Boyce House Is Well Received By Banquet Group

The industrial possibilities and resources of Texas formed the serious theme of the talk made by Boyce House at the Lions club banquet Tuesday night when the Post club entertained visiting Lions from neighboring towns, Rotarians and other guests at a banquet in the Methodist church. A capacity crowd attended and the popular Texas author and lecturer, who is known as the good-will ambassador of Texas, was received exceedingly well.

MOTHER'S DAY

To Mother---

Sunday, Mother's Day, will mean a lot to the women of Post and Garza county, because this day will carry poignant memories of an occasion observed under wartime conditions. Their memories will be sealed with the imprint of time, and stabbed with the sharp imprint of realization that many of their sons now across the oceans will not return.

Outlaw Motor Co. Moves To New Location

The Outlaw Motor Company is now open for business. The company moved last week into the Main street location in the building formerly known as the Tower building which was recently purchased by Mrs. Mildred Outlaw. For several years the firm operated in the brick building just east of the court house.

THE NEW ORDER?

The percentage of our adult population on the Federal payroll is the greatest in history. Notwithstanding the widespread benefits resulting from free enterprise, there are now persons, some in high government positions, clamoring for a new order; but they refrain from stating exactly what this new order is to be. Their acts, however, speak louder than words. Their acts show that as a substitute for free enterprise, they propose to establish a plan, directed and controlled by government officials. —John D. Miller, Susquehanna, Pa., President Emeritus of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

WORKING FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

This war, the most costly in history, with its constant threat to stable prices and civilian supplies, should have taught the country the utter necessity of an efficient retail distribution system. No other nation the size of the United States has a distribution system remotely comparable to ours for efficient, low-cost consumer service.

American retailing has made its greatest advances so far as scientific operation is concerned, within a comparatively few years. Its development would have been far slower but for the pioneers of the business who founded what have come to be known as chain stores. The chain stores deserve most of the credit for establishing the high volume, low-cost technique of today's merchants.

Strange as it may seem, the chains were forced to develop mass distribution in the face of almost continuous political opposition. Even now, after the improved system has demonstrated through more than two years of chaotic war conditions, that it is instrumental in maintaining price stability and an equitable flow of goods to every far-flung corner of the nation, attempts are still being made in legislative halls to handicap it through special taxes against chain stores. A few weeks ago such a bill was submitted before the New York state legislature. Short-sighted politicians are agitating for similar proposals in other states. Texas already has a chain store tax law which should be abolished.

There is one certain way that postwar unemployment and depression can be assured, and that is by crippling distributors responsible for passing on to the people the things produced in the factories and on the farms. Those who work against efficiency in distribution are working for unemployment and high living costs.

OUR POOR FINLANDERS

Finland was the favorite son of Uncle Sam until that country got snarled up in the war and tried to preserve its own front yard by playing ball with the Germans. Then the Russians hepped in and put Finland between the devil and the deep blue sea. What could Washington do about it under those circumstances?

Views of Neighboring Editors:

Scurry County Times—Blessedness of the gentle rains which have given Scurry County renewed hope and life the past 10 days gives us utmost assurance that Divine Providence is caring for us, his children, in time of world-wide turmoil.

Start of seasonal rains in this area makes us doubly thankful our lands are not laid waste by sandstorms, such as the South Plains have recently experienced nor ravaged by flood waters such as a part of the nation is receiving.

Remember the old adage about those who had faith that the rains would fall, which might be likened to the discrete virgins and be, in fact, the wisest of us all!

Petersburg Journal—It is unfortunate that so many of the service rest camps are on the coasts because many of the boys never know that the majority of Americans are behind them 100 per cent, and that those who run and play are in the minority. If they could see the picture as a whole they would have a much healthier outlook and be assured that what they are fighting for is being preserved by the keepers of the home front.

Exchange—We suppose most country women have the experience of waiting in the car, while the man of the family is rustling around from garage to blacksmith and etc. We used to grow impatient but now we slip a small magazine in our purse (never much else in it) and catch up with our reading while we wait. We know a very industrious woman who keeps a bit of crochet handy to work on while waiting, but we much prefer a magazine.

