invited the president to come for a demonstration. Abernathy had captured hundreds of wolves — some weighing up to 127 pounds — by running them down and simply sticking his hand into their mouths. He did not disappoint his audience — which included Comanche chief Quanah Parker — as he moved across Red River to avoid the mesquite and caught half a dozen wolves in the Comanche Big Pasture.

Voters are urged to use this method of nomination and to remember the filing deadline of Oct. 29.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Texas restaurant owners, operators and supervisors are going back to school and the end result will be higher quality service and food for the restaurant goer, says the State Health Department.

Anyone who has suffered through the agony of "food poisoning" can attest to the effects of improper sanitation.

The Texas Restaurant Association is kept aware of breakdowns in the food handling chain. As a move to forestall such future occurrences and to keep abreast of current needs of the food industry, the Texas Restaurant Association is offering a new 12-hour course on sanitation, safety and food service production.

The first course was held in Abilene and followed by one in Victoria. After a third course later this month, the TRA will survey results of the first three training sessions and schedule others.

"We're shooting first for owners, managers and supervisors," said W. H. (Buckshot) Price, executive vice president of the TRA. "However," he added, "anyone connected with the food service industry is welcome to the free training courses — scheduled three hours a day for four days."

Objective of the course is to train high-echelon personnel to teach others. "We've got to train them before they can instruct others," said Price.

With 5,000 TRA members in 21 chapters (zones) in Texas, TRA is biting off a big chunk of training. But by getting core people in each chapter to provide training, Price thinks the job can get done.

James M. Dougherty Jr., director of the State Health Department's Food and Drug Division, says, "I'm enthused with the interest shown by the Restaurant Association in its training program and think it is a good approach. It is an excellent way to reach more people in the food service industry."

Food hygiene has long been a concern of health officials. Training programs for food service personnel formerly were carried out statewide from the State Health Department's Austin headquarters. But with recent activation of Health Department regions, active courses for food handlers and others are given regionally or at the local level by trained sanitarians.

Customers, the federal government and state and local health departments have renewed their demands for better food service, says Giles Spillar, the Restaurant Association's educational director.

Outbreaks of food poisonings — some of them involving scores of persons — are reported periodically. Often it is incidents at large gatherings, where food may be prepared in advance and improperly cooled and stored, which gain press coverage.

"Publicity from the news media on bad sanitary habits in food service has hurt in other states and in some parts of our own state," said Spillar. "Adverse coverage of bad sanitation practices can create a bad image and hurt the restaurant business," he said.

Spillar is a man who can tell it like it is in talking to restaurant owners and personnel. He learned the restaurant business from the ground up.

Spillar managed the famous Night Hawk Restaurant on South Congress Avenue in Austin before accepting the education-training position with the statewide Texas Restaurant Association. His 39 years of front-line food service experience commands attention.

State Health Department personnel welcome the increased training activities of the Texas Restaurant Association and believe it is another forward step in looking after the health of all Texans. The Health Department will continue its training programs and expects to see the results of the TRA's work in future sanitary inspections once the TRA program has gone statewide.

The TRA program will use a teaching booklet from Texas A&M University, slides, films and film strips in its presentations. And it has quizzes on foodborne diseases and sanitary food service for participants in the course.

1974 Is A Democratic Year

But Only If Democrats Go to the Polls in Full Strength Tuesday, November 5

I am very grateful for the fact that I do not have an opponent in my race for re-election as representative from the 101st District.

But I hereby solicit the support of every voter in my district. I do this not only for myself but for every nominee of the Democratic Party, from Governor, Congressman, State Senator (from the State House to the Court house) down to and including candidates for district, county and precinct offices.

There has never been a time when there was more urgent need for every Democrat to go to the polls than this year. Our country needs the kind of public service which only Democrats seem capable of giving.

AND LITTLE CHILDREN
The season that fear. For many children, Halloween is a real experience with or through conditioning (repetition of bad experiences.)
Certain fears are characteristically found at certain ages and stages. Research indicates that there is no sudden shift from one kind of fear to another, but rather a gradual shift from specific fears to general ones.
Very young children fear loud noises, animals, dark rooms, being alone, and strange people, places and objects. Children two to six seem to fear more things than either babies or older children.
The two to six-year-old is more capable of recognizing dangers. But unlike the older child, he is less capable of realizing that they may not be personal threats.
Older children's fears are concentrated on fanciful, supernatural or remote dangers. They fear the dark, imaginary creatures, death, thunder and lightning, and characters recalled from stories. Older children also have fears related to self or status, failing, being ridiculed or being 'different.'
Fear is an emotion that is hard to handle. It occurs suddenly and unexpectedly. The child has no time to adjust to it.
However, not all fear is negative. Normal fear serves as a warning of danger. Unfortunately, children learn to fear those things which are not dangerous — then fear inhibits action and experiences that might be useful and enjoyable.
Signs of fear which parents might observe in children during the Halloween season are retreat and withdrawal, imaginary ills and false complaints, quaking, shyness, worry and anxiety.
Anxiety responses will probably be the easiest to identify. Depression, nervousness, irritability, restless sleep, quick anger, quick tears, and total dissatisfaction are signs of anxiety related to fear.
If Halloween is a favorite season in your home, practice putting on costumes and playing in them. Talk about trick or treat activities, costumed children coming to the door and how to trick or treat.

BRUSHES UP — TV hostess Cindy Kidwell "brushes up" for weekly "You Can Do It" series, with Saturday's program on KLBK-TV, Channel 13, to feature house exterior painting.

