

Police radio 'tangle' unravels at session of commissioners' court

Garza County's police radio "tangle" that developed some ten days ago was unraveled Tuesday afternoon at a 4½-hour session of the Garza County commissioners' court, part of which was "sat in on" by Mayor Powell Shytle and the city council, Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr. and Deputy Sheriff Elton Corley.

All that went into the commissioners' court minutes was their authorization for the installation of a two-way radio system in the sheriff's office, but the session reportedly resulted in "clarification" of future operation of the radio system, and promises of cooperation among all branches of law enforcement in its use.

County Judge J. E. Parker was out of town yesterday and could not be reached for a full report of the commissioners' session.

Sheriff Claborn told The Dispatch yesterday morning that his department will cooperate with all other officers in the use of the radio for effective law enforcement.

The new radio set installed in the sheriff's office was not in operation yesterday, but was waiting only a frequency change in the equipment, which was expected to be made "anytime now," according to sheriff's officers.

The radio in the sheriff's office will be used by peace officers as they come and go during the regular office hours there.

The main police radio unit, which was moved from the sheriff's office July 1 to the city-owned old telephone building on South Broadway, will continue to operate around the clock.

It was the moving of the equipment by the county from the sheriff's office to the new quarters that triggered the "storm"—now apparently blown over.

In special election Saturday

Precinct 3 remains 'wet' by 178 to 66

Voters of Precinct 3 gave a thumping endorsement to legal liquor Saturday by almost a 3 to 1 margin—178 to 66—in the first performance test at the polls since the same voters went to the polls 15 months ago to approve liquor stores and taverns for the first time by a slim 10 vote margin.

The size of the "wet" vote surprised most Garza countians when the results were available about 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

A "wet" spokesman said that a precinct poll made just after the petition for the wet-dry election was filed indicated the decisive result which came at the polls Saturday.

But the "wets" found their pre-election poll hard to believe, so they worked hard in their campaign. Their major effort was concentrated in getting a big absentee vote in early.

On the other hand, the drys virtually conducted no campaign at all.

The "wets" had plenty of campaign ammunition in economic statistics to use, but didn't need them when the drys didn't come out with a statistical "pitch" of their own.

There is no secret to the fact that the "wets" wanted the results just as decisive as possible to discourage putting the issue back on the precinct ballot year after year.

The Texas liquor law will not permit another election to vote the precinct dry for at least another 12 months. But with the decisive results Saturday, few expect any new election in 1962.

Actually fewer voters turned out to the polls Saturday than they did to vote legal liquor in by a close vote in April, 1960.

Only 244 voters went to the polls Saturday, a dozen less than the 256 who voted in that first wet-dry election in the spring of 1960.

The "wets" garnered 45 more votes this time, 178 as against 133 in 1960. The "dry" got 57 less votes, 66 as against 123 the first time.

The small Verbena voting box voted "dry" again this time by a 14 to 11 margin. It was "dry" by 17 to 12 some 15 months ago. The big Two Draw box voted "wet" 167 to 52 this time as against 121 to 196 in April, 1960.

The Two Draw results were in the courthouse within 30 minutes after the polls closed Saturday. The Verbena box didn't arrive until 45 minutes to an hour later, but the decision wasn't in doubt after the "wet" sweep in the Two Draw area.

Almost 100 folks phoned or stopped in at The Dispatch office Saturday night to learn the election results.

There were no exclamations of elation or dismay this time, as there had been in 1960.

Most of the callers were women, or youngsters.

An explanation for that is that the men were watching the title fight on TV and had the wife or son or daughter call in for the results.

POLICE RADIO IN NEW LOCATION

Dispatcher Byron Haynie is shown at the microphone at the new police radio headquarters in the old telephone building. The radio equipment was moved to its new location July 1 from the sheriff's office. Haynie, one of three full-time dispatchers, is in charge from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m.—(Staff Photo.)

