

Runoff election set here

The runoff election for Place Two on the Post School board is scheduled for Saturday with voters choosing between Mrs. Juanella Hays and Mrs. Wanda Mitchell.

Mrs. Hays led Mrs. Mitchell in the April 5 school board election 170 votes to 145, but because of a third candidate in the race, Mrs. Mary Ann Gordon, who received 71 votes, Mrs. Hays did not receive the required majority.

Fifteen votes were cast in absentee balloting which ended Tuesday afternoon and one mail ballot was yet to be returned. This is as much absentee voting as occurred before the April election.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m. with the school district's only voting booth in the Post High School Library.

The Dispatch will be open for an hour Saturday night to give election results from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Five Lope tracksters in regional triumph

By NORMA BAUMANN

The "first ever" championship regional track trophy is now in the Post High trophy case and five Post Antelope tracksters who shared co-championship honors with Colorado City at the regional meet Friday and Saturday on the Texas Tech track in Lubbock are looking forward to a bid for state honors in Austin May 11.

Four new PHS records were set by Coach Lane Tannehill's team in the regional triumph.

Of the 40 AA teams competing in the meet, Post tied Colorado City with 47 points to share top honors. Post only had the five participating and Colorado City had 10.

When it came trophy presentation time, only one trophy was available for first place, a coin was flipped to see who would take the available trophy home and Post won the toss. Colorado City will receive a duplicate.

During the preliminaries Friday, all kinds of records were broken starting with the sprint relay team who broke their own record set in district of 43.8 and ran a new race of 43.3.

Cliff Kirkpatrick broke a 1976 record held by Jackie Blacklock in the high hurdles of 15.0 with a time of 14.8 and finished first in his heat and then broke his own record of 40.4 set last year with a 39.4 in the intermediate hurdles which he also won first in the prelims.

The mile relay set a new record with a time of 3:25.1 breaking their San Angelo Meet record of 3:27.2 set during the regular season. The two relay teams also finished first in their heats on Friday.

Saturday's finals is the big story of success when Bryan Compton in his third and final jump, standing fifth in totals, won the regional long jump with a leap of 21'9 1/2".

The sprint relay team with Jackie Ayala, Johnnie Ray Williams, Alonzo Luna and Compton breezed to the finish line with a new winning record of 43.0 and an easy victory.

Cliff Kirkpatrick added a point to the team total in the 330 hurdles finishing sixth with a time of 40.5.

Then to end the day, the mile relay, breaking its new record set on Friday, won second behind Slaton at the wire with 3:23.3. Williams running the third leg, had the fastest time of the race when he put in a 49.3. Alonzo Luna had a 51.7. Kirkpatrick, following a 25 minute rest after hurdle competition had a 51.8 and Compton turned in a 50.5.

Times were not available for the sprint relay team.

District 5AA will be well represented at the Austin meet with four other teams or boys besides Post competing. Frenship had a second place finish in the sprint relay; Ricky Davis of Slaton qualified in the 440 dash; Ray Smith of Roosevelt finished second in the 220 and also second in the long jump; Slaton won the mile relay and Reynolds of Frenship won first in the shot with Kenneth Harvey of Denver City finishing second.

The Post qualifiers, along with Drew Kirkpatrick, alternate, will leave Post May 10 for Austin and Memorial Stadium with AA competition on Friday.

Compton will begin with the long jump Friday, May 11, at 11 a.m. he will have three jumps and if he qualifies will have three more jumps in the finals.

The 440 relay will leave the starting blocks at 7:30 p.m.

Friday night with the mile relay getting their chance at 9:15 the same night. Friday is AA and AAA competition with A, B, and AAAA set for (See Five Lope, Page 12)

Fifty-First Year

Post, Garza County, Texas

Thursday, May 3, 1979

Number 50

While those five kids made the Post Antelopes regional track co-champions for 1979 — and take not a thing away from them — there is a story too in Coach Lane Tannehill, the man who in the last eight years has built a sound track program at PHS.

Track generally isn't considered a spectator sport. Usually only the parents and close friends attend this type of spring competition. Spring weather usually does not encourage crowd support either.

But Post probably had the biggest fan contingent of any of the 40 some Class AA schools at the regional in Lubbock Saturday, including just about every Post student attending Texas Tech.

The Lope track program has had its big years, and its lean years, but it has always been a very consistent program regardless in that Coach Tannehill by his hard work and enthusiasm manages to see to it that Post gets every point it's capable of winning.

There were those three consecutive district track titles in 1974, 1975, and 1976. In the three years since, Post hasn't had enough outstanding individuals to win the crown, but each year they have contended and been well in the top half of the district.

Coach Tannehill won a couple of those titles by piling up points for fourth, fifth and sixth. He managed to keep a good sized squad working hard and interested. In good years or slim, Post has maintained a strong team effort in track.

Lane came to Post with (See Postings, Page 12)

Only half inch here

Post and Garza County has received generally a half inch of rain from murky skies stretching from Friday through Tuesday, but the general consensus is that there still isn't enough moisture to plant cotton.

The moisture total officially for Post was .01 on Friday, .20 on Saturday, .03 Sunday, .13 Monday, and .11 Tuesday.

That brings the slim total for the first four months of 1979 to date to 2.78 inches.

Charlie Brown is named 'Garza senior citizen'

Charlie Brown has been selected "Garza County Senior Citizen" for 1979, announced Katharine Cathcart, senior advocate. Brown, a 50 year resident of Post and Garza County came here in 1929 and began farming. He is also experienced in Post oil production with his first job as a tool dresser helping to bring Posts' first oil well in 1944 in.