Home painting next on TV educational series

Garza County television viewers will learn how to paint home exteriors during the Saturday, Oct. 26, "You Can Do It" program on KLBK-TV, Channel 13.
It will be shown at 4:30 p. m. "This week's program will teach selection of paint and materials, as well as surface preparation and paint application," Mrs. Paula Cawthon, Extension agent, said.
"For example, viewers will learn that a good paint brush is essential to a satisfactory paint job," she added.
"In choosing a paint brush, the do-it-yourselfer will need one with full-bodied bristles — it should feel full-bodied."
"Also, it should have bristles of filaments of different lengths, which will create a tapered shape. And nylon brush filaments should be tipped or flagged (split) at the end," the agent said.
"You Can Do It" is a 13-part educational series which will run throughout Dec. 14, is sponsored locally by the Garza County Family Living Committee and KLBK-TV. It is currently seen in Garza and surrounding counties.
Created and produced by home economics specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, the weekly series was funded through a special grant from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
The program in upcoming weeks will include lessons on wall repairs, interior painting, care and maintenance of wood finishes, carpets, ranges and refrigerators, along with a program on how to make storage space.
Persons wanting more information on painting, or any other home care and maintenance subject in the series, may call or write the local county Extension agent at 495-2050, or Courthouse, Post, Texas, 79356 for bulletins.

National Cutting Horse Finals set for Amarillo

AMARILLO — The National Cutting Horse Association will hold its 1974 Finals here on Oct. 30-31 and Nov. 1 at the Tri State Fairgrounds Coliseum. Gate admission will be $1.

According to Zack T. Wood Jr., NCHA secretary, the "World Series" of cutting horse events will draw 100 of the finest horses in competition, sanctioned by the NCHA and sponsored by the Agribusiness Committee of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Rusty Tinnin and Bill Davis co-chair the event.

Culminating almost 600 contests throughout the past year, the finals will name the world champion cutting horse, cutting horse stallion, mare and gelding and the world champion non-professional rider.

Based on added money and total pay out (some $805,000 in 1973) the show is the largest of the year for the aristocrats of working horses which follow tradition born on cattle ranches decades ago.

Cutting horses are highly trained animals (mostly Quarter Horses but also including Arabians, Morgans, Paints and Thoroughbreds) which separate a given animal from a herd and prevent its return to the group. The contest, performed on a ranch or in an arena, pits horses and rider against 15 to 30 head of cattle with a success time limit of two and a half minutes. Working without rider assistance, the horse obtains the desired challenge from one head of stock and after a "halt" signal from the rider, re-enters the herd to "work" another animal.

The finals are a new attraction to the Amarillo area. The Agribusiness Committee of the Chamber expects strong local support.

SCHOOL REUNION
CROSBYTON — Saturday, Oct. 26, has been set as the date of the annual Leatherwood School Reunion. The all-day event will be held in Pioneer Memorial Building here. Pat Berry is president of the group, and Rick Sudduth is vice president.

A bit of sideline repartee at game

Denver City coaches were in the stands at Antelope Stadium Friday night scouting the Post Antelopes in their victory over Frenship.

One of the coaches asked Ben Owen why Post had had so much trouble with Slaton. (Denver City beat Slaton 22-0, but Post won by 10 to 3.)

"I dunno," replied Ben. "But tell me, why did Denver City have so much trouble with Cooper?"

The Mustangs beat Cooper 6-0, while the Antelopes took a 35 to 6 victory over the same team.

Freshmen win, JVs lose by 14 to 6 scores

By identical scores of 14 to 6, the Post Antelope freshmen won and the Antelope JVs lost in games at Frenship last Thursday.

In the freshman game, Randy Baker blasted through the line for Post's first touchdown, but missed on a running try for the extra points. Baker also made the second touchdown and this time was successful in his run for the bonus points. Both touchdowns came at the end of sustained drives, as did Frenship's lone counter.

Frenship scored their 14 points in the first half in the junior varsity game. Post coming back with a touchdown on a run by Alfred Pina in the second half, but missing their extra points try.

Both the freshmen and junior varsity have open dates this week. Their next games will be with Frenship here Thursday, Oct. 31.

BURKETT

The surname Burkett can be said to have originated both in England and France, but in both cases the origin is nearly the same.

In England, the name originated from the pre-Conquest personal name Burgheard from the Old English "burg" (a castle) plus "heard", literally "castle-firm." It was one of those two-element personal names popular with the Anglo-Saxons, but for which combinations etymologists have been unable to find any particular reason. The personal name William, for instance, meant "helmet-resolute."

The Old French word "burchet" meant from "the little fortress or stronghold," so the similarity between the English and the French origins is easily discernible. However, the English Burghard was a personal name which evolved into Burkett and became a hereditary surname when the latter began to come into common usage in the late Middle Ages, whereas Burchet was brought across the Channel from France by the Normans as a surname.

Burkett in its earliest forms has been found in the Domesday Book, an 11th century record of landholdings in England, as Burcharudus (the Latinized form), Burkart, Burchart, Burkett and Borkett. The first written record of the name in its present form in England is found in the listing of a Richard Burkett in the Suffolk County tax rolls for the year 1524.

The name Burkett is especially numerous in the county of Lincolnshire, England.

According to Social Security Administration figures, Burkett is among the 2,000 commonest surnames in the United States, ranking 1517th, with an estimated 19,000 persons by the name.