Slaton Slatonite—And speaking of pants, I notice a number of women out in spring slacks and I do believe that more women look like an elephant going south when they wear slacks than a man does when he gets to the point where he has to wear outsize pants to fit over a fallen chest. The women seem to get their

THE LAND OF MIRACLES

If Kit Carson and his colleagues of the wilderness could look upon the nation they explored not so many years ago, they would think indeed that many miracles had come to pass in America. They would see miracles where we of today see nothing.

In Kit Carson's day, distance was a mountainous obstacle to be traversed painfully on foot. The journey sometimes took months. Now, airliners and express trains have made the mountain into a molehill. When a housewife in the Middle West wants a dish of fresh strawberries or a crab cocktail or fish for dinner, she has but to go to the nearest grocery store. If Kit Carson wanted them, he had to walk a few thousand miles to Maine or California.

The fact that nearly 8,000 carloads of fruit and vegetables were shipped by express to all parts of the country during 1943, is no miracle to contemporary consumers. But to the pioneers of a hundred years ago who were acquainted with nothing more speedy than a horse, the spectacle of a modern refrigerated express car loaded with delicacies rolling at sixty miles an hour across deserts and mountains, would have been overwhelming—the work of Gods from another world.

The miracle of refrigerated express is not a creation of supermen, but merely the work of the American business men. It is only one of thousands of miracles that make the United States a good place to live. During the next hundred years, thousands more such miracles will be created by the same kind of men—providing this country remains a land in which men are free to create miracles.

PHYSICIAN'S RESPONSIBILITY

One of the reasons why a majority of people are opposed to giving the Federal government complete control over the medical profession and the health of the nation, is that they place a high value on individualized service and freedom to select the doctor of their choice. Both of these advantages are inherent in the traditional American medical system. Both would be destroyed if the United States adopted the European idea of socialized medicine.

According to a reliable survey, 81 per cent of the people feel that the family doctor has a personal interest in them—as persons. When asked whether they thought this made him a better doctor, 63 per cent expressed the belief that the doctor's personal interest is often the deciding factor in the curing of a human being afflicted with disease.

The people have good reason for their faith in the personalized service of the American doctor. As the National Physician's Committee observes: "Under the American system, American physicians have developed the most effective and the most widely distributed medical care that has ever been provided for any comparable number of people anywhere at any time. Free men—with fearless minds—progressively provided a higher and higher quality of medical care. Many of the great historical killing diseases have been conquered. Many of the most deadly of the others are being brought under control. This most effective medical care is based on personalized service. It stems from the personal relationship between the person who is ill and his doctor. A life—a human life—is at stake. It is the physician's responsibility."

Black Widow Spiders Go To War

A San Antonio woman contributes much valuable effort to the war program by catching Black Widow spiders. Web spun by the spiders is used in making bomb-sights. Deciding this was one thing she could do to help win the war, she catches Black Widows and Golden Gardens which are sent to a spider farm where they are "milked" for the web.

The Railroad LAND GRANT

★ To speed the settling of the West, our nation wanted railroads pushed across great unsettled areas to develop rich but distant regions and to bind the country together for military and other reasons.

In the 1850's and 1860's, to encourage railroads to push their tracks into the undeveloped territory, Congress granted the odd sections on each side of the track to the railroad, with certain "strings" attached, and these grants varied in depth up to several miles.

The even sections retained by the government were for the most part sold to settlers at a substantial increase in price.

The Land Grant policy was very helpful in getting the railroads started in those early days. BUT...

Isn't it out of date today?

In return for their Land Grants, the railroads originally were required, and are still required to do so in respect of military and naval property and personnel, to haul government passengers, freight, and mail at rates far below those applicable to ordinary traffic.

Since the Land Grants were made, railroads have paid out in reduced rates on government traffic many times the amount they have received from these Land Grants.

In the case of the Santa Fe, here are the figures: In more than 80 years which have elapsed since the Land Grants were made, Santa Fe's net realization from these lands has been about $23,000,000. In 1943 alone, the government received from Santa Fe, in the form of rate reductions, approximately $40,000,000.