He is a current Garza Memorial Hospital director, having served for more than 10 years in this capacity. He was a school trustee in the Close City community for seven years. He is an active

Post Rotarian and an active member of the First Baptist

CHARLIE BROWN

Church. His most important accomplishment has been his tireless efforts with the Alcohol Anonymous groups in this area. He has counseled with over 400 men, women and children with drinking problems for the past 17 years. This has been a daily routine for Charlie all these years and is to be commended for his influence with so many individuals in need with alcohol problems.

Brown will be recognized at the 1979 Senior Round-up to be held in Lubbock May 15 in the Fair Park Coliseum.

No gas shortage here yet

"Not yet!" That's what you could call the password at Post service stations this week.

"Not yet" means the stations haven't run out of gas or been forced to close

Sundays or trim hours.

But prices keep going up and allocations are starting to come down. That last is what the "yet" signifies.

If things keep going like they're going, that's coming, most station operators think.

Only one station reports no allocation so far.

Allocations on six major gasoline brands checked (See No gas, Page 12)

Council studies open meetings law

The city council at a special meeting last Wednesday night, April 25, reaffirmed its obligation to the general public to abide by the terms of the Texas open meetings law.

"However," the council also said, "where the interest of that public is best served by utilizing the provisions of the law permitting executive sessions, the meetings will be closed."

The council in its unanimously adopted motion, concluded:

"As required by law, all meetings will first convene openly after notice to the public. The presiding officer will then announce that the session will be closed, identifying the appropriate section of Article 6251-1 VACS. No final action, decision or vote will be made except in open meeting."

This statement was adopted on motion of Jack Alexander and a second by Bill Pool.

According to minutes of the special meeting, Mayor Giles McCrary convened an open session of the council and then declared a closed session "to consult with attorney with respect to contemplated litigation pursuant to section 2E of Article 6252-17 VACS.

The minutes further stated:

"During the session a recent editorial and item in The Post Dispatch which threatened the instigation of law suits was discussed.

Short named manager here

Silas Short is the new manager of Higginbotham-Bartlett's lumber yard here this week succeeding Lee Norman.

Norman has resigned from the lumber company to go into farming in both Garza and Lynn Counties with his father, Glenn Norman. He has managed the yard here for three years and four months and has been employed by Higginbotham-Bartlett for about five years.

Short, who formerly operated Short Hardware here, has been manager of Higginbotham — Bartlett's Hale Center yard since leaving Post two years and two months ago. He was transferred back to Post to become manager here.

His wife, Beth Short, and family will join him here after school is out later this month.

LOU MARKS

Lou Marks rites today

Memorial services for Lou Marks, 78, will be held in the First United Methodist Church at 10 a. m. Thursday with the Rev. Don Travis, pastor, and the Rev. Don Neumann, pastor of the Faith Lutheran Church, assisting.

The memorial service will be preceded by private graveside services in Terrace Cemetery.

Marks died in Garza Memorial Hospital here at 3:10 p. m. Tuesday following a long illness.

Marks was with Maytag Co., for 30 years and traveled all over the South Plains as its district manager, living during those years in Lubbock. He was a native of Stevensville, Mont. He was married to Maxine Durrett Sept. 7, 1963 in Lubbock and thereafter lived in Post.

Survivors, besides his wife, include one daughter, Jennice M. Singer of Santa Barbara, Calif., one sister, Agnes Knutson of Phoenix, and one grandson.

Marks served as secretary of the Post Rotary Club for (See Lou Marks, Page 12)

John Nichols dies at 90

Funeral services are pending for John Nichols, 90, who died Tuesday, May 1 at Twin Cedars Nursing Home following a lengthy illness.

Born August 31, 1889 in Sequin, he came to Garza County with his family in 1901 from Coleman. He farmed until 1950 when he moved into Post and helped his nephew, Lester, at the Gulf Wholesale until 1956 when he retired. He was a World War I veteran.

He had been a resident of Twin Cedars for the last 10 months.

Survivors include a sister, Henrietta Nichols of Post, and several nieces and nephews, including Lester of Post.

Justice-Mason is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Senior citizens voice complaints

A group of senior citizens met with the Garza County Commissioners Court Monday complaining about the operation of the Garza Trail Blazers, the senior citizens organization.

The group was told that the court had no more jurisdiction over the Trail Blazers than they did over the Rotary or Lions clubs.

County Judge Giles Dalby suggested that if the group was dissatisfied that they form a senior citizens organization of their own.

In other actions, the court:

Allocated $1,600 to the Post Public Library for 1979. Allocated $3,000 to the city-county park board.

Adopted the South Plains Manpower Consortium agreement.

Approved the hiring of Roy Gary as the mini-bus driver on a 24-hour work week.

Adopted an agreement with the Caprock Telephone Co. giving the utility firm easement along and across all county roads and county owned and maintained right-of-way.

Effective disaster aid

Useful disaster relief needs to be in the hands of experienced people with proven methods.

The Wichita Falls tornado recently is a major case in point. Thousands of Texans wanted to help. The question was how to do it.

Many communities, our's included, accepted a truck load of donations of household items, clothes, food and money and dispatched them as quickly as possible for the stricken area.

We can imagine the huge conglomeration of everything that poured into devastated Wichita Falls in the two weeks following their tornado.

It wasn't long before used clothes were a no no. We can bet that cash was the best and most helpful commodity. But it is hard to say how it all came out because few stories about things like that filter back out of a disaster area.

To our knowledge, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, which are set up for such relief operations, are the best way to go. Each has a program, trained personnel to administer their operations, and the know how to get the disaster aid job done.

