Garza County employees get lower health insurance premiums, lower deductibles

by Wes Burnett

Beginning October 1, Garza County employees and elected officials will see as much as $100 a month less in health insurance premiums and a $200 deductible as the result of action taken by the Commissioners' Court in regular session Monday.

The change in insurance coverage from the Texas Association of Counties' plan to a "re-insurance" plan was presented earlier this month to the court by Benny Thomas of The Thomas Agency in Lubbock.

It is the same policy recently approved by the Garza Memorial Hospital for its employees.

The re-insurance program will save the county approximately $28,000 in premiums per year.

A meeting of county employees will be held Friday, August 30 at 8 a.m., when Thomas will explain the benefits and assist employees with any special problems or questions. All existing or pre-existing medical problems will be continued with the new program, as well as any expenses for deductibles with the former policy.

In other action Monday, commissioners accepted the resignation of county agent Lee Howard, who expressed his appreciation to the court and announced his plans to join Cargill Corp. as a representative in this area. A replacement for the agent's position is expected to take 60 to 90 days.

The court accepted the recommendations of department heads that no changes be made in the various county fees.

Commissioners signed a set of documents concerning legal action in a lawsuit by constable Michael Harper in relation to his challenge to the salaries of constables in Garza County.

Treasurer Ruth Ann Young was authorized to notify Eaton Financial Corp. of the court's decision to cancel a leasing contract for a copying machine as of October 1.

Judge Giles Dalby informed the court that the federal Housing and Urban Development agency has requested reaction concerning housing needs in Garza County, and Dalby said that he is preparing a reply explaining the urgent need for adequate rental housing, especially considering the increased activity of industrial growth here as Cotton Unlimited begins its production and hiring.

No decisions were made on the preliminary budget, which shows a potential of $65,000 in surplus based on the savings from the health insurance change and a tax rate of 18.04 cents per $100 evaluation. The court set a 9 a.m. September 5 meeting to hear from department heads and other county elected officials concerning ideas about pay raises.

No action was taken on a request by Sheriff Freddy Cockrell and recommendation by Justice of the Peace Dee C. Justice about the purchase of cellular phone units for the sheriff's department. The equipment, estimated at approximately $800, would be used to provide better security when law enforcement officers need to communicate over a dedicated line. "There are so many scanners operating," the sheriff commented, "that if we need to communicate on a drug raid or other investigation, it is very difficult."

The court set three times on September 3 for redistricting hearings and then recessed until September 5 at 9 a.m. for the continuation of budget discussions.

Attending the meeting were commissioners Sammy Ellis, Albert Stone, John Valdez and Herb Walls, Judge Dalby, clerk Sonny Gossett and treasurer Ruth Ann Young.

Bids for replacement gym exceed available funds

Post ISD trustees approve emergency building at Middle School

by Wes Burnett

The lowest bid received last week by the Post Independent School District for the replacement gymnasium was $1,530,119, approximately $300,000 more than is available for the project. Bids were opened at a special called meeting Wednesday, August 21.

After a discussion of the bids, trustees voted to reject all bids, but also voted to approve the low bid of $233,000 by Hunter Construction Co. of Lubbock for a workout facility at the Middle School.

The bid acceptance was on the condition that the contractor would build the facility with the least expensive materials at that bid price, either as a masonry structure or as a steel frame facility.

"I believe we should wait to build the gym when we can afford to do it right, not start looking for ways to cut corners," trustee board president Dan Hodges said.

"When we know more about what funding is going to be from the CED and the state, then we can come back and decide what to do about building the gym," he continued.

A major part of the discussion at the meeting concerned the lack of information from the County Education District (CED) 11.

Trustee Mark Kirkpatrick, the Post ISD representative on the CED, explained that the organization would not have reliable information for setting a tax rate until after September 5, "when the Garza County appraisal district gets its computer on line."

School districts in CED 11 are unable to set tax rates firmly due to the uncertainty of the CED tax rate.

Post ISD superintendent Bill Shiver recommended a proposed tax rate here of 51 cents per $100 evaluation.

"Based on the figures I got today from the state and the CED," Shiver said, "this looks like the best guess we can work with at this time."

Shiver said the CED tax rate might go as high as 85 cents per $100 evaluation, "but right now it is anyone's guess."

State legislators, in passing the CED organization, protected the CED from any taxpayer rollback, which means that local school districts will feel the brunt of taxpayer complaints when the tax bills are mailed out later this year.

"We will have an audit and accurate information to the penny," Shiver emphasized, "and then you can review the situation in detail and decide how or what to do."

"I am fairly certain there will be a tax rollback effort here," he added.

Post volunteers gear up for MDA telethon this weekend

Preparations for the 26th annual Jerry Lewis Labor Day telethon are underway, especially in Post, where the local pledge center will be located at the Algeria Arts Center.

Linda Puckett is serving once again this year as pledge center coordinator, assisted by Becky Warren and Teri Carmichael.

The telethon will be broadcast live from the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas and locally on KLBK-TV, Channel 13 in Lubbock.

Garza County residents are urged to contact the pledge center here at 495-4000 or 495-4148 from Sunday at 6 p.m. to midnight and Monday 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

For every $5 cash donation contributed at the Algeria Arts Center qualifies the donor a chance on a drawing for a framed and matted Dalhart Windburg print, "Seaside Treasury." The print has been donated by Hudman Furniture and the framing by The Frame Shoppe. The drawing for the print will be held Monday, September 2 at 6 p.m. at the Algeria Arts Center.

A street dance and dance contest will also be held in conjunction with the telethon from 9 p.m. to midnight Sunday, September 1, with music by disc jockey Danny Gonzales. There will also be a shuffle board tournament Sunday at 2 p.m. at Oasis with proceeds to benefit the telethon.

The television show begins Sunday at 8 p.m. and continues 22 hours through Monday, September 2 at 6 p.m.

All area pledge centers, including Post, will close between midnight and 8 a.m.

Hosting this year's local portion of the television production will be Rick Gilbert and Leslie Bohl. Chris Contreras will once again be on board as co-host.

The 1990 local telethon raised over $151,000 in pledges and fund raising events, which included Post's total of $1,332.

