52 seniors scheduled for graduation Friday

Two members of the Post School senior class will graduate Friday night in exercises at Antelope Stadium—weather permitting. The ceremony will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening. The weather is considered a big factor in both place and time for graduation program, since rain would cancel the baccalaureate services on Sunday night to the primary school auditorium with an 8:30 start—30 minutes later than the scheduled starting time. It was the first time in the four years that high school graduation exercises have been held at the football stadium that the weather has forced a change in plans. Paul Faulkner, Dean of Men at Abilene Christian College, will be the speaker at Friday night's commencement program. He will be introduced by R. T. Smith, superintendent of schools.

Graduation program is tonight for 8th grade

Fifty-five 8th grade students are scheduled for graduation tonight at 8 o'clock in the primary school auditorium. The program will be presented by Mrs. Rosa Gambin and Glenn Whittenberg, junior high school principal, will present the certificates of graduation. The program will include a piano solo by Brenda Haley and a song by the 8th grade girls "The Teen Tones," "Look for the Silver Lining." The processional and recessional will be played by the Junior High band, directed by Bruce M. Evans, Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, will give the invocation.

Tate resigns city position

R. H. (Henry) Tate, who came to Post as city superintendent Sept. 13, 1948, has resigned to return to his hometown of Jacksboro, also as city superintendent. Tate's resignation, which has been accepted with regret by the city council, becomes effective June 1. At Jacksboro, Tate will work with about the same size municipal set-up as he has been here. Both cities have about the same number of water meters—between 1,400 and 1,500—and are similar in size in other respects. Tate was city superintendent at Jacksboro for 23 years before coming here in 1948 when John B. Herd was mayor and Vachel Anderson and a Dr. Kahler were on the city commission. Since that time, Tate has worked with four other mayors—T. L. Jones, James L. Minor, Powell Shytles and the present mayor, Harold Lucas—and has seen the form of city government change from the two-member commission type to the five-member council type.

School board approves tentative budget, lower than last year's

Hires director of instruction

The Post school board, at a called meeting Saturday, approved a tentative budget for 1963-64, increased the tuition charge for transfer students, employed a director of instruction, elected two classroom teachers and accepted the resignation of another.

Barry B. Thompson of Levelland, who will succeed R. T. Smith on July 1 as superintendent of schools here, met with the board. The tentative budget drawn up by the superintendent-elect is for $585,347.20, as compared with a total of $587,106.20 for the 1962-63 school year. Board President E. R. Moreland and other board members made note of the fact that this is the first budget tentatively approved here in several years that shows a reduction over the previous year's figure. Thompson called the board's attention to an increase of 60 students for the coming school year and said the proposed budget is, in his opinion, "as little as we can operate on effectively." An item-by-item breakdown of the budget will be available after the equalization board meets, Thompson said. The 1963-64 tuition charge recommended by Thompson and approved by the board, will be $227.50 for each transfer student, an increase of $10.52 over the 1962-63 charge. William F. Shivers of Andrews was employed as director of instruction at a salary of $8,200 per year on a two-year contract. In recommending Shivers to the board, Thompson explained that the employment of a director of instruction will greatly improve the quality of instruction. A need for such improvement has been intensified by the fact that the school here is now eligible for an additional full-time principal for the coming school year, it was explained to the board. SHIVERS HOLDS Bachelor of Science and Master of Education degrees from the University of Texas, where his majors were history, educational psychology, and public school administration. He has had nine years service in the public schools of Texas and for the past three years has taught accelerated honors programs in the Andrews schools. He was named outstanding teacher in the Andrews school system for 1962 and was nominated for American Teacher of the Year in the Look Magazine competition. Shivers is now in Washington, D. C., as a special consultant to the National Office of Education in the use of audio-visuals in teaching. He was one of two teachers selected from Texas for this work. His duties here as director of instruction will include setting up a curriculum improvement program and in being directly responsible to the superintendent in evaluating teachers and principals. Other duties will include in-service training program, summer school organization and supervision, various coordination programs, guidance and counseling, research and experimentation, and numerous others. ALSO UPON THE recommendation of the superintendent-elect, the board voted to employ Miss Betty Chambers as a junior high social studies teacher and Miss Linda Reed as a Spanish teacher in the See SCHOOL BOARD, Page 8

Thirty-Sixth Year Post, Garza County, Texas, Thursday, May 23, 1963 Number 51

Garza County rejoices over 'soaker'

A double-barreled thunderstorm, which brought heavy downpours to many sections of the South Plains Tuesday morning and again Tuesday night, dumped welcome moisture ranging from 1.2 to over 4 inches across Garza County. All farmers agreed that they had plenty of rain now to plant the 1963 cotton crop. Some will have to replant. It was estimated that 40 per cent of the cotton which had been planted but was not up will have to be replanted as the hard rain washed in and crusted the ground. Little dryland cotton had been planted before the Tuesday storm, however. The official moisture measurement here in Post was 2.59 inches for the 24 hour period beginning at 8 a. m. Tuesday and ending at 8 a. m. Wednesday. County Agent Syd Conner estimated approximately three-quarters of an inch fell Tuesday morning in a downpour which began about 8:30 a. m. The other 1.82 inches fell Tuesday night in a storm accompanied by high winds. Moisture reports from over the county on the Tuesday rains included 1 to 1.8 inches at Canyon Valley, 2 1/2 to 3 inches at Graham, 2 inches at Pleasant Valley, 2 inches at Close City and 4 inches seven miles southeast of Post. The Southland area received a heavy downpour with water still over US-84 Wednesday morning. The "top" measurement reported to The Dispatch came from S. D. Lofton, who said his gauge yesterday morning registered 4.12 inches at his home on top of the "cap," just southwest of Post. Lofton said lakes were up over farm roads. See HEAVY RAINS, Page 8

Rites conducted at Jacksboro for drowning victim

Funeral services for Haskell Syrus, 53-year-old Lubbock carpenter, who drowned late Saturday afternoon in the Justiceburg Lake, were conducted at 2 p. m. yesterday in the Mountain Home Church near Jacksboro. The Lubbock man's body was at 2:10 a. m. Sunday, nearly eight hours after a boat overturned while he and a companion, Lester Decker, also of Lubbock, were running a trolley. Decker and Syrus' son, Charles Syrus, were almost drowned in their attempts to save the older man. The son was fishing on the shore when the boat overturned and swam out to aid Decker in his attempts to save Syrus. Two other Lubbock men, L. S. Ostrander and Finis Wright, hauled the younger Syrus and Decker from the water. They were brought to Garza Memorial Hospital here and kept overnight for treatment of shock. Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr., who arrived at the lake a few minutes after the accident, said the boat was about 400 feet from the shore when it overturned. Both the Post and Snyder fire See SYRUS RITES, Page 8

New pastor for Presbyterians

The First Presbyterian Church has extended a call to the Rev. Edgar Graham Jr., of Fort Worth to become its new pastor. The call was voted by the congregation Sunday following a worship service conducted by the Rev. Graham. It is subject to the approval of the Presbytery of which the Post church is a member and of the release of Rev. Graham from the Presbytery of which his Fort Worth church is a member. Mr. Graham and his wife, Anne, are expected to arrive here about July 1.

Funeral held for Mrs. B. Dodd, 83

Funeral services for Mrs. B. Dodd, 83, of 402 South Ave. H, who died last Thursday in a nursing home at Roscoe after a long illness, were conducted at 4 p. m. Saturday at the Church of Christ here. Mrs. Dodd had been a resident of Post and vicinity since early childhood. She was born Beulah Wilburn on Nov. 27, 1879, at Caddo Mills, Tex., and was married to B. Dodd in 1912 at Marshall. She had been a member of the Church of Christ for 47 years. Herbert A. Smith, minister, officiated at the funeral services. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were George Self, D. L. McCravy, Elva Peel, Horace Chaney, Vancil Bowen and Bryan Morgan. She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. E. A. Morgan of Post and Mrs. Johnnie Lee Chaney of Plainview; three sisters, Mrs. Elgie Stewart and Mrs. Bob Rogers, both of Post, and Mrs. Bertha McKinney of Houston; 11 grandchildren and 34 great-grandchildren.

New officers elected, District 7 VFW meet

The annual District 7 convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies' Auxiliary was held in Post Saturday and Sunday with the convention's peak attendance of 140 registered at a luncheon held at noon Sunday in the City Hall auditorium. Max Chaffin, commander of John Miller Post 6797, which was host for the convention, said many of the delegates and visitors described the convention as "the best we've ever attended." Carter Younts of Sinton, Department of Texas commander, was principal speaker at Sunday's joint luncheon of the VFW and Auxiliary. Yount's talk was on membership and he pointed out that of the 184 million people in the nation, more than 22 million are veterans who have served in the U. S. armed forces in time of war. The state commander quoted these figures in calling attention to the potential members who are eligible for membership in the VFW or its Ladies' Auxiliary. At a business meeting following Sunday's luncheon, Roy Milam of Lubbock was elected District 7 commander to succeed Jess Kirkland of Lamesa. Other officers elected were: Skip Leach, Lubbock, senior vice commander; John Bordeaux, Brownfield, junior vice commander; Herschel Sims, Levelland, quartermaster; Cecil Scott, Slaton, surgeon; Jack Diamond, Lubbock, chaplain; and Kirkland, Walter Moser of Slaton and Bill Rice of Brownfield, trustees. Officers elected by the VFW Auxiliary were: Mrs. Lynn B. Jones, Lubbock, president; Mrs. R. L. Richardson, Tahoka, senior vice president; Mrs. Fred Williams, Lubbock, junior vice president; Mrs. E. B. Blumberg, Spur, treasurer; Mrs. N. T. Conner, Lubbock, See VFW MEET, Page 8

Buddy Poppies to be sold Saturday

VFW "Buddy" Poppies will be sold in Post Saturday, May 25, with the Auxiliary of John Miller Post No. 6797, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in charge. Gov. John Connally has followed the VFW and its Ladies Auxiliary in designating the period of May 24-31 as VFW "Buddy" Poppy Days. The poppies will be on sale here "from morning until night" Saturday, members of the VFW Auxiliary said. The poppies are made by disabled war veterans. Part of the proceeds are retained here for use by the local post in its assistance to disabled veterans or needy families of deceased veterans and the rest of the proceeds go to the national organization for the same purpose. Construction is begun on new Presbyterian Church

Construction was scheduled to start this week on the new First Presbyterian Church following approval Sunday by the church congregation of the bid of the Manhattan Construction Company submitted by Ronnie Boucher. The 7,000 square foot brick church will face south on a half block site on West Tenth street and North Avenue S, already owned by the Presbyterians. The church will cost approximately $70,000 and will be ready for occupancy in approximately six months. Architect, Henry Steinbomer of San Antonio, the church will include a sanctuary of contemporary Gothic design with laminated wood beams, paneled walls, refrigerated air conditioning, and a stained glass front window. The sanctuary will seat 150. The educational wing will include two large classroom areas which can be divided into five classrooms, kitchen facilities, and separate nursery facilities. The pastor's study and a library will be located behind the sanctuary. Evaporative cooling will be See CONSTRUCTION, Page 8

Memorial Day is next Thursday

The Dispatch will be published on Wednesday next week as Memorial Day—a Chamber of Commerce holiday here—falls on Thursday.