There are towns named Burkett in Texas and Nebraska and a Burkettville in Ohio. Burkett, Texas, in northeastern Coleman County, was named for its first postmaster, William Burkett, when the post office was established in 1890. The first settlers were cowboys of the McClellan Ranch who secured land in the area and established a community around the store which H. H. Sackett moved from Camp Colorado in 1892. The current Texas Almanac lists Burkett with a population of only 30, but in 1940 it had a population of 200, with three churches, a school and five business places.

Gas Heating

Fresh, warm air gently circulating from floor to ceiling — so nice to take for granted.

Comfort is clean gas heat.

And that dependable comfort is such a bargain here in West Texas. Though gas energy costs a little more than it used to, gas furnaces still cost less than one-third as much to operate as similar electric furnaces.

And at the same time you're saving money with gas heating, you can also have a warm feeling knowing that you're helping conserve energy. Gas heating uses only half as much energy as an electric system doing the same job.

Comfort, efficiency, and economy — you get it all with natural energy gas heating.

The Challenge of the Christian Life

The Christian is challenged to make disciples of all nations. This challenge encompasses a vision, a task and a commission. Jesus Christ has given us this Great Commission when He stated for all Christians: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." (Matthew 28:19-20)

A vision without a task is a dream. A task without a vision is drudgery. But a vision with a task is a challenge. And the Bible states that, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." (Proverbs 29:18)

The challenge of the Christian life is more than a vision, but it does encompass a vision. The dreamer, the visionary, has this distinguishing mark: he sees what others can't. This can be called creative imagination. The dreamer hears what others can't. Sometimes we call this a sixth sense, or woman's intuition, or a hunch, or a premonition, or extrasensory perception. But whatever we call it, the world is indebted to those who have it. The dreamers keep reminding us of tomorrow, and with their perceptive powers trace the blueprints of the future.

The challenge of the Christian life is more than a task, but we cannot convince the world of the reality of the Christian experience unless we have a task. The Bible states, "Faith without works is dead." (James 2:20). Faith without works is like the body without the spirit—it is dead.

The challenge of the Christian life encompasses a commission. And the commission involves us in the challenge to go, teach and witness. My wife has written some poetry in her lifetime. I like the way she states the commission.

"My Commission"

By Jan Prevo

The Lord said, "Go," and I said, "Lord, you can't mean me. I've other things to do in life." But He kept on saying, "Ye."

The Lord said, "Teach," but I said, "Lord, you know that's not my plan. Get someone else to teach Thy Word." And He answered, "But you can."

The Lord said, "Witness," and I said, "But Lord, I lack the power. Send someone else to tell of you." He answered, "I'm your power."

So I go and teach and witness. And give thanks when I pray. For a cross was borne to Calvary. And He died for me that day.

This vision, this task and this commission is fulfilled when we enjoy sweet fellowship with God. It is the person who works in a perfume factory. Everywhere a person goes, the sweet aroma of perfume goes with them. Christians should worship God, and take the sweet perfume of fellowship with God with them wherever they go. Do you know the joy of this sweet fellowship with God? If not, do not turn to Him today in prayer and come to know the joy of His sweet fellowship with God?

Tattletales

The Speech Department has been giving the school news every week. There is a new segment. All the classes were polled as to their favorite song and the all around favorite was played at the end of the news. It's a fantastic change from the same ole' routine. We here at Tattletales really enjoyed it, if you agree let Miss Lewallen and the Speech Department know.

Seniors' spirit is looking up... well juniors where are you?

Dennis, we really don't think you're a menace, just a Superstar.

Antelope Boosters have been at it again. They have made new signs for all the football players. They are blackboards painted with reflector paint. They have the players' names and an Antelope head beneath it. The boosters are an inspiration to the entire school and community. Thanks!

It seems PHS is having an epidemic of 18-year-olds in the senior class. Last week Debbie Epley and Dennis Mason both became honorary members. Happy late birthday, you two.

Two of our tennis players are traveling to Lubbock to participate in a tournament. Mrs. Thompson will accompany them. We're really proud of the way our tennis team is making a splash in PHS sports.

The cast for the "Diary of Anne Frank" have been working hard in preparing for their presentation. Tickets will go on sale Monday, Oct. 21. We here at PHS are convinced that this will be our best all-school play ever.

Hey, Joe, guess what we've ed over Western Hills Baptist Academy 26-18 in Lubbock Oct. 11. Junior Buxkemper made two touchdowns on runs of 43 and eight yards. Mark Bevers ran over for a six-yard touchdown, and John Chaffin plunged two yards for the other TD. Chaffin also ran the extras. Junior High Eagles Win.

The junior high Eagles defeated Whitharral 18-14 at Whitharral Oct. 17. Eddie Davila scored all three touchdowns on runs of 8, 49 and 31 yards. Team efforts also helped clinch the Southland victory.

Schedule Corrections
The games with Hermleigh Nov. 5 and 18 have been canceled.

The girls' game at Grady Nov. 12 will begin at 5:30 p.m. The girls game at Loop Nov. 19 will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the girls' home games with Grady Nov. 26 begin at 5 p.m.

District games for the junior high teams will start at 5:30 p.m. and at 7 p.m. for high school. (District games begin Dec. 3.)

heard. We heard that one of our tiny feathered friends has taken up residence in your helmet.

Bryan Davis' posture has certainly improved!?

By some strange twist of fate our noontime traffic is flowing freely. Thank you, Dennis Mason.

Coach Giddens and his health classes are beginning a "clean up" campaign around our school. We hope it's contagious.