By JIM CORNISH

We are pleased to see an operating agreement worked out for the use of the city-county radio by the sheriff's department once again.

Just a word of advice as to how to contact law enforcement officials. The sheriff's office can be reached by telephone from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. But any other time, citizens need to reach law enforcement officers on duty—whether they be city police or sheriff's officers—they should dial the city police department number—2122.

That will give you the city-county radio dispatcher who will be able to contact either police or sheriff officers on duty. So remember, during night-time emergencies to reach the city-county radio dial the city police department.

Norm Cash made a whole lot of folks glued to the TV screens around town happy late Tuesday afternoon when he got the American League's ninth inning rally going with a ringer double to right-centerfield and thereby giving the all-star game a much needed spark for the first time that day. Cash's extra base blow was only the second hit in the long afternoon for the American Leaguers. It is to be noted that American League Manager Paul Richards didn't lift Cash for a pinch-hitter in the ninth after two strikeouts and an infield roller by the Detroit first sacker. Instead he pinch-hit Jim Gentle ahead of Cash, let Cash bat, and then substituted a runner for Cash. That got another player into the game—but it also proved that Cash's bat has earned a whole lot of respect around the circuit.

We hope the fans respond with plans for a special Garza County bus to drive through to Kansas City for next weekend's Detroit-Kansas City series up in Missouri. That will be the best chance for local fans to see Cash in action this year.

We want to take this opportunity to correct a wrong impression about the recent Chamber of Commerce Fourth of July barbecue. Some 1,698 pounds of beef were donated for that big eating affair—but it didn't all come gratis from Garza ranchers as The Dispatch reported. E. R. (Buster) Moreland, who was chairman of the beef raising committee, told us the other day that a considerable number of oil companies operating in this area contributed a very sizable share of the beef, along with the ranchers. So we want to pass the credit around.

The Post Junior Rodeo is less than two weeks away. Next week, The Dispatch comes up with its annual Rodeo Edition to give the Junior Rodeoers a boost. We think it's going to be a good rodeo again this year with lots of contestants and no bounds to the enthusiasm. Stores here will go a good run next week on western shirts and jeans. So give the queen candidates a boost and buy your rodeo tickets in advance.

Help asked for cleanup of center

All interested adults and youths are asked to be at the Garza County Youth Center at 6 p. m. Monday, July 17 for a grounds and building cleanup. Workers are asked to bring yard tools and paint brushes.

It is hoped to make several improvements at the center before the fall season begins.

Teen Town plans swimming dance

A swimming dance, sponsored by Teen Town for Garza high school age youth, is to be held Saturday night, July 15, at the City-County swimming pool.

Admission of 35 cents will be charged with the party starting at 7 p. m. until 10.

Chartered bus is planned by fans

If enough baseball fans of the Post area are interested in making the trip, a bus will be chartered to take them to Kansas City next Friday for the series between the Detroit Tigers and Kansas City Athletics.

Local fans working on the chartered bus project said it will be a good opportunity for baseball enthusiasts of Post and Garza County to see Norman Cash of Justiceburg and Post in action.

A meeting, at which it will be determined if there is enough interest to charter the bus, will be held at 7 p. m. Monday in the Reddy Room at the Southwestern Public Service Co. building. All fans interested in making the trip are invited to attend the meeting.

Every acre to be mapped

Garza County's first standard soil survey is getting under way here with Soil Scientist Gene Grice, newly assigned to the Soil Conservation Service office, in charge.

Grice, who recently moved here from Loveland where he helped complete a soil survey in Hockley County, said the survey in Garza County will take from three to four years to complete.

"Every acre in the county will be mapped for soil types," Grice said.

Upon completion of the survey, the aerial photographs of Garza

Fireworks remain a menace

Post got off lightly over the Fourth of July holiday as far as fireworks were concerned. Firecrackers were a minor nuisance, with the ordinance against the sale of fireworks within the city being observed but the one against the shooting of fireworks within the city not receiving much attention.