A special "Star" board will be set up at KLBK-TV studio for businesses and individuals who contribute $125 for a silver star, or $250 for a gold star.

These names will be shown throughout the telethon.

County Education District 11 struggles with tax rate issue

The Monday, August 19 meeting of the County Education District 11 in Snyder resulted in the naming of the district and discussion but no action on other items.

Post ISD trustee Mark Kirkpatrick is one of 11 representatives participating in the CED meetings, along with Jayton, Ralls, Snyder, Southland, Rotan, Roby, and Young.

Editor:
When I or my wife spend all the money we have, it would be nice if we could go to our employer and say, all right you are going to pay us more, because we are going to spend more money than we have. This is not the way things are at the source of our income. We have to stop spending when the money is all gone! We have to figure out a way to manage with what we have. There is no way we will be able to increase our income. There is no TAX for us to increase, the employer will refuse to increase our income. Now it is time for me to find another source of income like taking on another job, or my wife getting a job. Or we simply do not spend more than we have.

Now it seems that the Government has only one way to turn every time it has over extended its bank account, and that is to find a way to increase the already out of bounds TAX burden in another way so they can continue to spend a already out of bounds budget. There seems that there are some extravagant waste that could be trimmed.

History teaches us that the people of a country can be pushed only so far. It has been done with heavy TAX. With undue oppression. With religious oppression. A government that can't hear the people, one so mighty that the people are only tools to be manipulated, etc.

I have heard all of my life. What have you done? Well this is one of the times I have lifted a finger. I have always thought that what I had to say was invalid, null and void. Enough is enough. I am speaking up for what it is worth. I think the United States of America citizen has been had. The President of our nation has lied to us and is trying to make us like it. "Read my lips, no new taxes." The government is no longer of the people for the people by the people, but now the people are for the government or else. This last budget is one more notch in the handle of the government six shooter against the people.

This is some of my thoughts on the events of today. First I find it a little confusing and confounding that a country as great as mine has to be in the raise the tax mode at all times. It seems to me that a new tax or an increased tax is not the answer because after the tax has been activated the next day there is still a short in the tax till.

History tells me that there can be an over taxation. If memory serves me correctly when the new world had been discovered there were some emigrants to the new country because of the taxation among other oppressions of the government. Then when the old country government followed to the new country and continued to oppress the public with an excess of tax there was a revolution, and a new country was born, independent of other governments.

There must be some way to control this lack of funds. No. 1: There must be too many man hours to be paid for. As I move about in my part of the country, I see what looks like a lot of wasted man hours on the government work force. Grant you I understand that if I should talk to the unit, they would have me to know that they were under powered. No. 2: It appears to me there is too many agents to be carried and then there is their staff. No. 3: If the people that are elected for the job can't do the job, let them resign. No. 4: Their expense accounts should be retracted. They knew what the job was when they decided to run for office. No. 5: Use the agencies that we have. It seems that when something unusual comes along there is always a new agency formed to check it out. When something needs to be investigated, use the existing agencies, instead of making another agency. After all, there is the F.B.I., M.P., C.I.A., the State Police and so on. These are just a few observations. I am sure there are many more. With the right leadership, most if not all of these things can be addressed and a proper solution obtained.

These opinions expressed here are mine, they were formed based on the reports that I hear on the public news cast. They have sparked a desire for me to express my opinion. In conclusion I say that there has to be an end to government spending that continuously demands more of a burden on an already over taxed people. This is an on going thing with all levels of government, beginning with County, City and both State and Federal.

Doyle W. Young

Editor:

On behalf of all of us in the Softball Association we would like to express our deepest gratitude to those who were not mentioned on last weeks paper and for those who were overlooked. Thank You very much for being loyal, helpful and for being there when your fellowman needs you the most: Juan Perez, Tony Gomez, Tammye Alomari, Jimmy Bird (welding machine), Erda Wulfjen, Duwaina Wulfjen, and to the City and County for letting us have this piece of land to set up our field.

Thank You!
Rosalinda Guerrero

Editor:

Doctors Mathews, Lively, Tubbs, Chun & Young, what do all these doctors have in common? They all came, stayed for a while and left for greener pastures. You may think this letter is late in coming, but I kept waiting for our local newspaper to tell us the news, since Doctor Rodriguez paid them for the notice saying he was closing his office. But alas! there was more important news, like printing "the city council rules for the mayor, plus comments," than the leaving of a man and his family who came here about 15 years ago to tend sick people, deliver babies, work at our $5 clinic, the nursing home, plus many weekend nights and days off.

None of us can blame Dr Rod or his family for wanting what we all want, respect and a good job with time for self and family. The biggest argument for yet another doctor was, "neither doctor delivers babies anymore," well, Jerry and I are expecting our ninth grandchild and had five of our own and childbirth is not an illness, it's more of a nine month inconvenience. It's the day to day illnesses that a small town needs a doctor for.

It's the bad flu where you can hardly get out of bed, much less drive to Lubbock and respiratory problems, problems of the aged, heart and blood pressure, childhood illnesses, infections, broken bones, accidents and dying with dignity close to family and home. That's what Doctors Wilson and Rodriguez have been doing for us all and losing one of them will be a loss to many of us, I hope we won't lose the remaining one also.

If ever Dr Rodriguez or his family did anything over those 15 years for you or someone close to you, please pick up the phone or go by and tell him or Tessie just how much you appreciated it, also how much they will be missed, but most of all, if he ever gets tired of no hassle, stress or all that time off, we would really like to have him stay here for another 15 years.

Mrs Jerry Riedel

Editor's Note: All of our doctors are appreciated, and we believe they know it, but it sure doesn't hurt to tell them from time to time.

As for the news of someone leaving town, please keep in mind that over the past 15 years there have been countless numbers of people who have passed through our town on their way to somewhere else in their careers. Each person who comes and "stays for a while" has their own personal reasons for going on to "greener pastures." That's the American way.

Under-aged, Unlicensed Drivers... Take Note

By Trey Pellizzari
DPS Trooper II

Editor's Note: This article was published in The Texas Spur and is reprinted here as a reminder to our citizens. Change the name of town to Post and keep reading.