Coach King's class have taken some cardboard trash cans and painted them gold with black trim. Each has a different "clean up" phrase. Let's all pitch in!

Kim, since when did the Police Department start taking up tennis. We must say your game has improved, — in tennis that is.

Mike Shepherd, we here at Tattletales are fully aware of all the fantastic things you do on the football field every Friday night. We are really sorry that the Avalanche-Journal doesn't seem to know your number. Oh yea, Randall, congrats on that fabulous touchdown you made against Slaton.

'Oedipus Rex' is to play at dance here

Co-sponsored by the Post High School student council and Youth Center board, "Oedipus Rex" will play for a dance from 8:30 p. m. until 12 on Saturday, Oct. 26, in the junior high school gym.

Admission to the dance, which is for youngsters from 8th through 12th grades, is $2. The dance will be chaperoned by parents.

871 books are checked out

Patrons of the Post Public Library checked out 871 more books in September to bring the library's circulation for the first nine months of 1974 to 9,351 books.

Of the 871 books checked out, 683 were adult books and 188 juvenile books. Librarian Pee Wee Pierce reported in her monthly report.

Forty new books were added to library shelves during the month bringing library acquisitions for 1974 to 493 volumes.

Thirteen dollars and three cents were received by the library in miscellaneous revenue for the month to bring miscellaneous revenue for the year to $157.90.

No books were lost or discarded during the month. During the first nine months books lost or discarded totaled 55.

Seventeen puzzles also were checked out of the library's new puzzle department during September.

SYD CONNER
Garza Extension Agent

HANDBOOK AVAILABLE
A comprehensive new reference book, "The Texas Cattle Feeders Handbook," has just been published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with Extension Services of nine other Great Plains States, and provides timely information on all aspects of commercial cattle feeding.

The new publication is composed of 50 bulletins or fact sheets, 25 of which are Texas publications and 25 from other states, announces L. A. Maddox, Extension beef cattle specialist.

"The whole endeavor is a part of the Great Plains Cattle Feeders Committee Project. We plan to make available a wide range of technical material of higher quality than ever before. New and revised information will be mailed to subscribers from now through Sept. 1, 1975," Maddox added.

Co-authoring the handbook with Maddox are Dr. John Sweeten, Extension agricultural engineer in animal waste management; and Dr. Dennis B Herd, Extension beef cattle specialist-nutrition.

The handbook includes broad segments of information on nutrition, feed preparation and storage, animal health, feedlot management, feedlot planning and equipment, figures for feeders, waste management, and a section for miscellaneous publications and information, explains the county Extension agent.

This publication, numbered B-1133, sells for $10, which includes a subscription to any new fact sheets developed between now and September, 1975. It can be ordered through the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University.

"We believe that this handbook contains the largest amount of organized information on cattle feeding that is available in Texas."

FAD WILL PASS
Although grass-fed beef supplies are up and continuing to increase, the long-range picture still points to the return of grain-fed beef, contends a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"More grass-fed beef and veal is available today because of large numbers of feeder animals and calves and a slack in demand from feedlots," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek.

"Yet, this will only be a temporary condition that should change by the end of next year. From there on, cattle feeding and fed beef production should once again move upward."

Cotton held for higher prices

LUBBOCK — More and more cotton producers on the High Plains are discussing and even making plans for the possibility of holding at least a part of the 1974 crop, hopefully to be sold later at prices higher than now appear to be in the offing.

In the early harvesting sections of the Cotton Belt, the "holding action" is already on. For example, except for cotton contracted for sale earlier in the year, very little of the cotton ginned in the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas has moved to market. With market prices hovering near the cost of production, growers simply are refusing to sell.

There is evidence at this time to indicate that cotton producers might profit by holding the 1974 crop, says Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., but, he adds, "the many unknowns in the cotton marketing picture make foolproof advice an impossibility."

The supply-demand picture, assuming that current estimates of production and consumption are accurate, is in delicate balance.

The carry-over of cotton as of August 1 this year is estimated to have been 3.3 million bales.

Training to start early next year for troopers

LUBBOCK — A training school for 110 new State Troopers with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start Feb. 11, 1975 Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander, announced today.

"We have several new benefits to offer qualified applicants," Bell said. "For instance, the pay during training is $651 per month. Upon commission this salary is increased to $743 per month; after six months of law enforcement duty this is elevated to $768 and further advanced to $820 upon completion of twelve months' law enforcement experience."

"Also our selection methods are more liberal, and qualified female applicants are now being accepted for the uniformed services of the DPS. In addition, the Department has been increasingly successful in hiring persons from minority groups."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, an applicant must be between the ages of 20 and 35; good moral character; excellent physical condition; weight proportionate to height; visual acuity of 20-40 correctable to 20-20; a citizen of the United States; and a minimum of 60 semester college hours.

"Among the many benefits that troopers enjoy," Bell pointed out, "are two weeks' annual vacation; all holidays provided for by the Legislature; modern, liberal retirement system; group hospitalization and life insurance plans; traveling expenses; longevity pay; and uniforms with all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

For complete information concerning the position of trooper, training and benefits, Bell asked that those who are interested contact the nearest

DPS trooper or DPS office. "In return," he said, "they will receive complete information in regard to the application and employment procedures."

Tradition has it that the ancient Egyptians would prominently display a skeleton at feasts to point up human mortality.

Homecoming at Baylor Oct. 24-26

WACO — About 15,000 people are expected to converge on the Baylor University campus Oct. 24 through 26 for Baylor's 1974 homecoming festivities.