Most stores are expected to close for the holiday along with offices and the courthouse. There will be no mail deliveries. Details are yet to be completed for the annual joint Memorial Day services at 10 a. m. next Thursday in Terrace Cemetery, honoring Garza County's war dead of all wars. The services will be co-sponsored by the John Miller VFW Post No. 6797 and the James C. Cole American Legion Post 270.

POSTEX HAS VISITORS

Walter Hildebrand of Burlington Industries from Greenville, S. C., brought four visitors here Monday to inspect the Postex Cotton Mills. They were Mr. and Mrs. Heiman of Los Angeles (he is with the May Company there and a Burlington customer), Robert Buzzini with Burlington's Dallas office, and Mrs. Jean St. Andre, whose husband is with the Dallas office of Burlington.

Don't stop now, graduates!

Don't stop now! That's our admonition to Post High School graduates of 1963 as they prepare to step forward and receive their diplomas tomorrow night at Antelope Stadium.

We hope you will aim high—and start an even greater journey next year—by going on to college.

Many are planning to do so. Others are undecided. Some will find it difficult to finance. A few will be helped by Post folks via locally financed scholarships and student loans. And there will be those who are determined enough to work their way through.

The Dispatch notes with pride that each year a higher and higher percentage of Post high school graduates go on to college.

Surveys show that a college degree is worth a couple of hundred thousand dollars to a wage earner over his working lifetime added income.

But that is only one reason to place the emphasis upon a college education.

Since you entered high school four years ago the world has entered the Space Age. More than ever before technology in a wide variety of fields has opened new opportunities and horizons to the young people who qualify.

We were reading in a national news magazine this week that today's hard core of employment is made up of the high school "drop outs" of just 20 years ago.

It may not be long until the college education will replace today's high school education requirement to obtain any kind of a job opportunity in industry.

What's more, many of the new skills as well as many of the old in this modern world require not one, but two or more degrees. That means that whereas the bachelor's degree may shortly replace the high school diploma as an educational requirement, the master's and doctor's degree will replace the bachelor's degree for the really educationally skilled in most fields.

We can only hope that the next important step forward in our high school program here will be in the installation of an effective counseling program to guide students toward college both in a necessary scholastic schedule and in the desire to make the most out of their lives.

Many college scholarships today go unused simply because students are not aware on their high school campuses that such scholarships even exist. What's more most colleges and universities have a variety of job and loan opportunities to help deserving students with scholastic aptitude.

Students need to be guided toward specific fields. These decisions can best be made in the high school years when proper high school requirements can be met.

Finally, we want to point out that college opens a broad new horizon to every student—a world full of opportunities to those willing to seek them. It is for this reason alone that every youngster who can should go to college.

To all Post high's 1963 graduates, The Dispatch offers its congratulations and our earnest hope for far greater achievements ahead.

We would ask you to remember that it was opportunity which has made America great — individual opportunity. Opportunity and security cannot go hand in hand. You must choose one or the other. And we only hope your choice will be for opportunity. Don't hem yourself in with security. Because if you do, it will smother your opportunities.—JC

He is almost indispensable

There is an old and time worn saying that no man is indispensable, but if any man were, City Supt. R. H. (Henry) Tate would come as near filling the bill as any man we've ever known.

Mr. Tate has resigned his position here as city superintendent to return to his home town of Jacksboro in the same capacity.

The city superintendent's resignation comes after 15 years here in the position and he is returning to the only other town in which he ever worked. He started his long career of municipal employment with the City of Jacksboro on May 1, 1925, and came here 23 years later.

Jacksboro has been trying to get him back ever since. They've finally succeeded and Henry and his wife, Jennie, will be returning to Jacksboro in time for him to assume his duties there June 1.

As city superintendent here, Mr. Tate has seen Post grow and grow. He has had a big part in that growth. All city operations have been under his supervision and today Post is second to no city its size in all-around municipal efficiency.

Someone who has been close to city operations even longer than Mr. Tate told us that in all the years Henry has been here—under the administrations of five mayors—he has never heard a cross word between Henry and any other mayor or city councilman.

That, in itself, is quite an accomplishment when one considers all the opportunities there must have been for misunderstandings and even fallings-out.

The city superintendent has helped "put the city on the map" through his work with the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, which he has served as president, vice president, and in other capacities and in which he holds an honorary life membership. He has also held top offices in the Permian Water and Sewage Works Association and in the Northwest Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, which was the first one organized in the state.

Mr. Tate has served on the board of deacons of the First Baptist Church all the time he has lived in Post and was a Baptist deacon in his own home town for 18 years before coming here. Mrs. Tate has also been active in church work, especially in the Woman's Missionary Union.

We could go on and on about Henry and Jennie and how we regret losing them to Jacksboro, and about how Post's loss is Jacksboro's gain, etc., etc. But those who know the couple don't need us telling them. The only thing is, no town or city could afford to lose folks like the Tates any more often than every 15 years.—CD

Count on the insurance people

The people who manage the business of insurance and those who sell insurance here in Post are big contributors to the economy of the community. In addition, you'll find them among the community's leaders in such organizations as the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Lions Club, etc., and in every field of civic endeavor.

The above is by way of introduction to what one of the speakers said at the annual convention of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents, held recently in San Antonio.

The speaker, Paul B. Cullen, president of the Insurance Information Institute, said the insurance business will more than double by 1975 and probably double again by the year 2000.

That prediction by Mr. Cullen who is also director of public relations for the Aetna Life Affiliated Companies, of Hartford, Conn., not only gives the insurance business something to look forward to, but also points up the importance insurance plays and is going to play in the future in the American way of life.

Mr. Cullen said rapid growth is inevitable if the insurance business is to keep pace with the expected growth of the nation's economy and population during the next 40 years. Thus, he said, the premium volume which totaled $30 billion for all lines of insurance in 1960 will exceed $60 billion by 1975 and multiply by four or five times by the year 2000.

Citing estimates of leading economists, Mr. Cullen pointed out that by the year 2000 the U. S. population will increase from 130 million to more than 265 million and possibly to as much as 433 million. Some of the other projected figures, he said, stagger the imagination. For example, the labor force will double, reaching 142 million, and the gross national product of the U. S. will increase four-fold to between $2 and $3 trillion by the year 2000.

The Dispatch's opinion is that the people who manage the business of insurance and those who sell insurance won't stand still. They will see to it that the insurance business accommodates itself readily to the underlying changes in our economy and to the changing wants of a rapidly growing population.—CD

They've earned retirement

The high esteem and respect in which two Post teachers leaving the profession are held was amply attested to Tuesday night of last week at the reception honoring Miss Bonnie McMahon and Mrs. Mae Smith.

These two teachers are retiring after a combined total of some 70 years of teaching, in which time they must have taught somewhere between 8,000 and 10,000 students.

The Community Room at the First National Bank was crowded with friends and fellow teachers of Miss McMahon and Mrs. Smith, and the reception struck us as one of the most sincere we've ever attended.

The two teachers were honored with gifts and words of praise from the Post Parent-Teacher Association, the school board and their fellow faculty members.

If all the students Miss McMahon and Mrs. Smith have taught in their combined 70 years of teaching had been present to help honor them, it would have taken a much bigger place than any we have in Post to hold them.

Anyone who doubts that teaching school is worthy of the term "most noble profession" should have been present at the reception. It convinced us.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Either there is life on sister planets, or a lot of material was wasted in the information of this family of solar satellites, especially in the case of Jupiter, which is 1,300 times as large as the earth.—Olin Miller in The Seguin Gazette.

It is so far from El Paso to Austin, Tex., that an early-day senator, traveling with a wagon train for safety against the Indians, did not reach Austin until the legislature had met, transacted all business and adjourned.—The Olney Enterprise.

THE PRICE OF cigarettes has gone up. Since I've been smoking Raleighs since the first of the year and saving the coupons to exchange for a Christmas present for my wife, that's going to make the value of her gift go up.

Before I go any farther, congratulations and best wishes to Post's high school and junior high school graduates.

INCIDENTALLY, a shopper told me that it was next to impossible to purchase gift-wrapping paper over the weekend. The shopper said there had been such a "run" on it for graduation gift-wrapping that stocks were depleted to the point of exhaustion.

I WANTED TO see Chateaugay win the Preakness Saturday, but I was so thankful that CBS had changed announcers that I wasn't too disappointed when Candy Spots beat out my choice. It was the first horse race I've seen on television in a long time in which I could understand what the man was saying. The Saturday before, when they ran the Kentucky Derby, we didn't get to see the horses break from the gate because a beer commercial was on, and then the announcer (the one I can't understand) didn't tell anyone that Chateaugay was coming from behind on the outside until the race was nearly over. It appears that someone must have put a bee in the CBS bonnet between the Derby and the Preakness.

This Week's Health Note: If you drink a glass of milk every morning for 1,200 months, you will live to be 100 years old.

OUR NEIGHBOR, Mrs. Dick Wood, after reading through Post's 56th Birthday Edition of The Dispatch, gave us a page from a Florida newspaper sent her by her daughter. It was a story and pictures of the mansion in Florida given to the state by Mrs. Marjorie Post May for use as a museum. Our thanks to Mrs. Wood, herself a pioneer resident of Post, for her thoughtfulness.