Many governmental agencies as well as private shipper groups are convinced that the time has arrived for the entire repeal of these burdensome Land Grant requirements.

Men Overseas May Order Gifts

American service men overseas may again order Christmas gifts this year for their friends and relatives in the United States, the Office of War Information reports. The men make their selections from catalogues at army exchanges or navy ship services and list them on order blanks. The orders are then sent to the United States to be filled and mailed in time for Christmas. WPB recently announced that it will approve manufacturers' requests that are certified by the army exchange service or navy ship service stores for additional allocations of material or containers necessary for these orders.

Thirty Red Points Validated Each Month For Meats

As a result of the removal of most meats from rationing, the number of red points to be used for the purchase of beef steaks, beef roasts, cheese, butter, margarine and evaporated milk has been cut in half. The Rationing Division of the District Office of Price Administration announced. Previously, thirty red points were validated each two weeks. Beginning May 7, red points will be validated at the rate of thirty each month, officials explained. Recently shortening, lard, salad oils, and several popular canned vegetables have been removed from rationing, in addition to all used and some new typewriters.

Hunting Subs
By Lt. 'Monk' Fowler

(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with The American Magazine)

From the day we got our orders and were assigned to an aircraft carrier to clean the subs out of the Atlantic, we were never allowed to forget the gravity of the business in hand. The critical menace of the U-boats and the importance of our mission were deeply impressed upon us.

At a northern port we got orders to proceed to a latitude and longitude where a pack of subs had been seen. We were to go out to hunt and kill.

I was flying the outbound leg of my patrol as we approached the suspected area. We were 300 feet above the waves peering anxiously about, when Wojcik, my radioman, called excitedly: "Mr. Fowler—you flew over something." I went back but what Wojcik had seen was another whale. Great guy for seeing whales, Wojcik.

When I turned on the cross leg of my mission, I heard Fryatt, another of our pilots, phone the ship: "Contact—attacked sub"—then he broke off.

I pressed my earphones tighter to hear his next report, figured where I would be in about 20 minutes, and wrote down the position. Straining to hear Fryatt's voice on the intership phone, I almost jumped when Wojcik called: "Mr. Fowler—what is that down there?" I looked, and saw a white streak. It might have been a destroyer, or another whale. But it wasn't.

"We're in the money," I called back. "Arm everything—let's go." Wojcik said: "Roger-r-r," and I checked my guns. Bucholz, my gunner, gave his burst, and I threw my heels down to lose speed. We came in low—off the sub's port quarter. I don't think they saw us until we were on top of them.

Wreck Steering Gear.
We dived, and I pressed the button releasing my load. I could see the faces of the men in the conning tower. Wojcik called: "They're hit off the starboard bow."

I pulled up and called the carrier: "Ship from Monk—attacked sub—" When I looked back, the sub was circling to starboard. She acted like a wagon with one of its front wheels tied. We had blasted her steering gear. "Ship from Monk," I called; "we've delivered our attack—sub is going in circles—firing. She cannot submerge." The skipper came back to me with his calm "Roger."

I went in again, and Bucholz strafed the decks of the cripple. Then those Jerries let us have it. Their fire cut across our tail; I dived and saw their tracers go over me. Wojcik shouted: "Boy, that was close!" I did some fancy maneuvering to keep out of range.

Bucholz was bouncing all over the back end of the plane, but he kept firing. The sub was shooting wild now and a spray of bullets was hitting the water. When I pulled up again and looked back, the sub was settling at the stern. My aerial had been shot away and I had lost communication with the carrier, but I could hear another pilot reporting: "Ship from Bill—do you receive me?" and the answer. So I knew they were sending help.

When Bill arrived, I went in again to pull fire away from him so he could unload his bombs. The sub was still firing, and I heard Wojcik say: "It's getting pretty hot." Bucholz sprayed the conning tower with bullets. Bill dropped his load and pulled out. He looked at us and grinned as he went by.

Sub Went Down.
The sub moved forward its own length and went down before Bill called me—"Return to ship." I dropped a smoke bomb to mark the spot before I went back, but we didn't find an oil slick and there was no evidence we had made a kill.