It has come to the attention of the local law enforcement officers in and around Spur that more and more under-age, unlicensed drivers are operating automobiles.

Some local parents have purchased vehicles for the use of their children who are still months, or years, away from being legally permitted to operate motor vehicles on the streets and highways of the state.

The operation of a motor vehicle is an earned privilege, not a constitutional right.

Very seldom is it NECESSARY for a young child to operate a vehicle. Generally, the child's act of driving is a CONVENIENCE for the adult who allows the child to drive.

Parents and other adults are placing under-age drivers; those who have not been afforded drivers' education courses, who have not demonstrated their ability to correctly operate a vehicle, and who do not have the experience to correctly read developing traffic hazards in order to avoid collisions, into situations where the children may be injured or may cause injury and property damage to others.

The under-age driver can cause extreme financial problems to his parents through increased insurance costs, through financial liabilities incurred as a result of collisions, and through fines levied against the parent for allowing under-age drivers to operate the vehicles.

The parent who allow the under-age driver to operate vehicles are also making it extremely difficult for those parents who are attempting to teach their children the correctness and responsibility of obeying the laws of the state regarding the operation of vehicles.

The youngster whose parents will not allow him to drive until he earns that responsible privilege is subjected to peer pressure from those of his age group whose parents are not concerned with whether or not the laws of the state should be obeyed.

The situation tends to make one wonder who the controlling factor in the family might be.

Parents should be parents. Parents have the responsibility to protect their children, they have the responsibility to instruct and prepare their children eventually to "leave the nest" and survive in the adult world.

Parents who assist their children in disregarding traffic laws that are "inconvenient" are doing their children as dis-service.

They are simply teaching their children that, "if they don't agree with a law, they should disregard it."

As of the publication of this article, local law enforcement officers are establishing "Zero Tolerance" on unlicensed, under-age drivers.

If a child who is driving a vehicle is determined not to possess a valid drivers license, that child will be issued a traffic citation, the owner of the vehicle will be called to the scene of the traffic stop and issued a citation for allowing the unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

If the vehicle's owner cannot be located or refuses to come to the scene of the traffic stop, the child will be released to a parent or a responsible adult and the vehicle will be impounded.

Law enforcement officers realize that the under-age drivers may not be "at fault" for wanting to drive a car or for "jumping the gun" as far as waiting until the proper age, training, and licensing is attained.

We realize that children will generally do what their parents or other adults will allow or direct them to do.

We are not establishing the "Zero Tolerance" policy in order to "punish" the children who are driving, we are attempting to impress upon the controlling "responsible adults" the importance of taking responsibility for the safety of their children.

Sever Productions expands

Walker Sever Productions is a commercial production company involved in producing all types of commercial audio. Although wholly owned by well-known Lubbock radio personality Steve Sever, according to Sever, "radio commercials and television audio actually make up only about 15 percent can only be heard in other cities and states. Most of our business comes from the Audiotext Industry where we have established ourselves as the primary source for audio that uniquely combines commercial recording with the computer and telephone industries."

Over the past 18 months, new clients such as National Geographic, Family Circle, The American Red Cross, The Associated Press and others on a corporate level have contributed to expected 1991 revenues of over a quarter of a million dollars. As a result Walker Sever has had to recently expand by adding a new 16-track recording facility, adding staff and doubling the office space.

It may also be of interest to many radio listeners throughout the area that as a result of this expansion Steve Sever, after 22 years in radio and the current morning co-host of Z102 in Lubbock, is announcing his departure from his morning show and subsequent retirement from radio so that he may more vigorously pursue personal and company goals.

Mike Macy near the top in team roping

Mike Macy of Post is sitting in fourth place in the Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association (PRCA) with $26,195 in prize money this year, according to the August 7, 1991 edition of the ProRodeo Sports News.

An article in the edition written by Kendra Santos describes the recent win at Salinas when Macy and his partner Jeff Medlin of Tatum, N.M. won the team roping splits at the California Rodeo July 18-21.

Macy and Medlin began their team effort in March at the Phoenix Jaycees Rodeo of Rodeos.

"We're together for the year, the article quotes Macy. According to the ProRodeo Sports News article, Macy was wearing "the same lucky pink shirt that he wore in June when he and Medlin won the second round at the Reno Rodeo."

"This is the greatest rodeo win I've ever had," Macy is quoted. "This is an endurance contest," Medlin added.

Macy has now won as much as he did at year's end in 1990, and has "probably cinched an NFR seat in Salinas," the article says.

"I won 't say this put me in, but I'm about $1,000 short of what it took to make the Finals last year and we still have 40 rodeos to go to - if needed," Macy says in the article. "We've had a good week," he added.

The article concludes that in addition to the $4,078 each man won at Salinas, the team also collected fourth in the first round and first in the average and bagged checks in Salt Lake City, Spanish Fork, Utah and Nampa, Idaho.

Mike is the son of Garza County rancher Bob Macy.

DANNY GONZALES will provide musical entertainment with his special brand of disc jockey talents at the Post MDA "street dance" Sunday evening on South Avenue 1 adjacent to the Algerita Art Center.

31 estimated to die Labor Day

The Texas Department of Public Safety estimates that as many as 31 persons could lose their lives on the state's roadways during the upcoming 78-hour Labor Day holiday period.

"Labor Day is the last holiday of summer and we want them to be around for future holidays," said DPS Assistant Director Lt Colonel James R. Wilson. "The way to have a safe Labor Day on the roadway is to avoid drinking and driving, drive inside the speed limits and wear your safety belt."

Last year, 33 persons died during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday, with late-reported deaths and deaths due to injuries bringing the final count to 40. Of those deaths, 25 (63 per cent) were attributed to either excessive speed or DWI, Wilson said.

This year's Labor Day period, designated by the National Safety Council, is from 6 p.m. Friday, August 30 to midnight Monday, September 2.

"As part of our Operation Motorcade program, we will have all available Troopers on the roadways over the Labor Day weekend to assist motorists and to try to hold down the traffic violations that can lead to fatal accidents," Wilson said.

One of the violations Troopers will be keeping an eye out for is failure to wear a safety belt or use a child restraint. Last year, of the 32 fatalities in which seat belts could have made a difference, 88 per cent of those killed were not restrained, according to the DPS Statistical Services Section.

