Optometrists Say Eyestrain Injures Health in Most Cases

One of the problems that is facing the school child is the Reading Disability Problem. Reading disability is not only a problem of the schools but a problem of adults that limits their earning power and retards their cultural development.

Dr. J. M. Harrington of Lamesa, who attended Western Optometric Congress and Conference on Reading Disability held at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth, Texas, February 4-5-6-7, says: "It was brought out by the following noted educators: Dr. A. M. Skeffington, St. Louis, Director of the Graduate Clinic Foundation for Research in Optometry; Dr. Samuel Renshaw, Head of the Department of Experimental Psychology, Ohio State University; and Dr. Emmett A. Betts, Director of Reading Clinic, Pennsylvania State College, who conducted the clinic, that remedial reading is a pressing problem in schools throughout the country."

"Nowadays students read five times the material they covered a few years ago; yet eye-movement photographs of over 3,000 persons of all ages reveal that only 25 per cent are efficient. Dr. Harrington also says, "research workers, educators, optometrists, and teachers have seen the need for preventive and corrective training in proper habits. Together, they have developed and perfected methods and equipment for such

BOWLERS WHIZZ PAST TO LEAGUE LEAD

Again showing their superiority when the "heat" was on, the Carter Drug store aggregation of bowlers jerked the Whitsett team out of place Tuesday night and proceeded to occupy the throne themselves. The Corner pinners won the first game, a loosely played affair, but lost the second, and then came back for the third round with a blazing round of hot bowling.

Brock (sometimes known to his intimates as the "shepherd") and Hancock, whose right leg was "jerked" slightly when he completed a fair kick, shot over the 200-mark in the last game. For Whitsett's, Gardner (who doesn't mind bowling some people by the name of "Bill" but abhors others) won the scoring honors of the night when he shot a blistering 258 in addition to another 200 score and one in the 193 bracket.

W. L. Palmer was in Ft. Worth the fore part of the week to sell several hundred head of cattle. Within a few years remedial work will be a part of every school's curriculum. A re-reading of this important statement, for a thorough understanding, is urged on all parents.

LYNN SLIGHT SECOND IN GIN TOTALS

By little more than 200 bales, Lynn was behind Lubbock in total ginnings up to January 16. This county had ginned 59,423 bales.

Area ginnings for the 19 counties reported by the U. S. Bureau of the Census showed 386,416 bales ginned; for the corresponding date for the 1938 season ginnings were 443,926 bales. Five South Plains counties ginned more than 25,000 bales for the season: Lubbock, Lynn, Lamb, Hockley, Dawson. Other counties ranked Crosby, Hale, Terry, Scurry, all with more than 20,000 bales.

By advancing upward in football rating, O'Donnell will now meet Tahoka, Post, Levelland, Brownfield, Slaton. These are the southern members of the conference. The northern half of 5-A is composed of Crosbyton, Olton, Morton, Littlefield and Ralls. "We're not worrying about meeting the winner of the northern half this year," smiled Johnson when questioned, and told, about the "tough" Olton club.

One more ginning report may be expected some time later in March, with a final connection probably in the late summer or early fall. Reports show that ginning in this area is practically a thing of the past. One of two gins in the county may have another day or two. Some of the gins have closed down for the season. Five counties showed greater ginnings in 1939 than in 1938: Castro, Lamb, Lynn, Parmer, Terry. The latter, which includes Yoakum, has approximately a 90 per cent increase, due to improved conditions this year. Lynn county's increase is nearly 4,000 bales.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH J. A. Lunsford, Pastor

Without successful contradiction, the Bible is the greatest book in all the world. More copies of it are sold every year than any other book published. Mr. Condon says in his well known "Pictured Encyclopedia" "merely as literature, it has made a deeper impression upon the human mind than has any other book, and the extent to which it has helped shape the world's ideas cannot be estimated no matter how much you may know about poetry or prose you cannot consider yourself well read unless you are thoroughly acquainted with the Bible". We major in teaching and preaching this good Book. Meet with us, learn more of it and let it have a larger place in your life.

Mother of Local Variety Store Owner Here Dies

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughter Min Rae attended the funeral of Mrs. Miller's mother near Stephenville Wednesday. She died Tuesday.

Mr. Miller, owner of the Miller variety store here, has been at his mother's bedside since last Sunday. According to friends of the family, no hope had been held out for the aged woman's recovery for the last month.

O'DONNELL HOP INTO CLASS A FOOTBALL RING

A step up the football ladder was made Tuesday night by the O'Donnell high school when it was admitted to the 5-A conference. A revising of the Eagle schedule is now underway, according to Superintendent S. F. Johnson, and games arranged with a stiffer competition. By advancing upward in football rating, O'Donnell will now meet Tahoka, Post, Levelland, Brownfield, Slaton. These are the southern members of the conference.

The northern half of 5-A is composed of Crosbyton, Olton, Morton, Littlefield and Ralls. "We're not worrying about meeting the winner of the northern half this year," smiled Johnson when questioned, and told, about the "tough" Olton club.