Back on our base ship I found that Fryatt's sub hadn't fired on him before submerging, so I felt I had the edge on him. Hodgson, another pilot, had attacked a sub a few minutes before I sighted mine. He had fired on it and strafed the gun crews, but the sub dived before he could finish the job.

Up to this time we had had no excitement; in fact, things had been so monotonous aboard ship that I had asked for a transfer. The skipper said: "Monk, you still want that transfer?" I almost said: "Hell, no!" Then I thought: "Just a flash in the pan, may never happen again." I said: "Yeah, let it go through."

Nothing further happened for a while. Sometimes, for a little fun, we would scream down on the ships in our destroyer escort. We always kept several rolls of toilet paper handy for these "taken bombings."

W. J. Tipton Here On Furlough

Technical Corporal W. J. Tipton who has served 23 months in the bitter cold Aleutian Islands is "burning up" in Texas, he declared. "It surely is wonderful, though, to be home again." W. J. is enjoying his first furlough in over two years at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cash. He arrived in Post last Wednesday from a camp in Virginia where his division has been stationed. He will report back there for further duty at the conclusion of his furlough. "I'll probably be given duty in the states," he said. The division to which W. J. is attached arrived in Alaska immediately following the battle of Kiska. They have been patrolling and guarding that section since that date. "The country is really rugged and its bitter-cold but I feel better than I ever have—sleeping in a tent with snow banked all around agrees with me."

Soil Conservation District News

A small amount of Hubam clover and yellow sweet clover has been received by the local work unit of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District. Experimental plantings are to be made by the local District cooperators to check the results of having a legume in crop rotations.

The county received an average of .55 inch rainfall on April 29 according to reports from the five gauges distributed throughout Garza county by the Duck Creek S. C. D. The gauge at Bud Stevens' near Graham showed the least with .44 inch and the one at the Bingham farm, north of Post showed the most with .66 inch.

The county equipment completed terraces for Chester Hunt, W. C. Quizenberry, and J. G. Siewert in the Grassburr community and is now building terraces for J. W. McQuen at Verbena. County equipment also completed about one mile of terraces for E. O. Young near Close City, and J. F. Moore has completed his terrace system by building about two miles of terraces with a single disk plow.

If there were some simple remedy for the ills of the land that could be applied indiscriminately, as a standardized treatment, the job of soil and water conservation would be relatively easy. But there is as much variety in erosion as there is in landscape.

The judges were Eleanor Boyd, Billie Joe Williams, Beatrice Bruton, Stella Jimenez, Ramona Armistead, Ramona Tennison, Minnie Joe Dye, Bonnie Faye Bishop and Jean Preston. The members of the "Scrap Iron Band" were Junior Malouf, Kay Kirkpatrick, Bobby Dean Woods, Gene Austin Moore, Clifford Smith, Benny Wilks and Tommy Walls.

The band played "Anchors Aweigh," Giles Dalby, Wayne Thomas and Dale Karpe gave comical readings. Mrs. Snowden told James Whitcomb Riley's "The Bear Story." Denman Mullins sang "The Little Red Fox." Misses Kral and Haggard sang Brahms' Lullaby, the Seven Songstresses sang Love, Love, Love. The prize went to Misses Haggard and Kral—which was a penny.

America
I want to help America
I want to help the Yanks
I want to buy some guns and jeeps
And planes and ships and tanks.
I want to do just all I can
I want to do my best
I'm saving scrap and buying stamps
What else could you suggest?

PAUL IN THESSALONICA

LESSON TEXT: Acts 17:14; 1 Thessalonians 2:1-12.

GOLDEN TEXT: Rejoice always; pray without ceasing; in everything give thanks.—1 Thessalonians 5:16-18.

Strong, active, missionary-minded churches do not just "happen." They are the result of the preaching of a true and powerful message by a faithful and sacrificial messenger. Other factors enter in, but these are the fundamentals.

Paul's ministry at Thessalonica, which is described in Acts 17 and explained in 1 Thessalonians 2, reveals what should be preached and what kind of a preacher is needed. Perhaps some dead or unsuccessful church may learn the secret today and come to new life for Christ.