This year's homecoming events, several of which originated during Baylor's first homecoming in 1909, will offer ex-students the opportunity to reunite with old friends and classmates and to see their alma mater as it is today.

EARLY RETIREMENT

Bigger and better pensions have prompted many to take early retirement — making room for the expanding younger work force. In January, 1974, over half the retired workers who were collecting social security benefits were under 65 years of age. Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, notes.

Western Supper to precede DC game Friday, Nov. 1

DENVER CITY — Kappa Tau Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International will hold a western supper Nov. 1, 1974 at the Denver City Intermediate Cafeteria before kickoff time between the Post Antelopes and the Denver City Mustangs.

This western supper was started last year to raise money for a scholarship fund to help a needy college student obtain an education. The response was so great last year, the townspeople asked the sorority to have it again this year and it has turned into an annual affair.

All of the food is home cooked and delicious and we are looking forward to serving a lot of Post residents that will be coming to the football game. So just leave a little earlier than usual and come eat with Kappa Tau Sorority.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Some believe that kicking a cat will cause rheumatism.

Post grabs rugged defensive battle from Frenship

66-yard march in second period brings 7-0 victory

Coach Bobby Davis' Antelopes took a 7-0 decision from the Frenship Tigers in a slambang defensive battle in Antelope Stadium here Friday night to remain undefeated in District 5AA play and set up their showdown clash with Denver City next weekend.

Each team could muster the offensive strength for but a single offensive thrust.

The Lopes hammered 66 yards in 18 plays to score with 6:58 on the clock in the second period, while the visitors lost the ball on downs on the Post 20 yard line with four minutes to play in the final quarter after moving 51 yards in their only scoring threat of the night.

Tailback Edward Price got the touchdown for the 'Lopes when he dived over the goal line from two yards out. Tony Conner converted from placement and the fans had seen all the scoring excitement packaged into this fierce tackling exhibition of two tough defensive teams who have starred all season in making it rugged for the other guy to score.

A roughing the punter penalty against Frenship kept the scoring drive alive after the 'Lopes had moved from their 24 to their own 48 with a 15-yard keeper by Quarterback Bryan Davis being the big gainer.

Frenship forwards surged through the first two times Garland Dudley punted and upset him both times. Officials didn't throw the flag the first time, but when he had to leap for a high snap on fourth down and barely got a short kick away before being flattened by charging Tigers the second time, the visitors drew a 15-yarder which gave Post a first down on the Frenship 37.

It took the Antelopes 12 ground plays to ram it across from there. Davis kept it alive by making a first down on the Frenship 27 with a fourth and one.

Price finally slashed seven yards for a first down on the Tiger 3. After two plays netted only a yard, Price dove across for the tally.

The only time after that the Antelopes managed to cross the midfield stripe came in the final minute before the half when they got to the Frenship 34.

The 'Lopes never got out of their end of the field in the final two periods and managed only two first downs and 60 yards rushing in those 24 minutes of action.

Frenship, on the other hand, showed most of their offensive ability in the second half. They managed 192 yards on the ground and 23 more through the air with six first downs, after being held completely in check in the first half. In the first second periods the Tigers got only two first downs and 46 yards rushing.

While Frenship held a slight edge in offensive statistics, they could muster no sustained drive against the Antelopes while Post did move the ball all the way in the second period.

There wasn't a single turnover in the entire game by either team. No fumbles were lost or passes intercepted.

Both quarterbacks were almost totally ineffective through the air with Post completing only a quick out with a lateral for six and a screen for five, whereas Frenship Quarterback Mark Wilson in six efforts managed one 23-yard completion on a rollout to get the visitors' fourth period threat going.

Both teams punted seven times with Post's Dudley having the better of it with a 37 yard average as compared to Brent Drennan's 28 yard average.

Drennan's average fell when the center snap went over his head on one punt attempt and he ran back 20 yards to pick the ball up and kick it on the run. The kick sailed 27 yards but only seven yards beyond the line of scrimmage.

Five of Dudley's kicks came in the second half and they included a 45-yarder and a 50-yarder.

Coaches said the whole Post defense turned in another good performance.

Garland Dudley at strong safety was outstanding for his defensive work as well as his punting. Nose guard Mark Terry also was a stickout. Dale Odom turned in a fine job as a replacement for Roger Taylor.

Bartlett wins Caprock tourney in 147 strokes

Jimmie Bartlett came through with a 70 in the rain-postponed final round of the Caprock Golf Tournament here Sunday afternoon to win the championship flight with a 147 total. Eight strokes behind in the runner-up spot was Lois Crump, who won medalist honors with a 76 in the opening round.

Bob Compton was third at 156, and Johnny Haire fourth at 158.

Jackie Hays, Jerry Jolly and Jerry Thuet were winners of the first, second and third flights, respectively.

Following are the results of the three flights:

First Flight: Jackie Hays, 161; Roy Gilmore, 162; Jim Hundley Sr., 164; Sexton Huntley, 168; Glenn Potts, 172; Sid Pierce, 175; Colley Gatlin, 84 (withdrew).

Second Flight: Jerry Jolly, 166; Doyle Nichols, 167; Roy Sappington, 171; Charles Morris, 172; Jim Doss, 174; Pete Smith, 182; Earl Perser, 92 (withdrew); Buddy Hall, 89 (withdrew).