Betty Beale in her Sunday column, "The Lighter Side of Washington," also had something interesting about Mrs. Marjorie Post May that you may or may not have read.

The columnist wrote of Mrs. May chartering a DC7 to transport 24 outstanding high school students from Battle Creek, Mich., to Washington, D. C., for a three-day visit. In return for her generosity, the high school students gave Mr. S. May a gold tray that was gold-plated by the art teacher at their high school and etched with a scene from Mrs. May's childhood in Battle Creek. It showed the frame building where her father, C. W. Post, concocted the first Post cereal, the old maple tree beside it and the swing in which she played as a child.

THE MAN UP the street defines modesty as the art of encouraging people to find out for themselves how smart you are.

Something we're saving for future use is the offer of a series of "Boating Tips" for publication in The Dispatch. By way of introducing the offer, Keikhaefer Corp., Fond du Lac, Wisc., says more than 37 million persons participated in recreational boating during 1962, many of them for the first time. This number will increase, we're sure, when the White River lake becomes available for recreational boating, and that is why we aren't throwing away the free offer of "Boating Tips." There might be many things in those tips that will come in handy for Commodore David Newby and other members of the recently-organized Four Winds Sailing Club.

CHEER UP! If at first you don't succeed—that makes you about average.

The District 7 VFW and Ladies Auxiliary convention held here Saturday and Sunday was described by many of those in attendance as the best district VFW convention they'd ever attended. One of these was Carter Younts of Austin, Department of Texas commander.

EAT HEARTY AND STARVE
Three hearty meals a day is no guarantee of good health. It is "what you eat" and not "how much" that counts.

Strangely enough, in the richest agricultural nation on earth, an alarming percentage of the population is deficient in consumption of vital nutrients such as calcium and vitamin C. Even overweight people who eat high calorie foods rarely get a real balanced diet.

The current popularity of low calorie foods tends to make some people thin—as intended—but the person rarely bothers to make certain of a balanced diet, according to studies by agricultural officials. A danger point is approached when these low calorie eating habits prevent a person from getting enough protective foods necessary for good health.

For example, the National Research Council recommends a daily intake of .8 grams of calcium as necessary for good health. Yet only about one person in six takes that much calcium daily—and calcium is abundant in eggs, milk and cheese.

It is well established that vitamin C is important in maintaining health, teeth and gums. Most people are 10 per cent below normal in vitamin C intake except in areas where citrus fruits are plentiful.

Texas is a big producer of citrus fruits. The diet study seems to suggest that foods rich in vitamins should be promoted and made more attractive to adults. From dried citrus concentrates and dependable year-round sources the vitamin deserve more attention in the family diet.

Greater calcium consumption should be encouraged through increased public education on the use of milk and milk products, perhaps also through development of new calcium-rich foods. On eating of the wrong foods, make a person fat, but he still is starving for the essential nutrients.

Channel cats are the only fish of the catfish tribe to be considered truly game fish by Texas anglers. They rate on a par with white bass and crappie, and just below the lordly black bass. More pugnacious than crappie, they equal white bass as scrappers and measure only a few notches below black bass when it comes to putting up

Post man serves on carrier that recovered Cooper

USS KEARSARGE (FHNC) — David D. Beck, boatswain's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Z. Beck of Post, Tex. serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge, took part in the Pacific recovery of Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper after his 22 orbits of the earth.

'DIAMOND HEAD' SCENE
Above is a scene from "Diamond Head," which opens Sunday at the Tower Theatre and continues through Tuesday. Charlton Heston, Yvette Mimieux and George Chakiris star in the giant story of modern Hawaii.

Thirteen ships in the Pacific Recovery Force patrolled five pre-planned recovery areas during the flight. The ships were supported by Navy carrier-based aircraft and Air Force land-based planes. A special world-scanning naval communications network linked the Pacific force with the Atlantic recovery force and Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The other 12 ships were the destroyer USS Epperton, USS Fletcher, USS John W. Thomason, USS John A. Bole, USS Lofberg, USS Duncan, USS Mansfield, USS Frank Knox, USS Taussig, USS De Haven, USS Lyman K. Swenson and USS Shelton.

The communications for the Pacific Recovery Force were centered at Honolulu, one of the world's largest naval communications stations. It connects the Pacific force with recovery elements around the world and with Cape Canaveral.

Gains are being made on verticillium wilt

A significant step forward has been taken in the search for more effective ways of fighting verticillium, a serious cotton disease problem in large areas of the Belt.

Researchers have isolated a substance which definitely checks germination of wilt. The substance was extracted from wilt-tolerant plants.

Further work is being done to establish validity of the findings. The discovery moves researchers a step closer to their aim—to perfect techniques that will lead to a systemic method of controlling verticillium wilt.

Some varieties of cotton can resist the disease. However, certain valuable new varieties cannot be planted because they are susceptible to it.

The research is being done by the Agricultural Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, with support by the National Cotton Council.

During daylight hours channel cats siesta in sheltered spots such as deep holes, overhanging rocks and underwater brush. At dark they move out into the swift and shallow water.

Almost any method of fishing will catch channel cats. One of the most effective is the old, time-honored pole and line. Then there are drop lines and trotlines stretched across channels. Also what is known as a bank pole. The bank pole is a variation of the drop line, made by attaching a 2-0 hook to a 3-foot chalk line tied to any slim, green wood pole. Push butt of pole into mud bank so that the live bait will move and jump just below the water surface.

MINNOWS MAKE good channel cat bait—either live or wadded balls of slightly ripe dead ones. Crawfish, all sorts of stink bait, chicken guts, cheese and dough also make excellent bait. Cottonseed meal and flour mixed with enough water to form a tough round ball is a bait for channels that is good at any time.

Channel cats are lively, healthy fish, almost free of parasites. They have an insatiable appetite and can thrive in almost any kind of water, even where other fish will die. In the north, channel cats have been known to survive after being frozen in ice all winter. Just so the gills are moist, channel cats are able to live.

Channel cats make great game fish. When snagged in shallow water they often leap out of the water like bass in an attempt to throw the hook. Interspersing these jumps, they take long, explosive runs into

John Newton Hill, 36-year-old Tahoka man, literally ran into $299.80 worth of trouble on US-44 northwest of Post last Thursday afternoon—not counting damage to his car.

 Although the crash knocked fender off his car, Hill didn't escape unscathed.
 The accident was quickly reported to the sheriff's office here and Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Mers caught Hill 12 miles southeast of Post on US-44.
 In county court, Judge J. E. Parker fined him $150 for driving while intoxicated, sentenced him three days in jail and suspended his driver's license for three months.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

Bugs, tree leaves, flower leaves, restricted driver's license test, and contact lenses are almost overshadowing graduation exercises at our home.

It has been easy to spot mothers of sophomores the last couple of weeks. They are the ones with the frenzied, frantic looks. If while you were talking to one and their eyes kept darting around it's only because they are on the look-out for unusual, rare, or in some cases, just any bug.

If while driving down the street a female has almost collided with you, it could be a mother trying to capture a bug in the car or madly looking for leaf No. 25.

I'm sick of jars containing bugs decorating our house and sick of having my ignorance displayed identifying (or not identifying) wrongly such simple leaves as the Chinese Elm as opposed to the American Elm.

One thing about these collections that amazes me is that they are not passed. Many long years ago when I was a sophomore, we too, collected bugs and leaves. We even had it a little harder because we had to collect wild flowers. Of course, this gave us an excuse to spend the day in the country Sunday after Sunday and get out of all sorts of chores.

Well, the collecting has made it quite pleasant to get away from the house for all the activities one seems to have when one has a senior living in the house—at least she is still sleeping here.

We've learned real fast at our house what it means when one hears from an authority on the subject that one really has to want contact lenses real bad to wear them. One crisis follows another just when you think things are about normal.

Miss C, the elder, has done real time with her lenses until I started writing about them. Suddenly something went wrong and the tears start pouring out and we all run to assist. Another crisis is past.

Miss C, the younger, is suffering as much as one can and has finally worked up to an hour a day plus one huge box of tissues to catch the flowing tears. As we came home from the office one day, there she sat weeping over her bug collection. I told her it wasn't that bad (some of the specimens have all their legs and antennae) and then I found out it was contact time and had nothing to do with bugs.

In order to pay more attention

THE FAST PACE OF LIFE

You'll find lots of people concerned about the tempo of life today. But most of them simply catch a breath when they can, and try to keep up with the pace.

There is something more important!

The winner trains . . . and plans his race. He may lag behind for a while, but he is confident of hidden resources. When others have burned up their energy and enthusiasm, he forges to the front. As they wilt in the home stretch, he sprints across the finish line.

The Church can help you train . . . and plan! A Christian is concerned with his own spiritual stamina rather than the fast pace of life. He is ready with hidden resources when the moment of challenge comes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Registration system would beat poll tax

(After a long and careful study, the League of Women Voters of Texas has concluded that Texas' present form of periodic voter registration (the poll tax system) is inadequate and should be replaced by a permanent registration system. The following is the third in a series of articles explaining why the League takes this stand.)

As previous articles have pointed out, it's time for a change in Texas' voter registration system. Voters signaled their desire to end the poll tax in the May primaries last year. Also, states are now ratifying the proposed 24th amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would abolish use of the poll tax for voting in national elections.

To meet the challenge, Texas should adopt a PERMANENT registration system divorced from the poll tax, says the League of Women Voters of Texas.

How would the system work? Why would it be the best?

For John Q. Voter, it would be simple. He would merely go before the registration officer, produce the proper credentials to prove he is who he says he is, give other pertinent information, and then sign the registry. That's all. Then, he would be given a registration card. When he appeared at the polls, he would produce this card, and also sign his name, which would be checked against his original signature.

Now John Q. is a registered voter for life. No more trotting to pay a poll tax, no more racing the deadline to buy back his right to vote. Only "club dues" are that JQ must vote. If he fails to vote within a specified time (two or four years is recommended) he would have his registration suspended or cancelled unless he requests reinstatement. Preferable practice is to notify the voter and permit him to apply for a continuance.

A satisfactory registration system will apply to all voters and in the same manner throughout the state. It would be used for all elections, city, county, special, bond, etc.