Fireworks are irresistible to some people, and their shooting is by no means confined to children. It is in children's hands that they are potentially most dangerous.

Here adult responsibility breaks down. Aside from the noise nuisance, children shooting firecrackers, rockets, roman candles or even the presumably innocent sparklers, are an unwitting menace. The City of Post has forbidden the shooting of fireworks within its corporate limits. Parents who permit their children to violate the ordinance do nothing to instill a respect for the law.

The Glorious Fourth half a century and more ago was often a day of tragedy because of injuries and the deaths from unrestrained, uncontrolled shooting of fireworks. It became a national problem which was attacked by properly executed and enforced laws.

The nation today no longer falls back on the old slogan of a "safe and sane" July 4 celebration. It has been eliminated by effective legal control. Three states ban fireworks completely. Others, including Texas, have laws controlling their sale, which must be under license. Violation involves a heavy fine and a jail sentence. City ordinances contribute their additional control.

Few things are more thrilling than an elaborate fireworks display. But this can be done only under the supervision of skilled pyrotechnists. Indiscriminate shooting of fireworks remains a menace.—CD.

Help make parade a big one

Rodeo parades here the last few years have pretty much fallen into a pattern—the same clubs and business firms participating from year to year and not enough newcomers.

Junior Rodeo officials and the parade chairman are hoping that this year there will be enough newcomers sponsoring floats or decorated cars, along with the standbys, to make the rodeo parade at 5 p. m. Wednesday, July 26, one of the best, if not the best, in the 14-year history of the Junior Rodeo.

Time is short, however, for getting floats ready for the big parade, and the chairman of the event urges those planning to enter to begin work now. There will be the usual cash prizes for the three top floats.

As in the past, there will be a number of out-town sheriff's posses and other riding groups, and there will be handsome trophies for the first, second and third place winners in this division.

Incidentally, these out-of-town riding groups, many of whom travel a considerable distance to and from Post for the rodeo, will feel better for having participated if the parade is an unusually good one. Many parades are outstanding on account of the visiting riders, instead of on account of the home town floats and other units. To make a really good parade, it should be the other way around.

If you're entertaining a thought of having your own organization or place of business represented by a float or decorated car, don't back down now. Help make the rodeo parade a big one!—CD.

Steps taken toward city court

Those who for the last few years have contended that Post is "plenty big enough" for a city police court are, it appears, going to see their contention bear fruit.

The City Council, at its regular July meeting, took a big step toward the setting up of the court by instructing the city attorney to draw up the required ordinances and by authorizing the mayor to contact a man they already have in mind for the position of city judge.

The city court, it was brought out at the council meeting, would be located in the old telephone building, which the City of Post acquired a few months ago. The duties of the judge, it was pointed out, would be only part-time—perhaps not more than a few hours a week.

With a population of nearly 5,000, Post certainly is in a position for a municipal court, which would handle minor traffic offenses and other misdemeanors within the city that are now being filed in Justice of the Peace court.

We feel certain, too, that this time the city will go about the setting up of a city court in the right way, instead of coming up with another haphazard effort such as that of some three years ago, which couldn't have lasted—and didn't.—CD.

Post Chamber of Commerce officials this week expressed their appreciation of the crowd's behavior at the Independence Day barbecue held at the City-County Park.

When 3,000 people are fed in something like two hours at one place, you'd naturally expect the place to be a shambles when it was all over. But such was not the case at the free barbecue here.

It was necessary, of course, for City of Post sanitation workers to come in after the barbecue was over and clean up some of the clutterment, but their job was nothing like as big as it might have been, because most people partaking of the barbecue carried their empty plates, etc., to the trash containers.

At a Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting last Thursday afternoon, the group expressed its appreciation not only of the large turnout at the barbecue, but also of the crowd's cooperation in not messing up the park and picnic sites.

Now if such a spirit of cooperation could carry over into other days, maybe some of the park vandalism, such as damaged trees, sprinklers, etc., might be reduced.—CD.