"If you do need help this Labor Day, or any time you are traveling in rural areas of the state, please remember the DFPS maintains a toll-free telephone number -- 1-800-525-5555," Wilson said. "Use this number to report accidents, road hazards, suspected drunk drivers or other emergencies."

Periodically throughout the Labor Day holiday, the DPS will be reporting on the number of traffic fatalities occurring across the state.

"We never make these fatality estimates to show how accurate we can be," Wilson said. "We always hope the estimate is high. The more wrong we are, in this case, the more pleased I'll be. Please drive carefully."

Notice of Effective Tax Rate (for use by most taxing units)

1991 Property Tax Rates in Southland I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for Southland I.S.D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 425,171.
Last year's debt taxes	$ 51,560.
Last year's total taxes	$ 476,731.
Last year's tax base	$ 37,854,073.
Last year's total tax rate	$ 1.26 /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 476,898.
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 38,637,937.
= This year's effective tax rate	$ 1.2343 /$100

(In the first year a city or county collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year)

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ /$100

x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing

$ 1.2713 /$100

This year's rollback tax rate:

Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 424,368.
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 38,637,937.
= This year's effective operating rate	$ 1.0984 /$100
- .72 for school district (or zero)	$.3784
x 1.08 (or add $.08 for schools) = this year's maximum operating rate	$.4584 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ -0- /$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)

+ This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$.4584 /$100
+ Rate to recoup lost revenue	$ -0- /$100
= Adjusted rollback rate	$.4584 /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$.4584 /$100

(A city or county that collects the additional sales tax (including one that collects the tax for the first time this year) must insert the following lines)

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Rollback tax rate	$ /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
Local Maintenance Fund	$ 50,000.00

to develop new habits, or "turn over a new leaf" as my mother says. One of the habits many parents wish their children would develop is that of eating a good breakfast.

At a recent forum on diet and behavior, sponsored by the American Dietetic Association National Center for Nutrition and Dietetics, speakers addressed a range of issues relating to childhood habits.

Dr Johanna Dwyer, of Tufts University stressed the importance of school breakfast and other food programs. "School breakfasts and other school meals supply a meal that children would not otherwise eat." According to Dwyer, studies show a definite relationship between nutritional status and school achievement, with such factors as hunger, lack of school meals and iron deficiency correlating with poor school performance.

Not all children can or want to eat at school. If kids think they are too busy to eat in the morning, use your imagination to create breakfasts that are quick, easy and delicious. If kids are in a really big hurry in the morning, they could pack breakfast that night before so that it can be eaten quickly at home or maybe on the way to school. Some suggestions to get you thinking follow:

- * French toast made with egg whites spread with jelly.

- * Homemade low-fat muffin spread with farmer cheese or jelly.

- * Low-fat or nonfat yogurt with a handful of ready to eat low-fat cereal for some crunch.

- * A fruit milk shake made with skim milk, low-fat yogurt and your favorite fruit.

- * Rice or bread pudding made with heart healthy skim milk.

- * Sliced turkey or lean meat sandwich with no-fat mayonnaise.

With football season in progress, some athletes may wonder if they need to take vitamin supplements. No doubt, a vitamin or mineral deficiency will impair athletic performance. But if the athlete is eating a wide variety of foods, including fruits and vegetables, supplements will not enhance athletic results and excess amounts may cause adverse effects. Proper training, conditioning through exercise, and good nutrition are the keys to maximizing athletic performance.

Keitha White named winner of Carla Stiles Memorial Scholarship

Keitha White, 21 year-old daughter of Noel and Orabeth White, was recently named winner of one of the eight $1000 Cutters in Action Memorial Scholarships awarded nationwide. Keitha was awarded the Carla Stiles Memorial Scholarship given by CIA, a division of the National Cutting Horse Association.

A 1988 graduate of Post High School, Keitha is currently a senior student at Texas Tech University, majoring in corporate fitness. She is also employed at Methodist Hospital as a unit secretary on the four critical care floors. Keitha was named to the Dean's List for the spring and fall semesters of 1990-91, having maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or better.

An active member of the Texas Tech Fashion Board, a service organization promoting fashion at the university, Keitha served as FB treasurer for 1990-91.

Recipients of the CIA scholarships are selected on a combination of factors including scholastic achievement, financial need and recommendations. A student must maintain a 3.0 grade point average.

This year, Keitha has begun to show cutting horses in the Ladies Class and is currently in third place in the year end standings for the Caprock Cutting Horse Association.

DON'T CELL YOURSELF SHORT

When you're ready to go cellular, don't cell yourself short. Choose the cellular company that can provide you with the largest possible calling scope. Because if your phone can't ring, or you can't make a call, then there's really no reason to even have a cellular phone.

You see, not every cellular company can provide you with the same extended coverage that you'll get from Digital Cellular of Texas. With us, it's sort of like having a telephone with a really long cord... a cord that stretches all the way from Lubbock to Midland/Odessa.

The other company's cord just doesn't reach that far, which means you'll come up short.

To find out more about the other differences that set Digital Cellular apart from the competition, call the Digital Cellular of Texas sales Hotline at Living on the edge of the caprock...

Get the most from your ranch
Are you a successful rancher? Are you getting all out of the ranch you would like? Does the ranch support you or do you support the ranch?

Due to unique ranch resources, personal goals, experiences and environmental conditions, ranching is many things to many people. What works on one ranch may not work for the ranch across the road.

Many successful ranchers have developed goals, plans for meeting those goals, evaluation procedures for each alternative, and ways to monitor progress. The Total Ranch Management program, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, incorporates that process to teach an approach for managing ranch resources.

The next Total Ranch Management workshop is September 10-13 and 17-20 at Towle Memorial Park in Snyder. This is the first workshop offered in the Texas South Plains.

"The workshop has been extremely successful," said Dr Tom Troxel, extension livestock specialist and TRM instructor.

"Ranchers who have participated have made management changes that were positive steps in achieving ranch goals. They now feel that they are now in control of their ranch rather than the ranch being in control of them," Troxel said.

TRM emphasizes goal achievement through selection of enterprises and day-to-day activities. A case ranch is used to illustrate this process and its application.