It's been a number of years now, but we've watched the Red Cross work wonders in helping families who lost everything to climb back onto their collective feet and start the rebuilding process. The Salvation Army on the other hand concentrates on meals and beds for the homeless.

Texas who live each spring with tornadoes need a better way to offer a helping hand to a sister community that has been stricken. Authorities should advise people how to channel such aid.

A good starting point would be a report on the effectiveness of the aid given to Wichita Falls.

Month of decision

May is going to be the month which will decide Republican Governor Bill Clements' political future.

Before the month is out the current legislative session will be history and the governor will have had to show the voters how effective he can be in obtaining workable tax reforms to implement the new constitution tax amendment and whether or not he can start to whittle down the size and cost of state government.

These are the basic planks of Clements' surprising victory last November and both of them appear sure to be decided only in the closing hectic hours of the session May 28.

To date, Clements has kept his powder dry and the Democratic legislature guessing. As governor, his only real power comes from his veto choice, or the threat of it, and his direct access to the ears of all Texans.

He is keeping his options carefully covered as he plays out his remarkable political hand.

To date, he has made a very good impression.

His most eye opening achievement has been his stance on the mortgage interest ceiling.

In this one, it is Republican Clements who stands for all "the little guys" against the mortgage lenders and their powerful lobby. In this turn-around, the Democrats stand with the mortgage lenders.

Even the Texas Observer, the brash journal of Texas liberal political thought, took note last week:

"The best news out of Austin this wretched legislative season came from the governor's mansion on April 16 when Republican Gov. Bill Clements unexpectedly announced he would veto any legislation to raise mortgage interest rates beyond the state's 10 percent increase.

Clements went into office outspoken in his desire to return a billion dollars in tax savings to Texans and to implement the constitutional tax reduction amendments for senior citizens and farmers and ranchers.

He also got embroiled in his campaign in a hassle with teachers over their salary increase.

None of this is settled. The legislature's lower house has finally completed action on an appropriation bill to run the state government for the next two years, but they have left very little of the billion dollars Clements wants to give back to the people.

The senate may decide to spend even more.

That will leave the governor with some hard choices at the end because an appropriations veto would bring on an expensive special session to continue the combat.

The senate is even starting to take more liberties with legislation to implement constitutional amendment tax reforms.

Neither house appears willing to offer the people a chance to outlaw a state income tax by constitutional amendment.

What strategies Clements may have up his sleeve hasn't even been hinted. The governor is trying to get what he can from the legislature now without being antagonistic. The tough decisions will come at month's end.

The most unusual aspect of all this is that the outcome of Republican Clements vs. the Democratic Texas legislature may decide which party will win the White House in 1980. Texas very probably will be the "swing state" that decides just as it has been in the last two elections.

Generic drug fight

A bill which may come up for debate and vote in the state senate in the near future is the Texas Drug Product Selection Act, sponsors of which say can save Texans millions of dollars in drug bills if enacted into law before the legislative session ends May 28.

The bill would enable pharmacists to select therapeutically equivalent drugs in place of more expensive brand-name products.

The bill provides the prescribing physician could indicate that an equivalent drug not be substituted if he or she believes a certain brand name drug to be essential to the course of treatment.

In cases where substitution is not prohibited, the pharmacist could fill the prescription with a more economical product selected from a list of equivalent drugs. The bill would not require the pharmacist to substitute, nor is there any requirement that the patient accept a substituted drug.

The bill simply would allow the patient the option to save money by having the prescription filled in the most economical manner.

Other major features of the bill, introduced by Senator Chet Brooks, include the establishment of a positive drug formulary, creation of a Texas Drug Formulary Commission within the State Board of Pharmacy, and the limitation of pharmacists' liability when selecting within recognized guidelines. When filling a prescription, the pharmacist would notify customers of the substitution option and would record product information on both the label and the prescription.

The Drug Product Selection Act was voted out of the senate human resources committee April 4 with the support of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association and over the strenuous opposition of drug manufacturers and physicians.

Better known as the "generic drug bill", it has the endorsement of a long list of consumer conscious organizations.

But time is running out. If approved by the senate, it must proceed through house committee hearings and final vote in little more than a month.

Consumers of the state could well rally behind it. With the legislature virtually gutting the Texas Consumer Protection law, this is one of the few possibilities this session for some modest relief and help for consumers.

Keep on eye on it and your fingers crossed that some crafty politician doesn't manage to bottle the bill.

Library Corner

by RUTH B. YOUNG

Pee Wee went to Fort Davis last week to a library workshop. Mrs. Virginia Babb, substitute, worked in her place.

In talking with Mary Prather, who reads several books each month said the one she enjoyed the most was "The Wanderings." It is a history of the Jewish people in Bible times. She reports the book as "beautiful" and very enjoyable reading.

Every month the library receives several films which are entirely free to us and to you, the customer. We are members of the West Texas Film Circuit and can get films on loan, if we don't have the one you want. It will be a good plan to let us know a few days before you need the film so we can order it, if we do not have the one you want. It will only take a few days. We have the screen and projector to loan. All you will have to do is come after it.

It has been suggested, if we can find someone who will volunteer and has a knowledge of the projector, good pictures and appropriate ones can be shown at the Rest Home and the Algeria Center.

The films we have listed are: "Winter of the Witch" - 25 minutes; "Future Shock" - 42 Minutes; "The Vampire of Dusseldorf", 87 Minutes; "Romeo and Juliet", - 45 minutes; and "Who are the DeBolts?" This family had 19 children and all but five were born with some kind of physical handicap.