Not too many complaints

The boys' summer baseball program is drawing to a close here and, in many ways, this has been one of the best seasons in several years. One reason, of course, is that the Babe Ruth League Park was equipped with lights in time for night play this season, whereas last summer there were no lights, hence no night ball games on the diamond.

Participation in the Garza County Community Chest as one of the benefiting agencies has also helped make this a better season for the youth baseball program, and also the fact that the entire program operated under a central youth recreation organization.

There's still room for improvement as far as the playing fields and facilities themselves are concerned. One thing on which we heard a number of complaints this season is that there are no rest room facilities at the parks. That, of course, is something which should, and no doubt will, be corrected as soon as possible.

As one complainant remarked, "The wide open spaces of West Texas make it mighty unhandy not to have a rest room around close."—CD.

Japanese make Indian souvenirs

Here lately, the Omaha Indian tribe in Nebraska has been looking for a source of income other than their long-standing one of agriculture. The tribe's craftsmen got together and decided that Indian souvenirs would be the best bet to do the job.

They discovered, however, much to their dismay that the market was glutted with "Indian" souvenirs, all made in Japan. Admitting the difficulty of competing with the cheaper and admittedly skillful Japanese labor, the Omahas have decided to try to overcome it by relying on better sales promotion and a shift to less expensive items to improve their sales.

The Omaha Indians may have been shocked by the intrusion of Japan into their souvenir business, but there is really nothing new about this. Turn over the next Texas souvenir you may be tempted to buy and see where it was made.

Yep, you're right. It says: Made in Japan!—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

We are really making progress these days—going modern. Some of the hymn book publishers have left out, among others, that wonderful old hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross."—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Mexico City officials are going to put a plan into operation to end "professional voting" on election days. It is supposed to stop voters from going from precinct to precinct for the purpose of voting more than one time. Each voter will be marked with indelible ink as he casts his vote.

The ink, made by chemists of the Bank of Mexico, can't be washed off for four days, tests have shown. Perhaps the election officials in Jim Wells and Duval counties might want to investigate this miracle ink.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

It is just as well that the automobile makers no longer include a tire pump as new car equipment. The old ones merely provided a sense of false security.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

HEARD OVER THE telephone at The Dispatch office Saturday night while giving liquor election returns: "Well, as wet as the weather has been here lately, you couldn't have expected it to go any other way."

The above observation, coming from a lady who called in shortly after 8 p. m., was one of the few remarks made by the approximately 100 people who called. Most of them merely thanked us and hung up. That was different than it was in April of last year when Precinct 3 went wet. Nearly everyone calling The Dispatch then for the election returns expressed surprise and either jubilation or disappointment, depending, of course, on how they had wanted the election to turn out.

THREE OF US were kept pretty busy during the hour we put in giving out the returns—two of us on the telephones and the other giving the results to people who either stopped in at the office, paused outside on the sidewalk or drove up to the curb in their automobile to ask, "How did it come out?"

My friend up the street is telling about the nervous politician in Washington who complained that all the women looked like Jackie Kennedy except his wife who, no matter what she did, continued to look like Lyndon Johnson.

A COMMITTEE HAS been defined as a group of the unfit appointed by the unwilling to do the unnecessary.

Columnist Bob Wright of the Oconto County Reporter up in Wisconsin did a piece back in April on the art of selling paperbacks that so delighted me that I have waited a chance to pass it on.

Mr. Wright's inspiration came from reading "the paper-backed edition of a truly great contemporary novel," and which, by his own account, "is about as lurid as a Baptist Sunday School primer." According to a blurb on the back cover, however, this was "a lurid tale of animal passions," the implication being, according to Mr. Wright, "that it was printed illegally in France and smuggled over on a cattle boat."