I. The Message—Christ the Saviour (Acts 17:1-4)

Paul had already met the varying lot of both persecution and acceptance, and had now come to Thessalonica, a large and important city in Macedonia, where he had a lengthy ministry and established a strong church.

What was the message which so signally succeeded in this great strategic center? Well, it was not (as some modern preachers in large cities would seem to think) a series of social, political, or literary discourses. Paul preached Christ. He reasoned with them and presented the Saviour (v. 3) as One who was—

1. Dead for our sin. These people were like us in that they needed a solution for their sin problem. There were doubtless other questions which Paul might have discussed, but he wisely went to the root of their difficulty and showed them "that Christ must needs have suffered."

Without the death of Christ there is no salvation for any man. Only through the shedding of blood can there be remission of sin (Heb. 9: 22). Paul had no part in the folly of a "bloodless gospel"—as though there were any such gospel.

2. Raised for our justification. It was not enough that Jesus died, marvelous as that is in our sight. For many a man has died for his convictions, but none has risen from the dead. Christ could not be holden of the grave. He arose the victorious Redeemer.

3. Declared to be the Christ. He is more than a man, more than a great leader and an earnest teacher. He is God's anointed One, Himself divine—and our Lord.

Thus Paul presented to the Jews their Messiah, "the Man of Sorrows" (Isa. 53), whose resurrection declared Him to be the Son of God with power (Rom. 1:4), their Redeemer and Lord. Blessed results followed such preaching (v. 4).

II. The Messenger—Approved of God (1 Thess. 2:1-12).

Sometimes a man with a true message largely nullifies his message by the manner in which he preaches it, or by the manner in which he lives.

1. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

2. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

3. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

4. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

5. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

6. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

7. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

8. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

9. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

10. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause. He is not a man of the world, one who is not a man of God's cause.

Engagement Of Lt. Zelma Stephens Revealed At Tea

Miss Kate Lowrie, Mrs. O. K. Bowen and Mrs. W. W. Stephens entertained with an informal tea in the home of Miss Lowrie Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4, honoring Lt. Zelma Stephens, bride elect of 1st Lt. Robert G. Burch of Newark, Ohio.
In the receiving line were Miss Lowrie, Lt. Stephens, her mother, Mrs. W. W. Stephens, Lt. Goldie, Supervisor of Nurses at the South Plains Army Air Field at Lubbock, and Mrs. A. D. Bowen of Lubbock.
Assisting at the punch bowl was Mrs. Harold Cass, and presiding at the bride's book was Miss Joyce Stephens, sisters of the bride elect.
The house was tastefully decorated with spring flowers, accented by the patriotic motif. The table was laid with a victory luncheon cloth, with napkins and plates of red, white and blue. A blue bowl of red and white flowers formed the centerpiece.
The announcement was revealed by plate favors of miniature airplanes bearing the inscription "Zelma and Bob."
The table holding the bride's book was decorated with miniature bride and groom.
Out-of-town guests included Mrs. A. D. Bowen, Mrs. Imogene Combs, Mrs. M. L. Penn, Mrs. Gordon Deering and several nurses of the SPAAF Staff, Lubbock.
One hundred guests called during the reception hours.

Southland O. E. S. Annual Election Held Thursday, May 4

Thursday night was the annual election night for Southland Order of the Eastern Star. A good crowd attended. After the business session was over the Association Matron presented a beautiful and impressive program, honoring the Worthy Matron and Patron, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kellum. They were presented gifts of love and appreciation from the Chapter members. A beautiful cake, decorated in the colors of the W. M. for the year, red, white and blue, with the names, "Walter and Julia" on the top was brought in. The Worthy Matron cut the cake and cake and coffee were served.

Mrs. Marvin Truelock, Community Correspondent

Friday evening the auditorium was crowded with friends of the graduating class and of their speaker, W. A. Smith, who had been their teacher and superintendent for eight of their eleven school years. Mrs. Smith accompanied her husband. They were en route to Lubbock where their niece had recently undergone an operation and were returning to Weimert for Commencement Exercises there.