Registration costs will be reduced under the permanent system. Once the original records are compiled, the job then would be one of purging the lists of those who have died, moved away or failed to vote and of adding the names of new voters. In other states with permanent systems, new registrations each year average less than one-tenth of the total. Compare this to the monstrous job of registering ALL the voters EVERY year, as Texas does now.

By regular list purging and by improved identification, the chance for fraud will be drastically reduced.

Servicemen, otherwise qualified to vote, would not be required to register, nor would their spouse and dependents.

These are but a few of the salient points in a satisfactory registration system. Citizens interested in obtaining a permanent system should join with the League in supporting legislation now being considered in the current session of the Legislature.

'Know Your Soil' is new publication of U. S. Soil Conservation Service

For the suburban dweller who has soil problems in his garden, or the engineer looking for a building site, the latest publication by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will come in mighty handy.

The new publication is called "Know Your Soil" and explains how soil scientists of the Department of Agriculture are gradually mapping the soils of this country and what these maps mean to every citizen.

A copy may be obtained from the local SCS office, 402 West 8th St., said Bobby J. Gray, work unit conservationist.

A soil is three-dimensional, according to the publication. "It is bounded on the top by the surface of the land, on the bottom by rock, and on the sides by other soils. The first job of the soil scientist is to distinguish between these separate soils. More than 70,000 different kinds are recognized now."

"While the original purpose of making soil surveys was to provide information to the nation's farmers so that they could better take care of its food-producing soil, gradually more and more people in all walks of life are seeing the need about soil," Gray said. "Septic tanks that won't work, houses that slide from their foundations, and highways that crack up, might be prevented by knowing more about soils."

New Civil War book story of Texas company

AUSTIN — A new chapter has been added to the significant history of Texans in the Civil War with the publication of Col. Harold B. Simpson's "Gaines' Mills to Apomattox," (Texian Press-Waco, 294 pgs., $7.50), according to Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, director and librarian, Texas State Library.

The new book is the story of the Lone Star Guard (afterwards known as Company E) of the Fourth Texas Infantry Regiment, Hood's Texas Brigade.

Colonel Simpson is currently assigned as Comptroller of the 12th Air Force, Waco. Although a native of Illinois, he succumbed to the South after having spent most of his 23 years military service in Southern States.

Roger N. Conger, a recognized Texas historian, wrote in the introduction: "the Civil War with all its incredible experiences will probably never be supplanted as a topic of major interest."

"The author set a good stage for the chronological appearance of the heroic company that left Waco on July 22, 1861 under the command of Capt. Edward D. Ryan.

"Historians will be especially pleased with Colonel Simpson's wealth of original research, particularly from the aging record books of the McLennan County Commissioners' Court.

"His narratives of some of the great battles — Gettysburg, The Wilderness and bloody Chickamauga—have seldom been surpassed in the catalog of Civil War writing," Conger remarked.

PCG's technical service to textile mills given additional recognition

LUBBOCK — The growing success and importance of Plains Cotton Growers' technical service to the world's textile mills, called "Cottech," has been given additional recognition by an invitation to PCG Textile Industry Relations Consultant James S. Parker from the American Textile Manufacturers Institute. The institute invited Mr. Parker to present a paper entitled "A Technical Service Program For The Cotton Spinning Industry" to its annual meeting May 15 and 16 in Clemson, S. C.

Two hundred copies of the 20-page technical paper were requested by the Institute for advance publicity, and hundreds of the nation's top textile executives will read the report in person.

The paper sets out to show how both domestic and foreign mills can benefit by availing themselves of PCG's Cottech service, and cites two concrete examples of how Cottech found ways to institute substantial savings in the operation of cotton spinning mills. Cottech does fiber tests, spinning tests, yarn testing and analysis, color studies and quality control programs, all as a part of PCG's promotion of High Plains cotton, and without cost to the mills.

The Cottech technical service program was officially launched only last October, and already has conducted research and spinning tests for a number of cotton spinners in Texas, Georgia, New Jersey, Sweden and Austria. Some of these programs are still going on and others are being initiated every month. Research is carried out through the Textile Research Laboratories at Texas Tech under Parker's supervision, which gives the program access to complete and modern fiber testing equipment and a 1000 spindle spinning plant.

Parker, a 1950 graduate of Carolina State College Textile School, is a native of North Carolina. He was a Textile Engineering Professor at Carolina State for five years, has written and had published sev-

Chevy II Nova 400 6-Passenger Station Wagon

A Chevy II wagon looks this big when you load it up and this big when you gas it up

That, in the eyes of most Chevy II wagon owners, is just about the size of it. A king-size appetite for cargo. But a dainty one for gas. And this, we hardly need add, is just the kind of wagon we planned it to be. Taut and trim as it is on the outside, we went to great lengths to keep it BIG where a wagon should be BIG. The load platform extends a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate.

And for all the pepper we packed into that 6-cylinder engine (there's also a choice of an even thriffter 4 in most models), we were careful to keep it simple, easy to service—and a real stickler on economy.

Feel in a traveling mood? Well—happy coincidence—this is the time of year your Chevrolet dealer feels in his most generous trading mood. Looks like it's high time you two got together.

VFW meet—

Secretary: Mrs. Frances Sargent. Station, chaplain; Mrs. Sarah Dodge Lubbock, conductress, and Mrs. Agnes Welch, Post, guard.

The VFW passed a number of resolutions pertaining to veterans' legislation and also one proposing a state tournament of VFW Junior Rifle Clubs.

Auxiliary members voted to endorse the selection of Miss Georgann Wolcott of Lubbock as the district's nominee as Miss VFW. The contest will be conducted at the state VFW convention June 27-30 in Lubbock.

Mrs. Priscilla Webb of Monahans, Texas auxiliary conductress, spoke at the Auxiliary's business meeting Sunday afternoon, giving a report on the year's activities.

The convention began Saturday afternoon with registration at the VFW Hall. A social hour followed and then a dance at the American Legion Hall. The convention was resumed Sunday morning with a post commander's and Auxiliary breakfast and with a memorial service preceding the luncheon.

Durward Bartlett finally got the rain he needed for his Caprock Golf Course, just north of Post, Tuesday. The big tank, to provide surface water supply to water the grass greens, caught enough water to be half full in depth (not capacity). Bartlett who has been having to haul water from above the Cap for weeks to keep the greens alive was mighty pleased yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate are active members of the First Baptist Church, where he has served on the board of deacons since moving here and was also on the board of his church of Jackboro for 18 years before coming to Post.

Mayor Lucas said today that discussion of a replacement for Tate, as city superintendent will come up at the city council's regular June meeting, which is the first Monday.

Throughout the 25 counties of the South Plains area, complete, but unofficial, returns showed a 55.7 per cent majority of the total votes counted, a little more than 16 per cent under the necessary two-thirds majority.

Nationwide, too, wheat growers failed to favor stricter controls on their crops, with the yes vote being about 45.7 per cent as compared with the necessary 66.7 per cent, or two-thirds majority.

The Garza County vote was larger this year than in previous wheat referendums because more county producers were eligible to vote, Mrs. Hartel said. This year all producers were eligible to vote, whereas in previous years only those with 15 acres or more of wheat were eligible.

south of Graham yesterday morning for the first time in the memory of many residents, and that some farm terraces in the Graham area were washed away.

The wet turn of the weather began Sunday night when a fast moving cold front passed through about 8 p. m. and brought 23 of an inch of moisture here that night, forcing high school baccalaureate services inside from the football stadium to the primary school auditorium.

No hail was reported in the county Tuesday. There was a small area on the west county line hit by hail, however, Sunday night.

During a big electrical storm Tuesday morning, lightning hit the John Ray farm, five miles north of Post, knocking the face off an electric clock, and putting the electric washing machine out of commission. No one was hurt, Ray reported yesterday.

With the swimming pool opening for the season Saturday afternoon and high school graduation scheduled for Antelope Stadium Friday night, amateur weather prophets could see more moisture in the immediate offing.

It will be up to the bargain hunters to keep an eye on the chopping block if they want one of these specials. Meanwhile there will be real sales bargains all over the big store.

Here are a couple of left-over items from the editor's story on the VFW convention. Post Commander Max Chaffin says that after the luncheon Sunday, there was enough food left to invite in the peace officers then on duty for lunch and also to feed the prisoners in the county jail—who weren't expecting baked ham and all the trimmings. The other item is that the convention's most distinguished guest, State VFW Commander Carter Younts, won the pair of cowboy boots raffled off as a convention highlight. Max said Younts will return to Post later to get fitted for and pick up his boots—any pair in the City Shoe Shop.

During his time in Post, Tate has been a member of the state and area water and sewage works associations, having served as president of the state and area groups and in other offices. ### Needed majority fails wheat plan

Garza County wheat producers voted 23 "for" and 15 "against" the controversial certificate plan for the 1964 crop in Tuesday's referendum, according to Emmarhe I. Hartel, county ASC office manager.

The plan won by a 60.5 per cent majority in Garza County, but failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority.

He was introduced by Bud Howell, game warden stationed here in Post.

SOUTHLAND — Funeral services for Mrs. Ed Martin, 86, of Lubbock, who died Monday in West Texas Hospital, were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the Baptist Church here.

The Rev. Elmer Crabtree of Plainview officiated, assisted by the Rev. A. Fortson, pastor of the church. Burial was in the Southland Cemetery.

Mrs. Martin lived in Southland from 1916 until moving to Lubbock in 1954. She was a charter member of the Southland Baptist Church.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Loyd McNabb of Meadow; three sons, Ira E. of Plainview and James E. and Roy S. Martin of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. Fannie Grisham of Hawley; five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Shytle named to housing position

Powell Shytle, who did not seek re-election as mayor in the spring election, has been appointed to a vacancy on the Post Public Housing Authority this week by Mayor Harold Lucas.

Shytle replaces Arnold Parrish on the housing authority. Parrish was appointed to the city council to fill the unexpired councilman's term of Lucas who stepped up to the mayor's job.

Lucas said in making the appointment that Shytle "is the best man for the position as he is well acquainted with the work of the housing authority", which is now close to realization of a 28-unit public project for Post.