Wherefore this writer deduces that: "Somewhere in the canyons of New York City there must be a flourishing business where hordes of evil-minded writers produce the promotional paragraphs to put on the back covers of books they have never read on the assumption that the reading public will never read anything that isn't 'An exciting story of the raw and lurid, etc.'"

Mr. Wright admits wistfully, however, that he might be had by some wealthy publisher desiring to spark up old books. Here are some of his suggested book-cover blurbs:

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN—From what dark passions was the lovely Eliza fleeing? Was the blonde little Eva really as virtuous as she pretended?"

"U. S. INCOME TAX GUIDE—A daring drama of a man and his deductive wife."

"REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM—Now, forever answered! The truth about the farmer's daughter."

"LITTLE BLACK SAMBO—A gripping drama of... pitting the wild beasts of the jungle against this lone fighter for racial integration."

"THE NEW YORK PHONE DIRECTORY—What drama in the lives of these ever-day men and women! The most tremendous cast of characters ever assembled in a single book."

"HIAWATHA—Even the icy waves of the Shining Big Sea Water came to a boil at the torrid romance of Hiawatha and the shapeless Minnehaha!"

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND—Alice may have been just a girl when she stepped through the mirror, but the things she learned from the Mad Hatter really made a woman of her."

"INNOCENTS ABROAD—Now it can be told! Read what Mark Twain really did in the passion pits of Paris!"

"LADY CHATTERLEY'S LOVER—Excellent information on modern game management practices."

"THE KINSEY REPORT—A good book."

The following classified ad appeared recently in the Edna (Tex.) Herald:

"FOR SALE—Crossroads Grocery, 7 miles SE of Ganado, at intersection 172 and 111. Owing to the Federal Government and our local county government going into the free grocery business, I am unable to meet that kind of competition and meet my own obligations. Contact J. A. Goff Sr., at store."

A READER REMINDS us the Census Bureau says the average American family has 3.5 persons: "That's mama, two children—and the old man after taxes."

In Little League games Sox shut out Corvairs; Dodgers beat Yankees

The Dodgers stayed hot on the heels of the front-running Red Sox Saturday night by beating the Yankees, 10 to 7, after the Red Sox had blanked the Corvairs, 7 to 0, in Little League games.

The Yankees held a 6-5 lead when the Dodgers came to bat in the bottom of the fourth, but the lead was short-lived, with the Dodgers tallying three runs on two hits and going back out in front.

Westerners nip Yankees in 7th

The Westerners and Yankees battled for seven innings last Thursday night before Leroy Saldívar's single scored Perez and Foster to give the Westerners a 13 to 12 Little League victory.

The teams went into the extra inning with the score tied at 11-11. The Yankees went ahead when Ronnie Pierce singled and then scored on M. Laven's double, with one out. Freddie Colizza the third of the three Westerner pitchers, fanned Larry Cummings and Robert Pace to retire the side.

In the bottom of the seventh, Walter Johnson drew a base on balls and Foster singled before Saldívar's game-winning safety.

The Westerners had to come from way back to win after the Yankees scored 11 runs in the first inning. The big blow was a grand slam home run by Yankee shortstop Rabbit Jackson.

Pierce, the Yankees' losing pitcher, had a perfect night at the plate—five for five.

New legislation Telephone misuse law to get tough Aug. 28

Wayne King of Lamesa, district manager of General Telephone Company, called attention this week to state legislation which will affect the use of the telephone here when it becomes effective Aug. 28.

Two bills, passed in the last session of the legislature, were Senate Bill 309, which has to do with fraudulent use of the telephone, and Senate Bill 366, which deals with obstructing the use of a party line during an emergency.

Some pathetic things have happened here in Texas when persons would not give up the line for an emergency call, and telephone companies and individuals are being cheated out of thousands of dollars through fraudulent use of the telephone, King said. The current legislation is an effort to curb such situations, he said.

ACCORDING TO Senate Bill 309, it is a misdemeanor to obtain telecommunication service with the intent to defraud any individual or company through the use of fictitious telephone numbers or false credit cards.