The TRM approach teaches ranchers how to manage and use resources for best total ranch benefits; determine the best alternatives, enterprises and technological tools for achieving ranch goals; organize the ranch for effective management; and evaluate management decisions to reduce risk and increase their chance of success.

"This course forces its participants to set some real goals," said Preston Faris, Sutton County Extension Agent, who has seen more than 20 ranchers in his county go through the course.

"It opens their eyes to the necessity of making ranching a business."

The workshop consists of eight days of instruction and includes two field trips.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service

sion Service honored the TRM team with the 1990 Unit Award for Superior Service. This is the highest award given by the extension service.

Registration is limited to 30 participants to allow one-on-one assistance. Registration for the first participant from a ranch is $300; each additional ranch participant attending the same workshop pays $150.

Further information is available from Lee Howard, Garza County extension agent, (806) 495-2050.

September field day planned at research site in Halfway

Research results which can help Garza County farmers make more effective use of water and other resources to control crop pests and hold down costs will be featured at the 82nd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The program will be September 10 at the Experiment Station's High Plains Research Facility at Halfway. It is 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy 70. Tours will begin at 1 p.m. and end by 4 p.m.

Visitors will be transported by trailers to four major stops. Dr Jane Dever, associate research scientist and field day chair, said one stop will feature work being done to control pests in corn, a major crop on the High Plains. Other stops will feature farming systems and weed control; chemigation, and developments in use of low-energy, precision-application (LEPA) irrigation.

Walking tours will be conducted in the research vineyard and the vegetable plots. The new Texas A&M University System Computer Training and Education Center at the Halfway facility will be open and will demonstrate a variety of computer programs for home and farm management.

Home economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will have a display on corn processing and products. Other displays will show new farm and research equipment.

Close City-Garlynn Community reunion brings friends together

The Close City - Garlynn Community Reunion was held August 17 in the Post Community Center.

Past and present residents of the two communities attended the get-together; 106 persons were registered by Mary Gale Young, Consuelo Thuett and Dorothy Kenley. Doughnuts and coffee was waiting for all who wanted them at 10 a.m. visiting, greeting and renewal of friends and faces set the pace for a happy time all day.

Lunch was on the tables and ready at noon. Pot luck dishes were brought and enjoyed by all.

After lunch a brief time for a memorial service with the reading of the names of 16 persons who had died in the last year by Juanita "Hooter" Terry, followed by a prayer led by Lewis Kenley.

In a short business meeting, J.F. Brandon presiding, recognition was given to all officers and committee helpers who hosted and greeted guests. Post school teachers, trustees and community leaders were also recognized. Ex-teachers attending were Mrs Minnie Williams, Mrs Ninnie Nash Hancock of Midland and Nona Lusk. A special hand of thanks was given to all ex-trustees of both communities. Recognition was given to those who traveled from out of state: New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Several persons above the age of 80 years were recognized and two above 90.

A brief period of Recalling Memories of a Meaningful Special occasion or experience with response from the audience brought laughter and enjoyment. A table covered with pictures of class groups, athletic teams, teachers and school groups was on display and a center of interest all through the day.

After such enjoyment, it was decided to have another reunion, to be August 21, 1993. After the recognition and thanks to out going officers: Eldon Roberts, President; J.F. Brandon, vice-president; new officers were recommended and elected. Billie Jean Cross is to be president and Jim Bob Shults vice president. Eula B. Smith is to continue as secretary-treasurer. Eldon Roberts is to be responsible for keeping records of names, addresses of all past members of these two communities for mailing purposes.

Many commented of their enjoyment of the day and time spent being with old friends.

No tobacco sales at VA hospitals

Secretary of Veterans Affairs Edward J. Derwinski has ordered the termination of retail sales of tobacco products at all VA Medical Centers nationwide effective October 1, 1991.

The order affects over-the-counter sales at 131 canteens in the VA system, in addition to 41 canteens that had discontinued tobacco sales on their own initiative within the past two years. Special provisions are being implemented that will allow sales to veterans confined to VA long-term or nursing home care units.

Derwinski said the move was to ensure that VA's health-care system fully reflected a total commitment to smoke-free hospital environments. VA already has instituted no-smoking policies throughout its hospitals and clinics.

"We cannot on the one hand prohibit smoking and on the other sell cigarettes," Derwinski said, adding, "With the demonstrated harmful effects of smoking well established, VA must take all possible steps to discourage tobacco use."

Ward sales to certain hospitalized and long-term patients will be permitted in deference to the fact that medical authorities advise there are situations where the denial of tobacco could be counterproductive to ensuring the patient's overall welfare. In strict exceptions, which will be determined on a case-by-case basis, arrangements will be made to permit the patient to purchase tobacco at the medical center.

VA's Veterans Canteen Service operates retail, food, and service activities throughout the 172-hospital system. Federal law requires that all costs associated with canteen operations come from a self-sustaining revolving fund that does not receive appropriated monies. Current revenue from tobacco sales is estimated at $5.7 million annually. VA plans to offset the loss of that income through a series of management initiatives:

- * Redefine the medical center occupancy and service charges paid by Veterans Canteen Service.
- * Improve customer satisfaction and sales through an accelerated program of space upgrading and remodeling projects.

* Broaden canteen efforts to market food items through vending machines and strategically located snack areas.

* Gain benefits from shared support services.

* Explore potential additional shopping revenues from wider product and service lines.

* Improve customer access to canteens and implement newly evolving retail marketing strategies.

VA's Veterans Canteen Service was established in 1946 to provide merchandise and services "at reasonable prices" to patients at VA hospitals. Canteens today reflect a variety of activities ranging from operation of barber and beauty shops to cafeterias and retail stores.

Treatment of soil contamination

The Texas Water Commission is encouraging the use of alternative methods in the treatment of soil contaminated by hydrocarbons, a type of contamination often resulting from leaking petroleum storage tanks. The traditional method used consists of excavating the contaminated soil and disposing of it at a municipal landfill.

"Due to the large volumes of soil involved and the relatively low contaminant levels in the soil in many instances of leaking petroleum storage tanks, options aside from excavation and landfill disposal may be more economically and environmentally preferable," said Allen Beinke, Executive Director of the Texas Water Commission.