Miss Reed is a graduate of East Texas State College with a B. S. degree and will complete her M. S. degree in Spanish and sociology this summer.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Dwain Robertson who is completing his first year here as a teacher and coach in junior high school.

Robertson plans to return to Willis Point, where his mother lives and where his father lost his life in an accident a few weeks ago.

Robertson had been re-elected by the board for the 1963-64 term. He was considered an excellent classroom teacher and had had unusual success with this year's junior high football, basketball and track teams.

In the only other business at the called meeting, the board voted to invite a representative of an Austin firm to meet with it in regard to collection of delinquent school taxes.

"Across the Tracks"

To the Seniors of 63:
"Come, fill the cup, and let us drink
fire of spring
Your winter garments of repose winter fling.
The bird of time has but a little way
To flutter, and the bird is on a wing!"

A poet named Omar Khayyam penned these lines some 1100 years ago, and they're true, but Omar didn't mention it just as brightly fast that time-bird flies.

A quarter of a century has elapsed since my group was more or less ejected from the halls of PHS and it was just yesterday — only yesterday. A many events of the intervening years have escaped our faded memories. I suppose, but the Senior year is always there; forever suspended in time and space, perfect clarity, and subject to recall on wings of nostalgic memory every year about this time.

Ordinarily, I'm as sentimental as a crawfish, but I'll confess that I am touched—and I suspect the most of my former classmates are—when the school song is sung if bonfires lighted, the hall games played, and the seniors honored on their graduation day.

I have no advice to give and no message to bring. What I'm trying to say here, Seniors—and not so long it very well is that a quarter century is just a flicker, and the time gap between your generation and that of your fathers is small indeed.

You see us as we are now—paunchy, balding, in various stages of dental restoration, short of wit and unsound of limb, with cholesterol building up in the old arteries, and little veins busting up the cheeks—and I imagine you regard us as holdovers from the age of the dinosaurs. But we're sports of an era not too far gone and ours were the muscles that moved—or attempted to move—football for Post High.

And what of our past? You know them as your mothers and your mother's friends. Maybe not so sharply anymore, a little softer of ankle, an occasional extra chin, and here and there a wisp of lip fuzz from the hormone that they were the beauties for whom attention was contested in that pre-pression ridden era of the thirties—and today they are so beautiful to us because of the graying hair.

Altogether, we lived and loved and sang as you do now, and sat and listened, as you sit and listen now, while some lecherous speaker assured us that the key to one's success was in direct ratio to personal determination as struggled upward toward the great shining citadel of happiness.

For a shining many of us, the success never came, and the road to the citadel turned out to be immensely wearying and interminably rocky hill.

We're at the top of the mountain now. Or maybe a little beyond the top—but not far beyond that sun does not still shine occasionally. It's good to sit here in the afternoon sun and take a leisurely prospective look at the road behind us and the great horde of young scrubbed, eager faces climbing toward us, and to reflect that maybe George B. Shaw was right when he said that youth was a wonderful commodity to be hoarded on children's youth.

You deserve your youth. Use well—and when you reach the where we are now—turn us we'll now—and consider those who sit behind you.

Take a long, long look back at the mountain at the panorama of life's morning, and across the washed meadows of your youth and lock the image in your mind. It will prove a useful reminder, think, as you turn and walk some your journey down life's downward slope and into the darkness of the valley beyond.

Congratulations and Best Wishes!
Hans Holmsten

Three teams in Babe Ruth lead

Three teams, the Cubs, Indians and Pirates, are tied for first place in the Babe Ruth League with 2-1 wins through the first two weeks of play.

The Cubs climbed into a tie with the other two teams by edging the White Sox, 4 to 3, Saturday night in a game that had been postponed from opening night.

The White Sox took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Mike Petty singled home Ronnie Pierce, who had reached base on an error.

The Sox scored another run in the fourth on Petty's one-base blow and Donnie Wiudham's double.

The Cubs tied it up in the bottom of the fifth by scoring three runs, one of them on Charles Landtroop's three-bagger that scored David Condon after the White Sox had taken the lead on successive singles by Pierce and Horton.

The Cubs scored the winning run in the seventh inning when Donnie Cornell's single scored Landtroop, who had doubled.

Landtroop was the winning pitcher and Windham the loser.

The Cubs beat the Rebels, 12 to 3, Friday night to stay atop of the standings in the Minor League.

The Giants took over undisputed second place by edging the Colt 45's, 9 to 8.

The Giants' victory came the day after they had lost to the Colts 8 to 7, with left fielder Johnny Brown being hit in the mouth by a pitched ball to force in the winning run.

At the bottom of the fourth, bases were loaded, two men out and the score was tied 3 to 3. The Giant outfielder was hit by the pitcher.

Following this week's school activities, Minor League play will be held Tuesday, May 28.

Dodgers nip Red Sox for top rung in LL

The Dodgers took over undisputed possession of first place in the Little League standings Saturday night by defeating the Red Sox, 6 to 3, behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Alexander.

The victory left the Dodgers with a 3-0 mark and dropped the Red Sox into second place with a 2-1 record.

Monday night's scheduled games between the Dodgers and Cardinals and Yankees and Red Sox were postponed because of wet grounds.

The Yankees lost and the Cardinals won last Thursday night to throw those two teams into a third-place deadlock with 2-2 marks.

The Corvairs climbed out of the league cellar with victories over the Yankees and Tigers, while the Tigers plunged to the bottom by losing to the Cards last Thursday night and to the Corvairs Saturday night.

The Dodgers scored their six runs in the first inning in their 6-2 win over the Red Sox, while the losers tallied one run in the fourth and two in the fifth.

S. Collazo was the losing pitcher, although he yielded only one hit in the Dodgers' six-run first inning. Five walks and errors helped the Dodgers come up with their big inning. Butch Heaton relieved Collazo and gave up only three hits the rest of the way.

The Corvairs came from behind with seven runs in the sixth inning to pin a 12-11 defeat on the Tigers Saturday night. Terry Moreau, who had relieved Curtis Whitley, was the winning pitcher, and Jerry Hair, the last of four Tiger hurlers, absorbed the loss. Billy Cain started for the Tigers with Carl Hall and Ronnie Hair relieving before Jerry Hair took over the mound duties.

Hits were all even in the Corvair-Tiger game with each team collecting nine. The biggest extra-base blow was a first-inning triple by Tiger catcher Jimmy Mann.

The Cardinals came up with a six-run fifth inning in downing the Tigers, 12-6, last Thursday night. D. Odum, who went the distance for the Cards picked up the win and L. Bilberry, the third of four Tiger chunckers, was the loser. Billy Cain started with Carl Hall, Ronnie Hair, Bilberry and G. Varle relieving.

The Cards collected only three hits off the five Tiger hurlers, but wildness and errors made the difference. The losers got four bingles off Odum, but he kept them well scattered.

In the Corvairs' 10-9 win over the Yankees, the winners went ahead, 10-3, in the bottom of the fifth and then choked off a Yankee rally that produced six runs in the top of the sixth.

Terry Moreau, who relieved Curtis Whitley, was the winning pitcher and Randy Levens, the third of three Yankee hurlers, was charged with the loss. G. Wheelington started for the Yanks and was relieved by Roger Pace before Levens took over the pitching chores.

Legislature to wind up regular session Friday

AUSTIN — The regular session of the 58th Legislature ends Friday. That is three days earlier than the constitutional requirement.

The major issues of the session appear to be fairly well settled, but hundreds of the 1,500 proposed new laws submitted by the 181 legislators were left to die in committees and on the crowded calendars of both houses.

Other hundreds will become law when Gov. John Connally signs them. Rush of business at the session's end is pouring them into his office by the score.

Rites held for Truitt infant

Graveside services for Kelly Dean Truitt, day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Truitt of 507 West 8th St., were held at 3 p. m. Saturday in Lamesa Memorial Cemetery.

The child was born at 10 p. m. May 16 in Garza Memorial Hospital and died the following day.

Besides his parents, the infant is survived by two brothers, Troy Dale and Terry Savoy Truitt; paternal grandmother, Mrs. W. G. Truitt of Lamesa, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Mott of O'Donnell.

ATTEND BROTHER'S FUNERAL

Judge J. E. Parker left Monday for Los Angeles, Calif., to attend funeral services for his brother, Howard B. Parker, who died last Friday after an illness of several months. ## Junior High, Beginners bands heard in concert

Monday, May 13, at 7:30 p. m. the Post Junior High and Beginners bands gave a concert in the Junior High auditorium. The admission was free and everyone was invited to come.

We were happy to see a crowd of parents as well as high school students.

Some of the numbers the Beginners band played were: "America," "Beautiful Dreamer," "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "An dante Canabile," and "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

These numbers were played very well except for a few sour notes that wasn't noticeable. That is, unless you were trying to hear them. These beginners will be Junior High band players next year and very good ones at that. Right, Mr. Evans?

Some of the numbers the Junior High band played were: "Moon River," "Village Charm," "Air for Band," "Music Man," and "Bossa Nova."

"You played very well," were some of the comments we were proud to receive.

Sunday, May 19, the 8th grade band people were asked to play for the baccalaureate service. We were glad to do it and happy to be invited. Also, the 8th graders have been invited to play for the senior graduation program Friday night.

The 6th and 7th graders are going to play for the 8th grade graduation.

Public liability insurance costs are to increase

AUSTIN — Many Texas drivers who carry insurance will need to notify their agents to increase their public liability insurance after Aug. 24.

By a single vote the House adopted a bill by Rep. Bob Fairchild of Center to raise the bodily injury insurance or security requirements under the driver financial responsibility law from $5,000 for one person and $10,000 for two or more to double those amounts.

Estimates are that it will cost the average driver about $5 a year for the extra coverage. This will enable him to keep his driver's license should he be involved in a collision in which someone is hurt.

Argument for the bill is that it would bring requirements up to a more modern figure. Court judgments in personal injury cases, resulting from auto collisions, often exceed $5,000.

Argument against it, voiced by Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen, was that 35 per cent of the drivers cannot afford to carry liability insurance at present rates, and that there will be even more uninsured motorists on the highways after the Fairchild law takes effect.

All sorts good food on June's plentiful list

COLLEGE STATION — Choose June.

June scores high on all yardsticks of enjoyable livability. It's the beginning of the vacation season. Weather and natural beauties are at their apex. Special occasions like weddings and graduation brighten our schedules.