Third Flight: Jerry Thuet, 183; Harold Lucas, 186; John Hurston, 188; W. H. Childs, 187; Clyde Cash, 201; Tommy Young, 208; Gene Martin, 93 (withdrew); Bob Dickson, 102 (withdrew).

Trophies were awarded flight winners, with merchandise prizes going to runners-up, D. H. Bartlett, tournament manager, said.

'Lopes get weekend off, Big Red next

Coach Bobby Davis' Post Antelopes have the weekend off this week giving the club two weeks to get all the "walking wounded" well and ready for a top effort in the showdown game at Denver City Friday night, Nov. 1.

In seven starts this season, the 'Lope defense has given up only 55 points, less than eight per game. Of the 55 points, the Coahoma Bulldogs scored 26 or nearly half in beating the Antelopes. At the time Coahoma was the No. 1 ranked Class AA team in the state.

The locals haven't permitted any of their six other foes over one touchdown with two not even getting one. In the last two starts, Slaton managed only a field goal and Frenship couldn't get within the 20 yard line.

While this is the best defensive effort for the Antelopes in a number of years, the offense got off to a slow start and has been hampered by injuries.

In seven starts the 'Lope attacking unit has put 96 points on the board, an average of between 13 and 14 points a game with Post's best efforts coming against Cooper (35) and Colorado City (27).

Quarterback Bryan Davis was playing against Frenship with a bad back bruise and his passing was off target as a result. This is exactly the same injury that Texas Tech quarterback Tommy Dunniven, suffered in the Arizona game at Lubbock Saturday night. In fact, the same physician treated both quarterbacks.

Coach Davis said he expects the 'Lope squad to be in its best physical shape of the entire season for the clash with the Denver City Mustangs.

Randy Josey and Jackie Blacklock should be at full speed for the first time this season and Davis should be back on target with his passes and not playing with a back brace.

According to reports, the Frenship Tigers were more "up" for the Post game here Friday night than any this season, which helped account for the closeness of the game.

Both Post and Denver City remained undefeated this week as has the Roosevelt Eagles in district 5AA play.

Denver City has the schedule advantage for the showdown games playing both Post and Roosevelt at Denver City with the home field advantage.

Post has an even split taking on the Mustangs at Denver City but playing Roosevelt here.

Roosevelt gets the worst of it, schedule-wise, meeting both Post and Denver City in road games.

All three teams have strong defenses with Roosevelt showing slightly the more offense to date among these three top contenders.

Friday night, Denver City will be playing at Frenship and Roosevelt at Cooper. While the 'Lopes get the night off tomorrow night, the entire Post coaching staff will be on scouting missions — against Denver City and Roosevelt, of course.

The Antelope Booster Club have been unable to lease a bus for fans to journey out to Denver City for the Post-Mustang clash, but a big following of students and adult fans is expected to make the trip in private cars.

All of Post's grid teams had open dates this week.

The seventh and eighth grade teams will be back in action next Tuesday night in a return twin bill with Frenship at Frenship.

On Halloween night, Oct. 31, the Frenship freshman and JV teams are scheduled for a doubleheader here in Antelope Stadium with the freshman game beginning at 5 and the JV game at 7 o'clock, or shortly thereafter.

He aced the 140-yard No. 8 hole with a No. 6 iron.

Crump scored his first hole in one here in 1935 during a duststorm on the old course on the northeast edge of Post.

He scored his second after moving to California.

Playing with Crump in a sixsome — so he had plenty of witnesses Thursday — were Jerry Jolly, Jerry Thuet, Sexton Huntley, Glenn Potts and D. H. Bartlett.

Eagles losers to Whitharral

SOUTHLAND — Falling behind by 22 points in the first quarter, but fighting valiantly all the way, Coach Donny Windham's Southland Eagles lost to Whitharral, 64 to 35, here Friday in their first district game.

The Eagles lit up their side of the scoreboard for the first time in the second quarter when Larry Koslan connected with Mark Bevers on a pass play covering 11 yards and Kendon Wheeler kicked the extra point. They scored again with 27 seconds left on the clock in the first half when Koslan hit Bevers with a seven-yard pass. Two penalties blunted the extra point try for the Eagles and they failed on their third try at it.

Southland was held scoreless in the third quarter while Whitharral was adding 14 points to their total to make it 52-13 going into the final period. That is where the Eagles put 22 points on the scoreboard on a short run by Koslan after Bevers had set it up with a 55-yard gallop, a Koslan-to-Wheeler pass for 10 yards, and a 12-yard pass gathered in by Wheeler with 12 seconds left in the game. Passes from Koslan to Bevers and Wheeler added four extra points in the fourth quarter.

Forecaster says Frenship defense could upset

The Dispatcher's pigskin prognosticator chalked up his best week of the season thus far this past week when he picked 13 winners and had only three losers out of 16 games for an .813 percentage mark.

That put the forecaster up near the .700 goal he is trying to reach. On the season, he now has 94 hits and 41 misses.

He went wrong last week only on the Cooper-Tahoka, Floydada-Lockney and Brownfield-Sweetwater games, the latter contest ending in a tie.

Here is the way the prognosticator sees it for this week, his choices in capital letters:

POST. This is the Antelopes' week to rest.

ROOSEVELT at Cooper. The Eagles' scores indicate they're the front-runner in District 5AA.

TAHOKA at SLATON. This one likely to be close.

DENVER CITY at Frenship. Tiger defense could spring an upset here.

BALLINGER at COAHOMA. Home field advantage probably deciding factor here.

ANSON at Colorado City. By two touchdowns?