Though disposal at a municipal landfill is a legal and viable disposal alternative for soil contaminated with hydrocarbons, other methods of soil treatment may be utilized for excavated soil or even soil remaining in the ground at the contamination site. By using an alternate treatment method, owners and operators of leaking petroleum storage tanks may benefit from more reasonable treatment costs and from possible reduced liability associated with landfill disposal. Additionally, in most cases, tank owners and operators who use alternative treatment methods are eligible for reimbursement from the state's petroleum storage tank reimbursement fund.

The Texas Water Commission has developed guidance for the use of some alternative technologies and is currently developing policies governing the disposal options for petroleum storage tank wastes. For further information regarding remediation of soil contaminated by leaking petroleum storage tanks, please contact the Responsible Party Remediation Section, Petroleum Storage Tank Division of the Texas Water Commission at 512/371-6257.

Notice of Effective Tax Rate (for use by counties)

1991 Property Tax Rates in GARZA COUNTY

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for GARZA COUNTY & HOSPITAL DISTRICT. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

The truth about dipping and chewing tobacco

More than 87 percent of oral cancer cases are directly linked to smokeless tobacco and cigarette use.

Smokeless tobacco is available in two forms: chewing tobacco and snuff. Chewing tobacco is a mixture of tobacco and molasses. Tobacco is "chewed" by sucking on a golf-ball size wad or a piece between the cheek and teeth. Snuff is powdered or crushed tobacco. It is "dipped" by placing a pinch between the lower lip and gums.

There are five common myths about dipping and chewing tobacco:

* "Athletes use it. It must be safe." Smokeless tobacco causes a variety of mouth problems including leukoplakia, which, in turn, could lead to cancer.

* "It's safer than smoking." Snuff contains 10 times the amount of nitrosamines, the same cancer-causing substance found in cigarettes.

* "No one ever died from it." Of an estimated 25,000 new cases of oral cancer discovered every year, more than 9,000 die.

* "A little bit now and then won't hurt me. Besides, I can stop at any time." Smokeless tobacco contains high levels of nicotine and the habit is hard to kick.

* "There's no evidence it's dangerous." Research has shown it takes only a few months of regular use to develop mouth problems like leukoplakia which can turn into cancer over time. The Surgeon General, the International Agency for Research on Cancer, the World Health Organization and the National Institutes of Health have all concluded that there is a direct causal relationship between smokeless tobacco and oral cancer.

"Everyone knows how dangerous cigarette smoking is, but what they don't realize is that dipping and chewing tobacco is just as dangerous," said Doris Scales, R.N., of Methodist Hospital's Hodges Cancer Center.

For more information on the dangers of smokeless tobacco use, contact your physician or the Hodges Cancer Center at (806) 793-4214.

Drivers can take safety course every year

Beginning September 1, 1991 House Bill 70 allows a Texas driver to take a Texas Education Agency State Certified 8-hour driving safety course every year to dismiss most moving traffic tickets.

In 1981 it became mandatory for judges to allow a ticketed driver to take a driving safety course every two years. Since then traffic deaths on Texas highways have decreased by more than 50 percent.

By allowing a ticketed driver to take the 8-hour course every year the Texas Legislature hopes to reduce driving related deaths even further.

Crosbyton, Hermleigh, Ira and Lorenzo.

Buddy Baldrige of Jayton was elected earlier as chairman of the district, with Edwin Moore of Ralls serving as vice chairman and Terry Martin of Snyder as secretary.

Ray Pevler is serving as administrator.

The district representatives voted to meet Tuesday, September 3 to set a tax rate.

At the August 19 meeting the group rejected the lone bid from American State Bank for the depository and decided to seek more information before advertising for bids again.

The district has not decided on a tax collection method, which could be done through each participating ISD or county appraisal districts or to hire an agency.

Funds are to be collected by the CED and then redistributed to each school district on a formula set by the state.

In other action, the board directed Pevler to review liability insurance policies and make a decision, based on directives by the trustees, to select an insurance carrier.

Bell Insurance and the Texas Association of School Boards submitted proposals to the district.

Editor's Note: Our thanks to the Snyder Daily News for providing coverage of the meeting, which we were unable to attend.

COTTON NEWS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, August 23, 1991

High Plains cotton producers have produced crops worth over a billion dollars two of the last three years according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). PCG derived the figures from crop data on the 1988-1990 crops of High Plains cotton.

According to PCG figures the two crop years that topped the billion dollar farm level mark were: 1988, $1.173 billion, and 1990, $1.155 billion. The 1989-crop totaled a farm level value of slightly over $702 million dollars.

Prospects for the 1991-crop also topping the billion dollar plateau are looking up even though this year's crop is still two to three weeks behind schedule. The eventual outcome will depend on the type of weather High Plains cotton producers receive during the next six weeks.

Warm sunny days are needed if the crop is to have any chance of reaching the USDA production estimate of 3.35 million bales for the High Plains.

"This year's crop has the potential to become either one of the best ever produced or one of the worst ever produced on the High Plains," notes PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

The unpredictable weather patterns found on the High Plains have many producers keeping their fingers crossed.

PCG developed farm level values using individual year crop values for lint, seed and deficiency payments. Then combined them for an overall value for each crop year.

Lint value was determined using the Lubbock/West Texas average price received for Base quality SLM, 1 1/16" (41.34) cotton reduced by the applicable discount for SLM, 1" (41.32) from each years loan schedule.

Seed value was computed using the total number of pounds of lint produced during each year multiplied by 1.77 to come up with an estimate of the number of pounds of seed produced. The total number of pounds of seed was then divided by 2000 to derive the tons of seed produced. Average seed prices were then applied for a total value of seed produced each year.

Deficiency payments were estimated using a 330.6 pound per acre payment yield multiplied by the total number of planted acres in the 25 counties surrounding Lubbock.

Antelopes show 'great effort' at Floydada

by Wes Burnett

The Post Antelopes demonstrated great effort, according to head coach Dewayne Osborne, at the team's first controlled scrimmage last Friday in Floydada.

"We still need to get better," Osborne said, "but overall, we were pleased with their effort."