High on the list of June joys is the abundance of good food. Take the U. S. Department of Agriculture's June list of plentiful, for example, suggests the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Milk and all dairy products head the list, naturally. June is Dairy Month, when milk production is at its seasonal peak. The plentiful tag applies to all dairy foods—whole, skim, dried, condensed and chocolate milk; ice cream, cream; half-n-half; cheeses of all kinds; butter and even buttermilk. Use them generously, to heighten June enjoyment.

In the meat line, look for plenty of beef, pork and broiler-fryers. All are on USDA's June list. And prices are unusually attractive, as meat production exceeds normal needs.

Eggs also will be plentiful all June. Use them in salads, in baking, as gems of breakfast nutrition, or in egg noggs in combination with the abundance of milk.

Think of vegetables to complete your menus. Early-summer gardens are doing their best to provide a bit of everything for your needs and pleasures. Lettuce should be particularly plentiful, says USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service each month, in cooperation with growers and the food trade.

6 PHS honor students write autobiographies

(Ed. Note: This year's six honor students in the Post High School graduating class — those with grade averages of 90 or above for this year and last — have written brief autobiographies for this Graduation Edition of the Post Dispatch. In doing so, they are following a custom some 15 years by PHS honor students.)

DELTON ROBINSON
I was born March 3, 1945, in Lubbock, Texas.

I lived on a farm until I was in the second grade. I had to use a crutch until the third grade because of leg perthodaus, a degeneration of the bone.

We moved to Moncos, Colo., and lived there until the end of my fourth year in grade school. While there I enjoyed riding horses, fishing and hunting. Later we moved to Cortez, Colo., where I played baseball and had a paper route serving the Plainview, Tex., area before I was in the sixth grade. I played football while in school as guard and fullback.

I lived near Pleasant Valley at the part of the sixth grade, where I had previously lived in early school. Participating in football at Southland, I started as center and defensive guard of the eight district champion team my senior year. Later in my sophomore year I was moved to guard and defensive linebacker. I played 12 games at Southland the beginning of my junior year before moving to Post the first six weeks of the school term.

I began playing fullback on the school team here, but I was ineligible because of the transfer. In the latter part of my junior year I was elected captain of the 1962-63 Antelope team. Also during my junior year I was a member of the Junior Ways and Means committee, of which I was reported vice president of the Antelope Football Association.

In my senior year I was ineligible for the first two football games.

Bible Thoughts

By HERB SMITH

"How Old Art Thou?"

—Gen. 47:8

Are you surprised that this question is in the Bible? Many have said that "life begins at forty", but these days it seems that everyone is either thirty-nine or retired. The question suggests some dangers that should be avoided.

First, any age should guard against the false notion that years alone bring wisdom. "Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom." Job 32:7. It is a shame when some do not profit by life's experiences, but many old people are no wiser than they were at twenty-one. Young people should take heed to equip themselves with attitude and academic training to become wiser with age.

Another danger is futility. The old people think the young are ineffective and unable to produce results. The opposite is true in reverse. We should have better attitudes than the young.

Third, we should avoid the erroneous idea that there is no honor in longevity. Every age level wants to be on "upper echelon" to the age group below. Birthdays alone do not give honor, but days in SERVICE do. Matt. 23:11. The only honor Methuselah enjoyed was being 969 years old (Gen. 27) as far as the Bible record goes.

"How old art thou?" Your outlook tells your age more than the outside does.

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND THE SERVICES AT THE CHURCH OF CHRIST, 10TH & AVE. M.

but later played positions on the team as halfback and linebacker. I made all-district halfback. As a senior I got a scholastic award for being in top 20 per cent of the high school, and was vice-president of the National Honor Society. I was in the Jokers Four quartet. Letterman's Club, Science & Math Club, of which I was secretary, and on the Senior Executive Committee.

During the summer and spare time of my high school years I worked on the farm and in the oil fields.

My favorite pastimes are playing football and water skiing. My parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson. I have one brother and one sister, Mrs. Jerry (Nancy) Dixon of Plainview and Gary Robinson, who still lives at home.

I plan on going to Texas Tech or Sul Ross, the latter depending on if I play football.

MARIANNE JONES

I was born in Brownfield, Tex., on June 3, 1945. I discovered that I was the child of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and already had one brother, Howard, and one sister, Kay Gene. It didn't take me long to find out that they were to deal me much misery with their teasing.

When I was almost a year old, we moved to Post where my daddy became manager of the Piggly Wiggly store. Since I have lived here from that day, I consider Post to be my home town.

During the first two or three years we lived here, I was quite a tomboy. Ricky Clary and Tommy Bouchier, who were both neighbors, were my only playmates. Then my life was brightened when Mary Ann Williams moved next door. These first summers were spent going out to Craig's swimming pool and to Second Bridge.

When I was six years old, I started my first year of school in the just-completed primary building. The class starting that year—1951—was very fortunate in that we entered each new school the first year of its completion. I remember my second year as the year that the little mean girl with the long pigtails, Janie Carradine, knocked out a boy's teeth with a baseball bat. I also joined the Brownie troop that year.

I was very disturbed about getting scarlet fever during my fourth year of school. I had to stay home from school for two weeks. This tragedy also affected my brother and sister, who also had to miss school because they were quarantined.

I started the sixth grade in the new junior high building. These years were filled with band, basketball, and many other activities. We had a very hard time trying to learn how to change classes during these junior high years.

Then, finally, I was a "fish". Of course the initiation we, as freshmen, had to go through, was one of the hi-lights of the year. I entered the new high school when I was a sophomore. Since I was elected vice-president of the Student Council for the next school year, I attended the annual Texas Association of Student Council meeting at Odessa.

In my junior year I attended the 1962 annual state Student Council convention at San Antonio. This was a very interesting trip.

My senior year I will remember as the year we won district and went to bi-district in basketball. The Jr.-Sr. Banquet and all the other Senior activities have also been just wonderful.

Now I am ready to graduate. To add to the excitement of this, I am a co-valedictorian. This I have been striving for ever since Kay and Howard both graduated with that honor. I feel that my mother and daddy and teachers are more responsible for my good grades than I am. They encouraged me to study and expected me to make A's.

I look forward to the future years with hope and anticipation but at the same time, I will graduate with regret of never being part of PHS again.

JANITH SHORT

On Sept. 9, 1945, my daddy, Lowell Short, was passing the John Ruskin cigars again for the sixth time. All this was to announce the arrival of me—Lora Janith Short. This spectacular event took place at the Littlefield, Texas, Hospital.

After looking me over from tip-toe, my family took a vote and decided to keep me.

My stay in Littlefield was a short one, for we loaded up and moved to Post on the day I was six months old. At this time we lived across from the school, and I longed for the day that I could join them. This date, however, was postponed a year because my birthday came too late. Mother taught me at home during that year, and I started the first grade at the age of seven. After two weeks, I was transferred to the second grade where I caught up with all my friends.

The grade school years passed quickly and uneventfully, the only part I enjoyed was recess. Here, we girls got to chase the boys to our heart's content. The only ones, however, that I ever caught were the ones that came to my belt buckle in height. My one detestable chore at that time was my piano lessons. I guess they have been worthwhile, and anyway it satisfied my mother. You'd be surprised how often I got out of dishwashing by practicing my music.

The sixth grade brought many problems. It was the first year we ever changed from class to class, and I stayed lost for weeks. Finally I got into the swing of things. It was during these years that I developed my "Salesmanship". I haunted the streets selling everything from magazine subscriptions to Girl Scout cookies. After being bitten by every dog in the neighborhood, I gave this up as a lost cause.

Junior High was a lot of fun for me, but for some reason our teachers didn't quite share this feeling. A few of us girls had organized a "Black Purse" gang and spent most of our time in the principal's office. We were sort of mischievous and tried to blow up Mr. Bennett's science lab and burn down the library. We decided that crime didn't pay and settled down to act like everyone else.

Graduation from the eighth grade brought my first pair of wobbly high heels and strapless formal. This occasion was memorable to me, and I was ranked fourth in the graduation class of 88 members.

I thought my life was pretty exiting up to high school, but it was nothing compared to what lay ahead. Here I was—in high school at last. My Freshman year was spent in complete terror, hiding and running from the Seniors all year long. This year was spent in the old high school building, where I had the most fun. Even if there were bats in the classrooms, I loved it.

Fish initiation over, began my three years as an upper-classman in the beautiful new building. Each of my years in high school were too wonderful ever to tell all the (See SENIORS WRITE, Page 14)

Best Wishes, Grads

Thomas Carlyle said: "An educated man stands, as it were, in the midst of a boundless arsenal and magazine, filled with all the weapons and engine which man's skill has been able to devise from the earliest time."

Applying these words to the American scene they become more important than when written. More than ever before in the world's history, it is the educated man and woman, the trained young people, who will find themselves working and participating members of an exciting society in the next few decades.

If you take advantage of the opportunities offered young people today, you will, as Carlyle indicated, stand in a boundless arsenal, equipped to meet the problem of the future as an individual.

That is why your graduation is so important. You have completed a part of your education and training, but it must not stop. You must seek more education and training if you are to find a place for yourself in the era of great technological change now taking place in this country.

We urge you to prepare yourself to the full degree of your ability.

And now we join your family, friends and the entire community in wishing each of you well in whatever endeavor you may plan for the future.

Pleasant Valley news

Senior graduations in area spotlight

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN

The biggest news in town is the graduation of the Seniors at Southland High School and the baccalaureate services of the seniors of Post High School.

Those who bid a fond farewell to the halls of SHS on Friday were: Jackie Dunn, Kathleen Smith, Sue Pritchard, Sharla Taylor, Webster Crawford, Larry McNeely, Robert Mock, Cynthia Altman, Johnny Haire, Lou Alice Edwards, Bobby Allbright, Mary Hirscheta and Mary Lou Haliburton. The welcome address was given by Sharla Taylor, the senior salutatory by Jackie Dunn and the senior valedictory by Kathleen Smith. Bro. Roy Bassett gave the invocation. F. W. Callaway presented the awards and Robert Mock presented the diplomas. Mrs. Aubrey McNeely accompanied the seniors during the processional and recessional.