The Seniors left a week ago Sunday afternoon on their trip to Carlsbad Caverns and Ruidoso, returning home Wednesday night. Their chaperones were Racy Robinson, Rev. O. J. Harmonson and Miss Bertha Duncan. Their sponsor, Mrs. Pauline Stotts could not accompany them.

Albert Smallwood's name was omitted from the list of '44 graduates.

Roderic Duff, who is employed in the chemical division of a war plant in Dumas, came home Thursday to visit his parents, the I. J. Duffs and to take his place with the graduating class Friday evening. He returned to the North Plains Monday.

Grandmother Basinger sat up in bed some last week but Friday she put her feet off the side of the bed for the first time. Monday afternoon of this week she left for Lubbock where she will take chiropractic treatments. Mrs. Bill Winterrowd, her daughter, and Mrs. O'Connor, her nurse, accompanied her.

Jimmy Duane Gist, the son of Mrs. Helen Gist and grandson of the E. H. Usserys, is not yet two years old but is in Dallas for his seventh or eight time for treatment for his club foot. His mother took him to the Scottish Rite Memorial hospital two weeks ago and he will stay there for 6 weeks.

Those attending the joint meeting of the Eastern Star Chapter, honoring the Grand Officers at Tahoka Saturday night were: Mesdames Walter Kellum, Hub Haire, Kenneth Davies, Jack Cook and Ed Denton. Mrs. Jack Cook filled the station of Ada.

At the School of Instruction held in Lubbock Tuesday, Mrs. Walter Kellum, Worthy Matron of Southland Chapter, will fill the station of treasurer. Mrs. Hub Haire will help with the registering committee.

Rev. E. C. Armstrong taught the study book "God and the Problem of Suffering" to the Women's Society of Christian Service completing the fourth and last lesson last Monday. Sunday evening the Methodist had a record attendance—with something over 60 present, and only two of them were visitors.

Tuesday afternoon the GA's and Sunbeams resumed their meetings after five weeks of staying at home because of the measles. They planted flowers on each side of the steps of the Baptist church. Their evergreen trees ordered in March have not arrived yet.

Carlton Davies is recovering from the measles. Billy Barkley had to miss her Grade School Graduation Exercises because she had contracted the disease. Ona Jane Truelock also has them.

Arrested Men Have Stolen Coupons

Carrying out their promise to do everything possible to stop the circulation of stolen and counterfeit gasoline coupons, the District Office of Price Administration has announced that charges have been filed in Federal Court in Abilene against three men arrested for illegal possession of gasoline coupons.

Local highway patrolmen, working with OPA investigators, arrested L. A. Crawford and L. T. Crawford, both of Lubbock, and E. A. Brookshire, Colorado City, in Abilene. In their possession were found 5840 serially-numbered 'R' coupons which had been stolen from the Ration Board at Farwell the night of February 16.

In addition to the 5840 coupons, the men had in their possession others that appeared to have been torn from gummed sheets indicating that they had been stolen from a filling station, the OPA Enforcement Division announced.

I'm bugs on cars.

I'd hardly think I'm a real American if I didn't always hanker after the latest thing in automobiles. Most everyone feels the same—wanting a new car. So even with Peace, is some new car with my number on it coming right off the assembly line? Who knows? I'm well off, though—still riding handsome—because I kept thinking of all the different oils to help a car. And I noticed ad after ad agreeing that your engine always forms acids inside... Risky... Bad danger of corrosion. But a station man showed me a can of Conoco Nth motor oil, and it said that a modern synthetic in Conoco Nth furnishes the working parts with OIL-PLATING—like a special surfacing to resist the acids; not letting them easily eat metal away. So you needn't fret too much for a new car, when a switch to Conoco Nth oil will safely OIL-PLATE your engine right now. Let the future car improvements try beating that!

To Our Friends and Customers

An adequate supply of reliable electric power is necessary to the growth and prosperity of every city and community. One of the first questions asked by industrial managers, seeking new locations, relates to the power supply. In the post-war period, the type of electric service available will become increasingly important, since the location of processing plants will depend largely upon the availability of adequate and reliable electric power.

Our facilities in Post are connected to and are a part of an electric system consisting of generating plants furnishing power to a network of transmission lines. These facilities are operated as a unit and constitute a pool from which power from the combined resources of the system is available to every city and community in the territory served by this company.