Defrauding or misrepresenting through the use of a code or any prearranged trick or scheme where the telephone is involved is also covered in the bill.

Charging calls to false, nonexistent or discontinued telephone numbers is classified a misdemeanor by the legislation and carries up to a $1,000 fine or up to one year in jail for violation of the law.

SENATE BILL 366 states that it is a misdemeanor to maliciously obstruct emergency telephone calls or to secure the use of the telephone line by falsely claiming that an emergency exists.

Any person refusing to immediately relinquish a party line when such line is needed for an emergency call to a fire department, police department, medical aid, or ambulance service after having been informed that an emergency exists, will be guilty of a misdemeanor.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

Ford Dealers were first with a long-term warranty ...because they have the car to back it up

For 1961 the warranty* on all Ford cars was extended to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first. This action tripled the existing warranty—and scooped the American automobile industry. It was dramatic proof of your Ford Dealer's confidence in the finest, most durable, most reliable Fords ever built. These are the cars with the new service-saving features most other manufacturers are just planning for the future. The '61 Ford goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications . . . 4,000 miles before you need to change oil. Brakes adjust themselves automatically. The muffler is built to last (two times as long as the ordinary type). Body and underbody are specially protected against rust and corrosion. And, Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax. STOP spending money on a car that's behind the times. SWAP for a '61 Ford while sales are booming and the deals are sensational. SAVE when you buy. Continue to save with the car that's built to be more service-free.

*Extended Warranty—Each part of '61 Ford, except tires, is dealer warranted against defects in materials or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. Owner is responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters and ignition parts.

Q. Are the VA regional offices generally located in state capitals?

A. Generally they are in the major cities of each state — which may or may not be state capitals.

Q. I have not been feeling well lately and I think I need a medical check-up. Will the VA do this for me?

A. No. The VA gives medical examinations only to determine the presence of a condition claimed to be service-connected, when needed for Government life insurance purposes or when application is made for hospital or domiciliary care.

Q. I think an inaccuracy in my World War II service record is preventing me from getting VA benefits. How can I go about getting the record corrected?

A. Don't delay—the general deadline for this is October 26, 1961. Make written application to the service concerned, on Department of Defense Form DD 149, "Application for Correction of Military or Naval Record." You can get this form at your nearest VA office.

About Your HEALTH

A healthy public service begins from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. BOLLE, M.D., Commissioner of Health.

AUSTIN—It may seem early, but school is just around the corner and parents with children entering for the first time should begin preparing right now.

The right preparation for those first school days is vital to the future satisfaction and adjustment of your child to his new environment.

If he has an older brother or sister, the task will be easier. But there are many steps for getting ready for school which should be taken before September.

Some effort should be made to make it clear to the child that he will be on his own—without Mom or Dad there to watch over him all the time—a good while before that first day of school.

Clothing should be given much thought. Check the habits of your local school and find out what is the predominant mode of dress. If all the boys wear long pants, by all means make sure your youngster has them, too.

Make sure everything is large enough, but not baggy or his classmates will make fun of him. Proper nutrition is very important. When school starts, allow enough time in the morning for a wholesome breakfast. A good breakfast includes citrus fruit or juice, milk, whole grain cereal or bread, eggs or bacon or both. Lunch and dinner should be leisurely and pleasant, too. The new adventure of school is pretty fast paced, but mealtime offers an opportunity for the family to pause and enjoy being together.

Now is the time to check your school's requirements regarding vaccinations or other health measures and take care of them well in advance.

Also, many Texas school districts require proof of age for first year students in the form of a certified birth certificate.

You may obtain a copy from your local registrar, county clerk, or from the Section on Records and Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, 410 East 9th Street, Austin.

Send one dollar with the name of the child, his or her date of birth, place of birth, father's name, and mother's maiden name.

It would be a good idea to get a copy of your youngster's birth record just as soon as possible to avoid the August rush.