LOCAL BATTLER LOSES FIGHT ON RANK DECISION

Hopes of local fans that Junior McLaurin would emerge victor in the Golden Gloves boxing bouts at Lubbock were rudely blasted Wednesday night when judges awarded the decision to his opponent. And the judges promptly heard the fans.

Cataclym and the raucous of "transberies" stormed into the judge's ears, when the rank decision was announced. And the verdict was evidently so rank that it stank to most of the fans.

A pre-tourney favorite, McLaurin drew "bays" until the fatal night, and in his match clearly showed his superiority.

The prestige of Lynn county was upheld, however, shortly afterward when Dan Daniel of Tahoka smacked the victor over McLaurin into a veritable cooked hat, and was given a technical knockout. Daniel, a roush and ready and up-and-at-'em battler, lost to McLaurin a short time ago when the two tangled in the Tahoka Golden Gloves tourney.

Abraham Lincoln THE GREAT EMANCIPATOR

Monday, February 12, is the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, known as the Great Emancipator. In the years since Lincoln's death, there has been a growing appreciation and respect for the greatness of this American of humble birth who served as President during one of the most tragic periods in American history.

ELECTRICITY— THE MODERN EMANCIPATOR!

Reddy Kilowatt's contribution to history comes in a much happier period of human existence. Today, electricity is regarded as the "modern emancipator," freeing millions of women from household drudgery, making their days easier and their homes more comfortable.

This freeing of women from unnecessary work wasn't just an accident. Years of planning, work, and investment of many millions of dollars, together with constant labor day and night by thousands of employes, were necessary to bring to your home and other homes the benefits of this economical, useful servant.

Electric Service is one of the smallest items of expense in the average home—averaging only a few cents a day!

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—A considerable difference of opinion has followed the issuance by Big Tom King, the state auditor, of his annual report, in which he blasts away with unusual vigor at the governmental setup of the State of Texas, deplores the Governor's lack of power and influence, and mourns the system of administering State departments by administrative boards, with overlapping terms for the board members. Curiously enough, while King deplores the board system, he lambasts the spoils system. The board system was invented in an effort to take important state departments out of politics, and prevent, to some extent, the wholesale firing of employes with every change of administration. The system has worked, in some departments, with considerable success. A notable example has been the Highway Department, which has attracted to its administrative board of high character and excellent administrative ability. The department has not been free from politics, but it has been much ridden with politics than any other departments, and it has enjoyed a high percentage of efficient employes, who have been retained in the service, to a large extent.

FOLKS NOT EXCITED

G. C. Morris, Greenville legislator, issued a statement in reply to King's criticism, pointing out that King himself is a beneficiary of the spoils system. There was quite a little political pressure brought on King's behalf, when his term expired last year, and O'Daniel reappointed him. So far as extension of the Governor's power is concerned, King's discussion is probably prompted in part by an effort to help O'Daniel allib, for purposes of the forthcoming election, for the Governor's failure to do any of the things he pledged the voters he would do. Of course, O'Daniel knew, or ought to have known, when he was promising pensions for everybody and a factory on every hillside, that the governor did not have the power to deliver on this promise.

But it is doubtful if the people of Texas, with the example of O'Daniel's first term fresh in their minds, are going to get into a panic about extending the powers of the Governor's office. The incident that arose in connection with the State Insane Hospital at San Antonio, as soon as a Board of Control dominated by O'Daniel appointed members got into power offers the best argument for leaving the power in the hands of the people, through their elected legislative representatives.

The race for the post held by the veteran politician, Lon Smith, on the Railroad Commission of Texas, promises to offer the warmest political contest in the State this year. Many observers feel that Smith's number is up, just as time eventually overtook Judge C. V. Terrell, Smith's former colleague on the Commission, defeated after 50 years of continuous holding of public office, in 1938.

EXTENSION APPROVED
An extension of the electric light power lines of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, which now operates lines in Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, and Lynn counties, is to be made, according to information given the News out of its main office at Lubbock. It should be noted, is a separate and distinct cooperative from Lyntegar Cooperative which operates in Lynn, Hockley, Terry and Lynn counties, with approved extensions into Dawson and Borden counties. It is of much interest to many Lynn county people. The story follows.

SEA has approved a contract between the Cooperative and Retn and Donovan Co Oklahoma, Oklahoma, for building a section of its power system, consisting of 217 miles of line to 463 members. The successful was $99,650.53 and includes materials and labor. The total cost of meters and overhead added is $115,872.71. This is an average of $458. per mile.

The Frost Lumber Industries, Inc. furnish 39 carloads of poles; the Dodge will furnish about 100 miles of wire, and the Westinghouse Electric Company will ship transformers, ranging from 1-2 to 10 kva.

Who wish to get service from new lines should sign up for it now and make arrangements for wiring and plumbing installations. The route of the line is now being put out, and the network is planned such areas where enough membership contracts have been made to make construction economically feasible. If insufficient contracts have been signed in any particular area, the lines will be put another way.