LOCKNEY. Longhorns taking well-earned rest after upsetting Floydada.

ABERNATHY at IDALOU. It's Idalou's homecoming and we're picking them to break a long losing string — in an upset.

TULIA at FLOYDADA. Whirlwinds, surprised by Lockney, will take it out on Hornets.

LITTLEFIELD at Morton. But it won't be easy.

OLTON at Friona. Upset of the week.

DIMITT. Bobcats another team that's getting a well-earned rest.

PAMPA at Tascosa. Harvesters expect to be in strength after being injured last two weeks.

MULESHOE at FRENSHIP. Mules no match for Antelopes.

LAMESA at BROWNFIELD. Cubs in close one.

CINCINNATI at COAHOMA. Cougars shouldn't have trouble.

COLORADO STATE at FRENSHIP. Providing Kansas is healthy again.

TEXAS A&M at SLATON. Argies roll on.

TEXAS TECH at SLATON. Feeling in the bones.

TEXAS at RICE. Lads have reached peak.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN at ALABAMA. Big help by son Tide's national champ.

ARCHERS are hold tourney

The Post Archery Club scheduled a tournament Sunday, Oct. 27, beginning at 8 p. m. Everyone is invited.

Sixteen participants in an animal round in a large field Sunday, with the following results:

Bowhunter Division: Bobby Snow, first; Herman Guthrie, first; Parker, second, and Stelzer, third; C. Clark Guthrie, first; Ramo, second, and Emmett, third.

Freestyle Division: John L. Guthrie, first; Ladies Division: Carolyn Williams, first; Dudley, second; Youth Division: Holly, first.

City Council---

Antenna Company's new rate ordinance on the agenda for passage, but no action could be taken as City Attorney Harvey Morton, who was not present, had been given the only copy of the proposed ordinance for checking between meetings.

In its final action the council agreed on the sum of $135 per acre as the amount to offer the Post Montgomery interests for 50 to 60 acres of land for expansion of the city dump grounds. Monte Moore had requested a letter on the amount the city was willing to pay.

Officers named by soil board

Sam Ellis was elected chairman, Tom Middleton, vice chairman and L. G. Thuet Jr., secretary, when the board of directors of the Garza Soil and Water Conservation District held its annual election at 2 p. m. Monday, Oct. 21, in the conservation conference room.

Candidate is Post visitor

Kent Hance of Lubbock, the Democratic nominee for State Senator from the 28th District, visited in Post again Monday morning and was guest at a coffee at the First National Bank community room.

Final plans were made for attending the state association of SWCD meeting in San Antonio next week. Mr. and Mrs. Thuet, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Arheiger will attend the three-day meeting.

Hance, who is 31 and a lawyer, pointed out that he visited Post three times during the primary election campaign. He was nominated in the primary by defeating the incumbent, H. J. (Doc) Blanchard. "I will also be back to see you next year when I don't have an opponent," Hance said Monday at the reception in his honor.

Postings ---

players or students. And we know for certain that Post Coach Bobby Davis is a fine gentleman who would never encourage his players to do anything out of line. He coaches his boys to play well and to play tough, which is proper. They're a good team and they don't have to resort to poor sportsmanship to get personal satisfaction.

Now this is what Wood actually saw but misinterpreted for poor sportsmanship.

He saw Antelope players during the timeout when Quarterback Aycock was on the ground injured doing "cadence clapping" to keep ready for action when play was resumed. The players have been coached to do this, and they do it between plays as well as during timeouts. Other teams in the area are picking it up from the Antelopes. The clapping had nothing to do with Aycock on the ground.

As for the pass interception in the final seconds, the catch was made by Defensive Back Jay Kennedy who is quite emotional on big plays. No doubt about Jay waving that football enthusiastically, but it was NOT derisively intended as Wood interpreted. If he had known Jay, he would have recognized pure enthusiasm, for that boy simply wouldn't do anything sportsmanlike.

Wood, who also wrote the game story, didn't see everything as it was anyway. He reported in both the Slaton and Lubbock A-J that End Randall Wyatt caught the winning TD pass when it was Mike Shepherd who snared it. He didn't seem to know either that those were not "halfback passes" but were "end passes."

Slaton has unusual pressbox facilities since rebuilding Tiger stadium. They kept their old one and built a new one on the home side, which used to be the visitors' side. So as a visiting sports writer, we covered the game from one press box on one side of the field and Wood from the other press box on the other side. Had it not been for this, probably Sportscaster Bill McBride or ourselves could have identified the Post players for Wood and also we could have straightened out Wood's two misconceptions of poor sportsmanship.

Coach Bobby Davis doesn't coach bad sportsmanship and we don't think it's fair the Antelopes were given this kind of Slaton publicity.

The Slaton Tigers played an exceptional game and almost came off with the victory. We think probably this nearness of victory is what maybe prompted Wood's column, which most everybody close to football would shrug off simply as "sour grapes" anyway.

United Fund ---

was dropped from the United Fund for next year because it did not submit a request. It had been receiving $25 each year. The Garza County United Fund was reduced from $250 to $200. This is mainly for expenses for the campaign.

Other participating agencies will receive the same amounts they got this year. These include summer baseball $2,500, USO $125, Salvation Army $1,000, Boy Scouts $2,400, Texas Rehabilitation $50, and the Texas United Fund $50.

Jim Cornish who will serve again as drive chairman outlined plans for the drive and said local economic conditions will make it much more difficult this year for the United Fund to reach its goal.