This arrangement makes ample quantities of electric power available to each city and community and, because of economies in operating costs, makes possible industrial electric rates which will attract additional businesses.

The Southwestern Public Service Company operates an integrated power system. Its power resources are available to the people of Post and to all industrial users, large or small, now located here or which may be attracted here in the future through the efforts of all of us who are interested in the progress and development of Post.

In 1942, the Company emerged from the administration of the Public Utility Holding Company Act with flying colors. It now does not have any holding company over it whatsoever. Its securities are widely held by thousands of people without dominating investment control centered anywhere. Its management is in position to cooperate in all matters for the betterment and development of Post and the surrounding territory. Our program is to be helpful and aggressively active in the development of Post in future years.

SENIOR CLASS WILL:

Esteemed Company of Witnesses:

The Senior class has felt for some time that its demise was near; we have felt that school was beginning to disagree with us and that the members of the faculty had conspired to accomplish the death of the most astonishingly brilliant class the walls of Post High and the teachers thereof have ever frowned upon. The bitter doses of lessons we have taken with daily regularity have hastened rather than prolonged our class demise, and we know with sorrowful certainty at the hour of our departure is near at hand. Therefore, being so soon to pass from these scenes of educational activity; being in full possession of alert minds and memories that put the most extensive encyclopedias to shame; having faculties keenly sharpened by many contests with flinty instructors, we would publish to you upon this funeral occasion, the last will and testament of the Senior Class of 1944.

First, we leave to the Junior class, as our rightful and worthy successors:

(a) Our seats. Occupy them, but do not try to fill them.

(b) Our wonderful senior dignity. May they uphold it with becoming seriousness, endeavoring to overcome their usual hair-brained and frivolous flippancy.

(c) Our tendency to make a little knowledge go a long way in the classroom; also our ability to throw the faculty members off the trail when they imagined we were bluffing.

(d) Our abundant and reverberating class spirit and pep, with the right to terrorize the town and make nights hideous with soulful class songs and soulless class yells. Do your best to keep things stirred up, remembering that a little noise goes a long way.

(e) Our honored position as models for the school—models of wit, wisdom, charm of manners, excellence of behavior, physical development, and intellectual expansion. May heaven help you to stand up under this strain!

(f) Lastly, that which gives us the greatest pang to part with—our strongly entrenched places in the hearts of the faculty who have loved us devotedly because—they couldn't help it. Comfort them in their loss, but don't imagine you can mangle their hearts as we have done.

To the faculty: we bequeath our regrets that their work with us was so barren of results—and we leave a large amount of sympathy for their depressing attempts to pound knowledge into our craniums.

And now—the following valuable personal bequests, freely and fully given, should be treasured as a continual reminder of the Senior class, and should be assumed from this very moment by the recipients of this class will.

Miggie Graham wills her waistline to Lucy Morgan.

Betty Jane Travis wills her ability to work geometry to Iris Joy Parker.

Melba Jo Miller wishes to transfer talent of acquiring any boyfriend she wants to Marian Hodge.

To Randal Dinwiddie, Victor Sweeten wills his ease to use an impressive, high-falutin' vocabulary.

Buddy Malouf wills his ability to make speeches (tut-tut) in English to Toodle Chapman.

Frank Stokes wishes to give his height to Bobby Cash.

Hugh Templeton wills his great physique to Billy Bob Hoover.

Mary Margaret Duckworth desires to leave her neatness to Polly Dinwiddie.

W. L. Crider wills his new G. I. haircut to Joyce Kenley. Dorrace Propst leaves Joy Shepherd her weight. Johnny Thomas wills his artistic ability to Randal Dinwiddie. Kathryn Childress shifts her skill in "Rowing Her Own Boat" to Alma Outlaw. Spencer Kuykendall's bachelorhood goes to Ben L. Thomas. Betty Williams conveys her 2-C boy friend to the Navy. Dale Cravy shifts his talent at being a heartthrob to Jimmy Bird. Wanda Williams spelling skill goes to Jeneice Propst. James Lucas shifts his responsibility of Billy June to David Rogers.