"Take away a few mental mistakes, and we would have looked a whole lot better," the coach added.

Earlier last week senior quarterback Jay Mitchell suffered a broken collar bone, the third break since last February for the would-be starting signal caller.

The loss of Mitchell set the coaches to debating about the starting quarterback, with the nod going to sophomore Jim Riley Simpson.

He and Damon Curtis both got playing time at Floydada, "and I thought both of these young men played adequate, I believe we'll be ready when the season opens," Osborne commented.

Senior tailback Brandon Bird pounded the Whirlwinds and gave a brief glimpse of what opposing teams will face. Bird also gets the call as middle linebacker on defense. "Our linebackers did real well," the coach added, "and if they continue to improve we are going to be okay."

Linebackers are Josh Bush, Anthony Cruse, Bird and Willie Barboza.

The passing game at Floydada was a weak spot, as numerous times receivers lost the handle or on timing routes were not in the right place at the right time.

"There were a few jitters, it being the first scrimmage, but I think these guys are going to get better," Osborne observed.

Conditioning was a bright spot and the coach was quick to praise the players for getting into shape so fast.

"You know, we spent a lot of time on conditioning the first couple of weeks, and now we'll be able to get into techniques and our execution," Osborne added.

"We learned a lot at Floydada, and that's really what a scrimmage is all about."

The team travels to Midland Greenwood Friday afternoon for the second controlled scrimmage, in preparation for the season opener here with the class AA state seventh ranked Abemathy Antelopes.

That game begins at 8 p.m. September 6 here at Antelope Stadium.