I have been asked to print the best seller list of books periodically so have chosen this week for the first one. How about the first copy of the paper each month?

Rattlesnake shoot May 10

CLAIREMONT - It's almost shoot-out time again with law and order on one side and rattlesnakes on the other.

This unusual event will mark the 31st annual Caprock Peace Officers Association meeting and Rattlesnake Rodeo to be held here May 10.

Lubbock District Attorney John T. Montford will give the principal address of the one-day meet at 1 p.m. following a barbecue lunch catered by Jackson's Catering Service of Post. Registration begins at 9 p.m.

Drawing for door prizes will follow Montford's address. To wind up the day will be the rattlesnake shooting contest for a variety of prizes. Capt. John Mason of the DPS assisted by Trooper Mike Negri will judge the shooting.

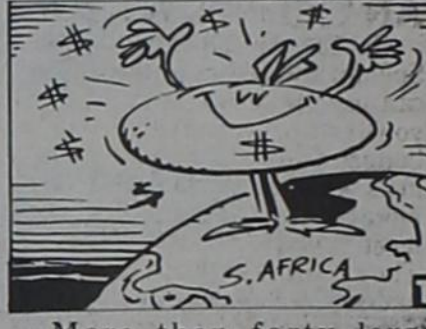

This year's meeting is dedicated to Jinks Wilson, late sheriff of Motley County and a director of the association, who was killed in the line of duty Nov. 12, 1976. A plaque will be presented to his family in remembrance.

Cecil Fox of Spur is president of the peace officers association.

IT'S THE MOST!

The largest gold nugget in the world was found in Australia in 1869 during that country's great gold rush. Rather appropriately named, the "Welcome Stranger," it measured two feet long and weighed 200 pounds.

More than forty large mines in South Africa produce about three-quarters of the Western World's annual new gold supply, or approximately 700 metric tons.

186 anglers nabbed without licenses

LUBBOCK — There are several indicators that spring has finally arrived, and recently, Texas game wardens in the Lubbock region have found another indicator — empty citation books.

Game wardens in the Abilene, Amarillo, and Lubbock districts have issued over 236 citations for violations of the fishing, hunting and water safety regulations. This figure is for only three weeks of April without counting the last weekend.

The majority of the citations were for no fishing licenses as 186 were issued by 32 game wardens. Normally, game wardens get all kinds of excuses for the lack of a fishing license when the officer walks up to the angler. The increased fishing violations have the officers curious as to why people go fishing in Texas without first obtaining a license.

No one, including the wardens, has a sure answer or reason for the fishing license violation increase. These licenses are normally available at all sporting goods stores, bait shops, marinas, P&WD offices and other license vendors across Texas. It would seem as though many Texas anglers are taking a chance on not being checked by a game warden, but 186 of these individuals didn't get by in April.

The P&WD would like to remind everyone that a resident fishing license is required of all Texas residents who fish in the waters of Texas with the exception of those: under 17 years of age; over 65 years of age; fishing in private waters; fishing in the county of resident with trotline, throwline or ordinary pole and line having no reel or winding device attached; holding a valid Texas commercial fishing license or holder of a $1.25 Exempt Fishing license available to certain disabled veterans or the blind.

A resident fishing license is $4.50. A non-resident fishing license (no exemptions) is $10.50 and a temporary (five-day) non-resident fishing license (no exemptions) is $4.50.

Now is the time to obtain your fishing license and give it a try as the whitebass, crappie, walleye, black bass and catfish start spawning and biting in Texas.

NATURAL COVER BEST

WHEELER — Any soil disturbed either on purpose or by accident will grow weeds which can fill the food and cover requirements for upland game birds in Texas. "These weeds are normally very high in protein and for that reason, livestock should be controlled or fenced out if the weed patch is intended for wildlife," said Richard DeArment, extension wildlife biologist. "Weeds or cover in or near playa lakes in north-west Texas are also very important and they should also be ungrazed, unburned and cultivated to stimulate weed growth," DeArment continued.

If livestock is to graze on land intended for wildlife habitat, it is best to plant a variety of plant that cattle or deer won't eat such as the partridge pea. This plant is drought resistant and will reseed itself each spring.

If you are lucky enough to have a tree shelterbelt on your property, you already are furnishing wildlife with some cover. However, many mature treerows are being overgrazed and areas should be fenced to keep livestock out. Not only must the shelterbelts have trees but undercover also such as weeds or shrubs.

Cultivated crops such as wheat, sunflowers, maize, corn, or other grains are equally important to game birds. Their use by wildlife will increase many fold if they are planted near natural cover.

Upland birds are establishing their nesting areas now and cultivation of the remnants of cover left after the hard winter should be restricted during this period.

All chemical spraying, if necessary, should be done as far as possible from the wildlife nesting areas.

More assistance and information on improving your wildlife habitat is available by writing Richard DeArment, Extension Biologist, P & WD, Box 122, Wheeler, Tx. 79096.

Didn't I tell you last week, we would go to STATE!!

If you didn't go to Lubbock and watch the track team, believe me you missed something.

POST PRIDE is everwhere this week. And it has a right to be.

I can't say enough about the track team and Coach Tannehill except congratulations on a job well done.

GOOD LUCK to Kerri Pool as she goes to state this weekend in Ready Writing.

The 1979-80 cheerleaders were selected Tuesday in Post High and the new leaders are Amy Thuett, head, Dede Redman, Marinette Hays, Holly Giddens, Donna George, and Lana Bunn. Congrats to these girls and to all who tried out.