Jean McQueen conveys her figure to Alene Jones. James Lee Smith—his hair to Donald Howe. Opal Wells transfers her "blushes" to Annette Seay. Cecil Trull hands over his stride to Wanda Propst. Marian Rains transfers his Army classification to Vernon Lusk. Janell Buster shifts her skill of playing tennis to Imogene Hagood. Gene Caldwell leaves his blank remarks to Ellouise Dodson. Margaret Porterfield wills her ability to take all night trips with males, to the Fat Stock show, without losing her reputation to Wanda Thomas—that little angel.

Donald Windham leaves his skill to argue to Norma Joy Hudman. Doris Faye Kirkendall shifts her skill at being a soda-jerk to Billy Jo Baker. Scott Davis conveys his Levi's to Sammy West—Sammy's are getting a little old. Theda Gilmore is willing to give Gwendolyn Holland her beautiful voice.

J. D. Wall—his tuneful crooning to Bobby Cash, to have and to hold until death parts them.

Dorris Raye Porter is glad to leave his shyness to Mary Robertson, so that she will be quiet for once. To the future class presidents, Marshall Mason's power to keep order in class meetings. To Holmes McLish, from Zora Anne is left her typing ability. Outlaw leaves her trim figger to Joy Smith. Wilma Dixon transfers her boy-friend, Roy Hodges, to her sister Fay Dell. Kenneth Turner transfers all his talent at making temperance lectures to his friends, to Ben L. Thomas, just for today. Hazel wills her beautiful voice to Harriet, Nora Jo, Imogene and Juanita Bingham. Imogene North leaves some of her sweet disposition and her sunny smile to Marian Hodge. Pearl Fleming transfers her talent to "get out of a mess" after playing hookey, to Marian Edwards.

Margie Rylant leaves her so-called "talent" to get tickled over nothing to Louella Gilmore.

And, to have forever, we hope, Jeanette Gilmore leaves her reserved quietness to Peggy Sue Robinson. To Ralph Seay, from Johnnie Ruth Cato, goes her skill to talk so fast that she can't get a breath. Billie Maxine Doggett leaves her cute laugh to De Alva Darden. Neil Stewart wills her skill to get dressed in "no time flat" to Wayne Hundley when dressing in assembly. Squirt Wall bequeaths his physique to Don Shirley. Joyce Stephens wills her love for her Texas History teacher to Norma Jean Schuler.

Ila Mae McDougle leaves her shorthand book to Mary Etta Norman. Alene Gerner gives her book that told her how to get engaged to Joyce Kenley. Elsie Josey leaves her brother to some cute little girl that can make him have good manners. Alvin Davis turns over to Harry Wood his talent at having a diversity of knowledge on every subject.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Stoker returned the last of the week from Ft. Worth where they transacted business.

MASONS TO RAISE A MILLION IN WAR BONDS DURING MONTH OF MAY

The Masonic Spring War Savings Bond Drive will end on May 22, said W. S. Duckworth who is the Potentate's Aide for Khiva Temple and chairman of the drive for Garza county. All those who have not reported their purchases of Bonds should do so at once. It is only necessary to report the name, amount, and number of each bond.

Our quota is a million in May. We exceeded this in 1943. Let's go over the top again in 1944. Our very existence depends on winning this war, said Mr. Duckworth.

War Savings Bonds purchased by Masons, Masonic Lodges, R.A.M. Chapters, Commanderies, Order of Eastern Star, Rainbow Assembly for Girls, Order of DeMolay must be reported. Any bonds purchased by individuals, families, firms, or organizations may be reported for this drive if they have not been reported for any other drive and are not a part of a pay roll deduction plan.

Mrs. H. F. Giles spent this week in Fort Worth with her son, Billy, who is visiting his home on furlough.

Facial Tissues Go To War

Use of facial tissues by war plants for cleaning precision metal parts and polishing lenses and increased use in hospitals are cutting into civilian supplies to some extent, the War Production Board says, but, with reasonable conservation, supplies in general should meet all essential demands. Production of facial tissues has been maintained at the 1942 rate for the last two years.