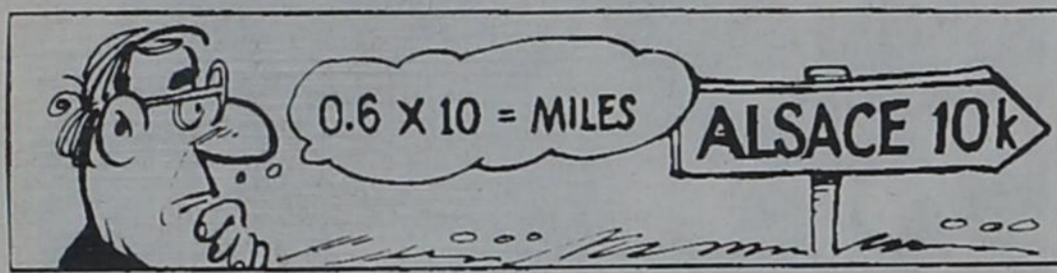

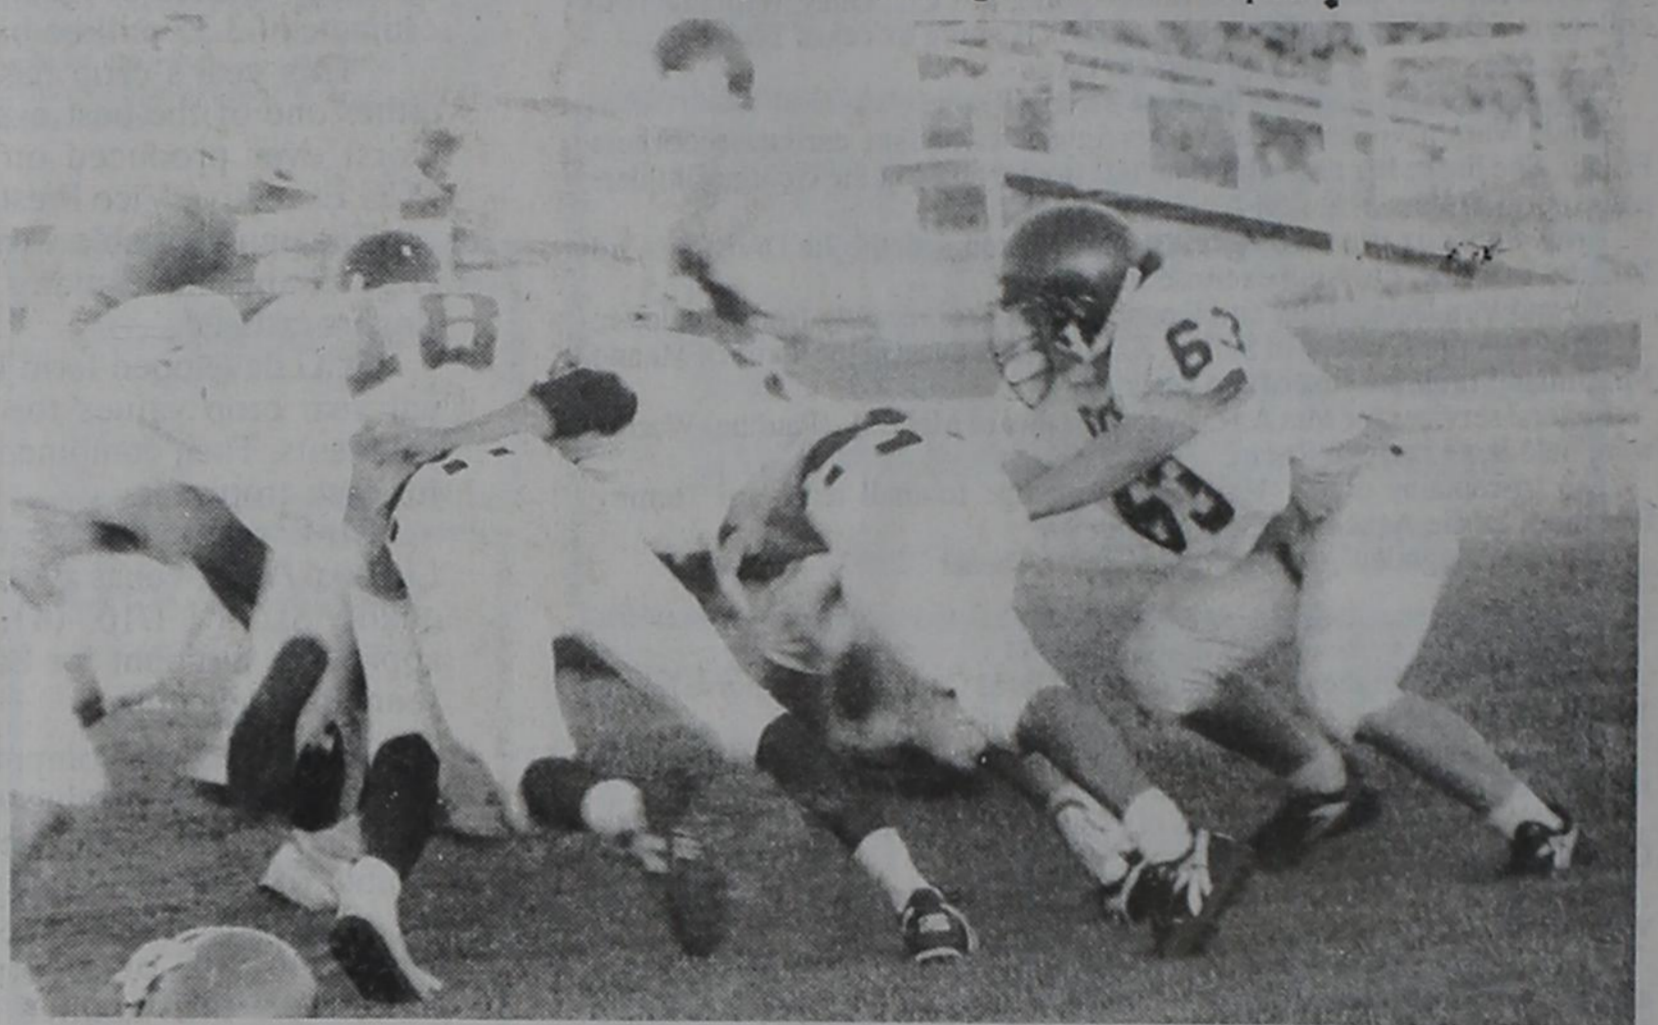

BEN KIRKPATRICK will line up for the Texas Tech Red Raiders at the outside linebacker spot this year. The former Post Antelope offensive and defensive standout was featured in last Sunday's Lubbock Avalanche Journal Southwest Conference preview tabloid. Ben was All South Plains Player of the Year and a first team all-state selection in 1988. He is a junior at Tech and is the son of Zoe and Jack Kirkpatrick. The Red Raiders open the 1991 season Saturday, September 7, hosting Cal-Fullerton at 7 p.m.

Who pays the hidden liability tax?

by Senator Teel Bivins

Ten years ago, there were 37,439 personal injury lawsuits filed in Texas courts, not including cases involving auto accidents. Last year, there were an estimated 59,259, an increase of over 58 percent.

While this mushrooming of lawsuits is good for some attorneys, it's bad for Texas. It's a symptom of a big problem facing our Texas.

Simply put, our system of law costs Texas families by inflating the cost of goods and services they buy.

It reduces the options available to consumers by driving products off the market. It discourages economic growth and jobs by making it unprofitable for companies to locate in Texas.

It presents a danger to the health and well-being of Texans by denying them access to life-saving drugs and safe products.

These problems stem from defects in our state's laws governing products liability. They have a particularly strong impact on small businesses, wholesalers, retailers and distributors.

Take the Lubbock retailer, who sold a ladder to a man who loaned it to another man, who tried to carry a piece of plywood up the ladder. The wind blew him off the ladder and he was hurt. He sued not only the out-of-state company that made the ladder, but also the retailer who sold it to his friend who loaned it to him!

Experts say as much as a third of the cost of a householder ladder represents the cost of the manufacturer paying insurance and attorney fees from lawsuits like this.

If a simple ladder is 33 percent more expensive because of the explosion of lawsuits, you can imagine how much more your family spends for prescription drugs, kitchen appliances, cars, and athletic equipment than you need to. For example, the cost of a vaccine may be inflated ten fold because of liability costs, according to some research.

Dr Peter Huber estimates the additional costs to America's economy of liability lawsuits and all that goes with them is $80 billion a year. Texas' share of that could be as much as $4 billion a year. That money is paid by every family, including yours.

That $80 billion doesn't take into account the cost to our Texas economy because of our reputation as happy hunting ground for plaintiff lawyers. Nor does it include the price we pay by not having some products which are never brought to market because of concerns about lawsuits.

All right, who benefits from the current system? Not most injured parties. For every dollar they receive, as many as two dollars are paid to attorney and everyone else who plays a role in the courtroom drama.

No consumers. For they pay the hidden liability tax on every product they buy.

Not small business people. It's small business people who wake up in the middle of the night, worrying about insurance bills and where the next lawsuit is coming from.

Mostly the people who benefit are the lawyers, particularly the personal injury lawyers who profit handsomely from these cases.

Why does the problem persist? Because it involves technical concepts of the law which most people don't understand. Because the pain is inflicted on everyone, but in small doses or hidden ways. So while the price tag for Texas is huge, the cost to any one family is small or concealed.

But we must do something about reforming Texas's products liability laws or we will never shake our growing reputation as a bad place to do business.

In a bipartisan effort, Democratic State Representative Curtis Seidlits (Sherman) and I tried to pass meaningful and reasonable products liability reform earlier this year, during the regular legislative session. The Texas House approved a reform bill by a wide margin (with the support of a majority of Democratic and Republican Representatives), but it was bottled up in the Texas Senate by a handful of personal injury lawyers.

Along with representatives of the business community, Rep Seidlits and I negotiated with these plaintiff attorneys. Regardless of the concessions and compromises we offer, the plaintiff's attorneys were unwilling to budge an inch. Instead, they raised objection after objection until the clock ran out. We understand their position: since they are virtually the only people to benefit from the current lawsuit-happy environment, why should they want change?

We regret their intransigent attitude. Meaningful, long-term reform of our state's products liability laws is critical to economic growth and recovery.

Some legislative leaders are talking about a special study of the issue before we meet again in regular session scheduled for January 1993. Such a study would help lay the groundwork for an answer to this problem, an answer based on consensus that reaches across party lines.

If we want jobs and good paychecks for all our people and if we want to give Texas families the broadest and least expensive range of safe choices in goods and services, then we must reform our products liability laws.

Thank you!