The band returned home early Sunday morning from Six Flags with a bunch of WEARY kids. They reported to have had a GOOD TIME.

I received an honor of sorts this week by Tim Tatum. I guess it's an honor. He named his dog "Norm."

Thanks for the response in last week's plea. I now have given all my little furry friends away. Now if I can only part with them.

Don't forget the senior play Friday night. It promises to be a good one. If Rex can only keep his moustache on. The seniors need your support, so see you there.

Back to the track meet. We were walking across the campus last Friday when a security guard gave me the evil eye. I just kept walking and when he called me by name, I was rather shocked. When I went over to see who this strange person was, it turned out to be Rodney Josey, very official looking.

My family got a respite from my talking this week for about three days. The track meet was so exciting, I was sitting in front of the Idalou fans who also had a relay team running against Post and one of my friends from Idalou told me "Idalou will smoke Post." Well when the race began, I out-yelled my friend from Idalou and Post had no trouble at all "SMOKING" Idalou, but the outcome was a strained and creaky voice. But never fear, I've got it back now!!

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — After sometimes petty, sometimes passionate debate, the Texas House this week passed a beefed-up version, at least where salaries are concerned, of a state budget.

The price tag on the House spending plan for 1980-81 is $20.3 billion. Gov. Bill Clements says that's about $600 million too much. House members increased various salaries by almost $200 million. Clements had made it clear long before the House began its work that he was against many of those pay hikes.

It took the House four days and part of a fifth to finish the initial step in the appropriations process that now moves on to the Senate. Afterwards, the budget will probably be hammered out in a conference committee, and then, the governor must approve it.

Acting as if they didn't know Clements had threatened to veto teacher pay hikes that exceeded 5.1 percent, House members voted teachers a 7 percent raise for 1980 and 1981, on top of step increases. That amounts to a 20 percent increase in pay for teachers over the next two years. Teachers say that will just about keep them up with the inflation rate.

The House also approved raises for Department of Public Safety troopers (40 percent, state employees who make less than $20,000-a-year (seven percent), district judges (14.8 percent) and district attorneys (36.7 percent). It must be pointed out that everytime legislators raise district judges salary, they raise the amount of their own retirement pay which is based on a certain percentage of a district judge's yearly salary.

When the House was finished only $530 million in state funds was left unspent. Remember, school finance is still to come.

After several emotional speeches, the tedious work of approving the two-inch thick appropriations bill crept along punctuated by a bomb scare that came at the end of a long day of debate, legislators' giving the "Hook'm Horns" sign and singing the "Eyes of Texas" when discussing teacher salaries at UT.

The Governor

At almost the same moment Gov. Clements was announcing at a press conference that he wouldn't say what he would do if the Legislature passes to his desk a separate presidential primary bill, the House was attaching a rider to the appropriations bill that would prohibit the use of state funds for any primaries other than those in May.

Clements, who in effect killed legislation raising home loan interest rates by his announcement that he would veto such a bill, said the issue of a presidential primary was the Legislature's "baby," and that lawmakers should do their duty and vote without waiting to see what he will do if the bill reaches his desk.

From now on, Clements seemed to be saying, lawmakers would no longer have advance notice of how the governor would act regarding certain pieces of legislation. "We are not going to play this game that way," Clements declared.

The way the Senate was playing this week left the governor with little to cheer about. Senators rejected attempts to bring up legislation that would have given Clements budgetary powers. Senators opposing the bill said it would have given the governor the power to almost rewrite the budget. Opposition forces were quick to point out that the Senate also refused to give such powers to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Wiretap Bill

Wiretap legislation that Clements supports emerged from a Senate subcommittee this week even though the bill's author had pronounced the legislation "dead" only a week before. The bill would legalize electronic surveillance in hard drug cases. Sen. Ed Howard, sponsor of the wiretap legislation, appeared to have the votes necessary to move the measure out of the Jurisprudence Committee and onto the Senate floor.

And, when more than 5,000 union workers descended on the State Capitol this week, chanting "Kill that bill" in protest against legislation that would repeal the prevailing wage law, Clements, true to his earlier statements, said he had no opinion on the bill. "I do have an opinion about them being a little quieter," Clements said jokingly while tradesmen in hard hats and carrying their lunchpails swarmed over the Capitol Building in one of the largest protests since the days of the Vietnam War.

Short Snorts

Those who had been biting their fingernails over an economy that had grown by 6.9 percent in the first quarter of 1978 breathed a sigh of relief this week when numbers released showed a growth rate of only 0.7 percent in the first quarter of this year. The "overheated" economy that had been roaring along at the end of 1978 was supposedly one of the contributing factors to the ever-increasing inflation rate.

Another economic note—statistics released this week show major corporations with hefty increases in their profits during the first quarter of this year. Texaco's profits were up almost 80 percent in that period, and Exxon's increased by more than 35 percent.

Finally, the Senate version of Rep. Wayne Peveto's tax reform bill, sponsored by Grant Jones of Abilene, slipped out of the Senate Finance Committee this week.

The Jones-Peveto bill would set up single appraisal units for each city, school district and special district in a county. Hopefully, the legislation would create standards and guidelines by which property could be taxed locally and state-wide in an equitable fashion with homeowners and commercial interests paying their fair share of the tax burden.

During the last two legislative sessions, Peveto's bill ended up buried in the Senate Economic Development Committee. But the bill was amended this time around to satisfy real estate interests that managed to kill the measure in 1975 and 1977. The amendment permits voters to roll back property tax increases over five percent. Peveto said he could live with such a provision.