The 8th grade also graduated and their salutatory was Duke Altman and their valedictorian was David Dabbs.

Here is an interesting little history on Delton Robinson, grandson of the Elmer Hitts, and one of the valedictorians of Post High School, and since he is a former resident of Pleasant Valley, we here are proud to tell you about him! Delton is a product of the Southland schools, Mancos and Cortez, Colo., Plainview, back to Southland and then Post. He made five changes during his school years and tied for top man of his class. His first year in school he got around on crutches which he wore for 18 months because of the hip ailment. Nevertheless, Delton became a top athlete plus tops scholastically. During the summer time he has not been idle either: Delton has farmed, ginned and worked on oil well jobs. Delton we salute you and keep up the good work! Delton is also the grandson of Mrs. B. D. Robinson.

The Spence Bevers family attended the Reese AFB Armed Forces Day Celebration Saturday.

Another big event happened here this weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scotts were guest speakers at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church on Sunday morning and everyone enjoyed their talk on Japan. The cleanliness of the Japanese was outstanding according to Mrs. Scott, as the Scotts were invited into their homes.

There were lots of activities going on around here this weekend. The Max Chaffins attended the VFW convention, The Howard Treats of Close City also attended, in fact, they and Max worked their heads off making it a success and that it was! Their efforts were appreciated. I assure you!

Other big happenings! It was Neida Kuykendall's ninth birthday last Thursday, and her guests at a party after school were: Ann-Holland, Crystal Nichols, Patricia Nelson, Debra Ward and Marianne Wright.

May 17 it was Jerry Hitt's birthday and he celebrated it at home with his folks.

I forgot to mention that the Southland seniors took off on their trip early the morning after graduation.

Mrs. B. D. Robinson spent the weekend with Mrs. D. C. Roberts. They both came back Sunday for church services.

Mrs. S. M. Lewis is off to Clovis for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Jenny Beazley. (If it's spelled wrong it is because it rained and there is a hum on the line).

The R. H. Lewis family took their trip on Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Hall spent Sunday at the Pete Lancaster's home and got rained out of her home so she spent the night too!

The T. L. Barnes home was a lively one Sunday. Grace Kane of Amarillo and Tommie Ausburn of Long Beach, Calif., the H. S. Eubanks of Hale Center, the Roy Bassett family of Southland were all there and the J. T. Davis family of Lubbock came for supper. You know what they were all there for? To have a "look-see" at the new Barnes Kitchen—custom-built and it is a beauty!

The F. D. Wheeler family dropped by the James Shelton establishment after the graduation ceremony.

Post man's sister buried at Roby

Funeral services were held at last Friday for Mrs. Martha Lynde, the First Methodist Church in Roby 31, of Lubbock, who died Thursday.

Mrs. Lynde was a sister of John Boren of Post and an aunt of Walter Boren, also of Post.

She was a resident of Hermligh before moving to Lubbock 10 years ago.

Mrs. Lynde is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Greene of Lubbock and Mrs. Rosa Kelly of Ontario, Calif., and another brother, Dee Boren of Slaton.

WEEKEND VISITORS

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Whitley were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Whitley and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dueske and Janet, all of Temple.

LAST MONDAY MRS. Lawrence

Burkett stayed with Mrs. Hattie Burkett in Lubbock and they took off the next day for Littlefield and then Friona to visit Mrs. H. Burkett's daughter.

The Maurice Fluitts went to Childress over the weekend to see her grandmother and there they met Mrs. Fluitt's parents from Causey, N. M. and picked up one of her younger brothers and brought him back to stay awhile.

The Homer Catos of Post had Sunday dinner with the J. W. Kuykendalls and visited later in the afternoon with the Damon Ethridges.

The Elmer Hitts entertained the Wesley Scotts for dinner following church services Sunday and they visited the J. B. Robinsons later in the evening.

The Robert Mocks spent a nice quiet weekend at Lake Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ward, Myrtle Johnson, Floyd Reese, Mrs. Dixie Roberts, Clark Barton and the B. L. Thomas dropped by Sunday afternoon to see them. Then came the "big blow" and it drove them all home.

Mrs. Weldon McGehee and Dennis have gone to Pueblo, Colo., for a week to visit the Don Barkers.

The L. M. Sherberts journeyed to Lamesa Saturday to see their son and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kennedy and Mrs. Ted Aten and daughter visited the Ed Cummings Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lena Chaffin had a rare treat Sunday afternoon—Artie Baxter and Carrie Guess came to see her.

MR. AND MRS. BUDDY Hayes and children of Lubbock were out at the Stanley Sims home for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Barton and Mrs. Lawrence Burkett attended the funeral of Fred Schroeder in Posey Sunday and visited Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall in the Slaton Mercy Hospital also.

Wesley Scott visited Mrs. Jim Hall Monday afternoon and gave her a personal account of his trip to Japan.

The Lee Morgans of Justiceburg dined and visited with the Spence Bevers Monday.

The Victor Kuykendalls had supper with the John Gitz in Post Sunday night.

The Stanley Sims are redoing another room in their home. Pretty soon you won't recognize the old homestead!

We are sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Doug Livingston have been ill this past week. We hope that you are up and raring to go.

School is officially over today at Southland. Do you hear the moans and groans? I know one mother who is happy—no more "mad" ironing. This is the bright way to look at things. Of course she only has one and this may make the difference. Have a nice vacation, you all!

One more item. The Jerry Katriolas had dinner Sunday with the Jody Heinrichs in Slaton and that wasn't enough so they all went to Mackenzie Park for a supper of weiners.

NITRATE POISONING A DANGER TO CATTLE

Nitrate poisoning is a danger to all livestock but poses a particular problem where cattle are grazing plants recently fertilized with high levels of nitrates, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. The problem becomes especially acute if the growth of the plants has been stunted by low moisture levels following the fertilization, he adds.

Non-toxic forms of nitrates are reduced to toxic nitrates in the animal's system and enter the blood stream where they tie-up the blood hemoglobin. As a result, the oxygen carrying capacity of the blood is greatly reduced and the animal may suffocate.

Signs of poisoning are a bluish skin color, a staggering gait, rapid pulse, evidence of abdominal pain, bloating, excessive salivation, and labored breathing. Also quantities of nitrate too small to kill an animal may lower milk production or cause a cow to abort.

Cattle may be poisoned by eating weeds and forage crops that contain high levels of nitrates or pre-formed toxic quantities of nitrates. Oat hay is the most likely of the cereal grains to cause nitrate poisoning and the young plants are generally more dangerous than older ones.

Inorganic sources of excess nitrates may be fertilizer bags or fertilizer spreaders left where cattle have access to them. Contaminated water draining from barnyards or bunker-type silos may also be a means of poisoning. Sometimes the combined intake of nitrates from two or more sources can cause a serious problem.

Patterson recommends that animals believed to be suffering from nitrate poisoning be removed from the suspected pasture and a veterinarian called.

LAWN MOWERS CAN BE DANGEROUS

A common sound these days is the one made by operating power lawn mowers. They are a necessary tool for keeping the lawn mowed and in good shape, but warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, they can become a lethal weapon when improperly used.

The rotary type mower can become a real accident hazard not only to the operator but to persons who may be nearby when used to mow lawns or weeds where rocks, bones, pieces of wire, nails or other debris are present. The Council reports that about this time of the year the number of accidents involving lawn mowers begins to increase and that chances are good some one in your neighborhood has been a victim.

The folks who make lawn and trimming equipment are concerned about the user's safety and have made recommendations to insure a long and useful life for the machine and operator. They put this information in an operator's manual. The Council strongly recommends that all power tool operators become familiar with their manual.

and other information.

Magazine gives checklist of adult vaccines

Vaccination shots and boosters given to children don't last forever, as many people seem to think. Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, in its current issue includes this checklist for up-to-date protection for adults.

—Tetanus. Immunity lasts three to five years and everyone should get a booster that often.

—Smallpox. Immunity lasts about three years. Revaccination is necessary for travel abroad and desirable in other special circumstances.

—Diphtheria. Booster shots recommended every three to four years.

—Polio. The length of immunity is not known. At the very least, get a booster one year after the first series of shots and consult your doctor about needs in later years.

—Influenza. When an epidemic is due—or better yet, routinely each fall—get the flu vaccination recommended by your doctor.

—Whooping cough. Adults don't ordinarily need immunization against pertussis if a full course of shots and boosters were taken in childhood. Otherwise, it's not too late to start.

Three more, for foreign travelers, are: yellow fever — a shot every six years for travel in areas where it is prevalent; typhoid fever — an annual booster after a primary course of three inoculations; typhus — a booster every four years after a primary course of two inoculations.

LEAVING TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gray and daughter, Jamie, are leaving today to spend their vacation visiting homefolks at Holland, Tex. They will be away until June 2. Gray is work unit conservationist at the Soil Conservation Service office.

VISITING DAUGHTER

Mrs. Ruth Walker left Wednesday to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. White, in McGregor.

ARILENE VISITOR

"One man's food is another man's poison."

This comment made over 2000 years ago by a Roman philosopher, Lucretius, was spoken in reference to one of mankind's most persistent ailments—allergies.

What Lucretius did not realize, however, was that one man's soap, pet, garden, money and mattress, along with literally thousands of other everyday items, can also be another man's poison.

Allergies spring from five general groupings: Food—any and all kinds; plant and animal emanations; animal dandruff, objects of contact and bacteria.

Seniors write—

events that happened. There were class parties, slumber parties, Jr.-Sr. Banquets, football games, and others that were all so much fun. Everyone in high school tries to do everything they can, so I crowded all I could into my four years. I served as class president, member of the choir and girl's sextet for three years, played basketball and volleyball for four years, and received an academic sweater three years. Girl's basketball is by far the most outstanding activity in which I participated. During my Senior year, we finally attained the goal toward which we had been working since we were freshmen, when our team won the district championship and all three tournaments. I had the privilege of being a captain my Junior year. The trips we took as a team and association with such fine girls was an unforgettable experience for me. The year I had waited for so long was here—I had my ring and I was a big Senior! Some people may call it "Senior-itis", but there is no feeling quite like it. It was in this wonderful year that I received the greatest honor of all when I was elected cheerleader. I was also selected as "Most Fun" in the Senior Superlatives. This year that has been by far my happiest is also the saddest. I've made a lot of good friends that I hate to leave behind, but I can hardly wait to further my studies, make more friends, and have even more fun at college. These years have flown by so fast, and as graduation approaches, I think I'd like to start all over again.