Drive plans call for a windup of the campaign by Thanksgiving to have it out of the way before the start of the Christmas rush.

Directors voted to donate $200 from the emergency fund to the Post chapter of the American Heart Society to be used toward the purchase of a "Resuscitate" machine to help teach cardio-pulmonary resuscitation to both students and adults in this area.

Dr. Charles Tubbs, president of the United Fund organization, also asked Alexander's budget committee to come up

Pat Walker---

Public Service Co. was "earning 14 per cent on its investment and when it gets the increases it has asked for will be earning 21 per cent."

He also said Pioneer Natural Gas profits increased 100 per cent for the first quarter of 1974 over the same quarter of 1973 and showed even a greater increase the second quarter over the corresponding period for 1973.

Regarding the depository contract for the city, Walker obviously was aiming at Mayor Giles C. McCrary who is a major stockholder and chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank here.

The law provides that a bank shall not serve as a depository for funds for any local unit of government in which a major stockholder or bank officer is serving on its governing board. Several bank officers have been elected to and served on the city council before McCrary.

While city attorney, Walker had advanced the legal opinion that the city council could name a fiscal agent and place fiscal responsibility in the hands of such agent to invest the city's funds.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland served as the city's fiscal agent for a time while he was a member of the city council. The council had not, as Walker had suggested, however, adopted an ordinance setting up such an office of fiscal agent.

Monday night, Walker told one questioning councilman that he was not advocating the city taking its funds out of the local bank but merely that it act in conformance with the law.

The council could do this, he said, by the mayor resigning, the council agreeing to the naming of a fiscal agent who would perform the investing duties free of council controls, or by depositing the money elsewhere.

"There's nothing personal in this," Walker said. McCrary told The Dispatch the local bank has pledged with the state necessary funds to cover all city deposits in the bank.

Dr. William C. Wilson was the councilman Walker referred to as holding two positions in which conflict of interests could occur. Dr. Wilson also is a member of the Garza Hospital District board of trustees and performs the duties of county health officer.

Freddie Barner and Sue Ray attended the council session to hear Walker's remarks. Also present was James Ammons who said he was just a visitor and after Walker and the two women had left questioned the council at considerable length on how the city operated its "junk car" ordinance.

The council in all had a four and one-half hour meeting -- this one being a between-monthly-meetings "work session."

Walker's charges were discussed at length. Jim Jackson, newly appointed councilman, asked if the council hadn't had all these same situations when Walker was city attorney?

All but the Lubbock lawyer as city attorney, he was told.

Councilmen generally agreed that the next step was to seek proper legal advice and not to be stampeded.

Dr. Wilson said he preferred taking the time to get the ladies' wrist watch with diamonds on its face valued at $225.

Means of entry to the house was undetermined, the police chief said. He said the police now have suspects under investigation in the case.

The other house burglary was that of the home of Billy Martinez, 511 South Ave. P, which was reported at 8 p. m. Tuesday. Taken from the unlocked house, according to Trulove, was $67 in cash and an assortment of women's clothing.

The chief told The Dispatch that the FBI report for the year ending Sept. 1 showed burglaries in small communities up 12 1/2 per cent and felony thefts in such communities up 20.4 per cent.

with a set of guidelines on use of the emergency fund of the United Fund.

written opinion of the attorney general on legal questions which Walker had raised. Probably the first step will be to determine if the appointment of Morton as city attorney was properly made.

On their desks before them while they listened to Walker, councilmen had copies of a letter from Morton which was a reply to three legal questions the councilmen had asked at the previous council session.

The first paragraph of the letter read: "The question was raised as to whether or not the City Attorney for the City of Post may be a non-resident of that city. I have checked Vernon's Annotated Texas Civil Statutes and I find nothing that would prohibit the City Attorney from being a non-resident."

County takes manpower reins

The Garza county commissioners court voted last week to act as the committee directing the new federal manpower program in the county.

Connie Miestler of Levelland, manpower representative for the South Plains Community Action, Inc., appeared before the court to discuss slots available here under the program.

Police Chief Jim Trulove requested the court to provide a juvenile officer for the public service employe opening in the program.

Action on the request was tabled until the November meeting at which time the county will adopt its manpower budget.

The court approved a request from the Santa Fe railroad for the closing of the underpass crossing north of Post.

Dan Griffith appeared before the court to request the closing of a county designated road. After reviewing the request, the court voted to close the road.

The court meeting Monday of this week named Mrs. Gladys Tipton as absentee election judge for the November general election.

Garza group to state meeting

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee will be represented at the annual meeting of the Texas Historical Commission in New Braunfels this weekend by Mrs. Walter Boren chairman, and five or six other members.

The Garza County committee has again met all the requirements for a Distinguished Service Award, which it will receive at the meeting, and will also be in the running for a number of special awards.

The meeting, open to all persons interested in Texas history and historic preservation, is to be held Friday and Saturday at the New Braunfels Civic Center.

The meeting will begin with a general session Friday on four topics relating to preservation. Closing the general session will be a discussion of plans for the Bicentennial in Texas.

Following the general session, concurrent sessions are to be held on five topics. The awards banquet is to be held at noon Saturday. The afternoon will be left free to allow delegates to tour places of interest, with the entertainment gala of the meeting -- the MiniWurstfest -- scheduled to take place Saturday night. An exercise in typical German generosity, the MiniWurstfest will provide unlimited quantities of sausage, spicy potato salad, various German foods, beer, singing, dancing, and general merriment.