Burlington sales up 2nd quarter

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Burlington Industries, Inc. today reported higher sales and earnings for the second quarter of its 1979 fiscal year compared with the second quarter of 1978.

Consolidated net earnings for the quarter ended March 31, 1979 were $18,160,000 or 65 cents per share on net sales of $672,174,000. In the second quarter of 1978, consolidated net earnings were $16,866,000, or 60 cents per share on net sales of $606,784,000. Translation of foreign currency items required by FASB-8 accounting rules resulted in a charge of 12 cents per share in the March quarter compared to a charge of 18 cents per share in the same quarter of 1978.

For the six months ended March 31, 1979, consolidated net sales were $1,298,597,000 and net earnings were $36,835,000, or $1.32 per share, compared with 1978 sales of $1,198,688,000 and earnings of $31,324,000, or $1.11 per share. Earnings for the six months ended March 1979 included a translation charge of 29 cents per share, whereas earnings for the six months ended March 1978 reflected a charge of 33 cents per share.

In commenting on the company's performance, William A. Klopman, chairman and chief executive officer, said, "March results were in line with our expectations. However, consumer uncertainty, reflecting the inflationary economic climate, dampened demand for many of our products and affected results. Moreover, foreign currency translation charges continued to have an adverse impact on profits. The current strengthening of the dollar should produce translation gains in the June quarter."

Klopman also said, "We were pleased with the significant improvements in our denim, menswear, industrial, and furniture areas. In addition, our yarn, carpet, tickings, and towel businesses continued to show satisfactory results even though there was weakening in demand for many home furnishings products. While volume was at good levels, very competitive markets prevailed for most textured wovens and knit products. Heavy plant restructuring costs associated with the company's record capital modernization program also had a significant effect on profitability of the textured group."

In looking ahead, Klopman noted, "Developed in the economy will significantly affect future results. While there are some signs of slowing or sluggishness in certain businesses, a broad pattern of change has yet to emerge. As a consequence, we remain hopeful for improvement in June."

Farm, ranch sales over $8 billion

COLLEGE STATION — Higher cattle prices helped push estimated sales from Texas farm and ranch marketings in 1978 to more than 8 billion. That's a billion more than in 1977 and compares with $2.7 billion 10 years ago.

"Although higher expenses absorbed most of the increase, net income should have increased moderately above the $1.1 billion earned in 1977."

"Of course, all producers did not share equally in the higher earnings," emphasized Anderson, a marketing economist at Texas A&M University. "Some farm operators suffered considerable financial setbacks. In particular, the dramatic increase in cost of pumping water has severely tightened the cost-price squeeze on profit margins from growing irrigated crops."

Despite the ups and downs and uncertainties of farming and ranching, Anderson believes that the potential for further agricultural growth is great. "With anticipated increases in food and fiber demands throughout the world and the importance of agricultural exports to this nation's balance of payments, agriculture in Texas is destined to play an even greater role in the future."

Agriculture, including all its agribusiness phases, added more than $30 billion to the economic activity of the state last year. Farm assets in Texas — land, buildings, livestock, machinery, and farm financial assets — were valued at more than $55 billion.

Looking at the $8 billion plus in estimated cash receipts, meat animal sales accounted for almost $4 billion up from $2.7 billion in 1977. As a result, livestock sales, including poultry, are estimated at close to $5 billion compared with $3.5 billion in 1977.

On the other hand, estimated receipts from crops slipped from $3.37 billion in 1977 to only about $3 billion last year, largely because of a small cotton crop. Despite its poor showing in 1978, cotton is still king of cash crops with estimated sales of $1 billion.

"The lion's share of estimated cash receipts stemmed from feeding and raising cattle," points out Anderson. The average price received for beef cattle by Texas farmers and ranchers rose from $36.30 per hundred weight in January 1978 to $54.20 in December.

Other big contributors to agricultural sales were feedgrains, $791 million; foodgrains, $424 million; poultry and eggs, $408 million; dairy products, $388 million; vegetables, $309 million; oil crops, $199 million; and fruits and nuts, $79 million.

Receipts of $373 million are estimated from agricultural related income areas such as farm-based timber, horses, fish farming, hunting leases, farm pond leases and recreation.

BORGER JAMBOREE

A group of local CBers left early Sunday for a CB Jamoboree held in Borger returning home late Sunday night. Attending from Post were Robert and Marie Bartlett and children, Jake and Mary Baldree and sons, A.D. and Carolyn Halford and Connie and Johnny Torres.

Water rights hearing May 21

AUSTIN — Hearings to determine the rights of users of state water in the Salt Fork and Double Mountain Fork Watersheds of the Brazos I segment Brazos River Basin are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m., May 21, at the Lubbock County Courthouse, 904 Broadway in Lubbock.

The hearings will be held by the Texas Water Commission, the judicial arm of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

Post CBers visit Ira

Members of the local CB club left Post Saturday evening April 28 to attend the Ira Club meeting.

Drawings were held by the host club with several Post winners.

Attending from Post were Robert and Marie Bartlett and children, Jake and Mary Baldree and sons, Larry and Roseann Ford and children, Carolyn and Connie Halford, Daisy Mae Redman, Jim and Betty Curry and children, and Leslie and Gerald Seals.

The next meeting of the local organization will be held May 6 at 2 p.m. in the bank community room.

Adjudicative hearings are conducted pursuant to the Water Rights Adjudication Act and concern all persons who use surface water for other than domestic and livestock purposes in the watershed and who are holders of a permit, certified filling or water right claim.