This year I will graduate as Historian of the class of 1963. My plans for the summer include working for six weeks on the staff at Goriotta Baptist Assembly in New Mexico near Santa Fe. In the fall, I plan to enroll in North Texas State University in Denton.

GLENN POLK

I was born in Hobbs, N. M., on July 1, 1945. We lived in Denver City, Tex., at the time and I spent all of my early childhood there.

I started to school at Denver City Elementary School when I was six and went there until the fourth grade. That year we were transferred to Post. I started to school here and was in Mrs. Raphael's room. After we had just gotten settled we were transferred back to Denver City only to stay for three months and then we returned to Post. Next came the junior high years and then finally high school. I survived the year-round freshman initiation and came to be a sophomore. I was a class officer that year. I had an accident with a trampoline which made it impossible for me to play basketball or run track my sophomore year or play football my junior year. After football season my junior year I played basketball and ran track. This year, my senior year, the climax to all of my past education, I am class president, have lettered in football, basketball and track and the best part of it all I am one of the honor students. If things work out for me I plan to enter North Texas State University in the fall.

LIN ALYN COX

I was born June 28, 1945 in Herington, Kans., where my daddy, who was in the Army Air Corps, was stationed. I did, however, try to make amends for not having been a native Texan by moving to Post at the age of three months. From then until I started to school, I suppose I was carefree and happy, whiling away my days in my sandbox.

My memories of elementary and junior high school are a vague mixture of baseball games (anyone in the market for a slightly used left-handed catcher's glove?), basketball games (or some practically new knee pads?), Girl Scout meetings, birthday parties, piano lessons, art lessons, swimming lessons, and all the many other varieties of lessons to which most elementary and junior high school students are subjected.

I have thoroughly enjoyed each of my four years in high school, especially this year. Band trips which I've taken (I have been a member of the high school band since the sixth grade) will never be forgotten. I've enjoyed participating in the Junior and Senior plays and the Interscholastic League plays these last two years. FHA officer three years, National Honor Society officer, and president of the National Thespians Society. This year I had the privilege of being selected as Class Favorite. Who's Who, and a class officer. I am grateful to my friends, teachers, parents and the First Baptist Church for leadership and guidance through these years. My future plans are to attend Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene where I intend to major in English or speech.

ANN PENNINGTON

When my father returned home from a hunting trip, he had a big surprise awaiting him—me. I graduated this year with my appearance, Nov. 27, 1944, at Stamford, Tex. At the age of two months, we moved to Post where we have remained for the past 18 years.

As a pre-schooler, my life was very tranquil except for two horrible experiences. The first, which they said would improve my health, was a tonsillectomy at the age of three and a half. I became very discouraged and felt there wasn't any hope when I kept coughing up blood. The second happened when I was minding my own business walking to a picnic at the church. All of a sudden, I felt a tearing pain in my leg, and turned around to see a big white dog staring down at me. It wasn't the stitches that hurt so badly, it was that my new dress was ruined.

Before I realized it I was six and ready for school. This proved to be a little more than I expected when I had to get the usual "shots". I really thought I had achieved a goal because I was now going to school like my big brother.

The next five years were spent in learning to read, write, and work problems. My favorite subject was "recess", when the girls had a chance to chase boys on the playground.

When I entered junior high in the sixth grade I spent most of the time hunting the room I was supposed to be in. I thought this was ridiculous, changing rooms and teachers too.

Eighth grade graduation was a highlight as I graduated as an honor student. The summer following was spent hiding from the big seniors.

I dreaded entering PHS as a "Fish" because of the annual freshman initiation. We spent a whole week obeying the will of the seniors.

Now that I am a senior, I have fond memories of slumber parties, junior-senior banquets, class plays, and many nights spent at football games and on the pep squad bus.

During my four years of high school, I have been elected class favorite, been a member of the Student Council, a member of the National Honor Society for three years, and received scholastic awards for three years. I tried to take part in all of the activities, which I thought were profitable.

I am anxious to continue my studies at college and make many new friends. I plan to enter North Texas State University in the fall.

Apparently the rule concerning sinus trouble is this: if you're human you're susceptible. Thus, if you suffer from a sinus condition either chronically or occasionally, you are in excellent company.

A nasal sinus is a lined cavity in the face bone which opens into the nose. There are two important ones on each side of the face: one in each cheek bone, and one over each eye.

Cheekbone sinuses are triangle-shaped, large enough to hold half an ounce of fluid. Oversized ones can hold up to a full ounce. Eyebrow sinuses are smaller, the average having a fluid capacity of one-fifth ounce.

Sinuses are lined with mucous membrane, a continuation of the membrane lining the nasal cavity. When a sinus lining becomes inflamed enough to interfere with drainage, there is trouble ahead.

There are all sorts of speculation as to what good purpose sinuses serve. Some specialists believe they warm and moisten air as it is inhaled. Others believe that sinuses, like the appendix, are evolutionary remnants which are sometimes more harmful than useful.

Sinus sufferers subscribe unanimously to this latter theory. But the truth probably is that sinus cavities serve as resonating chambers for the voice. Whether a person has a high or low pitched voice, according to this reasoning, is dependent on the size of his sinuses.

There are as many different causes of sinus inflammation as there are people suffering from it. Infection-producing agents such as viruses, and irritants such as pollens and dust are most often the cause. But facial injuries, infected teeth, and other conditions can also bring on flare-ups.

What to do about it? Make sinuses drain, which is a little like telling the wind to stop blowing. Still, it can be done if the cause of the inflammation is removed. Temporary relief can sometimes

Attorney-General's office handled 1,311 cases in first four months

AUSTIN — Atty. General Waggoner Carr today released figures reflecting the operations of his office for the first one-third of 1963. Since Jan. 1, the Attorney General's office has handled a total of 1,311 cases. Of this total, the office has won 986 cases, lost 61, and 264 have been disposed of in other ways.
Carr also pointed out that the total number of cases pending on Jan. 1 had been cut from 3,687 to 3,332, a drop in total cases of 355.
Additional figures released showed that on Jan. 1 there were 24 opinions pending and an additional 87 official opinions have been requested since that date. Of these 111 opinions, 70 have been released, 28 have been withdrawn, and only 13 are now pending.
In addition to these figures, Carr announced that the Bond Division of his office has set an all-time record for bonds examined and approved during the first four months of 1963.
The record includes both dollar volume and number of bonds issued and exceeds the first third of any calendar year since the Attorney General's office was first charged with these duties in 1905. The figures released today show that 274 bond issues were approved during the first four months of this year as opposed to 219 for the same period of 1962. Dollar volume for the first one-third of 1963 was $189,185,640 against $120,954,570 for the same period of 1962.

The bond division has averaged more than 16.1 issues per week and $2,252,210 in bonds approved every business day since Jan. 1, 1963.
In praising his staff members, Carr said "I think all of these figures speak well of the fine dedicated people on this staff. We are especially happy not only over our won loss record but over the reduction of total cases pending".

BRIGHT IDEA — Attractive pictures for a den or bedroom can be created inexpensively with cotton fabric. Here, gay checked gingham is glued or stapled to hardboard to provide an unusual "frame" for a floral picture cut from a magazine.

Today's 4-H Club members come from three areas: 51 per cent from farm homes; 29 per cent from rural but non-farm homes; and 20 per cent of the membership reside in urban and suburban homes. Cotton is a critical war item.

GRAHAM COMMUNITY

Area community gets half-inch of rain Sunday

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
We received one-half inch of rain Sunday evening. Some in the community had less. We have heard that every little rain helps and we think it will help this little cotton and we might just get more.

This week's news may be rather short as I am going on the tour of Lubbock with the HD Club Tuesday.

Mrs. Fred Gossett and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon attended the reception given the two retiring teachers in Post a week ago Tuesday evening. Miss Bonnie McMahon is a sister of Mrs. Gossett and Bill.

The community extends sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. B. Dodd. Her father, J. E. Wilborn, and family were early settlers in this community.

Mrs. Eunice Gavny of Lubbock spent the weekend with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Theibert McBride. Mrs. Carl Fluit visited Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Albert Stone has been on the sick list but returned to work on Monday. Jerry was home over the weekend and was ill Sunday. He returned to Texas Tech that afternoon.

The Rev. Elbert Nelson and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Williams and family. Sunday was the last appointment for the Rev. Nelson at the Graham Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pennington of San Angelo were Friday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey.

Diane, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon and Mrs. Quannah Maxey and Linda and Mrs. Steen all spent Saturday fishing at Lake Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Peel visited Sunday afternoon in Lubbock Methodist Hospital with Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright. Mr. Wright is recuperating nicely from major surgery but will have to stay in Lubbock to take treatments for a few weeks. They thought he might leave the hospital Monday.

SATURDAY EVENING guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gandy and family of Wilson, Mrs. and Mrs. Theibert McBride and David and Mrs. Eunice Gavny. The group enjoyed home-made ice cream.

Some of Mrs. J. N. Gossett's children and friends took home made ice cream and cake to the Golden Years Nursing Home to help her celebrate her birthday, May 7. My what changes she has seen take place in her life. If she is permitted to have another birthday, we hope she will be as well remembered as she was on her 89th.

On Mother's Day most of Mrs. J. N. Gossett's family met for an annual reunion in the 4-H Building. Mrs. Gossett was unable to attend. Children attending were the Frank Gossetts, Bowie, Fred Gossetta, Mrs. Ida Stewart, Elmer Cowdreys, Virgil Stones, John Wallace, Mrs. Vera Gossett, and a niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jackson of Paducah. Grandchildren and great-grandchildren were the Donald Gossett family, the Frank Smith family, and the Donny Redman family, all of Lubbock; Woodrow Stewart family of Lockney; Topper Bilberry and family, Tahoka; Mrs. Jake Sparlin and children of Odessa; Rodney Kings of Odessa, the Bill Stone family, the Ronnie Morris family, the Bill Hall family and Mrs. Audrey Roland. Friends attending were the Henry Lynch family, the Delmer Cowdrey family and the Lonnie Peel family.