Persons in the watershed holding such rights must complete additional forms sent to them by the Department of Water Resources and are required to file these forms with the Department by May 18 of this year.

The Texas Water Commission emphasizes that all persons with water rights and/or claims should attend the evidentiary hearings. Those persons who do not appear in person to present evidence supporting their claims may lose any water right to which they may otherwise be entitled.

A docket notifying each claimant of the time and place of his hearing has been sent. The 10 a.m. session May 21 is for the purpose of assuming jurisdiction and to explain the adjudication process. Also on May 21, the scheduled evidentiary hearings will begin at 2 p.m. All claimants in the watershed are encouraged to be present on May 21 and then appear on the date specified for each claimant in the docket notice.

The segment to be adjudicated consists of the Salt

Fork and Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River and all their tributaries from the New Mexico State boundary line downstream to their confluence near the eastern boundary at Stone-wall County, Texas and includes all or portions of Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher and Jones counties.

Persons using surface water for domestic and livestock purposes only are exempted by state law from the adjudication proceedings.

Claimants using water for irrigation or other non-exempt purposes should note that the mere filing of claims does not constitute a water right. Evidence of actual, legal use of water in the past must be presented at each individual claimant's adjudication hearing. Claimants who are not basing their claims on a permit or certified filing must be able to show the water use which occurred during the years 1963-67, inclusive, or for those claimants who filed an additional sworn statement, 1963-70, inclusive. All claimants are required to file a Section 11.307 claim before participating in their individual hearing.

Persons in the watershed who have not received forms

THANK YOU

Thank you seems such a small way to repay all the wonderful and kind deeds shown to us during my time of convalescence.

To all who sent cards, food, made phone calls, visits, money donations and prayers, we will always be grateful.

To Western Danceland for the benefit, the cooks who prepared the food, those who donated food, to the bands that played, auctioneers and those who donated the goods to be auctioned.

For the men who worked for Nolan so he could be with me in Lubbock.

To the Long Branch and VFW for money donated and to the Hitching Post for closing so all could attend the benefit.

To Dr. Wilson and the nurses at Garza Memorial for their help and concern while I was in the hospital here and to all our friends, relatives and neighbors for everything.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Will Rogers once commented that the United States has never lost a war or won a conference. American generosity at the diplomatic table has caused us to rely on unrealistic idealism in the international arena instead of thoughtful pragmatism.

During the 1920's and 30's it was thought that if we could get Japan to sign enough treaties they would not dare resort to war. In 1921 Japan signed a treaty with the U.S. limiting the amount of battleships. In 1922 several nations, including Japan, signed the Nine-Power Treaty which affirmed the Open Door Policy in China. In 1928 both Germany and Japan signed the Kellogg-Briand Pact which outlawed war as "an instrument of national policy." In 1931 Japan repudiated all of these treaties and then promptly invaded China. The lesson of history is clear: that treaties are made at the convenience of nations and broken at the convenience of nations.

Before long the Senate will be asked to approve a Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT II) with the Soviet Union. This treaty limits launchers, not ballistic missiles; allows high Soviet force levels; and permits the Soviets to amass many multiple independent reentry (MIRV's) which can hit several targets with a single missile. It also includes inactive U.S. aircraft, but excludes Soviet Backfire bombers; and above all it does not adequately address the problem of verification.

The Soviets continue to adequately fund a vigorous defense program and to date have not allowed any treaty to adversely affect their military and production programs. In technology, they lead us in high energy lasers and high yield nuclear weapons. In conventional fighting capability, the Soviets have seven times as many tanks, over six times the number of artillery pieces, and fifty times the number of trained and active chemical warfare personnel. By 1980-82 they will have a commanding lead in strategic nuclear capability. During this period the number of their warheads will increase to between 6,500 and 9,200 and the number of SLBM's will probably increase to 950. In the meantime the U.S. has closed the Minuteman III production line; delayed development of the new MX missile and cancelled the production of the B-1 bomber.

We have come from a position of U.S. nuclear monopoly in the 1950's to one of strategic superiority in the 1960's to rough equivalence in the early 1970's and the forecast is that we will shortly be a clear second to the Soviets in strategic capability.

I am of the firm belief that the world would benefit from a treaty that would reduce the number of nuclear weapons. But we must always remember that armaments are an instrument of national policy, and any attempt to regulate them without regard for the factors that bring them into existence is doomed to failure. The Soviet Union is determined to pursue world domination. Until this policy is dealt with, arms control will only limit — U.S. arms.

YOUR ELECTRIC BILL IS HIGHER

IT'S COSTING US MORE TO PRODUCE ELECTRICITY

Electric bills are higher these days, and even though the cost of almost everything else is higher too, you are still concerned about your cost of electricity. We're concerned too. The cost of the fuels necessary to operate generating plants is increasing by leaps and bounds. To counter the shortage and spiraling costs of natural gas and fuel oil, SPS has built new plants which use lower-cost coal. But building these plants costs money, too — three times as much as gas-fired plants. Even so, fuel is the largest single expense we have. About 51¢ of every dollar SPS received from its customers in 1978 went for fuel. Fuel always has been and always will be part of your electric bill. It's higher today than it was yesterday, and tomorrow it will be higher still. SPS is working to keep the price of electricity as low as possible, but as the cost of producing electricity goes up, our only choice is to ask our customers to pay a higher price. It's the only way we can maintain the adequate supply of power and the dependable service you expect.

Coach Tannehill was still all aglow Monday morning when he came into The Dispatch after the big Saturday win. He thinks his charges have a good chance at state.

"Anything can happen in relays," Lane points out. Slaton was second in the state mile relay last year, but was disqualified for running outside its lane. Batons can be dropped or a poor pass lose precious yards. But those things can happen to your competition, as well as our own boys.

Few AA schools ever qualify two relay teams for the state meet and therein lies the Lopes' opportunity. Relay events are scored at double the points of individual events.

One thing for sure. Those five Lopes are going to work hard through next Thursday to get ready. They're going to have strong coaching encouragement and the enthusiastic support of the student body and the town.

As for Coach Tannehill, we think just about everyone will agree that this couldn't have happened to a nicer, more dedicated guy who always tries to give everybody else all the credit.

Norma Baumann could hardly talk when she came to work Monday morning and we asked her if she had been ill. "No," she wig-wagged in sign language. "I lost my voice rooting at the regional meet."

As for the special meeting of the city council on the Texas open meetings law, we are pleased that we apparently have gotten the attention of Mayor McCrory and the council on the subject.

Five Lope-

(Continued From Page One) Saturday. In summing up their march to the state meet, Coach Lane Tannehill said, "Without the fan support this may not have been possible. With the good turnout and support at the regional meet, the boys gave that little extra besides their 100 percent. It's been great."

LUBBOCK — We are "encouraged" that potentially damaging cuts in cotton research funds and The Commodity Credit Corporation credits, proposed in the President's budget, will be restored by the House Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee and will have a reasonable chance of survival in the full Appropriations Committee and on the House floor.

This was how officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, felt April 25 on their return from Washington, D.C. where they attended a two-day meeting of the Cotton Producer Steering Committee and joined that group in registering opposition to a cut of $3.42 million in agricultural research funds for 1980. Almost half that amount, $1,647,000 would come from research on cottonseed.

Shooting victim is buried here

Curtis Lee Robinson Jr., 27, of Lubbock, who was raised in Post was buried in Terrace Cemetery here Wednesday afternoon following funeral services in Lubbock's St. James Baptist Church.

Robinson died Saturday night in West Texas Hospital from a fatal bullet wound. He was shot in Lubbock shortly after 9 p.m. that night and the shooting was ruled a homicide by Justice of the Peace L.J. Blalack.

Robinson was survived by his wife, Glenda, and five sons.

Linn elected SPCAA secretary

Jerry Linn, Postex Plant training manager, was elected secretary of the South Plains Community Action Association of Levelland Monday night during a meeting of its board of directors in Levelland.

Also attending representing Post were Jack Alexander and Connie Flores.

School trustees to meet Tuesday

The Post school trustees will hold their May meeting Tuesday night at 7:30.

On the agenda are canvassing runoff election returns, administering oath of office to runoff winner, election of board officers for the next 12 months, adoption of the 1979-80 school calendar, possible action on an athletic track proposal and new business.

5-year-old signup May 4

Parents that have children who will be five years old before or on Sept. 1, and who have never been to school, are requested to bring them to the Post Primary School at 3 p.m. Friday, May 4, to get acquainted and register them for school next fall.

Acting principal Billy Hahn requests that the children should be brought to the east front doors of the primary building where they will be met by their teachers.

Parents will go to the auditorium to meet with Mr. Hahn and register their children for school.

Hahn advises parents: "You will need your child's shot record and a copy of his or her birth certificate before the child enters school."

Kindergarten and first grade will be dismissed at 2 p.m. that day in order for their teachers to get ready for the new students.

City council-

"At 6:45 p.m., the mayor reopened the session after which the motion was made and seconded and passed unanimously setting forth the council reaffirming "it's obligation to abide by the terms of the open meetings law."

Also attending the special council meeting were Jack Lott, president of the Post school board and County Commissioner Ted Aten from the Garza County Commissioners Court.

During the meeting Harvey Morton of Lubbock, attorney for the city, distributed copies of the open meetings law to each member and explained its provisions.

The Dispatch did not have a representative at the meeting after being notified by Mayor McCrory that it would be an executive session.

Estate talk given Rotary

Clarence Brazille, Lubbock attorney who specializes in estate and gift tax law, gave a talk before Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday on ways to conserve one's estate.

Don Travis and Jim Wagers were inducted into the club as new members by Walter Didway.

No gas-

(Continued From Page One) ranged from 75 to 90 percent for April with reports, as yet unconfirmed Tuesday, that some of those allocations will drop again for May.

Most station operators were yet to be told of May allocations Tuesday afternoon, but some passed along TV reports of drops coming in at least two major brands affecting five stations here.

One service station operator, one with a 75 percent allocation, has begun to trim hours by closing earlier, but the allocation drop hasn't affected his weekend hours.

One happily reported he could about double his present business before running out of gas on his 60,000 gallons a month allocation.

Another station operator who has been trimmed to 75 percent reports his business so much slower this year that he hasn't run out of gas.

One major company boosted prices 2½ cents Monday night.

The price for regular gas at a full service pump has climbed over the 70 cents per gallon mark and one station was told to boost theirs to 78.9 cents Tuesday.

Some self service gas is above 70 cents too.

The boosts that are coming now are usually at two cents or two and one-half cents per gallon at a time.

But there aren't any lines forming at gasoline stations here, or people filling up for the weekends.

Not yet!

Lou Marks-

(Continued From Page One) almost 12 years. When he resigned from the club membership recently because he could not keep up his attendance, he was made an honorary member of the club.

Marks was a director for many years of the West Texas chapter of the American Lung Association. He was a Shriner, a 32nd degree Mason, and served for many years as secretary of the Garza United Fund.

The family suggests memorials to the American Lung Association can be left with Jack Alexander at the bank. Hudman Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.
